Here and There

by Kay Kay

Badminton started last week in the high school auditorium and from the increase noted the second night, it looks like a good year for the club. It's open to anyone, says Ross Jamieson, and each Tuesday and Thursday night all are welcome.

We took in our first hockey game of the season the other night, when one of the local groups played in South Mountain. It was a cool night.

Taking time to watch these youngsters play was really worth while and we don't care how busy a parent might be, he should try to find time once in a while to watch his son play. Perhaps as we get older we forget just how much a parent's interest means to a youngster.

When a boy takes part in anything competitive, it is a help in his overall growing up. The game of hockey helps develop him physically and with the proper guidance should teach him the true meaning of sportsmanship. There were a few instances the other night when it appeared the majority of the team needed such a lesson.

Our boys played rather a rough game. They also lost. But team spirit if developed properly will help them take their losses with the same grace as they take a win.

We're not complaining about the coaching by any means. It seems that much of the coaching is done by people who don't have kids of their own playing, but are public spirited enough to realize that someone should do the job.

The presence of a few more parents watching their youngsters play helps develop a little more confidence in the youths and we believe makes them try just a little harder. A father, after watching a game, might have a few comments of his own to make to his son.

There definitely should be more support from parents and friends along the boards, whether the game is at home or out of town. A few more offers of cars to help tote the youngsters never goes astray either. There is no reason why the coaches should always have to drive their own cars, nor that they should always have to go asking others to drive. If every parent who was able, would take one night out the problem would cease to exist.

Let's get behind our kids and with our kids . . . and away from TV.

Officers Elected To Serve On Library Board

The first meeting of the year and of the board appointed for the next two years, met Monday in the library.

Present were Mrs. L. C. Davis Miss K. Morgatroyd, Mrs. L. Craig, Mrs. E. Millard, Mrs. K. McGinn, Mr. R. Martin, Mrs. R. Parmeter, Mrs. J. Brouse and Mrs. D. Livingstone.

Officers elected for the coming two years are as follows: chairman, Mr. L. C. Davis; vice-chairman, Mrs. R. Parmeter, chairman adult book section, R. Martin; chairman - juvenile book section, Miss Morgatroyd.

Mrs. J. Brouse continues as librarian, with Misses Vicki Thompson and Auriol Dunbar as assistant librarians. Mrs. D. Livingstone took over the duties of secretary-treasurer.

The librarian's report for 1965 showed a total circulation of 6002 books; 959 non-fiction, 2707 adult fiction and 2336 juvenile. This is almost identical with the total figures for 1964, but it was noted that the juvenile circulation had decreased about 300, while the non-fiction and adult fiction had a combined increase of 300.

It was decided to leave the library open hours as they had been for most of 1965, namely from 2:00 to 4:30 p.m. and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Fridays, and from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

It was agreed that another box from the Travelling Library Branch be requested.

A report from the adult book selection chairman showed that in 1965 there had been ordered 151 fiction books and 118 non-fiction.

A short discussion followed regarding the crowded conditions in the library and the lack of shelf space. Suggestions were made to rearrange furniture layout and install more shelving in the space made available this way. This will be brought up at the next meeting.

Letters of thanks and appreciation for services rendered were to be sent the former secretary treasurer, Mrs. R. Langford, and the two retiring board members, Mrs. B. Saver and Miss E. Render.

The first issue of the Golden Triangle Eastern Ontario Regional Library Co-operative Newsletter was received. A short history of the formation of the cooperative was included, as well as a list of the board members. A complete list of libraries in the area was included, showing both public and association libraries.

A short resumé of the October meeting of the Eastern Ontario Library Trustees Association held in Cornwall was included. The executive was listed and Mr. H. Malon of the Iroquois Public Library Board holds the position of Vice-chairman in the E.O.L.T.A.

Following a lingering illness Frederick William Harbers passed away at his home at Glen Stewart on Thursday, January 11th. He was in his 69th year.

The late Mr. Harbers came to Canada with his wife and family from Holland in 1949, and lived at Oakville, Manitoba, for two years, moving to Glen Stewart in 1951. He was possessed of a pleasing personality and made warm friends of all with whom he came in contact.

DeJong (Gertie) of Winchester Springs and Mrs. Cornelius Rooke (Riek) of Eganville, Ont. He is also survived by 17 grandchildren.

