Finch seniors' complex now officially on way

The Finch Senior citizens' residence is on its way. With the sod-turning last Friday the first step towards fulfillment of the long-awaited complex was completed. Residents will be moving in next November if all goes according to schedule. Construction will begin in the spring and all 26 units will be complete for occupancy. Doing the honours with the shovel are MPP Noble Villeneuve (left) and Finch village reeve Lynden Hough. The hand-painted rendition of the building was done by Colonel Montgomery with assistance from wife, Sharon. The painting was rendered from the architect's drawing.

Seniors' residence underway at Finch

FINCH (Staff) - With the first sod being turned here on Nelson Street last Friday afternoon, the first step in achieving an enormous building project for Finch was taken.

With construction scheduled to commence in early spring, 1985, the planned 25-unit senior citizens, residence will be a reality within one year. Planners anticipate the first residents will be able to move into the residential complex next November. Some estimates call for a September opening if construction goes more quickly.

Representatives of the architect's firm Tsou-Pollard of Toronto and Ottawa were on hand as dignitaries from both Finch village and Finch township councils gathered for the brief ceremony. Together MPP Noble Villeneuve and Finch village reeve Lynden Hough turned over the first sod on the site under the attractive hand-painted rendition of the building on Nelson Street done by Colonel Montgomery.

Mr. Villeneuve said "this happy occasion is bearing fruit the directors have done and shows what co-operation can do when people work together."

Mr. Villeneuve who represented housing minister Claude Bennett at the ceremony, said that earlier this year there did not seem to be much hope of securing the project for the village which had been four years in the planning. He explained that when another municipality which was due to receive funding was not ready to go forward with its project Finch village was next in line.

"You had done your homework and you were ready," Mr. Villeneuve told the crowd of VIP's and prospective residents.

"I give you credit for that," he stated.

Reeve Hough president of the non-profit corporation working to achieve the completion of the project. Slated to cost over $1,000,000, an announcement of funding allocated to the village was made by the Ontario government September 28.

Tenders for construction are being called this week.

Area residents earn medals

(Staff) - Chesterville's Margaret Casselman will be among the Ontario residents honored this December when she is presented with a bicentennial medal.

The medals, minted from Ontario nickle and gold, will go to those who have made an outstanding contribution to their communities. Medal recipients were chosen earlier this year through public nominations.

The award, with a focus on volunteerism, will be presented to 1,984 citizens for service to their region.

A bicentennial medal biography states that "Mrs. Margaret Casselman has served her community through her work with the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, her church, and the Women's Institute."

Margaret Birch, parliamentary assistant to the premier, who chaired the selection committee for public nominations, said that reading the nominations "was a moving experience when one realizes that day in and day out across this province, volunteers give their time and energy to help their fellow citizens. These acts enrich and add special meaning to life in Ontario." She added that while the province is honoring 1,984 volunteers this year, "they are truly representative of hundreds of thousands of other volunteers who share our appreciation for their valuable work."

The medals feature the Ontario Coat of Arms on one side and the Ontario bicentennail symbol on the other, and are inscribed with the words "For Service to the Community." During her Bicentennial visit to Ontario, Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II was presented with a solid gold replica of the medal. In making the presentation, Premier Davis noted that "in addressing future challenges, Ontarians will continue to rely upon two valued traditions: volunteerism and community service."

The Finch Township bicentennial medal will be awarded to Jean Benoit for his service as chief of the Crysler Volunteer Fire Department and his organization of fund-raising activities.

Gail Shaver, who for many years has been involved in minor sports and is an avid worker for the Ladies Recreation Association, will receive the Finch Village bicentennial award.

The village of Iroquois plans to recognize Lorraine Fader, a dedicated community worker who volunteers much of her time to organizing community events.

Gweneth Shaver, the head canvasser for the Blind Society and a dedicated volunteer in the 4-H homemaking program, will receive the Matilda Township bicentennial medal.

In the village of Maxville, Margaret Mutch is to be awarded for her support to the Maxville Curling Club and the Glengarry Highland games.

Mr. C. Crober, who served as chairman of the Morrisburg Planning Board and the South Dundas Planning Board, and Claire S. Dupuis, who is always willing to lend a hand to community organizations, will receive bicentennial medals in the village of Morrisburg.

Lucien Benoit, a volunteer fireman for more than 30 years, a member of the Parks Committee for 15 years, and a member of the Mountain Township Agricultural Society for 10 years, will receive recognition in the township of Mountain.

In Osnabruck township, Dalton Cleary, who has contributed to the recreation programs, the Fair Board, and local service clubs, will be honored with the medal.

Emile Aube, Moose Creek, who housed the first volunteer fire department in the basement of his store, will receive the Roxborough township medal

Speech from the Throne: local impact

By Alvah Hanrahan

Meetings to be convened by the federal Progressive Conservatives tomorrow and later on this month could have implications for local issues, Stormont-Dundas MP Norm Warner told The Record in a telephone interview just after Monday's Speech from the Throne.

Speaking from his Ottawa office on Monday Mr. Warner said a meeting called by Finance Minister Michael Wilson for Thursday is "the first step in an agenda" pertaining to the regions.

"On Friday," continued Mr. Warner, "there is a meeting with the provincial finance ministers and this will be important because so many problems have to be addressed."

In addition to these meetings, Mr. Warner said the first minister conference slated for November 13, will serve as another forum where regional problems and concerns will be discussed. Some of the issues to be adddressed, according to the newly-elected MP, could involve ways of dealing with economic problems locally in this district.

"I've had several Farm Credit problems mentioned to me," he said, indicating that the series of meetings on financial matters will provide a clearer indication of the best way to address local matters.

The federal Tories "should then have a better idea about how to draft our job creation programs," noted Mr. Warner, "so that our programs can dovetail with those of the provinces."

Throughout his comments Mr. Warner stressed the importance of federal-economic co-operation, a theme he referred to often during the summer election campaign just before the September 4 election.

He noted that caucus committees are currently being formed whereby "every member will participate and have some interest." The object of this system is to involve all the Tory MP's in some form of committee work in addition to the caucus as a whole. Referring to the specific issues delineated in the Speech from the Throne Mr. Warner said "most of the issues were those we discussed during the campaign, and it touched on every facet."

"The speech gave an overview and did it very well," he said.

"The Prime Minister said the direction would be hard but fair in clearing up the economic mess. He stressed the word 'fairness' and the social policies are not compromised."

The MP for Stormont-Dundas was elected September 4 when he defeated incumbent Ed Lumley, Minister of Industrial and Regional Expansion in the John Turner cabinet.

Village "canal" on drawing board

(Staff) - If the Chesterville Recreation Department's director Dave Arnold has his way the village could compete this coming winter with the Ottawa canal in drawing skaters to the village.

Mr. Arnold presented plans at last week's Chamber of Commerce meeting which showed a proposed expansion of the skating area on the South Nation River in the village. Extended to approximately one kilometer the skating surface would be prepared by mach ine. Maintenance, under the scheme, would be undertaken by a 3-man crew under the umbrella of the Canada Works Program recently announced by the federal government.

