Inspectors Visit School.

Last Thursday p.m. Inspectors Miss Cameron and Mr. Gordon inspected the Grade IX Home Economics and Manual Training Classes. Mr. Gordon was pleased with the condition of the shop, the floor and the benches, which the Board had recently sanded and refinished.

Miss Cameron wishes to bring to the attention of the parents the need for proper nutrition for school pupils, especially in providing adequate noon lunches.

Post-War Schools.

Post-war schools will be double duty schools serving not a part of the community but all of the adults as well as children. Instead of being open five or six hours a day, many of them will be open from eight in the morning, when the first youngsters arrive for their day's schooling, to well along toward midnight when the last adults get ready to leave. There will be increasing numbers of adults who believe that education is a process that continues throughout life. Many will go to the community-centre school for further education in the arts and sciences, for athletic events as spectators or as participants, and for movies and dramatics. The schools of tomorrow will be used not five but six days a week, and possibly even seven, with community inter-denominational religious services held in their auditorium. They will contain a social hall which can be used as a gymnasium or auditorium for meetings, forums, dances, movies and dramatics. These schools will contain a library which will serve the needs of the school by day and those of the entire community after school hours. There will be a community kitchen used during school hours as a cafeteria and in the evening for parties and small group meetings. There will be industrial arts rooms in which both children and adults will enjoy working at different hours. The class-rooms will have movable furniture so as to be suitable for adults in the evening.—George D. Strayer, Ph.D., in "Prediction of Things to Come."

Christmas Mail For Troops On Its Way

The Christmas season is on as far as these soldiers at the Canadian Army Base Post Office in Ottawa are concerned. Parcels, which will brighten the Christmas season for Canadian soldiers abroad, are arriving by the tens of thousands. The handling of this deluge of mail is a tremendous task, which falls upon the shoulders of Canadian Postal Corps personnel. You can help by wrapping well-chosen items carefully and strongly. The deadline for mailing to insure Christmas delivery was November 1st.

More Donations To Park Fund Received

Since the last issue of the Press, the 100 Club has received two more donations to its Park Fund from former residents of Winchester. We are pleased to acknowledge them as follows: Mr. Kenneth A. Christie, K.C., of Toronto, $25.00; Mrs. Martha (Dickson) Smith, of Watertown, N. Y., $10.00, in memory of her father, the late Wm. Dickson.

Accompanying Mr. Christie's cheque was the following appendix:—"I regret that due to the pressure of other matters, I have neglected to send in a contribution to the Community Park Fund of the 100 Club. I think it is an excellent idea and the members of the 100 Club are to be greatly commended upon their plan to provide recreational facilities for the young people of the community. I am enclosing a cheque for $25.00 which I wish you would kindly hand to the Club."

Accompanying Mrs. Smith's cheque was the following explanatory note:—"Am enclosing cheque for the sum of Ten Dollars, in memory of my father, the late William Dickson, as a small donation towards shrubs and flowers to help beautify the Community Park and Recreational Centre. Father was a great lover of young people and I know he would consider this a very wonderful undertaking by the people of Winchester."

Members of the 100 Club cannot express too strongly their appreciation to the many former citizens who have sent donations to the Park Fund. Their interest in the scheme and their financial assistance will be a big factor in providing this community with a beautiful park and recreational centre, one of which they too will be proud of when the work is completed. As we said last week, donations to this fund from former residents may be sent to the Press Office and will be acknowledged and turned over to the Park Committee.

Among the local donations last week was one for $25.00, but as we have not yet published the names of any local subscribers, except those who opened the fund with $100 subscriptions, we will not record the name of the subscriber until the complete list is published. In the meantime, further donations are needed and will be thankfully received.

OBITUARY

LATE WM. MacLEAN

There passed away at his home near Ormond, after an illness of only two weeks, Mr. Wm. MacLean, aged 78 years. Deceased was in his usual health until the morning of Nov. 1st when, upon arising for breakfast as usual, he suffered a very heavy paralytic stroke, from the effects of which he gradually became weaker until the early hours of Nov. 14th when he passed peacefully away, surrounded by his family who mourn the loss of a devoted father.

The late Mr. MacLean followed farming all his long and useful life, living next to the farm his grandfather purchased as one of the pioneeer settlers of this district.

His wife, the former Nancy Lemoine, predeceased him by 18 years. The following members of his family mourn the loss of a devoted father: Mrs. M. Smith, of Ottawa; Mrs. Percy Carkner, of Ormond; Wm. and James, at home, and a younger son, John, in the West. Also six grandchildren, the eldest grandson, Gerald, having recently joined the R. C. A. F. and is stationed at Lachine. There is also left to mourn his loss, one sister, Mrs. Rachel Johnston, of Kenmore, she being the sole survivor of a large family.

The funeral servcie was conducted at his late home by his pastor, the Rev. P. D. Augustine, who brought a very comforting message to the family and relatives of the departed. Interment was made in Spring Hill Cemetery.

Many beautiful flowers bore silent testimony to his memory.

Bull With High Pedigree Bred By District Farmer

Robt Ruddy. Manager of the E. L. Ruddy, Hermitage Farms, Pickering, Ont., announces the purchase of Oakview Lucky Gift, for use as one of the herd sires at Hermitage Farms.

This bull, born June 4, 1938, is by Macdonald Mintmaster which, in turn, is a son of Burnside Masterstroke and Macdonald Dorothy 2nd. Burnside Masterstroke is, in turn, a son of Burnside Pearline Guide and of the noted Burnside Blossom Andrietta. Macdonald Dorothy 2nd, (with 11,452 lbs. M,. 465 lbs. F. at 3 years and 11,940 lbs. M., 469 lbs. F. at 4 years) is a daughter of Thornhill Renewer, Imp., and of the former World's champion butterfat producer Macdonald Dorothy.

Oakview Lucky Queen, the dam of Oakview Lucky Gift, has 5 records to her credit—9,504 lbs. M., 370 lbs. F. at 4 years; 12,498 lbs. M., 497 lbs. F. at 5 years; 13,818 lbs. M., 748 lbs. F. at 6 years; 17,762 lbs. M., 702 lbs. F. at 8 years; 17,432 lbs. M., 719 lbs. F. at 9 years.