The pall bearers, all neighbours, were Messrs. Charles Thorpe, Henry Byker, Harry Vanderbruggen, Clarence Byker, Harry Vanderbruggen, Clarence Levere, Harry Warren and John Van Beilen.

The many floral tributes and donations to the Cancer Society showed the esteem in which deceased was held.

Replies Starting For Labour Survey

Iroquois Industrial Commission last weekend sent out 7,000 letters, covering the areas from Prescott to Morrisburg and north to Winchester, South Mountain and Spencerville, with a questionaire enclosed, endeavouring to find out the female labour pool in this area.

The letters were sent out by the Commission so as to give an answer to an industry which is interested in locating in this area, should everything be favourable.

No intimation as to the name or exact nature of the firm was given by the Commission, other than that it was in the needle trade. That is, in sewing, stitching, etc.

The Post learned from the Industrial Commission Secretary, F. T. Lloyd that many replies have already been received to the letters sent out and many more are expected. A return addressed envelope was enclosed with each to assist in getting an immediate answer. Mr. B. J. Saver, Chairman of the Commission, said he hoped that the replies were sent in as quickly as possible so that the information can be passed on to the interested firm without delay.

The firm, the Industrial Commission disclosed last week, if it located in this area, would eventually employ upwards of 200 women in the age 17 to 55.

OLD MONEY FOR NEW?

One of our readers came in this week with three pieces of paper which could conceivably be worth a lot more than their apparent face value. Albert English is in possession of two $10.00 Bank of Nova Scotia notes and one $5.00 bill.

The three bills bear the date January 2, 1929, the year of the "big dive" and are 3 1/4" x 7 1/8" in size. Pictures on the bills are of a group of coal miners at work and in the right bottom corner are several sailing ships. The Bank of Nova Scotia's head office is printed as Halifax, N.S.

Just how Mr. English came into possession of the bills, he won't disclose but if they are of more than face value, he said he is open to offers.

As the heading states: "Old money for new?"

WE CAN ALL HELP

Last Thursday's announcement that an industry is interested in the Iroquois area, if there is sufficient labour force and all other factors which they will want are in order, should bring forth from all in the community a keen interest.

There is no doubt that for the past nine years since the village was moved that there have been other firms interested in Iroquois, but none have gone as far as this one in seeking answers to pertinent questions. The Village Council and the Industrial Commission took immediate steps to come up with the first answers to the first question; that of the availability of female labour in this area. Letters were immediately prepared and a questionaire enclosed to seek the answers required.

Now all that can be done is wait and see what develops. If there are sufficient numbers interested, then this information will be speedily passed on and acted upon accordingly.

It is to the credit of the people concerned here that they acted with dispatch in seeking the answers required. This is the type of action that very well could mean much in any firm reaching a decision as to its future plans. This also is the type of action that should be given any request, whether it be from an existing industry in or near the community, or a new venture interested in locating in the area.

By looking after what we have and by helping as much as we can to attract others, is one sure way of helping this community and district develop to its full potential.

Whether or not the present inquiry bears fruit is not the entire issue. Every effort is being made to do what is humanly possible to attract industry and that kind of spirit and effort is eventually bound to bear fruit.

WHO SAID WINTERS ARE MILD?

During hte past few years scientists have told us that the reason that Winters in Canada are not as cold as they used to be, is due to the receding ice cap in the north. The less the huge ice fields and the farther away, the milder the weather becomes.

In a sense we're eventually going to become more of a moderate climate than the present dramatic change each year from Summer, to Fall, to Winter, to Spring.

Quite possibly we'll end up with a Spring and Summer year.

The only thing that bothers us a little is the fact that we personally won't be around to see all this happen. At the present rate of melting around the ice cap, it's going to take so many centuries that the old ticker will have worn itself to a frazzle. Just about the time we arrived at this conclusion we happened to tune into a television program where experiments are going on in the freezing of bodies. At present these scientists have just frozen a dog and they admit that scientists of today have not got the knowledge to bring back to life this dog.

But they do feel that within 100 years there is every possibility that man himself could be frozen, sort of in suspended animation, and at some distant time, brought back to life.

That's all well and good and it's nice that scientists are looking towards the day when life on this planet might cease to exist for some reason. But who is going to be the first volunteer. The moon may be way out, but to us this new idea is certainly a lot more "way out".

