Disney show making movie is hard work

Louis Daignault
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — Disney productions arrived at Upper Canada Village last Thursday to continue the filming of the "Liberators" to be aired in February as part of the Disney Sunday Movie.

The 200 people witnessing the shooting last Friday learned that making a movie is a long and arduous task. Each scene must be meticulously perfect or else it is simply repeated...over and over and over again. No wonder "Gone with the Wind" took seven years to make.

The scene we are attending is a funeral which strolls through Newgate, Kentucky (which UCV represents). The setting is perfectly morbid for the occasion. It's a cloudy day, with beautiful black horses slowly pulling black carriages. In a field by the road, two black slaves cease their work temporarily to see the passing parade.

"Cut" yells director Ken Johnson. It is apparent to the actors this scene, which lasted approximately three seconds, must be repeated.

So the horses, who look as frustrated as the actors, are forced to turn around and go back to their point of departure.

This scene was repeated so many times that after an hour they still didn't have it right. The observers on hand, who were surely looking forward to some action scenes, were starting to show signs of disappointment.

The movie is costing Disney $3.6 million U.S., two thirds of that, being spent in Ontario. The director, producer, the main actors and lead technicians are Americans while the rest of the crew are from Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal.

"Standing in" actors

While the scenes are being thought out, there are about twenty people standing around, dressed in 19th century garments. They are called "standing in" actors. They just wait and hope to have their moment of glory.

"O.K. who haven't we used yet for a scene," belts out Johnson. And the actors most of the time are used more for the setting than for delivering lines.

Sometimes the standees get a little bored waiting and start up a conversation between themselves. Johnson then turns around and gives them a dirty look.

"I've told you people to be quiet three times today, he says. "If you don't you'll have to leave."

The movie's main star Robert Carradine, meanwhile, must have that just-got-out-of-the-water look, so he carefully sprays himself with water, paying close attention to his hair and coat. Then he must sit an endure the cold-by-California standards weather until a decision is made for the perfect scene which will probably be repeated many times anyway.

The Liberators is based on a true story about the underground railroad which helped American slaves in the 1840's and 50's escape to Canada.

The slave freedom trail tale also starts Larry Scott.

The main characters, Fairfield and Jackson leave Virginia and head up north gathering slaves along the way.

By the time they get to the Ohio River, 10 people have joined them on their trek. Fairfield settles there and the two men become mercenaries, accepting money from the slaves to get them into Canada.

Over 12 years, the duo helped thousands of slaves escape from the U.S. They would take them up the Ohio to Cincinnati where they contacted the Quaker, who is head of an underground system which helped smuggle them into Canada.

The crew will be at UCV until Oct. 28. Johnson, who also created futuristic series such as the Six Million Dollar Man, chose UCV because there were no 1850s town in the U.S. which didn't have a hint of the 20th century, such as power lines or tall buildings, in the background.

The crew also did some filming in Renfrew and at the National Museum of Science and Technology in Ottawa in the old train station.

Wired for sound

The new Disney movie may be set in the 1850's but 1980's equipment is in evidence during filming at UCV. The star of "The Liberators" Robert Carradine (right) receives attention from the sound technician during shooting last Friday. Details linger in board offer

Louis Daignault
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — The unionized employees of the Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded received a renewed offer from the association's board last Thursday but small details still need to be resolved.

Under the new proposal a two-year contract will be effective Oct. 1 and pay will be retroactive to June 12 which is the day the union and the board came to an agreement before the Ministry of Community and Social Services said they couldn't give the money to the board.

As well the proposal suggests a $000 signing bonus will be split in three payments, in October, January and April to allow the association to come up with the funds.

Steve Backs who is the negotiator for the Canadian Union of Public Employees received the offer and plans to discuss it with management negotiators before taking it back to the membership.

The employees are seeking a nine per cent increase which would raise starting salaries from $13,500 to $16,661 and the maximum salary from $18,400 to $20,500 a year.

The amount would put them at the same level as the Kingston workers who are the second lowest paid employees in Ontario in that sector.

Backs said he doesn't like the fact the contract would be effective Oct. 1 and that employees who left after June 12 will not receive the retroactive pay or signing bonus.

He noted that if those workers who quit after June 12 do not receive the added pay, he will recommend the membership to reject the offer.

The employees have been in a position to strike since Sept. 14 and have held one study session while calling off another two weeks ago to show their good will about the upcoming offer from the board.

Fire-waste agreement finally approved

Judith O'Brien
Leader staff

IROQUOIS — After months of negotiations and setbacks, the joint fire protection-waste disposal agreement between the Village of Iroquois and the Township of Matilda has been approved.

At a council meeting here Tuesday, councillors voted unanimously to accept the agreement.

The previous agreement expired Dec. 1, 1985. No money had changed hands during the previous contract, but this time money proved to be the main obstacle. Iroquois maintained the $8,000 to $10,000 Matilda Township saved last year by contracting its dump maintenance to Ault Excavating Ltd. of Brinston should have been passed on to the village. Councillors also maintained that the number of fires in the township were growing, and were double the number of village fires in 1985.

Matilda Township claimed its waste disposal site contained more village waste than township waste, and the village should provide compensation.

The agreement is retroactive to January 1, 1986 and expires Dec. 31, 1988. Matilda Township has agreed to pay Iroquois $5,500 a year for the term of the agreement. The amount is half of the difference, based on financial audited reports, for fire protection and waste disposal site maintenance.

If Iroquois cancels the agreement prior to Dec. 31, 1988 the council will pay Matilda Township $2,500 per year for eight years, beginning Jan. 1, 1986. Matilda Township gave Iroquois $25,000 towards the cost of replacing and upgrading fire equipment and the repayment clause is to protect Matilda's investment said reeve Lorne Mellan.

If the agreement is not renewed within 60 days of expiration, the Village of Iroquois will pay Matilda Township $998.25 for each remaining year of the 20 year period beginning April 15, 1975. Matilda Township provided Iroquois with $19,965 to build the addition to the Village Fire Hall.

Matilda Township will not be required to pay any money to Iroquois should it terminate the agreement. The agreement can be renegotiated if costs escalate over 15 per cent in any year, for either council.

Mellan said a resolution will be passed at the next Matilda Township council meeting to accept the agreement, and he does not anticipate any problems.

What is it?

Rumors have been flying concerning the possible uses for the abandoned lumber yard on Highway 2, owned by Art Jansen. Crews were painting and cleaning the buildings last week, but Jansen isn't divulging any details yet, saying only that he wants the buildings to look nice for Morrisburg. —O'Brien photo

Principals in area cautious

Trustee wants door to door ban

Louis Daignault
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — Principals in this area have been and will continue to be very cautious when it comes to their students doing door to door canvassing to raise money.

"Safety is our main priority," said Dixons Corners Public School principal Gerry Morrell.

Last week in Ottawa, a nine-year-old girl was sexually assaulted by two men after she was invited into their apartment. She was selling candy for her school.

Last Wednesday Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Separate School Board trustee, Gerald Samson of Cornwall said he will re-introduce the door-to-door ban at the board's weekly meeting, Tuesday.

He had proposed a ban last June following an incident involving a Cornwall girl, similar to the one in Ottawa.

Richard Turner, principal at Morrisburg Public School, said the policy was re-evaluated in May by the Principal's Association and was moved to the board level.

"Right now, we're awaiting direction from the S.D&G. School Board," he said.

He also points out that heavy emphasis is communicated to the students about being accompanied when doing door-to-door sales.

"We always tell them they should go with an adult, big brother..." he said.

At St. Mary's school in Morrisburg, Sister Leonard said door to door sales by the students there, has always been prohibited.

"We only have young children here," she said. "We've never had door to door sales, because of their age. We only go up to grade four."

At Dixons Corners, Morrell has proposed to the students to take their products to their parents.

"We encourage them to take the things home to their parents who can sell them at work," he said.

Meanwhile, in his campaign to ban door to door fundraising, Samson points out there are other ways to raise money, such as concerts, doughnut sales and bake sales.

Director of education for the S.D.&G. Roman Catholic School Board, Gilles Metivier stipulates the Board's policy is to ask principals not to involve younger children in door to door sales.

Suggestions have also arisen from the Youth Branch of the Cornwall Police Force to make door to door canvassing safer, such as selling only during daylight hours, not entering someone's home or apartment and establishing 12-years-old as the minimum age for door to door sales. As well, they say, students should always be accompanied by a group of children or/and their parents.

Canvassing in a familiar neighborhood such as a shopping centre where there are a lot of people is also recommended.

Group home plans are closer to ministry ok

WILLIAMSBURG — The Township of Williamsburg Non-Profit Housing Corporation and the Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded (DCAMR) are ready to proceed with the building of a group home in Williamsburg, now that water has been found on the lot.

The lot, north and east of the Christian Reformed Church in east-end Williamsburg, was purchased by the Housing Corporation during the summer. Plans to seek approval for the group home design from the Ministry of Housing were delayed because no available water had been found.

Morrisburg's Santa Claus?

Eamon enjoys new found pastime

Louis Daignault
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — Some nights while his wife is knitting or watching television, a man will quietly creep down to the workshop in his basement.

As he looks over the lumber, handles the hammer and sands the wood, he is thinking about his next creation.

He turns around admiring his prior work which graces the room. A doll cradle rests silently in one corner. A lawn swing echoes the sounds of love in another. It's a children's paradise.

As he unites two pieces of wood, the pattern is set. He reaches for a nail. In his right hand he clenches his magic hammer, raises it gently and with the sensitivity of a classical composer forces the nail inch by inch into the lumber. Toc, toc, toc.

The work is underway, the idea takes shape. With wood, a hammer and some nails Charlie Eamon begins a new project.

As the child receives his/her gift or unwraps it on a chilly Christmas morning, the eyes will shine brightly and what took three hours to be made will provide unlimited hours of pleasure, for this youngster and future generations as well.

But once the youngster has received the prized possession it's back to the drawing board for Eamon, and the creative symphony must resume...again.

Eamon is not Santa Claus nor Guiseppe. He's a man with a hobby.

For the last four years, Eamon has been creating miniature masterpieces for children and children's toys in his Morrisburg home on Laurier Drive. It does not take him very long, it's very pretty and his price is ridiculously reasonable.

You ask for it, you'll get it. Eamon can do anything with white pine or birch plywood, a hammer and some nails. One day, one mother asked him if he could make a mini-wheelbarrel which her son could entertain himself with. Eamon's work impressed her so much, that other people are asking for them.

