New Seaway Tourist Board Names Directors

Working under a completely new format through the Department of Industry and Tourism and whereby all municipalities in the region will pay a per capita grant each year Seaway Valley Regional Tourist Council this week announced its new board of directors.

Among the new list of directors is Reg Workman of Winchester, who will be one of the six representatives on the Council representing the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

Mr. Workman is a former president of the Regional Tourist Council and has long been active in Tourism at both the local and provincial levels. He will be joined on the board by Reeve Earl Baker of Morrisburg and Marcel Ranger, Reeve of Alexandria, Bob Simmons, Bainsville, Lynden Hough, former United Counties warden and Keith Acres, past president of the Council of Ingleside.

Earnest Lousley and Bill Fox of Brockville will represent Leeds and Grenville. Prescott representatives are Councillor George Woods and Art Keyes of Johnstown.

The following directors will represent the city of Cornwall: Fred Shaddock of the Tourist and Convention bureau; Lucien Lalonde, manager of the Cornwall Chamber of Commerce; Councillor Gerald Samson, Gerry Grady and Doug Webster from city council.

First meeting of the new board is expected to be held this week. Under the new format the Tourist Council budget will be greatly increased allowing the important body to efficiently direct and promote the affairs of tourism in the region covered by the Council.

The restructuring of the Council has been lauded by Queen's Park as a major step forward in tourism promotion in the province and the per capita grant system represents one of the first councils in the province to adopt such a format.

Everyone Enjoys A Good Breakfast

Last Friday morning 150 villagers sat down to breakfast in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Hall, Winchester and judging by the looks, sounds and smells everyone enjoyed the ham and eggs which were expertly prepared and served by the ladies of the Winchester Women's Institute.

The breakfast held annually on the Friday morning of the Victoria Day weekend, is just one of the many ways the Women's Institute raises money to support it's various projects. These projects include sponsoring 3 4-H Homemaking Clubs and Garden Clubs; a Scholarship and Plaque at North Dundas District High School; Adult Training Courses and donations to the Community Centre.

The Women's Institute is a non-demoninational group of ladies which meet on the 3rd Monday of each month at 8:00 p.m. in the Town Hall. Visitors are always welcome to attend these informative meetings and to join in the social hour which follows.

Winchester Receives Approval

OFY Organization Prepares Interesting Summer Agenda

Again this year Winchester has received approval of an application for an OFY grant and three ambitious local college and university students are administering and co-ordinating what they consider will be a very interesting, educational and constructive program.

The three students, Dana Summers, Debbie Holmes and Valerie Keys were quick to realize that the success of a project of this nature depends on the support of the community and to encourage better relations with all segments of society. The young people have set up a Resource Committee which they hope will serve as a combined quidance council and advisory board. Members of this committee are Reeve Walter Shadbolt, Dr. Duane Justus, Reg Workman and Howard Manchester.

Since the program is in the formative stages the group will welcome assistance from other sources and at the present time are searching for suitable office facilities.

Included on the proposed summer program are camping trips for youngsters; a senior citizens' week; dances for young adults; paper and bottle drives; a 'clean-up, fix-up' week; and a renewal of the student employment service which proved very popular last year.

In addition a well organized program on birth control and sexuality is also on the planning board. Relying on the expertise of doctors and counselors as speakers the young people hope to be able to offer valuable information concerning birth control.

"The project", says Mr. Summers, "promises a very stimulating and refreshing summer for local citizens of all ages and we urge everyone to support and participate in our proposed activities."

Readers desiring further information are asked to call Mr. Summers at 774-3002; or Miss Holmes at 989-5670; or Miss Keys at 774-2021.

Record Number Enter Horse Drawing Contest

Sunday afternoon's horse drawing contest staged at Winchester was a very definite indication that the automobile will never replace the faithful beasts of burden.

Forty-eight teams of powerful, well-groomed beasts, the largest number ever to compete in such a contest in either Canada or the U.S.A., provided hours of fine entertainment, and it was very obvious people of all ages enjoy watching the huge, kind animals displaying their talent.

Over 2000 gathered at the Ken McNeely farm, one mile West of the village and were treated to a fine exhibition of 'horse power'.

Horses were present from as far away as Wolfe Island Ontario; Maniwaki, Quebec; Dorey, Ontario; Stirling, Ontario and several other locations.

A feature of the program was the driving skills of lady drivers who guided the beasts with the same expertise as their male friends.

During the afternoon, under ideal weather conditions, delicious barbequed chickens were available and those working over the 'hot stoves' were kept busy supplying the demand.

Results in the various classes were as follows:

LIGHT CLASS

HEAVY CLASS

Irwin Stewart, Wakefield, Quebec; Clifford Manion, Plevena, Ontario; Jim Barton, Cantley, Quebec; Rolland Lapointe, Maniwaki, Quebec; Sidney MacIntosh, MacDonalds Corners, Ontario; Jim Nolan, Franktown; Clinton Greer, Richmond.

LADIES CLASS

Hazel Stewart, Wakefield, Quebec; Diane Scissions, Smiths Falls; Rita Hulton, Wolfe Island, Ontario.

Controls Not The Answer

Turner Tells Canadian Club

Finance Minister John Turner told members of Canadian Club at their final spring meeting of the year in Morrisburg last Thursday night that "rising prices are due to a shortage of world commodities," and that "the government does not believe that price and wage controls are the answer to current problems."

Mr. Turner set forth the policy and ideas of his (Liberal) government which have controlled the decisions of the cabinet, and his own on financial policy. He said that controls have failed in the United States to halt inflation and that they would probably have the same results in Canada.

"As minister of Finance my first concern has been to encourage stable growth in business and to reduce unemployment without putting an undue strain on the economy. The pace of Canada's economic growth has been picking up strongly since last Fall with a sharp drop in unemployment recorded this past month."

Mr. Turner said "Inflation is primarily a shortage of commodities. The government has taken steps to encourage farm production, to strengthen Canadian industry through lower tariff and sales taxes and help establish competitive, healthy secondary manufacturing businesses."

In referring to the importance of the family farm he said that this was an area of the economy where great changes are taking place. He described Canadian farmers as the most efficient in the world and "we need the energy and skill of our agricultural food producers and the world needs them."

He also cited government measures to encourage small business which he defined as those with fewer than 100 employees.

The finance minister did not speculate on the date of the next federal election.

He concluded his speech by referring to Canada as a beautiful land. "We are its trustees and we are the most fortunate people alive."

Two Cars Collide At Morewood

Winchester detachment of Ontario Provincial Police report another accident involving two cars occurred at Morewood on Saturday.

The mishap was at the main corner in the village. Driver of one car, a 1970 Challenger, was Ralph Sheldrick, 22, of Vernon and the other vehicle was driven by Mrs. Bessie Flegg, 72, of Winchester Springs.

It is understood both drivers' were taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital where they were treated and then released.

The Sheldrick automobile caught fire and was destroyed while the Flegg auto, it is understood, was considered a write-off.

Born in the Netherlands he took his Medicine training in Canada and for 3 weeks during each of the past two summers has worked for the CNIB in Labrador. He also goes to Grenada in the West Indies for three weeks each year to perform eye surgery. He will talk chiefly about his work in Grenada.