Nevertheless, all of us might some day take another look at the prospects. If it comes to a case of passing on with certainly no possibility of coming back, or the possibility of being frozen and some day thawing out, many will no doubt take the latter course.

Anyone want to be first?

RESTRAINT AGAINST ANARCHY

Most difficult of all disciplines is self-discipline. Voters in democratic countries often know that approving higher pensions for themselves is not good for the country, but who's to stop them? Does a reasoned argument for restraint get a candidate elected, or is the promise of supplying free beer for a beer-drinking populace a likelier lure to be commended to all statesmen?

Charles de Gaulle is considered by most Frenchmen to be the savior of France but many of the believers voted against the national hero.

In the 1940 election some young women working in a factory said they owed much to the Hon. Harry Stevens, but locally the opposing candidate, being handsome in an Air Force uniform, got the votes while the Stevens man was older and a civilian.

SUGAR AND SPICE
by Bill Smiley

A Winter Weekend

Winter is a delight to the young, a bit of a horror for the old, and a blasted nuisance for the rest of us.

Yet even for me, one of the most violent winter-haters in the last category, there are moments when it has a mysterious charm that cannot be duplicated at any other season.

Today is one of them. Nope, it's not one of those sparkling, crunchy, sky-blue winter days which no one but a complete misanthrope could fail to enjoy. It's just the opposite.

It's one of those brooding winter days when the shadow of the north hangs low over the shrinking earth, and his icy paw feels about the walls of the house, seeking a weak spot where he may enter and strangle.

His cold, blue breath raises snow-ghosts that sift silently among the naked, shivering trees. His very presence makes the blue-green spruce huddle closely, like frightened cattle in a storm. The water of the bay reflects fearfully the slate-gray of his sightless eyes.

Don't be frightened, children. The old spook won't get us. As long, that is, as the snow doesn't block the roads, and we don't run out of fuel, and there isn't a power breakdown.

It's a day for sitting by the fire with a hot noggin, dreaming, shivering deliciously once in a while, as the monster outside gives a snort of frustration that rattles the windows. And that's exactly what I'm doing.

We've been spending the weekend with the grandparents, in the country. It has followed its inevitable pattern. The night we arrived, it blew and it snew. In the morning it was still snowing, with a wind gusting to 40 miles an hour, piling up the drifts, filling the driveway.

Late in the day, the snow stopped, the wind dropped, and so did the temperature, to a nice round figure — zero. Typical visiting winter weekend.

But we care now. Flames dance in the fireplace, fairies on the television. Tomorrow is time enough to dig out the car, pray that it will start, and hope the snowplow will get through the side-road.

While the monster prowls outside, all is serene within. Grandad reminisces about winters 30 years ago, when he drove a rural mail route, with team and sleigh. Bundled to the ears. Buffalo robes. Snow piled to the top of snake fences. Stopping for lunch in the still shelter of deep spruce woods. Lonely as the Ancient Mariner, on a white, white sea. And home, darkness deepening, to cosy lamplight, snug farm kitchen, hot food, and anxious wife.

While he talks quietly, Granny produces endless pots of tea, cake, sandwiches, chocolates. The kids sprawl on the floor, strumming guitars or dreaming. The Old Battleaxe dozes, silent for once.

And even yours truly, lulled by the fire and stunned by a huge dinner, admits that there are times when winter can be wonderful.

Fish For Every Kettle

An industrial success story can be found around almost any corner in Canada these days yet too often we neglect to consider the hard work, headaches and constant planning that has woven the fabric of any successful enterprise. Very few industries in this, or any country, spring fully developed overnight like a mushroom. First, someone has had to have the vision of possibilities involved, then usually another someone has had to be so technically trained or financially aware of profit and loss, that pitfalls in the pathway of most undertakings can be avoided.

This is the story of a Nova Scotia Company. Today there is hardly a supermarket or grocer's frozen food counter in the country that does not make available to the consumer products of this reputedly world's largest fish processing plant. Add to an ever increasing domestic consumption the company's export business, and the reason for my having chosen it for one of my most enthusiastic reports on Canadian industries is apparent.

