Diabetes DMC Tour 2002

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

Diabetes affects over two million Canadians. It is one of the leading causes of death by disease. Diabetes, in particular Type 2 is rapidly increasing in children and adults.

The Diabetes Diagnose-Manage-Cure (DMC) Tour 2002 is fast becoming the largest single public awareness event for Diabetes in Canadian history.

Mark Winegarden, founder of the Winegarden Diabetes Foundation Inc. was diagnosed with Type 2 Diabetes in 1998. A 40-year old father and husband who is a 10-year veteran of the Simcoe County paramedic team, he has in his own words, "Seen Diabetes at its ugliest, when we bring someone home from hospital with a limb missing, it tears you apart. An increase in emergency situations diabetics face has been witnessed firsthand by Mark. When he was diagnosed, he acted quickly to reign in his sugar levels bringing them under control. "I weighed 305 when I learned I had Diabetes and with medication, exercise and a regulated diet, he lost 60 pounds initially. This initial change seemed easy enough, it was the long-term maintenance which became a chore. Like too many Type 2 diabetics, Mark let complacency set in and began to slack off. As he became less vigilant about his lifestyle change, both his weight and sugar levels began to creep up again. As could be expected as the old habits returned so too did the Diabetes symptoms...finally it sunk in, "I had to get active and burn that sugar!" says a fit looking smiling Mark.

On one of his many long walks, Mark developed the idea for a coast-to-coast, cross-Canada diabetes awareness tour. "Diabetes is known as the silent killer, symptoms are not visible, diabetics do not look sick and too often symptoms are ignored (frequent urination, tiredness, thirst and blurry vision are chalked up to something else) The idea grew in leaps and bounds and his 12-year old son Adam jumped on the bandwagon and together they are becoming the first father/son team to cross Canada using the path of the Trans Canada Trail. "Walking seemed too slow, my old knees would not allow running and so bicycling seemed like the best option," says a beaming Mark. "Terry Fox had a BIG influence on our family. My mom is a cancer survivor (1978) and we figured if he could do it, so could we." He continues as people gather in Waterfront Park in Morrisburg to encourage the team, to support and to speak with them. A PR side bar from Ottawa (The Trans Canada Trail does not come southward), the team was well received. "The Morrisburg Lions Club were among the first to come forward when we started this and invited us to drop by the Seaway town, thanks!" added Mark.

Pumping those pedals as they followed the local Paramedics in the ambulance, followed by their Tour Jeep they were hot, but happy as they turned into the shade of the local park. On hand were Lions members from Morrisburg (Mark is a Lion in his hometown of Bradford, Ontario), as Fred Langlots presented a crisp, new $100 bill to Mark, a young man stepped forward and gave a fiver as his contribution. His photo was taken by Dayna MacLeod, event and media coordinator for the Tour to go on the website, at www.diabetesdmc-.com as a challenge to other youngsters to meet or pass his donation. Also representing both South Dundas and the United Counties, Warden Cam Martel presented the Winegarden family with SD and Counties' pins, wished the team the best and continued success in their ride. "Thanks for taking time to stop here and also for your efforts. Any awareness you bring is a stride in the right direction," noted Cam. Mark thanked the Warden and said, "Plato once said that service is the price we pay to be on this planet, and Lions Clubs and Paramedics have been behind our cause 100% since day one." He noted their appreciation to all their sponsors and thanked everyone involved for their dedication and support to the cause.

Mark then explained just how generous people really are..."We had our bikes stolen, and a bike

Great weather for Annual Dairyfest

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

The 14th Annual Dairyfest was another success story for Winchester as the sun shone brightly on the activities all weekend.

From the ball tourney to the numerous eating venues, there was something for everyone. The Beach themed dance for teens was a hit, and Ambush is always popular. The sidewalk sale turned Main and St. Lawrence into hubs of selling, like an old fashioned marketplace. Music drifted along the main drag as dancers took to the street. Beer gardens were popular as the temperatures rose and larger crowds gathered to enjoy the action.

Perhaps the most popular event was the Moo-Vivor Challenge, a game resembling the Survivor Show on TV with a rather bovine theme. Contestants competed for a $2000 cash top prize. Along the way to victory the ten entrants were culled to slim down the number to a final four. Alliances were made and whether by plan or not Jarlsberg Julie of the Curd Herd was the top winner. Her alliance with a young man may have been her ticket to victory. She lost a lot of contests and posed no real threat until the final game. The Whey Herd's Jumping Janet worked hard to win over her twin, but it was not to be. The games were cool, like the Game Board where questions were asked on the history of the Village, the Water Game was a hoot. Organizers are to commended.

Doctor Larry Gray was honoured as Community Senior of the Year for his years of dedication to Winchester. "I am quite proud to receive this, but I have to say, the work I did brought me as much pleasure as it did the people I've helped over the years."

The opening of the new section at the Community Centre, a project which has been in the works for a number of years (ten to be exact) was another Dairyfest Kodak moment. "There are many volunteers who have given literally thousands of hours to this project and to making this weekend a success," noted Mayor Claude Cousineau as he cut the ribbon to officially open the new renovated centre.

Irwin McCargar was there with his holstein oxen, Bright and Buck a pair of 5 1/2 year olds whom he will teach to plow next week. They pulled 4000 lbs in Open meeting on zoning amendment in N. Dundas

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

After Mayor Claude Cousineau presented a cheque for $2000 to the Chesterville Lions Club to defray costs of the colourful mural that welcomes folks to the village as they stop at the Main Street intersection, Council swung into an Open Meeting to consider an application from Lorne Neville and his wife for a Zoning By-Law Amendment to allow him to construct an Auto Repair Garage on his lot at 79 Main Street. Since the property is presently zoned Commercial-Residential he could have gone ahead with the building without going through the amendment process, but wanted to be a better neighbour than the existing by-law allowed. Concerns expressed by Mark Allard and another member of those who gathered to address this issue included drainage, buffers (noise and air pollution) and numbers of vehicles to be parked on property. "The by-law is there and should be enforced, I have heard no reasons to change it, a commercial operation on a commercial lot has to conform," noted Allard. One letter of support was received by Council, and no objections from any Ministry agencies who have input on such matters. Calvin Pol, Director of Planning for North Dundas dealt with each explaining in detail that "The applicant has compromised to change his original plan, it is a double lot and he could have simply gone forward without consultation or deliberation with neighbours."

According to the Mayor, the Amendment will give Council the power to restrict certain items, lets Council put teeth into the by-law. The Site Plan which is a requirement for the builder will deal with drainage, fencing and lighting while maintaining the aesthetic use of the rest of the yard.

Mr. Neville was present to defend his reasoning, explaining that he was going to establish a

Get ready for the Annual South Mountain Fair

by Jessie Christie
Chieftain Co-op Student

The fair everyone's been waiting for starts up Thursday, August 15, at the fairgrounds and continues through three more entertainment-packed days, until Sunday, August 18.

On Thursday, the ever-popular midway runs from 4-11 pm, so come out and get your bracelet for the cost of only $8.

Friday, the fair really gets going with events like the Horse and Pony Part, beginning at 10:30am, the Opening Ceremonies at 6:30 pm, and the highly exciting, much anticipated Demolition Derby, which is famous in the area for being the best, and most destructive derby around. As an added bonus, this year's MC will be "Woody" from Chez 106. Other things to look forward to on Friday are observing the Exhibit hall, which opens at 5pm, hanging out in the Beer Garden from 7pm on, and having a good time at the Friday Night Dance, featuring the Tycoons, in the tent, running from 9pm-1am, and of course the Midway, which is there to enjoy all day, from 11am to 12 midnight.

