Record 72.4% Turnout Gives Council New Look

Winchester voters spoke out strongly in favour of a new look for the municipal administration when they polled one of the largest votes in the history of the town on Monday.

Walter Shadbolt, who had previously been on council, swept an overwhelming victory over his two opponents, Basil Dawley and Don Christie. Mr. Shadbolt polled 522, 189 votes more than the total of the other two candidates. Mr. Dawley received 186 and Mr. Christie, 147.

A review of the day's voting trend indicates very clearly that Winchester residents were not satisfied with the old council and voted firmly in favour of change.

The change became very evident as results were tabulated and only one of the old council was given a renewed mandate. Dr. Larry Gray, who had served one term on council became the village's first Deputy Reeve when he edged Reg Fetterly by a mere four votes. Mr. Fetterly also completing a term on village council.

All three council seats will be filled by new faces with retired high school principal Howard Manchester leading the field with 622 votes. Keith Marquette polled 549 votes and Bob Carkner, 540. Encumbent councillor Frank Morgan went down to defeat with 371 votes and newcomer George Armstrong received 205 votes.

Another indication of the renewed interest in the affairs of the village was the extremely large turn out at the polls. Clerk Raymond Annable reported 72.4% of all eligible voters exercised their franchise and Mr. Annable suggested it was many years since such a keen interest had been shown.

The old council will meet once more and it is expected this meeting will be on December 29th when they will turn over the reins of office to their successors.

The new council is assuming office at a very critical time in the town's history. The demands of rapid expansion will demand very diligent administration and Mr. Shadbolt who operates stores in both Winchester and Chesterville will be faced with grave responsibilities. Supporters of the new Reeve are confident his years of administrative experience will stand him in good stead and assure stable government.

Osgoode Township Reeve Dr. W.A. Taylor received an enthusiastic vote of confidence on Monday when he swept to a resounding victory over his only opponent Jacques Lemay. Reeve Taylor received 1874 votes. Mr. Lemay, 409.

Winchester Township, where both Reeve Cecil McNabb and Deputy Delbert Link were acclaimed, voted only for the three-seat council. Four candidates were in the field and encumbent Rolland Cayer led the field with 496 votes. Simms New Mountain Reeve Three Councillors Make Debut Mountain Township elected an almost completely new council at Monday's election.

Since Reeve Harry Williams did not seek re-election the seat was contested by Ewart Simms and Councillor John Loughlin. Mr. Simms coasted to a comfortable win polling 578 votes to Mr. Loughlin's 250.

The Deputy-Reeve's chair was filled by acclamation by Ronald Timmins and five candidates contested the three council seats. Keith Fawcett led the field with 559 votes; Herman Jansen was second with 520 and Elwood Coons won the only remaining seat with 417. Encumbent Alton Casselman failed in his bid for re-election with 377 votes and Arthur Lough picked up 95.

Although ten candidates contested the four council seats only one change appeared following the final count. Newcomer Lorne Harrison led the polls with 1167 votes and three of the encumbent councillors were re-elected.

Albert McKeown, facing the electorate for the first time following his appointment to office following the death of Stewart James, polled 1126; veteran Maynard McDiarmid finished third with 910 and Philip McEvoy, seeking his second term in office, polled 841.

The other candidates and their order of finish was as follows: Cecil Stanley, 829; Robert Campbell, 815; Ian Grant, 685; Grant Bowman (encumbent), 617; George Holdsworth, 145 and Delbert Dillabough, 130.

Williamsburg Twp. Passes Street Lighting By-Law

Williamsburg township council members, at their regular meeting last week, passed a by-law authorizing the township to enter into an agreement with Ontario Hydro concerning street lighting in certain areas of the township.

Clerk Keith Schell reported that Don Irvine M.P.P. will be setting up a meeting with the Minister of Transportation and Communications within the next two weeks for the purpose of discussing a possible increase in the township's 1973 road appropriation.

The clerk was instructed to request the engineer to examine and report on the improvement of the Chas. M. Whitteker municipal drain.

A by-law was passed under the Tile Drainage Act, for the purpose of issuing debentures in the amount of $4,000.00.

The engineer's report on the improvement of the Allison Drain was read and adopted with a few minor changes.

Giant Parade Will Welcome Santa Claus

When Santa Claus pays his annual visit to Winchester this Saturday he will arrive just in time to line up with the giant parade which will move away from the Community Park at 2:00 in the afternoon.

No detail has been overlooked, according to the Chamber of Commerce press reporter, and everyone is urged to participate in the fun day planned to please all ages.

The colourful parade, complete with floats, and clowns will wind through village streets to the Public School where Santa and his helpers will pass out treats for youngsters who will later attend a free movie at Winchester theatre.

It is expected Santa Claus will find time to pay a brief visit to the hospital where he always enjoys renewing acquaintances with the friendly nurses and saying a cheery hello to all the patients.

Plan to spend the day in Winchester. All business outlets are ablaze with Christmas colour and shoppers are bound to enjoy the friendly hospitality and low prices that are so much a part of rural stores.

Flood Conditions Under Study

Residents affected by flood waters of the Nation and South Branch rivers met at Brinston Memorial Hall last week seeking some solution to the drainage problem.

This was an unusual year and the area was ravished by the over-flow not only during the spring run-off but several times during the summer and even late autumn.

Walter Baker, newly-elected Grenville-Carleton M.P.; representatives from neighbouring municipalities and also a representation from the South Nation River Authority were present for the important meeting.

Those present expressed the hope that some control plan could be worked out and that, in addition, financial assistance might be made available.

Area men appointed were: Lorne Strader, Douglas Irvine, Jerry Belanger, Norman Tinkler, Donald Buma, Rae Guy, Graham Hess and Irvine Adams.

100 Club Suggests Share Your Christmas

Again this year members of Winchester 100 Club will be distributing Christmas hampers to those less fortunate and relying on the presence of Santa Claus to help make the benefolent venture successful.

Those who would like to donate canned goods or other Christmas goodies (not perishables) are asked to place such articles on the 100 Club float this Saturday.

Donations may also be left at Lannin's Lumber Company office or with any club member.

"Your Christmas", says one Centurian, "will be much happier if you share it with someone less fortunate."

North Dundas Band Report

by Janice Docksteader

Since December has arrived and the snow is fresh, let's think about Christmas and all the festivities which accompany it ... "The Christmas Festival" for example. It's our North Dundas District High School Concert Band's annual presentation which promises to take the form of one of the most delightful Yule concepts of the year.

The young musicians have some fanciful sounds in mind and are busy in preparation for Monday, December 18th.

We're going to visit Korea with magestic brilliance in an exciting extravaganza scored for percussion and symphonic band. The mid-eastern revenue of the ages is reflected in a beautiful carol-part of "Slavonic Suite".

The increasing enrollment in our music program in the past few years has resulted in an excellent Junior band. The students range in age from 14-16 and have been rehearsing readily for their performance.

This year once again, the senior students have come forth in the formation of their dance band. They have created a unique sound in that many students double on instruments and thus able to achieve greater variations in tonality.

There's something else special about the festival! Christmas means 'coming home for the holidays' and there is the exact good will behind the plans of the student committee as they invite all former band members back to NDDHS for a fine reunion. Old friends and festive foods are delightful ingredients which are to spark the memory of many.

One former band member who is coming home for the festivities is bassoonist David Ennis. Dave has been studying music at the University of Western Ontario for the past three years, and is undoubtedly one of the finest bassoonists in Canada today for his age. David Ennis is our guest artist for the evening, performing concerta for bassoon by Teleman.

We're also going to celebrate Christmas in our fine Canadian style with the chorus of a brass choral as we deck the halls with gusto and jingle merrily away in the excitement of the season on Monday, December 18th at 8:15 p.m. in the North Dundas School auditorium.

Christmas is a family affair and music is the universal language of all! Think about joining your friends at the Christmas festival.

CANADA PENSION PLAN

by Carleton County Agricultural Extension Personnel

The Canadian Pension Plan went into effect on January 1st, 1966 and will provide full retirement pension as of January 1st, 1976. Many people do not understand this plan and may not be taking full advantage of it.

To participate a self-employed person must have earnings of at least $800 with maximum earnings level of $5500. Pensions are directly related to the average salary upon which contributions are made.

What Are The Benefits

(1) Retirement pension at 65 equal to 25% of your average annual earnings since January 1st, 1966.

(2) Disability pension if you have contributed for at least 5 years, of $27.60 per month plus 75% of your retirement pension, calculated as if you had reached 65 at time of being disabled. In addition, each child will receive $27.60.