Quite a pedigree, and according to Mr. Ruddy, he is a good individual. Mr. Ruddy wrote: "He looks just as good in the stall as he does on paper. We have had our eye on him for some time. Last year we bought ten of his daughters and they are all good. One was first prize yearling heifer at the Markham "Red and White" Show.—Canadian Ayrshire Review.

Ed. Note: "Oakview Lucky Gift" and his dam "Oakview Lucky Queen" were both bred and formerly owned by Mr. Chas. B. Jamieson, well-known Ayrshire Breeder of the Nation Valley district. "Oakview" is the registered name of the Jamieson Farm. His present herd of Ayrshires contain many animals with equally as good pedigrees as those referred to in the above news item.

WINCHESTER W. I.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. Johnston on Tuesday evening, Nov. 16th. The meeting was opened by singing "The Maple Leaf Forever," and the Ode was repeated. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The War Work Committee gave a report on work completed.

Mrs. Johnston then took charge of the programme. The members all joined in singing "Long Long Ago." Mrs. Lannin introduced the guest speaker, Miss Mackenzie, who gave a very instructive and interesting talk on Social Welfare. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Crummy and Mrs. Johnston. The meeting was closed with singing the National Anthem.

Rev. H. S. Rodney Addresses 100 Club

"The Spiritual Basis of Democracy," was the subject of Rev. Harry S. Rodney's address, when he filled an engagement as guest speaker at the 100 Club Luncheon, in the local town hall last Friday evening. It was one of the finest addresses heard here this year, and was delivered in a manner and style that commanded the undivided attention of the Centurians and their wives for nearly an hour.

At the outset of his remarks, Mr. Rodney said that "Democracy cannot be reached by winning wars alone." Democracy is not merely a way of living. It does not consist of a few democratic privileges whereby men may be free to do what their hearts' desire. A true democracy must be founded on a spiritual basis."

The speaker then went on to point out that all down through the ages, great nations had been reduced to mere states—and deprived of their power—because they drifted away from religion and their spiritual beliefs. He cited Greece, Rome and France as examples. "France today," said Mr. Rodney, " is torn asunder—she does not exist as an organized country." He pointed out that France, at one time considered a strong Roman Catholic country, had drifted away from religion, and prior to the present war, less than 10 per cent. of the population attended church services.

"If a democracy is to succeed," concluded the speaker, "it must be based on five spiritual ideals," which he outlined under the following headings: 1, truth; 2, reverence; 3, justice; 4, sacrifice; 5, velligon.

Mr. Rodney's address contained some splendid points and gave his hearers plenty of food for thought. In these days, when Canada, along with the other Allied nations, is fighting for the preservation of democracy, it is well to stop and consider what kind of a democracy we wish to preserve—one that offers nothing but freedom to enjoy pleasures and allows us to live in a more-or-less carefree atmosphere; or a democracy that has a more solid basis—one that places an emphasis on spiritual living, upholds religious beliefs, and caters to the higher ideals of life. As pointed out by Mr. Rodney, when a nation neglects its spiritual obligations, God takes a hand in the matter and that nation is doomed to destruction, sooner or later.

In introducing the speaker, Rev. Wallace MacKinnon, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, said that Rev. Harry Rodney, B.A., was pastor of Ephram Scott Memorial Church, Montreal, one of the great Presbyterian churches of that city. He was born, and received his public and high school education in Winchester. He later attended Ottawa University and Queen's University, Kingston, graduating with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He then took a theological course in the Presbyterian College, Montreal, and graduated with high honors.

At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Rodney was extended a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of those present by Centurian Walter Moffat.

Presiding at the meeting was the President, Centurian Albert Johnston, with Centurian Chester Robinson as Secretary. The ladies, who were guests of the 100 Club on this occasion, were extended a hearty welcome by the president.

Following a sing-song, led by Centurian Chester Timmins, the Centurians and their lady friends settled down to partake of a sumptuous chicken dinner, the fowl for which was donated by the Winchester Poultry Association. Serving was done by the following Red Cross ladies: Mrs. Hugh Wilson, Mrs. Mary Bowden, Mrs. Leonard Porteous, Mrs. Raymond Summers, Miss Eileen Bolton, Miss Eleanor Hitsman and Miss Helen Elliott.

During the evening a prize boost was conducted by Centurian W. J. Stewart, on behalf of Centurian Alex Davidson, who donated two beautiful prizes, the winners of which were Mrs. Andrew Suffel and Mrs. W. J. Cass.

During the business session, it was decided to hold the December meeting of the Club on the regular date, the third Friday, but not to have a guest speaker. Instead, Centurians W. J. Cass, W. A. Rowat and W. J. Stewart were asked to prepare 10-minute talks on subjects of their own choice.

Following Rev Harry Rodney's address, a musical program was presented by Centurian John Burke, assisted by Messrs. Charles Rattray and Keith Summers. During this musical treat, selections were rendered on the piano, violin, clarinet and Hawaiian and Spanish guitars. Old-time and modern music held sway during this period of tuneful melodies, and all were immensely enjoyed by the audience.

The appreciation of the 100 Club to the musicians, the ladies who served, and to the members of the Poultry Association, namely Centurians Ken. Ault, Harold Lannin, Les. Dixon and Walter MacDonald, was ably expressed by Centurian Erle Helmer.

The singing of the National Anthem brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

PLATOON NOTES

The showing of training films and war pictures featured Monday night's parade of the local platoon of S., D. & G. Highlanders. The films were screened in the town hall, under the supervision of Col. W. J. Franklin, Commanding Officer of the Regiment.

On this occasion members of the Chesterville and Morrisburg platoons were present, with their respective officers: Lieut. Barry, Lieut. Charles Crober and Capt. F. S. Broder, O. C. of "A" Company. About 75 reservists and a few civilians witnessed the films. The local platoon had 24 members present, Chesterville, 13, and Morrisburg, 35.

The films screened included "First Aid In The Field," in technicolor; "Keep It Clean," a picture emphasizing the importance of taking the proper care of the service rifle, and "The Battle of Britain." All were highly educational and thoroughly enjoyed.