Saturday will definitely be the day for animal lovers, with another

Gift of $4 million to Winchester hospital

The Chairs of the Renewing the Vision Campaign have met with the hospital administrator and Treasurer of the United Counties to clarify details with regards to the United Counties gift of four million dollars towards Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

Both County Officials and the Renewing the Vision Campaign Co-chairs are very satisfied with these discussions. They have exchanged correspondence confirming that in memoriam gifts, bequests from estates, gross receipts from fundraising projects and gifts from municipalities outside of the United Counties will be eligible for matching dollars from the Counties, up to the amount of four million dollars.

The Co-Chairs have told the Mayor that the Campaign is going well. With these details worked out, the United Counties are ready to uphold their support of Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

Welcoming new CAO/Clerk

Township of Edwardsburgh/Cardinal Mayor Dave Dobbie welcomed the township's new Chief Administrative Officer/Clerk Stephen McDonald in a swearing in ceremony on Monday, August 12 in the Council Chambers. McDonald has 21 years of municipal government experience.

Mayor honoured by Luthern Church

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

South Dundas Mayor Johnny Whitteker has earned yet another honour to add to his already impressive array. This one was through his church, St. Peter's Lutheran in Williamsburg. Mayor Johnny was baptised and remains an active member (Church Council member for some 25 years) of the congregation of the local house of worship.

As the Mayor showed reporters his award which was designed by Shirley Eford, a member of the Lutheran Church in Hamilton and the lady who also has the claim to fame on her resume that she designed the 125th Anniversary Awards for Canada in 1992 as well as the Juno Awards, he explains how "the crystal flame symbolizes the light of Christ which emanates through the witness of all Christian people, while also representing the gifts of the Holy Spirit as they have been expressed within the lives of individual award recipients." The inscription reads, "Let your light so shine that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in Heaven." (Matthew 5:16)

Presented to Major Johnny by the Eastern Ontario Lutheran Synod Leadership Award for his exemplary service to the wide community, July 13, 2002 at the Eastern Ontario Lutheran Synod hosted in Ottawa earlier this summer, July 10-14, 2002. Some 500 delegates attended.

According to Reverend Mark Ehlebracht, Pastor at St. Peter's, there were awards given for the first time this year to lay persons. "There were only four awards in total presented this year, two to clergy and two to lay people. The lay person were honoured for their community work and for work within the church. This is a huge honour for the Mayor as well as his congregation. The Eastern Lutheran Synod stretches from Sault Ste. Marie in Ontario to Nova Scotia and the Maritime provinces, a large area, making the award that much more prestigious.

Both the Mayor and his Pastor recognized that this is a very significant award and although the Mayor is unaware of who (he does not even know if it was a member of the 150 strong congregation at St. Peters, since anyone could have, the nomination was open to anyone who wanted to submit nominations could as long as they knew about it) submitted his name for the honour, he is humbled by it and appreciates the fact that someone felt he deserved such an honour. "I am amazed at the fact that Johnny has served as Mayor for such a lengthy period and I am certain there are a number of reasons he was awarded this honour, but indeed one has to be the commitment he has demonstrated to his community in his service as Mayor."

Rev. Mark continued, "We're delighted Johnny was recognized with this award. It is a wonderful thing for Mayor Whitteker and certainly for our church here as well as the wider church community."

Johnny noted, "It is an honour for me to be chosen by such an elite group of people."(Rev. Beth Conroy of Walkerton also received an award at this Synod gathering as well for her efforts during the problems with the water in her town).

Mayor Johnny was also presented with a token of appreciation in monetary form ($500.) which he donated to Visions 2000 at the Waterloo Lutheran Seminary where those young people who are working towards the ministry will benefit. Another good deed by a deserving award winner. Congrats Mayor Johnny, well deserved for sure!

Mayor Honoured

Edwardsburgh/Cardinal welcomes new CAO/clerk

By Theresa Roach
Chieftain Staff Reporter

The Township of Edwardsburgh/Cardinal welcomed a new face to the municipality in a special ceremony at the Council Chambers on August 12.

The ceremony was to swear in their new Chief Administrative Officer (CAO)/Clerk Stephen McDonald who officially started work on August 12. He has 21 years of experience in municipal government and originally comes from a smaller municipality in Cornwall.

McDonald spent 13 years as the Administrator/Clerk Treasurer of Elizabethtown. Prior to this he spent two years as the Director of Corporate Services/Clerk of East Gwillimbury located in the York Region with a population of about 22,000.

He said that one of his reasons for taking the job is because his family is from the area, adding that, "this gives me an opportunity to get back to my roots and be closer to my family."

"I wasn't getting the broad experience that I was used to. Hopefully I will do good things in Edwardsburgh/ Cardinal using my experience as a generalist," said McDonald.

He plans to relocate to a house somewhere between Edwardsburgh/Cardinal and Brockville depending upon where he finds a house he likes. He has worked with several members of the current Edwardsburgh/Cardinal staff in the past including Treasurer Russell Trivett and Recreation Coordinator/By-law Enforcement Officer Mike Spencer who he worked with in Elizabethtown.

"Elizabethtown is a lot like Edwardsburgh/Cardinal in the rural sense. I have the challenge of making amalgamation work down here as part of what I will be doing here. I am ready to go," said McDonald.

Stress Cycle

Most of us would agree that it is hard enough to juggle all the responsibilities of life when we are healthy.

Just imagine what it is like for someone living with Diabetes. For a diabetic the rigorous daily routine of monitoring blood-sugar levels, keeping on top of medication schedules, maintaining a healthy weight, a well balanced diet and getting plenty of exercise, there is often little time left over to relax. And yet, that is exactly what they must do to keep their stress level down and the disease in check.

During periods of intense stress it is widely beleived that blood sugar levels rise. This otherwise normal fight or flight reaction can wreck havoc with the diabetic in their already precarious blood sugar balancing act which they must perform. If unmanaged, stress can leave the diabetic much more vulnerable to the disease and increasingly less able to cope with it.

While having diabetes can be a major source of stress, diabetic patients experience more pronounced anxiety and depression than do the rest of us. Dealing with stress takes a lot of energy and can leave those suffering from it especially the diabetic, less capable of looking after themselves. Sufferers are often less likely to exercise and more prone to the wrong kinds of stress relief including alcohol and drugs. Learning how to manage stress properly and dealing with it before it becomes an added burden presents a major challenge for diabetics.

Speaking to Mark Winegarden and his son Adam as they bicycle across Canada raising funds for Diabetic Research, to help children with the disease and to make people super aware of the symptoms of this silent killer, wakened me.

One quarter of the adult population in this country will be diagnosed with Diabetes by 2004, it is time we all took notice.

We may have it and not yet know it , don't wait for a terrible result before you act. S.L.J.

West Nile Virus

It's mosquito season again and West Nile Virus has now been identified in Eastern Ontario so if you need to be outdoors between dusk and dawn, cover up and use insect repellent for extra protection to lessen the risk of a bite from an infected mosquito.

West Nile Virus was first isolated in 1937 in the West Nile district of Uganda. It is an infection mainly found in wild birds but can be spread to other animals and humans by bites from mosquitoes carrying the disease. Mosquitoes become infected when they bite wild birds that host the virus.

The virus was detected for the first time in the Western Hemisphere in 1999. There were 62 confirmed cases, mostly in elderly people in and around the New York City area. Seven deaths resulted in that outbreak. Blood samples taken in the area suggested that several others were infected but they only experienced mild or no symptoms at all.

The virus was discovered for the first time in Canada during the summer/fall of 2001 in 128 dead birds and confirmed in nine groups of mosquitoes. There have been no reported cases of people infected with the West Nile virus in Canada to date. People at greatest risk for contracting the virus are the elderly and the very young.

