Judi Coons 1967 Queen

Judi Coons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Coons of Winchester, is the Winchester 100 Club's 1967 Centennial Carnival Queen. Amid a tumultuous ovation Judi was crowned Carnival Queen Friday evening in the Winchester Community Centre. The lovely 18-year-old blonde beauty is a student nurse at the Ottawa Civic Hospital and a graduate of North Dundas District High School. Two years ago Judi had entered the contest and had been princess.

Master of Ceremonies Ernie Calcutt brought the suspense as he announced the finalists in the contest as an excited audience awaited the magic words of 1967 Carnival Queen Judi Coons. Each of the princesses Edna Pyper and Wilma Angus were presented to the audience by Centurian Jack McIntosh, dressed in very appropriate Centennial garb. Smiles of happiness as judges Mr. and Mrs. Russ Jackson and Mrs. Ernie Calcutt were thanked by the reigning queen Miss Coons. 100 Club president Howard Biccum presented the trophy to the Queen as 1966 Carnival Queen Jane Casselman crowned her successor. There were prizes in abundance.

PRINCESSES

Wilma, number one runner-up, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Angus of Winchester. Second runner-up Edna is the reigning Dundas County Dairy Princess and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pyper, R. R. 3, Winchester.

It was an outstanding carnival presentation all the way with something of interest to everyone. Skating was superb by representatives of the Minto Club in Ottawa as three young ladies put on a tremendous display that gained frequent approval from the audience. Dianne Fawcett and Bob Crummy lead the North Dundas District High School skating drill through intricate patterns and routines on ice. The skating drill was under the direction of Mrs. Quinn.

Two highlights of the carnival this year were in the form of something new. In keeping with the Centennial year the 100 Club introduced a special prize for the best Centennial costume and although the entrants were not numerous the quality of the costumes in the class was outstanding. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Holmes took home the prize. Local highlight of the evening was the North Dundas District High School chuckwagon races and this is an event that will be a must on any carnival calendar. It was the Calgary Stampede on ice as the driver and his skaters went flying and tumbling around the course in an hilarious game of bump, crash and fall. A final duel between the school football team and staff was a comedy highlight.

COSTUMES, RACES

In costume classes the judges were faced with many difficult decisions. James Rae and Debbie Woods were the best in under five years. Bill and Kathy Workman and Kim Boyd swept the 6 to 11 class; Karen Marquette and Cynthia Gray the 11 to 16; Annette Duncan and Freida Johnston the 16 and over.

Races were divided into boys and girls in several age groups. Under 8 years, Diane Duncan won with Susan Helmer placing, and for the boys it was twin brother Douglas Duncan with Stewart Simpson second. 8 to 11 class was won by Heather Lannin and Robert Elliott, with Cathy Summers and Bruce Eadie second place finishers. 12-15 Wendy Earl and Bruce Cowell with Bob Morin the second boy. Wendy repeated in the open event and Dwayne Cinnamon narrowly defeated Bill Hogaboam in the men's open. Len Finter and Howard Summers handled the costume classes, Jim Walker the races, and Jack Fisher the chuckwagon event.

Centennial Skating Party To-Night - 7:45

It will be more wonderful the second time around. The Centennial skating party will get its second exposure to Winchester and district this evening at 7.45 p.m. in the Winchester Community Centre. On the second time around Party officials took a look at the thermometer fighting its way to get back to zero on Tuesday morning and decided that with prediction of cold weather on Wednesday ice conditions par excellence would be guaranteed for Thursday night. The decision was made and the Centennial Skating Party goes to-night starting at 7.45.

Just a preview of the fun that can be had in the Centennial spirit on ice was the party held January 25. The people were there in costume, the organ music was terrific, the ice was lantern lit and the arena draped with Centennial flags. The scene will be repeated to-night, only the ice conditions will be of the finer variety.

No tickets are necessary to join in the party, but officials do encourage everyone to come dressed in some costume of vintage, old or new, and add to the pleasure. There will be prizes for various divisions; they may relate to costumes, ages, birthdays or good looks, no one will tell, but they do say there will be prizes and enjoyment for everyone.

Winchester Music Store's Roy Fawcett says that popular be returning to play the Conn organ at centre ice and the lively music will make the skating and conversation that much more enjoyable. If the on ice activty takes all your energy or reddens your nose and toes there will be coffee, doughnuts and cheese in the restaurant area. All proceeds of this adult skating party go to the Winchester Centennial Programming Committee. Donations will be accepted at the box office.

Take a whirl on the ice in your Centennial costume to-night beginning at 7.45 p.m.

Question D.H.O. On Speed Limit And Road Signs

Williamsburg Township Council has two purposes for a meeting with representatives of the Ontario Department of Highways. Clerk K. C. Schell was instructed by council to set up a meeting to discuss construction of concession signs at all such roads entering Highway 31 in the Township. Second item of discussion will concern the speed limits on the highway immediately south of Williamsburg village.

All members were present for the February 4th meeting in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Williamsburg. Council instructed an offer of $800 for a section of property to be used for reforestation. Appointed to the Williamsburg Retarded Children's Education Authority were Bruce Tuttle, Hon. F. M. Cass, Eric Casselman and T. G. Monaghan.

Clerk Schell will prepare the necessary by-law for the setting of a two-year term of office for council.

