A step back

Upper Canada Village gave visitors a glimpse of an early 19th century fall fair last weekend. It was the 6th annual Agricultural Show and Ploughing Match organized by the Upper Canada Agricultural Society. Participating in the step-back-in-time were (left to right) Mariane Hart of Chesterville, Harold Feeley of Morrisburg and Viola Stewart of Morewood.

Chesterville Chamber joins high interest rate protest

(Staff) - The Chesterville Camber of Commerce has joined forces with the Dundas Federation of Agriculture to protest high interest rates.

A united front of small businessmen, farmers and community representatives from Dundas, Leeds and Grenville Counties have met twice in Spencerville to develop a plan of action to protest the government's policy of high interest rates.

At the second meeting the group agreed to print 100,000 copies of a form letter and distribute it to businesses throughout the three counties.

The letters will have a short paragraph at the top, explained the president of the Dundas Federation of Agriculture, Dan Harkin, stating the undersigned protested high interest rates.

A space will be left below the paragraph for the individual's personal situation caused by the poor economic conditions.

The letter should be available in Chesterville stores this week said Mr. Harkin. The idea is to have individuals fill out the letter right in the store making it easier for all the letters to be picked up by the Chamber of Commerce.

Chambers of Commerce in Morrisburg and Winchester are also participating noted Mr. Harkin, and in areas where there is no Chamber the Dundas Federation of Agriculture will organize the letter campaign.

The letters have been addressed to Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley and Leeds-Grenville MP Tom Cossitt. They'll be collected and presented, hopefully by October 17 to the respective MPs, says Mr. Harkin, depending on when the MPs are available.

Other counties in Ontario are doing the same thing he noted. "It's really starting to grow across the province."

Besides the letter campaign the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce is, in co-operation with the Dundas Federation, placing an advertisement in this week's issue of the Chesterville Record, promoting the letter campaign.

"We've got to make a noise, if we don't nothing will be changed," says Chesterville Chamber president Jan Van Bruinessen. Politicians must be told we're unhappy with the high interest rate policy before anything will be done, he added.

Sewer cost estimated at $82,000

But price may change depending on United Counties Council

(Staff) - Chesterville Village council received an estimate of $82,000 to install storm sewers along Main St. north and Hummel St. but the price could come down.

Council reviewed a letter from Derek Wilson, the village engineer, estimating the cost of installing storm sewer pipes from the railway lines on Main St., to Hummel St., and then down to the end of Hummel would cost $82,000.

However, councillor Bryan Beazer informed council that Nestle Division, Chesterville Factory, didn't want to contribute to the construction costs of the Main St. portion of the storm sewer.

That will probably mean the size of the storm sewer in Main St. would be decreased also cutting down the cost.

Members of council will be speaking to United Counties Council today to determine if they are interested in contributing to the cost of the storm sewer along Main St. The street is actually a county road. Counties council's interest will also affect the cost to the village of the work.

Whether or not the village will go ahead with the project in 1981 is still uncertain.

Although the Hummel, Main St. project is not yet finalized council voted in favor of calling for tenders to do work on the corner of King and Emma Streets. The work includes a 75 ft. barrier curb, removing two catch basins and replacing them with ditch inlet catch basins, excavation and replacement of granular A and B, and paving.

All three items will be tendered. Council decided the job could be done by local firms and will only be advertising the work in The Chesterville Record.

The village lost in a decision by the Ontario Municipal Board recently. The municipality was opposing a severance application made by Lyle Smith in the Armstrong sub-division in the village.

When the houses were built on the sub-division lots they were all positioned too close to one end of the property. Because the sub-division is a circle the final lot, yet to be built on, is very small.

The two neighboring landowners wanted to sever the lot into two and each take one half. However, the village opposed the application to sever as the municipality would lose a lot for assessment purposes, as agreed to in the original sub-division agreement.

The OMB over-ruled the Counties Severance Board in making the decision.

Chesterville council is concerned a precedent has been set, allowing for easy contravention of a sub-division agreement.

Councillor Bryan Beazer argued the pursuit of the matter is over, but other councillors disagreed.

In order to appeal the decision the municipality would have to go through the courts, which is expensive and doesn't

Conversion from oil gets approval

CORNWALL (Staff) - Approval for the conversion of 10 SD and G Separate schools from oil to natural gas was received, in the amount of approximately $50,000 the board was told last Tuesday evening.

The schools scheduled for conversion are: in Cornwall, St. Columban's East, St. Columban's West, Ste. Croix, Notre-Dame Senior, Ste. Therese, St. Peter, St. Joseph and St. Gabriel. Ste. Marie, Green Valley and The Alexander School, Alexandria, were also approved for the off-oil grants.

The conversions will be undertaken as a result of an April energy conservation study undertaken by L.J. Tremblay Engineering which indicated an energy consumption reduction of up to 26 per cent yearly.

The annual savings will, in three years, pay the board back for the work, said Mr. Tremblay.

In schools where conversion is not feasible conservation will be effected by the use of automatic thermostats, indoor-outdoor controls and fan shut offs. Those schools include, Elda-Rouleau, at Alexandria, Nativite and St. Cecilia's in Cornwall and Iroquois, respectively, St. Bernard's, Finch and St. Mary's in Chesterville.

Sheila Tremblay was instructed to write a letter to the Ottawa Citizen to protest what the trustees voted "inflammatory journalism". The article in question appeared in the Mon., Aug. 10 Ottawa Citizen and quoted an unnamed trustee as saying the "French trustees who shafted" former board chairman, Claude Courville.

The controversial resolution drew a lively discussion but was finally passed, said Rejean Clement, assistant secretary to the board.

At the same meeting Conny Wylie and Ronald Eamer were named to fill the vacant seats for Cornwall and Charlottenburgh Township. Mr. Wylie replaces Claude Courville and Mr. Eamer replaces Francine MacDonald.

Finch contracts awarded

(Staff) - Villeneuve and Leroux were awarded the maintenance contract for the Bancroft-MacIntyre drain by Finch Township council last Monday night. The firm submitted the low bid, $4,350. B.J. Maloney Construction won the tenders on the Ouderkirk and Shaver-Dunbar drain maintenance with bids of $1,000 and $3,000. The two companies were tied for low tender on the Shaver-Dunbar drian and council divided the work so that each firm received the same dollar value.

(Staff) - Parents or guardians of a mentally and-or physically handicapped child or adult are being invited to attend a meeting to organize programmes beneficial to this area. The meeting will also give information about the activities of the Parent Relief Program 1980-81. It's being held in the United Church Hall in Williamsburg next Tuesday (that's Sept. 29) at 8pm. Organizers welcome everyone.

Seeks membership

(Staff) - The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Separate School Board have agreed to seek representation on the area board of health. The board was informed the Public Health Act may be replaced by the Health Protection Act and it would be timely to approach the municipal councils now with their request for representation.

SVTC promises only promotional aid to Tropical Gardens

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Other than promotional aid, the Osnabruck Tropical Gardens will receive no help from the Seaway Valley Tourist Council (SVTC).

The decision was taken at last Wednesday's meeting of the council, here, when they discussed whether or not to become involved in the bird sanctuary's problems.

The bird sanctuary is open to the public at no cost and, said Ron Johnston of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, represents a gift to the area.

Earlier this year, the owner of the property died and since then the SVTC and other community organizations have been looking for a caretaker for the birds.

President Ian McIntosh noted "from a tourist point of view, we have to feel bad if we lose it."

Mr. Johnston told the members that a certain amount of emotion was clouding the issue however. It might be cold-blooded, he said, but asked the members, "do you have the money to do it?"

He also noted it was unfortunate there had not been nominal fee charged at the sanctuary to offset its costs.

Norm Grace, on the marketing committee, volunteered the council do its utmost to see them over the bad spot, but do no more than help by promotion.

He mentioned too, that expenses could be offset by the charging of an admission fee, but the owner's widow could not see her way clear to do that, since she viewed the gardens as a sort of memorial to her husband.

In other business, the members examined a presentation by Norm Grace and SVTC graphic artist Barbara Tolman of the Explore the Seaway Valley factbook which will be delivered in mid-October.

The 32-page pocketsize book is designed to reflect the council's antique marketing trend, with scroll-look on titles. Ms. Tolman also noted the sales of advertising in the 1982 factbook will be facilitated by the appearance of the 1981 version.

Advance Printing of Kemptville won the tender for the work on the book at $4,291.98 and advertising and membership revenue totalled $5,150, giving the project a financial cushion, noted Mr. Grace.

Mr. McIntosh pointed out the omission of the Seaway Valley in an Ontario government publication, Fall Auto Tours. He suggested a letter to both the ministry of tourism and MLA Osie Villeneuve.

Finch Roads close to budgeted subsidy with two major projects left this year

BERWICK (Staff) - Although the roads' subsidy is dwindling rapidly in Finch Township, council members were told Monday night, that the roads department hopes to come in at or close to the budgeted subsidy.

The road year ends December 15 and there was $42,000 left in the subsidy budget at the end of August. The dollars are spent at a rate of 50 per cent of project costs.

The two major projects left in the year, Reg Burd, roads superintendent told council, are the paving of the station road in Crysler and the completion of the work on the road through Concession 10 between lots 18 and 19 just off the Swale Road.

After the subsidy dollars have been spent, explained Arnott Empey, clerk-treasurer of the township, the township will be spending its own money at a rate of 100 per cent.

Council received notification from Larry Cotton, countryside planner, that amendments to the planning set in the form of rezoning requests to pits and quarries would be taken to the Finch Township planning board. The two properties are at Lots 2 and 3, Concession 2.

Reeve and deputy-reeve, Ralph MacKenzie and Donald Shane, were invited to a meeting Wed., Sept. 23 with the county engineer, D.J. MacDonald, and the county solicitor to attempt to find a solution to the proposed closing of the Connaught Bridge on the Nation River.

A delegation consisting of Mel Bauder, Joe Rutters and their solicitor. Cindy Martin-Hrycak met with council to request the closing of the Prince Street road allowance from Water Street to the Payne River and the closing of the Water St. road allowance all in Berwick.

Council agreed to the first closing but decided to discuss the second with their solicitor to determine whether certain lots which have been presumed to have no registered owner and which have not been on the tax role are, in fact, without an owner.

The township also discussed the percentage interest rate they should be charging on tax arrears. Archie Byers advised council go with the higher of two rates proposed, 1.875 per cent per month, saying, "We're not bankers and we've got to discourage loans."

