McCooeyes Tubie Idols

MORRISBURG–After years of dreaming about joining the royal family, the McCooeyes and their team mates were crowned on Sunday.

The team had to paddle their craft the three kilometers from Arlor Haven Park to the Morrisburg beach faster than all the other teams to be crowned "Kings and Queens of the River" and they did just that, coming in at 27:55, a minute before their closest competitors, last year's winners, "the Retreads," who had a time of 29:10.

Joe McCooeye was ecstatic to have won, as it is well known that he has been a dedicated Tubie racer for 12 years, and this is his first win.

McCooeye's mother Liz, was a member of last year's winners and this year's silver placed team, the Retreads.

Some may question whether old age is catching up with the Retreads, but when looking at their time last year of 31:31, their most recent time proves some things only get better with age, even if last year's winners were unable to hang onto their St. Lawrence crowns.

Alie Berghuis, a member of last year's Retreads/ "Geriatric" team, said that it wasn't bad at all losing to the younger team. "They were stronger." Berghuis says.

Unbeknowst to many, this year's winners may have had a slight advantage over their counterparts since some members of the younger team are either children or in–laws of the Retreads.

Berghuis says that the older and wiser team helped the younger ones with their craft, giving them some "King and Queen of the River" expertise, but adds that she "didn't mind a bit that they won, I was happy for them."

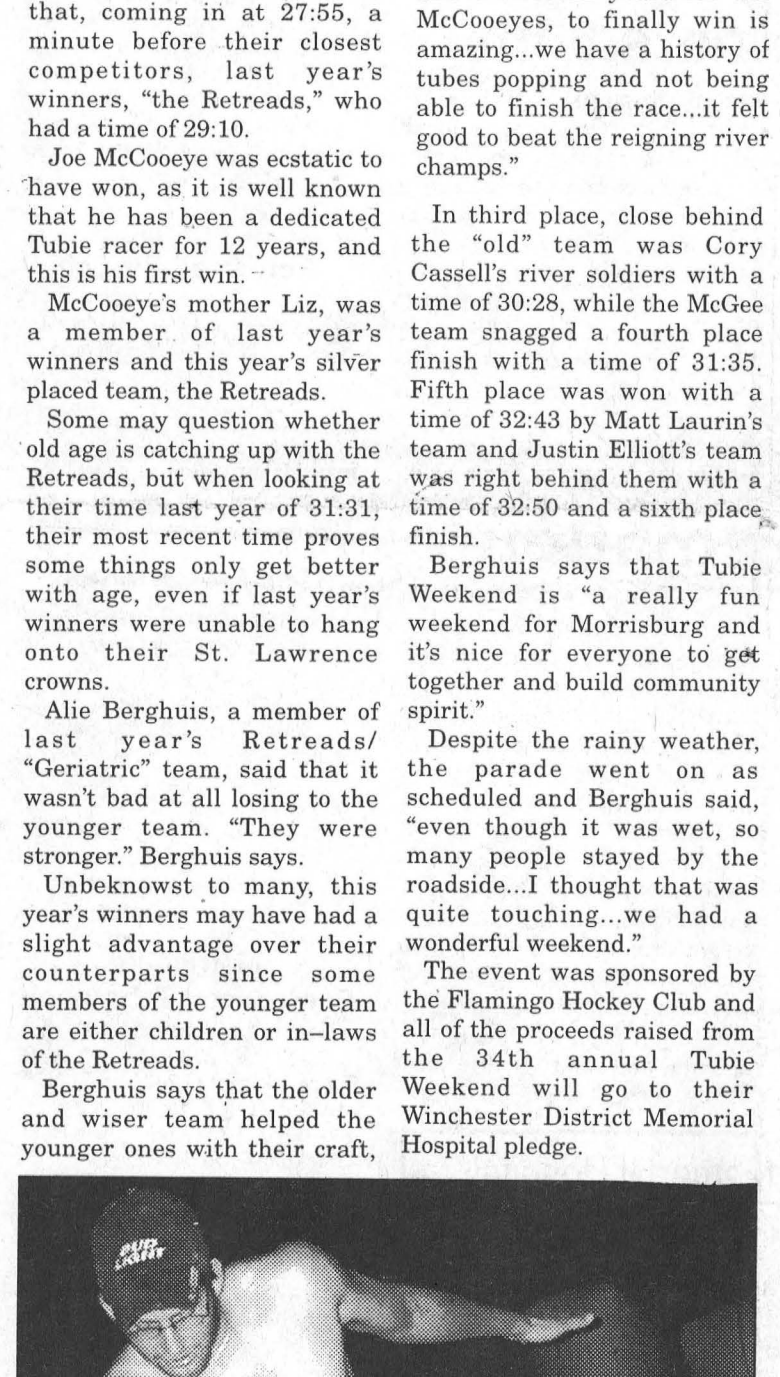
Andrew Vandermeulen, son–in–law to Berghuis and a member of the winning team, says that the Retreads were "very gracious in defeat," but "after almost 10 years for me and almost 12 years for the McCooeyes, to finally win is amazing...we have a history of tubes popping and not being able to finish the race...it felt good to beat the reigning river champs."

In third place, close behind the "old" team was Cory Cassell's river soldiers with a time of 30:28, while the McGee team snagged a fourth place finish with a time of 31:35. Fifth place was won with a time of 32:43 by Matt Laurin's team and Justin Elliott's team was right behind them with a time of 32:50 and a sixth place finish.

Berghuis says that Tubie Weekend is "a really fun weekend for Morrisburg and it's nice for everyone to get together and build community spirit."

Despite the rainy weather, the parade went on as scheduled and Berghuis said, "even though it was wet, so many people stayed by the roadside...I thought that was quite touching...we had a wonderful weekend."

The event was sponsored by the Flamingo Hockey Club and all of the proceeds raised from the 34th annual Tubie Weekend will go to their Winchester District Memorial Hospital pledge.



Last Week at MGC, Believe it or not

Golf was a little more of a tough guy's sport than usual at men's night last Thursday night, when a mechanical bull was brought in for the festivities. Pictured above, Iroquois' Brent Tibben seems to have a handle on all the technicalities of making it the full eight seconds. Laurin Photo

The younger McCooeye team was the winner of Sunday's Tubie Race with a time of 27 minutes and 55 seconds. They finished just ahead of last year's champions, the Retreads, a team which includes, the mother of Matt (left) and Joe (right), Liz (centre). This is the third year this McCooeye team, captained by Amy and baby Keltey McCooeye, has participated in the race. They had previously finished second and fourth in the race, and this year marked their first win, which ended up a family celebration. Having lost to his mother's team last year, Joe says "It feels very good to beat mom. Actually, it's more of a relief than anything. Now it's even." Mom, Liz, said her feelings about finishing second were mixed. "I'm really proud of them. How could I feel bad? I guess I couldn't lose could I?" Members of the winning team were Amy, Matt and Joey McCooeye, Ashley Cooper, Marjam Berghuis and Andrew Vandermuelen.

