Volley for Cancer this Saturday

WILLIAMSBURG – The major event in support of the Canadian Cancer Society in Eastern Ontario, Volley For Cancer, is all set to go.

While a crew from Ontario Works, as well as local volunteers, set up the area for the August 17 event, organizers are fine tuning the activities that will take place and which will be responsible for raising in excess of $40,000 for the Cancer Society, thus surpassing last year's achievement of $35,500.

The silent auction which is run by Robin Lane will be available for public bids from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Items to be auctioned include a weekend at the McIntosh Inn, a golf travel bag donated by Watson's Store, Adidas sunglasses given by Laurier Optics in Kemptville, a night at McCooeye's Bed and Breakfast, an autographed Montreal Canadiens jersey, three homemade afghans, an autographed copy of "Killer", the Brian Kilrea story, a night at Best Western in Cornwall, two Renegade golf shirts, a replica John Deere tractor, a hand knit sweater by Alice MacEwen, a pull cooler with contents, a limited edition cap from the Ottawa 67s, a sweater, two green fees plus cart at the Upper Canada Golf Course courtesy of Pinkus Tire and a Senators cap autographed by Wade Redden and a Senators jersey.

The food concessions are placing their food orders at their favourite outlets in anticipation of larger than usual crowds. The Williamsburg IOOF will be serving breakfast to those arriving early for the 8 a.m. volleyball start and will have hot dogs and hamburgers all day.

Morrisburg Legion Branch 48 will be serving beef on a bun and sweet corn donated by Dentz Farms. From 6 p.m. to the close at midnight, Little Rikki's will have pizza for sale. A beer tent will all of your favourite beverages will also be available.

From noon until 2 p.m., Magician Kevin Henderson will be on the site to entertain the crowds with his feats of magic.

The pyramid quilt conceived by the late Cora Primrose and quilted by the Park Lane Support Centre quilters will be on display. Tickets for the quilt draw go on sale beginning September 1.

In addition to the silent auction, there will be three draws available. One is the beautiful hand painted Adirondack chair by June Fetterly which has been on display at Thoughts of Country in Morrisburg. A second draw will be for two tickets for the Senators, Rebels and Renegades provided by Molsons at $3 each or two for $5. The third is a 50/50 draw with tickets at $2 each or six for $10.

The ominous dunk tank continues to draw some pretty prominent people to support Volley For Cancer. Unfortunately, Bob Kilger won't be one of them. The tank will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will host such

Steps to good water

South Dundas on the diving board

MORRISBURG – Councillor Cam Martel says South Dundas is poised on the diving board and following a meeting this week should know the steps to be taken in order to take the big plunge.

The project will result in the water in the villages of Morrisburg and Iroquois being brought up to the provincial standard required by the end of 2003. These standards are considerably higher than the current water plants, built at the time of the Seaway construction in the two villages, are able to provide.

Last week South Dundas received funding of just under $7.5 million from the Provincial and Federal governments representing two-thirds of the eligible Water Project costs.

According to figures released by Rick Eamon of the Thompson Rosemount group at a public meeting in Iroquois in June of 2001, the cost for the preferred one water plant option was $12,450,000 which included $3,260,000 for the pipeline to carry water to Iroquois $5,570,000 for expansion and upgrades to the existing water plant in Morrisburg and a $380,000 capital outlay for residential water meters.

Rough figures were also released at the time to demonstrate what the average residential water bill would be. They were based on the assumption the massive project would be covered by only 35 percent upper-tier government funding based on the fact that only 35 percent of the study costs were funded.

Under those assumptions the average household monthly water bill was just under $38 broken down into $24.22 (per month for the next 20 years) to pay for the capital cost, $7.83 for operation costs and $5.50 to go to a reserve water fund.

At the meeting Eamon also indicated that more than 35 percent funding of the $12 million plus would reflect in costs to the consumer.

However, the two government bodies deemed only $11.2 million of the original $12 (plus) million eligible.

One of the items not eligible for funding was the $380,000 capital outlay for the household water meters.

"We put through what we thought would be eligible, and this went through a double review by the provincial and federal government," says Martel.

"There are obviously details to be looked at in the funding criteria," says Martel. "We'll know more after the meeting this week."

Martel says there will be another public presentation to explain what has happened, what is going to happen and the reasons.

As for a time line to get the actual physical part of the project started he indicates there will be little delay.

"If you look at the completion time line (December 30, 2003) it's obvious we can't afford to dally on it."

"They (Thompson Rosemount) pretty well have everything in place, and we just have to revisit the plans before we go forward."

One of the issues to be revisited will be the residential water meter option.

South Stormont grant

Township gets big water bucks

LONG SAULT – "Thank you, thank you, thank you," was the grateful response given by Jim Bancroft, Mayor of the Township of South Stormont, Tuesday morning when the township received a grant of just under $8 million to upgrade its water system.

"This investment will enhance the ability of our municipality to monitor local water systems and to continue to provide the residents of South Stormont with safe, clean drinking water," said Bancroft.

"I would like to thank all those who helped to make this application a success because without our federal and provincial partners this project could not move forward."

Through the investment under the Canada-Ontario Infrastructure Program, residents of the Township of South Stormont will benefit from cleaner, safer drinking water.

Andy Mitchell, Secretary of State (Rural Development) (FedNor), Brian Coburn, Ontario Associate Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, responsible for Rural Affairs, and Bancroft, made the announcement at the Water Treatment Plant on Moulinette Island.

"We need to work together as governments to meet the needs of our citizens," said Mitchell.

The Government of Canada through Industry Canada and the Government of Ontario through SuperBuild will each contribute $3,954,304 to the project.

"The Government of Canada recognizes that safe drinking water and reliable water treatment facilities are vital infrastructure elements that make a real difference in the quality of life and the peace of mind of our citizens," said Mitchell.

"The construction of a new water treatment plant in South Stormont will enhance the quality of life for this community by providing safer, cleaner drinking water to 1,877 local households."

The Township of South Stormont will construct a new area-wide membrane filtration water treatment plant on Moulinette Island to replace the Ingleside and Long Sault Water Treatment Plants.

