Facing the music

Roy Fawcett's organ museum in Van Camp was the setting for a segment of the Country Report's Christmas special, to be televised Dec. 21. Host Wayne Rostad and a CBC camera crew visited the converted United Church Sunday to tape an interview with Mr. Fawcett and organist Sharon Adams. For more on the story see page B-3.

Premier in Morrisburg

Premier Bill Davis was in Morrisburg yesterday in support of PC byelection candidate Noble Villeneuve. Mr. Davis said his party can be "confident but not over-confident" of winning the Dec. 15 election, and praised Mr. Villeneuve as "a man of integrity."

Williamsburg man shot

Morrisburg OPP treating case as homicide

WILLIAMSBURG — Ontario Provincial Police in Morrisburg are treating the shooting death of a 60-year-old Williamsburg man as a homicide.

The body of Harold Davidson was found 3pm Friday in the kitchen of his RR1 Williamsburg farm house by two land surveyors and a neighbor who was interested in buying the 75-acre farm.

Morrisburg OPP have released little information on the case but said there were gun shot wounds to the body and that it is being treated as a homicide. No motive has been found.

William Devries of Williamsburg, the prospective buyer who found the body, said he knew something was wrong when the surveyors said they had not seen Mr. Davidson that day despite the fact that his truck was still at the farm house.

Mr. Devries, who said he had known Mr. Davidson for 18 years, described him as a bachelor who never associated with many people, and lived by himself.

News of the death and the police investigation came as a shock to residents of this police village.

"It's awful, it's terrible, it's bad enough it happens in the cities," said Barclay's Food Store owner Sharon Barclay. "Some people are a little afraid. These things are not supposed to happen in the country."

Glen Whitteker of Whitteker Meat Market Ltd. said Mr. Davidson was a regular customer.

"He was a very decent sort of man but very quiet," he said. "He wouldn't talk unless you talked to him. He just got his things and went out."

The Morrisburg OPP are working with the Criminal Investigations Branch in Toronto and area residents are being asked to report any information they may have .

The farm house is located on Lot 10, Concession 7 in Matilda Township.

SD&G 'special' to premier

MORRISBURG — Eastern Ontario is probably moving out of the recession faster than other areas of the province, said Premier Bill Davis in an address to supporters at the PC campaign office here Tuesday.

Mr. Davis, citing recent unemployment figures showing a relative improvement, added that SD&G has been "a special area of the province" to the Progressive Conservative government.

Mr. Davis, who spent the afternoon in the riding in support of PC candidate Noble Villeneuve's byelection campaign, arrived at the Morrisburg headquarters around noon.

He greeted a crowd of supporters at the office, some of whom, he said, have supported the party longer than he has.

"The reason for this election is a sad one," he said, referring to the death of MLA Osie Villeneuve in September.

The Premier urged those present to support Noble Villeneuve, "a man of integrity, a man who has a sense of what his constituents want."

"No candidate can do it on his own," Mr. Davis added. "I have every confidence that you will see Noble is elected in this by-election."

Mr. Davis said the other parties in the election, particularly the Liberals, have failed to give a consistent statement of where they stand on the issues. He said some provincial Liberals are reluctant to call themselves Liberals, adding "I can understand that in this day and age."

When a baby in the crowd began crying, Mr. Davis said: "That's a lot more relevant than what some of the Liberals have had to say."

Mr. Davis said he was sure Mr. Villeneuve would give "excellent representation" at Queen's Park. "Noble Villeneuve will be listened to when he comes to Queen's Park because this is an important part of Ontario."

He said the party can be "confident but not over-confident" of winning the election.

Following the speech in Morrisburg, the Premier and Mr. Villeneuve visited the Treasure Island Restaurant in Ingleside, and later stopped at the Alexandria curling club.

Candid candidates

All three candidates are well into the byelection race with issues and debates. To find out why they are running, and what they want to accomplish, the Winchester Press interviewed Johnny Whitteker, Noble Villeneuve and Rudi Derstroff. The answers were both political and personal. The profiles are on page two.

Santa Claus coming to town

WINCHESTER — Santa Claus is coming to town Dec. 3 and residents are reminded that this year's Christmas Parade will start an hour later than last year.

The parade will leave the Ontario Hydro yard at 1pm and proceed past the hospital and east to St. Lawrence Street, then north to Main, where the floats will be judged.

First and second prizes will be given out for both commercial and non-commercial floats, said parade organizer John Adams.

Those interested in taking part in the parade are asked to contact Phil Snyder at the Royal Bank or Bill Appleby at the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. Adams said there were 32 floats entered in the parade last year. So far this year there have only been 20 entries, but he said organizers are expecting close to the same number of entries as last year by the date of the parade.

There is no real deadline for entries. Entrants should register in advance if possible so that floats are listed for judging, "but by and large if somebody shows up the day of the parade, we're satisfied with that," Mr. Adams said.

Santa will be at the Royal Bank from 2:30 to 4pm Dec. 3, and candy canes will be handed out in front of the Biccum and McIntosh office.

The United Church Women will be holding a luncheon at the church also, from 11am until 2 or 3pm. The $2 fee includes soup, sandwiches and a beverage. Mrs. Santa will be at the church during the luncheon, and a mini-bazaar and bake sale will be held at the same time.

Eighteen laid off at Winchester Cheese

WINCHESTER — Seasonal variations in the cheese market and difficulty in reading market trends are being blamed for the layoffs of 18 part-time and full-time employees at Winchester Cheese Inc.

Plant general manager Volker Greutzner said the situation is not serious and was not prompted by a provincial milk shortage that forced layoffs at Ault Foods Ltd.

"We have a brand new plant and a totally different situation so it's difficult to put any name to the cause," he said. "We are quite young and still uncertain about predicting market trends."

The natural cheese market, he said, is sagging because of high prices and "consequently we had to lay some people off."

The Christmas cheese market, he said, was also not as heavy as expected.

Mr. Greutzner said he was unable to say how long the layoffs would last. Most of those laid off, he added, were recent employees.

Winchester Cheese opened a new cheese slice plant last year. During its peak season, the plant employs about 140 people.

Winchester Cheese specializes in natural cut cheeses like Colby and Mozzarella and a processing line of individually wrapped slices.

A bleak Christmas

Percy Marratt, 24, of RR1 Mountain, supports his family on $482 a month through welfare. After expenses, including food and clothing for a two-month-old son, the couple is left with $33 a week for groceries. Mr. Marratt, who has cataracts, would like to work but feels he has a bleak future ahead, including a Christmas without presents.

Head cheese

Rejean Galipeau, you make good cheese. Two weeks ago, the 37-year-old cheese maker received the Reserve Grand for cheese at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto. It boosted the ribbons Ault Foods has won for prize cheeses to more than 60 since April. See page B-2 for story.

Cattle, hay destroyed in fires

WINCHESTER — Eighty-four head of cattle and over 7,000 bales of hay were destroyed in two area barn fires last week.

Metcalfe firemen were called to the farm of Bryan McLean near Vernon at 11am Nov. 22 when passersby found a barn in flames.

Neighbors were able to rescue 20 head of cattle from the barn, but 14 head were lost, said Metcalfe fire chief Peter Griffin. An estimated 7,000 bales of hay were lost also, and the building itself was destroyed.

Three pumpers and two tankers from the Metcalfe department were dispatched to the fire, arriving around 11:40, Mr. Griffin said.

The last firefighters left the scene about 5pm.

Mr. Griffin said the cause of the blaze is still under investigation.

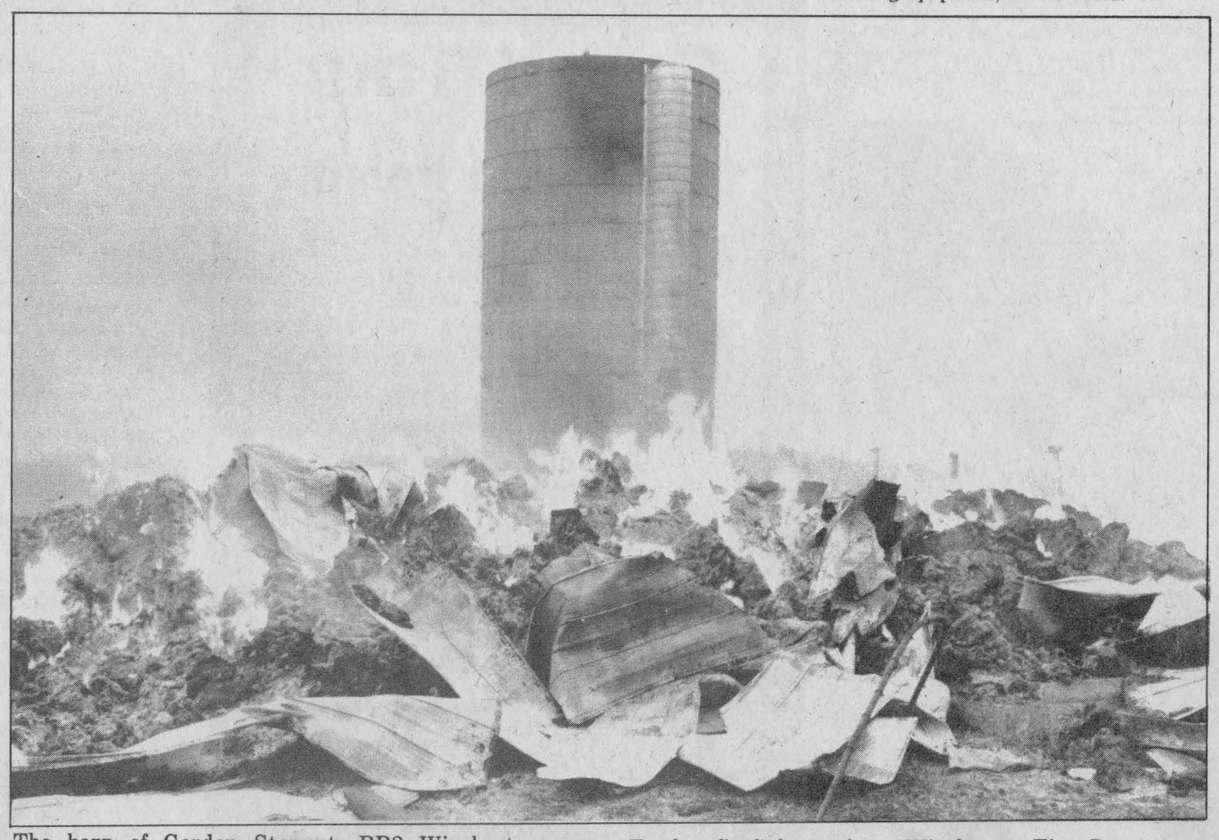
A second fire which broke out during the early hours of Nov. 24 destroyed 70 head of cattle and a substantial amount of hay, said Winchester deputy fire chief Bruce Kerr.

Twelve firefighters from the Winchester department arrived at the farm of Gordon Stewart, RR2 Winchester, to find the barn in flames.

"The place was totally involved before anyone knew about it," Mr. Kerr said. Firemen were called by neighbor Leo Tessier, and arrived at 3:30am.

The fire was brought under control by 5:30am, Mr. Kerr said.

Although two adjacent barns were destroyed in the fire, and a granary also burned, the firemen were able to save the milkhouse and milking equipment, Mr. Kerr said.



The barn of Gordon Stewart, RR2 Winchester, was levelled by an earling morning fire Nov. 24. Mr. Stewart lost 70 head of cattle and an undetermined amount of hay. Also destroyed were two adjacent barns and a granary. Twelve firefighters from Winchester Fire Department responded to the call at 3:30am and had the fire under control within two hours.

Man forgets Christmas to put food on the table

MOUNTAIN — Percy Marratt's voice is soft and even. "We can't have Christmas this year," he says. "There's no sense buying ourselves anything because we will have to take it out of our grocery money."

Living for the last two months in a small trailer north of Mountain, with his common law wife and two-month-old son, the 24-year-old is grimly trying to care for his family on welfare payments totalling $482 a month. After paying the rent and the needs of his son, the couple is left with $33 a week for groceries.

His situation is made tougher by cataracts in both eyes that prevent him from working near bright lights or with small objects. He has been told that the cataracts are operable but that even a successful operation will still leave him with weak eyes.

Because of the cataracts, he has been unable to take advantage of the $100 a month earnable income allowed under welfare.

He lied about his eyes to get a job in Smiths Falls but was let go two and a half days later when the foreman noticed the problem. He has never, he said, had a job long enough to even qualify for unemployment insurance benefits.

One of over 700 people receiving welfare in SD&G, Mr. Marratt said he finds it incredible that some people think he would voluntarily accept that kind of income for his family.

"It bothers me that I'm on it," he said, "but it bothers me more that a lot of people think you're dirt if you're on welfare.

"Once they learn you've been on welfare, a lot of people don't want to even give you a chance. With my eyes it is even harder to get a job."

The family spends $200 a month on rent and another $150 on food and clothing for their son. "The baby comes first," Mr. Marratt said, "and we'll take money out of our food budget for him."

The family has no car and most meals consist of hamburger and Kraft dinners. Movies and dances are out of the question.

E.P. Thompson, director of social services in SD&G, said welfare rates are tabulated by computer in Toronto according to set funding formulas.

"I think I would have to agree that it would be nice to have more," he said, "just as it would be nice to have more for the ones that work at the lower end of the economic scale. Like everything else, the rates could be higher."

The general rate for welfare, he added, will be increased five per cent in January.

Although the department does not offer any extra money during the Christmas season, Mr. Thompson said it does work with municipalities to guide gifts and contributions to the families that need it.

"We don't like to interfere but we're glad to help if we're asked."

For Percy Marratt, it is sometimes difficult to be optimistic about the future. "I don't think I have a great future. To tell you the truth, I don't think I stand a chance at getting any kind of a decent job."

As for his welfare cheques, he said he is glad to have them but wonders what it would be like if the situation were reversed.

"I would like to see one of the welfare people live on it for a month and see how they make out."

Raider radar

North Dundas' Norine Milne (No. 34) screened a CCVS Golden Raider out of the play in last Wednesday's 57-46 playoff loss. North Dundas captured their divisional regular season pennant, qualified for the semi-finals, but were beaten by CCVS. A 25-point third quarter lifted the Cornwall school to victory over the Devils. Decision '83

Whitteker running on record

WILLIAMSBURG — Six years after losing to veteran MPP Osie Villeneuve in a general election, Liberal candidate Johnny Whitteker says he has no regrets about the way he handled his first bid for a seat in Queen's Park.

"I was running against a person who did a lot of little things for a lot of people," Mr. Whitteker said from his home here Monday, "and they returned the favor."

The Williamsburg Township reeve lost the 1977 election by 2,422 in a riding where more than 23,000 votes were cast. It was a strong second-place finish to an MPP who Mr. Whitteker admits was a fine politician.

Today, heading into a by-election prompted by the Sept. 25 death of Osie Villeneuve, Mr. Whitteker said he plans to run his second campaign pretty much as he did in 1977.

This time around he is confident of a victory.

A month ago, the beef and dairy farmer and father of six was not even sure he wanted to throw his hat in the ring again. While the results of the 1977 election were promising, it was small consolation after a gruelling campaign.

There were a number of factors, he said, behind his decision to run.

"There were some things about the government I wasn't happy with, number one," he said. "There was also some pressure from Toronto and a number of my friends and constituents to run."

There was another reason. At 57, he admitted, there was a personal drive to finish uncompleted business. "I felt if I didn't run this time," he said, "I wouldn't have the chance again."

Of the three candidates in the byelection, Mr. Whitteker's record of service in politics is the longest. Reeve of Williamsburg Township since 1977, he has spent 30 years in municipal politics and has held a seat on Counties Council for the last 25 years.

It is a record he said he is proud of and intends to use in his campaign.

"It is definately an advantage. All of our bylaws are regulated by Queen's Park and work at this level is a natural stepping stone to Queen's Park.

While two of his three sons take care of the farm, the Liberal candidate has begun an ambitious campaign criss-crossing the three counties from election committee rooms in Alexandria and Williamsburg.

The average day begins at 9:30am and ends at 5pm unless there are functions to attend in the evening which is the case most nights. Sandwiched in between are regular council duties.

"It doesn't seem to be as tough as the last campaign," Mr. Whitteker said. "I don't know if it is easier this time or if I'm just getting use to it."

With a campaign funded by local people, Mr. Whitteker said he has made agriculture a key plank in his platform. "I wouldn't think this byelection is going to be won on personalities," he said. "I think it is going to be won on local issues."

The Liberal scenario for this year's byelection is a majority in Dundas and take heavy votes in Stormont and Glengarry.

Although Progressive Conservative candidate Noble Villeneuve lives in Moose Creek, Mr. Villeneuve said he is confident of making major inroads into the Eastern half of the riding.

"Glengarry takes in a lot of territory that is not in Moose Creek or Maxville. I think we'll pick up votes."

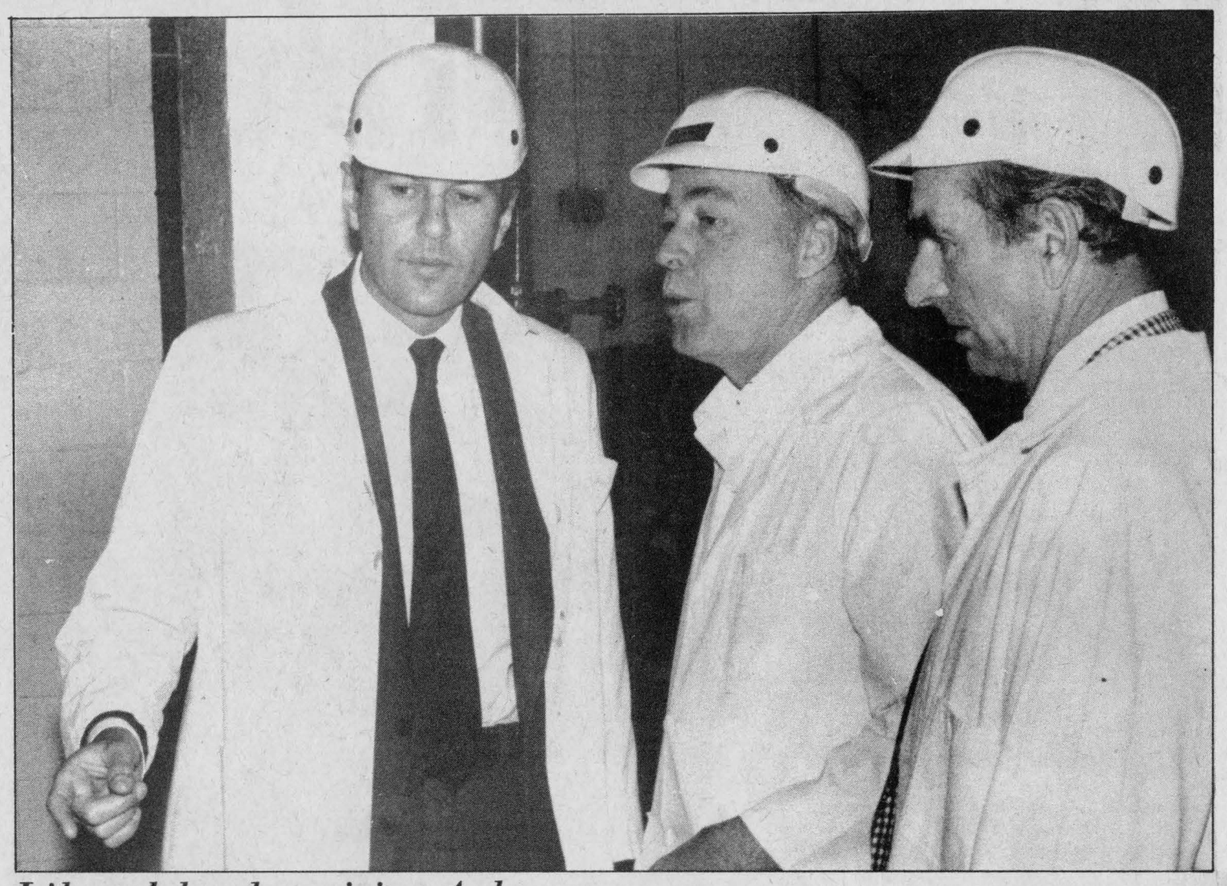
Unilingual, he said he does not see his inability to speak French as a handicap in the bilingual riding.

"I've sat on committees with the South Nation Conservation Authority and the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, both of which have French-speaking members, and I have had no problem conversing whatsoever," he said.

Mr. Whitteker added that he intends to have two riding offices if he is elected with a bilingual secretary on staff at the Eastern office.

"I've got the feeling I'm going to win it," he said of the by-election. "A lot of people who have voted Conservative have told me they are going to switch their vote.

"I'm just promising to do the best I can. This is just the first step in changing this government."



Liberal leader visits Aults

Ontario Liberal leader David Peterson and byelection candidate Johnny Whitteker visited Ault Foods Nov. 16 and were given a guided tour by plant manager Cecil Simpson (centre). Mr. Peterson visited Chesterville after the tour.

Villeneuve more than name

MORRISBURG — Since throwing his hat into the ring as a candidate for the Progressive Conservatives nearly a month ago, Noble Villeneuve has learned to be ready for the inevitable question.

"If I am related to Osie Villeneuve, it's pretty distant."

At the PC nomination meeting on Nov. 10, where Noble Villeneuve won a first ballot victory over six other candidates, a member of the audience remarked that the name could be a political goldmine.

But the 45-year-old Moose Creek beef farmer and real estate appraiser seeking to hold the riding in Tory hands downplays the political advantages of the name. Osie Villeneuve, he says, proved his worth through nearly 30 years of representation in the legislature.

Noble Villeneuve, he says, will have to convince voters of his ability to continue the standard of representation set by his predecessor.

To that end, Mr. Villeneuve has left the operation of his feedlot to his hired hand and his appraisal business to employees to launch a blitz campaign of social calls, canvassing and strategy meetings.

Born and raised on the family farm just outside of Maxville, Mr. Villeneuve is married and the father of five, all members of the election team that was quickly put in place following the byelection call.

Mr. Villeneuve sought the party candidacy in 1981 when Osie Villeneuve indicated he might not run, but declined the nomination when the MPP decided to campaign one more time.

A member of the PC riding association executive for the last three years, his political experience has been limited to campaigning with Osie Villeneuve and work with the Farm Credit Corporation as a credit advisor.

That inexperience, he says, could be an asset rather than a liability in the campaign against municipal politicians Rudi Derstroff and Johnny Whitteker.

"I think lack of political experience is probably an asset," he says. "I don't think you can compare municipal politics to provincial politics by the very nature of the way the thing operates.

"I have experience dealing with people problems and that would probably be more of an asset than sitting around a council table administrating."

As a farmer, Mr. Villeneuve says he knows the major issues facing farmers and has made those issues part of his platform.

Among them are the need for a better distribution of funds by the Farm Credit Program, more comprehensive farm aid programs and a more diversified farm economy.

He left the FCC as a credit advisor in 1976, he says, disgusted with a policy that saw "good solid farmers paying four per cent more on loans because they didn't qualify."

Provincially, he sees room for improvement. "I don't think the Ontario Farm Assistance Programs is any great roaring success. If I'm elected I will speak often with (Ontario Agriculture Minister) Dennis Timbrell."