If you own a cabbage patch doll, you can, with the wizardry of Eamon, make it look like a multi-millionnaire with mini-furniture ranging from cradles to lawn swings.

"It's a hobby, I do this in my spare time," says Eamon, who retired last year after working as a lockmaster at Iroquois Locks.

Charlie adds that he usually does his wonderful creations on request. People simply explain to him what they want and he does it.

"I don't make money doing this," he said. "As a matter of fact I lose money. All I try to do is recover the money spent on material."

And the opportunity or possibility of making a buck simply does not interest him.

"I would have to sell it at high price to make money," he said.

Eamon loves to make toys his his grandchildren and donates his pieces to organizations such as the Catholic Church.

Despite all the demands he says most of the ideas come right out of his head.

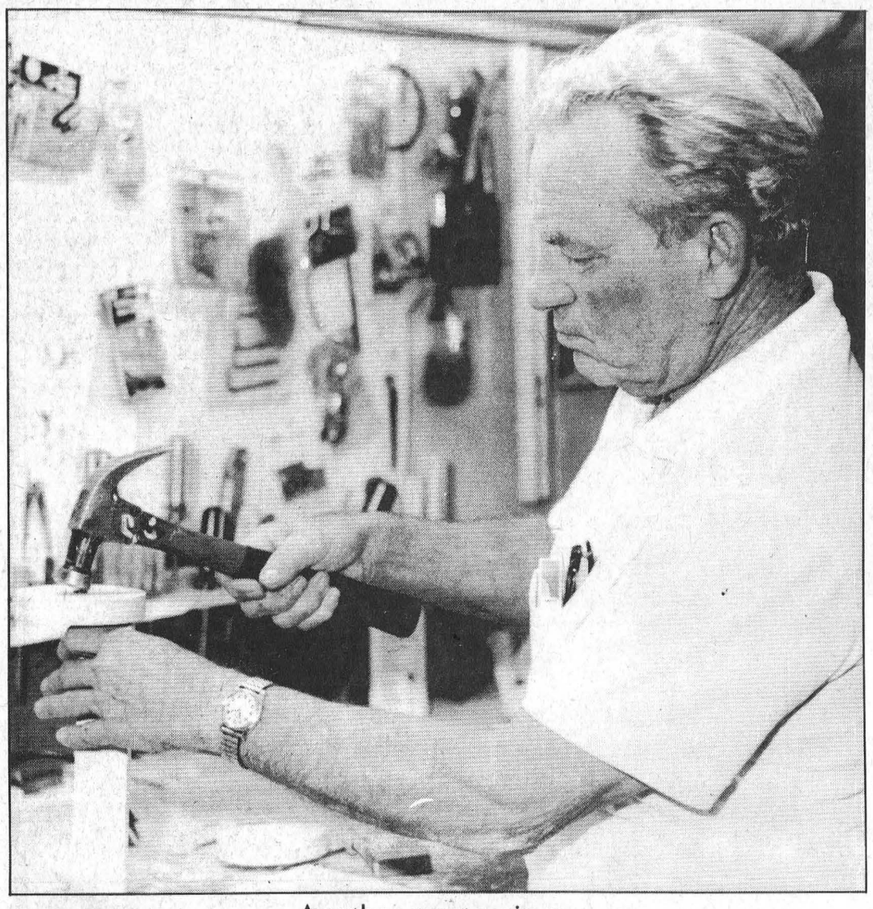
He also has no specific schedule. "Some nights I don't come down at all and other times I might spend a couple of hours working here."

"So how much for that swing Charlie? I ask him.

"Oh, $15 but they are already taken. I can make you one if you like," he replies.

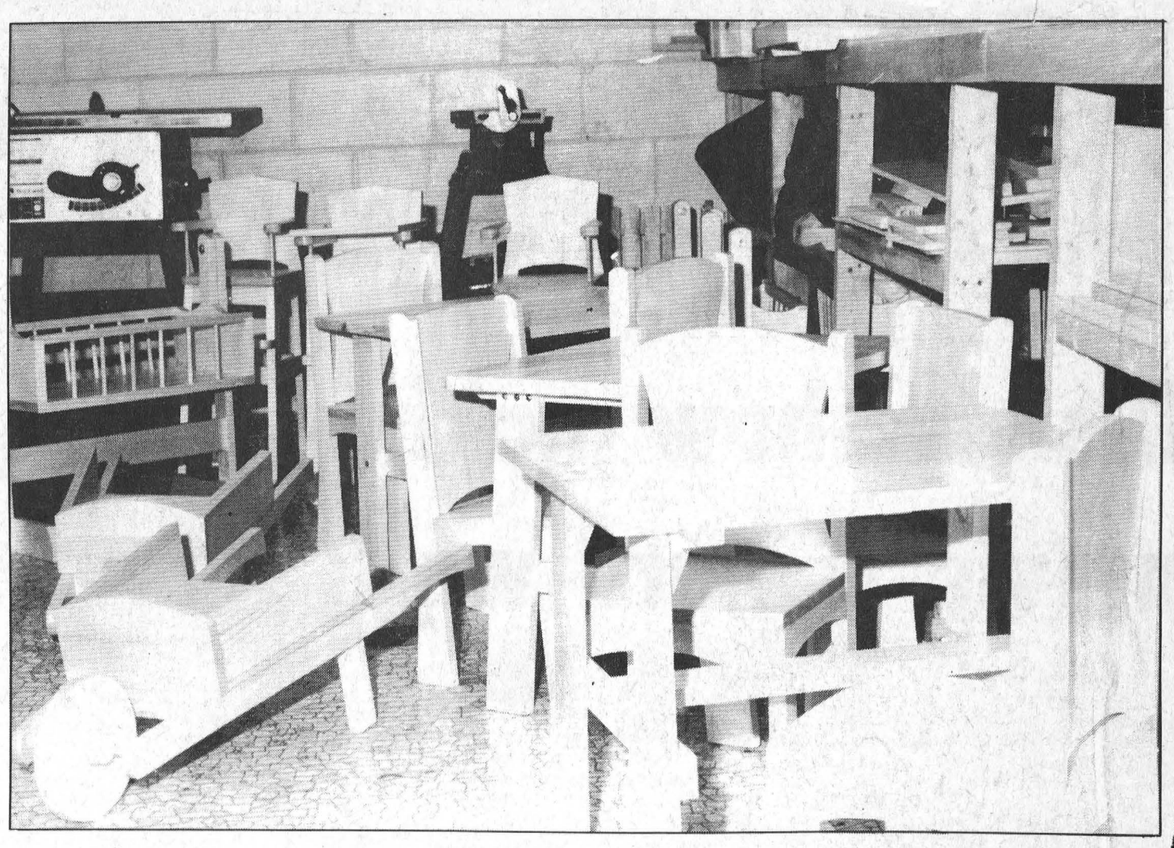
"Charlie, why do you sell them so cheap?"

"It's a hobby I just like doing it."



Another masterpiece

In the tranquility of his basement Charlie Eamon is hard at work constructing his famous wheelbarrel for children. Charlie's work will surely provide hours of fun for many youngsters.



Children's fantasyland

Some of Charlie's most popular works include a lawn and cradle for dolls, specifically cabbage patch dolls and miniature furniture for children.

Building Financial Independence

Question of the year...How do you build financial independence by the time you are ready to retire? A lot of people ask themselves this question...but only a very few find the answer. In fact, only six out of every 100 persons reaching age 65 have found or will find the answer.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, a few years ago, distributed a pie chart. Its figures said that 6% of those 100 persons aged 65 or over were financially independent. This chart had a foot note that stated, "five of those six people were financially independent due to their ownership of real estate". About the same numbers apply in Canada.

How do you go about building your own independence in this manner. The first step is to buy the property you and your family need to live in. The second step is to purchase another piece of property to build up from. This will be your cornerstone.

Loblaws, union feud

TORONTO — Issues remain unresolved between Loblaws Co. Ltd. and the union representing employees of Mr. Grocer stores a firm which Loblaws wants to buy.

Loblaws wants to work out an agreement on the status of the stores' employees or else it won't buy.

The Mr. Grocer franchise stores are owned by Domgroup Ltd.

The dispute started when some Dominion stores were closed and converted to Mr. Grocer. Domgroup which is controlled by Conrad Black, franchised and supplied the stores through another of Black's companies.

During the talks the union said the Dominion store's labor contract with its high wage scale should apply to the Mr. Grocer stores. Domgroup disagreed and the issue is before the Ontario Labor Relations Board.

Tom Morrow, the co-owner of the Mr. Grocer in Morrisburg declined to comment on the situation saying it was a "touchy issue."

ASTAR© is capturing the attention of children!

The War Amputations of Canada's friendly robot from planet DANGER appears on television with a warning for youngsters: "Yours is a dangerous world, so PLAYSAFE."

Josee, a member of the Child Amputee (CHAMP) Program, is one good reason why The War Amps must reach the very young with the PLAYSAFE message. A month before Josee's fourth birthday, the blades of a lawn mower severed her left leg.

ASTAR appeals to children who are too young to know the consequences of playing in dangerous places.

Josee joins ASTAR as a "safety ambassador" to warn all children to PLAYSAFE.

Bazaar showcases many cultures

Louis Daignault

CHESTERVILLE — To say Saturday's international bazaar, sponsored by the Winchester District Memorial Hospital was a success would be an understatement.

The parking lot at North Dundas District High School, where the bazaar was being held, was full and cars were parked along Hwy. 43 for what seemed like miles.

The event was held in order to aid the WDMH to purchase a $13,000 heart monitor for the emergency department.

Also present at the flamboyant display, were Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry MPP Noble Villeneuve and Stormont and Dundas MP Norm Warner who was stunningly dressed for the occasion, wearing a Scottish kilt.

The huge crowds, which flowed in and out of the sauna-like gym all afternoon, were treated to booths featuring crafts and food of many different countries such as China, Belgium, Denmark, Canada and the United States.

The bazaar was officially opened by former Morrisburg resident, Louise Sloan who is president of the Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario.

In her speech she told the crowd the importance of the heart monitor. "You may need it one day yourself," she said.

Other guests included Clare Brown, chairman of the hospital's board of governors, Gail VanNoy, the president of the WDMH auxiliary, Doreen Skorenky, chairman, region nine of the hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario and Dundas Dairy Princess Johanna Albers.

Throughout the afternoon the crowd was entertained by talented performers with various cultural dances and songs.