The Township will also construct a trunk water main, an elevated storage tank and a booster station.

The project includes

Lutheran church honours mayor

WILLIAMSBURG – Sent to Ottawa last month to discuss matters of policy and administration, representatives of the governing body of the Lutheran church in eastern Canada found time during their meeting to honour several members of their congregation.

Johnny Whitteker, mayor of South Dundas and veteran member of municipal council, was one of four members of the Lutheran community to receive the Eastern Synod Leadership Award for outstanding service to the community at large.

"I think (the judges) were amazed at the fact that Mayor Whitteker has served the community in his capacity as mayor for such a lengthy period," said Reverend Mark Ehlebracht, of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church in Williamsburg.

Winners of the leadership award represent the entire eastern district of the Lutheran church, which runs from Sault Ste. Marie to Nova Scotia, and as such were chosen with thought and care by the synodical adjudicators.

"Mayor Whitteker's commitment to the community has been really tangible in his service as mayor," said Ehlebracht. "We're delighted that Johnny was recognized."

Whitteker has been a member of the congregation at St. Peter's since his baptismal into the faith as a child and served on church council for several years.

On July 13, at the Crowne Plaza hotel in Ottawa, Whitteker, one of two lay parishioners to receive the honour, was acknowledged for his selflessness and generosity.

Along with a trophy designed by Canadian sculptor Shirley Elford, Whitteker received a cheque for $500, which he donated to the Waterloo Lutheran Seminary to assist novitiate pastors in their studies.

"It has been quite an honour to be chosen by such an elite group of people," said Whitteker. "I really don't know who sent my name in."

Anyone wishing to nominate a member of the Lutheran church, whether or not he himself was a member, was free to submit a name to the adjudicators, so neither Whitteker nor his minister know who suggested the mayor.

"We don't know who it was," says Ehlebracht. "We can only guess."

Road changes a go in S.D.

WILLIAMSBURG – In two weeks, South Dundas council hopes to be in a position to change the names of the five township roads it is required to as part of a counties-wide plan to eliminate confusion caused by like road names.

"South Stormont hasn't agreed to the Beckstead Road as yet, but we'll just go ahead without them," said South Dundas mayor Johnny Whitteker.

Although it was assumed every township in the United Counties had given tacit approval to the policy of renaming the road that supported fewer dwellings, agreement to that approach was unspoken and, thus, not binding.

"It was just a word-of-mouth plan between the municipalities," said Whitteker. "It was the fairest way to go."

The township will place advertisements in the newspapers requesting suggestions from the public as to what the Dillabough, Hart, Louck's, MacMillan, and Pemberton roads should be called.

South Dundas' dispute with its neighbouring township in regards to Beckstead Road will remain unresolved for the time being.

There are, however, a couple of local road name changes that have already been decided upon.

High Street, in Morrisburg, peculiar in its layout as it splits into two separate streets at its midpoint, surrounding the Anglican Church, will be made more straightforward.

The portion of the street that runs west of the church will be renamed Greystone Lane, a name decided upon by the road's three residents and agreed to by council.

Council also heard a proposal to rename Morrisburg's Campbell Street, which runs along the west side of Country Style, to Pilot Street, reflecting the presence of the offices of the Pilot Insurance Company, which, when completed later this year, will be the only building with an address on that road.

improvements to Newington Well Supply chlorination equipment and St. Andrews-Rosedale Terrace Water Supply process control equipment.

"Safe drinking water is a top priority for the government of Ontario and the people it serves," said Coburn.

"The funding announced today will ensure that this municipality can take the necessary steps needed to comply with the Drinking Water Protection Regulation and provide your community with clean, healthy water."

This is one of a series of matching federal and provincial investments to help municipalities protect the health and safety of their residents through essential infrastructure projects totaling more than $776 million to date in Ontario.

"We have a lot to offer Ontario in terms of future growth," said Bancroft, adding "This helps us take another small baby step forward."

"I don't know if water meters are still a requirement of the provincial government," he adds pointing out the province encourages water meters everywhere for conservation reasons.

Currently, industrial and commercial water users in the two villages are metered.

The immediate steps to the project are the completion of phases three and four of the Environmental Study Report. There is a a 30 day review period following this, for the various government agencies involved.

The final step will be the tender call for construction.

Norm Foster starring with wife Janet Monid

Last "Flight" of the season at UCP

MORRISBURG – It began as a Summer of Laughs, and it's become a Summer of Crowds who have thoroughly enjoyed a Summer of Laughs at the Upper Canada Playhouse.

And to finish off this wildly successful season the Playhouse has saved a real treat for the closing show.

Here On the Flight Path, another Norm Foster hit comedy, opens tomorrow (Thursday, August 15) and to make it a memorable event for local live theatre buffs, Foster with his wife, Janet Monid are on the stage.

"Norm and Janet have been asked to do the show at many theatres, but they're so busy they can't go everywhere", says Bowes. "I'm so glad they want to come to The Playhouse."

"Our audience has cut their teeth on Norm Foster and his characters," he adds. "It's fitting our audience has a chance to share a laugh with the man who has given them so many in the past."

Bowes estimates that over the years at least 10 Norm Foster plays have provided laughs at the local theatre. Earlier this season Foster's hit comedy, Maggie's Getting Married, played to sold out houses for the entire run.

In fact Maggie's Getting Married is being brought back for a return engagement from October 25 through November 3.

"I have written 28 plays," Foster told reporters at a news conference Monday. "Some have more serious undertones than others, but this play is definitely a comedy."

In Here On the Flight Path, Foster plays the part of John Cummings a divorced newspaper columnist who lives in an apartment building. The play covers a period of 3.5 years, and the relationships he develops with the three female neighbours next door.

Enter Janet who plays each of the three neighbours–a hooker who claims to be destined to be a lawyer, Angel a wannabe singer and Gwen recently separated from her husband.

"It's about ordinary folks the audience can identify with," says Foster. The character I play is a back porch philosopher. He writes a column for a newspaper and is very opinionated. He's an ordinary guy."