Council were notified by P.E. Keeling, a cemetery inspector for the province, the condition of the Church of Scotland Cemetery on Lot 19, Concession 2 was not acceptable.

Creating a new kind of wave at Tagwi High school

AVONMORE (Staff) - Whether it's to satisfy curiosity or to get just a little closer to the centre of luck, organizers hope a large crowd will be on hand to view the Thurs., Oct. 8 Wintario draw to be held at Tagwi Secondary School.

Jean Canham, secretary of the Roxborough Agricultural Society, sponsoring the hosting of the draw, said tickets will be available at the door if there are any left by the draw date. As well Wintario tickets for the draw at the door will be available, she said.

The Society had originally hoped for the Thursday immediately previous to the Avonmore Fair when they applied in the spring but were told by the Ontario Lottery Corporation in Toronto that they would be 'put on hold for a year or two!, said Mrs. Canham.

Just previous to the fair, the group were informed they could host the October 8 draw provided the technical prerequisites could be met.

Adequate wiring to accommodate the heavy equipment, a suitable stage size and clear air waves to transmit from the location were established and the air waves confirmed last Friday, said Mrs. Canham.

A one-hour pre-show featuring the Winchester and District Band, the Trottier Sisters and the MacCullough Dancers will be emceed by Keith Clingen.

Doors open at 7pm for the 7:30pm show, said Mrs. Canham. Admission is $3 and proceeds will be put towards the Roxborough Agricultural Society building fund. The draw is scheduled for 9pm.

Tagwi Secondary School should hold approximately 500 spectators, she said and there were hopes the cafetorium would be completely filled.

When asked if the work involved wasn't outweighing the potential to be earned by the undertaking, Mrs. Canham laughed and said "but we've done a lot of work for $50 sometimes" and noted if there is a $100,000 winner on the tickets sold by the society, it would receive $10,000.

Roxborough Agricultural Society aided by Wintario

Before draw date tickets will be available at Country Casuals, Scotiabank, Lang's Store, Barkley's Store, Barbara Ann Beauty Shop, all in Avonmore; Red and White, Moose Creek; Mary's Restaurant, Monkland and in Finch, David's Store and the Variety Store.

SD&G Separate Board advises consultant hiring

CORNWALL (Staff) - The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Separate Board of Education have recommended the hiring of a family life consultant as soon as possible.

The decision was taken at last Tuesday evening's board meeting when the board considered the mandate of the consultant and the time-line implementation of the Benziger Family Life program.

The consultant will be responsible for the organization of sessions for both parents and teachers to familiarize and assist them with the implementation of the program as well as working with the religious education department to ensure the progress of the program at classroom level.

During the 1981-82 school year the consultant has a mandate to implement the Benziger Family Life program from grades one through four.

Depending on the readiness of parents, teachers and students, the program could be extended during the present school year to classes beyond grade four.

The completion of implementing the program to grades five through eight is planned for the 1982-83 school year.

Funding, the board was told, can be partially, if not completely arranged through continuing education grants.

The administration will attempt to find someone within the board, to become the consultant said Rejean Clement, assistant secretary to the board, however if there is no one qualified inside the board, the search will be extended.

The board set aside a proposed discussion on the role of the school trustee until the next meeting, scheduled for Tues., Sept. 29 to deal with overflow from last Tuesday's meeting.

In addition to the fact that Mr. Keeling said he would like a fence around the cemetery, he noted there had been farm machinery driven over the land and although the memorials had been contained in a cairn in no way did this lessen the sanctity of the ground.

A proposal was received from W.D. Buchanan for the township's official plan. A bid of $7,840 with extras including per diems of $225 for Mr. Buchanan's services, $110 for clerical fees and $160 for technical to be charged over that rate.

Council will consider the proposal along with that submitted by J.L. Richards and Associates through Daphne Wretham.

guarantee a favorable decision, noted councillor Jim Cook.

Council decided instead to write to the minister concerned and express their disagreement with the ruling. The facts of the case will be carefully documented and an opinion expressed that the municipality's case wasn't well represented in the OMB hearing.

In other business council will be asking the Ministry of Environment if it is possible to change several terms of the lagoon by-law sent to the municipality for approval.

The by-law is a form document (used by the ministry in similiar cases) giving the municipality ownership and making the operation of the system the responsibility of the ministry.

However, council says several of the terms are not in the best interest of the municipality. Several members of council will be meeting in the next few days to change a few paragraphs.

Council gave the go-ahead to Northern and Central Gas to extend their pipeline on Queen St. to in front of the post office.

Several of the cottages brought into the village limits recently by owner Garnet Droppo, which were in contravention of the municipality's zoning by-law, were sold in an auction sale last weekend.

The village building permit committee received several requests to bring the cottages onto other village lots. The committee decided the cottages could be used on lots as accessory buildings but could not be the main building on a lot.

Mr. Droppo was also granted a building permit to keep the two cottages on the lot next to the liquor store on Queen St. The two lots will be used as an office and a storage building. Although there is no main building on the lot the permit was granted under the zoning by-law as the lot is zoned commercial and not residential.

Council will also request Recreation Director Dave Arnold develop a policy for students working part-time at the Chesterville Arena.

St. Lawrence College gets CIDA contract to aid Caribbean island college

CORNWALL - St. Lawrence College took another forward step in the field of international education recently when the Kingston campus was awarded a half-million dollar contract by the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) to assist in the development of a community college in the Caribbean island of St. Lucia.

St. Lawrence has been involved in international education since 1975 when Venezuelan students first arrived at the college for English language training that would allow them to go on to college and university programs in various parts of the country.

The latest group of Venezuelans arrived at the Cornwall campus last fall, and there is a strong possibility that another group will come this fall.

Four years ago the college was chosen to take part in a project to provide business and technology training for young people from Nigeria. Two groups of Nigerians have come to the college since then, with the last group expected to complete their studies this year.

All three campuses of the college, Cornwall, Brockville and Kingston, have been involved in these international education projects.

Now, in the college's latest project, two teaching masters from the Kingston campus, Michael MacKinder and Chris Driver, have gone to St. Lucia to begin training St. Lucia teachers for the new St. Lucian Community College.

By 1983 a total of seven Kingston faculty plus campus principal, Gregory Welch, are to be directly involved in the co-operative project.

Mr. MacKinder and Mr. Driver were selected from a list of interested faculty because of the close match between their backgrounds and St. Lucian needs, says principal Mr. Welch. "Mike and Chris represent the desired type of college faculty. They both have several years of industrial experience and of professional development as teachers," he said. "Their job will be to work with their St. Lucian counterparts."

Mr. MacKinder and Mr. Driver are to start teacher training and curriculum development. After they return home, their work will be continued by other faculty. Mr. Welch will assist with the organizational structure and detailed planning for the college. All development is done with the full involvement of St. Lucian educators.

St. Lucia became independent from Britain in 1979. Since then the government has wanted to place native St. Lucians in senior industrial and commercial positions, Welch said. "Economic development has created a real demand for technologists and skilled technical staff in the country's industries," he said.

"Right now the main academic post-secondary education open to St. Lucians is the University of the West Indies in Barbados," Mr. Welch said. "There is no advanced technical training at all. That is why St. Lucia wants to start a community college."

In 1979, a group of educators from the Caribbean toured Ontario colleges. The principal of the existing St. Lucian Technical College was particularly impressed with the Ontario college system, and with St. Lawrence's past involvement in foreign education. The St. Lawrence proposal was one of 12 college proposals submitted to CIDA, of which three were approved. The St. Lawrence one is the largest approved to date.

The St. Lucian contract is the third of its type awarded to the college in under three years. The first two involved similar development for two new technical colleges in Nigeria.

All travel costs and salaries for the St. Lucian project are covered by CIDA and the St. Lucian government.

Pack a peck of perfect pickled peppers

(Special) - The zip in many winter meals is being prepared now 'cause it's pickle-packing time. These suggestions from food and nutrition specialists with the Ontario ministry of agriculture and food may help you avoid pickling problems.

If vinegar-preserved pickles are hollow, it may be due to too long a soaking period or a flaw in the cucumbers themselves. In fermented pickles, cured in salt brine, hollowness could be from incorrect proportions in the brine or letting them ferment at too high a temperature.

Shrivelling can be the result of too much time between picking and pickling, too strong a brine, too much vinegar or overcooking.

Softness or slipperiness in pickles has many possible causes: not thoroughly scrubbing the vegetables, leaving blossom ends on the cucumbers or using ones that are over-ripe, too little salt or vinegar, not skimming scum off the brine each day, using mouldy garlic, mouldy spices or very hard water, or storing the filled jars in a warm area.

Discoloration results if ground spices are used, if the hollow ones are left in jars or water is very hard.

Cloudiness or a white sediment is good in fermented pickles.It proves the right action is taking place. With vinegar-preserved types, it's not a problem unless the pickles are mushy. It could be the result of using table rather than pickling salt, hard water or the growth of harmless bacteria.

Never use brass, copper, iron, zinc or chipped enamel utensils in pickling. The action of vinegar on these metals could be dangerous.

Record Recipes

by Chris Brown

I heard there was frost Monday evening. It didn't seem to affect our tomato patch but it's a warning that there isn't much time left to get those last few (for some of us, they are the first few!) tomatoes off the vines and into the basement or a recipe.

I've had a call for clarification of a recipe that appeared last year about this time. With the onset of fall, I thought this would be as good a time as any to run it.

Green tomato mincemeat is not only a great way to use up those unripened fruit but is also a tasty pie that offers no hint of its main ingredient.

When sealed there is no problem keeping it unrefrigerated through to the Christmas-New Year's season and even later if necessary.

GREEN TOMATO MINCEMEAT

8 pounds green tomatoes (weighed after chopped and drained)
4 pounds brown sugar
1 pound currants
1 cup suet
2 tsp. salt
1 pound raisins
4 cups chopped and peeled apples
1 cup vinegar
½ cup molasses
1 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 cup any fruit juice
optional ½ to 1 cup rum

Put the tomatoes in cold water and bring to a boil. Set aside for half an hour. Draining, add cold water and bring to a boil again. Drain thoroughly. (They are already chopped and drained at the beginning of this step).

Add the sugar, currants, suet, raisins, apples, salt, vinegar and molasses. Boil hard for 15 to 20 minutes. Add the spices and the fruit juice and bottle in sterilized jars. Cover with paraffin wax or cap loosely and process in boiling water until sealed.