Winchester To Host Cuboree

Many dignitaries, including M.P.P. Don Irvine, are expected to be on the reviewing stand in front of the Elliott store.

Sponsoring Field Crop Competitions

Again this year Mountain Township Agricultural Society, in conjunction with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture, is sponsoring a field crop competition for both hay and corn.

Farmers are invited to enter either competition, or if they so desire, to compete in both. It is imperative, however, that all entries be in the hands of Malcolm Graham, South Mountain, on or before Friday, June 1st and Mr. Graham further explains that the minimum area this year is five acres for each division.

$150.00 in prize money is being offered and scores will be based on the combination of field score plus exhibits at the Fair.

70 Delegates Attend W.I. Annual At South Mountain

The Annual Meeting of the Dundas District Women's Institutes was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall at South Mountain on May 16th, 1973 with about 70 delegates in attendance.

The District President, Mrs. Alfred Carkner, was in the chair. Mrs. H.M. Barry welcomed the delegates and visitors to South Mountain. Special guests were Mrs. Donald MacLachlan, Board Director, Miss Lorraine Holding, Home Economist, Mrs. Neil Cleary President of Stormont District Women's Institutes, and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Representative from the Central Canada Exhibition.

Mrs. Carkner reported that she had had a very busy year attending the many special 75th Anniversary Activities along with her more regular visits to the branches and the 4-H Achievement Days. She illustrated the theme of the meeting with the story of the little girl who, on being sympathized with on the loss of her home by fire replied simply that she had not lost her home. Her family just needed a house to put it in; and went on to emphasize how important it is that women retain their role of homemaker in these modern times.

The conveners of standing committees reported on the activities of the branches throughout the year, and Miss Lorraine Holding, the Home Economist for the United Counties, spoke of the work of the 4-H Clubs and congratulated the Dundas Institutes for their strong support of these clubs. She also mentioned the very successful "Sewing with Knits" course that had been held during the winter.

During the luncheon intermission the Reeve of Mountain Township, Ewart Simms, welcomed the Women's Institutes to the township and invited them to cooperate with the Council in studying the new developments in Municipal Government. Gary Gates provided very enjoyable entertainment singing several songs to his own guitar accompaniment.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Donald MacLachlan of Williamstown gave her final report before her retirement from the Provincial Board. She said she had enjoyed the many contacts that her three years on the Board had made possible and invited all Institute members to plan trips to visit the Erland Lee Homestead at Stoney Creek, now the property of the F.W.I.O., after the official opening on July 1st, 1973. She also explained the system of Scholarship Funds that are used to help deserving girls, both in Canada and abroad, to further their education.

A brief In Memoriam paid tribute to the four District members who had died during the past year: Mrs. Hubert Carkner of Winchester, Mrs. E. Earl Eaton, Mrs. Tom McCadden and Mrs. O.L. King of Chesterville. During the Recpetion of the Pennies for Friendship, Mrs. James Lemon, 2nd Vice-President, spoke briefly on the use to which they would be put in the developing countries.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Stittsville encouraged W.I. members to exhibit their work at the Central Canada Exhibition.

One of the highlights of the day was the presentation of a beautiful box of sample products, donated by Nestles of Chesterville, to the youngest member of the W.I. present at the meeting, Mrs. Robert Weagant, of South Mountain, and a bag of flour given by D.L. Berry and Sons of South Mountain to Mrs. John Johnston, who had persuaded her to join the Institute.

A brief business session during which the revised By-Laws were accepted, brought the meeting to a close.

The following slate of officers for the year 1973-74 was installed by Mrs. Donald MacLachlan, retiring Board Director.

Past President, Mrs. F.W. Hyndman, Mountain; President, Mrs. Alfred Carkner, Elma; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. J.G. Woods, Williamsburg; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. James Lemon, Winchester; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. Grace Strader, Matilda; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Grant Beckstead, Morrisburg; Federation Representative, Mrs. G. Beckstead, Morrisburg; Alternate, Mrs. Thos. Fraser, Morrisburg; District Delegate, Mrs. Alfred Carkner, Elma; alternate, Mrs. J.G. Woods, Williamsburg; Public Relations, Mrs. Gerald Erratt, Riverside Heights; Curator, Mrs. Donald Hess, Williamsburg.

Standing Committee Conveners are Mrs. Myles Merkley, Chesterville, Agri. and Canadian Industries; Mrs. Jos. Eckford, Iroquois, Citizenship and World Affairs; Mrs. Alva Stewart, Winchester, Family and Consumer Affairs; Mrs. H. Mellan, South Mountain, Resolutions; Mrs. Guy Strader, Williamsburg, Education and Cultural Activities.

Pretty Spring Wedding At St. Mary's Church

St. Mary's Church, Chesterville, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, May 19, 1973, when the marriage vows exchanged between Judy Ann Hess and Elzeon George Raistrick were solemnized by Father LaMarsh and Rev. J. Boehmer at two o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Graham Hess R.R. 1, Williamsburg are the parents of the bride; the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Raistrick, Winchester.

The wedding guests were seated by Richard Hess, Lloyd Guy and Rae Imrie. Julie Fawcett was organist for the occasion. Stan Woods assisted the groom as best man; Master Barry Helmer was ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an imported gown of Swiss lagoda styled with an empire bodice, high neckline, full bishop sleeves, ending in wide tight cuffs, and an A-line skirt. Guipure lace and ribbon trimmed the gown and detachable chapel length train which fell from the back waistline. Her cathedral silk illusion veil, trimmed with fine lace, was held in place with hand made organdy roses and she carried a cascade of delicate white miniature carnations highlighted by yellow roses.

The bride's attendants, Janie Casselman, maid of honour, Barbara Smith and Susan Raistrick, bridesmaids, and Devon Mullen, Junior bridesmaid, were gowned alike in silk screen print gowns in shades of yellow, orange and green, with high Victorian necklines and bodices, modified sheath skirts with bottom flounce and with long full sleeves. Picture hats, in yellow, completed their costumes and they carried cascading mauve poms accented with dainty yellow net tabs for sheer beauty.

The bride's mother chose a silk screen pink gown with ruffled "V" neckline, softly draped skirt and full sleeves. A corsage of pink sweetheart roses with matching pink roses in her hair completed her ensemble. Mrs. Raistrick, mother of the groom, wore a crimp apricot gown styled with fitted cummerbund waistline, long sleeves and a sheath skirt slit to the knee in front. She wore a corsage of apricot miniature roses.

Guests attended the wedding from Cornwall, Ottawa, Sudbury, Trenton, Malone, Chesterville, Newcastle, Chelsea, Que., Iroquois, Kemptville, Winchester and Williamsburg areas.

Following the ceremony, a dinner reception was held in Williamsburg Lutheran Church Hall and an evening reception at Morrisburg Civic Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. Raistrick will reside at R.R. 1, Williamsburg.

A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.

COOPER—In loving memory of a dear husband, William Cooper, who passed away May 20th, 1969.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet his memory still.
And when his tired heart stopped beating
And his working hands at rest,
God called him home to prove to us
He only takes the best.

To sit and talk with you awhile,
To be together in the same old way,
Would be our greatest wish today.

