C. of C. receives confirmation . . .

Santa to visit Chesterville Saturday

Chesterville Chamber of Commerce held a meeting last Wednesday evening in the dining hall of the McCloskey Hotel.

Number one item on the agenda was the reading of a letter from the Jolly Lad from the North Pole advising the Chamber that he would be able to make his visit to Chesterville on Saturday, December 15. The members breathed a sigh when the confirmation that Santa could make it was read.

The Chamber over the past few years has taken on a similar roll to Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer, they lend a hand to keep things moving while Santa Claus is making his annual visit.

The good Saint had advised that he could be on hand in the afternoon and any plans should be made for that period. The parade will start to form up at the Legion Hall at 1 p.m. and will move out at 1.30.

The parade will move from the Legion Hall, cross over Main past the Justus residence, make a right turn on King Street. It will move down King to the town square; at the square, it will make a right turn onto Main, North on Main then west on Queen Street to the arena. When the parade reaches the arena Santa will be invited inside where he will get a chance to offer all children a sack of goodies and chat a bit.

Members were appointed to contact all businesses re their entry of a float in Saturday's parade.

Judges were chosen to pick the top floats in the parade. Mrs Gordon Lannin, Robert Coleman and Cecil Dillabough will have the task. George Countryman and Brian Kennedy will act as parade marshals.

With plans for the parade well under control discussion was held about the new ice machine, which the Chamber of Commerce has on order to be placed in the new arena.

Chamber member Bernie St. Germain who has had constant contact with the prefabricator, reported that the machine was in the final stages and should be in operation at the arena any day.

Plans for payment of the machine have been established — $1,000 upon delivery with the balance in payments to be all cleared away by the spring of 1974. It was the feelings of the Chamber membership that they should have little difficulty fulfilling the commitment.

The "Chamber" is planning another of their always popular Pub Nights to be held this Saturday evening. Chesterville's own Robert Boulanger, who has played in the National Arts Centre, accompanied by several others will provide the music for dancing.

Preliminary plans were made for the upcoming Winter Carnival. Del and Roger haave been booked to be on hand for the Carnival Queen Contest which will be held on Friday evening as has been the practice of other years. Already some new things have been added to this years program — The Chesterville Skating club have been contacted and have agreed to put on a demonstration at the arena.

Notification of an executive meeting to be held in the very near future to further plans for the Winter Carnival was made.

With Santa's visit set, the ice machine on its way and preliminary plans for the carnival under their belt, the members decided it had been a full evening and entertained a motion to adjourn.

Receive Grant

Three local ladies who have a keen interest in the preservation of our environment have taken things seriously and are now in a position to do something about it.

The gals made application some weeks ago for a Local Initiative Grant to get the project underway. Word has been received this week that the grant is forthcoming and will keep things moving from January to May in 1974.

The personnel working on the Chesterville Project are Karen O'Connor, Project Officer; Karen Boulanger and Sally Gillies, co-workers.

Tentative plans have been made that glass and waste paper will be picked up on Mondays and Wednesdays with delivery to disposal sites taking place on

Construction worker finds historic documents
Renovation contract uncovers old newspapers

Garbriel Martel, a resident of Joseph Street, Chesterville, in the line of duty last week, came up with some real gems.

Gabriel is an employee of Panther Construction. The firm have been awarded the contract of renovating the burnt out residence of Dr. Sherwood, Winchester. The Sherwood residence was badly damaged by fire recently.

The young workman was busy removing some damaged boards from the floor when he spotted something white, which had not been damaged by the fire or the water that was poured on the building to contain the flames. Further investigation proved most interesting. The small cache was made up of old newspapers that had been placed there, either when the house was built or when some renovations had been made.

The construction worker now has in his possession: a copy of the Toronto Globe, 1921; the Guelph Evening Mercury, 1926; the Ottawa Evening Journal, 1917; and Extra Edition of the Montreal Gazette, 1918; the Ottawa Evening Journal, 1916; the Toronto Globe, February 4, 1916; and a copy of the same vintage of the Winchester Press.

The old newspapers are in excellent condition considering their age. G. H. McKeown must have been the recipient of the papers, this is the name that shows on a sticker at the top of the papers.

The Globe carrying the dateline February 4, 1961, has a most interesting fron page. The major headline reads in part — "Fire Destroys Canada's Parliament Building. The Outbreak came with a dramatic suddeness while House was in Session, The Most Picturesque Public Building in North America is a Shapeless Ruin — Several Lives Lost — Fire believed to be work of the enemy."

"Dramatic ending to Commons Sitting, Great Walls of smoke rolled into the Chamber. Members escaped without hats or coats, Speaker Sevigny and his wife jump into fire nets, some gallant attempts at rescue, nothing could check the flames."

"At 1:30 this morning it is feared that the total death list is six. The bodies of two women have been recovered. They are Madame Bray, wife of Mr H. A. Bray and Madame Morin, wife of Mr L. Morin, both of Quebec, who were guests of Mme. Sevigny. Two Dominion Policemen and two employees of the House are definitely reported missing. The latter are: Robert Fanning, attached to the Speaker's Staff and Alfred Desjardins, in the Commons Post Office Department. The four men, with several others, were helping to fight the fire in the rooms below the Speaker's Chamber when the roof fell in."

Not all the news was grime on this day in 1916 — the weather: probabilities, Fair and Cold; the Markets: Canadian Markets Firm

The Montreal Gazette, the issue of November 11, 1918, which sold for three cents had a front page just covered with what is now termed history.

"Germany has Signed Armistice, Hostilities ceased 11 o'clock Paris Time, 6 o'clock Montreal Time. Great War is Ended, Germany Signs Terms.

"Washington, November 11 — The world war will end this morning at 6 o'clock, Washington Time, 11 o'clock Paris time. The armistice was signed by the Germans representatives at midnight. This announcement was made by the State Department at 2.50 o'clock this morning.

The terms of the armistice, it was announced, will not be made public until later. Military men here, however, regard it as certain that they include immediate retirement of the German military forces from Erance, Belgium and Alsace-Lorraine."

All twenty pages printed by the Gazette on November 11, 1918, carry the same war theme throughout.

Going through the old papers makes very, very interesting reading and anyone wishing to go over the papers more carefully should get in touch with Gabriel Martel, undoubtedly he will co-operate.

Fire Chief
Plans outlined for Christmas fire safety

A Happy Christmas can change in a few moments into a family tragedy, warns Chesterville Fire Chief Grenville Fyke, in homes where fire safety precautions are neglected. Such precautions should head the list of every sensible family's preparations for Christmas, he says.

The Fire Chief urges the public to exercise special care in the setting up and decoration of Christmas trees, and draws attention to the following important points:

If plans call for a natural tree it should be bought fresh and green, and kept outdoors or in an unheated garage before being brought into the home for decorating. Then, one or two inches should be cut diagonally from the butt, and the tree should be set up with the butt in water which should be maintained above the level of the cut.

Check strings of electric lights carefully for worn insulation, broken plugs or loose bulb sockets. Only CSA-approved lighting sets and only non-flammable decorations should be used. Declare the tree a no-smoking area and keep matches out of the hands of children.