During the evening Col. Franklin addressed the men briefly, urging them to take advantage of the training being offered in the Reserve Army, and emphasizing the necessity for every man to attend the weekly parades unless he has a reasonable excuse to be absent, when, of course, he should apply for leave. He also suggested that recruiting in Winchester should be stepped up in order to bring the local platoon up to strength.

Local parades are held every Monday evening at 8 p.m. At the next parade members will receive monetary allowance for meals furnished during the manoeuvre up Gypsy Lane last July. A kit inspection and pay parade will be held shortly, and it is important that all members attend the parades from now until the Chrismas recess.

Probable Theft of Auto Averted By Local Man Early Sunday Morning

Awakened by the sound of a motor vehicle as it passed his home on Main Street, West, about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, Mr. Arthur Leason arose and looked out through his bedroom window. He saw the vehicle, a light truck, stop a short distance west of his home, and three men were walking around looking rather suspicious. Fearing that they might have been preparing to steal some of his pullets, he got dressed and came down stairs. The men, evidently, were not after chickens. He watched them back Mr. Paul Sanders' car out from his driveway to the highway (by pushing it), then decided to take a stroll up towards the scene of the commotion. He asked the men what they were doing, to which they replied that they were having motor trouble and, without further elaborating on the subject, jumped into the truck and headed up the highway, leaving the Sanders auto along the road. Mr. Leason got the number of the truck. It tallied with the license number of a bread truck which was stolen from Hull on Saturday night and found ditched along the highway about 5 miles south of Ottawa on Sunday.

Whether the men were attempting to steal Mr. Sanders' car, or had backed it out to siphen the gasoline from the tank, is not known. However, a gasoline can and funnel were taken from the Sanders' gasoline truck, which was also parked near his home, and an attempt had been made to siphen gasoline from Lorne Hutchinson's car nearby.

Mr. Leason reported the incident to the police.

THIS IS NAVY LEAGUE WEEK

"Ashore and afloat the Navy League cares for the sailors." This is the slogan adopted for Navy Week which is being observed this week, November 21 to 27 inclusive. During Navy Week public attention will be focused on the men of our gallant Navy and Merchant Navy and the work of the Navy League among them.

The Navy League of Canada was organized in 1917 under a federal charter. It operates 22 hostels, clubs and entertainment centres. Last year it was estimated that more than two million men were cared for by the Navy League. The greatest need is for knitted comforts, magazines, books and right now, ditty bags. Last year the Navy League distributed 103,450 ditty bags to sailors, and this year 150,0000 will be required. Scarves, socks, sweaters and warm knitted caps are needed now to keep the sailors warm in the cold North Atlantic storms.

FARMER KEY-MAN IN RECONSTRUCTION

For the re-establishment of a prosperous agriculture in Canada, many schemes have been proposed in reference to large works programs; but, while these schemes soundly conceived would make for a modern, much improved and more permanent agriculture in Canada, agricultural reconstruction must start with the farmer himself.—Such is the opinion of Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of the Dominion Experimental Farms Service. The farmer must have facilities whereby he may improve his business. That obviously involves cheaper credit, comparable at least to the credit available to industry. The farmer alone can rebuild his business, his home and his soils. Farmers of Canada would certainly prefer fair prices for their products without subsidies, bonuses and subventions. No doubt there will be a transition, but the peacetime program of agriculture cannot be built on the vagaries of insecure and changing factors of that kind.

THE NEW MEDAL

Now that the Canada Medal has been designed, it may be too late to nominate recipients. It would not be surprising if the first Canadian Honors List had already been prepared with due reard to geological, racial and political considerations.

If there still is a vacancy on the honors list, it is hoped that it will be reserved for an unknown Canadian citizen, perhaps an undiscoverable one, who deserves all honors that are in his country's gift.

His citation will read: "John Blank, who, since September, 1939, has never excused his own shortcomings or those of the business, profession or civil service department with which he is associated, by uttering these words or their equivalent: "Don't you know there's a war on?"—The Printed Word.

A POWER FOR GOOD

Stories of the benevolence of Harry F. McLean, Merrickville contractor, who recently presented the boys in Christie St. Hospital, Toronto, with one hundred dollar bills, are many, as recalled to us by an Ottawa man who appears to be in the know.

Meeting a man with an old truck in his home town, Harry McLean asked him what he was going to do with it, and he said he was going into business. "Why," McLean said, "nobody would ever give you business with an old contraption like that—come with me," and taking him to a local garage, he bought him the best truck available.

On another occasion McLean's car is alleged to have run over a flower bed at an hospital. In a few days men arrived with more flowers than the hospital ever saw, the flower beds were completely transformed, and there was a fine cheque from the millionaire in addition.

We think it was the late Elbert Hubbard who said: "By doing good with his money, a man stamps it with the image of heaven." To reporters in Ottawa the Merrickville millionaire said the only way to get happiness out of life, is to put happiness into life. This splendid philosophy is recommended to other men of great wealth. The thought that they are given riches in trust and that they are the medium through which it might be distributed where it will do the most good, may not be an empty one, as witness the benevolence of Henry Ford and Andrew Carnegie, among others.—Trenton Courier Advocate.

REMARKABLE GROWTH OF THE CANADIAN NAVY

At the outbreak of war the Canadian Navy had only 15 ships. Its strength has since increased to more than 550 of all types, including destroyers, frigates, corvettes, auxiliary cruisers and minesweepers. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1943, 150 ships were added, and plans for this year called for the addition of 70 fighting ships, besides others not of the combat types.

All convoy protection on the vital North Atlantic route is the responsibility of the Royal Navy and the Canadian Navy, assisted by escort vessels of the United States Navy and the air forces of Canada, Great Britain and the United States. The Canadian Navy's duties in this work have been expanded steadily until now it provides about half the protection of North Atlantic merchant shipping.

Since the beginning of war the strength of the R. C. N. has grown from 1,700 to more than 70,000 at present.

Total cost of the increase in cost of living bonus effective November 15th is estimated at $53,000,000. It will now be $4.60 instead of $4.25, the latter level having been held since August, 1942. Subsequent cost increase in living index jumped from 117.0 to 118.4 last month.

