HYDRO BOOSTS TOWN RATE
BUILDING PERMITS TOTAL $47,750.00

Construction in this village is moving along at a fast pace, it was reported at a busy September session of Municipal Council when building permits totalling nearly $50,000 were issued to seven different applicants, to create a new record for the year. Heading the list is the Sullivan Brothers Construction firm of Chesterville who have started the new $37,000 extension to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Other permit holders announced at the meeting are Raymond Summers, Fred Curtis, Henry Dillabough, Cecil McIntosh of Inkerman, Ormond McConnell and D. A. Mallory.

A busy council agenda was highlighted by the announcement that Hydro's kilowatt per year rate had been boosted from $38.25 to $44.00. In terms of dollars and cents this means that the village of Winchester will pay roughly $4500.00 a year more for power purchased from the Ontario Hydro Commission. The new rate will become effective October 1st. No mention was made of an increase in the local rate, although, as one councillor phrased it, it doesn't look good. The clerk announced that a rebate of $493.50 had been received for street lighting.

A letter from Mr. John Pearson of the Department of Planning and Development was read stating that he would meet with Council on Friday, September 16th, to discuss the expansion and location of new streets in the village, as well as other town planning developments that might occur.

It was also revealed that Reeve Fader and Councillor Woods, chairman of the water and sewerage committee, would meet with Mr. F. M. Cass who last week, while in Toronto, approached government officials and the engineer concerning the proposed water and sewerage installation in this village. Following their meeting they will report to a full session of council, which is expected to be followed by a meeting of the public and a subsequent vote when ratepayers will be asked if they are in favour of a water and sewerage installation at a proposed cost. If the vote favours the installation the report will be submitted to the Department which will give the village the go-ahead sign, or prohibit any action at the present time, depending chiefly on the financial status of the village, and the necessity of such a project.

Drainage problems on Clarence Street and the new thoroughfares in the south-west portion of the village were again brought to light, and after discussion it was decided that action on the Clarence Street drain be left at the discretion of the road committee. Until a decision is made concerning the proposed water and sewerage works no immediate action will be taken on the new drain running west from Victoria street.

By-law No. 789, re salvage yards in the village, was passed and will become effective immediately. It reads, in part, that all salvage or junk yards within the limits of the municipality must be located 50 feet from the street, and must be concealed by a wooden plank fence not less than 8 feet high. The property committee was instructed to purchase 100 new chairs for the Town Hall auditorium, and a request that the town take over a privately owned drain running from the Winchester Theatre east to the Henderson creek drain will be dealt with at the next session of council.

Hydro accounts passed came to $3,573.36, and Municipal bills ordered paid were $2350.61. Council was unanimous in again sponsoring a fire prevention week program in October, and Fire Chief Raistrick was instructed to arrange the necessary details. Chief Raistrick also gave the police report for the month of August, and it revealed in part: Highway Traffic Act, $160.00 in fines, one infraction of the criminal code, assault; $150.00 in fines under the Liquor Control Act; two stolen autos, both recovered, and one charge; three infractions of the motor vehicle act resulting in fines of $25.00; one breaking and entering and one theft.

Bert McIntosh Wins Luftman Trophy At Morrisburg Golf Club

It took 26 holes of golf to decide the final 18-hole tournament for the Club's Handicap Championship at Morrisburg on Labour Day afternoon.

And when the last putt was made Bert McIntosh of Williamsburg had emerged with a 2 and 1 victory over runner up Robert "Red Cook" of Morrisburg. In winning the coveted honours for the first time McIntosh receives the Luftman Trophy as well as a sum of money.

Winning the popular match tourney is the most sought after prize of Morrisburg and district golfers. An elimination series, winning golfer McIntosh had to win five other elimination rounds along the row before he and Cook teed off in the big one.

Probably the two best golfers at the club this year, the two players ended the regular 18 holes all tied up. The match almost ended on the 18th. With Cook holding a one-hole lead McIntosh sank a beautiful 20-foot putt to win the hole and deadlock the round.

Both players decided to play another nine, rather than continue until a hole was won. Still tied after 23, McIntosh won the 24th hole when Cook drove into the rough. After dubbing his drive McIntosh came through with a powerful 150-yard seven iron shot, two putted the green to give him a par 4 on the 25th. Cook missed a one foot putt to drop two behind. Both players drove well down the fairway on the 26th. Cook landed short with a nine iron approach and McIntosh dropped over a two-foot slope on the south side of the green. Again Cook putted short. McIntosh chipped out nicely and sank his putt for another par 4, and the contest was over.

In total score there was very little difference between the two players. Cook carded a 38 on the first nine; a 40 on the second nine and fell behind with a 38 on the last eight. McIntosh carded a 42 going out. Coming in on the second nine he matched Cook with a 40 and then shot a sizzling 2 over par 33 in the extra 8. Cook shot two birdies on the afternoon's play; McIntosh one. According to the club ruling Cook was handicapped 3 strokes on the 18 holes.

Earlier in the season Dr. C. A. Louden, a popular player at the Morrisburg club, won the Morrisburg open title by having the low aggregate score on 36 holes. For the effort he was awarded the Gillespie Trophy.

The course at Morrisburg is 5100 yards in length, and it is a par 70.