They included the Klompendans who performed a traditional Dutch dance, Penny Arnold who wowed the crowd with a Polynesian dance, which was followed by a Chinese number featuring the Wong family, Joe, Laura and Jason.

Pat McCourt followed with an Irish dance, Caitlin Wells and Michelle LaFlamme did a Scottish number and the show concluded with the Belles of St. Mary's, a group of guitarists and singers from Morrisburg.

be sure we had water," said Corporation secretary Anne Barkley. "We had to drill two wells before we found any."

Corporation and DCAMR representatives met with Ministry of Housing officials in Ottawa Tuesday to seek approval for architect Doug Clancey's plans, and to discuss the division of responsibility between the Housing Corporation and DCAMR.

In December 1985 Alvin Curling, Minister of Housing for Ontario announced a new Federal-Provincial Assured Housing Strategy Program. A proportion of the total unit allocation for social housing would be made available to people with special needs. A special needs project must receive funding by one of the Province's ministries, such as health or community social services or by an established social agency and must be sponsored by a non-profit housing corporation.

The DCAMR, which receives the required funding, approached the Housing Corporation to meet the remaining criteria. The new group home will replace one already in use north of the Williamsburg Post Office because it does not fully meet the needs of its clients said Barkley.

Mishap is human error

IROQUOIS — Human error caused the minor accident at the Iroquois locks four weeks ago, according to a report submitted to canal co-ordinator Jean-Paul Bernier.

The ship involved, the President Quezon, struck the number two ship arrester Sept. 19, which caused a six to seven hour delay at the locks. The ship arrester was demolished and cost approximately $25,000 to repair.

Bernier said no one was fired as a result of the incident but action has been taken. He declined to give the details.

Public libraries serve well

The Minister of Citizenship and Culture, Hon. Lily Munro, has proclaimed the week of October 20 to October 25 to be Public Library Week, and all around this province, libraries will be taking the opportunity to enthusiastically promote the many valuable services they afford.

The special week should also remind all of us of the great advantages which have accrued to every resident through our enlightened and comprehensive library service. With the development of branch libraries in smaller centres, and the use of bookmobiles in even more remote areas, the benefits of information and education have been made available to many thousands who could not otherwise afford these informative services.

More than 1,700 libraries will hold special events to mark the occasion, and to emphasize the minister's statement "libraries are more than just books". Dr. Munro has also stressed the impressive way in which Ontario's public libraries serve us in a changing world. They have become an important and integral part of our society and our culture. This week-long celebration, it is expected, will make people more aware of the variety of services offered to them.

If you haven't visited your local branch library recently, why don't you drop in during this special week. And bring your whole family. The kids are never too young to learn about the advantages and the pleasure afforded by a good library, and there is always something there for readers of all ages, all tastes, all backgrounds. You need only ask any member of the friendly staff, in order to find just what you are looking for.

A qualified source of information is essential to any community for education, personal growth and entertainment. Your public library provides the resources for access to all types of information, and a library card makes all these resources available to you.

As a special part of Ontario Public Library Week, all branches of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Library will be holding a "Forgiveness Week", and no overdue fines will be imposed on books returned to the library during that time. A warm welcome will be extended to both new visitors, and those who have been regular users of the facility.

We are most fortunate to have in this area such a comprehensive information, educational and entertainment service available. Every resident should take full advantage of this rather remarkable learning resource.

A safer Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en has always been one of the happiest holidays of the year for Canadian children, and as the magic eve of the Great Pumpkin, and witches, and goblins approaches again, more and more parents are concerned at the cruel and evil practices which have threatened some of their children during recent years. Poisoned candy treats, apples containing razor blades and needles, beatings by older groups, are just a few of the hazards which young children have faced.

Before your children set out on their chosen rounds this Hallowe'en, it might be well for parents to consider these few common-sense safety tips. All children should observe them:

1. Wear light-colored, flame resistant costumes with retroflective strippings so that they are more easily seen by motorists.
2. Clothing should be short enough to avoid a tripping hazard.
3. Face masks must not obstruct vision. Make-up is preferable. It allows you a greater field of vision.
4. Calls should be made along one side of the street, and then along the other, with no criss-crossing. Children should cross a street only at intersections or cross-walks.
5. Be sure they carry a flashlight, to see better and to be better seen.
6. They should go in groups of four or five. Very young children should be accompanied by a parent or other responsible adult.
7. Set a curfew and boundaries within familiar neighborhoods.
8. Forbid them firmly to enter the apartment or house of a stranger.
9. Children should not eat any treats until they can be examined by an adult at home, in a clear light.
10. Drivers should be particularly careful on Hallowe'en night as the risks of unseen pedestrians or road obstructions are almost always vastly increased.

Won't you please observe a little extra care and caution on Hallowe'en night? If each one of us will observe these suggestions, the traditional holiday can be a safe and happy time for all young people.

How a heart attack feels

The way a heart attack feels can vary in many ways, and from many causes. So how can you be sure that what you're feeling is really a heart attack? The answer is simple. You can't. — Nevertheless you should always remember this:

If you feel uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the centre of your chest (that may spread to the neck, shoulder or arms), and if it lasts for two minutes or more, you could very possibly be having a heart attack. Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or a shortness of breath may also occur. Short, stabbing twinges of pain are usually not signals of a heart attack.

But if you do have one, your survival may depend on getting medical attention as quickly as you can. Call your local ambulance service immediately. If you can get to a hospital faster in any other way, then do so.

Don't refuse to accept the possibility that you are having a heart attack. Many heart attack victims do just that. They think, or theorize, that it's just tension or indigestion. They worry about embarrassment in case it's not really a heart attack. They often wait for a couple of hours or more, before seeking help. And before those hours are ended, one out of every two is dead.

Everyone should know the signals of a heart attack, and the appropriate emergency action that anyone can take. The Ontario Heart Foundation has an informative brochure "Heart Attack: Signals + Action for Survival". Ask them for one today.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles by Bonnie McNairn

1966

Headlines in the October 21st, 1966 issue of The Leader read Community Mourns Loss of Beloved Teacher. The community of Morrisburg was saddened when it became known that Miss Gertrude Catherine Campbell had passed away at her home on Kyle Drive. Miss Campbell who had retired from the public school teaching staff in June 1956, had taught grade 1 for more than 50 years. Born at Morrisburg she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Campbell.

The Morrisburg Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police was welcoming newcomer Fred J. Langlotz, a native of Eastview.

Local marksmen were having the opportunity to bag Canada Geese, a hitherto unhoped-for experience. Prior to 1961, very few of these birds stopped in the area, but with the construction of the Seaway, the opening of the Migratory Bird Sanctuary east of Morrisburg and the planting of suitable feeding grounds, greater numbers were stopping over each year. Pictured on the front page of The Leader, with their catch, were Gary Duvall and Bill Disotell Jr. who had bagged five geese between them.

At the Dominion 48-ounce tins of Aylmer fancy tomato juice were three for $1 and Florida white grapefruit were 10 for 69 cents.

Williamsburg fastball players were honored at a banquet in the Morrisburg Legion Hall where Gord McMillan, captain, was presented with the Labatt's Trophy by representative Harry Blair. Ray Simser presented the Fred Cass Trophy to coach Rae Casselman and Wayne Froats was presented the James O'Brien Trophy for the most valuable player. Kevin McMillan and Jack Hoy were co-winners of the Lorne Armstrong Trophy for sportsmanship.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Casselman of Williamsburg celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a family dinner at Docksteader's Restaurant, Winchester.

Printed on the front page of the October 19th, 1956 issue of The Leader was an announcement from Ontario Hydro concerning cemeteries. The Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario was required under the St. Lawrence Development Act to construct, maintain, and operate power development works in the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence River which would necessitate the flooding of land where certain cemeteries were located. In total the flooding was to affect 14 cemeteries, which had been closed by order of the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario in Council August 22nd, 1956. The Commission was aware that many people would not wish the graves in these cemeteries be disturbed while others would want the remains moved to a new cemetery. The commission had provided a new Union Cemetery in the Township of Osnabruck which was to replace all of the 14 affected cemeteries and those wishing to have remains moved were asked to notify the commission by January 5th, 1957. Where no notice was received requesting removal, the remains were not to be disturbed.

R.W. "Bob" Smith had arrived in Morrisburg to take up his new duties as manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia. He succeeded K.K. McLaughlin who had been transferred to Exeter, Ontario.

The October 23rd, 1936 issue of The Leader reported Dr. J.S. Goodfellow, who for more than 20 years had practised his profession with much success in Morrisburg and surrounding district, died at his home October 19th. A son of Rev. and Mrs. Goodfellow he was born in Thetford, Ontario in 1873. Dr. Goodfellow was Medical Officer of Health for Morrisburg and also the Canadian National Railways Physician for this district. In 1916 he enlisted for overseas service with the Canadian Army Medical Corp and after the war returned to Morrisburg where he resumed his practise. He was survived by one daughter, Marjorie, R.N., of Morrisburg.

Randolph Scott was starring in The Last of the Mohicans at the Cameo Theatre.

The response of the people of the surrounding communities to the call for help from their fellow Canadians in the West had been most gratifying. A carload of vegetables, fruit and honey had been shipped to the West. The overflowing car included 182 bags of potatoes, 57 bags of carrots, 37 bags of beets, 27 bags of pumpkins, six bags of onions, six bags of beans and three bags of squash. In addition the shipment included 300 pounds of honey, 27 bushels of apples and 37 cases of canned goods.

At Barkley's Meat Market bulk sausage was seven cents a pound and cabbage was four heads for 25 cents.

A diastrous fire, which for a time threatened a large part of the Village of Mountain, resulted in damage estimated at $11,000. Two residences, a garage and service station and a large storage shed were consumed by flames and only the heroic work of the citizens who formed bucket brigades and the timely arrival of a water pumper from Kemptville averted a much heavier loss. The fire broke out in the frame garage owned by Bordon Cummings and quickly spread to the Cummings' home. It then swept along Main Street to a shed owned by Robert Thompson and the barber shop and dwelling of Alfred Hamell.

