Anglican Girls' Auxiliary wins notable honour at Pembroke

The Girls' Auxiliary of the Anglican Church of the Holy Trinity have won the Madelaine Wodehouse Shield for the highest standing in the Ottawa Diocesan G. A. Festival held at Trinity Church, Pembroke, Ont., April 25 26. This group also won the Dorcas Cup for Social Service and placed third in the Poster competition.

Groups were present from all parts of the Ottawa Diocese and were involved in interest groups, a fashion show, a pantomine presentation and displays depicting the activities of their own group. A Folk Mass was celebrated in the Pembroke Church on Saturday morning. The group from Chesterville is somewhat unique in its make-up, with interested members from the United, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic Churches among its members. It is the only group in the Diocese with such an ecumenical composition. The G. A. group is under the direction of Mrs Lillian McNab, who is assisted by Mrs Barbara Cooke.

This group began in September 1968 and has an enrolment of fourteen members who meet on Monday evenings in the Parish hall.

Mrs Wm. Pettit, Newington celebrates 80th birthday

Mr William Pettit who has lived in the Newington area for the past twenty years, celebrated his 80th birthday this past week. He and his wife and family came from Hoosier Saskatoon in 1949 and settled on the Countryman farm south of Newington. In 1963 they moved to the village.

In the past he has been very active in church and community work. He was organist in St. Luke's Presbyterian Church for a time after coming to the East and then for some time in the United Church, here. Due to failing eyesight he is no longer able to continue this work which he loved so much.

Many friends and neighbours called at his home to wish him many happy returns of the day and he received many cards as well.

His daughters, Mrs Barbara Laurie and Mrs Nora Cousineau, Windsor, his son, Lenny and his family of Ottawa, Mr and Mrs Darcy St. Pierre (daughter Eleanor) and their family, Finch, celebrated his birthday on Sunday. In the evening a telephone call was received from Mr and Mrs Charlie McLetchie (daughter Noeline) who resides in Edmonton, Alberta.

This was certainly a memorable occasion for Mr Pettit.

Mrs H. Scott hosts Mission Circle

The April meeting of the Baptist Mission Circle was held at the home of Mrs Henry Scott, Newington. The meeting opened with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer.

The minutes were read by Mrs Orval Moak, secretary, and the roll call answered by an Easter poem; seven members and one visitor were present.

The Ladies' Aid fund grew this month as it was two pennies for each letter in the word "Easter." A letter was read from Jessie Rosser, a missionary in Kakinada, India, relating the growing of the school and building projects, some of which have reached completion, others well underway.

The announcement concerning the convention of the Women's Missionary Society to be held in Queen's University, Kingston, the latter part of May, was read but there were no delegates named.

It is hoped that five members, including the two delegates, Mrs Laurence Steele and Mrs Violet Campbell, will attend the annual Spring rally being held at Pleasant Park Baptist Church, Ottawa. At the rally Mrs Steele is to engage a speaker for the Thank-offering meeting in October.

Mrs Merritt Campbell reported that the White Cross articles had been shipped. Their destination is the mission fields in India and Bolivia.

The program took the form of a "round robin" which consisted of contests and poems, with everyone participating. Prizes were won by Mrs Merritt Campbell and Mrs E. Beaudette.

Mrs Stewart Duff conducted the devotional period, her theme being "We Believe in God." The president closed the meeting with prayer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs Orval Moak and Mrs Merritt Campbell. A vote of thanks to them and Mr and Mrs Scott was extended by Mrs Laurence Steele.

Numerous marchers aid lighted ball park at Winchester

The question asked most in the Winchester area Saturday night was "How are the feet?" The sore feet belonged to those who set out on a 25-mile walk in aid of a lighted ball park at Winchester.

The money, estimated as high as $9,000, has been raised by pledges on the walkers. Whatever is left over when the park is completed will be turned over to Winchester's community centre building fund.

Leading an estimated 500 walkers were Speaker Fred Cass of the Ontario Legislature, Donald Christie, reeve of Winchester, and James Brannen, reeve of Chesterville.

Walkers — and for some reason a fantastic number of redheads — strolled, or hobbled, from Winchester to Morewood and then to Chesterville before returning to Winchester. The youngest walker to finish was Brenda Guy, 6, daughter of Mr and Mrs Keith Guy of Winchester.