WEDDINGS

McVEY—MILLWARD

St. James Anglican Church, Morrisburg, was the scene of a pretty September wedding recently when Miss Mary Edna Alice Millward, of Ottawa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lagorah Millward, of Morrisburg, became the bride of Mr. William Gordon McVey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McVey, of Winchester. Rev. G. Oliver Davies officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by Miss Eva Cassell, the organist, who played the wedding music and accompanied the guest soloist, Miss Betty Merkley.

For the occasion the church was decorated with pastel gladioli and snow on the mountain.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon tulle and French lace, the skirt bouffant and the bodice featuring a sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearls and brilliants, the long sleeves coming to a point over the hands. Her fingertip length veil was held by a tiara trimmed with irridescent seed pearls and brilliants and she carried a white bible, decorated with white streamers and white lilies.

She was attended by her three nieces, Misses Carole, Margaret and Linda Casselman, Miss Marlene Cooper and Miss Marion McVey, sister of the groom.

Roland Barrigar was best man, and the ushers were Glen Docksteader and David Canough, cousin of the bride.

Going away, the bride wore a dress of sierra mauve bengaline with matching coat, hat and gloves, patent leather accessories and corsage of white carnations. They will take up residence in Ottawa.

Out-of-town guests were from Kemptville, Ottawa, Winchester and South Durham, Que., Paris, Ont., Innisville, Aultsville and Colborne.

September Roses

Ever hear of roses in September? No, it's not a song, it's a fact. And Howard Biccum has the proof at his Main Street West residence where he has a rose bush sprouting rose buds and about ten lovely blooms. Of the China Doll variety, the bushes in mention were planted only last Spring. They bloomed in June and July, and are at it again now. Needless to say, they are doing well.

Escapes Serious Injury When Pinned Under Tractor Near Harmony

Allan Cinnamon, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken. Cinnamon, of Winchester, escaped serious injury and possible death last Friday evening when the tractor he was driving turned over, pinning him underneath it.

The near tragedy occurred about nine o'clock last Friday night when young Cinnamon was returning to a neighbour's farm to pick up a wagon and blower that had been left there after silo filling during the day. As near as can be determined he apparently turned out for a stone or rough spot in the narrow lane and was pulled into the adjacent ditch, the tractor upsetting and pinning him underneath it.

Unable to free himself, he was discovered about ten minutes later by his father and brother, Gordon, who together with Bill Stewart and Mick Beuman, neighbours, pried the lad loose. He was treated by Dr. W. M. Byers and later taken to the District Memorial Hospital where X-rays were taken. He was badly bruised and generally shaken up, but no bones are broken it is believed.

The fact that the type of tractor he was driving had the steering column to one side apparently held the great part of the tractor's weight from crushing the young victim, and possibly saved his life, it was believed.

THIEVES BREAK INTO VERNON STORE

Thieves broke into McDonald's General Store at Vernon early Sunday morning and escaped with goods worth more than $200.00.

According to the owners the thieves apparently gained access to the building through a west side cellar window, climbed over a six-foot deep cistern full of water with the use of an old sign and pipe, and made their way upstairs. Included in their loot were dry goods, canned goods, three electric razors, hot plate and cigarettes. They made their escape from the building by way of another cellar window on the south side. The loss, which was discovered on Sunday afternoon, is not covered by insurance.

METCALFE'S 99th FALL FAIR OPENS TODAY

With pageantry and tradition to burn, the historic Metcalfe Fair opens today, Thursday, September 15th, for a three-day stand. Sponsored by the Metcalfe Agricultural Society this year's exhibition will be the 99th presentation of this very popular rural Ontario Fair.

Rated one of the best small fairs in the province, Fair directors boast a prize list exceeding $5500.00 this year, with a sizeable sum being offered for the harness races. According to Fair authorities the 1955 presentation is packed with entries and keen competition is expected in all classes.

Thursday will be used up mostly with the setting up of exhibits and some judging. Tomorrow, however, the little Ex. will swing into high gear and will continue that way until midnight Saturday night.

Frank Ryan will be on hand on Friday and Saturday and will broadcast "Farmers' Notebook" directly from the grounds on those days. One of the extra features of the fair this year will be the presence of Walter Hurdman of Ottawa who will bring his six pony hitch—featuring six black Shetland ponies —to the Fair for the expected thousands to see. This will be the first time the six-pony hitch has been taken to any Fair this season. In addition there will be a good horse show, and plenty of livestock to be paraded before the grandstand. Featured in the cattle classes will be the Carleton-Russell Counties' Black and White Day on Friday, the Ottawa Valley Ayrshire Breeders' Club "Red and White" Show on Saturday, and the Eastern Ontario Guernsey Club Show on Saturday. Sheep, Swine and Poultry will also be featured as well as a big department for 4-H club work, educational and women's sections.

March Midways will again be on hand with a bigger assortment of rides and games; and there will also be many booths and concessions in operation to grab a snack or to eat a dog or two.

The three-day Fair winds up on Saturday night with a gala last night dance on the grounds.

Stuart Whyte is the president of the Society, and the secretary-treasurer is J. Eldon Craig.

Trade Fair Plans Nearing Completion

Colourful displays, a list of free give-aways which total well over $2000, good entertainment and an alluring fashion show are just some of the highlights which will feature the Winchester Business Men's Second Annual Trade Fair this year.

