Volunteers contend with wind damage

by Matthew Barbour

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — The brief but severe storm that tore through the region late Friday afternoon (Aug. 17) did a substantial amount of ripping in South Mountain and the ensuing damage threatened to curtail some events at the South Mountain Fair.

Mountain Township Agricultural Society President Darren Stitt said people watched in awe as the entertainment tent was destroyed by a strong north wind that blew across the fairgrounds.

South Mountain Fair attendees unaffected

"The anchors were pulled right out of the ground and the whole tent lifted up into the air where it waved like a flag for a while and then came crashing down over the stage," he said. "The stitching on almost every major seam was torn and it was ripped where it had landed on the speakers — they were sticking through the tarp. It's a good thing we didn't have a show on at the time — there were only four bartenders in the area and fortunately, they weren't hurt."

He said the midway was closed down for a period of about 30 minutes during the storm as a safety precaution but no rides were damaged.

"We didn't run and hide — we just jumped in," he said about the clean-up effort. "We were on the phone with the insurance company right away to see if we could clean things up or if they would want to see the damage first hand. They told us that as long as we have pictures, we could go ahead with the cleanup."

He described how the entire board of directors, many fair volunteers, and a number of friends immediately pitched in to clear out the damaged tent. He said the stage was soaking wet and presented an electrical hazard for the scheduled entertainers and their equipment. As a solution, a portable stage was rolled in from the other side of the fairgrounds.

"The first act was unable to perform due to the damage and they couldn't stick around because of the travel time required for their next engagement," said Stitt. "But after we cleaned things up, Great Scott came on early and played a few extra tunes and it was very nice of them to do that."

Here piggy, piggy

The popular Greasy Pig Contest returned to the South Mountain Fair this year. The record 105 children who took part in the event on Sat., Aug. 18 obviously enjoyed themselves and there were no losers, as each received a Freezie treat, compliments of Palmer's Cookhouse. Smirle voted to source water protection committee

by Bonnie James
Press staff

CASSELMAN — The local agricultural community has selected three representatives it would like to see sit on the Raisin-South Nation Source Water Protection Committee, the body that will help administer the province's Clean Water Act locally. North Dundas's Bill Smirle, North Stormont's Brian Powell, and South Glengarry's Shawn McRae were elected at a meeting in Casselman on Wed., Aug. 15.

"We had a good turnout," said Martha Harris of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture source water protection project manager, who helped organize the selection process with the Ontario Farm Environmental Coalition (OFEC). She explained that there were 13 candidates and 84 voters. The selection process required seven ballots, because winning candidates needed the support of 50 per cent plus one of the eligible voters present.

The selection meeting was chaired by Barbara-Ann Glaude of the Stormont Federation of Agriculture.

"I was extremely interested in representing the agricultural community," Smirle told the Press on Mon., Aug. 20. "I believe in farmers as excellent stewards of the land."

He explained that farmers have to be assured that they will not be penalized to protect source water. He also noted that most farmers already take measures to protect water on or near their property, and "we're not getting anything for that."

Smirle said he expects the agricultural representatives on the committee will have to take the role of educators, to make sure the rest of the committee members understand the role that farmers already play in protecting the province's water supply.

He also noted that the agricultural representatives will have to work hard to keep the agricultural community informed. He said he potentially foresees a website, regular reporting to agricultural organizations, and making himself available upon request to talk to agricultural groups.

Goal in sight

Josh Zuidema is well on his way to his goal of $5,000 in his campaign to buy soccer balls that Canadian troops can distribute to children in Afghanistan. In under two months of fundraising, he has collected over $4,000. "I thought it would be a little harder," the 13-year-old South Mountain resident told the Press about his fundraising efforts on Thurs., Aug. 16, just before the Mountain Lions Club donated $200 to the cause. Fair

Early in the evening, fair board members learned that the Avonmore Fair had just used a tent of a size similar to the one destroyed in the storm.

"We made some phone calls and that tent was here on site by 9:30 pm," said Stitt. "As soon as the band finished playing, we started clearing out the tables and chairs. After the midway closed, one of the owners of Crown Amusements came over and asked, 'How many people do you need?' Cory Arcand of Arcand Party Tents in Kemptville had arrived and he gave us directions on how to put up the new tent. By 4:15 am in the morning, everything was back to normal."

Stitt said the fair owes a great debt of gratitude to the community.

"The help we received from everyone is so very much appreciated," he said.

By Saturday morning, it was business as usual at the South Mountain Fair and unless they were told of the previous night's events, or took a few seconds to observe the tired look in the eyes of many of the volunteers, visitors touring the fairgrounds could not have known of the frenetic activity that went on into the wee hours of the morning.

Fair organizers were faced with a second challenge on Friday evening when the failure of a nearby transformer resulted in a power outage at the fairgrounds. Stitt reported that the transformer failure was not related to the earlier storm. He said the outage forced an interruption in the demolition derby.

"The firefighters who were on standby for the derby jumped into action and set up some floodlights and a gas powered generator, so the derby was resumed after only a brief pause," he explained.

Smirle

"I think we'll all have the same objective, but we'll have to work together to get there," he said about the committee members.

The names of the agricultural representatives will be submitted to the Ontario Ministry of Environment for approval by the Raisin-South Nation Source Protection Authority.

"The appointments won't be made until November," said Harris.

The breakdown of the 16 member Raisin-South Nation Source Protection Committee has yet to be finalized, but is shaping up to include one chair, five municipal representatives (one each from Stormont-Dundas, and Glengarry, Prescott-Russell, Leeds-Grenville, the City of Ottawa, and the City of Cornwall); five sectoral or land use representatives (three agricultural, one industry, and one commercial); and five seats for the general public (2) and organizations (3).

The Source Protection Authority has forwarded three names, in order, of desirable candidates who applied to chair the Source Water Protection Committee, but the appointment has not yet been made by the ministry.

Council shuffles rec funding

WINCHESTER — The North Dundas recreation and culture budget was shuffled slightly at the Tues., Aug. 14 meeting of council when the cost of some underestimated budget items resulted in the need to reallocate funds.

Council notes from North Dundas

The roof replacement on the building on St. Lawrence Street in Winchester, which houses the OPP and the Winchester library branch, was estimated at $75,000. The actual cost will be more than $40,000 more. As well, the Chesterville Arena roof restoration costs are $11,000 more than expected.

As a result, repairs to the slab at the Chesterville Arena will be delayed until next year, but there will be a lighting upgrade at the rink to the tune of $6,700, which was not budgeted for this year.

"I know the slab really needs to be replaced," said councillor Al Armstrong as he voiced some disappointment that the project would be put off.

Zoning bylaw changed

North Dundas council passed a zoning bylaw change to allow a garden centre and accessory greenhouse at 13957 County Road 13 near Morewood. A public meeting was held at the beginning of the council meeting, and no members of the public voiced opposition. The property will grow in size from 2.9 acres to 10.7 acres and the garden business will have its own driveway and parking.

Police update

SD&G OPP Sgt. Brent Mattice was at council to provide his monthly report and he noted that so far, summer events in the township — including the Chesterville Fair and Dairyfest — have gone well. In the past couple of years, police have had a very active presence at local events, with officers often checking IDs at the door.

He explained that the organizers and volunteers have done a good job.

"We try to work with them and make suggestions on how to improve," he said.

Councillor Eric Duncan inquired about the rules for amount of police or security presence for licensed events, noting it is a financial burden to community groups.

Mattice responded that while he wasn't aware of specific rules about number of officers, the OPP tries to plan for enough enforcement to ensure the event runs smoothly.

"We have to be visible," he said about police presence. "We have to be firm in dealing with people and do it professionally and safely."

Visioning update

The township's visioning exercise is on hiatus until September. With councillors attending the AMO conference in Ottawa this week (Aug. 19 to 22), it was decided not to have a second council meeting geared toward visioning this month.

Duncan said he was concerned that none of the visioning discussion and issue prioritization from the previous meeting, held in July, had been passed on to township staff.

Deputy-Mayor Estella Rose noted that the visioning exercise was not yet complete and there was not yet clear direction to give to staff.

"We were going to go into those areas in more depth," said councillor John Thompson about the general issues the council discussed at the last visioning meeting.

"When we get done in the fall we'll follow up on some of these recommendations," said Mayor Alvin Runnalls. "We still have three years left."

Duncan said he was particularly concerned with the delay on issues such as implementing a waste management committee, which all councillors had agreed was a good idea.

"There are some things we've all agreed on," said Armstrong. "Perhaps it is time to implement some of these. He suggested the waste management committee could be pushed forward at the first council meeting in September.

