Ready, set, tug!

A tug-of-war competition is always one of the last events at Winchester's Dairyfest. To warm up for the competition Jenna Warren (left), Sara Ives, Chelsea Clark, and Jessica Shirreffs challenged Handy, the Home Hardware mascot to a friendly afternoon duel on Sat., Aug 9. A small pool of milk and whipped cream awaited the losers of the battle. Check out more of this year's Dairyfest action on pages 14 and 15. Photo — Barbour

South Mountain Fair offers four days of fun

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Organizers of the 116th edition of the South Mountain Fair are promising a four-day, fun-filled fair with everyone's favourite attractions.

"We're hoping for four days of sunshine," joked Mountain Township Agricultural Society president Darren Stitt. "We hope it runs smooth and that attendance is up. The midway is already sitting on site and we've moved the tent down from Dairyfest. We'll be ready for Thursday."

The gates open at 3:30 pm tomorrow (Thurs., Aug. 14) with the midway kicking things off at 4 pm. The opening ceremonies will take place at 6:30 pm, before the Horse Pull starts at 7 pm.

Friday has everything from exhibits to the midway to pony rides and the demolition derby. The Tycoons will hit the stage at 9 pm to get the weekend rocking.

"The demolition derby is back and is considered the best in Eastern Ontario, so we're looking forward to that," noted Stitt.

A pet show, baby contest, horse show, and the 4-H Dairy Achievement show mark the first half of Saturday.

Saturday night's musical entertainment lineup consists of country star Shane Yellowbird at 8 pm, followed by the Saturday night dance featuring DW James at 10 pm.

New to this year's fair is the blank screen karaoke competition on Saturday and an ATV mud race and a lawn tractor pull competition on Sunday.

"Anyone can enter," said Stitt, adding that organizers hope the new attractions will be big hits for fair-goers.

Sunday afternoon's entertainment kicks off at 1 pm with Gail Gavan and The Ryan Brothers Party Band followed by Gene Watson and his Farewell Party Band.

"This fair has the best dollar value of any fair," said Stitt. "It's pay one price and enjoy everything — I don't know what you can do these days for $20."

The fair runs Thurs., Aug. 14 until Sun., Aug. 17. Visitors can buy a daily pass (Thursday $10, Friday to Sunday $20) or purchase a weekend admission pass for $50. Passes include unlimited midway rides, admission to musical entertainment, kid's entertainment, kid's mountain of fun, exhibits, and agricultural shows. Seniors (60 and over) pay $10 per day.

For the full schedule of events see pages 10 to 13.

A helping hand

North Dundas Chamber of Commerce president Owen Shortt (left), Dundas County Food Bank co-ordinator Judy Hilson, and Eastern Ontario Health Unit health educator promotor Julie Éthier showed off the reusable bags the chamber donated to the food bank on Thurs., Aug. 7. "These are just wonderful, just terrific," said Hilson of the 50 donated bags, adding that the food bank, which services all of Dundas County, will give the bags to clients, volunteers, and staff. The food bank is always looking for donations. There is an immediate need for fresh produce, as well as non-perishable items like pasta sauce, canned goods, rice, cereal, and toiletries. Press Photo — Kelford

It's in the bag

The North Dundas Chamber of Commerce donated 50 reusable bags to the House of Lazarus food bank in Mountain on Mon., Aug. 11. The reusable bags program was created by Chamber president Owen Shortt and the chamber's executive committee in order to reduce the use of disposable bags by consumers and promote local businesses throughout North Dundas. WDMH's business blitz to fund CT scanner

WINCHESTER — Nearly 70 local businesses have committed to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital's Diamond Jubilee Business Blitz on Fri., Aug. 15 to support the hospital's 60th anniversary and to help fund the new CT scanner.

The purpose behind the blitz was to generate excitement for WDMH's diamond celebrations; increase awareness about the generous businesses who support the hospital's communities; and have fun while raising funds for the CT scanner, which is a result that will benefit everyone.

"We hope everyone will come out and play with us," said Foundation director Dawn Cooper. "Support these businesses, who are so generous in getting behind the many events and organizations that make our community the caring place that it is."

For example, the team at Royal LePage Gale Real Estate came forward with their own contribution, and issued a challenge to other real estate offices to get on board.

"A CT scanner is a vital piece of equipment for our community," said Royal LePage Real Estate broker Butch Oldford. "Let's pull together and make it happen — you never know when someone you know and love might need one."

Each member of the Royal LePage team contributed $100 to the initiative and encourages other real estate agents and brokers to support in any way they can.

At press time, the Winchester businesses that have donated to the upcoming blitz include: Andy's Foodland, Annable's Jewellery, Bank of Montreal Winchester branch, Hydro One, Dundas Machines, R/T Auto, Dundas Manor, Natunola Health Inc., Royal LePage Gale Real Estate, Ritchie Feed and Seed, Seaway Valley Pharmacy - Winchester, Tina's Scrapbooking Creations, Creative Gift Baskets and Specialty Shop, RBC Winchester branch, WJL Boyd & Sons Ltd., Jen's-Fawcett's Jewellery & Gifts, Crazy Loonies, Terrace Green Bed and Breakfast, Winchester Press, Winchester Video, Akcent Motors, Mike Dean's Superfood Store, and from South Mountain JED Express.

Metcalfe businesses taking part are Mrs. Dixon's Books and All That and The Tea Biscuit Café and Studio.

The Russell businesses in on the action include: Home Improvements Renovations & Repairs, Beaudoin Auto Body Shop, Russell Foodland, Russell Home Hardware, Paula's Pantry and Gifts, Russell Restaurant, Wellman Studios, and Castor Treasures.