Canadians are ample savers as indicated by the fact that savings on deposit in Canada's chartered banks at September 30 last amounted to $1,998,904,000. Remember, that's savings alone.

An interesting trade angle: because of the need of foodstuffs at home, Canada so far this year hasn't filled quotas allocated under trade agreements with the U. S. A. Under preferred duty arrangements, for instance, we could have sent three million gallons of whole milk, but to October 2 had only sent 5,585 gallons; out of a quota of 1,500,000 gallons of cream only 702 were shipped. We did better in fish, shipping nearly 13 million pounds out of 15 million; only 1 6 per cent. of allotment of 1,500,000 bushels of seed potatoes went. The calendar-year quota for red cedar shingles is 2,-506,072 square with only 44.9 per cent. being shipped. We could send 100,000 pieces of silver or black fox furs on a preferred rate, but only 45.6 per cent. went across the line. We filled our quota of 795,000 bushels of wheat for the 12 months beginning May 29.

This will interest housewives who like salmon, or will it? Although 200,000 cases of British Columbia's 1943 salmon pack may be available for the Canadian market, the greater part will be eaten by other Allied Nations. We will be doubling our 1942 shipments of frozen fish to the United Kingdom, and the entire exportable surpius of dried, boneless and green-salted fish, some 27 million pounds, has been allocated to various countries under a United Nations plan.

The Department of Labour, in commenting on measures taken to alleviate impending shortage of pulpwood and conserve existing stocks, has in preparation a vigorous programme of waste paper salvage. Did you know that many of the pulpwood industry's products enter into essential war use,—such as shell cases,—as a substitute for metal. Wood pulp is nitrated into explosives; plastics substitute for metal in component parts of electrical apparatus, radios for the Navy, Army and Air Force. Components for land and sea mines, submarine detectors and many other devices are made from wood pulp. Millions of feet of lumber have been released in the packaging field, and ingenious uses made of paperboard, thus ensuring safe delivery of food, delicate instruments, clothing, etc., to the front line, whatever conditions prevail there. From dissolved pulp, synthetic fibres are made for tire cords, fragmentation bombs, self-sealing gas tanks. These essentials comprise about 55 per cent. of the total pulp wood consumed by the industry. The balance is used for newsprint paper, of which Canada's consumption is only 3 per cent. A notable contribution is British Columbia's aeroplane spruce, providing over 70 per cent. of total requirements.

Agricultural notes: In connection with ranched furs, the government was able to see that additional outlets were available and 100 shipments were made to South American countries during the past season . . . Approximately 103,000 or 6 per cent. of the telephones in Canada are operated by rural co-operative companies in which there is a total investment of $20,000,000. . . . We are asked to send out the reminder that distributors of milk and manufacturers of dairy products must obtain permission of the Agricultural Food Board, Ottawa, to purchase milk or cream from any producer from whom they were not buying milk or cream at September 9th last. . . . In view of the news that the experimental farm system has developed a sawfly resistant wheat, it is interesting to know that the wheat stem sawfly is a native insect, which has spread from wild grasses to closely allied cultivated plants such as wheat and rye . . .The benefits of experimental work is accepted as matter of fact by the public; for instance, people who enjoy the luscious Vedette, Valian and Veteran peaches from the Okanagan Valley may not realize that they are collecting a dividend from the Experimental Station at Vineland, Ontario, where these varieties originated.

Seeing we now have our first Canadian Minister to Brazil (Jean Desy), it is well to note that Brazil is making a big contribution to the Allied cause, her mines and industries being virtually turned over to war production. To Canada she sends crystal rock, an essenital material in the manufacture of optical instruments and stabilizers.

Our Column

The good thing about a modern popular song is that it doesn't stay popular long.

Most people would now do almost anything to help the Russians except try to learn their language.

After a long, long silence Hitler has made another speech. Well, it was the same speech, but a different beer hall.

Many a housewife will rejoice over the news that the cheap cigar is becoming an increasingly scarce commodity.

They say that Santa Claus will be travelling awfuly light this year due to conditions. Why, everyone knows he's still driving his old 1941 sleigh.

Those Ontario farmers who were summoned for "profanation of the Sabbath" for harvesting on Sunday will probably try playing golf instead.

For hiccoughs, which he had for several weeks, a sufferer says he drank champagne. Not much, though—just enough to keep the condition going.

Hitler may declare that he won't lose his nerve; but even while he was making that empty boast, his heart was filled with fear that he will lose his head.

When a man opens up a business, the papers say he has a large circle of friends, and after the accounts begin to accumulate in his ledger, he believes it.

If you think you are abused over here, consider the case of a girl in England who was fined the equivalent of $17.50 for using gasoline in a car to go blackberry picking.

Other Editors' Opinions

WE'RE LICKING 'EM

(Ottawa Journal)

Over the past six months the Germans have been losing U-boats at the rate of at least six a week, perhaps one every day if the fate of all the "probables" were known. The Huns have definitely lost the under-water war.

FARMERS WON'T BOTHER

(Stirling New-Argus)

There will be little maple syrup offered for sale in this district next spring unless there is some modification in the regulations covering its sale. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has issued an order that maple syrup must be sold only in 12-ounce containers, and we venture the opinion that not one in ten farmers will be bothered.

THE QUEEN FORGOT

(Chatham News)

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth was unable to make a purchase recently because she had forgotten to take along her ration book. Many a woman of lesser degree will know exactly how she felt. Incidentally it proves that this war has placed Royalty on the same basis as the most humble citizen. We doubt if such a democratic spirit can be displayed in any other country but Britain.

HEAR! HEAR!

(Brockville Recorder)

The Attorney-General of Ontario, after a conference with the Oil Controller, has instructed provincial police not to padlock any premises (including gasoline stations) unless so directed by a court of law. He feels that "the method of enforcing the regulations of the office of the Oil Controller on evidence received and accepted by the oil control office is not acceptable to the public." Neither is the Oil Controller's reputed use of "spotters" and "stool pigeons."

"SHARP" DEALING!

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

You can't make us believe that a government is giving the aged of this country "a pension" when before it does so it makes him or her sign off the old home. That isn't a pension at all. It is getting property, worth from five hundred dollars up, for a mere twenty odd dollars a month; a sort of grabbing up property on the instalment plan; and maybe even hoping that the "pension" will terminate soon. That is what we would call 'sharp" dealing, and men have been sent down for doing less.