Cornelius J. Van Dam

Following an illness of several weeks, Cornelius Johannes Van Dam, King Street, Chesterville, passed away in his 77th year on April 27. Retired, Mr Van Dam had lived here for the past 18 years.

He was born at Momster, Zuid, Holland, the son of Siemon Van Dam and his wife, Helentje Steentjes. He married Johanna Elizabeth Muilman in Holland in 1919.

He is mourned by his wife and children: Mrs Gerry Boers (Helen), of Ottawa; Mrs Hugo Olie (Annie), Holland; Simon, New Zealand; Leo, Holland; Mrs Peter DeRooy (Corry), Chesterville; Mrs Gerry Strik (Mary), Ottawa, and Mrs Peter Grisel (Coby), Chesterville. Also surviving are 20 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr Van Dam was a member of St. Mary's Church, Chesterville.

Rev Father J. J. Collins conducted Requiem High Mass at 10 a.m., April 29, at St. Mary's Church. Interment followed in St. Mary's Parish Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Gerrit Wemerman, W. Vile, Martin Van Kessel, Theodore Van Delst, Leon McMillan and Stanley David.

Education Assoc. Exec. holds meeting

Business for the executive of the Educational Association was conducted by a temporary executive consisting of Gordon LaRose, chairman, and Carl Ward, secretary-treasurer, when they met at North Dundas District High School last Wednesday night.

A bank account was arranged for the Association and the temporary secretary was empowered to write the necessary cheques to carry on business.

G. LaRose, A. Koolwine, C. Ward and S. O'Connor were to present a first draft of a constitution to the executive for consideration at their next meeting.

Mr Ed Creaser is chairing a membership committee with the hope that the public will want to avail themselves of this new service that has education as its theme.

Mr William Davis, Minister of Education, is to be invited to address the next general meeting of the Association in the last week of May.

$45,000 post office for Winchester

This newspaper has just been informed that the Postmaster General has decided to build a post office at Winchester. Estimated cost of the 1,400-sq. ft. building is $45,000, subject to acquisition of the land.

S. Gower Baptist Church to mark anniversary

South Gower Baptist Church, off Highway 43, will be packed to overflowing on Sunday evening, May 4th, when the Anniversary Services takes place at 7.30 p.m.

As a matter of fact, anyone arriving at that time will probably be unable to gain admittance, so, as a consequence, worshippers are being asked to think of the time of commencement as 7 o'clock, rather than 7.30 p.m.

Reason for the rush. The well-known Slater St., Ottawa, Salvation Army Band and Songsters are to be present, and the closing address is to be given by Captain E. Pavey.

Salvation Army enthusiasts, lovers of instrumental music, all those who enjoy the singing of a good choir, everyone is welcome, however, early attendance would appear to be the only way to ensure a comfortable seat.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks to friends, relatives and neighbours for flowers, cards and visits, to Drs Howard and Duane Justus and the nurses and staff of first and second floors of the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital for the wonderful care and kindness given our father while a patient there. Special thanks to Rev L. M. Ferguson and other clergy.

Strike picture still unchanged

Nothing has changed in the strike situation in the village. The meeting last Thursday was not productive of any presentations. During the week the union group circulated a mimeographed letter noting the United Steel Workers of America, Hamilton local, had pledged support of $250 per month during the duration. A collection had been made by Chesterville union executives at the Stelco plant gates. Figures were not released regarding the sum of money added to the strike funds.

Cardinal village is also in the throes of a strike. Canada Starch a subsidiary of Corn Products of America, is strike bound by the Food Processors, the parent of Chesterville union.

Students from N.D.D.H.S. and Seaway High School left Wednesday for a five-day tour of New York City. Shepherded by Mr and Mrs Carl Ward, they will cover the big city from end to end. Amusements will include circus trips, public park areas and practically every point of interest on the island of Manhattan. Over 30 pupils from N.D.D.H.S. and some 20 from Seaway will make the trip.— Record Staff Photo.

N.D.D.H.S. student project receives gratifying support

During the past few weeks you have probably been approached by a N D D H S student selling chocolate bars and from sale returns your co-operation has been excellent.

The highest sellers were: R. Wilkie, first, twenty-three dozen; second, Jean Gow, eighteen dozen; Pam Anderson and Hubert Casselman, tied for third place at ten dozen bars each.

