Area reeves review 1981

(Staff) - A road construction program worth approximately $150,000 represents Winchester Township's main thrust for 1982, says reeve Gerald Holmes.

Mr. Holmes predicts the new year will be a year of restraint, in keeping with the upper tiers of government, with the reconstruction of the road between concessions 6 and 7, a development road, the only major project scheduled.

The 2.5 kilometres of the development road requiring construction and base material and the project is financed at 90 per cent from the provincial government, explained Mr. Holmes.

The 1981 roads program succeeded in its accomplishment of goals, although the township was faced with no major projects such as bridges, he said.

It is certainly his ambition, concluded Mr. Holmes, to get all jobs done with good leadership and good relationships of inner council.

Stewart Hart, reeve of Osnabruck Township, foresees a good year for his township in 1982. The official plan, in first draft stage now, will be completed in 1982 and the Ingleside sewage project should progress well.

As well, stated Mr. Hart, the township's new office building, under construction now, could be ready for occupancy as early as May. As he considers the new building, Mr. Hart says he finds it hard to understand how the township operated with the old, much smaller building.

He noted attempts would be made to maintain the level of road work without putting the mill rate out of reach although roads seem to be wearing out more quickly than in the past.

Increased travel means the roads, constructed with much more material than in the past, wear out faster, explained Mr. Hart. The past year was good to the township, commented Mr. Hart, although the grant system tended to hold up some projects.

Chesterville reeve Carl Ward sees 1982 as being a year of slow but progressive growth.

The reeve expects to see the expansion of the Chesterville lagoon completed by spring. The project was unable to finish this past fall because of a large amount of rain.

He also expects the tenders for the Hummel St. resurfacing and storm sewer project to be called. Work will also progress on the resurfacing of Emma St., from King to Albert Sts., in conjunction with curbing and catch basins to be installed at the corner of King and Emma.

Further road work by the village will depend on the council's tour of the roads in the spring.

The United Counties of SD&G have agreed to resurface and reconstruct a portion of Main St. in the village. From the CP railway tracks south to Emma St. will be reconstructed and resurfaced, and from Emma St. to the corner of Queen and Main Sts. will be resurfaced.

The village, also working with the Counties, hopes to improve the corner of Queen and Main Sts. A survey of the corner has been done and plans to increase the road area will hopefully make the intersection safer said Mr. Ward.

The road area to the west of the Fulton Bros. building will be blocked said Mr. Ward by the Counties to eliminate the hazardous parking situation.

In 1982 Chesterville council hopes to bring the municipalities industrial park on stream. Eight acres of land is available for subdividing in the park. The village wants to promote the sale of the land to light industries said the reeve.

The street lighting and sidewalk building programs will continue he said, with up-dating and repairing those areas in greatest need.

Council is also hoping to adjust the hours of the village clerk's office to provide more service to the public, said the reeve. Hours may be adjusted to a somewhat later time.

Looking back at 1981 the reeve is happy. "I think we've been quite successful in 1981" especially in light of the difficult economic times.

Few municipalities are expanding now, he noted. Council appreciates the fact that new businesses have come into Chesterville.

With the expansion of the Chesterville lagoon there is the potential for expansion expansion explained the reeve. Hard economic times can't last forever, and when the economy becomes healthier Chesterville will be in the position to grow he said.

The 1982 Chesterville council was a relatively inexperienced one he added and yet the members have done well. New councillors have become familiar with village business. "I think they've done a good job," he added.

The various village departments have progressed well said Mr. Ward, especially the recreation department.

Recreation Director Dave Arnold has added many new programs, and is progressing well.

Ingleside Rotary president designated Paul Harris fellow

INGLESIDE (Staff) - Melvin James Waldroff, president of Ingleside-Osnabruck Rotary club, has been designated a Paul Harris fellow through contributions from the Waldroff family and Ingleside-Osnabruck Rotary.

The designation indicates contributions made by Mr. Waldroff or on his behalf to the Rotary Foundation, an educational and charitable foundation dedicated to promoting international understanding on a person to person basis.

The program provides for educational awards, group study exchanges, special grants, grants for help, hunger and humanity and enables more than 17,000 young men and women to travel abroad to pursue their chosen field and also serve as goodwill ambassadors by participating with their Rotary hosts in the mutual exchange of customs, ideas and lifestyles.

The presentation took place at The Lakeside Inn on Ladies Night, with Dr. George Fisher, past district governor and Mrs. Fisher present along with many other Rotarians and their wives, friends and family.

Planning grant awarded

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Staff) - Osnabruck Township obtained a community planning study grant of $7,833 to cover half the cost of forming an official plan for the township, it was announced Mon., Dec. 21.

The grant is awarded by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing to aid in the preparation of sound planning for municipalities, states the ministry.

The township plan is presently in first draft stage, said clerk-treasurer Tom Melesky. The planning board, made up of members of council and chaired by reeve Stewart Hart, will now study the document, he said and will schedule a meeting in January to bring together the planner, the planning board and public agencies concerned with the plan.

Their pooled input will lead into public meetings and or open houses, said Mr. Melesky. At that time, he added, changes may be made if public response indicates change.

The planner, Michael Wright of G.M. Wright and Associates, has estimated the total cost of the plan at approximately $15,600 said Mr. Melesky, but many changes could increase costs and conversely, minimal changes could keep it at or under budget.

He noted the planning board is advancing slowly in order to ensure the accuracy of the plan and the satisfaction of the township.

The move toward an official plan for Osnabruck Township began in late September, 1981 when the planning board was formed and Mr. Wright was engaged as the township planner.

Winchester Cheese gets grant

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Winchester Cheese Inc. has received a $1.5 million loan under the Ontario government's BILD program to assist in a $7-million capital expansion project over five years, it was announced recently.

The announcement was made jointly by the Ministries of Industry and Tourism and Agriculture and Food, since the loan will enable the factory to purchase an additional 4.3 million lbs. of raw material by 1982 and will also benefit the area economy by the creation of new jobs, state the ministers responsible, Lorne Henderson and Larry Grossman.

The loan, interest-free and principal-deferred for five years will aid the company in the expansion of its facilities as well as the introduction of a new line of processed cheese products.

BILD (Board of Industrial Leadership) is a committee of cabinet chaired by treasurer Frank Miller to co-ordinate the province's five-year, $1.5 billion economic development plan.

Newsbriefs

Quiet Christmas

(Staff) - The regular contingent of OPP officers from the Winchester detachment experienced a quiet Christmas, said a spokesman from the office. New Year's Eve tends to present little problem, with most area residents attending local parties. If additional manpower is required, the Morrisburg detachment provides aid to the seven-man Winchester detachment.

Christmas winner

(Staff) - Winners of the Fulton's Christmas Draw were Hans Siegenthaler, first prize a color television and second prize, Mrs. C. St. Germaine, an AM-FM stereo.

Thousands nominate Williamsburg youth Ontario Jr. Citizen

WILLIAMSBURG (Staff) - A shy, athletic, ambitious teenager from this village has been nominated by thousands of supporters as an Ontario Junior Citizen.

Rodney Barkley, a soon-to-be 16-year-old has achieved medal upon medal at both the Ontario and Canada Games for the disabled despite his handicap of total blindness.

He is presently working toward the 1984 Olympics for the Disabled, honing his skill in the 60 and 400 metre runs and his long jump. Training at home involves running beside the family car; while training at school means cross-country runs accompanied by a guide who acts as lookout for hazards for his blind runners.