Affable Butcher: "I trust madam, that you liked the sausages?"

"Well, I must admit," replied the customer acidly, "They were not quite so bad as they were tainted."

RETURNING TO DARK AGES

(Pembroke Standard Observer)

The C. C. F. intend to run a complete slate for municipal offices in Hamilton and in Toronto. If the Grits and Tories in these cities cannot unite to crush them then they will deserve the worst should it happen. Party politics, in municipal life was, we thought, a thing of the past and its revival would be like a returning to the "Dark Ages."

THEY'RE NOT BEATEN YET

(Detroit Free Press)

The Nazis are still in the war, a fact it would be fatal for us to forget. They have forced the British to evacuate the island of Cos in the Dodecanese and recently sank a British cruiser and a destroyer in the English Channel. They are putting up stiff resistance in Italy. At no point have they been driven back to their own soil.

YOU SAID IT!

(Almonte Gazette)

It is said that many a budding deer hunter is coming back from the chase disillusioned regarding the extent to which a red cap and vest will make him a successful sportsman. In other words, he may have found out after watching some of the old-timers that it takes more than these outward adornements to bring down the elusive quarry on the cold, damp runways of the hinterland.

THE WAR COMES HOME

(Carleton Place Canadian)

The grim shadow of the casualty list has fallen over Canada. Her soldiers march in their first campaign.

For four years Canadian airmen gave their lives in Europe's skies; sailors died in guarding the North Atlantic life-line.

But until now the Army saw only sporadic action. Hong Kong's catastrophe fell like a flashing knife-stroke. Dieppe was one fa day. Sicily's six-week task ended efore its cost was counted.

For the first time, Canad egins to realize the oppressive cost of freedom bought with lives. Column on Column from Italy come the names of dead and maimed. They carry none of the heart-warming glitter of troops marching off to battle.

The war has become more than a hectic round of bigger wages, better jobs and higher prices—with the battle half-a-world away. A new meaning has come into the headlines, newsreel shots and radio talks. Ration restrictions become all too reasonable. Factory overtime seems little enough to do.

At last the war has come home and many a Canadian wonders whether he is doing his part. Buying a bond becomes no sacrifice when the next-door family mourns a son.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Shoes.

Shoes can be made waterproof by applying castor oil about twice a week.

Honey.

Honey will not turn into sugar if it is strained and boiled gently. Then skim until thoroughly clear.

Gasoline

Gasoline can be deodorized by adding five or six drops of oil of sassafras to each quart of gasoline used.

Potatoes.

After paring the potatoes place them in cold water. If this is done before boiling it will whiten them.

Grease

To prevent the grease from spattering and popping when frying any food, sprinkle a little flour in the frying pan.

Linen

The color of linen can be preserved by placing a few small pieces of camphor gum in the drawers that contain the linen.

Sponge Cake.

Before placing the sponge cake into the oven sprinkle a little granulated sugar over the top of it. It will give the cake a rich brown color.

Dust.

When sweeping a rug with a broom, first place pieces of wet newspaper over the rug and it can then be swept without raising so much dust.

Whipped Cream Substitute.

Add a sliced banana to the white of an egg and then beat it. The banana will dissolve and it will be a delicious substitute for whipped cream.

Aluminum.

To clean aluminum mix ammonia, borax and water and apply with a soft cloth. Or wash in warm soap water, then dry and polish with whiting.

Choking.

The white of an egg is a good remedy to stop choking. If a fishbone is lodged in the throat, take a sip of vinegar which will quickly dissolve the bone.

Oranges

If it is desired to keep oranges, dry them thoroughly with a cloth, wrap each one separately in waxed paper and place in a box. They will keep for weeks.

Salt.

Salt can be used for removing the black spots from dishes, and if placed over a fresh claret stain on the table linen the stain will be removed when laundered.

Kid Gloves.

When mending kid gloves, buttonhole around the edge of the tear before drawing together. Then oversew the buttonhole together and the repair will last longer.

The Sewing Machine

A new mucilage brush is excellent for cleaning the small crevices of the sewing machine. Clean well around the needle bar and then wash the brush and put away for future use.

Clothesline.

A new clothesline should be boiled about thirty minutes before using it. This will prevent it from tangling so readily, and will make it last much longer, and will also prevent stretching.

Apple Sauce

The apple sauce will be creamy if it is made by cutting the apples into quarters, not peeling and leaving in the core. Cook, strain, and then beat it with a wooden spoon. Add the sugar after cooking.

Sewing Machine Belt

If the sewing machine belt has become loose, instead of trying to shorten its length by cutting, put a few drops of castor oil on the band, run the machine for a few minutes and the belt will be tight again. This usually proves effective, unless the belt has become too much stretched.

Renovating Leather.

To renovate leather upholstery and remove the greasy looking marks from its surface, try the following treatment: Boil half pint of linseed oil and let it stand until nearly cold. Then pour in half a pint of vinegar. Stir until well mixed. Bottle this solution. To use, put a few drops on a flannel duster and polish with a soft one.

UNCROWNED KINGS

Above the petty things,
That mock and mar this glorious life,
They walk our ways—the uncrowned kings
Freed from earth's strain and strife.

Majestic mountain peaks
Their feet upon our humble streets,
Above the mists and fogs below,
Their heads in Heaven's glow.

To deeds that make an hour sublime
The vision splendid leads
To lifting wings toward sun-lit throne
Unheeding place or time.

Their helping hands have pressed
Against the world's slow-moving gate;
Done daring deeds—endured the test
Unarmed—have conquered fate.

—Dorothy Sproule.

A MOTHER'S PRAYER

Father who art in Heaven,
Oh, keep him safe this night
Through all the dangers of the war
And horrors of the fight!
Help him to do his duty
And be Thou always near
To guide his footsteps ever,
To keep him free from fear.
And when the war is over,
God! bring him back to me,
To still a heart that's aching
Yet puts its trust in Thee.

GOFORTH HELPERS MEETING

A special meeting of the Goforth Heleprs' Group was held on Nov. 17 in the S. S. Hall. A sing-song and games were participated in by the girls before the meeting, which was led by Miss Margaret Webster.

