As time goes by

The 25th anniversary reunion of North Dundas District High School is now a memory to be filed away with other remembrances of high school days.

The overwhelming opinion of those in attendance was that the reunion was a great success and should be repeated more often.

Comments like these are heart-warming to the committee members who spent countless hours making sure everything came together over the three-day celebration without a hitch.

The reunion provided graduates with a chance to renew old acquaintances, to show off their young families and talk about their present day lives.

But no matter how successful graduates have gone on to become, to many in the Winchester area the up and coming lawyer is still Jane Smith or the well-known doctor John Jones.

And that's the nice thing about the passage of time. Your friends are still your friends. They may be a little older, a little heavier, maybe even a little wealthier but they will always be your friend.

The special memories of that school dance, or the first date remain as a bond that can never be broken. And although years may go by without contact, one word or phrase can bring the memories flooding back.

The years add maturity and knowledge undreamed of in high school. The real world grabs hold and reality can sometimes be harsh.

But for those few moments last weekend, North Dundas graduates felt like high school kids again without a care in the world beyond their next exam.

So while the passage of time may have saddened some graduates, it shouldn't. Life is an adventure we should all look forward to.

The experiences only add to the richness of life.

Notice is hereby given that a By-Law was passed by the Municipal Council of the Village of Winchester on the Twenty-First day of May, A.D., 1928, providing for the issue of debentures to the amount of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000) for the purpose of erecting a Public School Building in the Village of Winchester, and that such By-Law was registered in the Registry Office of the Registry Division of the County of Dundas on the Second day of June, A.D., 1928.

Any motion to quash or set aside the same or any part thereof must be made within three months after the first publication of this notice and cannot be made thereafter.

Chief of Police Fred Seymour, Cornwall, revealed on Monday that police hold a warrant for the arrest of Howard O. Hessell, Cornwall lawyer, on a charge of theft and conversion of funds.

The warrant, issued upon complaint of Mrs. Sadie I. Goldberg, charged that Hessell "on or about June 15th, 1938, did steal the sum of $1,878.12 received by him on terms requiring him to account for the same, and converted by him to his own use, contrary to the Criminal Code of Canada.

Plans are set along the front for Inundation Week, which starts July 4th. More than 150,000 people are expected to flock to the St. Lawrence during this time to see the waters come up to form a huge lake.

Dignitaries from both Canada and United States will be on hand and special programs have been arranged by Ontario Hydro as well as the city of Cornwall and the town of Morrisburg.

A vital project, which has been a dream of public-spirited men in both the United States and Canada for at least half a century, will reach the most significant stage in its progress to realization on July 1.

"Sock it to them" Bob Stanfield did just that in the Maritimes when the election results started to filter through early Tuesday night. And then Trudeaumania set in with the Liberals going on to win 154 seats allowing them to form the first majority government in Canada since 1962.

Late Wednesday morning the unofficial count looked like this: Liberals 154, Conservatives 71, NDP 23, Creditistes 15, other 1.

In Grenville-Carleton it was an especially disappointing day for the Conservatives with Mrs. Jean Wadds, former MP for Grenville-Dundas, going down to defeat.

1978

More than 150 members of South Mountain and surrounding areas, especially of St. Daniel's Church, gathered at the new Agricultural Hall to bid farewell to a well-respected and much-loved parish priest Father Lloyd Cummings who will be leaving the area for a new posting at St. John the Baptist Parish in Perth.

Getting away with murder

The Editor

Mother Bell is getting away with murder and we, the public, are its victims.

I am the minister of Brinston United Church. This past weekend I received an emergency call from a member of my community who was in extreme danger and needed desperately to contact the Ontario Provincial Police. Over the weekend a call to the OPP requires an 800 number or a long distance number; in either case operator assistance is needed.

When I arrived at the home I was told that they had been trying to get in touch with the OPP for the last two hours and were unsuccessful. I therefore attempted to get through both by using the 800 number and the long distance number; repeatedly I received the following message:

"We are sorry at this time due to overloaded lines, we are unable to make your call at this time. If this is an emergency stay on the line."