Glimpse Of Yesteryear

The holiday weekend just passed, like all other holiday weekends, prompted families to move out onto the nation's highways despite warnings that 'death' stakes out special claims when a holiday is declared.

It was not always so, and the accompanying photo conjures up fond memories of holiday time long, long ago.

Taken at Mountain over sixty years ago the happy group is enjoying one of the truly great events of the time - - a farmers' picnic.

As photo clearly indicates there were no age barriers or, if you like, in modern jargon, generation gaps in those days and the very young can be seen happily gathered in very front row with the senior citizens of that time.

Many pages in the book of time have been turned since the day the photo was taken and maybe only the very young are still alive today but for residents of the district it should prove interesting to study the expressions while remembering that happiness then was being at home with many friends, rather than driving bumper-to-bumper on traffic-congested highways.

The old picture was brought to the office by Fenton Hyndman, who enclosed a separate memo with the names of the entire group. Listing them here is practically impossible but some familiar names on the long list include: Ernie Berry, Howard Bellinger, Ernie Bryan, Alex Cameron, Bob Bryan, Clair Van-Allen, and many other names still familiar in the community.

W.I. Groups Meet

North Russell

Several members of Cumberland and Navan branches were guests of North Russell W.I. at the Institute Home last week, when Roll Call was answered by naming a bird or insect and telling what harm or good it accomplishes during its lifetime.

Another very special visitor was the guest speaker, Miss Inez McWhirter, who is in Canada representing Ulster, Ireland, on an exchange visit organized by Junior Farmers of Ontario.

Miss McWhirter, who was introduced by Mrs. Clelland Hamilton, explained how she won the trip and showed slides of her homeland.

Mrs. Richard Morrow thanked the Irish girl and presented her with a tray depicting the 100th anniversary of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

During the business portion of the meeting Mrs. Ernest Burton, Mrs. Richard Morrow, Mrs. Keith Dugdale and Mrs. Cuthbert Smith were named delegates to the district annual at Cumberland.

A silver engraved tray was presented to Miss Christina Schraeder for completing 18 4-H projects by District President, Mrs. Bower Henry.

Prizes were won by Mrs. H. McMillan, Mrs. S. Hodges, Mrs. B. Monoque, Mrs. Elliot and Mrs. Edwards, all of Cumberland and following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed with lunch served by Mrs. Burton, Mrs. David Otta, Mrs. Keith Dugdale, Mrs. John Morrice, Mrs. Cuthbert Smith, Mrs. Richard Morrow and Mrs. Morgan Johnston.

Leonard

A cereal product often used in the home was roll call for Leonard W.I. and was answered by sixteen members and one visitor last week.

Mrs. J. Corry was in the chair and during the business portion of the meeting it was agreed to pay the four 4-H leaders. It was also decided to enter exhibits at Navan Fair and Mrs. G. Schnittaka was named convener.

Following discussion it was agreed to serve cookies and coffee at the opening of Navan Museum and a report was submitted concerning the lunch served at a recent auction sale.

Agricultural convener Mrs. W. Birch gave the motto "Beauty is all around if we only look to see", and she also read an entertaining poem entitled "Farmer's Wife's Prayer".

Contest winners were Mrs. J. Liptack, Mrs. G. Dallaire, Mrs. B. Heney, Mrs. J. Thorpe, Mrs. J. Corry, Mrs. G. Snittika and Mrs. A. Nadon.

Hostessess were Mrs. H. Larmour and Mrs. P. Van Vleit.

South Carleton Fastball League Schedule Commences This Friday

The South-Carleton Fastball League schedule opens this Friday night with games at Winchester and Gloucester.

This will be the first time Winchester has had an entry in the league and the boys will play host to Osgoode for the opening game at the Community Park.

Only two games are scheduled for the first night with Munster visiting Gloucester in the other half.

On Monday night (May 28th) Osgoode will be at home to Munster and Gloucester will travel to North Gower.

Tuesday night Metcalfe will be at Russell and three games are on tap for Wednesday, May 30th: North Gower at Metcalfe; Gloucester at Osgoode and Winchester at Munster.

The complete schedule will appear in next week's Press.

Metcalfe Downs Mountain

Should the season opener be an indication of things to come, the followers of the Golden Triangle Ladies Softball League should be in for some real entertainment.

On Tuesday of last week, Metcalfe travelled to South Mountain to open the new ball season. Mountain rallied for 4 runs in the bottom of the 3rd, only to have Metcalfe come back with 3 runs in the next inning. In the top of the 5th, Metcalfe came up with a single run to tie the game 4-4. That's the way the score remained for the next 6 innings; for awhile each team had numerous opportunities to score, both failed to cash in until the top of the 11th, when Audry Pinkum, in the clutch, came up with what proved to be the winning run for Metcalfe.

Debbie Bradley and Betty Quinn were the winning pitchers with Sheila Armstrong behind the plate. Lori Boyce went the distance and took the loss with Marilyn Williams behind the plate.

Exciting Opener At Capital City

Opening night was an exciting event at Capital City Speedway with 14 cars on hand. Many drivers are using new cars this season and the management is confident the coming season will be the best ever.

Bob Martin has a new Pinto and it appears he hopes to keep the point championship trophy on his mantle. Dale Beaulieu looks like another winner this season and Robbie Maven finally won his first ever feature race at Capital City.

In the Hobby division Paul Yendall is off to a flying start but Graham Woolsey has a new car and may be a driver to watch.

Cottage — For Sale

That fellow you saw standing out in the rain shaking his fist at the sky was most likely a cottage owner, and if present cold, wet weather conditions continue, don't be too surprised if real estate listings soon bulge with "Cottages For Sale."

Unfavourable weather conditions, however, are not always the reasons why cottages have a tendency to change hands. There are many, for example, who felt a summer home was a genuine necessity when the children were young, but suddenly find themselves all alone and dreading the weekly excursions over highways jammed with week-end traffic.

Poet Edgar Guest added his usual touch of nostalgia when he summed up the situation but we think many cottage owners will read the following lines and say, "that's us."

For Sale: the summer cottage, where the children used to play,
It has served its happy purpose but the need has passed away;
The children now are married and have youngsters of their own,
And I wouldn't hold a cottage I must occupy alone.

It's a comfortable cabin; one with everything equipped,
It is only of the laughter that it knew, I leave it stripped.
I will sell the chairs and tables, and the beds in which to sleep,
And the curtains and the pillows, but the memories I'll keep.

Where we once were all united, now no longer can we be.
The children plan their summers just as long ago did we,
And it's right it should be that way, so I'm on my way to nail
A sign upon that cottage, with these simple words: "For Sale."

Dail - A - Surgeon

Specialists at the Royal College of Surgeons in London, England, have been dialling the operating theatre in a hospital half a mile away during a two-day experiment set up by British Post Office engineers. The BBC reported on the experiment.

The surgeons haven't been ringing each other to talk about the operations that were going on. They have been dialling their calls on an experimental "viewphone" which is not just a telephone but a television link. So the specialists at the Royal College of Surgeons have been able to see the anaesthetics being given to patients at the hospital.

At the same time they have been able to monitor the patients' responses: information on heartbeat, brain waves and blood flow was sent to the College computer over the telephone data link line while the operation was being televised.

The viewphone proved useful in another way, too. The specialists were able to look at television pictures of X-ray photographs. The detail was good enough for them to make their diagnosis correctly.