(3) Survivor's benefits - If a contributor has contributed for one third of the years in which he might have contributed or ten years, whichever is smaller, his survivors benefits include:

(a) A death benefit in a lump sum equal to six times his monthly retirement pension. If he dies before 65, it is calculated as if he had reached that age at the time he died.

(b) Widow's benefit - this varies with age and circumstances. If he was 65 years or over, the widow receives $27.60 per month, plus 37 1/2 percent of her husband's retirement pension. Widows under 45 years of age are eligible if they have dependent children.

(c) Orphans benefits - the amount of an orphan's benefits is $27.60 per month for each of the first four dependent children, and $13.80 for each additional child.

As you can see, benefits are greater at the maximum level of participation which in 1972 was $176.40.

If we keep in mind the benefits such as disability income, widow's pensions, children's benefits, lump sum death benefit, and retirement pension, it can be said that the Canada Pension is a sound investment.

Metcalfe & District Lions Club
CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

CHRISTMAS CHEER BROADCAST:

Once again this year the club will be participating in the annual Christmas Cheer Broadcast sponsored by West Ottawa Lions Club in conjunction with Radio Station C.F.R.A. The Metcalfe and District club is extremely thankful for generous donations in the past and anticipates an overwhelming response again this season. The revenue is used to bring happiness into homes of those less fortunate at Christmas time.

CHRISTMAS TREES:

Beautiful Christmas Trees are already being offered for sale at various area outlets and revenue from this project is also used exclusively to help the club's continuous health and welfare program.

CHOCOLATE DRIVE:

During the last few weeks before Christmas, Lion members will be visiting homes offering delicious chocolates for sale and here, too, net revenue is funnelled back into the community.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Your support makes our benevolent efforts possible. On behalf of all club members I extend a sincere wish that your Christmas may be a very happy one, and that your generosity will help us ensure a Merry Christmas for everyone.

Eric Shortt

CGIT Members Seek Assistance

Members of the C.G.I.T. are conducting a campaign to collect useable gifts, toys, costume juewllery, and games which they plan to distribute at the Smiths Falls Regional School.

The girls have made arrangements to have such articles placed in a box at the Shadbolt store and those seeking further information are asked to call Mrs. Davidson at 774-2537.

Two Remarkable Traffic Cases

Two remarkable traffic cases reported in the Toronto press on November 28, 1972 are outlined by the Ontario Safety League:

(a) James L. King was sentenced to life imprisonment for killing a 10 year old boy on a bicycle. He deliberately ran him down at 70 m.p.h. because he had "a lot of hate and frustration" and wanted to strike out at someone. He has been in prison or mental hospitals since 1946.

(b) Ferdinando Caravaggio was sentenced to 60 days in jail for dangerous driving that killed a 75 year old woman pedestrian - then praised by the judge, who expressed regret that the driver's employer had not been charged in his place.

He was driving a 5-ton truck to which was attached a back hoe in such a way that the boom made it impossible to see to the right, and he never saw the woman he struck. Mr. Judson Haines said of Caravaggio: "I have formed a very good impression of him and think he is an excellent New Canadian." He sentenced him to serve in jail only at weekends, excluding Christmas and New Year, so that he could continue to earn a living .... "otherwise I would be punishing his wife and family."

Education Minister Announces School Construction Slowdown

The Ministry of Education will not approve new school construction until it has been shown that the need for new accommodation exists and is not available from another school board in the same geographic area.

The announcement was made last week by Education Minister Thomas Wells in a memorandum to all Ontario school boards.

The move is part of a two-point program to ensure that public and separate school boards consult each other on a regular

Mr. Wells said the policy is aimed at avoiding waste and duplication in school facilities while at the same time ensuring that basis regarding enrolment patterns and accommodation available within their areas.

Mr. Wells said it was not his intention to have public and separate school pupils share the same classroom because it is essential that each group retain their distinct identity.

However, the Ministry is not prepared to finance new school construction when adequate vacant accommodation is available nearby. Mr. Wells said that it is no longer acceptable for school boards to view the matter of school accommodation in an isolated manner. It must, he said be viewed on a broader perspective with less attention paid to the jurisdictional boundaries of a particular school board.

the proper care and education of the children involved is guaranteed.

The Ministry, Mr. Wells said, is prepared to withhold all approvals for new construction where there is a clear indication that planning and decision making has not been carried out in the public interest and where it is clear the new construction is not necessary.

Under the new policy boards must cooperatively consider their enrolment needs, and from the cooperative planning process estimate the number of students attending public and separate schools within their area. Then they must work out a plan by which their accommodation requirements can be met.

Mr. Wells suggested this could take the form of sharing of schools, the sale of schools between boards or by new construction.

The Minister also announced the establishment of a study team to consider the problems associated with the sharing of schools or transferring of students from one system to another. The study team will consider the question of late transfer of pupils from one system to another. This, he said, creates serious problems for the boards involved, because they have planned their teaching and accommodation requirements before such transfers are made, leaving them with too much or too little space.

Co-charimen of the Team are Mr. J. A. Marrese, Chairman of the Metropolitan Toronto Separate School Board and Dr. R.J. Christie, Chairman of the York Board of Education. They have been asked to complete their report by the end of January.

Winchester Family Loses Home

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the trailer-home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Coates, Winchester onTuesday morning. Both Mr. and Mrs. Coates and their child were absent when neighbours noticed the fire.

The accompanying photo was taken only a few hours after the fire was brought under control but nothing of value was salvaged.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who supported me for Councillor.

I will contribute to the best of my ability.

Bioavailability Of Drug Products

National Health and Welfare Minister John Munro announced today the establishment of an expert advisory committee of non-governmental medical experts to provide advice on all aspects of the bioavailability of drug products. Bioavailability measures are intended to provide an accurate indication of the amount of drug available to the body. Different brands of the same drug which do not have comparable bioavailability may not exert equivalent therapeutic effects.

Mr. Munro said he was well aware that despite its seeming simplicity, the interpretation of bioavailability data was, in fact, a complex scientific matter. For this reason he had asked six eminent medical scientists to examine the whole question and provide him with their advice. He expected the committee to meet within the next few weeks and to receive a report from them shortly thereafter.

Illegal Bank Note Reproduction Results In Media Prosecution

The Ontario Provincial Police Anti-Rackets Branch is concerned with the ever increasing trend on the part of the advertising and printing media to reproduce the likeness of Canadian paper currency in commercial advertising and other printed material. While such reproductions cheapen the position of Bank notes in the public eye, many of the formats used are in contravention of the Criminal Code of Canada.

Few charges have been laid in recent years as warnings seemed to suffice, however, because of the increase in reproduction and after consultation with senior Crown Counsel of the Ministry of the Attorney General, no further warnings are to given and charges will be laid where circumstance warrant.

The section of the Code dealing with this subject reads in part, "Everyone who publishes or prints anything in the likeness or appearance of all or part of a current Bank note or all or part of any obligation or security of a Government or Bank, is guilty of an offence."

A Sincere "THANK YOU"

To The Voters Of Osgoode Township For Your Support.

Looking Forward To Working With You In The Coming Years.

SHE WANTS TO BELONG

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Here is a little girl who very much wants a Mummy and Daddy.

She asks her Children's Aid Society social worker often and wistfully if adopting parents have been found yet. The wait is beginning to seem long and anxious.

Patsy is a sweet, shy child, eight years old, Indian in descent. Sturdily built, she has brown eyes, black hair and clear olive skin. Her glasses are for astigmatism.

She is in opportunity class because her development is below the average for her age. But recent psychological tests indicate her ability will improve in a loving, stimulating home with parents to whom she is important.

Pleasant, affectionate and outgoing, Patsy is highly strung in stressful situations but always responsive to love and encouragement.

Patsy goes to church regularly with her foster family and looks forward to Sunday School. She likes playing outdoors and thinks camping is great fun.

Patsy needs a mother and father in a home where the atmosphere is warm and secure.

To inquire about adopting Patsy, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.

Kemptville A.I. Unit Bred Two Top Holsteins

by Mel Thomas

The Royal Winter Fair at Toronto is the fall round-up of the best Cattle in Canada.

The Grand Champion Holstein cow was Green Elms Echo Christina V.G. as Roybrook Telstar daughter that came from the herd of Palmer Wilson of Pakenham. Her dam was by Seiling Rockman, from a Lassie Leader cow. Both these sires were in service at Eastern Breeders, Kemptville, Ontario.