Contestants contribute

Dundas County Food Bank Winchester branch co-ordinator Judy Hilson (left) and Doug Beards, vice-chair of the food bank's board of directors, accepted a truckload of food from Dairyfest Amazing Race co-ordinator Heather Orton on Wed., Aug. 15. The food was collected during one Amazing Race challenge when contestants had to go door-to-door throughout the village canvassing for donations. The "Hellraisers" Al Beckstead and Carmen Therien accumulated the most points for gathering the most food during the challenge. This donation was completely separate from the 200 items and more than $300 collected at the gates to the Dairyfest celebrations at 100 Club Park on Sun., Aug. 12.

Pavilion potential at pool

WINCHESTER — Chesterville's Green Action Gang wants to erect a shade pavilion beside the town's swimming pool. Gang members Peter VanKessel, Stan Vanden Bosch, and Joe Cass were at the Tues., Aug. 14 North Dundas council meeting to discuss the project.

"We need your permission," said VanKessel, noting that the planned 16-by-24 foot structure would be on township property. He explained that the group has drawn up a plan for the building, but is concerned that an engineer's stamp of approval will be required and will add unnecessary cost to the project.

Township CAO Howard Smith explained to council that the township must enforce the provincial building code and asked chief building inspector Greg Trizinsky to clarify what the code states.

Trizinsky responded by telling council that plans for a public building must be approved by an engineer, no matter what size the building is.

> Chesterville's Green Action Gang gung-ho

"It's all volunteers," said Vanden Bosch about the Green Action Gang, and noted that additional costs and red tape are a sure way to squash a community's volunteer spirit.

Councillor Eric Duncan suggested that the township could potentially cover the engineering cost.

"I think with the three-quarters of a million we received for 100 Club Park, we could probably find a little bit of money to help you out," he said. "I think it's the least we can do."

Councillor Al Armstrong cautioned council about making a special exception for one project.

"If we're going to cover it (the engineering cost), we better cover it for everybody," he said, noting that the Winchester Lions Club is currently undertaking a very similar project next to the Winchester pool.

Armstrong said it would be illegal for council to waive the engineering requirement.

"We're not really looking for headaches," said VanKessel, noting that the group may decide not to proceed with the project if it is forced to cover the extra cost.

The Chesterville Recreation Association has plans to build shade pavilions at the Field of Dreams soccer pitch at the Chesterville fairgrounds in the future and councillor John Thompson suggested the two groups might find some savings by working together and using the same building design.

A River Lost to be shown in Cornwall

MORRISBURG — The documentary A River Lost: The Story of the St. Lawrence Seaway, filmed by David Jones of Morrisburg, will be shown at the Galaxy Cinemas in Cornwall on Sat., Sept. 15 at 11 am.

"There have been many requests for a second showing on a big screen since A River Lost premiered in Morrisburg, so I am very pleased that we have been able to make arrangements with the Galaxy," said Jones, a Carleton University student. "It will be great to see A River Lost on a big screen with a first class sound system."

Proceeds from the showing will be shared with The Lost Villages Historical Society. The society provided a great deal of support for the production of the DVD and Jones said he intends to return the favour by raising funds for their ongoing efforts to preserve the memory of life in the lost villages.

Tickets are $10 and are available at the Lost Villages Museum, Cornwall and Seaway Valley Tourism (the old jail in Cornwall), and from KAV Productions (1031 Lasalle Rd. in Cornwall).

A River Lost was produced by David Jones Productions with the financial assistance of many local sponsors and the provincial government's Summer Company program. To ensure that the production was of professional calibre, KAV Productions of Cornwall was contracted to provide filming and editing expertise. The documentary includes old and new film footage and photographs as well as interviews with residents of the area that lived through the construction period of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project. Provincial Greens nominate Kennedy

CORNWALL — The leader of the Green Party of Ontario, Frank de Jong, was on hand Aug. 10 at the Ramada Inn in Cornwall to congratulate Elaine Kennedy, the newly nominated candidate for the provincial Greens of Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry. Kennedy, a long-time community volunteer and environmental activist, acclaimed as the Green Party candidate for the upcoming provincial election at the meeting.

Kennedy, who received the prestigious Queen's Golden Jubilee Medal in 2005 for her extensive volunteer work in the community, has been involved with environmental issues for more than 20 years. From being the president and owner of the Cornwall Area Recycling Program in the 1970s, to her recent work as the chair of the Cornwall and District Environment Committee and the chair for the board of directors of the St. Lawrence Institute of Environmental Sciences, Kennedy's commitment both to the community and the environment is well-known.

"We could not have found a more impressive candidate," said Doug Beards, the out-going president of the SD&SG constituency association. "Not only is Elaine widely respected for her integrity and long-time service to the community, but she is deeply committed to the Green Party of Ontario values of sustainability, proportional representation, and grassroots democracy. She walks the talk of the party and lives by its values."

De Jong, who has just returned from a speaking tour of Australia and New Zealand, agreed.

"The nomination period before an election is an inspirational time for all Ontario citizens, regardless of which party they support," he observed. "When people like Elaine step forward to represent their community, it's an encouragement to all of us to become more active in the democratic process."

"In other countries, green party members have already been elected into government," de Jong continued. "And with candidates of Elaine's calibre our own time is coming. We need to think globally but act locally."

Kennedy, who drives a hybrid Prius and lives in an eco-friendly house of her own design, said she was elated by the chance to deliver the Green Party values to her riding.

"I know the environmental principles off by heart," observed the former elementary and secondary school teacher. "Now I want to go into the community and listen to what voters have to say. And I want to tell them about all the other facets of the Green Party."

For more information about the Green Party, contact Elaine Kennedy at 613-936-2240, Doug Beards at 613-989-1629, or Jeanie Warnock at 613 346-2313.

Ontario premiers' gravesites will be commemorated

CORNWALL — A new provincial government program will honour the achievements and leadership of Ontario's deceased premiers by permanently marking their gravesites with flags and commemorative plaques.

"Ontario's former premiers built the foundation for the excellent quality of life we enjoy today," said Minister of Culture Caroline Di Cocco last week at Quinn's Inn, next to St. Andrew's West Cemetery — the final resting place of Ontario's first premier, John Sandfield Macdonald, 1865 to 1871. "Commemorating their gravesites with flags and plaques is an important part of preserving our past and celebrating their achievements, which made our province a better place to live, work, and play."

The $412,000 program, to be developed and implemented by the Ontario Heritage Trust (OHT), will include flags, small bronze markers, and unveiling ceremonies for each gravesite.

The OHT program was inspired by a private members bills brought forward by Stormont-Dundas-Charlottenburgh MPP Jim Brownell.

"Ontario's former premiers helped establish our schools, health care system, provincial parks, and highways," said Brownell. "By marking their gravesites, the McGuinty government is formally recognizing their remarkable vision and preserving Ontario's heritage for future generations."

Stop the insanity

We can hardly wait until Sept. 10 when the provincial election campaign kicks off. Not because we're looking forward to the political stumping that it will herald, but rather because it will mean the end to the mountain of "good news" press releases flowing out of the current Liberal government offices.

We can barely keep up with the amount of funding announcements filling up our e-mail inbox and spilling out of our fax machine. The current government is taking every advantage to leave voters with a good impression before they head into the election.

In the past couple of weeks we've seen the Liberals commit to creating an $80 million Eastern Ontario Development Fund, present a plan to upload the costs of the Ontario Disability Support Program and Ontario Drug Benefits for social assistance recipients saving municipalities millions, and promise $117 to provide young girls with the HPV (human papilloma virus) vaccine to protect them from cervical cancer.

Of course not every announcement has been so grandiose. "The McGuinty Government supports dynamic public libraries," says one press release that details thousands more in funding to the province's Library Strategic Development Fund. As well, the province has launched a new website (www.ontario.ca/licensedchildcare) to help parents make informed choices about child care.

While all of these announcements are welcome and the projects they detail worthy, their timing is suspect.

If these programs and funding announcements had been made over the course of the Liberals' four year term of government, we would be much more apt to think well of the party and be supportive of its record in office. However, seeing that they have come in a barrage at the last minute of the term, we're left feeling grumpy that the government is attempting to bribe us with our own tax dollars. And that grumpy feeling leads us to think of other things this government has done that irked us — like the health "premium."

If this spending spree is supposed to leave us feeling euphoric, like a good bargain-filled trip to the mall, it's backfiring.

Storm damage

Seven poplar trees, some as tall as 100 feet, blew down at the corner of County Road 31 and Tollgate Road during the thunderstorm on Thurs., Aug. 16. Some of the trees landed on hydro wires, requiring both firefighters and Hydro One employees to attend the scene.

Remember when...