Accounts paid: Roads and Bridges, $2,900.85; Winter Works, $738.42; Relief, $763.50; Salaries, $342.30; Fox Bounty $12.00; Drains, $1,742.28; Recreation, $79.50; Insurance $82.50; Fire Protection, $35.23; Professional fees, $168.00; supplies, etc., $107.15.

Farmer Of The Year

The Dundas Soil and Crop Improvement Association has awarded the 1966 County Farmer of the Year Certificate to Malcolm MacGregor, a dairy farmer in the Morewood area of Dundas County.

The Certificate in recognition of: (1) demonstrated ability as a good farmer; (2) demonstrated ability to give leadership and assist others; (3) demonstrated concern for and contribution to the general welfare of farmers, was presented at a recent County Soil and Crop directors' meeting.

Malcolm has fulfilled the requirements of this award in several ways. He is respected as a breeder of Guernsey cattle and has won honours at local and regional dairy shows. He was appointed first chairman of the Dundas County Milk Committee in 1965 and more recently has been elected President of the Ontario Guernsey Cattle Association.

His leadership ability has been recognized by many other groups and recently he has appeared on the programme at the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Conference and TV Farm Business programme.

Over the years he has recognized the importance of a good cropping programme and through the use of underdrainage and recommended cultural practices has continually increased his crop production.

In addition, Malcolm has been active in community activities, devoting time to 4-H Club leadership, school boards, etc.

This is the first award of this type made by the County Soil and Crop Association and they are pleased to honour Malcolm for his contribution to Agriculture in Dundas County and encourage his continued participation.

SORRY FOLKS

Paper Mystery Unsolved

Queries to The Winchester Press from subscribers in the Morrisburg, Iroquois, Brinston and Dixon's Corners sectors of Dundas can only remain unanswered. The February 2nd edition of The Press did not arrive in the mail boxes of subscribers in these areas. Numerous phone calls made known the fact.

As is normal procedure the papers were wrapped and bagged in this office before Wednesday afternoon delivery to the local Post Office. Iroquois, Dixon's Corners and Brinston were deposited in a single bag and Morrisburg in a separate bag. Postmaster Steve Corry assured this office the bags were routed by truck as usual. They did not arrive.

Papers are delivered to the Post Office for mailing late Wednesday afternoon or early Thursday morning to catch scheduled trucks. In the case of the non-delivered papers the bags are routed by truck to Cornwall and then travel again by truck up the waterfront to various post offices. Morrisburg papers were known not to have arrived Saturday, the other sections by Tuesday morning. This newspaper regrets any inconvenience, but the situation remains beyond its control.

Approve Preliminary Sewerage Planning

Village Council has given unanimous approval to a resolution instructing J. L. Richards and Associates, village's engineering consultants, to proceed with a tentative report on sewerage installation throughout the municipality.

Council met with Art Fee of the Richards firm on Thursday afternoon and discussed various methods and necessities of sewer installation in the village. It was from this meeting that council passed the resolution instructing the drawing up of the preliminary plan. The report will basically be for information of council and citizenry interested in possible extension to the present system. It will approximate costs of various installations and an over-all system and indicate best paths of service.

On the subject of the reconstruction of Centre Street once again the thought of a sewer installation prior to rebuilding was aired. One idea calls for the installation under local improvement and this is still under investigation and a final decision will probably be made on arrival of the sewer report.

For council's information Reeve Elliott mentioned he had inquired about possible costs of tearing out of the present culvert over Henderson Creek on Fred Street, and termed it very possibile at a reasonable price. The cement culvert would be lifted and tile dropped in and the roadway and sidewalk repaired.

Chesterville Man Traffic Victim

A 40-year-old Chesterville man was killed early Sunday morning when he was struck by a car near the northern limits of Chesterville approximate to the junction of County Road 7 and Highway 43.

Walking east, John Patrick Barrett was struck by a car driven by Stuart Byers. The driver swerved but poor visibility made the action too late to avert striking the pedestrian with the right front fender.

Constable Roy Guse of the OPP Detachment, Morrisburg, investigated.

Learn To-day About Farm Success Key Town Hall 1:30

Farm records can be the key to the successful farm operation and that very, subject will be the theme of the meeting for all Dundas farmers in the Winchester Town Hall this afternoon, Thursday, February 9th, at 1.30 p.m.

A review of the past is an excellent way of gearing for the future and farm records are invaluable in decision making. They assist in filing of income tax returns; establishment of a basic herd; filing for Canada Pension, Workmen's Compensation and Unemployment Insurance; and estate planning.

H. R. Grogan, of the Department of National Revenue, Taxation Division, will speak, and with other speakers answer questions. Available at the meeting will be the new Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food Record Book.

Fire Pay

Agreement of firemen's pay amounted to about a one dollar raise across the board in all categories. Councillors Don Christie and Dwight Lannin met with Volunteer Firemen prior to last Thursday's council meeting and ironed out a new pay schedule.

The increase in some cases answered a request from the Department for hikes and in others offered a compromise. The new scale for the Department that is now at full strength with twenty men under Chief Frank Gannon is as follows:

	Practice	Call	Addit'l. Hours
Chief	$6.00	$8.00	4.00
Deputy	6.00	8.00	4.00
Lieut.	4.50	7.00	3.00
Fireman	3.00	6.00	2.50

Legion President

Branch 108, Royal Canadian Legion in the year 1967 will be headed by new president Frank Gannon. An installation ceremony for the new officers was conducted by Legion Zone Commander Ray Dowe of Morrisburg assisted by Bill Eadie, also of Branch 48, Morrisburg.