Lunenburg has always been one of my favorite visiting spots on the Atlantic Coast. I love the smell of a mixture of salt air, nostril tingling fishy odors that permeate the atmosphere and the quaint architecture apparent in the homes of many resident sea captains. It was when I heard CN had built a spur line into this most modern fish processing plant that my nose for news and a nostalgic longing for "places re-visited" led me to Battery Point on Lunenburg Harbor where the "dream plant come true" of Lunenburg Sea Products is now in prdouction, one of the group of companies comprising National Sea Products Ltd.

There is so much detail and romance in the development of the company it would take more than the words allowed me in each column to reveal. I hate to be so surgically clinical regarding the history of one of our most exciting enterprises, but let me briefly state that the Smith brothers can be said to be basically responsible for the whole thing. In December 1899 W. C. Smith & Co., owners of a fleet of fishing vessels, was incorporated. Original shareholders were eleven and the paid up capital amounted to $15,000! W. C. Smith was appointed president and general manager at a salary of $200 per year and Lewis H. Smith, the bookkeeper and clerk, drew down the munificent annual salary of $360. There were five Smith brothers and two nephews but Lewis, with $160 more in his pocket than the president, evidently was considered to be worthy of the extra salary because he had the headaches and heartaches connected with this expanding business.

Today it is a complex of many subsidiaries. My guess is that its worth, including processing plants and fishing fleets, could only be computed in millions.

Immaculate Kitchens

And now for the housewives of Canada I have news. I went through this plant. I saw the fluorescent lighting equipment for spotting parasites (many sea creatures are victims), the immaculate kitchens where those delectable filets are processed, or breaded as fish sticks. I saw the girls who are employed in various capacities as cooks and packers and the lads in their hip-high rubber boots who constantly wash down counters. I witnessed the processing of by-products (fish fins, etc.) into fish meal and saw the glow of the smoking ovens. I ended up in one of the most modern offices I have seen anywhere in my travels.

What more praise can I give an industry that is contributing so substantially, not only to our national health but in the industrial development pattern of the Maritime Provinces. As a prairie raised citizen, I have always been grateful for the brief time in my childhood spent on Prince Edward Island, where I learned to enjoy all sea foods.

We in Canada are experiencing an entirely new type of consumer demand. Since World War Two there has been an influx of Europeans, mostly from countries bordering on the sea, who have had undoubtedly an impact on the demand for fish and fish products. But let us not forget, the born Canadian is developing a cosmopolitan taste whether he be prairie raised or seaboard oriented. National Sea Products Ltd. is catering to this and CN is shipping thousands of tons of fish products annually across the nation as well as to export markets to meet the demand.

IROQUOIS HIGH SCHOOL

BY BARRY CALDWELL

My first duty this week is to make a retraction of a statement in last week's column.

Due to misunderstanding and misinformation, I was led to believe that marks in general for the Christmas Exams were lower, but actually this is not true.

Representative girls from this school attended a gymnastics Clinic in Cornwall last Saturday. Beyond this, I have no further information.

Preparations for "The Mikado", this year's Variety Night presentation, are under way.

Room 3 swings with the catchy strains of "If You Want to Know Who We Are", as the boys' chorus works out the rough spots in the vocal system.

Public speaking finals are scheduled for mid-February. At that time the successful class winners will speak before the public at the school.

Speaking of public speaking, the IHS high pressure salesmen will be out in force again, the first part of next month.

They will be around to sell chocolate bars made specially for the school for our Chocolate Bar Campaign.

That's the news for this week, so, I will cut off, here and now.

MATILDA 4-H HOMEMAKING CLUB

The Dundas County 4-H Homemaking Clubs held their Achievement Day in N.D.D.H.S. on Jan. 15th, 1966, the project being "Cottons May Be Smart". Clubs from Chesterfield, Colquhoun, Matilda, Morewood No. 1, Morewood No. 2, Mountain No. 1, Mountain No. 2, South Mountain, Winchester No. 1, Winchester No. 2, Winchester No. 3 participated in the day's activities. The morning was spent by judging dresses and materials and making slip-stitching samples. At noon the cafeteria was open for buying dinners. The mothers and visitors were entertained by skits or demonstrations from the various clubs and a fashion parade of dresses in the afternoon. The presentations of certificates, provincial and county honour pins and club spoons ended the afternoon.

The members of the Matilda 4-H Club would like to thank our Home Economist, Mrs. Murray, visiting Home Economists and our leaders Mrs. D. Froats and Mrs. G. Shaver for a very successful club.