Over $1200 was raised for student activities such as clubs, yearbook, trophies, banquets and charities. Like everyone else the Student Council finds itself with less and less money to put in more and more places. Your contributions allow for the expansion of old, and the development of new activities, which in turn allow for greater participation of the students.

This was the first such effort in our community and the community has risen to the occasion. On behalf of the student body — a sincere thank you.

New business opens at West end of Queen St.

Mrs Graham Durant has expanded her flower and gift shop again and in just six years has made three changes, each on a larger scale. Her new addition will be open for inspection Sunday at an open house affair as our advertising pages show.

Mrs Durant with her late husband, Graham Durant, began a flower and gift shop in a small way six years ago. They then were using part of the home farm house on the Boyne Road. The need for expansion arose, and the Durants sold the farm to their son, purchased the present property from the late Carl Merkley and opened a new and modern flower and gift shop. It is located at the west end of Queen Street across from the LCBO outlet.

Following the sudden death of Mr Durant, Mrs Durant carried on alone. And now she has added a new department to her premises. Adding to the flowers and small gifts, she has put in a full line of crystal and ceramics, a greeting card display and a fine assortment of jewellery. She will handle watch repairs through a qualified watchmaker and of course sell a good line of clocks and watches.

The community is pleased to see the opening of the new store. It helps fill the gaps that will appear in the business community as some of our older merchants finally close their doors later in the summer.

Forest fires destroy jobs.

The Castle is awash with old bones, bits of bread and shards of pottery. The reason: The vice president and Small Crumb left the place for the peace and quiet of southern Ohio at the weekend. As a result we have been sharing the premises with the dog and he is a careless eater. He is even tempted to eat gently on strangers ift hey interrupt his slumbers.

It is hardly any chore at all to work up meals of tremendous variety in a hunting or fishing camp. At least in retrospect, they sound that way. But a different pattern emerges at the Castle. We slope home from the emporium of sweat and toil, still stewing about the cares of the day. The immediate problem is to decide what can be rustled up in a hurry and will not dirty too many dishes. Soup is good that way, but a diet of soup becomes less than attractive after a while. We peered into the recesses of the cold compartment and came up with a package. It noted here was a mess of macaroni and beef hash.

Heated up in the frying pan, the result was inadequate, to say the least. It had the modest taste of old straw, a few bits of ice were still evident and besides this ancient was never a fan of macaroni. Fortunately some bananas remained spotting quietly on the counter and we tamped down the disaster with a few of them. But we are saving on dishes. It is an easy matter to use a carefully wiped plate several times, and if the egg was hard enough, one can even work over a spoon for a full set of meals.

As we we write this, though, we must admit to a warm and filled up feeling. We wandered into the friendly butcher's at supper time and had his wife dig out a dollop of tenderloin. That, sauteed in some fresh butter, a mess of pan-fried potatoes and, of course, another banana, made a meal much too rich for a poor Castle dweller. It did take away the lingering taste of the macaroni that should have been taken away in the first place.

Women are sadly underrated around the place. It is at moments of truth like this we understand. In spite of Lowell Greene, they must do a fair amount of choring about to keep the herd well fed and satisfied. We stumble home at noon and night and before one can say open another beer, supper is ready and it has all the earmarks of Cordon Bleu experts. An egg even tastes different though it is difficult to understand how a 2-minute egg could be different.

We spent a few years alternating between the stove and the barn, but we seem to have lost the touch. Specials like a fried egg at midnight, a boil of lobsters or a new mess of O'Neill spiced beef are fine. When it comes to ordinary stuff like filling food at noon, night and breakfast, we are out of practice. It will be nice to have the bosses home by the weekend. Then we will have time to maybe open another beer!

School boards: the money just comes from another pocket

The Ontario department of education has finally come up with a plan it hopes will allow its problem children . . . the new regional school boards . . . to keep their heads above water. Let's hope the plan proves effective.

Basically, states the Cornwall Standard - Freeholder, what the department is saying is this: If you are good little boys and don't spend more than 15 per cent more on candy this year, we will give you a nickel back. Good old Ontario government. Only thing wrong with the concept is that the government is the people. And it is the people's money which is being spent no matter what pocket it comes from.