Mr. Wilson had milking herd dispersal in 1970 and Christina, became the prize possession of R.F. Brown at Paris, Ontario who showed her at the Royal, and also took the Grand Champion at the Erin Championship Show. She is also a worker, producing consistantly 110 lbs. of milk per day in the present lactation, and as a four year old produced 18,420 lbs. in 365 days. She had the highest, breed class average production of the prize winning holsteins, and took home the Erle Kitchen trophy.

The Grand Champion bull was Briarwood Chieftain, also a son of Roybrook Telstar and bred by Manly Charland of Elgin, Ontario. "Chieftain" is now owned and was shown by the A.I. Centre at St. Hyacinthe, Quebec.

There is no doubt but these two animals will go on to be the "All Canadian" holsteins for 1972.

If You Are Stranded . . .

The Ontario Provincial Police want to be able to identify you if you happen to be stranded

The quickest way to let the OPP know you need help is to raise the hood of your car. That way, a passing OPP officer will know you need help.

You might also consider turning on your emergency four-way flashers and tying a white handkerchief to your antenna or door handle. You may even use flares if you have them.

If you experience mechanical difficulties with your car remember to get your car as far off the roadway and on to the shoulder as possible.

Now Is The Time

TO FILE FOR CATTLE IMPORT PERMITS

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan announced today that, in order to ensure consideration, requests for permits for the 1973-74 European cattle importation should be filed with the Canada Department of Agriculture no later than December 31, 1972.

Requests to import cattle in 1973-74 should be filed with the Veterinary Director General, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, from whom application forms can be obtained. Applicants should specify the breed, number of animals desired and country of origin of the cattle.

Following receipt of these application forms, prospective importers will be asked to support their proposed breeding program.

Cattle will undergo tests and quarantine on either of the two maximum quarantine stations, one at Grosse Ile, Quebec, and the other on the Island of St. Pierre.

Providing favourable health conditions continue, the 1973-74 importations call for one group to arrive at Grosse Ile in October, 1973, another group to arrive at St. Pierre in November, 1973, and a third group to arrive at the St. Pierre Station in May, 1974.

Winchester Hawks Hit Winning Stride

Winchester 'Hawks', plagued by lack of rink facilities at home, finally found the range last Saturday night at Spencerville when they were full value for their 4 to 0 victory.

John Klein Swarmink opened the scoring early in the game when he capitalized on a play set up by Keith McRoberts and Lloyd Fawcett. In the dying seconds of the period Keith McRoberts fired home a pass from Rae Armstrong and Klein Swarmink to give Hawks a 2-goal lead as the gong sounded.

The second period was scoreless till the 15-minute mark when McRoberts, teaming up with Klein Swarmink and James Duncan to beat Lalonde in the Spencerville net, and again with only seconds remaining, Winchester added their fourth counter off the stick of Rae Armstrong. Joe Marriner and Bob McClintock were credited with assists.

Both goalies proved unbeatable in the final stanza.

Hawks face a tough weekend with three away games in three days but appear much stronger than in the opening stages of league play and should come out with at least four points.

Fire Chiefs Outline Christmas Plans

A happy Christmas can change in a few moments into family tragedy, warns Winchester's Fire Chief Dalton Kenney, in homes where fire safety precautions are neglected. Such precautions should head the list of every sensible family's preparations for Christmas, he says.

The Fire Chief urges the public to exercise special care in the setting up and decoration of Christmas trees, and draws attention to the following important points:

If plans call for a natural tree it should be bought fresh and green, and kept outdoors or in an unheated garage before being brought into the home for decorating. Then, one or two inches should be cut diagonally from the butt, and the tree should be set up with the butt in water which should be maintained above the level of the cut.

Check strings of electric lights carefully for worn insulation, broken plugs or loose bulb sockets. Only CSA-approved lighting sets and only non-flammable decorations should be used. Declare the tree a no-smoking area and keeep matches out of the hands of children.

Do not allow discarded gift wrappings to accumulate under the tree. Dispose of them as soon as the gifts are opened. Even a green tree will burn if ignited by burning paper around the base.

Set up the tree away from heat sources such as fireplaces, TV sets or radiators. Do not allow it to block access to doors or windows in the event of fire. Switch off tree lights at bedtime or when leaving the house.

Fire Chief Pete Griffin of Metcalfe points out that tests have proved that the safest tree is a tree with its butt set in water. However, if a tree has dried out before it is set up, it cannot regain its safe moisture level. A dry tree can be ignited by a single match, to burn violently to a charred state in a few seconds.

Even artificial trees can be serious fire hazards. Metallic trees are conductors of electricity, and should not be decorated with strings of lights, but illuminated with floodlights. Some plastic trees, made from styrene materials, are flammable, unlike those made from polyvinyl-chloride.

All trees should be removed from the home as soon as possible after the Christmas celebrations.

Safety Week For Snowmobilers

Snowmobile Safety Week in Ontario begins tomorrow. The whole purpose of a "safety week" is to inundate the public by every possible medium with every conceivable idea which the purported experts think will prevent accidents and fatalities.

During Snowmobile Week, December 10 - 16, there are just two ideas that the Ontario Safety League would like the snowmobiling public to seriously consider:

(1) Over three-quarters of all fatal snowmobile accidents in Ontario occurred on public thoroughfares. A snowmobile is designed to travel on snow, where the track that propels it and brakes it and the skis which steer it can get sufficient grip to perform efficiently. On the hard-packed and often icy surface of a public thoroughfare frequented by motor vehicle traffic, the snowmobile becomes difficult to steer or stop. This lack of control combined with the close proximity of fast moving cars and trucks produces an extremely hazardous situation. The first snowmobile fatality of the 1972-73 season was a snowmobile-motor vehicle collision.

(2) Drunken snowmobile operators were involved in a high percentage of snowmobile accidents in Ontario during the 1971-72 season. It is the considered opinion of many experienced snowmobilers that the snowmobile requires more skill for safe operation than an automobile; so how can anyone expect to safely operate one of these machines with their ability impaired.

In a nutshell, this is the Ontario Safety League's Snowmobile Safety Week message: "If snowmobilers want to eliminate over 75% of all snowmobile accidents, stay off public thoroughfares and quit drinking and driving."

EVERYBODY NEEDS IT AT LEAST ONCE

It seems to me that kids don't have much fun anymore. Today I was reading a short story with a group of eighteen-year-olds. It was about a shy, fluttery spinster out on her first public date with a widower who was courting her. They went to a dance. She tripped and fell and her man came tumbling down on top of her.

It was funny, but pathetic, and the kids, who are sensitive to humiliation, exuded sympathy, especially the girls. We talked for a bit about the things that make people shy or awkward or self-conscious: acne, obesity, a colostomy. Fine. A good discussion.

But then I asked if any of them had had the same experience – falling flat on the dance floor. Horrors, no!

Of course, the way they dance nowadays, it's almost impossible to measure your length on the hardwood. Most of them dance by themselves, and it's pretty hard to topple unless you're blind, stoned. On slow pieces, those rare occasions, they are clutched so tightly that it would take a bulldozer to knock them down.

Most of the time, in fact, they don't even dance, just listen to the clangour and thump. And it's pretty hard to fall down on a dance floor when you're not dancing. I mean, it's the sort of thing you have to work at.

Anyway, I just sat back, looked them over, and shook my head. "You kids haven't lived. Nobody has really lived who hasn't gone sprawling on a dance floor, preferably bringing down his or her partner in the process."

There's nothing like it to pare the ego down to size. And it helps if you do it before a large and appreciative audience.

I can recall at least two occasions on which it happened to me. Once was at the Cascades, of fond memory. The second was at the Legion Hall in Tobermory. And I have living witnesses. My wife doesn't know about the second one, so keep it quiet.

But I can well recall the sensation. One moment you are gliding about, leaping and pirouetting, a veritable Rudolph Nureyev in Swan Lake. The next, your pas des deux somehow turns into a pas des trois, you discover that your partner is not Margot Fonteyn, and you're flat on your back, head spinning from the thump on the floor, and a broad who a moment ago was light as thistledown, sprawled across you like Strangler Lewis winning the deciding fall.

There's only one thing to do. Leap to your feet, laughing hollowly, and so quickly that the spectators might think it was all part of the performance. They never do, of course. And it's pretty lonely out there in the middle of the floor when your partner, who has been shamed for life, gives you a look like a cold shower, and stalks away forever.

"What? Don't you people ever go to a country dance and get hurled about?", I badgered my students. Nope.