The Grade 12 graduate and accredited appraiser is a member of the Ontario Farm Machinery Board, Ontario Federation of Agriculture, Tax and Assessment Committee and a past president of the Stormont Cattlemen's Association.

Derstroff takes on underdog cause

CHESTERVILLE — He is the underdog candidate in the SD&G byelection, a would-be political Rocky in a riding that gave less than five per cent of its support to his party in 1981.

Ruediger (Rudi) Derstroff, the New Democratic Party candidate, is hoping voters, subjected to years of government flip flops and unfulfilled promises, are now ready to listen to a political philosophy that has been working for over 40 years.

The 35-year-old OC Transpo driver would like to win the by-election. But more important in the 10-hours a day campaign, he says, is that he gets his message across to voters.

"Of course we would like to win," he says, "but our short term goal is to give the NDP a higher profile in the counties and to build a more solid base from which to do battle with the other parties in the future.

"A number of campaigns down the road, we hope to take this riding away."

Born a Bibleheim, a small farming community in Germany, Mr. Derstroff came to Ottawa with his family when he was five.

Following graduation from high school, he spent a number of years working in a variety of jobs before joining OC Transpo 11 years ago.

That blue collar background, he says, would provide a needed change of atmosphere in the leathered and lawyered provincial legislature.

"Basically, I'm really concerned with the lack of involvement with the individual person in politics," he says. "The legislature has always been restricted to a certain class of people using legalistic, technical jargon.

"Issues are not really being addressed from an ordinary person's vantage point. I think I can reach out and hopefully convince voters that just because you're a working person doesn't mean you can't accomplish political ambitions, that a working man does have solutions to the problems."

Mr. Derstroff's political teeth were cut in the Canadian Labor Congress, but despite his labor background the NDP was not "an automatic choice" as the party he wanted to belong to.

He toyed with the idea, he says, of joining the Progressive Conservatives, but dismissed the idea when he saw the party had little use for men with his background. "To put it bluntly, you are not taken seriously."

Last year he was acclaimed as a municipal councillor in Chesterville where he lives with his wife and two sons.

Mr. Derstroff says his platform, which focusses on the declining incomes of farmers and working people in the area, differs from the other parties in the approach to the problems.

"I think quality of life is very important, not just in dollars and cents, but in a way that you can say 'my life was worth living.' The other parties treat the people at the bottom, the people paying the taxes and shouldering the burden, as an expendible part of the machinery while corporations get bail outs."

Admitting that his party's "socialism" tag scares many voters away, Mr. Derstroff says he will try to get across to them that "we have a good track record to go on."

NDP candidate Rudi Derstroff, right, is joined by federal NDP agriculture critic Vic Althouse (centre) at the farm of Carl Smith in Chesterville. Mr. Derstroff, a Chesterville councillor, is hoping to strengthen his party's base in the riding with the message that the working man has a place in the legislature.

Ontario Liberals take byelection seriously

WINCHESTER — The SD&G by-election will be the first stepping stone in a process that will topple the 40-year Tory reign in Ontario, says provincial Liberal leader David Peterson.

Mr. Peterson, in Winchester last Wednesday to campaign for local Liberal candidate Johnny Whitteker, said the party now has all the pieces to solve the puzzle of getting one of their party elected in a riding that has traditionally "voted for anything painted blue."

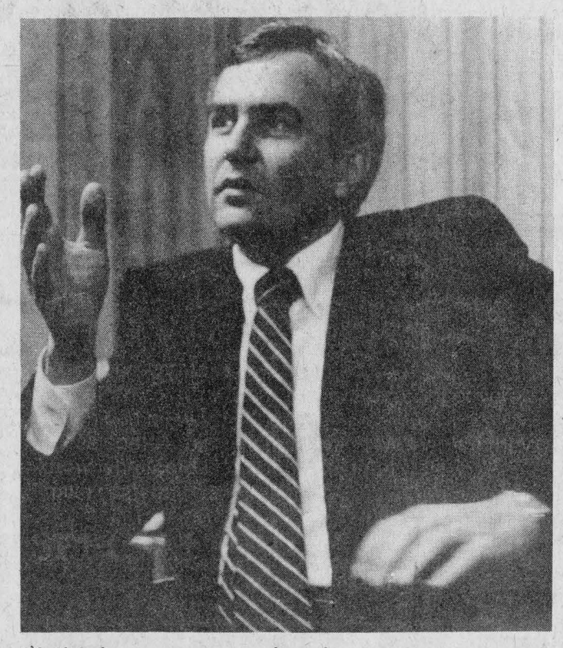
"We are taking this byelection very seriously," he said. "I would love to win this riding because this is the heart of Tory strength. And I think their complacency here can be shaken up by a vigorous candidate."

That candidate, 57-year-old Williamsburg Reeve Johnny Whitteker, will lead a campaign that is better organized in a riding where voters are asking more questions about their provincial government, Mr. Peterson said.

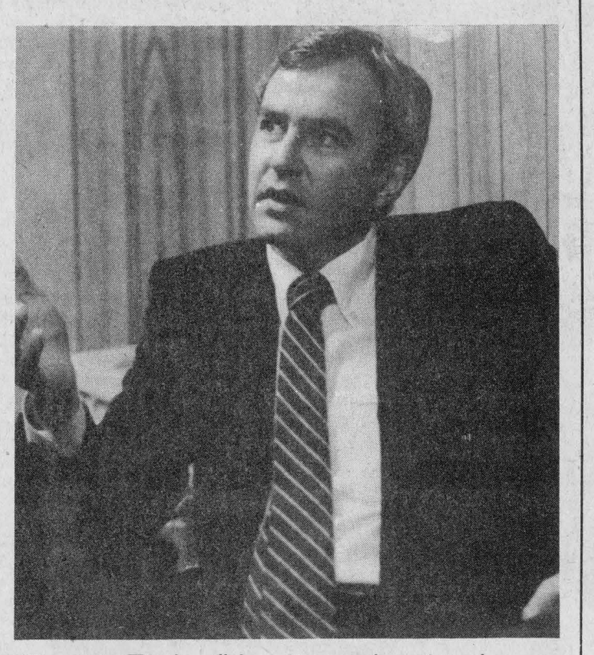
The Liberal leader praised Mr. Whitteker as the party's ideal candidate in the riding and described him as a man well versed in politics who can cut to the core of issues.

"Johnny is no 'Johnny come lately'" he said. "He's been around and he is willing to stick his neck out on issues. I think we have a great candidate."

Mr. Whitteker led the riding party in 1977 and finished 2,422 votes behind veteran MPP Osie Villeneuve who had held the riding for 29 years when he died in Toronto Sept. 25.



"I think you are going to see a head to head fight between Johnny and Villeneuve that is going to go down to the wire."
- David Peterson



"Dennis Timbrell has turned out to be the biggest disappointment in agriculture. We gave him time and he still doesn't know what to do."
- David Peterson

Mr. Peterson said Osie Villeneuve deserved his seat through hard work and dedication and was respected on both sides of the legislature. The same, he said, could not be applied to other Tory MPs.

He was particularly critical of Agriculture Minister Dennis Timbrell, a man he calls the "ashphalt farmer."

"Dennis Timbrell has turned out to be the biggest disappointment ever in agriculture," he said. "We gave him time to get the feel of the ministry and he still doesn't know what to do. I think every time he comes down here (SD&G) it gives more votes to us."

While admitting that his party is facing "an inherent Tory bias" in this byelection, Mr. Peterson added that PCs' complacency in strength is costing them votes.

The party believes Johnny Whitteker can win Dundas County, he said, and the support in Glengarry is stronger than was initially expected.

I think you are going to see a head-to-head fight between Johnny and (Tory candidate Noble) Villeneuve that is going to go down to the wire," Mr. Peterson said.

On the issue of language rights, the Liberal leader said the Progressive Conservatives may try to use Mr. Whitteker's unilingualism as a smokescreen to cover their party's own position of language rights.

"Johnny has shown more sensitivity to the issue of French language rights than Noble Villeneuve, a bilingual candidate. Our party would like to see the issue dealt with through an independent commission rather than a political whim."

The tone of the campaign, Mr. Whitteker said, has been set by Mr. Whitteker from the outset. "Why are they talking about tile drainage. Because Johnny Whitteker talked about it."

The byelection is not in the bag, he said, but the Liberals are in their best position yet to topple the Tories.

"If we could win the riding," he said, "it could be seen in retrospect as starting the snowball across the province."

NDDHS holds achievement day

MAPLE RIDGE — Excellence in academics, athletics and school participation was recognized last Wednesday as North Dundas District High School held its annual Student Achievement Assembly.

The assembly, held as a complement to traditional graduation exercises by providing the school's faculty with an opportunity to honor the achievements of students in grades 9 to 11, was attended by board of education trustee Roy Hastings.

Master of ceremonies and school vice-principal Harry Craig opened the assembly by reminding students of the loss of two of the school's founders and most dedicated supporters, Lorne Thompson and Eric Casselman.

Mr. Thompson, who died Oct. 29, was a veteran school board trustee. Mr. Casselman, who died on July 11, was chairman of the board of trustees when the school opened in 1963.

During the assembly, honor bars were presented to students who had excelled in their studies and fine arts bars were awarded to students who were outstanding in their contribution to the fields of public speaking, debating, art and drama.

Band bars were presented to the 48 students who participated in the high school band.

Sixteen students received school monograms for earning five arm bars and 13 students received NDDHS medals for attaining the highest academic standing in their programs.

Special prizes and awards were also presented in recognition to excellence in a particular area of school life.

The Wesley Newman Fulton Shield for the highest Grade 9 average in the science, technology and trades program was won by Clinton Young.

Caren Wu received the Fulton Brothers Shield for the highest average in the Grade 9 regular program.

The Mrs. Lillian Allison Trophy for best family studies student in grades 9 and 10 went to Teresa Pizzamiglio.

Cash prizes of $10, $15 and $20 for typewriting speed were presented to Dina Pavlounis (Grade 9), Heather Walker (Grade 10), and Kim Shay (Grade 11).

The P.G. Hewitt Band Trophy, presented to the student who has made the greatest contribution to the school's junior band, was awarded to Tim O'Connor. Mr. O'Connor also received a $10 cash award.

The Morewood Women's Institute Trophy for the student with the highest standing in grade 10 and 11 technical drawing went to Roy Hoople.

Marilyn Craig received the Empey Trust award as the student with the highest average in English in grades 9, 10 and 11.

Miss Craig also won the Ontario Business Educator's Association Junior Accounting Trophy. The trophy is presented annually to the student who placed first in the SD&G junior accounting competition.

The Ontario Business Educator's Association Junior Accounting Trophy for the student who placed second in the competition went to Michael Matthew.

Greg McKibbon and Neil Messman won the Ontario Business Educator's Association Marketing Contest Trophy. The two placed first in SD&G competition and earned a ranking in the province's top 10.

Caren Wu accepted the Marion N. Casselman award of $10 for excellence in Canadian History.

Six students were honored for their achievements in the Pascal Math Contest for Grade 9 students.

Marnie Lamb received a certificate of merit for ranking in the top 10 per cent nationally and a medal and cash prize for placing first at North Dundas. Certificates of distinction for placing in the top 25 per cent were presented to Wilma Luimes, Glain Roberts, Denise Riou, Bobby VanNoppen and Clinton Young.

John Wu, Teresa Pizzamiglio and Julie Lamb received certificates of merit for ranking in the top 10 per cent of all Grade 10 students nationally in the Cayley Math Contest. Mr. Wu also received a medal and a cash award for placing first at North Dundas and throughout Eastern Ontario. Certificates of distinction were presented to Ron Coughlar, Hugh Craig, Grant Groves and Caren Wu.

Tim McNabb received a medal and cash award for placing first among Grade 11 students from North Dundas taking part in the Fermat Math Contest. Ken Carscadden, Angus Craig, Roy Hoople, Laura Hunter, Tim McNabb and Joel Verdurmen were presented with certificates of distinction.

The James A. Lemon Memorial Trophy, presented for outstanding work in the aircraft program, was won by Andreas Jampen.

Irene Jansen was the recipient of the yearbook award as the student who contributed the most to the editing of the book.

Michelle Gregory was named as the school's best all-around gymnast in 1982-83.

The trophy for Best All-Around Junior Male Athlete was shared by Grant Groves and Ron Roy.

Franzi Herzig was named Best All-Around Junior Female Athlete.

Nina Woods hosts WCTU

WINCHESTER — The November meeting of the WCTU was held at the home of Nina Woods on Nov. 24.

During the meeting, which was opened with prayer, Mrs. C. Mack acted as secretary and Mrs. Mary Prosser acted as president.

Mrs. Lillian McGuff recited Psalm 118 and Mrs. Woods led in meditation. This was followed by a reading on the challenge of the printed page.

Mrs. Woods read a write-up on Mrs. Lloyd Mino, world recording secretary and Mrs. Mabel Crowder delivered the community friendship report.

Mrs. Margaret McHugh read the nomination report which was accepted with minor revisions.

Miss May Walters presented the treasurer's report and said she will be sending Christmas greetings to all outpost members.

Members are reminded to put their dues in an envelope with their names on them and have them ready for the December meeting.

The next meeting will be held at Eatonholm.

The meeting closed with a prayer circle led by Annie Gibson.

A lunch was served by the grandchildren of Nina Woods.

Davidsons celebrate 25th

WINCHESTER — A pleasant social evening was enjoyed recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Robinson in honor of Mac and Bertha Davidson's 25th wedding anniversary.

The couple were presented with a brass floor lamp and an engraved tray from the community, friends and neighbors for which they expressed sincere appreciation.

Lunch was served with a specially decorated anniversary cake.

Hosting the special occasion were Peter and Karen Leyenaar, Lawrence and Marg Holmes, Eric and Mary Steele, Percy and Gerry Casselman and Denzil and Eleanor Robinson.

SNRCA channelization delayed by snow

BERWICK — An early snow this year has caused a minor delay in the completion of the South Nation River Conservation Authority's (SNRCA) 1982 river channelization project, Contract IV.

Contract IV was originally awarded to Auto Concrete Curb Ltd. in May of 1982, however before the project was completed the company and SNRCA became embroiled in a legal dispute involving final payments to the firm. As a result, some of the work which should have been completed last year remained and in September of this year SNRCA awarded a $55,801 contract to Sprayturf Ltd. of London to put the finishing touches on the project.

At Wednesday's SNRCA executive committee meeting general manager Jim Windsor said the contractor did not "get as much done as we had hoped" and he laid the blame for the delay on the snow that fell in the early part of November.

"We'll leave the rest until next spring," he told the meeting. "Most of the work remaining involves seeding the banks. The excavation (that remained) and the fencing have both been done."

Nettie Dey dies Nov. 16

Nettie Marjorie Dey, a Morrisburg housewife, died on Wed., Nov. 16 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Born in Edwards, Ont., she was the daughter of the late John and Sarah (Baskerville) Booth.

In 1944 she married James Dey, who survives, in Edwards. The couple moved to Morrisburg eight years ago.

Mrs. Dey was a member of the Pentecostal Church in Morrisburg.

Rev. Robert Farbin conducted funeral services from Fairbairn Funeral Home Ltd., Morrisburg on Fri., Nov. 18.

Pallbearers were Hugh Jarvis, Roger Dixon, Pryce Rupert, Fred Hill, Ted Hondas and Stuart Harrison.

Interment was at North Russell Cemetery.

SNRCA faces two lawsuits

BERWICK — The South Nation River Conservation Authority (SNRCA) is facing two separate lawsuits totalling $170,000 in connection with a channelization project that dates back to 1979.

SNRCA general manager Jim Windsor announced the amounts being sought in the suits, each for $85,000, at an executive meeting of the authority here last Wednesday.

While the authority has known of the lawsuits for some time — writs of summons were served on Mr. Windsor June 6 — it was not until recently that it was notified of the amount of money involved.

The two suits, launched by Chesterville area residents Keith Droppo and Nancy and David Bowman, involve a 1979 river dredging project called Contract 1. Also named as defendants in the suits are Evans Construction, the firm that handled the project, and Chesterville resident Brian Smith.

The suits apparently involve a waste disposal site that Evans Construction leased from Mr. Smith and which was used to dump the silt removed from the river.

The contractor was forced to continue to work on the project during the winter and much of the silt that was left at the disposal site had ice in it.

In the spring of 1980 the pile began to melt and some of it slid onto an adjoining piece of land owned by Mr. Droppo, taking out a fence, several dozen trees and eventually covering between two and three acres of land.

Mr. Droppo later sold a parcel of property, containing an affected area, to Mr. and Mrs. Bowman.

Mr. Windsor has stated previously he doesn't understand why the authority is named in the suit. The company handling the channelization project, he claims, was given the responsibility of securing a waste disposal site.

At Wednesday's meeting, Mr. Windsor said SNRCA "intended to resist" the actions and would be meeting with their solicitors shortly to prepare a statement of defense.

"I can't understand for the life of me how we are involved," SNRCA chairman Lorne Strader said. "It's their land."

Mr. Windsor told the executive members that the first move SNRCA will take, once it gets to court, is to apply for a dismissal on the grounds that SNRCA isn't involved in the case.

"However, I don't think the court will agree," he said. "They might just say, 'Thank you, but let's hear the case first'."

Nearly completed project hits first snag

BERWICK — The South Nation River Conservation Authority's (SNRCA) current river channelization work, Contract V, recently ran into the first problem of the project.

SNRCA general manager Jim Windsor told an executive committee meeting held Wednesday in Berwick that this year's $1.4 million project, which was awarded to Alnor Earthmoving Ltd. of Oshawa, ran into "its first snag" when a sub-contractor was 10 days late in arriving at the job site.

The sub-contractor was to have supervised the grass seeding on the newly formed river banks, however, by the time he did arrive it had snowed. Consequently Mr. Windsor said, some of the seeding that was to have been done this fall will now have to wait until the spring of 1984.

Contract V, which had previously progressed without any delays, saw channelization work done to a section of the South Nation River from a point three kilometres west of the Cass Bridge to the site of the new Salters Bridge.

"This is the only problem we've run into on this contract," Mr. Windsor said. "Substantial completion was achieved at the end of October. A little bit of bulldozer work and seeding is all that's left."

Lions collecting glasses

METCALFE — Lions clubs in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec are collecting pairs of glasses to bring the gift of sight to thousands in the Third World.

Fern Moss of the Metcalfe Lions Club said he has collected 50 pairs of glasses so far in a project that will continue throughout the year.

The glasses will be sent to John Tubman of the Ottawa West Lions Club, who is co-ordinating the project in Lions District A4, which includes clubs in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec. He said the project is also sponsored by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Mr. Tubman, an Ottawa funeral director, said he has written to funeral homes in the district asking them to help the Lions clubs by sending glasses donated by the families of deceased persons.

The glasses will be brought to the Third World by teams of volunteers, including ophthalmologists and optometrists.

A group of 97 volunteers spent two weeks in Nicaragua last year, where they distributed almost 50,000 pairs of glasses and performed eye surgery. Some people waited for days to have operations, and thousands were still waiting when the group had to leave, Mr. Tubman said.

The date of the next visit has not been determined, "but they'll be going back," he said.

Mr. Tubman has collected 400 to 500 pairs of glasses so far.

Churches enter peace debate

METCALFE — The peace debate is spreading throughout the whole Christian Church, former cabinet minister David MacDonald told a gathering of about 50 people at Metcalfe United Church Sun., Nov. 13.

Mr. MacDonald, who served as secretary of state and Minister of Communications in the 1979 Conservative government, is also a United Church minister.

A special guest at a pot luck luncheon, Mr. MacDonald spoke on "The Church's Role in Peace and Disarmament."

The World Council of Churches have formally recognized that the question of nuclear disarmament cannot be addressed solely as a political issue, Mr. MacDonald said. They have stated, in what he described as a watershed for the churches, that "the time has come when the churches must unequivocally declare that the production and deployment, as well as the use of nuclear weapons, are a crime against humanity and that such activities must be condemned on ethical and theological grounds."

This has set off great debate within member churches, and they will be grappling with the issue for years to come, Mr. MacDonald said.

Women assumed a profound role in the WCC conference, which took place in Vancouver this year. Mr. MacDonald said the inter-relationship of this, the central theme of peace and the prominent experience of worship was critical to the churches as they pursue a more active role in the search for peace.

Worship must again become a central experience within the church before it can assume a world leadership role, he said. Worship can help to develop a value system founded on reconciliation rather than on violence and militarism.

Mr. MacDonald expressed concern with the pervasive level of violence in society, and with people's attitudes to what the world is all about at both individual and national levels.

He said nations are too quick to solve their international disputes with violence rather than with diplomacy. Nations, he said, must act more out of an overall global public interest rather than in their own limited self interest.

Quoting a fellow minister, Mr. MacDonald said, "Is it possible for us to call ourselves Christians when we can contemplate the use of weapons that would cause such death and destruction for many of our fellow human beings and indeed affect the future of the planet itself?"

Mr. MacDonald stressed that being for peace is a whole approach to life which is caught up with reconciliation and with the belief that "God has endowed every man, woman and child with a spark of his own creation."

Shilo members win awards

SD&G immersion program gets an A

CORNWALL — Students in the SD&G bilingual program "are developing very good speaking and writing skills in French," an Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE) committee concludes.

The committee, which conducted its study of the language skills of Grade 3 students in French immersion last year, presented its findings at an SD&G Board of Education meeting Nov. 22.

The report was presented by OISE member Sharon Lapkin, principal investigator in last year's study. Research was also conducted by Diane Boucher, Doug Hart and Laurette Levy.

The committee focussed its evaluation on the speaking and writing skills of SD&G students at Grade 3 level, and compared them to those of students in other school boards, the report said.

The comparison groups included French immersion students in Saskatchewan, another Ontario school board, and a group of unilingual Quebec francophones.

Although the SD&G students had received considerably less exposure to French than any of the comparison groups, they performed well in the area of grammatical competence and scored comparable to or slightly better than the other groups overall.

"This suggests that the SD&G bilingual program is very effective in developing good writing and speaking skills in French," the report stated.

However, the SD&G students scored lower than the Quebec students in the areas of sentence repetition and in pronunciation.

The tests included both Grade 3 and Grade 2 levels of a standardized test of French reading comprehension designed by OISE, and a French language evaluation unit produced for the Department of Education in Saskatchewan.

North Dundas notebook: Achievement night

by Irene Jansen and Laurie Hunter

MAPLE RIDGE — Mon., Nov. 21 was just another day in the academic life of North Dundas High Schoolers but Monday night was another story.

Musicians from Grade 9 through to Grade 13 were in the music room at 7:15pm, polishing and tooting their horns and of course, paying full attention to their confident conductor, Mr. St. Louis. By 8pm the chairs were full and the junior band delighted its listeners by performing with a surprisingly mature tone.

The enraptured audience was then treated to an appearance by the senior band, which presented a short musical history by performing tunes from a classical piece by Bach to a swingin' medley of Big Band favorites to a pop tune by Paul McCartney and various other arrangements in between. Although the small blunders inevitable in a premiere performance were not absent, the audience was entertained by, and impressed with, the quality of the music.