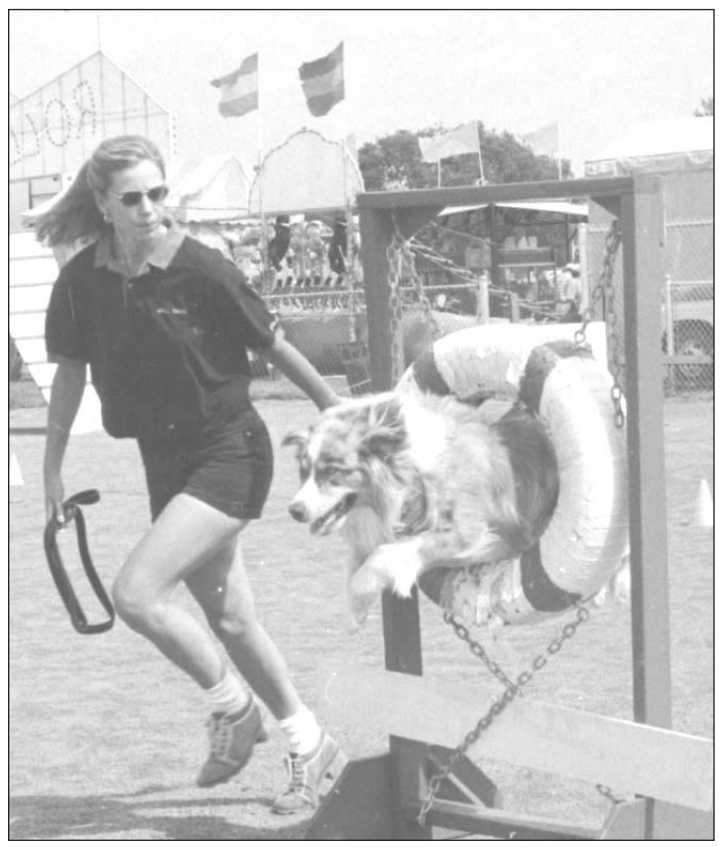
The Winchester Press discredited a sensational rumour about a mysterious light spotted in the English Church's cemetery at Smiths Falls, where a great hole had apparently been dug, covered with iron doors, and sealed with a chain and lock. Investigators later discovered the hole to be nothing more than a "small dugout made by some boys," complete with an iron sheet covering the hole in which they cooked eggs and "played at wild west life." More interesting, however, is the reporter's proceeding remark: "The KKK doings seem to have put the people of Smiths Falls in a panicky as well as superstitious state."

1937

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duval of Morrisburg were injured last Friday afternoon when a tree being felled by municipal workmen tumbled on the couple's car as they were driving along Riverside Drive. A branch smashed through the windshield, injuring Mrs. Duval and possibly giving her a concussion.

1947

Charles Kirwood of Toyes Hill barely escaped being gored by a bull this week in 1947. When Kirkwood tried to round up the bull, the animal charged and knocked him to the ground. The man suffered one broken and three cracked ribs.



Members of the Morrison K-9 Training Academy performed for visitors at the annual South Mountain Fair in 1997.

Winchester council was faced with the signing of another bylaw to pave the way for a new, revised deal with the Ontario Water Commission for the purpose of installing a village water system.

1967

After 20 years of neglect, the "eyesore, stench, [and] danger" associated with Winchester's Henderson Creek Drain was slated to disappear. Local landowners had implored the municipality to clean up the drain, and after some debate at council, funding was allotted to the project and Menard Construction of Green Valley won the contract. The project's tentative starting date was set for late August.

1977

The Stampeders, a Canadian rock band best known for their hit "Sweet City Woman," were going to play at Winchester Community Centre on Aug. 31. "Thanks to a tip from a friend in the business and to what otherwise would have been impossible financial arrangements, the date was set up," explained the Press.

1987

Police had no suspects and no motive for an act of vandalism that sent a 100-metre Bell Canada microwave tower crashing to the ground near Williamsburg. The radio transmission tower was toppled when five of the towers' one-inch steel cable guide wires were cut with what police believed was an acetylene torch. Officials estimated damage to be between $2 million and $4 million.

1997

"I know there is going to be a tragic accident as sure as I know today is today," village resident William Collins told council this week in 1997. The sidewalks of Winchester, he asserted, were being overrun with cyclists, and the *Press*s noted that there had been numerous near-misses involving pedestrians. Council deferred the issue to the OPP.

Life in the Golden Falcon

"Two trailer park girls goin' 'round the outside, 'round the outside, 'round the outside," — Eminem

From the Other Side
by Jeffrey Morris

Rather than renting a tent trailer and dealing with packing it, pulling it, and then not being able to back it up into the spot or unhook it or put it together or any of that, we opted for a camping resort next to the provincial park this year. The trailers were already there. We would camp in the luxury of the air conditioned Golden Falcon and sleep on an actual bed. It was kind of like microwave camping. In fact, the Golden Falcon even had a microwave.

When something seems too good to be true, well, it is. You would think, having worked as a marketing guy at a home shopping channel in the U.S., I'd have developed a radar for these things. Evidently not.

Our resort campsite was a glorified trailer park close to a lake. Come to think of it, there was nothing glorified about it. It lacked gloriousness. It was gloryless. Glory free. Without gloryage. Sans glorieux. If Eminem did a movie about the trailer park he grew up in called Eight Mile, then this was Eight Kilometre.

I stood on our deck, looking at West Lake, which sparkled beyond two more trailers. To the left, the garbage-restroom-laundry building stood a few feet away. It was holding up the stacks of bottles and cans in towers of blue boxes Lego'd on top of each other. Every fly in Prince Edward County was camping at that building. To the right, inches from our trailer, was another Golden Falcon. Our Golden Falcon was better.

Day One at the beach was great. Isn't it funny how history repeats itself? I put on sunblock one zillion, but I missed the same rhombus-shaped patch on my inner ankle that I did last year. By the end of the day, I had the same Javex skintone with a few trillion more freckles except for one spot, where a searing, painful red rhombus shaped chunk of the planet Mercury was now embedded in my skin above my right foot.

On Day Two we walked to the Dunes Beach, which was a short walk past the army of flies in front of the little white garbage-restroom-laundry building and through a path of poison ivy. There's an upside to poison ivy when it takes your mind off the spot on your leg where it looks like you tried to iron your ankle.

I wasn't quite sure what to think of this beach. We looked at the water, and there was what looked like a snowbank between the sand and the edge of the water along the shore. We took a closer look. It was foam. There was no way I was going in there. So I sent the kids in.

Of the three beaches at the park, the one we liked was closed for the rest of the week because of high bacteria levels. Suds Lake was open. Eventually, a park official told us what the foam was.

"Oh, that's soap washing up on shore from all the cottages doing laundry and stuff like that."

"Nice," I thought. It gives new meaning to the Tide coming in.

After a couple of nights, we decided to go out for dinner to a restaurant. We'll call it the Restaurant Overlooking the Non-Toxic Lake surrounded by Mr. Bubble.

As we checked in, we were greeted with a cultural paradox. The pompous waiter looked us up and down. Ew, a family. How bourgeois. Only two tables were occupied, yet he still had the gall to say, "Let me see if I can find a table for yous guys."

Yous guys?

Pardon me, but do yous guys have any Grey Poupon?

He must have known where we were staying.

Somehow, through a sea of empty tables, he found us one.

We ate a nice dinner overlooking Lake Cool Whip at sunset, and then went back to Eight Kilometre. I whistled the Trailer Park Boys theme as we came back into the park. The Pontiac Sunfire in front of the first trailer was still taken apart all over the front yard. It was, by the way, the only other car we noticed that had an Ontario license plate. I'm not taking shots at Quebec or anything, but aren't they a "have not" province and we are a "have" province. I guess they "have not" got any problems taking the summer off and heading to the campsites by the beach for the summer where we "have" problems finding campsites because they booked them all.

And nothing caps off a nice dinner at the Restaurant Overlooking the Non-Toxic Lake surrounded by Mr. Bubble than unwinding by the campfire. Well, we would have had a campfire, but they had just cleared the septic tanks at the park. Even I, the Helen Keller of smelling, nearly Olson Twinned up my steak after walking into this vortex of stench.

The next day, we took the ferry to Kingston and headed to, as my Texan sons called it, Fort Hank. It was built to protect us in case the Americans invaded us. Funny. They never did.

We left the Golden Falcon and came home a day early. I don't know about next year.

Do you suppose Marriott runs any campgrounds?

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Cruel fate for fox

The Editor:

The spring and summer of 2007 have not been very pleasant. It began with a very cruel and unnecessary event.

I live in Metcalfe. I have lived here for 48 years. One of the best parts of growing up here was the abundance of fields and forests to explore. We are fortunate to have our share of wildlife.