Since 15 per cent is quite a substantial hike in any man's language, the government isn't being as kind to the poor beleagured taxpayer as might seem the case at first glance. For instance, 15 per cent of $1 million is $150,000. Quite a bit of change wouldn't you say? Especially when the combined budget of schools administered by the United Counties Board of Education is expected to be in the area of $16 million.

Of course, Education Minister Davis is to be commended for at least trying to curb the spending habits of his new brain children. But we wonder if he had any idea of what he was getting into when he introduced regional school board legislation.

Many Ontario municipalities have been in a state of near rebellion in recent weeks, contending school costs were likely to increase by 50 per cent or more. Was the Ontario government on the point of political suicide? Such seeme dthe case. But politicians have unusually good reflex action when it comes to gauging the punch in public opinion, and Mr Davis is one of the most astute polticians on the Ontario scene.

So now he has told the school boards to be good little boys and he will take them off the hook. Let's hope they listen and take the big daddy of Ontario education seriously.

Space travel and theology

Man's exploration of space must inevitably become a concern not only of governments, scientists and the military but also of theologians. The latter have past mistakes to remember and avoid, points out United Church of Canada.

A violent theological reaction followed the 16th Century discovery that the motions and sizes of earth and the so-called heavenly bodies were quite different from what had long been supposed. Roman Christian theologians sentenced Giordano Burno to the stake and Galileo to life imprisonment. Protestant leaders called Copernicus a fool and accused him of setting his authority above that of the Holy Spirit.

Eventual acceptance of the creation theories of Copernicus, Galileo and Bruno as substantially correct struck theology a blow from which it cannot truly be said ever to have quite recovered.

Theologians must exercise greater wisdom to avoid a similar blow after earthmen land on other planets and perhaps find intelligent life there.

It may not be easy for theology to fit new knowledge from other planets into the framework of terrestial religious thought. Can theological systems based on teachings of Confucius, Gautama, Jesus, Mohammed, Moses and Zoroaster be integrated with other ideas we bring back from travel to the stars?

The basic assumption of human theology is the existence in the universe of powers greater than man's. If real, such powers must be manifest elsewhere in the cosmos, but grievous shocks could come in discovery of how they are interpreted in environments totally unlike that of earth.

Another tobacco side-effect?

Canada's major tobacco companies have combined forces to fight the government's campaign against smoking.

We welcome this move, says the Sunday Express, Montreal, because the greater the controversy, the greater will be public knowledge about this matter.

But there is one fact about tobacco that is a closely guarded secret even in the "tobacco country" of southwestern Ontario, and that is that tobaco has the same effect on many people as does poison ivy.

When are the tobacco companies and the medical profession going to live up to their responsibilities as good citizens and inform the public of this fact?

To those allergic to tobacco and working in the fields it takes the form of a severe external rash that can be dealt with only by a specially prepared injection or pill.

To smokers it takes the form of a rash in the mouth, throat and lungs that causes phlegm, coughing and fatigue.

If any reader who smokes suffers any of these symptoms, he would be well advised, first, to stop smoking, but failing that, to make an appointment with a medical allergist.

Your life may depend on it.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's "little" sister, age 32 and 210 pounds, is taking a course in handwriting analysis.

We were having a family dinner at my mother-in-law's house last night. Eight of us were seated around the diningroom table. Sis asked each of us to write down 15 words so she could analyze our handwriting.

All the "readings" were extremely complimentary — until she came to me. She said, and I quote: "Your handwriting shows that you are very dishonest. You have a tendency to steal and lie. Also, you are lazy and disorganized and petty."

I always knew I was no prize, Ann, but I didn't realize I had so many negative qualities. Please tell me if it is possible to judge a person's character by looking at 15 words of his handwriting. If you say it is, I'll keep quiet and accept the insults. — Still Shaking.

Dear Still: Your sister-in-law is vicious, destructive, cruel and malicious. and I didn't need to see her handwriting to make this analysis.

Some people believe that penmanship holds clues to a person's character. I, however, do not happen to be among those who consider handwriting analysis a valid science. I stated this position in a column a few years ago and received a huge pile of letters from furious handwriting "experts." So — please, folks, don't write to me again with your half-baked arguments. I haven't changed my mind.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: My father-in-law is nearly 70 and lives in a very nice Methodist home for older people. Every other Sunday we have Grandfather to dinner. He has all his faculties and the children love to listen to him tell stories of the olden days.