School, to Rodney, is W. Ross MacDonald in Brantford, a kindergarten to grade 12 school for the blind.

Aside from his regular grade 9 program Rodney is learning piano tuning, woodworking, chair caning and sings in the choir as well as playing guitar in a band called The Good Buddies. The Good Buddies entertained recently in Dixon's Corners at a benefit dance for Multiple Sclerosis.

The move to nominate Rodney as a Junior Citizen was initiated by Mable (Mrs. Lloyd) Whitteker of Williamsburg, his grandmother. Mrs. Whitteker declines recognition for the overwhelming support Rodney has received saying rather that the hundreds of people who canvassed the immediate area as well as the Ottawa area should take the credit.

Rodney, blind since age three, works hard at everything he does, said Mrs. Whitteker. He was chosen as a typist for the school's year book this year, she noted, and has been typing since grade four. At present he can transcribe Braille into typing for sighted readers.

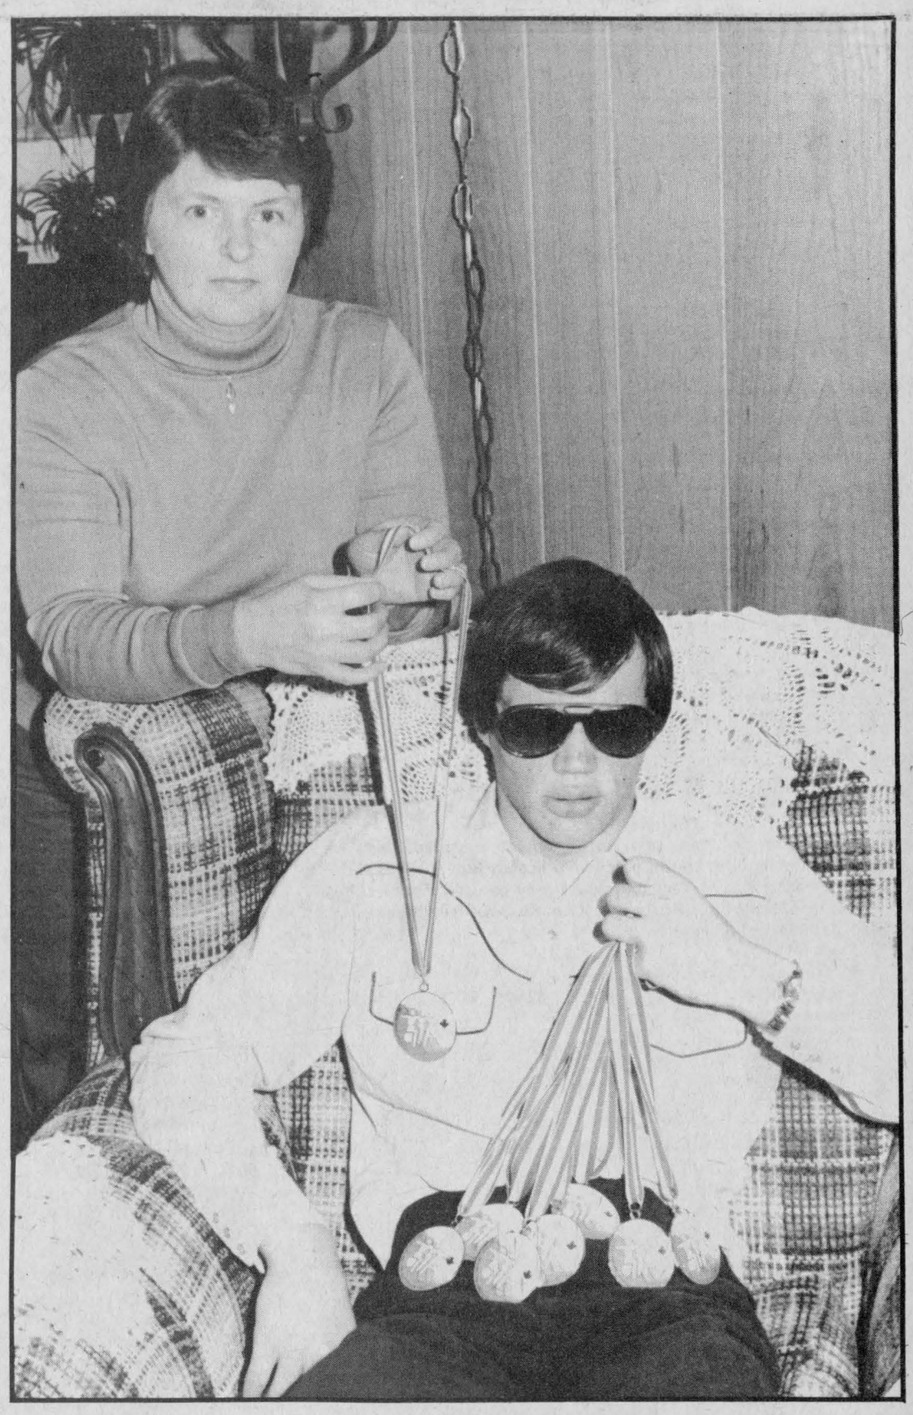
His games medals too, are inscribed in Braille on the reverse. The Gold Rodney won at the Canada Games was for the 800 metre run and his seven Silver medals were for other track and field events and wrestling.

Last year Rodney was chosen to be among the Canadian representatives to the Pan American Games in Mexico although he was unable to attend. The World Games are the next step up, he explains, and this indomitable teen has his goal in mind.

The Ontario Junior Citizen program was begun this year to recognize the outstanding achievement of Ontario girls and boys ages six to 18 - acts of courage or initiative as well as meritorious conduct or extra ordinary preserverance in dealing with a disability to equal or exceed his or her peers. The program is sponsored jointly by the Ontario Community Newspaper Association and CP Air.

Too often, states the program literature, the extraordinary deeds of Ontario boys and girls goes unheeded. The awards will attempt to give recognition to the outstanding girls and boys in the province.

Nominations for Junior Citizens closed December 1, 1981 and the awards will be presented at the annual convention of the Ontario Community Newspapers Convention in March, 1982.



Rodney Barkley, a Williamsburg teenager, distinguished himself at the Canada Games for the Disabled in Scarborough during the summer, winning one gold and seven silver medals. His athletic ability is one of the factors that led thousands of area residents to nominate the young blind man as an Ontario Junior Citizen. His mother, Mrs. Ray Barkley, places the gold around Rodney's neck while he dholds the seven silvers on his lap.

Thank you Rotary Annes

Chesterville Rotary News

Celebrating a birthday on Jan. 3rd is no other than Jan Roosendaal. Our best wishes to you Jan may you celebrate many more.

Thank you Ladies:

Rotarians at this time of the year, like all others, will make New Years resolutions, and, like all others will find a reason to break them shortly there after.

However, our wish is to extend to all our Rotary Anne's our heartfelt thanks for their contribution to Rotary in 1981.

I believe Washington Irving best put our sentiments when he wrote "There is one in the world who feels for him who is sad a keener pang than he feels for himself; There is one to whom reflected joy is better than that which comes direct; There is one who rejoices in anothers honor, more than in any which is one's own; There is one in whom anothers transcedent excellence sheds no beam but that of delight; There is one who hides another's infirmities more faithfully than one's own; There is one who loses all sense of self in the sentiment of kindness, tenderness and devotion to another: That one is woman."

There is a woman at the beginning of all great things, that is why we extend our ladies the appreciation, they so richly deserve and say thank you for your loyal, unselfish contribution to Rotary.