With three nights instead of two this year, business men are looking for an even larger crowd than the 4000 who turned out in 1954, and who enjoyed the show. In addition to a long list of prizes from the various booths, there will be valuable door prizes each night. Tickets on sale now at 25 cents each may also be purchased in lots of 5 for $1.00, and may be picked up at the door on the nights of the Fair. They are good for admission to the Winchester Arena and will also be used in all draws during the entire Fair.

Dates of the Fair this year are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 28-29-30. Watch next week's paper for full details, and listen to CFRA for announcements.

WILLIAMSBURG W. I.

Miss Nina Casselman, new president of the Williamsburg Women's Institute, presided at the September meeting on Tuesday night in the I.O.O.F. Hall. The meeting marks the first of the fall term after a two-month summer recess, and was attended by 29 members and 11 visitors.

In her report the treasurer, Miss Beatrice Saddlemire, reported a balance of $205.14. The Salvation Army appeal was given as $113.25. Mrs. Alex McGruer and Mrs. Walter Whitteker were nominated delegates to attend the Ottawa Area Convention. An invitation to attend a meeting, the guests of Winchester W. I., was accepted, and those taking cars were named. Mrs. Arthur Loucks was appointed head of the Girls' Club, and the assistant is again Mrs. A. J. Casselman.

A unanimous motion will send $10.00 to CARE, and another nomination saw Mrs. Graham Froats elected first vice president. It was decided that sufficient material be purchased to make a stage curtain for the hall. The material will match the window drapes which the Institute previously purchased. Details for the forthcoming bazaar were announced, and it was decided that tickets will be sold on a coat.

Mrs. Clair Algire, chairman of the program committee, introduced the guest soloist, Mrs. Lorne Hogaboam, who sang "God's Green Acres," accompanied by Mrs. Maefred Merkley. G. William Gorrell, young Morrisburg lawyer, was the guest speaker, and he told very effectively the story of "Wills and Joint Accounts." He was thanked by Mrs. Algire. "Let's Toss A Salad," a garden club project, was presented by Erma Whitteker and Gladys Barkley.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Hilda Johnston and her committee, who were thanked on behalf of the Institute by Mrs. Arthur Loucks.

$10,000 FIRE IN SOUTH MOUNTAIN DISTRICT

A $10,000 fire demolished one barn, damaged a farm house and set fire to another, four miles south-east of South Mountain last Thursday morning.

The fire, of unknown origin, started about 5.30 in a barn owned by Orval Fawcett. Neighbours formed a 25-man bucket brigade, but were too late to save the barn in which Mr. Fawcett had stored his season's grain crop. Several cows were saved when the farmer dashed into the flaming building and drove them out.

Sparks from the fire ignited the farmhouse kitchen but the fire was brought under control by the bucket brigade and the South Mountain fire department. The house suffered severe water damage.

LIGHTNING STRIKES LOCAL HOUSE — LITTLE DAMAGE RESULTS

Damage to the extent of roughly $50.00 to the Wilfred Lannin residence on Church Street was caused by a bolt of lightning which struck during a thunder storm here Sunday. Contrary to reports, the lightning did not hit the TV antenna nor did it damage the set. It struck the rear of the house, tearing off several shingles on the side, rattling dishes, and blowing a fluorescent bulb from its socket inside the house.

In addition to the minor damage the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Lannin and family, all received a bad scare, but consider the damage could have been more severe if the house had caught fire.

Mystery Object In Sky----Balloon?

A mystery object seen in the clouded blue skies here on Monday afternoon may have been a wandering weather balloon, or perhaps one which got away from scientists making tests in the United States last week. It also may have been the same silvery object that was seen floating overhead across Beaverton, Ontario, Sunday. Beaverton is 250 miles west in the Muskoka Lake district.

White in colour and a fair size, it was moving very slowly in a north-easterly direction at what this writer guessed to be roughly 7 to 10 thousand feet up. (We later found out that the Air Force estimated its height at 100,000 feet. Some idea of its size and height might be gathered from the fact that it could be seen in London, Ontario, 400 miles away, at the same time as it was observed here.)

The mysterious object was first reported to the Press at about 12.15 p.m. on Monday by Ray Irven, of R. R. 3, Winchester, who phoned the Press editor. After viewing the supposed balloon, a member of the Press staff informed Alva Alexander, chief observer for the ground observer corps in this district, who in turn reported the find to the Brockville filter centre. As far as we know that's where the story ended, and to our knowledge the balloon (?) has not yet been identified.

DRUNK DRIVERS TO BE BRANDED ON LICENCE

Ontario motorists who lose their licences for drunk driving are going to have their renewed licences branded.

Highways Minister Allan said recently licences renewed after a cancellation will be printed on red paper and will be stamped "reinstated."

Reinstated motorists will be forced to carry these licences for at least two years and they will be renewable only at the main licencing office in the Parliament Buildings, he said.

Purpose of the move, the minister said, will be to identify the driver with a record when a police officer requires the presentation of his licence or a magistrate is imposing a penalty for any subsequent offence.

ONTARIO HYDRO LETS CONTRACT FOR WATER TANK AT IROQUOIS

Ontario Hydro announced the award of a contract to Horton Steel Works Ltd., Toronto, recently, for $49,675.00 for the fabrication, delivery and erection of the 125-ft. high elevated steel water tank for the new Village of Iroquois. Erection of the tank, which will have a capacity of 208,000 Imperial gallons, is to be completed by April 1st, 1956.