Unfortunately, this year we lost an entire family of foxes. I used to see the male occasionally when I went on walks. This year, sadly, was his last.

Someone who lives right in the middle of town set a leg-hold trap in their backyard and did not secure it to the ground. The goal was apparently to protect their garbage. (May I suggest garbage cans with lids and a bungee cord? Works great for me.)

The fox got the trap on his front, left leg. He carried it around for the next six weeks before his foot and the trap finally came off. Many people tried to help, but we were all unsuccessful. My special thanks to the NCC for coming out repeated times to help. The little fox tried to keep going without his foot. It was a sad sight. I thought he might be okay, but he got an infection and in the second week of June a police officer was called to help end this poor little creature's suffering. All told it took eight weeks for that little one to die. What an unbelievably cruel and thoughtless act. Unfortunately, it didn't end there.

Foxes are monogamous. They raise their young together. The female and one of the pups, which then lived at the den by themselves, are now both gone. The female is dead. I found the remains on July 10. I haven't seen the baby fox since July 14.

I saw the male fox a week before he got the trap on his leg. On one of my walks, I saw him playing in a field, enjoying the sunshine of a spring day. He was beautiful.

I have recently found out that the habitat where the fox dens are will be bulldozed for parking that will only be used three days out of every year. It is a small corridor of greenspace that has probably not been touched for 200 years. It is in its natural state and it is abundant with an impressive diversity of plants, trees, shrubs, birds, and small mammals.

We are as much a part of nature as it is a part of us. We have a responsibility to be good stewards of the land we live on and to take care of all the living things we share it with so that future generations may enjoy their rightful inheritance.

Barbecue draw

The Dundas County Food Bank was accepting donations throughout the running of this year's Dairyfest (Aug. 10 to 12) and in exchange, was handing out tickets on a draw for a new barbecue and an assortment of food items from Mike Dean's Super Food Store. The winner of the draw was Toby Byrne of Winchester. From west coast to eastern shore: Avid cyclist discovers the country

HALLVILLE — How does it feel to spend two months cycling across the country? By the smile on Katie Mitchell's face, it feels pretty fantastic. Mitchell finished a cross-country trek that raised about $7,000 for the Canadian Cancer Society on Aug. 10 in St. John's, Nfld.

"My biggest appreciation is for the people," she told the Press at her family's Shaw Road home on Thurs., Aug. 16 about what she had gained from her trip. "So many people helped us out."

Mitchell, who has spent the last six years attending the University of British Columbia, left Victoria, B.C. with her friend Chris Yearwood on June 8 and admitted they planned the trip as they went. She stressed that they found Canadians to be very friendly and that people went out of their way to help the travellers out, often inviting them for a meal or to stay the night.

Mitchell and Yearwood carried about 35 pounds of gear each on their bikes and spent most nights in a tent hidden off the road.

"We tried to at least hit a campsite every few days to shower," she said.

They cooked on a small stove and ate a lot of pasta, "and a lot of chocolate bars."

The pair averaged between 130 to 233 kilometres per day. One challenge during the journey was the weather. Mitchell explained that they ran into quite a bit of rain, and temperatures ranged from 2 to 40 degrees.

Press Photo — James

Other than the physical challenges the route presented, the cyclists didn't run into any real problems.

"I had one flat (tire)," said Mitchell, noting she had expected they would have more bike trouble. "I carried five spare tubes across the country."

She explained that she had wanted to cycle across the country without a support vehicle for some time, but it was her mom's battle with multiple myeloma (cancer of the plasma cell) that inspired her to do the ride and raise awareness about the disease and money for cancer research.

"Her cancer is currently in remission," Mitchell said. "But last year was particularly hard. This was what I could do to show my support."

People can still donate funds to Mitchell and Yearwood's campaign by visiting their website at www.life-cycle.ca.

"It's a huge commitment and there are some challenging parts... but it's definitely the trip of a lifetime," she said, reflecting on the achievement of her journey.

The cross-country cyclist has already moved on to her next adventure. She left on Aug. 17 to teach school in England for the year.

All smiles: Beavers Dental celebrates 60 years

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

MORRISBURG — When Dalton Smith began his career at Beavers Dental, he was an apprentice machinist and made 32 cents an hour.

"I could have made 33 cents an hour up the road (at the sock factory)," he joked. After 47 years with the company, Smith retired, but was exploring his old stomping grounds on Fri., Aug. 17 when SDS Kerr - Beavers Dental celebrated its 60th anniversary. The company opened its Allison Ave. facilities to the public and offered tours of the operation, followed by a reception and birthday celebration.

There are currently 340 employees at the Morrisburg company. It manufactures burs for dental drills — 400 sizes and types, up from the five general shapes produced when the company first started out in 1947.

"This is the largest carbide dental bur manufacturer in the world," said Smith proudly, reminiscing about the plant and employees over the years.

Burs are small cutters or bits used in dentists' drills. SDS (Sybron Dental Specialties) Kerr - Beavers Dental ships 70 per cent of its orders to the US, but also has customers in South America (Brazil) and Asia (China, Japan, and India). It sells to more than 90 countries around the world.

Smith eventually became a company representative who travelled all around the world not only to introduce people to Beavers products, but as a consultant to find out what dentists were looking for in the products they use.

"I always asked the question, 'How can we help you with this new type of dentistry,'" he explained, noting that Beavers developed 70 per cent of all high speed burs on the market in the world.

He said that the biggest change he's witnessed over the years is technology, and how rapidly it advances.

"There's certainly been a lot of changes," he said, noting that he remembers when the company was making burs for 3,500 revolutions-per-minute drills. Newer electric drills can allow the burs to move at 400,000 revolutions per minute.

Employee Shannin Hudson (left), retiree George Lewis, and controller Don McDonald accepted a certificate of congratulations from Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon in recognition of Beavers Dental's 60th anniversary.

Below:

Press photos — Duncan

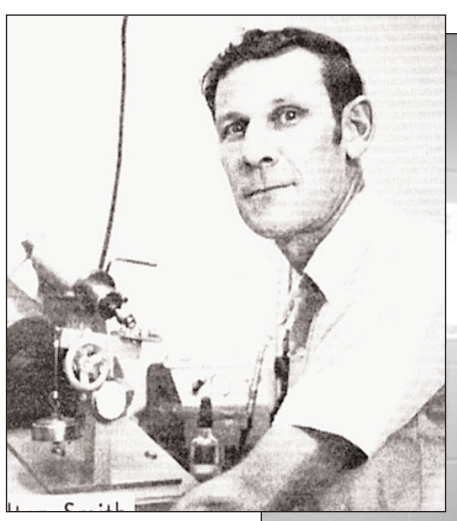
But, he said, new technology isn't available all over the world. When he visited certain parts of China in 1997 and 1998, he said he was surprised at what he saw.

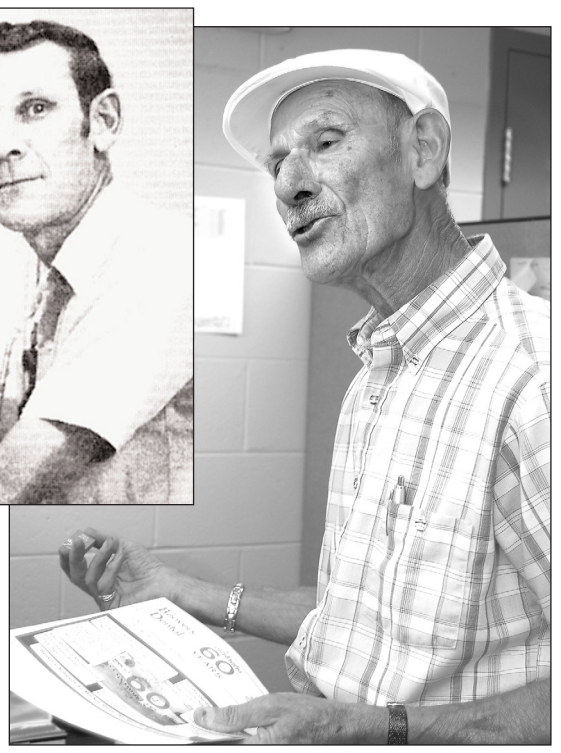
"It was like walking into a dentist's office here in 1930," he said.

In 1974, Beavers was turning out 2.2 million burs a year. Today, over 65 million burs are produced each year.

"This is a real success story, especially for this riding," said Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry Conservative MP Guy Lauzon while on a tour of the plant, referring to the high number of manufacturing job losses in the area in the last few years.