The October 22nd, 1926 issue of The Leader reported that Premier Ferguson had announced the Government would hold a Provincial general election in December and that it would appeal to the people on government control in respect to the liquor question. In reaching a conclusion as to what was best to be done in the interests of temperance and the moral welfare of the Province the Premier's election proclamation stated there were many factors to be considered. The Ontario Temperance Act, passed as a war measure in 1916, had during the 10 years of its existance been supported by three different governments. The repeated votes however upon the question of temperance indicated a marked falling off in the sentiment in support of the Ontario Temperance Act. Ontario was surrounded by sources of illicit traffic which were physically impossible to combat and the number of deaths from poison alcohol had filled the public with horror and alarm. Despite the vigilance and best efforts of the law, bootlegging flourished and those engaged in supplying the demand were growing rich.

At the Dundas County Public School Field Day the team of Rose Taylor, Edna Ulman, Jean Vipond and Helen Gamble won the 300 yard relay and Taylor picked up a first in the potato race.

The death of William James McDonald, Chief of Police at Iroquois occurred October 18th. Mr. McDonald was born in Iroquois and had always lived in town, dying in the house where he was born.

Residents of Williamsburg were pleased to note that Mr. Chas. Dewlan had treated himself to a new motor bread truck.

A meeting of the Morrisburg Athletic Association and any others interested in a skating rink was called for October 23.

the Kitchen Garden

V.A. Hughes

We put a hold on gardening activities for a week and spent the time inside with growing piles of books. Selecting and discarding, from the hundreds — some nostalgic, some curious, some rare, titles to titillate. A collection of our best exhibit at the fair.

The Ottawa Antiquarian Book Fair is in its seventh year and is now recognized as the premier antiquarian book event in the country — dealers from all over will be attending to buy and to sell. The prices will range from two dollars to several thousand. Two days of books and book lovers, we can hardly wait.

More than the dealers, we look forward to meeting the public, the people who are looking for that volume of verse or that cookbook that they'd lost. The people who collect early editions of Edgar Rice Burroughs and those who look for old engravings of steam engines. The people who only have one more L. M. Montgomery to find, they will all be there.

We remember back to the first fair we went to, standing in line wondering what we would see. The doors open and the line dissipates. The first thing that strikes you is the smell of books. Even a newly opened paperback will have a smell, but old books smell of leather, the paper has that peculiar scent, sometimes of ink, sometimes of the finish. The other thing you notice is the sound or rather absence of sound. The babble that you would normally hear is muted, books seem to absorb sound.

In this pleasant atmosphere we wander about, an experience of discovery. Here is a page from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, there a volume of Dickens in fine red leather, at another table an original Sherlock Holmes. It could be yours for a mere $800 or perhaps you will find an old copy of Ernest Thompson Seton's "Wild Animals I Have Known" with the little line drawings in the margins, a bargain at $20.00.

For the first day — the Saturday, we will set up a display of books on Japan, which will include everything we can find from flower arranging to martial arts — some old, some recent, but out-of-print. The shelves will hold the bulk of the stock, everything from Uncle Wiggly's Automobile to a handbook of Radio Engineering published in 1933. On Sunday we switch to a display of books on wildflowers — from Colorado to New Zealand, from the wild Orchids of the Cypress Hills (Saskatchewan) to the wild flowers of the island of Cyprus.

For those who can't come we've made a little list of gardening books. Not the how-to variety, rather the reading ones for long winter evenings, starting with our favorite — Katherine S. White's Onward and Upward in the Garden. 1979; 2. The Beginners Garden, Mrs. Francis King 1927; 3. The Little Garden, Mrs. Francis King 1922; 4. Chronicles of the Garden, Mrs. Francis King 1925; 5. My Garden Comes of Age, Julia H. Cummins 1926; 6. Eden on a Country Hill, Ruth Cross 1938; 7. The Gardener's Year, Karel & Joseph Capek 1931; 8. Country Colic: the Weeder's Digest, Robert Lawson 1944; 9. Green Shoots, Paul Morand 1924; 10. Joy of Gardens, Lena May McCauley 1911; 11. Alice Eastwoods Wonderland: the Adventures of a Botanist 1955; 12. Solitary Summer, "Elizabeth" 1901; 13. Garden Letters of a Grey Lady 1935; 14. A Woman's Hardy Garden, Helena Rutherford Ely 1903; 15. Another Hardy Garden, Helena Rutherford Ely 1905; 16. Sundial of the Seasons, Hal Borland 1964; 17. Country Editor's Boy, Hal Borland 1970; 18. A Joyful Gardener, Agnes Rotherhay 1949; 19. New Creations in Plant Life: the life and work of Luther Burbank, W.S. Hardwood 1906; 20. Garden Gossip, Dorothy Biddle and Dorothy Blom 1936.

Bylaw prohibits leaf burning in Iroquois

Judith O'Brien
Leader staff

IROQUOIS — From now on residents of Iroquois will have to bag their leaves instead of burning them. Village Council passed by-law 10-86 regulating fires at a council meeting held Tuesday.

Village clerk Betty Marlin said there was some confusion over the wording of the by-law. The document previously read "that the setting and spreading of fires be prohibited in the Village of Iroquois, except the beach area and campsite."

"I think the paragraph should be changed because people could bring their leaves to the beach or campsite and burn them there," said Marlin.

Councillor Joyce Fader said fires shouldn't be allowed at the beach area at all, but council agreed to seek a legal opinion about the wording of the by-law and now it officially reads "that the burning of grass, leaves and debris is prohibited in the Village of Iroquois."

Marlin said council cannot control the use of fires at the beach or campsite because people cook food and use campfires to stay warm during the evening.

Council members refused to endorse a resolution from the Eastern Ontario Health Unit recommending that smoking be banned on school properties during educational activities. "I feel that this is a school board problem, not ours," said reeve Frank Rooney.

"We didn't ban it in council chambers so how can we agree to ban it in schools?" said councillor Lorraine Fader. Council members did agree to endorse The Royal Canadian Legion's annual poppy campaign, and sent a $48 donation.

Village foreman Ray Delegarde will be busy investigating complaints and suggestions made by two Iroquois residents.

Lorraine Adams sent a letter to council inquiring about the possibility of installing walk ramps at the shopping centre. Adams said it is difficult to maneuver strollers or carriages onto the sidewalk, and in her case, her daughter's reclining wheelchair is awkward to lift up to the pavement.

Kevin Markell reported an incident in front of the senior citizens' home, when his daughter's stroller tipped into a large crack in the sidewalk and fell over. No one was injured but he said this is not the first incident.

OBITUARIES

Frank Vaughan

Many friends in Morrisburg and area learned with regret of the death of Francis Henry (Frank) Vaughan, which occurred at National Defence Medical Centre on Sunday, October 12th, following an illness of five years. He was 62 years of age.

A native of Belfast, Ireland, he was born February 9th, 1924, a son of the late William Vaughan and his wife, Isabella Irving. He emigrated to Canada and was educated at the public and high schools in Iroquois. He resided for some time in Toronto, and was married there on December 7th, 1947, to Jean V. Hummell of Morrisburg, who survives. Also surviving are four sons: William of Ottawa, Richard of Williamsburg, and Gordon and John of Morrisburg; he also leaves two grandchildren Natalie and Ryan, and a sister Mrs. Frances Sheffield of Arnprior.

During World War II, Frank served in the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps from 1941 to 1945, and saw service in Canada, the United Kingdom and Continental Europe. He was a member of Lakeshore Drive United Church, and of The Royal Canadian Legion, Morrisburg Branch #48.

Friends were received at the Fairbairn Funeral Home, Morrisburg, where funeral service was held on Wednesday, October 15th at 10:30 a.m., with Rev. Don Smith officiating. Interment followed at Fairview Cemtery.

Honorary pall bearers were: George S. Baker, Carson Baker, Harry Boyd, John Millard.

Legion launches annual poppy campaign

MORRISBURG — Morrisburg Legion branch president Cam Martel says he would like to see every resident in the village of Morrisburg wearing a poppy this coming Remembrance Day.

"I would like to get across to everyone that while money is raised through the sale of the poppies that is not the sole purpose," he said. "The wearing of a poppy is a symbol of remembrance."

A Canadian medical officer is chiefly responsible for the association of the poppy with Remembrance Day. John McCrae, a 43-year-old member of the Canadian Medical Corps from Guelph, Ontario, was on the line at Ypres in 1915 when the enemy first used poison gas. For 17 days the Allies repulsed the attackers while burial plots filled up and McCrae and his unit worked tirelessly attending the wounded.

When McCrae's unit was relieved he came out of Ypres with 13 lines scrawled on a scrap of paper. Those lines were a poem which started: "In Flander fields the poppies blow..."

The poem circulated and men learned it with their hearts and in the United States the poem inspired the American Legion to adopt the poppy as the symbol of Remembrance. In Canada, the poppy was officially adopted by the Great War Veterans Association in 1921.

The poppy campaign is to begin in Morrisburg Thursday, October 30th and run until November 2nd. "We'll try to blitz the village Thursday night and wrap it up by Sunday," said Martel.

Funds collected from the poppy campaign each year are used to assist needy Canadian ex-service personnel and their dependents, ex-service personnel of Commonwealth countries and of allied Countries resident in Canada.

Some other uses include community medical equipment and medical research, day-care centres, meals-on-wheels, transportation and related services for ex-service personnel, their dependents and the aged.

Although the poppy campaign is national in scope each Legion branch is responsible for running its own campaign and collecting and disbursing funds in its area.

There are 1,750 Royal Canadian Legion branches in Canada, 41 in the United States and two in West Germany. There are 600,000 Legion members and fraternal affiliates and approximately 90,000 ladies' auxiliary members.

In 1984 the Royal Canadian Legion spend $30 million on various community activites and thousands of hours of volunteer time to implement its social service programs. The Legion is involved with the Salvation Army — Red Shield Drive, The Red Cross, St. John's Ambulance, over 600 cadet corps and over 500 Scout troops, Cub and Girl Guide packs.

In addition the Legion contributes to schools and homes for the handicapped, provides bursaries and scholarships, supports sports training programs, hosts blood donor clinics, institutes Big Brother programs, operates drop-in centres, day-care units and kindergartens, provides 3,200 low rental housing units for senior citizens in 60 communities, sponsors a national Literary Composition and Poster Contest and contributes to fellowships in geriatric medicine and a Chair of Family practice at the University of British Columbia.

Open house night held for parents

Louis Daignault
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — For many parents, Wednesday night's open house at Morrisburg Public School was the first opportunity they've had to meet new principal Richard Turner.

"I hope to remain here for many years," he said before the 200 people gathered in the school gym.

Turner told the audience he was very impressed with the school especially its cleanliness and the students' knowledge and behaviour.