Do not allow discarded gift wrappings to accumulate under the tree. Dispose of them as soon as the gifts are openend. Even a green tree will burn if ignited by burning paper around the base.

Set up the tree away from heat sources such as fireplaces, TV sets or radiators. Do not allow it to block access to doors or windows in the event of fire. Switch off tree lights at bedtime or when leaving the house.

Fire Chief Fyke points out that tests have proved that the safest tree is a tree with its butt set in water. However, if a tree has dried out before it is set up, it cannot regain its safe moisture level. A dry tree can be ignited by a single match, to burn violently to a charred state in a few seconds.

Bits & Pieces

And you think you pay a lot for beef

A case of 'Supply and Demand'

Beginning on January 1, 1974, the price of a one-year subscription as well as the single copy cost of the "Record" will be increased. For the past six months we've kicked the situation around and tried to figure a way to hold the line. At the current rate of inflation the final decision was made easy for us. It was a simple case of supply and demand — the demand on our pocket books to pay the bills was just not keeping up with the supply of money we had to work with. You can renew your subscription for one year, or ten, up until Monday, December 31, 1973, at the old rate, after that it will be $6.00 per year and 15c for a single copy.

1972 Souvenir Card

The 1972 Souvenir Card, containing all commemorative and special issue postage stamps issued by Canada Post Office in 1972, will be on sale this week in most Post Office outlets. This year's issue is actually an 8-page booklet, bound in an attractive red and gold embossed cover. The stamps, packaged in a "cello pack", have a face value of $1.63. The booklet itself sells for $2 and is enclosed in an attractive envelope ready for mailing.

Anyone for a Christmas Greeting?

The December 20th issue of the Record, in which we plan to print the Christmas Greetings, will be our final printing for 1973. With Christmas falling on Tuesday it is almost impossible for us to get an issue out that week. The first issue in January with a dateline of January 3rd will make it, even if it is a day late. Anyone desiring a Christmas greeting ad or wanting to note an event coming up before January 3rd, give us a call.

It's hard to believe . . . but

Morrisburg Carnival Committee, in a news release this week, announced that they have completed plans for their Winter Carnival. The dates for the gala event have been set for February 9th to 16th. The show will be opened with a complete show put on by the Figure Skating Club, the wind-up will feature a bang-up dance. Between the opening show and the closing dance they will offer interesting entertainment daily. Circle these dates on your calendar. Plan now to attend Morrisburg's Annual Winter Carnival.

C. of C. Pub Night

It's probably unnecessary but we would like to draw your attention to the fact that the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce is holding a Pub Night this Saturday evening in the Community Hall. By now it's probably established that the Chamber's Pub Nights are very popular and always fun. Robert Boulanger and company, have guaranteed us that they can provide dance music to suit everyone.

Going! Going! almost gone!

Officials with the Embrun Panthers Hockey Team informed us this week that tickets to the December 28th game, when the Yugoslavian Nationals will play the Embrun Panthers, are almost all gone. They have held tight-fistedly to a few tickets which they are holding especially for natives of Yugoslavia. If you would like a ticket call the arena at 443-2814 after 7 p.m. before this Saturday.

Strawberrries in December

We received a note this week from C. W. Stillson of Newington regarding the fact that he had been picking ripe strawberries on December 4th this year. Mr Stillson reports the berries are big and juicy and there are many blossoms on the plants. With the weather that has set in over the past few days, the berries should be, with the addition of sugar, ready to be popped directly into the freezer.

Bernie Harper, coach of the Chesterville Pee Wee team, decided a couple of weeks ago that he would like to raise a few dollars to buy jackets at season's end for his team members. Last Wednesday evening the first ticket was drawn in a 50-50 draw he is running. Roger Desourmeaux of Finch is now ahead $155. Of course Bernie's team have banked the other half. Not bad for a Minor Hockey team.

Writing —

Lord Chesterfield was noted for a series of letters of advice on manners written to his son in 1774. He gave this good advice for everyone who writes: "Every paragraph should be so clear . . . that the dullest fellow in the world will not be able to misstate it, nor obliged to read it twice in order to understand it."

Oriental Philosophy

We discovered this little gem, and thought it worth passing along. Lin Yutang says, "When small men begin to cast big shadows, it means the sun is about to set."

"Don't send — take your boy to the arena" is a slogan put forth by the Minor Hockey Association of Canada. As is quite evident by this picutre, the people in and around Chesterville don't have to be reminded of the slogan, they are ardent fans and supporters when "Johnny" takes to the ice. But Will It Make A Christmas Tree?

Have you ever gone through the experience of purchasing a tree that looks perfect in the lot, but turns out to be not quite what you had in mind? Be sure of your requirements before you buy, says W. J. Devins, a farm products inspector with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

The freshness of a tree is an important consideration. Fresh trees reduce fire hazards and keep their needles longer. You might consider taking the family out to one of the cut-your-own tree plantations. There you may pick out the tree you want and by cutting it yourself, know that it is fresh.

Each species has its own characteristics. While Scotch pine is still the most popular tree, cultured spruce, balsam fir, and even cedars, are being used more often as Christmas trees.

The trees are pruned regularly until harvest to give them a full, yet natural shaping. "Producers trim carefully to remove undesirable growth, deformities, and damage from insects, rodents, or birds," Devins adds.

Mr Devins suggests that unless you are willing to take a chance, don't buy a "baled" tree. Baled trees are either wrapped with twine or enclosed with plastic netting, a process which makes shipping much easier. However, buying a tree still in its bale may hide a crooked trunk or gaps in the branches.

Look the tree over well, remembering that the branches will come down once the tree is put up indoors. Is the trunk straight? Nothing is more frustrating than trying to put up a bent tree. Will it fit in the location picked out for it? Most trees sold range from four to eight feet; the smaller ones are very popular for apartment dwellers.

Schooling – How Early?

More than 40 years ago, the late Dr. W. E. Blatz, most prominent Canadian child psychologist of the thirties, predicted that "within 50 years, children will be in school at the age of two years." That prophesy is close to fulfilment, with the almost phenomenal increase in the number of nursery, day care and pre-kindergarten facilities now available for children.

Dr. Blatz at the time emphasized that "the period from two to five years of age is possibly the most important for the formative training of the child's character." More recent research in the field of child psychology has indicated that even very young children are capable of learning a great deal more than was ever thought possible. More and more it is realized that many deprived homes fail to provide the necessary stimulation — if their children are to reach a level of intelligence and social adaption which will enable them to compete more effectively in our highly competitive society.

More than 40 years ago, Dr. Blatz predicted that the cost for such a wholesale "School Age at Two" program would double the expenditure on education within 50 years. For many different reasons, we've reached that point all ready. Yet it would be unwise to pare the educational budget where the right to pre-kindergarten training would be denied to those children who definitely require it.

One reasonable way out remains — namely that fees for pre-kindergarten schooling be charged on the basis of total family income. Even today, that policy is followed in a number of tax-supported day-care centres. If more generally applied, it would mean that those parents who want and who can afford this training for their children would pay for it — those with lower incomes would pay less.