Iroquois groups taking part include: Beaupre Jewellers, Byers Appliances Ltd., Gilmer Pharmacy, Iroquois Pizza, Ivories Strings and Things, LCBO Iroquois, Mac's Milk, Monte Cristo, Mr. Mozzarella, Mustard's Variety, Pickles, Railside Barber Shop, River Rat Treasures, Rooney Feeds, RBC Iroquois, Royal Canadian Legion Branch 370, S&F Foodland, The Hair Studio, Thompson Tim-Br Mart, and Upper Canada Chiropractic Center.

Blue and green balloons will decorate each participating business. They will also receive a certificate indicating their support of the blitz.

"Look for the balloons, take part in their initiative, and thank these businesses for all they do for our community," said Cooper.

Government invests $2.24M in local tourism

St. Lawrence Parks Commission general manager Pat Mcdonald (left), SD&SG MPP Jim Brownell, tourism minister Peter Fonseca, and St. Lawrence Parks Commission chair Peter Watson took a moment to check out the new Marker 72 Dockside Patio at the Crysler Park Marina. Brownell and Fonseca were in Morrisburg to announce a $2.24 million government investment in local tourism infrastructure.

MORRISBURG — Tourism along the St. Lawrence Seaway is getting a $2.24 million infrastructure boost.

The government investment was announced on Fri., Aug. 8 at the new Ontario Power Generation Pavilion at the Crysler Park Marina.

"Investing in our tourism infrastructure is critical to providing high quality tourist attractions in Eastern Ontario," said tourism minister Peter Fonseca. "Our government is proud to support the St. Lawrence Park Commission, which helps it remain competitive in the global tourism market."

The $2.24 million will go toward projects to improve the infrastructure of the area's attractions including campground upgrades, repairs to heritage buildings in Upper Canada Village, and site maintenance at Fort Henry.

"By maintaining and improving the infrastructure in the Parks of the St. Lawrence, we are helping to ensure the economic prosperity of the communities that rely on these attractions as tourism anchors in Eastern Ontario," said St. Lawrence Parks Commission chair Peter Watson.

The new funding will ensure the St. Lawrence Parks Commission's attractions are in good repair and will encourage new and repeat visitors to the area in the future.

"This funding will improve the park facilities for our visitors and help ensure the local tourism industry remains strong," said SD&SG MPP Jim Brownell.

Brownell mentioned that he and Fonseca toured Upper Canada Village on Thursday night (Aug. 7) and he noticed many new infrastructure upgrades like the addition of the Masonic Hall and the new roof on the pastor's house.

"They did work on the bathrooms, they did work on the ground, they did work on the not-so-sexy things, but those are the important things," he said. "We have $2.24 million to invest on infrastructure and enhance tourism opportunities — we'll have a community that's front and centre in the tourism industry."

St. Lawrence Parks Commission general manager Pat Mcdonald noted that this year's weather has made it difficult for people in the tourism industry, but that in fact local tourism has increased.

"The weather, economy, and gas prices are like a big knock out punch to the tourism industry," said said. "But this area has not been knocked down — tourism revenues are up 1.6 per cent and visitation is up five per cent (as of July 31)."

Mcdonald said this funding will help make capital projects a reality for the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, adding that next year the commission plans to develop some new attractions at the Crysler Park Marina to help "make this area a destination of choice."

OPG Pavilion offers musical mix

MORRISBURG — The St. Lawrence Parks Commission announced its lineup of weekend musical entertainment at the new Ontario Power Generation Community Pavilion.

"We are really committed to introducing new entertainment options for our boaters, campers, and other visitors to the region as well as for local residents to enjoy," said Pat Macdonald, general manager of the commission. "Providing a mix of musical entertainers — everything from rock to folk to broadway music — that will have a broad audience appeal is an approach we are taking this year to see what people like. Also, we are really focused on showcasing local talent. There are some really talented performers locally and we are proud to have a great new venue in which to showcase them to our visitors."

The weekly dose of musical entertainment kicked off on Saturday with the Tycoons and will run every weekend until Sept. 27.

Brockville-based performers Healy and Orr will be bringing their high energy, acoustic show to the Pavilion on Fri., Aug. 15.

Labour Day weekend will start with Graham Greer and his trio performing on Fri., Aug. 29. Greer will be showcasing new material. Closing out the holiday weekend will be two performances by the Seaway Valley Theatre Company's A Tour of Broadway at 8 pm on Aug. 30 and a matinée at 2 pm on Aug. 31.

The Trench Town Oddities will hit the stage on Fri., Sept. 15. A five-piece band playing an eclectic blend of pop, funk, rock, blues and reggae, they are a crowd pleaser for every age group.

Easy Pickins will take the stage on Sept. 19 and the St. Lawrence Acoustic Stage Company will close the season on Sat., Sept. 27 with their annual showcase of performers.

A crow was also found in the Manotick area, which is the first incident of West Nile Virus in Ottawa this year. Another crow was found in the Marathon area in the former Township of West Carleton.

West Nile Virus is contracted through the bite of an infected mosquito.

To date, no human cases of West Nile Virus have been detected in the area. Two weeks ago, the Press reported that a bird found in Clarence-Rockland Township tested positive for the virus.

Big speakers, big subjects for Canadian Club 2008-09 season

MORRISBURG — The Canadian Club of Morrisburg and District is preparing for its 2008-09 season when guest speakers will talk about subjects ranging from Canada's role in Afghanistan to whether or not the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms is working in the modern age.

"To me the [speakers] in November and May are the highlights," said Clara Edwardson, a member of the Canadian Club. "The one in November is the doctor who headed a medical team down in Africa. Wayne Burns — a member of the club — spent a month as a pharmacist in Africa as a part of this team. They were seeing five to 600 people a day. It's a wonderful mission they do, and it's all thanks to people like Christopher Fisher."