Despite the end of the musical interlude, the gymnasium was not quiet for long. Wed., Nov. 23 was the date for our Student Achievement Program when proud parents watched their daughters and sons accept well earned service bars, honor bars and special awards. NDDHS medals were awarded to the students who attained the highest academic standing in their respective programs. Recipient of the Grade 9 advanced gold medal was Caren Wu and tied for the silver were Dina Pavlounis and Patricia VanWylick.

Winners of the Grade 9 general medals were Alan McRobbie for the gold and Aron Seim for the silver. Julie Lamb was awarded the gold medal for the Grade 10 advanced program and Teresa Pizzamiglio was awarded the silver.

Cindy McAuley received the gold medal for Grade 10 general and Gerald Mulder received the silver.

Marilyn Craig was the recipient of the gold medal for the Grade 11 advanced program and Laura Hunter was next with the silver. For Grade 11 general, Bill Nyenkemp won the gold medal and Graham Barnard won the silver medal.

Despite a couple of minor stumbles and mispronunciations, the program went along smoothly thanks to Mr. Craig. Those who attended were treated afterwards to refreshments prepared by Miss MacLeod's girls' practical class.

Unfortunately, the remainder of Wednesday was disappointing for members of the junior girls' basketball team who lost their well played game against CCVS 57-46. Nevertheless, North Dundas recognizes the tremendous effort put forth by the players and coaches, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Bowen. Thanks and congratulations are due to the team for their excellent season.

Some other school sports teams and clubs are just getting under way; namely, the curling team and the ski club prospects for the latter were looking quite good for a while but unfortunately, they melted away. Hopefully this year the slopes will be white and waiting for the large club of North Dundas '83-'84.

On a sadder note, there was a collection on Thursday to assist Mary Ann Stewart (Craig Williamson's guardian) whose barn burned on Tuesday night.

A collection of a different nature will take place Wed., Nov. 30: one for blood. On this date a Blood Donor Clinic will be held at North Dundas. Seaway students will be attending during the afternoon and the results of the clinic will determine the winner of the Corpuscle Cup.

North Dundas has won this trophy often in the past and we want to win it again this fall. If you're 17 years of age or older and a member of North Dundas, you are eligible.

To keep prospective donors healthy and cold-free, we have arranged for the students who sold citrus fruit earlier this year to pick up their fruit on Mon., Nov. 28 and deliver it to their customers. An orange a day keeps the cold virus away and lets you support our school at Thursday's clinic.

Baptists welcome new minister

WINCHESTER — Worshippers from Winchester, Ormond and South Gower filled Winchester Baptist Church on Nov. 7 to welcome the church's new pastor, Ernest Cox.

Mr. Cox, a recent graduate of Acadia University where he received his Master of Divinity degree, said he was overwhelmed by the warmth and sincerity of the welcome and expressed his appreciation for the kindness extended to both himself and his wife.

Originally from the Ottawa area, Mr. and Mrs. Cox are well known for their Ministry of Music. Mr. Cox was involved in Outreach work, in the Kingston and Ottawa areas, before accepting the call to the three local churches.

Mrs. Roberta MacDonald, Moderator of the Ottawa Baptist Association, conducted the induction service. The Old Testament lesson was read by Edward Powell, assistant pastor of Bromley Rd. Baptist Church, Ottawa.

Rudy Pohl read from the New Testament and Rev. Ralph Wilton of Bromley Rd. Baptist Church offered the Prayer of Invocation.

Rev. Frank Stone of Osgoode Baptist Church, Vernon, delivered a sermon emphasizing the responsibility of both the pastor and the people. Both, he said, had to be united in the advancement of God's Kingdom in the community.

Presentation of the pastor was made by Peter Leyenaar, chairman of the Board of Diacons, and the act of induction followed.

Rev. George Cawfield, Kanata Baptist Church, offered the induction prayer.

A solo was performed by Mrs. Ernie Cox and Mr. Cox pronounced the Benediction.

A reception followed in the church hall, where Mr. and Mrs. Cox were warmly welcomed.

Greetings were extended by Winchester village reeve Dr. Lawrence Gray, Rev. Charles Jackson of the Winchester Wesleyan Church, Rev. Alex Dobson of St. Matthias Anglican Church and Ronald Anderson of Bethany Chapel.

Also greeting the new pastor were Carl Stairs, past president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario, Quebec Rev. A.V. Jorgensen, vice moderator of the association, and Rev. Gervais Black of Ottawa.

CWL plans Christmas bazaar

CHESTERVILLE — A large number of enthusiastic members were present for the November meeting of St. Mary's CWL in Chesterville. President Pat Bradley opened the meeting with prayer.

Following the adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer's report, a spiritual reading was given by Josephine Bulger.

Further plans were discussed by the members regarding the Christmas Bazaar held on Nov. 26.

An important item that came from this meeting was that the CWL has decided, if approached by the family, to serve lunch in the church hall, after a funeral of a parishioner of St. Mary's. A nominal fee will be charged to cover expenses of this type of lunch.

It was mentioned by Pat Bradley, that $25 had been donated as one prize to St. Mary's PTA for a raffle which is being held by their organization. Pat Bradley also noted that she and two other members attended a Regional Meeting of the CWL, held in Spencerville on Oct. 30.

Father Appelman closed the meeting with prayer.

Convenor of the meeting was Lisa Streng who introduced the guest speakers for the evening, Mrs. Vera Mitchell, superintendent of nursing, and Chuck Axel, activities co-ordinator from Dundas Manor. They both explained the purpose, need and operations of Dundas Manor and the many varied activities that they have made available to their members.

They also described the many areas and ways in which volunteers could be of assistance and the extreme need the Manor has for volunteers.

Surprised on 80th

WINCHESTER — A surprise party to honor Mrs. Annie Miller of Winchester was held at the Loyalist Hotel, Morrisburg, on Nov. 19.

Attending the party were her four sons and their families, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild. Her sister, Mary Patterson of Ogdensburg, New York, also attended.

After a social hour and a delicious meal, Mrs. Miller was presented with several lovely gifts.

Mrs. Miller responded by thanking those present for the delightful evening.

AMO meeting

OAKVILLE — Mayor Albert Bouwers of Osgoode Township joined 60 other municipal leaders from across Ontario here last weekend for the fall meeting of the board of directors of the Association of Municipalities of Ontario.

The meeting considered a number of issues of major concern to municipalities. Issues included Ontario's new restraint program, provincial transfer payments to municipal governments, family violence, housing and social service programs, waste management, flood plain management policies and off-road recreational vehicles.

The association is the principal spokesman for 650 municipal governments in Ontario on matters relating to federal and provincial legislation.

Our thanks

We would like to extend a sincere thank you to our family for the celebration party on our 50th anniversary and to all our relatives, friends and neighbors with best wishes, cards, gifts and money and telephone calls, certificates from Walter Baker, MP, Governor-General of Canada, William Davis, Premier of Ontario, Prime Minister Trudeau and Brian Mulroney. Your thoughtfulness was deeply appreciated.

—Walter and Elizabeth McCooeye

UCW bazaar successful

WINCHESTER SPRINGS — The United Church Women met at the church hall on Nov. 10 with President Marion Casselman opening the meeting with the poem, "Ten Good Points."

The Worship Committee, led by Mrs. Bertha Davidson, presented a very good program. Their theme was "Individual Responsibility."

The new study book was introduced with a humorous skit.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and 13 members answered roll call.

Mrs. Alys McIntosh reported that the annual bazaar was very successful.

Mrs. Pearl Link and Marion Casselman attended the executive meeting on Nov. 8 and they said they enjoyed the speakers and activities.

The next meeting is on Dec. 8 and members are to participate with a pot luck supper and program.

Rideau River Development

Rideau and Osgoode Townships

Proposed Amendment 40 to the Regional Official Plan

The Planning Committee is considering recommending the adoption of an amendment to the Region's Official Plan that will change the designation of lands along the Rideau River between Manotick and Kars. The designation will change from "Agricultural Resource (River Corridor)" to "Marginal Resource Area (River Corridor)". The effect of the change will be to permit country lot development of these lands without the normal requirement that the land be tree covered and have rolling terrain. Lot sizes must be varied in order to allow for aesthetic siting of the buildings.

Public Hearing

The Planning Committee has scheduled a public hearing to receive comments from interested members of the public on the proposed amendment.

TUESDAY, 10 JANUARY, 1984
2:00 P.M.
9th FLOOR, 222 QUEEN STREET, OTTAWA

Those wishing to address the committee or submit written material should make arrangements by 29 December 1983 with

Dundas Devils eliminated

CCVS Golden Raiders score 57-46 sudden-death victory

MAPLE RIDGE — Home court wasn't quite enough for an advantage to spark the North Dundas Blue Devils to an SD&G Junior Girls playoff victory here last Wednesday afternoon. In spite of a valiant effort against Cornwall's CCVS Golden Raiders, the Devils were eliminated 57-46 in a sudden-death semi-final contest.

North Dundas, with a five win, one loss regular season record to their credit, won their divisional pennant and drew a first-round quarter-final game bye in the 1983 SD&G playoffs. They were hoping for a La Citadelle Patriotes upset over CCVS Golden Raiders in a sudden-death qualifying game because they had defeated the Patriotes twice. Unfortunately, they didn't get their wish and instead had to play the powerful CCVS Golden Raiders here last Wednesday afternoon.

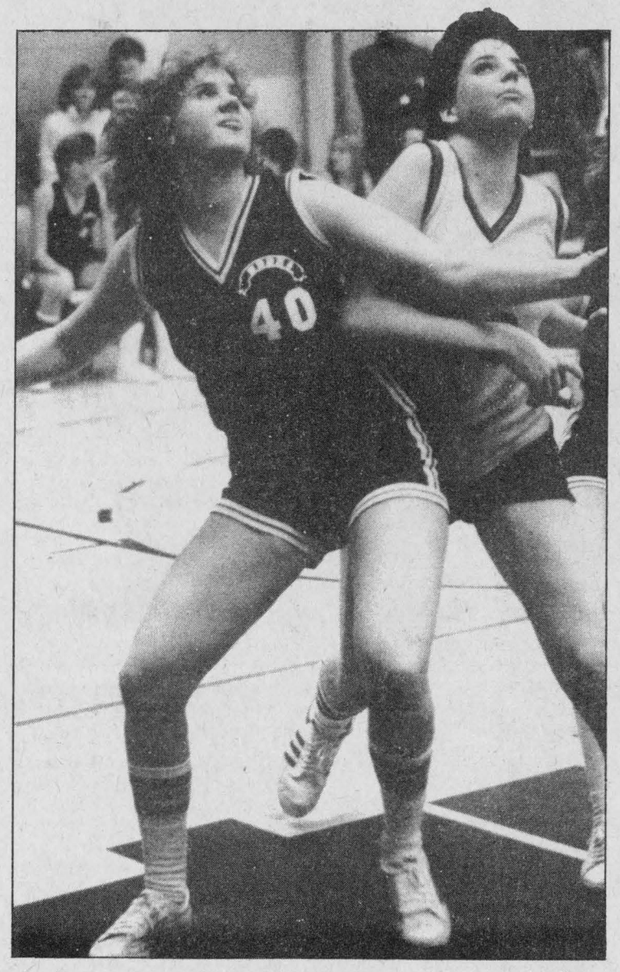
Being decided underdogs against the Cornwall squad didn't prevent the locals from giving an extremely good account of themselves. Twice in the first half North Dundas fell behind by wide margins, but battled back to close the gap to two points. The trailed 18-16 at the half and were definitely in the game until the third quarter when the bigger CCVS five took command, converted turnovers and poured in 25 points, surging to a 43-28 three-quarter lead.

Down 15 points with eight minutes to play still didn't discourage the smaller Devils as they gamely pressed the Raiders into turnovers and then converted the opportunities into 18 fourth-quarter points.

The Devils actually won that fourth period, outscoring CCVS 18-15, unfortunately, it wasn't enough to make up that disastrous 25-point third quarter.

NDDHS coach Blake Taylor said, "We knew it would come down to this. They (CCVS) converted their chances — it was percentage shooting, we just couldn't score."

"That's to be expected; we practice just once a week here and the difference in basic skills was evident. The city players have more opportunity to play and their skills are sharper."



April Van Vlaanderen jockeys for position in the key during last Wednesday's SD&G sudden death playoff game here at North Dundas. The Blue Devils lost 57-46 to the CCVS Golden Raiders, Van Vlaanderen (No. 40) scored 17 points for Dundas. Press Photos—Van Bridger

Taylor also eluded to the third quarter when CCVS rambled over Dundas' defence for 25 points, but noted that was his team's only bad quarter. Fellow coach Chris Bowens commented that he was proud of the fact that the girls had "played well and made a real game of it."

Down 11-1 later in the first quarter the Devils fell behind further (13-5) at quarter time, but scrambled back to within two points (13-11) with 5:00 left in period two.

CCVS' superior size and strength helped them to an 18-11 lead by the 2:49 mark but once again, NDDHS battled back on a pair of field goals and a foul shot by April VanVlaanderen and closed the gap to 18-16 at half time.

Period three was the eight-minute span CCVS used to full advantage to put some distance between themselves and their pesky country cousins.

Led by Teena Bedard's scoring and quick breaks, as well as the rebounding of Kay Childerhose and Jennifer Tait, they pounded in 25 points, storming to a 43-28 lead.

Julie Lamb and April VanVlaanderen dropped in a pair of field goals, each pacing the Devils to an 18-point fourth quarter, but it wasn't enough to erase that bad third quarter.

CCVS' level of individual skill was higher than that of their opposition and their shooting, ball handling and rebounding thwarted Dundas' comeback.

Childerhose and Tait were controlling the ball under the boards using their height to advantage, but it was Teena Bedard's second-half offensive charge that was perhaps the main difference between the squads. Bedard led CCVS with 16 points, scoring 12 of those in the second half. She sparked the Raiders at precisely the right moments. Her strength controlling the ball on the floor and setting up pass breaks helped shut down the eager North Dundas five's attempt to regroup.

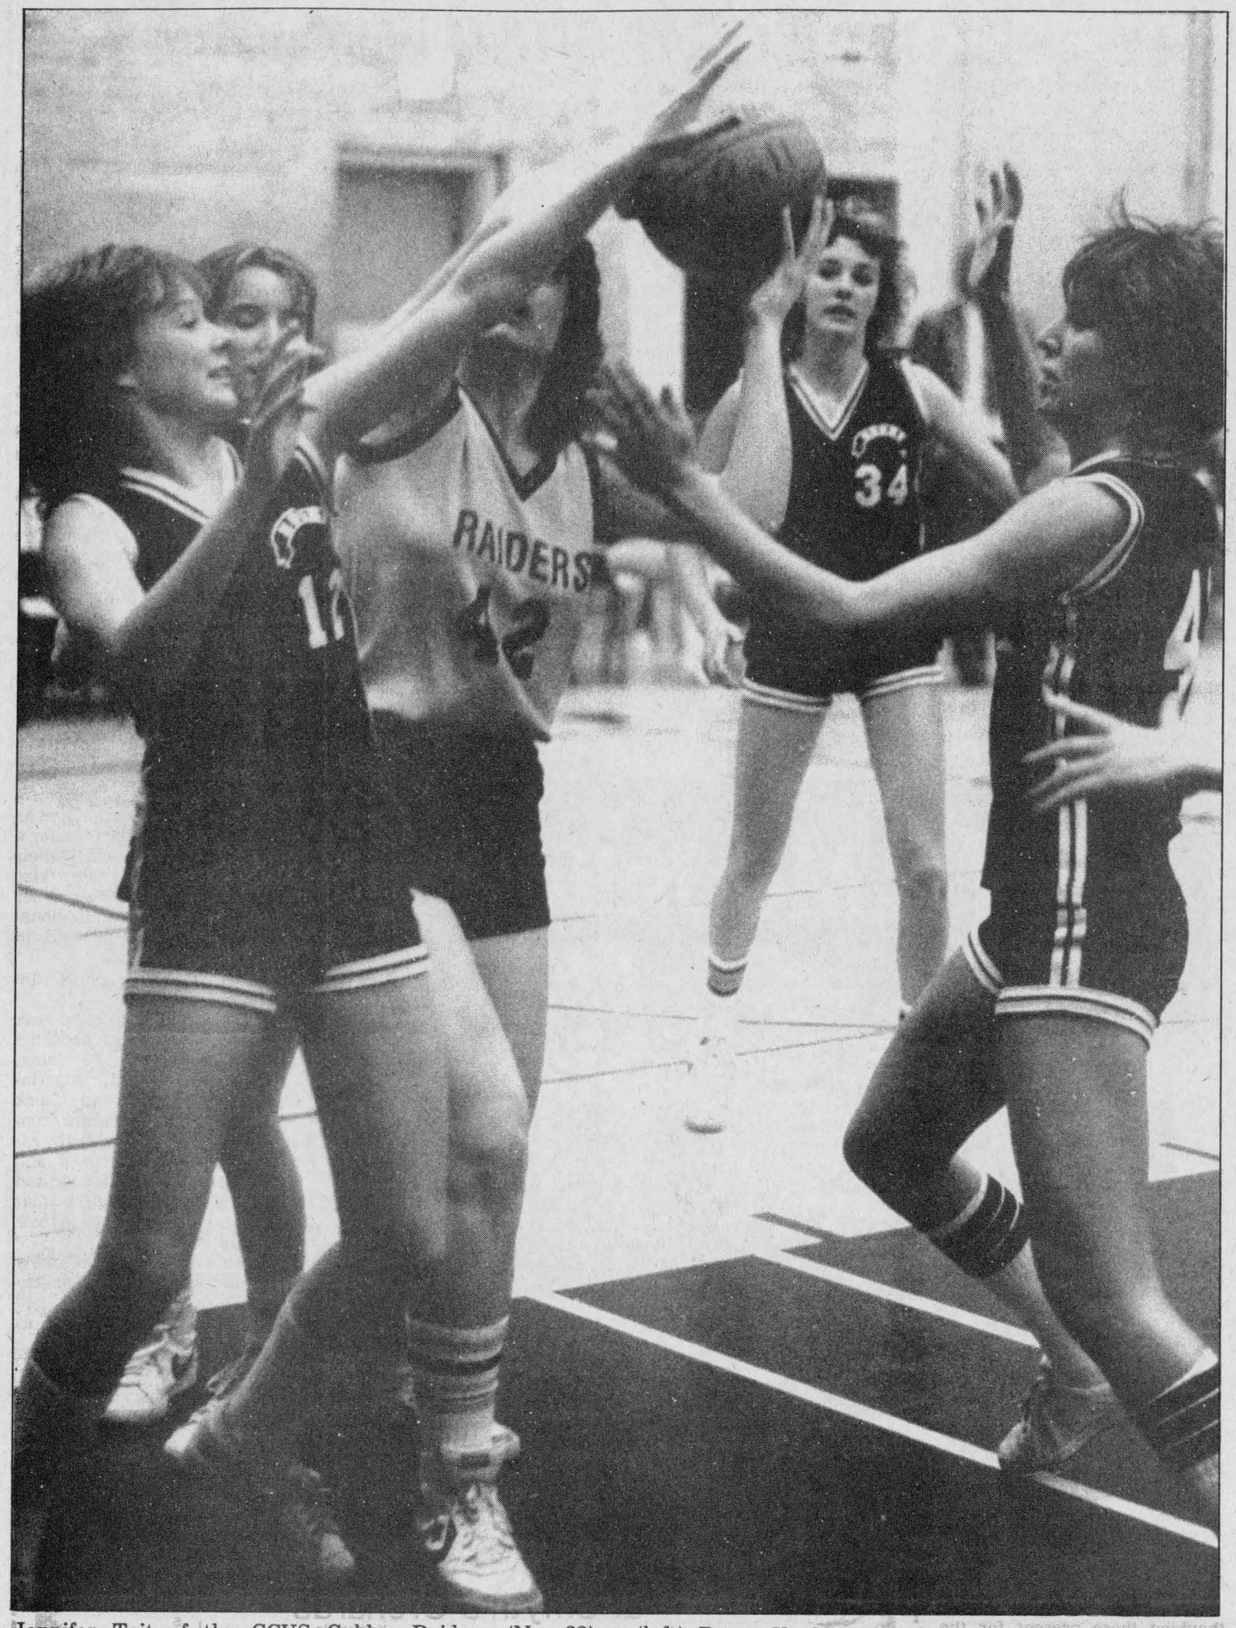
Besides Bedard's 16 points, Jennifer Tait supplied 14, S. Daprat netted 10 and Childerhose added nine to the main portion of the CCVS offence.

April VanVlaanderen, playing her best game of the season, scored 17 points for North Dundas, hitting on six field goals, three of those were excellent rushes and successful layups. She also converted five of nine free throws.

Julie Lamb popped in eight points, Cindy Ace hit for six, Tracie McVey had five and Donna Koekkoek dropped in three. Linda Hamelia, Rhonda McIntosh and Norine Milne each hooped two points. Carole Droppo, Carolyn and Tracey-Lee Anderson were all held off the scoresheet.

The Junior Devils' 1983 SD&G basketball record finished a very respectable five wins and two losses.

CCVS, by virtue of their win over NDDHS, qualified for the SD&G two-game championship final against General Vanier Vikings. The teams split their regular season meetings.



Jennifer Tait of the CCVS Golden Raiders (No. 32) found herself completely surrounded on this offensive during last week's sudden death SD&G Junior girls high school basketball playoff game. Dundas' Tracie McVey (left), Donna Koekkoek (right) and Norine Milne (No. 34) converged on Tait who managed to score 14 points in the Raiders' 57-46 victory. Raiders went on to challenge General Vanier for the SD&G championship.

Hawks miss chance for first place

WINCHESTER — A 10-5 loss to the last-place Char-Lan Rebels in Williamstown Saturday night cost the Winchester Hawks a golden opportunity to move into first place in the Alex English Division of the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League.

Hawks had doubled the pesky Alexandria Glens 6-3 right in the Glengarry Sports Palace Friday night, but couldn't come up with another road victory the following night, losing 10-5 to the last-place Rebels.

A win in the Williamstown arena would have improved Winchester's record to nine wins and four losses and moved them into a tie for first place with the Metcalfe Jets, one point up on second-place Navan Grads. Instead, the Hawks fell to a mark of eight wins and five losses, remained two points behind the Jets, and one back of the Navan Grads. The Grads come to Winchester this Friday night, Dec. 2, with their sights set on a victory and hopes to open up a three-point spread on the Hawks.

Winchester than travels to Clarence Creek this Sunday for an evening encounter with the troublesome Beavers.

Saturday's 10-5 loss to the Rebels was a severe setback and a disappointment to coach Ken McClatchie, but as he stated after that 7-4 loss to the Clarence Creek Beavers two weeks ago: "Last year, with 20-year-olds in the lineup we had a record of five wins, five losses and a tie. This season we have one 20-year-old (Ken Rose) and have eight wins and five losses."

He went on to say that he felt that the fans had perhaps forgotten that this was a rebuilding year. "Do they (fans) expect the Hawks to win every game? The Yankees lose games, the Dallas Cowboys lose games, and we are going to lose games, but it shouldn't be a reason to get down on the boys. They can still provide entertaining and exciting hockey."