I prefer the paraffin method since it is much less time consuming. There is no need for a processed seal since the sugar and vinegar both have a hand in preserving the fruits.

Our family add the rum to taste but it was not included in the reicpe when we got it and the mincemeat does not suffer by its absence but it is enhanced by its presence.

Ralph Barrie terms governments gutless

Toronto - "Our governments - especially federally - are politically gutless and intellectually paralyzed", Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA) president Ralph Barrie said today.

In a speech to the Business Club of Metropolitan Tronto, Mr. Barrie criticized the federal government for "toying with an economic fad - monetarism".

Monetarism is the theory that the money supply has to be squeezed in order to fight inflation. It has forced interest rates to an unmanageable level, Mr. Barrie said.

He said farmers are suffering financially because government has turned a blind eye to what is happening in the country. "They see that the problems demand immediate action, yet they fail to take any decisive steps," he said.

"We are told to have patience, that things are unfolding as they should. Does that mean we're supposed to have more and more people going out of business every day, and losing their homes?"

Mr. Barrie stressed the importance of agriculture to Canada's economy, and to the world supply of food. "Farming is the most important occupation in the world," he said, "and North America provides most of the world's food. So if our food production is limited, the whole world suffers."

The Emergency Task Force on Agriculture being organized by OFA should impress upon the government that they need to move quickly, Barrie said.

The Emergency Task Force on Agriculture being organized by OFA should impress upon the government that they need to move quickly, Barrie said.

The Task Force, chaired by Everett Biggs, president of the Canadian National Exhibition, will be investigating the current farm economic crisis in Ontario by holding hearings across the province.

Committees shuffled

CORNWALL (Staff) - Newly appointed Separate School trustee, Conny Wylie, will head the finance and business committee, Separate Board chairman, Sheila Tremblay said, Monday morning.

Mrs. Tremblay disbanded the Catholic education committee, the special education committee, and the committee for relations with the county board.

The education committee, will bring the functions of the Catholic education and special education committees together with the overall view and will be headed by Pierre Landry. Other members are Cameron McCormick, Suzanne Charette, Yollande Charron, Terry Wheeler and Mike Gibbs.

Serving on the finance committee with Mr. Wylie will be Peter Van Moorsel, Bernard Besner, Jules Renaud, Ray Larkin, Ron Eamer and Gerry Sampson.

The open meetings are a direct result of a study on communications completed earlier this year.

Mrs. Tremblay stressed this was an item agreed upon by the public and many members of the board, noting many ratepayers wanted the right to input on committee considerations.

Enrolment bulges

CORNWALL (Staff) - The junior kindergarten and kindergartens seem to be providing the SD and G Separate School board's English population bulge, according to Bernard Warner, superintendent of the board's English section.

Although the area birth rate is monitored to form the board's five-year prediction of enrollment, said Mr. Warner, the beginners are the biggest factor contributing to the close to 200 over-projection of enrollment in the separate schools this year.

The English section reports approximately 3,400 total bodies as opposed to 3,350 in June, 1980.

The five-year projection figures for 1981-82 indicated a drop of some 145 students for September. Rather the schools registered a more than 50-pupil increase, indicating a jump of close to 200 over the projected enrollment.

Asked if the increase would cause administrative problems, Mr. Warner replied an emphatic no, adding the extra grant funds would facilitate the addition of staff complement to deal with extra children.

The French section of the board registered its first increase in five years, 4,933 in September from 4,915 in June. The figures are in line with the five-year projection.

Four steps toward your decision

School Guidance Corner
By Don Stephen,
Head of Guidance, NDDHS

In an excellent little pamphlet entitled "What's Next?", the University of Guelph counselling and student resource centre has compiled four basic steps that they recommend you consider when you make your decision about attending university.

The first step is to develop a reasonably good idea of what you are good at. The way to do this is to look not only at the high school subjects you have done well in, but all aspects of your life.

This would include the way you deal with people, the way you handle crisis, the way you handle responsibilities, your athletic ability, hobbies you are proud of and the jobs you have done well.

Now you can start looking over your academic records, and identify the courses you have taken in high school - English, mathematics, the sciences, technical courses, etc. - and ask yourself in which areas would you like to spend more time.

These are usually the courses you have shown most interest in and which you are most curious about. It's a fact that people are better motivated when they work at tasks that they are interested in.

It is now time to develop some idea of what you expect to give to and receive from the world of work. Many people have a distorted view of the world of work. Some thinks it's a "drag", a "dog-eat-dog" existence, while others find great personal fulfillment from their work. Have you had enough experiences in the world of work to make up your own mind?

The fourth step is to explore a number of different occupational fields that interest you. The results of the Strong-Campbell Vocational Interest Survey that you did on the first day of school will suggest many areas that you might explore.

In most cases it is too early to make up your mind definitely as to which occupatonal area you wish to pursue. Too many students have too narrow a view of occupational alternatives available to them.

Take the time to read about, get expereince in, and talk about occupational fields you are interested in. Get to know what people do in these jobs, and get to understand what kinds of people enjoy and don't enjoy the jobs you are interested in. One way to do this is to speak with the many professionals from our community who will be visiting with us during Career Week '81.

It is also time to read the University calendars and handbooks that are available in the Guidance office. This year we have arranged the material from each University in separate Princeton files. Look over this material and if you have questions consult your counsellor.

Representatives from each Univeersity will be in Cornwall on November 2nd to explain the opportunities available at their institution. All grade 12 and 13 students who wish to attend are invited to sign up in the Guidance office.

Your initial three choices for University have to be completed by early December so now is the time to tackle your decisions.

Next week I will write about our Community Colleges.

Loyalists hold Charter Night dinner

(Special) - Trinity Memorial Anglican Church Hall, Cornwall, was the setting of the Third Annual Charter Night Dinner for the St. Lawrence Branch of the United Empire Loyalists Association of Canada on Sat., Sept. 12th.

Approximately 200 members and friends joined the St. Lawrence Branch in honoring members who have proven their pioneer Loyalists ancestry, who appreciate their heritage of principles and values, and whose aim is to keep the Loyalist flame burning brightly on the Canadian scene.

Mrs. Elizabeth Blair and Mrs. Joyce Bradford of Dominion Headquarters of Toronto, and Dominion President John Eaman of London attended the banquet with members attending from Montreal, Tweed, Ottawa and Florida.

Local dignitaries, Honorable Ed Lumley, MP., Minister of State for Trade; George Samis, MPP., Ossie Villeneuve, MPP., and Gerry Parisien, Mayor of Cornwall "The Friendly City". All congratulated the branch on their efforts of keeping area Loyalist history alive, and their continued success as they march towards the Bicentennial.

The branch covers the counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, and is the fastest growing of the 23 across Canada.

Canon Bain Peever welcomed all to the historic Church, and said many graves of Loyalists were on the grounds west of the Church. He also stated 1984 is the bicentennial for the Church.

1984 will be a busy year for the area - The founding of New Johnstown (Cornwall), Trinity Memorial Anglican Church, and the coming of the Loyalists to Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec. A big time for celebrations, a prelude to the Bicentennial of the founding of Upper Canada (Ontario) in 1791.

Third vice-president Douglas Warner introduced the Guest Speaker - Dr. Elinor Senior, BA, MA, Ph.D. - a former newspaper lady turned historian. She has written many reports on a military nature, and recently had a book published, and two more to come out shortly on military history. Dr. Senior has spent a year of extensive research in preparation of her new book "History of City of Cornwall" which will be published 1984 for the Bicentennial of Cornwall.

Dr. Senior spoke on "The problems of early settlement of Cornwall". She told about the arrival of the Loyalists in the Conrwall area, research which she has studied for her upcoming book. The Loyalists had many problems - how to divide the land equally and not cause resentment among the troops, how to make a settlement with the St. Regis Indians, where to build the town, the name for the town. The biggest problem was to see who would secure the desired waterfront lots.

Once these problems were solved, then the land had to be cleared, crops planted, homes built for the families of the Loyalists before the cold winter set in. Dr. Senior has found a lot of unusual, or unknown facts while doing her research, and everyone will be anxiously awaiting her book to be published for 1984.

Past president Melvin Scott thanked the speaker for her stimulating and informative speech and presented her with a gift in appreciation, while Mrs. Jean Scott presented Professor Howard Senior with a ceramic tile of the armorial bearings.

Branch Genealogist Miss Lynne O'Brien, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Blair and Mr. John Eaman, presented certificates to 14 new members.

Mr. Milton Anderson of Williamstown, Mrs. Jean Andrews and her sister Mrs. Judith Armstrong of Ottawa, Mr. Earl Ault and Mrs. Dorothy McDonell of Cornwall; Mr. Allan Hickey of Florida; Mrs. Charles Roberts of Iroquois; Mr. and Mrs. George Sanders of Cornwall; Mr. Sterling Warner. Four members were not present to receive their certificates Lt. Col. E. Amidon of Michigan; Mr. Frederick Armstrong of Quebec; Mr. Paul Cartwright of Minnesota; Mr. Leo Merkley of Arizona.

Miss O'Brien stated the branch had applied for a 1981 summer experience grant. For nine weeks, three college students were employed to work on church records, etc. The girls worked under her supervision at her home, copying records from three Cornwall churches, and helping to set up the information we already have to easy access to people who are coming from all over to search for their roots. Recently they have arrived from Vancouver, New Brunswick, Michigan, Ottawa, New York, and Hawaii.

Miss O'Brien presented Dominion President John Eaman with three sets of church records from the area, covering years 1838 to 1891, for use at Dominion Headquarters. At the moment arrangements are being made with the SD and G Historical Society for them to also have a copy of these records.

The Annual Meeting of the St. Lawrence Branch will be held in the Old Stone Church Hall, St. Andrews West on Sun., Oct. 25th, with registration at 1:30pm Mr. Murray Barkley, BA, MA, of Avonmore, the Branches Historian and Archivist, will speak on "The Loyalist Tradition in Canada: Some Bicentennial Reflections." a Pot Luck supper will be held after the meeting.

Riddell — Gallinger

Guests in attendance from Masset, BC, Pawling, NY, Poughquag, NY, Woodstock, Parkhill, Ottawa, Cornwall and local communities gathered to witness the 4:15pm marriage at Trinity United Church, Ingleside on May 23rd, 1981 joining Charlene Gallinger and Jim Riddell.

