Big day for the Devils

North Dundas District High School played host to an SD&G regular-season tournament on Oct. 11 and managed to win all four of their matches. The Senior Devils blanked the Russell T-Wolves 7-nil and the CCVS Golden Raiders 5-3 while the Junior Devils whitewashed the GVIS Vikings 3-nil and edged the St. Lawrence Saints 2-1. Junior Devil Jordan Havekes (left) tackled the ball away from a Viking defender and the keeper (right) seconds before he scored a goal. More coverage on page 11.

Township to offer reward

Resolving suspicious fires a priority

By Bonnie James
Press staff

WINCHESTER – The Township of North Dundas is preparing to offer a financial reward to encourage people to come forward with information about the suspicious fires in the region — 16 since June. Though no resolution has yet been passed, council members confirmed their intentions at the council meeting on Tues., Oct. 10.

"I'd like to recommend that we consider $10,000," said Mayor Alvin Runnalls, noting that the township could also approach South Dundas and the various insurance companies to contribute more to the total.

Council discusses $5,000 and $10,000 options

Runnalls said that council had already discussed the idea of a reward at an in camera session with local fire chiefs and the SD&G OPP detachment commander at the previous council meeting.

"It (the reward) would have to be through CrimeStoppers," he added.

There was some discussion regarding the amount.

"I might not be quite so generous," said councillor Estella Rose. "I was thinking $5,000."

Councillor Al Armstrong agreed.

"I'd like to see us start at $5,000," he said, noting that they could then go higher if nothing happens.

Armstrong added that he'd like to see the United Counties put in some money, as well.

"They're in charge of policing, and policing is not getting it done," he said.

Not everyone put their full support behind the idea of a reward.

"To me that's not the solution," said councillor Martin Schoones, pointing out that simply putting that sort of money into advertising for the public's assistance would go a long way.

The mayor countered by suggesting that council should take some concrete action.

"I'd like to see us take a step, at least," he said.

With Deputy-Mayor Bill Smirle absent, it was agreed that a resolution regarding a reward be tabled at the next council meeting, which is on Mon., Oct. 23.

"The public is going to be our best resource," Sr. Const. Pete Robertson, told the Press about the fire investigations. "Community involvement is what we want."

Robertson explained that the CrimeStoppers program is already in place for all crimes in the area. It offers rewards of up to $2,000 to people who phone in a tip that leads to an arrest.

"This (council's planned reward) is over and above that," Robertson said.

If you have any information you think may be of use in the case, call CrimeStoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS.

Meet the candidates across the county

WINCHESTER — North Dundas residents will get their first opportunity to see the candidates for municipal council square off against one another on Thurs., Oct. 19 at the Chesterville Legion. The all-candidates meeting, the first of three hosted by the North Dundas Chamber of Commerce, will run from 7:30 to 9:30 pm.

The other debates will take place on Tues., Oct. 24 at the South Mountain Agricultural Hall and Thurs., Oct. 26 at Winchester's Old Town Hall. Both gatherings will run from 7:30 to 9:30 pm.

The moderator for all meetings is Nick Zrymiak of South Mountain. Opening statements will be limited to four minutes for mayoral candidates, three minutes for deputy-mayoral candidates, and two minutes for those vying for a councillor's seat.

Pietersma uncontested

WINCHESTER — Greg Pietersma will be acclaimed as Dundas County trustee for the Upper Canada District School Board in the upcoming municipal election. This will be Pietersma's second term in office.

"I want to thank the residents of Dundas County for [their] support," Pietersma said. "I am eager to begin my second term and to start work on the numerous issues surrounding the board."

Pietersma was chair of the Program and Education Committee in 2004 and 2005, chair of the Policy Committee in 2003 and 2004, vice-chair of the board in 2004 and 2005, and is currently chair of the Finance and Operations Committee, a director representing the UCDSB at the Ontario Public School Board Association, co-chair of Playground Review Committee, and leader of the "Maintaining the Momentum" taskforce.

Pietersma noted that Dundas County has a terrific tradition of very politically active school councils that have had a profound impact on schools.

Taking steps

The Canadian Cancer Society's Taking Steps Against Breast Cancer walk took place for the second year in Winchester on Sun., Oct. 15. Kate Enright (left), Courtney MacLellan, and Alix Baker carried this banner throughout the five-kilometre route. The walk had 50 participants, who raised a total of $8,500 for breast cancer research — more than double the amount of last year's event. Those taking part also enjoyed lunch, entertainment provided by local band Designated Decoy, presentations, prizes, and gift bags.

STILL ROARING

KENMORE — The Rural Older Adult Rendezvous (ROAR) program celebrated its fifth anniversary last week. ROAR is an Osgoode Home Support program for seniors. Participants meet every Wednesday at the Kenmore Community Centre.

"It's a socialization and activation program," said program coordinator Wendy Hill, explaining that it is targeted toward seniors who may be isolated in a rural area, struggle with memory loss, or who can otherwise benefit from a weekly session of physical and mental exercise. The program also provides respite to family members or caregivers of seniors in the community.

ROAR is not a drop in program. Hill conducts a home visit with potential participants to ensure the program is right for them.

The group is currently operating at its maximum capacity with 14 seniors. Two staff members and three volunteers are present at every session to ensure that all participants are engaged.

"We have a lot of laughs," said Hill, explaining that the group often plays games that get the seniors up and moving.

The group celebrated its fifth anniversary of programming on Thurs., Oct. 12 with cake and balloons, and a giant helping of fun.

"ROAR is run on donations from the community, as well as minimal client fees," said Hill. Anyone who wishes to find out more about the program is asked to call Osgoode Home Support at 613-821-1101.

Marjorie Heggart (above) is one of the original members of ROAR (Rural Older Adult Rendezvous) and was on hand to help the group celebrate its fifth anniversary. ROAR is an Osgoode Home Support program and participants meet weekly at the Kenmore Community Centre. Wendell Clark (left) was living it up at the ROAR get together in Kenmore on Thurs., Oct. 12. Trustee

"We have made great headway in this term improving student success as our EQAO testing results are now better than those of our coterminous boards, but there is more to be done," he continued. "There are many projects still outstanding. Projects like the South Mountain library branch, raising the high school graduation rate to 90 per cent, developing a plan to deal with declining enrolment, and increasing literacy and numeracy levels in Dundas County will be a focus for me in the next term."

Pietersma said there is a need to redefine what public education is going to look like in Dundas County and find a balance between the needs of communities and the needs of students.

"We must have an honest, open discussion on matching our expectations of our schools and our willingness to fund them," he said.

Downloading of costs to our parents is an area of great concern to Pietersma.

"With inadequate funding coming from the province, our parents have had to bear the load," he said. "This is not what public education should be about."

OTHER BOARDS

While other boards have different boundaries, below are the names that will appear on the ballot in Dundas County.

For the Catholic District School Board of Eastern Ontario, an election will take place between Chris. T. Chisholm and Karen McAllister.

For the French Public School Board (Conseil des écoles publiques de l'Est de l'Ontario), Lise Benoit-Leger and Stephane Perreault are competing for the trustee's seat.

Roger Villeneuve has been acclaimed as trustee in the French Catholic School Board (Conseil scolaire de district Catholique de l'Est Ontarien).

OSGOODE WARD

In the Ottawa-Carleton District School Board Zone 7 (Gloucester-Southgate, Osgoode), incumbent Greg Laws is running against Tom Connolly.

John Curry is acclaimed as Ottawa-Carleton Catholic School Board trustee for Zone 1, which includes Osgoode Ward.

In Zone 10 of the French Catholic school board, Patrick Boucher is campaigning against Robert Tremblay.

In Zone 6 of the French public board, Georges Ortali has been acclaimed as trustee.

Candidates

Members of the public will be invited to step forward to the microphone and ask questions to one or two candidates at a time. The candidates will have a maximum of two minutes to respond.

Refreshments will be served after the meetings conclude.

North Dundas has two candidates each for the positions of mayor and deputy-mayor and seven candidates for the three councillor seats.

SOUTH DUNDAS

There are so many candidates running in South Dundas that they will have two separate debates: one for the mayoral and deputy-mayoral candidates and one for the candidates for the three council seats. Those sessions are being hosted by the South Dundas Chamber of Commerce. The four candidates for mayor and four for deputy mayor will face off on Mon., Oct. 23 at Matilda Hall in Dixon's Corners at 7 pm. The 12 candidates for councillor will meet in the same venue at the same time on Mon., Oct. 30.

Voting in North and South Dundas will take place from 9 am on Wed., Nov. 8 until 8 pm on Nov. 13, at which time the results will be tabulated. Voting can only be done via telephone or the Internet.

World class pianist to perform here

WINCHESTER – The Old Town Hall in Winchester will welcome a piano virtuoso on Sun., Oct. 29. Nineteen-year-old Alexander Seredenko will perform a concert beginning at 3 pm. Tickets are $10.

"This is a concert no one should miss, particularly people who are trying to encourage young people to study their piano," said Roy Fawcett, who is part of a committee that has been working at attracting classical performers to Winchester's Old Town Hall. "It's just going to blow their minds."

Born in Moscow, Seredenko came to Canada when he was three. He graduated from Toronto Royal Conservatory of Music with high honours at the age of 14. A student of Valerie Tryon, he has performed in master classes for Sergei Dorensky, Alan Walker, and Oksana Yablonskaya.

He won two grand prizes at the World Piano Competition in Cincinnati in 2003, for solo and concerto performances, as well as second prize and a special award at both the Bartok-Kabalevsky-Prokofiev International Piano Competition in 2002, and the Corpus Christi International Competition for Piano and Strings in 2004. He made his orchestral debut at the age of 13 after winning the CBSO Competition, followed by his CBC radio debut as one of the winners of the Canada-wide network's Up and Coming contest.

Alexander Seredenko

"His list of accomplishments is staggering for someone so young," said Fawcett.

Seredenko will perform a variety of pieces, including selections by Bach, Haydn, and Laszt. He will share the stage with guest soloist Giselle Minns, a soprano opera singer.

"We want to have her come and do a concert here later," said Fawcett. "This is an introduction."

Minns' work includes performances with artists such as José Carreras and the BBC Concert Orchestra for BBC Radio Two. She has appeared on Canadian radio and British television, and won Talent Rock's Top Female Vocalist Award in 2005, where she performed live on U.S. television. She is currently writing and recording her debut album in Canada.

The concert has local classical enthusiasts, like Fawcett brimming with excitement. He noted it's an excellent opportunity for music lovers to take in a world class piano performance and an up and coming opera star in an intimate setting.

Scotiabank support

Timothy Christian School in Williamsburg holds a bike-a-thon school fundraiser every second year. This year, the total raised by the Sept. 30 event was $15,450. That amount included a $5,000 donation from Scotiabank Morrisburg. Pictured at the cheque presentation on Fri., Oct. 13 are: Scotiabank employee Audrey Pol (back, left), TCS board of directors chair Art Pol, principal Gary Postma, Scotiabank manager Nancy Lemaire, fundraising committee rep Andrew Bowman, and students Kaydance Luchies — who collected $405 in pledges (front, left), Chelsea Dejong — $664 in pledges, Janessa Pol — $1,068 in pledges, Corrin Harbers — $720 in pledges, Devon Havenaar — $393 in pledges, Christopher Wubs — $1,750 in pledges, and Christopher Tibben — $477 in pledges. Janessa Pol was the winner of the draw and received $250 in gift certificates. Press Photo — James

Post-breast surgery products now available at local outlet

CHESTERVILLE — Bridals by Al-Mor is stepping up to make life a little bit easier for local breast cancer survivors and those undergoing treatment. The store is offering a full line of external breast forms and post-surgery lingerie by Amoena.

"I think the environment is perfect to offer these products," said Bridals owner Kim Carruthers. "It's upbeat and confidential."

She said that it's important for women to be able to shop for these products in a positive atmosphere, "versus a clinical place."

The Chesterville bridal boutique, in conjunction with Jewel's Esthetics and Marion's Flowers, is hosting an open house on Thurs., Oct. 26 between 10:30 am and 3 pm to introduce the new products and services. Ladies are invited to come to the store, enjoy refreshments, and take a look at what's being offered. An Amoena company representative from Montreal will be on hand.