GOOD MOVE

One move which paid off for coaches McClatchie and John Klein-Swormink was the reforming of a line consisting of big Bruce Casselman and the Kemptville contingent of Ron Seguin and Rene Bongard. With "Truck" Casselman working the corners, Seguin and Bongard have been freed up to get some better opportunities to score. Friday night in Alexandria Seguin found the net three times while Casselman drew three assists and Bongard earned two helpers.

Terry Barkley got his fourth goal of the campaign, rookie Gary Klein-Swormink added his second, and captain Bourk Boyd broke out of his recent slump to pick up his 14th. Along with Casselman's three assists and two by Bongard, the Hawks got single helpers from Mark Smith, Jeff Henry, Ron Seguin and Gary Klein-Swormink.

With Barry Kennedy now wearing the uniform of the Gloucester Rangers in the Central Junior A League, Jamie McGuire got the call and held the Glens to a goal a period. Steve Stewart, Pierre Rowan and Maurice Bellefueille scored for Alexandria.

Bruce Casselman and Glens' goalie Pat Brunet were ejected for fighting with just 2:46 left in the game so that knocked Casselman out of the lineup for the following night's game in Williamstown.

Hawks led the Glens 2-1 after a period, 5-2 after two, scoring twice in the middle session on powerplays. Winchester outshot their hosts 37-25 and held them to just five shots in the final period.

10-5 LOSS

Saturday night the Rebels took a 4-3 first-period lead on the visiting Hawks, made it 6-4 after two, and scored four times in the final frame, taking the 10-5 victory (their fourth in 13 games).

Mike Lapensee paced Char-Lan with three goals. Dwayne Spink added two while Mike Fox, Murray MacDonald, Scott MacDonell, Dan Flaro and Shawn Blanchard fired singles in behind Hawks' Jamie McGuire.

Keith Moore scored twice for Winchester. Ron Seguin scored his 10th, Steve McCormick his second, and Bourk Boyd his 15th. Boyd drew two assists while Seguin, McCormick, Ken Rose, Vince Cousineau and Gary Klein-Swormink picked up single helpers.

Hawks drew 13 minor penalties and allowed two powerplay goals. Rebels picked up 14 penalties on two powerplay goals and took nine penalties in the third period.

HAWKS HAPPENINGS

Forward Kelly Mitchell, after 10 games and limited ice time, has left Winchester and returned home to Haliburton where he will rejoin the Junior C Huskies. Kelly, a popular NDDHS student, led the Huskies in scoring last season.

Ron Seguin now has scored 10 goals and added five assists in seven games since joining the Hawks. His Kemptville counterpart, Rene Bongard, a talented playmaker, has three goals and five assists for eight points in seven games.

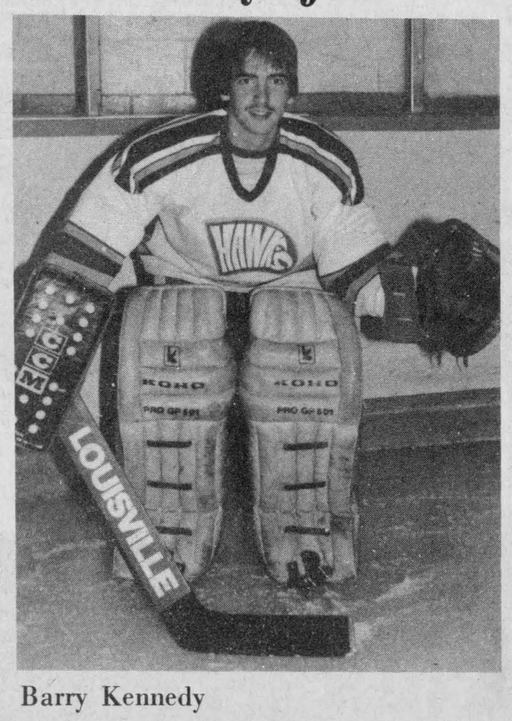
Big Bruce Casselman fits in well with the Kemptville boys (Seguin and Bongard) and now has 12 points in 12 games.

Goalie Barry Kennedy joined the Gloucester Junior A Rangers late last week and played in a pair of wins. His absence leaves the Hawks with Bantam goalie Ben Henry as backup. Henry dressed for both games on the weekend but didn't see action.

Captain Bourk Boyd snapped out of his scoring slump and moved back into the top 10 with team-mate Keith Moore. Both have 23 points.

There are possibilities that a pair of former Hawks will be back in the lineup around Christmas. Defenceman Nelson Hursti who is with the Nepean Junior A Raiders, and forward Dean McIntosh who is attending college in New York State have both been talking with coaches and could be back.

Kennedy joins Junior A Rangers



Barry Kennedy

WINCHESTER — Barry Kennedy has left the Winchester Hawks of the Eastern Ontario Junior B League and joined the Gloucester Rangers of the Central Junior A League.

Kennedy, a 17-year-old Nepean native, was in his second year with Winchester and was sporting a goals against average of 5:35, having allowed 31 goals in 348 minutes of play. Kennedy had four wins and two losses to his credit in his first six games with the Hawks.

Hawks' coach Ken McClatchie told The Press that his veteran netminder signed with the Rangers last week after he had received the opportunity of playing regularly in the A circuit. The Ontario Major Junior A Windsor Spitfires drafted Kennedy last spring and want him to play at the Junior A level so he can affiliate with them. He had attended Windsor camp this fall but returned to Winchester after several stops around the Central League.

"It's too bad we have to lose Barry, especially when he was playing so well, but we couldn't let him miss such a great opportunity. If he plays well he could be in the OHA with Windsor before the season's out," explained McClatchie.

The coach felt that the chances of Kennedy being returned to the Hawks were almost nil.

Last season Kennedy teamed with Bruce Quaile to get the Hawks into the Alex English Division final against the Metcalfe Jets.

When questioned about a replacement, Hawks' coach McClatchie says he and Ranger coach Dave Hough have been talking and are working on bringing a goalie from the Gloucester roster to Winchester. The Winchester mentor says there are several other possibilities, but nothing definite yet, and we must rely on Jamie McGuire to shoulder the load until help can be found.

Barry Kennedy played his first game for the Rangers last Friday night and figured in a 4-3 victory over first-place Nepean Raiders.

The fourth-place Rangers then clipped the Hawkesbury Hawks 5-4 Sunday in Hawkesbury, picking up their 10th victory of the season.

Cayer, Guy share goals

WINCHESTER — Laurent Cayer and John Guy scored two goals each in an exciting 4-4 tie against the Prescott Ramparts here Monday night.

It was the sixth Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Midget A game for the Winchester Hawks and its results left the club with deuces on their record. The Hawks, under coach Jim Craig, entered the Midget A division this season moving up from a B classification last year and so far have provided their opposition with good competition. After six starts the Hawks sport three deuces on their record, having won two, lost two and tied two.

Monday night's 4-4 sawoff with Prescott marked the second straight 4-4 tie between the clubs. On Nov. 15 in the Fort town, Paul Heisel's second goal in the third period with just 12 seconds left, gave the Ramparts a tie. Here Monday night captain John Guy's second goal of the game at 12:46 of the third period provided Winchester with a 4-4 draw.

Monday's encounter was even at two goals after a period. Prescott went up 4-2 after two and John Guy's breakaway at 12:46 of the third evened the score at four.

Laurent Cayer put Winchester up 1-0 when he batted in a loose puck at 9:30 of period one. Linemates Mike Sargent and Dwayne Bazinet drew the assists.

Seven seconds later the Ramparts tied it when Mike Collison scored. They took a 2-1 lead at 5:29 on Dan Powers' goal but Cayer evened it at two when he scored on another rebound created by Sargent and Bazinet at 4:14.

Prescott captain Mark Tobin blistered a wicked slapshot in past Brent Burley at 12:54 of the second period, giving his team a 3-2 edge.

Once again the Hawks battled back to tie it. This time captain John Guy unleashed a hard slapshot in the right faceoff circle and beat Kevin Delaney cleanly for the tying goal.

Doug Currier put Prescott up 4-3 with a goal at the 27-second mark of the second, but for a third time Winchester stormed back to tie the game. John Guy stormed up ice and slipped the puck in under Delaney's glove at 12:46 of the final period, creating the 4-4 tie.

Steve Craig set up Guy's first goal and then Bantam affiliate J.D. VanNoy and Sam Gibson combined to help out on the tying goal.

Mike Sargent led the Hawks in their 4-4 tie in Prescott on Nov. 15 scoring two goals. Laurent Cayer had a goal and three assists while Sam Gibson fired in a single goal. Steve Craig and Mark Cross drew assists.

Last Monday night here on home ice the Hawks dropped a 6-2 decision to the visiting Kemptville Royals. Friday night in Kemptville Winchester gained their revenge, dumping the Royals 4-3 on their own ice.

Dwayne Backes and Mark Cross accounted for Hawks' two goals in the 6-2 loss. J.D. VanNoy, John Guy, Sam Gibson and Brad Holmes picked up assists.

Friday night in Kemptville Brent Carkner's goal with just 1:07 on the clock handed the Hawks a dramatic 4-3 victory. Winchester led 2-1 after a period and 3-2 after two.

73's win first-place battle

MORRISBURG — Kemptville 73's moved three points ahead of Morrisburg Lions here Friday night, winning one of the early skirmishes in the battle for first place in the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League's Rideau-St. Lawrence Division.

Kemptville handled the hometown Lions 10-6, connecting for six second-period goals. Kemptville improved their record to 12 wins, a loss and 24 points with the victory while Morrisburg's record went to 10 wins, two losses and a tie following the contest. Third-place Brockville Tikis (the division's other Boxing Day Tournament representative) held a record of seven wins, six losses and a tie after last week's action and was six points behind Morrisburg.

Kemptville took a 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Jamie Hackett and Andy Pinhey and then cruised through period two whipping six goals in behind Dave Black. The 73's enjoyed an 8-2 advantage after 40 minutes of play. Morrisburg put on a third-period surge, outscoring the visitors 5-2, but couldn't make up the entire difference and lost 10-6.

Jamie Hackett paced the 73's with a three-goal, three-assist performance. 73's captain Graham Glover supplied two goals and two assists and Andy Pinhey fired in a pair. Paul Elliott picked up a goal and two helpers, Clark Patterson had a goal and one assist and Steve Norton connected on an unassisted marker in the second period.

Lions' captain Tom Hodgson scored twice and set up a goal. Dave Fontaine also scored once and drew three assists. Gary Beckstead scored once and set up another goal. Steve Carter and Al McNairn each found the target once. Lance Wells (3), Sean Baker, Andy Brown, Todd Prieur and Don Black earned assists.

Lions drew six minor penalties and a 10-minute misconduct penalty while Kemptville was hit with 10 calls for minor infractions.

This Friday's game with the Tikis in Brockville has been postponed until Dec. 27 but the Lions travel to Athens to meet the fourth-place Aeros Sun., Dec. 4. Game time at Centre 73 in Athens is set for 8pm.

Property taxes forced up by PC's

The Conservatives have this master plan to raise your property taxes. They have a new formula for calculating grants to our municipalities which will result in your taxes being increased by as much as $100.00. We need a man of experience to derail their plan to take more money out of your pocket.

Whitteker fights the plan for us

JOHNNY WHITTEKER is fighting the PC plan to take a total of $767,715.00 from Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry. He will fight against their wasteful spending of our taxdollars — like the $100,000.00 luxury offices for Housing Minister Claude Bennett who came up with this plan to hit you in your pocketbook. Johnny is a strong and experienced voice for you.

Make sure they get the message in Toronto.

Big Doug Casselman roasted

300 fans and friends gather to salute 'a legend in his own time'

DIXONS CORNERS — Three hundred friends and sports fans attended Doug Casselman's Roast here last Friday evening and those who attended were quick to compliment organizers Gerry Morrell, Jim Shaw, John Kolff, Roger Morrell and Lee Madden on their roast, saying it was very well done.

It is hard to believe that a man of Big Doug Casselman's stature and reputation was able to control himself while 11 different friends (?) and even his brother Rae, took turns slamming him with sharp, cheap shots and bad jokes, but even though the "Big Guy" said his pulse quickened on several occasions, he was able to stay under control, suffer the slings and arrows and still smile.

It, of course, was all in fun and Casselman's one-time hockey coach Ralph Hurley put the evening in perspective when he asked, "How can you roast a man like big Doug Casselman? He has accomplished more in his 27 years of sports life than you or I could even dream of."

But once MC Gerry Morrell, Williamsburg reeve Johnny Whitteker, brother Rae Casselman, former team-mates Jim Shaw, Roger Morrell, Gord MacMillan, coach Ralph Hurley, Brockville Stars' coach Bob McDonald, former Dundas League President Lee Madden, Cardinal Pats' catcher Larry Patterson and then CJOH sportscaster Brian Smith had taken their turns roasting one of this area's best known and most respected sportsmen, it was extremely evident they had been honored to take part in the festivities.

Casselman's senior fastball career began with long practice pitching sessions on the Casselman farm east of Williamsburg and continued for 26 years before concluding this fall at the Williamsburg Pioneers' 1983 awards night and banquet when Doug Casselman announced his retirement.

Three of the finest fastball pitchers in the province got together following the Doug Casselman roast Friday night to talk over old times. Ted Hoy of the Cardinal Pats and Williamsburg Pioneers joined Pioneers' Doug Casselman and Brockville Stars' Roger Hodgkinson in a post-roast photo session. Press Photo—Van Bridger

Ralph Hurley perhaps, summed up the situation best when he said, "Doug, you are a legend in your own time."

"For a man to have lived this long and accomplished the things you have and have an evening like this held in your honor, you must know how people feel about you."

Former Cardinal Pats' catcher, a longtime adversary of Casselman's, after several unquotable stories, commented, "Thank you for being yourself, Doug."

A highlight of the evening was the presence of CJOH TV sportscaster Brian Smith who related to the audience how he first met Casselman. "I had heard of Big Doug Casselman and his fastball and hockey exploits for years, but finally met him in 1977 when I played hockey on a line with him in an International Oldtimers Tournament in Zurich, Switzerland, and discovered he was indeed the great guy I had been told he was."

When it came time for Big Doug Casselman to make his reply, he calmly stepped forward and began basting his roasters. One at a time he recalled little known and supposedly long forgotten details of their pasts until each had been properly dealt with.

Casselman thanked everyone, especially the organizers who made his special evening possible. He thanked them for their effort and for thinking enough of him to make it happen. He also thanked his wife Gail for enduring a long and busy sports career.

He commented later that he was choked up during the final ovation. "It was quite a feeling. My heart was really pounding. It was the biggest thrill of my life."

Event officials planned to use a portion of the evening's proceeds to send Doug and Gail on a holiday and turn over the remainder of the money to recreation in Williamsburg Township.

One of the organizers, Jim Shaw, said, "We (the committee) felt that someone like Doug Casselman should not just disappear from the scene. This event was to mark the end of his senior fastball career, a rather remarkable career, not to keep him from playing at some level of the sport in the future."

Shaw also indicated that the evening would provide the Casselmans with a nice holiday and the rest would go to recreation.

Dave Guy, 1983 Metro Senior A batting champ and Pioneer MVP, hoped that his former coach and team-mate would lace on the cleats again and make his talent and knowledge available for others.

"Big" Doug Casselman and Brian Smith, CJOH TV's sports caster were reunited at Friday evening's roast at Dixons Corners. Smith and Casselman played for the Ottawa Old Pro hockey team during an International Tournament in Switzerland in 1977. Smith joined 10 other roasters and 300 sports fans who marked the end of Casselman's illustrious senior fastball career. Press Photo—Van Bridger

Russell Warriors scalp Hawks

WINCHESTER — Russell Warriors scalped three of a possible four points from the Hawks.

Russell took a 1-0 lead in Monday's game when Adam Henry scored from Kevin Gould at 10:34 of the first period. They increased the margin to 2-0 when John Miller beat Mike Klein-Swormink on an unassisted play at 11:45 of the third period.

Hawks finally hit the board at 11:15 of the final frame when Derek Holmes put a Jason Ouellette rebound in behind Jeremy House.

Warriors went up 3-1 at 10:30 of the third when Martin Gregoire scored from Kevin Gould.

Brad Robinson's unassisted goal with 1:12 remaining closed the gap to one, but time ran out on the Hawks and Russell held on for a 3-2 victory.

Last Tuesday in Russell the clubs skated to a 2-2 tie. Martin Gregoire put the Warriors on the board when he scored from Travis Ford and Kevin Gould with 3:20 left in period one.

Hawks drew even on Derek Holmes' goal at 8:20 of the second period after Jamie Foley's pass set up the tying goal from Holmes.

Jason Ouellette got the Hawks ahead for the first time in the game, scoring from Chris Oldford with 4:05 left to play.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING TO TOWN

All over town the stores are starting to wear their Christmas trim and it's that time of year again because this Saturday old Santa pays his annual visit to Winchester. The jolly old fellow will parade through the town accompanied by over 30 colorful floats and Christmas music will be everywhere. The parade will leave Henderson Crescent at 1pm and wind its way back St. Lawrence Street where it will turn at the main corner and go west along Main. So anywhere along that route you will get a good look at all the colorful attractions. Again this year our friends from the Legion will have plenty of candy for all of the children and old Santa himself will be at the Royal Bank from 2:30 until 4 to take down all the requests. Winchester has always been noted for having one of the best parades anywhere and organizers say that this year it will be even bigger and better than ever. Bundle up the kids and plan to spend the afternoon with us. There is lots to see and do and the stores are loaded down with quality gifts for all.

NAVAN PLAYS HAWKS THIS FRIDAY

Hawks blew their opportunity to move into a tie for first place by dropping their Saturday night game to Char-Lan. So this Friday night's encounter with Navan looms very high in a close race for top spot. Metcalfe Jets currently hold down first, one point ahead of Navan, who lead third-place Hawks by only a single. So this is a big one for both teams in this year's tight battle. Friday night's game should be a fast, clean encounter as both teams are very capable of good hockey and with so much on the line, surely they will both give their all for the win. Hawks suffered a serious loss this week when Barry Kennedy, their good, young netminder, moved up to Junior A to Gloucester Rangers. Kennedy had been scouted by Windsor Spitfires of the Major Junior League, but had to go with Gloucester in order to move up if the team called. This leaves the Hawks with only young Jamie McGuire to carry the load and although the youngster has been playing well, Hawks are looking for some help. At time of writing coach McClatchie had a couple of goaltenders in mind, but nothing definite has been done. Hawks play in Clarence Creek on Sunday and return for a rare Wednesday night home game with Alexandria on Dec. 7. On Friday night the Minor Hockey Association will hold a dance in the upstairs hall with happy hour from seven to eight and the dance from nine until one.

FIRST OF THE CHRISTMAS PARTIES THIS SATURDAY

The employees of Ontario Hydro will hold their Christmas party this Saturday in the upstairs hall with a social hour, dinner and dance. Although the dinner is for employees and their guests, only the dance will be open to the public if you care to join in the fun.

Scoring punch keeps Metcalfe Jets on top

METCALFE — Boasting the league's three top scorers, Metcalfe Jets continue to set the pace in the Alex English Division of the Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League. With Dwayne Cowick (39); Lindsay Pasch (32); and Scott Reed (29) setting an awesome scoring record the Jets' first-place ranking only holds them one point in front of Navan Grads.

The sharpshooters can't claim all the credit for recent victories. Superb netminding by Stewart Patterson has to be another major factor.

Recent statistics released by statistician Lynne O'Brien show Patterson with an astounding 1.86 average in that department with two shutouts to his credit.

Patterson earned one of those shutouts on home ice last Friday night when he closed and locked the door on determined Char-Lan shooters. While Patterson was protecting his cage Jet firepower was proving devastating at the other end of the rink, skating to a one-sided 11-0 decision.

In the early stages it appeared the Rebels might have found defensive tactics to hold off Metcalfe firing power. Midway through the first period Peter Holmes opened the scoring with help from Randy Bentham and Jeff Hope and, strangely enough, that marker proved to be the winning goal.

Both netminders were at their best for the balance of the period but in the second frame the Jets opened up with five unanswered goals and then pounded home five more in the final 20 minutes.

Jets' 10 insurance goals came off the stick of Cowick, Bob Kemp and Scott Reed with two each, singles went to Jeff Hope, Holmes with his second of the game, Jeff Thompson and Kevin McManus.

Adding assists to their scoring stats were Cowick, Poirier and Bentham with three each, Pasch, Holmes and Pierre Lauzon with two, and single helper points credited to Jeff Flickel, Kemp, Reed and Downey.

JET JOTTINGS

Metcalfe not only boasts the top three in the scoring race, but also has Peter Holmes in fourth place with 25 points and Gary Poirier rapidly closing the gap with 22 points.

Meanwhile back between the pipes Patterson's record is proving a real challenge for other netminders. To date the eagle-eyed Edwards' native has allowed only 24 goals in 13 games and should be a shoo-in for goaltending honors at the end of the season.

50-50 draws were paying off for many fans. You could win this weekend, if you're there.

Jets will be playing before a home crowd in both weekend games.

Friday night Navan Grads will be in town for a game which could determine first place, and on Sunday afternoon the Jets will host Clarence Creek Beavers.

McLean scores four, Kings climb to first place

WINCHESTER — Country Kitchen Kings needed two goals in the final 2:25 of their game to defeat a very stubborn D's Raiders squad 6-4 in one of two Winchester Town Hockey League games last Tuesday.

The victory, termed "not very pretty" by several Kings, was enough to move the defending WTHL champs into sole possession of first place.

Aqua Fun Flyers, guided by chief gunner Al McLean's four-goal barrage, ripped CountryBoy Blazers 6-2 in the evening's night-capper as the winners closed to within two points of the now twice-beaten Blazers.

After six weeks of play Kings lead the circuit with nine points, one up on CountryBoy and two ahead of the hard-shooting Flyers. D's Raiders, in spite of coming close in several games, are still looking for their first point.

Raiders had Kings on the ropes in Tuesday's opening contest, but hit a goalpost and then had their top scorer ejected from the game, before losing for the sixth consecutive time.

It was 3-2 Kings after a period and 4-2 after two but the Raiders, who had a large portion of the play in the final frame, scrambled back into the event, tying it up at four with just 6:52 left to play.

They had several glittering opportunities to go ahead of the Country Kitchen squad and perhaps win their first game, but missed a wide-open net, hit the goalpost and then had team spark plug Tom Kirkwood tossed out for arguing a minor penalty he had incurred with four minutes to play.

With Kirkwood out of the game and forced to play a man short, the Raiders gave up the winning goal at 2:25 when Jim Fawcett picked the upper right-hand corner of the net. His rising shot beat Dan Hogaboam cleanly and was set up by the sharp passing of Al Duncan and Gord Quaile. With 43 seconds left in the game and Hogaboam on the bench in favor of a fifth skater, the Raiders were burnt for an open-net goal when Ken Quaile intercepted a pass in the centre ice area and scored the sixth and final goal into an empty net.

Al Duncan continued his hot scoring pace, leading the Kings with three goals and two assists. He scored once on a first-period powerplay and then collected a short-handed goal in the second period and now has 10 goals and four assists in five games.

Jim Fawcett fired a goal and set up another, Ed Blais fired his second goal of the year and Ken Quaile hit the open net for the other marker. Ron Belmore drew three assists while Gord Quaile and Doug Duncan drew singles.