With the Wintario grant system Mr. Arnold said a grant would probably be available to cover part of the cost of an ice resurfacer. Wintario would cover half the expense, according to a provincial formula. The entire cost of this machine would run to roughly $4200.

The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce agreed in principle to contribute the other half of this amount. First, though, the plan has to be presented to Chesterville village council for approval.

Mr. Arnold said "a lot of people would be drawn to the village to skate."

He emphasized the going would be tough to make the plan a reality. "To pull this off we need a real community effort," he said.

"I've already talked to the South Nation River Conservation Authority and they have said they would check the ice lumps weekly as a safety factor."

Mr. Arnold noted the downtown section would be lit by strong street lighting using a number of lighting poles along Main Street. In order to produce a good skating surface, he indicated also, that some machinery would be needed with the loan of a tractor already guaranteed from Derk's Farm Equipment.

The proposed winter project, Mr. Arnold said, was the result of the success of last year's skating rink formed for the winter carnival.

"We've had feedback on ways to improve it," he continued, "and it's an ambitious project but a very viable one."

The Recreation Department proposes an ice surface one kilometre in length commencing near Mark Casselman's house. There will be an area approximately 300 by 50 yards for hockey and another area only for skating.

Poster winners in print

(Staff) - This week The Record has printed the winning entries in the Hallowe'en poster contest. A large number of students from area schools participated in the event which was sponsored by Ontario Teachers' Federations. We must admit that all the posters were as scary as ever...and we had a hard time narrowing down the entries. Teachers may pick up their schools posters at The Record office.

Audrey hands over after historic tenure

(Staff) - The first woman president in the history of the Chesterville and District Chamber of Commerce has completed her two year term and last Thursday handed over the job to her successor. Audrey Cross, president for the last two years will be replaced by Cecil VanWylick who accepted a nomination at the general meeting.

Mrs. Cross said her term of office was satisfying and productive in terms of accomplishments in the village, particularly the two popular and highly successful trade fairs staged here in September of 1982 and 1984.

Mrs. Cross cited the year just past as particularly successful for the local business organization.

According to organizers the recent bicentennial celebration held September 21 was "a success for the community but not a financial success" for the Chamber of Commerce.

Assisting Mr. VanWylick with his duties in promoting the village business will be secretary-treasurer Isobel Smith who has agreed to remain with the Chamber for a further term. First vice president is Alvah Hanrahan and second vice-president is Lorraine Lefebvre.

The Chamber of Commerce is currently planning its next major event in the village, the annual Santa Claus Parade. This will be staged on the morning of December 8. Hot chocolate for kids and coffee for adults will follow the parade and it's hoped that Nestle's will donate chocolate bars for the festivities. Parade marshall is Jim Sullivan who will release the route later. Floats are being requested and groups and individuals are asked to get some ideas together for their participation this year.

Chamber chair changes

The Chesterville and District Chamber of Commerce has undergone a change of executive. Relinquishing her position as president is Audrey Cross who is explaining some of the details to incoming president Cecil VanWylick. The Chamber is planning a mammoth Santa Claus Parade for early December as its next major project.

Area youths win scholarships

(Staff) - Several area young people have won scholarships sponsored by the eastern district Association of Freemasonry. Awarded university scholarships are: Raymond Grant, Cardinal; Shelley Riddell, Morrisburg; Bruce Fleming, Ingleside; Kevin Guy, Winchester; Cheri Riddell, Morrisburg.

The awards were the Frederick Eaton Masonic Memorial Bursary scholarships presented to students of college and university level with a priority to studies in theology. Attention is also given to other studies.

The awards were presented at a recent annual dinner and business meeting of the Past Masters, Masters and Wardens Association of Freemasonry in the Eastern District.

Livestock control sought

WILLIAMSBURG (Staff) - Municipal clerk Mike Waddell and planner Chuck Miller will look into ways to control the keeping of livestock within township hamlets.

Reeve Johnnie Whitteker noted at Saturday's regular meeting that a bylaw to control livestock in hamlets was dropped because it conflicted with the comprehensive zoning bylaw.

There is no way for council to prevent residents from raising livestock on property in hamlets such as Mariatown, Riverside Heights, Winchester Springs, Dunbar and even the Police Village of Williamsburg, Mr. Whitteker said.

"We need to be able to enforce something," the reeve said.

He said existing farms inside hamlet boundaries aren't the target of his proposal but he wants to prevent residential property from being used as a barnyard.

Car injuries

CORNWALL (Staff) - A single-car accident here last Friday night resulted in injuries for three Morrisburg residents. The accident, which took place the Brookdale traffic circle, happened as the car jumped the curb just after 9pm.

The vehicle was driven by Gregory Whitteker, 16. Also injured were Jeff vanBielan, 17, and Brad Sloan, 17. Both were treated for fractured noses and released from Hotel Dieu Hospital. Mr. Whitteker remained under observation in hospital after reportedly receiving head injuries.

Damages to the car were estimated at $6000.

Deb's Delights

by Debbie Young

Well I looked through our anonymous cook's recipe book and found these two that I thought might be good for the working woman. A lot of women who are out of the house all day have a slow cooker so here's a recipe for that as well as barbecued spareribs done in the oven.

It's very nice to get in some new recipes so please don't forget to send in your favorites.

BEEF STEW CROCK POT

3 carrots, cut up small
3 potatoes, cut up
2 lb. stew meat
1 c. beef stock
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 clove garlic, sliced
salt to taste
½ tsp. pepper
1 tsp. paprika
3 onions, cut up
1 stalk celery and tops, cut up

Cook meat on stove in water ½ hour on medium heat; keep stock. Put all ingredients in crock pot as follows: carrots, potatoes, meat, garlic, onions and celery. Measure 1 cup beef stock, add Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and paprika; pour over ingredients in crock pot. Cover and cook on low 10-12 hours.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS

In a saucepan combine ½ cup finely chopped onion, ¼ cup finely chopped green apples, ¼ cup lightly packed brown sugar, ¼ cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 - 14 ounce can tomato sauce and 1 - 10 ounce can pineapple juice. Preheat broiler; cut 3 pounds spareribs into 4 portions. Arrange in 13x9x2-inch pan; grill in preheated broiler 3 minutes, turning occasionally. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer uncovered 20 minutes or until desired consistency. Pour sauce over spareribs and bake at 350 degrees 20-30 minutes or until tender. Baste with sauce occasionally. Makes 4 servings.

Farm seminar November 8

RUSSELL (Staff) - The farming community can benefit from a farm estate planning seminar scheduled for November 8 here. Commencing at 9:30am the participants will be informed about issues relating to typical farm financial situations. Questions will be answered throughout the day. At the end of the seminar, which runs until 3pm, each participant will be given an information package for his or her future reference.

The cost for the day is $10 and includes lunch, all printed material and information provided. Attendance is restricted to the first 75 applicants.

Some of the issues to be discussed are distribution of one's assets both at death and while still living in order to prevent confusion, delays and lawsuits. Farm assets will be emphasized.

