Hydro introduces E. Ont. Transmission Line

(Staff) - A six-year project schedule outlined by Ontario Hydro will culminate in increased transmission (carrying more electricity) to Eastern Ontario which has experienced an ever-increasing demand.

The route for two lines (designated the east and west sections) will be determined through the Eastern Ontario Transmission Line Study. To date, a plan designated M3 has been approved. M3 provides for two 500-kilovolt lines between Lennox Generating Station and Kingston; one 500-kilovolt line between Hawthorne Transmission Station (outside Ottawa) to St. Lawrence Transmission Station (near Cornwall); additional 230-kilovolt lines between Merivale and Hawthorne stations; new transmission lines to connect the St. Lawrence Station to Hydro-Quebec and an extension to the communications system.

It does not set out the final route but a general directional route. The final route will be determined through the study.

Four basic steps have been outlined for the determination of a route: introduction and collection of information, location of alternative corridors, location of alternative routes within corridors and finally, a preferred route could be arrived upon in the fall of 1983.

Environmental assessments, public hearings and property acquisition and construction will occupy the five years hearings project contact persons will be made available to discuss local concerns.

Project team members will also accept invitations to speak to community groups about the study. Further information can be obtained from the community relations officer for the East section, Steve Skidd, Ontario Hydro, 700 University Ave., Toronto, Ont., M5G 1X6 or phone (416-592-3947).

First of the season

Kelly (left) and Christopher MacPherson of College St. were just two of many children who took to the season's first snowfall with glee on Monday. With the help of their father, Gordon, the two constructed this lovely snowman. Although children in the village were happy to see the snow appear, adults were just as happy to see most of it disappear by Tuesday.

School committee presents communication opportunity

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Parents of North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) students are being given the opportunity to take part in the educational process through a proposed school committee which will elect parent representatives Thurs., Nov. 18.

Nick Gruich, a teacher at Seaway District High School and parent of a NDDHS student said he has spoken to many parents who have expressed an interest in a school committee over the past few years. But until this year felt he had no reason to be involved as neither a teacher at the school nor a parent.

Now that his son attends the school, however, he has a reason to hope parents will become involved with the school community.

A school committee is made up of parents, teachers and students, explained Mr. Gruich.

A school committee is made up of parents, teachers and students, explained Mr. Gruich. Commonly there are four or five of each on the panel although the principal usually sets the tone for the size the committee will be, he said.

Through the members of the school committee, members of the public have input into issues, he explained. A parent can approach either a member or the chairman to have an issue of concern placed on the agenda. The parent will then attend the meeting and discuss the issue with the committee.

School committees discuss varied topics, said Mr. Gruich, who, as a teacher sat on the Seaway District High School committee for two years. Day-to-day school happenings might not be familiar issues to parents who may be getting only one side of the story from their child.

For instance, he gave as example, a parent might wonder why the schools have activity periods, since their child never avails himself of any of the extra-curricular activities. A simple

Ault Foods tops Royal Winter Fair

TORONTO (Staff) - Ault Foods Ltd. and Rejean Galipeau carried off the top honor at the Royal Winter Fair cheese show with an August cheddar that scored 98.35 and was named Grand Champion.

Mr. Galipeau's efforts took first in August, June-July and September-October classes. He also picked up a second for Stilton and a fourth for aged cheddar.

The Grand Champion cheese topped 13 entries in its August class and 65 in the entire show to take the rosette. (Entries represent an increase of 25 over 1981).

Mr. Galipeau, a seven-year veteran of Ault Foods said the entire plant was to credit for the strong showing in Toronto, at which his cheese won its second important Grand of the season. (The first was at Ottawa's Winter Fair in October.)

The variety cheese show was dominated by Quebec factories while the butter exhibits came from as near as Teeswater Creamery (Ontario), Grand Champion and Central Alberta Dairy Pool, Reserve winner.

Ault's gained a tied-for-first placing in the second prize group of 10-lb. container salted class and a tied-for-second in the second prize group for 1-lb. print of unsalted butter.

No further developments in township-union talks

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township councillors have, as yet, made no change in the employment status of two men temporarily laid off from the road crew.

The decision to await further information from township solicitor Stephen Workman was agreed upon at a special meeting of council held in conjunction with a planning board meeting Tues., Nov. 9.

Mr. Workman had been going to contact Steve Backs, Canadian Union of Public Employees representative to ascertain for council the mechanics of hiring the two men on a part-time basis, for township snow removal.

The township had previously called tenders for the snow removal and opened those tenders at a previous meeting, but decided no award would be made until the clarification on the men's status was received.

At the same meeting council agreed to postpone their next regular meeting from November 15 until December 6, due to the involvement of several members with the Royal Winter Fair, in Toronto.

School committee familiarizes parents with school explanation, backed up by the school's history, can show the parent the value this time has for the largest proportion of the students.

Other possible issues include school dances (which were a hot item at Seaway, noted Mr. Gruich) and any changes in curriculum. The latter item is of particular interest to parents in this time of declining enrolment, explained Mr. Gruich. The question of which courses are to be dropped is one in which parents need input and the presence of a trustee or trustees at the meeting can further light up the subject.

Not all questions dealt with are major, he noted. At Seaway the system of parent-teacher interviews was modified to better suit the parents, he remembered. The evening only interviews for which parents lined up in the open gymnasium to visit the teachers of their choice was changed to a by-appointment interview which took place in either the afternoon or evening, according to convenience.

Both systems work, he stated but the parents' wishes were considered after they were expressed at a school committee meeting.

North Dundas has excellent communications lines with its parents in the form of newspaper columns and stories, he allowed but said there is no substitute for face-to-face discussion, in which all parties are open and honest.

This is the way he has found school committees to operate, said Mr. Gruich. Surprisingly enough, he explained, the teachers, students and parents do not tend to block vote. Each person thinks the issue through and votes according to his or her individual commitments.

When a recommendation is arrived upon, it is given to the principal who decides upon which course to take. As the person responsible for running the school, the principal must make a decision he feels he can live with, explained Mr. Gruich. No school committee can tell him what to do but he knows how his parents feel about the issue.

Mr. Gruich hastened to explain that this is how it should be; the principal is aware of the limitations (financial and other wise) under which he operates the school where the committee may not be.

In his experience, said Mr. Gruich, the students are a valuable contribution to a school committee. They do not merely rubber stamp the opinions of the adults who outnumber them on the committee. There are "some really sharp kids at high school" he said and they really think through their presentations before they are brought forth.

Without parents, however, there needs be no committee, stressed Mr. Gruich. The teachers could simply have a staff meeting or the students' council present its view to the principal. If parents support it, it will go, he predicted.

On the other hand if parents don't turn in the endeavor, he said. As well as school-parent communications, he explained parents are being offered the chance to find out what other parents are thinking.

Golden celebration

The couple were married August 23, 1932 in Finch where they lived for many years before moving to Oxford Mills. New 4-H club in Dundas

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Senior 4-H members will have the opportunity to join a new club in 1983, announced associate Ag Rep Howard Giles at the annual 4-H county awards banquet last Wednesday night.

Financial Management will be open to youth from 16 to 19 years and is slated to start early in the new year, he said.

The management club will not be limited to farm topics, stressed Mr. Giles but will include home and small business information. Meetings will be held each week for eight weeks, he said.

The project will end with regional competitions, winners of which will receive Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food scholarships, explained the 4-H co-ordinator, who will soon be attending a leaders' course in Toronto.

He told the crowd he would be able to announce further details of the new program following the course completion.

UCW reports successful October rummage sale

CHESTERVILLE (Special) - Despite rain and fog, 14 members attended the Evening Unit meeting of the United Church Women (UCW) on Nov. 3 in Trinity United Church Hall, Chesterville.

Mrs. Hilda Belsher opened the meeting with a poem 'Do a little kindness' following it with the hymn 'Faith of our Fathers'. Mrs. Evelyn Gillard was pianist.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Joyce Armstrong called the roll and read the minutes. During the business session Hilda thanked members who worked at the rummage sale and announced the proceeds were over $300. She also mentioned that craft articles for the bazaar on Nov. 13 should be priced by the donors. An invitation was extended to the members to attend a Christmas meeting in St. Mary's new church hall on Tues., Dec. 7 at 7:30pm.

In her report, Mrs. Betty Forward, stated that we must pay tax on catered wedding dinners but not on bazaar items. She also asked that all officers reports be ready for the Dec. 2 meeting.

Mrs. Linda Bennett opened the worship service with a hymn a study on 'Personal Growth'.

Shirley Loucks read the Bible story of the loaves and fishes and this was followed by the hymn 'Oh Jesus I have promised'. Ruby Miltmore furthered the study with thoughts of faith and belief. Following the offering, Hilda Olsen read a prayer.