Tom Kirkwood scored twice in a losing cause and added an assist. He now has 10 points (six goals) in six games. Bryan Wyatt (his first) and Gerry Belanger (second) beat King goalie Steve Johnston for the other majors. John Rowe, Kirkwood, Ken Summers, Belanger, Don Argue and Dave Kerr picked up assists.

McLEAN SHOW

It was the Al McLean show in Tuesday's other game as the former Junior B Hawks' scoring ace fired four of the six goals Aqua Fun Flyers used to knock off the CountryBoy Blazers. The Aqua Fun victory enabled the Country Kitchen Kings to move past the Blazers into first place.

Al McLean, who leads the WTHL scoring race, connected for a pair of goals 33 seconds apart in the first period as the Flyers streaked into a 2-1 lead after 20 minutes. Gary Lapier drew assists on both goals and Dan Lecours helped out on the second.

Dave Cross beat Lyle Shrigley with a pass from Phil Lyall and Don Griffith at 7:12, cutting the difference to 3-1.

McLean upped it to 3-1 at 13:24 of the second period when he scored from Lecours and Bill VanKoppen. Blazer captain Bill Hogaboam closed the gap to 3-2 when he notched his fourth goal of the year at 7:08 when he connected from Griffith and Phil Lyall.

Dan Lecours flipped a McLean rebound in over Dan Hogaboam at 13:44 of the third. McLean made it 5-2 on an unassisted powerplay effort at 2:09 and Owen Shortt slapped in a Brian Dalgleish rebound on another powerplay with four seconds showing on the clock to make the final 6-2 for the Flyers.

Bantams defeat Russell 6-1

WINCHESTER — Goalie Ben Henry and captain J.D. VanNoy were big factors in Winchester's 6-1 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League's Bantam B victory here Monday night.

Henry surrendered just one goal to the visiting Russell Warriors, maintaining his goal a game average. Paul Straby's unassisted goal with 2:39 left in the first period cut the Hawks' lead to 2-1 and ruined Henry's bid for the shutout.

Captain J.D. VanNoy led Winchester's attack scoring two goals and assisting on another, opening the game at 13:07, scoring from Francois Galipeau. Tyler Middleton set up Dean Armstrong's goal at the 3:38 mark, giving the Hawks a 2-0 lead before Straby put Russell on the board.

VanNoy launched a four-goal second period, collecting his second goal on a play started by Middleton. Once VanNoy had increased the difference to 3-1 the Hawks took over blasting in three goals before the period was over.

Rodney Casselman fired in a pass from Dan Sarault and Derek Hyndman at the 6:31 mark to make it 4-1.

Ray Sherrer set up Scott Johnston at 3:51 and then made it 6-1, scoring on feed from VanNoy at 2:56.

Period three was scoreless and produced the contest's only penalty calls as the teams were nailed for one minor infraction each.

Winchester improved their UCMHL record to four wins, a loss and a tie with the victory.

Kelly Stanley scores three

METCALFE — Kelly Stanley scored three times, helping Metcalfe to a 4-4 Gloucester Ringette Association 4-4 tie here Friday night.

Metcalfe led Orleans 3-1 after a period of the Junior C contest only to have the visitors battle back to tie the game 3-3 early in the final period. Stanley's third goal tied the game at four.

Tracie McVey put Metcalfe up 1-0 and then Stanley scored three times, ensuring the 4-4 deadlock. Kelly McMillan earned three assists for the Metcalfe squad. Kelly-Anne Molloy played a strong game in the Metcalfe nets holding the Orleans at bay during the later stages of the game.

The tie left Metcalfe's record at three wins, three losses and a tie. The girls host Ottawa Ringette this Friday night (Dec. 2).

Atom C Hawks take 5 points

WINCHESTER — Winchester Atom C Hawks strung together two wins, a tie and a loss over the past week and collected five of a possible eight Upper Canada Minor Hockey League points.

Their four-game string began here on Nov. 17 with a 6-2 victory over the visiting Russell Warriors. Five days later in Chesterville the Hawks were trimmed 6-1 by the Flyers. On Nov. 24 here on home ice, Dan Adams' third goal of the game with just 20 seconds to play put the Hawks into a 3-3 tie with Morrisburg Atom Lions.

Last Friday night Winchester travelled to Spencerville and edged Edwardsburg Canucks 1-0 on Jerry Gibson's first-period goal. Gibson notched the winning column, completing a play started by Jason Ibbetson and Shealyn Summers at 10:36 of the first period. Shawn Backes played shutout goal for the remainder of the close game, making sure the Hawks would win.

Danny Adams sparked the Hawks to their 6-2 decision over the Russell Warriors, scoring three of the six goals. Jason Wagner, Bill Derraugh and Jeff Skillen all fired single goals while Shealyn Summers (two), Jason Ibbetson, Billy Derraugh and Gerry Gibson picked up assists.

Shawn Wallace picked up the win in nets.

Jason Loucks and Jeff St. Pierre replied for Russell.

Kent Young with three goals and David Graham with a pair, led Chesterville to their 6-1 triumph over Winchester. Jason Ibbetson scored the Hawks' lone goal on a play set up by John Van Bridger and Dan Adams in the second period.

Winchester and Morrisburg hooked up in a real tight checking game here last Thursday, battling to a 3-3 tie. Morrisburg led 1-0 after a period and 2-1 after two frames, but third-period goals by Danny Adams with 7:22 and 20 seconds left to play, gave the Hawks a point. Adams also netted his team's first goal at 5:20 of the first period. Shealyn Summers drew three assists and Jason Ibbetson added another. Brian Shaver, Joey McCooeye and Chris Hanes scored for Morrisburg.

Pee Wees battle Warriors

WINCHESTER — Ault Food Pee Wee Hawks completed a home-and-home series here Monday night, skating to a 1-1 tie against the Russell Warriors. The point gained from the draw was the only one Winchester managed against the Warriors who won game one of the series 3-1 on home ice last Tuesday.

Monday night's tie moved Winchester Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Pee Wee B record to two wins, three losses and a tie. The Hawks hope to even their record this Friday night when they travel to Chesterville to challenge the Flyers. Chesterville upset the Hawks 5-3 here in Winchester in the first meeting between the teams on Nov. 7.

Monday night the Hawks came up with a stronger effort than they managed last Tuesday in Russell and enjoyed a 1-0 lead after almost three periods of play. Bryan Helmer put the Hawks up 1-0 when he scored from Doug Armstrong with 2:17 left in the first period but from that point on Warriors' goalie, Alain Deschamps, stoned the Hawks, stopping two good chances by Armstrong and several scrambles around his crease.

Russell finally tied the game in dramatic fashion, scoring the winning goal on a one-man breakaway with just 57 left in the game.

Richard Hamelin stole the puck at Winchester's blue line, raced up ice and put a shot high over Craig Lyon's shoulder and into the net to tie the game. Hamelin and his mates were killing a penalty at the time.

Last week on home ice the Warriors scored three times in the first period and a half and held on to defeat Winchester 3-1.

Doug Armstrong whipped a Chris Holmes pass home for a 1-0 Hawks lead at 10:31 of the first period but from that point on Russell took over and scored three times to take the victory.

Keith Cheshire evened things up when he scored from Derek Davidson with 4:54 left in period one. Richard Hamelin scored from Mike Geerts at 14:02 of the second period and then Cheshire netted his second goal on another setup from Davidson at 10:30 of the second period.

Vernon's spacious new recreation hall will not be declared officially open until a later date, but what might be considered a "house-warming party" last Saturday night attracted more than 300 village and area people. Metcalfe and District Lions Club president Howard James (left) took advantage of the occasion to congratulate the dedicated Vernon people and present a $2,000 cheque to Vernon Community Association president Archie Sayant.

Vernon Hall opens

VERNON — Although special colorful official opening ceremonies are being planned for a later date, Vernon's swank new recreation hall has reached a construction stage, making it available for community functions.

Last Saturday night more than 300 sat down to a sumptuous roast beef dinner, prepared and served by the Porteous catering firm, and stayed for an evening of dancing to music provided by the popular 'Crossover' band.

Carson Hill proved a very talented master of ceremonies and head table guests included the Hon. Norman Sterling, MPP and his wife Janet; Mayor Albert Bouwers and his wife Gertrude; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sayant; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Robinson; councillors Fred Alexander and Albert McKeown and their wives, as well as several regional dignitaries.

Mr. Sterling paid tribute to the memory of the late Walter Baker.

"It will be on occasions such as this," he said, "that our good friend Walter will be most sadly missed."

Mr. Sterling pointed out that this endeavor, like so many other valuable community projects across the province, greatly benefit from Wintario grants.

He congratulated determined committee workers who had faced tremendous opposition but now see their efforts heartily endorsed by all.

Community Association President Archie Sayant thanked the many business firms, area clubs and individuals whose fund raising efforts had played valuable roles in making the centre a reality.

He assured his interested audience that the structure will prove of real value to the community.

"Programs are being formulated," he said, "that will provide recreational facilities for all ages."

Finch grabs top spot

WINCHESTER — A 3-1 Finch victory over Osnabruck Bush Bandits here on Grey Cup Day handed them sole possession of first place in the Winchester and District Broomball League.

Finch's victory coupled with Ormond's 3-3 draw with Toyes Hill Roadrunners allowed Finch to go one point up on both Ormond and Dunbar. The Panthers moved three points up on Morewood the same evening, dealing the 'Wood a 4-1 setback.

In the opening game of the four-game card Crysler rode Dwayne Harrison's four-goal performance to a 5-0 victory over Newington, dealing the Osnabruck Township crew their ninth consecutive defeat.

Finch had moved into a tie with Ormond two weeks ago and remained deadlocked for the lead until Sunday evening when they used their 3-1 win over the Bush Bandits and Ormond's 3-3 tie with Toyes Hill to edge into the top spot. They lead with 15 points and are one up on both Ormond and Dunbar. Morewood holds down fourth spot with 11 points.

Finch led the Bush Bandits 2-0 after a period and 2-1 after one. Barton Heagle scored his seventh goal of the season at 6:45 of the second period on a pass from Don Billings to ruin Noel Lalonde's shutout.

Shawn Patrick with his seventh goal, Dave Dumoulin with his second and John Dumoulin with his first of the year accounted for Finch's scoring. Dave Petersen and Jack Hoogeveen picked up the assists.

Ormond needed Dan McDiarmid's goal at 13:56 of the third period to tie Toyes Hill Roadrunners 3-3. The game was even at two goals after a period and the Roadrunners led 3-2 after two. They held the lead until McDiarmid scored the winner from Bill Robinson in the final frame.

Rob Scarth fired in the other two Ormond goals, scoring from Doug Sloan at 17:51 and Lloyd McDiarmid at the 4:22 mark of the first period.

Ted Bongers paced the Roadrunners with a goal and one assist. Dean Hansma and Bill Steel clicked with the other goals.

FOUR FOR HARRISON

Crysler got a shutout from Dan St. Pierre and a four-goal effort from big Dwayne Harrison in their 5-0 win over Newington. Harrison made it 2-0 at 12:07 of the second, scoring from Bob McLaughlin and then fired in three consecutive second-period goals, connecting on assists from Brian McLaughlin (who set up two) and Paul Fournier who set up the third marker at 7:17. Theo Herfkens got the ball rolling when he scored from John Hopmans 43 seconds into the game.

PANTHERS WIN SIXTH

Laurie Blanchard scored twice leading Dunbar Panthers to their sixth victory in nine games, a 4-1 decision over Morewood, in Sunday's other contest.

John Tenbult scored from Jim Thompson with 2:05 left in the game, ruining Wayne Pitts' bid for a shutout. Until that juncture in the game Pitt had enjoyed a 1-0 first-period lead and a 3-0 cushion after two frames. Larry Gallinger scored from Garry Gallinger with 12:05 left in the third period, boosting the lead to 4-0.

Blanchard nailed the game's first two markers and Frank Heerkens upped it to 3-0, pegging his eighth goal of the season. The Gallinger boys, John Templeton and Pierre Roy all drew assists for the winners.

Summers' rink captures WCC cup

WINCHESTER — Murray Summers' rink curled near perfectly here Saturday, producing two wins, 29½ points and the annual WCC Grey Cup Bonspiel championship.

Summers and his rink of Betty Barton, Ed Smith and Marg Boyd kicked the Grey Cup 'Spiel off in the nine o'clock draw, nipping Charlie Anderson 9-8. Summers took five ends and claimed 14½ points in the decision.

In game two the 1983 champs doubled Jim McMillan's rink 10-5, taking five ends and another 15 points.

Ran Wylie and his foursome of Linda Gray, Bill Ingratta and Sue Ennis also won two starts but had to settle for runners-up status. Wylie accumulated 27 points, defeating John Gray 7-6 and Orm Savage 7-3. Wylie run up 14½ points in his win over Savage, taking six ends. He was good in four ends against Gray and totalled 12½ points.

Doug Vasey finished third with 25½ points claimed in a 7-2 win over Glen Vasey and a 6-6 tie with Ken Hawkins. Vasey collected 13½ points and five ends against Glen Vasey and another 12 points and four ends in the tie. Vasey skipped Janet Levere, Keith Wagner and Cathy Lyon.

Gerry Holmes piled up 23 points, curling with Dora Smith, Don Morrison and Marg Dalgleish. He claimed 12 points and four ends in a 6-5 squeaker against Murray Hyndman and 11 points in another one rock, 5-4 verdict against Charlie Anderson.

Ken Hawkins tied Doug Vasey 6-6 and trimmed Dave Levere 10-8, running up 21 points. Hawkins took seven points in the tie and 14 from Levere. Curling with Hawkins were Bill Fraser, Nicole Copeland, as well as Brenda Algate and Rita Savage who split the games.

Murray Hyndman's team of Marg Anderson, Ken Francis and Eunice Munroe claimed one game high honors, picking up 15 points in a 12-4 win over Ed Boyd.

Two rinks ran up totals of 16 points. John Gray skipped Betty Holmes, George Ennis and Lorna Holmes to 16 points in an 11-6 victory over Clark Curtis and Jim McMillan's foursome of Doris Holmes, Tim Middleton and Elizabeth Morrison matched that production (16 points) by defeating Ed Boyd 15-3.

Fourteen teams took part in the day-long event.

Winning foursome

Marg Boyd, skip Murray Summers and Ed Smith formed a winning combination on Saturday, curling their way to the 1983 Winchester Curling Club's Grey Cup Bonspiel championship. Summers earned 29½ points to take the trophy. Betty Barton was unavailable for the photo.

Baker leads standings

Foursome picks up 7-4 decision over John Gray

WINCHESTER — Gary Baker remained atop Monday night mixed curling standings here at the Winchester Curling Club, picking up a 7-4 decision over John Gray's foursome.

In other mixed action last week, Jim McMillan skipped his rink to a big 9-3 decision over Murray Summers and Jim Beattie downed Jim Toop 8-5.

Ed Boyd, Orm Savage and Lloyd Bildson kept their undefeated records alive in Wednesday's mixed play, chalking up more impressive wins. Savage trimmed Clark Curtis 10-6, Boyd humbled Ken Hawkins 12-3 and Bildson edged Murray Hyndman 7-5. Other results that evening showed Ran Wylie's rink with a 10-6 win over Ed Smith and Ted Robinson squeaking out a last end victory over Charlie Anderson.

Action in Friday's segment saw Ron Rutley down Bill Sherwood 11-6; Bob Lyon nip Tom McLean 7-6; Ron Algate tie Doug Vasey at 9; Dave Levere squeak by Irwin Holmes 7-6; Gerry Holmes outlast Mac MacGregor 9-7, and Glen Vasey trim Brent Copeland 8-6. Gerry Holmes heads this division with an unblemished record.

LADIES' DIVISION

In ladies' day curling last week Stella MacGregor hammered Marg Anderson 12-4; Betty Barton thumped Kathy Flucke by the same score and Sybil Curtis trimmed Bea Eadie 7-3.

MEN'S DIVISION

Two fixed rinks top the men's standings on Thursday night with Murray Hyndman leading Doug Vasey by one-half a point.

Tuesday night's men's standings show Vasey alone in first and Mac MacGregor second. Last week Don McMillan lost to Orm Savage 7-4; Jim McMillan bombed Ken Hawkins 9-3; Mac MacGregor doubled Gary Baker 10-5; Murray Hyndman trimmed Ron Algate 12-7; Doug Vasey dumped Ted Robinson 9-4; Don McMillan downed Gary Baker 9-5; Glen Vasey decisioned Lloyd Bildson 10-6; Murray Hyndman nipped Ted Robinson 5-4, and Ran Wylie dumped Charlie Anderson 9-2.

FULL SLATE

This weekend there is lots of curling action around the area as Winchester, Morrisburg and Russell curlers head for Metcalfe to take part in the annual Gamble Trophy 'Spiel which is a mixed competition between this area's four clubs.

Winchester will also be represented in Morrisburg by two teams trying to bring back some of the cash from a men's cash 'spiel.

In Winchester a curling clinic will be held on Saturday for new and old curlers alike.

The annual Winchester Ladies' Bonspiel is to be held Thurs., Dec. 1.

The roaring game is alive and well in the area.

Bantam Mike Swerdfeger registers fourth shutout

WINCHESTER — Mike Swerdfeger posted his third and fourth shutouts of the young Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Bantam C season, backing the No. One Hawks to a 2-0 win over Edwardsburg and a 3-0 triumph over Morrisburg.

Swerdfeger now has registered four goose eggs in nine games and has yet to lose as he and the Hawks have rolled up nine straight victories in as many games. In nine starts, Swerdfeger has compiled a 1.22 goals against average and his team has outscored the opposition 36-11.

The latest zero went into the books Monday night in a UCMHL contest in Morrisburg. Coach Richard Lortie said that his goalie has had some easy games when he has received lots of help from the defence but explained that Swerdfeger definitely deserved the win in Morrisburg as the Lions really worked him throughout the contest.

Period one was scoreless with both Swerdfeger and Morrisburg's Ian Millward playing flawlessly.

Hawks hit the scoreboard with their first goal at 7:56 of the second period when Doug Beckstead scored on a play engineered by Kevin Bell and Chris Rodney.

Greg Coons connected from Al Cayer with 4:47 left in the game, adding some more insurance.

Kevin Bell increased the margin of victory to 3-0 when he completed a play started by Beckstead and Tommy Wilson with just 2:31 showing on the clock.

Last Thursday here at home Swerdfeger and the No. One Hawks blanked Edwardsburg 2-0.

Doug Beckstead broke up a scoreless contest at the 6:22 mark of the second period when he scored from Al Cayer and Stephaine Drouin.

Cayer snapped in the insurance marker at 9:52 of the final frame cashing in on Chuck Droppo's rebound and made the final 2-0 in the Hawks' favor.

Fawcett posts shutout

WINCHESTER — Goalie Mike Fawcett posted a shutout and surrendered just a single goal in a game in Spencerville Saturday, leading Winchester No. Two Hawks to a pair of Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Bantam C victories.

Friday here at home Fawcett slammed the door on Chesterville Flyers while his Hawks trimmed the visitors 9-0. Saturday in Spencerville a second-period goal ruined an otherwise perfect game in the Hawks' 5-1 win. The victories follow a pair of ties for the No. Two Hawks,

Captain Craig Robinson and his assistant Randy Holmes held hot sticks for Winchester in their game against Chesterville as each found the target three times. Holmes also picked up an assist for a four-point game. Chris Thomas was Friday's playmaker, scoring a goal and assisting on three others. Gerry Cayer and Shawn Clark each potted a goal and drew an assist. Ian Porteous, Jeff Nelson, Marc Sarault and Mike Gryspeerdt all drew single assists.

Winchester led the Flyers 1-0 after a period and 5-0 after two and then scored four more in the final 12 minutes of the game.

Saturday in Spencerville Hawks led the hometeam home team 2-0 after a period and 5-1 after two and then skated through a scoreless third period.

Centre Chris Thomas sparked Winchester, scoring two goals and one assist. Craig Robinson continued to find the net as he fired in a goal and set up another. Marc Sarault and Clarence Holmes supplied the other goals. Danny McIntosh and Shawn Clark picked up assists.

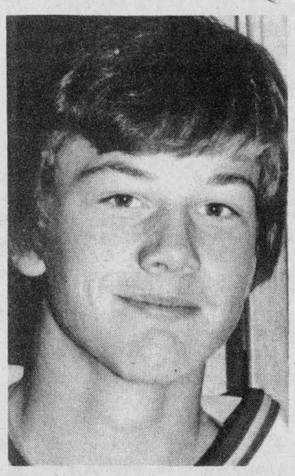
Terry Carkner makes OHA grade



Terry Carkner

PETERBOROUGH — Peterborough Petes didn't agree with the Central Scouting System's assessment of Terry Carkner. They grabbed the 6' 2" defenceman in the second round of last spring's Midget draft, feeling the Winchester, Ont. native was better than the third or fourth-round rating he had been given by the Scouts.

The Petes selected Carkner with the intention of him playing as one of their starting six defencemen. The 17-year-old hasn't disappointed the Petes or his coach Dick Todd.

"It is a tremendous step from Tier Two Junior A to the OHA and a lot of players don't handle it well, but Terry has settled in here and is making the transition well," coach Todd said.

Todd told The Press Monday that he was very pleased with Carkner's progress, saying "he is a regular, he plays on the penalty killing unit, and is on the second team powerplay."

"Terry works very hard, he has good games and fair games, but I can't remember him playing a bad game."

The Peterborough coach went on to explain that one of Carkner's biggest assets, next to his 6' 2", 202-pound frame, is his positive attitude and desire to win. I like that attitude," he said.

Since joining the Petes at training camp this fall, coach Todd has noticed that the former Junior B Hawk and Junior A Brockville Brave has lost a lot of the awkwardness which marked his skating style, saying "It is not as evident because he is skating and working every day." Todd also felt that Carkner's strength was no problem because he was indeed very strong in the upper body and has learned to use it well.

The only aspect of Terry's game that the coach would like to improve is his overall quickness. He noted, as local fans have, that Terry is very cool and unruffled under pressure. Todd said that the coolness is great in some instances, but not good in all situations.

When asked just where Terry would go in the upcoming NHL draft (18-year-olds) Dick Todd explained that most pro clubs are looking for players of Carkner's physical size and ability and was sure his rookie rear guard would be rated very high by the pros. "But," he continued, "it is still very early and the last thing I want to do is put unwarranted pressure on him."

In his regular season action to date Carkner has scored one goal (on a powerplay) and assisted on 12 others, setting up two game-winning goals in the process.

Terry is a senior attending high school in Peterborough and his routine includes early morning runs (three miles) then school until 2:30pm each afternoon, and then it's off to the Memorial Centre for three hours of on-ice practises, and a half hour of weight lifting. That's when the team is at home. It's a tortuous bus trip and an erratic timetable when the team makes its infamous road trips around Ontario. But through the first 24 games of his first OHA season, Terry Carkner has maintained an A+ average at school and become a part of a fast paced Major Junior A hockey world which will soon evolve into a career in the NHL.

Lucky winner

Ken Dugdale of Russell attended the recent International Plowing Match and while there visited the Bank of Nova Scotia exhibit. His visit paid off. Last week he learned he was among the lucky prize winners and this week received a leather tool pouch. Mr. Dugdale is a real estate broker, but is confident his prize will come in handy for weekend "Mr. Fix It" programs. Russell Bank of Nova Scotia manager Allan Desjardins, left, is pictured making the official presentation.