The Horton bid was the lowest of three tenders submitted. Bids were also received from the Toronto Iron Works Ltd. for $61,000.00, and Bridge and Tank Company of Canada Ltd. for $68,470.00.

Nation Valley Loses Esteemed Citizen In Mr. William Thomas Rae

The death occurred unexpectedly on Monday, September 5th, of William Thomas Rae, in his 87th year, in the General Hospital, Kingston, where he had gone for an operation.

Although not in the best of health, he had not been confined to his bed.

The late Mr. Rae was one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of Winchester Township. He was the son of the late David Rae who, in his day, was one of the most widely known men in religious and political circles in the United Counties. His mother was the late Jennie Carlyle, of Dunbar, both pioneer families who migrated from Dumfries, Scotland.

He spent his entire life on the farm where he was born. His father moved to Nation Valley when it was mostly a dense forest, and when the only means of transportation was by water or horseback. He liked to talk about the wonders and changes in the past 86 years.

In his active years the late Mr. Rae was a public-spirited man and took a keen interest in all matters pertaining to the good of his community and Winchester Township. He was a firm and staunch Conservative, and was widely read and very intelligent on all religious and political subjects.

He had been an exemplary husband and father. He was married in 1903 to Miss Agnes Carruthers, who predeceased him in 1954.

He leaves to mourn a beloved father, one daughter Mrs. Harold Nottell (Mildred), and four sons, Malcolm Rae, of Dunnville; Norman Rae, of Winchester; and Bruce and Murray Rae at home.

The deceased was a consistent member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Chesterville. He was clerk of the session and one of the trustess of the church.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. where the service was conducted by Mr. Fred Miller, student min-

Back To School

Last week over 400 youngsters shuffled back to Winchester Public and High Schools after enjoying a two-month summer vacation. Presumably the older students in High School are more responsible to traffic conditions. However, there are over 200 pupils in the primary institution who are still enjoying that carefree part of their life. Many of them are apt to dart into the path of an approaching car on the spur of the moment. That is why motorists driving through Winchester, and any town for that matter, must abide by the local traffic by-laws. Mostly, they must bind themselves to the 30 mile per hour speed limit, and particularly, in the vicinity of schools, they must drive with extreme caution. This, combined with the workings of an efficient safety patrol, will contribute to an accident free school term, at least on the streets.

The C.N.E. Marathon?

The Canadian National Exhibition marathon swim as it turned out was a befuddled mess of poor organization, combined with untimely weather elements, producing an eye sore in what was otherwise a good show. The cross-the-lake swim this year will probably be remembered as long as the Marilyn Bell conquest, but not for the same reasons. No one made it this year, no one was close. The actual CNE swim from Niagara-on-the-lake to Toronto was called off because, as the swim directors said, the waters were too rough.

What many people failed to understand, including many frustrated swimmers, was the real reason lying behind the CNE's decision to call the whole thing off. Instead, the thirty-six swimmers were left dangling in indecision for many hours, and even if the swim had gone on, many of the participants would have failed because of being mentally upset before the swim even started.

As a weak alternative a 32-mile course was marked out in front of the CNE grounds, the marathon was started, and with the exception of Cliff Lumsden's tremendous victory, the results were pitiful. All thirty-six swimmers wanted to swim the lake, or at least try. When it was called off, you might say the whole thing fell flat on its face.

It seems rather evident that swim preparations were loosely organized. Perhaps another year the Directors will not wait until the last week of the Exhibition to sponsor the event, if it is tried again. And maybe if there is any doubt of such a swim being called off again a prompt decision will be made that won't dangle along for several hours or days before it is final. Most of all, though, it is to be hoped that the CNE will be more alert in looking after details if the swim is sponsored in 1956.

Reviving Interest In Spelling

We are pleased, states The Acton Free Press, to note that the Canadian National Exhibition this year revived something that has long been dropped from our educational system with very disastrous results to the generations attending school in recent years.

The C. N. E. sponsored a real spelling bee. It used to be that students studied and strived to show their ability for the love of being first. But the Exhibition put up cash prizes of $150 for adults only to compete. We do not suppose any of the children attending school today would be lured into such an event for less than $64,000. But there may be adults who are still interested in competition for the sake of the race and those in charge of this big event are to be congratulated on any attempt to maintain interest in such an important part of education as spelling.

Spelling and mental arithmetic were very important in other days in school work. Anything that is done to revive interest in them is commendable. It might even merit a grant from the Department of Education and attain more results than some of the present subjects given in school work.

Maybe the idea of spelling bees could be introduced at smaller fairs, leading up to a grand championship for the entire province.

Good TV Coverage

Although the CNE Marathon cross the lake swim never materialized, a word of credit should be passed along to the CBC. Most of the time Canada's radio and TV networks are the subjects of much and severe criticism. This time, however, there should be nothing but praise for the TV crews both on the scene and in the studio. Had the swim been run off, TV viewers would have seen a live telecast of the stroke by stroke progress of all swimmers. Thanks to the CNE's failure in making up its mind there was a fairly lengthy period of time which brought forth some extra fine entertainment on the TV screen. It was all Canadian, more of which we would like to see on CBC TV stations.