Nestle Shop Stewards

(Staff) - Union Shop Stewards at Chesterville's Nestle Plant were recently returned by acclamation.

At a union meeting held Oct. 2 the following were acclaimed for another year: Francis Barkley, Instant Drinks; Gary Baker, Warehouse; Ross Casselman, Boilerhouse; Dale Marcellus, Liquid Syrups; Robert Edgerton, Shop; Terry Woods, Coffee Manufacturing; and Neil Beckstead, Coffee Filling.

Berwick W.I. bazaar

BERWICK (Staff) - The Berwick Women's Institute annual bazaar drew a large crowd here last Saturday with the craft items and baking table being popular. The bazaar took the form of an "at home" afternoon and featured a tea served from 2 to 4pm.

The bazaar was the result of a WI project begun in April last year and was directed at informing the public about the work and goals of the WI in general. An attractive educational display obtained from the University of Guelph describing this work was set up at one end of the community hall.

President Donna Rushford said in her speech of welcome non-members were welcome to attend the WI's meetings.

Visitors to the tea were invited to sit down at the quilting frame and join in adding a little to the ongoing quilting project. A clown was won through a draw by Garry Parnham, Crysler.

Queen's Park Report

by Noble Villeneuve

I was as surprised as anyone by Premier Davis' recent announcement that he is stepping down as premier of Ontario and leader of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Party. Although I have served as a member of the Ontario Legislature for just short of a year, I have long held Bill Davis in great esteem for his honesty, his integrity and his balanced approach to politics in this province.

For nearly 26 years, Bill David has worked long and hard for Ontario and her people. Under this leadership, we have seen advancement in virtually every area of life: we have an ombudsman and a new Human Rights Code; or our family law has undergone significant reform; for seniors, we have the Guaranteed Annual Income Supplement and for young people, we have the Ontario Youth Secretariate.

To promote our agri-food industry, Bill Davis brought in Foodland Ontario. Tourism has received a big boost with the province's "Yours to Discover" campaign. Through innovative measures, such as the Eastern Ontario Development Corporation, Premier Davis has ensured support for business in our own area.

During Premier Davis' time in office, we have faced some tough economic challenges and come out on top. The health and prosperity of the Ontario way of life owes much to his competant

During Premier Davis' time in office, we have faced some tough economic challenges and come out on top. The health and prosperity of the Ontario way of life owes much to his competent guidance during difficult times. Bill Davis has made the difficult decision to leave public life at a time when this province and this party are vigorous and strong. He has left a sound base from which to build for the future.

To meet the future electrical power demands in the Ottawa region, Ontario Hydro is planning a major expansion of eastern Ontario's electrical transmission system. Hydro's proposal calls for a new transmission route from Kingston to Ottawa, and another from Cornwall to Ottawa. It is the Cornwall to Ottawa, or east section, that is of interest to residents in this area.

The plans for the east section include a new 500 kilovolt transmission line and an extension to the microwave telecommunications system. The final route location will be chosen on the basis of social, economic, technical and environmental factors. The public can have considerable input in assisting Hydro to minimize the potential impact of the new line on people, property and the environment.

If you would like to make a submission to Ontario Hydro, plan to attend or be represented at the preliminary hearing which will take place at the Nepean Sportsplex in Nepean on November 20. It starts a public hearing process that deals with issues of concern to residents in both the east and west sections.

Court of revision for Drain

AVONMORE (Staff) - A court of revision for the Payne River Municipal Drain and the Duff-McMillan branch, including the Blair branch will be held November 22 at 9am. The location is the Avonmore Community Hall.

Also to be discussed at the meeting are the construction of the McMillan branch, the McIntyre branch and the Goodman branch of the Payne River.

In Memoriams

IN MEMORIAM
WOODS — In loving memory of a dear husband, father, father-in-law and grandpa, Walter, who passed away November 10, 1979.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vane.
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow in our hearts
For you'll never know how much you're missed.
Always remembered by wife, Rita,
Children, Eric, Michael, Janie
And Families.

IN MEMORIAM
SIMMS — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Donnie Simms who passed away November 7, 1983.

But not too far for thought to reach
Sweet to remember her who once was here
And who though absent is just as dear.

WDMH Board reports surplus

WINCHESTER (Staff) - The most recent monthly financial report of Winchester District Memorial Hospital indicates there is a small operating surplus of $5303 (after building depreciation).

In other business board directors were informed at a recent meeting that several donations were received recently. The Deeks family (Lloyd and Helen Brown, Ottawa) donated $940 for the purpose of a geri-chaise on one east. The Elma Women's Institute donated $300 for a commode chair. IOOF South Mountain Lodge No. 428 donated $1,500 for two patient temperature monitors and a feeder chair. The Chester Robinson estate contributed $6006 to hospital coffers.

Ten year pins were awarded to Mr. L. Campbell, laboratory, and to Mrs. N. Hutt, nursing office for ten years of service to the hospital.

The hospital auxiliary reported that the Gift Shoppe presented the Auxiliary with a cheque for $1200. Volunteer service hours for October totalled 596 hours. The Christmas Country Bazaar will be held Saturday, November 24. A blood donor clinic will be held November 14. The one east Christmas party is scheduled for December 11. The first Auxiliary bursary has been received by Larie McMartin, daughter of Mrs. Bev. McMartin.

The Medical Advisory Committee recommended to the Board that a Holter monitor be purchased for the hospital at an approximate cost of $3000. Dr. H.B. Prins informed the Board the monitor would be used for 24-hour monitoring on an outpatient basis to discover cardiac abnormalities which would otherwise be very difficult to determine.

The hospital received a letter from the office of the Public trustee informing the board that the will of the late Stewart Wallace Fisher contains certain charitable provisions indicating that WDMH is or may be entitled to some benefit from this estate. Mr. Fisher was a member of the hospital board for a number of years and represented the township of Osgoode. He lived in Vernon.

U.C.W. meet Nov 1

Mrs. Docksteader is a former convenor of Christian Development in the Seaway Valley Presbyterial UCW. She owns and operates the Christian Bookstore in Winchester. She summed up her message, Faith is a base to grow from. Add knowledge to get to know God better. You need to have brotherly love, fellowship and service for others. And set goals to evaluate yourself.

Mrs. Docksteader was introduced by Betty Forward, thanked and presented with a gift by Ruby Miltimore. Guests were welcomed by Ruby Miltimore. Gladys Smith introduced the business, the most pressing of which is the bazaar and tea, Nov. 10, 2-5pm in the church hall.

Sullivan gets WDMH contract

WINCHESTER (Staff) - A contract to construct 22 parking spaces in the Winchester District Memorial Hospital has been awarded to Sullivan Bros. Construction, Chesterville.

With a low bid of $6458 for the job the Chesterville firm was awarded the contract. Other quotations received by the hospital's Board of Directors were $8000 from MacFarland Construction also of Ottawa.