Our guest speaker, Mrs. Gladys Broom, introduced by Linda, spoke on personal growth through Bible study. First, she played a tape of a speech made by her husband, Ken, in which he explained that their invalid son was the instigator of a Bible study in Morewood.

Gladys said she took up her son's challenge and started a neighborhood study group in her home. Fourteen people attended the first meeting and the attendance varies from week to week. From a study book, questions are asked and informal answers and discussions follow, Gladys said, so we all are learning together.

Ruby expressed the appreciation of the group and presented Gladys with a small gift. The ladies were then served lunch by Mrs. Bennett and her committee.

The Finch branch of the Royal Canadian Legion will be holding their Awards Evening Thurs., Nov. 25 and not Wed., Nov. 17 as incorrectly reported in the Tagwiscope column in The Record last week. The awards will recognize excellence in posters, poems and essays commemorating Remembrance Day.

So treasure him God in your garden of rest,
For when here on earth, he was one of the best.

In Memoriams

IN MEMORIAM
RUSSELL — In loving memory of a dear nephew and cousin, Chris, who passed away accidentally on Nov. 18, 1978.
We'll never forget your smile, your walk
Or the mischievous grin on you when you talked.
Your brown hair shining in the sun
The pride you showed with a deed well done.
So very precious right from the start
We never dreamed so soon we'd part.
Your seventeenth birthday was on its way
When the hand of fate came down one day.
It took you from us in body alone,
For within us Chris you live on and on.
Forever remembered by
Aunt Eunice, Uncle David, Aunt Lois, Uncle Rodger, Cousins, Kevin, Tim, Russ Neil and Jack

Mariners review revival meeting

(Special) - Instead of a guest speaker as the feature at the Mariners With Christ "sailing" held Monday evening at the Duart MacLean home at Goldfield, the score of crew members "on deck" engaged in a review of the recent Winchester Revival, which many of them had attended.

The executive had agreed that a review of the Revival would be an appropriate and timely feature, and the crew members acceded, in their participation in the discussion.

The Rev. E. Earle Eaton, captain of Chesterville Harbor, "piloted" the "Good Ship Faith". Mrs. Milton Shay, purser, "logged the voyage". Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. MacLean; prayer was offered by Mrs. Wilfred Durant. The Mariners' chart and report were given by the captain, assisted by Ed. Vardy. Mrs. Nina Woods, Mrs. Eileen Armstrong and Mrs. MacLean. "Prayers and Praises" were given by Mrs. Shay and Mrs. MacLean.

The captain led a Gospel hymn sing, accompanied by accordionist James Bray.

Correction

The Record regrets any inconvenience caused by an error in a Chesterville Chamber of Commerce story published last week. It was incorrectly stated a meeting of volunteer canvassers (for the Rose Hauch fund) would be held in the Drop In Centre Thurs., Nov. 25. In fact, that meeting will be held Wed., Nov. 24.

Operators minding P's and Q's under act

(Staff) - Approximately one year has passed since SD and G came under the umbrella of the Pits and Quarries Act, and local operators are still coming to grips with the new and changing ball game, said Dave Willis, this week.

Mr. Williis, Pits and Quarries Inspector for the United Counties and Prescott-Russell said he is pleased with the overall effort of operators in this territory, the Cornwall District of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The Pits and Quarries Act deals with the restoration of sites after extracation has ceased, he explained but also deals with operators on a day-to-day basis suggesting changes that help prevent them from taking flak from other agencies which also have a hand in regulating their operations.

Among the agencies which have a hand in the operation of pits and quarries, explained Mr. Willis are the Ministry of Environment which is responsible for enforcing breaches of noise and dust levels and the local townships which can limit the hours of operation.

He mentioned there has been a misconception about the Act insofar as it taking precedence over any local legislation. It is thought the Act nullifies any township regulations on the same subject. However, he said, the case is that should the township have a more stringent regulation than the Act, that regulation stands if the township is able to enforce it.

Enforcement is the key. The ministry is obviously not in a position to enforce municipal bylaws but where a bylaw enforcement officer exists and enforces regulations, the township can keep a strict hold on operations.

In actuality, however, townships have not been entering the pits and quarries operation, leaving counselling and enforcement to ministry staff.

One of the operators Mr. Willis deals with (the largest with active operations, at the moment) is Art Blair. A man whose father was in the business and who now has a son in the business, Mr. Blair has an established operation which employs some 30 to 40 people, almost year round, said Mr. Willis.

Over the year the Act has been in effect, Mr. Willis allows Mr. Blair has had to do significant changing of his methods. Partial rehabilitation of pits can take place during operation and Mr. Willis insists it does.

He cited the example of a gravel pit in Roxborough Township which has been worked out at one end and is active at the other. The worked out end has been bulldozed and landscaped around a small pond which has the potential to support sport fish.

In time, when the land is completely restored, it would be suitable for an estate residential lot, predicted Mr. Willis. He envisioned a cedar home perched on the edge of the small lake laughing that he wouldn't mind such a site himself.

Rehabilitation of quarries is not quite the same story. With some quarries capable of producing for perhaps 100 years, rehabilitation is a concern of the next generation.

The restrictions and regulations in force, are, however, realistic in the light of man's ever-increasing concern for his environment, said Mr. Willis. Future generations environments are being safeguarded, he explained.

Dave Willis, Pits and Quarries Inspector for the Cornwall District of the Ministry of Natural Resources surveys a partially worked out pit site (operated by Art Blair) which is under the rehabilitation process currently. An imaginative bull-dozer operator has landscaped the shoreline of the pond in a pleasing and almost natural manner he points out. Rehabilitation of sites is a requirement of the Pits and Quarries Act which came into effect in this district during 1981.

SNRCA gets approval for winter projects

BERWICK (Staff) - A federal-provincial employment creation program will allow the South Nation River Conservation Authority (SNRCA) to carry out several projects, surveys and to provide assistance in projects for other agencies.

The program will employ workers presently collecting Unemployment Insurance Benefits. Material and equipment costs will be paid by Ontario while the SNRCA will administrate and co-ordinate the projects.

On the approved list are the construction of a boat launch ramp at Crysler; and Cass Bridge; stabilization of eroding banks on Caledonia Creek at the St. Bernardine Cemetery; channel improvements on the Scotch River, Kenyon Township and clean-up of SNRCA-owned properties at Wendover.

Two survey projects will also be undertaken as a result of the program: erosion sites in St. Isidore-de-Prescott and flood level bench marks on all bridges over the South Nation in Augusta Township.

Maintenance work for the South Nation Provincial Park and the Summerstown Recreation Area will be completed for the Ministry of Natural Resources under this program and a wetlands and Wildlife habitat inventory will also be compiled.

Other projects for which funds have been applied but not yet approved include channel maintenance work in Augusta Township and a forest management project in Edwardsburgh.

Record Recipes

by Chris Brown

From time to time some dear soul takes pity on the Record's employees and brings in a goodie for our weary bods. We have been treated to some of the loveliest desserts all the way from Joyce McMahon's chocolate mint delight to our latest gifts - Lois and her marvellous muffins.

Somehow, with my finite imagination I never get beyond bran muffins (unless in a fit of brilliance I branch out to cornmeal). Mrs. McCadden's contributions show me what a good cook with an imagination can do for a tired staff!

CARROT AND PINEAPPLE MUFFINS

1½ cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
dash salt
1 cup white sugar
2-3 (two-thirds) cup oil
2 eggs
1 cup grated carrots
½ cup crushed pineaple
1 tsp. vanilla
½ cup crushed pineapple
1 tsp. vanilla

Preset the oven to 325F before you sift together the first five ingredients. In a separate bowl mix together the sugar, oil and eggs. Add them to the dry bowl then stir in gently the last three ingredients.

As with most muffins, stir only enough to moisten all ingredients. Bake for 25 minutes.

APPLE RAISIN MUFFINS

¼ cup oil
½ cup brown sugar
1-3 (one-third) cup milk
2-3 (two-thirds) cup apple sauce
2 eggs
1 cup natural bran (not cereal)
1 cup flour
2½ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. cloves
¼ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ cup raisins

Set oven to 375 then mix together the first five ingredients. Combine the other (dry) ingredients in large bowl then gently stir together. Pour into muffin tins and cook until top springs back.

Tickets (selling for $3.50 and $2.50 for adults, seniors and students) will be available in advance from association members, at Priests Mill, Alexandria; The Squire Shop the Clansmen Shop and Cameron's Furniture, Cornwall. Tickets at the door will cost 50 cents more on each of the two prices.

Elmvale Master's Kate appears to be rather interested in the notes being taken by Tim Farrell of Hastings County (east of Belleville), a member of the Livestock Management Tour which visited the Floyd Dingwall farm last week. Mr. Farrell was noting the cow's production records when Kate's curiosity got the better of her.