So I had to tell them what it was like. When I was their age, we used to strike off many a Friday night. Usually for Wemyss, where they had the prettiest girls (Jo and Vera Dewitt, Ursula Brady), and the best music (Lorne Consitt on the piano and Mr. Dewitt on the fiddle.)

There was no question of taking girls. We couldn't afford it. But there was always the hope that you'd get to take one home. However, they always seemed to have several huge brothers or cousins lurking about.

It was about $1.00 for the evening. Fifty cents for the dance, eight-five cents for a mickey of gin, split four ways, and the rest for gas for somebody's old man's car.

"Have you never got into a square dance and been literally swept off your feet?", I questioned my girl students. Nope. But some of them looked as though they rather liked the idea.

And I thought of those burly farm boys, getting into the spirit of things and whirling the girls around until the latter were actually flying. Occasionally, sweaty hands spelled disaster, and one of the girls would go flying off into the lunch the ladies were organizing. The lunch was part of the admission fee of 50¢.

And I thought of occasions when I had got into a doh-se-doh with a particularly enthusiastic and buxom farm wench, and, because I couldn't foot it like the farm boys, been swung around in circles with both feet three inches off the floor.

A couple of belts of raw gin, and a couple of dances like that, and you were ready and willing to go out into the snow and gaze, palely and greenly at the moon for a half hour or so.

Inside the hall, with a wood stove almost red hot, and a hundred or so bodies steaming, it was always about 130 degrees. And this was in the days before ultra-dry deodorants. But I don't remember anybody smelling anything except hot and perfumey.

Eventually, there'd be a fight, or lunch would be served, then it was into the Model A and shiver home through the winter night. No heater.

But, oh, what a night we'd had, and oh, what stories we regaled our less venturesome school-mates with, when we fore-gathered at the pool room on Saturday afternoon.

Poor modern kids. Do they have any fun?

Time For Meditation

by Rev. Gordon C. Smyth

The Land And The Promise

The amazing feature of Israel was its sense of destiny. It was smaller than Nova Scotia. Within its boundaries, nature seemed determined to lock the door and throw away the key. However, Israel could no more escape international involvement than Belgium in modern times. It was often a pawn in the game of empires.

Israel was successively a loose confederation of tribes, a people ruled by judges, and state subject to kings. In the sixth century B.C., it almost disappeared through conquest. When the Exile ended, it became a province swayed by foreign governors and a community dominated by its own priests. A blaze of political independence under the Maccabees was extinguished by the Roman General Pompey in 63 B.C.

What of its cultural impact? Israel's poets were psalmists and prophets. It had no philosophy like Greece, no political science liek Rome. It seemed poor soil for any variety of seed. But the planting was great. We are fed from the harvest. Take away God and nothing would have grown. Add God and you have the explanation of fertility. One of Israel's spokesmen might well testify, "God is a sun and shield" (Psalm 84:11).

The small patch of ground made a claim that almost takes one's breath away. The worse its condition, the more insistent the claim. For instance, Isaiah wrote, "There shall come forth a shoot from the stump of Jesse, and a branch shall grow out of his roots ... He shall not judge by what his eyes see, or decide by what his ears hear; but with righteousness he shall judge the poor, and decide with equity for the meek of the earth ... The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea ... In that day the root of Jesse shall stand as an ensign to the peoples; him shall the nations seek, and his dwellings shall be glorious" (Isaiah 11:1-10).

The hope of a Messiah became the most cherished Jewish possession. It was held by some in gross forms. But in all its forms there was the ardent expectation of one sent from God to be the Redeemer. Besides, nowhere else in the ancient world was there a religious life so pure and strong as that which nourished the best representatives of Israel. It had the highest conception of God and the noblest ideal of behavior. The crop was ripe. God, who spoke in many and various ways to past generations, was at last prepared to speak clearly and universally in his Son.

From Christ's life has flowed a more powerful force for the triumphal waging of man's long battle than anyother ever known by the human race. Through it millions have had their inner conflicts resolved in progressive victory over their baser impulses. By it millions have been sustained in the greatest tragedies of life and have come through radiant. It has been the most fruitful source of movements to lessen the horrors of war, and to put the relations of men and nations on the basis of justice and peace. Time and again, the faith that Christ inspires seems dying, yet it lives. Cultures with which it is associated disappear, yet it has a phenomenal capacity for moulding new cultures. Every time the tide of faith goes out in history it comes back on a stronger, wider crest.

Therefore, Christians will enter the Advent Season next Sunday, December 3rd, with confidence. Do you remember the story of Queen Victoria, when Handel's "Messiah" was first played in England? It had already become the custom for people on the Continent to rise to their feet at the "Hallelujah Chorus". But everyone thought the Queen should remain seated by reason of her station.

However, when the great strains of majestic music floated out, "And He shall reign for ever and ever", Victoria, with fine insight got to her feet, lifted the crown from her head and stood with bowed head with the rest. The gesture was prophetic of the time when, at the name of Jesus, every head and knee shall bow, in heaven and on earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

The Seventh Column

At time of writing all those who laboured so diligently seeking municipal office most likely sit nervously pondering what effect their eloquent gestures had on Mr. and Mrs. Voter. By the time this column is read, however, some will be wearing smiles of victory and others will have tasted the bitter pangs of defeat. We salute the winners and remind them of the grave responsibilities they have assumed. We also salute the losers and remind them their efforts were not in vain. Their gentlemanly conduct during the campaign created a new interest in municipal affairs, and their willingness to serve makes them favoured candidates the next time around.

Last week we used two valued friends to release us from the "football hook." This time we accept all responsibility for a slight error in judgment. In a painful effort to be as good a sport as those who lost on election day, we must congratulate Chuck Ealey and his Tiger Cats. If was a contest right down to the wire between two very evenly matched teams, but the young Hamilton quarterback was full value for the honours bestowed on him. In our books he proved once again that he should have been named the league's outstanding player and received the Schenley Award prior to the big game.

Included among the magazines we read almost "religiously" each month are "The United Church Observer" and "The Lion." Both are crammed full of interesting and timely material and just the right touch of humour. We suggest reading James A. Taylor's article entitled "Someone Always Has To Lose" (The Observer). It's the story of the Rev. Gervis Black who ran for parliament in the last Federal election and was defeated. From The Lion we recommend "Aspen Bold," a tale of real courage by blind skiers. We admit finding the following in the same publications. This one, so it says, appeared in a weekly newspaper . . . "the tenor soloist sang, "I Will Not Pass This Way Again" much to the delight of the audience. And this one we know all husbands will want to file for future reference: Wife to neighbour, "My husband doesn't show the slightest interest in what I do. All he cares about is whatever it is he does at that place wherever it is that he works."

Strangers visiting the "Barn" (that's Alex English's store) last Saturday morning may have wondered just a bit about the two grown men sitting on the floor playing with money. That's right, two grown men, this writer and Alex himself. Before anyone gets the wrong idea we assure you it can be real fun sitting on the floor piling up stacks, and stacks, and stacks of silver dollars — and it would have been much more fun if Alex had let us take them home. But Mr. English is funny that way. He said he plans to give away all five hundred of the lovely discs; suggested we might even be the recipient; insisted we wait till just before Christmas . . . and then he added the "catch word." "If" we hold the lucky number they'll all be ours. But on the other hand maybe YOU'LL be the lucky one and then you can take them home, sit on the floor and let them slither gently through your fingers.

A news release a couple of weeks ago told of the bus owned and operated by Embrun Minor Hockey Association and used solely for transporting young players. This, we think, is an amazing accomplishment for a small town despite the fact one team in the World Hockey Association (the Houston Aeros) has its own plane and pilot. And speaking of flying, our Winchester Hawks have been gliding dangerously low this past few weeks. Wait till our own ice is ready, boys, then we'll show 'em.

Heard a fine quartette singing a real old timer on television recently and for some strange reason (possibly because Christmas time is memory time), we were reminded of teenage quartettes that sang on the old "Town Bridge" (Metcalfe) many, many years ago. At the risk of sounding prejudiced we suggest those melodious voices, blending in perfect harmony, far excelled the top-rated television talent of this age. There were two such singing groups and we hope reading this column will conjure up many other pleasant dreams of those pre-war days. O.K., we'll jog your memory — remember Oren Stanley, Stirl Bishop, Delmer Morrison and Jim Rowan, as well as the brother combination, Lawrence, Fred, Bill and Len Mullins? Other neighbouring towns must also have boasted such talented young men (or women). If so, why not drop us a line and let us help forge a meaningful memory chain.