1867 And All That

There are a few people around that were alive in 1867, but we have yet to meet one who can remember it. But that is not too surprising. What a difference in a hundred years though, the Canada today 1967 and Canada yesterday 1867 are worlds apart.

A partial list of some of the more obvious aids to modern living which were not available to the Canadians of 1867 might include the following: tap water, plumbing, electricity, central heating, telephones, refrigerators, air conditioning, movie theatres, automobiles, street cars or buses, radio, television, air travel, tractors, and what about the wonders of the twentieth century, the department stores, credit cards and charge-a-plates.

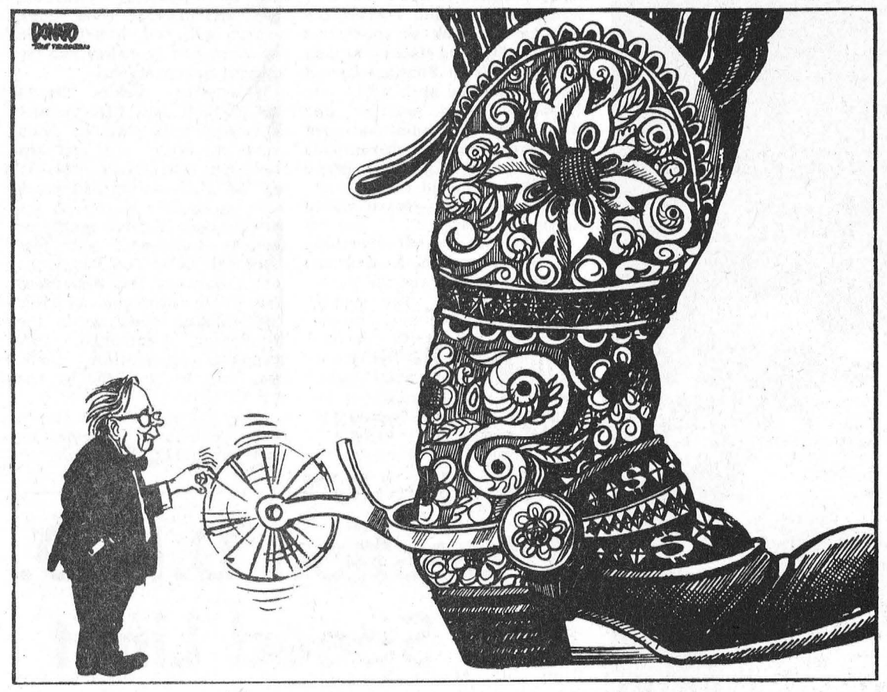
There were also, of course, no pensions, family allowances, or workmen's compensation. Schools and railways were beginning but they were few and far between and unknown to much of the population.

What was it like around Winchester? In a story of Dundas printed more than just a few years ago we quote: "Along the short line of the C. P. R. from Smiths Falls to Montreal no more properous village exists and none has a more likely future than the village of Winchester." Take notice, members of Council, Chamber of Commerce, et al. Even before Confederation Winchester was apparently known as Bates' Corners, and of all things, what is now Chesterville was then Winchester. However, Bates Corner became West Winchester with the advent of postal service and before long, to the surprise of many, Winchester had sprung up in the centre of two older established communities, Chesterville and Inkerman.

How well would the Canadians, Winchesterites included, of to-day adapt to the environment of 1867? How about the people of Bates Corners to 1967? As they say, that is a very good question . . .

Despite the nostalgia and the comfort of a padded chair and a typewriter replacing an upright wooden seat and a feather or quill pen, we wish to say thank you. To the many persons who have already informed us of interesting pieces of history of our village that they may have in their possession. If the time and the price permits there is some consideration being given to a Centennial issue this year and it would contain much of the information and pictures that can be found around town in trunks and scrapbooks.

Many have already indicated their willingness to give a hand, and their names and what material they have stored in a safe place are noted in this office. We hope the list grows.



Once More Around

Artificial ice is a perennial topic at this time of year. It has been coming up for so many years that you know just about what day in February it is when the conversation swings to the wonderfulness of artificial ice. Probably it is just taken for granted that maybe when the incumbent Community Centre has blown down or been condemned a new one will go up and part of it will be that ice.

Such talk always keeps the pot simmering to small low degree of heat and a few people, young and old, dare to dream of the day that will come. To make one point very clear it should be stated flatly that there should be absolutely no consideration given to the installation of an artificial ice plant in the present rink. Well mantained and administered, the Community Centre that is still in use seven winter days a week, has served nobly and much longer than most of its counterparts around the country. Like everything else, however, you push luck only so far. It has broached its retirement years.

Human nature decrees that no matter how long the existing arena remains operable there is no need for a new one. Why consider the future when we have something that will suffice to-day. An envious look at Osgoode, Spencerville in Edwardsburg Township, and Prescott turns many local eyes to green. Each of these communities has opened a new arena this year. Prescott and Spencerville with artificial ice and Osgoode with a new building and the ice to come very, very soon. Morrisburg has had the convenience of a centre for several years now and indications are that the East Osgoode Centre at Metcalfe will soon have no ice problems related to weather. The ball is rolling for a new recreational complex in Kemptville and it should begin to move in Winchester if this village is not to suffer.