Our next meeting will be on Jan. 4th at which time, we hope, we have another 100 per cent attendance.

Husbands are awkward things to deal with; even keeping them in hot water will not make them tender.

As 1981 quickly closes the door on us, we would be remiss not to acknowledge our thanks to a year that gave us the energy to accomplish our service to others by assisting a cripped child and helping the needy; to rejoice over a birth and to sorrow over death; to make a friend and to worship as free men; to enjoy our loved ones and our neighbours; to travel both here in Canada and abroad.

Our thanks for a good harvest and the pleasures of daily life in the community and to bring happiness to someone.

The joy in knowing you served to the best of your ability in 1981 and that someone else was made the better for that service.

For all this and much more we thank you, 1981.

May 1982 be your year, filled with prosperity, happiness and good health.

Please if you drink don't drive!

1981 - Tough Times

Probably 1981 will best be remembered for being a year of "tough times". As the economy continued to struggle and falter through the year the gloom and doom forecasters predicted the malaise that was eating away at the country's finances would spread to other aspects of society.

To a certain extent it's true. Tough economic times seems to spread to other areas such as volunteer organizations, and extra services. For example, St. Lawrence College has had to reduce the number of courses offered in rural areas.

But there are some surprisingly beneficial aspects of "tough times". Municipalities are forced to spend money only where necessary as taxpayers won't stand for wasteful spending. "Tough times" also makes it easier for society to get its priorities straight.

Tough finances forces society to take a closer look at what is important to survival and these items get top priority. For example, Ontario hospitals are experiencing drastic cutbacks in government funding. Yet the federal Minister of Health and Welfare is advising hospital administrations that they can produce extra revenue from sidelines such as charging for parking lots.

It won't be long before the public sets their priorities in order and informs the minister that cutting his salary and not giving him another increase in spending money is what will happen before hospitals are allowed to become money makers and businesses.

"Tough times" means the public won't stand for government social aid to be handed out as if the public purse has no bottom. It means workers will be paid what a company can afford, and what the market will bear, instead of inflated salaries.

Certainly tough economic times can be regarded as a malaise. But in many ways so can high economic times. - mary macdonald -

The staff of the Chesterville Record would like to take this opportunity to wish all our readers a very Happy and Safe New Year!

The Farmer's Wife — by Wyn Thompson

It is the time to catch one's breath between the joy of Christmas and the challenge of the New Year. And catch it I will, I decide. A good book, a cup of very hot tea, a fire burning well, an Irish dreaming of rabbits, and let the wind blow!

The twelve days of Christmas, lying between December 25 and Epiphany January 6, are wonderful days. And as much as possible, I feel we should step out of the stream of life with all its troubles and misfortunes and disappointments and enjoy the history, the wonder, the beauty, and the sorrow of these days. From this safe distance!

It was on January 6 that the Three Magi brought gifts to the Christ Child in the manger and of course, by now, our modern day gifts are either being used or exchanged.

And New Year greetings are about to be extended in many languages. In our area the most familiar would be "Happy New Year"; Glueckliches New Jahr: A Glickluch Nie Yuor; Bonne et Heureuse Annee; Gelukkig Niew Jaar; Goon Ho Sinn See.

During the twelve days of Christmas I like to read about the customs of other lands. I learned that the biggest celebration of the year in Japan is not Christmas, but New Year's. New Year's is the time when all debts are paid and business books are cleared. No Japanese wants to begin the New Year owing anything to anyone.

It seems that toward the end of December, all Japanese houses are given a thorough cleaning to get ready for the New Year's celebration. Pine branches are fastened to the house gates and placed inside the homes on the family altars.

Special rice cakes, called mochi, are made for serving on New Year's Day. At midnight on the "Great Last Day", the temple bells sound out 108 strokes. This announces the passing of the old year and the beginning of a Happy New Year.

And Japanese dress in their best clothes and go calling on their friends on New Year's Day. Also, they make the rounds of their ancestoral shrines to pay homage to the dead.

For Canadians too, the twelve days of Christmas are a time for remembering and visiting and returning to the joys and sorrows of other years. And of course, a time to look forward and plan. What a challenge this presents in this most distressing of economic times to hit Canada in fifty-some years. And indeed the whole world, for it is not limited to Canada by any means.

Yet still, we have never had so much free time thanks to all our modern gadgets. While I am writing this my dishes are being washed for me, as are a load of clothes. The house is being heated by an oil furnace which I neither have to stoke nor take out the ash. Although I do have a black monster in the family room upon which I have to dance attendance but still, there is that wonderful back-up puffing away when the wood in my monster burns low. No more mid-night trips to the woodshed to get maple blocks to assuage its hunger.

The Farmer also reminded me, as I was making out the grocery list for the new year, that it takes less man hours to buy food now than in 1949. That is, if one still has a job!

At a party recently a lady stated that winter has its own beauty for us who live with it. Well, I conceded that winter belongs to us who battle the blizzards, get dug out of snowdrifts, undergo the misery of frozen pipes, the numb hands on the steering wheels. It is for us to pull on the snow boots, wear two woolen sweaters under storm jackets and watch our breath freeze as we attempt to start balky cars at day's end.

But on the other hand, as we do drive to work we see the bare branches lovely with fallen snow or encased in ice which glitters when the sun comes out. We see the meadows blue with shadows and we hear the brook water running softly under a sheath of ice. We know the beauty of a world wrapped in white cotton candy as we listen for the owl in the bush across the way. We know the beauty of the delicate prints of rabbit and pheasant on new snow.

We see the delicate beauty of a winter sunset with pale lemon and green in the afterglow. And we experience the absolute splendour of moonlit etchings on white snow. Even on moonless nights the snow itself is luminous.

There are other beautiful things which involve our meeting the challenges of each new winter morning. One of the sweetest sounds in the world is the sound of the Farmer blowing the snow from the driveway as the snow-plough zooms down the road.

There is the sound of boots crunching on the path outdoors as friends make it over for a visit. There is beauty in the quietness when snow falls, I think nothing is so quiet and peaceful as a windless fall of snow. There is the smell of snow for which no perfume can equal.

There is the pattern of firelight on the floor, an image of the fire on the hearth etched into shadow. A house seems beautifully snug when winter walks outside.

In December, we look forward to spring but on the way, we get much joy out of such things as a warm house, a good supply of food and fuel, and a world snow white outside.

The old year is about to beautifully pass in its faultlessly white snow robes, and the new will take its place. A good New Year to You...one and all!

Chesterville's past

January 3, 1952

Two Chesterville residents were among six Dundas County delegates who attended the annual three-day leadership course held last weekend at Queen's University, Kingston.

They were Ralph McMillan, sponsored by the United Co-operatives of Ontario, Toronto, and one of the leaders in the course and Ronald Dillabough sponsored by the Concentrated Milk Producers.

Other Dundas residents attending were Harry McRoberts, Winchester of Concentrated Milk Producers, William Gibson, Winchester, Malcolm, D. Graham, South Mountain, sponsored by Dundas Federation of Agriculture and Frank Milne of Mountain also sponsored by the Dundas Federation of Agriculture.

Each year during the Christmas vacation period the course for rural leaders is sponsored by Queen's University assisted by Community Programs Branch of Ontario Department of Education and by Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

The teacher of Goldfield School, Mrs. Donald Casselman, and pupils held their annual Christmas party in the school on December 21 when the pupils presented a program of songs, recitations and dialogues. Santa Claus delivered gifts and treats of nuts and candy from a well-laden tree.