Editorial Notes

Who stole the ding, dong? Who stole the Ferris Wheel? That's right, some culprit, a brazen one at that, stole a Ferris Wheel from a nearby Quebec Fair last week. The thief and wheel were still at large two days after the job was pulled, but, then, a Ferris Wheel would be hard to spot. In any case, this is one time when the Ferris Wheel left the midway owner up in the air.

The person who said that life was dull in the small towns should drop around to this wide-awake town for a few weeks. Just as an example, the Winchester Arena will be the scene of some fine entertainment in the next month. Last night was the 100 Club Night of Fun; next Wednesday evening is the Legion's Monster Bingo, with $2,000.00 in prizes. Winchester Trade Fair winds up the month with a three-night stand, and early in October the local Curling Club will take over with their Jamboree night.

OF MANY THINGS . . .

FREEDOM

(By Ambrose Hills)

I had a hot argument with a business man the other day. He said to me, "I'm afraid that freedom is going down the drain. My own children think the idea is old-fashioned. It's a trend, and there's no use fighting it. I'm afraid people will have to lose freedom entirely before they value it."

That is a defeatist attitude if I ever saw one. When I told the businessman that I thought he should have more spunk, and put up a better fight, he said, "Oh, the best we can do is fight a rear guard action. I suppose we have to do that—but it seems pretty futile to me."

I dont' believe it! We have, in Canada today, several thousand immigrants who have come fresh from lands which let freedom go. I have heard several of these individuals tell, in their broken English, how horrible it is to live in a so-called welfare state where every move is managed by the government. They do not speak the best of English, but they are eloquent enough to persuade any one above the level of a moron that the free life is the only good life.

In my opinion, one of these persons should be on the radio and television every day of the week giving us their first-hand stories of how freedom can be lost and what it means to lose it. I cannot for the life of me understand why our government radio and television fails to give these people a voice. The excuse is made that they speak only indifferent English. Who cares? We have had enough of the pear-shaped tones of some of CBC crackpot commentators. Surely our government, committed as it is to freedom of enterprise, can find time on the air to let these new citizens tell us the truth about what goes on back of the iron curtain. It would be a good deal more exciting than listening to "A is for Aadvark," or watching, night after dismal night, the same tribe of so-called classic dancers cavorting on the screen at our expense!

Freedom need not go down the drain. Our children are not so dumb that they cannot learn. We have the facilities in this country to tell them what freedom is all about. Let us find out why these facilities are not being used.

AUSTRALIAN JOURNEY

Stopovers At Honolulu Top Tonic For Editor's Ulcers

By JOHN FREEMAN, Canadian Weekly Newspaper editorial representative and editor of the Lakeshore News, Pointe Claire, who recently returned from a 20,000-mile trip with Canadian Pacific Airlines which took him to Australia via Hawaii and Fiji.

Arrival at Hawaii is an experience no traveller will ever forget. Having read the advertising literature pertaining to Hawaii I, like other weekly editors, had admired the copywriter's style more than I had his veracity. Phrases like "Hawaii—lotus islands of the Pacific" had sounded wonderful but unreal.

Elegant accommodation, warm scented winds, bright sun, pounding surf, and the seemingly unending happiness of the people create a state of wind absolutely guaranteed to placate the ulcers of any number of weekly editors!

I could have spent the whole four weeks there, and to the devil with the rest of the tour!

One point that never fails to rouse the interest and curiosity of visitors to Hawaii is the sight of what appears to be the Union Jack flying in the top quarter of the Hawaiian flag next to the staff.

United States territory since 1898, when its annexation took place, Hawaii's flag is made up of "nine stripes alternate, white, red and blue, and as a union of blue the crosses of St. George, St. Patrick and St. Andrew."

A clue to this design of the flag is found in the fact that Hawaii was originally known as the Sandwich Islands, being named after the First Lord of the British Admiralty, the Earl of Sandwich.

Actually, the first European to set foot there was Captain James Cook, who some years earlier had discovered and claimed Australia for the British Crown.

The famous Captain was subsequently killed in a misunderstanding on a return visit to the Islands and a monument stands to his memory thereon.

Besides the natural beauty of the resort and of the maidens whose charms are an obvious adjunct to the scenery, (wonder if this will get past the wife), the Islands themselves have a history and culture which begins for most Hawaiians from the reign of King Kamehameha I who conquered all the Islands and brought them under one government.

Tale of Two Statues

Through circumstances and not by design there are two bronze statues of the King, exactly similar, on the Island of Hawaii, and thereby hangs a tale.

According to "Paradise," Hawaii's well-read monthly magazine, the people of Hawaii commissioned a bronze statue of their beloved King from Florence, Italy. The statue was eventually finished and shipped via Boston where it was transhipped again. The last leg of the trip would take the boat around the Horn. Unfortunately, however, the ship caught fire and sank off the Falkland Islands.

Luckily, all eight feet six inches of the bronze statue were insured and a copy was ordered right away. This one had a smooth trip and was unveiled in 1883 with "the heavens expressing their approval and joy by pouring rain on spectators until just a half hour before the formal ceremony. Then the sun shone brightly for the rest of the day."

The punchline is in the fact that years later the original statue was found in the Falklands by a ship's captain who took it to Hawaii in the hope of finding a buyer. His customer was the Kingdom of Hawaii which erected the duplicate statue near the famous warrior's birthplace.

Grapefruit For Breakfast?