Amoena has been helping women enjoy fuller lives after breast surgery for 30 years. The company was founded in 1975 by brothers Cornelius Rechenberg, Joachim Rechenberg, and Rolf Gardey in Germany. Under their guidance, Amoena produced the world's first silicone gel and polyurethane breast form, the first two-layer breast form, and the first quality attachable breast form. Amoena also raised the quality and aesthetic standards for breast surgery-related textiles, such as bras and swimwear.

"This is the product that the Canadian Cancer Society recommended to us," said Carruthers, noting that Amoena products are top of the line.

Amoena breast forms are available in a variety of shapes, sizes and colours to accommodate various body types, breast shapes, and surgeries. There are traditional styles, as well as lightweight and self-adhesive designs.

The best way to find the breast form that looks and feels the best is to schedule a post-mastectomy fitting appointment with a certified breast form fitter. Bridals by Al-Mor has five certified fitters. In the personal session, the fitter listens carefully to what the woman wants and needs in a breast form, then offers a number of choices. A woman can expect to try on several breast forms in order to find the one that's just right for her.

Anyone who would like a breast form fitting, during the open house or any other time, is asked to call 613-448-3370) and book an appointment.

WDMH showcases new technology

WINCHESTER — Technology is a crucial component of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital 2007 Renewal Project that will see the hospital realize its vision of becoming a state-of-the-art community hospital. New network-based technologies will give WDMH staff access to more tools and information; facilitate efficient communication and information sharing with hospitals, health-care practitioners, and organizations around the area; and help WDMH deliver the highest possible levels of patient care.

In order to preview some of technology, WDMH will deploy in the coming months, the hospital, together with technology leaders Cisco Systems and Bell Canada, is hosting the Cisco NOW (Network on Wheels) Van on Mon., Oct. 23. The general public is invited to view the 25-foot mobile showcase equipped with interactive demonstrations between the hours of 10 am and 4 pm in the front parking lot of WDMH. No RSVP is necessary, unless you would like a guided tour, in which case you should contact Tara Reed (tara@stratamp.com) or Ingrid Hillerup (ingrid@stratamp.com).

Aboard the Cisco NOW Van, visitors can experience live demonstrations of technology solutions designed to maximize productivity, enhance patient care, increase user satisfaction, and reduce operating costs.

Key networking solutions on board the NOW Van include:

- IP communications solutions
- Security solutions
- Mobility and wireless solutions
- Networkfoundation solutions
- Management solutions.

Police blotter

Failing to comply

CHESTERVILLE — SD&G OPP officers stopped a gray Chevy in the area of County Road 7 and County Road 9 North Dundas Township on Oct. 14 at approximately 10:30 pm. The investigation revealed the female driver, 36, was in contravention of release conditions from a previous incident and was arrested. The driver was released and is to appear in court facing two charges of failing to comply with an undertaking, as well as a breach of probation. She is scheduled to appear in Morrisburg court on Dec. 5. Const. A. Burtch is investigating.

Mischief

MORRISBURG — SD&G OPP responded to a report of mischief on Lakeshore Drive in Morrisburg on Oct. 14 at 9:30 am. The investigation revealed that some time over the previous two days, unknown suspects threw paint on two vehicles parked in a driveway. Const. D. Ferguson is investigating.

Suspect arrested

SD&G — As a result of an ongoing joint investigation, SD&G OPP break and enter unit members and the Cornwall Police Service were involved in the arrest of a male suspect. Due to the large number of break and enters across SD&G and the City of Cornwall, the sharing of information helped secure the arrest made on Oct. 5. The male, identified as Jamie Lee Vautour, 28, of Cornwall, was held in custody pending a court appearance in Cornwall court. He faces 13 charges of break and enter. As the investigation continues, more charges may be forthcoming. Const. M. Lalonde is investigating.

Blackie and The Rodeo Kings to play

KEMPTVILLE — If you didn't get a chance to see Colin Linden when he performed at the North Grenville Municipal Centre last March, now is your chance to see him perform along with "Bark" (Blackie and The Rodeo Kings) partners Stephen Fearing and Tom Wilson. The trio will perform in the North Grenville Municipal Centre tomorrow (Thurs., Oct. 19) at 8 pm.

Blackie and the Rodeo Kings has been together for a full decade, and the band won its first Juno in 1999 for the double album Kings of Love, which is a collaboration of covers, folk, rock, and ballads. With each of the three musicians successfully pursuing solo careers, they still manage to fit in tours as Blackie and The Rodeo Kings.

Their third album, called Bark, was released in the winter of 2003, and has been acclaimed as some of the best material that these three talented songwriters have ever put together.

Since the release of that Juno-nominated album, the trio has appeared live on the Juno and the CCMA Award shows, toured across Canada with country legend Merle Haggard, toured the U.S. on the heels of a top 15 American radio hit, and all three have released solo CDs.

The sheer pleasure they derive from playing in Blackie and the Rodeo Kings shines through on stage, and is a key to the band's success. Anyone who has seen them play will attest to the fact that they're an excellent live band.

Tickets for the Oct. 21 show are $28 and are available at Class Axe in Kemptville, or can be pre-purchased over the phone with Visa or MasterCard by calling 613-258-9119.

Winchester paramedics receive EMS exemplary service medals

WINCHESTER — Longtime Winchester paramedics Dennis McMahon and James Baker were among those awarded the Emergency Medical Services Exemplary Service Medal (EMSESM) on Sept. 21 by the much decorated Maj.-Gen. Richard Rohmer (retired) during the annual Association of Municipal Emergency Medical Services of Ontario (AMEMSO) conference held in Windsor, Ont.

"It was a blast," said McMahon about attending the awards ceremony last month.

Baker and McMahon work out of the Winchester Emergency Medical Services (EMS) station on St. Lawrence Street and between the two of them they have nearly 60 years of experience.

There were five medal recipients from the Cornwall SD&G Emergency Medical Services. The others are paramedics Wayne Markell, Norman MacCrimmon, and Dean Brush.

"We are extremely proud of our paramedics' work and effort in helping our community and are grateful they have been recognized at a national level for their years of dedication," said Norm Barrette, chief of Cornwall SD&G Emergency Medical Services.

The EMS Exemplary Service Medal was created in 1994 and is awarded by the Governor General's office to recognize professionals in the pre-hospital emergency medical services who have performed their duties in an exemplary manner characterized by good conduct, industry, and efficiency. Recipients must have completed 20 years of exemplary service, at least 10 of which must have been street level duty involving potential risk to the individual. The EMS Exemplary Service Medal is awarded to those who have served at least 20 years in a meritorious manner.

In addition to their long years of service, McMahon and Baker have both demonstrated a commitment to the community. McMahon has been a first aid and CPR instructor for 25 years and also has participated in a co-operative program for high school students — taking responsibility for them for four months as they earn school credits by gaining exposure to the EMS work environment. Baker is a volunteer with Meals on Wheels and has been involved with fundraising for Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Both men have been volunteer instructors for the Eastern Ontario Health Unit's babysitting course.

According to an EMS press release, the Exemplary Service Medal should be seen as a true honour given to those who have dedicated their lives to the provision of care to their fellow citizens, as well as promotion of the profession, involvement in their community and strong work ethic.

The selection standard for this prestigious honour is high and the character of the individual is reviewed before being recommended to the Governor General's office. An advisory committee reviews all applications, and recommendations for medals are then forwarded to the National Advisory Committee for confirmation before moving on to the Governor General's Chancellery of Honours.

"We love what we do," said McMahon.

Winchester paramedics Jim Baker (left) and Dennis McMahon recently received Emergency Medical Services Exemplary Service medals — a national honour.

Elma parents say fostering was a 'natural' decision

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

ELMA — The smile on the face of a one-year-old boy tells the story. For Margaret Salmon, that's all she needs to know she's doing the right thing.

"My husband Jay said it best: 'It all boils down to love,'" she said when the Press spoke with her on Fri., Oct. 13 about her experiences as a foster family with the Children's Aid Society (CAS). "If you can give them love, everything else will work out."

Foster parents provide a temporary home for children who are in the care of the CAS, and cannot remain with their families. Children may need foster care for a few days, several months, or possibly years.

The Salmons began fostering in July 2004 after having been alternate caregivers for Margaret's sister and brother-in-law, who had been fostering for a while.

"My mom and dad got into it about the same time," Salmon explained. "So it's sort a family thing. It kind of evolved from that. I didn't ever think I could do it, but I progressed into it."

Their first placement was short-term for two weeks in July 2004. After that, the Salmons took on twins whom they cared for for almost a year-and-a-half before they were adopted in January 2006.

"We were really involved in the adoption process," Salmon noted. "We stayed in touch [with the family] and remain friends."

She said that saying good bye was hard, but it was also a happy day, because the boys were getting a permanent family. "It's nice to see them where they belong," Salmon said.

'ALL YOU NEED IS LOVE'

Margaret Salmon hugs one of three foster children currently in her care. "If you can give them love, everything else will work out," she said. It's national Foster Family Appreciation week this week (Oct. 15 to 21).

Just 10 days after the adoption was complete, the Salmons had two other brothers placed with them, whom they cared for for five-and-a-half months. They left the end of June this year to be reunited with their parents.

"We've seen it from both sides," Salmon said about foster kids being adopted or reunited with their biological family. "We've stayed good friends with that family, too. Since we've been fostering, we've made lifelong friendships."

She said that her own children — Olivia, 4, and Owen, 8 — really enjoy having the foster kids in their home.

"We sat them down and explained it to them," Salmon said about when the process first began. "Whenever we didn't have any [foster kids], every time the phone rang, [Owen] would ask if we were getting another placement."

BUSTING WITH LOVE

Currently there are three foster kids at the Salmon residence — including two one-year-olds.

"It's a busy house," Salmon admitted, pointing out that her mom is currently fostering four teenagers. "She has a lot of practice — there were five of us close together."

And coming from a big family was a factor in a smooth transition into fostering, Salmon said.

"I was always used to a big bustling household," she said, explaining that going from two children to four is not that much of a difference. "Actually, you hear the words: 'I'm bored' a lot less frequently when there are more kids in the house."

Before being approved by the CAS, potential foster parents have to take a training course, and have criminal record and health checks. An inspector must do a study of the home, and the family must be willing to work with the inspector and compromise certain things to make the home foster kid friendly.

This week (Oct. 15 to 21) is national Foster Family Appreciation week, and Salmon said she would encourage anyone thinking of becoming foster parents. "As long as they have the ability to love — they should go for it," she said, noting that the team at the CAS has been a great support.

"They have so many resources," she said. "Any problems, you just get on the phone and call someone in a similar situation."

THE IMPORTANCE OF CARING

"I think it's really important," Salmon said about fostering. "These guys are our future. Some of them have been dealt a bad hand, and all they want is love, just like any other child."

Currently the Salmons are registered to foster infants to seven-year-olds. As their own kids get older, the age group of children they take in might get older, too. CAS has the highest need for baby foster homes and teenage foster homes right now.

It was a quiet evening less than a month ago when the phone rang at the Salmon household. A CAS worker on the other end of the line asked Salmon to meet her at a hospital in Cornwall. She arrived to find a little girl and her one-year-old brother needing a place to stay.

"She [the social worker] gave me information they had available at the time, and then they [the kids] came home with me," Salmon explained. "All they had were the clothes they had on." Since that time, the stoic and unemotional baby has become "Mr. Smiley."

"The nice thing... is you see the way they progress," Salmon said, noting that there are both physical and emotional changes the children go through. "This is the best reward," she said as the baby giggled. "It's such a great experience."

More than two years after their first placement, the Salmons have settled into their foster-parenting lifestyle.

"It was an adjustment, but it was also natural," Salmon said of becoming a foster family. "It kind of just fell into place. People have asked me: 'Do I ever miss work?' And I don't. I love being home. I couldn't see us going back to the life we had before."

Since she and her husband began fostering, her brother and sister-in-law have started fostering, as well.

"I know it has been rewarding for Jay and I," Salmon said. "And it's been good for our children, as well."

She said that she hopes she is setting a good example for them and that one day, they will consider being foster parents.

"I can put up with a few extra hand prints on my walls," she said.

The Children's Aid Society of SD&G is always in need of foster families. To learn more, contact the foster care department at 613-930-7504.

Bringing care home in October

WILLIAMSBURG — October is the time to celebrate local Community Support Programs. It is a time to thank the dedicated staff and volunteers of local community support agencies who deliver critical services to seniors, and persons with disabilities or debilitating chronic diseases and their families every day.