Chesterville Post Office employees are at last able to collect their breaths after the hectic days of the Christmas rush. The floods of mail that poured through their hands nearly made a new record.

With a matter of over 30,000 two-cent stamps sold through the wicket, and everybody and his brother sending and receiving greetings there was not a great deal of spare time left for the office staff.

The public, on the receiving end of the service, has been most helpful and confusion was held to a minimum. The postmaster reports only a bare dozen or so letters or cards on hand that cannot seem to find a home.

At a special meeting of Winchester Township Council held in the clerk's office, Chesterville, Friday evening, Warden Harold E. Durant, retiring reeve of the township, was presented with a leather Club Bag by the Township Clerk, Mr. Jacob Steen who congratulated Mr. Durant on being elected Warden of the United Counties and bringing honor to the Township of Winchester. The presentation was made on behalf of Winchester Township council and civic officials.

Reeve Durant thanked the council for the gift and wished the members every success in the future.

Mr. Donald Gordon received word that his sister, Mrs. Kenneth Myers fell on a street in Edmonton , fracturing her leg near the hip. She is now a patient in the University Hospital of that city.

St. John's Day was observed at the local Masonic Temple when officers were installed in an impressive ceremony conducted by Haldane Durant.

George Beckstead was installed as the worshipful master during the ceremony.

January 4, 1962

Readers of this newspaper this week will find it slightly larger than the old issue that closed out the old year. Starting 1962 we have added 84 inches to the columns. That turns out to be a matter of seven feet more of reading matter for our ever-growing list of subscribers.

The change in size was planned when we set up the larger paper size last December just a year ago. Then we anticipated a continued increase in readership and a greater demand for advertising space. When the necessary equipment was ordered, then we made certain we would have some room left to increase the length of columns if necessary.

Circulation of the Record is at its all-time peak now and every week finds many new subscribers on the lists. At the same time, advertisers have found the paper one of their most profitable methods of selling everything from turkeys to trucks.

The sixth Eastern Ontario Holstein sale, held December 15 at Holmes Livestock Exchange, Winchester realized a total of $13,662 for 45 head, an average of $303 each.

Twenty-one milking females averaged $362 each, 13 bred heifers $300 each and 10 open yearlings $205 each. One heifer calf brought $95.

The top price of $490 was paid by J.M. Brown of Almonte to Gerard Legault, St. Albert for De La Nation Banella Louisa, a three-year-old daughter of very good sire Banella Stylemaster.

Claude Dutrisac, Orleans, paid $435 to Case Michels, Finch, for a milking female while Johannes Byvelds and Sons Williamsburg bought a milking female from Preston Rodney at $400.

Highest price for a bred heifer was $365 which figure was realized twice, first on the bid of Charles Kuperus and Sons, Sussex, New Jersey for a heifer consigned by Ronald E. Barker of Portland and again on the bid of Jean Claude Cutrisac for a heifer consigned by D.C. MacLeod, Finch.

Chesterville village looked bright and cheery for the Christmas season . The home lighting had a lot to do with it. Not to be outdone Morewood village shone like a festive tree all through the season and the displays back there were something to see.

Both villages organized a contest for nicest displays and we now have the list of winners at hand.

Chesterville Chamber of Commerce winners were as follows: First, residence Dr. Howard Justus; second, residence of Joe Pringle; third, Mrs. O.L. King.

Morewood Women's Institute winners were: First, residence of Len Godard; second, residence of Mac Hutchinson.

Graham Durant dipped into the past with a vengeance the other day. He was doing some remodeling at the family home and in a thick wall found a trio of tin cans. When they were opened, a number of newspapers were discovered. One of the copies was a July 11, 1907 issue of your favorite family journal. The old paper makes interesting reading and even then familiar names are everywhere in the Record.

Treatment is unfair

To the Editor:

It is with grave concern that I write this letter for what I consider the unjust treatment by our judicial system of a fellow volunteer firefighter in our neighbouring community of Iroquois.

I first of all do not wish to convey an attitude of lack of concern for the seriousness of that fatal accident. It was a terrible disaster. Incarceration of a volunteer firefighter will not relieve the grief felt by all concerned, nor will it serve any other useful purpose. It is having a degenerative affect on many departments, both full time and volunteer. God knows, the driver of that vehicle has already paid his own penance.

Let's look at some of the facts. A new volunteer firefighter is operating an emergency vehicle en route to an emergency knowing that every second counts. No one is more aware of the passage of time than everyone in that vehicle. The father of the person with the emergency is on board. They stop for a train, the train passes but the gates stay down. These mechanical devices have been known to malfunction and what are the chances of another train meeting at this crossing. Emergency lights are flashing all around, everyone wants to get going! What is the natural reaction for any compassionate human being?

"To err is human" in this situation is true of both the incident and of the sentencing of Phillip Thompson. Two wrongs will never make it right!

It must also be realized that the degenerative affect this will have on Volunteer Fire Departments will last for years. I am sure no one wants to take the chance of being treated like Phillip Thompson!

Blaine Ball
Chief Fire Prevention Officer
Osgoode Township Fire Department

Foster families admired

To the Editor:

For many years we have worked with the foster families in the Three United Counties. Our admiration for the work that they do can never be underestimated.

In spite of the social problems in to-day's society, great numbers of children have benefited from sharing in the family life and the values they represent. We have never visited a foster family without learning something.

We have appreciated the work done by our foster parents in the past but never more than we do to-day, when the foster care system is the best alternative to meet the needs of children who cannot remain with their own families. It is up to us all to accept the challenge which allows our work to be continued.

We trust that the holiday season may be for you and yours , foster parents, a season of joy, consolation and satisfaction derived from the important work you perform in the community.

Trinity United entertained

Just a few children participated in the annual Chesterville Trinity United Sunday School Christmas concert last Sunday afternoon. Parents and families were treated to skits, a puppet show, singing, and a visit from Santa Claus at the concert. Following the event parents contributed sandwiches and other sweets for a lunch.

Dear Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: This splendid message appeared in the Wall Street Journal recently, and I hope you will print it.

Your Constant Weeder
In Cleveland

Dear Weeder: I started to read the Wall Street Journal in 1955 when that beautiful guy, Vermont Royster, was the senior associate editor. I did see the message and should have been alert enough to pick it up then. Here it is, belatedly, with special thanks to the sponsor, Harry J. Gray, chairman of United Technologies Corp, of Hartford, Conn.

THE SNAKE THAT POISONS EVERYBODY
topples governments,
wrecks marriages,
ruins careers,
busts reputations,
causes heartaches, nightmares, indigestion,
spawns suspicion,
generates grief,
dispatches innocent people to cry in their pillows.
Even its name hisses.
It's called gossip.
Office gossip, Shop gossip.
Party gossip.
It makes headlines and headaches.
Before you repeat a story, ask yourself -
Is it true?
Is it fair?
Is it necessary?
If not,
Shut up.

Dear Ann Landers: I am beginning to believe that California's reputation as the "Flake capital of the world" is deserved. Here's the latest:

Beatrice Lydecker, who calls herself an animal psychologist, gets paid for telling people what their animals are thinking. She collects fat fees for observing the behaviour of pets and interpreting them for their owners.