The meeting opened with a nymn. Ruth Churchill, the president, presided. The roll call was answered with a verse of Scripture containing the word "Light." The secretary's report for the year was given by Betty Anderson. At the Family W. M. S. meeting which was held on November 9th, Miss Clara Anderson gave a fourth year seal to Betty Anderson, which completes her certificate. When Betty is 21 she will be a Life Member of the W. M. S. At that same meeting, Mrs. Wm. Watson presented Betty with her certificate.

Frances Acres gave the treasurer's report, and some business was discussed. Joan Watson rendered a piano solo, which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Wm. Watson introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Miss Margaret Webster, of Toronto, who is the Girls' Work Secretary. Miss Webster gave a most interesting and inspiring address. She told about Girls' Groups carrying on church services when no one else was available. Miss Webster brought greetings from the Indian girls at Kenora, Ont., and at Birtle, Man., to whom the Goforth Girls had sent beads. She spoke about the Chinese Groups in Canada and told a story about "A Stained Glass Window in France." There are three spaces which we either fill or do not fill: 1. Loyalty to Christ; 2. Space of service; 3. Space you fill within your church.

Miss Webster was thanked by Miss Maude Edgerton The collectoin was taken, and the meeting closed by all repeating the Mizpah Benediction. A social hour was spent at the close of the meeting and light refreshments were served.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Last week Mrs. Ford Baker, a member of the Cass Bridge Red Cross Unit, received the following letter in reply to a note she had placed in a pair of gloves she had knitted for the Red Cross.

Dear Mrs. Baker:

Just a word of thanks for the swell pair of gloves that were given me by the Red Cross and in which I found your name. They are very much appreciated and I can assure you are being put to good use.

The women of Canada need never have any doubts that their untiring efforts on our behalf are not appreciated. In the majority of cases, certainly in my experience, the articles which we receive from the Red Cross do not bear the name of the maker. As a result, we are unable to extend our thanks directly, but I want you to know that they are none the less thankfully received.

With good wishes, I remain, Everett A. Cooper, Surgeon-Lieut. R.C.N.V.R.

IF WE COULD ONLY FORGET HALF WE KNOW

Our minds are for reasoning, not for remembering, writes Robert D. Potter, in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Nov. 28) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, Potter explaining why we would probably all be better off if we could empty our minds of senseless fears, superstitions, medical misinformation and old wives' tales. Get Sunday's Detroit Times.

Our worth is determined by the good deeds we do, rather than by the fine emotions we feel.

War calls must come first . . .

which means that we should reduce our non-essential use of the telephone to the minimum. Present facilities cannot be increased; your co-operation is needed if war calls are to go through promptly. ¶ Please remember that the wasteful use of telephone time can hold up war business—and that every second you save counts.

The double quartette of Mountain and Hallville gave several numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Andrew Logan, which were much enjoyed. At this tme in the programme Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Campbell, who were recently married, were asked to come to the platform and Mrs. T. Coleman read a beautifully worded address, and Mr. Frank Milne, on behalf of St. Andrew's Church, presented them with a beautiful silver tea service. Mrs. Campbell (nee Carrie Stewart), very fittingly replied, and thanked all those who had been so kind to remember her in this manner. Mr. Campbell also thanked their many friends, asking them to their home for a cup of tea, so long as they all didn't decide to come at once. Mrs. Campbell was organist of St. Andrew's Church for the past eighteen years.

The address was as follows:—

To Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Campbell:—

Your friends and co-workers of the congregation of St. Andrew's United Church, Hallville, are very happy to be able to take this opportunity of congratulating you on the occasion of your recent marriage, and of extending to you our best wishes for a happy and prosperous future.

We are glad that this marriage does not remove one of our members from our midst. You, Mr. Campbell, we are pleased to welcome again to our community, not as a stranger, but, as a friend and good citizen. We hope you both may continue to make your home among us.

Mrs. Campbell, during the many years that you have served our church as organist, and during the past year as organist of the W. M. S., we have enjoyed your musical talents, and your service of song has always been an inspiration and delight to us all. No branch of service in our church life is greater in influence than the part played by music. While we sit back enjoying it, and taking it for granted, we are often forgetful of the industry, time and sacrifice which is entailed by those who render it. We want you to know that we are deeply grateful to you for your services and we hope that you will continue to use your talents in the service of the Master. To show our appreciation, may we be permitted to present you with this silver tea service, and may God's blessing go with it.

Signed by The Board of Managers, The W. M. S. Auxiliary, The Congregation of St. Andrew's United Church.

VALUABLE EGGS

Hello Homemakers! Eggs are eggs these days! The cold weather has made the hens "climb into their shell"—few eggs are available yet. Frankly, I think we were spoiled with such easy-to-prepare products. A cook never feels really stuck if she has a few eggs and a few ordinary staples.

Eggs give us a liberal supply of body-building and tissue-building proteins, also a good amount of the vitamins which protect us from eye weakness and nervousness. Eggs that are properly cooked are easily digested. With this in mind, the wise mother will see that her busy little run-about of 3 to 12 years of age gets the egg simply cooked (coddled or poached). Then here are the recipes to use when eggs are scarce.

RECIPES

Eggless Devil's Food

3-4 cup cocoa, 1 tsp. soda, 1 3-4 cup cake flour, sifted, 3-4 tsp. salt, 1 cup brown sugar (packed), 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 1-2 cup shortening, melted, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Sift cocoa, flour, soda and salt together; add sour milk, melted shortening and vanilla. beat until smooth, turn at once into greased shallow pan, and bake in electric oven, 350-375 degrees F. about 30 minutes.

Basic Spice Cake

1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup water, 1-3 cup shortening, 2 cups seeded raisins, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1-2 tsp. salt, 1-2 tsp. each of nutmeg, allspice and cloves; 2 cups cake or pastry flour, sifted; 1 tsp. soda; 1-2 tsp. baking powder.

Boil the sugar, water, shortening, raisins, spices and salt together for 3 minutes, stirring continually. Cool. Sift flour, soda and baking powder together, and gradually stir into batter and beat well. Bake in greased cake pan in electric oven, 300-325 degrees F., for about one hour.