Rev. Ian McEvoy and Rev. Claude Delorme, Maynard, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Soloist for the occasion was Miss Margaret Merkley Archer. Mr. Ian Adams, Williamsburg accompanied her on the piano. Mrs. Amy Pollock, Ingleside, was organist.

Margaret sang "Evergreen" and during the signing of the register Ian and Margaret sang "The Rose".

The bride, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Gallinger and given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length Victorian gown of white satin overlayed with chiffon and appliqued lace.

The ruffled bodice and full length sleeves were accented with clusters of seed pearls. For her headpiece Charlene chose a Victorian style hat complimented by appliqued lace and seed pearls, identical to that of her gown.

Her bouquet was composed of a lace fan with a single white orchid and wisps of stephanotis.

Performing the duties of maid of honor was Miss Penny Hall, Froatburn, close friend of the bride.

She donned a sleeveless lavender gown of polyester crepe with a draped neckline and shoulder draped cape.

She carried a sheath of pink silk poppies and lavender and pink stephanotis on a background of philodendron foliage, tied with a deep lavender silk ribbon.

As bridesmaids were Miss Tansy Chapman, Ottawa, friend of the bride and Mrs. Mary Prevost, Cornwall, cousin of the bride.

They wore strawberry pink gowns identical to the maid of honor's. They carried identical sheaths to that of the maid of honor with pink silk ribbon ties.

As flower girls, Mary Francis and Jennifer van der Zweep, Ingleside, friends of the bride and groom were attired in identical short lavender ruffled dresses of polyester. They carried sheaths identical to the older attendants.

The groom, son of Mrs. Verna Riddell, Winchester, and the late George Riddell was attended by Mr. Keith Baker, Winchester, as best man while Mr. Ken Summers Winchester, and Mr. Ted Corry, Masset, BC ushered guests to their seats.

All wore champagne tuxedos with rose bud boutineers.

As ringbearers were Master Sydney van der Zweep, Ingelside, Ingleside, and Master Scott Prevost, Cornwall.

The two young gentlemen wore chocolate brown velvet suits and carried heart-shaped satin pillows trimmed with lace, which were handmade by the bride's aunt Mrs. Helen Brownell of Pawling, NY.

The mother of the bride chose to wear a cocktail length gown of strawberry pink crepe georgette.

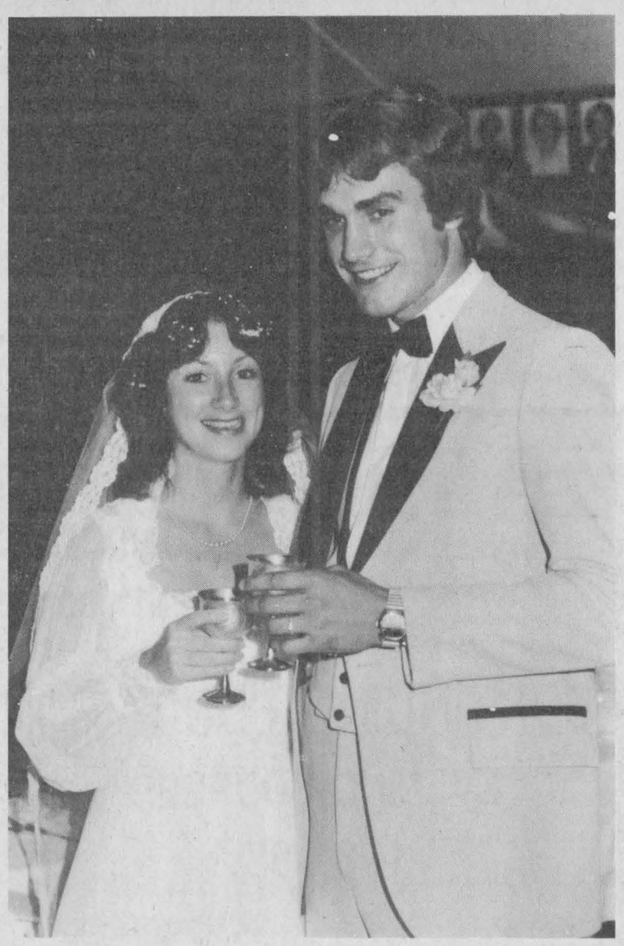
The groom's mother chose a gown of robin-egg-blue polyester crepe in cocktail length. Both mothers gowns were accented with orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a delicious turkey supper was served by the UCW in the church hall. A reception in Winchester Community Centre followed.

For her going away attire the bride chose a two piece lavender linen suit with complimentary accessories. Her corsage was a pink silk aster with sprays of stephanotis.

Upon return from their honeymoon to Vermont, USA, Charlene and Jim are residing at RR2, Ingleside.

Prior to the wedding, Charlene was honored at three showers given by Mrs. Madeline van der Zweep at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Judy Baker at her home in Winchester and by Mrs. Eva Eligh and the Trinity UCW in the church parlor.



Casselman — McCadden

Chesterville's St. Mary's Catholic Church was the setting for a pretty late summer wedding on Aug. 29, when Janice Catherine McCadden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewen McCadden, Chesterville, and Barry Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Casselman, Williamsburg, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was solemnized by Father Bill Nugent.

Pat Hornsby played the wedding music and assisted the soloist, Harry Castle who sang, "The Wedding Prayer", "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" and "The Wedding Song".

The bride, given in marriage by both her parents wore a full length gown and train with sheer pleated sleeves and pleated skirt panel.

The bodice, made of lace and accented with pearls matched the cap style head piece of her long floor length veil with lace to match her gown.

She carried a side drop bouquet of light and dark pink silk roses, orchids, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Leona Beaudette, matron of honor, wore a long rose colored gown and carried a crescent bouquet of light pink, silk roses, daisies and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids were Christine McCadden; sister-in-law of the bride, Patsy Blair, Janice Des Jardins and Marion McLean, friends of the bride.

They wore long matching pink colored gowns and carried a sheath of dark pink silk roses and lilies.

All the girls wore a pink rose and baby's breath in their hair.

The groom was assisted by his friend, Rick Morrow, as best man. Serving as his ushers were, David McCadden, brother of the bride, Tim Herriot, relative of the groom, Alan McLean and Bruce Whitteker, friends of the groom.

The groom wore a pastel blue tuxedo with navy blue trim, while the best man and ushers wore a pastel blue jacket with navy blue pants and trim.

The bride's mother chose a pretty floor length gown in pale blue. The groom's stepmother wore a floor length dress in light green with a matching jacket and the groom's mother wore a long gray colored gown.

Guests attending the wedding were from Winnipeg, Regina, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal, Kingston, Hull, Ottawa, and surrounding areas.

The happy wedding day was concluded with a dinner at the Chesterville Legion Hall, followed by a dance at the Winchester Community Centre.

Barry and Janice honeymooned in Niagara Falls and are now residing in Ottawa.

Hello (again) Dolly!

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Even though the leaves are still green and air has yet to provide that brisk temperature that reminds us all of the changing seasons, the seasons will change and even before we know it Christmas will be here once more.

A group of people within a very busy organization known as the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary are already knee deep in Christmas plans. The beautiful gift shoppe you see as you enter the main lobby of the hospital opened its doors in April 1979.

Since then $12,000 from the gift shoppe has made its way into the general account. That same general account has provided many extras for our hospital and your comfort and convenience.

Last year the Gift Shoppe committee sponsored a Dress-A-Doll Contest which not only satisfied the little girl instinct in all of us, but proved popular as well as profitable.

This year, once again you will have the opportunity to have some fun, make yourself some extra Christmas shopping money and help the hospital in the bargain. It's simple. Put together a completely original doll your own creation.

All entries must be submitted to the Gift Shoppe by November 15 at 8pm and must be labelled with the entrants name, address and phone number.

All dolls entered in the contest become the property of the Gift Shoppe and will go on display at the Olde Fashioned Christmas Bazaar at the Winchester Public School on Nov. 21. The dolls will be judged on imagination, general appearance and appeal.

Clothing must be handcrafted from either material or wool. The winners will be notified on November 18 and their names published in the local papers. Dolls may be entered in either of the following categories: Baby Doll; Baby Doll with knitted or crocheted costume; Fashion Doll; all hand crafted doll; stuffed animal; and in keeping with the theme of the bazaar a doll dressed in Olde Fashioned costume.

First prize will be $15 and second prize of $10 will be awarded in each category. More information may be obtained at the Gift Shoppe. So have fun and Dress-A-Doll.

Dear Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My brother "Bobby" is 15. He has been delivering papers for four years and never ran into anything unusual before. He went to a lady's house to collect last week. She invited him in for a cold drink. The woman is divorced and lives alone. He said she was wearing one of those see-through housecoats and nothing much underneath.

Well, she told Bobby she thought he was very handsome, said he looked awfully grown-up for his age and compared him to John Travolta.

I don't know how to put this, Ann, but she seduced him. She then paid him twice what she owed for the papers and said, "Keep the change for a tip."

The kid is so ashamed of himself he doesn't know what to do. In fact, he cried when he told me about it.

Bobby has been delivering her papers regularly, but he is afraid to try to collect anymore. more. Please tell me how to advise him. He is looking to me for guidance. -Sis Who Cares

Dear Sis: Tell Bobby he should resume collecting and act as if nothing happened. If the woman suggests more "refreshments," he should tell her that he has made a new rule for himself: "No more going into the homes of customers - it's not business-like."

Dear Ann: My husband is a good provider, helped raise the kids, keeps up with the household chores, doesn't go to bars or spend money we can't afford, works 40 hours a week, exercises and treats everyone well.

The problem: The minute he gets home from work he pops a can of beer, and for the next three hours he's a "chain-drinker." He drinks while cutting the grass, washing the car, going to the store, etc. Averages eight or nine beers a night and never shows it.

On weekends he drinks beer from morning 'til night and only eats one meal a day. He's been doing this for years with no outward effects. I wonder if he's going to become an alcoholic, or if his system is adjusted to this lifestyle. Incidentally, he's almost never sick or hung over and never mistreats me. Should I leave well enough alone?

-Tampa Wife

Dear Wife: Your husband is an alcoholic NOW, in spite of the fact that he shows none of the symptoms generally associated with alcoholism.

You don't say how old he is, nor how long this has been going on, but I can assure you, in time, something's got to give. The clue is "chain-drinker." People who can't stop drinking once they have started are addicted.