If Robert Service had been in Winchester last Saturday night and if he had visited the curling club he might have writen something like this:

There are strange claims to fame in the curling game,
By the men who play for the 'gold';
And the curling ice has its secret vice
That would make your blood run cold.
Winchester nights have had mighty queer sights,
But the queerest they ever got
Was that awful sight on Saturday night
And the crowning of "Miss Grey Pot."

In comparison, the "Cremation of Sam McGee" would have looked like a meeting of the Ladies' Aid.

Bringing Home the Tree

Christmas wouldn't be the same without a tree to adorn the home. Everyone knows the excitement of tramping through the snow to find the "right" tree; the breathless rush to take it home; and the crowning glory, the newly decorated tree.

Many things, both large and small, make this the most festive season: A Christmas card from an old friend; little noses pressed against a store window; gently falling snow on Christmas Eve; the joyous clamor of friends and relations who have gathered together once more.

OFA President Gordon Hill Urges Immediate Zoning For Livestock Farming

"Parts of each county must be zoned for livestock farming and quickly," says Gordon Hill, President, Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

Hill asked the 400 farmers gathered at the OFA's Annual Meeting in Hamilton today, "How can farmers be expected to invest in modern livestock facilities when they could face the threat of closure next week - next month - next year?"

Recently, a by-law was passed by the Niagara district prohibiting the expansion of livestock buildings. Area farmers with the support of the Federation and other commodity groups are appealing the by-law before the Ontario Municipal Board.

"This hangs like a guillotine over the heads of farmers," says Hill. "If the by-law is approved, the farmers affected must be compensated for their loss. Anything less would mean confiscation of their rights."

Hill said farmers do not want to pollute, but cannot afford to invest in costly pollution abatement equipment when their lands are threatened.

Canada's welfare system received ridicule at the meeting. "There was a desperate shortage of apple-pickers, tobacco workers, and fruit and vegetable harvest help," says Hill. Meanwhile he said unemployment insurance pays up to $100 a week, and lures able-bodied men from doing farm work.

"The purpose of unemployment insurance should be to feed and house a person who is out of work through no fault of his own. It should be survival insurance, not an incentive to leave the work force.

"Welfare laws, too, have been stretched. Welfare must be remodelled to give a decent standard of living only to those who are unable to find work. Welfare Bums, corporate or individual, will not be tolerated by Canadian tax payers, and must be eliminated..."

Hill, a Varna hog and white bean producer, spoke at the end of his third year as Federation President. He told the farmers present that a larger membership would enable the Federation to serve farmers better. Now the OFA has 12,227 members. Hill set the membership target at 18,000 by next convention.

He pointed to vertical integration as another prime concern of farmers. Hill placed part of the blame for growing integration on banks for not providing enough short and intermediate-term credit to farmers. "The Provincial Government should amend the charter of the 'Province of Ontario Saving's Office' so banks can lend short-term money to farmers."

Licensing or registering of farmers, added Hill, is one way of slowing future integration. "Who can produce food commercially, and participate in government programs for farmers, must be settled soon!"

"Farmers make tremendous contributions to Canada. In 1971, Canadian farmers bought 3 billion dollars worth of goods and services. The farm machinery industry employs 15,000 workers--- to feed industry, 9,000. About one-third of the freight moved through the Seaway, and nearly 20% of the goods moved by railways, comes from farmers. This means jobs and wages."

What faces the consumer, Hill claimed, is the cost of high living not the high cost of living. "Wages continue to rise much faster than food prices, so that an hour's work buys more food today than ever before. That includes fancy packages, partial preparation and all the promotion that's included."

He told the farmers delegates from across Ontario, that their largest future increase in farm income will come from the market place. "Farmers must become experts in marketing."

The National Marketing Legislation gives farmers from all provinces the opportunity to get together and explore the market, said Hill. He called the recent forming of a National Egg Agency, a forward step.

"Canada badly needs a feed grains policy. There must be balance of regional responsibility." He told the meeting grain producers must get decent prices for their crops, while livestock producers must have adequate supplies of reasonably-priced grains. "The Canadian Federation of Agriculture adopted such a policy. Hopefully, this proposal will be implemented right away."

Christmas Seal Campaign Shows Encouragement

Christmas Seal Campaign Chairman, Lyal Nixon, said last week that returns from the annual mailing of Christmas Seals are encouraging, with more than half of last year's total collected to date. He emphasized that early return of contributions means a great deal to the Campaign, in that reminder envelopes require postage, adding to administration expenses.

"Of approximately 25,000 letters despatched, 3,200 letters have been returned with contributions, and we are optimistic that our final total will exceed that $18,000. collected last year. This will enable us to carry on the Educational and Research Programs we are actively supporting," said Mr. Nixon.

Form New Food Systems Branch In Agriculture

A new Food Systems Planning and Coordination Branch has been formed within the Canada Department of Agriculture.

The announcement was made last week by Agriculture Minister H. A. (Bud) Olson, following a meeting with the provincial ministers of agriculture.

"The new branch evolved from the provincial ministers of agri- the Project 75 task force set up earlier this year," Mr. Williams said.

Project 75 was a new federal Department of Agriculture aprach to agricultural coordination and development based on a market-oriented food systems concept.

The aim of the task force was to provide a focus for the coordination of agricultural programs on a food systems basis - both coordinating departmental programs with those of other facets of the system as well as coordinating the commitment of outside resources with departmental programs.

"The task force phase of the program is now finished. The formation of the new branch gives a permanent organization to carry out this approach," Mr. Olson said.

"The role of the new branch will be to work with all segments -- producers, processors, distributors, etc. -- to develop market-oriented plans for various commodities throught the planning, development and coordination of programs within the federal agriculture department and with other components of the food system.

"It will also be responsible for liaison within and between the various components of the industry.

"And, the branch will be responsible for monitoring and assessing food systems programs, beginning with the beef, high energy grains and oilseeds commodities."

Heading the new branch, with the title assistant deputy minister, will be Dr. A.E. Hannah.

Dr. Hannah has been leader of the Project 75 task force since September, 1971.

A native of Rouleau, Sask., he joined the Agriculture Canada Research Branch in p945 as a student assistant at the Winnipeg Research Station.

He held various positions in Winnipeg and Ottawa until p963, when he was appointed director of the Winnipeg Research Station.

He returned to Ottawa in January, 1971, as assistant director-general (planning and coordination) in the Research Branch.

AR PAD UT IO SZAM

Where Do You Send This Letter?

Where would you send a letter addresed to AR PAD UT 10 SZAM?

That's exactly the kind of problem facing Canada Post Office sorters every day for mail going overseas.

More than 200,000 such letters handled annually at the Montreal Post Office's air mail and foreign surface section had undecipherable or incomplete addresses.

The biggest headache for sorters is when the writing is difficult or impossible to decipher. On some letters the address is typed or written in a foreign language. Often the name of the city or country is left out.

These letters are screened by a group of postal experts, who try to determine the correct address before forwarding each letter on to its destination or, if unsuccessful, returning it to the sender (providing, or course, there is a return address).

The problem is sometimes solved by leafing through three volumes of the International List of Post Offices. Each volume has more than 700 pages.

The list came in very handy when a letter was received in Montreal with the last line of the address reading simply "Cebu City". A check of one of the volumes revealed that Cebu City is a Post Office in the Phillipines.

Other times experience helps. Occasionally a hint as to the destination of a letter is provided from the locality in which it was posted.

"The problem of undecipherable or imcomplete addresses is increasing all the time because more and more people are arriving from Europe to reside in Canada," said E.W. Lewis, programme administrator of the Post Office's National Operations Branch.

"It is at the stage now where it is costing a lot of money to handle," he said.

The Post Office is trying something new to help alleviate the problem. Quite simply, local postmasters are being asked to try to contact the sender in order to correct these letters before they are sent on their way.

"This way the local postmaster is helping both the customer and the Post Office," Mr. Lewis said.

However, if a local postmaster cannot contact the sender, the letter is then forwarded to the nearest overseas mail exchange office (there are ten in Canada) where it is examined with the help of the International List of Post Offices.

Overseas mail exchange offices are located in post offices in Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Halifax and St. John's, Newfoundland.

"The new system will speed up the processing of this type of mail," Mr. Lewis said, "and alleviate the burden which, until now, fell on just one post office (Montreal).

"The big advantage for the customer is that his letter won't get mixed up with the thousands of other such letters in the Montreal office.