Breakfast at the Royal Hawaiian was marked by the incredulous observation of the beautifully gowned Hawaiian waitresses concerning the breakfast order of my new-found travelling companion, Ron Marsh, "You come all this way to eat grapefruit in Honolulu!"

Apparently the spirit of Hawaii later caught up with Ron as he had to be practically dragged on the plane as it left for Fiji Islands on what is the longest leg of the whole flight—some 3,000 miles during which time we became members of the "Equator Club" and "Dateline Club" respectively, as we headed into the night flying below the "Milky Way," brightest of all the heavenly galaxies in the southern hemisphere.

When the stewardess announced "You are now crossing the equator" I was no different to the other passengers—all looking down for that thick black line on the ocean's surface!

It's at about this stage in the flight that you are caught with the impression that the airline is trying to give you back as much of the fare as possible in food and refreshment. The service is outstanding.

Our stop at Fiji was of short duration. We had a cold shower and I bought a set of lovely earrings of tortoiseshell and mother of pearl for the little woman at home. (Very helpful if one is to get the big welcome upon return, and especially so if she is doing the job of publishing the paper in one's absence!)

According to reports of the plane stewardesses, who sometimes stop over at Fiji, there is

Malachi Calls for Righteous Living

He Rebukes Priests and People for Indifference to God

Scripture—Leviticus 22:21-22; Malachi.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

MALACHI is called "the last of the prophets." His short book of three chapters is the last in the Old Testament. It was written, it is believed, between 425 and 400 B.C., after the return from captivity. The people of Judah were not living according to Jehovah's laws. Indeed, they seemed indifferent to His commands as given to Moses.

Malachi writes, the Lord says He has loved His people and they ask, "Wherein hast thou loved us?" The entire history of the people of Israel demonstrates vividly the love God had for them. Yet Malachi must chide them for their indifference to Jehovah's commands. He accuses them, saying that when they bring their offerings to the altar, they choose animals who may be blind, lame, sick, which shows a contempt for the Lord's table.

The priests, says Malachi, offer polluted (spoiled, unfit for food) bread on the altars. "And if ye offer the blind for sacrifices, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lord of Hosts?"

The law distinctly says:

"And whosoever offereth of peace offerings unto the Lord to accomplish his vow, or a freewill offering in beeves or sheep,—it shall be perfect; there shall be no blemish therein."—Leviticus 22: 21.

So, after all the blessings they had received from Jehovah, they were cheating Him, showing contempt for His ordinances. In the matter of tithes they were also "robbing the Lord," and Malachi chides them for this.

How many of us do likewise when we bring our offerings to the house of God? Do we spend money for luxuries which we could do without and give a pittance to God's work? We too should check on this matter, each one of us.

In another matter the people of Israel were greatly at fault—a matter which is also true of our generation. It is in dealings with our families and our fellows. Malachi says:

"Have we not all one Father? hath not God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?"

Why is man so cruel to man? We grow heartsick at the crimes committed every day in our own country and which are duplicated over the entire world. The very least we can do is to treat others fairly, not cheating or being unkind to them.

And in the matter of divorce, which is such a problem in our modern world, Malachi has a word for that too. He speaks of the man who marries in his youth, but casts his wife aside in later years and takes another—in the Hebrews' case, possibly a heathen woman. He warns such to "take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth." Jesus had some words on this same subject.

Beginning with the third chapter of his book, Malachi prophesies the coming of John the Baptist:

"Behold, I will send My messenger, and he shall prepare the way before Me; and the Lord whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to His temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in; behold, He shall come, saith the Lord of Hosts."

How can we live righteously on earth? By loving God our Father with all our hearts and worshiping Him. But we must never forget that with this worship of God we must always consider His other children all over the world, and be sure to treat them as our brothers and sisters.

MEMORY VERSE

"Have we not all one Father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother?—Malachi 2:10.

The Rural Fall Fairs are on in full swing and most of them held to date have enjoyed excellent weather. All report record entry lists and have attracted record crowds. This is encouraging to the public-spirited citizens who work and plan for these annual county exhibitions. Their efforts are not only appreciated, but are deserving of the highest praise.

* * * *

While we join with countless other citizens in extending congratulations to Marilyn Bell and Cliff Lumsden on their success in completing long ditance swims recently, we fail to see where these contests of endurance have contributed anything that could be termed "useful" towards making this world a better place in which to live. True, they both accomplished endurance records as swimmers that few others will be able to duplicate, and made small fortunes for themselves as a result—so what? If they had discovered a cure for cancer, or some method to control the weather, or a tonic that would keep people from ageing—they would have been deserving of the publicity and ballyhoo they have received for their swimming feats.

The editor feels sometimes that his best ideas and most anguished efforts are never read (says the Summerside P.E.I. Journal-Pioneer) but let a typographical error slip by and suddenly everybody in the area seems to have read the paper. This is the compensation of making mistakes in this business—we are reassured that somebody does read the paper.

The judge had just passed sentence on Sam. It was Sam's third conviction for chicken stealing, and as he stood in court, he was heard to mutter something heavily to himself.

"What's that you said?" demanded the judge. "It sounded a lot like profanity."

"Yes you did," insisted his honor, "and I want you to repeat it out loud.

"Well, suh," offered Sam, slowly, "all I said was, 'God am de judge, suh, God am de judge."

The time has come, we all agreed,
To learn the Golden Rule,
And so a little hand was clasped
And she was led to school.