"There have been challenges along the way, but we've managed to overtake most of (them)," said company controller Don McDonald, noting that there's a good reason Beavers has been successful. "The work ethic, the dedication, and dependability of employees like Dalton, who was here to guide (others) along the way," he said.





Dalton Smith worked at SDS Kerr - Beavers Dental for 47 years, and still speaks of his early days at the plant as if they were yesterday.

SDS Kerr - Beavers Dental has come a long way from the days when it was the Challies Brush Company and manufactured toothbrushes — when they were hand thread and one employee could usually produce a couple-dozen a day. The toothbrushes were given to soldiers, who said the only thing they were good for was cleaning the soles of their boots.

The company today builds a lot of the automated machinery it uses to produce the burs on site. It producers both carbide and electroplated industrial diamond burs.

Beavers' annual payroll currently sits at $17 million. About 80 per cent of employees live in a 20-kilometre radius of the plant.

"In the future, we will certainly continue to face challenges such as rising costs, increased global competition, and customer reluctance to accept price increase," wrote McDonald in a commemorative brochure being handed out to visitors. "We are confident that by working together effectively ... We will be able to minimize non-value-added activities, seek continuous improvement, and better position ourselves to adapt to the ever changing, fast-paced world that we live in today."

Household hazardous waste pick-up

METCALFE — The City of Ottawa continues to ignore the wishes of residents in outlying areas in regard to household hazardous waste. While I realize it is expensive to hold hazardous waste pick-up locations away from the Trail Road Landfill, people will not drive that far to dispose of these materials. All rural councillors continue to pressure the city to set up a mobile depot for our household hazardous waste. It only makes sense.

Albion Road rally

Residents from across the city are coming to the Albion-Lester Road intersection on Wed., Aug. 29 from 4:30 to 5:30 pm to show their displeasure about this dangerous section of roadway. Police statistics show that the intersection is very dangerous and that Albion Road, between Queensdale Avenue and Bank Street, is more dangerous than before the restrictions were put in place in 2004. My motion to have Albion Road re-opened will now come to the Transportation Committee on Oct. 3. Please come out on Aug. 29. Visit www.openalbion.com for more information.

Volunteer Appreciation Awards

I certainly hope you can join us next Thursday evening (Aug. 30) at 6 pm at the Osgoode Community Centre for our free community corn roast and volunteer awards presentation. It is a great time to socialize, enjoy a great dinner, and support our volunteers. Please RSVP by calling 613-580-2490.

Historical book launched

In Our Defense: The Veterans and Military Heritage of Historical Osgoode Township is a long title for an absolutely dynamic book. Coreen Atkins-Sheldrick has spent the last five years researching and writing these two volumes. Last Saturday (Aug. 18) at the historic Metcalfe Town Hall, Coreen launched her outstanding review of our veterans and our military heritage. Call Coreen at 613-821-3950 if you would like to purchase this great two-volume book.

Diamond Anniversary

Osborne (Ossie) and Marie Waddell of Edwards celebrated their 60th anniversary last Sunday at Stanley's Olde Maple Lane Farm. Family, friends and neighbours joined to wish this lovely couple best wishes from our community.

Metcalfe Fair: coming soon

There is excitement in the air as we start counting down the days to our 151st Metcalfe Fair. It sounds like it will be another exciting record-breaking event. Mark your calendar for Sept. 27 to 30.

Quilters' fest kicks off IPM

KEMPTVILLE — The quilt competition and show is a traditional event within of the International Plowing Match (IPM) in which quilters submit their work for judging on appearance and workmanship. This year's pre-IPM event will take place Aug. 25 and 26 at the North Grenville Municipal Complex on Country Rd. 44 in Kemptville.

Show hours are from 9 am to 5 pm on Saturday and from 10 am to 4 pm on Sunday. An antique quilt display, fashion show, free demonstrations on new products and techniques of interest, a tea room, and a Merchant's Mall will be of interest to visitors. Admission is $6 per person.

There are 13 categories in this year's competition including works done by hand or sewing machine in bed size, wall-hangings, and wearable art. Over 100 quilts have been entered and organizers are excited about the quality and number of entries submitted.

This year, a venue outside of the IPM site was chosen to hold the competition and to display all the quilts entered. The Quilters' Festival is an IPM event being held in partnership with the Kemptville Quilters' Guild.

Quilts placing first, second, and third in all 13 categories — as well as those winning the Best In Show and Viewer's Choice awards — will be on display in the Janome Quilters' Showcase Tent in Tented City at the 2007 IPM site from Sept. 18 to 22 in Crosby in the Township of Rideau Lakes.

Merkley open house takes place Friday

CHESTERVILLE – Abbedale Farms, owned by Graham, Clair and Barry Merkley, welcomes visitors to view its new dairy barn at an open house on Fri., Aug. 24 from 10 am to 3 pm. The farm is located at 13035 Nesbitt Rd.

The new barn is a 68-cow tie-stall facility. The main dairy barn is 44 by 220 feet in size. There is an attached 40 by 90 foot feed storage centre with TMR, as well as a 60 by 28 foot calf barn and milk house.

This open house comes just a little more than a year after the Merkleys' previous barn was lost in a fire. There were 26 cows rescued from the blaze and the brothers opted to rebuild, and make some modifications.

Th new barn uses fewer fans and energy-efficient Plexiglass windows with automatic openers. Friends and neighbours are welcome to drop in on Friday to see the finished product.

This week at the market

by Pharmer Phil Labossiere

CHESTERVILLE — Plan on dropping in to the Chesterville Farmers' Market this coming Saturday (Aug. 25) for a Middle Ages experience with Medieval Day at the Market. Medieval personalities from the canton of Harrowgate Heath will be in attendance all morning with various displays and for the first time at the market there will be a sword fighting demonstration.

If that isn't enough to inspire you to visit, then come and check out the belly dancing demonstration. The Alika Farasha Dancers under the leadership of Barb Buchanan (a.k.a. Javanika) and the Beladi Dancers led by Evvy Bures will enchant and entertain one and all. Belly dancing will take place from 11 am until the market closes at noon.

Patrons are encouraged to come in medieval attire and bring in a donation for the Dundas County Food Bank.

$5,000 for Clean Water Program

BERWICK — St. Albert Cheese Co-operative has contributed another $5,000 to South Nation Conservation's Clean Water Program.

Co-op president Jean Gour presented the cheque during a recent Clean Water Committee meeting, where he cited the century-plus manufacturer's commitment to the environment. St. Albert Cheese has previously provided the Clean Water Program with $21,000 over three years.

Welcoming the latest contribution were Clean Water Committee chair Denis Perrault and SNC chair Gaston Patenaude.

The money will boost the clean water account, which contains limited funding for 2007. The funds are granted directly to landowners on a 50-50 participation basis to undertake projects that improve water quality on their properties and throughout the 4,000 square-kilometre South Nation watershed.

"It's gratifying to see the St. Albert co-op step up to the plate once again with another donation to help preserve and protect our natural resources," said Perrault.

Patenaude observed the contribution serves as an incentive to other industries within the watershed to assist with environmental enhancement projects.

Since its inception in 1993, more than 531 projects valued at $7.3 million have been made possible by over $1.8 million in grants under the Clean Water Program, with the committee actively seeking more partnerships to contribute to this important initiative.

Chesterville Rotary seeks participants for Sweden exchange

CHESTERVILLE — One of the exciting opportunities that Rotary Clubs offer to their local communities is the chance for people to travel to different countries around the world with the objective of promoting world understanding and peace.

The Group Study Exchange (GSE) program of The Rotary Foundation is a unique cultural and vocational exchange opportunity for young business and professional men and women between the ages of 25 and 40 and in the early years of their professional lives.

The program provides travel grants for teams to exchange visits in different countries. For four to six weeks, team members experience the host country's institutions and ways of life, observe their own vocations as practised abroad, develop personal and professional relationships, and exchange ideas.

For each team member, the Rotary Foundation provides the most economical round-trip air ticket between the home and host countries. Local Rotarians in the host area provide for meals, lodging, and group travel within their district.

This year the program for our district will take GSE participants to Sweden for 28 days in March and April 2008.

If you are interested in learning more about this exciting opportunity and whether you might qualify to become a team member, please contact Rotary president Murray Gordon at 613-824-3709. Applications should be mailed to Chesterville Rotary Club, P.O. Box 70, Chesterville, ON, K0C 1H0, by Sept. 1.

Additional information may be found online at www.rotary.org/foundation/educational/gse/.

Russell Fair prelude to 150th

RUSSELL — With the 149th Russell Fair just around the corner, the 150th Anniversary Committee is hard at work to ensure that the 2008 edition will be an impressive celebration 150 years in the making.