Young farmers learn livestock management

BERWICK (Staff) - The young farmers who arrived at Floyd and Muriel Dingwall's Jersey farm here last week took part in the first Livestock Management Tour to visit Eastern Ontario.

The young people, ages 18 to 29, were the dairy contingent, part of a group of 83 delegates learning management techniques in four livestock areas - dairy, beef, swine and sheep, through the one-week tour.

Donning disposable plastic boot covers, the group descended to the Dingwall barns, asking questions of anyone within hearing distance, dutifully taking notes on everything from production records to calf housing.

The zeal of the 45-strong dairy group is unfortunately not carried over into the youth of Ontario, said Glen Smith, AgRep for Glengarry County and Ministry of Agriculture staff on the tour.

Ministry staff have had to ask around the county to find someone to take the tour in his county, said Mr. Smith, and he said he suspects the situation is the same in most counties.

For the one-week tour which includes transportation and accommodation at such hotels as Holiday Inns, the young farmers each pay $60, explained Mr. Smith.

The Dingwall farm was one of five the group visited that day. Other farms included the four commodity groups in the United Counties as well as Prescott-Russell.

Following the tour's competition, the delegates will compete in the livestock evaluation competition at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto which will be followed to the marketing facilities in Toronto and an awards luncheon where the winners will receive their prizes.

Winchester man convicted on lesser charge

(Staff) - James Henry Wise of Winchester was found guilty of wounding with intent to cause bodily harm at County Court, Cornwall, Mon., Nov. 8 where he appeared on a charge of attempted murder.

Mr. Wise, age 39, had been charged with attempted murder following an incident in September, 1980 during which Donna Philips, age 25 of Winchester was struck by a vehicle on Main Street Winchester.

The vehicle had been following Ms. Philips and Jeffrey Allan Thomas, also of Winchester; when they turned and walked east on Main Street the vehicle accelerated and pulled onto the sidewalk striking both Ms. Philips and Mr. Thomas.

The judge and jury trial lasted three days. The jury deliberated for six hours before reaching the guilty verdict on the reduced charge. He was sentenced to one year in jail and three years' probation.

Ms. Philips received minor injuries as a result of the incident; Mr. Thomas was not injured.

A charge of careless driving against Michael Strachan, age 19 of Winchester was dismissed. The charge was laid as a result of an accident May 17 at the intersection of St. Lawrence and Fred Streets, Winchester in which Mr. Strachan was seriously injured.

Rick Barkley of Kemptville failed to appear on charges of Arson and Break, Enter and Theft laid as a result of the burning of South Mountain Library, September 18, 1982. He has been further charged with Fail to Appear and a Bench Warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Matias Espinoza of RR4, Winchester has been charged with Fail to Report an Accident following an incident Fri., Nov. 12 at 9:30pm when his 1970 Pontiac was southbound on County Road 7 near Chesterville, entered the ditch and rolled over. $1,200 damage was caused and 20 metres of fence were damaged.

Jeffrey Servage of RR3, Chesterville was charged with careless driving as a result of Constable Bill Holmes stopping an erratically driven motorcycle in Chesterville Fri., Nov. 12 at 1:20pm.

That same day a youth failed to leave the North Dundas District High School property when asked to and was charged with Trespassing. Charged is Stuart McLennan, age 17 of Alta Vista Drive, Ottawa.

THANK YOU

TO THE ELECTORS OF WILLIAMSBURG TWP.

I would at this time like to thank the people of Williamsburg Township that gave me their support at the November 8 election.

The Farmer's Wife

by Wyn Thompson

I love weddings. Big weddings, small weddings, medium-sized weddings. I love them all.

What brought on this burst of emotionalism over weddings, you ask. The fact that the Farmer and I were recently invited to one in Kingston, that's what.

As it practically coincided with our wedding anniversary, we decided to burn it into a bit of a holiday. We settled into the Holiday Inn and looked out admiringly on the expanse of water that constitutes Ontario's big lake. It was a beautiful autumn day.

The Farmer's market in the Town Square was aglow with the riches of nature's bounty. The beautifully restored waterfront with its lovely buildings and exciting shops was alive with people of all ages enjoying their surroundings and basking in one of the last gentle days of autumn.

Finally the Farmer said, "With the prices we're paying at the Inn we'd better take advantage of all its facilities."

We stepped up our pace and shortly were surrendering all the tiredness of the past weeks to the hot waters of the whirlpool, followed by a leisurely swim in the hotel's pool. This heating and cooling continued until it was time to return to our room to prepare ourselves for the wedding.

Our lifestyle leaves very little time for complicated debates prior to attendance at any affair, be it a wedding, a funeral, a play, a party or whatever. And if there is a pool involved, you may be sure I always arrive with slightly damp hair around the hairline.

I have a rule of thumb for weddings. The gift - it must be Canadiana. The attire - for the Farmer, it's simple - he puts on his best suit, a clean shirt, his family tartan tie, and shines his shoes.

For the Farmer's wife - she puts on her best dress and the accessories purchased to go with it, if all is still in good condition. If not an outfit gotten in the lunch hour in the village shop.

The Farmer was dressed in short order. I was frantically searching through my suit case. "Do you have a problem?" he quietly enquired.

"A problem!" I wailed, "of the worst order. I forgot to pack my slip."

"Hurry and we'll pick one up en route," he advised.

"There's no time," I cried, holding the red dress aloft in front of the window. "It's not too sheer, I'll simply go without one."

We settled into our pew just as the organist took her seat before the magnificent instrument. The Farmer always arranges it thusly. The music pealed forth. I pulled my skirt about my thighs - not quite sure what this would achieve.

I looked at the Farmer. He was in another world - a world inhabited only by organs, and music and musicians. I looked about me. It was obvious that the word was out "Colour your world cranberry" this autumn. Not a red dress in the lot. Mine would certainly be noticable at a time when I wanted no one to be aware of my attire. Or lack of it.

I recalled my old cab driver's philosophy, "And there's not a darned thing you can do about it." I, too, was soon transported on the wings of music to a land without care. A slip is such a little thing, I decided, as I mentally danced to the strains of "I am Lord of the Dance, said he."

The wedding service began. A sermonette was delivered admonishing the participants of the pitfalls of two independent characters attempting to share a life together. "A decided improvement over the ceremonies of our generation where it was projected as a fairy tale existence of sweetness and light," I whispered.

"And they will have the freedom of choice to end it all without ostricization if it doesn't work out. We have come a long way in acknowleding our feet of clay.'" The Farmer nodded.

The wedding vows were exchanged, pictures taken, and we hied ourselves off to the reception. The receiving line was short, with the promise of a comfortable seating arrangement for the wedding feast. "Thank heavens there's to be no standing up teetering a plate and knife in one hand and a fork and glass in the other," the Farmer and the minister commiserated.

The wedding feast concluded, the dancing began. It was a splendid party, one which honoured not only the young people beginning a life of service to each other and the community at large but honoured the four parents who had spent a goodly portion of their lives loving, and caring, and teaching them to meet the demands of an adult world. Like all parents of past and present generations have done.

And we, the relatives and friends, rejoiced and celebrated with the young couple and especially with their parents. Forgetting for awhile the cares and concerns of the world around us.

Soon it was over. It was a privilege and an honour to be present at the marriage of these good friend's daughter. Full as ticks, we collapsed and slept.

Next day, still in a festive mood, for hadn't we survived thirty-seven years of marriage, we swam and swam and swam, dressed quickly and made the ferry for Wolfe's Island. A lovely day. Balmy, Sunny. Gentle rocking waves.

We had lunch at a little restaurant at the Landing and returned by the next ferry. Dinner followed with the bride's parents after which we said our fond farewells and headed the car in the direction of home.

After we settled in, it was time for our usual walk around the yard. The air from the bush across the way was sharp and mellow. This sounds contradictory and that is the way air is. Some warmth from the day lingers but the thermometer has dropped with sunset. The air feels good on my face, I inform the Farmer, but I do not shiver.

I am very fond of the smell of fallen leaves, a rather musty odour. The smell of woodsmoke is lovely and the essence of leaf-scent is in it. It is rare now for most folk use the leaves as a mulch.

What does this season mean to me. The one word that would describe it is splendour. October is not to be passed over quickly or carelessly, every hour must be cherished.

Supporting area athlete a worthy cause

Recently Rose Marie Hauch of RR2 Chesterville has become nationally and internationally known. The young athlete competed in the Commonweath Games held in Brisbane, Australia, in October and won a bronze medal. She is one of the top 70 shot putters in the world.

But Rose Marie's excellent showing was almost despite the conditions she had to work under. Because Canada provides funds for only her absolute top athletes, and not a great amount of funding even then, Rose Marie wasn't receiving government aid.