Viewphones give only black and white pictures, so their usefulness for monitoring surgical operations is rather limited. But a doctor with a viewphone might well, in an emergency, call up a specialist to get his opinion, or, say, an X-ray photograph or an electrocardiogram.

Evolution And Effort

by Rev. Gordon C. Smyth

There is a fundamental distinction between progress in nature and progress in human nature. The first proceeds by adaptation to environment; the second by conquest of environment. One accepts conditions; the other creates conditions. One is a process of evolution: the other is a process of effort.

Evolution clothes an animal with a skin adapted to his climate, so that the tawny lion survives in the desert and the shaggy bear in the North. Man, on the other hand, instead of adapting himself to heat or cold, protects himself from both.

Instead of developing a skin like that of the lion or bear, he kills the lion and the bear and wears their skins, while his own skin grows soft and white. The hungry animal adapts himself to the tree, so that the giraffe acquires his neck, the bear his claws, and the monkey his tail; but the hungry man makes a ladder and climbs the tree, or makes an axe and fells it.

Evolution operates towards conformity and effort operates towards control. The distinctive glory of humanity is the capacity to shape circumstances into advantage, to transform threatening forces into obedient servants of the will.

Now this is precisely what St. Paul says about the religious life. He does not commend religion because it adapts one to the world, or rescues one from the battle of life. He challenges individuals to subdue the world and, with that in mind, to put on the whole armour of God.

St. Paul points to his own experience: "We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed." Taylor Caldwell's triumphant best seller, "Great Lion of God," makes the Apostle our contemporary and clothes that quotation with relevancy.

Genuine Christianity is a religion of effort. It teaches the excellence of initiative. It deals with human nature not as a product, but as a producer. It is a weapon of attack, a means of enduring hardship, a gift of strength. Nature speaks of the victory of the strong over the weak. The Cheistian religion enables the tempted, the sick, sad, victims of slander, those put in a seemingly impossible position, to affirm with Paul, "When I am weak, then am I strong."

In short, the maxim of the evolutionist is the survival of the fit; the rule of Christ within us is the revival of the unfit.

BILL SMILEY WRITES

How We've Ruined Schools And Students

There appears to be a general and growing concern about the quality of education these days. Not only are teachers concerned, and they are, but students and parents are beginning to feel that they are being short-changed.

A couple of letters to the editors of two daily papers recently were revealing.

In one, a university student stated that he had read a 2,000-word essay written by a friend, who was an honour student. In the essay, there was one (1) sentence which did not have a spelling or grammar error. And that was the sentence in which he repeated the professor's topic.

In the other letter, a girl who dropped out of school three years ago because of the rigidity of the system, was flaming mad. She returned to Grade 12 this year and discovered, as she put it "that education had disappeared in the interim."

This young lady said flatly that while teachers used to teach for the average in the class, they are now teaching toward the poorest students, with the keen and bright ones left to fend for themselves. In her opinion, standards had dropped drastically in three years.

There are few teachers who would not agree with her on the last point. Administrators and "educationists", whatever they are, right up to the minister, blandly assure the public, via the media, that standards have not been lowered.

Perhaps they should take off their rose-coloured glasses and take a good, clear look at reality. But they have managed to wrap themselves in such a fog of educational jargon that they wouldn't know reality unless it came up and bit them.

What's happened? Maybe I'm prejudiced, but I don't think the fault lies with the teachers. To my definite knowledge, they are working harder than ever, under steadily worsening conditions.

They are teaching as many as two more classes a day than they were three years ago. They are doing more of the unpleasant and uneducational chores than they did. Such a one is "trough patrol" as some teachers call cafeteria supervision. The name is not inaccurate.

A few years ago, supervising a students' dance was an extra chore, but few teachers really minded it. One chatted with the students, deplored their taste in music, but felt that a good time was being had by all.

Everybody was dressed up and happy. The lights in the gym were turned down but not out. There might be the odd case of a kid smoking pot or slightly under the influence but they were rareties. A regular Sunday school picnic.

Nowadays it's more like Saturday night in Dodge City. A darkened gym except for the stage where four or five baboons caper and scream incomprehensibles to the accompaniment of a volume of sound that would make a boiler factory sound like a cemetery.

Someone has thrown up again in the boys' washroom. Two grim-faced cops stand by the entrance. A teenage girl is caught rum-running not one, but six mickeys of rye.

In the good old days, years ago, a young buck could wear his own mickey in his hip pocket, covered by his jacket. Today, his pants are so tight he couldn't get anything in that pocket so he has some little girl take it in for him. But six!

I'm drifting away from my topic, but not entirely. The defiance of rules, the demand for new "rights" is all part of the school scene today. It's a curious mixture of apathy and mindless defiance.

I sound as though I'm blaming the kids. I'm not. They're human. They'll take what they can get and demand more. They're a pretty decent lot, on the whole. But what girl won't wear hip-huggers if she's allowed to wear jeans, or a blouse slit to the navel if she doesn't have to wear a bra? What young man of sixteen wouldn't like to have a crack at growing a beard?

No, the real culprit is neither teachers nor kids. It is the little empire-builders in the system. They are so far away from the classroom, and the taxpayers, that they have acquired a god-complex.

They've never been in a classroom, or not for years. And if they are to preserve and expand their empires, they must appear to be doing something. So they scratch each others backs, come up with revolutionary ideas that were stale forty years ago, and hide behind a squid-like emission of gobbledygook such as "input", "feedback", "communications", "concepts" and "individual needs."

These are the barnacles on the good ship Education, and unless she is careened and they are scraped off, ruthlessly, they're likely to sink her.

Craftswoman At Upper Canada Village

The Seventh Column

Maybe you haven't noticed, but church bulletins are always interesting reading. Besides the usual, and necessary, program of activities, the clergymen always seem to come up with some timely bits of philosophy that often provide the lift needed when we feel we are being crowded off onto the shoulder of the congested highway of life. Frankly we were beginning to doubt our own usefulness until we noted the following lines in the weekly report published by St. Paul's Presbyterian Church here in town . . .

I am only one,
But still I am one.
I cannot do everything,
But still I can do something;
And because I cannot do everything,
I will not refuse to do the
Something that I can do.

Rose McKenna was born at Dwyer Hill on April Eleven, 1871. Ninety years later, in 1961, fans watching Detroit Red Wings in action at the Olympia heard the voice on the public address system extending congratulations to one of the team's oldest fans on the occasion of her 90th birthday. Each year since that time, according to her son, Rev. Father Christopher Leahy, himself an ardent Red Wing supporter, the remarkable lady's birthday has been remembered at the hockey palace. A month ago the applause was just a little longer for Mrs. Timothy Leahy (the former Rose McKenna) had reached her 102nd milestone and still loved to watch her favourites on the television screen. The applause, although no one realized it that night, was to be a farewell salute. The grand old lady, well known in Osgoode Township where she resided for many years, died on May 8th. (Note: Toronto Maple Leafs defence ace, Mike Pelyk, is a grandson of the late Mrs. Leahy).