If an infected mosquito bites you, it may take up to 15 days before you experience mild flu-like symptoms such as fever, headache and body aches. Others may develop a mild rash or swollen lymph glands. Severe symptoms include meningitis (inflammation of the brain or spinal cord) or encephalitis (inflammation of the brain) which could include the rapid onset of severe headache, high fever, stiff neck, vomiting, drowsiness, confusion, muscle weakness and loss of consciousness.

Protect yourself and prevent mosquitoes from breeding:

• Wear long-sleeved shirts, long pants and socks when outdoors during the early morning and evening when mosquitoes are most active.

• Rub on N,N-diethyl-m-toluemide (DEFT) no greater than 30-35% for adults and no greater than 6-10% for children_ Apply this sparingly to exposed skin. Do not apply repellant on children under two years of age.

•Don't allow any outside water to stand for more than four days.

• Let your neighbours know about potential mosquito breeding grounds on their property.

Earlier this month, the Ontario government announced a further $9 million in funding to support West Nile Virus surveillance and prevention but we all have to do our part to make the program a success.

Hot & humid weather still hanging around

As the humidex climbs into the 40s and the temperature soars into the higher reaches of the 30s, we swelter and folks explain that this winter we will really miss this weather...some of us anyway! This is a killer with arthritis and I search out airconditioned places which I know are not terrific for me either, but give some relief. Working the weekend I found myself beaten down by the heat. I guess being inside so much of the time, my system could not adjust to being out in the sunshine and heat for so many hours. Rest and loads of cold water helped. The pool is refreshing especially at night and aids the sleep process.

Son number two spent time in Sutton with his girlfriend and is back into the routine of assignments to keep up with his summer school schedule. Number one son is signing papers for an apartment this week in the city with another young man who attends Carleton University. They found a place central to both and so we will get tires for the bike and he can follow the bike path while the weather cooperates, then hit the bus route. This is his final year unless he opts for the University course now offered to complete his graphic design course, we'll know this semester what he plans to do.

Memories of the vacation on Prince Edward Island remain vivid and as we visit with folks who also spent time there this summer or are headed there we relive the fun and excitement that was a great holiday.

Arriving here on Thursday morning of our "down East trip" we walked the unique sand dunes. Formed by the accumulation of sand eroding sandstone and created by the wind and waves that carry dry sand up onto the beach where it collects behind rocks and clumps of seaweed, the gradual buildup of sand forms sand dunes that would blow away if it were not for the sand loving "marram" grass whose roots and rhizomes form a living net helping to slow the movement of sand. Once stabilized, a variety of other plants and numerous animals can make the dunes their homes. The dunes are an important natural habitat and act as a natural protective barrier against the effects of storms and waves. Research on dunes and all their associated features: vegetation, wildlife and wetlands helps us to understand and protect them better. We are warned as we enter the dunes area that even the most stable of these beauties are fragile and easily damaged. Walking on the dunes eliminates the protective plant cover, in fact as few as 10 footsteps to destroy a marram grass colony and one it is gone, the winds blow away the exposed sand and carves small depressions into giant holes called "blowouts." Blowouts turn stable dunes into constantly shifting hills, unable to support vegetation or wildlife. We therefore used the boardwalks and carpeted foot paths at the designated access points. The regeneration of marram grass is vital to allow damaged dunes to rehabilitate and others will be able to enjoy the breathtaking sights they provide. We collected shells, walked in the ocean, checked out some stranded jelly (Arctic Red) fish, snapped pictures of the dunes-trying to capture one of those typical dune style pictures, we did find a piece of snowfence floundering in the sand and some drift wood, along with a fence post which stood alone in the sand...some terrific pics that retell our trip story. A small beach hut stood empty until later when we noticed the life guards starting to assemble their equipment in preparation for the numerous beach combers they expected that day. The water was a chilly 17 degrees and so we decided not to swim this day!

Our next stop was Dalvay-By-The-Sea, but first we would stop along the highway and snap a few pictures of a small fishing village built at the mouth of an inlet. The fishing boats sit anchored out where the tide line waits the ebb and flow, others are docked at the fishing shanties in the harbour. In the background we also see some of the various greens that the Island is famous for as fields vary in their texture and shades of green...and then we were at Dalvay-by-the-Sea. Anyone who has ever watched Road to Avonlea will know this touch of Victorian elegance which graces the eastern end of the park as the White Sands Hotel where Felix King and Gus Pike worked at various times and where special dinners and lunches are hosted. When we arrived, we could not figure how the shot of this marvellously beautiful place

the bottom line

THE IROQUOIS GOLF CLUB HAS BEEN A BUSY SPOT THIS SUMMER with so much sunshine and so little rain. Holes-in-One have been made again this week, as Leslie Wright made her second hole-in-one on holiday Monday, August 5, on #9, with a 5 Iron, same hole, same club! She says she had to for Dawn Casselman her partner who could not. Then on Friday, it was Betty Locke who found the cup with one shot on #13 when she hit with her 7 Wood. Playing with Jen Banford, she found 13 to be lucky as did Brooke Leightizer did on Tuesday. He was playing this same hole, with a 7 Iron and nailed his "first ever" hole-in-one during 35 years of enjoying the game.

CONGRATS TO THE IROQUOIS SWIM TEAM ON THEIR FIRST EVER SWIM Meet on the weekend. There has not been a swim team from this town in many years, if ever and it is good to see the effort going into the program, both by swimmers and coaches, Kaitlyn Shaver and Kelly Verhoven.

THIS FRIDAY, AUGUST 16, MARKS THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE death of the King, Elvis Presley...hard to believe, and who recalls where they were when the news came across the radio? His estate continues to grow in financial ways even though it has been a quarter of a century since he passsed away...new musical releases are coming out, books on the history of his life remain popular and CDs of his songs are being reworked and are selling like hot cakes. Through the technology of the 2000s singers and actors or actresses never fade away, they only pass away, for we can digitalize their work and hear them again for the first time. Generations who never knew people like Elvis can see what their parents liked about him.

was taken since the ocean is across the road. As we were leaving we drove around the front and headed westward, then we realized the bay which came inward here provided the shot across the manicured lawn shows the beautiful photo which is always shown before the interior shots begin. It was built in 1896 by Alexander MacDonald, a wealthy businessman and one time president of Standard Oil Company. Originally from Scotland, he came to Ohio to seek his fame and fortune. His son died in infancy and his daughter at a young age leaving two young daughters in his and his wife's care. Travelling throughout the world, the girls had the best possible education. On a vacation in PEI one summer, the family stayed at the Acadian Hotel in Tracadie. So intrigued was MacDonald that he built a summer home on the Island, naming it Dalvay after his ancestral home in Scotland. Local material was used exclusively in the construction: the lower half of the house was built with Island sandstone in its natural boulder form, the huge fireplace was constructed with the famous PEI reddish sand stone. Much of the furniture was of oak and mahogany. Bringing beautiful articles from all over the world, the cost to operate Dalvay was $10,000 a year even then. They employed 2 cooks, 2 house maids, a gardener, 2 butlers, 2 laundresses, a caretaker and 2 men who looked after the horses and stables. They entertained a great deal and the home was usually filled with guests according to history. Balls and dances were popular events. Locals and hired help were included as the season came to an end. Riding, tennis, swimming and fishing were enjoyed by guests. A dory for fishing was kept on Auld's Mill Pond which the family rented. Horses were a favourite with Mr. MacDonald and he owned a number used for sport and transportation. Jaunting carts, coaches and double-seated carriages, one special one was a "four-in-hand" (a brake) which weighed 1600 pounds and cost him $1.00 per pound. Four horses were needed to pull it, one of these is on display at Dalvay, restored by the Park. A generous Christian man Mr. MacDonald treated his employees as equals and was very generous. He passed away in 1910. The daughters he and his wife raised married Prince Murat of France (Helena) and Prince Rospigliosi of Italy (Laura). Laura and her husband visited once at Dalvay in 1915, but he was called back to Italy when war broke out and Laura returned to New York City to educate her children. The last visit of the MacDonald family was in 1958, when Helena visited the hotel. After Alex died, Dalvay was sold several times.