Last year Grandfather had a stroke. It paralyzed his right side and he has difficulty handling silverware. He spills food on the tablecloth, on himself and on the floor. We are trying to teach our three children good table manners and it is very hard to get them to eat nicely when Grandfather slops all over the place. I believe they are imitating him because they did much better two years ago.

I suggested to my husband that we feed Grandfather first — in the kitchen — and that he sit with us and keep us company when we have our dinner. Of course Grandpa would have the same food. My husband hit the roof and became highly emotional. I think he is wrong and I hope you will back me up because I need your help. — Mother of Three.

Dear Mother: Don't stand on one foot waiting for me to back you up, Lady. I'm with your husband. Some things in life are more important than good table manners and a clean tablecloth—among them are compassion for the handicapped and respect for the elderly.

Dining with Grandpa could be an important learning experience for your children and I hope they will not be deprived of it.

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with — but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You — For Teenagers Only." Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-ad dressed, stamped envelope.

P. J. McEwan

Relatives and friends throughout the district were saddened by the announcement of the death of P J. McEwan, a lifelong resident of Newington, who passed away at the Cornwall General Hospital early last Monday morning, April 14th, in his 93rd year. Mr McEwan suffered a fall in his home late last autumn and had been in hospital for seven weeks.

Percival John McEwan, of Irish ancestry, was born on Lot 33, of the Eighth Concession of Cornwall, a son of the late Hugh McEwan and his wife Esther Ault. Mr McEwan farmed in the 8th Concession for many years before coming to Newington.

For the past 45 years Mr McEwan was a vital part of the business community in Newington. On Nov 1, 1924, he took over the feed business, which had been operated prior to that time by his father-in-law, James Martin. In 1945 his son-in-law, James Webber, joined him in the business. Despite his advanced years Mr McEwan seldom missed a day from the mill until the time he suffered a fall last November.

Mr McEwan took a prominent role in community activities. His first love was his church. For 25 years he was Sunday School

The protective mulch on strawberries and other tender garden plants should not be removed in spring until the danger of severe frost has passed. Horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food advise that late frost damage may be avoided if the mulch removal is delayed. It is also wise to leave protection on shrubs and evergreens until the danger of severe frost has passed. If the protection is removed too early, cold nights and harsh dry winds can easily cause frost damage to plants that have been protected all winter.

Newington U.C.W. entertains area groups at Thank-offering held recently

The Easter Thank-offering meeting of the United Church Women, Newington, was held in the church hall with Lunenburg and North Valley groups as guests.

The president, Mrs Elizabeth Beaudette, opened the meeting with the poem "We Must Go Forward," followed by the Purpose repeated in unison and prayer.

Mrs Kenneth Shaver, president of North Valley United Church Women, conducted the worship service, her theme being "God Is Not Dead." Mrs Clifton Gallinger was pianist and Mrs Mac Otto and Mrs Edwin Waldroff received the offering.

The guest speaker, Mrs Harold Giffin, was introduced by Mrs Elizabeth Beaudette and she spoke on Christian Education, using these headings: "Purpose, Departments, Scope, How can we as United Church Women help with Christian Education in the church? Methods of Discovering and Recruiting Leaders." She said: "We have a privilege and an honour to work and share in the church of Jesus Christ."

Mrs Gerald Duvall thanked Mrs Giffin and presented her with a small gift of appreciation and she also thanked the North Valley ladies for their participation in the meeting.

The president welcomed the guests and conducted a short business period. The minutes were read by Mrs Russell Presley in the absence of the secretary, Mrs Ellis Fickes. The treasurer's report and correspondence was read by Mrs Edwin Waldroff. An invitation to attend a "lemon tea" and bake sale in St. James United Church, Avonmore , in early May, was read.

Attention was drawn to the regional conference being held at Queen's University, Kingston, in June. This conference is open to all women and its purpose is spiritual enrichment and renewal through significant dialogue and discussion. This year it includes the Anglican Church Women as well. Theme will be: "Tensions in Our Time;" Bible study: "Certainties of the Christian Faith." "Reconciliation" will be the theme of the annual summer school at Macdonald College in August.

The nominating committee have to find a new convener for Stewardship and Vocation.