Lydecker, discovered her unusual ability to read the minds of animals in 1969, when she was walking down the street in Monrovia and saw a German shepherd behind a fence. She went over to pet the dog and sensed that he was deeply depressed. She then spoke to the dog's owner and learned that the man of the house had returned to work that very day after having been home for several months with a severe injury. The same morning their son started to school. So, for the first time since birth, the dog had been left alone.

Would you care to comment on this latest lunacy?

-Crackpottsville, USA

Dear Crack: The "lunacy" is paying someone to explain what should be perfectly obvious to anyone who has a working brain cell. We have known for a long time that animals become depressed, irritated, mean, jealous, playful and excited by events and moods of the people around them.

If Beatrice can get people to pay her a fat fee for her "special ability," more power to her.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do. Read the booklet, "Alcoholism - Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

The 'A' Stamp

Until new 30¢ stamps become available, Canada Post is issuing a special stamp called the "A" stamp.

The "A" stamp shows no denomination, but it has a value of 30¢. It must only be used on mail posted and delivered within Canada. It must not be used on mail leaving Canada.

Correct postage can, of course, be made up by using combinations of existing stamps.

WARNER — In fond and loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Helen N. Warner, who departed this life on January 2nd, 1980.
We will always remember the way you looked,

Are with us all the while.
You never said good-bye to us
Perhaps it's just as well,
For we could never have said bood-bye
To the one we loved so well.

Registration at St. Lawrence College resumes January 4

CORNWALL - Registration in the winter continuing education programs at both St. Lawrence College and the University of Ottawa, Cornwall campus, got under way Mon., Dec. 14.

Registration officials are hoping that the opportunity to register before Christmas will help many people to plan their winter activities in advance.

Both the college and the university will be accepting registrations from Mon., Dec. 14 to Wed., Dec. 23, prior to the Christmas break. Registration will resume in the new year, on Mon., Jan. 4.

Part-time students at the college can work toward the same diplomas that full-time students earn, and some do. But most part-time students enrol in the certificate programs established particularly for them.

These programs require less study than diploma programs in order to allow the part-time students to complete them in reasonable lengths of time.

Certificate programs are offered by every department at the college, in an effort to assist people in the work force, in particular, to upgrade their knowledge and skills, to give them greater possibilities for promotion, and in some cases to launch new careers.

In many cases the certificate programs help people who have been out of the work force for a while to either brush up on skills or to learn new skills, in order to get back into the working world.

Of the 260 college graduates last June, 30 were part-time students who had earned certificates.

The applied arts department offers a basic photography certificate which consists of 12 courses which cover black and white and colour photography, darkroom techniques, applied communications and small business management. This winter, the department will be offering the course Basic Photography two in the program.

The business department will be offering several courses this winter in its certificate programs in industrial management, accounting, administrative assistant, and clerk-typist.

One of the advantages that people enrolling in part-time business courses have is that they can start out taking courses that are common to two or more programs.

Introductory Accounting, for example, is common to the accounting and administrative certificate programs. Essentials of Management is common to the industrial management and administrative certificate programs. Many of the common courses are offered every semester.

The technology and trades department is offering several courses in its welding operator and stationary engineering certificate programs, this winter.

Welding course ranging from basic shielded metal arc to gas metal arc welding are scheduled. Stationary engineering courses are being offered at both the fourth and third class levels.

Courses in the health and human studies department's gerontology and health care aide certificate programs that started last fall will carry over into the winter semester. However, people wishing to enrol in these programs will have to wait till they start up again next fall.

This winter, the health department will be offering its registered nurse refresher program once again. This program is designed to assist nurses who have been out of the work force for several years to brush up on their knowledge and skills before going back to work.

Christmas Seal campaign aim not yet complete

This year's Christmas Seal campaign's objective is $35,000 of which $22,500 has been collected (Dec. 1st). Your donation will make a difference to Eastern Counties Lung Association, it will enable them continue their battle against lung disease throughout the year.

The aim of the Lung Association "is to prevent and control lung disease". Prevention: through health education programs in schools and the community; Control; through family asthma programs for children and adults, and last but not least Research.

Please answer your Christmas Seal envelope to-day.

"It's a matter of life and breath".

Turkey parts present change

(Special) - Turkey is one of Ontario's favorite holiday foods. But if a whole turkey is too large for your household, try turkey parts, suggest marketing specialists at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Turkey parts include the wings, thighs, drumsticks and breasts. Buying turkey parts lets you choose the type of meat and the exact amounts needed.

Since turkey parts have varying amounts of bone, the amount of turkey required for each serving will differ. For thighs and breasts, allow ½ to ¾ lb. per serving, and for drumsticks and wings, allow ¾ to 1 lb. per serving.

Ontario turkey parts can usually be found in the fresh or frozen meat section of your local food store. To thaw the frozen turkey parts, leave them in the refrigerator over night. For frozen turkey breasts, allow 24 hours in the refrigerator.

There are several different ways to cook turkey parts. They can be braised in a skillet, simmered on top of the stove, stewed or roasted.

For a traditional Christmas turkey dinner, roast turkey parts at 350 degrees F for 2 to 2½ hours, until fork tender. Baste as needed. Cook turkey dressing separately in a casserole dish, at the same time as the turkey parts. For a richer flavor, spoon some turkey drippings over the dressing while cooking.

The year in retrospect

January

The holiday season was marked by record cold temperatures in January 1981. On Sun., Jan. 4 the Chesterville mercury went down to -37 degrees C. Eric Casselman, who keeps records for the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, believed it was the coldest temperature for that evening on record.

The first baby of 1981 was Catherine Barkley of Williamsburg. The daughter of Charlotte and Wayne Barkley was born at 5:22pm January 4 weighing six lbs., 12 ozs. Happy Birthday, Catherine!

Tom Rance, the general manager of the Nestle factory in Chesterville left his position with the company to become vice-president and general manager of the Heritage Silversmiths in Perth. Mr. Rance and his family had lived in Chesterville since 1967.

Dundas County and the west portion of Stormont County was appointed a new community education counsellor for St. Lawrence College. Linda Swerdfeger had begun working out of the college's rural office in Chesterville by early January. She replaced Lorna Bawden in the job.

The four Vietnamese "boat people" brought to Chesterville and area by CARES (the Chesterville and Area Refugee Emergency Sponsorship) left the village in early January for Calgary. The three brothers, Tran Ngoc Mieu, Tran Ngoc Thuy and Tran Thoc Hong, and cousin Nugyen Van Thu arrived in Chesterville after spending almost a year in refugee camps and making an escape in small boats through the South China Sea. They had fled their homeland, South Vietnam, as the communist regime was installed following the fall of South Vietnamese to the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in 1975. The men left because of greater possibilities of obtaining jobs in the west. They had become frustrated with the difficulty in finding jobs in eastern Ontario.

The new executive of the 1981 Chesterville Fair was elected in January at the fairboard's annual meeting. Taking over the reins for the organization in it's 50th year was John Douma as first vice-president, Wilburn Robinson as treasurer, Sarsfield O'Connor as president, Judy Buske as secretary and Brian Kennedy as second vice-president.

On January 25th the Russell Hotel in Crysler was destroyed by fire. Both the Crysler and Morewood Fire Departments fought the blaze, along with a unit from St. Albert's. Crysler Fire Chief J.B. Benoit said the firefighters thought the fire could be contained at first but the water being pumped from the Nation River kept icing because of the cold. The cause of the fire was unknown.