Last spring Rose Marie graduated from the University of Tennessee. She returned to Canada and continued her training for the Commonwealth Games. However, instead of improving the distance of her shot she was falling behind.

After examining the situation in which she was training, she noted that she was probably over training and attempting to work a full-time job into three days to allow her the necessary time to practise.

Just two weeks before the Commonwealth Games she decided to go to Toronto, at great personal expense, and train with one of the leading shot put coaches there. Although her throw distance didn't improve during her first week there the rest and concentration of her throw provided beneficial in the second week.

The young woman learned just before heading for Australia that she'd been granted a C card by the government. This means she is now eligible for financial aid - but not a lot.

Rose Marie wants to go to the 1984 Olympics being held in the United States. But to do that she will have to further improve her throw, meaning more work and practise.

In her quest for a position at the Olympics Rose Marie has approached members of the Chesterville and area community for financial aid. It is almost impossible for an athlete to provide themselves with a living while taking so much time to train and keep fit.

The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce as well as the Village of Chesterville and the Township of Winchester have already pledged to help Rose Marie.

An estimated $10,000 is required to provide a starting point for this athlete. Winchester Township and Chesterville Village have provided a base in raising the necessary funding.

The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce will be depending on residents in the area to help raise more of the money. In the next two weeks you may be asked to donate to the Rose Marie Hauch trust fund.

This is an opportunity to give our support to one of Canada's finest athletes and an area resident so she can participate in one of the most exciting sporting events in the world.

In a canvasser comes to your door please support this area athlete. If a canvasser doesn't make it to your home, please give directly to the Rose Marie Hauch trust fund at either the Bank of Nova Scotia or the Toronto-Dominion Bank, Chesterville branches.

Such an opportunity for Rose Marie, Chesterville and area, or Canada doesn't happen every day. Let's not have it slip past us.

ONTARIO COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS ASSOCIATION

Chesterville's Past

52 From the Record November 27, 1952

The usual small crowd was on hand in the auditorium of Community Hall last Friday evening for annual nominations of reeve and councillors. By eight o'clock three names had been entered for reeve and eight for the four council seats.

The slate for councillors saw a windup on Saturday evening with six names on the list. They are Haldane Durant, Gordon Lannin, Marshall Page, Carl McMillan, Harold Sharkey and John Turner.

James Brannen and Albert Kilby failed to qualify.

In the reports that followed nominations the year's business was discussed at length by the reeve and councillors. Words of appreciation were expressed by the civic employees, Charles Macell and Robert Ouderkirk. The renewed health of clerk Harry Hummel was noted with satisfaction.

Work on the village properties was reviewed. Under discussion was the new embankment at the hall front, the redecoration of the auditorium, new sewer facilities under construction on Church and College Streets and general repairs to sidewalk and streets. The reeve and councillors came under some criticism regarding some of their policies during the past year but the overall tone of meeting was one of satisfaction for ajob ably done.

Members of the Chesterville Community Centre Committee met at the end of last week to discuss plans for the forthcoming winter skating season.

A long discussion centred on the advisibility of using the new blacktop surface in the park season. It was pointed out that flooding the surface might be detrimental and cause extensive damage until the blacktop was finally finished. During the construction of the area, the contractor was plagued by rain and the resulting surface is not yet completed in a finished condition.

Until it settles and dries out in the warm weather, there is danger of cracking and heaving.

A decision was reached to use the open air rink, constructed by a volunteer group last winter. The secretary was instructed to get in touch with the Volunteer Fire Brigade and see if they would help in flooding the surface as they did so ably last year. Mr. Barker, the owner of the property has kindly consented to allow the use of the land again.

More than 100 employees of Nestles Canada Ltd. with union affiliation will each receive a chicken for Christmas.

Decision to make the presentation of fowl for Yuletide was taken at the November meeting of Local 488, United Dairy and Creamery Workers Union, presided over by president H. Sharkey. The cost of this gift is to be borne by the union.

Rev. E.J. Bigelow has been appointed Moderator of the British Columbia Synod, Presbyterian Church in Canada after having been formerly Moderator of the Synod of Manitoba.

62 From the Record, November 15, 1962

Last Saturday's heavy rains did some damage to the district although the extra moisture may not come amiss if the winter is sudden and cold.

Out on the Limerick Road, the detour around the creek bridge was washed out. The creek rose like a spring freshet, flushed up over the gravel bed and before long had made a new passage twenty feet wide through the former roadway. Nothing much can be done by way of repair until the flood subsides.

Angus Robertson Construction, building the new school on the Ridge, had a section of freshly raised wall tipped into the excavation by the high and gusty winds. The big 10-inch blocks had been raised three days before, were laced with electrical wiring and other services.

The winds were too much for the unsupported wall and a short section collapsed. Superintendent John Barker sees no slow-up of the job through the insurance covered accident. The work is coming along nicely is the way he put it to this newspaper on Tuesday this week.

Eastern Ontario Liberals will hold their annual meeting in Smiths Falls, Sat., Nov. 17. For the first time, Lanark Liberal Association will be host to the convention and a full day of activities is planned.

Donations for the Hallowe'en UNICEF amounting to $56.00 were realized when a number of music pupils of Mrs. E.N. Bicks canvassed the local residents of Finch, Berwick and Crysler.

With the area divided into zones, the pupils completed the canvas and reported an enthusiastic reception to the familiar cry of shell-out for UNICEF.

The amount collected this year was great · than realized from the canvas of the two previous years.

Further projects for the cause were also in operation.

The Central Band of the RCAF from Ottawa were in town last Thursday evening. The occasion was a CHS Student Council sponsored concert in the Town Hall. Approximately 150 townsfolk were out to hear the airmen as they presented a diversified two-hour program under the capable baton of Warrant Officer Kenneth Moore .

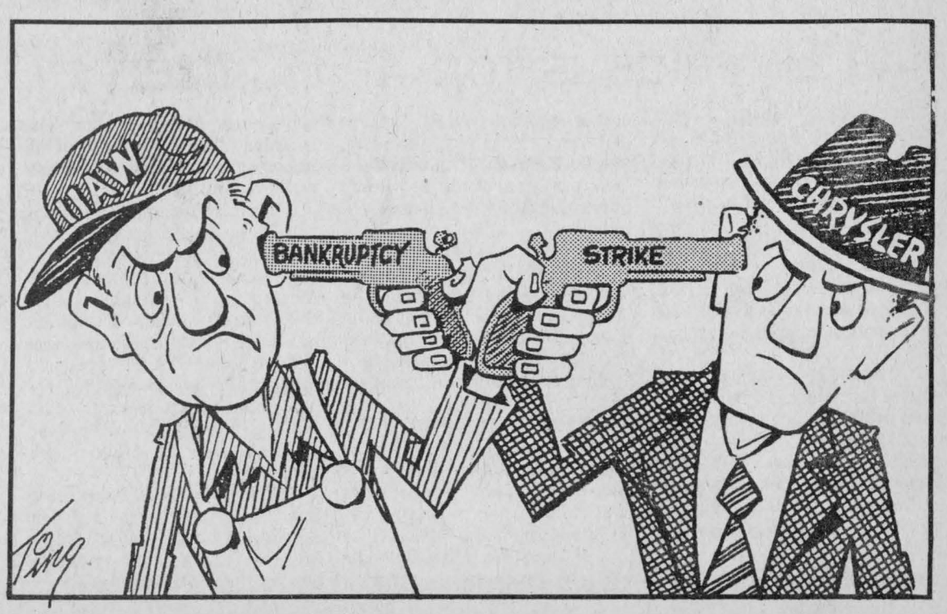
Selections played ranged from classics to modern jazz with some Latin-American and Broadway musical arrangements thrown in for good measure.

Lorna Casselman, Head Girl at CHS introduced the musicians to those attending the concern and welcomed them to Chesterville. Arden Marcellus, Head Boy, thanked the musicians prior to their playing the RCAF March Past and The Queen to close the evening.

North Stormont District High School commencement was held in the school auditorium in Finch before a capacity crowd. The opening address was given by school principal, C.E. Babcock, who also introduced Roy Rupert, chairman of the high school board, who presided for the program.

Musical selections by the Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. M. Morris, followed by a reading by Miss Bonnie Park and an accordion solo by Miss Lois Hutt provided entertainment during the early part of the evening.

A member of the teaching staff, R.E. Taillefer, introduced the guest speaker Mrs. Jean Loates, BA, student personnel officer at Carleton University. Speaking to a very attentive audience, she chose High School Students, Past, Present and Future as her subject.



The top three 4-H members in Dundas County were, from left, Rita Byvelds, Greg Holmes and Amanda Whetter. Miss Byvelds, took the 1982 $300 Ottawa Citizen Award as the top 4-H Club member. Mr. Holmes was the recipient of the Ault Foods Ltd. gold watch award as the 4-H member judged second highest in club work and citizenship. Miss Whetter was the winner of the Dundas Plowmen's Award as the 4-H member judged third highest in club work and citizenship.