The hospital board was informed recently that a severe parking shortage had developed in the hospital's parking lot in the past year. The shortage is particularly acute for outpatients' cars. Although most of the parking spaces temporarily lost during construction will be available shortly, the hospital will provide additional parking space immediately south of the building to alleviate problems encountered in the north parking lot.

No show by township residents at amendment meeting

WILLIAMSBURG (Staff) - After no township residents showed for a public hearing into proposed zoning amendments for the Police Village of Williamsburg, Reeve Johnny Whitteker says he is confident of the amendments being approved in December.

The hearing, held in conjunction with municipal council's regular meeting Saturday morning, was attended by planned Chuck Miller who said the Ontario Municipal Board and Ministry of the Environment aren't against the proposals.

The only suggested addition to the amendments was from OMB representative Grant Morris who said the document should include a map of the village's new sewage service area within which the changes apply.

Mr. Miller said the map is wanted to satisfy the concerns of "John Q. Public" who may want to see what area is affected.

"Just pull a map out of other documents and stick it in the appendix," Mr. Miller suggested.

Clerk Mike Waddell noted a map of the area has already been sent to Toronto for approval of the sanitary sewage project and copies have been circulated through the township as well.

"I wouldn't bother putting it in," Mr. Whitteker told Mr. Miller. "All they have to do is pull out a map in Toronto," he said and township residents could see the map if they attended Saturday's hearing.

Mr. Miller outlined other amendments.

One change allows for apartment buildings of more than two units, something not allowed before installation of the sewers.

Another amendment sets out requirements for supplying parking spaces for buildings with more than one unit.

The amendment requires all newly constructed buildings to hook into the new sewage system and details requirements for existing buildings with and without connections to the sanitary sewers.

Rules for conversions of existing buildings and establishing special exception zones are also covered in the amendments.

The changes allow commercial properties to be built with no minimum frontage so they abut the municipal property line while Highway commercial properties maintain a frontage requirement.

Another change eliminates frontage requirements on open space zones. Mr. Miller said the previous requirements for frontage on open space property was perplexing except that recreational buildings on the land would be built with a proper setback.

St. Lawrence Parks Youth Corps employment

MORRISBURG (Staff) - The St. Lawrence Parks Commission currently is hiring young people to fill positions under the Ontario Youth Corps program which is funded by the Board of Industrial Leadership and Development (BILD).

The program's goal is to reduce unemployment among young people who have left school and are experiencing difficulty in finding employment or starting a career.

To be eligible for employment under this program, young people must reside in Ontario, not have attended school full-time for at least 12 weeks, must be unemployed and have been looking for work for at least 12 weeks, be between the ages of 15 and 24 and eligible for work in Canada.

Jobs funded by the Ontario Youth Corps program will last at least 12 weeks, but no longer than 24 weeks, reaching completion on or before March 31, 1985.

Jobs will pay the provincial minimum wage of $4.00 an hour.

Those facing special difficulties in seeking employment, such as limited education, minimal work experience, physical or mental disabilities, problems with the law or those in receipt of welfare, are eligible to apply.

The Commission's available positions are in the areas of general maintenance, provision of assistance to tradespeople and artisans, snow removal, landscape work and gardening.

Anyone interested in applying should contact Myrna Whelan at the Commission's office at P.O. Box 740, Morrisburg, Ontario, call Mrs. Whelan at 543-2951.

Approval for sewer hook-up

WILLIAMSBURG (Staff) - Residential and commercial landowners in Williamsburg police village can hook-up anytime to newly installed sanitary sewers, clerk-treasurer Mike Waddell told municipal council's regular meeting Saturday morning.

All connections, Mr. Waddell added, must be inspected and approved by township engineer A.J. Graham.

Mr. Waddell said letters instructing how connections are to be made will be sent to landowners this week. About 15 connections have already been approved, he added.

Landowners should contact the clerk's office to notify it when connections, will be done and arrangements will be made for inspection.

Reeve Johnnie Whitteker noted the sewer system won't be operational until there is enough rain to supply water to the sewage lagoon. Initially, water will be pumped from the Hess Creek into the lagoon, he added.

Noting that he isn't a weather forecaster, Mr. Whittker said he hopes fall rains will allow the system to become operational in a couple of months.

Chesterville Rotary Report

By C.A. Graham

A fine meal was enjoyed, followed by an energetic singsong led by Chuck Adamson with Elsie Graham at the piano.

After some discussion, led by Carl Ward, it was decided to join with the Cornwall and Ingleside clubs, in supporting the skit "Substance Abuse Awareness" to be shown at county high schools and senior elementary schools.

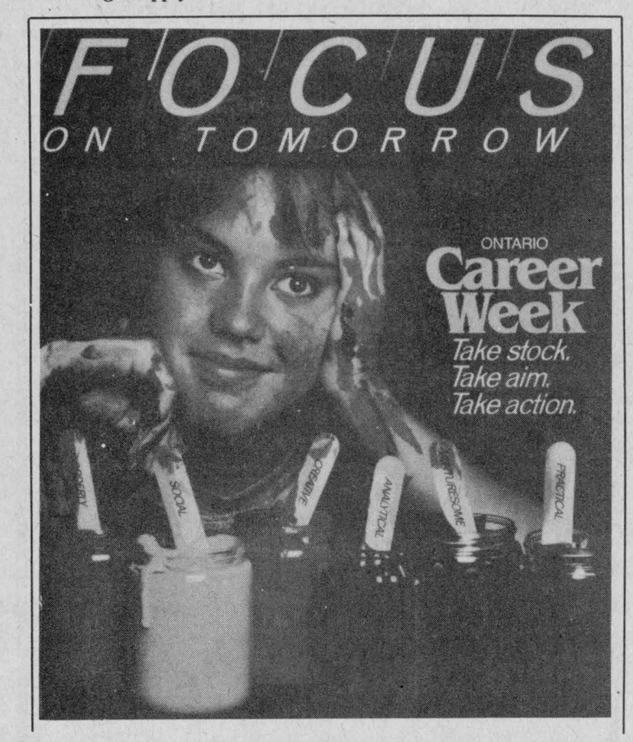
Brian Beazer had a supply of records from the Ottawa West Rotary club to be sold to raise funds for the Rotel project.

Our speaker was Dr. Bev Lapp, a former member of our Rotary club. He explained how the consumer in Ontario is protected when meat is purchased.

Meat checked by Ontario inspectors can only be sold in Ontario but when checked by federal inspectors, meat can be sold anywhere in Canada and also can be exported. Livestock are slaughtered in a very humane manner and all plants must also pass local Board of Health rules.

The large number of questions indicated the subject was very interesting, as well as the speaker.

Jack Cross thanked Dr. Bev and presented him with a jar of Nescafe.



Career Week at RO

(Staff) - Nov. 5-11 marks Career Week in Ontario, an event dedicated to help students realize the advantage of career planning.

Today students at Rothwell-Osnabruck School will play host to a number of universities and colleges for Career Day.

Displays will be set up for students to explore the broad range of career options available to them.