Four Ottawa men were charged with break and entry following the recovery of between $50,000 and $75,000 worth of merchandise taken from the Moose Creek Mall in late January. Ontario Provincial Police, Long Sault detachment, investigating the robbery, said the mall housing Chez Therese Ladies Wear, Richard's Men's Wear and Vimi Shoes was entered around 2am Fri., Jan. 23. The lock on the outside door of the mall was neatly removed to gain entry, then each store in the mall was entered by sawing off the padlocks holding together the bars across the front of each store.

February

Dr. Gerry Rosenquist was ushered to the podium at the Finch Community Hall Mon., Feb. 2 by a marching band, but even after the band stopped playing the Liberal nominee continued to march right into the Liberal candidacy for the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry provincial riding. Dr. Rosenquist, from Morrisburg, was chosen the Liberal candidate by approximately 500 party supporters at the nomination meeting. He narrowly beat the only other nominee, Bill Cumming, reeve of Lancaster Village in the east end of the riding.

Krista Weegar was crowned the Morewood Carnival Queen Fri., Jan. 30 at the Morewood Community Centre. The crowning ceremony marked the opening of the Morewood Winter Carnival '81. Chosen as first princess was Pattie Carruthers and second princess was Amy Walker.

Ingleside, Chesterville and Crysler Winter Carnivals were also held during Feburary. All three winter events attracted large and active participants.

Glen Robertson farmer, Joe O'Neill announced in early February he was again seeking the New Democratic Party nomination for the riding of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry in the March 19 provincial election. Mr. O'Neill carried the NDP banner in the June 1977 provincial election finishing in third place behind incumbent Tory MLA Osie Villeneuve and Liberal candidate Johnny Whitteker. The 38-year-old father of four said he is interested in being the NDP candidate because he feels the NDP can be an important voice for the area concerning issues like OHIP and inequities in Farm Drainage Funding and the Farm Capital Grant System.

The proposed retirement of incumbent MLS for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, Osie Villeneuve, was short-lived as the veteran politician announced his plans to seek the Progressive Conservative nomination again. Mr. Villeneuve said he reconsidered the planned retirement he announced last summer because of his belief that Ontario needs a strong, experienced majority government. Another factor in his decision to seek the nomination was the broad support he received from the constituents across the riding who asked him to run again. He added he will run a vigorous campaign if he is elected as his party's candidate.

Chesterville got its second bank in February. The Toronto Dominion Chesterville branch held its grand opening Feb. 18.

The Ingleside-Osnabruck Rotary club presented the Winchester District Memorial Hospital with an ultra-sound scanner. The Rotary Club, with support from other area Rotary Clubs, raised the $16,000 necessary to purchase the machine.

Monique Patenaude handed her crown as Chesterville Carnival Queen to Colleen Byers, the 1981 Carnival Queen, chosen Feb. 13 at the Chesterville Arena. Miss Byers reigned over the village celebration of winter. Wanda Blair was chosen as first princess and Lorraine Hutt was second princess.

Three Chesterville businesses were broken into in late February. Fulton's Home Hardware store and Simpson's Sears Catalogue store were entered Thurs., Feb. 19 and the Chesterville Liquor Store was entered Sat., Feb. 21. Two men were charged in connection with the incidents.

A handful of NDP faithfuls turned out at the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry NDP nomination meeting. They nominated Joe O'Neill to again carry the colors in the three United Counties.

As expected incumbent Osie Villeneuve, will carry the Tory Blue banner in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry for the March 19 provincial election. Mr. Villeneuve, who has been the riding's MLA for the past 28 years, easily out-distanced his only challenger, Ewart Simms of Mountain Township in the party's nomination meeting at Tagwi Secondary School in Avonmore.

March

The three candidates in the provincial election for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry riding outlined their election platforms in early March. PC candidate Osie Villeneuve stated there were major decisions to be made in the upcoming four years and Ontario needed a majority Conservative government to make those decisions. The state of the economy, education and dormant agricultural land were the three main concerns of liberal candidate Gerry Rosenquist. For NDP candidate Joe O'Neill, the state of the economy was the major concern of this election.

Chesterville area farmer, Gerry Brugmans, showed the champion corn silage at the annual Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Seed Fair, held in conjunction with the Crysler Farm Show in March.

Lorne Henderson, provincial agriculture minister, announced in March the provincial government would pick up a further two-thirds subsidy on drains begun between April 1 to December 19, 1979. Drains completed during the period April 1 until December 19, 1979, when the ARDA agreement lapsed and the Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Agreement went into effect had been financed by the provincial government since Mr. Henderson announced in the spring of 1980, the province would assume the federal share of drains completed in that period.

A total of 859 voters turned out to the three days of advance polls at six locations in the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry riding.

Chesterville reeve Carl Ward and deputy-reeve Bert van Kessel became the spokesmen of the Chesterville Village council. In a gentleman's agreement among council members it was decided to have members of the press contact the reeve, or the deputy-reeve for information from the council. Other councillors can give information to the press, however, council agreed it would be better to have the information from one source to ensure accuracy.

The gymnasium of Seaway District High School in Iroquois was filled with a crowd of more than 800 and 400 were jammed in the school's cafeteria and hallways as this village paid its final respects in March to the five volunteer firefighters who lost their lives while responding to a fire call several days earlier. The five firefighters were killed instantly when their emergency van, in which they were travelling to a fire near Brintson, was hit broadside by a westbound Canadian National freight train at a level crossing on the Brinston Road. Village clergymen, led by Rev. Brian Gee of Iroquois United Church, conducted the memorial service as members of volunteer fire department's and police forces from across the area formed an honor guard for their fallen comrades in the flower-bedecked gymnasium.

Osie Villeneuve walked off with his ninth provincial election in a row March 19 to retain the distinction of being the longest-sitting MLA in the assembly. The Maxville resident pulled away early from challengers Gerry Rosenquist and Joe O'Neill to pile up a career record plurality of 4,171. In the 1977 election Johnny Whitteker had shaved Mr. Villeneuve's plurality to 2,422. Mr. Villeneuve took 55 per cent of the votes cast in the riding and weakened Mr. Rosenquist's Liberal hold in the riding from the 8,111 garnered by Johnny Whitteker to 7,846.

The federal department of Regional Economic Expansion (DREE) announced the contract for the third phase of the channelization of the South Nation River west of Chesterville was awarded to Cruickshank Constr. of Morrisburg.

The agreement provided for fire protection for the township at a standby rate of $1000 and hourly rates of $125 and $100 for subsequent hours. In return, Finch Township, will make the township dump open to Finch Village collection at a tariff of $1,500 per year.

The lay-off represented 27 per cent of the membership of the union of Nestle, approximately 279, according to Mr. Duncan.

The expansion of the Chesterville lagoon came a little closer to becoming a reality when an operations engineer from the Ministry of Environment presented the extension draft plans to Chesterville Village council in April. The expansion will more than double the total cell size.

Dillon Ltd. resulted in an extra $16,200 being needed to adequately design Contract III-B for the 1981 construction season. Contract III, the channelization work from the Nation Valley had to be broken into two parts III and III-B, when the firm which designed the contract, M.M. Dillon, discovered Trans Canada Pipelines crossing the river. The "Discovery" cost the SNRCA an extra $16,200 to adequately design the second part of the contract.

The budget was termed a 'status quo' by trustee Peter Van Moorsel. It provides for an increase of $1.1 million to $18.9 million from $17.8 million.

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education voted in favor of dividing the Monkland school district population between Roxmore Public School and Maxville Junior and Senior Schools. The students were re-assigned to their new school attendance zones as a result of the June 1981 closing of the Monkland School.