I stayed on the line. I heard the message repeated to me five times and then I was transferred to another recording which said:

"We are sorry due to public relations problems we are unable to make your operator assisted call at this time."

I then received the dial tone sound. I continued trying for the next hour with the same results.

The single mother and her seven-year-old son were in extreme danger and I would have held Mother Bell responsible for any tragedy that may have occurred or still might occur during this strike.

Mother Bell does not hesitate to ask the CRTC to increase our telephone rates due to so-called better service. These many requests over the years have almost automatically been approved, making Mother Bell's profit margin one of the largest within the multi-national corporations. We can bet our bottom dollar that in no way we, the public, will be reimbursed for this inconsiderate, unethical, blackmail of the public during this labor strike.

I am appalled at such treatment we the public are receiving at this time and I would call on the government, management and labor to end this strike for the public's safety.

Yours truly,
Rev. Dr. Allen Tysick

Gay issue sensationalized

The Editor:

You do your readers a great disservice when you publish such an eye-catching, sensationalized, yet quite misleading headline such as "Region accepts gay ministers" (page 7, June 1, 1988). The United Church of Canada has been struggling, at least in a formal way, for the past eight years with the issue of the possible admission of homosexual persons to the order of ministry. I'm sure you can appreciate how sensitive and yet how complex an issue this has become for much of our church membership. For those who receive most of their information from the media, there has been little clarity offered.

Does the headline you have published imply that lesbian ministers are not acceptable whereas gay ministers are? The story that follows does not clarify the question. Within the text itself, reference is made to the Montreal/Ottawa Conference rejecting the report commissioned by the General Council of the United Church. This is simply inaccurate. To be sure, the Conference rejected most of the recommendations, yet is clearly accepted the report as a whole for information and one of its pivotal recommendations: namely, that "sexual orientation in and of itself is not a barrier to participation in all aspects of the life and ministry of the church, including the order of ministry." At the same time, Conference reaffirmed the historic teaching of the church on sexual behavior for all Christians, including members of the order of ministry: namely, that "genital expressions of sexuality are acceptable only within the context of monogamous heterosexual marriage."

In a follow-up article entitled "Ordination of gays troubles parishioners," (page 1, June 8, 1988) a statement is made with reference to Seaway Valley Presbytery having "passed a petition that would prevent the ordination of all self-professed homosexuals, practising or non-practising." We are at a loss to know where this information was gleaned. However, the bottom line is that it's inaccurate.

The presbytery's petition stated to "not accept the Report, Towards a Christian Understanding of Sexual Orientation, Lifestyles and Ministry or the recommendations it makes." The report in itself makes no reference whatsoever to non practising (celibate) homosexuals as a viable option. The appeal of the report is to the full acceptance of practising homosexuals in the order of ministry. Hence, the Seaway Valley petition makes no reference, either directly or indirectly, in its rejection of the report's recommendations to the issue of celibate homosexual ministers.

It would be our suggestion in future coverage of this contentious issue to tone down the headlines and upgrade the information, so that your readers may be assured that the news contained therein has been thoroughly checked out and as a result, faithfully reported.

Things old and new

by Gordon C. Smyth

Each generation cherishes the illusion that its problems and opportunities are radically new. Every age produces persons who decide that all old standards and methods must be abandoned.

Thus many endeavor to crystallize the "unique" position wherein they affirm they find themselves in the flow of history. Thus they condemn themselves to repeat the follies and to miss the truths of the past, perhaps because they are too proud to "read the minutes of the last meeting".

For instance, our generation fancies that it is the first to advise religious individuals to "get where the action is," forgetful of the prophet Ezekiel who spoke of all he learned by sitting where the wretched sat.

Our century thinks it has discovered counselling, unmindful of the fact that Moses, at the instigation of Jethro, set up a counselling clinic centuries ago.