Since he treats you well, doesn't miss work or get hung over, any suggestions from you that he has a problem would be denied and resented. All you can do is wait until he begins to show the effects and then hope he has the sense to stop drinking.

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from the man whose wife left a love note in his lunch bucket made me smile because I have a similar stroy to tell. I hope you will print it. We read too much about couples who fight and not enough about the other kind.

Recently, before I left town to visit my mother, I slipped my husband's favorite candy bar into his pyjama pocket so he'd find it that night. When I arrived at my destination and unpacked, I found in my nightie MY favorite candy bar. Sweet story?

-Still Aglow

Dear Aglow: Lovely. May it be ever thus.

Lummiss — Ferguson

On Sat., July 18th at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in Trinity United Church Chesterville, wedding vows were exchanged between Shauna Lail Ferguson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. L.M. Ferguson, and Alan Charles Lummiss son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lummiss of Napanee Ontario.

Immediately after ushering the brides mother to her seat, Robert Ferguson played the Trombone Solo "Allelluia" by Mozart, he was accompanied by Mr. Dave Irwin.

To the strains of Purcell's "Trumpet Tunes And Airs" played by the organist Mrs. Joye Loucks, the bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father. She was radiant in her gown of beaded white satin, with tulle veil - the gown was styled and created by the bride's mother. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by her bridesmaids, Miss Cheryl Ferguson, Mrs. Anne Kerr, Mrs. Gail Woods, and matron of honor Mrs. Danee McKay. They wore gowns of satin and lace in shades of pink and mauve. The ring bearer was Christopher Kerr, and he wore a grey cut-away tuxedo which matched the other male attendants.

Mr. Lummiss was attended by his cousin Mr. Ken Smith from Marmora. The ushers were Mr. Mark Girard, Mr. Jim Nichol, and Mr. Robert Ferguson.

Following the ceremony, conducted by the brides father, and during the signing of the register, Robert Ferguson played his second solo, "Arioso" by Bach.

On the strains of Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary in D Major" the bride left the church on the arm of her husband.

The reception was held in the church hall and was catered to by the ladies of the UCW. The Master of Ceremonies was an uncle of the bride Mr. Douglas Cummins of Ottawa, who called upon the grandfather of the bride to ask the blessing. Mr. Benny Steck a close family friend proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

The groom's mother chose a pale green dress of sheer chiffon, while the brides mother wore a dress of blue peau de soie with beaded chiffon cape.

Out of town guests were from PEI, Nova Scotia, Niagara Falls, Welland, Marmora, Peterborough, Toronto, Napanee, Ottawa, Belleville.

The bride changed into a two piece white suit with a red rose corsage before leaving for her honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Lummiss will reside in Winchester.

Designers learn measurement

by Susan Gervais

The first meeting of the Dizzy Designers was held at Mrs. Earl Moak's home on Sept. 14 at 7pm.

Five members were present.

Our officers were elected as follows: president, Maureen Eligh; vice president, Beverly Eamer; secretary, Kristie Fetterly; treasurer, Beverly Eamer; press reporter, Susan Gervais.

President Maureen opened the meeting with the pledge.

Mrs. Moak told us that the cost for material for the samples would cost $2 each. The next meeting will be Sept. 21 at 7pm. at Mrs. Moak's place.

The meeting was then turned over to the leaders Susan Gervais and Mrs. Moak for discussions and demonstrations.

We were all classified as beginner sewers.

Susan and Mrs. Moak demonstrated how to take body measurements and how to determine correct pattern size.

We discussed styles, fabrics, colors and sewing box contents.

On a motion made by Beverly and seconded by Susan the meeting was adjourned at 9:30pm.

Enumerations postponed

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Those municipal enumerators who usually conduct their enumeration of the Ontario population every September won't be around this year.

Winchester Township council received word from the Ministry of Revenue recently stating the enumeration has been postponed. Apparently the Ontario Government is preparing legislation for introduction in the fall session of the provincial legislature to have enumerations only during municipal election years (every second year).

The enumeration is used to prepare the preliminary list of electors for municipal and school board elections; the school support lists (for the direction of the education portion of the property tax to the appropriate school board); the jurors list as needed by the Ministry of the Attorney General for the next year; the Ontario Population Report for planning purposes and as a basis for per capital grant calculations.

The fewer enumerations will save the province a substantial amount of money which they plan to distribute to improve direct services to municipalities and school boards.

The direct services will include a four-year assessment cycle; additional open house in municipalities and school boards and faster delivery of supplementary assessments.

The Minister of Revenue, George Ashe, said, "First, we will be establishing a four-year assessment cycle in which 1980 will be the next market value-base year across the province. The 1980 market value-based assessment rolls will be available to municipalities and school boards in 1982 for 1983 taxation. With this four-year cycle, a 1984 market value base year will be available in 1986 for 1987 taxation."

The minister expects the cycle to make the long-range planning process easier for municipal councils and school boards.

Additional open houses in municipalities to inform the public and school boards will coincide with the issuing of assessment notices and the return of assessment rolls.

"Other direct services to municipalities and school boards will also be improved. One important example is the speed-up of delivery of supplementary assessments," Mr. Ashe added.

The preliminary list of electors will be provided to municipalities and school boards in every election year.

The population count, also a by-product of enumeration is used to calculate Per Capital and Resource Equalization Grants; Mr. Ashe said the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing has indicated that the lack of enumeration every second year won't hurt the current grant levels.

The other area affected by the enumeration reduction is the school support lists. The assessors in an area will now be responsible for indicating school support designation and preparation assessment notices and rolls.

Magic Tom performs at DATA

MORRISBURG - During early childhood, Tom Auburn was the victim of a serious case of Scarlet Fever.

He spent his long period of quarantine and convalescence studying two books on Magic he had acquired. He learned some manipulation, and other magic, and put on his first show at fifteen.

At first he performed in a mask, then, as he gained confidence, the masked magician gave way to the "Great Auburn", and eventually "Magic Tom" Auburn.

He is a brilliant professional, endowed with a deep love for all humanity. He has made his mark not only on television, but in the less spectacular and disparate areas such as hospitals and clinics, working with the sick and underpriviledged.

In 1977 he established "Tom Auburn Magic Unlimited" with approval of the Canadian Federal Government to solicit funds which are used to cover expenses incurred to bring performances of magic to the sick, aged and underpriviledged.

Magic Tom is a fine performer, humanitarian and gentleman. He has offered to do a show for those attending the DATA Information Day, on Sat., Oct. 3, at no charge! Just because he thinks our Young People are too valuable to lose! He wants to be a part of trying to make them aware of the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.

Get your Registration Form filled in, and don't miss this chance to see a Great Performance, as well as learn from others just how dangerous tampering with drugs and alcohol can be.

Remember - this performance is only open to those attending the DATA Day at the Morrisburg Community Centre.

FINCH RED & WHITE

by Wyn Thompson

I entered our garage turned into woodshed. Bunches of drying herbs dangled from a clothes line strung for that purpose; baskets of tomatoes, squash and cucumbers are clustered on the Farmer's woodbench; and the tangy smell of vinegar and pickling spices snuck out from under the closed door.

I went back out to the yard to bring in the last few peppers. I stood a minute. There is a sense of quiet to this time when summer winds down and Indian Summer creeps in.

Even in these days of space-age technology, the age-old instinct at this time of year is to gather in, preserve and put by. Undertaken in the simplest way, it is satisfying.

Once a necessity, preserving or 'putting by', is no longer a back-breaking chore. Now, both city and country homes are filled with the gratifying smell of sweet pickles, spicy relishes, fruity jams, as homemakers enjoy the late garden abundance.

When the December-January festivities come around, these delicacies grace the table, or decked with calico and ribbon given as gifts to friends. Dried herbs also make nice gifts.

Now too, is a good time for a saunter down a country lane to gather natural materials for a dried winter bouquet. The dogs love to go along when I go gathering. While I cut, the dogs go searching for groundhogs and field mice.

The evening seems very still this time of year, and as I sit by the Madawaska River I can hear the sound of a neighbouring fisherman's boat before it comes into view, cutting patterns in the mist-hung river.

On such a still and lovely evening, a picnic barbecued hamburg and salad is a feast to share with the neighbours.

As we sit at the picnic table by the river, talk turns to end-of-summer subjects: Have all the crabapples fallen yet? Seen any wild grapes? It won't be too long until butternut time.

Have you seen any grey squirrels lately? Wonder if the goose population will be up this year? Are you going to make sauerkraut? Easy country talk.

It's a quiet season, but a time of intensity. We sense the changes in the air, enjoy the burst of colour all about us.

Country fairs award prizes for the best fruits and vegetables, the finest beasts and birds. Church suppers feature homemade goodies and sell tickets for a Sewing Circle Raffle.

We savour it all, this ending of summer and preparing for fall. Gathering in, preserving, putting by, sharing - we are in touch with our rural roots.

Finally today, when it is almost mid-September, the rains have stopped. It will take, I am told, a week of sunny, breezy weather if the corn crop is to be successfully harvested.

And may it be so...for interest rates being what they are and all costs escalating, we are in for a grim time if the harvest can not be completed on time.

The Eastern conference is over and what does the Prime Minister promise us? Essentially, more of the same.

We cleaned the chimneys today and resembled two chimney sweeps when we were through.

But, it is a good feeling to have accomplised this task prior to the need for constant fires this autumn. And better done on a balmy September day than on a bitter cold November one.

The Farmer is contemplating switching to an electric and wood furnace. Yes, I finally gave in. Or else, a fireplace insert for the lower fireplace.

What seems the most practical and best buy at the moment.

The Harvest Moon shines brightly tonight, and in September it is the time for fall asters and milkweed silk sailing through the air.

On the 22nd fall begins in earnest. The nights of the sixth and its followers are known in some parts as 'cat nights'; perhaps because the night-time chill forces felines to start sleeping inside.

Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year, enters with the call to prayer on the shofar (ram's horn) on the 29th.

That day is also Michaelmas, the end of the year's third quarter, and the day when the age of the moon is said to tell the number of floods, for the next twelve months. And so summer ends.

We take a drive around the block and marvel at all the new houses that have been erected. They look so peaceful in the last light.

I like to think that the builders were building for time to come, not for the day. I hope they had a long view and built for their children's children.

The night is full of dreams as only a September night can be. I feel the loveliness of the night...all the peace, all the joy, all at once realized.