Public School supporters in Winchester Township were hit by a mill rate increase of 10.83 in their 1981 property taxes and separate school supporters were close behind with an increase of 9.42 mills.

Finch Township residents were hit with a rate increase with the passage of the 1981 township budget. The municipal levy of the residential side of the scale rose 6.77 mills from 39.77 to 46.54 and the commercial rate went up 7.96 mills from 46.79 to 54.75 mills.

It was a spring of change in Osnabruck Township as township clerk-treasurer Lois Smith submitted her resignation to council effective June 30. Mrs. Smith was clerk of the township since November 1978.

The fate of Chesterville Chamber of Commerce was hanging in the balance with suggestions the group either disband or completely change its nature from within the organization in May. A general reluctance to move toward dissolution was expressed by the group, however the consensus was a handful of men and women could not continue to take on projects successfully. A questionnaire was circulated during the month among Chesterville Chamber members to help ascertain the direction the organization should be headed in. A scant 16 replies (of a membership of 65) were returned, and most of them were picked up by Chamber president John VanBruinessen.

For the first time in four years Chesterville Village increased taxes in 1981. Both public and separate school supporters faced mill rate increased this year as a result of increased levies from the village, as well as the County and Separate School Boards.

Osnabruck Township taxpayers also felt the pinch in 1981 as township rates climb 8.46 mills and overall taxes jumped 13.48 mills, determined by the township's budget.

The contract III-B for the Chesterville channelization of the South Nation River was awarded to Cruickshank Const. who submitted the lowest bid for the work. The Cruickshank tender was the lowest at $484,181.55.

In June the South Nation River Conservation Authority executive approved a budget revision providing for an additional $113,333 and for an additional $6,000 municipal levy to be taken from past year's retained levy.

At the annual meeting of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Bill Porteous of Vernon was re-elected president and vice-president John McIntosh was also re-elected. Ron Workman moved from public relations chair to treasurer.

July

Residents of Eastern Ontario were treated to two earth movements in July. A seismologist with the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, said there were two main earth movements with some small after-shocks. The movements, which were felt over an area of approximately 50km, centered in Williamstown, east of Cornwall.

Chesterville village council gave the go-ahead in July for the signing of the two contracts for the construction of the municipality's lagoon expansion.

The Stormont County Holstein Club spent most of the year preparing for the centennial celebration of the arrival of the first Holstein cow in Canada. Newington and Finch were hit by a heavy rain and wind storm in July that uprooted trees, tore off antennas, and even over-turned a trailer home near Newington.

The second annual Morewood Boundary Bluegrass Festival brought "wall to wall or fence to fence" fans to this small town in July. Some visitors came from as far as New Hampshire, Florida and one woman was a recent transplant from British Columbia.

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education received approval from the Ministry of Education to make arrangments for tender documents for the construction of an addition and renovations at Morewood Public School.

Councillor-elect in Osnabruck Township, Richard Waldroff out-polled his three opponents in the July election to fill the township seat left vacant by Frances Bird. Mr. Waldroff was the only candidate in a field of four with previous experience on council. He expressed the hope it had some bearing on the vote.

August

Five young women in Dundas County competed for the title of Dundas Dairy Princess at the South Mountain Fair in August. The winner was Eileen Rose, a student at the University of Guelph working toward a BSc in Agriculture.

Stormont County also had a new Dairy Princess in August. Nancy Jans was selected as the successor to Patti Campbell at Avonmore Fair. Nancy is the daughter of John and Mary Jans of Avonmore. She graduated from Kemptville College of Agriculture Technology and is now employed as a roving Dairy Herd Improvement supervisor.

Janet Jansen, a grade 13 student at North Dundas District High School, was honored last Friday night at the graduation ceremonies as valedictorian.

The Chesterville Rotary Club installed a new executive in July. Cliff Reynolds became the new president, Dale McNaughton became director of club services, Dudley Craig became treasurer, Chuck Adamson became director of community services, Leon Marcellus became secretary, Martin Derks became director of vocational services, Jan Roosendal became director of international service and Al Kennedy became vice president.

In July a small delegation of Winchester Township residents presented the township council with a petition protesting the operation of a pit and quarry in the municipality. Spokesman for the delegation of five, Carolyn Sullivan, told council that the petition carried 77 names and was not yet completed. Those who did sign were protesting the noise, vibrations, and dust they claim the quarry would create.

Osnabruck Township's clerk treasurer, Thomas Melesky, said he felt quite a home in an agricultural area after one day on the job. Mr. Melesky was clerk in the township of Malden for four years prior to obtaining the post in Osnabruck and said the two areas are somewhat alike in their rural-agricultural nature.

The 1981 version of the Avonmore Fair went down in the books as a "very good year", according to fair secretary Jean Canham. Entries in the light horse show, in its second year of existence were nearly double last year's figures and the cattle shows maintained last year's level which was a large jump over previous fairs. In the ladies division the flowers showed a definite increase in entries and cooking and baking entries were also up.

Apple lovers in eastern Ontario had a difficult time finding their favorite fruit this year, and those they did find were expensive. The owners of Mountain Orchard's and Robertson's Orchard's agreed 1981's apple crop was one of the worst in a long time.

As they have for the past 50 years Chesterville and area residents gathered to display their work, participate in friendly competitions, to entertain and be entertained. In other words they came together to attend the 50th Chesterville Fair. The four day event was blessed with good weather and good attendance. One of the highlights of the fair was the 50th anniversary parade which wound its way though the village ending at the fairgrounds.

September

Announcement was made in early September of the sale of the Winchester Press to 2woMor Publications Inc. of Prescott owned by John and Robin Morris. The 5,200-circulation weekly which serves most of Dundas and Carleton Counties was purchased from Reg and Ron Workman of Winchester. The Workman family was associated with The Press for almost 60 years. The Press was established in 1894. John and Robin Morris are also the owners of St. Lawrence Printing Company Ltd. which publishes the Prescott Journal, Cardinal News, Chesterville Record and the United Counties Agri-News.

More than 160 Chesterville, Winchester, Morrisburg, Mountain and Kemptville residents joined over a million other Canadians on Sunday in the first annual Terry Fox run. The local run between Chesterville and Winchester was sponsored by the Chesterville Rotary Club and the Chesterville and Winchester Cancer Societies.

Also in September the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce joined forces with the Dundas Federation of Agriculture to protest high interest rates. A united front of small businessmen, farmers, and community representatives from Dundas, Leeds and Grenville Counties met twice in Spencerville to develop a plan of action to protest the government's high interest rate policy. At the second meeting the group agreed to print 100,000 copies of a form letter and distribute it to businesses throughout the three counties. The letters contained a short paragraph at the top stating the undersigned protested high interest rates. A space was left below the paragraph for the individual's personal situation caused by the poor economic conditions.

Speaking to a crowd of 150 to 200 people at the Morrisburg Civic Centre in September Education Minister Bette Stephenson said contrary to many media stores education in Ontario has not declined in recent years. Dr. Stephenson was speaking to members of the Morrisburg Canadian Club.

The South Nation River Conservation Authority's municipal levy, will, for the third year, remain relatively stable as a result of reserve funds held as a result of a previous overlevy.