Creamy Custard

2 tbsps. cornstarch, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 egg, well beaten; 1-8 tsp. salt, 2 cups scalded milk, 1-2 tsp. vanilla.

Mix the cornstarch, sugar, egg and salt. Gradually pour over the scalded milk, stirring until thick or smooth Continue cooking 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Add vanilla and chill. Serve with cream.

Old Fashioned Rice Pudding

1-2 cup rice, uncooked, 1 qt. milk, 1-2 tsp. salt, 1-2 cup sugar, brown or white; 1-4 tsp. nutmeg, 1 cup of raisins.

Wash the rice, add milk, salt, and sugar, and nutmeg. Turn into greased baking dish or casserole, and bake in electric oven at 275 degrees for 2 hours. Stir with a fork occasionally. Add raisins, and bake about 30 minutes longer. Instead of baking, this pudding may be cooked in the top of a double boiler with less heat and in a shorter time; it should cook until the rice has absorbed all the milk. Serve hot or cold.

TAKE A TIP:

For variations of Basic Spice Cake: (1) Add 1 tsp. almond extract and 1-2 cup blanched almonds; (2) Add 1 cup chopped raisins, 2 tbsps. chopped citron, 1 tsp. grated orange rind, and 1-2 cup broken nut meats for a delicious fruit cake.

For variations of Rice Pudding:

(1) Soak 2-3 cup dried apples or peaches; slice and use in place of raisins; (2) Use as substitute 1 cup orange juice for 1 cup milk with a little grated orange rind.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. F. C. W. asks: At what temperature should the oven be and how long should one cook a 6, 4 and 2-pound fruit cake?

Answer: Bake four hours in a very slow oven (275 degrees) and place a small pan of water in the oven. Or, pans may be covered with 2 layers of waxed paper (tie in place) and steam 2 hours, then bake 2 hours in oven at 300 degrees.

Mrs. M. B. asks: Ingredients for our dark fruit cake published two years ago.

Answer:

Dark Fruit Cake

1-2 cup butter, 3-4 cup brown sugar, 3-4 cup seeded raisins cut in pieces, 3-4 cup currants (or raisins), 1-2 cup citron, thinly sliced and cut in strips, 1-2 cup molasses, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup milk, 2 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1-2 tsp. each of allspice and mace, 1-4 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 tsp. lemon extract.

PULPWOOD CUTTING STILL OPEN TO MORE FARMERS AND HELPERS

Pulpwood cutting is one of the profitable off-season jobs now open to farmers and farm workers who can leave their farms without reducing winter production, says a statement issued by the Pulp and Paper Industry of Canada.

The status of farm workers who have secured postponement of their military training will not be affected if they accept this essential work.

"Canada is still short thousands of men for the winter pulpwood cut," the statement declares. "This work is ideal for seasonal workers, like farmers and farm workers whose earning power is reduced during the closed season.

"The Department of Labour at Ottawa has opened the way for farmers and farm workers to take up pulpwood cutting without loss of military postponement so that, during the winter, they can help with the pulpwood cut and go back to the land in the spring. The shortage of pulpwood for pulp and paper mills continues so serious that, unless thousands more go into the woods, an industry now officially declared to be war-essential, will risk further curtailment of production. The effect of any such curtailment would not be confined to the home front. Men on the battle lines everywhere depend upon steady supplies of articles made from pulp and paper.

"Woods work can be obtained without difficulty. Application can be made to the nearest Selective Service office, to any provincial agricultural representative, or fieldman, or to the local farm production committee. In addition, canvassers from pulp and paper companies, operating under rules approved by Selective Service, are soliciting rural workers to cut pulpwood; nobody, however, need wait to be solicited. Woods work is waiting for thousands."

LATE MRS. OSCAR GALLAGHER

As previously announced in the Press, the death of Mrs. Oscar Gallagher occurred in Edmonton on November 5th, after a few days' illness, due to hemorrhage of the brain. Mrs. Gallagher was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Irving, and prior to her marriage, had lived in this vicinity, and the last few years in Winchester, and was a favorite with old and young.

After Mr. Gallagher's retirement from the C. N. R. as station agent, they moved to Edmonton where they purchased a home. Mrs. Gallagher was a member of the United Church and an active worker in all the women's organizations. Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Donald, of Edmonton, and Robert, with the R.C.A.F. in Regina; also one sister, Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, and a niece, Miss Ruth Hamilton, both of Edmonton.

The sympathy of relatives and friends of the deceased is extended to the members of the family in their bereavement.

WHEN THEY COME BACK

When they return—the boys who fought to save
Their country from a war-lord's maddening power—
What will they wish to find—these warriors brave—
When they come home in victory's crowning hour?

Oh! they will seek the cottage on the hill
Where lighted windows gleam a welcome home,
The fragrant paths of woodland where the still,
Soft winds of autumn lured their steps to roam.

And they will seek the face of loved ones, bright
With a glad welcome waiting through the years
To clasp the hand tho' scarred with battle's might,
To meet the eyes now filled with happy tears.

They will not ask for glory or acclaim,
Nor blare of bugle, nor the beat of drum,
They have not fought for honor or for fame—
These lads who from the battle scene have come.

Through lonely hours they longed for homely scenes,
For home and friends and for a loved one's face,
For quiet skies where soft the sunlight streams
Where winged war no more shall find a place.

For peace they'll seek and life and liberty—
For they have fought that all the world be free!

—Helen B. Anderson.

FORD DEALERS DISCUSS FARMERS' PROBLEMS

Ways and means of assisting farmers to increase production of food were discussed at a conference held in Ottawa on Wednesday, Nov. 17th, which was attended by Mr. Harold Lannin, local Ford car and tractor dealer.

The acute need for increased production of foodstuffs for the United Nations, combined with the shortage of farm help has resulted in the government making considerably more tractors and implements available to farmers.

Mr. Lannin reports that this equipment, though still sold under careful government control, can now be purchased by those farmers who lack sufficient equipment to obtain maximum production from their land and who qualify under the regulations.

Mr. E. Milton, manager of the Eastern Canada branch of Ford of Canada, was chairman of the meeting and explained the situation fully to the dealers.