If you remember when a common expression, sometimes set to music, was "shave and a hair cut, two bits," then you too have reached that stage when a mirror is your worst enemy. Gerald Helmer and Sparling Summers should be forgiven if they "snipped" and "clipped" with reckless abandon last week after reading the latest scale of prices arrived at by the Barber Shop Owners' Association of Ottawa: Clean, hot shave, $2.25; regular scissoring, $2.75; razor cut, $3.50; complete hair styling, $6.00; regular haircut for a child, $2.50; a "long hair" cut, $3.50 (a mere $3 for a child). Wonder how we'd look with flowing locks and silky beard?

It's Convention time for Lions members of District "A" and since Cornwall is the locale most area clubs will be out in force this week-end. Billed as the "Seaway Valley Lions International Convention", the schedule calls for five busy days and nights, but Sunday's giant parade is certain to prove one of the real highlights. Winchester Club President Elzeon Raistrick reports his boys have built a colourful float and we're betting there'll be a very special place of honour for the president's lovely bride.

Reporters and columnists thrive on controversy but usually those associated with weekly newspapers find it difficult to ignite even a tiny spark despite the occasional caustic phrase. But we did it! Would you believe the front page picture in the pre-mother's day edition provided that spark? Readers will remember the very little girl selecting the prettiest flower for her mother, and the suggestion that she had finally picked two. One reader promptly wrote in to "report" the tiny tot for "breaking the law," and at the same time severely chastized us for even suggesting such a flagrant disrespect for our "provincial flower." In self defence we remind all readers that where the photo was taken there are literally milions of the beautiful white blooms. We further remind readers that the writer picked flowers for his mother at the same location well over fifty years ago along with many young friends who offered them as tokens of love and honour. We suggest if more of Ontario's children were bringing their mothers beautiful flowers more often then the province's law enforcement officers would encounter fewer problems with delinquents. Our provincial flower serves the province best, we think,, when tenderly plucked by the innocent hands of children and presented to the mothers they love.

Husbands delayed at the office (or somewhere) and arriving home late might be well advised to remain silent rather than attempting to calm troubled waters. We're thinking of the dutiful hubby who always made it a practice when he came home late, cold, wet and tired, of crawling into bed and comparing his wife to a little box stove. She liked that. One night, however, he got his metaphors mixed and said, "you remind me of an old pot-bellied heater." She didn't like that. . . . See what we mean?

Fawcetts Home From London-Rome Trip

Roy and Shirley Fawcett, Winchester, of Tri-Tel Associates, Conn Organ dealer, visited "Big Ben" during a business trip to London and Rome in April.

They joined a select group of more than 150 successful music dealers in a series of meetings conducted by Conn Organ Corporation in both cities. During the meetings they had an opportunity to compare their operations with those of music dealers belonging to Conn's International Division. They were given a preview of organ models soon to be introduced, and were brought up to date on dealer support activities including advertising, public relations, servicing, financing, engineering and organ demonstration techniques. Individual problem solving sessions were held with Conn Organ District Managers.

While in London the group visited Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey, Big Ben, House of Parliament, Windsor Castle, Eton, Runnymede, Oxford, Stratford on Avon, Brighton, Chartwell, Canterbury and Dover. Following seminars in Rome, the group visited the Sistine Chapel, St. Peters Basilica, the Forum, Palatine, the Colosseum, the Pantheon, Rennaissance Rome and the Tivoli Gardens.

Jets End Season With Banquet And Awards Night At Metcalfe

Ken Kelly Named Most Valuable Player

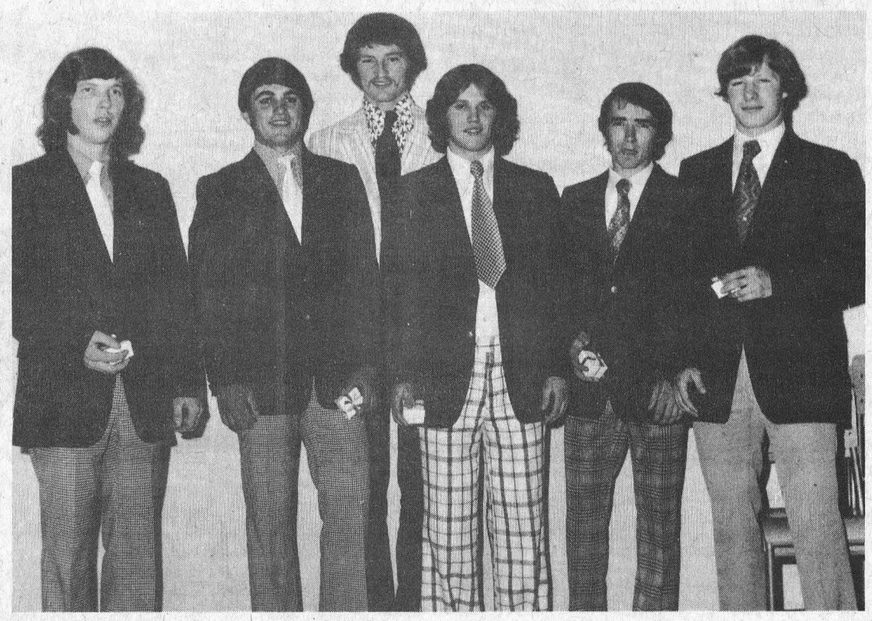
Former Metcalfe Jet, Larry Robinson and his Montreal Canadiens team-mate Murray Wilson were head table guests at Metcalfe Community Centre last Friday night when nearly three hundred fans saluted their favourite players.

Other head table guests included Mrs. Larry Robinson, team Coach Jim Duhart and Mrs. Duhart; Lions Club President Eric Shortt and Mrs. Shortt; team accountant Bill McVey and Mrs. McVey; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rowan; Mr. and Mrs. Don McIntosh; Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCooeye.

Master of Ceremonies chores were shared by the team managers, Don McIntosh and Peter McCooeye.

Both Larry Robinson and Murray Wilson spoke briefly and both agreed playing for the Stanley Cup winning team was their greatest thrill.

'There really isn't that much difference playing for Montreal than there was playing for Metcalfe', said Robinson with a twinkle in his eye, 'except possibly that with the Jets the goal was a silver cup but now the stakes are a trifle higher - like maybe a new car or a summer cottage'.



One of the highlights of last Friday night's wind-up banquet for Metcalfe Jets was the presentation of beautiful rings to the players who had just completed their final year in Junior ranks.

The gold rings with the "Jets" crests were presented by Peter McCooeye, and after accepting the gifts the boys were pleased to pose with another 'Jet Grad', Larry Robinson, who now has his name engraved on the Stanley Cup.

Dave Flay, representing the 'fans' donated and presented two awards to the players selected by the fans for outstanding achievement, and the winners were Marty Kelly and Earl Davidson.

Each player, the trainer, stick boy and other's who had contributed both time and talent during the season received mementos in the form of plaques.

Following the program an evening of dancing was enjoyed with music by the popular young group, 'Mixed Company'.

Hallville Hackers Organize New Conservation Club

Marilyn Simser was elected president of the newly formed 4-H Conservation Club at the organizational meeting which was held at Nationview Public School last week.

Other officers elected include vice president, Mark Leach; secretary-treasurer Linda Erwin and press reporter Sue Percival.

Following discussion it was agreed to name the new club the 'Hallville Hackers' and K. Hoback, a private land forestry technician, one of the club leaders, outlined the agenda.