Fisher, the director of operations for the University of Ottawa health services, will talk about the Canada-Africa Community Health Alliance and its mission overseas on Nov. 19. Ralf Staebler, research scientist for Environment Canada, is delivering a lecture on atmospheric research in the Canadian Arctic on May 20.

Other speakers include Luke Geleynse on Sept. 18, an entrepreneur from Kemptville who is leading the development of alternative power in rural Eastern Ontario. Laurie Hawn, parliamentary secretary to defence minister Peter McKay, will speak on Oct. 15 and members of the Canadian Bar Association will be featured on April 15.

"In October, there's a special guest dinner where [the club] charges $15 per dinner instead of the regular $20," said Edwardson.

The Morrisburg branch of the club was founded in 1927, and has seen an average attendance of 110 people at each meeting, held at the Royal Canadian Legion in Morrisburg. The club is currently presided over by Alvin Runnalls, the Township of North Dundas mayor. The club is sponsored by 27 local businesses.

The club hosted its eighth annual Chicken Barbecue at Dairyfest on Sat., Aug. 9 to generate more publicity.

"It's not a service club, its a speaker and dinner club," said Edwardson. "It's to foster Canadianism."

Tickets are $20 per event and are available through Edwardson at 613-774-2407.

Laugh out loud

The 18 branches of the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry County Library run the TD Bank sponsored Summer Reading Club annually. At the South Mountain Library, kids from five to 10 years old meet every Wednesday from 11 am until noon to exercise the sense of humour with this year's theme of Laugh out Loud. Shawn Dubois (front, left), Hailey Dubois, Kiara Vandenheem, Shaina Vandemheen, Grace Snider, Kyle Oosterhof, library desk clerk Peggy Hawn (back, left), and teen volunteer Rachel Oosterhof had fun clowning around while making their own costumes on Aug. 6.

Barbecue bonanza

SD&SG Member of Parliament Guy Lauzon held his fourth annual barbecue Sun., Aug. 10. Close to 400 constituents were served by Lauzon's grandson Joey Morin (left), Lauzon, and his wife Frances. Lauzon explained that he and Frances like to host the barbecue at their St. Andrews West residence to give his constituents, who he considers his friends, a chance to visit their home. The barbecue was held in Lauzon's backyard under a huge tent that came in handy as rain began just as the event was ending.

So long summer

by Huguette Shaver

MOUNTAIN — Summer is on its last leg and soon children in the area will return to school with relunctance.

Even though this summer has been fairly wet, there are indoor activities in August and September to keep dry.

There are two new exhibits at the Old Town Hall in Winchester, "A History of Friendship and Helping: Social Groups and Service Clubs in North Dundas" and "Country Living," which both opened this past week. This exhibition is coordinated by Angela Beking, the heritage co-ordinator of North Dundas Township, and is a nice way to see what is going on in the community.

If you wish to explore this exhibition, the museum is open on Wednesdays from 2 until 5 pm and Fridays from 1 until 4 pm until Aug. 22. For more information call Beking at 613-774-2105 extension 239 or e-mail her at abeking@northdundas.com.

Sixty years of change at Rideau Hill Camp

by Matthew A. Terry

OSGOODE — "Not a lot has changed over the years," said Emily Farrell, an ex-camper and former staff member at Rideau Hill Camp (RHC). "The little things have come and gone, but the basics remain the same."

Those basics — family atmosphere, caring staff, and enriching activities — have not changed since the camp was first formed in 1948, despite the many changes to services, activities, and buildings at the site on River Road, which is owned by the Seaway Valley Presbytery of the United Church of Canada.

Campers originally stayed in tents in the wet summer of 1948, prompting the founders to build cabins for the next season — some of which are still in use today as either camper cabins, staff cabins, or storage. Many of the cabins have been replaced with newer, more spacious ones.

"The old cabins fit 10 people uncomfortably, but the newer cabins fit 12 and two staff members very comfortably," said Sheila Farrell, a member of the RHC board of directors.

Other changes to the camp include the construction of a pool in 1965 through a donation of $7,000 by Earl Connell of Spencerville, the addition of a pavilion in the south end of the camp, a new nurse's cabin, a new dining hall and kitchen, and a new dock.

The most memorable change was the donation of the bell — an old Ontario Northland Railway steam locomotive bell that was donated to the camp in 1955. The bell is used to notify campers and staff for meals, activity rotation changes, vespers, and other activities.

"I've been here for so many years that the bell is just the bell," said Emily Farrell. "It becomes a part of a camper's life here."

The bell has also been the target of many pranks, which were allowed up until recently. Campers would move it, or prevent it from ringing in order to gain a few extra minutes of shut-eye in the morning.

"I remember when they moved the bell," said Emily Farrell. "The staff couldn't find it in the morning. That one was a lot of fun."

While camper life no longer includes pranking, many traditions are still in existence, such as the talent show that runs on the last night of the week-long program, and the ghost stories. Most of the traditions revolve around the recreational hall, which was the first building erected on the RHC campsite and once included the kitchen and dining hall.

"There's this ghost story about the headless dog that runs through the camp," said Sheila Farrell. "People would run past the shutters and knock them closed, scaring everybody in the rec hall."

"Tagging" the walls of cabins, the recreation hall, and the dining hall is another camp tradition. Some names go back to the '60s and '70s, but much of the historical graffiti has been lost due to renovations, building upkeep, and other tags.

"It's quite sad," said Sheila Farrell. "They have to keep on repainting the graffiti."

Despite some history disappearing with the renovations and facility upgrades at the camp, some changes are welcome, such as the addition of modern washroom facilities this year. The old outhouses — still in use — were little more than a simple structure.

"I'm so excited," said Emily Farrell. "They have new flushing toilets."

The most important changes happen from year to year, with the addition of new staff and new programs.