"The apartment building is on the fight path of an airport. At the end of each act this is how they (the women) arrive and leave. It's his (John's) life that is on the flight path as they come and go."

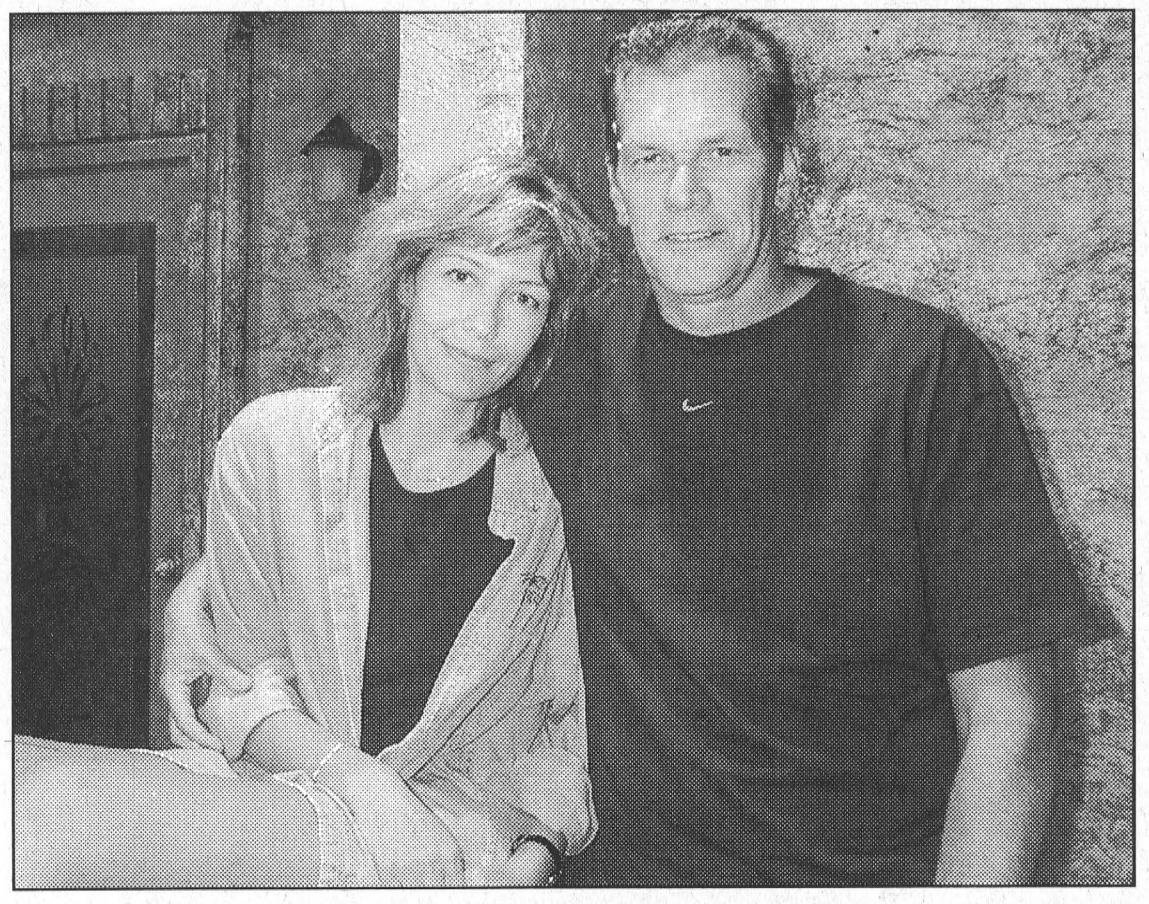
Foster wrote Here On the Flight Path when he and Janet were living in Fredericton, New Brunswick. "We were looking for a show to do, and I decided to write one for us."

It was performed in Fredericton and picked up by a big theatre in Quebec. It has been performed in Bermuda, the U.S. and in various summer theatres across Ontario.

There are three acts of about 35 minutes each.

"It tells a great story," says Bowes. "When the last scene is over you are left sitting wishing there was another one."

Foster discovered live theatre in 1980 when he went with a friend to an audition and landed the lead part in an amateur production.



'Here On the Flight Path' Opens Thursday

The Upper Canada Playhouse has saved a real treat for the 2002 Summer Season closing show. Canada's most-produced and funniest playwright, Norm Foster, stars with his wife Janet Monid in his smash hit comedy, Here On the Flight Path. Playhouse director Donnie Bowes says Here On the Flight Path has a great story. "It's hilarious and the performances are fantastic." Here On the Flight Path plays August 15 through September 1 with shows Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m. and matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sundays at 2 p.m. Advance sales are huge as UCP theatre-goers are booking for the chance to see Norm Foster costar in his own smash-hit with his wife Janet. For tickets call the Upper Canada Playhouse Box Office at 543-3713.

He wrote his first play, Sinners in 1982 followed by the Melville Boys which became his signature play and helped to make his name in Canadian Theatre.

Foster says when he writes a play (which takes about four months) he doesn't set out with a message. "I just try to tell a story–to move an audience some way with a laugh or by touching the heart."

He claims his ideas come from anywhere. The Foursome developed from the suggestion of a friend while they were golfing.

"I write from instinct. Good instinct tells you comedy springs from real situations. I just write to tell a good story and the comedy just comes out of that."

Recently, Norm and Janet and their two children moved from the east coast to the Hamilton area which has provided him with more opportunities to see his plays performed. His only previous visit to the Upper Canada Playhouse was years ago when he came to see Wrong For Each Other.

This is Janet's first performance at the Playhouse.

Asked if he enjoyed watching his plays performed, he quipped, "It's a lot better than being up on stage. It's fun and exciting to sit with the audience."

Norm is from Toronto and Janet is a Brantford girl. They have been married 15 years.

"We like to do a show where the kids can come along and have a good time too," said Norm. "I enjoy the travel. I think it is great for the whole family. The kids have seen places they would not have seen and we have seen places we would not have seen."

Janet has just finished a play at the Lighthouse Festival Theatre in Port Dover. She says she likes working on stage with Norm and she likes performing his plays.