"To kick off the festivities, the Russell Agricultural Society will host a Salute to the Past Presidents Gala Dinner on Nov. 3, to salute the past presidents of the fair," said society president Judy McFaul. "The 150th Anniversary Committee would also welcome any kind of memorabilia, such as old ribbons, articles, and photos of past presidents."

Throughout 2008, activities and events will commemorate Russell Fair's legacy of "A proud past… A promising future."

"In preparation for this milestone anniversary, we are inviting budding artists to submit their entries in the cover design contest for the 150th Anniversary Russell Fair 2008 prize list," said Theresa Wever, chair of the 150th Anniversary Committee. "The winning image should reflect the agricultural history or highlights of past fairs."

Entries must be submitted to the fair secretary by Aug. 31, 2007. The winning image will be chosen by a jury and the selected artist will receive a $150 cash award.

For information on the design contest or to submit Russell Fair photos and memorabilia, please contact Wever at 613-445-8624 or visit www.russellfair.com.

While the fair has evolved over the past 149 years, this annual gathering remains a highlight every fall for friends, families, and neighbouring communities. Come "harvest the excitement" at the 149th Russell Fair on Sept. 6, 7, 8, and 9.

Happy Birthday Mom!

Bowering, Miller propel Sox to win

OTTAWA — Trevor Bowering's bases-loaded triple jolted the Winchester into a 7-3 lead and Kevin Miller's two-run homer sealed the deal as the Sox cuffed and stuffed the Ottawa Outlaws 14-6 in the opening game of their best-of-three National Capital Baseball League Tier 2 quarter-final series.

Winchester finished the regular season reeling off three consecutive wins — downing the Orleans Old Sox 15-6, the Metcalfe Mudd 10-9 and the Diamondbacks 17-6 — to clinch second place with a record of 17-6-1 and 35 points. Outaouais Tribu (19-4-1) grabbed the pennant collecting 39 points.

The Sox drew the Outlaws in their quarter-final set and slammed them 14-6 in Monday's (Aug. 20) opener at Southgate Park. Game two will be played at Morgan Field tonight (Wed., Aug. 22) at 8 pm. Should it be necessary, game three is set for Morgan Field Friday (Aug. 24) at 8 pm.

Winchester handed the Outlaws 12-6 and 7-2 setbacks during the regular season.

"They (Outlaws) shut us down early in last night," Sox playing coach Chris "Edgar" Hart told the Press Tuesday (Aug. 21) morning. "But Trevor (Bowering) bashed that triple with the bases loaded and got us going."

Hawks open camp Sept. 4

WINCHESTER — With a dozen players eligible to return and six overage skaters vying for four spots on the roster, the Winchester Hawks are set to launch the 2007-08 Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League season.

"We have 12 guys coming back, our overagers — who are all solid players — and some good prospects coming into camp, so I think we are ready," Hawks GM Craig "JB" Smith told the Press on Monday (Aug. 20).

Nick Enright, Travis Armstrong, Tony Manita, Scott Bradley, Brent McFaul and Steve Cameron will be competing for four overage cards. Colin Bowie, Trent McBain and Geoff Winchester have graduated from the junior ranks.

Smith said he is also pleased to announce that head coach Todd Marcellus is returning for his third campaign and that his assistant, Dale Murdoch, is also back on the bench.

"Todd and Dale are back. That's a plus for the team," he said. "They work very well together."

Smith is inviting any local hockey player 16 years-old or older to take part in the Hawks' training camp in Winchester.

"We want the local kids to come to camp (which starts on Tues., Sept 4 at 7 pm)." said the general manager.

Smith reports the players are back on the ice the following night (Wed., Sept. 5) at 7 pm.

"Things look good now. But you never know until you get to camp and see who comes out," added Smith.

Exhibition games

The Hawks will open their exhibition slate hosting the Ottawa Junior Canadians (formerly South Ottawa) on Fri., Sept. 7 at 8 pm. They will then meet the Canadians in Ottawa the next night (Sat., Sept. 8).

The Athens Aeros will provide the opposition the following weekend as they pay a visit to Winchester on Fri., Sept. 14 and the Hawks return the favour on Sun., Sept. 16.

Nagle, North Dundas blank Smiths Falls 3-0

SMITHS FALLS — North Dundas keeper Tony Nagle registered his third shutout of the 2007 South Side Soccer League campaign backing the North Dundas U18x United in a 3-nil decision over the host Smiths Falls squad.

Eric Carriere, Graham Peto and Kaylan Cryderman toed in the Aug. 16 road victory.

Tomorrow night (Thurs., Aug. 23) the United put the wraps on their season hosting Kemptville at North Dundas District High School at 6 pm.

North Dundas had a match against Merrickville slated for Aug. 9 cancelled and played the South Dundas Seaway Kickers to a 2-2 draw at NDDHS the previous week (Aug. 2).

Nathan Crump buried a penalty shot to put the United up 1-0 on the Kickers who managed to tie it up 1-1 just before the half.

Eric Carriere flew down the sideline and pumped a free ball into the back of the Seaway net early in the second half to put North Dundas up one, 2-1. Once again the Kickers battled back and tied it up 2-2, which held up as the final score.

"It was our squad's best game of the year," stated coach Jason Catellier. "The defence was sharp and it was an excellent effort by Eric Carriere who has really stepped up his play lately."

Miller, who finished the game with his 10th homer of the season, three runs scored, two RBI, a double, single and two walks (one intentional), insured the win going yard in the seventh inning.

"It pretty much went the way we thought it would — but," cautioned Hart. "It is never over until it is over."

Hart also noted his defence will have to be adjusted now that short stop Shawn Smail has left town to attend college in New York.

"Our defence will miss Shawn," added Hart who suggested he might now have to provide the team's middle-diamond defence.

The Outlaws led 1-0 after an inning, 3-0 after two and 3-1 after three frames. Winchester went up 7-3 in the fourth, added a run in the fifth, four in the sixth and three in the seventh inning.

Justin Morozuk toed the rubber and posted the win serving up six runs on nine hits, five walks and three errors. He fanned four Outlaws.

Winchester plated 14 runs on 10 hits.

Matt Ware and Miller each booked three runs. Trevor Bowering and Smail produced two each. Nik Paas, Hart, Chris Bowering and Jeff Beck each touched home once.

Blues meet Reds in ladies ball hockey "A" final

The Blues finished third in the regular season posting a record of 4-6-5 and 13 points but were perfect in the post season winning both games beating the Green Monsters 3-1 and blanking the Reds 1-0. McCadden's Reds topped the standings with eight wins, two losses and five ties, but went 1-1 in the qualifying round and earned a berth in the "A" final which will be played tomorrow night (Thurs., Aug. 23) at 7 pm.

This year's "B" final will pit Melenhorst's Green Monsters, who finished second with a mark of 5-6-4 and went 1-1 in the opening round, against Erwin's fourth-place Team Yellow (5-8-2). Yellow lost both play-off encounters.

Green scratched out a 4-3 win over Yellow in the final semi-final game on Aug. 16.

Blues 1 - Reds 0

A first-period tally by Karin Verhoeven stood up as the difference as the Blues nipped the Reds 1-0 in their championship game preview on Aug 16.

Jenny Van Gurp and Kelly Verhoeven engineered the game-winning goal supplying goalie Sandra Brunner will all of the offence she would need to register the win.

Green 4 - Yellow 3

Kim Elliott cashed in a pass provided by Laura McDonell with 43 seconds left on the clock, snapped a 3-3 tie, and lifted the Green Monsters to a 4-3 win over Team Yellow.

The Monsters led 3-0 after a period on a pair of unassisted shots fired by McDonell at 17:22 and 16:59. Angie Van Gurp enlarged her team's lead to 3-0 when she beat Yellow goalie Anne Derosiers after taking a feed from Laura Melenhorst at the 13:15 mark.

Yellow scrambled back into the game banking a pair of unanswered goals in period two. Kaitlin Beckstead put her team on the board scoring from Kelly Francis with 7:30 to play in the session. Francis then cracked in a pass from Emma Guy with 30 seconds left in the same frame and closed the gap to 3-2.

Kayla Beckstead snapped in an unassisted shot in behind goaltender Mark Melenhorst 9:29 before the final buzzer and tied the game 3-3 for Yellow.

Unfortunately for the fourth-place squad they weren't able to hold on and wound up on the short end of a 4-3 count when Elliott whipped home the winning goal with 43 seconds on the clock.

Graham goal gives Sonics ninth win

OTTAWA — A late goal by Bruce Graham broke up a scoreless encounter and lifted the Winchester Sonics to their ninth win the 2007 Ottawa Carleton MR4 Soccer League campaign.