The BIBLE Today

The Rev. Dr. Webb Garrison, minister of a Mehtodist Church in India, recently described in Christianity. Today his experiences with the use of Scripture portions in his visiting programme.

"Over the years I have tried practically all the devices commonly used to draw attention to the Christian message," he writes. "Year in and year out, however, I have seen the most impresive results of all come from the use of low-cost portions.

"Whenever I am calling, wheth er for evangelistic purposes of for visiting the sick and bereaved, I have a few copies of the Psalms and a Gospel or two in my pocket Sometimes I make a few notes on the flyleaf before handing the booklet to the person visited.

"At other times, I talk briefly about the way Scriptures can communicate with us in every situation of need, and I urge a troubled man or woman, 'Read this little book. Read it three or four or half a dozen times, until you find a personal message in it.'

"At least some of the persons who receive attractively printed portions of God's Word will open and read them and respond to their message," says Dr. Garrison.

4-H Homemaking Clubs Hold Achievement Day

Achievement Day for Dundas 4-H Homemaking clubs was held Saturday, January 15th at North Dundas District High School. This event marked the completion of "Cottons May Be Smart" for 128 members in eleven clubs throughout the county. Each member was required to make a cotton dress and to keep a record book.

Four members received Provincial Honours signifying the completion of twelve 4-H Homemaking club projects. Sylvia Bowman of Chesterville, Saralyn Merkley and Arlene Nesbitt of Winchester No. 1 club and Catherine Aitchison of Winchester No. 2 club received their Provincial Honour certificates and pins from Mrs. Foster Bowman, District President, Dundas Women's Institutes.

County Honour certificates and pins awarded on the completion of six projects, were presented by Mrs. Bowman to Elaine Sauve, and Janet Wilson of Chesterville; Corrie Bakker and Karen Craik of Morewood No. 1; Valerie Puddy of Mountain No. 1; and Valerie Puddy, Donna Salter and Barbara Weagant of South Mountain.

During the morning program, the club members judged classes of cotten dresses and cotton materials and gave reasons on their placings. They also did an activity by making a sample slip stitched hem.

Over sixty interested visitors attended the afternoon program which featured a variety of presentations by each club. Winchester No. 3 club showed an exhibit "Good Lines for Different Figures" with Debbie Gray commentating. Donna Salter of South Mountain commentated on her club's exhibit "Good Quality in Cottons." "Good Lines for Different Figures" by the Winchester No. 1 club was described further by Joan Allison. The fourth exhibit, "Cottons May Be Smart" was set up by the Colquhoun club. Cheryl Dennison was commentaotr.

Winchester No. 2 club presented "Cottons May Go Anywhere" in the form of a fashion show. Cotton fashions ranging from sleepwear to a party dress were modelled. Dianne Durant was the commentator. Three members of Mountain No. 2 club, Carol Fetterly, Barbara Ann Hoy and Caroline Arcand, demonstrated "How to Alter Patterns".

Using a flip chart and transparent pages with dress cut-outs, Lynne Gibson and Valeria Puddy of Mountain No. 1 demonstrated "Choosing Cotton for a Dress". The two Morewood clubs combined in presenting a fashion show "Cottons May Go Anywhere". Betty McLaughlin described the dresses which were modelled.

Janice Kleff of Matilda presented her club's demonstration "Choosing Cotton for a Dress". All the members of Chesterville club modelled their project dresses in "Cottons May Be Smort". Debbie Taylor was commentator.

After a short intermission, the 4-H Homemaking club members who had not already modelled their dresses took part in a fashion parade. One member of each club introduced the models.

A special five-year Leadership Award was presented to Mrs. Charles Beedie of Winchester No. 3 club. This was a National 4-H Award given to club leaders in recognition of club leadership.

Each member who completed the project and each leader were presented with a sterling silver 4-H Homemaking club teaspoon. This is standard recognition for 4-H Home making Club members in Ontario.

The Achievement Day was directed by the County Home Economist, Mrs. Alison Murray, assisted by the visiting Home Economists Miss Anne Elliott and Miss Michelle Tremblay and the club leaders.

The spring project "Accent on Accessories" will commence with a Training School for Leaders on Wednesday and Thursday, January 26th and 27th, 1966 at the Ontario Department of Agriculture Board Room, Winchester.