"The content of the rotations has changed over the years," said Emily Farrell. "I think it has a lot to do with the change of kids' interests, but some of it has to do with the staff too."

Campers rotate through various activities — arts and crafts, swimming, recreation, nature, and canoeing during the day. Activities include making friendship bracelets or playing sports like soccer, but depending on the program directors, they can include animal tracking, plant identification, survival training, and fishing.

"It depends on the age group," said Emily Farrell. "One year we used sticks, fishing line, and hooks to teach the pee-wees how to fish. The seniors are learning things like how to build survival shelters."

But as she pointed out, while the little things have come and gone, family spirit remains.

"As soon as you walk through those gates, you become one big family," said Sheila Farrell. "You eat together, sleep together, hang out together, and work together. Everyone has their good times and bad times, and everyone helps each other through them."

Sheila Farrell was a camper at RHC in 1968, and once she joined the camp's board of directors, she discovered that another board member, Marge Milne, was a fellow camper from the same year.

Emily Farrell also has made lasting friendships, as she is roommates at school with two former staff members.

RHC remains the only camp of its kind in the Seaway Valley, and has camping programs for children aged six to 16. RHC also offers a "parents and tots" camp for young toddlers and parents to camp together, and a family-oriented camp where entire families — including extended family members — can strengthen family ties and enjoy the camping experience.

RHC will celebrate its 60th anniversary on Sat., Aug. 16, at 7 pm with a campfire. Anyone is welcome to attend the celebration and share in a sample of camp life.

For more information visit www.rideauhillcamp.com.

The government needs to stand up for rural Canada

Farming is the largest source of income in North Dundas Township.

Many are carrying on a family tradition of working the land. It's time for the government to take into account the value of hardworking families in rural areas.

Canada is the world's second-largest country by land mass, but over 80 per cent of the population lives in cities. Fewer than 6.3 million people occupy rural Canada.

Most rural Canadians derive their income from one source — the sale of commodities grown or raised on their land.

They are responsible for their property, and ensuring those commodities are up to the highest potential.

Many farmers go above and beyond to groom the land on which they farm — they are stewards who should be recognized and compensated for their work in protecting and conserving the environment.

When the government passes legislation that second guesses and blames the agriculture industry, it is not helping to unite the country.

Farmers naturally understand the importance of protecting drinking water and believe in practical approaches to protecting it — but legislation like the Clean Water Act has pointed a blaming finger at the agriculture industry instead of offering to share responsibility.

The bill suggests that the provincial government is not willing to provide compensation for land use restrictions that could impact the profitability of a farm.

Social, cultural, economic, and environmental impact must be considered equally when public policy is being developed.

Government policy needs to be adjusted to recognize the needs and potential of the agriculture industry and all it offers to our country. It's time that the country recognize and value the contributions of those who make their living from the land and supply food for our nation.

Government officials need to take a cue from the hospitality and generosity found in rural Canada (which is absent in much of urban Canada) and think twice when passing policy. It's the "mighty neighbourly" aspect of rural living that has been consistently under-appreciated by academics and public policy makers.

Jake McRoberts of South Mountain offered some lunch to a goat at the petting zoo at the South Mountain Agricultural Fair in 1998. Aside from the petting zoo, there were craft fairs, 4-H displays, the rodeo, a midway, a demolition derby, and a pedal tractor pull, which kept fairgoers busy during the picture-perfect weekend.

Remember when...

Two special services were held to re-open St. Matthias' Anglican Church in Winchester. The Venerable H. A. E. Clarke, archdeacon of Cornwall, officiated the second service. Clergy from Cornwall, Wales, Newington, Aultsville, Morrisburg, Iroquois, and Winchester attended the services. Both services were open to the public.

1958

A record 500 students were expected to enrol at Winchester Public School and Winchester High School for the beginning of the new school year. A new classroom for the public school was finished in time for September, and a new teacher was hired, bringing WPS's staff to eight.

1968

The Bank of Montreal's Winchester branch held an open house, which allowed Winchester residents to tour the new bank office. Edward Creaser, formerly an accountant at the Bank of Montreal's Kingston branch, was the new manager of the Winchester office on Main Street.

1978

The fourth annual town merchants' pavement sale in Winchester was a success as several thousand people turned out to shop for goods ranging from furniture to corn. Merchants invited people from out of town to give shoppers greater variety of goods.

1988

A storm that knocked down power lines and destroyed crops tore through South Mountain, Hulbert, and Brinston. Mac Graham, a weather watcher from South Mountain, recorded rainfall of 146 millimetres in two hours, the largest amount of precipitation from a single storm that he recorded in 28 years.

1998

Eleven-year-old Kristi Assaly achieved First Class Honors with Distinction in a piano performance, a first for any student of John and Alicia Hutchinson's Village Music Academy in Winchester. The academy had over 60 students registered for lessons. While there were many distinction marks in theory, no other piano student at the Village Music Academy had impressed adjudicators from the Royal Conservatory as much as Assaly did.

Local ministry hosts annual dinner

The Editor:

True Love in Christ Ministries is a local non-denominational ministry and a registered charitable organization that is committed to being doers of God's word, bringing hope to communities locally and abroad.

Our mission is to bring hope to the hopeless, express the love of Christ in practical ways in our community and abroad. Through acts of kindness, deeds of compassion, and goodwill we give a helping hand to the needy, the poor, the widows, and the orphans in our own communities.

Our long-term goal locally is to reach out and touch all of Eastern Ontario with the love of Christ.

We offer opportunities for individuals and church groups to participate in short-term mission trips and receive a life changing experience.

Last year we were able to minister weekly to young single mothers, to provide Christmas presents to 53 children in our local community and to send 100 outreach items to a Vacation Bible School in Nain, Labrador.

This year, we have continued ministering to single mothers, organized a short-term mission trip to Mexico in March to reconstruct a garage being used as a church, as well as plumbing and electrical work to the pastor's humble house.