In the 16th century, Rev. John Calvin of Geneva spent laborious hours, almost daily, with a vast amount of correspondence from most every corner of Europe. But not a few "moderns" consider that the multitude of details consuming contemporary time is new.

To be sure, there is considerable newness in this scientific age. However, much of it is external and materialistic. And much that we may like to believe is quite new is mainly the old intensified.

For example, the current problem with regard to international justice is different from the same problem in the time of the Greek historian Thucydides (471-400 B.C.) only in extent and force.

What is REALLY new? Selfishness, lust, greed, cruelty; love, friendship, loyalty, self-sacrifice — are these new? Are sin, remorse, pardon and reconciliation new? Are the yearnings of women and men for peace, security and "a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (2 Corinthians 5:1) — are these yearnings of the human spirit new?

"The strength of the Bible," wrote Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick (1878-1969), "has always been its appeal to the deep and abiding realm of man's basic experiences, for out of that realm the Bible came."

Well, this just may be a welcome, brand new piece of information for you!

Seventh Column

by Joe Rowan

It was late Saturday evening; Bekkers Court was sealed off from traffic; barbecues in shaded areas still glowed faintly; lawn chairs and patio tables formed a friendly circle as colorful balloons and lanterns transformed the paved street into a spacious ballroom. A make-shift platform provided an ideal stage from which "Helen's Selection" (Helen, Sebe, John and Peter) belted out the polkas, waltzes and rock tunes once so familiar throughout the district. That was the picture portrayed to Rowan Subdivision residents... but a couple of the yesteryear 'Rowan Boys' were there, and they were viewing the scene with reflections of other years flashing across bifocals... A log fence; an abandoned well; 'the big hill'; pond (swimming hole) across a pasture near the 'priest's bush'; the rocky field with a wild confusion of prickly ash, thorn apples and wild roses; cows grazing near the 'minister's house'; and far off in the distance church bells (Anglican and Roman Catholic) echoing across the village. The spell, however, was suddenly shattered when a jubilant voice rang through the twilight explaining "We do this everywhere we go... a marvellous way to meet new neighbors and establish lasting friendships." The happy young couple taking full advantage of the opportunity to blend 'new' with 'old' were Bill and Karen Juneau, an RCMP officer and his wife, recently transferred to the Ottawa Valley and, very obviously proud to be part of the Rowan Subdivision tribe. An afternoon and evening long to be remembered and a wonderful way to celebrate the 121st birthday of a great nation where people of all colors, races and creeds live in peace, harmony and goodwill... just like the Rowan Subdivision 'Settlers'.

Guess our municipality (Township of Osgoode) deserves a few merit points for efforts to assure that visitors (and residents) will always be able to boast of the neat, clean, attractive neighborhood just beyond the shadow of the world-famous Peace Tower. Sure sounds to us like common sense to demand 'strict standards in areas of home appearance and maintenance, sewage and drainage, landscaping and exterior garbage disposal." And surely no one could quarrel either with a demand that... "Residents get rid of wrecked or dismantled cars that create a neighborhood eyesore". Frankly, however, we're not quite sure we want some official telling us how to trim the hedge or clip off rhubarb that has gone to seed. Most likely we'll bend a bit on that issue, but we are concerned regarding laws dealing with 'home interiors — floors — stairs — balconies — sticky doors — door frames — and clean windows". Considering, in particular, that 'clean windows' and 'sticky door' bit we even foresee the distinct possibility of downright violence. When the 'Old Girl' read the "Osgoode sets strict property standards" report in last week's Press she completely blew her top. After glancing at the 'sticky' pantry door and the grand-kids fingerprints on the front window she stormed into the basement in search of a sturdy broom-handle. We suggest the Property Standards Officer check with us before attempting his survey on our street... sometimes she goes visiting for a few hours.