"I eventually forget he's written it," she says, noting, "It's easier to learn just because it's written by Norm. It is the way people would speak and it flows quite easily. The thought process is sensible."

Foster credits his success to being "in the right place, at the right time and near the right people. This grew out of a hobby. It took over my life."

He studied Radio and Television Arts and had a radio career of 25 years which landed him in Fredericton.

60th anniversary of Dieppe Raid

August 19, 1942 marks the 60th anniversary of the Allied Dieppe Raid, code named Jubilee, which saw many Canadians lose their lives in an effort to briefly invade the enemy-occupied port of Dieppe, France to destroy predetermined targets.

The Allies were defeated on almost every front and many sacrifices were made. The Dieppe Raid played a major role in the success of D-Day and Canada's overall Second World War efforts. In total, 913 Canadians died and 1,946 others were captured and taken prisoner for the remainder of the Second World War.

Veteran Affairs Canada will mark this significant day in Canadian history with events in Canada and France. A ceremony of Remembrance will be held at the National War Memorial in Ottawa on August 16, at 2 p.m.

The early morning attack on Dieppe involved 6,100 troops of whom roughly 5,000 were Canadians. The plan called for attacks at five different points on a front of roughly 16 kilometres. By early afternoon, Operation Jubilee was over. Conflicting assessments of the value of the raid continue to be presented. Some claim it was a useless slaughter, while others maintain it was necessary to the successful invasion of the continent two years later on D-Day. Out of the raid came improvements in techniques, fire support and tactics which reduced D-Day casualties. The men who perished at Dieppe were instrumental in saving countless lives on June 6, 1944.

Of the 4,963 Canadians who embarked for the Dieppe operation only 2,210 returned to England. There were 3,367 casualties in total, 1,946 were taken prisoner of war and 913 Canadians lost their lives..

It seems hardly possible but we are almost halfway through the month of August and we all know what that means. In just a couple of weeks the school bells will be ringing, and we'll be looking at the end of another summer.

But, before we get there, we have some big events still on the South Dundas calendar, events the community doesn't want to miss.

Coming up this Saturday, August 17 is the annual Volley For Cancer at the Carl and Ruby Van Allen farm on Lightning Street off Highway 31 just south of Williamsburg. Remember you don't have to play Volleyball to stop in at the Van Allen farm on Saturday, to have a great time and support a great cause–the fight against cancer. There are plenty of activities and musical entertainment throughout the day.

Youngsters in South Dundas and South Stormont are reminded their "special kids day" takes place this Saturday at the Morrisburg Waterfront Park. Organizers have lined up an impressive list of activities which include entertainment, crafts and interactive displays. A highlight is Junk Jam, a radical rhythmic ride of music which promises to dazzle everyone with its interactive show. Admission is $4 per person.

Last week's question: In July 1971 a number of interested citizens met in the former library at the Morrisburg Civic Centre to form an organization that is still going strong today. What organization is it that would have just recently celebrated its 30th anniversary? The Senior Citizen's Club.

A public meeting was to be held in Morrisburg to discuss the concerns of village taxpayers. Some of the problems sited by residents were boating facilities, policing the parks and docks, vandalism, and the promotion of the park areas and ball diamonds.

Morrisburg's Senior Little League team won the South Dundas Little League Championship with an 8-7 upset win over the heavily favored Winchester entry. Coached by Jim Scott the team included, Jon Domanko, Jason Rice, Mike Adlington, Mike Wheeler, Tim Cook, Jamie Scott, Robbie Raistrick, Paul O'Brien, Brandon Boivin and Warren Moore.

The mixed two-ball championship was held at the Morrisburg Golf Club and the winners were Dot and Bill MacDonald with a 65.5 net. Barb and Brian Dyck shot an 80 for the low gross of the day.

Pegeon Island shut out Williamsburg in the first game of the final series of the South Dundas Industrial Fastball League. Wes Baker was the winning pitcher.

Pictured on the front page of the August 11 issue was Rachel Thurler of RR1 South Mountain. Competing against four other local girls, Rachel was named this year's Dundas Dairy Princess.

About 100 people attended the reunion in Iroquois which was part of the village's 125th anniversary celebrations. This also coincided with the 25th anniversary of the moving of the village during construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Froats of Iroquois announced the marriage of their daughter Kathy to David Myers son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Myers of Morrisburg to take place on August 28.

Pictured in the issue were Mrs. and Mrs. Phillip Dillabough who were married on May 22. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad McIntosh of Williamsburg, the bride was attended by her sister Wendy McIntosh. Best man was Gordon Vaughan.

It was 21 up and 21 down, the perfect game, for Williamsburg Pioneer hurler Danny Hogaboam when the Pioneers blanked Hull 2-0.

Fred Harper won the Cedar Glen Championship in a playoff against defending champ Gary MacMillan.

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau had received an invitation to attend the gala party planned to celebrate the 150th anniversary of Williamsburg Township. There were to be fastball games, a street dance, a giant parade, barbecues and a golf tournament on the new course east of the village.

William Marshall was appointed chairman of the Morrisburg Trade and Home Show schedule for September 28-30.

The August 17 issue reported that at a regular meeting of Morrisburg Council clerk Lloyd Barkley was authorized to take steps in preparation for water and sewer service to be carried to the Separate School which was expected to be opened in September of next year.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Van der Zweep of Morrisburg returned home from a two month vacation at their former home town of Irnsun, Holland.

The Morrisburg Dunbrik Jets defeated the Winchester Flyers 9-7. The winning battery was Helen Beaupre with Heather Smith catching. Dale Casselman was the top batter for The Flyers and Barbara Strader and Tina Van der Zweep led The Jets.

In anticipation of his second birthday, August 14, Robert Casselman of Morrisburg North enjoyed his first haircut. Robert Cook, Morrisburg barber, cut Robert's hair, as well as that of his father Richard Casselmn, his grandfather Ross Casselman and his great-grandfather Mr. R.M. Jones of Monterey California.