We do house visits, visit local businesses, and are involved in local outreach.

We received training in May to start a local homemaking school. This 12-week homemaking program teaches single mothers how to effectively manage their homes with easy routines and tips designed to help them enjoy their children and homes.

We are very excited about making this project a reality.

Our Third annual dinner and auction is on Sept. 6.

This year it will be held in Chesterville at the Heritage Restaurant on Water Street. Our theme is "railroad station," and the restaurant will be decorated with the train theme.

The Morrisburg Model Railroad Club will have a magnificent display with all the bells and whistles.

This is our biggest fundraising event of the year and we count on the support of the surrounding communities to make it a success.

Tickets are $25 each and can be purchased at the restaurant or by calling Lynn at 613-989-3042 by Aug. 31. Only 200 tickets have been printed.

It will be an evening of great food, wonderful auction items, great railroad displays, and a chance to join together with old and new friends to make this charitable event a memorable success.

We can arrange to deliver tickets. If anyone needs transportation to attend, please contact us and we will do our best to accommodate.

We take this opportunity to thank everyone, businesses and individuals, who have been supporting our efforts in the last two years — in attending the events or donating items for the auction.

We've had local artists donating art and we hope to offer local treasures again this year.

During our event, we will unveil our ministry banner and our website.

For more information please e-mail tlcford@hmnet.net or call 613-989-3042.

Organs, they're in you to give

The Editor:

As I laid giving blood, I couldn't help but think about a letter to the editor I had read in the Cornwall Standard Freeholder titled "NDP body parts."

I would like to say first of all that there is no greater feeling than giving the hope of life to another human being.

Unfortunately, many people don't even pay attention to the donor card when getting their driver's license.

I do agree that it should be the choice of every individual whether or not they want to be an organ donor. However, I also believe that if most people were asked point blank if they wanted to donate they would say yes.

It is our nature to want to help.

With nearly 1,700 people in Ontario on a waiting list and between 140 and 250 dying each year before they get transplants, we definitely could do better to increase the amount of donors.

I think when any government card is issued, whether it be a health card, driver's license, or passport, the question should be asked and a symbol of a donor should be on these cards.

This would be inclusive for those who don't drive.

As for the part of the letter stating that the government needs organ donors, it is not the government, but someone's child, mother, father, husband, wife, sister, brother, and so on.

The family of an organ donor is not left with nothing, they are left with the amazing feeling that because this person donated, someone else will live.

What an amazing gift to leave your family.

Neighbourly caution

A concerned Winchester resident stopped by the Press office Tuesday morning. He had been walking around the hill at the 100 Club Park and found unexploded fireworks on the ground. He was on his way to let the police know, but wanted to caution other residents.

Safe driving nod

The Editor:

We want to say thank you.

Our children listened today when we asked them to look both ways before crossing the road. They learned to play safe.

Our grandchildren were able to visit us today, bringing joy and laughter to our home.

Our teenagers obeyed the rules of the road today as they learned safe driving habits.

Our friends met us as expected today after travelling from a long distance away.

Our parents made it across the street safely after visiting the shops in town.

And for all these seemingly simple acts we truly must thank all of the people who drive through town responsibly. We thank our dedicated police force for asking drivers to be aware of pedestrians, cyclists, and pets in town.

Thank you to everyone who realizes that speeding can hurt or kill. Thank you to everyone who takes the time to slow down in town.

From the moms, dads, grandmas, grandpas, sisters, brothers, uncles, aunts, and friends of Winchester.

To speak to a person, press one

The Editor:

This letter is directed to the doctors and business manager of the St. Lawrence Medical Clinics in Morrisburg, Iroqouis, Ingleside, and Cardinal.

For years, the doctors, nurses, and staff at the St. Lawrence Medical Clinic have provided an excellent service to all its surrounding communities.

It was always reassuring to know that when you called to make an appointment you were greeted with the kindest of words in the most professional way.

I was so displeased when I called my clinic to make an appointment and was greeted by an electronic phone service.

After pushing several numbers I finally got connected to a receptionist, who then said that a nurse would call back at the end of the day.

Why have you resorted to such impersonal measures? Seniors especially need to feel that their doctor is only a phone call away when they are sick.

Recently a poll was conducted on a local radio station asking its listeners, "What aggravates people the most?" Over 80 per cent said junk mail, but coming in second was electronic phone services.

Please don't lower your standards.

Bring back the old system or simplify the new one, if for no other reason then to lower our blood pressure.

I feel sorry for our seniors!

Saving plants one day at a time

Ask a Master Gardener
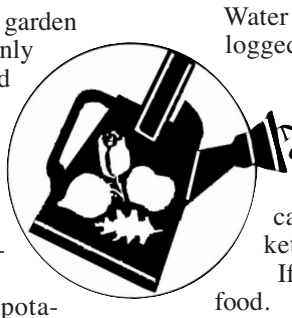
by Mary Rowsell

Q: My tomatoes have dark blotches on the leaves and stems and some of the leaves have died.

Last year they went black and rotten on the base of each fruit. What can I do for the blotches and can I prevent the fruit from rotting this year?

A: The blotches are caused by a fungal blight disease. Spores germinate in wet humid weather when the days are hot and the nights are cool.

The airborne fungus winters in the garden soil, therefore it's very important to not only clean up well in the fall, but it's a good idea to plant your tomatoes in a different location each year.



Tomatoes need well-drained soil, full sun, and plenty of deep watering from ground level. Make sure the plants are well spaced for good air circulation.

Don't plant your tomatoes close to potatoes or eggplant. Remove and destroy all badly infected leaves or the whole plant.

If all else fails, spray infected plants with a synthetic fungicide specifically for tomatoes.