The president closed the meeting with the benediction and refreshments were served.

Mrs Leslie Eamer, president of Lunenburg U.C.W., and Mrs Kenneth Shaver, president of North Valley U.C.W., thanked the Newington ladies for inviting them to join them.

NEVER TOO EARLY TO START SEEDING

"Seeding may start as soon as the soil has reached the condition where the top inch or two can be worked without puddling," says Dr N. C. Stoskopf of the Crop Science Department, University of Guelph. "Providing soil conditions are right, there is no such thing as seeding too early."

"The main point," emphasizes Dr Stoskopf, "is that we only need enough tillage to just cover the seed. If one trip across the field for seeding and one trip with a harrow will cover the seed, there is no point in further cultivation."

Dr Stoskopf says plant growth habits are different under these early conditions. "The growth is much slower than with the later planted cereals and the plants stool out more. With some varieties, such as the two-row barleys, this may result in too dense a crop. I would recommend seeding at about the two-bushel rate, and on the shy side of this with two-row barley.

"This slower growth with the shorter spreading effect can mean problems," he warns. "If weeds are a problem, they'll be more of a problem under these conditions as the crop doesn't have the top growth to compete as well. To overcome this, the farmer must be right on top with his weed control. Broadlead weeds must be sprayed at the right stage. Weed control in previous years should also have been good to avoid the serious annual grass problems that can occur."

Much of this information on early seeding has come from the University's experiments with extremely early planting or frost seeding. These experiments will be continued with an emphasis on spring wheat, which has given very variable results when sown on frozen ground.

W. Wendell Henry

The sudden death of W. Wendell Henry, 70, occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs R. Maginnis, Cardinal, April 13.

A life long resident of Berwick he was the son of the late W. A. Henry and Hattie McMartin. He was born and educated in Berwick. His wife, the former Hilda Shaver, predeceased him in 1958.

He was a member of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Finch, and was an active member of the session of the church. He took a prominent role in the Farm Safety Council, Federation of Agriculture, Hog Producers and the Holstein Freisan Club.

Among those left to mourn his loss are two daughters, Mrs William Borland (Colleen), Cornwall and Mrs R. T. Maginnis, and two sons Donald, Restigouche, Quebec and Evan, Cardinal, six grandchildren and one sister, Mrs Jennie McLean, Toronto.

The funeral was held from the Brownlee Funeral Home where the service was conducted by Rev. William Craig.

Pallbearers were Barry Brownlee, Donald McIntyre, Neil McLean, Keith Shaver, Robert McIntyre and Howard Henry, all nephews of the deceased.

Honorary pallbearers were fellow members of the Session of St. Luke's Church, William Brownlee, Elburn Shaver, J. W. McMillan, Ernest Nadeau, Clare MacRae and Keith McMillan.

Many floral tributes surrounded the casket in memory of the deceased. Numerous memorial gifts were made to the Heart Foundation, Canadian Cancer Fund and Cardinal UCW Building Fund.

Friends and relatives attended from Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Cornwall, Winchester, Cardinal and the surrounding district.

Interment was in the family plot in the Finch Cemetery.

OSL MOVES INTO THE FIELD OF DEFENCE

A major development in OSL programming got under way January 1st, 1969; the League became the "cooperating agency" responsible for developing the Defensive Driving Course in Ontario

DDC was created by the U.S. National Safety ouncil as a course to improve the driving knowledge of the general public. It was "Canadianized" in 1968 by the Canada Safety Council who hope that the provincial safety organizations will make it availble to Cnadian drivers in every part of the country.

This 8-hour course is usually given in four classroom sessions of two hours each. It is a carefully structured course, the verbal instruction being supported by films, slides, flip charts, flannel board and magnetic board presentations. It is designed to be given by volunteers — e.g. men and women with aptitudes in teaching or public speaking from community groups, industries, armed forces, government departments, etc. The explicit directions in the instructor's manual, plus the wealth of audio-visual material, enables "amateurs" to conduct effective courses after a relatively short Instructor Development course.

The League will not give courses direct to the public. OSL responsibilities will be to promote general interest in the course; to train and to certify instructors; and to supply those instructors with the films and other materials needed to give courses, when arranged.