Suffer is the word. Most of these communities, Morrisburg, Kemptville and Prescott had arenas like ours at one time. They reached the end of the line and the suffering began. It does not just take a couple of weeks to start a new centre, it takes many long months of hard work to even start such a project in the thinking stages. Foresighted or not, these communities lost the use of a community centre for years because the old one died and their was none to replace it. Winchester does not have to be in this situation. Probably if we are graced by good fortune our arena will remain standing for several years, deteriorating but useable. These can be valuable years for planning and all that goes with bringing into being such an undertaking. We do not have to be victims of the intervening years without this valuable facility.

Presently there is some concern that any large municipal debenture would be frowned upon by both local and provincial authorities. On the other side, there may be comment that some things are more important. What can be more important than our children, and basically that is what a community centre serves first, with the adult activities a very valuable bonus. This too can vary on the idea that gains acceptance if one is presented. The scale could be small or grand. Essentially the centre would provide a winter ice surface and a limited amount of floor space for out of season use. An expanded plan however could include many things including the swimming pool already on a park and site easily enclosed.

Words are just words, not action, not money, not the answer. Money could be considered the major problem because there is no doubt that if funds were easily available one would not deny the request of a new community centre. What comes is the question, are we willing to turn out our pockets and maybe blister hands and tongues to help such a worthwhile project get off the ground and then be completed?

From Toronto by Fred M. Cass

The Fifth, and undoubtedly the last Session of the 27th Legislature of Ontario was opened on January 25th last by Lieutenant - Governor Rowe with usual pomp and ceremony. As this Centennial year has been widely labelled as an election year in Ontario, this Session should provide most interesting debates as the two opposition parties endeavour to locate an issue or some issues upon which they can fight a successful election campaign. On the other hand, it appears that the Government will content itself with a minimum of new legislation and all look for a sunshine budget.

The Speech from the Throne, delivered by the Lieutenant-Governor, is the outline of each Session of the Government's legislative program. This year it was brief and while it gave notice of some important changes in Health and Housing laws and regulations it did not spell out a heavy legislative program. Consequently many Members anticipate a short Session followed by an intensive election campaign; others, however, feel that the Session may be prolonged and a provincial election held later in the year. All however, are certain there is to be such an election in 1967.

Robert Nixon, newest leader of the Ontario Liberal Party, has made an auspicious beginning in this Session and should prove over the years to be a very excellent leader of the official opposition, a position which he and his Party, it would appear, hope to consolidate in 1967 against the inroads of New Democratic Party Leader Donald C. MacDonald and his followers.

The first weeks of this Session, as is always necessary are devoted to organization of the Standing Committees of the House, introduction of Bills and Resolutions for later consideration and debate, and generally settling in to work. As a result there have been no matters of importance raised in debate and no legislation yet considered.

As in the past it is my intention this year, through the courtesy of your Editor, to bring you each week in the columns of this paper a short report on events and legislation in the Ontario Legislature. While I realize that day by day occurrences reach you through the daily press, radio and TV I am hopeful that my brief reports will be of interest and may perhaps give at times a more local outlook on these events and new laws.

SUGAR AND SPICE

More on education

This was supposed to be part two of a series on education in this country. Last week, I complained about: obsolescence; the lack of everything but pupils; the unfairness of the fund-raising for education; the lack of any national standards; and the rigidity of practically everything in the system. Not bad for a start.

In all the years I wrote this column before I began peddling pedagogy, nobody tried to suppress my opinions here. Many disagreed violently. Others threatened to cancel their subscriptions. Some said I was vulgar. And one reverend gentleman even offered to thrash me within an inch of my life. I reminded him that my big brother was a six-foot-two, 210-pound engineer, and I never heard another word.

The first hint that I should tone it down came from a representative of the mighty teachers' federation. Said they'd had several letters from members urging that I be drummed out of the service because I was destroying the teacher's image by mentioning here such human horrors as sex and drink, and by using the odd epithet.

He asked me heavily what I would do in his position. I replied lightly that I'd do what I always do with letters from cranks and bigots — chuck 'em in the wastebasket. He was annoyed. Pinned down, he admitted there were two such letters. And I was annoyed.

Second subtle suggestion was from an inspector. A lady. She passed the word that the Deputy Minister, no less, was concerned about my column and its contents.

I turned indigo and snarled, "You mean the Department is trying to tell me what I can say and can't say in my column?"

"Nononononono!", she blurted, visions of headlines dancing in her head. "It's merely hoped that you'll use your own good judgment."

Next time, it was another inspector. At the time, a now-defunct newspaper for teachers was running my column. The paper was happy; the fan mail was heavy. But, whispered this inspector, he thought he should tell me, for my own sake, that I was getting in wrong with the federation.

"Waddaya tokkin about!", I enquired in my best Head of English Department manner. And got no answer that I could pin down.

I seem to be down on inspectors this week. And so I am. We got the word the English inspectors were coming. I alerted my 15-odd birds in the English department.

Next morning, the English staff would have gladdened your eye. Gals all in their best dresses, hair fresh-done. Men with their shoes shined. And every single one glowing with virtue after working till one a.m. preparing the sort of unrealistic but model lessons that inspectors expect.

Nine a.m. Word comes that they wouldn't be there. Snowing and blowing. Any of us would have struck off for anywhere. But these city-nurtured drivers are terrified by a bit of wind and snow.

So we shot off all those terrific lessons on the kids. Mine laughed heartily when they saw my desk cleaned off. It was the first time they'd seen me below the breast-bone in months.

And tomorrow we have to do it all over again, because the inspectors are still coming, if they can make it. May they go into a big snow-bank and sit there for four hours. If they do struggle through, it will be an anti-climax. The girls' dresses are crushed and their hair coming down. And I sure as hell am not going to shine my shoes two days in a row.