The issue reported that Morrisburg had become front page news for Canadians and Americans. In a feature spread on page one of the Ottawa Citizen there was a dramatic and somewhat exaggerated story of the local meeting called by the Seaway Committee under the chairmanship of Fred H. Broder. The Seaway Committee was composed of F.H. Broder, S.G. Finnie, R.H. Armstrong, George E. Beavers and C.M. Crober. They were preparing a final draft to meet an August deadline with the objective to see that safeguards and protection were afforded to the taxpayers' interest in the Seaway development which might affect the individual citizens of the community.

A new softball league to be called the St. Lawrence Ladies Softball League was formed and would include teams from Prescott, Morrisburg, Spencerville, Cardinal and Iroquois. A trophy was donated by Harry Ing of the Playdium Restaurant.

The issue reported that Corporal Ronald H. E. Cameron, son of Mr. Ed Cameron and the late Mrs. Cameron celebrated his 21st birthday in England on July 28. Cpl. Cameron had been overseas a little over year.

Rev. Wm. Lister who had for five years been in charge of the Matilda South Circuit United Church, with appointments at Dundela, Rowena and Haddo, had left for pastoral duties near Montreal.

Under an order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, manufacturers of cosmetics were limited to fewer varieties for each line of products. Shades of nail polish for instance were reduced from as many as 23 per manufacturer to six. Perfumes, colognes and toilet waters were now limited to four odors per manufacturer.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced the rationing of Tea and Coffee effective immediately. The ration was one ounce of tea or four ounces of coffee per person, per week. Coupons A, B, C, D, and C, on the Temporary War Ration Card were to be used. Numbered coupons were good only for the purchase of sugar. Children under 12 years were not eligible to receive a ration of tea or coffee. The effort was to make the supply of tea and coffee last as long as possible due to the unreliable shipping.

Father and son bring diabetes tour to Morrisburg

MORRISBURG – With every mile pedaled on their cross-country cycling tour, Mark and Adam Winegarden leave behind them not only the languor of a sedentary lifestyle but many communities more informed as to the hazards of inactivity and the menace of diabetes.

At the request of the Morrisburg and District Lions Club, the Winegardens added a stop to the Diabetes DMC Tour 2002 and, last Sunday night, rode into Morrisburg as convinced of the importance of their message as they were possessed of the stamina and resolve that has seen them traverse the nation to give it voice.

"I did little to alter my lifestyle until the disease started to affect my health; only then was I motivated to tackle my diabetes head on," said Mark, who discovered four years ago that he was diabetic and has since sought to dissuade others from the choices he once made and save them the consequences of making similar mistakes.

The gravity of diabetes as a threat to life has long been undisclosed to a public made well aware of the lethality of conditions such as cancer and the ravages of diseases such as Alzheimer's but not moved to fear by the seemingly benign consequences of diabetes.

"I want the community to realize the seriousness of this disease," said Mark.

Upon learning of his affliction, and overcoming the shock of the pronouncement, Mark set about excising from his life the habits and practices that had wrought upon it such deleterious effect and was conscientious in observing a reasonable regimen of diet and exercise.

It may be that such early fidelity is impelled not by one's commitment to change but by the impact of the diagnosis, because as time drags on, momentum turns into inertia.

Many whose welfare depends on the diligence with which they abide by the prescriptions of healthy living falter in the early going, reverting back to ways of old; so it was with Mark.

"You start to yo-yo, because you feel so good after six months," said Mark, whose vitality, once restored, soon seeped from him again under the renewed burden of a diet high in refined sugar and a daily schedule absent of physical activity.

"During a setback in my health, I realized it was time to make a change in my lifestyle permanently."

It occurred to Mark that if he, a veteran paramedic, who knew full well of the perils of diabetes and the need for its careful management, could be so easily fooled by both its onset and progression, others must surely be deceived.

Once firmly ensconced in his new way of life, Mark concluded that an overture must be made towards the education of those at risk from diabetes and that such an effort must be sufficiently dramatic that it serves to awaken people to the need for dollars–which fund ever more promising research into a cure–and awareness–so that diabetics can effectively manage their condition until a cure is found.

The DMC tour, so named because diagnosis, management, and cure is the mantra of its participants, began on May 1 in Victoria, British Columbia, and in a symbolic nod to one half of Canada's famed diabetes researchers Banting and Best, will finish up in Musgrave Harbour, Newfoundland, where Sir Frederick Banting perished in a plane crash more than 60 years ago.

"Walking would take me too long, and running would be too hard on these 40-year-old legs," says Mark, explaining why he and his son chose cycling as their means of travel.

Well past the midway point of their marathon journey, Mark and Adam have raised nearly $100,000, and with many roads yet to run, the pair has ample opportunity to increase that total and provide further sustenance to those Canadian institutions that are on the cusp of miracles.

"We're this close to calling it a cure," said Mark, of a remarkable advance made by scientists at the University of Alberta that has the research community on tenterhooks, waiting to see if the Edmonton protocol will indeed offer diabetics a life free of syringes and test strips.

"I'd love to see that in my lifetime, and I know it's just around the corner."

Not to be outdone, the Robarts Institute at the University of Western Ontario in London, has provided further confirmation of this nation's place at the leading edge of biomedical research with similarly promising experiments in gene therapy.

Although human lives can not be valued in pecuniary terms, the cost of saving them is easily measured in dollars and cents, and just as a lack of research would exact its toll in lives lost and lives diminished, cutting-edge science also comes at a cost–one which must be paid if a cure is to be found.

To that end, the goal of the Winegarden Foundation, which Mark established in 1998 and which will continue its work long after its founder departs Musgrave Harbour, is to raise $32 million–one dollar from every Canadian–in support of efforts in diabetes research and education.

"My work for diabetes will not be finished until I've reached that number," says Mark, who maintains a website through which donations can be made at www.diabetesdmc.com.

Express upsets Attack for playoff championship

MORRISBURG – There were a couple strange happenings in the final night of playoff action in Men's Roller Hockey league play here last Thursday.

The regular season first place Black Attack, who had lost just two games going into the playoff action, were the victims of a major upset by the Orange Express, who claimed the A playoff championship in a sudden death 10-9 win.