OPP blotter: fraud, drug charges laid

Compiled by
Cpl. R.J. Lyon
Detachment Commander
Winchester OPP

COURT - Nov. 22, Morrisburg

Deborah Luan Kennedy, 30, RR4 Spencerville, appeared on 25 charges of false pretences involving several thousand dollars. During the summer of 1983 Kennedy passed worthless cheques in Ottawa, Nepean, Morrisburg, Prescott, Brockville and five in Winchester. The Winchester cheques totalled $665 at local stores. Kennedy entered a plea of guilty to all charges and was sentenced to 30 days in jail, followed by two years probation. She was ordered to pay restitution of $3,578.

COURT - Nov. 23, Winchester

Larry McMahon, 21, RR4 Crysler, appeared on charges of trafficking in drugs and possession of drugs. On Aug. 12, 1983, Mr. McMahon sold over $200 worth of drugs to an OPP undercover police officer. On Sept. 14, 1983, when Mr. McMahon was arrested in Chesterville, for the trafficking charge, a vial containing one gram of cannibis resin was found. Mr. McMahon entered a plea of guilty to the trafficking charge and was sentenced to 90 days in jail. The possession charge was withdrawn by the Crown.

Donald Bourque, 33, River Road, Manotick, appeared on a charge of breach of a peace bond. On Sept. 28, 1983 in Winchester court, Mr. Bourque appeared and was placed on a peace bond by Judge B. Hunter. One of the conditions of the bond was that he not contact in any way, Diane Grant of Hallville. On Nov. 3, 1983, he was arrested near the Grant residence after a complaint was received by Winchester OPP. Mr. Bourque was sentenced to five days in jail.

David Ellis, 16, Main St., Winchester, appeared on a charge of theft under $200. This charge was laid when gas was stolen from a local farmer on Oct. 17, 1983. Mr. Ellis entered a plea of guilty and received an absolute discharge.

Louie Bailey, 30, Joseph St., Chesterville, appeared on eight counts of wilful damage, one count of breach of probation and one count of possession of stolen property. The wilful damage charges were laid when on July 3, 1983 there was extensive damage to several pieces of property at the Chesterville Hotel, Abel Cleaners and a van. There was also extensive damage to a car owned by Morris Bailey of Morrisburg. The possession of stolen property charge was laid when a torque wrench and two calculators were recovered that had been stolen from the North Dundas District High School. Mr. Bailey was on probation on a conviction of possession of stolen property in Morrisburg. After a lengthy trial he was found guilty on four counts of wilful damage. The breach of probation was withdrawn by the Crown and Bailey was remanded out of custody to Feb. 24, 1983 for sentence. The possession of stolen property charge was adjourned to Feb. 24, 1984 for trial because a witness, Peter VanKessel, 44, South St., Chesterville, failed to appear. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Mr. VanKessel.

ASSAULT CAUSING BODILY HARM

On Wed., Nov. 9, 1983 at 10:30pm, Constables Bryan Helmer and Bob Bruce were called to the 31 Inn Motel, Highway 31 and 43, Winchester, with reference to an assault. When the officers arrived they found Tom Nezis, 40, of the 31 Inn Motel, with a broken leg. They learned that three men approached Nezis' apartment where his wife was alone. She called Mr. Nezis, who is a cook at the Country Kitchen Restaurant, and he ran out and confronted the men. A scuffle took place and Mr. Nezis suffered a broken leg. An investigation was conducted and as a result Donald Baker, 35, Main St., Winchester, has been charged with assault causing bodily harm. He is to appear in Winchester court on Dec. 14, 1983.

IMPAIRED DRIVING

On Sat., Nov. 26, 1983 at 1am, Const. Bob Bruce observed a vehicle being operated erratically on St. Lawrence St., Winchester. The vehicle was stopped and a quantity of beer was seized. As a result, Garry Wells, 17, RR1 Williamsburg, has been charged with impaired driving, driving over .08 and having liquor. He is to appear in Winchester court on Dec. 14, 1983.

On Sat., Nov. 26, 1983 at 12:45pm, James Patrick Van Bridger, 33, Main St., Winchester, was driving his 1978 Chevrolet pickup east on County Road 3, entering the village of Inkerman when he lost control of his vehicle. The vehicle skidded into the north ditch, then across the road where it struck and broke off a hydro pole. The vehicle then slid back across the road and struck a garage owned by Graham Bartholomew. Mr. Van Bridger was slightly injured. The vehicle suffered approximately $1,500 damage and the pole and garage $1,000. Mr. Van Bridger has been charged with impaired driving and driving over .08. He is to appear in Winchester court on Dec. 14, 1983. Const. John Ralko investigated.

LIQUOR OFFENCES

On Mon., Nov. 21, 1983 at 11am, Inspector Riddel of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications stopped a vehicle on County Road 3, Mountain Township, and found a quantity of beer. Const. Bob Bruce attended and seized the beer. As a result, Jack Berry, 53, Mountain, was charged with having liquor. He was also charged with operating a vehicle with no insurance.

On Sun., Nov. 27, 1983 at 12:10am, Const. Howard Smith stopped and checked a vehicle on Highway 31 at the Liscumb Road. A quantity of beer was seized and Martin Baldwin, 18, Mountain, was charged with a minor having liquor.

BREAK, ENTER AND THEFT

On Sat., Nov. 26, 1983, sometime during the day the residence of Gerald and Nancy Beuman, Winchester Township, Ormond, was broken into and several items stolen. Const. Bob Bruce investigated and found that entry had been gained by breaking a patio door. Stolen property consists of four wrist watches, a jewellery box with earrings, necklaces and costume jewellery. Also stolen was a wooden mantel clock. The investigation is continuing.

CARELESS DRIVING

On Mon., Nov. 21, 1983 at 7:40pm, Const. Bill Holmes observed a vehicle being driven erratically on Main St., Chesterville. The vehicle was skidding sideways across the bridge. The vehicle was stopped and the driver, Roger Beazer, 17, Main St., Chesterville, charged with careless driving.

On Sat., Nov. 26, 1983 at 11:50am, Marianne Gibson, 20, Inverness Road, Nepean, was driving a 1979 Oldsmobile south on Highway 31 near the Castor Creek bridge. On a curve in the road she lost control of her vehicle. The vehicle skidded sideways into a parked 1978 Chevrolet, owned by Collin Stout, of Orleans and then into a parked 1983 Honda, owned by Robert Barker of Ottawa. The Honda was then pushed into a parked 1978 Chevrolet, owned by Lorraine Seguin of Ottawa, which in turn was pushed into a parked 1981 Chevrolet owned by Robert Morris of Ottawa. There were no injuries. The vehicles suffered approximately $13,000 damage. Gibson has been charged with careless driving. Const. Norm Sarault investigated.

Casselman fund to help WDMH

CHESTERVILLE — A fund in memory of Eric Casselman has been set up to help purchase equipment for Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

The Chesterville Rotary Club hopes to raise at least $25,000 by Dec. 31 to aid in buying equipment for the new laboratory to be built at the hospital.

The fund was established in memory of Mr. Casselman, who died July 11. Mr. Casselman supported the development of WDMH and was an active worker on behalf of the hospital. He served as chairman of the board of governors from 1963 to 1965.

Donations to the Eric Casselman Memorial Fund may be mailed to the Chesterville Rotary Club or deposited in accounts at the Chesterville Bank of Nova Scotia or Toronto Dominion Bank.

Institute examines wife beating

GREELY — Wife beating is a social problem that exists in rural municipalities as well as in cities, members of the Greely-Manotick Station Women's Institute were told at a branch meeting Nov. 15.

Bruce Sutherland, speaking at the home of WI program convenor Pearl Baird, said wife beaters are not the product of any one particular background.

Mr. Sutherland, a program director with Cable 12 in Arnprior, underlined his remarks with the showing of a video tape on the subject produced by the station in October.

The tape, "A visit to Avoca House in Eganville," focussed on that village's centre for battered wives.

The tape included a short tour of the building and interviews with its business manager, a counsellor and one of the residents. It was explained that women arrived at the home from many parts of the area, many without any means of support.

One of the residents, who was interviewed with her back to the camera, described the many injuries she had received during a 15-year marriage and the desperation that finally forced her to leave.

Her husband, she said, was president of a service club and attended church regularly.

Since arriving at Avoca House, she said, she has received enough encouragement through support and counselling to be able to go out and look for a job and go back to school.

Following the tape presentation, institute members received a report from Pearl Baird on the WI Area Convention.

Chris Eggens of RR2 Greely won the first prize, a hand-made quilt, in a raffle held during the meeting.

The second prize, for $25, was won by Coby Van Westerop of RR2 Greely while Angela Baird of RR1 Kemptville won the third prize of $15.

It was decided to hold a bake sale on Dec. 8.

Lunch was served by the hostess and Mary Van Westerop.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Lila Smiley on Dec. 20.

PUBLIC MEETING
YOU ARE INVITED TO SHARE YOUR THOUGHTS ON RURAL ONTARIO TO THE TASK FORCE ON RURAL MUNICIPALITIES
Alexandria Council Chamber
Wednesday, December 7, 1983
from 9:00 a.m. on
ALL CITIZENS WELCOME
The Task Force was announced on Feb. 9, 1983, by David Peterson, Opposition Leader, in recognition of the fact that many communities in Rural Ontario are faced with acute problems as a result of the recession, shifting demographics, a weakening agricultural base, and limited municipal grants. Hearings around the province began in June.

No stamp of approval

Dear CUPW:
Your offer to turn back the hands of time by offering Canadians an opportunity to mail letters and Christmas cards during the hectic holiday week of Dec. 11-17 sounds too good to be true.

Maybe too bad to be true would be more accurate.

Sorry, we don't buy your president's claim that it is the union's "Christmas gift to Canadians." The Santa Claus suit doesn't fit and the beard is an obvious fake.

Your union, the Canadian Union of Postal Workers, has made it a habit to use the Canadian people as a bargaining tool in your contract negotiations.

Now you have the audacity, and bad taste, to drop your collective arm around our shoulders, smile, and in the great tradition of Guy Kibbee, say "Buddy, since we are on the same side I want to do something nice for you. You know, for the Christmas season!"

You want us to cheat a mail system that we own, a mail system that you demanded we own if mail service was to be improved in this country.

This "Christmas gift" is expected to cost taxpayers up to $20 million in lost revenue. Santa Claus makes his rounds and we pay the parking tickets.

What angers us is the sincere way in which you say you are doing this for us. To threats of disciplinary action, your president, Jean-Claude Parrot, said, "Threats are not going to work any more. We are going ahead and doing this for the people and if we have problems, we'll deal with them."

For the people. We must have missed that surging of collective spirit between mail strikes.

We think you may be chafing under the two-year-old reins of crown corporation status and the "overzealous corporate attitude."

Canadians might be more sympathetic to your cause if you spent more time within the system trying to work out the kinks instead of trying to blast it away from the outside. You might gain more ground if you (pardon the pun) delivered.

We have readers in Russell who wait a week to receive their copy of the Winchester Press in the mail. They aren't interested in what is wrong with the mail system. They want to know what can be done to make it right.

Sorry, but we would just like to exchange your gift for a reasonably priced, efficient mail service. We hope this letter reaches you.
Yours sincerely,
W.R.

Breathing easier

Speaking of stamps, the Eastern Counties Lung Association has once again sent Christmas seal stamps to households in SD&G.

This year the association is hoping to raise $45,000 through the sale of the stamps. Over $20,000 has already been collected. The money is used to fund research into lung diseases, ranked in the top four causes of all deaths.

The association never pressures. The stamps are given out in the hope that people will respond with a contribution.

The stamps have become so familiar that it is sometimes easy to forget the contribution. Especially when there is no reminding face at the door.

Use the stamps and make a contribution. The association, and the people who depend on its work, will all breathe easier.

Returns From Overseas: P.O. Rae Hirst, son of Mrs. I.P. McIntosh of Winchester Springs and the late Mr. Hirst, arrived in Canada from overseas last week. Rae is a Wireless Air-Gunner in the RCAF and has completed 45 flights on bombing raids over enemy held territory and Germany. He will enjoy several weeks' leave before reporting for duty as an instructor at a Canadian flying school.

Winchester Will Enter Hockey Team In Junior League: Five teams will comprise the Central Ottawa Valley Junior Hockey League this winter, it was decided at a meeting of hockey enthusiasts, held at Morrisburg. Clubs to enter teams are: Winchester, Inkerman, Chesterville, Morrisburg and Cardinal. Principal officers of the league were elected as follows: president, E. Coons, Morrisburg; vice-president, Charles McMillan, Chesterville, and secretary, Doc Seeley, Morrisburg.

All Council Seats Filled By Acclamation At Winchester: John Fader will head Winchester's Municipal Council in 1954, having been acclaimed as reeve following last Friday's nomination meeting. Other members of council also returning by acclamation are George Elliott and Max Boyd, members of the present board and newcomers Robert Woods and Allan MacIntosh. The two retiring councillors are Howard Fetterly and Jack Rennison.

Nomination Results In Area Municipalities: Winchester Township: All offices filled by acclamation. E.B. McMillan, reeve; Basil Dawley, deputy-reeve; Kenneth MacIntosh, Albert Smith and Eric Barkley, councillors. Williamsburg Township: All by acclamation. Bernice Froats, reeve; Donald Kyle, deputy-reeve; Graham Wells, G.R. McIntosh, Harold Marcellus, councillors. Osgoode Township: All by acclamation. John E. Boland, reeve; Thomas Stanley, deputy-reeve; John W. James, G. Milton Jeacle and Norman J. McCormick, councillors. Chesterville Village: Reeve, Chas McMillan (accl.); councillors (four to be elected), Mrs. Stella Campbell, Gordon Lannin, Mrs. Anna D. Marcellus, Carl McMillan, Marshall Page, Harold Sharkey and John Turner. Mountain Township: All filled by acclamation. William A. Cameron, reeve; Harry Williams, deputy-reeve; W.A. Santa Arriving By Helicopter In Winchester Saturday: "Santa Claus is coming to town!" Santa will really be here and because it is too early in the season for his reindeer, he will arrive in a gleaming helicopter on the south campus of the public school.

Mike Dukelow Joins Press Staff: The Winchester Press is pleased to announce this week that Michael Dukelow, 20, has joined its news staff. A popular young Winchester citizen, Mike is a graduate of Winchester High School and later attended Ryerson Institute at Toronto. With a natural flair for writing, Mike's ability as a journalist and all-around newsman have been more than evident in recent issues.

Morrisburg Rejects Sunday Sports: Morrisburg voters rejected both Sunday sports and movies in a plebiscite Monday. The sports issue was voted down 338 to 301 and the movie question rejected 301 to 244 in a light turnout of voters. Ironically, Morrisburg voters accepted a plebiscite last year providing for licensed lounges and liquor with meals.

No Panic — Fuel Dealers Interviewed: No unqualified guarantees but definitely no need for panic is the atmosphere that prevails where Winchester fuel dealers are concerned. The Press contacted BP agent Hugh Eadie; Esso representative Ken Broad, nad Shell distributor Black Fuels Ltd. on Monday and all agreed the issue is being distorted by the news media. Mr. Broad said he was disgusted with people who are buying extra tanks and borrowing containers in an effort to 'stockpile' the diminishing supply of oil. All dealers are optimistic they will be able to meet the requirements of all customers. Price of oil this week is 35.2c (per gal.) for furnace and 38.4c for stove oil.

Winchester Lions Donate Zamboni: The Lions Club of Winchester last Saturday made the official presentation of an ice resurfacing unit to the village for use in the Winchester community arena. Winchester Lions members Bill Johnston and Elzeon Raistrick were instrumental in locating the equipment and arranging the purchase ahead of many other interested boards. The Lions are quick to point out that this purchase was only possible through the fine support by residents of the area of the club's activities and fund raising endeavors.

Adequate planning

The Editor:
Regarding Barry Dawson's comment on "should a complete evacuation" of the proposed Care Centre be required.

I think everyone should take great comfort in the fact that the Nursing Home Act defines evacuation plans and fire standards.

At least once a month for all shifts in nursing homes, fire drills are carried out. An elaborate telephone network returns all staff to aid in evacuation to an alternate site, if need be.

Evacuation and fire plans have to be approved before a licence for beds is granted.

I don't think it matters where the Care Centre is located because the same needs arise in all nursing homes.

I have found that living in a rural area with a dedicated fire department and dedicated citizens you will have no problem finding dedicated volunteers to assist, no matter what time of day or night they are needed.
Barbara C. Herr, R.N.

Thank you

The Editor:
I would like to express my thanks to you and your staff for making it possible for me to receive the nice trophy which you donated to the Dundas 4-H clubs. It is proudly displayed in my home.

An Ode to November

by Bill Smiley

I don't know anyone who has written an "Ode to November." It is just possible that some idiot in Florida or California or Portugal, or the West Indies, has done so, because that is the month their oranges, grapes, or sugar-cane achieved their finest flavor.

Long gone are Thanksgiving, the glories of autumn foliage, the bright yellow sun of October.

Instead, there are the withered fields. There are the black, accusing branches, like witches' fingers, of the stark and naked trees. There is the first snow, turned to dirty slush.

Fittingly, November has no holiday. The only thing near it is Remembrance Day, a day or mourning, of remembering old slaughters and young men caught in them.

There are the first obscene Christmas carols, the first phoney Santas, the intricate arrangements of colored lights, to remind us that if we spend, spend, spend; buy, buy, buy, we are supporting those two great edifices of the western world, Christianity and free enterprise.

November, for most Canadians, is a time of fearful, tentative waiting, shoulders metaphorically hunched. Waiting to see what The Lord has in store for us.

There is no promise in November, no hope. Only more of the same for the next five months. Grey, greasy, unyielding, November grips us to the bone with its certainty that we have sinned, and now we are going to suffer.

Even with modern heating and lighting, with the tranquilizers of television and frozen dinners, and no trips to the backyard john necessary, November makes us cringe.

Probably it's a legacy from our pioneer ancestors. I can't help thinking what November meant to them. The closing in of days. The black of the morning. The wet chill of the air. The worry about enough hay for the beasts, enough wood in the woodpile, enough salted meat for the winter, enough spuds and turnips in the cold-cellar.

It was no time for watching the Grey Cup, or the Dallas Cowboys, on a Saturday afternoon.

It must have been a time of frantic scrambling for those pioneers. Chinking the draughts between the logs. Cutting wood like mad. Slaughtering and smoking and "putting down" food for the long bitter days ahead.

There was no running over to the supermarket for a few bags of flour, a bag of sugar, and eight cartons of margarine. It was a siege ahead that could last seemingly indefinitely, with no relief force just over the horizon.

It must have been especially frightening for the women. For those long, dark months ahead, they would be virtually locked in their cabins, with almost no social intercourse outside the family. Endless days of preparing hot meals, knitting warm clothes, with no company after the children were bedded down except that of a sullen, exhausted husband.

For the men at least, there was some escape; the daily chores, the battening down of hatches against the coming storms, perhaps a trip to the village for supplies, the tending of animals.

As we turn up the thermostat, flip on the lights, or flush the toilet, we should remember, with a touch of awe, what November must have been like for our grand and great grandparents.

Now, I know not everybody will agree with me. That's as should be. For aficionados of curling, November means the opening of a new season, with the slap of brooms, the conviviality of the bar, the urge for competition beckoning them out of their cosy homes into the dark, cold night.

For the skiing crowd, November does hold promise. They sniff the air like beagles, cheer like children when the first flakes fall, and generally irritate the rest of us.

It's even a rather exciting time for merchants. They anticipate the jangling of cash registers, the pushing of hot, sweaty mobs through their aisles. It enables them to blot out for a brief time, the doldrums of January that lurk ahead.

And of course November holds no fears for the deer hunters and those idiots who stand in icy water to the waist, trying to catch one last big rainbow trout. "Best time of the year," they chortle heartily.

But for golfers, boatsmen, and most old people, November could be left right off the calendar.

For sailors on the Great Lakes, and at sea, it is a month fraught with discomfort and even peril, with storms howling out of the northwest.

You may have gathered that I don't like November and I'm glad it's over.

Seventh Column

by Joe Rowan

That ancient copy of the "The Russell Leader", referred to last week, is a real tonic on a Monday morning when the world trembles in fear of a nuclear holocaust. For example, really big news that early spring week 80 years ago noted that "Bob Dow is attending the Grand Lodge of Workmen in Toronto;" that "Peter Gillissie's little girl underwent an operation and is doing as well as can be expected;" and "Application will be made to the Local Legislature during the present session for a charter to construct and operate an electric road from Morrisburg to Ottawa. This road will run to some point in the village of Russell. The charter has three named points: Morrisburg, Russell and Ottawa, with a branch to Winchester." Wonder what ever happened to that "road". Next time we see Walter C., we'll ask him.

Now that the preliminaries are over, area curlers are getting down to some serious sweeping and drinking (coffee of course). Anyone familiar with the grand old game knows full well coffee is the stimulant that provides necessary energy for the gruelling contests. Only the rugged can possibly ensure four consecutive ends without the "caffeine-free pause." To this point we've been referring only to the physical requirements, but from here on only the mentally-strong survive. Sportsmen (and the lassies too) are all well aware such trivial trophies as "Grey", "Stanley", and the like, fade into insignificance as area wits are being honed in preparations for such real challenges as "Merkley", "Broder" and the newest of all "Gamble". For the benefit of the uneducated (should there be one) we should explain the "Merkley" is symbolic of male curling supremacy; the "Broder", the female equivalent; while the "Gamble" might best be described as a typical "Mission Impossible". This is mixed curling with the male skips (or sergeant majors if you like) barking the orders; the humble male seconds falling in line - - - and the female thirds and leads playing it "their way." It all happens at Metcalfe this weekend and there are rumors that skips are trading wives like crazy - - - for the spiel that is. Winchester's Doug (Vasey); Metcalfe's Bryan (Peterson); and Russell Bryan (Cochrane) seem to think someone else's wife might be easier to keep in line. We could tell them different — but we won't.

Stornoway is back in the news again. Just to refresh your memory, that's the broken-down old shack we talked about a few weeks ago, when we questioned the logic of such continual costly repairs. Now don't get us wrong. We think Leaders of the Opposition rate darn fine homes, but we were dead wrong (Oct. 26) when noting that the Mulroneys had $50,000 ideas. Latest reports indicate the minor renovation program is costing more than $117,000. There just has to be a touch of irony here - - - another page of the same daily related the sad tale of unfortunates facing the grim reality of another long, cold winter with no shelter to call home. Something must be wrong when those in command consider it logical to spend $38,000 for a front porch on that Rockcliffe Park masion, but can't find homes for the homeless. Situations like this confirm the philosophical question posed by good old Les Lye. "If our educational system continues to teach children to reason logically," he asks, "then who's going to have the credentials to serve in Parliament?" We're concerned too Les.