This year's Career Week theme "Focus on Tomorrow: Take Stock, Take Aim, Take Action," asks students to examine their individual aptitudes, interests and skills. To assist them in this endeavour, schools will be hosting a week of special activities such as career symposiums and tours of local businesses.

The provincial secretariat for social development is coordinating the week long event. The week will give students a better understanding of different work environments and the skills required for various occupations.

Another important aspect of Career Week is that it gives students the impetus to explore careers in non-traditional job fields and learn skills that may lead to more interesting and rewarding employment.

The Editor's Notebook

Once over lightly

Monday's Speech from the Throne had a little for all of us and reflected the Prime Minister's penchant for charming everyone in sight.

Women were mentioned and apple pie issues like equal pay for work of equal value; rights for taxpayers (that's almost all of us except those who have no employment or business of their own); improvement of regional disparities and regional isolation (Brian wants to gather us all together); attempts to get Quebec to mend its ways and join the body politic; Divorce Act amendments; kids rights and improved child care; not to mention widows and veterans of wars. That's just about all of us.

In fairness it's surpassingly difficult in a document of this nature to get down to the meat of national issues -- far easier to go once over lightly with promises of more depth and study later. The government has assumed power and with it the right to examine the books and dig up the secrets. The populace should allow a period of grace until they all get their feet wet and establish their bearings.

Organized business has blessed the speech overall but, predictably, labor is standing off at the moment. Well, there's a conservative government in power in Canada and this is political reality. Conservatives, small and large "C" generally feel disposed to promote business, efficiency and encourage investment. Labor feels exploited usually by big business so any comments from the Canadian Labor Congress critical to the ways of Conservatives is entirely predictable.

For now, let the new guys get on with their job and don't forget to let your member of parliament know your views. That's what he's there for.-Alvah Hanrahan-

Open house every day

With Crime Prevention Week a national institution now the law-enforcement authorities in Canada have organized a worthwhile event.

Did you know that every day is open house at any Ontario Provincial Police Detachment? The week of November 4-10, means the OPP would like to receive visitors who are interested in understanding the operation of a police station. But Corporal Lyon at Winchester emphasized that the public is welcome any time. Why not take the kids around -- they'd love to have their fingerprints made and the cells are interesting too. The stress of police work in modern society is immense and the police like to know they're appreciated. They also want to educate the public about crimeproofing. They're worth listening to. -Alvah Hanrahan-

Audrey's law

We feel that now is the time to make a revelation. Sitting here at this typewriter is not a man but a woman. When, we received a letter this morning from Morrisburg lawyer Doug Grenkie, whom we have known for years, addressed to "Dear Sir" we decided we would enlighten the public.

Why people in general consider only a man should do this job, or any job, is something sociologists may discover about late 20th century civilization when it is studied in depth at some future date.

We were amused, when, upon being introduced to a reader, male, at September's Stormont Fair, the gentlemen's mouth gaped open and he allowed as how he thought The Record's new editor was a man.

The Record has been enlightened in the choice of its news editors with Mary McDonald in place here before Mr. Hayes, who now graces the newsroom of the Glengarry News, new preppie look and all.

In fact, only a few months ago, The Leader's August editor, Art Laurin, growled to us that The Record had "stolen" its two lady editors from him.

Daily, though, the missives here addressed to "Dear Sir" or more personally to Mr. Alvah Hanrahan. Sometimes this appears funny and then there are days when we wonder why the universal but erroneous belief continues to regard all newspaper news editors as necessarily being of the male persuasion.

There's a little pink sign sitting on Audrey Cross's cash register next door that states "The Best Man for the Job Is a Woman." Who could argue?-Alvah Hanrahan-

Chamber challenges

The local Chamber of Commerce is in the news at the moment because the previous executive's term is up. In her two-year tenure Audrey Cross has contributed greatly to the commercial life of the village. Historically speaking, she has also made a mark -- Mrs. Cross was the first woman to hold the job.

The presidency has been handed over to Cecil VanWylick for the next two years. Let's hear him make some noise and draw public attention to the work of the Chamber of Commerce in the village. The major event, of course, the Trade Fair, will skip a year here and will take place in Winchester next fall. But the organization does sponsor other activities and attention should be paid to the work being done.

Some directions the group of merchants may take in the months to come should include a renewed effort to draw shoppers to the district and to keep local residents buying here, not elsewhere. Other avenues of endeavor, but in warmer weather, involve beautification of the village and consistent high standards in the appearance of the shopping district -- maybe some tubs of flowers wouldn't go amiss.

Neighboring Morrisburg puts on a nice display each summer and the Horticultural Society there does good work in making the shopping centre a pleasant environment for shopping and picnicking at lunchtime. We should look to ideas from other communities in strengthening and upgrading our commercial life.-Alvah Hanrahan-

Upping the error ante

We all make mistakes. In the newspaper business the pace at which we paste up our paper on Tuesday tends to be pressurized and we work with deadlines whatever we're doing -- racing to an unexpected story, writing copy, developing films, making prints, whatever.

We tend to derive great delight when we see others making mistakes too. For instance, there was a wonderful unfinished headline in the Citizen four weeks ago on page A-4. The story was four columns wide and the headline was alright over the first three columns but stopped abruptly with a letter "w" over the beginning of the forth column.

We also loved a front page story in our sister (and rival?) publication the Winchester Press October 24 when the Ault Food's expansion was costed at $36 million. We think that should have read $3.6 million. Sorry, Wayne.

What really delighted us, though, about the Ault Food's story, was to discover the amount had amazingly multiplied in the Standard-Freeholder on Thursday, November 1, to $436 million. Steven Ault would be speechless, no doubt, to discover how hard inflation is hitting this project. Sorry, Alex, we know the $ symbol and the 4 are on the same key.-Alvah Hanrahan-

Chesterville's past

24 — From The Record, Thurs., Nov. 27, 1924

A meeting of the shareholders of Chesterville Skating Rink Association will be held in the Town Hall. Tenders will be received up to the hour of the meeting for the caretaking of the rink this season.

MARRIED — Cross-Droppo - At Chesterville, Thurs., Nov. 13, 1924, at the Methodist Parsonage George Cross and Pearl Droppo were united in holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. R. Pounder.

Several hockey enthusiasts from town visited Ottawa Monday evening to see the game between the Senators and the Calgary Tigers, which resulted in a tie of two goals each. Hockey talk in town is beginning to crowd out the tall stories from the hunting trips which with repetition are beginning to pal on the old audiences, and from all accounts, Chesterville is to have another hockey team this season that will be in the game from start to finish.

The third regular meeting of the Maple Ridge Junior Red Cross "Toppers' was held on Nov. 14. Ralph Helmer gave the report of the Room Committee and Ralph Derby that of the Grounds Committee. A talk on sunlight and fresh air was given by Myrtle Cassidy. Myrtle told us that we must have fresh air and sunlight in order to be healthy. A demonstration on First Aid in case of bleeding was given by Charlie Cross and David Allison.

Riverside News: Misses Bella McMillan, Alice Summers and Mr. Osgoode Nugent spent Saturday in Chesterville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay M. Droppo, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Shaver, and Mrs. S. Hutt visited at the home of Mr. R.C. Bogart on Friday.