With forty other five-year-olds
And forty other Mums,
With mixed emotions, joys and fears,
The strange procession comes.

A few feel poised and nonchalant,
But some feel all alone;
They hang their heads and twist their skirts,
Their Mothers' and their own!

While clutching hands are disengaged,
With cries of joy and woe,
A bell rings out the zero hour—
The Mums are asked to go!

Your baby wings are clipped, wee girl,
And little do you know,
For years and years and years that bell
Will toll—and off you go!

—Wilma M. Coutts, Durham.

an excellent resort on the other side of the Island if one wants to really get away from it all.

We had breakfast on leaving Fiji and landed at Sydney about 11 a.m. after a refuelling stop at Auckland's airport in New Zealand.

Arrival At Sydney

We cannot omit mention of the excellent service given tourists and visitors by the customs at Sydney Airport. The familiar queue is noticeably absent and passengers are summoned by name in a quick and courteous manner.

Make sure you have the "official stamp" as required on your certificate of vaccination.

I didn't, and as a result got the needle again—administered by an Australian M.O., courtesy of the Australian Government.

I must check on my return to Quebec whether or not Doc. MacDonald billed me for that first needle job.

He told me the stamp was not necessary!

Aussies Live Well!

The Canadian visitor to Australia will find much to interest him in this land of some 10,000,-0000 people who are so very like Canadians in many ways but so different in others.

The average Australian enjoys a high standard of living, second only to the U.S.A. and Canada. with nearly every family owning at least one automobile. Mainly because of dollar restrictions most autos are of English or Continental make. However, many Aussies now drive the wholly Australian-made General Motors produced "Holden," sometimes known as the "poor man's Chevvy." It's a popular make and has astonishingly high pick-up and performance.

Residents in the higher brackets generally go for the higher priced Jaguar with some families owning, say a "Jag," and also a smaller car as a secondary automobile.

While I was in Australia General Motors announced plans to build a $42,000,000 new plant. They also announced a profit of $21,000,000 over the preceding year.

The climate is a direct reversal of Canada's with the heat of summer during the months of December and January! One of the most enjoyable periods in which to make the trip and yet not be in the peak travelling period would be during February, March or April.

Oh! and, yes . . . a must for all overseas guests is a visit to one of the animal sanctuaries where good close-up pictures of Australia's strange animals may be taken—and don't forget to take some snapshots of the Koala bears. They're as cute as the publicity photos depict them.

'The School That Never Needs a Bell

Getting their children off to school is no problem for parents whose sons and daughters attend the model school at Miraflores in La Paz, Bolivia, attached to the Higher Teacher Training Institute. It is run, with advice from experts from the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, on the premise that "a child's interest in learning is natural." The children have such a thirst for knowledge that no bell is needed to summon them to class in the mornings. Indeed, the school, which opened in 1953, has never had a bell. The teaching methods developed here are spreading to other schools; in one of them, children have been taught to read and write within 50 to 60 days. The picture above shows a mathematics class at the Miraflores school with the instructress, Maria Alicia Zegada (at right) explaining geometrical abstractions with the use of a prop showing architecture of Egyptian and pre-Colombian civilizations.

UNITED CHURCH W. M. S.

The regular meeting of the Afternoon Auxiliary of the W. M. S. of the United Church was held on Thursday afternoon in the Sunday School Hall. Mrs. T. N. Mitchell, president of the society, opened the meeting when she read an article entitled "The Dove." The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Eldon Fennell. Mrs. W. H. Angus was asked to order the new study book and map, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Ronald Freeland.

Mrs. Willis VanAllen reported that she had sent two cards, and that four hospital visits and 32 house calls were made.

The Thank Offering meeting will be held in October, which will be followed by a "Pot Luck" supper.

Miss Ellice Smith, the delegate to the School for Leaders, which was held in August at the McCauley Camp at L'Orignal, gave her report. WEDDINGS

MORROW—BARKLEY

A double ring ceremony at St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Dunbar, took place on a recent Wednesday afternoon, at 4.30 p.m., when Janice Mae Mariann Barkley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bismark Barkley, of Morewood, became the bride of Donald Verdon Morrow, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Verdon Morrow, of Sharbot Lake, Ont.

Baskets of gladioli in pastel shades adorned the altar and church for the ceremony performed by the Rev. J. L. Kirchhofer, of Williamsburg and Dunbar charges.

Mrs. Kirchhofer was soloist and sang very sweetly "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony, and "I Passed By Your Window" during the signing of the register. Mrs. Grace Froats was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Reta Dennison, of Kingston, as maid of honour. The bridesmaids were the Misses Helen McPherson, Aileen Barkley and Lorna Froats, and Judy Barkley, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Gerald Morrow, only brother of the groom, was best man, and Neil McArthur of Gananoque and Donald Weegar of Morewood were ushers. Master Brian Barkley, of Kingston, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer, and carried the rings on a white Bible decorated with red rose buds and white satin streamers.

For her wedding, the charming bride chose a floor-length gown of nylon lace and net over satin on princess lines, with sweetheart neckline and deep flounce of pleated net caught with seed pearls. A matching bolero of lace edged with net and long sleeves coming to points over the hands, completed the ensemble. A tiara of lace and net with seed pearls and irridescent sequins held in place her fingertip veil of embroidered nylon net. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white pom poms. Her only jewellery was a double strand of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

The maid of honour and bridesmaids wore similar floor-length gowns in turquoise, mauve and maize lace and net over taffeta, with matching bouquets of pom poms and elbow net mitts. The flower girl was dressed in maize net over satin, and carried a basket of mauve and yellow mums with matching streamers.