William Hughes, caretaker for the MacDonalds lived in what is presently the Admin. building. He looked after things until the family fortunes dwindled and he was able to buy it at a reasonable price. It was when William O'Leary of Montreal purchased Dalvay using it as a summer home. He removed most of the elegant furnishings to Montreal and elsewhere then sold it to Captain Ed Dicks, an infamous rumrunner during the 1920s and 30s. The Captain altered and opened Dalvay as a hotel in 1931. Spending so much on renovations he could not maintain the standards his guests expected and went bankrupt. In 1934, the Honourable George DeBois, Lt. Governor and one of Cpt. Dick's creditors owned Dalvay selling it to the Federal Government in 1937-38 when it became part of PEI National Park. Since this time several operators have been at the helm. Presently it is run as a hotel and dining room under a concession agreement between the government and Mr.and Mrs. Raymond Thompson. Visitors return year after year to enjoy a delightful glimpse of the past as the Victorian atmosphere is retained throughout. A significant historical feature of the park it is simply awesome. The big guy and the writer walked up to the porch, checked the view, spoke with guests who thought we too were staying here (2 nights reservation required at between $220 and $340 per night, with an added $80 per extra person over two, we were not) and went inside to see the dark wooden interior. The fireplace is a masterpiece and the atmosphere like a movie or a dream. Using the washroom was even an experience, fresh flowers, real towels and face cloths, and hand rubbed wood everywhere, sitting in front of the fireplace in a luxurious sofa was like being a part of another time. Standing on the broad veranda, sitting in the lawn chairs and checking out the gift shop, we realized the grandeur of the place, the soft tones created by the wood, as the sun shone through the high windows and filtered into the darkened entrance hall we felt like children in a storybook for a brief moment.

Ever on the move we found ourselves on the road again, this time headed for Point Prim Lighthouse, PEI's oldest lighthouse. Marking the entrance to Hillsborough Bay at the outer approaches to Charlottetown Harbour on the southern side of the Island, this 60-foot tall (18.2m) brick, conical tower is painted white and has been in service since 1846. Point Prim is one of the few lighthouses of brick construction in Canada. Designed by Isaac Smith and constructed by Richard Walsh, the brick is now covered with wooden shingles but once inside, we could see the brick construction. The light was automated in 1969. We climbed all the way to the very top! The staircase was narrow and steep, but we made it and the view was awesome. Red sand, red stones and water crashing onto the red shoreline was breathtaking. We would pay dearly for this trip upward in the days to follow as thighs and shins not often put though so much, stressed to the limit and tensed in fear of falling would retaliate in screaming pain...

Shopped in the Charlottetown wharf area, grabbed golf shirts for the sons, a sweat for the writer and a matching pair of fleece pullovers for the big guy and the writer. Supper was at a waterfront eatery again, but as we were about to head inside and then move to the veranda, it rained cats and dogs and whales and we ate indoors...more seafood of course and then raced off to the College of Piping through the rain which started again. As we followed our guides, the water sprayed from their tires so much it was difficult at times to see where they were. Clearing again as we arrived at the College, we grew excited about this show. One thing we learned rapidly about PEI weather is that rain comes up fast, falls hard and then clears up quickly and the most marvellous rainbows result, often more than one.

The College of Piping and Celtic Performing Arts of Canada is a world renowned educational institution based in Summerside. Specializing in teaching Highland Baggpiping, Highland Snare Drumming, Highland Dancing and Step Dancing. In addition to teaching, the College is an active promoter and producer of Celtic concerts and recordings.This evening we were treated to young and older performers who each did an excellent job, teachers performed alongside their students and some of the finest playing we had ever heard was presented...we enjoyed it a lot. On this night the couple who donated funds to allow for the construction of the tent area we were seated in were in attendance, it was cool to know people care so much. It was easy to feel Scottish this evening! It was amazing to learn that folks in the audience with us were from as far away as Europe, USA and across Canada. When young and old took to the stage to learn the Highland Fling, it was wild laughter that greeted some of the dancers-to-be, especially the two young men who gave it their best effort.

Walking along the waterfront boardwalk as the fanciful lamps came on, cruisers docked for the night showed interior bulbs flicker into bright lights creating a wistful image as we strolled along, a replica ship on land, like the pirate ships of old was enjoyed by a couple of kids. The ship was on a platform of bearing that allowed it to rock and roll as the kids moved about on deck and their laughter was enough to let us know they were having a ball. a restful way to end another full day. As we climbed into bed the reality that we would spend only one more day on the Island struck us. It was a great holiday and we would make the most of our final day.

The number two son is busy locating a place to live in the nation's capital this semester, the drive every day takes a toll and since he will spend some time in a co-op position, he needs to be in there. His courses are time consuming and he worked very hard to always produce his best, we are 100% supportive of his dream.

The old empty-nest syndrome will set in fast in a few short weeks as both sons head back to class. The second son spent a few days this weekend visiting the girlfriend at her hometown. He will complete his studying for the final exam in his Genetics course and head into his Cell Biology course. If plans run according to schedule, he will be done both by the end of this month, ready for the fall term. He spends a lot of time working and hitting the books, with little free time, his dad and I are proud of his dedication and effort.

The weather keeps us sweltering and the lawn burns ever more brown each day. Alone this week in the editorial department has the old writer hopping this week and hearing people suggest that the newspaper does not cover enough events is quite frustrating, especially when I see myself coming from where I am headed! We do the best we can and do not tell others how to do their job, why do people think they can dictate to reporters and editors what they should run in each issue?

The sun sinks more rapidly in the west these nights and darkness descends earlier than the night before. The fingers pain and the knees are hurting, it must surely be going to rain. The headaches steadily and the tell tale traces of a storm are building up, watch out.

Pickles are on the go again as the garden provides her bounty. The ground hog took care of the brocoli and only one of six pepper plants is producing, the weakest looking one of the row has two green beauties, but the others that look great have not produced anything. Go figure!

Take care and keep smiling. The wisdom this week comes from Mark Strand who said, "Each instant is a place we've never been."

Upper Canada Little League girls minor & major softball tourney

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

"Play Ball!" was the cry that rang out across both the Lions and Legion Ball diamonds in Iroquois last weekend as the gals took over the bases, in and outfields and played some pretty good ball.

The Major and Minor Girls Softball Tourney was hosted in town as teams from Mountain, Morrisburg, Winchester, Chesterville, Williamsburg and Iroquois played for the victory.