He discussed activities such as wood lot management, fish and wildlife and also suggested a 3-day camp-out in the month of June.

The next meeting will be on June 2nd when members will go on a field trip.

The Valley Sportsman

by Bob Rosborough

Opening day of fishing season wasn't the best this year, however, there are some areas that are producing good catches. Pickerel in fair numbers are being taken from the Mississippi River-Lake system and the Rideau system is giving up some very nice pike. If any trout fishermen want to try their luck, best bets this week is either Green Lake or Little Green Lake north of Lanark. The Speckled trout are biting nicely during the 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. part of the day.

Since I've been giving fishing tips, I have received some in the mail. One which I was very interested in dealt with the triple hook system on baits. I've had many a hook lost because of these triple hooks and the answer has come to me via the mail on how to catch fish and not snags. Remove those triple hooks and put on single hooks. It works. Now this lets you fish the real hot spots among the weeds and snags and you don't get hung up as often. When you change your hooks, be sure to use a single hook bigger than the triple you removed from the bait in the first palce. Try it . . . you'll like it.

Boating will be starting shortly and this is the time to prepare your boat and equipment for your favorite pasttime. Be sure those life jackets are in good condition. Some I've seen hanging up in boat houses wouldn't keep a mouse above water. Check your motor and controls . . . especially your steering wires. Also, be sure that your boat is ready to go. Most aluminum and fiberglass boats stand up but the wooden boats usually use quite a bit of work each season. When everything is ready, have a good boating season.

The week's column will be short mainly because I'm have a ball fishing so look to next week's column for more info on fishing hot spots. Also, a word to the fishermen. Now that the fishing season is underway, be sure you see the light and clean up after you. Litter can become a problem at your favorite fishing hole so why should you add to it? Be a good fisherman and a good sport. Clean up your mess and make everyone happy.

Notes, letters and comments are welcomed by the Valley Sportsman, Box 292, Smiths Falls, Ontario.

ABOUT "LEADER DOGS"

Metcalfe Lions Learn The Facts

Members of Metcalfe and District Lions Club, along with several guests from neighbouring Cumberland club, were treated to a highly interesting talk by Vincent Syracuse, field representative for 'Leader Dogs for the Blind' at last week's regular meeting.

Mr. Syracuse, who was introduced by Nelson Hawn of Kemptville Lions Club, has been with the organization for the past twenty-one years during which time he has travelled over 200,000 miles and attended five International Conventions. His constant tarvelling companion at the present time is his dog 'Mickey'.

Mr. Syracuse is not blind but his trained dog is his constant companion on all his world travels. During introductions the friendly animal was introduced as 'Lion Mickey'.

Canine Companion

The speaker explained that many confuse the Leader Dog organization with that of 'Seeing Eye Inc.'.

"There is no connection whatever between the two organizations", he pointed out and went on to explain that Seeing Eye Inc. began with $1,000,000 of capital and now boasts assets of $27,000,000.

"Our non-profit organization began in 1939", he said, "when it became obvious there was a tremendous need for more dogs."

He explained that S.A. Dodge, later to become president of Lions International, inaugurated the scheme when he collected $400, rented a house and began a dog school.

The gifted speaker reminded his audience that dogs assisting the blind was not a new idea suggesting it dated back to the days of the Romans.

Although it costs $2,600 to train a dog and adapt it to a new master there is no charge for a Leader Dog and any blind person, who qualifies, can apply.

Thousands of dogs are offered to the organization, he said, but only 3 of every 10 are accepted, since to qualify a dog must be friendly to all people at all times.

"Too bad", he remarked, "that people weren't all that way."

The man, who has spent so many years with dogs that are almost human, quoted figures showing that at the present time, in the United States, there are 400,000 blind people yet only 10,000 could qualify for dogs and 9,400 still do not have a dog.

The speaker was thanked by president Eric Shortt.

$250,000 Budget To Promote Historic Heritage Highways

Ontario and Quebec, with federal assistance, will this year spend $250,000 to put storied Heritage Highways squarely on the holiday map.

Heritage Highways are the ribbons of pavement which follow the canoe routes and foot paths of explorers, fur traders, pioneers and homesteaders through the two provinces from Niagara Falls to the small community of Perce on Quebec's Gaspe Peninsula.

Airing of 5 minute TV vignettes already has begun in a program that includes eight French and seven English language stations with a six-film series that captures many of the visitor highlights along the historic route.

Additionally, full-color advertisements are to appear in national magazine supplements carried by 18 English and eight French language dailies.

And, to round out the cooperative effort, a new 65-page all-color booklet has just been published in both French and English, which outlines not only the prime attractions and points of historical interest along the route itself, but a variety of side-trips on highways with access to it, including super Hwy. 401 from the Detroit-Windsor gateway.

While the sister provinces have been partners in tourism for years, this is the most vigorous program they've ever launched as a team. And while its prime purpose is to stimulate more travel between Quebec and Ontario, it is also expected to entice thousands of U.S. vacationers to visit this oldest segment of settled Canada.

As part of the campaign fo Quebec travel writers will tou the Ontario stretch of the rout while a like number from Ontario will travel it to its Quebec terminal.

The publication Heritage Highways will be available at all Ontario and Quebec border crossings from the U.S. For a free copy, write Heritage Highways, Ministry of Industry and Tourism, Travel Services Branch, Hearst Block, Queen's Park, Toronto.

OFY Grants Will Provide Summer Jobs

OFY grants in the area should provide summer jobs for many young people during the next few months and according to an announcement by The Secretary of State in the city of Cornwall alone 14 youth projects will receive a total of $110,000. in grants.

Many other area applications have also been approved and include groups at Alexandria, Crysler, Glen Becker, Glengarry, Glen Robertson, Iroquois, Moose Creek, Morrisburg, Williamstown and Winchester.

At Morrisburg the project "M-O-R-E" will receive $6,640 for a program designed to create summer activities for children and adolescents, consisting of arts and crafts, sports, trips, dramas, games and hobbies.

A similar type of program at Crysler will have $6,460 to work with and at Iroquois, where the project has been fittingly called, "The Vanishing Rural Community of Dundas County', a grant of $8,720 has been approved.

Food Facts—Fallacies

Q. When I make soup with all kinds of vegetables and meat and boil it several hours, does it lose nutritive value?

A. Certain vitamins especially Vitamin C are destroyed by cooking, others simply dissolve in the cooking water, and others are virtually unaffected. Therefore, soups retain their nutritive value quite well, although flavour, colour, and texture of vegetables are more appealing if you add them toward the end of the cooking period.

Q. Is it safe to eat uncooked frankfurters?

A. Weiners are always pre-cooked. Frankfurters that have been properly packaged and are stored and handled under sanitary conditions may be eaten without heating.

Q. Can butter be frozen?

A. Yes, three months is the maximum storage time recommended, because off flavours may develop due to oxidation of fat.

Dundas Farm News

John A. Anderson
Assistant Agricultural Representative
Dundas County

As I sit here and attempt to meet my committments to the press, I suddenly realize that I should turn up the thermostat. Yes, the weather has changed since I wrote my last press release. As you can remember those balmy weeks in April the sun was shining, and the temperatures were up in the high 60's and low 70's. Now it seems that the weather is going backwards instead of ahead. With the memories of last year still firm in our mind we shudder the thought of another miserable summer.