The bride's mother was dressed in a Dior blue crepe and lace with navy accessories. The groom's mother wore a two-piece ensemble of navy with navy and white accessories. Both wore red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall. The bride's table was centred with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake decorated in pink, white and silver, with a miniature bride and groom.

Over eighty guests were present. Rev. Mr. Kirchhofer proposed the toast to the bride, responded to by the groom. The toast to the bridesmaids was made by the best man.

Following the ceremony all journeyed to the home of the bride where a social evening was spent before the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Parry Sound and other northern parts, returning by way of Algonquin Park. For travelling the bride donned a powder blue wool suit with navy and pink accesories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrow will reside at 57 Kingscourt St., Kingston.

Relatives and friends from a distance were present from Toronto, Parry Sound, Perth, Maberly, Sharbot Lake and Kingston.

LINDSAY—WALKER

St. Paul's United Church, Souris, Man., was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Mary Ellen Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Walker, of Souris, and Mr. William A. Lindsay, of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lindsay, of Ottawa, formerly of Winchester.

Rev. V. H. Sangwine performed the ceremony in a floral setting of baskets of gladioli, and Mrs. Sangwine played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Mrs. James Hossack, of Winnipeg, as matron of honor. Mr. James D. Lindsay, of Ottawa, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Foster Boles, of Brandon, Man., and Mr. Donald Biglow, of Holland, Man.

The bride wore a wedding gown of lace and net over satin, and her shoulder-length veil was held by a matching bandeau. She carried a white Bible adorned with Sweetheart roses and heather.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay left on a motor trip through the United States. They will take up residence in Toronto.

BALANCED FEEDING ALWAYS PAYS
SHUR-GAIN FEEDS
There's no doubt about it—no one wants a steady diet of just bread and water.
But—if you're feeding straight grain alone, you're asking your livestock to live and thrive on "bread and water." And it's been proved many times that you can't get the results from grain alone that you get by feeding a balanced ration.
If you have your own grain, make it go farther and return you a greater profit by balancing it with SHUR-GAIN Concentrates to add the protein, vitamins and minerals it lacks. Or, if you need complete feeds, SHUR-GAIN Complete Feeds are profit-makers, too.

Malachi Calls for Righteous Living — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Leviticus 22:21-22; Malachi.

Malachi, called "the last of the prophets," reproached the people of Judah for bringing lame, sick or blind lambs for offerings to the Lord. The law said such offerings should be perfect.

Malachi also accused the priests of offering spoiled bread upon the altars, showing contempt for the Lord's table. "Offer it now to thy governor; will he be pleased with thee?" he asked.

The prophet warned against divorce, denouncing men who married young, and cast their wives aside for heathen women. "Let none deal treacherously against the wife of their youth," he warned.

Malachi prophesied the coming of John the Baptist as the forerunner of Christ. "Behold I will send My messenger, and he shall prepare the way before Me."

MEMORY VERSE—Malachi 2:10.

CANADA'S health

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE WHOOPING COUGH

Whooping cough, regarded by many as merely a childhood ailment, is one of the most serious contagious diseases that can strike a child. Many youngsters die from it. Many of those who do survive are left with impairment of lungs or brain. Each year, Canada sets aside one week in September known as Immunization Week, in order to bring to the attention of parents, through press, radio and any other available means, a reminder to have children inoculated against this common but very dangerous disease.

FIRST YEAR'S BATTLE

An infant has a battle for survival during his first year of life. During this period, it is a good idea to have his health and general progress checked each month by his doctor or the well-baby clinic, where his weight, physical condition and growth will be recorded. He should have his daily dose of vitamin D, which should continue from birth until he is sixteen years of age. Immunization against the various contagious diseases should be given at the time the doctor or clinic advises.

TO KEEP JUNIOR GOING

With school days here again and Junior's mind and muscles getting a good workout, the youngster needs plenty of food, chosen to supply the various proteins, minerals and vitamins that will help him to grow sturdy and strong. The lunch he takes to school should contain as much nourishment as the mid-day meal he would have at home. Sandwiches made from wholegrain bread, filled with meat, fish, eggs, cheese or peanut butter, together with some raw vegetable (carrot sticks are good) and fruit and a dessert will take care of his food needs until his next regular meal. A hot drink or soup in a vacuum flask will make a welcome addition on cooler days.

SELF-DIAGNOSIS

There is a type of person who loves to talk of his aches and pains, real and imaginary, at long length and with plenty of detail. The story of his ailments may or may not interest anyone but himself but they don't add to his popularity. If he really has pain or symptoms of illness, he would be better advised to consult a doctor, who is the only authority competent to diagnose symptoms. Many people nurse their imaginary ills for years, a worry to themselves and their families. They could enjoy life much more if they would see the doctor and let him convince them that they were really in normally good health, or prescribe treatment if the condition requires it.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Piano Keys

Always wash the laundry tubs thoroughly after using. This will avoid the ugly rim around the sides caused by the soap.

One of the best cleaners, and whiteners, for piano keys is the juice of a lemon. Rub briskly over the keys.