Information meeting unites ATV owners looking for a place to ride

WINCHESTER SPRINGS – What was intended as an ATV information meeting ended up being a forum for ATV owners and users to launch their lobby of municipal governments to allow their use along municipal roads.

South Dundas and North Dundas township officials teamed up to host the meeting which featured a presentation from the OPP SAVE team, who are the police service's ATV, boat, and snowmobile specialists. The unit's mandate is enforcement and education.

The meeting was held July 27, at the Winchester Springs Recreational Hall, and was well attended with around 100 interested parties packing the building to standing room capacity. Included in the interested parties were a large number of ATV owners, several members of the local OPP detachment, and staff and council members from both townships.

In attendance from South Dundas were Mayor Lyle Van Allen, Councillors Johnny Whitteker, Charles Barkley, Sandra Bailey and Ron Delegarde, township clerk Brenda Brunt and CAO Andy Brown.

In attendance from North Dundas were Mayor Alvin Runnalls, Deputy Mayor Bill Smirle, Councillors Estella Rose and Martin Schoones, and township clerk Jo-Anne McCaslin.

Members of the OPP SAVE team Bill Robertson and Sheldon Lapworth made a broad presentation on what constitutes off road and all terrain vehicles, and where users can legally ride the vehicles.

A new provincial act allows the use of four-wheel all-terrain vehicles along a set out list of certain roads, most of which are low traffic roads in the northern part of the province.

Currently there are no roads in the United Counties of Stormont Dundas and Glengarry along which the use of four-wheelers are permitted, but the province made a provision in the act which can change that.

The province downloaded the responsibility of designating municipal roads along which four-wheelers can travel.

Both municipal levels of local government, the Counties and the Townships, can pass bylaws at their discretion to designate their roads, and although the Counties and Townships are now aware of their new power, none in SD&G have passed such a bylaw.

As is stands now, there is virtually no place for local riders to drive their four-wheelers other than on their own property. The only exception is for trappers and farmers in the line of duty. ATVs are not allowed on the roads, along the roads or in the ditches. Riders want that changed. That sentiment was echoed by most in attendance at the meeting.

Some places have organized clubs and trail systems, much like snowmobile clubs, but there are no such organizations locally.

Smirle spoke to the audience about the process concerning the issue that is underway at the Counties level.

According to Smirle it is unlikely that the Counties will approve the use of ATVs along every road, but they will hear suggestions.

"You will have to come forward with a plan," said Smirle.

As far as having roads designated Smirle said, "It can happen with a plan in place." He urged riders to get organized and develop a plan, and then raise the issue with either the Counties or the municipalities to have the portions of roads they need designated to con-

To pave or not to pave

WILLIAMSBURG – Just how much of Mill Street in Mariatown should be paved?

The issue was raised at South Dundas council July 20, by Mayor Lyle Van Allen. And, while speaking of paving, councillor Charles Barkley made a suggestion about future paving in the municipality.

Five streets in Mariatown are being paved including the dead end, Mill Street.

Public Works Manager Hugh Garlough suggested only paving part of the street, and leaving the section unusable by the public unpaved. "You should pave it all," said Van Allen.

"That's completely up to council," said Garlough.

"How much money are we talking to pave the whole thing?" asked Barkley.

"The money's not the issue," said Garlough, who estimated about $500.

"I don't want the decision on my shoulders. I don't feel I should have to make that decision."

Councillors Whitteker, Barkley and Delegarde decided that they would follow Garlough's initial recommendation to pave only part of the street.

"I have a recommendation for future years about paving," said Barkley.

"I think we should put an emphasis on putting down new asphalt in the township, rather than re-paving roads."

Barkley pointed out that in the former townships of Matilda, and Williamsburg they put down a number of kilometers of new asphalt every year.

Since amalgamation the township hasn't come close in any year to matching those numbers.

Heritage Parkway showing the way

Above are, l–r, Mike Lalonde, Executive Manager of Cornwall & Seaway Valley Tourism, Isobel Williams, President of the Williamsburg Heritage Society and Don McDonald from the Counties Roads Department. All three were on hand Wednesday, July 28 near the Heritage Parkway sign at the Morrisburg intersection, to celebrate the success of the Heritage Parkway project, and to detail future plans.

A sign of the times

Heritage Parkway designated

MORRISBURG – The Williamsburg Heritage Society, led by President Isobel Williams, has spearheaded an initiative to draw travellers off of Highway 401 and re-direct them to County Road #2.

The project, to designate Highway 2 from Brockville to the Quebec border as the "Heritage Parkway" and to provide the signage marking the route has met no roadblocks. The Heritage Society pitched their proposal in January of 2003.

"It's been a year and a half, but that's not bad considering all the communities that had to be contacted for their approval," says Williams.

This project means that visitors will be directed through the many historical towns and villages of the St. Lawrence Seaway Valley.

The region offers a wide range of attractions from wonderful parks and beaches, historical sites, museums, and shopping opportunities to restful, affordable accomodations.

Williams hopes to have a brochure produced to point out the attractions along the Heritage Parkway and to get it marketed in other tourism venues. Williams says, "There is lots for people to see, but they don't know about it."

The Heritage Society has partnered with Cornwall & Seaway Valley Tourism to undertake this project. The Tourism Office was able to bring the United Counties of SD & G, the City of Cornwall, and the Townships of South Glengarry , South Stormont, and South Dundas together to help fund the acquisition of signage along County Road #2 from Lancaster to Iroquois, and at 401 interchanges.

Discussions are ongoing with the communities of Leeds Grenville and the City of Brockville to expand this initiative to the west.

The Heritage Society has requested the assistance of the Ministries of Transportation and Tourism in installing appropriate signage along Highway 401 to promote the Heritage Parkway.

This initiative attemps to increase visitations and enhance the local tourism industry and augment the prosperity of the area.

Don McDonald, from the Counties Roads Department, says that "there was no hesitation on county council's part" to support and help fund this initiative.

McDonald also helped to explain how the design of the Heritage Parkway's signs were decided. They are billigual to represent the various residents of Canada, there is a historic older font, and a bolder block lettering to bring attention to the word, "Heritage." The cannon was the symbol of choice because it "fit many areas," and "visitors could identify the cannon as historic," according to McDonald. It is also retro-reflective, to increase noticeability.

The entire project cost $5,500, and $4,000 of this came from the Counties. The installation of the 38 signs so far along the Heritage Parkway have been done for free.

School Board welcomes special ed. initiatives

BROCKVILLE–The Upper Canada District School Board welcomes new provincial iniatives for special education that provide more funding and demand greater accountability for how those dollars are spent, education director David Thomas said Friday.