With silos bulging; hay lofts filled; and the last furrow plowed, this used to be the time of year when Uncle Frank, after finishing the morning chores, stood at the stable door in the early morning sunshine happily anticipating the approach of winter. It was a time too for contemplating work in the bush-lot assuring an ample supply of wood for the next winter (this year's fuel long ago properly dried, split and piled in the woodshed). We can see him, in memory, humming a familiar tune as he "filed" and "set" his gleaming cross-cut saw and honed his axe until it was razor-sharp. Perhaps you're wondering what so suddenly re-ignited those dying embers of time. Well, it was this way see — last Friday we watched a tree-cutting operation utilizing modern technology and we know our pioneer uncle would have been amazed to see an old dead maple being felled by Ministry of Transportation and Communication workers (workers?). And he might have laughed out loud seeing the task being completed in one afternoon using only three trucks, a half dozen chainsaws, several axes and a small army of men. Working alone our old uncle would have considered the task a "before breakfast" appetizer.

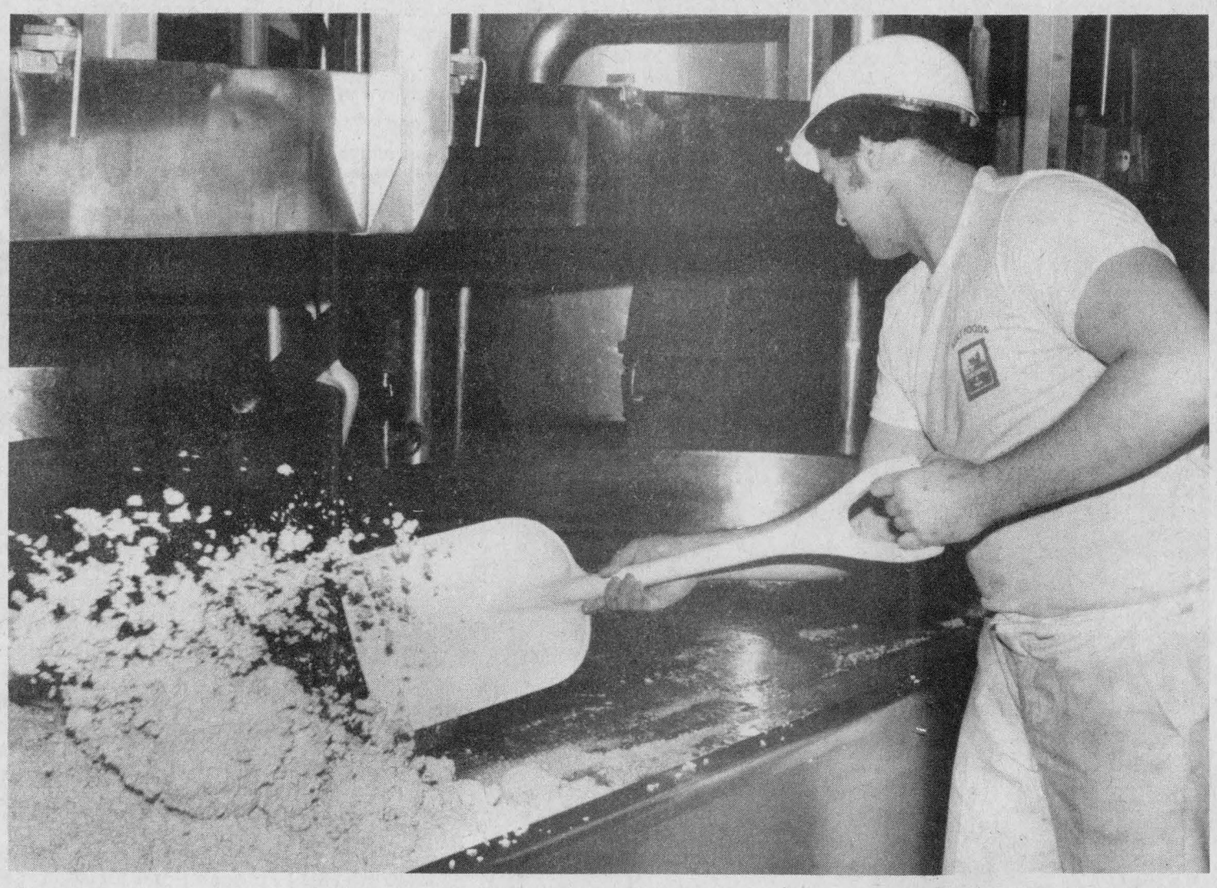
Rejean Galipeau: the judge's big cheese



A worker at Ault Foods Ltd. shovels cheese over in the production of curd. The plant uses 1.3 million pounds of milk a day and produces about four million pounds of cheese a year. The quality of the cheese has earned it plaudits from across the province. About 80 people are involved in cheese production, with the milk to cheese process completed in about five hours.

Press Photo—Riley

WINCHESTER — As the tour through the cheese making plant of Ault Foods continued, the action seemed less a response to hunger and more a habit.

Rejean Galipeau would stop, pick off a piece of cheese and chew on it as he talked. There were pieces of curd. Pieces of Colby. Pieces of cheese that had not been salted and were almost flavorless.

He seemed to test everything.

After 19 years in the cheese business, most of them as a cheese maker, Rejean Galipeau knows his cheese.

Judges from across Ontario, and a few in England, agree.

Two weeks ago, judges at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto, one of the world's premier agricultural shows, awarded the 37-year-old cheese maker the Reserve Grand Champion ribbon in a competition that saw 13 cheese plants take part. He won the competition last year.

In one of the rooms at Ault Foods Ltd., where boxes of cheese are slit open for weekly inspections by graders, a wall is reserved as the showcase for the plant's 1983 ribbons and awards. There are 67 ribbons below a long line of trophies, one of them for a fourth-place showing at the Nantwich Show in England.

It is a prestigious record, even for the province's largest cheese plant, and Mr. Galipeau takes pride in it.

He is quick to point out, however, that he is only a representative of a cheese making team and that every job, from the men who wash the tanks to those who test bacteria, is equally important.

"Everybody is doing his job and that's why we do well," he said. "You depend on a bunch of people and we all try to make show quality cheese every day. It's just like a woman making a cake, she wants the best every time."

It is, in the cavernous building that houses the cheese plant, a case of quality and quantity.

The plant produces about 40 million pounds of cheese a year and uses 1.3 million pounds of milk daily. About 80 people are involved in shifts in the 20-hour production days.

It is, Mr. Galipeau said, a far cry from his early days as a cheese maker's helper in St. Isidore.

"It's a lot more complicated than it used to be. It used to be just a few people worked on making cheese. Now we have 80 people here."

An employee with Ault Foods for the last eight years, Mr. Galipeau said the focus on his job is to make sure that the plant's cheese recipes ("very close to being a secret formula") are followed to the letter. And despite all kinds of potential problems, he added, the plant has to throw out less than two per cent of its production each year.

The cheese making process itself sounds more like a chemistry test than a bake shop.

Cultures consisting of four strains of bacteria is added to the milk to produce lactic acid, the stuff that makes cheese.

Rennet, an enzyme taken from a calve's stomach, is added to harden the mixture and the milk is then cooked at between 100 and 110 degrees Fahrenheit.

The whey and cheese is then separated.

For block cheese, the cheese is broken up and salted and then squeezed into bricks under pressure. For cheeses like cheddar, where quality is not only determined by taste but also by the absence of holes, the cheese is pulled together under a vacuum.

The whole process takes about five hours.

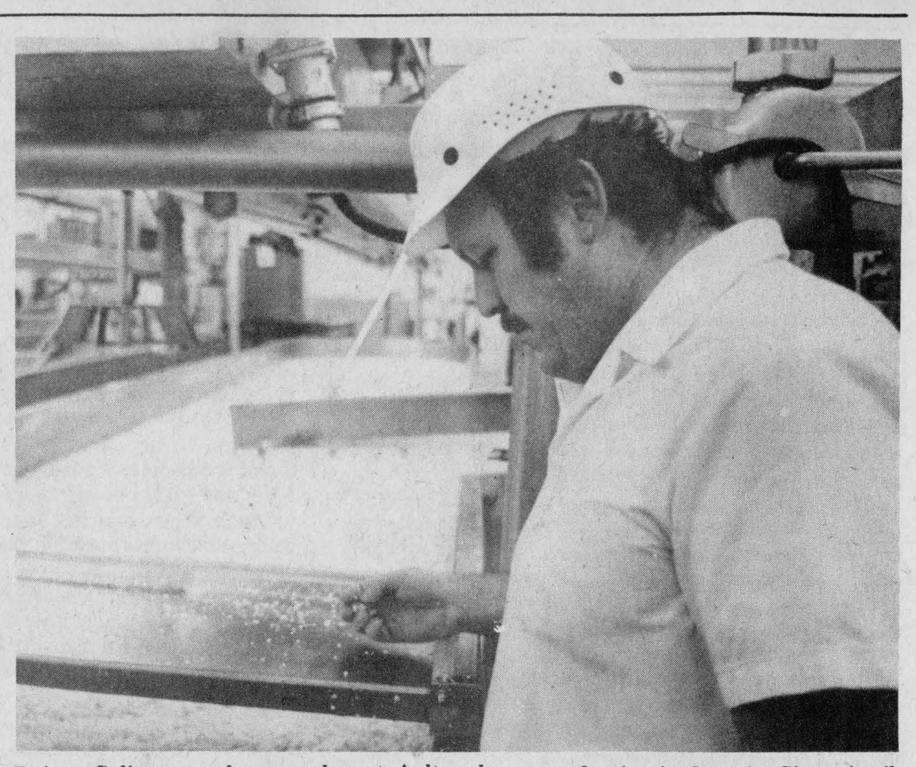
Prize-winning cheese, Mr. Galipeau said, is judged on five categories: wrapping, flavor, texture, openess and color.

In Toronto, Ault Foods placed second overall with a score of 98.15 out of 100 points and had perfect scores for wrapping, color and finish.

"It's terrible when you lose points for wrapping," he said, "because that is something you can control. There's not much you can do about flavor and texture because that depends on the quality of the milk and the cultures. You can do a little bit with the color but June, when the clover is out, gives you the best natural color."

Nineteen years after taking a cheese making course at Kemptville College, Rejean Galipeau said he still likes the taste of cheese.

"I love cheese," he said with another piece between his fingers. "That's why I'm heavy."



Rejean Galipeau, a cheese maker at Ault Foods, looks over the cheese production. He and a dozen other cheese makers at the plant, in addition to a staff of 70 other employees, have placed the Winchester plant at the forefront of prize-winning cheese production in Ontario. Since April Mr. Galipeau has accepted over 60 ribbons on behalf of the plant and nearly as many trophies. The 37-year-old cheese maker says the secret is simply a general attitude to make prize-winning cheese every day.

Country Report host Wayne Rostad interviews Roy Fawcett for a segment of the show's Christmas special taped Sunday. The CBC crew taped about five hours worth of interviews, which will have to be edited by air time Dec. 21.

Rostad tapes Christmas special

VAN CAMP — A CBC camera crew arrived here Sunday to tape a segment of the Country Report Christmas special.

The program, to be aired at 7:30pm on channel 4 Wed., Dec. 21, will feature local people who have appeared on the show this season, including Roy Fawcett, whose organ museum provided the setting for Sunday's taping.

Host Wayne Rostad interviewed Mr. Fawcett about the museum, a converted Methodist church, and the collection of antique organs it houses. Mr. Fawcett bought the building about eight years ago for $1 on condition it be used as a museum.

Over a dozen organs of various types are kept in the museum, including a Casavant pipe organ made in Canada in 1928. Mr. Fawcett bought the organ from a church in New Brunswick because, he said, the instrument could not be played fast enough to suit the modern church choir.

Mr. Fawcett said Casavant still makes the best pipe organs in the world and added he is proud that the company, based in St. Hyacinth, Que. is Canadian.

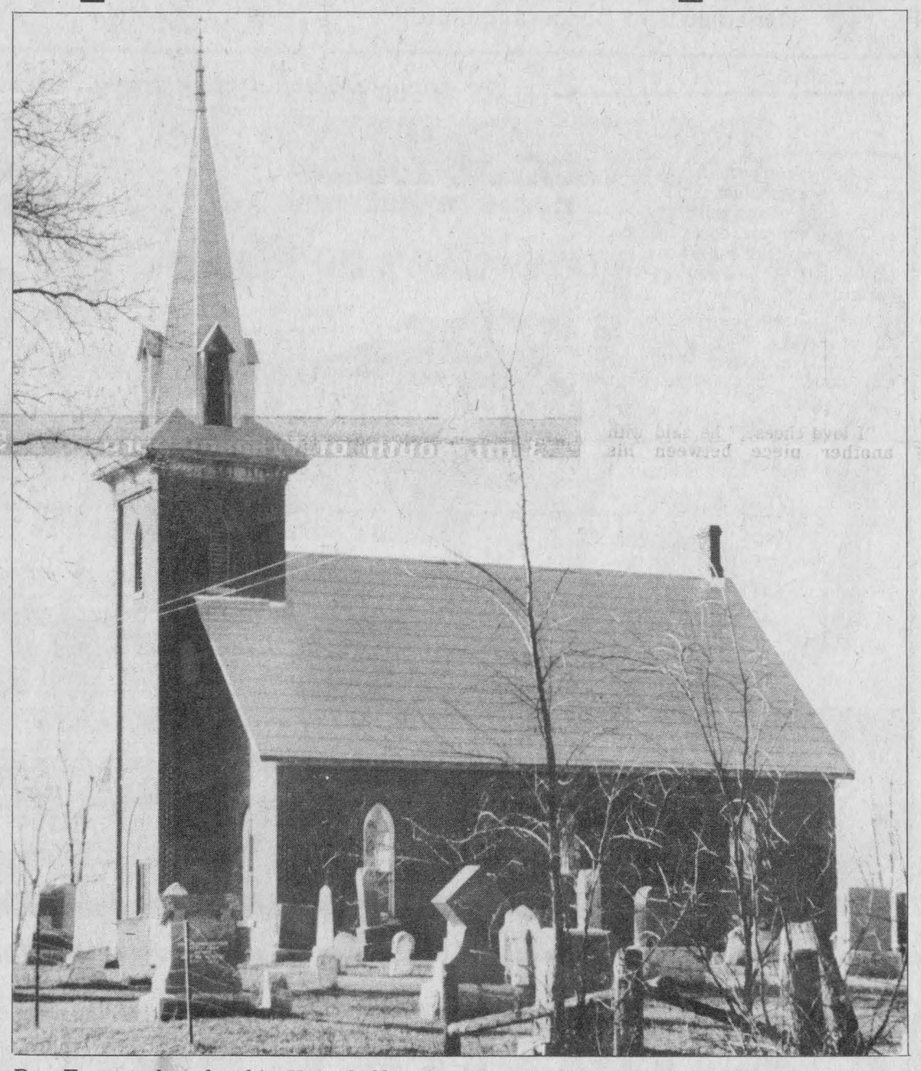
The organ is large enough for a church of 2,000 to 3,000 people, and is now contained in a small building capable of holding about 200.

"It just blows your mind when you hear this massive instrument let loose," Mr. Fawcett said.

The organ will be featured in the Christmas show, the last segment of which is to be taped at the museum Dec. 18, during the annual Christmas concert there. The instrument will be played by Sharon Adams, staff organist for Mr. Fawcett's company.

Miss Adams demonstrated the organ during Sunday's taping, and also played a brief duet with Mr. Rostad.

Mr. Fawcett said he will return Dec. 18 to sing a few carols at the Christmas concert.



Roy Fawcett bought this United Church building in Van Camp for $1 eight years ago, when the church committee was planning to demolish it. Today the building houses part of Mr. Fawcett's extensive collection of antique organs.

Seed corn companies promote inbreds

OTTAWA — A plan to set up a company to distribute inbred corn lines developed by Agriculture Canada is expected to speed up the development of Canadian corn hybrids, an Agriculture Canada press release said.

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan announced Nov. 8 that four seed corn companies have proposed setting up a company called Canamais Inc. to distribute the inbred corn lines.

The proposal will be discussed at a meeting in Winnipeg Nov. 21, to which representatives of all Canadian seed corn companies will be invited.

"My department is anxious to develop an orderly system of releasing our inbreds throughout the seed trade," Mr. Whelan said. "And we feel the companies that develop, multiply and sell seed corn hybrids to Canadian farmers are best suited for the task."

Corn inbreds developed by the research branch of Agriculture Canada have in the past been made available to seed companies on an informal, individual basis.

Most of the seed corn companies operating in Canada, about 20, are located in Southern Ontario.

The meeting in Winnipeg is being arranged with the help of Paul King, president of the Canadian Seed Trade Association, which represents these companies.

The meeting is being held in Winnipeg Nov. 21 because the time coincides with the semi-annual meeting of the seed trade association, also held in Winnipeg.

Mr. Whelan said federal policy on hybrid distribution will not be changed, and they will still be offered on an individual basis to companies requesting them.

"But it is important that inbreds be more equitably distributed among seed corn companies," he said.

Are your hard-earned dollars going up in smoke?

Then take a few minutes now and discover how adding electricity to your oil furnace can dramatically cut the cost of heating your home.

If your oil furnace is in good condition, but you'd like it to run more economically, a dual-energy system combining oil and electricity may be just the answer. In fact, depending on how much electric heat you add, and how you operate your system, you could use as little as one tank of oil for an entire heating season!

For example, an electric plenum heater or heat pump, will reduce the amount of oil your furnace uses by up to 75%. In addition, a heat pump provides air conditioning in the summer for economical year-round comfort.

If your furnace does need replacing, an electric furnace or one of the other electric systems can heat your home cleanly, efficiently and economically.

If you'd like to know more about dual-energy and all-electric systems, write to Ontario Hydro, 620 University Ave., 4th Floor, Toronto M5G 1X6, and ask for our free booklet "Electric Heating Options for Your Home."

The few minutes you take now could add up to big savings this winter.

Vic Althouse, the federal New Democratic Party's agriculture critic was in Finch last week to gather information from local farmers for a task force report the party is preparing. The Saskatchewan MP and a founding director of the National Farmers' Union, said current stabilization plans are ineffective because they do not take into account the shrinking net income of farmers. Press Photo—Riley

Dwindling net farm income crux of problem: Althouse

FINCH — A guaranteed farm income level may be a radical concept today but it is no more radical than the concepts of minimum wage and pensions were 40 years ago, a federal NDP agriculture critic told a small group of farmers here Thursday night.

Vic Althouse, a Saskatchewan MP and a founding director of the National Farmers' Union, said current stabilization plans are failing because governments are still not willing to deal with the real problem in the farm economy.

In an hour-long speech, Mr. Althouse defined the problem as dwindling net income and accused Liberal and Conservative governments of spending too much time analyzing market aspects and not enough on how much money goes into a farmer's pocket.

While the national net income has remained relatively static at $3.5 billion over the last 10 years, he said, the 1973 dollar is now worth 45 cents in buying power today.

During the same period, interest on debts replaced feed as the number one cost in farming.

The drawback of current stabilization plans, he said, is that they focus on the market conditions of a particular year but fail to take into account the economic conditions preceding it.

"We are really missing the point," he told the audience, "if we are basing payouts on an inadequate market history. It's like having an unemployment insurance program that guarantees you $6 a week if you are unemployed. You have to have enough to buy groceries."

The federal government originally intended to guarantee all cash costs to red meat farmers in the long-debated red meat stabilization plan, Mr. Althouse said, but backed down when the Conservative provinces objected that it was too rich and would stimulate overproduction.

The result of that decision, he says, is a beef industry with a herd size at the level it had in 1969 and where "people are still losing their shirts in the beef business."

If stabilization plans are to work, he said, net incomes will have to be preserved by guaranteeing all cash costs.

On the subject of farm debt and bankruptcies, Mr. Althouse said Ontario has chosen to let the free market "decide who will farm and who will not and it is becoming more of a case of who will not."

The situation could be helped, he added, by the immediate introduction of an Agri Bond program which would allow retiring farmers to invest their money into the agriculture industry and provide a source of lending money.

Because the bonds would be free of capital gains tax, he said, older farmers would be willing to invest their money at less than the going interest rate which would in turn knock off some interest points at the lending source.

"It's perfectly logical," he said, "but it just doesn't get done."

Mr. Althouse met with the audience after the meeting to discuss regional problems. Both the federal and provincial NDP parties are conducting task force reports on agriculture.

Mr. Althouse's visit was arranged before the SD&G by-election was called.

Farm Credit lowers interest rate to 13%

OTTAWA — The Federal Ministry of Agriculture has announced a slight drop in the interest rate charged under the Farm Credit Act.

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan, who made the announcement in Ottawa last week, said the Farm Credit Corporation (FCC) has lowered its interest rate charge from 13½ per cent to 13 per cent.

"This decrease reflects a reduction in the Corporation's cost of funds and is further evidence that the economy is improving," said Mr. Whelan.

The FCC has approved more than 4,800 loans valued at over 663 million since last April. This includes loans made under the Special Farm Financial Assistance Program.

The corporation, which ran out of money earlier this year before the federal government authorized it to borrow over $200 million from the market, has an estimated $77 million left for loans to the end of next March.

The lending rate under the Farm Syndicates Credit Act remains unchanged at 12 per cent.

NIP formsets available Dec. 15

BRANTFORD — The Joint Dairy Breeds Committee has announced that new style formsets for the National Identification Program (NIP) will be on sale starting Dec. 15.

The formsets, available in lots of 10 for $40, can be ordered directly from the Joint Dairy Breeds Committee, P.O. Box 610, Brantford, Ont., N3T 5R4.

Beginning on Jan. 1, 1984 and continuing until Feb. 15, an exchange of one new formset for one old formset will be offered.

From Feb. 16 to April 30, two old formsets will be exchanged for one new formset. The breed office will discontinue processing old formsets on June 30.

NIP applications should be forwarded through the milk recording system to the breed office on at least a weekly basis. The goal is to provide the herd owner with the NIP certificate within one month or at the next test date.

Beef producers given boost

TORONTO — The Associated Beef Breeds of Ontario will receive a three year, $200,000 grant package to assist in the development of Ontario beef breeding stock.

Ontario Agriculture Minister Dennis Timbrell made the announcement in Toronto Nov. 10.

The grants will help underwrite staff costs and office and travel expenses for a marketing manager and support staff to a maximum of $100,000 in the first year.

The ministry will cover two-thirds of the costs in the second year and one-third in the final year of the grant program.

The grants, Mr. Timbrell said, will help the organization to develop a full-time campaign to overseas markets.

"This organization has been successful in establishing export markets in the U.S. and Central America but I feel there is great potential to increase our exports of breeding stock," Mr. Timbrell said. "These grants will help realize this potential."

Frances Blais top showperson in East Carleton

METCALFE — East Carleton 4-H Horse Club members were joined by parents and friends at the Lions Den, Metcalfe, last Friday night for the annual Awards Banquet.

Former Assistant Agricultural Representative Terry Stewart was guest speaker for the occasion and congratulated the club on its continuing growth and overwhelming success. Mr. Stewart presented an inspirational message emphasizing the value of such youth organizations.

Club President Frances Blais proved an exciting and humorous master of ceremonies and a highlight of the program was a skit in which a rather strange looking horse named "Freddie" was the star, hogging the limelight while club members offered grooming and feeding tips.

Stan and Hilda Edwards conducted a much appreciated singsong and, prior to official presentations, three members offered interesting reports of special summer activities.

Nancy Blais received her exciting and educational 4-H trip to Alberta; Sue Boyd presented a comprehensive report of the 4-H Regional Conference, and Janet Carss relived her participation at the Central Canada Exhibition Association 4-H Club Camp.

OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENTS

Club leaders Bob MacIntyre and Joan Macartney, before presenting awards, congratulated the young people on a highly successful season and thanked the various service clubs, business firms and individuals who made such beautiful awards possible.

Members honored for outstanding achievement included: Linda Erbs, top first-year member, Ritchie Feed and Seed Award; Frances Blais, top club member, Gloucester Lions Club Trophy; Kerri McGregor, top junior judge, MacIntyre Trophy; Jayne MacIntyre, senior showmanship, and Joanne McWilliams, junior showmanship, Hume Awards.

The McVey Insurance Trophy, presented annually to the top Carleton County showperson was won by Frances Blais, while Joanne VanRens was judged the top showperson at Metcalfe Fair.

Farming 2,500 acres is no small job

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lauf and their sons are cash crop farmers in the area and operating more than 2,500 acres is a big job. Big jobs require big machines so naturally they visited Metcalfe Service Centre.

The Press visited the home farm at Edwards recently just in time to see the mechanical monsters moving to another corn field ready for harvesting.

Mr. Lauf, his wife Bap and son Ed arrived in the district in May, 1981 from Weyburn, Sask. where he had been operating a construction company. Pleased with the potential of corn farming in the area he was joined by friend Felix Derksen, a businessman from Germany, and they purchased Black Magic Farms at Edwards from Harry Fine (formerly Dave Croskery potato farms). In 1982 Mr. Derksen and another associate from Germany purchased two more farms in the Finch area and the second member of the Lauf family joined the operation. Peter, formerly with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, presently manages the Finch operations.

A spokesman for Metcalfe Service Centre estimates the value is in excess of $750,000.

Johnston — Como wed

On Sat., June 4, Linda Lee Como and Steven Cecil Johnston were united in marriage at 4pm in Winchester United Church with Rev. E.S. Royle officiating. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Como, and Steven is the son of Cecil Johnston and the late Glenna Johnston.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother and father, wore a full-length gown of taffeta with Guipure lace. The gown had a high neckline with a lace and pearl-covered bodice, leg-of-mutton sleeves and chapel-length train. Her headpiece was covered with lace and pearls with a veil flowing to cover the chapel train. A strand of pearls, a gift from the groom, complimented her gown. She carried a cascading bouquet of pink roses, pink carnations, white stephanotis, English ivy and baby's breath.

Carol Sargent, friend of the bride, acted as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Brenda Como and Sandra Como, sisters of the bride, Kathy Como, also a sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore dusty rose floor-length gowns of taffeta and carried nosegays of pink roses, pink carnations, white daisies, purple statice and baby's breath.

The groom was attended by a good friend, Dan Lecours, as best man. Ushers were Brian Como, brother of the bride, Phil Cooper, friend of the groom and Jason St. Pierre, nephew of the groom. All wore matching black tuxedos.

The mother of the bride wore a wine-colored floor-length gown with matching sheer over-jacket.

Following the ceremony, guests assembled at South Mountain Agricultural Hall for the reception dinner and dance.

Guests were in attendance from Winchester and area, Ottawa, Belleville, Toronto, Mississauga, Glanworth, Chatham, Dresden, Thamesville and Tahsis, B.C.

The couple honeymooned in Vancouver and are now residing in Winchester.

Happy 25th anniversary

Congratulations to our Mom and Dad, Arthur and Hilda Vandekemp, who celebrated their silver anniversary on Nov. 29, 1983.
—With love from your children Martin (son-in-law) and Marian, Wally, Carol, Nancy, Brenda and Stephen. Also, love from your granddaughters Carrie and Jennifer

Institute to invite Group Home to meal

WINCHESTER — At the November meeting in the Lions Hall, Winchester Women's Institute President Vivian Fawcett welcomed 42 members and 12 visitors. The meeting opened with a poem, "Why Wear A Poppy?".

Edna Trory gave a report on the area convention in Ottawa, the theme of which was "Women, a strong resource." The dinner speaker was Maud Barlow, who spoke on the importance of preventing children being used for pornography.

Thelma Corey, as leader, gave an account of the success of the "More Cents Than Dollans" cookery workshop. Eleven members spent an afternoon cooking some new recipes, and enjoying the results later at supper. Ethel Brinton was assistant leader in this project.

Lila Pyper made a motion that group homes families be invited to the potluck supper in December, seconded by Florence Helmer. Stella Potter put forward the suggestion that members contribute $2 each for gifts for these visitors and she was supported by Nellie Guy. This was voted on and passed.

Freida Coons explained the motto, "Life is mostly froth and bubble, two things stand alone, kindness in another's trouble, courage in your own."

John Pemberton entertained with two songs which he sang to his grandmothers, Dorothy Kerr accompanied on the piano. Dr. C.R. Dawes tested our memories with some musical trivia on the piano.

Hazel Merkley introduced Dr. Rebecca McDermot who works with the Ontario Cancer Foundation at the Cancer Clinic at the Civic Hospital in Ottawa. Dr. McDermot gave an interesting lecture, with slides.

She emphasized the increasing chance of cure today with early diagnosis and modern treatment of cancer. After the singing of "God Save The Queen" a delicious lunch was served by Hazel Merkley and her committee of Dorothy Kerr, Mary Campbell, Bets Beauman, Mabel Garlough, Doris McVey and Freida Coons.

RUSSELL — The provincial 4-H conference and the experiences of an exchange student from Prince Edward Island were the subjects of discussion at the November meeting of the North Russell Women's Institute at the Russell United Church Hall.

Bonnie Hamilton, a 4-H member, gave an interesting address on the provincial 4-H conference held recently in Guelph.

Carol Versteeg, another 4-H member, spoke on her activities as a summer exchange student from P.E.I.

Both addresses were very interesting.

The evening meeting concluded with contests.

Rag and Bone puppeteers bring emperor to life

VERNON — Exotically costumed puppets and mysterious oriental music brought Hans Christian Andersen's tale of The Nightingale alive for the crowd of over 100 children and parents who filled the Presbyterian Church Hall here Thursday to watch the performance.

The Rag and Bone Puppet Theatre, consisting of puppeteers John Nolan and Kathy MacLellan and musician Brian "Chiefer" Searson, entertained their audience with a style of puppetry that uses visible manipulators in the oriental tradition.

The puppeteers, who also acted as storytellers, were costumed in black and stood against a black background.

The Nightingale, which is the fifth show the troupe has performed since their formation in 1978, tells the story of a Chinese emperor who must choose between a mechanical nightingale studded with precious jewels, and a real nightingale whose song is so beautiful it brings tears to his eyes.

Mr. Searson provided live music for the show, playing traditional instruments that included Chinese gongs, cymbals and drums, and a dulcimer.

Mr. Nolan said the dulcimer, a four-stringed instrument, was invented in the Appalachian region of North America.

The puppet theatre provides full-time jobs for its members, who have been touring Ontario and Nova Scotia for the past five years. The group also appeared in Elma and Dixons Corners Nov. 25, and in Iroquois Nov. 26. They put on a total of nine shows during the week.

The shows were sponsored by the Eastern Ontario Regional Library System and supported by a grant from the Ontario Arts Council.

Mr. Nolan said he and his wife Kathy MacLellan became interested in puppets after studying theatre arts at York University.

There are few courses in puppetry available in Canada, Mr. Nolan said, so he learned the craft as an apprentice to German puppeteer Felix Mirbt. "The apprenticeship was very much a practical one," he said. "He was building a show and I helped him build it."

The puppeteers themselves made the puppets used in the show, using paper-mache and cloth, most of which came from a fabric store in Ottawa.

The three members of the puppet theatre are natives of Ottawa, except Mrs. MacLellan, who was born in the Maritimes.

Myrtle Alice Steen dies in 95th year

Myrtle Alice Steen, a longtime Morewood resident living in Kemptville for the last six years, died suddenly in Columbia Memorial Hospital, Hudson City, New York on Wed., Nov. 23. She was 94.

Born on Dec. 11, 1888 in Proton, Ont., she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John McEachern.

She married the late Henry Steen at Little Current, Ont. in 1903 and moved to Morewood the same year where she resided until 1977.

A housewife, she was a member of the Winchester Hospital Auxiliary, the Chesterville Anglican Christian Women's Association and the Ladies' Aide Society of Morewood. She was also a member of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Chesterville.

Mrs. Steen is survived by two daughters, Eileen (Mrs. Peter Miller), Hudson City, New York and Sadie (Mrs. John Innes), RR4 Kemptville; a granddaughter, Beth Jaeger, Westwood, New Jersey and three great grandchildren, Kristine, Marcus and Bridget.

She was predeceased by a son, John (Jack) Doran Steen, two sisters and two brothers.

Rev. J.D.A. Dobson conducted funeral services from Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Chesterville on Sat., Nov. 26.

Pallbearers were Arthur and Ted Koolwine, Harold Hillis, Milburn McLeod, Paul Bourgeois and Kenneth Stewart.

Interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

W. Gordon Johnston dies in hospital

W. Gordon Johnston, 70, died at the Toronto General Hospital on Sun., Oct. 30 following a brief illness.

Born on Jan. 2, 1913 in Winchester, Ont., Mr. Johnston was the youngest of the five sons of William and Margaret (Patterson) Johnston.

After his public school education, he began work for the Bank of Nova Scotia in 1929, a company for which he was to work for the next 43 years.

Interrupted briefly by RCAF service from 1943 to 1945, his career in The Bank of Nova Scotia took him in rapid progression to a variety of locations in Canada including Timmins, London, Montreal, Edmonton, Toronto, St. John's, and Halifax.

In his latter years with the bank he served as General Manager for Newfoundland, for Nova Scotia and most recently for Northern and Western Ontario, the position which he held at his retirement in 1972.

Throughout his life he was active in a large number of service organizations including the YMCA and the Rotary Club. In recent years he has served on the Cannington Library Board and as a volunteer for the Brock Good Neighbors Society as well as being a very active member and treasurer of the Knox Presbyterian Church, Cannington. He was also an active member of the Cresswell Golf Club and the Cannington Senior Citizens Curling Club.

Mr. Johnston is survived by his wife, Ila (nee Johnston); two sons, William of Kitchener, Robert of Halifax; two granddaughters, Wendy and Meghan of Halifax; two brothers, Lloyd, Toronto and George, Cornwall and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Enid Brown of Cannington.

He was predeceased by two brothers, Albert, Kemptville and Earl, Sarnia.

The funeral took place on Nov. 2 in Cannington, Ont. In lieu of flowers, donations are being sent to the Knox Presbyterian Church, Cannington, Ont.

Mary Agnes Casselman

Funeral services were conducted Thurs., Nov. 17 for Winchester Springs housewife Mary Agnes Casselman.

Mrs. Casselman died Thurs., Nov. 15 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. She was 91.

Mrs. Casselman was born May 17, 1892, in Dunbar, a daughter of Lemuel Dillabough and Rebecca Elliot, both deceased.

She is survived by her daughter Georgina (Mrs. Russell Ault), sons Percy, RR1 Williamsburg, Clifford of Morrisburg and Graham of Winchester Springs, nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Mrs. Casselman was predeceased by her husband Aden Henry Casselman, and daughter Edna (Mrs. Victor Riddell).

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. Royle at Vice and Craig Funeral Homes Inc., Winchester at 2pm, Thursday.

Pallbearers were grandchildren Doug Casselman, Kevin Casselman, Eric Riddell and Fay Riddell.

Interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Dwight Tupper

Dwight Tupper, a Chesterville auctioneer, died at his home Thurs., Nov. 17. He was 67.

Mr. Tupper was born Feb. 17, 1916 in Williamsburg Township, a son of Willis R. Tupper and Cora B. Hummell, both deceased.

He married Minnie May Beckstead in June 1933 in Finch.

Mr. Tupper is survived by his wife, son Hubert of Chesterville, daughters Carolyn (Mrs. Norman Sulpher) of Chesterville, and Laura Mae (Mrs. Donald Wells) of Morrisburg, brother William Tupper of Montreal, grandchildren Judy Adams and Greg and Julie Wells, and great granddaughter Melissa Adams.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. L.M. Ferguson at Vice and Craig Funeral Home in Chesterville, Sun., Nov. 20 at 2pm.

Pallbearers were Dudley Craig, Wilburn Robinson, Earl McMillan, Hubert Casselman, Grant McMillan and Carl Edgerton.

Interment was at Grantly Cemetery.

George Wesley Winters

George Wesley Winters, a retired motor mechanic, died Wed., Nov. 16 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital after an illness of several years. He was 68.

A former resident of Grantly, Ont., Mr. Winters had lived in Chesterville since 1953.

He was born Nov. 11, 1916 in Osnabruck Township, a son of Alfred Winters and Martha Hayes.

He married Cecile Patenaude June 10, 1944 at Crysler Catholic Church.

Mr. Winters is survived by his parents. He was the father of Eileen Russell of Lindsay and Leoma (Mrs. Ray Prunner) of South Mountain, and the brother of Elsie (Mrs. Alex MacIntosh) of Moose Creek. He had five grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by Father John Appleman and Rev. Bert de Bruijn at Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Chesterville at 2pm, Fri., Nov. 18.

Pallbearers were Alex McIntosh, Ken Reid, Dalton Elliot, Graham McPherson, Bert Wood and Barnard Matte.

Interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

PREARRANGEMENT

a) Prearrangement is simply stating one's wishes about his or her funeral without incurring any obligation. It takes away the burden of difficult decisions for those left behind.

b) A Will is not necessarily a good place to leave funeral instructions as so often a Will is not read until after a funeral.

PREPAID

a) Prepaid Funerals offer a person the opportunity to control his or her funeral costs.

b) All monies paid on Prepaid Funerals are kept in audited government controlled Trust Accounts. The principal and the accumulated interest are not available to the funeral director until the death of the person named on that account.

c) All monies paid on Prepaid Funerals as well as the interest accumulated over the time of the contract can be withdrawn by the person at any time upon written notice.

d) Anyone who has made a Prearrangement or Prepaid Funeral should inform a near relative, executor or close friend.

e) Anyone interested in prearranging or prepaying his or her funeral should compare costs at several funeral homes before committing his or her money to a Prepaid Funeral.

Vice & Craig Funeral Homes Inc. is always available to discuss Prearranged or Prepaid Funerals at any time, confidentially, at any one of our convenient locations, or at your home.

In Memoriams

PRICE — In memory of Hazel Price who passed away Dec. 2, 1976.
We do not know why we must part
From loved one and from friend;
We only know God's love lives on,
And will live to the end.
We cannot see with earthbound eyes,
The gilded courts above,
But by faith we know she's kept
Within His boundless love!
When days are long and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
We seem to hear you whisper,
"Cheer up and carry on."
When we see your portrait
You seem to smile and say,
"Don't cry, I'm only sleeping,
We'll meet again some day."
—Sadly missed by husband Graham and family 33

In Memoriams

LANNIN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Wilfred Lannin, who passed away Nov. 25, 1976.
A loving father true and kind,
No friend on earth like him we'll find.
For all of us he did his best.
And God gave him eternal rest.
In our hearts his memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, dear Father,
That we do not think of you.
To us you were someone special,
A father kind and true.
To be loved and always remembered,
By us who thought the world of you.
—Sadly missed by wife Ruby and family 33

SULLIVAN — In loving memory of Asa Sullivan who passed away Dec. 4, 1974.
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
—Always remembered by wife Susan and family, and sister Mabel 33

BERRY — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Easter Berry, who passed away Nov. 19, 1971 and a dear father and grandfather, John Berry, who passed away Oct. 12, 1974.
Time goes on with many changes,
Joys and sorrows, smiles and tears,
But both of your memories never leave us,
With the passing of the years.
—Sadly missed by James, Laura and family; Ronald, Pearl and Bruce 33

Play it again, Helen

Helen Verhoeven has found the beat to set your toes a tappin'

by Joe Rowan

The late Humphrey Bogart made 'Sam' an immortal hero in the great film classic Casablanca, when a certain tune tugged at his heart-strings and he uttered those immortal words "Play it again, Sam."

Few have any idea who 'Sam' might have been, or what degree of musical talent he possessed.

But in this area when someone requests, "Play it again, Helen" everyone knows the pretty lass at the keyboard is none other than Helen Verhoeven, and everyone is also well aware of the young girl's super abundance of talent.

Maybe you remember Helen as the tiny lady who once made those giant Conn organs on the Roy Fawcett float literally talk.

Maybe you better remember Helen as the little girl stretching her tiny legs in a desperate effort to reach the pedals as she set the beat for the always popular dance band familiarly known as 'Helen's Selection'.

Or maybe you enjoy the beautiful sacred music at Metcalfe United Church each Sunday where Helen's head is scarcely visible behind the music rack.

Then maybe you better know the talented musician as the kind and gentle girl always eager and willing to be of assistance when musical talent will prove helpful for benevolent fund raising projects.

The last time this writer watched the musical genius at work was during the recent International Plowing Match. The event was the mammoth awards night banquet staged at Ottawa's huge Coliseum where it was difficult to believe the wonderful music echoing and re-echoing through the towering rafters was being created by the dainty music master at the keyboard.

We have had the good fortune to hear her play at weddings, funerals, church services, gala dances, and, perhaps much more important, in the United Church basement at Metcalfe where her young proteges advance with remarkable speed under her skillful tutelage.

Some of us envision music teachers as elderly spinster-type matrons, stern disciplinarians, and completely emeshed in Beethoven and Bach.

Helen doesn't quite fit the picture.

She's young, she's pretty, she's kind, she's talented, and it seems all those sterling qualities are transmitted to her pupils.

The community is fortunate indeed to have Helen Verhoeven and her amazing musical talent. Many possessing such a precious gift might be seeking fame and fortune in the greedy field of show business. Helen, on the other hand, is eager to utilize that God-given gift to help others.

But talents of this nature do not evolve out of thin air. On the contrary they must be recognized and nourished in a loving home environment. Helen will be the first to direct attention to her dad and mom, offering sincere thanks for their patience, love, encouragement and continuing assistance.

Usually, when Helen is delighting large audiences with her startling renditions, a busy figure is working quietly in the background.

"Who," smiles Helen, "do you think transports the equipment, sets up the public address system and is always in the wings prepared to iron out any technical difficulties."

"And who," she asks, "do you think often takes time off work, without pay, to assure the success of my endeavors?"

"And who," she concludes, "do you think is always there, when the last straggler has left the auditorium, to disassemble the equipment, load it on the truck, and tired and happy head for home?"

LIKE 'LARRY' SHE CALLS MARVELVILLE HOME

Although born at Ottawa the demure musician has for the last 14 years called Marvelville her home. "I'll never be as famous as Larry," she modestly smiles, "but I'm proud of the fact he used to be our neighbor."

Music first appealed to Helen when she was only eight years old when, after pleading with her dad, he brought home an accordian.

"Perhaps," she says, "the accordian was a bit too heavy and I switched to piano, and later my favorite instrument, the organ."

Helen's love of music didn't in any way hamper her academic skills and teachers at both St. Catherine's School and Osgoode Township High School remember those glowing report cards.

The pretty musician is first to admit the tremendous value of education and, although she has little free time with a total of 65 pupils, she continues to study under the famed Dr. Godfrey Hewitt and hopes very soon to reach yet another musical plateau.

"A teacher's degree from the Royal Conservatory of Music," she says, "will be a cherished goal."

Helen's classroom is located in the United Church Hall at Metcalfe where she has a total of 65 pupils: nine adults, 38 girls and 18 boys.

She works every day, Monday to Saturday, and many of her younger pupils combine their lessons with regular classes at the adjacent schools.

"I've almost reached capacity," she admits, "but I might squeeze in a few more on request."

PARENTAL SUPPORT

Helen's father is a service manager with the Surge firm while her mother is a part-time Avon saleslady. She has three younger sisters.

"Fortunately," she quibbs, "I have no brothers to bother me."

But this doesn't necessarily mean she doesn't like boys. There's one very special 'boy' in her future plans.

"And," she happily smiles, "we're being married next summer."

Fortunately a change of name will not change her present career pattern.

"We hope," she smiles enthusiastically, "to make our home right here in the community where I can continue my work with talented people of all ages eager to achieve their musical ambitions."

And that, all will agree, is mighty good news.

Let there be music

"Mistakes are part of learning," Helen points out while assuring protege Susan Lafrance that she is progressing favorably. Metcalfe United Church Hall is the classroom where some 65 pupils learn the basics, and soon find music a delightful form of recreation. "Tensions fade and happiness prevails where there is music," smiles the pretty instructor.

Eastern Counties target at $45,000

CORNWALL — The Eastern Counties Lung Association is hoping to raise $45,000 this year from its annual Christmas Seals campaign.

Homes in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry have already received Christmas Seals, the association's main source of fund raising, and $20,000 has been collected.

This year's campaign marks the 83rd anniversary of the Lung Association. Christmas Seals have helped to fund medical research for over 50 years.

Although Tuberculosis, the "white plague" that prompted the formation of the association, is now almost eliminated, other deadly respiratory diseases continue to exist. More than four million Canadians currently have lung diseases and long-term lung disease ranks in the top four causes of all deaths.

The Eastern Counties Lung Association is asking residents to answer the Christmas Seal letters and "help others breathe easier."

Home of the Handyman

Home Handyman Hint #122

How to make a Javex-type solution.

Dissolve 1/2 lb. of washing soda in a quart of cold water, then add 1/4 lb. of chloride of lime with the lumps crushed. Let the mixture stand until the sediment settles. Draw off the clear liquid, straining it through a fine cloth (not cheesecloth). Put the clear liquid in opaque plastic or brown glass bottles, and keep it tightly stoppered.

Home Handyman Hint # 123

Correcting a leaky refrigerator door.

If your refrigerator frosts up more than it should, one problem is that the seal around the door is not making a total closure. It will then allow warm air to leak inside. Even though the rubber appears in good condition, the closure may not be perfect.

To test for this, hold a dollar bill half in and half out of the door, close the door on it. If the bill can be withdrawn with little effort, the closure at this point isn't tight enough. Work the bill around the entire door. If there are many weak spots, the entire seal should be replaced. If only two or three, cover each weak spot with strips of several thicknesses of black plastic tape. Do this until the dollar bill resists being withdrawn while the door is closed.

Home Handyman Hint #124

Cleaning Paint or Varnish Brushes.
The price of good paint brushes demands that they be properly cleaned rather than carelessly left aside. To clean brushes, work the the solvent into the bristles with your fingers. Then queeze out as much paint and solvent as possible. Repeat until paint disappears. Give them a final rinse in a clear solvent; then wash in soapy water, rinse and let dry. To preserve their shape, brushes should be carefully wrapped in heavy paper.

Home Handyman Hint #125

Hairline cracks in plaster.
When painted over usually reappear. To prevent this, brush over cracks with a mixture of 3 parts of boiled linseed oil and 1 part of turpentine.

Home Handyman Hint #126

Weathered Cedar Siding may not be the final answer. Although the natural weathering of cedar siding has been popular, sooner or later large cracks (even up to 1/2'' wide) will develop, knots will begin to rot and the boards will begin to twist which certainly spoils the natural gray appearance. You can't replace boards as the new ones will stand out.

You prevent all this happening — Home Hardware's Super Beauti-Tone Weather Shield, a water repellent wood stain is the best treatment.