"If we can educate the public about the importance of proper addressing," Mr. Lewis added, "it will help not only the Post Office, but customers as well, by speeding up the delivery of thses letters."

You would probably still be trying to figure out what to do with ARPAD UT 10 SZAM.

Historical Plaque Unveiled At Riverside Heights

Rev. Samuel Schwerdtfeger was the first resident Lutheran minister in the province of Ontario and a plaque commemorating him was unveiled recently by one of his descendents, Frank Schwerdtfeger.

Many dignitaries were present for the memorable occasion when Williamsburg Township Reeve, John C. Whitteker acted as chairman and Rev. Ferdinand L. Howald, St. John's Lutheran Church, dedicated the lovely plaque which had been placed on the church lawn at Riverside Heights, east of Morrisburg on Highway 2.

The inscription on the plaque reads:

THE REV. JOHANN SAMUEL SCHWERDTFEGER 1734-1803

The first Lutheran minister to settle in this province, Schwerdtfeger was born in Burgbernheim, Bavaria, and studied theology at the University of Erlangen. Emigrating to America in 1753, he served as pastor. of congregations in Pennsylvania, Maryland and New York. Much persecuted for his allegiance to the Crown during the American Revolution, Schwerdtfeger moved to Canada in 1791. He settled here in Williamsburg Township and became pastor of a congregation of German Loyalists, which had been established in 1784, and by 1790 had constructed the first Lutheran church in what is now Ontario. Its site now lies beneath Lake St. Lawrence. Within a few years he had organized Lutheran congregations in neighbouring townships. He died in 1803 and was buried in the old church cemetery.

Historical Background

At the close of the American Revolution many people who had supported the losing side came to seek refuge in Canada. About four hundred settled in Dundas County during the summer and autumn of 1784. Most of these were of German origin, having emigrated during the 1720's from the German Palatinate to New York.

They were predominately Lutheran and one of their first concerns was the establishment of a congregation so that they could practise their religion. Even before they had completed their houses they began holding lay-conducted services in their tents each Sunday. In 1787 a member of the congregation was sent to Philadelphia to secure the services of a pastor. Although unsuccessful in his quest, he did obtain a book of sermons to be read at the lay-services.

The search for a pastor ended when the Reverend Johann Samuel Schwerdtfeger accepted their call. He came on a visit in 1790 and settled permanently in Williamsburg Township early the following year. He was the first Lutheran pastor to serve in Upper Canada. Just before his arrival the congregation had built a church, the first Lutheran chapel in the province, on the centre commons of Williamsburg Township.

Schwerdtfeger was born June 4, 1734 in the town of Burgbernheim, Bavaria. He was the son of Gunther Johann Schwerdtfeger, a druggist, and Juliana Maria Koch. He entered the University of Erlangen to study theology but in 1753 he discontinued his studies and left for America.

He arrived in Maryland near the end of the year. News of the arrival of a trained theological student spread quickly and he was approached by several congregations. He was ordained and became pastor of a Lutheran congregation at York, Pennsylvania.

During the next few decades he served at churches in Pennsylvania, Maryland and New York. In 1786 he assisted John Christian Kunze and Heinrich Moller in organizing the New York Ministerium, the second Lutheran synod in the United States.

When the American Revolution broke out, he was serving churches in and around Albany, New York. He adhered to the Loyalist cause and was summoned several times to appear before the Commissioners for Detecting and Defeating Conspiracies. He was accused of "inculcating Doctrines tending to disaffect the minds of well disposed Persons". He was reprimanded, confined to the Albany district and forced to place in bond a sum of 100 pounds to ensure his good behaviour. In recognition of his suffering the note "much persecuted" was placed beside his name on the list of United Empire Loyalists.

In 1787 the Rev. Schwerdtfeger and 444 members of his parish at Horick, New York, petitioned the Governor of Quebec for permission to settle in the Lake Memphramagog area. The petition was read in Council on March 20, 1788, but no indication was given regarding its outcome.

When Schwerdtfeger received the call from Dundas County he immediately petitioned for land in that area. His request was approved and he was granted 400 acres in the third concession of Williamsburg Township.

Schwerdtfeger served the Lutherans in Dundas County until his death. In addition to his work in the Williamsburg church, he organized congregations at Aultsville and Iroquois. He was highly respected and during his pastorate the congregation flourished.

He died in 1803 and was buried in the churchyard of the Williamsburg Township church.

Fun With Dollars

Brenda and Thomas Hodgson were Christmas shopping last Saturday and appear to have found what they consider the ideal Christmas gift - - silver dollars.

"It's fun to play with toys", says young Tom, "and with this pile of money I could make almost every dream come true". Tom, or his sister, could conceivably have all that money for Christmas if their 'lucky number' happens to be drawn on December 22nd.

For the benefit of those who haven't bothered to count there are 500 beautiful silver dollars displayed in accompanying photo and this is the major prize in the pre-Christmas promotion being conducted at 'The Barn'.

'The Barn', located on Highway 31 (near Morrisburg) carries a complete line of clothing, and in addition to the big prize, proprietor Alex English is offering valuable weekly prizes as well.

Only 142 of the gleaming silver dollars were used to spell out the greeting while the rest are stacked on the carpeted floor.

Brenda says she'd be happy with the 'little piles' at her right hand but hopes she has the winning number and can take home the 'bundle'.

The Valley Sportsman

by Bob Rosborough

I have written several columns in the past several months but the one I wrote on farmer-hunter relations has brought a very great response. It seems that I have hit a nerve of both the hunter and the farmer. Great!! That's what I want from this column is response. I have received comments on both sides of the fence and from this all kinds of people. Let's face it. I'm with the hunter when they ask for more hunting lands. But, I'm with the farmer when it comes to the question of land rights. This column has touched off a land-range war and I'm glad. It has awakened the hunter because he had the idea it was his right to hunt. It has awakened the farmer because he now realizes that it is the fault of a few hunters and that most of us who take up the sport are responsible. I have been told by many farmers that they would probably giver the hunter permission if he asked. I have been told by others that even if the hunter asked he could go to .... Well you know where.

Many by now will wonder why I am rehashing this subject? It's quite simple. I have candidates for the Garbage Can of the week award and it comes from the fact of the previous column. First I am going to reprint a letter which should stir the blood in anyone that reads this column. Here it is .....

November, 20th,
To Valley Sportsman,
Smiths Falls, Ont.

Dear Sir:

I agree with your write up in the Lanark Era of the 15th. I have neighbours who just don't care a hoot where they trespass, both on foot and snowmobile.

A couple of years ago one of them asked re hunting and I told them I wouldn't give them permission, but knowing I was working they had the gall enough to go right past the house and through the yard with an automobile. These people even have the gall enough to steal brush (cedar, etc.) for sale to whoever will take from them. I am a widow and I am trying to stay on my own property and I must say I'm scared to go to the back fields to walk or to go to the bush. No trespass signs are no good to people like these, and fences mean nothing to them." ..... end of letter.

I have left the lady's name off because it might cause embrassment but I have a couple of things to say ... and I'd love to say them face to face with her neighbours. First, you brave hunters have completely scared this woman to a point where she is afraid to walk on her own property. Second, you have broke every rule as far as most hunters are concerned. You did not accept the no she gave you. Thirdly, you have broken several laws and I would like to see you punished under the law. You like things your own way but I am personally writing a letter to this woman and advising her of the steps she may take under the laws and I hope she takes my advise. I will also contact Natural Resources people in the area and if I have to, the District Forester to let them know the situation. I hope you read this column and then go to this lady and offer her your apologies because it may save you a lot of trouble in the long run. If not, then you will receive the following Garbage Can Award .....

To you, a fine for trespassing, illegal entry, hunting on posted property, theft, sale of stolen property and just for good measure intimidation. Boy I'm glad I studied law for a year. Well as most readers can see, this column will back the person in the right. If you have other feelings let's hear them but for some reason, I'm certain that I won't be getting any. The address is Valley Sportsman, Box 292, Smiths Falls.

A very successful shower was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Roach, when village friends gathered to honour Miss Carol Ann Johnston, games were played and an address was read by Mrs. Frank MacDonald. Mrs. Bill Keys and Mrs. Earl Roach presented Carol Ann with two beautiful gifts of a clothes hamper and kitchen cookware, then a delightful lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cameron of Metcalfe were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. John Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dawson of St. Lambert visited Mrs. Tessie Dawson on Thursday.

Weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. D. Puddy and family were Mrs. Ray Steele, Carleton Place and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Locke and boys of Kemptville.

Mr. H. Johnston of Trenton is spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. R. Byrd and family.