Those early weeks of good cropping weather may have spoiled us. The actual rainfall for the last month is not that much higher than normal. The previous months rainfall is reported to have been 1.75 inches. The rainfall for the month of May is already below the expected average. I believe the cold weather, the lack of sunshine, and the expected heat units are combining to make the situation appear worse than it really is.

I know that all farmers are anxious to get out and get their crops planted. I remind you that spring grains respond with higher yields to early seeding. One management factor that I have noticed is that a lot of farm people held off planting until the entire field has dried up. I urge you to get out and plant those areas that are acceptable to cropping and leave those wet spots until later. Spring grains, expecially barley, are acceptable to slightly damper and cooler conditions, therefore, plant as soon as possible.

In the area of corn I do not believe that the problem is as serious as one thinks. With the new hybrids it is not as essential now as in the past to plant early in order to harvest. It is still recommended that the optimum planting date in Eastern Ontario is May 10th. I personally feel that we are still safe in planting as late as May 24th or even June 1st.

I realize your frustration at not being able to get the cows out of the stable and on to the pasture. It has only been in the last two weeks that the grass has noticeably started to grow. I urge you not to pasture the fields at this time. It may be financially better for you to continue feeding in the stable or the barnyard until the pastures are ready. From various surveys that I have made from farm visits and travels throughout the county it appears that all new seeding and hay crops are coming well, considering last year. I would also recommend direct seeding of alfalfa in areas where new seeding has been killed out. If one is able to get out and work these areas in the next few days there should be a harvestable crop this year.

In wrapping up all I can say is that hopefully this year will bring better fruits and benefits from our labour. The situation is not as bad as it was last year, at the present time. There is an old saying that I believe lends itself to this situation and that is 'Pessimism lead to disaster'. With this in mind I hope you will be optimistic.

Our office has not started to record the rainfall and heat units for this area at the present time. Hopefully, this coming month we will have those reports for you. I might also mention as a finishing note, that oatlage, sorghum, sudans and other insurance crops can be used efficiently to fill a pasture or hay mow gap. Therefore, smile and remember, that tomorrow is the first day of the rest of your life.

Some Chicken - Some Eggs!!!

If these hatching eggs look big, it's because they are - each one 24 times the size of a hen's egg.

They're ostrich eggs and that's a new-born ostrich chick the children are holding.

Photo was taken near Oudtshoorn, capital of South Africa's ostrich farming region 50 miles inland from the Indian Ocean and mid-way between Port Elizabeth and Cape Town.

Ostriches are raised in the main for their feathers, which today sell for about $25 a pound, far below the peak of $300 a pound in 1900 but still enough to make ostrich farming a profitable business.

Some 200 farmers raise ostriches in the Oudtshoorn region and in total own about 75,000 birds.

The area is a growing tourist center, not only because of the ostriches (several farms cater particularly to tourists), but because of the nearby Cango Caves, which are more than a million years old and reputed to be the most spectacular caverns in the world.

Last year, a record 7,629 Canadians visited South Africa, a rise of about 27 per cent over 1971 and 79 per cent higher than the total for 1970.

Ninety Students Graduate At Kemptville

Ninety students, 40 in home economics and 50 in agriculture, received their diplomas from Dr. Ford A. Stinson, Principal of the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, at the annual graduation recently.

The graduation address was given by T.R. Hilliard, Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Food, who contrasted the world into which he graduated at the beginning of World War II with that of new graduates. He graduated into a world on the threshold of unprecedented scientific and technological development, while 1973 graduates are graduating into a world which is increasingly concerned about the quality of life because of the side effects of this technological explosion. "It will", he stated, "take as much hard work and ingenuity to correct the side effects as was needed to develop the technology originally. This is the challenge for young graduates today."

Dr. Ford A. Stinson, Principal of the College, recognized two students for their special achievements. Richard Foster of Campbellcroft received the Ottawa Journal award for general proficiency in the agricultural course, the A.M. Barr award for the highest ranking student in farm business management, and the Stanley G. Anderson shield for the student ranking highest in practical agricultural engineering.

Miss Kathryn Stevenson of Lyn was the recipient of the Royal Canadian Legion award for a graduating student in agriculture or home economics with a good academic standing and qualities of leadership and citizenship. She also won the Ottawa Citizen award for the graduating student in home economics ranking highest in academic and practical subjects.

A reception for graduates, parents and guests followed the graduation ceremony in the lounge of Bell Hall.

Inexpensive Feed Substitute

Refuse Screenings Tested

Refuse screenings produced by grain-processing operations may have some value as an alternative or supplement to normal livestock feeds, suggests Graham Hooper, livestock specialist at Kemptville College of Agricultural technology.

At certain times of the year and depending on prevailing feed grain markets, refuse screenings can be obtained from the Lakehead for little more than freight charges, providing that quantities greater than 25 tons are ordered. Refuse screenings can be hard to handle because of dust and dirt, but they do contain significant amounts of crude protein and digestible nutrients.

At Kemptville, refuse screenings were given as supplements and complete feeds to groups of three-month-old Holstein calves, cross-bred Hereford steers and cross-bred Yorkshire hogs. In all cases, reasonably good average daily gains and feed conversion rates were recorded.

The Holstein calves showed live-weight gains of well over 2 pounds daily, at a conversion rate of 5 to 1, when fed on rations containing 40% to 60% refuse screenings.

A group of cross-bred Hereford steers were fed on pelleted screenings with no supplements other than minerals. The performance of this group was compared with that of another group of cross-bred Hereford steers fed on corn and cob with some soybean meal. The corn-fed steers outgained the steers fed on refuse screenings. However, the average daily gain of 2.71 pounds for steers fed refuse screenings, was economical compared to 3.28 pounds for corn-fed steers, taking into account the normally lower cost of refuse screenings.

A third trial with cross-bred Yorkshire hogs demonstrated the versatility of screenings as a livestock feed. Feeder pigs weighing 60 pounds were divided into three groups. Group 1 was fed ground screenings, group 2 pelleted screenings, and the control group was fed corn. No group received more than 30% screenings in their total feed ration.

Average daily gain for the two groups fed ground or pelleted screenings was 1.57 pounds, compared to 1.70 pounds for the corn-fed hogs.

Despite these promising findings, current feed grain prices have driven up the price of screenings. Future economic advantages gained in using refuse screenings as a livestock feed will depend on the circumstances of individual farmers and on feed-grain price trends.

Vacation Time... Ever Consider A Farming Holiday?

Vacation time is here and "getting away from it all" doesn't have to mean a south sea island with expenses to match. An Ontario farm vacation can provide just as much relaxation and fun a lot closer to home and at a very reasonable cost.

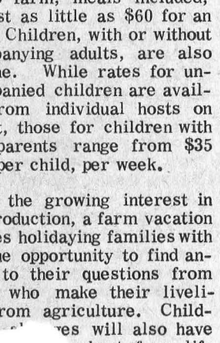
This summer, some 45 Ontario farm families across the province are acting as vacation hosts. A week's vacation on an Ontario farm, meals included, can cost as little as $60 for an adult. Children, with or without accompanying adults, are also welcome. While rates for unaccompanied children are available from individual hosts on request, those for children with their parents range from $35 to $40 per child, per week.