Don Kyle Named as Counties Warden

(Cornwall Standard-Freeholder)

Donald Kyle, reeve of Williamsburg Township, was sworn in as warden of the United Counties in formal ceremonies in the new jury courtroom of the Counties' Building here Monday afternoon.

The installation followed upon his unanimous selection as warden for 1966, on a motion by Frederick Hill, reeve of Morrisburg. Seconding the motion was Alfred Joanette, reeve of Lochiel. The two men escorted Mr. Kyle to the front of the room, where the oath of office was administered by Counties' Clerk-treasurer L. C. Kennedy. He was invested with the chain of office by the dean of council, J. L. McDonald, reeve of Cornwall Township. He was then escorted to the dias and formally seated at the desk from which the warden customarily presides.

Mr. Kyle called upon Rev. D. L. Gordon, minister of the United Churches at Williamsburg and Colquhoun, to offer prayer and conduct the ceremony of invocation. Mr. Gordon read the 121st Psalm, which begins "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help," and asked God's help for council in all its decisions and deliberations during 1966.

In his own remarks, Mr. Kyle thanked the members of council for the honor of becoming warden, as well as those who carried out the installation ceremony. He also thanked the electors of Williamsburg, without whose continued support, he said, he could not have reached the position he holds.

Mr. Kyle welcomed the two new members of council present. Neil MacLean, deputy reeve of Kenyon, and John McBain deputy reeve of Lancaster, and paid tribute to county officials and staff. He also called attention to the presence of nearly 50 grade eight students from Williamsburg, who attended the opening session in a body, and thanked the school board for arranging this. It is believed this was the first occasion students attended such a session of council.

Reviewing business in prospect, Mr. Kyle referred to an anticipated visit by Mr. Dougal of the Ontario Department of Reform Institutions, who will discuss regional jails with council. He also indicated the eight new bridges are completed and will be debentured for. The centennial project, a new chapel at Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge is well under way and should be completed in time for the centennial year observances. The counties' part in these observances will have to be planned by the 1966 council.

Mr. Kyle introduced members of his family and members of Williamsburg township council, and invited F. M. Cass, Q.C., and MPP for Dundas, to speak.

"The opening ceremonies today are as impressive as any I have seen, and I have attended a considerable number of counties' council sessions," Mr. Cass said.

Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP for Glengarry, added his congratulations and good wishes, and mentioned that increasing demands are made upon council each year.

"I am sure you can count on the co-operation of all," he said.

Letters of regret because of their absence due to opening of Parliament, were read from Viateur Ethier, M.P. for Glengarry, and Lucien Lamoureux, MP for Stormont.

A number of former members of council congratulated Mr. Kyle on his election as warden. Mr. Kyle called past warden Charles E. Blair of Moose Creek from his place in council to the front of the room and presented him with a framed color photograph of his own investitute in 1965 as a gift from council. Mr. Blair said the picture would have a prominent place in his home.

The council appointed chairmen of standing committees before adjournment yesterday afternoon: Kenzie McGillivray of Finch, is chairman of the printing committee; L. C. Davis, Iroquois, of the Resolutions and Memorials Committee; Carl Merkley of Chesterville, Education; Cecil McNabb of Winchester of Equalization of Assessment; Bruno Massie of Alexandria, of the Public Welfare; Alex McNaughton of Lancaster Township, Agriculture: Albert Faubert of Kenyon, forestry; J. L. McDonald of Cornwall, county property; James Zeran of Osnabruck, roads and bridges, and Archibald MacDonell, chairman of finance.

The last appointment mentioned is particularly significant because it has been the custom for many years to elect the chairman of the finance committee to the warden's chair for the year following his chairmanship of the finance committee.

Have We Any Beauties

The Seaway Valley Travel Council has announced it will sponsor a "Miss Seaway Valley" to enter in the 12th annual Miss Eastern Ontario Contest in Perth on February 26, sponsored by the Perth Chamber of Commerce.

The winner of Miss Eastern Ontario will go on to the Miss Dominion of Canada Beauty Pageant.

This Travel Council is anxious to take advantage of the wide publicity for this area, and has offered to underwrite the expenses of a contestant this year.