Ann Landers...

Dear Ann Landers: My boyfriend just won his black belt in judo. He is very proud of it and manages to work it into any conversation. You could be talking about the failure of the coffee crop in Brazil and he will find some way to demonstrate a judo hold.

Unfortunately, he doesn't know his own strength. A few weeks ago he sprained my father's back. Last week he dislocated his brother-in-law's shoulder. Yesterday he knocked the wind out of me in the living room of some friends. I nearly died of embarrassment when they picked me off the floor and helped me to the sofa. He broke the heel off my clog and bent my medallion out of shape. Also my hairpiece fell off and I felt like a fool.

This bull has no idea that he makes himself ridiculous and nobody cares to see such demonstrations, especially in a room where there is nice furniture and lamps. I am not even mentioning this business of hurting people. He reads your column and thinks you are "with it." Will you give me a hand, please? — No Tackle Dummy

Dear N.T.D.: Maybe he thinks I'm "with it" but since you're the one he's doing his muscle number on it's up to you to tell him. A social get-together is no place to demonstrate brute strength. Tell him in no-nonsense language if he doesn't keep his hands off you and everybody else he'll be going solo.

Dear Ann Landers: It's a dog's life at our house. This became painfully evident when my wife bought four cans of food — three for the dogs at 39 cents each, and one can for humans at 31 cents.

My wife has agreed that the dogs must go now that our three children are in high school. They are so disinterested in the dogs that they won't feed or care for them. My wife must do it (I refuse). The children had a confab and agreed to take the dogs to the dog pound, a threat which my wife has made repeatedly in an effort to get the dogs fed and cared for. Now she says she hasn't the heart to do it, knowing they will be killed if nobody "adopts" them within two weeks.

I am a stepfather to these children, and while I built the doghouse and fenced in the lot, I don't feel that I should take the pound.

There are 32 million dogs in the United States and almost as many families with some doggone problem. We depend upon your column extensively. How say you? — E.B.S.

Dear E.B.S.: I say you and your wife should insist that those kids assume responisbility for the dogs. Don't ASK 'em. The idea of carting the family pets to the pound because three kids are too darned lazy to take care of them is disgraceful. And that parents would allow it is outrageous.

Dear Ann Landers: After 28 years of a happy marriage our lives are falling apart. The problem is our 24-year-old daughter. She has flipped over an 18-year-old unemployed student. She does his laundry, lets him use her car and "lends" him money. This girl is college educated and a senior medical technician in a hospital. Her affair with this boy is driving my husband wild.

Our 22-year-old son thinks she has gone bananas. The parents of the boy resent this "older woman" latching onto this kid. Our house is in a constant uproar because of this. What can we do — Hell In Wisconsin

Dear Wis.: You can stop attacking the situation. The your daughter will no longer need to defend it. Even if she wanted to ditch the kid she couldn't because it would look as if you made her do it. Lay off.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654.

DON IRVINE REPORTS

Donald R. Irvine, MPP for Grenville-Dundas
7th Floor Frost Building Toronto Tel 416-965-6701

Legislative approval was given recently to a government bill which will provide a payment of $50 to a majority of Ontario's old age pensioners and the cheques will be received in time for Christmas. This is a lump sum payment that is in addition to anything else that our old age pensioners receive. It is not a part of any existing program and has come about simply because the provincial government recognizes that current inflationary trends have eroded the buying power of our senior citizens. It is designed to assist those who are particularly in need at this time.

The debate on the bill once more focuses our attention on what people in this province, sixty-five and over, actually receive as a total of federal and provincial contributions. During the course of the debate, the opposition, particularly the NDP, took the position that the Ontario government should supplement the monthly federal payments so that senior citizens receive a minimum of $209.00 per month — the present rate applicable in the province of British Columbia and according to the NDP the highest in Canada.

Well, there's more than one way of looking at the whole thing but there are two points here that should be kept in mind. First of all, this whole field is being exhaustively studied with a view toward instituting a complete overhaul in the near future. Secondly Ontario's introduction of a series of income tax credits means that you must calculate the benefit received other than on a straight monthly basis.

Let's take a look at the actual figures for a single senior citizen, 65 years of age or older, with little or no income from other sources. The universal Old Age Security coverage presently totals $105.30 per month and because it is adjusted quarterly according to changes in the cost-of-living index, that figure will go to $108.14 on the 1st of January. In addition, those with little or no other income receive what is known as the Guaranteed Income Supplement. Currently that figure is $73.86 per month and with the re-adjustment will become $75.85 in January. Taken together they total $179.16 and that becomes $84.00 after the new year. Expressed on an annual basis, the figure is presently $2,150.00 rising next month to $2,208.00.

Let's leave out of our calculations, for the moment, the adjusted increases for 1974 and talk about what our single person has received for the year 1973. To that figure we will add the various amounts that the provincial government contributes. First of all, the province pays the senior citizens' health premiums which amount to $11.00 a month or $132.00 a year. In addition, we have to calculate the various tax credits that are claimed on the 1973 income tax forms to be filed early in 1974. If a person has less income than the total of his various expemtions, he is entitled to receive a rebate and that rebate, in this case, will be the total of the tax credits available.

The property tax credit, first introduced in 1972, will this year average about $125.00. Two new tax credits have been added this year and the senior citizen in our example would be eligible to receive both of them. The first, a pensioner tax credit, amounts to $100 and is available, as its name implies, only to people age 65 and over. The sales tax credit will work out to approximately $26.00.

When we add all these up, including the federal payments and the recent $50.00 sum, we get a total annual income of $2,583.00. When we express that in monthly terms, it works out to $215 per month. Somewhat in excess, you will note, of the British Columbia payment.

The case of a married couple both receiving Old Age Pension and Guaranteed Income Supplement is somewhat different primarily due to a reduction in the Guaranteed Income Supplement of the federal government for married couples. As well, the provincial property tax credit and pensioner tax credits are designed to reduce the impact of municipal property tax on pensioners and can be claimed only once. Without going into all the calculations, it works out very close to $200.00 per month for each person or $400.00 for the couple.

Since this will be my final column of 1973, I don't want to miss this opportunity to wish all of my friends and constituents in Grenville-Dundas a very sincere Merry Christmas and a Happy and productive New Year. 1973 has been an extrememly busy year for me, both as member of the Leigslature and as a Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs. It has, however, been a very satisfying and rewarding experience and I look forward to 1974 with the hope that I will be of continuing service to the people of our area.

There's a special kind of snowmobiler around who wants to go everywhere winter goes. Over open, unpacked snow, up the biggest hills, through deep, forest trails.

Anywhere you want to go

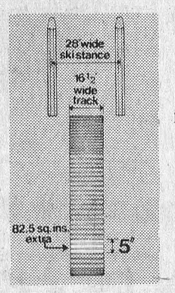
Until now most snowmobiles couldn't take you everywhere you wanted to go. This winter there's one that will.

The new T'NT Everest by Ski-Doo.