And just as strange was a strong 17-10 White Outs win over the Blue Lights in the B consolation final. It was the first White Outs win of the entire season, making the taste of victory very sweet.

The August 1 results in The Leader were incorrectly reported as league games and in fact were semi-final playoff games which set the stage for last week's finals.

In the semi-final action on August 1 the favored Black Attack downed the White Outs 15-6 to earn their berth in the championship final while the Orange Express advanced with a 9 - 6 win over the Blue Lites.

The Orange Express may have come out the winner of the championship final, but it wasn't easy as the Black Attack remained determined to hang on to their all-season number one spot.

It was a seesaw battle from start to finish, with the Orange Express taking the edge after one period by a 3-2 count. After two it was all tied at 5-5.

Andrew Carkner put the Black Attack up by one less than a minute into the third, but then the Express took over with goals from Dave Summers and Brian Shaver to edge ahead 7-6.

Back to back tallies from Cory Warner had the Express in the driver's seat briefly with a 9-6 lead.

Russ Brown started the Attack on the comeback trail with back-to-back counters that brought them to within one goal of the tie with 3:52 remaining on the clock.

Just under the two minute mark Steve Mattice set up Rob Casselman for the tying goal that forced the overtime.

Summers, with the unassisted overtime tally, completed a three goal performance and gave the Express the 10-9 championship win.

Corey Warner had a big night for the Express with four goals and one assist, while Summers hit three times and helped out on another three. Brian Shaver scored twice and had three assists, and Bill Henderson scored once.

Rob Casselman led the Black Attack with three goals and two assists, and Russ Brown and Mike Dawson had two goals each. Singles came from the sticks of Randy McLeod and Andrew Carkner.

Randy Markell was in net for the Express team and Barry McShane saw action for Black Attack. Others in the Express lineup included Jamie McIntosh, Kent Pilon, Dan Pidgeon and Mike Hooles.

The B consolation final provided the final opportunity for the White Outs to register a win, and they set out immediately to do just that.

After one period they were ahead 7-3. However, the Blue Lights came out strong in the second holding them to just two tallies while they hit five times to tighten it to 9-8.

But in the third the White Outs went on a scoring frenzy (not seen in the regular season) which netted eight third period goals to the Blue Lights two for a crunching 17-10 win.

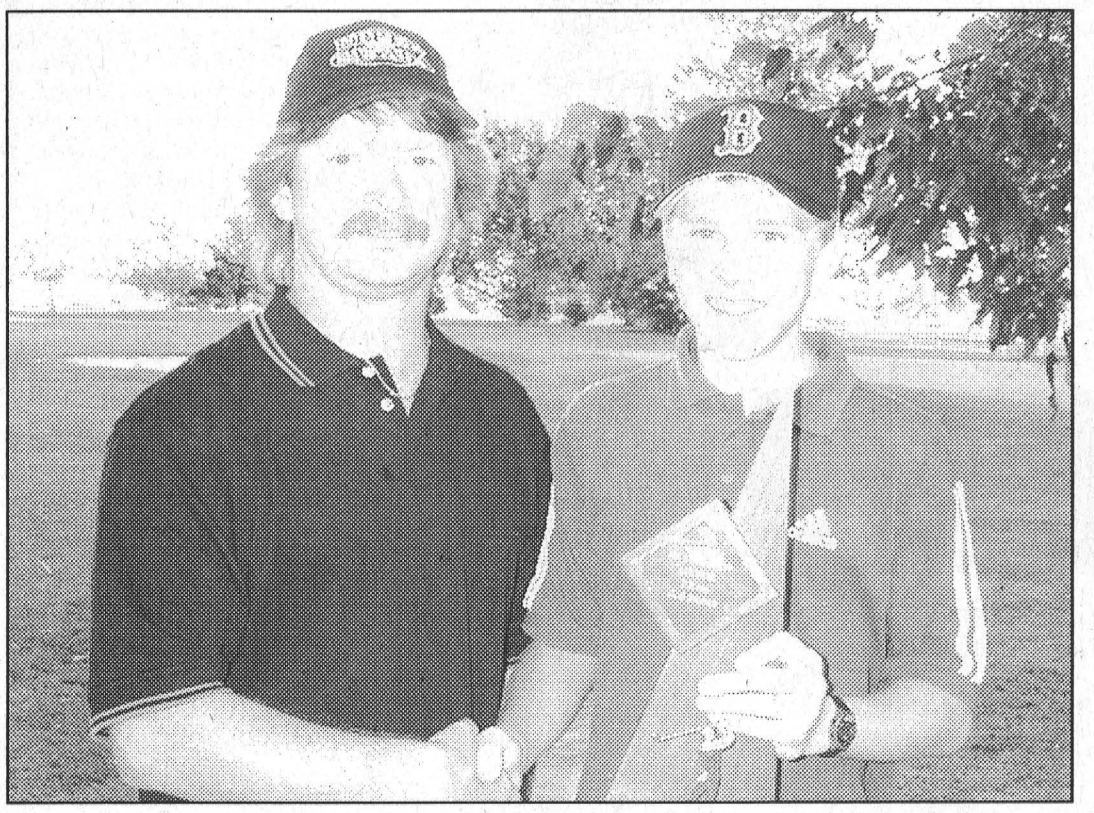
Rick Hess led the powerful White Out attack with six goals and another five assists, while Colin MacLennan and Steven Beehler were both right behind him with four goals and five assists. Markus Tanner provided two goals and Kevin Wells scored a single.

Jason Denio had a strong night for the Blue Lights with three goals and five assists and Devon Cinnamon had three goals.

Justin Heuff struck twice and helped on two tallies, and Robbie Darling scored a pair.

Colin Baker-Stephens was in net for the White Outs and Cory Villeneuve handled the Blue Lights action.

Other members of the White Outs team included Tony Francis, Andy Thompson and Gene McInnis.