Anyone knowing of a suitable young lady entry is asked to supply any Travel Council Director with a photograph (returnable), vital statistics and any details which may assist in her selection. There is no age limit.

The only basis of judging will be Natural Beauty, Diction and Poise. The local "Miss Seaway Valley" will be selected by a committee from the entries submitted by Feb. 7th.

Prizes at Perth on Feb. 26th include a mink stole, cash bursary, all-expense-paid airline return trip to Niagara Falls for Miss Dominion Pageant and other valuable prizes.

A picture of "Miss Seaway Valley" will also appear in 75,000 copies of the 1966 Seaway Valley Tourist Folders.

The success of this promotion will depend on the assistance of the Directors, the press, and others, without which we will be unable to seek out a suitable contestant over such a wide area.

As "Miss Seaway Valley", it is expected the winner may appear at various public functions in an honourary capacity, and if successful in winning wider laurels, we expect she will memorize some of the more interesting tourist features of Seaway Valley (give away local championship cheese, miniature lacrosse sticks, etc.) and speak knowingly of the local attractions.

The Seaway Valley Travel Council will pay the travelling expenses including chaperone, and certain other out-of-pocket expenses relative to becoming "Miss Seaway Valley."

Note: Mail entries to Contest Chairman, Stuart Markell, Ingleside, Ont.

Winner at Perth wins all-expense trip to Niagara Falls to Miss Dominion of Canada Pageant, mink stole, cash bursary from Ottawa Gas, four pairs of Naturalizer shoes and matching purses, and other prizes.

Your Telephone Manager

ARMS, INSTANTS, and TONGUES

If you're good at riddles, it shouldn't be very hard to find the answer to these three questions:
What can reach across a continent, yet has no hands?
What takes you places in an instant, yet never moves itself?
What speaks in a thousand tongues, yet has none of its own?

The answer is of course your telephone . . . that easy-to-use convenience that takes you places every day, helps the family in so many ways. It helps you get news and information, make dates, invite guests, arrange meetings and social activities. It's a very comfortable way to go shopping in blustery January days without getting your feet cold . . . and the only way to check with the baby-sitter without leaving the party. There's certainly no question that the telephone has many uses. Whenever you need it — whatever you need it for— it's always there to call on.

Telephone Chains — Lifelines for the Elderly

For the benefit of Iroquois residents who may not have seen a recent item in "Telephone News," the leaflet which accompanies telephone bills, I'd like to sum it up again here. It's one of those things that automatically make you wonder why it wasn't thought of long ago. It concerns elderly people — particularly those who live alone — and the fear that sudden illness or accident may one day prevent them from even reaching the phone to call for help. The answer to this problem, as suggested by the Leaside (Ontario) branch of the Red Cross, is a "telephone chain" of five or six elderly people who phone each other every day in a pre-arranged order. That is, each chain member makes one phone call and receives one call every day. If a chain member cannot reach the member he is to call, he notifies the member who acts as Chain Captain. If the Chain Captain cannot reach the member within a few hours, he in turn notifies the chain's sponsoring group (which can be a church, social or women's club, or any group of interested citizens) and one of the sponsors immediately makes a visit to find out the reason for the unanswered phone.

Apart from the obvious security of mind such a system brings, it has other advantages as well. It is the elderly people themselves who check up on one another, giving them a definite role and responsibility to enjoy, and of course very close friendship can easily develop from the daily conversations.

Information on suggested procedures for organizing a Telephone Chain is available in brochure form from the Senior Citizens Committee, Ontario Division, Canadian Red Cross Society, 460 Jarvis St., Toronto 5, Ontario.

ANON

And finally, in a salute to the New Year we're now in, a few words from an anonymous philospher:

"It's wise to take an interest in your future — that's where you're going to spend the rest of your life."

D. C. Curry

"IF WINTER EVER COMES, SPRING WILL NOT BE FAR BEHIND"

The smell of the earth, in spring time, seemed to be in the air as last year's December quietly slipped away. The "June in January" weather that followed briefly, can be a reminder to you in your planning for tree planting this spring. Perhaps you have been thinking about those few idle acres that always seem so difficult to maintain. OR, you have been looking at that old, stately row of trees set out sixty or seventy years ago for protection and beauty, and thinking — how long will they last? Shouud I be doing something about replacing them? OR, your wife has made the remark, How nice it would be to have a windbreak off the windy west corner of the yard". Trees have influenced man's life for centuries and have dominated our landscape to create in us an inherent appreciation for their need

Trees for winbreaks or shelterbelts and for larger areas for reforestation are available from the Provincial Forest Nurseries of the Department of Lands and Forests nearest you. The major nurseries are located throughout the Province of Ontario at Dryden, Fort William, Swastika, Midhurst, St. Williams, Orono and Kemptville.