He also divulged his personal beliefs stating a principal should be friendly, fair and firm with the students.

"I also believe in the four 'R's," he said. "Reading, writing, arithmetic and responsibility."

He then presented the Morrisburg Public School staff for 1986-87.

Gail Spencer volunteered to fill the opening in the MPS school committee and joins Peter MacGregor and Anne Barkley.

Prior to Turner's speech the crowd was entertained by the MPS school choir which performed patriotic songs about Rocky Mountains, Prince Edward Island and how learning the names of the capital cities of the Canadian provinces can be fun. All this was under the supervision and piano accompaniment of Marion DeGray.

Following the proceedings in the gym, the parents were invited to meet the teachers and visit the book fair in the library.

Police Report

MORRISBURG — It was a quiet week for the OPP here with one major accident to report.

Gerald E. Boussey of MacGregor, Ont. was charged with careless driving when his Ford tractor-trailer unit collided with an 1981 Toyota.

The accident occurred last Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., when both vehicles were westbound on Hwy. 401, 1.8 km west of the Flagg Road underpass.

Boussey's vehicle came in behind the Toyota driven by Bui An Phuoc Thi of Montreal. The right front of the Ford collided with the rear of Bui's vehicle.

Damage to the Toyota is estimated at $3,000 while the tractor trailer is estimated to have $5,000 worth of damage. Boussey, was also charged $500 for damage to the Ministry of Transportation and Communication's property.

Bui was taken to Cornwall General Hospital, via ambulance, for minor injuries.

Village students meet astronaut

Judith O'Brien
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — Canadian astronaut Dr. Bob Thirsk spoke to more than 1,500 Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry students, including 25 grade 7 and 8 students from Morrisburg Public School Wednesday, in Cornwall.

A payload specialist and one of six Canadian astronauts, Thirsk trained as back up to Canada's first astronaut in space, Marc Garneau.

Thirsk explained some of the experiments performed by Garneau in space, including monitoring of pollution in the atmosphere, the artificial vision system developed for future use with the Canadarm, and tests for motion sickness, experienced by 40 per cent of astronauts during the first three days in space.

He graduated in 1976 with a bachelor of science degree from the University of Calgary and was awarded a masters degree in mechanical engineering two years later from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In 1982, he graduated from McGill University as a medical doctor.

Nicole Spenser, 13, and Allan Farlinger, 13, both Grade 8 students at MPS enjoyed the presentation by Thirsk. "He told us you can't have diabetes, bone or heart disease to be an astronaut," said Spenser. "It was interesting."

"It wasn't boring," said Farlinger. "You learned what they're doing with taxpayers' money."

"The part I like the best was when he told us, in space you go around the earth every 90 minutes," said Spenser. "He said it would take about 20 seconds to go from Ottawa to Cornwall."

Preparing food in a microwave made easy at cooking school

That's hot

Judith O'Brien
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—You're thrilled over your new microwave oven, even though you've paid anywhere from $300 to $700 for it. You feel it's worth every penny because you can visualize the time and effort it is going to save you. You'll be able to do more things because preparing meals will be a snap from now on. When you get it home you set it up and you're ready to start saving time and energy. Unfortunately the only thing that is ever heated in your microwave oven is soup or water because you don't know how to use it.

This scenario is not uncommon among microwave owners. The appliance is meant to save time, but usually never fills its potential among the average family. "It's a mental decision, you have to break habits from the stove," says Gay Cook, who operates a School of Cooking in Morrisburg.

Cook, who is aptly named, graduated from the first Hotel Resort Administration course at Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, and learned to cook in hotels across Europe and South America. She prepared dinners for United Nations delegates in Switzerland, and ran her own cooking school in Toronto before moving to Morrisburg.

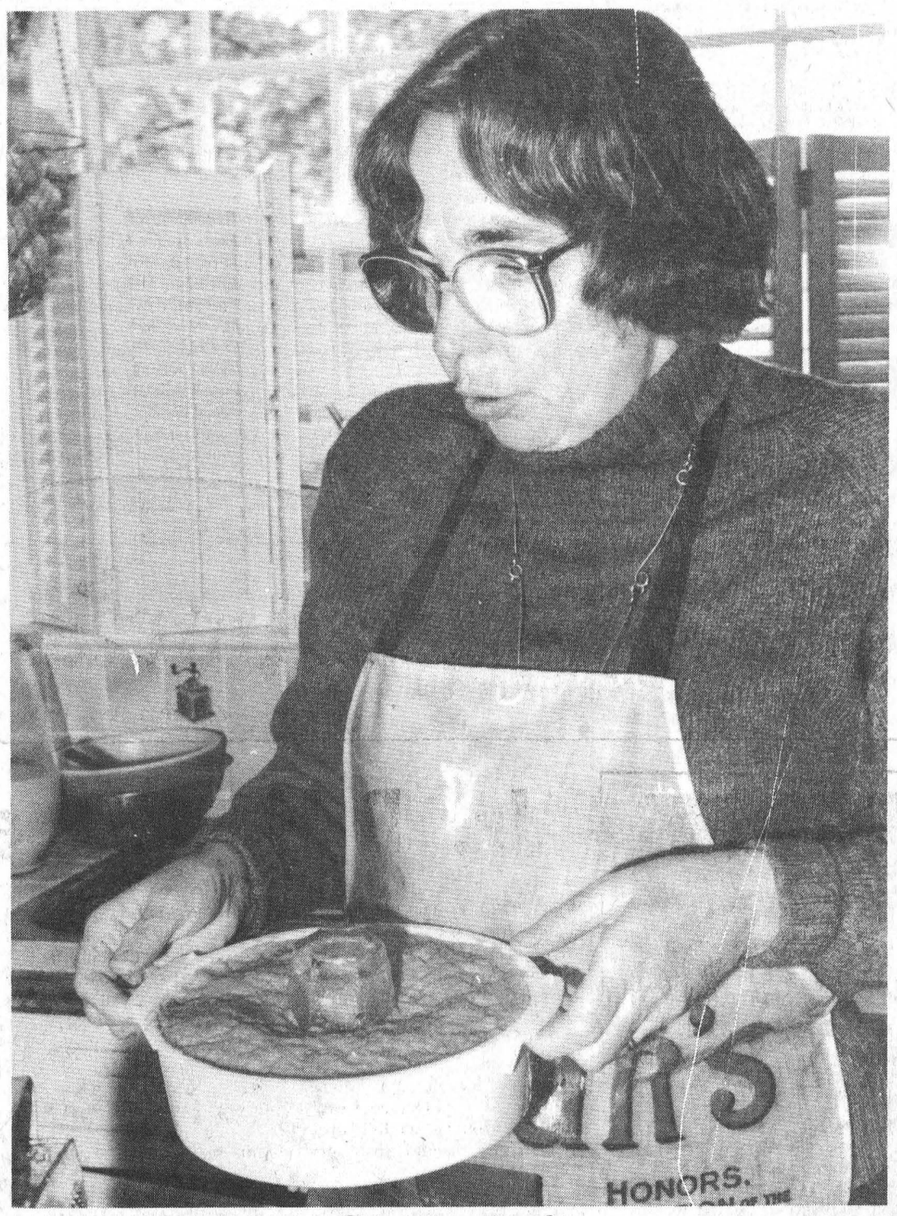
She has worked as a food consultant for Quasar, and as a food researcher for the Bellamy's Inn Cookbook. She is the author of two cookbooks, and has contributed to the Bake King collection of recipes.

"My father was a baker in Ottawa and food is in my blood," said Cook. "When I was in my twenties it was not accepted that women became chefs, so I learned through making every mistake in the book."

She began her cooking school in Morrisburg two weeks ago, and in addition to offering a three hour microwave cooking course, she teaches a four week basic course or advanced brunch-lunch and informal-formal dinner course, a three hour bread-making course, a children's cooking course featuring ginger bread houses and Christmas cooking. Cook will accept up to six students in each class and a large part of her teaching style is hands-on experience. Courses are offered Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, afternoons or evenings.

"I love teaching people how to cook and seeing them gain confidence," she said. "Both men and women should know how to cook. Men are very good in the kitchen, all they require is confidence. The trouble with women is they feel they're supposed to know everything about cooking and when they don't, they feel inferior."

So far, knowledge of Cook's classes have been spread by word of mouth. She said she waited to start a cooking school in Morrisburg because she felt she needed to become known in the community. Now that the cooking school is officially open, Cook says she is excited about the idea, and hopes people will take advantage of the opportunity to learn or refine their cooking skills.



Dessert anyone?

Microwave Tips

MORRISBURG — Gay Cook says she likes her microwave oven, but wouldn't use it to make cakes or muffins. "Microwaving tends to leave cakes and muffins porous, rather than crumbly," she said. "It is excellent however to make Christmas pudding, since it is a moist recipe." She said the one important thing to remember about using a microwave oven is not to treat the recipe panel as the only source of information. "If your meat is semi-frozen at one time and completely thawed another time, it will require different cooking times."

Cook said you can put metal in your microwave oven, providing it is under three-quarters of an inch thick. TV dinners are a perfect example. The foil they are in is thin enough to cook in a microwave. "Metal stops the microwaves from reaching the food," she said. "You may find that using some dishes will cook food on the corners faster than in the middle. A simple way to have your food cooked evenly throughout is to put a little bit of tin foil on each corner of the dish." She said to make sure the foil is not touching the sides of the microwave, or put too close to the sides where it will arc and touch.

Sometimes it is difficult to cook chicken and turkey in a microwave. Cook said the bones will cook much faster than the rest, so put tin foil around the legs to make sure the meat is cooked uniformly.

Food will cook faster in plastic than glass, and Cook said to be careful plastic doesn't melt in the microwave. When covering food in the microwave with plastic wrap, Cook said to be sure it is microwave-proof.

Broccoli recipe

Gay Cook's Broccoli Frittata

1 bunch broccoli
1 medium size onion, finely chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 tablespoon (15 ml) olive oil
½ cup (125 ml) half and half cream
4 eggs
salt and pepper to taste
1 cup (250 ml) grated mozzerella cheese

Trim tough ends from broccoli and peel stems. Cut florets and stems into ¾ (2 cm) pieces. Place broccoli in 9-inch (23 cm) microwave safe pie plate along with onion and garlic and olive oil. Cover with plastic wrap and cook 4 minutes on high. Meanwhile beat together cream, eggs, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Pour over the hot cooked broccoli in pie dish and stir gently. Sprinkle on cheese. Cover with plastic wrap and cook on high for 5-6 minutes. The centre will still be soft, let stand 10 minutes.