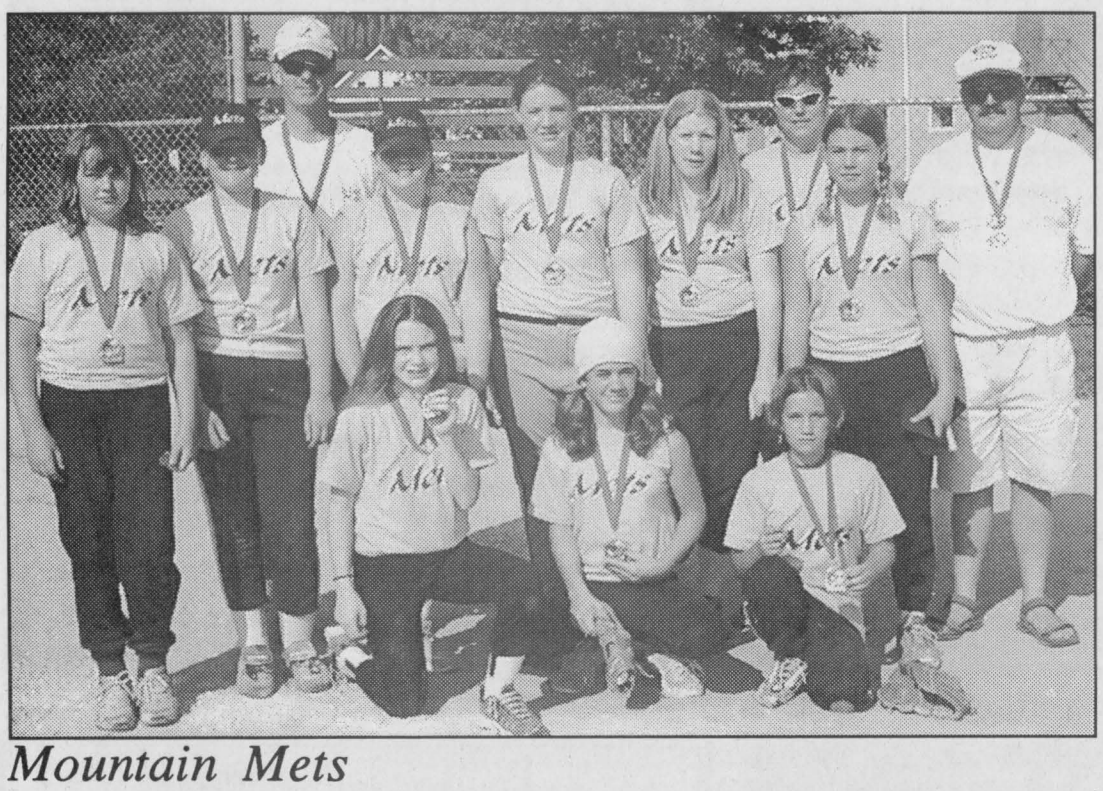
Friday evening saw action heat up as Morrisburg faced Williamsburg and Chesterville played Morrisburg #2 as the Major portion (older gals) began a double-knockout format to declare the overall League Champion Team. Facing off first at 6pm were Morrisburg #1 and Chesterville. Morrisburg played to strong defeating their opponents 13-5 sending Chesterville to the "B" side, with the possibility of facing them again in the final. Later that same night, Iroquois came up against Morrisburg #2. In a well played. close game Iroquois squeaked past Morrisburg 13-12.

Saturday dawned hot and humid, as Williamsburg gave notice they had arrived. Excellent pitching from Jenna Shay proved to much for Morrisburg #1, who went down, soundly in the face of her speed and terrific delivery 14-2. Mountain showed Iroquois how to play the game as they covered the bases, beating the hometown hosts 20-6. Later this morning Morrisburg #2 played Chesterville and lost 10-3. Morrisburg #1 and Iroquois played another tight game, which could have gone either way, but saw Iroquois defeated 10-8. Chesterville ended Morrisburg #1's hopes of advancing when they scored 11 runs. Morrisburg were able to cross the plate for only 4 runs.

Afternoon games pitted Williamsburg and Mountain in a tight match which was eventually won by the Mets from Mountain 11-8. Williamsburg was not finished yet as they came out to play hard against Chesterville in a lopsided game, in which they were skunked by their opponents 13-0.

These two games set the stage for the double game final as Williamsburg and Mountain. Saturday evening Wiliamsburg played strong to defeat the Mets 18-7. Since Mountain had not lost a game in the tourney, they had to drop this match in order to force a second game, which occurred and when the teams came onto the field Sunday morning the tourney was anybody's to win. Williamsburg must have gotten a wonderful rest the night before and the pep talk by the coaching staff worked magic. Shay took the mound and had no problem hitting the strike zone. She has a good arm and knows how to use it when on the mound. Some good plays by both teams made for an exciting final as the Mets got things going late in the innings to mount a defence, but it was too late an Williamsburg claimed the title 13-3.

On the Minor side of the tourney, Iroquois came out strong as Mountain was beat 14-11 in a good close one. Morrisburg managed to earn a win over Winchester in a heartbreaker, 11-10. Iroquois found they liked victory as they beat Winchester 10-7 in their next game, as Morrisburg raced past Mountain 13-3. The final saw some solid ball as Iroquois faced Morrisburg in the Championship game. When the dust cleared Morrisburg was displaying the trophy as winners 20-16. Iroquois certainly has nothing to feel badly about, they played good ball and never gave up until the final out.



Mountain Mets

Iroquois Minor Girls

South Mountain Demolition Derby

The most action packed event of the South Mountain Fair this weekend will be Friday,August 16 at 7pm sharp when the Demolition Derby hits the ground.

For only $30 a driver can enter his/her car and the chance to go for the top prize of $500 cash. Also up for grabs among the men is a $250 runner-up prize. The ladies get into the act as top Powder-Puff driver walks away with $100 while runner-up gets $50 for her effort.

Organizer Jeff Hyndman looks for more than the 72 vehicles that were entered last year. Pre-registartion began August 10, everything is ready for the green flag to drop on Friday night.

Engines are being readied for the action that promises to "rip up the ring with bone crushing hits an crashes" as the Derby gets underway. Come on out and enjoy!

Rubber Ducky

The ring of ducks as they were dumped into the Nation River Sunday looked pretty cool. The Annual Duck Race is sponsored by the Masons in support of the Heart and Stroke foundation. The Great Rubber Duck Race in endorsed by "Quaky" and his young friends as well. The generosity of local businesses make it a terrific event. Jim Ward of Martintown claimed top prize $2000 GIC, Pat Lannin of Morrisburg second prize and 27" TV.

Fishin' Derbies at Iroquois Galop Canal

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

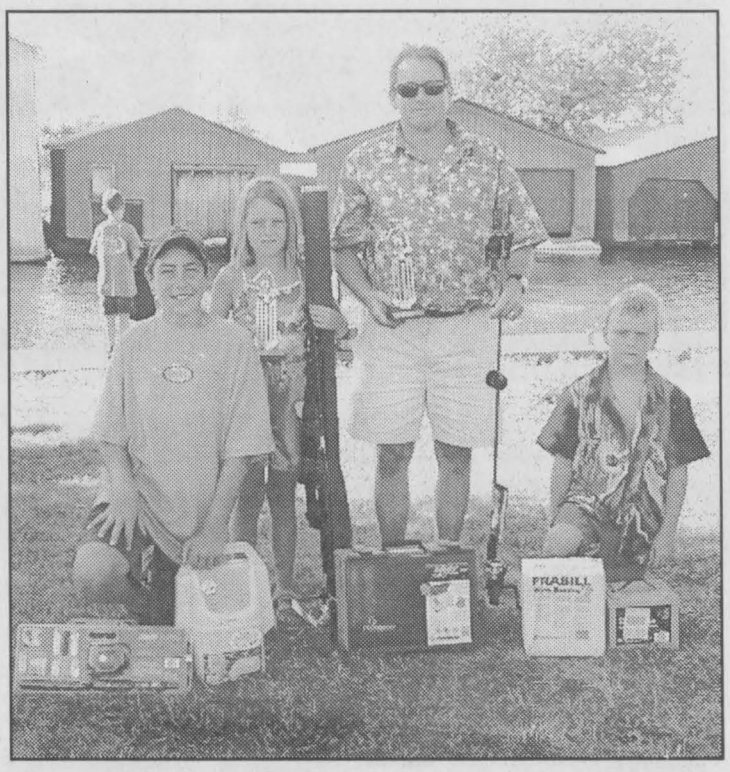
The adverts read, "Big or small we weigh 'em all. If it has a fin, then weigh it in!" and the youngsters were continuously coming to the weigh-in scales with assorted varieties of fish they caught throughout the day from 8am til 4pm. Their broad smiles told the entire story of a child and a fishing rod, no matter how small the catch they were justifiably proud of their accomplishment.