Before your tree planting programme becomes a reality several things have to be considered. The following check list prepared by the Timber Branch will serve as a guide —

1. How many acres must I have? Two acres or more free of buildings.

2. How much do trees cost? Scots Pine is $14.00 per 1,000 trees; all other species are $10.00 per 1,000 trees f.o.b. the nursery.

3. What is the minimum number of trees I can order? 25 trees of each species.

4 What species are usually available? Scots Pine, White Pine, Red Pine, Jack Pine, White Spruce, White Cedar, European Larch, Tamarack, Black Spruce, Norway Spruce, White Ash, Silver Maple, Red Oak, Carolina Poplar and Black Locust.

5. Which of the above species are best suited to my needs? Contact the office of the Department of Lands and Forests nearest you. A member of the Timber Staff will examine your property with you and give advice and assistance in planning your planting project.

6 How are trees obtained? Application Forms TM-523 are available from the Department of Lands and Forests. The completed form is forwarded to the District Forester in your area. Be sure your application is accurate and complete.

Should trees be reserved ahead of time? Yes. Reservations are made in the order the application is received. An invoice and notice of reservation will be mailed to you at that time, showing the quantity of stock reserved, the amount of charges owing and the date when payment is due.

8. What about delivery? Nursery stock reserved and paid for ahead of time may be shipped via express to your nearest express office or you may wish to come to the nursery and pick up your trees personally. Indicate your pref erence on the back of the form in the space provided.

Summer and early fall requests for planning assistance and ordering of nursery stock are sure ways of realizing your planting ambitions — for two reasons. Trees are in adequate supply and applications are filled on a first come, first served basis, and Department staff can carry out their planning service more effectively.

In Memoriam

MILLWARD — In loving memory of Thomas E. Millward who died January 21st, 1965.

Precious one from us is gone
A voice we loved is still
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
Gone but not forgotten

And ever remembered by loving wife, Annie, and daughters, Gladys and Marjorie and families.

MERKLEY — In memory of a dear husband and father, James Henry Merkley, who passed away January 25th, 1960.

Gone from us, but leaving
Memories
Death can never take away,
Memories that will always Linger
While upon this earth we stay.

Wife and family and grandchildren

McCURDY — In loving memory of a dear son and brother Larry James McCurdy who was accidentally killed January 22, 1958.

You left behind an aching heart,
That loved you most sincere
We never did, nor never will Forget you Larry dear.

Mum, Dad, Dean, Audry, Cathy.

MERKLEY — In loving memory of a dear mother who passed away December 12, 1929, and in memory of two brothers, Jimmy and Walter, who passed away January 25, 1960, and February 3, 1961.

God took them home,
It was His will,
But in our hearts we love them still
Their memories are as dear
today
As in the hour they passed away
We often sit and think of them
When we are all alone.
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

Lovingly remembered by Percy & Clara Merkley.

Haddo Takes Defeat

Playing in Perth on Friday 14, the Haddo jrs. gamely played to their second defeat, of the season, the first two periods the local boys were over anxious and badly disorganized but recovered in the last period to score three goals, to leave the ice 9-5 for Perth. Another defeat but some the wiser in regard to positional play.

On Monday night 17th, the Haddo Club were hosts to Prescott in the Morrisburg Arena where they really done themselves proud by playing the game as it should be played for two periods, the third period the local boys still played hard but with a bit of our confidence, against a strong Prescott team the 7-3 lead was overcome and we had to accept another loss of 8-7, this was a hard one to loose. Coach's comment, the boys all played hard and to the best of their ability and experience, we are still in their trying.

The Iroquois Legion Branch 370 are sponsoring their regular dance night January 29th in the Iroquois Civic Centre with the profits to be donated to the Haddo Matilda Township jr. hockey club. We appreciate this fine gesture by the Legion and hope that our showing in the rest of the regular season will be worthy of their donation and support.