WI group support farming

RIVERSIDE HEIGHTS — The Women's Institute here, held their October meeting last week at the home of Chloe Hart.

The motto of the evening was "He is King upon a throne who has acres of his own." The roll call was "How today's agriculture is changing our lives," which was answered by 12 members.

Hart, who is also a convenor of Agricultural and Canadian Industries, presented a farming film called "Bitter Harvest", which was educational and concerned life on the farm.

As well during the meeting, area resolutions were voted upon and all four were carried, the treasurer reported a favorable balance, a poem "First Love" was read by Doris Erratt who also sent two cards during the month.

The next W.I. meeting will be held on Nov. 11 at the Recreation Hall, here, with Carol Butcher as convenor.

And the rains came, but golfers hung on

MORRISBURG — Although the summer of 1986 has to go down in the record books as a wet one area golf courses are reporting not that bad a season.

Coming off two banner years, all of the courses managed to hold their own but none are looking forward to a repeat next season.

The three area clubs report increased memberships and all point to these increases as the factor helping them to get through the season.

"I would have to say we were very fortunate because of the increase in our memberships which were up about 20 per cent," said Morrisburg club treasurer Nick Lee. "We probably would have had a much harder year had it not been for the increase."

Lee said the Morrisburg club certainly had its share of green fee players and despite the rain when the sun came out the course was busy.

Although he said he was worried early in the season it turned out the club wasn't hurt that much by the weather. "Really it ended up a fairly good year," he said.

Lee also pointed out there was an advantage to all the rain. "We were able to find our low spots and tile drainage was put in. This will help us in the years to come."

Dennis Casselman of the Cedar Glen Golf Course at Williamsburg said overall it was a good year for his club. "The weather certainly dampened some spirits this year," he said. "It could have been better but it could have been worse too."

The Cedar Glen Club also experienced a slight increase in membership which helped offset lost revenue on rain days. "We had three or four rained out Sundays which certainly hurt but when the sun came out we were busy," he said.

The Cedar Glen club also took advantage of the rain to locate low spots and add more tile drainage. "Overall the course played well throughout the summer," said Casselman.

It was much the same story at Iroquois where club treasurer Roger Coulter also reports an increase in memberhsip. "We were up 10 per cent in memberships but down 25-30 per cent in green fees," said Coulter. "For a few weeks our course wasn't playable."

Coulter said that along with the wet weather the new liquor laws had an impact on bar sales.

"It certainly wasn't a banner year but it was the first season our course didn't turn brown," said Coulter. "We had lots of green grass but you couldn't find it under the water."

Coulter said the lack of tile drainage was being corrected this fall.

Consequently the summer of 1986 will go down in the golf record books as not one of the best years, but one the clubs were able to handle. As Casselman said, "It didn't just rain this summer it poured...but we managed."

The Seaway High junior Spartan basketball team got over the 50-point plateau in S.D.&G. action last Thursday when they downed a visiting Char Lan 51-31. It was the Spartans third win of the season. Lawn bowlers celebrate season

by Pat Hare

IROQUOIS — A banquet catered by the Women's Institute, was the setting for the intra club competition awards of the Iroquois Lawn Bowling Club, here last Tuesday night.

Harold Baldwin skipped his team of Shirley Cooper, Vice Skip and Mona Hannay, Lead, through the June to September scheduled games to win the coveted Davis Cup. "It's taken me 20 years to get my name on the Davis Cup,", said Harold. Shirley Cooper said she too had been unsuccessful in her efforts to win this competition for a comparable number of years. Both players have many other intra club and outside trophies to their credit.

The Caldwell Shield donated by the Caldwell Textile Company, was presented to Mona Hannay, Ruth McCullough and Jean Marsden. Runners up were Ada Swank, Femmie Tibben and Lois Roberts.

Another ladies' triples event was for the Hargreaves Shield, donated some years ago by Nellie Hargreaves in remembrance of her husband, Tom, a keen bowler. It was won by Betty Laurier, Bea Shaver and Janet Davis. Donalda Banford successfully skipped her team to the runners up position, assisted by Lead, Mona Hannay. The Vice Skip position was played frequently by "spares" thus a player has not been named.

A new singles event this year was the Novice competition, in which players with up to three years experience competed for the Shirley Cooper Shield. Eight ladies participated and the winner was Mona Hannay.

The Lois Roberts Shield, a ladies single event for more experienced players, will bear the name of Janet Davis for the 1986 competition.

Jim Bain, Nelda Brown and Jean Marsden won the Keeler Trophy. This trophy was purchased by the club in 1967 in honor of Jessie and Alf Keeler who were very active members and were affectionately known to members as Ma and Pa Keeler. Second place was taken by George Cooper's team of Bea Shaver and Femmie Tibben.

The Davidson Trophy was presented to the team of Lois Roberts and Jean Marsden, with Bea Shaver and Art Roberts in the runners up position.

A number of players found themselves in the "Nonsense Awards" category. Spies pay particular attention throughout the year to any slip of the tongue or situation which might be used against a player(s) at banquet time. Needless to say, these parcels are opened apprehensively by the victims, but all in the spirit of good fun.

Good wishes were extended by all club members to Mrs. Marion Davis, who is currently a patient in Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

High school basketball

Spartan teams pick up wins

IROQUOIS — The Seaway District High School junior girls basketball team got over the 50 point plateau in S.D.&G. A school play here Thursday afternoon with a 51-31 victory over CharLan.

The Spartans easily handled their opponents in what was one of their best played games of the season and the win boosted their record to 3-2.

In senior play the Spartans stretched their record to 4-1 downing CharLan 31-20. The Spartans, to date have lost only one game, that to the R-O Lancers 50-48.

Senior play

The Spartans got off to a slow start Thursday slipping into a 6-0 lead at the quarter but by the half they had stretched their advantage to 16-6. Although they dominated play they just weren't getting their shots to drop. CharLan cut in in the final stanza to trim the Seaway advantage to six but Brenda Thompson got it back with 7:05 showing on the clock.

Thompson and Hali Adair, who had been sidelined for much of the third quarter with an injured knee, put the Spartans back on track in the last minutes of the game for the 27-18 win.

Adair counted 13 points and Thompson added nine. Lisa Van Hoof and Krista Duncan had four each. Pam Johann, Shelly Hall and Lori Huyunga had four points each for the Gaels.

Juniors

The Junior Spartans opened strong against their opponents building a 17-4 lead in the first quarter and holding a 29-15 advantage at the half. They were passing the ball well and outrebounding their visitors at both ends of the court. They finished the third quarter ahead 39-24 and broke the 50 plateau in the last seconds of the game on a long-shot by Stephanie Fisher.

Kim Bucking led the Spartans with 16 points and Kim Byvelds added 12. Jennifer McNairn struck for eight, Laura Dawley seven and Stephanie Fisher six. Kelly Tryon had a single basket.

Answering for Glengarry were Carolyn Rose and Carrie Gordon with 10 points each.

Jr. B Lions open season with loss to Westport

WESTPORT — The Morrisburg Junior B Lions opened their 1986-87 season here Sunday afternoon with a discouraging 9-2 loss to the Westport Rideaus, but says coach Steven Casselman the loss did not come as a big surprise.

Without ice in their home arena until mid-October each year the Lions generally lag a good month behind their opponents.

"You have to be in shape to play hockey," said Casselman who is beginning his third year behind the Lions bench. "It'll take us at least a month to catch up to the rest of the teams."

The Morrisburg Arena will swing into its regular season schedule Sunday with the Lions scheduled game against the Prescott Falcons.

Kent Pilion, who hales from Cornwall, and Andy Cummins, who comes out of the Morrisburg minor ranks, shared net duties in Sunday's game, Pilon handling the action in the first half.

While Pilion did not have a good game Casselman said Cummins played extremely well: Randy Mullin and Mitch Martell accounted for the Lions' goals.

Casselman says this year's team is very young but there is plenty of potential. What is lacking in experience is made up for in numbers, the Lions for the first time in several years opening the season with a full roster. In fact they currently have 22 players signed.

Other than their overage players, Donald Black and Dan Breyer, the Lions will not lose any players next year to overage.

But while Casselman says it looks good for the future he has plenty of work cut out for this year. "Most of the players are 16 or 17 years old and several are still midget age or fresh out of midget," he said. "There is lots of potential but we have to keep them from becoming frustrated. Coming out of midget the players tend to have high expectations whereas an older player will realize he hasn't had enough ice time or he's out of shape but time and hard work will change all that."

Up centre Casselman has John Morrow, Randy Mullin and Rod Lemieux all skating. Morrow and Mullin played for the amalgamated Morrisburg-Iroquois-Cardinal Midget As last year and Lemieux hales from Cornwall.

Casselman says defence is weak due to inexperience but there is no shortage of players. Seeing time on the blueline are Mitch Martell, Steve Horner, Corey Warner, Mike Fetterly, Dan Pidgeon, Greg Whitteker, Scott Robinson and Peter Cloutier.

On right wing are Lyle Schell, Charlie Carbino, Dan Breyer, who will not return to the team lineup until mid-November, Jim Bennis and Sean Baker.

Left wingers include Donald Black, Bobby Jack Hart who last played for the Kemptville 73s, Reg Francis and Kenny Konink.

In exhibition action the Lions managed only three games, losing two to Kemptville 8-2 and Winchester 10-2.

Their latest exhibition outing in Cardinal last week against the Broncos resulted with a 7-6 win.

The Lions led 3-1 after the first period and 5-2 going into the third.

Jim Bennis led the effort with a three-goal performance and John Morrow, Corey Warner, Rod Lemieux and Donald Black had singles. Answering for the Broncos were Don Nesbitt and Brent Murray with two tallies each and John Helliker and John Hanna with singles.

The Lions picked up 14 of the 26 minor penalties assessed and Mitch Martell was assessed a five minute highsticking major.

Sunday afternoon the Lions host the Prescott Falcons in what Casselman says should be an exciting game.

Another hole-in-one

MORRISBURG — The golf season may becoming to an end but there is still plenty of excitement on the Morrisburg course.

Saturday Arthur Edgerton of Morrisburg was playing with Ted Jarvis, Gary Beckstead and Dalton Smith when he accomplished what few others can boast of — a hole-in-one.

Edgerton used a five-wood on the par three 135 second hold for the ace, his first in about 10 years of golf.