Master Milton and Mrs. Dan Pollock visited friends at Goldfield recently.

NOTICE — Owing to the frequent violations of the Ontario Temperance Act both before and since October 23 last, a committee of representative citizens has been organized with a view to prevent the illicit sale of liquor in future. All citizens interested in the welfare of the community are invited to become members of this committee, and effort will be made to suppress bootlegging in Chesterville and vicinity.

44 — From The Record, Thurs., Nov. 23, 1944

Flt. St. Jack Doering, twenty-year-old son of Major and Mrs. L.H. Doering, was among a large number of RCAF repats who arrived in Ottawa on Saturday evening. Jack has been overseas with a Lancaster squadron since Sept., 1943, and wears a pair of gold wings signifying a completed tour of operations over enemy territory. He is now spending a month's leave at his home here.

BORN — Waldroff - On Thursday, Nov. 23, 1944, to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Waldroff (nee Edith Rutley); a daughter, Marjorie Jean. Both well.

Last Thursday evening three stables were destroyed by fire at the north end of Main Street at the rear of what was formerly known as the Furney house, opposite the McMillan apartments. The blaze was first noticed by the enginemen on a passing train, who sounded the railway alarm for fire at about 7:30pm. The fire at that time was in a small building which had formerly been used as a stable, just north of the big brick dwelling. It looked at one time that the dwelling, the brick occupied by the Dagenais family and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weeks, and the house occupied by Billy Fyke would be difficult to save. Good work by the fire fighters soon cut down the flames. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

Keith Graham and his pals returned from their deer hunt last Friday afternoon bringing home two fine bucks, a doe and a couple of fawns.

On Monday evening about 50 members of St. John's Anglican church, Crysler, spent a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Armstrong, to bid farewell to their rector, Rev. J.L. Bradley, before his departure for Stafford.

64 — From The Record, Thurs., Nov. 12, 1964

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Droppo, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Colquhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Myles Merkley, and daughters the Misses Marjorie and Una, and Cpl. and Mrs. P.J. Carley and Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Baker of Ottawa.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE — Mrs. Sadie Lasalle visited her father Mr. Mel Barkley of Morrisburg on Sunday and called on her sister Mrs. Baker.

Pte. Douglas Babcock of Camp Borden has returned after spending his furlough with his wife at Mrs. Bessie McLaren's.

Mrs. Gertrude Alford, Mr. and Mrs. John Helmer were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. D.F. Marshall of Brockville.

Morewood Senior Public School has been officially opened. The ceremony took place on the evening of Nov. 5 with guest speaker Mr. M.N. Hutchinson, a former inspector of Dundas County. The teaching staff was introduced by the new principal, Mrs. A. Coulthart.

Here in the townships the deer are as large and plentiful as ever. Most gangs got enough to go around. Buck Weegar of Williamsburg collected extra when he clipped a wolf on which a nice bounty will be collected.

Commencement exercises were held for North Stormont District High School in Finch last week. Valedictorian was Bart Marjerrison.

The old story of water shortage in the district is becoming more and more acute with every dry day. Last week the Nestle engineers sat up the big pumper on the divide of land up the Nation where the dredge line ends. This water is slowly replenishing the pool in the village behind the dam.

Douglas LeBlanc, Northfield Station, exhibited the Grand Champion Holstein 4-H calf of the Ottawa Winter Fair recently. Douglas' calf was a daughter of the popular Eastern Breeders sire, Seiling Rockman.

The Farmer's Wife — by Wyn Thompson

Nobody asked me...but November is a quiet month in eastern Ontario. Colours are muted, the morning mists surround us as we awaken to each new day. Shadows fall long in the dooryard. The air is dreamy.

It is curtain time between the exciting act of October and the coming of the snows. By now almost everyone is ready for winter. It is a good time for getting the ploughing done. "I can't recall a much better one," said the Farmer as he sat down to supper.

When we take a weekend drive along the winding country roads, we remark on the neat stacks of firewood by the back doors. While the heating costs remain high, all those who are able to look to wood for supplementary heat. Their woodpiles are impressive, and their basements, woodsheds, and garages are full of good, seasoned wood.

Today I took my lunch on a tray to a sheltered corner out-of-doors. What weather, and I decided to eke out every splendid moment of it. After breakfast I had packed the Farmer a lunch, as he wanted to keep ploughing while the good weather held.

As I ate, I thought that Indian summer brings such warm days that nobody wants to believe in winter. It is a time of enchantment indeed.

A gun is fired in the bush across the way - some duck hunters, I decide, because deer hunting season does not begin for a bit. It is an exciting time for hunters, or would-be hunters, or those who simply fancy themselves hunters.

I stood in line this morning as hunters grabbed last minute provisions for their trips to hunting camps. The excitement was wonderful to behold, as truck after truck, laden to the ears, pulled in for supplies. It was fun to witness such enthusiasm.

A cloud bank moves in. The air cools, a foretaste of what is to come. This must be farewell to summer, I think, as I prepare to move indoors. I think of Madame Indira Gandhi, struck down before her time. Such waste! What a despicable act! I give thanks for all I have and, of course, for all the good experiences I have been privileged to be a part of in my lifetime. Even the trying ones were a challenge!

For today, I decide to do as I please. I go for apples along a beautifully treed concession road. I have coffee with my sister; it is a rare treat for we both live very full and involved lives. Perhaps that is what makes it so special.

The air begins to smell of windfalls that have been frozen. The last leaves drift down leaving the branches bare. We see more sky. Night comes upon us early now. I miss the long summer nights when day lingers lovingly. But just for today, the air is as refreshing as wine.

Autumn mornings have a sparkle, and I admire the shadow of the house silver with frost, while the early morning sun has melted the rest of the crystals on the lawn.

I arrive at my home. The cloud bank is heavy now. Winter will soon be in business, I tell Scamp, as I let him out and Lady in. A friend drops in and we sit by the fire. We talk about plays and people, and when we disagree, we both hold our own. When the Farmer is present he never has a chance to open his mouth, much less get a word in. Or so he says.

The sun slices the horizon, and we do not notice. Then there is a flurry of departure, for my friend is expected in Montreal for a late dinner engagement.

We say good-bye. I shiver a bit as I return to the house, I suspect winter waits in the wings, I tell Irish, as she returns from her late afternoon hunt.

In a strange sort of way, we Eastern Ontarians are proud of winter. We have had many hard winters, some easy ones, some almost arctic ones. However, a hard winter brings out the best in us. Neighbors, friends, and even strangers help one another. Winter, I decide, is a common denominator, as well as a challenge to Eastern Ontarian's staying power.

I decide to make applesauce. As it cooks, it tickles the nose in a delightful fashion. I recall that someone once said that the nose, of all the senses, had the longest memory. I'm inclined to agree.

An acquaintance who sells real estate told me not so long ago that she wished every client would keep a pot of soup simmering on the back burner. The warming blend of meat and vegetables and seasonings produces an atmosphere that cannot be described in words...either hers, or the clients. It is both pleasurable and nostalgic.