Rita Byvelds is top 4-H Citizen

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Rita Byvelds was named the Ottawa Citizen Award winner here last Wednesday evening. "Don't be afraid to get involved" was the credo that won for her.

The young woman, an 18-year-old grade 13 student at Seaway District High School, lives by that motto as can be seen by a quick glance at her school and 4-H life.

At age 11 she joined a club as a pre-4-Her because she said she knew nothing about her farm and wanted to become more aware. After 15 agricultural clubs, that awareness has been heightened to the point she feels she makes a valuable contribution to the family dairy farm.

Her parents, who actively encourage their eldest child in her work, are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Byvelds. They operate a Holstein operation at which approximately 60 head are milked.

Miss Byveld's career coupled with her parent's support of their children in the program may have been a factor which influenced her younger brothers and sister to join 4-H. Presently a brother and sister are members and the youngest age 11 is soon to embark on a 4-H career.

Among the club's completed (dairy, community, beef, electric, tractor and veterinary) is one youth leader project in the Williamsburg Calf Club. This project provided Miss Byveld's with a great deal of self-confidence, she said, and self-confidence is one of the most important contributions 4-H has made to her life.

Both the learning and social aspects of the 4-H program have made major contributions to her life, she said. As a participant in the provincial leadership camp, the Central Canada Exhibition Association judging competition and the regional conferences, she has gained a capacity for involvement, organizational skills and personal development through meeting others, she explained.

Miss Byvelds demonstrated her considerable poise and self confidence during the 1982 Dairy Princess Competition at which she was named runner-up.

CHESTERVILLE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Failing memories foster one-sided view of October crisis?

(STAFF) - October 1982 passed with hardly a mention of it. It wasn't the topic of conversation at parties, at places of work, or even in historical stories in the media.

But in 1970 it was a crisis that gripped Canada, and had all the markings of a major Canadian historical event.

The effects of the October Crisis of 1970 are still being felt today, although few Canadians seem to remember, or notice.

Will this lack of public memory mean the record of what happened during the October Crisis may be distorted over the years?

A man who played a part in the Quebec Crisis, Jack Cross, is raising these questions as the 12th anniversary of the event slips quietly out of view.

Mr. Cross, now residing in Chesterville, was assistant clerk of the privy council during October, 1970. Staff of the Privy Council were responsible for bringing into force emergency powers under the War Measures Act.

Canadians are fortunate now, says Mr. Cross. Although the histories of many nations such as Lebanon and El Salvador, are now being written by the action of terrorists Canadians aren't in that position. "But our lot was not so fortunate in the 1970s."

Mr. Cross raises questions about the October Crisis and its resulting effects on Canadian society. Do we have a responsibility in exposing architects of ruin within our society, or of trying to diminish their influence, or of preventing their success, when ever it is in our power?

Should Canadians be "concerned with the continuing headline stories of the Crisis of 1970 and the effects that Crisis may have on our lives, our children's lives and our children's children's lives?"

What about the effects those headline stories may have on the recording of Canada's Crisis of 1970?

The stories behind those headlines deal with the aftermath of the crisis but have little to do with the event which began the crisis.

On October 15 and 16, 1970 the federal government declared the War Measures Act. Previous to the government action was the kidnapping of British Trade Commissioner James Cross by a cell of the FLQ, (bombings and other terrorist activity was taking place in Quebec at that time), the FLQ were making ransom demands, including the release of 23 political prisoners who had been convicted under criminal terrorists Act, and the kidnapping of Pierre Laporte, the Quebec labor minister. Mr. Laporte's body was discovered in the trunk of a car near Montreal several days later.

The declaration of the War Measures Act gave police wide powers of arrest and search without warrant, censorship and detention without charges.

Mr. Cross' concern with the headlines which have followed the Quebec Crisis is a result of them all being created by those who were the terrorists during the October Crisis.

A short list of a representative headlines include: Roses gather to remember War Measures Act, Group seek release of FLQ terrorists, Lactot gets three years in jail for role in Cross kidnapping, Trudeau defends cutting list, PQ Minister threatening to sue Trudeau over jailing.

For example, he said, it's difficult to recognize this headline, RCMP cited for illegal acts, "as being linked in any way with the October Crisis of 1970, however, it was at that time the police were asked to search out terrorists and sympathizers of terrorists. In the continuing search many of their acts have now been classed by a Royal Commission as illegal."

The fact that these acts are now illegal may well affect the way other police forces deal with criminals.

While speaking to a police sergeant with the Ottawa Police Force, he asked if any of their action in the light of this report might be classed as illegal.

The sergeant replied that there were. He said, "If we were chasing a criminal who entered a building where entry required a warrant; a delay to make entry legal would mean loss of momentum as well as the loss of the criminal."

Thus as a result of the terrorist acts during the October Crisis our lives, those of the innocent, "may be affected by the crisis," explained Mr. Cross.

One of the main recommendations of that Royal Commission was that responsibility for security be moved from the RCMP, continued the former assistant clerk.

"We are well aware that certain information has been compiled about Canadians who are or have been in public life or public office, regarding their actions, associations, attainments and organizations of which they are members. Those personal records are now in the safe and secret files of the RCMP. Your records may be there. If the transfer of responsibility of security from the RCMP as now proposed means that our personal files are to go to personnel in this government or in any other government, then I am deeply concerned. What assurance will we have that those files will not someday be used by politicians against us or our children's children."

Will it occur that as Canadians' memories of the October Crisis fail that new histories will be created by those who want the records changed?

With the terrorists of the October Crisis continuing to occupy space on our media to present their side of the event only could it be possible the interpretation of the crisis could change?

Mr. Cross uses as evidence a clipping from the Ottawa Journal, October 17, 1978, only eight years after the crisis. The clipping is titled, Roses gather to remember the War Measures Act.

The clipping describes 40 persons gathered at the Quebec provincial police headquarters in 1978 to commemorate the declaration of the War Measures Act, during the October Crisis.

The story goes on to say that among the group was Jacques Rose, who was then recently paroled after spending almost eight years in jail for his part in the kidnap-murder of Pierre Laporte, his mother Rosa Rose, and lawyer, Robert Lemieux, who defended Jacques and his brother Paul. (Paul Rose is serving a life term for the killing of Laporte).

The article says the march was organized by the Political Prisoners' Information Committee, founded by Mrs. Rose and Lemieux.

The committee was lobbying for the release of Paul Rose and others convicted in connection with crimes by the now defunct Front de Liberation du Quebec.

"If each year on the anniversary of the War Measures Act of 1970 the Roses and the Lemieux, the terrorists and the sympathizers of terrorists celebrated by displaying their placards and spreading their propaganda, do I need to paint a picture of who might finally in history be portrayed as the heros. Could pressures and propaganda by terrorists convince our children's children that we and the government of the day, and its War Measures Act and the RCMP were at fault in 1970?"

Mr. Cross says the message of the October Crisis of 1970 to those of us in 1982 is that we cannot "allow ourselves to become complacent, passive or inert. We must exert at least equal, if not greater force against architects of ruin. We must keep our minds knowledgeable of, and alert to, the affects of the changes being made to combat crime within our society."

Mr. Cross quotes from a speech given at a Scottish Rite Assembly in May 1982, "we must constantly keep before us the fact that law established and enforced by the people themselves is democracy's foundation stone. We must forever realize that only the rule of law, firm and gently, strong and benevolent, powerful and protective, can keep us safe and protect our lives, our liberty, our property and all of the good and decent things in life. Carved in stone over a New England courtyard is the legent 'Obedience to law is liberty" and so it is, provided it is the people's law. It is for us to see to it that the law is a shield and not a shackle."

Mr. Cross' part in the declaration of the War Measures Act is described in an article, written by Jim Robb, which appeared in the Ottawa Citizen.

"At 3:30am on Friday, Oct. 16, 1970, Jack Lester Cross, accompanied by an armed guard, drove up to the locked gates at Government House to be admitted by the RCMP officer on duty.

"Minutes later, his eyes sleep-ladden, Governor-General Roland Michener, in his dressing gown and pyjamas, signed the order-in-council and proclamation bringing War Measures Act into effect. The government then could deal with the state of "apprehended insurrection" brought on by the FLQ kidnappings of Quebec cabinet minister Pierre Laporte and British Trade Official James "Jasper" Cross.

"Before the ink was dry on Mr. Michener's signature, Jack Cross, still in company of the armed guard was being driven to the government printing bureau in Hull so the order-in-council and the proclamation could be printed immediately for public distribution.

"His final act that morning after a long, tension-filled and sleepless night was to have the great seal of the country affixed to the War Measures proclamation.