Junior Golf Champ

Adam Keller (right) fired a 77 at the Morrisburg Golf Club last Tuesday night to match the leading round 77 shot by Chris Cullen two weeks ago. The Junior Club Championship format allowed each golfer to count his best score of the two rounds,which put Keller and Cullen in a semi-death playoff situation. Keller took the win in the first playoff hole. The Morrisburg Junior Program is run by Allen McNairn who is presenting the trophy, and Lance Lepage. Ironically McNairn is pictured in the August 11, 1982 issue of The Leader when he too was the winner of the Morrisburg Golf Club's Junior Championship.

Keller wins Junior Club Championship

MORRISBURG – The battle for this year's junior club championship at the Morrisburg golf club between Adam Keller and Chris Cullen provided plenty of excitement last Tuesday night, as the two took it to the wire in a sudden death playoff.

The championship format allowed all competitors to use their best-of-two 18 hole rounds, and after round one it was Cullen in the lead with a 77. Keller trailed with an 80.

All that changed when Cullen failed to improve on his 77 in round two, and Keller came home with a matching 77. That forced the exciting playoff which saw Keller claim the championship on the first playoff hole.

The playoff result also put Keller in the top spot in the 14 plus age bracket for Morrisburg's junior valley league team and Cullen in second spot. The third position went to Nick Whelan with a 79.

The team players in the 10-13 year category are led by Chris Tindal who counted an 87 in his first round. David Toonders and Jay Keller take second and third spots respectively, both with 96's.

Scott Summers used a 97 to claimed the spare position and Amanda Annable shot a 100 for the team's female position.

Competition was close in the rounds with several players just missing a spot. Other strong scores came from Travis Dillabough 81, Kent Nugent 82, Colin MacLennan 82 and Jeremy Stewart and Scott Hodgson with 84's.

The Morrisburg course will be the playing field for this year's Junior Valley scheduled for Wednesday, August 21. It includes teams from Iroquois, Cedar Glen and Summer Heights.

New winner at Ladies Open

MORRISBURG – Monique Patenaude of Nationview posted an 82 here Saturday, to win the annual Morrisburg Ladies Golf Open by a slim two strokes over her closest opponent.

Patenaude and Joan Billard, of the Mississippi Golf Club, were tied at 42 strokes after the front nine, but Patenaude came up strong on the back for the win. Billard had a solid back going until she took an eight on the par-5 15th. She finished with a 42 for a round of 84 for the day.

With Patenaude claiming the overall win for the day, Billard made the trip to a fabulous prize table as the low shooter in A flight.

Also in A flight Joan Thomas of Madawaska shot a 91 for the low net in A flight with a 73.

Morrisburg's Carolyn Weegar made it two in a row when she claimed the low gross win in B flight. With identical scores of 91 she won the top stop both this year and last.

Also having a good day from Morrisburg was Linda Barclay who was right on Weegar's heels with a 93. The 93 gave Barclay a 68 net for the B flight low net prize.

Muriel Cowling of Mississippi finished one stroke back of the winner with a 92.

Other Morrisburg golfers finishing at the top of the B flight pack were Brenda Stitt with a 95, Judy Laurin with a 96 and Sherry Boulerice with a 99.

Cathy Riviere of Summer Heights posted a 96 to win C low gross by two strokes over Upper Canada's Kelly Zeran at 98.

Morrisburg's Alice McNairn scored a 102 which gave her the flight's low net with a 65.

In D flight Darlene Marcellus of Morrisburg scored a comfortable eight stroke win over her closest competitor. Marcellus posted a 104 for the low gross, while Viola Beckstead of Prescott was next up with a 112 which gave her the flight's low net with a 71.

Marcellus topped off a great day by winning the door prize–a six piece patio set.

Forty women competed in this year's event run for the first time on a Saturday. Course conditions were excellent but it played tough.

Only six birdies were registered, four by Morrisburg players and four were on the par threes.

Sandy Elliott birdied the par three fifth, Cowling and Terry Selleck the par three 11th and Weegar the par three 14th. Barb Sheridan and Elsie Guindon registered birdies on the par four ninth hole.

Closest to the hole winners were Weegar, Elliott and Carole Bertrand and Cathy Riviere dropped a shot closest to the target on number seven.

Gananoque golfers tops in Border League

CANTON N.Y. – The team representing Gananoque Golf Club produced a nine player total of 701 strokes to win the 2002 Border League Golf competition here Sunday.

The 701 total was just strokes better than their closest challengers from the Smith Falls Golf and Country Club who posted a 705.

Third place went to Canton with 721 strokes and the defending champs from Prescott were fourth at 723. Prescott won the tournament played in Morrisburg last year.

The Cornwall Country Club was fifth at 741 strokes and Morrisburg sixth at 745. Summer Heights had a 771 total and Colonade (Joyceville) 792.

The annual Border League golf competition format calls for an eight man team, plus one senior and one junior shooter. Each team throws out the highest round of the day for the nine-man team total.

Lance Lepage was the top Morrisburg shooter with a 76. He was followed by JR Thompson with a 77 and Brian McNairn at 78. Fred Harper posted an 80, Gord Dillabough an 83, Tim Smith 85, Kevin Duvall 86 and Gary Breyer 90.

John Vincent, playing in the Morrisburg senior spot, shot 90 and Adam Keller (Junior) shot a 91.

Morrisburg Club president Bob Barclay shot a 102 and Club Captain Sam Laurin an 85.

Next year's Border League competition will be hosted by the Cornwall Golf and Country Club.

Big catch at Iroquois derby

IROQUOIS – Despite healthy competition from other community events aimed at entertaining the younger set, the annual fishing derby at the Galop Canal/Iroquois Landing Marina last Saturday had an excellent turnout, and, fortunately, the fish were biting.

"There were a lot of weigh-ins," said George Menges, who volunteered to measure and weigh the countless fish netted by derby competitors. "There were weigh-ins pretty well all the time."

Twenty-nine children registered for the junior portion of the competition, and 13 adults took part in the senior derby.

"Overall, it was just a really, really fun day for everybody," said Sally Francis, who, along with derby founders George and Candace Menges, coordinated the event.