Mr. Milton pointed out that with Ford dealers engaged almost entirely in the servicing and maintenance of essential transportation, that the new tractor and implement program gives them further opportunity to play an important role in the national war effort.

"Production of food is just as essential as the production of guns, tanks and planes. We can help by explaining to farmers the regulations which permit them to obtain necessary equipment from the still restricted but increased supply allotted. Every Ford dealer should devote as much time as possible to doing this," Mr. Milton said.

"The new Ford tractor with its hydraulically controlled implements is considered to be ideally suited for the farmer who is short of help. Developed by Henry Ford and Harry Ferguson, an Irish inventor, and introduced in Canada early in 1940, this equipment is proving to be an important weapon in the battle of food production. It can be operated safely by young children and men who thought themselves too old for active farm work.

Mr. Milton cited instances of children as young as six years of age competing in tractor ploughing matches, and of farmers past three score and ten who are back in the tractor seat again to help out in the national emergency.

Life Insurance Examiner: "I don't think I can pass you. You seem all worn out. What's the matter?"

Prospect: "Your agent nearly talked me to death before I surrendered."

MODERN ETIQUETTE

1. If a couple know that their engagement is to be a long one, should a public announcement be made?
2. What is the meaning of "cafe au lait," and how is it pronounced?
3. Should a guest, who has accidentally broken something, replace it with another?
4. Is one justified in asking for a book that someone has borrowed, if a long period of time has elapsed?
5. When should the guest at a church wedding extend best wishes and congratulations to the bride and bridegroom?
6. What is the correct way to eat stuffed celery?

Answers.

1. Yes; but the announcement should include "that no date has been set for the marriage." 2. It is a French phrase meaning coffee with with milk. Pronounce ka-fa o-le, first a as in ask, second a as in day, o as in no, e as in let, accents on last syllable of each word. 3. Yes, it is the proper thing to do. 4. Yes, and you would be justified in not lending them another. Negligence such as this is seldom excusable. 5. This should be done at the reception that follows the wedding. 6. Lift it to the mouth with the fingers.

"WHEN PEACE BELLS RING AGAIN ON CHRISTMAS EVE"

Once long ago on Christmas Eve
peace bells were ringing:
"Peace, peace on earth," angelic hosts
were singing,
And peace on earth the Prince of Peace was bringing—
When peace bells rang upon that
Christmas Eve.

When peace bells ring again on
Christmas Eve,
And lads are home to stay, not just
on leave;
Then all our aching hearts will cease to grieve—
When peace bells ring again on
Christmas Eve,

O'er all the world the bonfires will be burning,
O'er all the world glad hearts will be homeward turning,
Though by some firesides sad hearts
will be yearning—
When peace bells ring again on
Christmas Eve.

—Ruth Dingman, Trenton.

Today's cynic is yesterday's idealist who failed to put his ideals into action.

I GAVE MY BLOOD—DID YOU?

Today I gave a pint of Blood,
It may save some soldier's life
That is fighting on the battle front,
Mid shot and shell and strife.
It's such a little thing to do,
And yet I know it's true,
That some one's son may return,
Because I gave, did you?

And when the Unit comes again,
I'll gladly give my share
To save somebody's precious boy,
That's fighting over there;
Going through such torment,
Facing shot and shell,
We know not what they suffer
As they face war's blasts of hell.

Let us give and give our precious blood,
Let it flow fast and free
To save our boys behind the guns,
In the air, on land and sea,
They're fighting for our freedom,
Help them in all you do,
And save the life of someone's son,
I gave my blood—did you?

So when the Unit comes again,
Walk up and gladly give
A pint of blood to our Red Cross,
It may help some boy to live,
To once again enjoy life,
That's theirs to love and share,
Give all you can, to see them through
Their hardships over there.

Our Red Cross needs more volunteers
So be the first to give
A living pint of precious blood,
That our service men might live,
Be glad to give, help all you can,
And see our boys through.
And save the life of someone's son,
I gave my blood—did you?
—Written by Ruth Elizabeth Henkle, Harrod, Ohio.

Recovering From Wounds.

Mrs. E. A. McInnis, Iroquois, received a letter recently from her husband, Sgt. E. A. McInnis, R.C.A., who is confined to hospital in Africa, due to wounds received in Sicily. Wednesday Half Holiday Over.

Yesterday terminated the end of the closing of local stores on Wednesday afternoon until next year. Starting in December, the stores will remain open on Wednesday afternoon. Barber shops will remain open on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights as usual.

First Snow Flurries.

The first snow-flurries of the season occurred here on Monday, and with the lower temperatures, the weather has become more winter-like. Weather forecasters say its going to be a mild winter with little snow, but some of them told us that last Autumn and look what happened. Most people are hoping, however, that the coming winter will not be too cold, as fuel is not so plentiful.

Pilots "A for Apple."

According to an R.C.A.F. news release, Flying Officer Frank Carter, of Iroquois, and Courtenay, B. C., is skipper of "A for Apple," a fearsome looking aircraft adorned by huge white skull and crossbones and forming part of the R.C.A.F. Bluenose squadron of Halifaxes and Lancasters overseas. "The sight of the menacing art work," says the release, "is calculated to scare any Jerry night fighter out of any ideas of attack, and so far it has."

Condition Improved.

The general condition of Master Charles Gross, young son of Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Gross, at present confined to the Ottawa Civic Hospital, due to an eye injury, is good, and if improvement continues, it is expected he will be able to return to his home this week. The boy's left eye, which was accidentally pierced with a toy arrow, may require some surgery later on when it becomes healed. Specialists cannot state definitely whether or not an operation will restore the sight of the eye.

LATE MRS. ROBT. D. BEATTIE

There passed away on Tuesday, November 16th, at Mount Holly, New Jersey, Lillian Lucas, beloved wife of Robt. D. Beattie. Mrs. Beattie was born in Mount Holly on August 20th, 1886, and was married on July 25th, 1928. Last June she took a stroke, which was followed by a second one five days before her death. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Geo. T. Hillman, of the First Methodist Church, on Thursday, at 2 p.m.

The numerous callers to offer sympathy and many flowers given showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held by friends and neighbours.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a sister in Mount Holly and a brother in Camden.