Q: I bought a fuchsia hanging plant and it seems to be dying. What have I done wrong and can I save it?

A: Fuchsias grow well in containers both indoors and outside and should flower from spring until late fall.

Put the hanging planter in a spot where it is shaded from the hottest part of the day and preferably out of the wind.

Water daily to keep the soil moist, but not waterlogged, and never leave the container standing in water.

Check the soil around the base of the plant for small possibly green or white fertilizer pellets or call the nursery where you purchased the basket to see if these have been used.

If this is the case, the planter will not need extra food.

If no long-life fertilizer has been applied, use a well-balanced liquid fertilizer on a monthly basis.

Send any of your gardening questions to mg.questions@ripnet.com and watch this column for a response.

Kids enjoy film, kites, honey workshops

VERNON — Last week, the Osgoode Township Historical Society and Museum in Vernon was the place to be if you were a kid.

Three workshops for children ran from Aug. 5 to 7 at the museum, teaching historical film making, beekeeping and honey production, and kite making. The workshops were well attended with 34 children participating over the three days.

On Aug. 5, the kids made historic zoetropes — a simple cylindrical machine that, when spun, produces animated images — and other early forms of moving pictures. The children also learned how to write a film script.

The second day featured Bette Crerar from Crerar's Honey who talked about the process of making honey. The children tasted different types of honey and learned about beekeeping tools. The children made beeswax candles and participated in several craft activities revolving around bees.

On Aug. 7, the youngsters built kites and folded paper airplanes.

The Osgoode Township Historical Society and Museum thanks all volunteers who helped with the workshops.

Ball tournament a success

This year marked the 18th annual Osgoode Family Ball Tournament, which is a fundraising event that sees 16 all-family teams in friendly contention for the coveted John Downey Memorial "A" trophy and the Dick Blanchfield Memorial "B" trophy, while also raising funds for Ottawa-based charities. This year, the Make-a-Wish Foundation of Eastern Ontario was the lucky beneficiary of the proceeds of the tournament. The committee is pleased to report that this year's tournament netted the highest profit to date with $5,000 going to the Make-a-Wish Foundation. To date, over $80,000 has been raised through the tournament.

Smaller donations will be made to the Township of Osgoode Care Centre and the Osgoode Youth Association (O-YA). Many of the families involved in the tournament have been participating since its inception, and there is even a waiting list. This year 15 teams — Blanchfield, Bracken, Brogan, Brophy, Chambers, Churchill, Clingin/Seabrook, Dewan, Downey, Kelly, McEvoy, Moloughney, Quinn, Rowan, and Thompson — competed for the trophies.

The "A" division title went to the Downey family, who defeated the Brogan family 14-9. In the "B" division, the Brophy family defeated the Kelly family 16-11.

Hazardous waste day Aug. 16

OTTAWA — The City of Ottawa is hosting a one-day household hazardous waste collection depot at Drain-All Ltd. on Sat., Aug. 16 from 9 am to 4 pm.

This depot provides a convenient way for residents to help keep the environment free of hazardous household waste. Attendants will unload the hazardous material and dispose of it safely.

Some examples of household hazardous waste include: energy efficient light bulbs, turpentine, aerosol containers, fire extinguishers, pool chemicals, insecticides, stains, wood preservatives, barbecue starters, propane tanks, oven cleaners, disinfectants, herbicides, fungicides, furniture strippers, gasoline, and window cleaners.

Waste oil can be brought back to a Take it Back! partner retailer; check the city's website (www.ottawa.ca) under recycling and garbage for a list of 100 retailers that take back oil.

Latex paint can be hardened at home with clumping kitty litter or a commercial paint hardener. The hardened paint can be put out in a regular garbage bag. Recycle the empty, cleaned paint can (with the lid removed) in a blue box.

The depot will be located at Drain-All Ltd., 2705 Stevenage Dr., between Hawthorne Road and Russell Road, south of Walkley Road. No commercial waste will be accepted.

Hidden treasure discovered during opening of museum's new exhibit

By Matthew A. Terry

WINCHESTER — Dr. Larry Gray of Winchester discovered school registration documents and diplomas in a scroll case belonging to Dr. Samuel Brown during the grand opening of the service groups and country living heritage exhibits at the Winchester Old Town Hall museum on Wed., Aug. 6.

"This is amazing, I never thought to open it," said student heritage co-ordinator Angela Beking, who is in charge of the "A History of Friendship and Helping: Social Groups and Service Clubs" and "Country Living" exhibits in the museum.

The scroll case, previously unopened, was found in the bottom of Brown's medical bag, along with several surgical tools, stethoscopes, and two Bibles, including the Brown family Bible. Inside the case were several registration papers for university and high school, entrance papers to surgical school, and a McGill University doctorate dated "Septem, mensis Iulius, MCMXII" — or July 7, 1912.

Former area doctor's papers found

Beking said she will consider adding the documents to the Brown exhibit.

Other displays in the exhibits feature documents and items belonging to various organizations throughout the area, including the Freemasons, Lions Club, Women's Institute, the 100 Club, and the United Senior Citizens of Ontario.

"It was the suggestion of the past heritage co-ordinator," said Beking about creating a social groups exhibit. "I had a grandmother in the Women's Institute, but I never really knew what they did, so it was [a way] for me to learn what they did. I visited the Senior Citizens of Ontario meeting, and I became interested in learning more about them. I then became interested in the Lions. It became more of a learning experience for me."

The "Country Living" exhibit features an old dental cabinet owned by Dr. Harold Beach — and manufactured by W. F. Beach and Co. — and a display of items used in the daily practise of a local veterinarian Dr. Dalton Dockstead-er, originally of Chesterville.

"I hope that [people] enjoy taking a stroll through memory lane," said Beking. "I really hope that people who see the exhibit will enjoy reminiscing about North Dundas's past. It's a very rich history that we have to be explored."