Such moments are rare. I feel that I could gather a bouquet of stars and keep them forever. What I really do is return home and take the dogs for a last turn around the yard and start a good steaming potato soup for whoever is around. Potato soup is a fine salute to September.

The soft September twilight slides over the land and all my neighbours are at supper. And so to bed, while the full moon rides across the sky, and a wine-sweet air stirs the curtains.

Doing the constructive

Chesterville Chamber of Commerce has decided to protest the high interest rate policy of the federal government in conjunction with an organized group of businessmen, farmers and Chambers of Commerce.

The group hopes to have protest letters available in area stores and businesses which individuals can sign and add their own personal story of how high interest rates are hurting them.

The reasoning behind the letter campaign is good. As Chesterville Chamber of Commerce president John Van Bruinessen noted, if Canadians don't voice their complaints about the economic conditions in the country then the policiticans will never pay attention.

There is another way of viewing the situation.

As many point out, the Canadian economy is securely tied to the American economy. If the United States is suffering, we are suffering; if the United States is prosperous, we are prosperous. So it sometimes seems irrelevant what the Canadian government attempts to change in the economy - the course is set in Washington.

True as that may be, and it seems often the economists don't really know, the fact that a group is willing to organize, and speak out about their concerns is encouraging. They are attempting to do something about the problem.

We need more Canadians who will publicly state what their feelings are on issues of importance - and at the moment who can deny the economy is the hottest topic of conversation.

Only by publicly airing economic complaints and problems, can politicians become more aware of the economic situation of the average person - and other citizens can become more aware too.

It is naive to believe that only small businessmen are suffering, or that only farmers are feeling the pinch, or that only pensioners are hurting. The majority of Canadians are in exactly the same position.

The letter campaign may work - it may not. But an awful lot of people out there have publicly stated their concern, and have united to voice that concern more strongly. If nothing else, they will have given themselves the opportunity to clear the air - to try to make life better. - mary macdonald -

Chesterville's past

41 — September 18

Noe Cousineau, of Morewood, suffered cuts about the face and bruises in a miraculous escape as his car plunged through the checkerboard sign at the south side of the White Crossing, a mile west of the village Monday night.

It is said Cousineau, who was alone in the car, fell asleep as he approached the curve in the highway 43 crossing the CPR tracks. The car ploughed through the danger sign and a young man driving up just after the accident brought Cousineau to Chesterville where he was treated for cuts on the upper lip, top of his head and left side of his face, by Dr. W.J. Lloyd.

Fire yesterday destroyed the farm home of James Parkin, one mile north of Morewood and endangered the home of Cyrus Lang on the adjoining farm when burning members were carried by the strong wind.

A shed attached to the Parkin home was also burned and the two tons of coal and 10 cords of wood stored two weeks ago were also lost.

Harry Allison is now walking about without the plaster cast on his right ankle necessitated when the ankle bone was chipped as he jumped from a corn wagon recently.

Scarcity of water in the Nation River is becoming extremely serious for Nestle's Milk Products plant as rain has not fallen in months in sufficient quantity to drain into the river from which the main supply of water is pumped by the factory. Three more pumps have been placed in operation further upstream at William Lawsons's to supply water to the pump stationed at Hughes Bay a few weeks ago and which has drained that section of the river.

Water in the Nation is at the lowest level in years and has caused the most serious scarcity Nestle has ever experienced at their Chesterville plant.

Because of the low water level in the Nation River, fire fighting facilities in the village are seriously affected. Should a serious fire occur it is doubtful if there would be sufficient water to successfully fight it. Therefore take all precautions possible to guard against fire.

51 — September 27

The Community Centre and Rink must be built as soon as possible was the unanimous opinion of those present at the general meeting held on Tuesday night.

The meeting was called by the chairman, Charles McMillan, to discuss ways and means of getting underway with the proposed building.

Ray Wilson of Metcalfe told the story of the Community Hall and Rink that has been erected in Metcalfe during the past year. While their building is larger than the one planned for Chesterville, the problems of money and construction seen much the same.

Mr. Wilson stated that the only way that a community project such as this could succeed was for all members of the community to take part.

Rally Day will be observed in Morewood United Church next Sunday, September 30 at 10:30am. This will be a Family Service which children and all young people will attend with their parents.

The Order of Service prepared by the Board of Christian Education will be used and minister, the Rev. D.L. Gordon, will give an address on the subject, The Story to Tell the Nations. The services of the day will be on EST.

A surprise party by school friends, held at the home of Marion Morris on the evening of September 19, in honor of Shirley Munro who is leaving shortly to attend Queen's University.

The evening was spent in games and contests. A very appropriate address was read by Marjorie Hutt which was feelingly replied to by Shirley, and as a farewell gesture, the girls presented Shirley with a traveller's alarm clock.

Last night saw several Chesterville people with lucky numbers at the Monster Bingo held at the Winchester Legion.

Mrs. T. McIntosh copped the grand prize when she filled the card on the $450 refrigerator. Willis Harper came home richer by a $185 washing machine.

61 — September 28

The late summer season is having its usual effect on some of our small fruits. Two examples have been called to our attention.

Over at Northfield Station, Mrs. Bryce Armstrong found her August planting of strawberries in full bloom. And at Dunbar, Mrs. Arthur Heagle picked a half-pound pail of fresh ripe raspberries from her garden bushes.

The Hon. Fred Cass will run the show for Provincial Treasurer James Allan. Mr. Allan has declared himself in the running for the Provincial leadership for the Ontario Progressive Conservative party.

Mr. Cass, in a phone conversation with the Record early this week, explained some of the reasons he would not be entering his name in the race, at least, in the light of present conditions.

He was pleased to announce he would be chairman of the organizing of Mr. Allan's try for the big prize.

In the presence of a large number of parishioners, members of the clergy, guests and friends. Most Rev. Rosario Brodeur, DD, Bishop of Alexandria, officiated at the formal opening and dedication of the new St. Bernard's School immediately south of Finch village on Sunday afternoon.

The event climaxed many months of planning and preparation. The project was inaugurated in July, 1960 with construction started in Oct. of that year. The school was completed and ready for classes last Easter.

Helen Campbell of Farran Drive Ingleside, has been awarded two bursaries valued at $900 each. She has enrolled at Queen's University, Kingston in the faculty of arts.

New Anglican bishop to be consecrated

OTTAWA - The Venerable Edwin Keith Lackey will be consecrated Co-adjutor Bishop of the Anglican Diocese of Ottawa on Tues., Sept. 29th, the Feast of St. Michael and All Angels, at 8pm in the Civic Centre at Lansdowne Park.

The next day he will become Diocesan Bishop when the present Bishop, the Right Rev. William J. Robinson retires.

The Chief Consecrator is the Metropolitan of Ontario, Archbishop Lewis Garnsworthy of Toronto.

The Primate of the Anglican Church of Canada, Archbishop Edward Scott, will preach the sermon. The New Testament lesson will be read by Mrs. Marion Dewar, Mayor of Ottawa.

On June 22nd, 1981, the members of Synod elected Archdeacon Lackey to be the 6th Bishop of this large Diocese which stretches from Mattawa to Cornwall and from Maniwaki to Smiths Falls. He will be the first native son to become Bishop since the first Bishop, Charles Hamilton, was consecrated in 1896.

Born in Ottawa on June 10, 1930, Archdeacon Lackey obtained his education in Ottawa schools, graduating from Nepean High School.

In 1953 he received his degree from Bishop's University in Lennoxville, Quebec and was ordained deacon in the same year.

The next year he was ordained priest by Bishop Robert Jefferson of Ottawa and, between 1954 and 1971, he served in the parishes of Trinity Church, Cornwall, Russell, Vankleek Hill and St. Michael and All Angels, Ottawa.

In 1971 Archdeacon Lackey became Deputy Director of Programme and in 1972 the Director of Programme.

In 1978 he was appointed Diocesan Archdeacon and Diocesan Executive Officer. As well as serving on Diocesan, Provincial and National committees, he has served the community for many years as Chaplain of the Ottawa Fire Department.

Archdeacon Lackey and his wife, the former Judith Doak, have raised four children: Peter, who is studying theology at Trinity College, Toronto; Janet Corken of Ottawa; John a student at the University of Guelph; and Stephen at Carleton University. Mrs. Lackey is a learning diagnostican with the Ottawa Board of Education.

Members of the family, including the Bishop-elect's 86 year old father, Mr. Elmer Vaughan Lackey, will join bishops, priests, and lay people in presenting the new bishop for consecration and investing him with his symbols of office.

His crozier, a simple wooden shepherd's crook made by a Westboro firm, will be presented by Bishop Robinson.

Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend this historic event.

Seating for the eight to ten thousand who are expected is not reserved except for the ice surface where seating has been reserved for participants and for the handicapped.

Access to the Civic Centre for wheelchairs and handicapped persons is through the tunnel at the northeast corner of the arena off the parking lot.

Parking facilities at Lansdowne Park will be available for cars and chartered buses.

Church choirs from all over the Diocese have been invited to join a massed choir to lead the congregation in familiar hymns. Anthems and special music will be sung by a special choir made up of members of three Ottawa church choirs.

In addition to a three manual electronic organ, the Brass Quintet of the National Arts Centre Orchestra will accompany the choirs and provide appropriate fanfares.

To help preserve a worshipping atmosphere, photographers will not be permitted to use flashbulbs and light bars during the service, except when the newly consecrated bishop is presented to the assembled congreagation.

To transform an arena into a place of worship is a challenge, but the Rev. Rae Fletcher, Chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the consecration, has no doubts that it can be done.

Emergency Task Force to visit Cornwall to answer farmers

WINCHESTER (Staff) - The Ontario Federation of Agriculture's (OFA) Emergency Task Force will be in Cornwall Mon., Oct. 26, at the Parkway Hotel, and in Ottawa Oct. 27 and 28 at the Nepean Sportsplex to find answers to the financial crisis facing Ontario farmers.

Individual farmers, farm organizations, marketing boards, agri-business, banks, oil companies, and consumers have been invited to appear.

The Task Force is composed of well-known names in agriculture including: Everett Biggs, former provincial deputy minister of agriculture as chairman; John Wise, MP, and former federal Conservative Agriculture Minister; Del O'Brien, an Eastern Ontario lawyer, businessman and dairyman; Murray Grant, a former provincial MPP and Liberal agriculture critic; and Barbara Shand, a former president of the Ontario chapter of the Consumers' Association of Canada.