"For Jack Cross, assistant clerk of the privy council from 1968 to late last week when he retired it was the never-to-be forgotten, emotion-filled high point of a career that has spanned 30 years in the PCO.

THE RECORD
SPORTS

Dan Bruyere of the Char-Lan Rebels raises his hand in victory in a game between the Alex English Division All-Stars and the Rideau-St. Lawrence All-Stars. Bruyere scored four goals as the Alex English division went on to win 12-3. The game, the first of a three game mini-series that includes the Ottawa Valley division, will determine who will represent Eastern Ontario in Junior B provincial All-Star competition later this year.

Alex English Division All-Stars overpower Rideau's best 12-3

WINCHESTER (Staff) - During the first period intermission Pete DeRooy, coach of the Alex English Division All-Stars, predicted that his team would beat the Rideau-St. Lawrence Division All-Stars "by seven or eight goals" in this first game of a three game mini-series between the two divisions and the Ottawa Valley Division to determine an Eastern Ontario All-Star team for Junior B provincial competition.

And the Alex English Division All-Stars delivered that margin and more before 221 fans at the Winchester arena on November 11 as they out shot Rideau-St. Lawrence 64-33 on their way to a 12-3 victory.

Led by the four goal performance of Char-Lan Rebel Dan Bruyere, the Alex English Division thoroughly dominated the play as they moved into a 5-2 lead after one period of play and a 9-3 lead after two periods.

This despite the fact that DeRooy had to do some last minute line juggling with Morrisburg Lion defenseman Garry Beckstead unavailable for action because of a bruised lung and cracked rib and the no-show of several players from Alexandria.

"I didn't have to do much coaching with this club", DeRooy said after the game. "I kept team lines pretty much together so they didn't have any problems. I was just opening and closing the door."

Dale Adams of the Spencerville Bruins opened the scoring for Rideau-St. Lawrence at 17:51 and closed the first period scoring with his second goal on Metcalfe's Stewart Patterson with 18 seconds left.

Between the two goals, the Alex English Division scored five times, getting goals from Bob Legault (Clarence Creek), Leo Duford (Navan), Scott Reed (Metcalfe), and a pair from Dan Bruyere in a period in which Alex English outshot its opponent 14-2.

Navan's Mike Laplante made it 6-2 13 seconds into the second period and the Winchester line of Darrell Schelp, Lance Wells, and Trevor McClatchie followed with a power play goal two minutes later.

The Alex English Division led 8-2 on Scott Reed's second goal of the game before Rideau-St. Lawrence scored its final goal of the game.

Guy Paquette of the Char-Lan Rebels finished off the second period scoring for Alex English and Bruyere scored his third and fourth goals of the game midway through the third period to increase Alex English's lead to 12-3.

Metcalfe Jets centre Lindsay Pasch finished off the pounding with a goal on Kent Smith of the Cardinal Broncos with 38 seconds left to play.

Stewart Patterson of the Metcalfe Jets and Barry Kennedy of the Winchester Hawks shared the win in net.

Greg McLaren of the Jets picked up four assists in the game while his brother Todd had three.

The three game series will continue on November 23 when the Alex English Division plays the Ottawa Valley Division in Winchester.

Line changes turn Raiders around

FINCH (Staff) - Crysler Raiders' coach Denis Raymond was just thinking about the quality of next year's team when he decided to juggle the forward lines and put rookies Phillippe Benoit and Phillippe Leger between veterans to help them with their playmaking.

At the time of the decision, the Raiders had yet to win a game in three starts in the Eastern Ontario Junior C Hockey League.

Since the line juggling, the Raiders have been unbeaten in their last three games, including a 6-2 win over the Finch 76s in Finch November 10.

"Those lines have really worked out well", Raymond said after the game. "I had been playing a line of rookies and a line of veterans but the rookies were still raw and not adapting to the play. I wanted to establish them as a line for next year's team so I mixed them with the veterans in our game against Embrun for the experience. We beat Embrun (4-1) and that really gave the team a boost. And now tonight."

Benoit, playing on the right wing with centre Christian Brisson and left winger Albert Herfkins, picked up a goal and an assist while Herfkins scored twice and assisted on another in a game where the Raiders scored the winning goal (Benoit's) in the first period.

Leger had an assist playing between right winger Paul Farley (four assists) and left winger Willy Huybregts.

In total, the two lines picked up 10 points but Raymond said their performance, while an offensive spark, was just part of an overall improvement in the play of the team.

"Finch played a good game," he said, "but we were playing player for player, hitting them off the puck and keeping them off their speed. It's the same thing we were doing in Embrun."

In addition to Benoit and Herfkins, Crysler got goals from Bobby Laundrie and Roger Courville (two). Finch's goals, scored at the 8:00 marks of the first and second periods, came from Curtis McMillan and Ed Dewitt.

The game was Finch's third loss in a row after winning the first two games of the season, including a 5-3 win against Crysler in the league opener.

"I don't know what it is", 76s coach Kevin Lefebvre said. "Some games all the players are up and some games they just sit in the dressing room and don't say anything. We're in the last part."

In other games on the Junior C circuit this past week, the Cornwall Flyers tied Embrun 5-5, Maxville tied Alexandria 4-4 in two games, Chesterville played Crysler to a scoreless draw, Embrun hammered Maxville 11-3, and Chesterville defeated Finch 7-2.

Embrun 5, Cornwall 5

The Cornwall Township Flyers lost a 3-1 lead as the Embrun 72s went on a four goal blitz in the third period but salvaged a point as Ken Wilkens scored with 2:17 left in the game for the tie.

The Flyers led 1-0 after one period on a goal by Keith McTaggart. Embrun centre Andre Brisson tied the game early in the second period with his sixth goal of the season but Cornwall's Chris MacDonald restored the lead with his eighth and teammate Richard Brownell added another goal with 1:15 left in the period to extend the lead to 3-1.

After an exchange of goals in the first half of the final period, Norm Brisson scoring for Embrun and Chris MacDonald replying for Cornwall, the 72s took over the pace with Pierre Savage scoring a pair of goals in 16 seconds and Yvan Clement scoring four minutes later to move Embrun into a 5-4 lead.

Wilkens tying goal was set up by Chris MacDonald and Keith McTaggert.

Roch Chenier was in net for Embrun and Jeff Blodget for Cornwall.

Maxville 4, Alexandria 4

Third place Alexandria failed to gain any ground on the second place Maxville Highlanders but they didn't lose any either as the teams played twice to a 4-4 tie, first in Alexandria on November 11 and then in Maxville November 14.

Andrew Sangster led the Alexandria attack in the first match-up with a pair of goals while Bruce Benton and Jacques Pilon added singles.

Andre Paquette, David Wensink, Steve Douglas, and Willie Kippen scored for the Highlanders.

Chesterville 0, Crysler 0

Crysler netminding regular Pat Brugmans endured through eight minor penalties taken by his teammates and an unofficial count of 55 shots on net to extend the Raiders unbeaten streak to three games.

Brugmans, a veteran of the club, shared the distinction of earning the first shut out of the season with Kirk Edwardson of the Flyers.

Embrun 11, Maxville 3

"It's like starting training camp all over again", 72s manager Norm DuHamel said as the Embrun 72s came off the ice after defeating Maxville 11-3 in Embrun November 12.

DuHamel wasn't referring to the play of the team but to the inflow of new bodies as the 72s try to weather a bout of injuries.

Left winger Maurice Piche, who had a goal and seven assists in the first four games of the season, is out with a bruised hip received in Crysler November 4. Defenseman Brian DuHamel came out of the line-up in the same game with a broken ankle.

And in Finch the following night, the 72s lost right winger Daniel Piche for the season with a broken collar bone and defenseman Brian McRostie for several games with a badly bruised ankle.

Which is why the defending Eastern Ontario Division champions are the team to beat this year. Despite the injuries, they were over-powering in their offensive attack against Maxville.

Alain Lapointe and Norm Brisson led the way with two goals each as Embrun mounted 5-1 and 9-1 period leads.

Chesterville 7, Finch 2

The Chesterville Flyers, plagued by slow starts in their first few games, have found their legs.

The Flyers outscored the Finch 76s 3-2 in the first period of the game in Chesterville November 13 and then shut down Finch's attack completely as they went on to add two more goals in the second period and another pair in the third.

Mark Beishem, Dave Appleby, and Kevin Saunders each scored twice to extend the Flyers unbeaten streak to three games. Chris Laviolette had the other Scoring for Finch were Donny MacDonell and Paul Andre.

Maroon stops Blue with third period blitz

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - In the first three games of the Chesterville Men's Hockey League, Maroon established itself as a team to beat in the third period. In three consecutive losses the club managed just a single goal in the final period while its opponents scored six.

But on November 10, Maroon broke that pattern and broke it with a flourish.