The previous exhibits — "School Days" and "The War Years" — were well received by the public, according to Beking, with a total attendance of over 100 people.

"Everyone seemed to like the pictures, remembering faces from their past," said Beking.

The current exhibits will be open to the public every Wednesday from 2 to 5 pm and Friday from 1 pm to 4 pm until Aug. 22.

4-H field crops club members getting ready for achievement day

by Christina Lillico

WINCHESTER — The Dundas 4-H field crops club, the Young Cash Croppers, held its fifth meeting at the Eastern Crop Doctor Test Plot on County Road 43 on Mon., July 21.

4-H UPDATE

The meeting was open by the president, who introduced one of the guest speakers Tom Nicol, an agricultural crop consultant. Members toured the test plot as Nicol explained what they are trying to achieve with the different varieties of crops.

Breaking into groups members walked around and identified different weeds. Each member was to bring a problem they found in one of the corn fields and Nicol explained how the problem can be corrected.

The second guest speaker of the evening was Jim Arbuckle, who is actively involved in field crop judging at local fairs. He taught the club what to look for when judging corn cobs, wheat, and beans, as well as how to prepare a sample for the fair. Members were then given a class of white beans to judge and the official placing was given by Arbuckle.

Members thanked both speakers. The meeting was closed and snacks followed.

For the club's final meeting, members met at Agri-Partners in Winchester on July 31. Members were greeted by one of the owners, Tim Moher, who showed the group the computer system that farmers can use to receive up-to-date information on the weather and crop pricing.

Next, members compared a variety of crop budgets, and together priced out how much it would cost to plant a field from start to finish and what the projected profit could be for that crop.

Then the group ventured outside to the chemical storage building where both Moher and employee Brenda Velthuis talked about the different chemicals Agri-Partners carry and how to properly store and use them.

Each member observed the area and identified the many safety protocols that were in place. A tour of the fertilizer building was given and the club learned how a farmer can receive a load of fertilizer. The tour finished with a look at the spraying equipment.

Members thanked both guest speakers and discussed the crops to be shown for the achievement program at the South Mountain Fair. The meeting was closed and members enjoyed pizza.

Dairyfest: a done deal

Eleven-year-old Sean Arel of Winchester put on the fatal vision goggles and walked the line at the Road Safety Challenge at the main corner of the village during Dairyfest on Saturday.

Above:
This giant cake was cut up and served at the official opening ceremonies of Dairyfest on Sat., Aug. 9. Shown here with the cake are: North Dundas Mayor Alvin Runnalls (left), SD&SG MPP Jim Brownell, Gerry Boyce of the Morrisburg Canadian Club, North Dundas councillor Eric Duncan, who represented MP Guy Lauzon, Dairyfest co-chair Janine Stevenson, Linda McMahon of Dairyfest sponsor Parmalat, and Dairyfest co-chair John Orton.

At right:
Five-year-old Ethan Ball tried out most of the rides on the children's midway at Dairyfest.

As a new attraction at Dairyfest, Marionville's Carnage Paintball Pro Shop set up a playing field behind the arena. Between paintball competition demonstrations the playing area was open to anyone who cared to try their hand at the sport.

Above:
The antique tractor display and parade returned to Dairyfest this year. A number of new models joined the procession as it wound its way through the streets of Winchester. As usual, the parade proved to be a treat for residents at Dundas Manor retirement home and for those sitting on the lawn at the Nor-Dun Seniors Centre.

Above:
The Dundas County Players added to Dairyfest events with an afternoon of comedy. The troupe presented three Monty Python skits and a murder mystery spoof. Tom Henbest (left), Lauren Casselman, and Isaac Bols were part of the cast.

At left:
North Dundas community development programmer Meaghan Elder (left) and Jamie Shadbolt, owner of Shadbolt's Stedmans V&S on the corner of Main and St. Lawrence Street, deejayed the jiu jitsu and kickboxing demonstrations on Saturday.

At right:
Four-year-old Megan Thompson was happy to receive a hug from Handy, the Home Hardware mascot.

Shihan Norm Beauchamp (left) and Sensei Daniel Gasser, both of Chesterville, gave a jiu jitsu demonstration at the main corner on Saturday. Beauchamp and Gasser are instructors at the Therien Jiu Jitsu and Kickboxing dojo in Chesterville.

Canadian Juno Award winning rocker Kim Mitchell was the headliner for the opening night of this year's Dairyfest on Fri., Aug. 8. The audience had come to hear Mitchell classics and he delivered.

Photos — Barbour, Terry

Stacey Kelly played for Winchester's Bud team in the 16th annual Three-Pitch Baseball Tournament that ran throughout the Dairyfest weekend at the ball diamonds behind the arena.

Julia (left), 10, and Lindsay Johnston, 12, of Lindsay, Ont. visited their grandmother Sherrill Johnston of Winchester for Dairyfest and enjoyed a breakfast of pancakes and sausages Saturday morning.

Eight-year-old Kaileigh Vautour (left), Sheylyn Summers of the North Dundas Fire Department, and two-year-old Scott LeBlanc, all of Winchester, enjoyed the annual pancake breakfast held in the North Dundas Fire Department Winchester detachment garage on Sat., Aug. 9.

OPP auxiliary Const. Doug Behn (back, left), OPP auxiliary Sgt. Jason Flaro, paramedics Leigh Keeler and Andrew J. Van Der Hayden, Eastern Ontario Health Unit health educator and promoter's Adrienne Wallace and Julie Ethier, North Dundas Township Fire Department Winchester detachment firefighter Tony Fraser, OPP auxiliary Const. Sherry Stewart, OPP auxiliary Staff Sgt. Al Jodoin, and North Dundas Township Winchester detachment firefighters Paul Pilotte (front, left) and Chris Helmer gathered for a photo at the Road Safety Challenge station at the main corner of the village on Saturday.