Thomas applauded $100 million in new funding for special education and the new $22 million budget that will result for the public board. He also supports the creation of a new government agency, the provincial Efficiency and Effectiveness Office, to ensure taxpayers get value for their money–adding the board is already striving to improve its special education programs to make sure struggling students receive the help they need.

The newfunding means the board will see its budget for special education jump to $22.4 million this year, up from $19.6 million last fiscal year. The board's total budget this year is about $300 million.

"We could always use more for special education, considering the needs out there, but this is a step in the right direction," said Thomas.

Through its ongoing review of special education programs and its three–year CREW strategic planning process, the board is on the path set out by Education Minister Gerard Kennedy. In a funding announcement Wednesday, Kennedy offered more funding but also called on school boards to ensure the money is being used as intended.

"We have plans for special education that will be strategic, effective, and sustainable to ensure we spend money wisely and provide the help students require," said Thomas.

"Our plans will not just be ones that will last six months. We're working on ways to ensure we provide the best service to our students from cradles to grave."

The board previously ordered a review of special education to make sure programs are helping struggling students and that evaluation methods are in place to identify students having problems in the classroom. The plans include more resources for special needs assessments, more support in programs, more testing to ensure the system better identifies struggling students, and more in–class resources such as educational assistants.

Through planned improvements to databases within the board, we will eventually be better able to track and evaluate the progress of our programs so our students benefit, he added.

The board is still evaluating the financial implications of this week's announcement and the full impact on board programs.

Runnalls said, "As a council I am sure we'll discuss it, but you need to get organized and have a delegation come to council. You'll get further that way. We'll be very reasonable, but you will have to do your part."

Many of the people attending the meeting were interested in getting things started, and expressed their interest in the councils getting moving quickly on the process.

Constable Lapworth pointed out that the councils have already taken the first step by hosting the meeting and getting informed.

Brown reiterated, in closing the meeting, "The purpose of the meeting was to learn, and get some input. We've heard the message."

Brown said the next step will be for township staff to look at the policies, and for the riders to get organized and speak to the municipalities.

"We were waiting for this meeting to put this on the agenda, and now it will probably be there."

Lost Villages mark Seaway anniversary

LONG SAULT–The Lost Villages Historical Society in partnership with the township of South Stormont, is planning to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the official sod turning to mark the start of the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

The Lost Villages Historical Society in partnership with the Township of South Stormont, is holding a tree–planting ceremony at the Lost Villages Historical Society Museum, located in Ault Park, just east of Long Sault, at 12:30 p.m., on Tuesday, August 10, 2004. This tree planting is to symbolize and commemorate the start of the Seaway project. An oak tree, a "tree of reflection," will be planted, the oak being a symbol of strength and resilience.

The building of the Seaway was one of the major engineering feats of the twentieth century. Over a five year period, a system of dams, locks, and connecting channels was built, thereby replacing a series of shallow canals dating from the nineteenth century. No longer would cargoes have to be transferred from large lake or deep–sea ships into the small canal ships, in fact, known as "canallers."

Large vessels would be able to easily traverse the waters between the world's oceans and the Great Lakes with ease.

The two million kilowatt Moses–Saunders Powerhouses was an integral part of the project and it was the building of this facility that had the greatest impact on the residents of this region. The head pond behind the dam forms Lake St. Lawrence which while providing the water needed to move the dam's turbines, resulted in the flooding of 38,000 acres of land and the moving of over 500 homes. It also resulted in the loss of the only way of life 6,500 local residents had ever known. The detonation of 30 tonnes of dynamite at 8 a.m. on July 1, 1958 allowed flood waters to cover the villages of Aultsville, Dickinson's Landing, Farran's Point, Milles Roches, Moulinette, and Wales and also the hamlets of Maple Grove, Santa Cruz, and Woodlands. These tight–knit communities were replaced with the new town of Ingleside and Long Sault. In addition, the entire village of Iroquois was relocated one mile north while Morrisburg's business section and waterfront were lost.

During the five years of construction, the defining event for local residents occurred on July, 1, 1958 at 8 a.m. when the cofferdams holding back the waters that would form Lake St. Lawrence were blown up. Over four days the waters filled every nook and cranny, every creek, every farm, and every former homestead to a level of 80 degrees or higher than it had been for millenia before.

It is our intent over the next five years to highlight events of significance that occurred during the construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway Project, culminating in 2009, the 50th anniversary of the opening of the Seaway. Both local residents and visitors to our region are invited to partake in the tree–planting ceremony and to visit the Lost Villages Historical Society Museum.

Swing petition

WILLIAMSBURG – The residents of Bridlewood Subdivision in Iroquois are hoping a petition will swing them a little more playground equipment.

A petition was circulated in June of this year asking that the playground in Bridlewood Court be expanded to include a swing set.

According to the petition, the park which already has some playground equipment, is well used by about 30-35 area children. And, they say it, "warrants the addition of a swing set to be installed."

It turns out that a swing set for Bridlewood has already been scheduled for 2005, so council were left to decide if they would like to amend the budget, and install the swings earlier than intended.

Council decided to stick with the original 2005 installation plan.

UCDSB Trustees' Report

by UCDSB Trustee Greg Pietersma

Meeting with MPP Brownell and Minister of Education Kennedy

One of my roles as a school trustee is to advocate on behalf of my constituents at a political level. As a group of trustees we belong to the Ontario Public School Boards Association which lobbies the provincial government on issues which concern all school boards.

In an effort to advance the interest of public education in Eastern Ontario at Queen's Park, I along with Art Buckland and Chair David McDonald, the other trustees in the riding of Stormont, Dundas and Charlottenburgh visited MPP Jim Brownell at the legislature on July 7.

Mr. Brownell's excitement at being an MPP that was show at the beginning of his term was still evident as he toured us around the Legislature. He drew our attention to several paintings and statues which had local significance including several oils of Hon. John Sandfield McDonald - Ontario's first Premier who came from Eastern Ontario.

After the tour we settled down for two hours to discuss a wide range of issues that were of particular relevance to Eastern Ontario. On our agenda was the apparent inequity of funding between the coterminous boards, the revitalization of several of our older schools, the lack of funding of special needs students, and the need for additional funding to deal with the effects of declining enrollment.

Mr. Brownell took copious notes and asked many questions. He explained that he was taking every opportunity, whether in the legislature or in private, to advance the issues of importance to his constituency. What he needs is for his constituents to bring their concerns to him. We ended the meeting agreeing to meet on a regular basis.

Later that day Mr. Brownell joined us to attend a speech by the Minister of Education, Gerard Kennedy, and a lecture by Dr. Michael Fullan. Afterwards we met briefly with Minister Kennedy where again we highlighted the issues we had earlier discussed with Mr. Brownell.