At the end of September a young Lunenburg lad got to know the Newington Fire Department just a little better. The firefighters were called to the farm of Art Brunet, RR2 Lunenburg, where Mr. Brunet's small son had been playing around the family half-ton truck. The three-year-old, as curious as any three-year-old had stuck his arm down the stake holes in the truck box. When the arm was in up to the elbow, he discovered his finger was stuck in yet another hole down below. The family tried oil, vaseline, soap and water to free the trapped finger but to no vail. Fire chief Ab Evans and firefighters Wayne Summers and Rory Evans arrived at the scene in the emergency van. Eventually the solution was to cut the bottom of the fender, under the truck box, and use an air chisel to free the finger. The unflappable young Brunet uttered only and "oh" when shown the finger that had held him to the truck for close to two hours!

October

Morewood's postmaster, Cecil MacNabb quietly retired from his position, in September. He'd held the post for 14 years. The MacNabb connection to the post office is still intact however, as son Ken assumed his father's vacated job.

After two years without an increase in salary, Winchester District Hospital employees in CUPE achieved parity with their Ontario counterparts in a settlement ratified Sept. 24, 1981. The service, clerical and technical employees were certified as a local of the Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) in May and August 1979. This settlement represented their first since certification.

Winchester District Memorial Hospital continued to be in the news in 1981 as retroactive pay increases, the expansion of the intensive care unit and additional staffing requirements prompted the launching of a $500,000 budgetary appeal by Winchester District Memorial Hospital. The announcement, made by hospital administrator, Bert Stel, also included the statement the hospital will be forced to borrow funds from the bank to aid the cash flow situation for the first time in many years.

The future continued to grow dim for the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce as seven out of 55 chamber members attended the regular September meeting and reviewed the organization's gloomy financial status.

Osnabruck Township council voted in favor of requesting tenders for their new 42 by 52 ft. township hall. The building is located to the east of the present township hall.

The Eastern Ontario Health Unit's new building located in Cornwall was officially opened by Health and Welfare Minister Denis Trimbrell in October.

On Mon., Oct. 26 the Ontario Federation of Agriculture's Emergency Task Force met with farm groups, farmers, and other interested parties at the Parkway Inn in Cornwall. Dundas County told the task force members the county milk production could drop by as much as 35 per cent in one year if action is not taken to ease financial difficulties faced by farmers. The Stormont County group told the task force that the federal government must desist in its cheap food policy, short range patchwork planning and killing interest rates or beware tommorow. The Women for the Survival of Agriculture told the task force that the farm family's physical, and mental health is being affected by declining economic conditions which create stress.

November

Area communities observed Remembrance day again this year. In Chesterville the legion held services Sun., Nov. 8 at the Cenotaph following a march from the Legion Hall. The Merivale-Ottawa Accordion Band provided marching music for the parade.

Sunnylodge Farm, RR3 Chesterville, walked away from this year's Dundas County Holstein Banquet and Awards Night with four of the ten special awards. Sunnylodge owned by Carl and Muriel Smith, was presented with the Premier Exhibitor Award, the Grand Champion Female Trophy, the first place Breeder's Herd award and the Jr. Champion award. Terrdale Holsteins, RR1 Brinston, took the second largest chunk of the awards presented. Owners Francis and Lorne Henderson took three of the remaining awards - Premier Breeder, Best Udder Cow, and the second place Breeder's Herd award. Winner of the award for Reserve Champion Cow was Ralph Fawcett, RR3 Winchester.

The South Nation River Conservation Authority hired a new general manager in November. James Windsor, a 31-year-old Woodstock area native, topped 24 other candiates to emerge as the new SNRCA manager, replacing Mike Garrett.

The doors of the Seaway Valley Tourist council's office were closed in November laying off three full-time employees and halting the council's operation for the winter months.

Chesterville Village council voted in favor of writing to by-law violators informing them of their infraction and requesting their adherance to the by-law, in November.

Ian MacMillan of Finch took home a majority of the trophies awarded at the annual Stormont DHIA banquet in Avonmore. The Finch Holstein breeder was awarded trophies for the Most Improved Herd, the Highest BCA, the two-year-old class, the three-year-old class, the mature cow class, and the total kg of butterfat in 305 days, 13 month calving interval.

Reta Byvelds was recognized in her 4-H Achievements in November when she was presented the Ottawa Citizen award, $300 scholarship, at the annual Dundas County 4-H Awards Night.

December

Chesterville organizations were invited to participate in Chesterville's 1982 Winter Carnival but with a new twist. This year the proceeds of each organization's events would be kept by the organization. In previous years the Chamber provided the co-ordinating force behind the annual carnival for the past few years and have requested village organizations aid in the operation of the events. This year however, members agreed the organizations concerned might welcome the opportunity to raise funds for their own projects.

In November four main areas remained in dispute in the negotiations between the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Separate School board and the board's teachers - salary grid, working conditions, pupil-teacher ratios and seniority-redundancy.

The 1981-82 executive of the Stormont Holstein Club was elected in December in Avonmore. Heinze Mulitze became past president, Case Michels became president, Stuart Clark remained as secretary-treasurer, Jim Campbell became second vice-president and Gerald Jans became first vice president.

Chesterville resident Kevin Gillis, created yet another adventure for his animated characters titled Raccoons on Ice. The show was filmed on CBC television on Sun., Dec. 20. The half-hour animated film was shown on 155 network stations as well as many overseas stations.

After 38 years of involvement in public life, in municipal politics and as a trustee on the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education Mahlon Zeron became the 1981-82 chairman of the board in December.

In the SD&G Separate School Board Sheila Tremblay was re-elected to the position of chairman of the board of trustees.

Chesterville Hydro rates increased again. The increase for residential rates is 8.6 per cent and the increase for commercial users was 9.1 per cent. Ontario Hydro said part of the reason for the increase was the provincial government's policy to subsidize rural hydro rates. Rural rates have traditionally been higher than urban rates.

Full integration of Osnabruck District High School and Rothwell Public School was given approval despite some vocal opposition at the December meeting of the SD&G County Board of Education. Physical changes to combine the schools, which are located on the same site in Ingleside, will cost an estimated $400,000.

Record Recipes

by Chris Brown

The requisite column for this week is How to Use the Turkey Up. My heart just isn't in it. I don't need to think of all the million ways to use turkey. I love it as is: cold, cold dressing and congealed gravy.

Somehow the family rebels when I try that, though. Second favorite way to use turkey (aside from the turkey pie we printed last year) is a simple casserole that doesn't have any name, poor thing.

CASSEROLE

Leftover turkey
Carrots, or whatever other vegetable
Flour, butter and milk to make a roue
Sour cream
Old cheddar grated

Layer the bottom of the dish with the vegis (parboiled if carrots and other long-cooking vegetables). Next pull the turkey into bite-size pieces and layer over the vegetables.

Make a roue on the stove top by melting the butter, stirring in flour quickly and adding milk until the flour is cooked and the roue thick. Pour this over the turkey and then pour one regular size container of sour cream over all this.

At this point if there is a particular spice you like, sprinkle it lightly over the sour cream. We don't use any since the delicate flavors of sour cream and turkey are well received.

Sprinkle the grated cheddar over top of all and bake at 375F for 30 to 45 minutes depending on the demands of the vegetable you have chosen.

Happy New Year!

Dairy products right in Ontario

(Special) - Many of the products found in the dairy section of your local food store are made right here in Ontario, including dairy sour cream, available throughout the year.

Sour cream was originally sweet cream that had soured naturally. Over the years, a scientific process was developed to produce sour cream as we know it today.

Ontario sour cream is made by a standardized method and process, and great care is taken to ensure a top-quality product.

Christmas at Newington WI