Hearings by the Task Force begin in Toronto this Monday.

As other branches of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture the Dundas Federation has formed an emergency ad hoc committee to gather information for when the OFA Task Force is in the area.

President of the Dundas Federation, Dan Harkin, adds Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley will be invited to come to a meeting of the Dundas ad hoc committee in the next couple of weeks to hear the concerns the committee has gathered from area people about the federal government's high interest rate policy.

People from all areas of business will be there says Mr. Harkin including farm equipment dealers, feed supply dealers, hog operators, cash crop farmers, dairy farmers and people from other businesses.

Chairman of the committee is Peter Leyenaar of RR1, Williamsburg. Thus far three cases of hardship experienced by Dundas farmers has been discussed by the committee.

Built in 1892, the patch of smooth cement ran down the west side of Main Street, with a width of 10 ft. and a full length of 200 ft. Visitors to Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich., can see other transportation firsts, including the first three-color, four-direction traffic light and an 1896 Duryea, the only surviving example of American's first production gasoline-powered automobile.

Happy Anniversary

Floyd and Eileen (Merkley) Pemberton celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary among family and friends at an open house held in their honor at the Lions Hall, Winchester, Sat., Sept. 19, 1981.

The couple were married at Williamsburg on September 15, 1926.

They have seven children and 16 grandchildren.

Messages of congratulations were received from Governor-General Edward Schryer, Ontario Premier William Davis, Hon. Edward Lumley MP, and Mr. Osie Villeneuve MPP.

A plaque was also received from the Ontario government.

North Dundas News

The highlight of this week at North Dundas was the strange sound of "Bells" that came blaring from the pipes and vents of the school. This upset many students who thought North Dundas must be haunted but it was later discovered that the sound was only the music of AC-DC rising from the grade 13's common room.

Some students are actually working, though. Susan Buckingham and Vicki Workman are the editors of the '81-82 school yearbook.

They appear every where with cameras, taking pictures while at the same time trying to remain unnoticed. So, if you find yourself behind the big lense, don't be surprised.

On a more scholastic note, it looks like our Reach for the Top team will be a success with its seven-member team of John Barnard, Peter Hunter, John Matthews, Tony Westenbroek, and three alternates.

I am sure homework and tests are easy because of the smarts these seven possess, but of course, they miss all the fun the rest of us have wracking our brains to find answers.

Class representatives were elected Thursday by homerooms. The "rep" will take part in all student council meetings and will hopefully get involved in school committees.

Thursday night, Miss Wilson finalized the Junior and Senior girls' basketball teams. The seniors played an exhibition game Monday in CCVS (Cornwall), and Thursday both teams are to play a home game against Tagwi.

The boys' basketball teams are yet to be chosen.

In houseleague basketball, Red defeated Black in boys' action and Black defeated Red in girls play last Tuesday. Gold showed both Black teams how to play on Thursday by rebounding a win for the girls and the boys team.

The soccer pros have now been chosen and the senior boys showed their talent Thursday against General Vanier, losing by a close margin, 2-1.

Be prepared to observe a mob of people on the North Dundas track Wednesday Sept. 23 at the annual Run-a-thon. Runners are sponsored per lap; then they try to run, walk or crawl as many laps as they can in one hour.

Most students who plan to be on school teams this year have been asked to run to raise money for the Athletic Association. If they fail to do this, house captains have threatened to cut off all of their hair (the pressures of being on school teams these days!)

Stay tuned for next week's highlight - Students say they actually like school, and each class has calculated 21 per cent interest rates.

Catch - 22 prohibits pilots from entering Canada at Cornwall

MORRISBURG (Staff) - A government Catch-22 prompted Lillian Toczyski to appear before the Seaway Valley Tourist Council seeking aid to have customs facilities returned to the Cornwall-Summerstown Airport.

The customs were discontinued when the Olympics necessitated tighter security and many small border crossings were closed, Mrs. Toczyski told the council.

In order to have the services reinstated, she was told, she must provide documentation of the number of flights that did not use the Cornwall airport due to a lack of customs.

This is impossible, Mrs. Tozcyski told the SVTC, since pilots read their department of transport handbooks before starting out on a flight. They never reach Cornwall, rather fly in through Ottawa or Brockville.

In addition to this, said Mrs. Toczyski, she is unable to provide data on flights previous to 1976 since the customs office kept their own records and the airports merely provided space for them to operate.

She said, as well, that patrons of the airport have asked her why she couldn't do something about the situation.

Aside from providing service to airport patrons, Mrs. Toczyski operates a charter route to and from the United States which lands directly across the border at Massena on flights into the US however must travel out of its way to Ottawa on the return trip.

In addition, the larger, metropolitan airports are attempting to restrict the traffic of smaller craft, she noted.

George Cameron, alderman for Cornwall, suggested a letter be drafted to the appropriate agencies without mentioning the specific airport involved in order to stay out of the ongoing conflict over the location of the proposed new Cornwall airport.

This suggestion was quickly voted down. Said Ron Johnston, of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, "If this council starts jumping sideways", it will negate its purpose; if it is against the customs decision, "Let us say so...Don't waffle now."

Mr. Johnston also noted, "We're beyond politics in this operations."

Roy Brister seemed to offer a consensus of the general meeting when he said, "It is a tourist facility and the airport is a member of this council." He suggested the drafting of a well-worded letter to demand the reasons for the discontinuation of customs and to demand their reinstatement. He suggested the letter be written specifically as it pertains to tourism in the valley.

Bette Stephenson to address Canadian Club

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Education minister Bette Stephenson will adress the Canadian Club and officially open Morrisburg's Home and Trade show, Thurs., Sept. 24.

The home and trade show will be open from 7:30pm until 10:00pm Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The show has been extremely successful in past years at bringing both new and familiar faces in contact with local businesses, said organizer Cam Martel.

Much the same theme will be utilized as other years, he said, with merchants from Winchester to Cornwall displaying everything from soup to nuts.

All 62 booth spaces have been sold to 45 displays, some of whom have taken doubles said Mr. Martel.

He added this year the show will again offer cash door prizes to a total value over the three-night show of close to $1,000 as well as many individual merchant draws.

UCW plan bazaar and tea

WINCHESTER SPRINGS - The Winchester Springs UCW group gathered at the church hall on Sept. 10th for another season of activities.

Mrs. Margaret Holmes took charge as president from Mrs. Pearl Link for the next term of office. Mrs. Eleanor Robinson thanked Mrs. Link and welcomed Mrs. Holmes as president.

Mrs. Eleanor Robinson and Mrs. Jan Robinson led the worship service their theme being Labour and its purpose. Mrs. Jan Robinson also talked about her work with the VON service and some handicapped people she had met.

Minutes were read and 16 members answered roll call.

Plans were made for the Bazaar and Tea to be held on October 3rd.

Approval was given for a donation to the building fund of the new hall.

The Executive meeting is to be held at Maynard on Sept. 21st.

The social committee has agreed to cater to a wedding rehearsal party for the Ropars family.

A motion was made to send birthday and Christmas gift money to our foster child

The meeting was closed and everyone enjoyed a social time.

Larry Harper hurls winner in Riverside Tourney

RIVERSIDE (Staff) - Williamsburg A's scored three runs to top the Williamsburg Oldtimers in the final game of the 10-team Riverside tournament held here last weekend.

The A's, the Oldtimers and the Morrisburg Juveniles were tied going into the final game and total runs, for and against, were used to tally scores to decide the two finalists.

Dale Harper was first home in the game, scoring in the first inning to open the game for the A's. Gary Barkley tied in the sixth with a home run.

Chris Harper and Larry Harper each added a run for the A's who took home the $250 first prize money.

The Oldtimers took second prize of $150 and each of the two semi-finalists, South Williamsburg and Cardinal won $100.

South Williamsburg were defeated 6-1 by the Oldtimers and Cardinal, 8-3 by the Williamsburg A's.

The tournament, originally scheduled to begin Thursday evening, played two sets of games Friday night at both the Morrisburg ball diamond and at Riverside. Thursday evening's rain washed out the schedule.

In Friday night action, Morrisburg Lions downed Brinston, 10-4 and South Williamsburg ousted Martelle, 9-5.

Dundela handily beat the Ghetto Kids, 12-5 and the Lions game against Iroquois was called at three innings and a score of 10-0. Morrisburg Juveniles beat the Williamsburg A's 4-1.

Saturday saw the Morrisburg Juveniles go down 2-1 to the Williamsburg Oldtimers, while the Lions were edged out 4-3 by Cardinal.

The Oldtimers had no trouble with the Ghetto Kids, gaining a 6-0 shut out.

Brinston downed South Williamsburg by a score of 4-1; Iroquois went down hard at the hands of Cardinal, taking a 14-1 beating.

In a 5pm game, Williamsburg Oldtimers showed Dundela the stuff they were made of in a 13-3 game.

A Saturday evening game between Cardinal and Brinston was called at the end of the second with no score registered.

In other Saturday night action, the Morrisburg Juveniles blanked the Ghetto Kids, 10-0.

An early Sunday morning game saw the Ghetto Kids defeated 14-0 by the Williamsburg A's and the South Williamsburg team downed 19-1 by Iroquois.

Williamsburg A's beat the Oldtimers in a 5-0 game, Sunday morning. South Williamsburg defeated the Morrisburg Lions 10-4 and Morrisburg Juveniles downed Dundela 7-4.

Pioneers dream dies — Cardinal Pats trail in final series

WILLIAMSBURG - The Pioneers are out of the Metro Senior "A" fastball playoff picture and the Cardinal Pats trail in the final series one game to none.

A week ago the former Dundas Senior league clubs (Williamsburg Pioneers and Pats) were hoping for a country finish to the city season, hoping to play each other for the 1981 Metro championship. Now the Pioneers have joined the rural fastball fans already pulling for Cardinal to knock off the reigning city champs in the best-of-seven final series. Unfortunately the Ottawa Turpin Pontiacs may have hit their stride at precisely the right time. They dealt Williamsburg a three punch knockout, eliminating them in three straight and after Sunday's championship opener on the banks of the St. Lawrence River, hold a 1-0 lead over Cardinal. The Pontiacs nipped Cardinal 3-2 in a come-from-behind decision in eight innings hosted by the pennant-winning Pats at Carlington Park Tuesday night in game two.