Community support agencies provide a broad basket of services in Dundas County, such as attendant care, adult and Alzheimer day programs, Meals on Wheels, personal and home support, transportation to the hospital or doctor appointments, and supportive housing programs. These services are integral to the continuity of care for people in a well-functioning healthcare system.

The Minister of Health and Long-Term Care recently recognized this.

"Better managing care for the elderly and those with chronic disease stands as both a challenge and a huge opportunity to situate our resources close to people's homes and closer to our hearts and our deep-seated inherent belief in prevention," said George Smitherman. "The demand for community support services continues to grow as our population ages and persons with disabilities and debilitating diseases increase. Caregivers continue to burn-out with the burdens placed upon them caring for a loved one in need."

The support services of the J.W. MacIntosh Seniors' Support Centre in Williamsburg (613-535-2924), Morrisburg and District Meals on Wheels (613-543-4568), Dundas County Hospice (613-535-2215), and the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre in Winchester (613-774-6109), all depend on dedicated persons who volunteer their time and talents.

Community Support Month is a time to volunteer — to help your neighbours and build community. To hear more about how you can help, please contact the above phone numbers. Orientation, information, training, and support are available.

These agencies are members of the Ontario Community Support Association (OCSA), a provincial body that represents 360 not-for-profit agencies with 25,000 well-trained professional staff and 100,000 volunteers. More than 750,000 people of all ages across Ontario receive community support services each year. These important, cost-effective services prevent unnecessary hospitalizations, ER admissions, and premature institutionalization.

Give them love

They open their home to strangers — in some cases for just a few days, in others, for many years. And they deserve a lot more appreciation than they get.

This week (Oct. 15 to 21) is Foster Family Appreciation week. Officially, "foster parents provide a temporary home for children who are in the care of the Children's Aid Society, and cannot remain with their families." Unofficially, they hand out love, unconditionally, to the kids that need it most.

Right here in SD&G, there are children in need of caring homes. There are situations every day that happen behind closed doors that friends and neighbours don't see. At any time of day a case worker might call a foster family on their list and say: "Meet me at the hospital. These kids need a place to stay."

There, foster parents meet the newest additions to their household, and amongst tears, bundle them up and take them home. Sometimes all they might know are the kids' names. Some children may have a suitcase with minimal belongings, while others come only with the clothes on their back.

But to see those children progress from being sometimes scared or unemotional to a happy member of the household has to be a good feeling.

It's hard to understand how to deal with the challenges the children face — in addition to dealing with the loss of their parents, many also have to cope with being taken out of their homes, out of their schools, out of their lives. Fostering is complicated. It's messy. But it's also said to be one of the most rewarding experiences.

So, while the Children's Aid Society has set this week aside for Foster Family Appreciation, foster parents should be appreciated every day for their vital contributions to our community. We all probably drive by at least one foster household on a regular basis and don't even realize it. They're homes, filled with love, just like any other. But they are different. These are people that have rearranged their lives to put other peoples children first. They have sometimes set aside material needs to ensure neglected children can feel loved, and for that, they should be commended.

In SD&G there are more and more children requiring foster care every day. If you are considering making the commitment to become a foster parent, contact the CAS for more information (613-930-7504).

If this isn't possible, consider supporting the foster families in your community by acknowledging their dedication; donating toys, clothes, and other items they may need; and making friends with their foster children.

Foster parents are a priceless resource, so important to the functioning of our community and to the welfare of our children.

Local foster mom Margaret Salmon said it best: "These guys are our future. Some of them have been dealt a bad hand, and all they want is love, just like any other child. If you can give them love, everything else will work out."

The coolest game in Israel...

From the Other Side
by Jeffrey Morris

It was a night that exemplified everything that was right with minor hockey. There were no hockey dads screaming that their kids weren't getting enough ice time. There were no coaches terrorizing players. There were no parents and grandparents cussing at referees.

It was pure. It was where skill met friendship and sportsmanship. It made everybody there believe in what hockey was meant to be.

It may not have been the biggest game the Nepean Midget "A" Raiders will play this year or maybe even this month, but as the lives of these boys unfold, this is the game they will never forget.

On Monday night, the Raiders took to the Nepean Sportsplex ice and faced the Israeli national junior team. The Raiders would win 9-4, but late in the second period they trailed 4-3. Sergei Matin, the president of the Israeli Ice Hockey Federation, sat in the Sportsplex and liked what he saw.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for our kids," said Matin with his thick Russian accent. Matin is among the more than one million Russian immigrants in Israel. "The kids on our team are mostly 15 and 16, and it is great for them to come here and learn about hockey."

There are only 200 registered hockey players in Israel, though three of them are considered legitimate pro prospects. The junior team, which has become a power in the World Junior Tournament's "C" Pool, is coached by Jean Perron, who led the Montreal Canadiens to the 1986 Stanley Cup.

"We have only 200 registered players but we have great coaching," said Matin. "How many kids get to have a Stanley Cup-winning coach? We also have 3,000 players playing inline hockey. The sport is not yet popular, but it is growing. We have only one rink in Israel, and the Canadian Jewish community has been wonderful in the money and support they have given to help our program."

Nepean-Carleton MP and secretary to the president of the treasury board Pierre Poilievre was at the game to welcome the Israeli players and present them with Canadian flags. Poilievre has been to the arena, which is at Canada House in northern Israel, near the Lebanese border.

"I was there about four years ago," Poilievre explained while watching the game. "The thing I remember most is that we actually watched a Hezbollah bombing that day. We were on a hill, and we heard they were going to attack, and they did. We watched the explosion in the distance. The next day the Israeli jets flew right over our heads and all we heard was 'bam bam bam.' It's incredible what they go through and face in their every day lives."

Meanwhile on the ice, undersized forward Daniel Erlich had just skated through three Nepean players and placed a perfect pass on the stick of a teammate with a wide open net to give Israel a 3-2 lead. Erlich was clearly the best player on the ice on either team. He could skate, he was highly skilled, and he had an instinct for the game that was at a different level than the other players. On this night, he was the face -– the hope –- of Israel's hockey future.

Israel has some other good players, too. Ely Sherbatov is another small and skilled player whose Russian parents were both involved in coaching hockey and skating. He made a name for himself as a 13-year-old playing against 18 year-olds and is currently recovering from knee surgery.

A bigger and more physical player is Oren Zamir who is currently playing hockey at Notre Dame College in Saskatchewan. Notre Dame has produced a long line of NHL stars including Rod Brind'Amour and Curtis Joseph.

It was the second time the Israeli team has played Nepean. Last year, Sherbatov and Zamir were in the lineup as the Raiders Midget "AA" team throttled the Israelis 10-1. This year, even though the game was against a Midget "A" club, the skill level of the Israelis was visibly better as they controlled play in the first two periods before running out of gas.

"We are improving," said Matin. "The big thing is that we need more facilities. We have only one rink and it is far for some of our players to get to. It's exciting to see the program grow. I hope that someday Israel can play hockey in the Olympics. I know right now it seems hard to imagine, but we have to have big dreams."

Matin continued to emphasize how much his players were learning about hockey on their trip which included stops in New York, Chicago, Toronto, and Montreal. On this day with their guests and on this night, perhaps the Raiders learned more about hockey.

They met new friends and learned that hockey could make you forget about living in a war zone. On this night, hockey was more than a game. Hockey was hope; hockey was dreams. It was an escape from the brutal ways of life. On this night, hockey was about friendship.

2003 BLUE RIBBON

This week in...

by Bonnie James

1926

Winchester was suddenly cast into darkness when the transformer at the corner of Keyes store burned out and put the whole local hydro system out of commission. Shoppers in the village and movie-goers at Lannin's Hall were forced to use candles for the duration of the dark spell until lights were restored several hours later.

1936

An early morning fire in South Mountain destroyed a residence, a garage and service station, and a large storage shed in the heart of the village. Another house was badly damaged. Only the heroic work of the residents, who formed bucket brigades, and the timely arrival of a water pumper from Kemptville averted heavier losses.

1946

At a meeting of the finance committee for the Metcalfe Fair, it was announced that 10 per cent of the gate receipts at the fair, which would amount to approximately $200, would be donated to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

1956

Six cases of typhoid fever were called to the attention of health care officials. None of the cases were in the village of Winchester, but three Metcalfe men and one woman were listed in serious condition in the Ottawa Civic Hospital. All six people had been exposed to contaminated water from a Winchester area well.

1966

Hugh Blaine and family of Mountain won the Centennial Farm Improvement competition for Dundas County. The Blaines went on to represent the county in the zone competition. Painting, fence repair, and landscaping were among the reasons for the family's award, which recognized the best-looking farm in the county.

1976

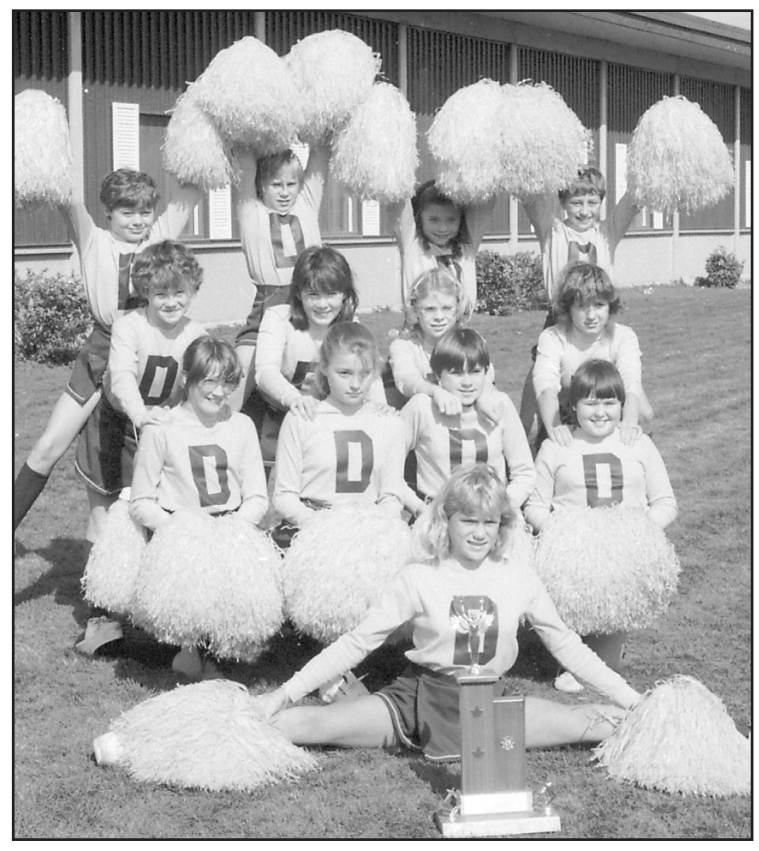
Winchester Township and Chesterville were included in a recent announcement of Wintario grants to the area. Grants totalling $25,456 were approved for five projects in the United Counties of SD&G from the proceeds of the Ontario Lottery. The Township of Winchester was to receive a grant of $3,750 toward the cost of establishing a community recreation centre in Morewood.

1986

The Winchester Hawks were off to a flying start, beating the Metcalfe Jets 8-5 in their home opener and defeating the Char-Lan Rebels 10-7. Kirk Barkley scored four goals against the Jets and the offence in the Char-Lan game was powered by Mike Sargent and Trevor McClatchie, who both scored hat tricks.

1996

Preliminary figures showed that it would cost North Dundas $300,000 to amalgamate. That was a suggestion in the first draft of a budget created by the North Dundas Restructuring Committee. Winchester Village clerk Bonnie Dingwall said the committee would continue to revamp the budget until the net loss was zero. According to the proposed budget, North Dundas would continue to offer all the same services at their current level and the number of employees would only drop by two — from 39 to 37. At the time, Chesterville had still not agreed to amalgamate.



Dixon's Corners Public School won the Dundas County Public School Junior Cheerleading competition this week in 1986, edging out Winchester's team. Upper Canada Playhouse seeks donations for auction

DIXON'S CORNERS — The Upper Canada Playhouse is seeking donations for this year's annual Christmas Auction, coming up at Matilda Hall on Nov. 18. With tickets at $40 each, the auction and dinner are UCP's main annual fundraiser. Proceeds are earmarked for improvements to the Morrisburg non-profit company's building.