Brownell attends local meeting of school councils

My meeting with Mr. Brownell was actually the second time I had met with him this summer. On June 3, he attended a regular meeting of the Dundas Association of School Councils. At the meeting Mr. Brownell presented highlights from the recently announced budget. He then received both verbal and written reports from all of the schools in attendance.

New strategic plan

After a very intense period of consultation and committee work the Upper Canada District School Board has drafted a new strategic plan which will transform it into a provider of world class education . There are 50 odd initiatives which will be undertaken to achieve this. Many of these initiatives go beyond the school's walls to include the local community. I will be discussing the new strategic plan including a presentation of demographic changes coming over the next 15 years at the next meeting of the North Dundas Chamber of Commerce.

I would be happy to make this presentation to other groups. If you are interested please contact me at 448-9044 or greg.pietersma@ucdsb.on.ca

I will finish the second part of my explanation on how the school board is funded in my next column.

Tubie weekend much needed

Tubie Weekend is more than just fun in the sun and an extended party. It's locals bonding over fun in the sun and an extended party.

Every one and his cousin's cousin comes to Morrisburg for Tubie Weekend. Parents who haven't seen their university–aged child in months, watch fondly as their offspring feverishly prepare their float for the Tubie parade, and secretly laugh at this same child for thinking that they have a chance of winning against their own mother and father who are feverishly preparing their own float at a secret local.

Tubie Weekend is about having something to talk about the next week, the next year, or decades later...God knows its been around 34 years.

Tubie stories from this year including stories of the glory of being the "Kings and Queens of the River," will be among the hot topics of conversation, at least until the next tubies.

If Tubie Weekend had not happened this year, what would we do? Everyone knows there were some licensing and security issues that had to be taken care of before Tubie Weekend could be officially confirmed, and more than one breathed a sigh of relief when they were given the go–ahead to build their "ultimate river craft."

Tubie weekend is perhaps one of a dying breed of activities that can be still enjoyed by families together. The young and old enjoy Tubie Weekend because there is something for everyone. An added bonus is that stress virtually disappears, when the St. Lawrence breeze is rustling through your hair, and your friends and family are by your side.

Something that few people consider is that Tubie Weekend is a vital time for our local merchants. The economic benefit to the community is probably the only thing that outweighs the social benefit that tubie weekend has on the community.

Regardless, no matter if you only view Tubie Weekend as a reason to party, or if you more fully realize how vital it is to the community, nobody wants to see the end of Tubie Weekends, so keep that in mind when tubie time rolls around next year and support it in whatever way you can.

Around the Town

Tubie weekend is never a let down. The parade went on despite the wet weather and thanks to the extra effort of the participants to make sure it happened. Sunday was a perfect day for the race, and the finish seemed fitting with the McCooeye boys, paddling past the Retreads (and their mom) for the win.

Even though Tubie weekend is over, there is still lots more in store.

There are a few young men from Morrisburg who are now something pretty special in their young lives. Kyle Adams, Marc Beckstead and Bobby Robichaud are playing for a team of nine and 10 year old Little League All Stars from the area.

The local team has so far won their way to the Provincial Championship Tournament and won both of their tournament games. Today (August 4) they will face a Toronto team to try and win their way into the finals.

The August 3 issue announced Morrisburg and all other 19 municipalities in SD&G should have the 911 emergency call-in system activated within the next year.

The Killer Bs were crowned the Kings and Queens of the River in the 24th running of the great Tubie Race. The team consisted of Shelley Black, Donald Black, Nancy Beavers, David Black, Kim MacKenzie, Jim Bennis, Cindy Warren, Shawn Baker, Terri Cordiner, Lindsay Weegar and Carolyn Clement. In defending their title the Bs produced a time of 24:11.

Prehistoric World, owned by Paul and Serge Dupuis and located east of Morrisburg, was to expand with a new primitive section. The popular tourist attraction already had 43 exhibits and the expansion would include a Lystrosaurus of the early Triassic period.

The August 1 issue reported the unemployment rate was 10.7 percent nationally, but in the area serviced by the Cornwall employment centre it was 20 percent, more than twice Ontario's 8.4 rate. About 4,470 or 10 percent of the local work force was collecting unemployment insurance.

Father Francis O'Connor was leaving Morrisburg after being posted to St. Mary's Parish here and St. Cecilia's in Iroquois for 12 years. He was being replaced by Rev. J.H. MacGillivray.

The Old Homestead Restaurant in the Pioneer Hotel in Williamsburg was featuring 12 ounce T-bone steak with its all you can eat salad bar for $8.95 and all you can eat corn on the cob for $2.50.

Pictured in the issue were Robert Scott Duvall and Mark Duvall both sons of Gary and Sylvia Duvall. Robert had graduated from Trent University with a Bachelor of Arts Degree (Economics) and Mark had graduated from Sir Sandford Fleming with a Law Enforcement Diploma.

1974

The August 2 issue reported the death of Herbert Leonard Clark, a pioneer resident of Morrisburg who had been fire chief of the Morrisburg Volunteer Fire Department for 45 years.

The Ontario Housing Corporation announced it would be issuing tender calls for the development of family and senior citizen housing units in 50 locations. Among these locations were Morrisburg and Iroquois.

At Heinz' Food Market prime rib roasts of beef were $1.39 a pound and Nabob coffee was $1.09 a pound.

Grand Prix Wrestling was coming and would feature a tag team match between Paul and Joe Leduc and Maurice "Mad Dog" Vachon and Bobby Bass.

Headlines in the July 31 issue read; Winchester Hospital Plans Further Expansion. Operating at peak capacity, and with a long waiting list, the modern hospital which started off as a 30-bed institution 16 years ago, had grown into an efficient 100-bed hospital today with the completion three years ago of a $750,000 wing. Since than an up-to-date staff residence had been built on adjoining hospital property through funds made available from the estate of the late Harvey Dillabough of Chesterville. The proposed new wing on the east side of the hospital was also being made possible through finances from the Dillabough Estate.

The little parish church of St. Anne at Dixon's Corners was marking its 100th anniversary. St. Anne's Church in Dixon's Corners was a mission of South Mountain. It was built in 1864, and served the early Irish immigrants who settled in Dundas County. At first Dixon's Corners was a mission of Morrisburg. As early as 1849, a church was built at Dixon's Corners, by Father Coyle, who was pastor at Morrisburg. It was a rough cast church and served parishioners until the present church was built. Until 1906, Dixon's Corners was a mission of Morrisburg.