When the clock struck 4 and the winners were declared in numerous categories. Emma Hanson took the trophy for the biggest catch, a 2 3/4 lb Small Mouth Bass, 17"long with an 11" girth. She also earned a new rod and reel and case. Brandon Elliott snagged second with a 1lb13oz Small Mouth Bass 15"long and 12" at the middle. Third went to Clint Ryan with his 1 3/4 lb Small Mouth that was 11" long and 7' around the middle.

The adults got into the act as well with a Large Mouth bass Derby this same day. For only $5 per fisherman or woman, great prizes and live release added up to a fun time. Barry Elliott carried the winners trophy home, with his 3lb3oz large mouth Bass, 17.5" long and 12" around. He has a new rod, reel and tackle box. Jason McKinnon of Cardinal grabbed second with his 3lb Large Mouth which measured 16.5"long and 11.75" at the girth, just missing out on first place. Bill Jollotta had a 1lb7oz fish 14.5" and 9" long and around respectively.

Most weigh-ins was won by Pat Bongers with 14 fish caught. Longest fish was Sam Deckers 18" Pike. Youngest Fisherpeople were: 1st Morgan Francis; 2nd Elijah Gadbois and 3rd Dylan Picotte. The Biggest Perch was hooked by Eric Tetley. Most Colourful Fish was a Pumpkin Fish while the fish with the Biggest Eyes was a Small Mouth caught by Emma Hanson. The Biggest Sunfish was an 8 ouncer Nathan Bygott hauled in. The Proudest Fisherman was Paul Benoit as he caught his first fish ever, a 4oz Sunfish.

Randy Norton and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guse and Matlock were thanked for bringing the Little Dreamer boat compliments of the Grenville Fish and Game Club. The opportunity to fish off this pontoon boat was a unique experience for the youngsters.



Top Hookers!

Top fisherman and woman Brandon Elliot, Emma Hanson, Barry Elliott and Clint Ryan were the top anglers on Saturday as the free Fishing Derby for Kids and Large Mouth Bass Derby for Adults provided loads of fun for everyone. Chieftain Photo by S.L. Johnston

Dingwall makes his mark

Friday night, August 9th, 2002 will go down as special night for a pair of Brockville drivers. For veteran Chris Herbison it was the night he scored his first Modified victory at Brockville Ontario Speedway. For rookie Cole Dingwall, it was the night he scored his first victory period.

Herbison was fast all night at the BOS romping to an easy win in his heat and taking the lead early in the 30 lap feature. Herbison led until lap 25 when two time defending track champ Lee Gill blasted by on the outside. However, track officials ruled that Gill had jumped the final restart and penalized him one position. That gave the victory to Herbison and his old dependable sportsman motor. Stephane LaFrance was third followed by Chico Dingwall and Mark Hitchcock.

The 17 year old Dingwall showed incredible poise behind the wheel of his Sportsman machine, leading all 20 laps in the main event. He drove a consistent line lap after lap not allowing John Mulder to get close enough to even attempt a pass. The entire Dingwall clan from grandma and grandpa to friends and supporters shared the youngster's roof dance in victory lane. Adam Moore, Chad Phelps and Jason Potter made up the rest of the fast five.

There was a third Brockville face in victory lane as Don Hall held off a furious final race challenge from points leader Danielle Legault in the rookie class 10 lap event. Roch Aubin was third in front of Glen Dorie and Brad Kirkland.

The 15 lap Novice event was a caution filled, carnage filled battle of survival. Winner Kees VanWinden picked his way through the mishaps to score the win. He actually inherited the top spot when leader Shawn Hodge went to the pits with mechanical problems. Dave Austin was second in front of invader Mark Rinaldi. Brian Hutton and Shane Ray were fourth and fifth respectively.

Next Friday night features the second appearance by the Empire Super Sprints to the BOS. There will also be a full race program in all four divisions including the Modifieds. The green flag drops at 7:30.

Modifieds 30 Laps: 1. Chris Herbison 2. Lee Gill 3. Stephane LaFrance 4. Keith Dingwall 5. Mark Hitchcock 6. Paul Pekkonen 7. Doug Fuller 8. Randy Gaudet 9. Brian Rogers 10. Ben Tucker 11. George MacIntyre 12. Jeff Ciglich 13. Sam Vanderlinden 14. Scott Parliament 15. Todd Stewart 16. Steve Bilow 17. Ryan Baye.

Sportsman 20 Laps: 1. Cole Dingwall 2. John Mulder 3. Adam Moore 4. Chad Phelps 5. Jason Potter 6. Kyle Dingwall 7. Dave Wilgosh 8. Tim Alton 9. Doug Matthews 10. Rick McCready.

Novice 15 Laps: 1. Kees Vanwinden 2. Dave Austin 3. Mark Rinaldi 4. Brian Hutton 5. Shane Ray.

Rookie 10 Laps: 1. Don Hall 2. Danielle Legault 3. Roch Aubin 4. Glen Dorie 5. Brad Kirkland

OBITUARY

Maria Berkelaar

Maria Berkelaar, formerly of Brockville on Wednesday, July 31, 2002 at St. Vincent's Hospital, Ottawa after suffering the ravages of Alzheimer disease for numerous years. She was 86 years of age.

Born and raised in Vankeveen, Holland to Siemon and Magdalena (nee Kluiver) Smit who predeceased her, she married Gijs Berkelaar on November 13, 1941 in Holland. She immigrated to Canada with her family in 1951 and settled in Spencerville. They resided there for 15 years, until Mr. Berkelaar died in 1966. She remained in Spencerville until 1969 when she moved to Brockville where she lived for many years until health problems forced her to move to Ottawa.

The beloved mother of Ria (Theo TerHorst) of Ingleside; Magda (Bill Wiersma) of Hamilton; Corrie (Mark Zylstra) of Michigan; Sim (Truusje) of Williamsburg; Coby (Bill Zandbergen) of Brinston; John (Marilyn) of Burlington; Henny (Dave Ferrone) of Nepean; Anita (Henry Hogeveen) of Stittsville and Gil (Sheri Getz) of London, she was a devout Christian with an unwavering faith in God.

She is survived by siblings, Cor Smit (Klaske Boersma) of Russell, as well as 3 sisters and a brother in the Netherlands and several nieces and nephews in both Canada and the Netherlands. She was a dear Oma to 24 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Maria was predeceased by grandchildren Shaun Wiersma, Sandra Zandbergen and Rachel Zandbergen as well as several brothers and sisters.

A member of the Christian Reformed Church, a devoted wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother who will be sorely missed by her family and friends.

Donations to the Alzheimer's Society, Ottawa Sisters of Charity or the Canadian Diabetes Society were appreciated by the family.

Funeral service was held at the Community Christian Reformed Church in Dixon's Corners on Saturday, August 3, 2002 with pastor Henry Gunnink officiating. Interment followed at New Union Cemetery, Williamsburg. Arrangements were entrusted to the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg. Pallbearers were Sim, John, Gil and Daryn Berkelaar, Harvey TerHorst and Brad Zandbergen.