Now you're free to take the rough with the smooth, take the powdered snow or the icy trail.

Bigger track, better traction

Now you can lead the pack anywhere, because Everest puts together the power and hustle of T'NT with the extra flotation of a king-size track.



It's a full 16½" wide. And an extra 5" long. With 1247 square inches of rubber on the snow, and a light, steel-reinforced aluminum frame, Everest keeps ground pressure down to a ⅓ of a pound per square inch.

Even riding two-up, you can charge up steep hills and soar over deep snow. And go places you never dared to go before.

Power, traction...

T'NT Everest sports a powerhouse 436.6 cc Rotax engine with extra transfer ports and chrome-plated cylinders for cooler running and longer wear. And it makes sure you get the most out of that power, with a positive-acting Square Shaft clutch, its giant-sized, deep profile continuous rubber track, plus Ski-Doo carbide ski runners that get a good grip on icy surfaces.

But Everest doesn't just get you where you're going, it gets you there in style. With a three layer foam sandwich seat, a completely adjustable slide suspension system and standard equipment tachometer, speedometer, and tripometer.

Get the facts on the big milk maker

Find out how HARVESTORE® is helping others multiply manpower, landpower production and profit

Dairymen in our area are producing more milk per acre by harvesting high moisture corn, other grains and forages early when protein and TDN are highest and field losses lowest.
These valuable nutrients are then locked in and processed through their HARVESTORE System.
Many dairymen also process cornlage (low-moisture silage) through their HARVESTORE. This gives them the extra feed value of the entire plant. The lower moisture level of cornlage also eliminates the hauling and storage of unneeded water.
Now add the labor-saving advantages of HARVESTORE bottom unloading and automated feeding. Small wonder so many dairymen consider HARVESTORE the key to increased efficiency, profit and productivity.

Clement's Feeds Midgets split games down Metcalfe, lose to Osgoode

On Wednesday, December 5th, Clement's Midget Hockey team was at home to a team from Osgoode. The Osgoode team came to town as being one of the best in the league and on this evening they proved they were worthy of this thought when they downed the locals by a score of 3 to 1.

The initial period was a see-saw affair with both teams missing sterling opportunities to gain the upper hand until at the 13.42 mark Osgoode's D. Harrison found the range and put his team ahead 1 to 0. R. Blue drew an assist on the goal. J. Holmes of the visiting team drew the only penalty of the period.

The fact that the visitors had scored first seemed to spark their team as the second frame was all their way and they added two more goals. C. Scobie scored unassisted at the 2.52 mark, J. Fee drew an assist on D. Labreque's goal which was tallied at 5.47. Chesterville took three penalties in the middle frame — Dave Arnold for high sticking, Dave Cross for high sticking and Gord Ziebell for the same infraction. Osgoode players J. Fee served two two-minute sessions.

As the third period opened it was Chesterville playing catch up hockey while Osgoode were protecting their three-goal lead. Dave Arnold, for the locals, found the range at 9.55 and spoiled the Osgoode goalies bid for a shut-out. Osgoode took all the penalties of the third stanza — C. Hyland for charging, D. Labreque, a misconduct and J. Rochon for tripping.

The game was held up at the 13.40 spot when a fan was ejected from the arena for taking a swipe at referee Reg Gibson. The game proceeded at this point without further incident.

Final score Osgoode 3, to Chesterville's 1.

Chesterville's Midgets following their loss to Osgoode travelled to Metcalfe last Saturday and took their wrath out on that team. When the final whistle had sounded the local lads had racked up 7 goals to Metcalfe's 2.

The Chesterville team jumped into an early lead when Dave Arnold scored unassisted at 2.34. Metcalfe's Moe Robinson tied the game at the 5.50 mark. Before the period had ended Chesterville had tallied two more goals — Kevin Smith at 6.35 and Greg Casselman at 13.16. Metcalfe's J. Porteous drew the only penalty of the first period.

The second period belonged to Clement's as they scored two unanswered goals. Dave Cross unassisted at 5.25 and the second was credited to Lorne Cook, Dave Arnold drew an assist on Cook's goal. Each team was assessed a penalty in the middle frame. Chesterville's Dave Barkley was tabbed for tripping. Metcalfe's D. Hicks served two minutes for holding.

The third frame was a repeat of the other two as Clement's refused to be intimidated and carried the play. Greg Casselman scored from Dave Barkley at 5.11, Kevin Smith drew an assist on a goal scored by Dave Cross at 12.24. Metcalfe's frustrations were beginning to show in the final period as they took three of the four penalties handed out. Clement's Tom Droppo was nailed for interference, while Metcalfe's D. Crerar, D. Wiseman and D. Hicks each served two minutes.

Final score Clement's 7, to Metcalfe's 2.

Chesterville Legion Pee Wees unbeaten in 9 straight games

Chesterville Legion Pee Wees stretched their unbeaten string to nine games with three wins in Carleton-Dundas action last week.

Three well-balanced lines have provided the scoring punch for Legion scoring an awesome 48 goals in nine league games.

Defensively, the stingy goal keeping duo of Jeff Phifer and Eddie Witteveen have limited opposing sharp-shooters to a sparkling 1.00 goals-against average. The blue line corps of defencemen Ron Richards, Garry Beckstead, Glendon Shay and "Duke" Servage have been very steady. So it would appear that a solid offence plus a steady defence is the key to success in the Carleton-Dundas League.

Last week's key game saw the locals travel to Winchester on Saturday to tangle with second place Winchester. And as the commercial says "When you're second best, you try harder." Legion's hands were very full as Winchester's Doug Last opened the scoring with only 2:24 gone in the game. It was well into the second period before Ron Richards was set up by Mark Moran and David Byers to tie the game.

Following a series of end-to-end rushes, league leading scorer Pat Kelly took a pass from Glendon Shay and potted the winning goal as Chesterville escaped with a 2-1 win.

On Minor Hockey Night in Chesterville, the locals showed their appreciation for your support in their 50-50 draw by posing a 6-1 win over Metcalfe. Garry Beckstead led Legion with a pair, while singletons went to Curt McMillan, Rob Wood, Mark Moran and Don Richards.

Last Friday, Morrisburg hosted Legion and Chesterville skated to an easy 5-0 win over Morrisburg.

Once again Blair Robinson proved to be a thorn in the side of the locals as he came up with many spectacular saves. Goals were scored by Glendon Shay, Tom Feeley, Curt McMillan, Don Richards and Rob Wood.

In exhibition play last Saturday, the squad rushed back to Chesterville to play one hour after the Winchester game. Consequently, it was a tired team that skated out against an excellent Spencerville squad. The lads jumped to a quick 1-0 lead on Garry Beckstead's goal. Spencerville tied the game with 4 minutes left on the clock.

The game featured end-to-end rushes, sparkling saves at both ends and many fans felt that Legion had played its best game of the young season.

This Saturday, the team is excited about playing Braser Falls, N.Y., at 4 p.m. at the local arena, in their first International Match.

Top contenders in Atom 'A' league

Chesterville Chamber of Commerce Atoms have pleasantly surprised coaches Adrien Laflamme and Ken Barkley. The Atom A's were victims of graduation last year as they lost thirteen players to the Pee Wee's.