Just another of the evils of our system. A teacher is given a record of merit by an inspector, who sees him maybe once a year, for one or two lessons. The self-confident showman, who may be a lazy bum normally, whips up a flashy lesson for inspection, and scores high. The self-conscious teacher, who normally does a terrific job, becomes nervous and makes a botch of things, and scores low.

I don't really hate inspectors. They've changed. They are no longer the old terrors, but a pretty decent, helpful lot. But the system is punk.

More next week, maybe.

Ottawa Report by Mrs. Jean Wadds

Although public interest generally seems to have cooled towards the Armed Forces Unification Bill being defeated in the House of Commons, it can be readily assumed that there are many Canadians who feel very strongly about it indeed. The debate continued all this week with continued demands by Conservative Members to allowed further opportunity to question unification before a vote was taken.

Mr. George Chatterton, Conservative Member for Esquimalt Saanisch challenged the Minister to allow more examination of the Bill, saying that it should stand up to such a test if it is as good as the Minister pretends.

The bitterness felt by so many who have served ably loyally and courageously, in Canada's Armed Forces is twofold. They invariably and understandably resent their particular branch of Canada's defences being incorporated into what seems likely to become a less colourful, more administrative grouping.

Many brave deeds have been done, many lives sacrificed and others saddened under the blue of the Air Force, the navy and white of the Navy, the khaki of the Army, the tartans of the Scottish Regiments. One has only to read such an engrossing need piece of Canadiana as the biography of General Worthington, by his understanding and gifted wife, to realize the enormous effort that goes into making an Army. It takes enthusiasm, leadership and conviction to prepare otherwise peaceful men to go to war.

If we must anticipate a world as indeed we must unfortunately, where war is not yet impossible, then it does seem poor policy to lessen the esprit de corps and the morale of those in Canada's Armed Forces and those intending to join.

Bob McCleave, 45-year-old Conservative Member from Halifax, summed up several far-ranging questions when he said:

"The proportion of naval officers and men serving at sea has been shrinking. At one time I believe that over 50 per cent. of those in the Navy were serving at sea but I understand that the figure is now under 50 per cent. Can this be said to be a successful defence policy?

There was the case of the short-term pilots who were let out, later creating a crisis in the Canadian Air Force. Can this be said to be a successful defence policy?

"A dozen or more senior officers have either left with the golden handshake or have been booted out. These are men who have given distinguished service to Canada, whose views surely must have had a hand in the past in shaping defence policy and whose views, one would think, should be welcomed now. But they are gone. Can this be said to be a successful policy?

"Admiral Landymore has made the point that even with the few steps in the direction of unification in his own maritime command the administrative costs have trebled. As one of our objectives in Canada we try to achieve as much for the defence dollar as possible. Yet there appears to be, from Admiral Landymore's statement, a wastage of dollars in administration. Can this be said to be a successful defence policy?

"In addition, though the Minister trumpets the virtues of unification to the world, the world does not listen and nobody else is following Canada's lead. Is Canada to be the only nation in the world in step, with everybody else out of step? Can this be said to be a successful defence policy?"

Unfortunately, the Hon. Paul Hellyer has always been accused of an arrogant approach to this huge, important Department. His apparent inability to dispel this accusation has led to increasingly bitter attacks upon him in the House of Commons. Considerable rather pointed publicity which suggests his interest in, if not open competition for, the leadership of the Liberal party adds to the sharpness of the attacks.

How well Mr. Hellyer handles these barbs, which after all are only a taste of what would be aimed at him as a National leader or a Prime Minister, will be decisive for his political future. How well he has been able to judge and estimate the future needs both mechanically and psychologically of Canada's defence will be decisive for Canada's future.

The Seventh Column

Baby, it has been cold outside. The man in the box, the radio that is, says it's five degrees below zero outside the front door and since we just came in the back we are inclined to think he has a warm spot. What interests us most is the prediction for the night of twenty-five below the nothing mark and the figuring of the chill factor, mix, wind velocity, and a flip of the coin probably to make the twenty-five below really a slightly uncomfortable fifty-eight below. The wind adds an extra minus degrees it seems and how they get a comfort index on some of these radio stations is beyond this department. It is probably a square of the humidity over the cube root of the wind velocity divided by the temperature minus the hours of sunlight and the time the moon comes up. At twenty-five below that feels like fifty-eight below what good is the comfort index to anyone but polar bears or antifreeze salesmen.

Just to give you an idea how cold it was Monday take these examples: Pick up the telephone and all you can hear are the lines chattering and the poles cracking. Spit out a chaw of tobacco and you have an icicle from your chin to your belt. Turn on the hot water tap and ice cubes come out. Try to start the car and it grunts pneumonia and dies. Traffic cop puts up his arm to stop traffic and his deodorant froze — stopped traffic for three hours. Lady went out to pick up the morning milk and found the dog with his hind legs stuck at half past two.

Really, the cold weather did little to hamper the fun and frolic at the Winchester 100 Clubbs Centennial Winter Carnival. First off, congratulations to Miss Judi Coons, the 1967 Centennial Carnival Queen. And to her princesses Wilma Angus and Edna Pyper. There were more than just a few people in the bleachers Friday shivering with just the thought of the Queen contestants and the N.D.D.H.S. skating drill girls out on the ice in bare legs. An added tip of the hat to Keith Carkner, Howard Willard and all who planned for the big carnival that got started on time, kept rolling and finished up in good time. Wherever the high school dug up the idea of the chuckwagon races it was a gem, and no doubt the laughingest event of the evening. As usual, Ernie Calcutt was superb as master of ceremonies and Queen judges Mr. and Mrs. Russ Jackson and Mrs. Calcutt wasted no time in their department and got shivering beauties in out of the cold as quickly as possible. Congratulations to all who took part.