Headlines in the August 6 issue read: Two ships aground in heavy fog here Wednesday. They were the Canada Steamships Lines, Selkirk and the Scottish Motor Vessel, Dundee. The two ships, bound down river, grounded shortly after 6 a.m., just after negotiating the swift currents of Rapide du Plat. The Selkirk was aground on a rocky shoal midway between Ogden's Island and Broder Island Park and the Dundee was grounded on a mud bank about 100 feet from the Morrisburg shore.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, assisted by Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario, Governor Thomas Dewey of New York State, and Hydro Chairman Robert Saunders and Robert Moses, New York State Power Authority chairman, would officiate at ground breaking ceremonies for the St. Lawrence power project at Cornwall.

At the Dominion, corned beef was 39 cents a 12 ounce tin and fresh roasted, fresh ground Richmello coffee was $1.27 a pound.

The August 4 issue reported Parliament had endorsed the principles of allowances to families in Canada. This was one of the few times in history when members of all opposition parties voted for a government sponsored bill which would become effective July 1, 1945.

Gunner John P. Dodge of Riverside was reported wounded in action in France.

Pictured on the front page were Pte. Carson Baker and Tpr. George E.F. Baker, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker of Glen Becker. The brothers had been reunited in Italy, after being separated since they left Canada. They had actually met accidentally at a ball game between two service teams in Italy.

For fighting fire on a blazing gasoline tanker with a boarding party from the Corvette Cobalt, Chief Petty Officer James Werely of Sorel, Quebec, son of Mr. Charles Werely of Morrisburg received the British Empire Medal.

Two full years of gasoline rationing and fuel oil control in Canada had saved 393 million gallons of gasoline and 175 million gallons of fuel oil. Despite this, gasoline stocks on hand in Canada were dropping. It was pointed out it took over 5 million gallons of gasoline to fuel 5,000 bombers for a mission over Germany, and enough oil for one fueling of a battleship to heat an average house for 350 years.

Letters to the editor

Let kids play ball and have fun

To the editor,

I am writing this letter to express my thoughts regarding Minor Baseball in Iroquois. I, like so many other parents look forward to the summer and all that comes with it.

Baseball has become a part of my family's preferred activities, which in all honesty can be overwhelming considering that we juggle four different levels of ball and usually run in four different directions on any given weekday. That I accept.

I, as a parent, enjoy going to the diamond to watch and provide encouragement for my children and their teammates. This is what I do.

I have been fortunate that several of my children have been teamed up with some great teammates and an unwavering coach in Bobby Paradis.

He has taken on the task of promoting and encouraging each and every player to be the best they can be, on and off the field, and show their true sportsmanlike conduct at all times.

Bottom line with Bobby has always been - Have Fun!

To Bobby, I say Thank You. I think this young man has been a real inspiration and a great role model for these kids with regards to the true meaning of playing baseball as a team and being accountable for your every action. And, certainly for showing sportsmanlike conduct when faced with spectators that seemingly forget that the game we all came to watch is just that - A Minor Baseball Game in Iroquois.

To the umpires, who in my estimation aren't paid anything near what they are worth, for coming back to Iroquois and putting up with the unfortunate, unwanted, and less than humane treatment at times, I also applaud you.

If it was not for you all of my children would not have had the opportunity to earn extra money and learn about the basic fundamentals of having a first job, while umpiring at the plate or at the bases.

In closing, I would like to say that it is my wish that by writing this letter we all stop and take a look at what is happening not only in Iroquois but other communities as well.

When we venture out to the ball diamond to watch our kids play ball we need to remember the saying, "Treat others as you would like to be treated."

Certainly, last but not least, let the kids play ball and have fun!

Sincerely,
Laura Levere

Cardinal Disco Ducks Youth Group 25th anniversary dance

To the editor,

I'm sure the first thought that has come to your mid after your laughter when reading the name of our group, Cardinal Disco Duck Youth Group, was disco died 25 years ago. However, I can assure you that the membership of this group is still alive and well.

We were simply a group of teenagers growing up in the village of Cardinal looking to make our own fun and at the same time we provided entertainment to about 130 people at our popular Friday night dances held at the old Cardinal Union Hall.

Our DJ was Greg Adams, and between that and the rental of the hall, the cost came to a grand total of $60. Entry to our dances was one dollar. Many dances were held at this location, along with dance-a-thons, and our famous 24 hour rock-a-thon, through which we were able to raise funds for the town's swimming pool that some of our former members are now enjoying with their children.

Many I know who grew up in Cardinal have fond memories of this era and because of the help and support of people like Wayne and Linda Bellinger who acted as our group advisors. Growing up in Cardinal was second to none.

We, the former members of the Cardinal Disco Ducks Youth Group along with the support of the Cardinal Community Festival Committee and the Cardinal Legion Branch 105, are holding a reunion dance on Saturday, September 4, at the Cardinal Legion. The doors will open at 8 p.m. with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The DJ will play retro music from the 70s and 80s as it was 25 years ago. All proceeds from the dance will go back into the community by way of the Cardinal Community Festival Committee.

This year's Labour Day them is You Can Come Home, and it is our hope that you will. If you are in contact with someone who used to attend these dances and has moved away from the area we hope you, the readers, will pass the information on to them.

For further information I can be reached at 925-7000 or robwenrg@ripnet.com

Our Prayer

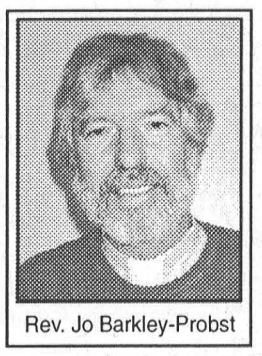
Our Father in heaven
Hallowed be your name
Let not what we do,
Let not what we say
Dishonour, abuse
Or bring down your name,
But give us die Spirit of love as a flame.
Hallowed be your name.

Our Father in heaven,
Your kingdom come.
Your will be done here
Before you appear
On earth as in heaven
We know you are near
Give us the Spirit which casts out all fear,
Your kingdom come.

This is our prayer.
This is our song
In him we live and move
And by grace we belong.
For all who have ears to hear
What the Spirit is making clear
This is our prayer
This is our song.

Our Father in heaven
Save us from the time of trial,
And deliver us from evil powers
From hate and deception
And the pride that devours.
Give us the Spirit of faith in your power
In the time of trial.

Perspectives



Rev. Jo Barkley-Probst

This is our prayer
This is our song
In him we live and move
And by grace we belong.
For all who have ears to hear
What the Spirit is making clear
This is our prayer
This is our song.

Our Father in heaven,
Give us this day our daily bread
And help us to share
With the children out there
Who've got nothin' but sorrow
When we haven't a care.
Just give us the Spirit of grace to be fair
With our daily bread.

Our Father in heaven
Forgive us our sins as we forgive
Those who sin against us,
And try to win against us;
Who use and confuse
And misunderstand us
Your Spirit of peacemaking, Lord, give to us
And forgive us our sins.