In joining the tough Carleton-Dundas Atom League, Adrien and Ken thought it would be a long, long season. However, at the half-way mark of the schedule the locals find themselves solidly in second place.

They opened the season successfully at home on November 14 with a 5-2 win over Metcalfe. Marque Laflamme and Terry Barkley each netted a pair, with Duff Mitchell adding a single.

Osgoode hosted the locals on November 18 and proved to be poor hosts, handing them a 6-2 drubbing. Scott Richards and Michael Beckstead were the only scorers for Chesterville in a very rough game.

On November 24, "chamber" travelled to Winchester and blanked them 4-0. Marque Laflamme notched a pair, with singles going to Scott Richards and Duff Mitchell.

Winchester returned to Chesterville and played a much better game, but it wasn't enough as the locals handed Winchester a 5-4 loss. It was Marque Laflamme's night as the speedy centre notched four goals, with Scott Richards adding a single.

On December 1st the squad moved to Metcalfe and defeated them 7 to 1. Marque Laflamme had a hat trick, and Michael Beckstead notched a pair. Singles were credited to Duff Mitchell, and Terry Barkley.

Last Wednesday, the locals closed out the first half of the schedule by hosting first place Osgoode. Osgoode proved to be too hot to handle, and defeated the locals 7-2. Terry Barkley and Oliver Jakel were the only Chesterville players able to find the range.

Jacko and his young master Derek who served as unofficial representatives of last year's Ontario Humane Society annual campaign are back again this year, partly by chance and partly through the good work of the Society — at least in Jacko's case. Endearing as he may be, he's rather short on brains and can't navigate round the block without forgetting where he lives. Thus he's been an honoured guest of Society shelters and can vouch for their room service and cuisine. His Society tag has prompted many kind citizens to call notifying of his improbable travels. In this protrait he is hopefully promising to mend his ways and also to urge you to give generously to his favourite charity — the Ontario Humane Society, 696 Yonge Street, Toronto or your local branch.

Ontario studies tax exemption for home improvements

Revenue Minister Allan Grossman said today that the Ontario Government is developing a continuing policy to protect home improvements from property taxes.

Mr Grossman told a tax conference in Toronto that, as an interim move, the government will extend the existing tax moratorium on home improvements due to expire at the end of next year, until 1977.

Under existing legislation, introduced in June, 1971, a home improvement is not assessed, and is, therefore, not taxed, unless it adds more than $2,500 to the market value of the property.

Mr Grossman said he believes an increase in the exemption level is necessary "particularly in view of the sharp rise in property values during the past few years."

"Two key questions we must resolve are: What should be the level of exemption? And for how long should it apply:?" he said.

Mr Grossman noted that a planning consultant who examined the question of property maintenance on behalf of the government, suggested a $5,000 market value assessment exemption for home improvements over a five-year period. That time period would be roughly equivalent to the financing period if a proeprty owner borrowed the money to make major property changes.

"Whether this approach is the most appropriate will be more clearly apparent when all properties are assessed at market value in 1976," Mr Grossman continued.

He said that the government must also examine whether the tax benefits for completed improvements or renovations would be non-transferable on sale of the property. "In other words, the tax incentive would go to the person who makes the property improvements while he owns the property and not be locked into the assessment-taxation system."

The minister commented that it is widely believed by homeowners that if they improve their properties, their assessments, and, therefore, their property taxes, will automatically go up.

"this is an exaggerated and generally erroneous reaction, but we recognize that if people believe they will be penalized, they will be more reluctant to undertake property improvements."

School principal addresses ministers

James Kooistra, principal at Timothy Christian Day School, Williamsburg, was guest speaker at the December meeting of Dundas County Ministerial Association in Chesterville on Monday morning. The Reverend L. M. Ferguson, minister of Trinity United Church in Chesterville and Morewood United Church, president of the Association, hosted the meeting at the United Church manse, and led in opening devotions. Minutes were read by the secretary, the Reverend Wellwood Adam, of Morrisburg.

The Reverend E. Earle Eaton, program convener, introduced the speaker, who gave an illuminating and interesting presentation of the place of the Christian day school in our society. Discussion followed. Refreshments were served by the host. Members were present from Winchester, Inkerman, South Mountain, Brinston, Morrisburg and Chesterville. The January ministerium will be held in Morrisburg.

Morewood U.C.W. meet

On Wednesday, December 5, the ladies of the community met with the members of Morewood U.C.W. to enjoy a Friendship Hour. The president, Mrs M. Thompson, opened the meeting with a reading, and after a welcome to all, the Purpose was repeated.

The theme of the Devotions, conducted by Mrs M. Smirle, was "God's Gift." Scripture reading was the Christmas Story from Luke 2:8-20, read by Mrs K. Hillis. three other members gave short readings of the gifts of Christmas, ending with the fact that the heart is the only gift worthwhile. Mrs Smirle then read the story "When The Wise Men Appeared". Two Christmas Hymns were sung and prayer was offered.

A letter containing Christmas greetings was read from the foster child in India and it was announced that the Family Night Pot Luck Supper in December would begin at 7 p.m. Reports were heard from the nominating and program committees.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs R. Walker who introduced a play put on by some of the ladies of the community. This proved to be very humorous, and was well presented.

As Mrs Thompson will be retiring as president, she expressed her sincere thanks to those who made the evening so enjoyable and to those who had helped so generously throughout her term of office.

Boys from St. Joseph's save the day

By Wayne Mutton

Teams of boys from the Ontario Ministry of Correctional Services' St. Joseph's School in Alfred have saved the day — and thousands of future Ontario trees — before marauding red squirrels made off with an entire crop of red pine seed cones from Prescott and Russell Counties' 26,000 acre Larose Forest.

St. Joseph's, home for more than 70 so-called "problem" boys from all over the province, was given the job of picking the cones after no one responded to the contract offer publicly offered by Merrill Rush, Larose Forest supervisor.

The boys, aged 11 to 16, started picking just in time. Hordes of red squirrels had struck and the Cornwall district of the natural resources' eastern region was faced with losing their entire seed cone crop from a special seed production area in Cambridge township.

Every year certain natural resources districts are called upon to collect seed cones from various confer species and shop them in bags to the seed extraction plant in Angus, Ontario. Here, the cones are dried on screens until they open up and drop the seeds at the base of the cone petals.

After refrigerated storage, the seeds eventually are planted to produce seedlings for the Ministry's massive spring tree planting operation across the province.

Armed with aluminum ladders supplied by the Larose headquarters, the St. Joseph's boys, working in groups of two, managed to pick nine hectolitres before the middle of October. The groups of pickers, approximately a dozen boys at a time, were brought to Larose by bus from the school every Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and all day Saturday for a month. The two-man picking teams then took turns holding the ladder and climbing up into the branches. At the end of the day natural resources staff recorded each boy's "Take." The school wound up picking $225 worth of cones and the money, except for a small fee for transportation, was divided up among the boys according to their share in the harvest. Each boy's share was then deposited in accounts kept for them at the school..