With the growing interest in food production, a farm vacation provides holidaying families with a unique opportunity to find answers to their questions from people who make their livelihood from agriculture. Children [illegible] about farm life [illegible] satisfied by [illegible] with the on[illegible] [illegible] on a working [illegible].

Apart from the usual amenities of rural living, such as farm-fresh eggs, homemade bread and fresh air; vacationers can usually enjoy swimming, fishing, picnicing, horse-back riding, fruit and berry picking, and attending local antique or livestock auctions. Some vacation farms include housekeeping units, so that guests can do their own cooking if they wish; and many farms are located near golf courses, beaches, and shopping and recreation centers.

All hosts are members of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. Vacation farms are dotted across the province from Windsor to Ottawa, most being within easy driving distance of Ontario's major population centers.

Vacationers considering spending their holidays on a farm this summer should obtain the brochure "Ontario Farm Vacations", either by writing the Ontario Federation of Agriculture at 387 Bloor Street East, Toronto, Ontario, or by contacting their local travel office. The brochure lists the names and locations of farm vacation hosts and includes accommodation information and descriptions of the activities offered by each host. Vacationers are requested to obtain additional information from the host of their coice.



PRIDE Specialized Hybrids have proven over and over again in this area their ability to produce corn crops of good standability, high shell out, and safe maturity, well suited to high population, narrow row planting.

Spring Festival Presented At Nationview Public

Nationview students presented a highly interesting Spring Festival program on May 9th and it was accepted with such interest by pupils and parents alike that most teachers agreed it should become an annual event.

The original idea for this programme developed last year with the 1971-72 Christmas Concert. It proved too long, so the teachers agreed to leave Christmas to the Grades 1 - 6 and institute a spring presentation for the Senior grades.

The preparation included about 85% of the Grade 7 and 8 students. They designed and made the stage, the sets, props, costumes, and took care of lighting and sound.

There were two performances, one to the primary and junior students in the afternoon, and one to an enthusiastic audience of parents. The programme started sharp at 8:00 p. m. and lasted 85 minutes.

A wide variety of presentations were on the programme. The school choir opened the programme with the Gordon Lightfoot number "Alberta Bound" followed by "One Day I Walk" and Anne Murray's tune "What About Me". Uner the direction of Mrs. Johnson, Nationview's music teacher, the choir presented three songs in well polished three part harmony, which the audience thoroughly enjoyed.

The rest of the programme held up this hgh standard. Debbie Durant and Janet Blom presented a duologue called "Girl Talk". Mrs. Jones, Nationview's teacher of French directed two well staged French productions: The Three Bears with Debbie Durant, Nicole St. Pierre and Tom Welch as the bears and Anita Gibson as Goldilocks. The play was introduced by Roger Levere and Joanne Ransberry.

Cathy McKee and Thea Uitvlugt presented a duologue called "Stage Coach Problem" which was followed by accordion selections played by Hugh Desjardin. A second French play presented was "Little Red Riding Hood" with Joanne Ransberry as 'Red', and Larry Beckstead as the wolf.

During the intermission, the audience was treated to a fine gymnastics display on the vaulting horse and trampoline under the direction of Mr. Linegar.

Again under the direction of Mrs. Johnson, a group of girls sang some popular folk songs, followed by Karen Wylie and Louis Simms presenting a duologue called "Educating the Boy Friend".

The evening was concluded with the Senior students major presentation of Oliver Twist. The main players from a cast of thirty-three students were Connie Salter as Oliver, Robert Havekes as Mr. Bumble, John Maxwell as Fagan, Eric McDermid as Sykes, Rosy Winter as the Artful Dodger and Elaine Ransberry as Nancy. Colleen Guy was all set to act as the narrator, but previous to the presentation she developed tonsillitis. Janet Blom, as her second, stepped in and did an excellent job.

Another group of twenty six students handled the complicated job of changing the sets, adjusting lighting and sound patterns.

The play, an abbreviated version of the Dicken's book, was directed by Mr. Gilroy and Mr. Brydges, stage work directed by Mr. Leightizer, and set decoration and costumes directed by Miss Strader.

"Full credit for the very favourable and well received performance", said one member of the teaching staff, "should go to the entire senior team, because at the same time as members of the senior staff undertook a very complicated practice schedule, the other members also maintained a high level of academic presentations."

Accompanying photos give some indication of the time and effort that brought the project to such a succussful conclusion. In one picture Oliver (Connie Salter) meets the Artful Dodger, (Rosy Winter); The Three Bears are in another, and in the third Cathy McKee and Thea Uitvlugt encounter a "Stage Coach Problem."

At Osgoode Township High

by Barb MacDonald

The past few weeks at O.T.H.S. the track team has been spending their after school hours getting into shape. Their hard work paid off Thursday, at the Mooney's Bay Track Meet.

The members of our field team did really well. Blaine Francis won the Junior Boys Javelin. Betty Quinn placed second in Junior Girls Shot Put and fifth in the discus. Shannon Teskey came second in the Senior Girls Discus.

The drizzling rain seemed to dampen the spirits of our track team, but we did come up with some very good showings. Wayne Shaw came second in the 2-Mile run. Our Junior Girls Relay team gave a good showing and finished fifth in the finals. Mike Miller placed sixth in the 880 while Chris Trainor jumped her way to sixth in Junior Girls High Jump.

All of the athletes who placed in the top four positions of their event, now advance to the city finals and we wish them all the best of luck!

Birds And Trees

Results Will Be Viewed On Science Lab Program

The largest bird watch ever to take place in Ontario has been completed.

Thousands of students in Grades 4 to 6 participating in the OECA-produced television project "Ontario: Our Science Lab", were asked to build bird feeders either at their homes or schools. From the middle of March until May 12, the students were counting the various types of birds using the feeders.

The results were phoned into the OECA in Toronto, where they are being sorted, analysed and will then be presented as part of the Science Lab program seen each Wednesday morning at 9:15 a.m. and again at 11:00 a.m.

The final tabulations will allow the OECA to draft a map showing the migratory patterns of the numberous bird species in the province.

In another experiment students were asked to measure the largest tree they could find in their area. OECA received 243 phone calls on this project with each call representing either one single class or a group of classes.

Tress obviously touched a lyrical spot with the students, for as well as receiving statistical information about height and girth of trees, many poems were received.

Brendon Kennedy at St. Mary's School, Thunder Bay wrote:

Trees
Big, beautiful,
Swaying, standing, living.
Happily living tall and free.
Trees.

Laurie Nixon wrote:

Many Limbs
It has many limbs like a centipede,
It grew from such a tiny seed,
They're sometimes tall,
And sometimes small,
They're trees.

Based on the initial results, the province has many large and substantial trees. Willows with trunk circumferences ranging from 19 to 31 feet, buttonwood of 26' 5", elm of 27' and a sugar maple of close to 20 feet.

However one measurement which has forestry officials baffled was sent by an enterprising researcher who reported a white pine with a trunk of 42 feet in circumference.

Science Lab an experimental, multi-media project was designed to use the classroom television set as a motivator. Over 80,000 students took part in this province wide project which finishes at the end of May.