The smell of baking bread has been acclaimed by the poets and writers down through the years and with good reason. This can warm the humblest home and fill a basic need. It is an aroma that is comforting in itself and provides memories that embrace us with the reassurance of old slippers. It ensures the need for a nose.

I found this last item in the "Women for Survival of Agriculture" newsletter recently ahd have it pinned on my refrigerator door:

A very tall order, indeed, but something for which to strive.

Memorial services

(Staff) - A ceremony of remembrance for Remembrance Day has been planned by the Chesterville branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. This will take place at the cenotaph at 2pm Sunday, November 11.

Organizers have requested that groups wishing to parade with Legion members should gather at the Legion hall at 1:30pm.

In Morewood an observance ceremony will be held at the Morewood monument immediately following the church service at approximately 11pm, Sunday, November 11.

Individuals or groups wishing to order wreaths for Remembrance Day services can contact Mac Feeley at 448-3523 after 5:30pm week days or any time weekends.

The poppy: to remember

(Special) - Why was the poppy – the flower of forgetfulness – chosen as the symbol of remembrance for Canada's war dead?

A writer first made the connection between the poppy and battlefield deaths during the Napoleonic wars of the early 19th century, remarking that fields that were barren before battle exploded with the blood-red flowers after the fighting ended.

Lt.-Col. John McCrae, the Canadian doctor who wrote the poem In Flanders Fields, made the same connection 100 years later, and the scarlet poppy quickly became the symbol for soldiers who died in battle.

Prior to the First World War few poppies grew in Flanders. During the tremendous bombardments of that war the chalk soils became rich in lime from rubble, allowing 'popaver rhoeas' to thrive. When the war ended the lime was quickly absorbed, and the poppy began to disappear again.

However, thanks to the millions of Canadians who wear the flowers each November, the little red plant has never died. And neither have Canadians' memories for 114,000 of their countrymen who died in battle.

Legion fund drive assists veterans

(Special) - The Royal Canadian Legion's poppy fund has a three-fold purpose: it provides employment for disabled veterans and their widows, money for veterans' welfare, and a simple but meaningful way to remember approximately 114,000 Canadians who died in the First and Second World Wars and the Korean conflict.

Poppies and wreaths are made at Vetcraft Shops in Toronto and Montreal. About 30 workers are employed at the two plants and another 75 work from their homes. They produce more than 12 million poppies and thousands of wreaths and crosses annually.

Where does the money raised through their distribution go? It could provide bursaries for children of ex-service personnel, or help operate a Legion Service Bureau that assists veterans in making pension claims. It could also be used to operate day-care centres for seniors, or it might help needy ex-servicemen in other Commonwealth or allied countries. There are as many uses as there are veterans.

Most importantly, wearing a scarlet poppy is a way to remember the thousands of young Canadians who died years ago on the sea, in the air and on foreign battlefields from France and Africa to Korea.

It says we haven't forgotten.

Loyalsit book to raise funds at Christian school

WILLIAMSBURG (Special) - From November 1 to December 31 the members of the Timothy Christian School Society school are initiating a vigorous fund-raising campaign. In an effort to acquire additional school equipment and implement various other improvements, these people are planning to raise the necessary funds.

They will be utilizing a uniquely bicentennial fundraiser – Loyal She Remains: A Pictorial History of Ontario, a 700 page volume filled with nearly 1100 illustrations. This important book, a bicentennial publication of The United Empire Loyalist Association of Canada, is the first comprehensive history of Ontario.

Recently the book was presented to the Queen and President Ronald Regan.

WEAR A POPPY

A TIME OF PEACEFUL REMEMBRANCE

Remembrance Day is a time for quiet reflection. A time to honour our servicemen of past and present. And, as we rekindle the memory of what they have given to their country and to each of us, we also prayerfully work and hope for peace. Across the land there will be parades and speeches of commemoration. It's our way to proudly and reverently give thanks.

Democracy. Freedom. The Canadian experience and spirit is founded on these words. In times of peril our servicemen have defended this spirit with dedication and courage. Many have given their lives to preserve it. Today, young people from our communities are continuing to uphold tradition. Our hearts and thoughts are with them, and with all those men before them.

NDDHS report

By

Little Red Riding Hood lumbered down the hallway followed closely by a slobbering wolf, considerably smaller than his prey, but real scary all the same. Four zealous ghostbusters armed with hoses and the original soundtrack chased their two ghostbustees around the school in what turned out to be an excellent showing of the spirit prevalent this year at North Dundas. Costume winners were Glendon Merkley, "the dirty old man", and Kim Barkley who dressed up imaginatively as a combat soldier. Even one of the "authorities", our vice-principal Mr. Craig, managed to don a witch's costume.

This year's "Reach For the Top" team, headed by Mr. Ward, has been finalized. The team, made up of Angus Craig, Hugh Craig, Mike Matthew and Steve Molloy finds its fortes in the subject area of sports, politics, history and poetry.

A preview of what the yearbook will be like was given as students were required to fill in sayings respective to their grades. It's always amazing how something that seems brilliantly witty in November somehow loses its pizazz by May.

The Great North Dundas chocolate bar campaign has commenced. There will soon be a big influx of chocolate into the community, passed out by all the hot little hands here at the school.

The week ended on a sad note. Our special exchange friends from France, Ann Lecozannet and Karine Bensamoun said their goodbyes as they prepared to return to France on the weekend. Ann, in particular, endeared herself to the grade twelves with her many talents and give insight into her very different way of life. Let us hope, that both left North Dundas with good fellings and will remember us as we remember then. Au revoir!

Village makes effort for crime prevention

(Staff) - Chesterville's Neighborhood Watch organization is alive and well and reminding residents of the need to stay vigilant. During National Crime Prevention Week the local group is co-ordinating its efforts with Constable Al Lummiss, OPP, who has been appointed crime prevention officer for Dundas county.

Rev. Rick Bombay, co-chairman of Neighborhood Watch here, is attending a seminar in Ottawa this week with Constable Lummiss as part of the national effort to mark the occasion and emphasis the need for citizen participation.

Chesterville's Neighborhood Watch has appointed a 16-person task force to co-ordinate the groups educational activities. Included in this is Operation Identification which aims at marking or engraving articles of value. Currently about 40 out of 600 households in the district have taken advantage of the property identification scheme.

The Winchester detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police is conducting a survey of OPP records in an effort to determine what effect Chesterville's Neighborhood Watch program is having in the prevention of crime locally.

Apartment repairs go ahead without amendment

WILLIAMSBURG (Staff) - Businessman Bill Strader said he may soon begin exterior renovations on a proposed police village apartment building because waiting for final approval of a zoning change would make the weather prohibitive.

"There's some outside brick work that has to be done on days such as this (sunny and dry)," he told municipal council's regular meeting Saturday morning. The necessary interior renovation he added, won't begin until the amendment is passed.