Jacques Tourangeau, a St. Joseph's boys Junior Division Supervisor, welcomed the chance to get some of his charges out of the classroom and into a real working situation where they were given definite responsibility.

"We're very pleased with the boys' work. As a matter of fact we're thinking of offering the school a small contract for planting trees next spring, but the details have yet to be worked out."

It's not the first time St. Joseph's and the staff at Larose Forest have gotten together. Last winter another group of students from the Alfred school helped plan and cut a mile-and-a-half long cross-country ski trail in the forest. The school also brings out groups frequently for nature study classes and exercises in bush survival and woods lore.

And those classes aren't just larks in the forest. In the past couple of years St. Joseph's boys have gone mountain climbing in Banff and on a 200-mile canoe trip on Georgian Bay. And everybody has pulled his own weight.

About the only ones not pleased with all this activity, especially the cone picking by the St. Joseph's boys, are the Larose Forest red squirrels.

Christmas Comet to delight skywatchers

With the anitcipation and awe of ancient civilazations, but tempered now with the restraint of modern scientific curiosity, professional and amateur skywatchers alike await the arrival of Kohoutek — the comet of the century.

The comet, named after its discoverer, Czech astronomer, Dr. Lubos Kohoutek, was discovered accidentally on photographic plates on March 7, 1973. Kohoutek, working at the Hamburg, Germany, observatory was at the time searching for asteroids between the orbits of Mars and jupiter and for the lost periodic comet Beila.

At the time of discovery, the comet was very faint visible only through large telescopes — and was just inside the orbit of Jupiter some 500 million miles from the sun. What alerted astronomers was the fact that, at that distance, the comet should not have been visible at all. And so they reason that by the time it arrives nearest the sun, a distance of about 13 million miles, on December 28, it will be a spectacular sight.

Comet Kohoutek's anticipated brightness and its very early discovery are of particular advantage for skywatchers and photographers. By late December it will be at its brightest as it passes to within 13 million miles of the sun.

Brian Marsden of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory feels that the most convenient time for viewing will be in the early evening between January 10-18, 1974. At that time the full moon won't be visible; the comet should have come up well above the horizon and will probably be almost as bright as the planet Venus which, at that time, will be the brightest object in the sky, slightly to the left and below the comet. Observers should look just slightly to the right of where the sun has set.

Kohoutek's brightness will make it relatively easy to photograph. And because its path through the universe will probably not bring it back to our solar system for at least 82,000 years, viewers will be presented with a once in a lifetime photo opportunity for a few days in January.

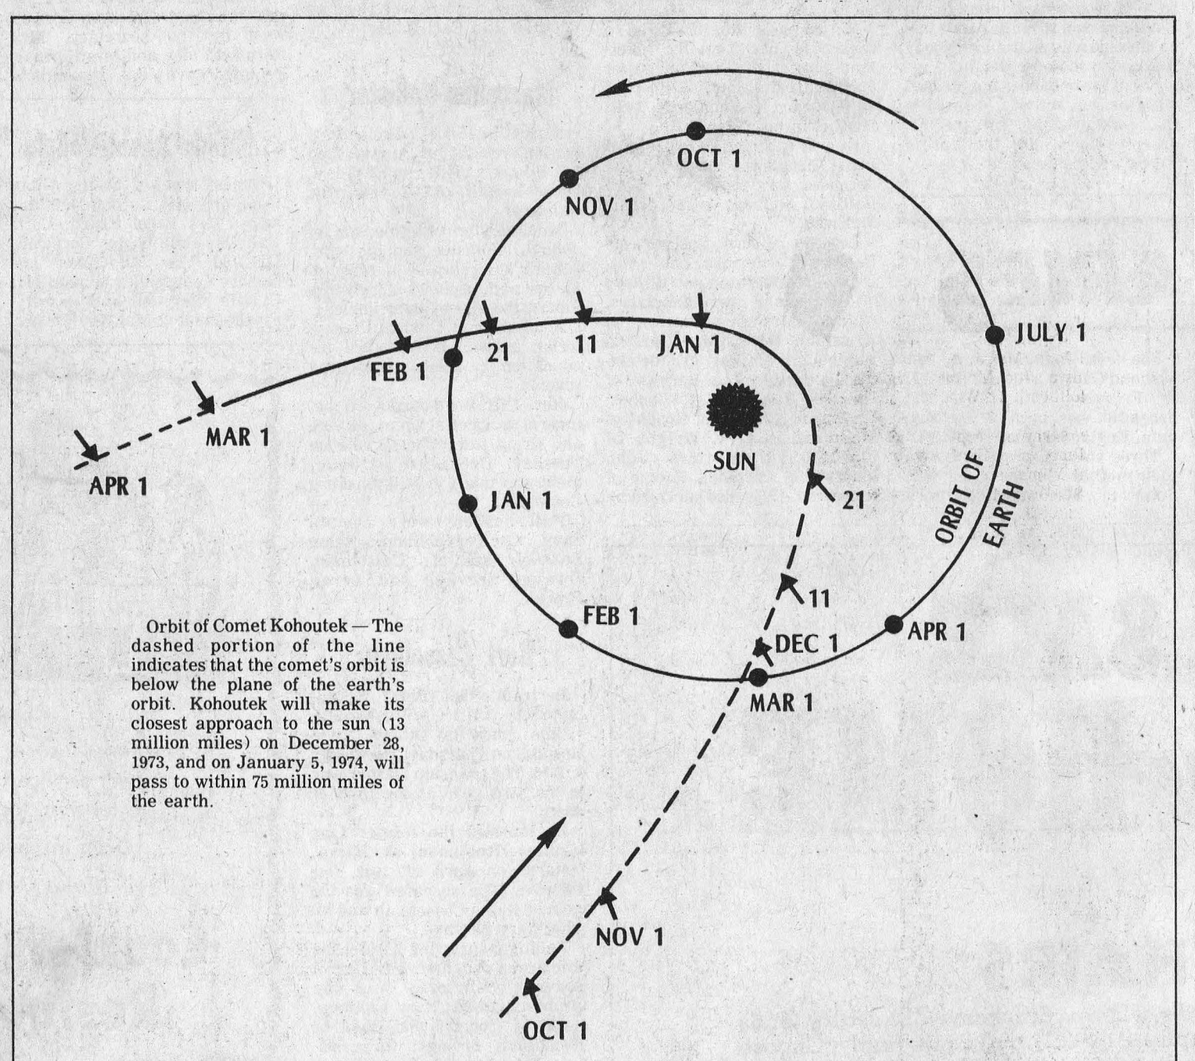
A camera with a lens of f-4 or faster and which can be set up for time exposures with high speed film is a must. Set the camera on a tripod or other firm camera support and don't forget to use a shutter cable release to eliminate as much movement and vibration as possible. Use Kodak Tri-X pan film for black and white prints or Kodak high speed Ektachrome film (daylight) for colour slides. If you're using a camera with an use Kodacolour X or Kodacolour Ii film.
X or Kodacolour II film.