"I couldn't see it, I thought it had rolled over the back of the green," he said. "But Gary said he saw it go in."

"I've had birdies on the hole and I've had sevens. It felt great."

Although he says he planned to play only six holes he let the rest of the group talk him into completing nine mainly because of the ace. "I let them talk me into playing the other three holes and then didn't I put my ball in the river."

Although the ball was only a few feet from shore the group couldn't reach it and no one had a ball retriever. But Art wasn't about to lose his trophy. A trip to the clubhouse and he was back with a borrowed retriever.

As for his score he said it wasn't too bad. "When you get a one on a hole it helps a lot."

Edgerton's ace was the third registered on the Morrisburg course this year.

Minor hockey at work

MORRISBURG — Although the 1986-87 hockey season has not yet begun the Morrisburg Minor Hockey Association and its players are hard at work with their two major fundraising ventures of the year.

Fundraising chairman, Jack Barkley, says players are now taking orders for Christmas wrapping paper and pledges for the annual skate-a-thon slated for November 8th.

October 26th is the deadline for the first set of Christmas wrap sales and Barkley will collect the orders at the arena November 1st. He will take second orders Nov. 15.

The fundraising committee scrapped the Hallowe'en chip sales this year because of low return from the project and the kids were complaining of how many chips they were getting back Hallowe'en night.

"With the chips we had them and we had to sell them," said Barkley. "But the Christmas wrap is on an order basis so we're not stuck with anything."

Fundraising for the minor hockey association is an ongoing affair but says Barkley we prefer to get as much as possible raised through a couple of big projects than by constantly bothering people selling tickets.

The money raised from the Christmas wrap sales and the Skate-a-thon is used strictly for the kids playing hockey.

Ice is in, arena opens tonight

MORRISBURG — Another season at the Morrisburg arena kicks off tonight (Wednesday) when some of the younger Morrisburg and District Minor Hockey players take to the ice.

"Yes we finally have ice," said relieved arena manager Don Smithson. "It's still pretty thin in some places but by Sunday we hope to be able to swing into our regular winter schedule."

Smithson says the flooding process has been hampered the last few days by the sun shining on the arena roof which raises the temperature within the building. "We haven't been able to do much flooding during the day."

A visit to the arena Monday morning found Junior Perault applying a light flood to the ease end of the ice surface, in an attempt to build up the ice in what has been a problem area for several years.

Perault said there is about a quarter inch of ice although it varies in different areas. The whitewash was applied Friday night and the lines went on Monday morning. Hourly floods were going down Monday and by Tuesday the zamboni was to be in operation.

"Unless it turns extremely warm we'll have the younger hockey players on Wednesday night," he said.

Saturday night from 7 to 9 there will be public skating and on Sunday the Morrisburg Junior B Lions will open their home schedule when they host the Prescott Falcons.

Public encouraged to report all sport-related head, neck injuries

TORONTO—Today's Ontarians work harder at fitness than ever before. The number of those participating in amateur sports, enrolled in personal fitness programs or enjoying physically demanding recreational activities has been steadily rising over the last decade to include over 50 per cent of the population.

Unfortunately, this heightened awareness of the benefits of physical fitness has been responsible for a coincidental side effect — the escalating incidence and severity of sports-related injuries, many of which result in permanent, irreversible damage and incur tremendous social and economic costs.

In recent weeks, however, a new initiative to combat this trend has been undertaken across the province that appeals directly to a vital audience — the general public. Specifically designed posters have been displayed throughout Ontario with a toll-free HOTLINE number encouraging the public to "tell us what happened".

The program is part of an extensive research study on head, neck and spine injuries being conducted by the Ontario Sports Medicine and Safety Advisory Board (OSMSAB). The Board's number one priority is to identify the hazards, and to recommend strategies aimed at reducing these injuries...from easier access to emergency care and first aid facilities to improved coaching, public education programs and facility renovations.

"We've covered the whole spectrum of sporting activities over the past 18 months, and collected data on literally thousands of sports-related injuries," says Jim Caldwell, the Board's Executive Director. "We've talked to academics, government officials, major safety organizations, hospitals, coaches, sport medicine clinics, doctors and many others. We would now like to hear from one group who are vital to the success of our research and subsequent recommendations — Ontarians themselves.

"We're asking every one in Ontario who has suffered from a sports-related head, neck or spine injury, and parents of those who have, to call in and tell us all about it. The number is 1-800-268-5474."

That toll-free HOTLINE is important to the success of the OSMSAB's public awareness campaign. Supported by the posters, the line will be in operation until March 1987, at which time the OSMSAB will analyze the results and recommend what course of action to be taken, and what role the government should play.

Says Caldwell: "We hope the heightened public awareness and increased reporting of incidents itself will have the effect immediately of reducing sports injuries."

Reporting to the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation, the OSMSAB was established in April, 1985 to provide recommendations leading to the reduction of serious injuries in sport, fitness and recreational activity in Ontario, and to establish a mechanism for the efficient collection of injury data. The Board is scheduled to issue its final report in April, 1987.

Seaway High news

by Wendy Laurin

Hi, how's your week going so far? Mine's not going fast enough — and there are only four days of school this week as we have Friday off.

The chocolate bar drive will soon be over so we'll all be able to go back to our diets in peace. We won't know how much money we've made until all the money or bars have been collected but we didn't do too badly.

The winners of last week's cassettes were Sonya Coligan and Phillip Marquette. And the birthday boy, who won $20 of chocolates which he hasn't picked up yet, was Chris McCurdy.

Top homeroom with the most sales was a battle down to the last dollar between 11A and 11D with 11A emerging the victor and winner of the Pizza Party.

The top six sellers ranging from over $600 to $130 were David Francis, Shawn Craig, Shawn Markell, Toni Perkins, Terri Kennedy and Jackie Plante. Congrats for your hard work. As top seller David will win $50, and the other five runners-up will receive $25 each.

Other prizes of two football tickets, a large stuffed animal and a 5 lb. chocolate bar were won by Isabella Farlinger, Angie Grootjans and Nancy Miklian.

In Sports Seaway had a good week. The senior girls basketball team beat CharLan 31-20 and are playing North Dundas today at North Dundas.

The boys volleyball team plays La Citadelle at Seaway tomorrow and hopefully the students will get out to see it. It's the last day of school this week, we deserve the break!

The girls senior soccer team, as the second place team, played Tagwi the 3rd place team in playoff action. The score however was not available at press time.

Last week the girls picked up wins over General Vanier 2-0 and North Dundas 1-0. Seaway is hoping for an EOSSA spot.

Graduation pictures were taken last Tuesday. I'm sure, like myself, everyone was called sweetheart and told you'll take wonderful pictures darling!

Troy Gilmer in his Chachi shirt can put on a good mean face though. And Dana Boyd couldn't sit down for the mirror shot because of those jeans!

We got our class pictures back Monday amid the groans of "Look at my hair!" "My neck is at a weird angle".

Lastly Seaway's first Black and White dance is Thursday night — tomorrow. Wear whatever you like as long as it's black or white. Paint your face if you want to — Harvey Kolff I'll recognize you, referee shirt or not. It's $5 a person and it's a laser dance so come out and enjoy yourselves. What else is there to do on a Thursday night? Bye!

THANK YOU

We would like to heartily thank everyone who attended our annual new car show this past week and made it such a great success.

We enjoyed meeting all our old friends again and we particularly enjoyed showing our new friends around our dealership.

As you may have noticed, we are very excited over what Chevrolet and Oldsmobile are offering in 1987 and would like to invite you to drop in again anytime and let us show you all the new improvements in our vehicles designed with your safety and comfort in mind.

The lucky winner of our color TV was Ken Morrow of Morrisburg.

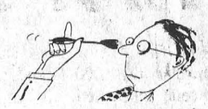
Local league play

Legion darts



MORRISBURG — The No-Names saw their sizable first place lead in Legion Mixed Dart League play dwindle considerably here Tuesday night when they ran into the Red Devils who were out for action.

The Devils, led by the three-win performance of Hartley Graham, downed the No-Names 5-2 to move to within two points of a first place tie. Pearl Harris and Bonnie Jarvis had single wins for the Devils and answering for the No-Names was Jim Schultz with a pair.

The Gamblers remained right at the leader's heels picking up nine points from the Two Plus Twos, who settled for five. Gerry Roberts found the spot for the Two Plus Two wins and Sarah Merkley and Ted Jarvis had two outs each for the Gamblers. Game two finished in a tie.

Popeye's Pals slipped out of eighth place and into fifth with a nine-point night against the Tail Enders. Lyndon Casselman had the hot Popeye's hand throwing two outs and John Rice and Karin Schultz added singles. Lynn Dillabough and Carl Schwerdtfeger had the Tail Ender wins.

The Red Hots, who last week were tied for the basement position, slipped into a tie for sixth with a 10-point win against the Go-Gos. Mike Lortie (spare), with three wins and Edith Baker with a pair accounted for the Red Hots scoring and answering for the Go-Gos were Bonnie McNairn (spare) and Gayle Kelly.

The top effort of the night came from the One Eyed Rileys who picked up 12 points against the Bozos. Kent Dawley (spare) and Pat Filiou had two wins each for the Rileys and Terry Laurin and Tom McMullen struck for singles. Lee Kelly (spare) had the lone Bozo win.

Elva Baker led the Dart Busters with four winning throws, Kenny Baker had a pair and Mike Lortie finished it off with a single. For the Dream Team Kim Grey had three wins and Guy Hart two.

The top of the league is becoming crowded with the Hindenders and the Dipsticks tied for second at 22 points and Wereley's Warriors just one back at 21. Only three points separate the top five teams.

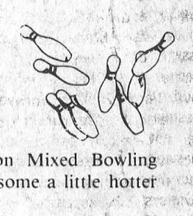
Legion bowling



INGLESIDE — Members of the Legion Mixed Bowling League are just getting warmed up with some a little hotter than others.

Monday night Barbara Marriner led team five to a four point victory over the Headpins with a strong 653 cross on single games of 279-222-152. Not to be outdone though was George Baker who rolled a 647 on games of 251-186-210 but for the Headpins, short a bowler, it was not quite enough.

The Never Sweats too claimed all the points up for grabs against team three, Leonard Beckstead leading the way with a 601 cross (170-203-228). Top roller for the team three was Larry Stata with a 530 cross.

The No-Names managed to squeeze a single point from the Pin Bruisers winning the second match of the night. Frank Marriner was the No-Names top roller with a 573 cross.