Mr. Strader said he assumed council had no objection to the proposed zoning amendments which would allow conversion to apartments of his building, formerly a general store located on the northeast corner where Hwy. 31 intersects county road 18.

Reeve Johnnie Whittker confirmed council's endorsement of the amendment as outlined by municipal planner Chuck Miller.

However, he cautioned Mr. Strader about beginning extensive renovations. The proposed amendment must be advertised and the public allowed the opportunity to raise objections, Mr. Whitteker said, a process which could take two months and still end in failure.

"You're taking quite a chance if you go ahead and start work before December first (the dealine for filing objections)," the reeve said. "But we'll leave it up to you."

Mr. Miller pointed out that Mr. Strader's original proposal was delayed until the completion of sewage services was imminent and conversion to a seven-unit apartment building would be possible.

Without the sewer system, Mr. Miller noted, the maximum number of units in one dwelling was two.

He added that the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing advised municipalities to use liberal interpretation of guidelines for apartment conversions.

If there are no objections forcing a municipal board hearing then Mr. Strader could have final approval in January, Mr. Miller said.

If passed, the zoning amendment will designate Mr. Strader's property as multiple residential special exception.

The land fails to meet criteria for simple multiple residential because it has no frontage space between the building and the sidewalk, has too little side yard space and fails to meet open space requirements.

The lot area required for a seven-unit apartment is "almost dead-on," Mr. Miller added.

Mr. Strader noted he could provide nine parking spaces the bylaw demands.

Why the home on the left shouldn't be heated like the home on the right.

On the left? Bill and Kim, the twins, baby Sarah. They've revitalized their furnace with an electric plenum heater; it's one of the most economical ways to cut winter fuel bills. And they've turned the drafty old attic room into a warm nursery with insulation and inexpensive, easy-to-install baseboard heaters. There's a separate thermostat, so baby's room can be kept at exactly the right temperature without overheating the rest of the house.

On the right? Mike and Stella-empty-nesters. They've installed an add-on electric heat pump to help save money and heat their home in winter and they're looking forward to the comfort of air conditioning next summer. It was easy to add, cuts their heating costs and adds to the value of their home.

Electric heat provides home-owners with many options for either total or partial conversion. Whatever your needs, there's an electric system that's just right to help you cut costs, without cutting corners on comfort. Once you understand the flexibility of electric heat, other heats just don't look so hot.

Write to Ontario Hydro and ask for your free booklet about satisfied families who installed electric heat. Ontario Hydro, 620 University Avenue, Dept. U4E3 Toronto, Ontario, M5G 1X6.

Junior C Flyers lose pair to Lions, Eagles

(Staff) - After two games played this week, Chesterville Junior C Flyers lost ground against the Russell Lions, losing 3-2 in Russell on Friday and dropping another last Tuesday.

The Flyers lost to St. Isidore 6-4 in front of their home crowd. Chesterville Flyers have a four and three record.

6-4 for Eagles

(Staff) - Chesterville Junior C Flyers scarred their four and one record after last Tuesday's 6-4 loss to the St. Isidore Eagles at Chesterville arena.

St. Isidore took the lead in the first period when Chris Clemens set up centre Andy Paquette at the 11:30 mark. Paquette and Claude Leroux combined on a play at 2:33, setting up Stephane Gauthier on a power play with Flyer's Damien Laflamme serving a minor penalty.

The Flyers entered second period with a goose egg, but Larry Faulkner turned the tables with a power play goal with 10:06 on the clock. Darren Kelly and John Guy assisted with Faulkner's goal. Just 16 seconds earlier, Yvan Desnoyer of St. Isidore was called for interference.

Mark Guy completed a play set up by John Guy and team captain Dale Simms, tying the score at 2-2. Sean O'Connor then fed Damien Laflamme the puck and edged the Flyers ahead 3-2 with 7:52 on the clock.

With 2:30 left to play in the second, Mario Galipeau scored on a power play with Yvan Desnoyer assisting. Laflamme of the Flyers was warming the penalty box on a roughing charge.

After two minutes of play in the third, St. Isidore's Kevin Marshall received a pass by Yves Lalonde which put them ahead 4-3. Yves Lalonde and Yvan Desnoyer combined on a play, setting up St. Isidore team-mate Stephane Gauthier for his second of the night.

The Flyers got on back as Tim Lalonde slapped the puck past goaltender Jean Souligny. John Guy got his third assist of the night as he fed the puck to Lalonde, bringing the score to 5-4.

The final goal of the night was scored by St. Isidore's Sylvain Levac with 33 seconds remaining on the clock. Andy Paquette got the assist.

3-2 for Lions

(Staff) - Russell Junior C Lions were able to take advantage of power play situations and capitalize on their own mistakes edging Chesterville Flyers 3-2 on Russell's home ice Friday night.

This doggie palace was spotted outside The Record office on King Street last week. Prince, the English setter, has travelled all the way from Toronto so his master can hunt Hungarian partridge in this area during the hunting season. There is room for eight dogs in the portable dog-house and all the dogs are fully trained for huntin g and retrieving prey. They had stopped for some refreshment along the way.

Tagwi b-ball gals too strong for Lancers

By France Brabant

AVONMORE (Special) - The Osnabruck Lancers dropped a 55-25 decision to the Tagwi Warriors last Tuesday in Junior Girls Basketball.

Although coach Claude Lapierre played his second line most of the game, the Warriors were definitely stronger than the Lancers.

Tracey Buchanan led the attack with 15 points and a great performance offensively and defensively. Tagwi pressured the opposite team which contributed in leaving the Lancers to few dangerous attacks.

For the Senior girls there was little difference. Tagwi won a decisive game of 72-33 against Osnabruck.

Tracey Hollingdrake with 23 points and Kelly Conroy with 19 points played undoubtfully well. But what really makes the strength of both Tagwi teams is the great team work which is necessary in any sport.

Bishop Macdonnel come from behind for 43-39 victory

(Staff) - North Dundas Junior Blue Devils lost to a stronger Bishop Macdonnel basketball team with a score of 43-39, last Tuesday night at Cornwall.

Tracey Denneny of Bishop Macdonnel shot two points in the first quarter and almost scored half of Bishop's total points, plunking in 11 points in the final quarter. Wanda MacDonald dropped in two points for a four point first quarter.

The second quarter saw each team scoring a total of 12 points each. For the Devils, Kerry-Lynn Thompson and team-mate Tracie McVey put up four points each and Lamb and Van Vlaanderen got two each.

MacDonald dropped in six for Bishop and Denneny shot four with Tammy McDonald adding her two points to reach a total of 12 ponts. At the end of the first half, Bishop Macdonnel shot a total of 16 and the Devils put in 19 points.

Bishop pulled ahead with Denneny's effort in the fourth quarter. McDonald dropped in three points in this quarter and Jill Blaske got one and Christine Levac got two points.

Plenty of fast action took place last Friday as Chesterville's Atom team pitted themselves against Russell. Right-winger Ryan Buske (2) goes to the aid of goalie Denis Desormeaux as he fights for possession of the puck against two players from Russell.