The Manotick Messenger is on our weekly 'must' reading list and columnist Sue Knippel's "Kelly Klassic" on page 24 (June 29) is now neatly stored in our VIR (very important review) file. Think it's great that this wily, witty Irish clan gets together every year and boasts (lies?) about each other's monumental accomplishments. Sue focuses attention on that famous (we prefer infamous) family tree dating back 150 years. That's really great, but we think newcomers (like after the turn of the century) should be made aware the Rowans must have been booted off the Emerald Isle long before the first Kelly was tossed unceremoniously onto a cargo ship. And family trees, we think stand as living proof. Count the 'Rowantrees' in the Valley of the Ottawa — then look (in vain) for a Kellytree. Both clans are, however, authentically recorded in Irish history —and it's interesting to note that the theme song at all Rowan reunions is "Let's Knock The 'L' Out of Kelly".

Columnists always eagerly open their mail anticipating glowing praise for previous words of wisdom. Sometimes, unfortunately, sincere efforts to help others can prove costly. Recently one such dedicated writer opened a letter and read "Sir: My wife was about to divorce me until she read your touching comment regarding the evils of a broken home. Now she says she is going to stick with me for better or for worse... please cancel my subscription."

Farm Update

Recent rains spell relief

Drought situation was 10 days away from 'critical'

DUNDAS COUNTY — While last week's storm spelled untold damage for some farmers, others are rejoicing over the downpour.

"It's great," said Bob Humphries, the Dundas County agricultural representative, describing the recent precipitation.

Humphries said if the drought had lasted another 10 days Dundas County farmers would have been faced with a "critical" situation.

But the recent deluge, said Humphries, has relieved farmers from much of the "drought situation."

He said another 15 to 20mm of rain each week for the next three weeks is needed for farmers to "be caught up."

If this required amount of precipitation falls, there will be "no excuse to have poor crops," said Humphries.

The severe winds reportedly reaching 125km per hour during the June 25 storm caused minor damage to crops by knocking trees onto the fields.

However, Humphries said the crops were too short for the wind to cause direct damage.

Humphries said farmers now can "start getting optimistic about the row crops" such as corn and soybeans. He said flowering, which will take place in about two weeks, is the critical time for the corn.

"Mid-July will be a good time to discuss the corn yield" for this season, Humphries said.

Humphries said hay, Dundas' "big crop," did not have "as great a first cut as expected."

But with the recent rain, Humphries predicted the difference can be made up with the second cut.

For Dundas County farmers, Humphries described hay as the "most valuable crop."

Dundas farmers produce about 50,000 acres of hay, which is processed into milk. There are about 30,000 acres of grain corn.

Although most farmers are certainly pleased with the change in the weather, some paid a "considerable amount for the relief" brought on by the rain.

Humphries said for some farmers, the storm has left them replacing roofs and fixing up considerable damage to their farms.

Milk production down

MISSISSAUGA — While Ontario is still expected to fill its share of national MSQ, the amount of over-quota production is likely to be much smaller than was estimated in the winter according to an information bulletin released by The Ontario Milk Marketing Board.

During the winter when provincial MSQ utilization was forecast to be in the 104 to 105 per cent range, producers were advised that there was little likelihood of any significant level of over-quota levy refunds.

However, the closer the total provincial MSQ production gets to 100 per cent, the greater will be the percentage level of individual MSQ to which over-quota levy refunds apply.

Producers are encouraged to ship enough milk to fill their quota, bearing in mind the year-end quota situation will not be nearly as tight as anticipated.

Anti-dumping investigation

TORONTO — The deputy minister of National Revenue, Customs and Excise has initiated an anti-dumping investigation with respect to sour cherries originating in, or exported from, the United States.

The investigation follows a complaint filed by the Ontario Tender Fruit Producers' Marketing Board and the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, on behalf of sour cherry growers and processors in the two provinces.

The complaint alleges the dumped imports have injurious effects on the production of cherries in Canada resulting in reduced returns to growers, price suppression and lack of market growth.