Auction item donors are not only supporting the Playhouse, but also have the opportunity to display their goods and merchandise at a well-attended event.

"This event gives patrons an opportunity to support UCP while getting their money's worth of entertainment and enjoyment," said Geraldine Fitzsimmons, who's in charge of live and silent auction acquisitions. "Not only is there a marvellous meal and great socializing, but there's a chance to bid on a wide selection of interesting and valuable merchandise from local merchants and individuals."

Fitzsimmons noted the older theatre building, with its constantly growing audiences, demands constant upkeep and repairs. Revenue from past auctions has been used for renovations to hallways and washrooms, and most recently carpeting in the main auditorium area.

This year the Playhouse will apply auction revenues to overhauling the production booth and providing more efficient technical facilities.

"Low hanging pipes extending across the ceiling will be removed to make the space safer and afford greater clearance for both patrons and theatre crew," said Fitzsimmons.

She pointed out each donor is entitled to a tax receipt upon request, as well as recognition at the theatre. Donors are asked to confirm their gifts by Oct. 27 so they can be listed in the auction catalogue.

"It's a great way to start your Christmas shopping," Fitzsimmons concluded, adding donation forms can be acquired by calling UCP at 613-543-0665.

Stretching Thanksgiving

Some greedy retail giants are beginning to push Christmas marketing before the turkey leftovers are finished. Perhaps for you, all that remains of this past Thanksgiving are a few turkey sandwiches or a Tupperware dish of cranberry sauce that will sit at the back of your fridge until you give in and discard it. But, there are those who are still celebrating.

Muslims are in the midst of their month of Ramadan (a month-long observance with daytime fasting and nightly celebration). Jews and some Christians are in the midst of the Feast of Tabernacles or Sukkoth, which is an eight-day Hebrew celebration of Kingdom Joy. The word of God calls this an "everlasting celebration" that has no end to it and is to be forever celebrated in the coming Kingdom.

It is in the middle of these ancient and everlasting celebrations that we have our national holiday of Thanksgiving. While this one was an act of legislation of Parliament hill (1931 AD) and not Mount Sinai (1462 BC), still the significance of this day must not be lost in our multicultural maze. While this holiday was not enacted specifically as a "Christian" holiday, it was out of a Christian ethnos of a Christian nation that this holiday was given for all people of all religions to be able to enjoy.

Our forefathers were right to set aside such a day in the time of harvest to stop and give thanks. As a nation, we are in jeopardy of giving ourselves over to a spirit of "unthankfulness."

Thanklessness, along with its cousins "unappreciative" and "apathetic," are destructive qualities of a society that is poised to self destruct. The less we appreciate we are of what we have, the less value we place on our finances our freedom, our families and our faith.

We have many to thank for being contributors to our quality of life and they include heros of faith and freedom past and present. They include both pioneers and prophets, soldiers and saints, politicians and patriarchs. But, unless we thank God the Almighty, all other thanksgivings are shallow offerings of secondary praise.

The proclamation act of Parliament for Thanksgiving Day gave a specific purpose for thanksgiving, which stated, "for general thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings with which the people of Canada have been favoured" (Heritage Canada). Do you know why you are to be thankful? And do you know to whom you are to be thankful?

The Psalmist removes all doubt when he declares in Psalm 100:4,5 "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise: be thankful unto Him, and bless His name. For (because) the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endures to all generations."

Your turkey may have grown cold but that doesn't mean your heart has to. Let the celebration of Thanksgiving continue.

Earlier start time this fall

NDDHS Notes

by Jennifer Honders

MAPLE RIDGE — When North Dundas District High announced that school would be beginning at 8:15 am at the start of the school year, many parents and students were outraged. Few people could understand how the school board could subject them to such "cruel" torment.

A meeting was held at the end of last year to discuss the advantages and disadvantages of the change, but few showed much opposition and the financial benefits kept the plan in motion.

Is there really any basis for the opposition to the earlier start time? A Grade 12 student, Katrina Ross says, "It doesn't affect me. I'm awake anyway in the morning and I just go to bed earlier." However, Jesse Baker, also a Grade 12 student, countered saying, "I do notice the difference. I tend to be more alert in my afternoon classes versus my morning ones."

According to the National Sleep Foundation's website, children who were early risers when they were younger begin to stay up later at night and sleep in longer in the morning as they enter the adolescent years. This is due to "the sleep-related hormone melatonin releasing at a different time than it normally does." This allows for adolescents to feel sleepier later in the evening than younger children and adults.

A study in Minnesota says there is little evidence to suggest a real problem. Academic achievement stayed the same with an 8:30 start. There was only a decline whenever the morning bell rang at 7:15, an hour earlier. NDDHS students should feel grateful that they are only waking up an hour earlier instead of two.

One thing that seems not to be affected by an earlier start is our Thanksgiving Food Drive. With the start of the drive on Oct. 8, students have brought in a large amount of food in a short period of time. The drive ended Oct. 11. The top classes will be receiving tickets to our next pep rally. This gives students a chance to get out of class and show some school spirit.

Keep it up, North Dundas!

Conservatives to acclaim Savard as SD-SG candidate

CORNWALL — The Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry Progressive Conservative Riding Association will nominate its candidate for the next provincial election at 7:30 pm on Thurs., Oct. 26 at the Ramada Inn Cornwall.

Cornwall resident and municipal councillor Chris Savard will be acclaimed as the candidate for the Oct. 4, 2007 election. He has run and successfully been elected to Cornwall city council three times since 1994 and has participated in, and chaired, dozens of municipal government committees including Cornwall Waterfront Development of which he is the current chair.

Actively involved in the local riding association for many years, Savard has served as both director and vice-president on the executive board and has worked on many events and projects. He is chair of the annual Noble Villeneuve Golf Classic.

The evening will include the official nomination and guest speaker Guy Lauzon, MP for Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry. Entertainment and merriment will follow with local performers Shot Gun Wedding.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

'Rude' comment

The Editor:

I realize there is a bylaw for the usage of water. I went to council to ask if they could wave the water bill for the months we would be in Florida and not use any water during this period (see "Snowbirds want break on water rates" on page 3 in the Sept. 27 edition of the Press).

I was told by Steve McDonald (township CAO) after the meeting that "other townships' current policy is the same as ours" and that I would have to pay the $15.75 per month for water, which I accept.

I also realize that I am fortunate to be able to go to Florida for a period of time. For the fearless mayor and a councillor to make a comment that I am asking for those who can't afford it to pick up my bill is unacceptable, however, and very rude (see "Snowbirds won't get break on water rates: SD council" in the Oct. 11 edition).

Our group [which travels south for the winter] will not be voting for these individuals.

Auxiliary ready for bazaar

by Marj Phillips

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Hospital Auxiliary met on Thurs., Oct. 12 with vice-chair Marion Carkner inviting the 19 present members, representing five areas, to join in the Auxiliary prayer. She welcomed CEO Trudy Reid, whose presence is always appreciated.

The minutes were read, followed by the presentations of the In Memoriam, Treasurer, Lotteries, and Gift Shop reports.

Ethelwyn Carkner presented the Sunshine Circle report, citing how well everything is going. Patients from many different spots in the hospital, as well as visitors, come and enjoy the programs. The volunteers worked 40 hours in September.

Dorothy Houze, social and special events co-co-ordinator, assured the members that all was set for the bazaar on Sat., Oct. 21. Frieda Armstrong is requesting sandwiches from the Winchester area members and Faye Coons from the Summers/Cass Bridge area members. The Maple Ridge area is looking after squares. Marion Carkner is overseeing the Tea Room.

Edith Baker, chair of the Purchasing Committee, presented a motion to buy a sentinel node gamma gun for the hospital, which will cost approximately $40,000. This machine will be used in the OR for some breast cancer patients. The In Memoriam Fund will pay for this useful and needed piece of equipment. Approval of this motion was unanimous. Our thanks are extended to Doris Cross and Ethelwyn Carkner for the years they have both served on this important committee. They will be replaced by Judy Rombough and Gene Lasdin, both retired nurses.

Hilda Vandekempt, volunteer co-ordinator, mentioned in her report that 21 teens and 35 adults worked 312 hours and 7,860 pennies were collected for Oma this past month. Hilda also met with the Purchasing Committee and considered how to best use the amount that has been collected over the past few years. Her goal to reach one million pennies has been realized due to energy and stamina of weekly collecting and rolling. She has had help from all corners of the counties. Many schools contributed, as well. Congratulations Hilda for conceiving the idea and following it through these past years. A hysteroscopy and sheath — a blood fluid warmer — will be purchased.

Get well cards have been sent to Rita Bray and Frankie Burton. A thank-you card was sent to Isabel McInnis for the crafted work she did for the gift shop.

The fall conference was today (Wed., Oct. 18) in Renfrew. The bazaar will be on Sat., Oct. 21 at the NDDHS from 1 to 3 pm. The Tea Room opens at 1:30 pm.

Please consider joining us at the next meeting, Nov. 9, at 1:30 pm in the lower Conference Room of the hospital. Everyone is welcome.

Custom cutting for 25 years:

Satisfaction keeps clients coming back to Henderson's

by Bonnie James
Press staff

ELMA — Tom and Betty Henderson are celebrating a couple of noteworthy milestones this year. They've been married for 40 years and have been in business together for 25. Tom Henderson's Custom Meat Cutting has been dishing up dinner for clients as far away as Napanee and Pembroke for two-and-a-half decades.

"It's always been a family deal," said Tom Henderson about the meat cutting business.

He explained that he got his start at home on the farm, when meat-cutting services weren't widely available locally. He and his wife Betty built a little cut shop and went into business for themselves. As regulations tightened on the industry, they built the MacKenzie Road facility they now operate.

"We've enlarged it four times in 25 years," said Henderson. "I now have two sons working with me steady."

The business employees about 10 people, but that number jumps up to 20 or 25 people when the part-time help comes in on the days they butcher chickens and turkeys.

"There are two inspectors on the floor all the time," said Henderson about the company's compliance with government regulations and its efforts to make sure quality is maintained at a high standard. He pointed out that the water is tested regularly, as well.

The company trucks its own refuse and there's a generator for the abattoir. "We're all self-sufficient here," said Henderson. "The power can go off and we don't even know it."

DONE IT ALL

"We slaughter anything and everything," said Henderson, noting that the company has cut buffalo, emu, pheasant, red deer, and much more. "We've done it all."

The only thing that Henderson's doesn't regularly do is slaughter waterfowl. Henderson explained that it's too time consuming.

He said the company saw a spike in beef cutting when BSE first hit, but that it has levelled off as beef prices have been recovering.

"The majority of our work is custom cutting," he said, noting that the company does also cut and sell meat itself. Customers are able to buy meat by the piece, the quarter, or the half.

The custom work draws customers from a wide area, even out of the province.

"We've got all kinds of clients from Quebec," said Henderson. "We try to offer our best quality work, and it pays off."

The company recently slaughtered over 100 lambs for the annual Greek Festival in Ottawa.

The phone keeps ringing and that keeps the Henderson family busy.

The Farm Credit Canada Drive Away Hunger Tour made a pit stop in Winchester at Mike Dean's Super Food Store on Wed., Oct. 11. Pictured standing beside the trailer that was crossing Eastern Ontario collecting food for rural food banks are: Diana Pethick, past chair of the Dundas County Food Bank, Marc Beaudry — account manager with the Embrun branch of Farm Credit Canada, Alain Bouvrette — tractor driver, and Todd Jacques — operations director with the Association of Food Banks of Ontario. More than 14,000 pounds of food was collected in Eastern Ontario, adding to the provincial total of 350,930.

Seven tons of food collected in region

WINCHESTER — It was a long haul for Alain Bouvrette, but the driver in the Farm Credit Canada Drive Away Hunger tour said it's all worth it.

"I wanted to be involved more than just by giving a donation," said Bouvrette, during a lunchtime pit stop at Mike Dean's Super Food Store in Winchester on Wed., Oct. 11. The barbecue was one stop along a two-day 125-kilometre route that began in Ottawa and ended in Kemptville. A second truck made several stops in South-Western Ontario. The total route across the province included 50 community stops.

"But I'm just the driver," Bouvrette said humbly, noting that sponsors, volunteers, and countless others behind the scenes made the food drive work.