Winchester's sixth consecutive victory, a 1-nil decision over the host Ottawa Raiders, was posted at New Edinburgh Park on Aug. 14 and improved their overall record to 9-2-1 (28 points). The verdict also solidified the Sonics' hold on second place in the 16-team circuit — a ranking they have to hold on to if they want to be eligible to move up a division to MR3 next season.

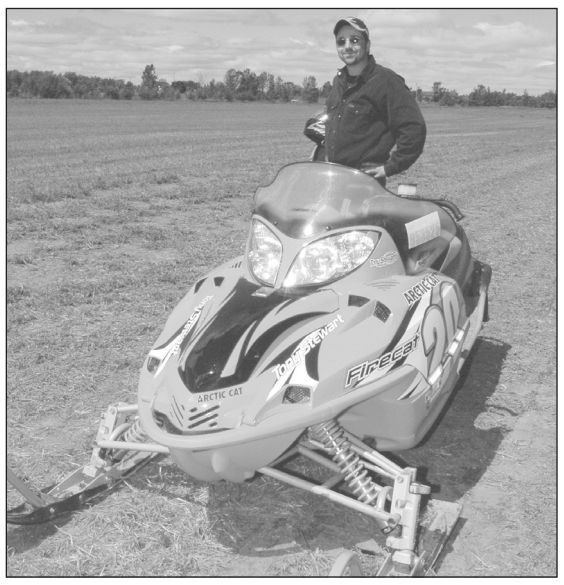
First place belongs to CUSC (11-1-0). Winchester stands second followed closely by the Lynwood Rangers, Hellenic, Gloucester United, Hellenic and A.C. Fiorentina.

Sonics defender Kenny Tuff reported the match presented few scoring chances for either side but Winchester keeper Mike Casselman was up to the task when tested.

Bruce Graham cracked in the game-winning marker in the 88th minute. Sweeper Alan Ross engineered the play sending Graham down the left side on a clearing pass.

"We held the Raiders off and posted the win," said Tuff. "It wasn't our most graceful game of the year, by no means, but we were all very happy with the result."

Last night (Tues., Aug. 21) the Sonics played host to the Hull Lounge (0-8-2) side at Mountain Memorial Park. Next week (Tues., Aug. 28) Winchester travels to Ottawa to take on the Centennials (5-3-4). They finish their season in Mountain on Sept. 4 with a game against the White Eagles (7-5-0).



Top speed

Gord Reid of Winchester raced his snowmobile in the grass drag competition at the 2007 South Mountain Fair. He competed in Sunday's finals after qualifying on Saturday afternoon in the Amateur Stock category. "My machine maintained a consistent top speed of 76 miles per hour in both races on the 660-foot track," he said. He indicated he is thinking about modifying his machine and perhaps entering the pro categories in the future. The Grass Drag Racing was a new feature at the fair this year and was organized by the Central Ontario Snowmobile Drag Racing Association.

Defeat Ottawa Spitfires 3-0

United oldtimers extend win string to four

CHESTERVILLE — Chris Johnson filled in for regular keeper Tony Wouters and registered a 3-nil victory over the Ottawa Spitfires.

Johnson's shutout was posted on the North Dundas OT5 United's home field and the Chesterville Fairgrounds on Aug. 17 and stretched the oldtimers' winning string to four games.

Prior to their 3-nil verdict, the United had knocked off the White Eagles 4-1, KS Stealth 5-1 and blanked Fitzroy United 1-nil. Their recent run has improved their Ottawa Carleton OT5 Soccer League record to 7-3-0 (21 points) and lifted them into a share of second place in the 16-team circuit with the Carleton Raiders. The Ottawa Royals (9-0-1) lead the parade with 28 points.

North Dundas survived an early penalty kick opportunity by the Spitfires, thanks to a solid stop by Johnson, and responded five minutes later with what prove to be the winning goal. North Dundas converted a free kick from the 30 yard line on the play as Hugh Grant cracked the shot and Terry Sloane tapped in the rebound and opened up a 1-0 lead.

The lead was expanded by Gerry McBain who netted North Dundas a 2-0 lead and Grant who made it 3-0. On both occasions the United attackers caught the Spitfire keeper straying away from his net.

North Dundas hosted the Ottawa Internationals last night (Tues., Aug. 21) and will travel to Grenfell Glen Park in Nepean to challenge the first-place Ottawa Royals Friday night (Aug. 24).

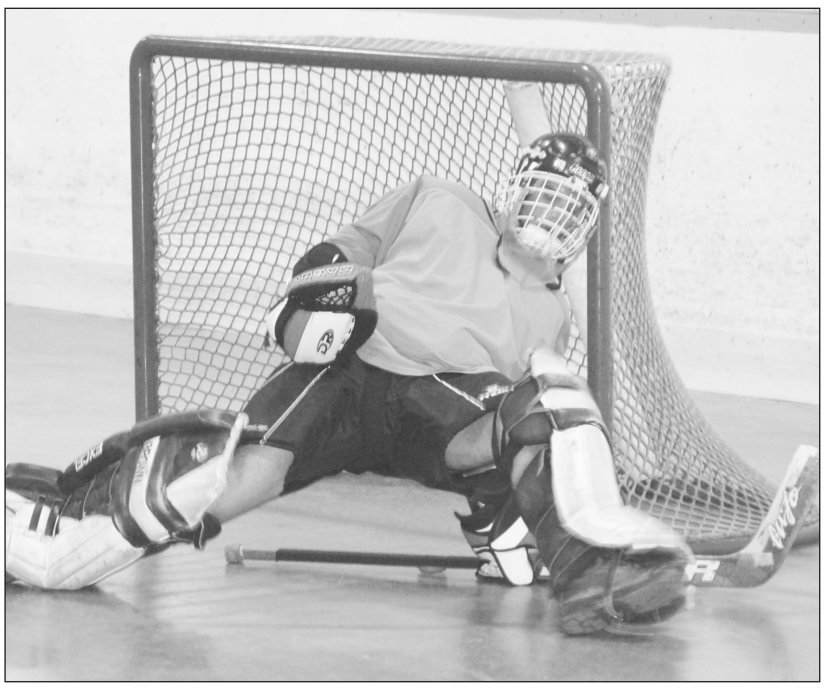
DMRHL leaders fail to make "A" finals

MORRISBURG — It won't be the regular season champion White Lightning or the number-two ranked Black Attack appearing in the 2007 Dundas Men's Roller Hockey League's "A" championship tilt.

The Lightning (9-4-0) will meet the Attack (7-6-0) in this year's "B" showdown at the Morrisburg Arena Thursday (Aug. 23) night at 9 pm.

This year's main attraction for the "A" silverware will pit the Orange Crush against the Blue Balls in the 8 pm match. Both squad finished the season with five wins, eight losses and 10 points.

The bizarro play-off situation occurred when the Crush KOed the Black Attack 7-3 and the Blue Balls bounced the Lightning 6-5 in semi-final games played on Aug. 16.



Orange 'tender

Orange Crush goaltender Colin Baker allowed just one shooter, Brad Wylie, to beat him in his squad's 7-3 semi-final victory over the Black Attack on Aug. 16. The Crush will meet the Blue Balls in tomorrow night's (Aug. 23) Dundas Men's Roller Hockey League "A" championship match in Morrisburg.

40-goal man

Orange Crush shooter Robbie Darling (#15) finished fourth in the scoring race with 62 points but was the Dundas Men's Roller Hockey League top goal getter netting 40 shots.

Blues 6 - Lightning 5

Chad McMillan's second goal of the game broke up a 5-5 tie and lifted the Blue Balls to their 6-5 semi-final victory over the Lightning with a slim 14 seconds left on the clock. Blue captain Trevor Morozuk engineered the game-winning play.

The Blues led 2-1 after a period. The game was tied 2-2 after two. Ryan Thompson cracked in a feed from Jamie McIntosh and Travis Rowe 30 seconds before the final buzzer to pull the Lightning into a 5-5 tie, but his marker didn't hold up.

McMillan and Jon Chambers each potted a pair of goals for the winners. Sheldon Beckstead and Morozuk snapped in singles. Morozuk (2), Travis "Toast" Armstrong, Chambers, Beckstead and John Cochrane drew assists. Cory Villeneuve posted the win.

Ryan Thompson (2), Justin Elliott, Travis Rowe and Justin Heuff were the Lightning snipers. Assists went to Elliott (2), McIntosh (2), Rowe (2), Heuff and Jason Chambers. Richard Gauthier tended the nets.

Crush 7 - Attack 3

DMRHL scoring champion Rob Thurler, who collected 27 goals and 75 points during the regular season, assisted on five goals leading the Crush to their 7-3 semi-final win over the Black Attack.