North Dundas HIGH School Report

by June Spearman

Girls from levels 3, 4 and 5 had a chance to visit the Ottawa Civic Hospital on Saturday, December 2nd. The girls were given a tour of the area, and I am sure the tour gave the girls a real insight into a career in medicine.

North Dundas, once again is forming a ski club. Last year the club was extremely successful with several trips to the slopes and several beginners trying their skiing legs. This year, with planning and enlistment under way, we hope the weather will prove favourable for another great winter of skiing.

Also in the offering is the formation of a curling club. Problems have arisen, though, and the leaders are having a problem getting ice time and prospective members. Perhaps a spark of interest will be shown now that the snow has made its arrival.

On Friday, December 1st the North Dundas Senior band travelled to Russell Public School to put on a performance for the students there. Carscadden travelled back to her home school to speak to the students about the course offered in music in level 1. Hopefully the music course will continue on its well acclaimed course.

Miss MacGregor who was born and spent all ninety-nine years on the old homestead north of Ormond, is presently a patient at LaPalme Nursing Home, Embrun.

Wednesday was a very special occasion for the grand old lady and kindly nurses arranged a birthday party complete with cake and decorations.

Miss MacGregor's parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. John MacGregor and she is the last surviving member of her family. She has many nieces and nephews living in the area including Mrs. Harold Kindaid, Mrs. John Skuce and Gilbert MacGregor.

'Jessie', as she is best known to a host of friends, is shown in accompanying photo as she quietly celebrated the unique milestone.

Reporting From Toronto . . .

Donald R. Irvine, MPP Grenville-Dundas

Largely because of the pressure of events I have been unable to prepare my regular column for some weeks, but I hope to be able to report to you on the activities at Queen's Park on a regular basis.

I was personally very pleased to be appointed by the Premier as a Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs. I feel that this appointment will be most helpful in enabling me to forcefully advance the views of the people of Ontario and in particular the residents of Grenville-Dundas. I look forward to the many challenges which lie ahead. As you know, this Ministry is responsible for the Design for Development programme which plans the restructuring of municipal government throughout the province. The purpose of our regional government planning is to give municipalities the broad base necessary to permit them to provide those services which our citizens want and need in the years ahead. At the same time we must ensure that government at the local level remains responsive and available to the people as it has in the past. It can't get too big or too remote.

The Minister has assigned to me the responsibility for the Design for Development programme for all the province east of Metro Toronto. This includes the Port Hope/Cobourg designated growth area where plans for development are progressing at a rapid rate. I have been and will be having many discussions and meetings with councils, planning boards, committees of adjustment and land division committees throughout my area of jurisdiction. Our approach is to provide suggestions and invite comments and ideas from the municipalities. We want them to tell us what they want for their area. After we have carefully considered the recommendations received from the municipalities and individuals in Eastern Ontario, the Government will bring forth, as soon as possible, a proposal for the overall development of the Eastern Ontario Planning Region.

It looks like an exciting time ahead and I am particularly pleased to be associated with this Ministry.

Opening of the Legislature

The second session of the twenty-ninth parliament resumed sittings on Tuesday, November 21st after being adjourned June 30th.

At the adjournment, several important bills had received first reading so that they could be examined by all the members and interested citizens and groups. Their comments and suggestions will assist government in bringing in the final form of the legislation.

Ontario Hydro

Just before the session began the long-awaited first report of Task Force Hydro was released. The purpose of this study (of which more reports are to come) is to assess the capacity and demand for energy in the decades ahead.

Among its highlights the reports recommend:

- Ontario Hydro become a Crown Corporation in order to provide efficient organizational strutcure,
- the emphasis in future should be on satisfying demand at "lowest feasible cost" rather than satisfying demand wherever it occurs,
- in future citizen groups will be invited to assist Hyrdo in adjusting to environmental considerations.

Ministry of Health

On Tuesday the Minister of Health tabled the Report of the Dental Technologist Advisory Committee. A bill to provide for training and licensing of Dental Technologists was given first reading in the spring and is expected to be debated shortly. This whole subject has worried dentists who fear that untertrained persons may do irreparable damage to patients. The Report recommends amendments to the legislation which should provide the necessary safeguards.

St. Lawrence Parks Commission

As a result of the expressed desire of Vice-Chairman Alan Farlinger of Morrisburg and Mr. Lee McKnight of Prescott to retire from the St. Lawrence Parks Commission at the end of this season after many years of most valuable service, it is my pleasure to announce the appointment by the Honourable Leo Bernier, Minister of Natural Resources of Mr. Sam Ault of Morrisburg as Vice-Chairman and Mr. Jack Saunders of Prescott as a member of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission to fill the vacancies.

Request More Government Money For Farm Improvement Loans

A resolution from Renfrew, Ottawa-Carleton, and northern Lanark farmers asking government to double the money available to farmers under Farm Improvement Loans was unanimously carried at the Ontario Federation of Agriculture's annual meeting.

The Eastern Ontario motion to last week's Hamilton meeting directed the OFA to pressure the government to raise the loan ceiling to $30,000 on machinery and $20,000 on land.

"This is a long-term loan and it must be large enough to be worthwhile," said Cobden dairyman Dick Wood, Renfrew County federation president.

Metcalfe dairyman Charles Argue, vice-president of Carleton Federation, suggested that the loan ceiling rise in conjunction with escalating input costs.

Area farmers also gave strong support to the resolution directing the OFA to use all powers to prevent any legislative changes that would make veterinarians the sole distributors of veterinary drugs.

Delegates voiced concern that veterinarians would have a monopoly on drug distribution.

Ernest Burgess, a Lanark Federation delegate and Pakenham dairy-beef farmer, stated, "If farmers lose this battle, costs will skyrocket, because we will have to get prescriptions for all drugs, and probably have to pay for on-farm visits."

"Farmers from this area participated actively at this important three-day meeting," said Harold Morphy, secretary-fieldman serving northern Lanark, Ottawa-Carleton, and Renfrew farmers. Morphy has recently opened his office at the CIA building, Raglan Street, Renfrew.

Reporting From Ottawa . . .

Walter Baker, MP Grenville-Carleton

In a speech to the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce last week, Robert Stanfield spoke of the realities that face Canadians as we enter the last month of 1972.

Had the Progressive Conservatives formed the government, he said in so many words, we would have a Cabinet formed, a date set for Parliament's resumption in December and definite policies and programs for consideration by the Canadian people and their elected representatives. Instead, we have a Cabinet still trying to determine a course of action, a government that has allowed a precious month to pass before calling Parliament, and policies and programs that are seemingly, non-existent.

He's right, you know. And the reality of his words hits hard when one stops to consider the present state of non-government in this country.

The man who should be most distrubed - and he is not, obviously - is Pierre Trudeau. He's the man who went into the last election campaign smugly anticipating a rerun of 1968. He's the man who for some unknown reason, decided that the Canadian voter would buy a handful of goodies and a few ethereal statements instead of real solutions to real problems. The Canadian electorate let him know they weren't buying it and now they are finding out that even in defeat, the man is not humble enough to concede to the issues.

Unemployment, say the economists, is going to be sky-high this winter. Inflation is not exactly on a downward trend and the economy in general is not picking up as well as the Minister of Finance likes to think.

Instead of truly recognizing the seriousness of these problems in terms of hardship for the country and for its people, and instead of making a concerted effort to provide solutions, the Prime Minister and his Liberal government continue to procastinate.

Perhaps it is not procrastination at all. Perhaps the government, in fact, does not have the solutions to these problems and does not have the slightest idea how to begin to resurrect the economy. Perhaps the non-campaign was a non-campaign for a very good reason. Perhaps the Liberal Government in its obsession with power is truly out of touch with reality.

Robert Stanfield's solutions to the country's problems have been before the people for quite awhile. Robert Stanfield's solutions were the only real alternative during the election campaign and they are the only real alternative now.

He has known it for four years. As time passes in this inter-election period, Canadians will become more aware of Robert Stanfield and what he is offering this country.

THE CABINET - A NEW PAINT JOB TO COVER THE RUST

I do not intend to comment any further on the Cabinet shuffle announced by the Prime Minister except to say that no where is there a reflection of a basic change in emphasis in Trudeau Policies. The "Old Heap" has been sanded-down, touched-up with paint of questionable quality, and put on the road in the hope that it will pass inspection. Everyone should lift the hood and you will find the same old motor - Mr. Sharp in External, Mr. Turner in Finance, Mr. Drury at Treasury Board, together with Messrs. Macdonald, Davis and Lang are all at the same posts. Messrs. Marchand, Pelletier and Lalonde are still at the Prime Misister's elbow. Messrs. Richardson and Gillespie are not new and shining though their jobs have changed.