A total of 350,930 pounds of food was donated across the province, well exceeding this year's goal to collect 100,000 pounds of food.

By the time he reached the Winchester area, Bouvrette had already pulled his tractor into several school parking lots, including public schools in Metcalfe and Casselman, as well as North Dundas District High School and Maple Ridge Senior Public School.

"To see the small children get involved — that was super," he said.

Bouvrette has no complaints about the tractor he's driving — a donation from Green Tech Ag and Turf Inc. that's much more comfortable than the tractor he's used to driving at his goat farm near l'Orignal.

"It's much nicer, and bigger, and more comfortable," he said.

This was the first Drive Away Hunger tour in Eastern Ontario, but similar food drives have taken place in Saskatchewan, New Brunswick, and in Southern Ontario.

"It's going great, despite the rain," said Farm Credit Canada district manager John Gregory at the barbecue, noting that support from schools, especially North Dundas District High School was "just awesome."

Gregory spoke with the Press on Mon., Oct. 16 while wrap up festivities were still taking place in Guelph.

"The support was phenomenal," he said. "People were extremely generous."

FCC is also donating $25,000 to the Canadian Association of Food Banks to support the National Food Sharing System — ensuring equitable distribution of food among member food banks across the country.

Forage Focus one-day event in Winchester

WINCHESTER — This year's Ontario Forage Council conference will be held in Winchester and Shakespeare, Ont. in November. Forage Focus 2006 will carry the theme of Equipping Yourself For Quality Forages.

This two-day event will be held Tues., Nov. 28 at the Winchester Community Centre and Wed., Nov. 29 at the Shakespeare Optimists Hall. Both days of the conference will begin at 9:30 am and will feature the same speakers.

The keynote speaker, Ron Schuler, is an extension agricultural engineer at the University of Wisconsin, specializing in forage equipment performance and has contributed many practical articles to Hoard's Dairyman magazine.

Schuler's morning presentation, "Equipping Yourself To Make More Quality Forage," will include discussion of: sickle versus rotary cutterbars; roll versus impeller conditioners; rake design; tedders; windrow inverters and mergers; wide swath drying, large baler design and storage; preservative applicators; minimizing field harvest losses; and harvesters.

In the afternoon, Schuler will discuss "What's New In Corn Silage Harvest Management?" including harvester and crop processors, cutting height, and a comparison of tower, bunk, pile, and bag silos.

The other speaker will be Chris Brown, nutrient management specialist with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture, Food, and Rural Affairs, whose presentation is titled, "Manure and Forages — A Successful Partnership?" Brown will discuss how to utilize manure nutrients optimally, while minimizing application damage.

The Forage Focus conferences are organized by the Ontario Forage Council with support from the Dairy Farmers of Ontario. Registration is $30 and includes a hot beef dinner. For more information, or to register call 1-877-892-8663 by Nov. 24, as pre-registration is required.

Forage Focus 2006 is certified for CCA credits.

4-H Awards Night on Saturday

WINCHESTER — Dundas County 4-H will celebrate its members with an awards night on Sat., Oct. 21 at the Winchester Community Centre. All leaders, 4-H members, and parents are encouraged to attend to support and recognize the accomplishments achieved by 4-H members this year.

Registration for the silent auction will begin at 7 pm. The awards presentation will begin at 7:30 pm. At the end of the evening there will be food and refreshments. For more information, contact Carolyn Lillico at 613-989-2917.

Fair, food drive kick off Metcalfe Public's year

by principal Tammy McCormack

METCALFE — Thanks to staff, students, and parents, we have had another great beginning to the school year! Metcalfe Public School enrolment stands at 357. We will not be experiencing staff reallocation this fall. I would like to thank everyone in our school community for their ongoing support. The meet-the-teacher barbecue on Sept. 25 was a success. It was an opportunity to put faces to names, and to socialize as a community. The feedback was very positive.

The school's new superintendent is Walter Piovesan. He has already been out to visit and will return again in November in an effort to become familiar with our staff and students and our goals and needs. I wish to welcome all the new school council members and congratulate Valerie Leonard and Hugh Cleland on accepting the leadership roles.

Vice-principal Sandra Hutt and her husband Paul Hutt were publicly acknowledged at the 10th annual Osgoode Ward Volunteer Awards Ceremony, which was held in Greely in August. Mrs. Hutt and her husband were recognized for their heroic deed in responding to a medical emergency during their return trip from Mexico in January 2006 and received a plaque for their compassion and heroism. Please share with us in our recognition of Mrs. Hutt.

METCALFE FAIR

Grade 6 students, along with Ms. Avery, Ms. McCormack, and several parent volunteers, were delighted when asked to open the Metcalfe Fair on Thurs., Sept. 28. Although the weather did not co-operate, they made the best of the opening ceremonies. Many MPS students enjoyed a day at the fair on Sept. 29. Such a field trip requires a great deal of supervision in order for everyone to feel comfortable and safe. The staff and students are very appreciative of the parental support.

FROM THE SPORTS DESK

Congratulations to September's Intermediate winners for Outstanding Participation and Sportsmanship in Physical Education: David Leung, Ben Patterson, Kayleigh Green, Corben Matsell-Savage, Emily Flynn, Erin Godfrey, and Josh Chilcott. All received certificates, had their photos posted on the Wall of Fame, and will enjoy an exclusive luncheon and open gym with other winners at the end of the term.

While MPS Mustangs teams are currently taking part in their cross-country running, touch football, and soccer seasons, intramural ball hockey has begun for Intermediate students. MPS fields teams for every sport competed in at the regional and board-wide levels, so between team sports, intramurals, the physical education program, and the newly introduced daily physical activities, opportunities abound for MPS students to get active and stay healthy.

The junior girls and boys cross-country running team competed at the regional meet on Oct. 11. The intermediate cross country meet was held during the afternoon on Fri., Oct. 13 at the Nepean Sportsplex.

FOOD DRIVE

Metcalfe Public School participated in the province-wide "Drive Away Hunger" campaign last week, co-ordinated by Farm Credit Canada. The goal of the campaign was to collect 100,000 pounds of food for rural food banks and to demonstrate the impact that a small group and one idea can have on the world. Even though this is a province-wide initiative, all food collected goes to local food banks. A representative from Farm Credit Canada arrived at the school on Tues., Oct. 10 in a John Deere tractor to collect all the MPS donations. The students in Mrs. Miller's junior/intermediate class collected and organized the canned goods in preparation for pickup.

UPCOMING PRESENTATION

During the afternoon of Tues., Oct. 24, Grade 8 students will be participating in a presentation from the Dominion Institute. This presentation will focus on current immigration and refugee issues within Canada. This is in support of the social studies program.

METCALFE DRAMA CLUB

Metcalfe students participating in the Drama Club will be presenting Holka Polka on Thurs., Oct. 26. Parents are invited to attend our afternoon performance, starting at 12:20 pm. Please support our budding thespians! For more information, contact Andrie Nel at 613-821-1734.

WE'RE LOOKING FOR...

The MPS family studies program is looking for frying pans and egg beaters. If you are cleaning out cupboards and have any to donate, please send them to Mrs. Burton's classroom.

A fair donation

RBC Royal Bank congratulated the Metcalfe Fair on its 150th anniversary by presenting a cheque to assist with the construction of the new fairground gates. Participating in the cheque presentation a couple of weeks ago were: RBC agriculture account manager Paul Bourgeois (left), Metcalfe Agricultural Society president John Lackey, retired RBC employee and current fair board member Kay Stanley, RBC Metcalfe Branch manager Mike Soloski, and RBC Royal Bank regional vice-president Mike Haley.

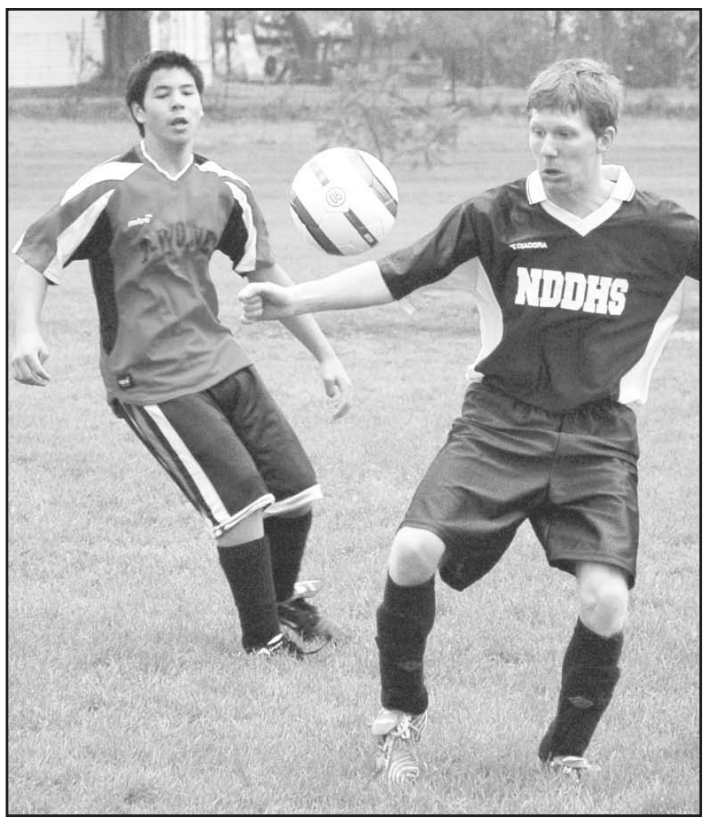
A great day for soccer! Host Devils unbeatable on home turf



First-year forward Erik Bequette was on the ball against the visiting Russell T-Wolves cracking in three goals in the Senior Devils' 7-nil victory on Oct. 11. The NDDHS seniors then finished the day ripping the CCVS Raiders 5-3. That win improved their SD&G record to 3-2-2.

MAPLE RIDGE — After playing five matches on foreign soil, the North Dundas District High School Devils returned to their home turf on Maple Ridge and rumbled through the opposition sweeping all four games.

Senior Devils coach Kevin Bell claims any day is a great day for soccer. But he found Wednesday's (Oct. 11) twin kill on the SD&G twin bill very satisfying.

The afternoon opened with the seniors whitewashing the rookie Russell Timber Wolves 7-nil and ended with a satisfying 5-3 decision against the CCVS Golden Raiders. North Dundas led that encounter 3-nil early and 4-1 at the half.

The same afternoon, the Junior Devils registered a pair of victories blanking the GVIS Vikings 3-nil and doubling the St. Lawrence Saints 2-1.

"I think the 1-0 loss to Seaway was a good wake up call for the guys," suggested Bell.

He felt that the CCVS game was a good battle, in spite of his troops getting a little sloppy in the second half.

"Once we were up 5-1 the guys got a little bit careless, and CCVS made it interesting at the end," he said. "Overall, I was extremely impressed with the squad's performance. The first half was the best half of soccer the Devils have played this season."

The double wins improved the seniors' mark to 3-2-2 (11 points). They have outscored the opposition by a 19-10 margin.

Jason Catellier led the charge against the Raiders cracking in four goals, the first in the opening minute of play. He then toed home a rebound created by Erik Bequette who took out the Raider keeper allowing Catellier an easy tap in. CCVS then put a new keeper in and almost immediately the score went to 3-nil. Scott Prince got credit for the marker after the keeper drilled the ball into his own net off one of his defenders.

The replacement keeper then received a red card and left the game, forcing the injured backstop back into action. Catellier received penalty shot on the call and drilled in his third goal to open up a 4-1 lead just before the half.

Bell figured the turning points of the game were the injury to the Raiders' starting keeper and when their backup received a red card shortly after.

"But we came out with a lot of energy. Our forwards forced CCVS's fullbacks to commit errors. Also our midfielders dominated the ball and our fullbacks shut down their forwards in the first half," he continued.

Catellier made it look easy early in the second session when he walked in on the Raider net and booted number four into the bottom of the twine to make it 5-1.

CCVS was awarded a penalty kick, but the shooter zipped his shot off the left post and the count remained 5-1. A couple of defensive break downs enabled the visitors to count a pair of late goals which made it a 5-3 final.

Trevor Ashby registered his fourth zero in seven starts, backing his team in it's 7-nil win over the Russell T-Wolves. Bequette was the top scorer pounding in three goals. Gjis Cornelissen pumped in a pair. Catellier and Prince supplied the singles.