Try exposures ranging from 1-60 second to one or possibly two minutes with Tri-X or high speed Ektachrome film. The reason for this procedure is that it is sometimes difficult for astronomers to predict precisely how bright a comet might be or how its appearance might change. Remember that because of the earth's rotation long exposures will cause background stars in your pictures to trail or streak. Also, exposures longer than two minutes will cause the head of the comet to blur. In any event, you'll have time to experiment.

Focus your camera on infinity, open the lens to its widest setting, and aim at the comet. To add dimension and interst to your comet photographs try to include silhouettes of the surrounding landscape such as trees, low buildings, hills, etc. To improve chances of success in arriving at whatever is the correct exposure for a given time, bracket your exposures so that you'll have a complete series to work from. With an f-4 or faster lens on your camera you can try exposures at 1-60, 1-30, 1-15, 1-8, 1-4, and 1-2 second; and also longer exposures, of 1, 2, 4, 8, 15 and 30 seconds; and 1, 1¼, 1½, 1¾, and 2 minutes.

Exposures will vary as the comet moves closer to the sun and becomes brighter and then as it moves away from the sun and becomes dimmer. Exposure will also depend on local atmospheric conditions when you take your pictures on background light in the sky from twilight, moonlight, and city lights, and on the equipment you use. Best results can be obtained on dark, moonless nights away from city lights when the sky is clear and free from atmospheric haze.

The entire comet — head to tail — can be satisfactorily imaged through a normal focus length lens. But the head of the comet will be very small in the film frame. In this case a telephoto lens of moderate focal length can be used to obtain a larger image. so if your camera accepts interchangeable lenses, consider using an 85 or 90 mm lens. Such a lens will give you a larger head without cutting off too much of the tail.



Orbit of Comet Kohoutek — The dashed portion of the line indicates that the comet's orbit is below the plane of the earth's orbit. Kohoutek will make its closest approach to the sun (13 million miles) on December 28, 1973, and on January 5, 1974, will pass to within 75 million miles of the earth.

As I See It...

By Mike Rowden

"Living is Learning" — and I'm learning. Learning that I am in the wrong business . . . writing. I ought to switch to politics. That's where the money is, and if it isn't, then you can always vote yourself some more.

I don't know of any other business where this is so. What's more, the one you are getting the money from, the taxpayer, has nothing to say in the matter, except when there is an election. Then he or she is beguiled by some of the darndest promises of what will happen and what the people will get if "Joe Blow" is elected.

Of course, sometimes a newcomer arrives on the political scene, full of zeal and sure he is going to change things, it isn't long until he is put in his place. In fact, practically ignored until the others need his vote. You can bet "Mr Newcomer" will be needed to vote on the proposed increased for members of the Provincial Government, a good hefty 70 percent increase, in basic wages and expenses. You must admit they sure know how to take care of themselves, whatever their other shortcomings.

All this comes right after a hectic three days of arguing as to whether old age pensioners should get a $50 bonus or more. Add to this the provincial governments reluctance to grant any assistance to the T.O.A.D. Organization in Ottawa, that has through grants, been providing a much needed service for the aged and handicapped in Ottawa, in the way of transportation.

Premier Davis' basic wage increase alone is the equivalent of a $50 bonus for 600 pensioners. He earns as much as the Prime Minister of Canada, although maybe he doesn't get as many fringe benefits. Perhaps he earns it — certainly his footwork in the Davis-Bales incident, of a couple of months ago, was just as fancy as the Prime Ministers' this past week when he staved off an election by suddenly agreeing to the N.D.P. proposals on energy and resources, just before he was due to face a non-confidence vote from the opposition. All this when we are being told to conserve energy and watch our buying so as not to increase inflation.

All this sort of thing gives me an idea — in some cities they have a "mayor for a day", where a student gets to see how city hall is run, and pretends he or she is mayor for the day.

Now in addition to this, we could have different weeks set aside for various reasons. Why not have "Senior Citizen's Week" or "Poverty Week", that would make a different twist.

On designated weeks these groups could form their own impartial committees and following short deliberation could vote their own increases. Sound good?

At the same time there could be a "Politician's Week" with a reverse twist. It would be a good time for them to be some of the lower classes that they have pledged to serve and who they often ignore. That would be democracy for you.

SCHOOL NEWS

SPECIAL EVENTS — Christmas is only one and a half weeks away. It is all a mad rush at the shopping plazas. People are purchasing gifts for special ones they know. But here at North Dundas our programme committee members are just as occupied as they are making plans and getting together ideas for the Christmas Programme, to be presented before the school body prior to the Christmas holidays. It's all in great fun and a special season spirit is aroused in the originality of the programme.

Students who have worked to their capability and have achieved an honours average will receive their honour bar at the Junior Commencement to be held Thursday evening, December 13, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Special awards are given to students who have achieved such merits. As well students may receive arm bars for music, theatre arts and fine arts. It is a special evening to those Level 1, 2, and 3, students who are part of the commencement. They without doubt deserve such honours.

MUSIC — Band concert number two was held Thursday evening, December 6. It was quite a different event, since Mr St. Louis and the band travelled to Russell Public School to perform the concert featuring a complete collection of Christmas selections. It fitted in very well since the Christmas season has now arrived. Proceeds from this concert will go to the Russell Bus Transportation System. These selections were most enjoyed by all who showed theier interest in attending the concert. To Mr St. Louis and Dundas band members, the Russell students offer many thanks for their special interest in our needs.

CONSUMER DEPARTMENT — Thursday, December 6, Period 9 was the opportunity to broaden your knowledge on our modern Stock Market. Dundas had a guest speaker, E. Bruce Richardson from Doherty McCuaig Ltd., Ottawa. He gave us a detailed presentation of all facets of the stock market. For Consumer Ed., M.B.C. 441 and M.T.E. 441, Math Classes, this proved very interesting.

CLUB NEWS — It is known from announcements and drama club members that Mr Pratt is making his final decision of choosing the people best suited for casting roles in the 73-74 major stage production. It is also probable that the club will present their contributions to the Christmas Programme. The Curling Club members met again on Wednesday night, December 5. The action took place at the Winchester Curling Arena. Triumphant skip was Bill Workman over Noreen Byers who defaulteed. Doug Cochrane tucked away a win over Robbie Gray. A tie resulted between Don Anderson and Bob Hanes. The score was 5-5.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT — The Athletic Association plays an important role at North Dundas, by supporting athtletic clubs and functions. This year the A.A. plans to fence our new tennis courts and they also arrange for the great Athletic Banquet, planned at the close of the school year. Already, the Athletic Association has given us the opportunity to have dancing, both square dancing and ballroom, during activity periods. Many students enjoy this and A.A. also gets the chance to profit with money earned. This week the A.A. is featuring the chance of great opportunity. They are selling N.D.D.H.S. buttons and ribbons for 75c each or $1.25 for both. These buttons and ribbons allow you to get in free to the Athletic functions such as basketball games, ballroom or square dancing. Most of all, it raises the spirits of North Dundas students. Congratulations, A.A. for a great idea.