The interesting appointment is that of Hugh Faulkner to Secretary of State to replace Mr. Pelletier. I suppose this new man has been put in to give the impression that there is a new broom in the vast cultural and linguistic closet - I respectfully suggest that he be judged not on heady expectations, but on real substantive changes, if and when they occur. In view of his record, don't hold your breath.

There is one truly gratifying note that emerges from the shuffle - Jean Pierre Goyer has left the Solicitor General's Department. Everyone can breathe a sigh of relief and our hearts go out to Warren Allmand as he commences to pick up the pieces of this sensitive portfolio.

Achievement Day

Lorraine Holding Reports From Nationview

Achievement Day for Dundas West 4-H Homemaking Club members marked the completion of the fall project, "The Cereal Shelf", by eighty-one girls. The program was held in Nationview Public School at South Mountain on Saturday, December 2, 1972.

Parents and friends attended the afternoon program, to see the members try teaching through exhibits and demonstrations. Those presenting exhibits for their clubs were: Evelyn Winter, Hallville, #1, on "Cereal Snacks"; Louise Simms, South Mountain #2, on "Make It with Pasta"; Barbara Milne, Mountain #2, on "Featuring Corn"; Marnie Smith, Hallville #2, on "Cereal Desserts"; and Bernadette Smail, Matilda #2, on "Three Ways with Rice".

Four clubs gave demonstrations to illustrate topics discussed during the project. South Mountain #1 Club's topic was "Mixing Muffins", while Mountain #3 Club presented "Three Ways with Oatmeal". Matilda #1 Club demonstrated "Three Ways With Macaroni", and Mountain #1 Club worked with "Our Daily Bread".

An interesting report on the 1972 Girls' Conference was given by Mary McInnis, Matilda #1 Club. Mary joined 200 other Ontario 4-H Homemaking Club members for a three-day conference in June at the University of Guelph. Other Dundas County delegates were Cheryl Godard, Morewood Club and Annie Van Adrichem, South Mountain #1, Club.

Another highlight of the afternoon was the presentation of awards to members for the completion of six and twelve Homemaking Club projects. Receiving County Honour Pins and Certificates were Janet Percival, Hallville #1 Club, Diana Barkley, Matilda #1 Club, and Wendy Blom, Mountain #1 Club. Provincial Honours awards were earned by Beverley Koekkoek, Hallville #1; Barbara Milne, Mountain #2; Donna Casselman, Mountain #3; Norma Johnstone, Mountain #3; Betty bongers, South Mountain #1. A certificate from the Canadian Council on 4-H clubs was presented to Mrs. Bert Black, South Mountain #2 Club, for five years of leadership with a Homemaking Club. Mrs. Alfred Carkner, President of Dundas District Women's Institutes assisted Home Economist, Miss Lorraine Holding.

Visiting Home Economist, Mrs. Susan Humphries, Renfrew County, assisted during the day.

All girls between the ages of 12 and 26 years, as of March 1, 1973 are invited to join the Spring project, "The Jacket Dress". Each junior member will make a dress, while senior members will make a dress with a co-ordinating jacket or vest. The course also includes a study of synthetic fibres and knit fabrics.

Misses Barbara Hummell of Ottawa, Bonnie Hummell and Brenda Jackson of Brockville spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hummell.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hanson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John McCaslin of Iroquois.

Mrs. Beatrice Riddell accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Riddel and Ellwood Riddell of Brinston attended the Casselman Family Pre-Christmas dinner at the Loyalists Hotel, Morrisburg Saturday at high noon. Mrs. Claude Timmins of Cardinal said Grace with Mr. Jimmie Casselman of Brockville offering thanks to Mrs. Gardiner and staff of her kitchen and dining room, with a special thank you going to Mrs. Cecil Hanson who prepared and cooked such a bountiful meal.

We are sorry to report Mr. Teddy Hummell of Williamsburg met with a painful accident last week. He is in Civic Hospital in Ottawa and perhaps at this time you "all" will feel free to send a get-well or Christmas card to Ted to lighten his suffering and long road back to recovery.

Artistic Painting In Hospital

A beautiful painting, the work of Mrs. Jennie Crothers, formerly of Chesterville, now hangs in Winchester District Memorial Hospital commemorating the memory of the late Mrs. Faye Scott.

Mrs. Scott was a well know and highly respected Winchester resident and the picture was presented to the hospital by her son and daughter, R. Melvin Scott and Mrs. Mount of Montreal.

Junior Farmer Dance Attracts 600 People

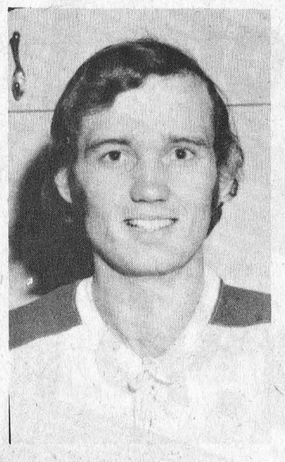
Last Saturday night's dance at North Dundas District High School which was sponsored by Dundas Junior Farmers attracted a sell-out crowd. According to press reporter Pamela Blaine well over 600 people jammed the auditorium to dance, or just listen, to the wide variety of music supplied by the popular 'Family Brown' of television fame.

Earlier in the day Junior Farmer floor hockey teams competed in an interesting tournament. In the boys division Prescott County won top honours closely followed by Russell. Lanark County girls earned top honours in their division and here again Russel placed second.

Getting To Know Them

The sports department is convicned many avid hockey fans experience difficulty identifying players since faces all look much alike after helmets and face masks are donned.

A special effort has been made to secure individual pictures of all members of the 'Hawks', 'Jets' and '72's'. Beginning in this issue the Press will publish weekly a photo of one player from each team and include a brief profile of the young stars.



Bob McClintock

BOB McCLINTOCK

Winchester Hawks' captain, Bob McClintock, wears No. 9 sweater and has been Winchester's top scorer since he joined the club five years ago.

At 19 this is Bob's last season in Junior ranks and the younger players look to him for leadership at all times. The flashy forward is 5', 10" tall, weighs 165 pounds, and during the summer months is one of the top fastball pitchers in the area. Last season he played for both Kemptville and Chesterville.

Married to the former Hilda Seymour of Kemptville, the young couple live in Winchester. Although the 'Hawks' are off to a poor start this season there is little doubt they will come on strong once their home rink is opened early in December.

Marty Kelly

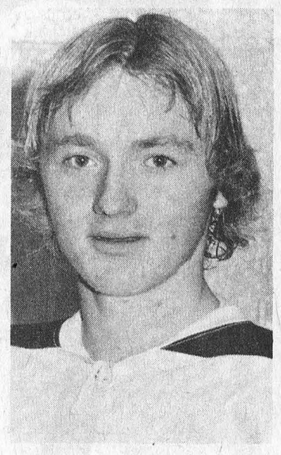
MARTY KELLY:

Marty Kelly, wearing No. 11 sweater, is a newcomer to the Metcalfe 'Jet' roster and is playing his first year in Junior 'B' ranks.

The lightweight left winger is following in the footsteps of his two older brothers who both starred with the Metcalfe team. John is now with Embrun Panthers while Kenny plays on the Jet first line with Bob Woods and Rupert Macdonald.

Five foot, five inche Marty, weighing in at 140 pounds (soaking wet), is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kelly of Manotick and is a Grade 12 student at South Carleton High School, Richmond.

Interested in all sports he claims to have 'no time for girls' and spends his leisure time studying hockey manuals.



Alain Brisson

ALAIN BRISSON

Left winger Alain Brisson is already a favourite with hockey fans in the Junior 'B' Loop where he is most often referred to as "Le Chat" (The Cat). Wearing No. 10 Alain is 17 years old, 5' 10" tall, weighs 155 pounds and is a Grade 12 student at Embrun High School.

The talented young player played Midget in the Prescott-Russell League last season but Metcalfe Jets' coach Bill Linegar spotted him in action and immediately recruited him for the play-offs. To-day Alain has difficulty deciding whether to wear his Embrun colours when on the street or don his colourful O.D.H.A. Champion jacket.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Regean Brisson he plays basketball, volleyball, football and soccer.

Despite his busy academic and athletic activities he says he has a soft spot for girls and adds, "right now I have a steady girl friend."