February in many instances could be renamed convention month. The last couple of weeks the managers of several local businesses have been attending the annual get togethers. Representatives of Vice and Craig Limited and MacIntosh Furniture and Appliances of the village have just returned from their show, and this week hardware men George Elliott and Bob Geggie are in Toronto for their efforts at seeing what is new. Newspapers are no exception and the Royal York beckons weekly publishers and editors from all over Ontario for the annual of the O.W.N.A. Press publishers Reg. and Ron. Workman will be in Toronto for the activity and hopefully to pick up a prize if the judges were impressed by the year's work. Members of all the municipal councils start moving in this week-end too as their convention month begins. With Good Roads Rural Municipalities, electrical and a half a dozen other conventions slated for municipal officers, it will be tough to work in another February session for the town fathers and Clerk C. R. Robinson no doubt will be piling up items for a late month or March session.

Date for the Centennial Ball has been announced for April 12 in the new Public School gym and that should be a real '67 highlight. Start planning for it now.

Day Of Prayer For WMS Friday

In an atmoshpere of happy fellowship the Presbyterian W. M. S. meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Cameron on Thursday evening had twenty members in attendance in spite of inclement weather.

The president, Mrs. W. Dow presided and expressed great pleasure at being able to have Mrs. James Cameron present at this one meeting of the year, and welcomed the newcomers with the hope that they would become regular members.

Mrs. Audrey Stewart led the devotions reading from I Cor 3:9.

Arrangements were made for group participation in the Day of Prayer service in the Anglican Church on Friday evening, February 10th. Reports of the day's activities of the Presbyterial held in St. Stephen's Church, Ottawa, were given by Mrs. S. Fisher, and Mrs. H. M. Lee and Mrs. Ian Crerar reported on Dr. John Johnston's inspiring evening address, "Launch Out."

Announcement was made that the new Presbtyerial Treasurer, Mrs. Edna McFadden replaces Mrs. Kenneth Boyd of Manotick, and Mrs. K. R. Dow is the new Presbyterial Life Membership Secretary.

Donations from a Home Helper and from the C.O.C. were greatly appreciated.

Bert Kenny Chairman County Safety Council

Bert Kenny of Stittsville was elected Chairman of the Carleton Farm Safety Council at the initial meeting of the year held recently. Vice chairman is Frank Murphy of South March.

The Council intends to pursue as its program for the year, the development of the provincial projects driver improvement and pesticide safety. It is expected that the Council will co-operate closely with the Ontario Department of Transport and the Ontario Motor League to promote driver improvement. Since re-examination of drivers periodically appears to be necessary to maintain greater highway safety, every local organization can contribute to a program designed to re-train drivers.

The safe use of pesticides is also an important consideration in modern farming and must be emphatically presented to farm people. Despite objections from many sources about the dangers of residual build-up in our foods and soils of these chemicals, modern agriculture cannot do without pesticides. It is up to organizations such as the Farm Safety Council to make people aware of the dangers and the correct methods of using these materials.

Ladies' Aid Fund Raising Future Topic

LA

"The Zigzag Path" to break the force of the hill, a most appropriate poem, read by the president, opened the Ladies' Aid meeting.

Ways and means of raising funds during the year brought in a few new suggestions which will be taken up at future meetings.

Mrs. Audrey Stewart moved a vote of thanks to the hostess and to the lunch committee, Mrs. S. Fisher and Mrs. Ian Crerar.

Susan Rowan Tops In Oratory

Susan Rowan, a Grade 5 pupil in St. Catharines School, won the Junior Division Public Speaking Championship at the first Annual Competition sponsored by the Principal's Association of Ottawa Division No. 6.

This includes all separate schools in the Nepean, Gloucester and Osgoode Townships, and 17 schools competed.

The area was broken into two divisions and the winners of each division competed for the trophy on the same night as the Senior Division, in St. Monica's School on the Merivale Road.

The judges were: Mr. A. L. Hill, Psychology Master at Ottawa Teachers College; Dr. John Grace, of the Ottawa Journal; and Miss Paul, a separate school inspector. Chairman for the evening was Mr. W. Crossan, Division Inspector.

The beautiful trophy was presented to Susan by Gerard Leclair, principal of St. Gregory's School, President of the Principal's Association.

St. Catherines of Metcalfe was included in Zone 2 along with St. Monica, Our Lady of Peace, St. Thomas, and Pope John XXIII of Ottawa; Bayshore Catholic School; St. Leonard's and St. John's of Manotick.

Two winners, from Grades 4 5and 6 were declared in each school and these winners competed at Bayshore, where Susan emerged the winner.

Metcalfe Pioneers Lie Long Forgotten Wilderness Cemetery

Rev. L. Frappier, Parish Priest, points with pride to St. Catherine's Centennial Project a beautiful new electric organ, and feels that in the years ahead, soft music in this House of God will serve as a constant reminder of Canada's 100th birthday.

Jim Rowan, President of St. Catherine's Auxiliary, also reports a very interesting and worthwhile Centennial idea.