Trailing 3-1 to the league's unbeaten blue team after two periods of play, Maroon scored four unanswered goals in the third period to win 5-3.

In the other half of the night's schedule, Green scored a pair of goals with less than three minutes to play in the game to defeat Red 4-2.

Maroon 5, Blue 3

Blue went into the game as the only undefeated team in the four team league, a team that had scored 14 goals in three games and had six players on the league's top 10 scoring list.

Maroon, on the other hand, had scored just six times in three losses for the cellar position in the league standings.

It wasn't surprising, then, when Blue opened up a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Dale Hutt and Brent Theede.

Maroon's Ron Leclair got one back early in the second period but Brent Theede restored Blue's two goal lead three minutes before the end of the second period.

Then the surprise.

Pat Imrie scored at 12:39 of the third period and beat Blue's goaltender Rick Sproule again six minutes later as Maroon tied the game 3-3.

Lyle Servage scored the winner with 1:23 left in the game and Darren Kirkwood capped it off with an insurance goal with 56 seconds left in the game.

Dan McMartin took the win in net.

Green 4, Red 2

Green led 2-1 after two periods of play on goals by Jim Tuttle and Wally Van de Kemp his first of the season, while Ron Richards replied for Red.

Dave Arnold tied the game early in the third period with an unassisted shot by Green's goalie Blake Henderson but Dave Cross scored the game winner with 2:32 left in the game.

Jim Tuttle added a touch of revenge for Red's 4-0 blanking of Green in the season opener by scoring unassisted with 28 seconds left in the game.

The victory moves Green into a tie for second place with Red, both teams having records of two wins and two losses.

Steve Droppo was the winning goaltender.

Midget Flyers still unbeaten

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The Chesterville Midget Flyers scored 19 times in three games to extend their exhibition season winning streak to nine games.

On November 9, the Flyers took on Cardinal-Iroquois in Cardinal and got goals from Rene Boulanger, Greg Kelly, Mike Harper, and Roger Beazer on their way to a 5-2 victory.

They followed up on November 12 with an 8-1 win over Spencerville,

The Flyers finished off the week by doubling South Stor-Glen 6-3 in Chesterville November 14.

Tagwi Junior Warriors beat Gaels to finish season with perfect record

AVONMORE (Staff) - Move over Bo Derek. Tagwi Secondary School has found its own perfect 10.

The school's junior girls' basketball team, the Junior Warriors, defeated the Glengarry Gaels 50-17 here on November 15 to cap what has been the best regular season outing of any team at the school with an undefeated record of 10 wins and no losses.

The only undefeated team in Pool 1 of the SD and G Girls Basketball League, the Junior Warriors earn a bye in the first round of the playoffs against Pool 2 (Cornwall).

"It's exciting", Don Perrigo, coach of the Junior Warriors said after the Glengarry game. "It's never happened in any team sports at Tagwi, a team finishing with this kind of record."

Perrigo, a first year coach with the team, downplayed his contribution in fashioning an offense that led the way in Pool 1 with an average of 45 points a game.

"It hasn't been a case of me doing a superb job by any stretch of the imagination. It's been the girls themselves. They have played very, very well."

And they played very, very well against the Gaels, using a zone defense to stall Glengarry's drives and an aggressive half court defense to continually strip the ball away from their opponents.

Tracey Hollingdrake again provided the catalyst for the offense with aggressive playmaking as the Warriors mounted 14-2, 26-9, and 32-15 quarter leads.

In order to give some of his players more time on the boards, Perrigo restricted the team's top scorer Kelly Conroy (18 points a game) to second and fourth period duty.

But that was all Conroy needed as she used a back-handed jump shot to score all 12 points in the second quarter and eight of the 18 points in the final quarter.

Hollingdrake added 12 points, Kellie Campbell had six, Joanne Sproul, Helen McBride, S. MacLean, and Wendy Shaver had two points each, and Cindy Schwartz added a single. G. Jans and Tina Chamberlain assisted on the plays.

Despite the team's success this year, Perrigo doesn't expect a breeze through in the playoffs.

"I'm a little apprehensive about the Cornwall teams because I haven't seen them. It could be a bit of a shock because we've had it a bit easy with some teams this year. We'll have to get a bit more serious."

At the Senior Level, the Senior Warriors also established a perfect record but one that won't take them to the playoffs.

The Warriors lost their tenth and final game of the season as the Gaels established 11-2, 16-7, 27-10 quarter leads on their way to a 45-18 win.

Bernadine Murray led Tagwi with seven points while Carrie Quail had six, and Elaine Martin and Lesa Perry had two points each. Audrey Cooper added a single.

Although the Warriors have struggled through the season, they have shown spirit and so it was only fitting that the final basket in the final game of their season was theirs.

In a classic scene where the trailing team needs a basket with four seconds left to play, Vicky Shaver and Lise Lafave set up Carrie Quail who shot from just over the centre court line to sink a perfect basket.

The two points didn't help the Warriors stave off defeat but it ended their season on a stylish note.

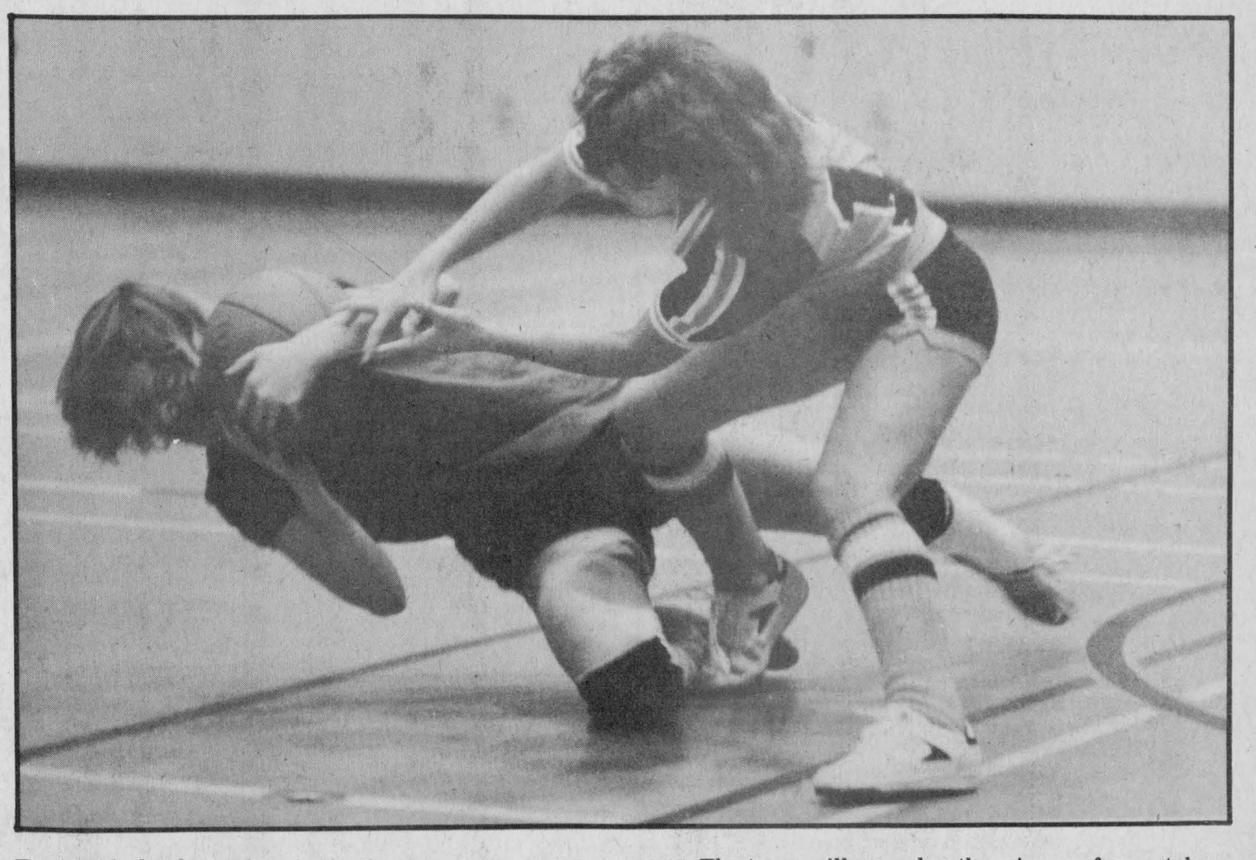
Oldtimers win two more

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The Chesterville Oldtimers, defeated only once so far this season, added two more wins as they outpowered Smiths Falls 13-3 on November 10 and downed Kemptville 11-4 on a road game November 14.

Mike Fyke, Lester Holmes, and Rick Barkley each had two goals against Smiths Falls while Ray Imrie, Rick Cormier, and Mike Coyle added singles. Assists went to Terry Buske (four), Cory Van Delst, and Don Henderson.