The Crush led 1-0 after a period and the game was tied 2-2 after two. The Crush had driven up a 7-2 lead before the Attack managed their third and final tally with 52 seconds left on the clock.

Robbie Darling netted three Orange goals while Aron Sherrer and Russ Brown each potted a pair. Thurler (5), Darling and Sherrer drew the assists. Colin Baker got the win allowing Brad Wylie to crack in all three Attack tallies. Robbie Waddell set up all three plays.

Final games

The regular season ended on Aug. 14 with the Attack nipping the Crush 11-10 and the Blue Balls bashing the Lightning 13-8.

Tyler Isaac pounded in six goals for the Attack while Mike Thompson (2-4-6) also supplied six points to the winning cause. Robbie Waddell (1-3-4), Marc Dupuis (2-1-3 — winning goal), Chris Phifer (0-3-3) and Brad Wylie (0-1-1) also helped out. Barry McShane was the winning 'tender.

Rob Thurler (1-6-7), Robbie Darling (5-1-6), Aron Sherrer (2-3-5), Russ Brown (1-3-4) and Kevin Markell (1-1-2) were the Crush point getters.

It was a nine-point night for Chad McMillan (6-3-9) as the Blues shocked the Lightning 13-8. Sheldon Beckstead (4-3-7) and Trevor Morozuk (3-4-7) each collected seven points for the short-staffed Blues. Colin Baker and Nick McGill shared the goaltending chores.

Ryan Thompson (3-2-5) led the Lightning with five points. Devon Cinnamon (3-0-3), Jamie McIntosh (1-2-3) and Justin Heuff (1-1-2) rounded out the offence.

Merrickville hands United 3-1 loss

MAPLE RIDGE — Victor Delage struck for a goal with 10 minutes left in the match and his late tally cut his team's deficit to one goal. Unfortunately for the North Dundas U13x United they couldn't come any closer to earning a point against Merrickville.

The visitors buried a late shot and left the pitch at North Dundas District High School on Aug. 16 with a 3-1 victory.

Devon Simzer provided Delage with the break-out pass which sent him in on the Merrickville keeper.

North Dundas romped to a 9-nil victory over Kemptville in their previous outing on Aug. 9. Paul Gibson and Delage each potted a pair of goals in the winning cause. Alex Porteous, Colin Giberson, Danika Adams and Richard Van Koppen counted the other United markers.

North Dundas keeper Richard Van Koppen (right) threw up his hands as he prepared to make a save in a South Side U13x Soccer League match played at NDDHS on Aug. 16. Merrickville defeated their hosts 3-1. In the previous game, Van Koppen took up a forward position and marked a goal in his squad's 9-nil win over Kemptville. Press Photo — Van Bridger

Winchester Major Red Sox sweep post-season, claim UCLLB title

PRESCOTT — Brandon Cousineau, Tanner Casselman, Dylan Comeau and Chris Gibson each plated a pair of runs and led the Winchester Major Sox to a 14-5 victory over the Kemptville Wildcats.

It took just four innings in the sudden-death championship game, played in Prescott on Aug. 1, to decide that the Red Sox were the 2007 Upper Canada Little League Baseball champions.

Winchester, under the guidance of coaches Todd Casselman and Al Christophersen, compiled a second-place record of 9-3-1 competing against teams from Morrisburg, Prescott, Kemptville and Williamsburg. The Sox then ripped Williamsburg 9-4 in the semi-finals to qualify for the title match.

Kemptville booked three runs in the first frame, which were equalled by Cousineau (single), Casselman (double) and Comeau (walk) who scored on a Josh Freake hit.

The Wildcats carried a 5-3 lead into the third frame but trailed 9-5 after the Sox sent 10 men to the plate in their half of the inning. Gibson, Cousineau, Casselman, Ryan Embury, Comeau and Ryan Switzer touched home with Winchester's runs. Coltin McMahon doubled and Freake singled in runs in that offensive.

Winchester locked up the game pushing five more runs across the dish in the fourth and final frame. Austin Carruthers, Craig Christophersen, Chris Neil, Devyn McNiel and Gibson made it home to drive the final difference to 14-5.

The Sox pitching staff held the Wildcats to five runs on eight hits.

The Winchester Major Red Sox hoisted the UCLLB championship trophy and made a victory lap around the diamond following a 14-5 win over the Kemptville Wildcats in Prescott on Aug. 1. Winchester (9-3-1) finished second in regular-season play and eliminated Williamsburg to reach the title match.

Thank You

Before another month goes by I want to express my gratitude to the many people responsible for the wonderful 100th birthday party that I enjoyed last July.

There were those - young children and seniors - who were praying that I would make it to 07.07.07. There was Bette Crerar and her helpers from the Osgoode Township Historical Society who worked for months to put on the best community birthday party possible. There were 40 of my faraway nieces and nephews planning to come to Dalmeny for a family reunion.

July 7 arrived and I was still alive. The girls at T.O.C.C. had done their best to make me appear better than usual. Betty Kingsbury and her son came with their 1940 well preserved automobile to drive me in style to the Vernon Community Centre where Shaun Steele piped me to my place. Over sixty local businesses, including individuals, had contributed to the expense of the celebration.

Prof. Duff Crerar from Alberta, home for a family event, had remained to be M.C. for the party. The Osgoode Township Men's Choir, first formed at Dalmeny in 1979 to sing at a Pioneer Day event, led us beautifully in the two national anthems sung in the 1900s. There was a poem written and sung in my honour for getting the choir started. The Rev. Kathy Petrie of Vernon asked a blessing on our gathering; well-known Rev. George Cawfield mentioned his long wait to preach at my funeral.

There were presentations from every level of government: Queen Elizabeth; Doug Thompson - our present Councillor of the City - assisted in these presentations, which are now on the walls of my room. A former student at South Carleton, Ron Wilson of Manotick, expressed his gratitude for my influence in persuading him to study at Queen's University; he had a great career from this education. Prof. Bruce Elliot of Carleton, with roots in Osgoode, told of our joint work in genealogy. The Harmony "6" and Bette's solo supplied beautiful music as did Calvin Ferguson with "How Great Thou Art".

I thank the hundreds who attended the celebration: a niece and nephew from Germany; friends from Peterborough; representatives from Societies: Rideau, St. Lawrence UE, OGS, British Isles, and others from long ago schools. There were more than 150 interesting cards and gifts and food for all by A.J.'s and leftovers for T.O.C.C.
I remember at this time the strong support our Society had from the late Ron Workman and the Winchester Press when we were beginners 35 years ago. The Hon. Fred Cass also encouraged us and was responsible in 1975 for our becoming an incorporated body with all its privileges and responsibilities. His expertise did not cost us a cent. Most of all I thank my LORD and SAVIOUR JESUS CHRIST, my friend and guide for the last century.

– Elizabeth Stuart

Thank You

Words cannot express the gratitude we feel to our family, friends, and neighbours throughout the illness and recent death of our father, Lawrence McKee. We were overwhelmed with appreciation for the calls, visits, emails, food, and offers to help. Mostly we thank you for all of the love and support given to us. We are truly blessed. We give special thanks to Vicky and staff at Byers Funeral Home. The week was made less difficult due to your guidance and kindness. These acts will be remembered and cherished always.

Russell quilter teaching craft

RUSSELL — Russell resident Ruth Lee has been quilting for 30 years — and teaching the pastime for 20 of those.

"It's a social thing," she told the Press about the daytime and evening classes she offers out of her home for all levels of quilters.

The Kemptville College home economics graduate has also taught dress making, as well as embroidery, rug-hooking, and heirloom hand-sewing, but always comes back to her true love — quilting.

"I really enjoy it," she said about teaching and interacting with her students.

She recently showed one of her quilts at the Ottawa Valley Quilt Guild Show in Ottawa.

"I like the challenge," she said about quilting. "You can go through all kinds of levels and never stop learning."

She said she likes to create something new each time she quilts.

"I design lots of my own patterns," she pointed out, explaining that she's currently working on one to depict flying Canada geese.

Her students are of all ages, but all need to have some sewing knowledge prior to signing up.

"Once you learn the specific techniques and how-to's, then you get into the creative side," she said, "and you can go anywhere you want with it."

She admitted that her taste leans more toward traditional rather than modern designs, "but I teach the whole gamut."

Lee said that anyone wanting to get into quilting needs patience — "and the desire to stick with it."

She noted that it's a hobby that requires a lot of time, but that generally her students are spurred on to complete the project once they see it coming together.

Lee passes on her knowledge of the pastime because quilting is more than just a hobby for her — "It's a full-time obsession," she said.

Lee is hosting an open house on Sat., Sept. 8 from 10 to 3 pm at her 127 Castor St. home. Call her at 613-445-5432 for more information.