St. Lawrence Area Birdwatching

by Birds Anonymous

Our New Wexford birdwatcher called to excitedly tell us that she had Bohemian Wax Wings sitting in a fir tree overlooking her side garden. "They are very obvious to the viewer, the grey with black markings on the head and neck. They were alone and them flew off. She also had a problem this week with Hummingbird ID. Since they move so quickly they are hard to identify, you have but a second to check them out. She said he and a female dropped by for a snack. A greyish blue, dull colouring, but definitely a Hummingbird. She offered Magnificent Hummingbird, a Black Chimed Hummingbird or a Broad Billed Hummingbird as possible identification, anyone got an idea? She reports Chickadees at the fountain and the regular complement of Finches which lately are frequenting the Hummingbird feeders!

Our Irena birdwatcher saw 2 Gold Finches gathering stuff off the tall Canada thistles along the roadway. Monarch Butterflies were sighted on the Purple Loosestrife and she noticed the Golden rod is opening up. Then she posed a question for the writer..."What do a Robin, a Catbird and a Bohemian Wax Wing have in common? "They were all seen enjoying the red berries on a bush along Rowena Road, perhaps getting some sweet liquid to sustain them through the heat wave!

She reports a lot of White Butterflies, the Cabbage ones and Mourning Doves in droves along the roadway, pecking at dropped grain seeds. A Great Blue Heron and some small ducks were noticed in the Doran Creek as she headed to Morrisburg.

The young Great Blue Heron in the swamp across the way was sitting perched on one leg Sunday in the heat, on the stump which protrudes above the water line. Some ducks were floating nearby, shooting the breeze bird style no doubt!

We noted a lot of roadkill on our trip to the wedding in Belleville last weekend, raccoons and porcupines especially.

People have been speaking about foxes and wolves around and fishers in the area...be careful these little fellows are ferocious.

Thanks to those who call, keep the word coming. Call 652-4395 before 11am on Tuesday and we'll do our best to get it into the issue.

Janet Monid and Norm Foster star at Upper Canada Playhouse, in "On the Flight Path"

Hit Comedy at U.C.P.

by Sandra Lee Johnston
Chieftain Staff Reporter

It is the Summer of Crowds at Upper Canada Playhouse! The Playhouse has saved a real treat for the 2002 Summer Season closing show. Canada's most produced and funniest playwright, Norm Foster, stars with his wife, Janet Monid in his smash hit comedy, "Here on the Flight Path." The play is set on two balconies of an apartment building. Writer John Cummings (played by Foster) lives in one of the apartments and meets Fay (a hooker) Angel (a would-be-starlet) and Gwen (a divorcee)-all portrayed by Janet. The ladies move in at three different times throughout the play causing their own special problems for this fellow. As the three move in and out of his life via the airport across the way (hence "On The Flight Path) the play is a great examination of relationships, especially those which develop and the situations that result. They will have everyone identifying with the characters. In Fosters' words, "This play is unique in that one actress plays three parts, and it is about ordinary folks trying to get by, day to day, a lot of the audience will identify with the females, particularly Gwen, many will recognize her. Comedy for me is character driven and this one fits the bill perfectly."

"I had the chance to produce the show with Norm and Janet at Harbourside Playhouse in Mississauga a couple of years ago," says Artistic Director Donnie Bowes. "It was such as hit we brought it back in the off-season for another week and that sold out as well." Bowes attributes the success of the show to a variety of factors. "The fact that Norm is performing in his own show is a definite audience draw," says Bowes. "But the show is great for so many other reasons. It is great story, it is hilarious and the performances are fantastic," he adds. Bowes also remarks that Foster is not only a very funny man, he is also a great storyteller. Audiences are spell-bound by his performance and Monid's portrayal is so remarkable because she actually plays all three women in the play, no small feat, and she does it well!

Bowes and The Playhouse are pleased to be able to bring Foster to The Playhouse since his shows have been favourites with audiences for years. "Norm and Janet have been asked to do the show at many theatres, but they are so busy they can't go everywhere, I am so glad that they want to come to The Playhouse, it is fitting our audience has a chance to share a laugh with the man who has given them so many in the past," adds Bowes.

The original set moves with Foster and his wife. "Each playhouse holds it until we need it at another location, so it is always the same for us," says Norm.

"Here on the Flight Path" plays August 15 through September 1 with shows Tuesday thro' Sunday at 8pm and matinees on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays at 2pm. Saturday matinees have been added on August 24 and 31.

Before I get to far into this newsletter, I'd like to mention with thanks for his being so thoughtful Ray Delegarde. He took the time to put up all the flags at the Cenotaph when our Belgian friends visited us last week. Thanks Ray, it was right on, and appreciated. Ray also has kept the grass trimmed all the time around the Cenotaph throughout the summer. It looks great too!

The Pot of Gold winner last week was Roger Levere who was NOT signed in, so his money will keep the Pot growing for another week.

Our Friday chef is back from holidays and has mentioned that this week's lunch will be Beef Pot Pie and dessert is to be Black Forest Cake. Thanks goes to Sheila for taking the time to prepare the meal last week.

Playing Euchre last week fou 15 tables busy. Ivor Williams took first prize, with second going to Inez Farmer and Claude Findlay. The door prize was won by Luella Gilmer. Even though the weather has been sweltering, the skunks still browse through and were immediately attracted to Joe Crites, Jean Loucks, Glen Easter and Lucy DeJong.

At Duplicate Bridge there were four tables being played. At the end of the evening, high winners were Brooke Leightizer and Laura Burgess.

Registration for Dart League will be held, September 13 and 20. Teams will be picked on the 20th as well, no other date and no late registrations will be accepted. Play begins on the 20th.

shop owner in Detroit, in the USA heard about it on the TV and emailed us to let us know he would send two of his best bicycles free to us to use, they'd be under us the following day! The paramedics who were leading us that day lent us two and our sponsor at Raleigh Bicycles provided these two beauties for the rest of our trip, but the offer was fast coming and had no strings attached." On a lighter note, he told everyone that the first four days on the bicycles were the worst, as he demonstrated how bow-legged he walked after the first week. "No matter how much training (Adam is his dad's personal trainer for the Tour) I did, I would never be prepared for this; things are pretty good now, I can eat a pile of calories, they burn rapidly in this heat as we try to cycle between 80 and 100 kms a day to stay on schedule," adds Mark. Two record setting days were noted, one in Saskatchewan where they cycled 185 kms to get back on track after falling behind and then a day in Ontario saw them pedal 187.5 kms in one day, whew!

Their list of sponsors is impressive, "The response has been phenomenal since we left Vancouver on May 1. We've travelled just under 8,000kms and have another 4700 to go before concluding the Tour in Newfoundland on September 15, 2002, on the site of the plane crash that claimed the life of the co-discoverer of insulin, Sir F.G. Banting in 1941. (Musgrave Harbour Nfld.) We've raised $90,000+ so far and hope to raise $32 million over the next several years, a dollar for every Canadian. And I won't stop til I get there!!" responds a determined Mark.

The hope of the DMC Tour 2002 is to raise awareness of diabetes and the importance of an early Diagnosis, effective Management through a healthy lifestyle and to raise funds to help find a Cure. The primary beneficiaries of the funds will be the Canadian Diabetes Association, the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation and the Canadian Diabetic Summer Camps that serve the needs of youngsters with diabetes in each province. "These kids often go on waiting lists only to learn the roster is full and they have to wait another year. They shouldn't have to, they need to go as soon as possible, to learn about their disease and how to manage it so they can understand they can lead productive lives if they do their bit... these camps are invaluable to them," notes Mark who is backed up solidly by local Lion, Hal Wagner, also a diabetic (a trust Account will be established).