House League Basektball has finished the first half of their double round robin tournament. Interested onlookers are reminded this is only the first half and anything could happen second time around. In the Junior Senior boys division, Red is in first place followed by Gold, Black and Green. The top three overall scoreers for all houses are Darie Holmes, Gold House in first place; Brian Steele, Gold House in second place, and a three way tie for third place between Larry Plummer, Gold House, Brian Paul, Red House, Lloyd Reaney, Red House. In the Girls Junior Senior Divisions the placings are somewhat changed. In first place is Black House followed by Gold, Green and Red Houses. Unfortunately this year, turn outs for teams are not very strong, but action will be tense as we complete this tournament.

Brian Barkley, our social convener, has announced the date of our next dance. It will be held Friday, December 14, commencing at 8:30 p.m. This dance is the only one of its kind ever having been brought to Dundas. The group Maple Ridge are featuring a Louis Riel Rock Opera, one hour and forty minutes in length followed by one hour of dance music. Advance tickets are onsale now for $1.50 and $2.50, so be sure to pick them up now as the prices at the door will be $2.00 and $3.00.

We students hope many of our friends in the surrounding area will come to this christmas dance. As the old saying goes, "The more the merrier!" And so it will be Friday night.

With Christmas approaching and many big events to come our way, students at North Dundas have stroked the first week of December off their calenders.

And last but not least, an extra note of appreciation is extended by North Dundas students. We would like to thank the people in the Winchester, Chesterville and surrounding area for their support in buying our chocolate bars.

Ingleside W.I. hold Dec. meeting

A Christmas poem by Peter Marshall was read by Mrs Stanley McIsaac to open the dinner meeting of Ingleside Women's Institute. The President, Mrs Clarence Meyers, welcomed the members and presided over the business. The Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs Sterling Brassard, commented on the 4-H Achievement Day "Creative Block Printing" and reported that the Spring Club is to be "Sportswear from Knits."

Mrs W. A. McMillan reminded members of the Christmas Party for Senior Citizens of Ingleside and Lunenburg on Monday, December 17th, at St. Matthew's Presbyterian Hall. Invitations have been made and are being mailed to non-members. Mrs Mary Trimble and Mrs Shirley Walsh are co-conveners of the arrangements.

The Secretary will send a Christmas remembrance from the branch to the CJSS Radio Commentator, Mrs Innes MacGregor, in appreication of her broadcasts.

Christmas Cheer Boxes for shut-ins were packed by the members and the evening closed with the singing of Christmas Carols with Mrs W. A. McMillan at the piano.

The January meeting will be held in the afternoon and Mrs Ray Dixon and Mrs Rheal Meilleur, Family and Consumer Affairs Conveners, will be in charge of the programme. Each member is asked to bring a dozen squares or cookies.

U.C.O. review highlights at 26th annual

United Co-operatives of Ontario directors and elected leaders will review the highlights and results of fiscal 1972-73 at the organization's 26th annual meeting at Toronto's Royal York Hotel, December 13th.

The province's largest farm and urban supply and farm marketing business, owned by the people it serves, reported record, before tax, net savings of $4.1 million, up 157 percent from 1972.

Some 430 delegates from across Ontario, who represent UCO's 38,500 individual members — up 2,800 from 72 — and 60 co-operatives members, noted that more than half the savings. ($2.7 million) will be returned as patronage refund.

Income taxes account for $994,000 and $262,000 will be paid out in form of dividends to owners of preference shares. The remainder will go into UCO's general reserve.

The 166 million in sales, up 24 percent from 1972, is also a record high.

Major increases were registered in feed, crop products, hardware and farm supplies, livestock marketing, petroleum, groceries, and poultry marketing.

Two women guest speakers at the annual were Peggy Prowse of Halifax, and Jane Davidson of Brucefield.

Mrs Prowse, an elected board member of Maritime Co-operative Services addressed the huge banquet on the topic, "the consumer and the co-operative movement."

Mrs Davidson spoke at the Ladies' Luncheon about the contrasting lifestyles she observed during her recent eight months visit to India.

Another major item on the agenda was the elections for two of the 12 posts on the democratically elected board of directors. The two incumbents were Allan McIntosh of Almonte and Gord Jack of Blenheim.

P. C. Women's Assoc. elects new president

Mrs Peggy Hill of Cornwall, the newly elected President of the Progressive Conservative Women's Association of Eastern Ontario, held an executive meeting recently in Ottawa, following a luncheon given by Mrs June Burland, the Secretary at her home.

A winter meeting of the Association was arranged for January. The Alta Vista Association will serve tea. It is hoped that the Hon. Robert Stanfield, leader of the party, will speak.

Eastern Ontario members will be asked to make a special effort to welcome the delegates coming from all over Canada to the Progressive Conservative National Meeting in the spring.

Christmas boxes for shut-ins are to be packed on Thursday, December 20 at the home of the President, Mrs Joe Dingemans.

Two members were appointed as membership conveners. They are Mrs Duart MacLean and Mrs Joe Dingemans. In order to raise some money to meet financial commitments, it was decided to hold a euchre and crokinole party sometime early in the new year. A ten dollar donation to the Winchester Memorial Hospital was approved.

Programme convener Miss Marguerite MacLean, presented a seasonal tribute to Christmas with readings, "Legend of the Christmas Card" read by Mrs Bernard Foley and "Traditions of Christmas" read by Mrs Henry Nugent and Mrs Lois Montgomery. There followed carol singing by all the members accompanied by Mrs Earl Droppo at the piano.

A pleasing finale to the programme was a rendition of Whispering Hope sung by Miss Marguerite Maclean, Miss Aileen MacLean, Mrs Hugh Rombough, and Miss Margaret Casselman. An exchange of Christmas gifts were distributed by "Santa", Miss Marguerite MacLean.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the Queen and a delicious lunch was later served by hostesses, Miss Jean Duff and Mrs Duart MacLean.

Pee Wee 'B's' have busy week

During the past weekend the Chesterville Pee Wee B League saw lots of action at the local arena. On Saturday, December 8, the Chesterville B team met the Chesterville C team, after lots of action the B team came out the winners with a score of 3 to 0. Scoring for the B team with a goal each was Danny Moriarty, Donnie Wheeler, and Robbie Sullivan, with Kevin Weegar getting the shut-out.

At 1 p.m., Chesterville's C team met Maxville in an exhibition game. Maxville won this with a score of 2 to 0.

At 4:00 the B team came out the victors in another exhibition game with Maxville with the final score 5 to 0 and Kevin Weegar getting his second shut-out for the day.

Away games on Saturday saw Iroquois down Osnabruck at the Finch arena with a final score of 5 to 1. On Sunday, the 9th, the action continued again at the local arena, as the Chesterville B's met the Chesterville C's. Both teams played excellent hockey but Kevin Weegar was successful in the net and by the end of the game the score was 1 to 0 and Kevin chalked up his third shut-out for the weekend. The winning goal was scored again by Donnie Wheeler.

The out of town game saw Osnabruck travel to Cardinal to meet with Iroquois, where once again Iroquois finished on top with a score of 3 to 0.