The cemetery, long a wilderness of brush, tangled vines and wild roses, is slowly becomig a church yard that people may point to with pride.

Motivated by the reality that the first settler in Osgoode Township, Col. Archibald McDonnell, lies forgotten only a scant half mile from where he built his first log shanty, the Auxiliary hope to have the cemetery completely renovated by midsummer when a special service will be held, and the memory of the gallant Colonel will be revered in a manner deserving of a man who, with his family, braved the wilds of that day to build the future we now enjoy.

Although Col. McDonnell is recognized as the first settler, it is quite possible another man, Mr. William York, may have arrived on about the same day.

Ironically, these two men were neighbours in Cornwall, both ventured forth unknown to each other to build a new home in the wilderness, both settled within two miles of each other and so again became neighbours, this time in the wilds of Osgoode, and finally both were laid to rest within two hundred yards of each other—Col. McDonell in St. Catherine's Cemetery and Mr. York in the United Cemetery.

Osgoode Township has steadily grown in stature, the tentacles of Canada's Capital reach closer and closer to its boundaries, possibly sooner than most realize, and it will become part of a great metropolitan area. The first settlement in Osgoode was Metcalfe and, unknown to most of the residents, two great men lie within the village limits.

In this year of remembrance it is hoped Metcalfe will remember its illustrious pioneers, and suitably mark these two historic graves.

Summary Day Finishes Dundas "Flair" Course

A Summary Day for the project "Vegetables With A Flair" was held Monday, January 30, in the United Church, Chesterville. Last fall the Home Economics Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food held a two-day Training School for leaders of women's groups in the county of Dundas. Since that time these leaders have conducted classes in their own local communities. The Summary Day was a conclusion to these Classes.

Mrs. Gerald Erratt of Riverside Women's Institute, as chairman in the afternoon, welcomed all who came, and assisted in introducing guests and leaders. One representative from each group attending reported on the highlights of their course and gave the number participating. A film "A World In Your Kitchen," featuring the cuisine from several European countries was enjoyed by all. A North American version of each recipe accompanied the European one. A second film, "Chinese Cookery" gave an insight into the art of cooking Oriental style.

Miss Foreman of the Home Economics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food, of Toronto, was present and commented on the work that had been done. She demonstrated two attractive arrangements of vegetable garnishes, one Oriental in style and the other using kabobs. The County Home Economist, Mrs. Alison Murray, discussed a comparison of vegetable cost between frozen, fresh and canned vegetables. The results were revealing to those those who had never actually compared cost per serving of various vegetables. The afternoon concluded with a vegetable buffet; each group having brought several dishes featuring vegetables.

The groups and leaders who participated in this project were: Winchester U.C.W., Mrs. R. Wylie and Mrs. J. E. Davidson; Chesterville W. I., Mrs. A. E. Jarvis and Mrs. D. M. McElheran; Morrisburg W. I., Mrs. Laura M. Fraser and Mrs. K. Beckstead; Riverside Heights W. I., Mrs. G. Erratt and Mrs. L. Swerdtfeger; South Mountain W. I., Mrs. Bert Kennedy and Mrs. E. Gallagher; Winchester W. I., Mrs. Fred Deeks and Mrs. H. Carkner.

Grinds! Mixes! Delivers!
The Gehl Mix-All, with economy plain feeder and exclusive crusher-feeder attachment, grinds, mixes and delivers the most uniform on-the-farm feed.
Here's proof: Samples of feed grains, ground by Gehl and competitive mills, were compared in a "sieve-shaker" analysis (a grinding uniformity test used also by commercial feed manufacturers). In test after test, Gehl samples were the most uniformly ground. And, the more uniform the grind, the better the mix!

Farmers Reminded To Check Costs Of Liquid Fertilizer

Are you planning on using Liquid Fertilizer next spring? If you are, make sure you don't pay too much for it!

Price should be similar to the same amount of dry fertilizer on a pound for pound basis. Remember that 1 gallon of liquid fertilizer weights 14 lbs. Therefore the price you pay for a gallon of liquid should approach the price you pay for 14 pounds of dry fertilizer. Let's consider an example:

100 lbs. of dry 10-20-10 would cost $4.50 at $90.00 ton.

100 lbs. (7.14 gallons) of liquid 10-20-10 should cost approixmately $4.50 or about 65c gal. ($30.00 for a 45-gal. drum).

If the liquid fertilizer cost, for example, $3.00 per gallon, then 100 lbs. would cost $21.42. Or one ton would cost $428.40.

Liquid fertilizer should not be applied to the foliage of the growing crop, except in rare cases, to correct a minor element deficiency. It would then contain just the minor element or elements that were deficient. It is not practical to attempt to supply the major fertilizer nutrients, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, through the leaves of the growing crop. A A 60-bushel crop removes over 100 lbs. of nitrogen, 35 lbs. of phosphate and 130 lbs. of potash per acre from the soil. One application of 10-20-10 foliar spray at 3.5 gallons per acre would supply 5 lbs. of Nitrogen, 10 lbs. of Phosphorous and 5 lbs. of potash, if all the spray landed on the foliage of the plants, none on the soil, and if all of it was completely absorbed by the plant! Obviously, it would take several applications to supply even a portion of the nutrients required for the crop.

There is nothing magic about foliar fertilization! Field trials conducted by the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food fail to find any increase in yield from this method of fertilizer application.