This is our prayer
This is our song
In him we live and move
And by grace we belong.
For all who have ears to hear
What the Spirit is making clear
This is our prayer
This is our song.

And by grace we belong.
For the kingdom, the power
And the glory are your's

School's Cool at the Early Years Centre

MORRISBURG–On Tuesday, July 27, many local youngsters attended their first graduation.

The Ontario Early Years Centre has just completed its eight week "School's Cool" program for children attending kindergarten in September; the first of its kind in Morrisburg.

It has been held three days a week since the beginning of June and until last Tuesday.

Many proud camera yeilding videorecording parents were at the Early Years Centre in Morrisburg to commemorate their child's first big step into the world of education.

The ceremonies opened with songs by the graduates and an introduction of the speaker.

The special speaker at the graduation was Morrisburg Public School Principal Jack Barkley who congratulated the young students and told their parents, "by being here, you are showing them that school's important."

Fiona Carr, Family Resource Coordinator and "School's Cool" teacher, then handed out the diplomas and spoke about the program and the dedicated volunteers.

"School's Cool" in Morrisburg was an eight week learning readiness course for children ages three to five. There were also two parent sessions.

The two parent sessions involve helping parents to recognize their role in their child's education, familiarizing them with what to expect when their child enters the educational system and helping them to gain skills to advocate for their child in a way that will be positive to the parent, child and school.

The "School's Cool" course is proven effective in increasing language, reasoning, social and self–help skills in children. Each of the 24 sessions has specific activities and a specific format that encourages and sustains these skills. Each activity is divided into four developmental levels, to suit the ages involved. Instructors are trained to focus on children's strengths and competencies, and to cultivate an eagerness to learn in those children attending the "School's Cool" course.

School's Cool in the summer!

On Tuesday July 27, the youngsters pictured above graduated from the "School's Cool" program at the Morrisburg Early Years Centre. The eight week long learning readiness course is meant to best prepare youngsters for kindgergarten through not only learning important skills, but also by teaching them to appreciate their education.

Morrisburg Eastern Star drops by Hospital with cash

WINCHESTER – Seven members of the Morrisburg Chapter of the Eastern Star dropped by Winchester District Memorial Hospital earlier this month to present Foundation Chair, Terry MacLellan with a cheque for $300, bringing the total the local organization has donated to the Hospital to $4,900.

The Morrisburg Chapter #83 of the Eastern Star is associated with the Masonic Lodge. This group meets monthly and raises money for local charities by providing catering and other events. The Florence Nightingale Foundation also supports the local chapter.

Local All Stars play in Provincials

MORRISBURG – A local team of Minor Baseball All Stars, are gaining some province-wide recognition. The team which includes three Morrisburg players, won their way into the provincial championship tournament, and still have a chance at making the provincial finals.

A team of nine and 10 year old all stars was selected from the local baseball programs, and entered in the "Playdowns," explains Dale Adams.

This Little League Playdown Tournament is running across the province to determine the District champions and these teams then go on to the Provincial Championship which is being held in Carleton Place starting Saturday July 31, and running to August 5.

Our competitive team entered the Playdowns having to compete against the best players from Cornwall and Brockville's programs in a double elimination format to determine the District 7 champion. This district play started Saturday June 17 in Cornwall where Upper Canada defeated the host squad 8 to 7 in extra innings. They then played in Brockville on Sunday and won again, this time by a 13 to 3 score.

Being undefeated against both these teams, Upper Canada then had to wait to see who their next competition would be as a game was played between Brockville and Cornwall which Cornwall won.

This action set up play this past weekend whereby Upper Canada and Cornwall played in games on Saturday and Sunday (if necessary) since Upper Canada had to win only one game and Cornwall had to win both games.

On Saturday, Cornwall defeated Upper Canada 15 to 7, setting up the winner take all game on Sunday morning at the Prescott ball diamond. Cornwall went out to a 3 to 0 lead early in the game but Upper Canada scored two runs in the third inning to keep things close.

The game stayed that way until the bottom of the fifth inning when Upper Canada bats came alive to score four runs and take a 6 to 3 lead heading into the final inning. The task of shutting down the Cornwall bats was left to Morrisburg area pitcher, Bobby Robichaud.

It was a tense time as Cornwall was able to get runners to second and third base with one out but after a strike out and grounder to short stop, Upper Canada was able to preserve the win and earned the right to represent this District at the Provincial Tournament being held in Carleton Place.

Teams will be coming from Ottawa, Toronto, and Windsor areas in search of the Provincial title.

The team consists of three local players from the Morrisburg area, Bobby Robichaud, Marc Beckstead and Kyle Adams.

At the Provincial Tournament, the local All Stars have already played two games, against two Ottawa area teams.

Their first game against Ottawa's CFR team ended in a close 11-10 win for the local boys.

The boys seemed to have the game in hand, at one point holding a 9-3 lead. Ottawa charged back late in the game, but the locals hung on for the win.

Their second game, was played against Orleans, and Adams says the game was a really exciting one. "We were behind heading into the last at bat 13-5. In the last inning the boys exploded for 14 runs." Orleans had the last at bat, and again the local team held on for a 19-13 win.

"It was quite a rally. They boys were really excited," says Adams.

One of their games was rained out on Saturday, so they are scheduled to play Toronto's powerful High Park team, this Wednesday at 1 p.m. in Carleton Place.

The winner of the game will be locked in for the Provincial finals.

Since the tournament is a double elimination format, the losing team will still have a chance to play their way back in to the final game.

This is the first time in many years that an area team was entered in to the Little League Minor Level Playdowns, and since making the Provincial Tournament, Adams says the support of all of the communities involved has been great.

"The townships, and a lot of local organizations gave us pins to exchange, so we were quite popular at the opening ceremonies and pin trading ceremonies," says Adams.

"Their help has allowed our area to get a lot of positive recognition," he says.

Kickers U13 and U16 Boys take a kick at league championships

IROQUOIS– The Dundas County Soccer League season has ended, and the results of the championship games at each level show the dominance of the North Dundas teams.

The U13 Girls division championship game pitted North Dundas United Team One against North Stormont, with the North Dundas team winning.

Their win relegated North Stormont to the second place position. In the consolation game the Seaway Kickers played their way to third in the division standings by beating North Dundas Team Two 1-0. Sloane Jarvis scored the game winning goal.

The U16 Girls Division featured two hometown battles. North Dundas was a safe bet in predicting the league champions, as North Dundas Teams One and Two played each other in the finale. North Dundas One ended up in the number one position and North Dundas Two in the number two position.

The consolation game winner was another safe bet, with a Seaway Kickers team was sure to win as the Northside and Southside Teams faced off against each other.

The Southsiders won their way into third position on the merit of goals from Julie Van't Foort who kicked two, and Kathleen German who kicked one, in the 3-1 win over their Northside counterparts. Kaitlyn Douma scored the Southsiders lone goal.