The regular season will end today, Wed., Oct. 18, with the Devils hosting the Tagwi and St. Joe's.

JUNIOR DEVILS

Junior coach Mike Deighton gave his team two-thumbs up following their 3-0 win pointing out to his charges that the reason they had posted four consecutive shutouts was not only the play of keeper Jimmy Jones, but the solid defensive play of the entire team.

"We started slowly against St. Lawrence but managed to pop a goal in towards the end of the first half," said Deighton.

Jason Catellier cashed in a penalty kick on this play in a 5-3 win over the Senior Raiders. He finished the afternoon with five goals, four against CCVS.

Winchester leads St. Lawrence loop

Collins and Cameron rip Glens for eight, Hawks gain revenge

WINCHESTER — Ben Collins and Steve Cameron didn't leave much for the rest of the Winchester offence to do. The dynamic duo each cracked in four goals as the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks outgunned the visiting Alexandria Glens 9-7 in front of a large hometown crowd.

Friday's (Oct. 13) victory was sweet revenge for Todd Marcellus' squad, which got hammered 8-1 by the Glens in their first meeting in Alexandria on Sept. 29. Since then Winchester has reeled of five consecutive wins, including a 5-2 triumph over the Char-Lan Rebels Sunday (Oct. 15) in Williamstown.

The Hawks have scratched their way into first place in the St. Lawrence Division with a 7-1-0-0 record. Overall, the Hawks are second in the 22-team Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League's standings with 14 points. Only the Metro Division-leading Gatineau Mustangs (8-3-0-0) have more points — 16.

"We are off to a great start," noted Winchester assistant coach Dale Murdoch. "But we have to be conservative because it is still very early in a long 40-game season," he cautioned.

"Not much is won in October," offered Marcellus.

Manager Craig "JB" Smith agreed. "When you are winning everything looks pretty good. And it is nice to get a good start. The boys are listening to Todd and Dale and things are going well — but there will be ups and downs," he said.

This weekend the Hawks host the Morrisburg Lions on Friday (Oct. 20) at 8:15 pm and travel to Kemptville Sunday evening (Oct. 22) for a 7:15 pm game.

HAWKS 9 - GLENS 7

Winchester jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first period against the Glens with Collins converting two (PPG) and Cameron (PPG) into an early lead.

Alexandria stormed back with four consecutive markers to take a 4-3 lead. Cameron tied it scoring another PPG set up by Colin Bowie and Collins at 18:21. But the Glens pumped in a short-handed shot 34 seconds later and took a 5-4 lead into the second intermission.

Twenty seconds into the final frame Cameron tied it 5-5 only to have Sam Raymond put the Glens up 6-5 at 6:44. But that play sparked, the Hawks who ripped in three consecutive goals to take an 8-6 lead. Trent McBain (PPG) at 7:54, Cameron at 8:57 and Collins (PPG) at 11:16 did the damage. But once again the Glens answered as Alain Michaud closed the gap to 8-7 scoring at 15:35.

Collins iced the 9-7 decision depositing a Trevor Gilmer offering into the empty Alexandria cage seven seconds before the final buzzer.

Collins (4-5-9), Cameron (4-3-7), McBain (1-1-2), Brent McFaul (0-3-3), Bowie (0-1-1), Colin Shay (0-1-1) and Gilmer (0-1-1) collected points. Kyle Neville posted the win.

"Todd and I were concerned with the way the boys fell apart in the second period but encouraged by the spirit they showed in the third," said Murdoch.

"It was like two different teams. But the boys showed good character to comeback and score five goals in the third period," added Marcellus.

HAWKS 5 - REBELS 2

Sunday's matinee in Williamstown wasn't as inspirational as the win over Alexandria.

"It was ho-hum hockey. Neither team played with much emotion," offered Murdoch.

Period one was scoreless. Rebel Philip Theriault's power-play goal 39 seconds into the second stanza gave Char-Lan a 1-0 lead. A pair of Cameron markers at 5:09 (unassisted at 5:09) and 9:08 (PPG from Collins and Bowie) put the Hawks up 2-1 after 40 minutes.

Cameron scored his ninth of the season at 1:55 of the final frame, finishing a play started by Bowie and Collins. Collins then netted his 15th after taking a feed from Bowie and Cameron at 2:57 to give the Hawks a 4-1 lead. Theriault sliced a goal off the Rebels' deficit counting his second PPG of the game against Winchester rookie 'tender Joel Grills.

Winchester defenceman Brent McFaul insured the win dumping a Chris Thompson relay into the empty Char-Lan cage with 45 seconds left on the clock.

Opening night

The Metcalfe Jets are finally enjoying home ice after opening the 2006-07 Metro - Valley Junior "B" Hockey League with five road games. Carleton Place Kings captain Mark Mitchell (left), Amanda Nixon, Osgoode Ward councillor Doug Thompson and Jets captain Ryan Carisse took part in the ceremonial face-off at the Larry Robinson Arena on Friday night (Oct. 13). Metcalfe doubled the Kings 8-4, but dropped a 6-2 decision in Clarence Creek on Sunday (Oct. 15).

Bantam, Midget "B" Demons handle NGS Braves in opening night action

WINCHESTER — Dylan Fawcett cracked in three goals and picked up a couple of helper points leading the North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons to a 7-1 victory over the NGS Braves.

The Monday night (Oct. 16) tilt was part of the launch of the 2006-07 Upper Canada District Hockey League home-ice season for two North Dundas squads — the Bantam "B" and the Midget "B" Demons.

Captain Adam Schofield potted a pair of pucks in the midget match that finished in a 5-5 tie.

Clay Chadsey scored with 1:25 left on the clock as the Braves tied the Midget Demons. The game was deadlocked 1-1 after a period and NGS led 4-3 after two sessions.

Phil Duncan counted the Demons first-period goal. Schofield and Ethan Van Koppen clicked in period two. Jordan Barkley scored with 4:28 left and Schofield 2:24 before the buzzer to put North Dundas up 5-4 and force the Braves to tie it up.

Jake McRoberts (2), Mitch Shay, Barkley, Duncan and Schofield drew the assists. Craig Brogan tended the North Dundas net.

BANTAMS WIN

NGS scored first, but only once, as the Bantam "B" Demons posted a 7-1 win over the visitors.

The home team stormed back on goals by Brandon Hunt, Dylan Fawcett and Eric Prusila and carried a 3-1 lead into period two. Fawcett pocketed a pair of biscuits in the middle session and put his team up 5-1. Hunt and Derek Simms iced the decision firing in third-period markers.

Captain Cam Armstrong (2), Matt Jarvis (2), Hunt (2), Fawcett (2), Trevor Havekes, Greg Collins, Alex Hendsbee, Dylan Casselman and Jeremy Rose earned the assists. Kyle Greer posted the win.

North Dundas minor hockey opens new office in Chesterville arena

The North Dundas Minor Hockey Association (NDMHA) officially opened its new office in the Chesterville Arena on Saturday (Oct. 14). The office, which overlooks the ice surface, will be used for meetings and training sessions. Pictured are: Ken Boje of Winchester Home Hardware (left), NDMHA president Dwayne Fawcett, and brothers Ken and Kevin Byers. Home Hardware donated visual training equipment for the office and has taken a leadership role in developing the image of the hockey club. The Byers brothers were responsible for the construction of the new headquarters.

by Matthew Barbour

CHESTERVILLE — The image of minor hockey in North Dundas is undergoing some major improvements with strong support from local businesses and observers. Youngsters are certain to be hitting the ice this season with a new found pride.

The North Dundas Minor Hockey Association (NDMHA) officially opened its new office at the Chesterville arena on Sat., Oct. 14. The new facility will be used for meetings and training sessions. The 200 square-foot, second storey office is located in the north-east corner of the arena.

"This was two years in the making," said NDMHA president Dwayne Fawcett. "We have the support of more than 30 sponsors for this and it was built from the ground up by Ken and Kevin Byers — they donated their time to make this happen." Ken and Kevin Byers, representing Byers Carpentry and Countryside Drafting, were on hand for the ribbon cutting ceremony.

Winchester Home Hardware, which donated a television and DVD player for the new facility, is working on an image boosting program in conjunction with the Flarrow Sports Group of Martintown. Flarrow has agreed to produce a line of hockey sticks that will carry the North Dundas Demons name and the sticks will go on sale at Home Hardware within a few weeks.

The Flarrow Sports Group has been manufacturing sticks since 1923 and now wholesales a full line of hockey equipment under the Flarrow name.

Ken Boje of Home Hardware said track suits, stick bags, and equipment bags, all bearing the Demons' logo, will be available at his store by mid-December.

Boje announced the image boosting program at the official opening of the NDMHA office on Saturday, saying it will provide a new source of revenue for the Demons, as well. "Ten per cent of all sales of these items will be turned over to the hockey club," he said. "Half of the proceeds will be used in the family support program, to help those who can't afford registration fees and equipment and the other half will go toward capital expenditures for the club."

Fawcett explained that the capital expenditure money will be used for items like a new running time clock and training videos. He indicated that hockey club officials were pleased with the new arrangement, and the branding of the Demons name.

"This will be a real boost to the local minor league hockey and it's good to know that you don't have to travel very far to buy good equipment at a reasonable price," he said. "It's also an affordable way to keep families involved in hockey. This was the brainchild of Home Hardware and Flarrow — they came to us with the idea."

He said all of the kids were enthusiastic about the idea of being able to show up for a game dressed in their new track suits and play with their own team's hockey sticks.

Some parents were happy to hear the news, as well. Leroy Anderson of Mountain is a new hockey dad and has signed on as a trainer with the hockey club. His eight-year-old son Gavin is playing in league hockey for the first time this year, after trying out and being accepted on the Atom C team.

"When Gavin heard about the sticks, he said he wanted one right away," said Anderson. "And I think the track suits are a great idea — people will notice the kids a little more. When the kids go to games wearing those suits, they'll really feel like they are part of a team and they'll be feeling that team spirit before they hit the ice."

Ball hockey tourney raises $3,871 for Easter Seal Kids

WILLIAMSBURG — They played ball hockey all day for a good cause and when the final tally was complete $3,871 was turned over to the Dundas County Easter Seal Kids.

Over the five-year history of the charity ball hockey tournament, played this year on Oct. 14 at J.C. Whitteker Park, $14,198 has been raised.

Winchester's Jason Ibbetson and his team raised the most money this year — $940. The top six pledge totals were raised by Todd Sloan, Ibbetson, Tammy Shaver, Robyn Sadler, Clayton Froats and Billy Streng.

A mini skills competition was also held. Each shooter had four shots at four targets. Will O'Connor and Emily McDonell won their respective events.

Ron Peters won the autographed stick and picture donated by Shean Donovan of the Boston Bruins.

Sadler's team emerged as the tournament champion, marking the fourth consecutive title for Sadler, Amy VandenEykel, Bill Henderson, Tylor Copeland, Mike Casselman, Courtney Barkley, Jordan Barkley, Travis Armstrong and Cass McCracken. The champs trimmed James Morrell's team in the "A" final.

Tammy Shaver, Dwayne Backes, Kent Pilon, David Lapier, Leslie Francis, Trisha Bilmer, Ricky Hess and Jamie McIntosh knocked off Garson Whitford's squad in the "B" final.

Thanks to the support of area businesses, organizers were able to present prizes to the "A" and "B" finalists, the top six pledge collectors and the team with the top pledge total.

"We would like to thank all of the sponsors for their generous support," said organizer Brian Shaver.

Patriots pound Devils in SD&G volleyball action

CORNWALL — A road trip to Cornwall netted the North Dundas District High School boys volleyball teams one win.

Junior Devils coach Ian Wilson reported his squad had a rough day against the Patriots at La Citadelle and said, "Our guys did not play up to their potential and had a difficult time generating any momentum."

North Dundas dropped three close decisions losing 25-23, 25-23 and 25-19. The 0-3 result was the first sweep the Devils have experienced this year and shifted their SD&G record to 11 wins and four losses.

Cheryl Williams and the Senior Devils did manage one win and left the Seaway City with a two points and an overall record of 12 wins and three losses.

The Devils opened with a 25-17 win but dropped the next two sets 25-23 and 25-18.