Liquid fertilizer applied to the soil is equally as good as the same weight of the same analysis of dry fertilizer applied to the soil. Also, liquid corn seed during the planting fertilizer applied directly to operation will give a small yield response. (University of Guelph trials have shown an average response of 6 bushels per acre).

But make sure you pay a reasonable price for the liquid fertilizer!

If you're looking for a place to start on home improvements, consider these facts about electric wiring.

To most people, home improvements mean a panelled recreation room or a shiny new set of kitchen cupboards. But there's a way to improve the improvements: modernize your home wiring first.

Up-to-date wiring lets you make the most of the new room you're building, or the old one you're re-styling. It lets you place your lighting wherever you like, have as many electrical outlets as you choose, and use as many appliances as you need without popping fuses.

In fact, you'll notice pleasant changes all through your home. Modern wiring can improve the efficiency of your lighting and the performance of your appliances. It puts such comforts as electric heating and air conditioning well within your reach. It can also make a big difference to the safety and re-sale value of your home. Before you reach for your toolbox, reach for your telephone. Call a qualified electrical contractor, or your Hydro.

Up-to-date wiring costs less than you may think. Yet it could be your most important home improvement of all.

North American Snowmobile Trade Now Duty Free

Canada as one of the world's foremost producers of snowmobiles has entered into an arrangement to exchange duty-free trade on the vehicles with the United States.

Manufacturers in this country have developed snowmobiles of outstanding design for both utility and recreational use. A substantial portion of the Canadian output by twelve firms in Quebec, Ontario and Manitboa is exported. In 1964 sales to the United States were valued at $4.5 million while in 1965 they exceeded $6 million.

Since the development of the snow machines was pioneered in Canada the product accounts for only a very small part of domestic import. In both countries the market is mainly in the recreational field. The agreement opens the entire North American market to the Canada manufacturers.

not one, not two, but three

Not just one, not just two, but three winners for MacIntosh TV and Appliances in the Canadian Appliance Manufacturers' Association "Waltz Through Washday" contest. The prizes in the Waltz contest ranged from trips to Barbados for two to Polariod colour cameras, and what the three Winchester winners will appreciate with the clean clothes for the next year a one year supply of a popular brand detergent, Tide.

Countryman Trophy

Mabel Ogden skip, Glen Vasey third, Phyllis MacIntosh second and Harvey MacIntosh lead. These are the names that will be inscribed as the 1967 winners of the Countryman Trophy. The Ogden rink in typical impressive fashion wrapped up the bonspiel in the final game Wednesday evening of last week by defeating Marg. Tullis' rink of Doug. Warren, Elaine Summers and Bill Sherwood.

In the consolation round it was Marg. Anderson's team emerging from a first game loss to sweep the remaining games. With the skip Mrs. Anderson were husband Charles, Stella and Mac MacGregor. They defeated Jean and Dalt Kenney. Edna and Garnet Droppo.

The series this year was run on a new format with a knock-out bonspiel for all teams on Saturday that at the conclusion left four teams vying respectively for the trophy and consolation. Elimination in the Monday semi-final left the showdown for Wednesday evening as a number of members and friends were behind the glass to watch the excitement.

Rink of MacGregors, Mac and Stella, Andersons, Charles and Marg, won the consolation event.—Press Staff Photos.

Twentieth Fetterly Cup

Twentieth renewal of the Fetterly Cup competition for women curlers was an exciting one at the Winchester Curling Club Saturday with Kathy Flucke repeating a 1965 win of the beautiful trophy. With the winning skip were Delia Robinson, Phyllis MacIntosh and Elaine Summers. During the presentation ceremonies Club President Lloyd Dixon turned back the pages of curling time and reviewed some of the winners of the past twenty competions for the Fetterly Cup. The original cup has long been overflowing with names and a new one carries on the tradition.

Betty Barton's rink won the consolation round. With the skip were Ina Thompson, Reta Savage and Hilda Ault. Defeated in the final round for the cup was Jessie Fetterly's team of Norma Wylie, Stella MacGregor and Eileen Wallace. Runners-up in the consolation were Norma Lannin, Pearl Empey Sunny Boyd and Ruth Mitchell.

Combines Split Week-end Games With Brockville

Pinkus' Combines from Williamsburg may have thought they were facing a team they had defeated 17-4 the previous week but they weren't. Brockville turned humiliation into good hockey as they came to split the games with Williamsburg last week. In Spencerville on Thursday night Bill Casselman scored the only goal to give the Pinkus men a 1-0 victory.

Sunday in Morrisburg 5-4 was the final count in favour of Brockville with Luslow scoring two and singles going to Mitchell, Flennan and Tyle. Bill Jarvis scored two for the Williamsburg team with singles going to Bob Schell and Bill Duvall.

Next home game in the Morrisburg arena is Sunday night at 8 p.m. with Cardinal the visitors.

Broomball Group Tight Point Race

League leaders were toppled in broomball action last week and the league standings show considerable more balance this week.

Joe Racine was the only marksman as Packers upset the Cowboys in game one. The win caused a first place tie between the two teams.

In game two Bob Porteous' Rifles, after a win famine, finally broke the ice and knocked off Presley's Indians 3-1. Al McRoberts, Reg. Harper and Bob Porteous were the best of the Rifles' marksmen as Meryl Reaney picked up the Indians' single.

Standing as January 30:

	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Cowboys	2	1	1	8	6	5
Packers	2	1	1	8	6	5
Indians	1	2	1	4	5	3
Rifles	1	2	1	5	8	3