The Seaway Kickers U13 Boys were the first Kickers team to play their way into the championship game. The close game was played against North Dundas United Team One, and ended 2-1 for them.

The Kickers only goal of the game was scored by Neil Bouwman.

The U16 Boys Division has only three teams, so the Kickers had to win their July 28, game against North Stormont to make it into Saturday's championship match. They did that, and faced North Dundas in the championship game, which they lost 5-1, to finish the season in second place.

Iroquois Junior Boys Baseball

First playoff win

IROQUOIS – The Iroquois Junior Boys Baseball team finished their regular season in just the right way to prepare them for the playoffs, and send them into one of the most exciting games of the season.

In the final three games of the season Iroquois posted 7-7 tie against Kemptville, a 5-3 win over Chesterville, and a narrow 9-8 character building loss to Winchester.

In the first, single game elimination round of the playoffs last week, Iroquois hosted the Winchester team, who had just beat them in regular season play, and finished ahead of them in the standings.

Looking back at the history of the two teams, Iroquois was the underdog. Winchester had beat them in two of three head-to-head match ups this season.

But Winchester's dominance would come to an end last Monday night, with Iroquois winning the right to move on to the next playoff round, scoring a dramatic 11-9 win over the Sox.

Jesse Lapier, Iroquois' starting pitcher, held Winchester to only two runs in four innings. He was backed up by a solid infield.

Lapier's efforts on the mound for Iroquois were also backed up by a solid effort by he and his teammates at the plate.

By the end of the fourth inning, Iroquois was holding a 6-2 lead over Winchester.

Jordan Hawn came in as the relief pitcher, in the marathon three-hour game, and the two teams traded runs back and forth.

Going into the bottom of the seventh inning Iroquois was still holding on to a narrow 11-9 lead, with Winchester's batters stepping to the plate with the last bat.

The game ended up a real crowd pleaser, as it came down to two out, bases loaded, in the bottom of the seventh inning.

In the clinch situation Iroquois' pitcher, Hawn, came through for his team, throwing three strikes by the Winchester batter, to give Iroquois the win and the right to move on to the next playoff round.

Liam Mills, Bret Avery, Jordan Hawn, Jesse Lapier, Dane Levere, Nick McCaslin, Scott Summers, and Matt Ouderkirk scored Iroquois' runs.

Long Service Medals

OTTAWA – Long term dedication to fire fighting in South Dundas was recognized in Ottawa July 8, when two local volunteers were awarded Long Service Medals.

South Dundas Mayor Lyle Van Allen, attended and participated in the ceremony, at the Ottawa Congress Centre.

Ontario Fire Marshal Bernard Moyle presented 25 year Long Service Medals to 40 members from Ottawa-Carleton, Prescott-Russell, Lanark, Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry and Renfrew. And, among those 40 were South Dundas Volunteer Firefighters Alan Brunt and Dale Casselman, both of whom are with the Williamsburg Fire Department.

"It was really nice to see two firemen from South Dundas being honoured," said Van Allen.

Fire Service Long Service Medals are an expression of public appreciation for the dedication and hard work of Ontario firefighters, and are presented by the provincial office to fire department personnel who have achieved 25 years of service to their community.

Still room at the Randy McKay golf tournament

WILLIAMSBURG – For anyone who wants to help out minor hockey, and meet a former NHLer and Stanley Cup winner, there is still room in the Randy McKay charity golf tournament.

The fifth annual tournament will take place Monday, August 9, at the Cedar Glen Golf Course, and as of last week organizers still had room for about three or four foursomes.

Last year's tournament was their most successful fundraiser of the five years.

They raised $7,700 for minor hockey in South Dundas and South Stormont, and organizer Hugh McKay says that if they can fill up all the spaces in the tournament, they should top that, and break the $10,000 mark this year.

McKay is grateful for the sponsorship, donations and participation that make this tournament possible, and allows them to give so much to minor hockey.

Hugh says that his son Randy will be there this year.

Randy McKay played about 14 years in the National Hockey League that he retired from last year.

He spend most of his career (12 years) with the New Jersey Devils, and has two Stanley Cups to his credit. He also had short stints with the Detroit Red Wings, Dallas Stars and Montreal Canadians.

The cost of participating in the tournament is $70 and includes golf, power cart and supper. The shotgun start is scheduled for 10:30 a.m.

An auction of mostly hockey memorabilia from various NHL teams and players will start at about 4:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at about 6 p.m.

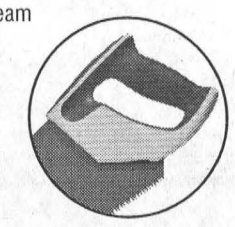
Anyone interested in participating can contact Hugh McKay at 537-8426.

Mastercraft MAXIMUM

Safety Recall
Mastercraft Maximum Handsaw

Canadian Tire is voluntarily recalling the Mastercraft Maximum handsaw (Canadian Tire product numbers 57-7457 and 57-7458) sold at Canadian Tire stores between February 28, 2003 and July 2004. Canadian Tire has been advised of a safety issue with a similar product sold under the Stanley Tools (S.A.S.) brand in Europe.

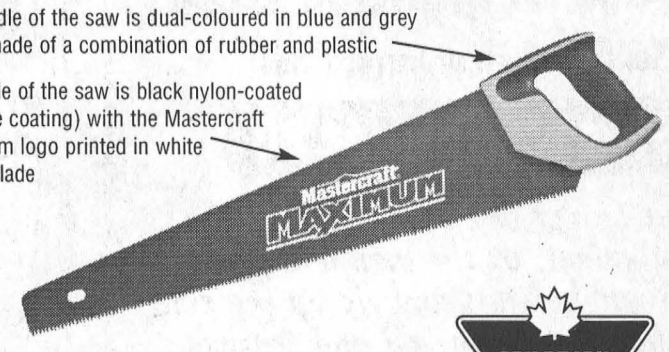
It has been determined that due to a manufacturing defect, the seam of the saw's handle has the potential to split. This could result in the blade being exposed, therefore posing a potential safety issue. While Canadian Tire has not been notified of any instance of this occurring in Canada, there have been 6 reported minor injuries in Europe in connection with the use of the Stanley Tools (S.A.S.) brand product.



The handsaw can be identified as follows:

1) The handle of the saw is dual-coloured in blue and grey and is made of a combination of rubber and plastic

2) The blade of the saw is black nylon-coated (EZ slide coating) with the Mastercraft Maximum logo printed in white on the blade



Customers who have purchased this handsaw are asked to discontinue the use of this product immediately and to return it to their local Canadian Tire store for a refund or product exchange.