Keeper Mike Casselman has three shutouts.

OTTAWA — Dave Coady booted in a pair of goals and keeper Mike Casselman make a large save on a late penalty kick as the Winchester Sonics blanked the host OSU Chargers 3-nil.

Winchester was holding a 3-0 lead on the Chargers who were awarded a late penalty kick with five minutes left in the match. Casselman preserved his second consecutive and third shutout of the campaign making a diving save on the attempt.

The road victory, posted at Grovehurst Park on Aug. 6, lifted the Sonics into second place in the Ottawa Carleton Soccer League's Mens Rec 3 rankings with a record of 7-1-2. CUSC (9-0-2) stands number one in the 15-team loop with 29 points. Winchester has 23, the CPSC Knights (7-3-1) 22 and the OSU Chargers (6-3-1) 19 points.

"We played a top-four team and dominated from start to finish," offered Sonics' forward Will O'Connor. "It is looking good for us to finish in the top two, which is necessary to move up a division next year."

Julian Whittam and Jason Catellier engineered the play and Dave Coady finished it drilling his first goal which established a 1-0 first half lead for Winchester.

Coady came through again in the second session opening up a 2-0 gap. He gathered in a feed sent to him by O'Connor and Shawn Francis, fought off two defenders and blasted the ball into the back of the Charger cage.

The third and final Winchester marker resulted from a throw-in by O'Connor. He spotted Mike Ennis who was breaking to the Charger goal area, took the ball off his chest and then sent a high shot over the keeper's head and into the top corner of the mesh.

Tonight (Wed., Aug. 13) the Sonics play their final home game of 2008 at Mountain Memorial Park when they host the Lynwood Red Star (3-5-1).

Winchester's final three games of the season will be played on the road and will include a showdown with the number one-ranked CUSC side on their Queenswood Ridge turf on Aug. 20.

Rolls throws no hit ball, Sox finish in second place

WINCHESTER — They didn't have to swing a bat or pitch a ball but the Winchester Sox were able to record their 14th victory of the 2008 National Capital Baseball league season.

Monday night (Aug. 11) the Sox were supposed to host the Aylmer Cyclones in their final Tier 3 game of the regular season. Aylmer (7-15-0) defaulted and Winchester improved its record to 14-9-1, good enough for 29 points and second place in the seven-team division standings.

Winchester finished the season on a four-game winning streak and a game and a half behind the top-ranked Raiders. The former Tier 2 Sox compiled a run differential of plus 95 outscoring the opposition 245-150 in 24 games.

League play wraps up this weekend (Aug. 17) and the play-off schedule should be released early next week.

The first-place Raiders (15-7-0), Winchester (14-9-1), the Barrhaven City Chiefs (13-10-0), Expos (12-10-1) and Braumeisters (11-13-0) have all qualified for post-season play. The first and second-place team claim home-field advantage in the playoffs and the top three squads earn a first-round bye.

Winchester manager Chris "Edgar" Hart said he was pleased that the team achieved its primary goal of qualifying for the playoffs and noted the five teams headed for the post season are very well matched.

Numbers up for triathlon

CORNWALL — Registration for the Cornwall Red Cross Triathlon is on the rise, and it's no wonder because this triathalon takes place on closed roads. Being free of traffic, the course creates a safe environment for the athletes, many of whom are young competitors.

The races take place along the St. Lawrence River under the watchful eye of hundreds of volunteers and spectators committed to a safe and fun event for all.

"We are thrilled to see an increase in our registration numbers," said triathlon committee board chair Fernand Hamelin. "It is important for communities to encourage participation in such active, fitness-related events, especially in young people and there is no better way to do so than for adults to lead by example."

The event attracts competitors from across Ontario, Western Quebec, and the United States for both the youth and adult races, which take place on Aug. 16 and 17 respectively.

For registration or more information about participation in the triathlon or volunteering for the event visit www.cornwalltriathlon.com.

Ontario Power Generation made a donation to the youth portion of the Cornwall Red Cross Triathlon on Thurs., Aug. 7. Participant Amanda Nurse (left), chair of the triathlon Fernand Hamelin, Ontario Power Generation public affairs officer Linda Halliday, and participant Alexandra Nurse were present for the donation. Amanda and Alexandra Nurse have participated in the triathlon since it started six years ago.

Rowing Club receives $33,000 from Ontario

MORRISBURG — The St. Lawrence Rowing Club recently applied to the Trillium Foundation for financial assistance and will receive $33,000.

The cheque presentation will be held on Sat., Aug. 16 at the beach in Morrisburg at 12:30 pm with SD&SG MPP Jim Brownell set to congratulate the club on its successful application.

"This funding will benefit the St. Lawrence Rowing Club immensely," said club president Trish Morrow. "It will allow us to purchase rowing shells, improve docking and obtain shelter for some of our boats."

Also on hand for the ceremony will be a representative of the Ontario Dairy Farmers of Ontario. DFO donated $500 to the club, leading the rowers to paint one of their shells black and white to represent a Holstein cow. The club will have the rowing shell on display, and a demonstration of the sport will be provided by some of the young people who have participated in the youth rowing program.

The St. Lawrence Rowing Club is in its third season and has already introduced the sport to a large number of area residents. The club has provided rowing programs for high school students, youth and adults. The adult learn-to-row program has attracted new people to the sport of rowing from not only South Dundas, but from Chesterville and Ingleside as well.

The St. Lawrence Rowing Club operates in the old Galop Canal. Protected from the strong current found in the St. Lawrence River, the Galop Canal has been used in the past by rowing clubs and has a 1,000 and 2,000 metre course marked on its walls.

For additional information, e-mail the club at st.lawrencerowingclub@hotmail.com.