These materials will be rented out, the agreed rate being $3 per course student. It is hoped and expected that within a couple of years the demand for DDC courses will parallel that in other jurisdictions — in which case the programme will be comfortably self-supporting, from rental of course materials. However, a special section had had to be set up in OSL, and initial development costs will be heavy. In fact, a deficit of $10,000 is budgeted for in the first year of operation. General Manager Fred H. Ellis says that, on present revenues, the administration is going to have great difficulty in meeting this deficit without cutting back on other important programmes. He adds, however: "It is an indication of the belief we have in the Defensive Driving Course — in the need for it, and in its ability to meet that need — that we are prepared to risk such a large commitment in getting the course established.

"We hope it will be possible to get increased financial support from industries and individuals, to help us carry this important new programme until it gets on its own feet. In the meantime, I personally could use a good Defensive Financing Course."

Fire damage and forest protection costs Canadians sixty million dollars annually.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere "Thanks" to friends, relatives and neighbours for flowers, cards, gifts and visits while I was a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital. Also I would like to thank all those who provided transportation for my wife to come to the hospital to see me. Special thanks to Dr Howard Justus, nurses and staff for their care and kindness.

James Bailey.

PLAY IS HEALTHY OUTLET FOR CHILDREN

Dramatic play has special values for children, says the federal health department publication, "Play and Playmates."

In their play, they act out the world as they see it. They will pretend they are mother at home, father going to work, the teacher, the postman and so on. Play-acting helps them to become more familiar with the world around them. It also enables them to express whatever anger, fear, or even hate they may have stored up.

You can learn a lot about your child's feelings and problems by the way he plays.

STEEL PLANT BEATS OFFICE

At twenty-three, Susan Micir got tired of being a secretary. So she shifted her activities from the offices of the United States Steel Corp. Fairless works up the Delaware River from Philadelphia, to the hot side of the plant.

As the first woman blast furnace mill clerk in a Pennsylvania steel mill, the five-foot-four blonde beauty has made it big in a man's world.

Things were just too dull for me," she said.

Now on the "hot side" of the plant where the iron and steel are made, she is the only girl among 1,400 employees.

The bulk of her job — on the 4 a.m. to noon shift — is climbing the cast houses of the blast furnaces and going in and out of the ore stock houses. She finds out if furnace production compares with the amount of material being used.

CHEW AWAY!

Gum chewing is now legal at Riviera junior high school, at Miami, one of the 14 changes in school rules sought by the 1,900 pupils and approved by the faculty. Principal Arthur L. Davis said the faculty objected to one request — that boys be permitted to attend classes sockless.

Sugar maple's scientific name is Acer saccharum.

Your Legislature Report...

Fred M. Cass, Q.C., M.P.P.

This week the Government changed its tactics in the House. After some twenty-five hours of debate on Estimates of the Department of Social and Family Services which produced approval of only two of the four votes, the Government has reverted to disccussion of legislation now before the House. Since there are nearly fifty Government Bills on the Order Paper with notice of as many more to come, it would appear that there is plenty of work for all Members in this area of their duties. Two days and one evening Session were taken up with debate on the Bill to create the new Regional Municipality of the City of the Lakehead to comprise the present twin cities of Port Arthur and Fort William together with some surrounding suburban townships. The Bill was given second reading on division. The Conservative and New Democratic Members supported the Bill. The Liberal Members voted against it on the basis that there should have first been a plebiscite in the areas affected although those Members speaking for the Liberal Party agreed the amalgamation was desirable and supported by a great majority of the local residents.

Also given second reading were the Bills to increase the monetary penalties for violations of the Public Commercial Vehicles Act and of the Highway Traffic Act. As I noted when reporting the introductoion of these Bills early in April, their effectiveness will depend on acceptance and support by the driving and general public.

In the train of much newspaper comment and public agitation, an amendment to the Law Enforcement Compensation Act was introduced to give a right to payment from public funds of compensation to victims of crime whether or not a police officer was present at the moment of injury or death — which latter requirement had been in the original Act. However, the ceiling for any such payment remains at $10,000.00.

Everyone, of course, is interested in, and a great many aided by, the Bill introduced to permit OMSIP to pay 90% of the new Ontario Medical Association fee schedule.