Whites take tournament

MORRISBURG–At the Annual Junior B Lions Tubie Weekend Lob Ball tournament, the A Final dual was between two teams who are familiar with competing against each other for a good cause.

The Cecil Lewis team and the Whites last duked it out at the Ray Barkley Memorial Tournament to benefit Seaway District High School bursary winners.

At that tournament, the Lewis team took home the gold, so it may just be fair that the Whites win this tournament; though winning the Annual Junior B Lob Ball tournament is nothing new to the Whites who won last year as well.

Player Troy White dismisses the idea that the Whites practice before the tournaments they enter, saying, "we don't need to practice for the tournaments because we play ball every weekend anyway."

The Cecil Lewis team had the home field advantage for this game, and they had three runs in the first inning thanks to Phil, Mike Prunner and Jenn McNairn.

The Whites countered with five runs by Cory White, Jamie Roderick, Troy White, Jason Marshall and Steph White.

For the Whites in the second inning, Brad Keeler and Susan White snuck in two runs.

In the third inning, each team scored a run; Mike Prunner for the Lewis team and Terry White for the White team.

The Lewis team couldn't manage any runs in the fourth inning, but the Whites gained by one thanks to Brad Keeler.

In the fifth, the Whites had runs by Jason Marshall, Steph White and Troy Richmire.

In the sixth, the Whites gained six runs, the most notable a home run by Jason Roderick who was a key player in the White's Junior B Lions Lob Ball Tournament A Finals last year.

By the seventh, it seemed as if the Lewis' had run out of steam, and only the Whites gained any in this inning thanks to Chris Harper.

The final score was 19–4 for the Whites.

Troy White felt that the tournament was run very well considering the teams were rained out on Saturday and were forced to play on Sunday.

Winners of the Tubie Parade

For those that don't know it, Tubie Weekend is more than just the race on Sunday. On Saturday, there was a parade where Tubie racing teams entered a float. There was also an Annual Junior B Lions Lob Ball Tournament and a dance on Saturday night where the featured band was "Rub Salt," and everyone got their groove on. Pictured above are this year's winners of the parade, "Super Tubio World."

Pirates of the St. Lawrence

On Friday July 23, Trista Levere and Lorraine Baylis led the final day of swimming lessons for the July 5–July 23 swimming session. The sessions run from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and in a day Levere and Baylis manage at least 60 children between the two of them.The theme of the final day was "pirates" and the children chose to refer to themselves as "Pirates of the St.Lawrence" after the popular Johnny Depp movie, "Pirates of the Carribbean." The day's activities included treasure hunts, sand castle building competitions, water balloon fights, water polo and various other water games. Above are some of the swimming students in their pirates costumes. In front, l–r, is Tanner Robertson, Erin Stewart and Austin Baxter. In back, l–r, is instructor Trista Levere, Brianna Hickman-Korac, Kristin Stewart, Morgan Baxter, Brenna German, Kelsey Baxter and instructor Lorraine Baylis.

10th anniversary

Volley for Cancer makes history

MORRISBURG–When the first volley clears the net at this year's Volley For Cancer on Saturday, August 21 the 10th anniversary of the hugely successful fundraiser will officially begin.

Ten years ago following the death of Carl's mother Goldie, Carl and his wife Ruby realized they wanted, in some way to express their gratitude to the Canadian Cancer Society for the help and support that had been provided during Goldie's illness.

In addition to Goldie's illness and death in 1994, the Van Allens had other family members and friends succumb to cancer and in the midst of all this, they had a feeling of helplessness. Yet always lurking in the background was a feeling of wanting to do something to help and support others who were experiencing what they were.

With support from various groups, home care, hospice, volunteers, relatives and friends and neighbours, all this culminated in the decision to do something to support the Cancer Society.

As the Van Allens discussed their desires with family members, the idea of a volleyball tournament was proposed and Volley for Cancer (VFC) was born.

The first approach was to the Canadian Cancer Society where the feeling was experienced that Carl was one brick short of a full load. Neighbours whom Carl consulted had the same feeling.

In spite of it all, Carl because of "fortitude and some stupidity" continued to knock on the business and organizational doors of the community.

Groups such as area Lions clubs, Snowmobile clubs, various Legions and other community groups were contacted and began to share the dream. Slowly, but surely they were ignited by Carl's enthusiasm.

From the beginning, it was absolutely mandatory that no one would every personally benefit financially from VFC and that once all expenses related to the running of the tournament were paid, the net profit would be given to the Cancer Society.

Now during the 10 year lifetime of Volley For Cancer, over 2,000 people have shared in various aspects of the event. In addition and most importantly are the 100s of players themselves, who with the support of their sponsors, raise most of the money given each year.

In its 10 years Volley For Cancer has become the largest money raiser for the Eastern Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society. The nine year total given to the Society is $246,500.

An important and significant factor of the success of Volley For Cancer has been the wide and extensive community support.

Simply put Volley For Cancer is a household name in Dundas County and even beyond.

You need look no farther for the community support than those who contribute to each year's event and run their own events in support of Volley For Cancer: the dear lady who for many year has knit afghans; the quilters from Park Drive Villa in Williamsburg; the Adirondack chairs so beautifully decorated; Chico's Golf Tournament; golf for prizes; the dunk tank participants; various draws; VFC jar at Auto Wonderland event; ball for cancer; darts for cancer; Mike's Valu-Mart barbecue; Bona Tremblay's boom truck; Cornwall Olde Car Club; face painting; Roy's pool and Williamsburg Fire Department; head and beard shaving

It is of value to delineate the number of people who have been involved over the history of Volley For Cancer. Including the contestants, the musicians, the volunteers and those involved in ancillary activities the number is closing in on 10,000.

In addition, the conservative estimate of spectator presence is 30,000.

Carl Van Allen when asked to put the 10 years into perspective said, "In looking back on all of the nine events, I still feel the first VFC was the most amazing because it was volleyball played on a farmer's hay field."

With the passage of years the event outgrew its venue, and last year, for the first time was held at the waterfront park in Morrisburg. Last year also marked the passing of the torch from Carl and Ruby Van Allen to a very capable organizational committee chaired by Kevin Spencer and Gordon Lane.

The board, the Van Allen's and all Volley For Cancer volunteers are now busy preparing for the 10th Volley For Cancer run and anticipate once again the pleasure derived from a community gathering together in one common cause.

Fast Green for Charity

The wake from the weekend's tubie races has barely settled, and already everyone is already gearing up for the next big event, Volley for Cancer, which is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year. Pictured above, Chico, aka Jamie McIntosh, hosted his annual charity golf tournament in Morrisburg last Friday. Chico's Fifth Annual Mad Scramble, a Volley for Cancer fundraiser, took place at the Morrisburg Golf Club. This year through the support of numerous sponsors, and participants the one day event brought in a $3,000 boost for Volley for Cancer.