Pioneer's Coach Doug Casselman was very satisfied with his club's performance in what he termed a rebuilding year.

"We won money at every tournament we entered, finished tied for third in our first Metro season, won our quarter-final series with Ottawa Pypers, but didn't have any offence left for the Pontiacs," he said. "But overall I'm pleased and I think the players are happy - maybe we will go another step further next year."

The coach wanted to remind all area fans who have been so supportive of the team this summer that they are invited to attend the annual Pioneer banquet on Oct. 10. Tickets are available from all team members and are good for a cocktail hour, a home-cooked meal, the award presentations and a dance.

Lack of plate power hurt the Pioneers in their test against Turpins. They were unable to generate any offence against a formidable Pontiac pitching staff, managing to produce just one run in three games.

Ottawa opened the best-of-five set winning 3-0, went ahead 2-0 in games with a 5-1 decision and eliminated Williamsburg last Wednesday night, earning a 4-0 victory in the eighth inning.

Turpins took a strangle hold in game two, pounding out a 5-1 win at Carlington Park. Long, tall Bill Coveny took the win, allowing one run on five hits, two sacrifices and two walks. He fanned four and hit one man.

Gerry Morrell accounted for Williamsburg's lone run of the series, drawing a lead-off walk in the fourth. Sacrifices by Perry Morrell and Bill Hogaboam moved him along for Dan Hogaboam who singled for his team's only RBI of the three-game set.

Gerry Belanger was top hitter for Williamsburg, slashing a pair of singles and drawing a walk in three trips.

Pontiacs erased Pioneers 1-0 lead in the bottom of the fourth, scoring three times. A pair of singles and a triple added two more runs in the sixth. Friesen and Hand each scored twice for the winners.

Dan Hogaboam gave up five runs on nine hits and nine strike-outs.

It was all over last Wednesday night when the Pontiacs wiped out the Pioneers scoring four times in the eighth inning.

Both winning pitcher Eoin Matheson and Pioneer's Jim Morrell threw excellent balls over the regulation seven innings, but Morrell's game fell apart in the extra session.

Malette and Hopkins singled to open the fateful eighth. Williamsburg then walked Wayne Hughes to load the bases with none out. Morrell - pitching to Randy Blondin - issued a walk, allowing Malette to walk home with the winning run (1-0). The sacks were still full and two were away when Friesen and Hand ripped out back-to-back singles, driving in three more for the 4-0 final.

Matheson pitched the victory, allowing just two hits. He fanned 15 and walked just one.

Morrell surrendered four runs on four walks, seven hits and five strikeouts.

Chargers take charge in ball hockey

In the third period the Chargers just made their win more certain by adding two more goals to their total.

At 1:39 of the period Brent Theede scored, assisted by Dave Arnold and Neil Fyke.

Then at 8:10, Dave Arnold scored his second goal of the evening, with Rae VanMorrsel assisting.

In the 'B' finals Odd Squad beat Lyle's Lions 4-2 in the first game of their best-three-out-of-five series held last Wednesday at the Chesterville Arena.

At the end of the second period the two teams were tied one all - but in the third period Odd Squad made their win decisive by scoring three goals.

Lyle's Lions began the scoring at 13:20 of the first perod. Barry Fulton, assisted by Gary Elliott, beat Odd Squad goaltender Rick Sproule.

There was no scoring until the second period at 2:57 when Odd Squad's Mike Hoogeveen scored assisted by Larry Gallinger and Rick Grisel.

Odd Squad started the third period scoring when Gary Gallinger, assisted by Larry Gallinger and Pat Imrie, put the ball by Lions goaltender Pat Brugmans. Time of the goal was 3:37.

Odd Squad went ahead 3-1 on a goal by Gary Gallinger at 7:31. He was assisted by Pat Imrie.

Lyle's Lions made an attempt to come back less than a minute later when Greg Beckstead scored. Assisting on the 8:11 goal were Lyle Servage and Brian Steele.

Although they were leading by one Odd Squad secured the win by scoring again. Gary Gallinger scored, for his third goal, with less than a minute left in the game. He was unassisted.

The teams met again last night, and will meet again tonight in the Chesterville Arena as the series continues.

Low attendance cancels tractor pull

(Staff) - Cancellation of the Seaway Valley Tractor Pullers' pull to be held on Sunday at the Chesterville fairgrounds has postponed the association's sanctioning by the Canadian Tractor Puller's Association.

Organizers said a small crowd turned out for both the preliminary pulls, being held on Saturday and the dance that evening. When Sunday proved to be cold and cloudy, and small numbers went through the entrance gate organizers decided to pull the plug on the $7,000 in prize money.

"We didn't have 8,000 people who wanted to catch pneumonia," said one.

Organizer Peter Van Kessel said the Seaway Valley Association decided they couldn't afford to hold the finals of the pull on Sunday with the low gate admissions.

The pullers that arrived at the fairgrounds were asked if they wanted to continue the event without the prize money. They decided against it.

This would've been the 7th pull held by the Seaway Valley Puller's Association. Without it they cannot be sanctioned in the Canadian Tractor Puller's Association.

Pullers lose sanction

The Molsons' weigh boat to be used in the tractor pull at the Chesterville Fairgrounds never got on the ground Sunday. Organizers, the Seaway Valley Tractor Puller's Association, said the pull on Saturday attracted a small crowd and had to be cancelled altogether on Sunday because of low attendance. Here organizers (left to right) Rhod MacGregor, Arden Marcellus and Germaine Baker, all of Morewood, look slightly disheartened.

Berwick champion among champions

Gove superstar in 18 inning game

CORNWALL (Staff) - Underdogs, Terry Gove and Berwick Hotel nearly achieved the impossible, losing the championship in the Burger King Tournament of Champions in a win or die game to St. Antoine.

The St. Antoine team were unbeaten in four games and bombarded the tired Berwick team with a four-hit, four-run offensive in the sixth inning.

Berwick lost their opening game Friday night (September 11) to Fat Albert's of the Cornwall Sportsman Softball League 4-3.

In their second game, against Morrisburg Juveniles, they edged 3-2 in 12 innings. Jim Wert singled and went on to score the winning run his second time across the plate, in the top of the seventh. Losing pitcher Ron Casselman walked in the winning run.

Gary Lefebvre went the distance for Berwick.

Berwick gained its second win with a mammoth 18-inning game against Napanee. It was called at 10 innings, Saturday evening and continued the following morning at 8:30am.

Berwick scored the only run, in the top of the 18th when Harold McRae walked and scored on Jim Hume's sacrifice.

Terry Gove, pitching for Berwick, had 17 strike-outs during the game while Napanee pitchers Dave and Steve Lockridge racked up 23 between them.

A second shut-out put Berwick on the map against Sentry Drugs, 2-0, with Gove again on the mound. The winning run came in the first inning when Ed Gove opened with a single and Jim Hume stroked a one-out base hit. They scored on an error.

Berwick's trip to the finals took another step when Sunday afternoon they scored a 2-1 win over the Johnstown Counts.

Berwick opened the scoring in the fifth with Harold McRae's single and Ed Gove reaching base on a fielder's choice. Jim Hume drove them in on a double but was caught short reaching for third.

Johnstown run came in the bottom of the seventh when Pierre Seguin doubled and scored on Mike Horne's single.

Gary Lefebvre started for Berwick but was relieved by Gove in the bottom of the seventh after the Horne single.

Berwick assured their final berth with a come-from-behind win to defeat Ottawa's A-Sport 3-2 in nine innings.

A-Sport was ahead 2-0 in the botton of the seventh until an error put Jim Hume on base and the Berwick ball began to roll again.

Jim Wert drew a walk to become Berwick's second base runner.

The game went into extra innings when Marvin Waldroff hit a two-run single.

Hume led off the ninth with a triple and scored on Phil Wells' single with one out, for the win.

Gove had nine strike-outs and Al Shepherd for A-Sport collected 13.

St. Antoine, finalists in 1979, brought a 5-2 score against Fat Albert's, 1-0 against Sentry Drugs and 5-0 shutout against A-Sport to the finals.

Berwick scored the first run in the championship game when Phil Wells singled and scored on an error.

St. Antoine moved ahead in the third with Yvon Goneau's single and score; Michel Roy reached base on an error.

Roy put St. Antoine in the lead, scoring on Gaetan Dandurand's single. Berwick hung in faithfully in the fifth when they pushed in a pair of runs on three hits to take a 3-2 lead but the crunch came in the bottom of the sixth.

Four hits and four runs were followed by another two runs on three hits to put St. Antoine's in the lead, 9-3.

With a loss in their first game, Berwick went into the championship game in a win or die situation while St. Antoine, undefeated, would have had a second chance.

Gove was named the tournament's outstanding pitcher. He pitched 51 innings in the tournament including a pair of extra inning games. He is the only pitcher in the three year history of the tournament to go 18 innings in one game.

Wildlife Service releases regulations

OTTAWA (Special) - The Canadian Wildlife Service today released regulations governing the 1981 migratory birds hunting season across Canada.

The regulations prescribe hunting areas and dates as well as bag and possession limits by species for each province and territory.

This year marks the third of a five year agreement by the federal, provincial and territorial governments to stabilize the waterfowl hunting regulations.

The fixed dates and bag and possession limits are a first step toward a closer understanding of waterfowl population dynamics.

Hunters will find that hunting areas have been revised as follows: in Newfoundland the former Southern Labrador area has been divided into the Western Labrador and Central Labrador areas; in Nova Scotia, Inverness and Victoria counties are now a new area where there is no open season for geese other than Brant; in Ontario the Central District has been redefined; and in Alberta a new zone, Wood Buffalo National Park, has been added.

Posters and abstracts summarizing the regulations are displayed in each post office across Canada.

All migratory bird hunters, with the exception of Inuit and Indians, must carry a valid migratory game bird hunting permit. The permits, which sell for Can. $3.50, will be available at post offices throughout Canada by mid-August.

The Canadian Wildlife Service requests that hunters maintain accurate records of the migratory birds they take using the form attached to each hunting permit.

This information will be requested from a random sample of hunters after the season as part of the 1981 harvest survey.

Data obtained will aid in the determination of the total annual harvest and the status of the duck and goose populations in Canada.

The maintenance of healthy duck and goose populations in Canada contributes about $190 million to Canada's economy through migratory game bird hunting each year measurable in terms of equipment bought, guides hired, tourists attracted, etc.