"We did not play well. We just did not gel and everyone was off a bit. That being said, La Citadelle is not a strong team, so I'm looking forward to our next match up so we can take all three sets," explained the coach.

Williams reported a great streak of serves by Phil Klein-Swormink and Tyler Fawcett and a beautiful back row spike by Klein-Swormink, but added, "Unfortunately that was about it for highlights."

This week the Devils were at General Vanier to take on the Seaway Spartans and GV/CCVS. Next home date is Thurs., Oct. 26 when the Glengarry Gaels and Tagwi Warriors visit NDDHS.

Blues remain undefeated

WINCHESTER — Gail Smith-Rutley took a feed from Isabel Dagenais and Dianne Lapier and fired it in behind Blues goalie Carrie McCadden with 1:43 left in the game. The marker closed the gap to 3-2 and put the pressure on the Annable's Jewellery squad, which survived the late scare and remained undefeated.

The victory improved the Blues Winchester District Ladies Hockey League record to 3-0-0 while the loss was the first for the CountryGirl Gold Diggers, who fell to 0-1-2.

The other two results posted on Sunday (Oct. 15) were a 3-1 win by the number-two ranked Classics (2-0-1) over the winless Double Beauty Stylists (0-3-0) and a 3-1 decision by the third-place Reds (2-1-0) over Andy's Foodland Maroons (0-2-1).

Edith Dagenais completed a play started by Veronique Daviault and Kelly Francis at the 18:00 mark of the first half to give the CountryGirl a 1-0 lead over Annable's Jewellery. But the Blues answered 2:01 before the intermission when Nathalie Caron scored from Kelly Hamilton and Eleanor Robinson and sent it into the second half tied 1-1.

Amy Fraser then came through with a pair of goals and boosted the Blues into a 3-1 lead. Caron and Heather Erwin engineered her first tally at 12:07 while Caron and Hamilton assisted Fraser on what would be the tying goal at 5:55.

Smith-Rutley's late marker made it an interesting 3-2 final.

CLASSICS 3 - STYLISTS 1

Double Beauty struck first in the 8 am contest taking a 1-0 lead at 19:10 when Sandra Cloutier finished off a play started by Francine Brisson and Megan Brundige. That, unfortunately for the Stylists, was the only goal they would count against Kristie Wade.

Tara Verney tied it up when she scored from Barb Canham 4:27 before the intermission. Canham then cracked in the winner with 7:56 left on the clock. Verney and Barb Kuhn drew assists on the play. Karen Benoit set up Karen McMillan for the insurance goal 4:48 before the final buzzer.

REDS 3 - MAROONS 1

Cheryl Hamilton's unassisted goal at 15:43 of the first half established a 1-0 lead for Andy's Foodland and ruined any hope Roxanne Backes had of posting a shut out.

Sonia Clement was quick to tie it up 1-1 when she capitalized on a play created by Sarah Grady and Kelly Zeran at 14:43. Shannon Thompson (unassisted) broke the tie four seconds before the intermission. Her goal would hold up as the winner. Amy Darling iced the win adding an unassisted goal with 2:52 left in the game.

"St. Lawrence slipped a goal past our keeper (Jones) but it seemed to wake up our team."

Justin Hanes fired in a rocket after taking a pass from Brandon "Double-O" Oosterhof to make it 1-0. Hanes then snapped in his second goal and the winner when he finished off a play started by Mackenzie MacMillan and Oosterhof.

Jones posted his third shutout of the campaign in the 3-nil decision against the Vikings. Jordan Havekes took the shot and Eric Carriere gave it a tap at the goal line to put the Devils up 1-0 in the first half.

Richard Boal made it 2-0 early in the second when he booted home a rebound created by Cassidy Wattie and MacMillan. Matt Jose capped the offence scoring late in the game.

North Dundas sports a record of 4-2-1 and a total of 13 points heading into the final games of the regular season, which will be played at NDDHS against the Tagwi Warriors and St. Joe's Panthers today (Oct. 18).

"If we beat St. Joe's we should be in first place in the "AA" division," added the coach.

Nationview places sixth in cross-country run

The top four runners on the Nationview Public School Pee Wee Reds boys cross-country squad combined for a sixth-place finish at the 2006 L.G.E.S.A.A. Championship meet in Brockville on Oct. 5. Gavin Anderson (left), Mitchell Melenhorst, Cameron Chayer and Jacob Thurler were all smiles after their top-ten finish in the 50-school event.

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Four runners representing Nationview Public School combined to finish sixth in the Pee Wee Boys division at the 2006 L.G.E.S.S.A. Cross-Country Championships in Brockville.

Nationview was one of 50 elementary schools taking part in the competition which featured 1,172 athletes from across the Upper Canada region.

Jacob Thurler, Cameron Chayer, Mitchell Melenhorst and Gavin Anderson, the top four runners on the Nationview Pee Wee Reds boys team finished sixth overall.

Nationview sent 32 students to the event on Oct. 5 and the following were the top NPS runners in their respective divisions: Victoria Corkery - pee wee girls; Jacob Thurler - pee wee boys; Nikki Devries - junior girls; Nevin Guy - junior boys; Randi Melenhorst - senior girls; Joshua Ruffo - senior boys.

The Reds opened the cross-country season sending a team of 78 to the Iroquois Locks Invitational Cross-Country Meet (Sept. 28) which attracted 23 schools and 1,500 participants.

Nationview's top finishers in Iroquois were: Kyleigh Jampen - novice girls; Owen Guy - novice boys; Victoria Corkery - pee wee girls; Mitchell Melenhorst - pee wee boys; Nadine VanDodewaard - junior girls; Nevin Guy - junior boys; Randi Melenhorst - senior girls; Dustin Tinkler and Slater Koekkoek (tie) - senior boys.

Coaches Angela Young, Kate Jackson and Nada Marcellus congratulated their team for training every day and demonstrating excellent sportsmanship at both meets.

Movies back on the big screen

WINCHESTER — This Friday night (Oct. 20) marks the return of Movie Nights at the Old Town Hall. The feature film is You, Me, and Dupree. The movie is about a young couple just starting out in a new house. Life is good until the husband's friend is fired from his job and comes to live with them because he has no money. The movie takes off from there with some hilarious scenes and problems.

The movie starts at 7 pm. Doors open at 6:45 pm. It is being operated by the Chesterville Ice Breaker Carnival Committee to raise funds for their annual carnival in January. Cost is $3 for kids and $5 for adults. The film is rated PG13.

Remarks

by Mark Guy, Director of Recreation & Culture

The Hawks face off against the Morrisburg Lions this Friday night (Oct. 20). Game time is 8:15 pm. The team is off to a sizzling start. Should be a great game against their long time rivals from the south.

Special thanks to Susan McIntosh, daughter of Joyce McIntosh who lives in Winchester, for her generous donation of $200 to purchase trees for 100 Club Park. We will be planting more trees at the park in the spring.

Pre-EOSSAA meet

Gibson, Koekkoek top Devils at Renfrew County Invitational

COBDEN — Natalie Gibson and Madison Koekkoek were the top finishers on the North Dundas District High School Devils cross-country squad at the Renfrew County Invitational (Pre-EOSSAA meet).

Gibson led the North Dundas junior girls running an average time of 8:01 per kilometre. She placed 14th in a field of 54 clocking a 19:57 in the four -kilometre run. The winning time was 17:34.

Koekkoek was the fastest member of the Midget Devils closing the line in 17th place. Her average time was 8:13 and her final time was 15:20 while the winner recorded a time of 12:45 over the three-kilometre course.

North Dundas sent 27 athletes to the meet in Cobden on Friday (Oct. 13).

Coach Julie Green reported the weather conditions were horrible, but said the senior girls team had a good day and overall the team is rounding into shape for the SD&G championships, which are set for Cornwall Friday (Oct. 20).

"Its looking pretty good — everything is starting to come together for SD&G," she said.

DEVILS DATA

Paced by Gibson's 14th place finish, the Devils finished second in the junior girls four kilometre team standings with a total time of 1:44 and an average time of 20:40 and 57 points. Frontenac High School finished first with a team time of 1:32.18, an average time of 18:27 and 18 points.

Sarah Murton (21 - 20:38), Dara Bowie (25 - 21:06), Taylor Shelp (26 - 21:07), Hayley Warren (28 - 21:12), Hannah McClenaghan (42 - 23:08) and Jessie Douglas (43 - 23:27) followed Gibson across the finish line. There were 54 runners.

North Dundas placed sixth in the senior girls team standings with 129 points, a total time of 1:57.55 and an average time of 23:35. Renfrew Collegiate topped the rankings with 32 points, a total time of 1:41:20 and an average time of 20:16. A field of 74 took part in the five kilometre run.

Jenna Simms (23 - 21:35), Laura Porteous (34 - 22:52), Kat Matthiesen (42 - 23:43), Erika Howe (43 - 24:00), Lindsay Feeley (53 - 25:27) and Kate Enright (62 - 27:01) ran for the Devils.

Erik Bequette (63 - 32:20), Sean Sommerville (64 - 32:40) and Andrew Zuidema (67 - 33:43) ran in the senior boys seven kilometre race, which attracted 73 runners and was won in 21:59.

Tasha Vanderveen (23 - 15:30), Moli Reoch (54 - 18:44), Savannah Vetter (55 - 18:48), Jessica Sell (58 - 20:18) and Jodie Mohr (59 - 20:21) ran along with Koekkoek in the midget girls event, which featured 62 runners.

Trevor Brown (47 - 24:19), Damon Baker (53 - 25:21), Logan Fournier (54 - 25:38) and Lance Hodgson (57 - 26:47) ran against 59 runners in the midget boys five kilometres.

Tyler Jones was the lone Devil running in the junior boys six kilometres. He finished 39th (24:35) in a field of 54.

Gravelle guns in deuce, Outlaws remain undefeated

WINCHESTER — Stefan Gravelle pegged a pair of pucks and captain Chris Currie allowed just two get behind him as he and his Outlaws extended their undefeated record to two games.

Gravelle has scored five times in the first two Winchester Town Hockey League season games and the Outlaws have created a 2-0-0 record.

In the opening game of the Tuesday night (Oct. 10) twin bill Nik Paas and Chris "Sid" Van Bridger each fashioned hat tricks as Bud's Cyclones outscored Sherrer's Rams. 10-1.

Two games into the 2006-07 campaign, the Outlaws have collected all four points and lead both Bud's Cyclones (1-1-0) and Willy's Flyers (1-1-0) by two.

Sherrer's Rams (0-2-0) are still looking for that elusive first point.

Craig Moran, playing in his second Winchester Town Hockey League game was able to register a victory as he and Bud's Cyclones wrecked Sherrer's Rams 10-1. Nik Paas and Chris Van Bridger supported their goaltender with hat tricks in the Oct. 10 win. Press Photo — Van Bridger

OUTLAWS 6 - FLYERS 2

Gravelle cashed in his two goals in the first half after taking passes from Justin Morozuk and Wes McLeod at 17:55 and from Robyn Sadler 1:21 before the half. Derek Vingerhoeds added the other marker completing a play set up by Justin Morozuk and Sadler at 16:37.

Jamie McIntosh put the Flyers on the board scoring from Troy McNaughton with 3:44 left in the session.

John Guy connected on a play started by Murray Link and Craig "Archie" Beckstead at the 10:27 of the second half but that was the last time the Flyers buried a biscuit. Meanwhile the Outlaws cracked in three more shots to make it a 6-2 final. Justin Morozuk, Sadler and Spencer Derue (first WTHL goal) tallied the goals while Trevor Morozuk (2), Spencer Dawson and McLeod picked up the helper points.

CYCLONES 10 - RAMS 1

It should be noted that the Rams had to use forward Rob "Pip" Davies in net while they recruited Willy's Flyer backstop Colin Ion to fill in for Gregg Griffith. Ion entered the game with his team trailing 5-1 and surrendered two more before the half. The Rams carried a 7-1 deficit into the second session.

Van Bridger (3), Paas (3), Jarrod MacNaughton (first WTHL goal), Kelly "Rubber" Beckstead, Matt McBean and Josh McLean netted goals. Devin Kelly (2), John Drew (2), Van Bridger (2), McLean (2), Chris Hart, McNaughton, McBean and Paas all collected assists.

Al Christophersen (from Jon Nadobny) gave the Rams a 1-0 lead in the first minute of the game but Craig Moran did not give up another goal and posted his first WTHL win.