From 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., fishers of all ages cast their lines from the banks of the canal or from boats in the middle of the river, hoping to catch the winning bass, perch, sunfish, or pike.

In the end, Emma Hanson won first place among the junior entrants with Brandon Elliott in second, and Clint Ryan in third.

Hanson won with a 2lb 3/4oz small mouth bass, measuring 17 inches in length.

Elliott came in with another small mouth bass that weighed 1lb 13oz at a length of 15 inches.

Ryan weighed his small mouth bass at 1lb 3/4oz and measured it at 11 inches.

Among the more seasoned anglers, Barry Elliott took first with a small mouth bass that weighed 3lb 3oz and measured 17.5 inches.

Jason McKinnon came second with a large mouth bass weighing in at 3lb and measuring 16.5 inches.

Bill Jollota was third with a 1lb 7oz large mouth bass that measured 14.5 inches in length.

"The kids had a great time, and the adults had a great time," said Francis. "It was a total success."

Once again this year, those kids who caught just about everything they could from the banks of the canal had the opportunity to take a trip in the Little Dreamer and try their luck in deeper water.

Fred Guse and Randy Norton, of the Grenville Fish and Game Club, were on hand with an 18-foot pontoon boat called Little Dreamer, which the club tours around the region to give people who might not otherwise have access to the river, a chance to see and fish the mighty St. Lawrence.

By the end of the day, well over 100 fish were caught and weighed in, and prizes were handed out to those who claimed fish of various distinctions.

Sam Decker caught the longest fish, with a pike measuring 18 inches in length.

Eric Tetley caught the largest perch, which weighed in at 6oz and measured 8.5 inches.

The biggest sunfish was landed by Nathan Bygott, whose catch weighed 8oz and was 8.5 inches long.

With 14 fish brought to shore throughout the day, Pat Bongers took home the award for the most weigh-ins.

Caitlin Norton caught the most colourful fish, and derby winner Emma Hanson also walked away with the prize for the fish with the biggest eyes.

The youngest fishers on the water on Saturday were Morgan Francis, Elijah Gadbois, and Dylan Pecotte.

"The kids had a great time," said Menges, "and we had a lot of first-time fishers out there."

Francis and Menges also gave out a special award to a young fellow who had never caught a fish before and was thrilled when he landed a 4oz sunfish.

"We consider him the proudest fisherman around here," said Menges, before presenting the award to Paul Benoit.

"This day is for the kids, the adults and the public," said Francis, noting that the marina did not profit from the event. "What we get out of it is people coming down and realizing what the marina is all about."

CARD OF THANKS

WEMERMAN–We would like to thank everyone for the overwhelming support shown to us after the loss of a dear husband and father. The many cards of condolence, letters and donations made to the Canadian Cancer Society and other charities in his memory will forever remind us what a special person John was. Again, a special thank you to Cindy Bennis who responded so quickly when John became ill. She was there for us, not just as his nurse, but as a friend. Words cannot convey the heartfelt thanks that our family feels for the tribute that Pastor Jo Barkley-Probst paid to John at the Morrisburg Golf Course and then at his memorial service. A very special thank you to Bonnie Parker for her compassion and guidance through a very difficult time. Everything came together just as John would have wanted it.
–Sincerely, Judy, Greta, Ingrid and Eric Wemerman 33p

IN MEMORIAM

STEBEN–With precious memories of my dearest wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Georgia Anne, who passed away August 17, 2000.
When evening shades are falling
And I sit in quiet alone,
To my heart there comes a longing
If she only could come home.
Her picture sits beside my bed
I talk to it each night,
I can't believe it has been two years
Since I last held you tight.
Though you have gone to Heaven
You walk beside us still,
Sweet, sweet angel footsteps
No one else can fill.
My life goes on without you,
And nothing is the same,
I have to hide my heartache,
When someone speaks your name.
Sad is the heart that loves you,
Silent the tears that fall,
Living my life without you,
Is the hardest part of all.
You did so many things for me,
Your heart was kind and true,
And when I needed someone,
I could always count on you.
The special years will not return,
When we were together,
But with the love within my heart,
You will walk with me forever.
–Lovingly remembered forever, by your family 33p

WHITTEKER–In loving memory of our dear son, James Paul, who entered eternal rest on August 19, 1974.
Have you ever had a son
Who meant the world to you
One that you loved so much
And miss him like we do?
Have you ever had a heartache
Or felt that awful pain
Or shed the bitter tears
That drop like falling rain?
If you never had this feeling
We hope you never do
For when you lose a son
You lose a part of you.
So, dear God, take a message
To Jim in Heaven above
Tell him how much we miss him
And give him all our love.
–Mom, Dad, Isla, Garry, Mary and families

SEELEY–In loving memory of a dear son, brother & uncle, Charles Seeley, who passed away 1 year ago Aug. 18, 2001.
Sadly missed along life's way
Quietly remembered every day
No longer in our life to share
But in our hearts you are always there.
–Loved forever by mother & sister Hilda Barkley & Family 33p

Official Plan
Severances may be allowed

WILLIAMSBURG – With the end of August looming, the deadline is drawing near for municipalities that wish to submit corrections or comments to the United Counties in regards to the counties-wide official plan.

Preparations for South Dundas' submission are nearly complete, and mayor Johnny Whitteker is making some headway in the matter of land severances on agricultural land and is optimistic the restrictions preventing such severances may be relaxed.

"I think our planner is going to allow one severance on agricultural land," said Whitteker, at a regular meeting of council last Thursday.

Whitteker is also hopeful that a reference to that restrictive policy within the official plan will be excised, so as to avoid confusion when the counties severance committee begins to interpret the plan while considering applications for severances.

"If you go for a severance on agricultural land, the first thing the committee is going to do is point to that, and they'll turn you down," said Whitteker.

Draft editions of the omnibus official plan, which will replace the varied plans that exist within each township, restrict the conditions under which severances on agricultural land can be made, in order that ribbon development of prime rural real estate is avoided.

Whitteker feels the regulations are too strict and place undue hardship on farmers who wish to sever a lot.

"If you want a severance for your farm, you don't want to be six miles away from the farm."