The announcement by the Minister of Education of Provincial financial aid, based on a most complicated formula, will be received with sighs of relief not only by the new County School Boards but by every local taxpayer. However, it is evident from the Minister's statement that Provincial assessment of property over the whole Province will steeply increase assessments in most rural areas, and especially on farming lands, with inevitable tax increases whether or not the local tax rate increases.

Johnson E. Ouderkirk

Well known and respected throughout the district, Johnson Eli Ouderkirk, 89, passed away April 23. A resident of R.R. 1, Chesterville, where he lived all his life, he was a retired farmer. He had been seriously ill for the past 2½ months.

Born at Chesterville March 21, 1880, he was the son of the late Eli Ouderkirk and his wife, Mary McNamara. He married Lulu Netti Bogart at Chesterville in 1901. He was predeceased by his wife.

He is survived by his children: Walter, Ottawa; Margaret and Reta, Chesterville; Sheldon, Toronto; Hubert and Harold, Chesterville; Mrs Norman Rae (Emma) and Mrs Emerson Stewart (Evelyn), of Winchester.

Mr Ouderkirk attended Limerick School in his youth. He was a member of the United Church, Chesterville.

Rev L. Ferguson conducted the funeral service at 2 p.m., April 25, at Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Chesterville. Interment was in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Alex Racine, James Moran, Arnold Sullivan, Bill Racine, Charles Collingridge and Walter Hummel.

From a 29-cent box of corn flakes, the farmer gets only 2.5 cents.

Except for the Pacific coast, snowfall in Canada is lightest in the Arctic.

THERE IS MORE THAN ONE WAY TO MAKE RHUBARB PIE

THE FIRST RHUBARB PIE made with fresh rhubarb from your garden is just about the best pie there is. But if you have rhubarb in your garden you will have more than you know what to do with so you will want to try some new recipes. The following recipes come from the Foods Department at Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

Rhubarb Crumble Pie

Crust:
- 2/3 cup brown sugar
- ½ cup all-purpose flour
- 1½ cups rolled oats
- ½ cup melted butter

Mix all ingredients and pat this mixture into bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate, reserving enough for topping.

Filling:
- ½ cup white sugar
- 1½ tbsps. flour
- 3 cups rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces

Mix ingredients until rhubarb is well coated. Turn this mixture into a crumb crust and sprinkle the remaining crumb mixture over the fruit. Bake at 350° F. for 45 minutes, or until rhubarb is soft and juicy. Serve warm with whipped cream.

Rhubarb Pie Deluxe
- 2 cups cut rhubarb
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 tsps. flour
- 3 tbsps. cold water
- 1 tbsp. melted butter
- 2 eggs, separated

Pour boiling water over 2 cups cut rhubarb. Let stand 5 minutes. Drain. Mix rhubarb with sugar, flour, water, melted butter and beaten egg yolks. Pour mixture into lined pie plate. Bake in 450 degree F. oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and bake until mixture is set. Pile meringue on pie. (From beaten egg whites). Return to 375 degrees F. oven until meringue is golden brown.

Rhubarb Ice Cream Pie
- 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
- 3 cups rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces
- ½ cup white sugar
- ¼ tsp. cinnamon
- Red food colouring
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream

Chill pastry shell. In saucepan combine rhubarb, sugar and cinnamon. Bring to a boil, and cook 10 minutes or until tender. Add red food colouring, if desired. Stir ice cream to soften; fold rhubarb in to obtain a swirl effect. Pile into pastry shell and freeze. Remove from freezer 15 to 20 minutes before serving.

Rhubarb Mint Cocktail
- 10 lbs. rhubarb
- 8 to 10 cups sugar
- 4 quarts of water
- 2 cups pineapple juice
- 1 quart gingerale
- Fresh mint

Wash rhubarb and cut into two-inch pieces. Simmer in water until rhubarb falls apart. Strain. Add sugar and heat only to dissolve. Chill thoroughly. If desired, this juice may be stored in the refrigerator for a few days. Just before serving, add pineapple juice and gingerale. Float washed mint on punch until a pleasant flavour develops.

Edward Blanchet lost by a necktie in his legal contest against the Vermilion Parish (Louisiana) school board.

The Louisiana Court of Appeal, 3rd Circuit, ruled that a teacher must wear a necktie at work if the school board orders him to do so.

Blanchet had been suspended for 30 days with a provision that if he did not comply with the board's order, he would be fired.