The Foundation also will support the restoration of the Banting Homestead (historical site at Alliston, Ontario), the Banting Museum Diabetes Education Centre, the John P. Robarts Research Institute and the ground breaking diabetic research of the "Edmonton Protocol" (eyelet cell transplanting where insulin dependent people can produce their own and require no more injections. It needs refining, but is a huge step in the right direction, until now people were dependent their entire lives.) at the University of Alberta. "This is on the cutting edge for type 1 sufferers. It has been stated that 1/4 of the adult population of this country will be diagnosed with Diabetes by 2004, so we need to raise awareness to a level never before experienced in this country. I expect to see a cure in my lifetime," states a confident Mark. Attending 3-400 events enroute to Nfld, the Winegardens present their cause to anyone who will listen, they are adamant about their mission and want to reach as many people as possible with their message. Whether a BBQ, a church meeting, a community mall, Lions Clubs or actually any venue that presents itself, Mark and Adam are ready to share their message of hope.

A sure fire way to be heard is the special parking signs they hope to erect throughout the country. "Every parking lot has disabled spaces close to entrances, well, we want ours "Diabetes management Zone" to go up in the farthest reaches of lots. Park and walk is our motto, at the same time raising awareness of the disease," explains Mark as he and Adam hoist one between them. The first went up in their hometown of Bradford in the local IGA lot, "Perhaps diabetics will at least think before they shop even if they don't utilize the space, the sign will make them conscious of the needs they have prior to filling that grocery cart with unhealthy items."

Adam is a quiet grade seven student who raised funds through Scouts Canada to take part in the Canadian Jamboree learned to operate the glucometer and helps track his father's blood sugar levels and body weight. His sole comment was that while he is an avid swimmer and cyclist, his main worry about the Tour is that his dad won't be able to keep up!

Fair

Horse and Pony Party, Poultry, Llama, Alpaca and Baby shows, the Farm Show and the Pet Show. Reptile fans will also be pleased to know that Little Ray's Reptile Show will be on location. All of these events get underway at 10am, except for the Horse and Pony Party, which begins at 8:30-am, and the poultry show, which begins at 9:30. If all the excitement of the animal shows works up a good appetite for you, you'll be pleased to know that the Knights of Columbus BBQ Chicken Dinner starts at 11:30 am., giving the kids a chance to grab a bite to eat, before heading to the Kids' Mountain of Fun, which is located at the Craft Corner and begins at 12 noon. However, it will be a tough choice in deciding what to do with yourself at 12 noon, as the Parade, with Max Keeping as Marshall leaves from the Nationview school at this time, and the First Annual 4-H Dairy Calf Competition also begins. The decisions won't get much easier at 1pm, when the musical entertainment of D. W James will commence, along with the opening of the Beer Gardens, and the Lumberjacks Show. To make things more difficult, the event sure to terrify parents and enlighten children... Monster Truck Rides... begin at 1pm, yet thankfully continue until 6pm. If that weren't enough, many more events for all ages continue, including the Pedal Tractor Pull at the Kids' Mountain of Fun at 3pm, the Magician Show at 2 and 5pm and "Cars on the Track", produced by X-treme productions at 7pm. At 8 pm, the Teen Video Dance begins, and at 9pm, a dance featuring Printer's Alley", begins in the tent, to separate the parents from their offspring, and minimize embarrassment for both sides. The teen dance ends at 12 midnight and the tent dance at 1am. Even with all of the events going on, be sure not to forget the Midway, which is open from 11am to 12 midnight.

Although Sunday is the last day of the fair, try not to be too sad, as it is jam packed with events, animals, cars, lizards (among other reptiles), magicians and more. To clarify, the Western Horse Show and Heavy Horse Show begin at 10am, an Interdenominational Church Service with Guest Speaker, Reverend Sterling Irvine will be held at 11am, which is also when the Team Cattle Penning Event starts. The fairgrounds will be even busier (and possibly more hysterical) at 12 noon, when the Antique Automobile Show is held, along with the Teen Farmer Show 2002, with "Dominic Darcy, The Singing Policeman" performing in the background. Little Ray's Reptile Show will be up and running again, opening from 12 noon - 6pm. Last but not least, the Monster Truck Rides also begin at 12 noon. At 1 pm, more fun and craziness starts with the Simmental Show, the Lumberjacks Show and the musical entertainment of Shania Twin, D.W James, Gail Gavan and Fenced In, with MC Leanne Cater from Y105 also thrown in there. To wrap up this year's edition of everyone's favourite fair the Magician Show will be held at 5pm, and Ambush will play from 7:15-9:30 pm. The true conclusion of the fair will also be at 9:30 pm, when the Midway closes, and everyone is officially allowed to cry.

The South Mountain Fair states that entertainment will be outside, under the big top, a threshing demonstration will run throughout the day on Saturday and Sunday and a Chain Saw Carving demonstration will also be held on Saturday and Sunday.

Admission is $2 on Thursday, $7 on Friday, and $5 on Saturday and Sunday, except for chillens' under 6 who get in for free on all days. A weekend Family Pass will also be available at the fair office for $25.

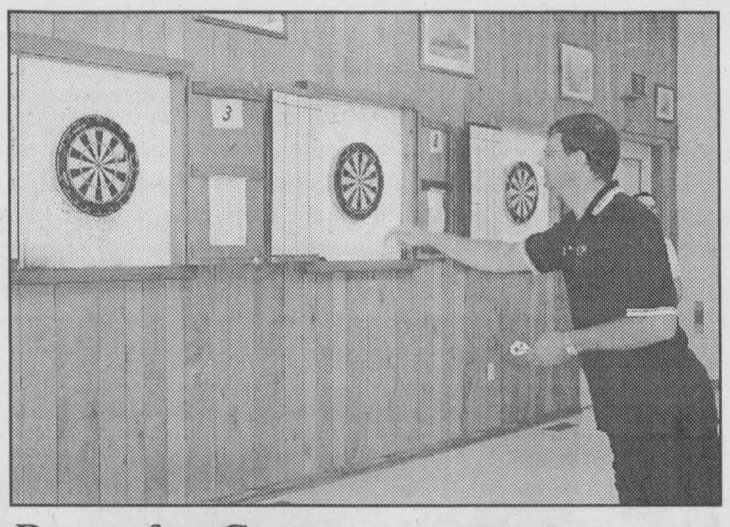
part-time repair business. "I have a full time job, 8 to 5 every day, this is a hobby, a temporary job." He assured everyone he had the drain for the garage to avoid spills and since he has been operating for some six years without any issues being raised could not understand why objections have surfaced now.

Mr.Pol advised the crowd that the long-term plan for this entire street is to rid the strip of all residential lots and utilize only the commercial designation. Council passed the Amendment to the By-Law allowing Mr. and Mrs. Neville to proceed with their plan.

Councillor Cole rose to take the floor as silence descended upon the entire Council Chamber..."Mr. Mayor I have learned from a very reliable source something about a Councillor, and I hate to do this, but, after some soul searching, see nothing else to do, I feel it must be brought to the table," he said hesitantly. Proceeding with care he finally stated, "Councillor Rose is going to be double dipping next month as she collects her Councillor pay and her new pension as her 65th Birthday is celebrated." Council rose to sing her best wishes.



Darts for Cancer

Geoff Wilson tosses a dart on Saturday as "Darts for Cancer" raised funds that will be donated to the Volley for Cancer that takes place this Saturday. A small, but enthusiastic group were playing for some nice prizes at the Iroquois Legion. Chieftain Photo by S.L. Johnston