Lester Holmes played another big game against the Kemptville Oldtimers with a hat trick while Rick Cormier, Rick Barkley, and Terry Buske had two goals and an assist each. Also scoring were Mike Fyke with a goal and an assist, Ray Imrie with a goal and an assist, and Neil Beckstead with a goal.

Pete Monast played both games in net.



Tammy Lalonde, right, shows the determination that gave the Tagwi Junior Warriors the SD and G title in Pool 1 with a perfect record of 10 straight wins. The Warriors completed the streak in their own gym on November 11 as they defeated the Glengarry Gaels 50-17. The team will now play the winner of a match-up between Hawkesbury and St. Lawrence in the second round of playoffs between Pool 1 and Pool 2 (Cornwall).

Finch extends lead with seventh victory

WINCHESTER (Staff) - With the Winchester Broomball League season seven games old, Finch has begun to move away from the rest of the pack in the nine team league.

Finch extended its winning streak this past week to seven games with a 6-1 victory over Osnabruck while the second place Dunbar Panthers lost 4-2 to Morewood leaving Finch with a comfortable five point gap between first and second place.

In other games, Newington and Ormond deadlocked 5-5 and Crysler edged Toyes Hill 2-1.

Finch 6, Osnabruck 1

The league's top two scorers, Dave Dumolin , Paul Peterson, scored two goals each to lead Finch to its seventh straight win.

The league's top two scorers, Dave Dumolin and Paul Peterson, scored two goals each to lead Finch to its seventh straight win.

Rene Dumoulin and Heine Bruining added singles while assists went to to Dave Dumolin (two), Paul Peterson (two), Heine Bruining, and Henry DeRooy.

T. Bilmer scored Osnabruck's only goal on an unassisted play late in the second period.

Noel Lalonde, who is averaging 0.57 goals a game, had the win in net.

Crysler 2, Toyes Hill 1

Crysler's Stan McBain scored two first period goals as Crysler held on to edge Toyes Hill 2-1 and extend Hill's losing streak to four games. Paul Fournier assisted on both goals for Crysler's second win of the season.

Toyes Hill only goal came midway through the third period on a shot by Dean Hansma set up by Robert Templeton.

Dave Carruthers was the winning goaltender while Wayne Hunter took the loss.

Morewood 4, Dunbar 2

Morewood's Terry Spratt scored the first and last goal of the game as his team found goaltender Wayne Pitt's (1.16 goals against average) weak side.

Morewood led 2-1 after one period on goals by Spratt and Brent Byers and Bill Moran made it 3-1 in the second.

Spratt's second goal, scored with 3:22 left in the game, was unassisted.

Newington 5, Ormond 5

Scoring for Newington were John Caesar with a hat trick, Dan Wert, and Chris Lemery. Caesar and Keith Stewart split the six assists.

Ormond got a pair of goals from Robert Scarth and singles from John Rooson, Keith Young, and Leo Vanderlaan. Dan McDiarmid had three assists and Young picked up two.

Don Whitteker was in net for Newington and Tony Vanderlaan for Ormond.

Hawks win two more

WINCHESTER (Staff) - The Winchester Hawks pounded their way to two consecutive victories over the weekend to bring their record over the .500 mark for the first time this season.

On Fri., Nov. 12, the Hawks outscored the Clarence Creek Beavers 10-6 in Winchester in a game marked by 86 minutes in penalties.

The rematch on Sun., Nov. 14 in Clarence Creek was a bit tamer, with 46 minutes handed out, as Winchester scored three goals in the second period to win 5-3.

The victories moved the Hawks into third place in the Alex English Division standings with a record of four wins, four losses, and a tie. The Beavers continue to occupy the cellar with a record of 1-7-2.

In other games, Alexandria tied Navan 7-7 and beat the Grads 7-3, the Morrisburg Lions edged Char-Lan 8-7, Metcalfe defeated Char-Lan 10-6, Navan doubled Alexandria 10-5, and the Metcalfe Jets hammered Morrisburg 10-1, a game in which both teams lost half a dozen players to automatic game suspensions for fighting.

Winchester 10, Beavers 6

The Hawks established a three goal a period pace and led 3-2 after one period and 6-3 after two.

Newington streak ends at ten games in Intermediate League

FINCH (Staff) - David Brown got five goals from five different players to defeat first place Newington 5-2 and move within a point of Newington in the standings race during North Stormont Intermediate Hockey League play here November 14.

The loss was Newington's first in five starts and marked the highest yield of goals the club's defensive lines have given up in a game this season.

In other games, Maxville-Monkland (Max-Monk) edged St. Andrews 3-2 and Finch defeated Avonmore 5-4.

David Brown 5, Newington 2

Despite the fact that both teams had demonstrated the strength of their offence, Newington averaging 5.5 goals a game and David Brown 5.0, Newington was supposed to hold the upper hand in this game with goaltender Kevin Baldwin.

In four games, Baldwin had allowed just two goals and had recorded shut outs against Avonmore, Long Sault, and St. Andrews.

But David Brown found Baldwin's weak spots as Doug Johnson and John Bedingfield opened up a 2-0 lead in the first period and Dale Swerdfeger and Linden Marcellus doubled it to 4-0 early in the second.

Newington fought back as Brian Holland and Grant Simpson scored eight seconds apart midway through the period but Clayton Ouderkirk dissolved the comeback with an insurance goal at 2:29.

Finch 5, Avonmore 4

Morris Dusomos scored his second, third, and fourth goals of the season to lead Finch to its first win in six starts, a win the club hopes will be a turning point following a disastrous start in which the team allowed 36 goals in a five game span.

Dusomos sandwiched a pair of goals around one by Avonmore's Blair Henderson to take Finch out of the first period leading 2-1.

Drew Adams came back with a pair of his own early in the second period to move Avonmore in front 3-2 but Dusomos and Brent Ouderkirk restored the Finch lead at 4-3.

Clarence Adams moved Avonmore into a tie for a final time at 11:26 before Mike Kuhn settled the scoring debate with a shot by Blake Henderson at 7:04.

Brian Perras was the winning goaltender.

Max-Monk 3, St. Andrew's 1

Brian Wensink scored twice on plays set up by Larry McDonald to lead Max-Monk to its third victory of the season.

Max-Monk led 1-0 after a period on the first of Wensink's goals and went ahead 2-0 at 18:10 of the second period when Larry Jackson beat St. Andrew's Gary Perras with a shot set up by Wensink.

Wensink took over the scoring again two minutes later to boost the lead to 3-0 and the team held on to that edge until 6:18 when Brian MacDonald scored on Jim Hume.

Allen MacDonell added a second goal with 2:27 left to play but a minor penalty in the final minutes deflated St. Andrew's chance at tying the game.

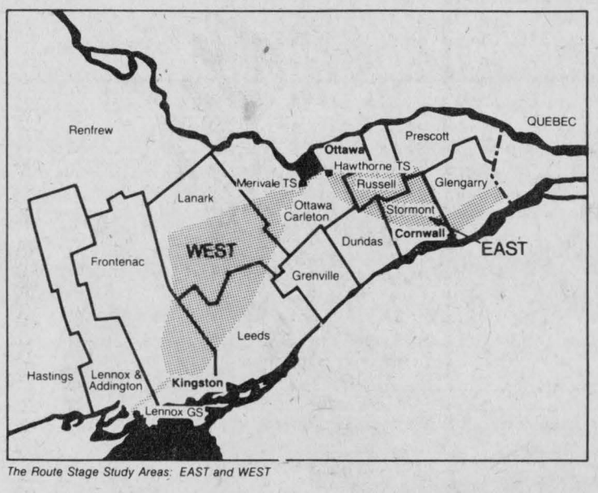
Transmission Line Study
Route Stage

Under the Consolidated Hearings Act, a Joint Board recently approved a plan for transmission facilities in Eastern Ontario as a basis for route stage studies. During 1983, Ontario Hydro will conduct studies to locate the following facilities within the approved route stage study area.



The Route Stage Study Areas: EAST and WEST

- two single circuit 500 kilovolt transmission lines from the switch yard at Lennox Generating Station near Kingston to the Hawthorne Transformer Station in Ottawa (one line to be in service in 1988 and the other when regional demand requires)
- one single circuit 500 kilovolt transmission line from Hawthorne Transformer Station to the St. Lawrence Transformer Station near Cornwall
- one high voltage line from St. Lawrence Transformer Station to the Quebec border
- additional 230 kilovolt circuits between Merivale and Hawthorne Transformer Stations in Ottawa
- an extension to the communications system used to protect and control these lines

If you would like further information on this project, please call 1-416-592-7842 (collect) or visit your nearest Ontario Hydro area office.