Ladies: high single, Barb Marriner 279; high triple, Barb Marriner 653. Men: high single , George Baker 251; high triple, George Baker 647.

First-ever boat show slated for 1,000 Islands

The first major boat show ever held in the 1000 Islands area has been scheduled as a "boats-afloat" event for May of 1987.

Early response from both Canadian and U.S. pleasure boat agents has been surprising, according to Bob Gilfoil, manager of the Thousands Islands Club, which is sponsoring the show. "We only put out the word in the last couple of weeks," he said. "Within the first week, the first dozen slips had been taken up, and the samllest boat was 26 feet."

Despite the fact that the 1000 Islands area is one of the top 10 boating hotbeds in North America, the resort's attempt to organize a major show is the first in recent memory in the region.

"We decided it was something we wanted to try," Gilfoil says, "because we think it'll be good for the area. Obviously we had to test the reaction from the boat dealers and manufacturers. You can't have a show without boats, but if we keep on getting the same kind of enthusiastic response we've had in the early stages, there won't be any worries about that."

Our Canadian dealer, David Murir of St. Lawrence Marine Sales in Brockville, Ont. has reserved five slips for larger boats and will be bringing several 17-foot runabouts as well.

"I've got a line of Norwegian boats, the Windy, plus a Brazilian made high-performance boat that they've never seen in the U.S.," Muir says. "I've been trying to get into some of the American shows, but they're all booked solid. I think this one's going to be great."

Assuming that the early indications hold true, the show will take place May 8-10 next Spring in the yacht basin just in front of the Thousand Islands Club.

There are approximately 200 slips available, for boats ranging from 60 feet in length down, and the basin can handle boats with a draught of up to 12 feet.

Most of the dock facilities are brand new, built as part of the general refurbishing which has taken place at the historic resort since Gilfoil and his partners took over operation several years ago. The resort was originally built in 1904 as a summer playground for millionaires.

The boat slips are equipped with power and water outlets, and in order to get the new show launched, the Thousand Islands Club has offered them to exhibitors free of charge on a first-come, this-time-only basis.

They are also offering office space at no extra charge, an exhibitors' lounge, and other support services.

The show will be widely promoted throughout New York State, Ontario and Quebec, and has already received the endorsement of the Thousand Islands International Council.

The Thousands Islands Club is located on Wellesley Island just across the U.S. Seaway channel from Alexandria Bay, N.Y. The club can be reached by road from the Thousand Islands Bridge, off either of U.S. 81 or Canada's Highway 401, or by water via a five minute ferry ride from Alexandria Bay.

Town league hockey next week

MORRISBURG — Town league hockey organizer, Alan Black, is pleased with the response for this year's registration, a response which has enabled the league to stretch to six teams for the first time ever.

Sixty-nine players have been divided into the six teams, three teams of 12 players and three of 11. "We really need another nine players to give each of the teams 12 skaters and a goaltender," says Black.

These next nine players will be taken on a first come first serve basis and they can register by contacting Doug Cassell at Charlie's Sport Shop.

Town league action will begin Thursday, October 30th and players will be notified by their captains the time of their games. The games will begin every Thursday at 8 p.m. and fees must be paid before a player can participate.

All games will consist of two 20-minute periods, the last five minutes in the second period stop time. Rules are the same as last year, any players receiving three penalties is out of the game.

Goaltenders for this year's teams include David Black, Gerald Scully, John VanAllen, Jack Bjergso, Archie Mellan and Jeff Fowler.

The teams finishing in the final two league spots do not make the playoffs, the setup calling for first versus fourth and second versus third. The first series will be a best two-out-three and the championship a best of five.

Town league football

Big Red win for move to second

MORRISBURG—Steven Casselman quarterbacked his Red team to a 21-14 victory over Leo Lafortune's Greens in town league football action here Sunday morning — the win allowing the Reds to move into a tie with the Meanies for second place.

Casselman threw touchdown passes to Bill Dillabough, Bill Mullin and Robin "Gleep" Adams. The Reds played a strong defensive game allowing only one reception by Green deep threat Mike Schwerdtfeger. Scoring for the Green's were Doug Wilson and Ducky Byvelds.

In the second game Russell Cameron's White Ferrets kept a seven-game unbeaten streak alive with win number eight over Tom Dawley's Blue Meanies 12-8. The Ferrets managed the win on a Shaun Disheau touchdown coming on the last play of the game.

John Vaughan quarterbacked the first half for the Meanies kicking a single point but a Tim Smith TD put the Ferrets ahead 6-1. Tom Dawley then ran for a Meanies touchdown and with just six plays left it looked as if the Meanies had it wrapped up. A Jeff VanMoorsel interception gave the Ferrets possession of the ball leading to Disheau's winning touchdown.

OTTAWA CRIME STOPPERS ECHEC AU CRIME-OTTAWA

CALL APPELEZ 233 TIPS

Thieves that planned a robbery in Orleans, thought of just about everything except that there is a witness that we wish to locate through Crime Stoppers.

On December 20, 1985 around 3 p.m., the manager of a department store in the Place D'Orleans Shopping Centre left the building to make a bank deposit. He was carrying the receipts in a grey canvas bag. As he was unlocking his car, a sliding door of a van parked immediately beside slammed open and two hooded men, one armed with a sawed off shotgun, jumped out. They grabbed the manager, and after a short struggle, they pushed him into the van, face down on the floor. During this encounter the victim was able to throw the money bag under the van.

A third bandit was driving the getaway vehicle, and after they left the scene they realized that the bag had been discarded, so they circled back and were able to find it laying on the ground. They kept the manager hostage by holding the gun to his head and drove a distance from Place D'Orleans. The van stopped, and the robbers ordered the man out, and then they drove off. The manager found that he was on Innes Road east of Concession #9 in Cumberland Township. The van which had been stolen from St. Laurent shopping centre earlier that day, was found abandoned at the Navan Food Centre, at Mer Blue and Regional #28.

Crime Stoppers will pay $1,000 for information, that if received this week, leads to the arrest of the persons responsible for this robbery. If you have information about this, or any other serious crime, call Crime Stoppers at 233-TIPS, that's 233-8477. You do not have to reveal your identity, and if your tip leads to an arrest you qualify for an award.

Handing over the reigns

The new owners of Iroquois Red and White Linda and John Ippersiel pose with Fern Seguin (on the right) who leaves after 20 years. "I've been here long enough. It's time to work for somebody else," said Seguin.

New store owners seek prosperity in Iroquois

Louis Daignault
Leader staff

IROQUOIS — Two shop owners here, tired of the hard work and long hours required to run a store have left for new horizons.

Fern Seguin, owner of Iroquois Red and White and John Haldane of Johnny's Spot have handed over the reigns of their respective stores to John and Linda Ippersiel and Don and Lylla Miller. Both stores are situated on the east side of the Iroquois shopping mall.

"We haven't had a vacation in 15 years," said Irene Haldane. "We're getting old and want to retire."

For his part, Seguin wants to do something different after 20 years at Red and White.

"I've been here long enough, it's time to work for somebody else," he said.

The Ippersiels will be taking over the Red and White supermarket while the Millers will run the variety goods store under the name D & L Variety, the D & L standing for Don and Lylla.

Both new owners have had prior experience in the business world.

Miller presently runs a chip wagon just across from the Iroquois shopping mall beside the Texaco Station on Hwy. 2.

"We've been running that for about a year," said Miller. "I also have many years of office experience."

Miller's wife Lylla worked at the M & M grocery store in Winchester for two years.

"This store is also a Lotto Centre," said Miller. "We've been in Toronto for a training course on how to operate it."

Apart from the name change, Miller doesn't plan to alterate anything, for the moment, in his newly acquired business.

"We're not making any changes," he said. "Johnny's staying with us for a little while. He's done a good job here."

Natives of Mountain, Ont., the Millers officially took over last Friday morning. They foresee a bright future in Iroquois.

"There's opportunity here," continued Miller. "It's an established business."

Another reason the Millers are setting up in Iroquois is the beauty of the village.

"We like to be along the St. Lawrence," he said. "We're moving to Iroquois on April 1. We presently reside in Williamsburg."

The Ippersiels, Montreal natives, are arriving here from Northern Ontario.

"My wife and I had a business for 15 years in Elliott Lake," said Ippersiel, who took over from Seguin Saturday morning. Like Miller, the Ippersiels see prosperity in Eastern Ontario.

"Northern Ontario is not the best place to be for business, right now," said Ippersiel. "They are going through a bad cycle."

He adds that his wife will be working at the front end of the business while he'll be doing the back end.

"My wife was a personnel manager at Woolco (in Northern Ontario) and was also a supervisor at Sears."

Ippersiel, himself, has been a broker for different bakers in Northern Ontario and has driven supply trucks for deliveries to retail stores.

As for the departing owners, they are less than sentimental about leaving. Seguin feels he needs a new challenge and will search for new employment.

As for Mrs. Haldane, she's looking forward to "sitting around" after working for 15 years, seven days a week.

"I'm not going to miss it a bit," she said.

WDMH hold meeting

WINCHESTER — The October meeting of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary took place on Oct. 9 at 2 p.m. with 34 members, representing seven units present. All units reported busy fall agendas, with membership canvasses underway and preparations for the International Bazaar and Festival in full swing.

Gift Shoppe chairperson Betty Barton also reported the shop was gearing up for the bazaar and Christmas season and that sales were very active.

Olive Cass, volunteer coordinator reported volunteer hours for the month of Sept. totalled 779¾ hours. A blood donor clinic will be held on Nov. 19 at the hospital.

Following the recommendations of the purchasing committee, the Auxiliary agreed to the purchase of a five piece monitor set for the Intensive Care Unit at the cost of $71,000 from the In Memoriam fund, a heart monitor and defibrillater from the bazaar proceeds at a cost of $13,000, and a television set for the waiting room, donated by the Winchester District Concert Band Association.

Following a request from the maternity department the Auxiliary agreed to sponsor a program started by the staff in which babies born on special days of the year were treated to a special outfit, toy and a decorative bassinet.

Angela Holmes was awarded the $300 teen bursary award for this year.

The International Bazaar and Festival plans were finalized and it looks like a great day is planned. Food and crafts will be accepted at North Dundas High School from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 17 and 9 to 10 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 18.

First East Christmas Party will be held Dec. 9, under the direction of Evelyn Cuvan. Some members will be attending the fall conference on Oct. 22 in Ottawa.