Brown, Facette, Nyenkamp lead Junior "B1" Hornets to victory

METCALFE — Melissa Nyenkamp potted a pair of goals and picked up an assist as the Metcalfe Junior "B1" Hornets doubled the Ottawa Ice 4-2 in the opening game of the 2006-07 National Capital Region Ringette League season.

Nyenkamp (2-1-3) teamed up with Lauren Brown (1-3-4) and Jessica Facette (1-2-3) to produce all four goals and a total of 10 points. Erin Eldershaw earned the other assist.

Metcalfe's defence was anchored by goalie Kayla Marshall, an experienced hockey goalie, playing her first game of ringette. Brianna Bekkers, Tammy Lauzon, Megan Vriend and Mallory Tater were solid along Metcalfe's blueline.

Ottawa opened Saturday's (Oct. 14) match, but the Hornets tied it 30 seconds later on Brown's goal. Nyenkamp then handed her team a 2-1 lead with three minutes left in the half. Nyenkamp clicked for her second tally two minutes into the second session and made it 3-1. Facette's tally enlarged the Hornet's lead to 4-1. Ottawa cut the final difference to 4-2 scoring late in the game.

This year's Junior "B1" Hornets are coached by Tom Facette, Jim Brown and Donna Vriend. Madeleine Brenning is the trainer.

Card of Thanks

LOUCKS, Cpl. Douglas Ashton
We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to family, friends and neighbours for your kind expressions of sympathy, floral donations, memorial donations, cards, food, phone calls, and other acts of kindness shown to us during this difficult time. It has meant so much to us. Thanks to Daley Funeral Home. A special thank you to: Pastor Mollie McKibbon; Dr. C. Adamson, who cared for Doug over the years; John Yourt, Dawn Campbell and Barbara Hodge.
– Greta, Audrey and Daren
31

CARD OF THANKS – We would like to thank family and friends who helped us so much at the time of the loss of our grandson, Mark. Thank you for cards, flowers and memorial donations, also to Rev. Noort for his comforting words; to Glen for the eulogy; to the Harmony Church for the luncheon after the funeral and to Daley Funeral Home. Special thank you to Christopher and Cheryl and family for opening their home; to the Munro Girls; Linda Foster and Donna and Linda. We will always remember the support we have had at this difficult time.
– Art and May Harper
31

In Memoriam

THOMAS – In loving memory of a dear father and grandpa, Keith, who passed away October 1997.
Always on our minds,
Forever in our hearts.

Thank you

I would like to thank all the people who were there to help me during my frightful experience at the hands of an intruder to my home. Sincere thanks to my neighbours and family. I'm especially grateful for the care I received from the emergency department of Winchester Hospital; for the airlift to the Civic Hospital; and also for the wonderful care I received at the Civic Hospital from doctors, surgeons, nurses, aides and staff during my stay in hospital. With everyone's kindness, which was really appreciated, I hope to get back to work and carry on as before.

– Wes Durant

Card of Thanks

We would like to say a sincere 'thank you' for the donations, flowers, cards, visitation at Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home and to David Lapier for his kindness and thoughtfulness. To Burke for his eulogy on behalf of him and his sister Tricia, who is attending university in Finland. To her four grandsons who acted as pall bearers, to Rev. Blair Patterson and Pastor Norine Gullons. To Barbara Davidson for the lunch she provided after the funeral, our sincere thanks to all.

– The Family of the late Edna Brown

It's a boy!

Big brother Dylan and proud parents Tim Cowan and Danielle Kennedy welcome with much love Breydan Alexander Cowan-Kennedy born Friday, September 8, 2006, weighing 7 lb. 8 oz. Many thanks to the doctors, nurses and staff at the Queensway Carleton Hospital.

Chesterville Legion
Everyone welcome

VILLENEUVE, Mary
In loving memory of a dear Mother and Mother-in-law who passed away October 21, 2001.
To us you were so special
What more is there to say
Except to wish with all our hearts
That you were here today.
They say that time heals everything
But we know it isn't so
Because it hurts as much today as it did
Five years ago.
Loved and remembered,
forever in our hearts,
Terry, Doreen and Wayne

BRODY HENRY

Proud big brother Nolan Henry is pleased to announce the safe and healthy arrival of his little brother, Brody Francis Henry, son of Nicholas Henry and Krystin Gravelle. Brody arrived on September 10, 2006 at 8:53 am weighing 7 lb., 4 oz. and measuring 20-1/4" at Winchester Hospital. Grandparents Ina and Dave Henry and Gary and Cathy Gravelle are overjoyed with their new grandson.

North Dundas Chamber of Commerce

All Candidates Meetings
AGENDA AND PROTOCOLS

The North Dundas Chamber of commerce has undertaken to sponsor and present the opportunity for the voting public to listen to and ask questions of all candidates running for positions in the upcoming Municipal Elections.

Meetings are scheduled as follows:

CHESTERVILLE
Thursday, October 19 at 7:30 pm-9:30 pm
Location: Legion Hall

SOUTH MOUNTAIN
Tuesday, October 24 at 7:30 pm-9:30 pm
Location: Agricultural Hall

WINCHESTER
Thursday, October 26 at 7:30 pm-9:30 pm
Location: Heritage Centre/Old Town Hall

Candidates will be allotted time for opening statements as follows:

Mayor: 4 minutes per candidate
Deputy: 3 minutes per candidate
Councillor: 2-1/2 minutes per candidate

As only one microphone will be available, candidates will be required to stand and approach the microphone for their presentations/responses.

The moderator shall indicate time is lapsing by standing when 15 seconds remain in allotted times. (This shall apply to opening statements, questions, responses and closing statements.)

All candidates will be allowed 1-1/2 minutes for closing statements.

Questions from the floor will be taken via a microphone positioned in the aisle. The person shall identify him/her self and only one question may be posed at any one time. (Should the questioner wish to ask more than one question, he/she will be required to re-enter the line.) Responses will be limited to two candidates; the questioner may address the question to one or two candidates. If no specific candidate is requested to respond, the moderator will designate responders.

Questions shall be limited to one minute; responses shall be limited to two minutes per response.

Thank You

Just another 'thank you' to all the people who contributed to the Ottawa Senators game, hotel, dinner and brunch package for our 50th anniversary. Special thanks to Gail VanNoy for organizing it. We attended the Buffalo Sabers game on Thanksgiving weekend and it was wonderful. The Senators may have lost but we were definitely the winners. Thanks again guys.

Artists find common ground with admirers

Weaver Janet Whittam, above, has been participating in the On Common Ground Studio Tour since it began 13 years ago. "I really like the idea of the studio tours, because a lot of people are not aware that there is a craftsperson just down the road," she said on Sat., Oct. 14, the first day of this year's event.

Top left: Many people are quite taken with the unplanned balance of vibrant colours in works by watercolour artist Ewanna Gallo. During this year's On Common Ground Studio Tour, she happily explained to visitors that inspiration for her paintings comes when she meditates briefly after her Tai Chi exercises.

Bottom left: Violet Dagenais does not discard broken china. Instead she will hold onto it and wait for the inspiration to include it in one of her mosaics. She adds other items in her work as well.

Top right: John Ladd draws on his knowledge of legends and mythology, as well as Celtic, Norman, and Scandinavian cultures for his creations. Ladd, who sculpts wood and clay, was one of the visiting artisans taking part in this year's On Common Ground Studio Tour. He hails from Lyn, Ont., near Brockville.

Bottom right: Steve Henderson makes furniture. Many appreciate his solid wood tables, benches and cabinets. But from time to time, he will put down his woodworking tools and turn to his cutting torch and arc welder to build furniture with parts from old farm implements. Rocking chairs made with molded steel seats from old manure spreaders have proven to be very popular. "I'm running out of those seats and will have to hunt down some more," said Henderson.

Background image: This window was fashioned by Melinda Wert, a stained glass artist. Sun catchers, votive candle holders, and lamp shades are just a few of the items she makes.

Co-prime ministers manage to juggle school, own business

A friendship that grew into a business partnership that grew into a co-prime ministership. North Dundas District High School Grade 12 students Tristan Glen and Brayden McNeill took a few minutes out of their busy schedules to sit down with the* Press *on Fri., Oct. 13 and chat — finishing each other's sentences only a few times along the way.

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

CHESTERVILLE — It all started about 14 years ago when Chesterville residents Tristan Glen and Brayden McNeill, now 17, met in the junior kindergarten class at Notre Dame du Rosaire, a French Catholic elementary school in Crysler.

"And we've been best friends since," said McNeill, sitting in the student council wicket — a storage area with a couple couches — at North Dundas District High School on Fri., Oct. 13. He and Glen are now co-prime ministers of student council at the school, and also run their own busking business — when they find the time.

"In Grade 7, a juggler came to our school," said Glen of how they got into busking.

"His name was Mr. Noodles," McNeill jumped in. "And he taught us how to juggle using scarves. We were naturals."

"We were the only ones that actually practised at home," Glen pointed out.

The two kept practising until a couple of years ago, at a community breakfast at the Chesterville Legion, the Egg Launchers were born.

"It wasn't a gig," McNeill remarked. "We weren't invited."

"We just went up on stage to practise," Glen said. Someone ended up passing a hat, and the entertainers left with more money than their breakfast had cost.

Since then, they have been performing at other community events, birthday parties, theatre venues, and anywhere else someone wants to pay them to perform. They've given up on passing the hat, and now charge a set rate for shows — which vary in length depending on the venue, but are usually between half-an-hour and an hour.

"Our act, it's beyond practising," McNeill said of why the two haven't found the time to practise lately.

"We've perfected it," agreed Glen, noting that there's a lot of other stuff going on in their lives — practise takes a back seat.

FOCUS ON YOUTH

Collectively, the two are on almost every sports team at North Dundas District High School.

"It's just better if you're involved," said McNeill.

It was the last day for nominations for student council elections last year, and over the lunch hour, the two managed to grab 10 student signatures and references from four teachers, and compile a cover letter before the deadline.

"It was a last minute, whim decision," said Glen about how they decided to run for co-prime ministers.

Their favourite campaign slogan? We put the "stud" back in student council.

"We've got less time for other things — for doing nothing," said Glen. But the two acknowledged that with nine members of student council, as well as an entire leadership class that has taken on organizing events, they're able to focus on a few specific tasks. They're able to keep a balance between school, their social life, student council, and the Egg Launchers — teachers at the school have even hired them to perform for different events. And while some of the student body have taken to calling the pair "Bristan" they maintain that they're two different people.

"We pretty much do everything together," McNeill said.

Everything, except, apply to the same universities. While McNeill plans to head into environmental engineering, Glen hopes to study film. McNeill said that it will be a "sad day" when they go their separate ways, but the two say that they'll always be able to perform together.

They're planning to cycle across Canada for charity, and to busk across Europe — only bringing their juggling gear.

"We'd have to bring enough (money) for the return trip back," said the logical Glen.

"No, that's the point — we'll have to earn it," countered McNeill. "That would be amazing."

While McNeill said that he sometimes gets tired of doing the boring, simple tricks, the two agree that if the crowds like it, it stays in the act — which includes juggling balls, rings, and clubs, unicycling, several novelty magic tricks, and Glen walking on stilts. They've even worked in juggling fire.

"Everyone thinks it's dangerous, but it's not at all," said McNeill about fire juggling, while he touched his burning kevlar torch in the parking lot at NDDHS.

"Yeah, but you can still set things on fire with it," Glen pointed out, noting that the Egg Launchers only perform with fire at outdoor venues.

"What makes our act great is while we're doing it, we're cracking jokes the entire time," said McNeill. "We get along really well, so it works — we can read each others' minds."

"Yeah we can do that to some extent," agreed Glen.

The two keep making plans and keep each other going. They want to perform at Canada Day in Ottawa. The want to perform at Buskerfest. They want to get good grades in school.

"We're busy with school, our social life, and student council," said Glen. "But it's worth it."

The Egg Launchers are performing every Saturday night at Cannamore Orchard, east of Morewood, until Halloween. For more information about the duo, check out www.egglaunchers.bravehost.com.

Brayden McNeill (left) and Tristan Glen are the Egg Launchers. The two North Dundas District High students manage to juggle their own busking business and keep student council in order as co-prime ministers. And Brayden doesn't actually eat fire – "My mom won't let me."
