THE CHESTERVILLE
RECORD

Vol. 82, No. 13 | Chesterville, Ont. | Single Copy 15¢ | Wednesday, December 1, 1976

Oscar Olsen, Joseph St., Chesterville, was one of 128 persons to receive their immunization shot against the feared swine flue at a special clinic held at the Chesterville Legion Monday. The Eastern Ontario Health Unit did not have enough monovalent serum for persons between 20 and 64 years so another clinic will be re-scheduled for some time before Chrisemas. Early indication is the week of Mon., Dec. 13. Mr. Olsen does not seem to mind receiving the needle as much as nurse Marjorie Trillo minds giving it.

Race for reeveship headlines full election

(Staff) - Village voters will have their work cut out for them this Monday as they choose from a total of 15 candidates running for seven municipal and school board offices.

Separate and public school supporters will have the same number of candidates to choose from as both trusteeships are being contested by two men.

Highlighting the election here will be the election for reeve with incumbent Councillor Nelson LaPrade and former Reeve Jim Brannen vying for the village's top elected position. Incumbent Reeve Keith Graham announced ealier this year he would not be seeking another term.

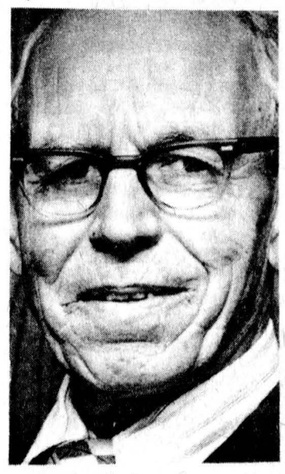
The greatest number of candidates are running for Council. One incumbent, Archie Black, is not running for re-election and another is going for the reeveship. That leaves two incumbents, Stuart Allan and Garnet Droppo, to battle it out with seven newcomers, Jim Cook, Earl Cross, Silas Curran, Mike Dean, MacLaSalle, Gabriel Martel and Bert VanKessel, for the four seats around the Council table.

The election is more one of issues than of just personalities.

Managing the village's growth seems to be the major issue coming out of the various campaigns. A secondary issue is the enforcement of village bylaws, with some Council candidates coming out in favor of hiring a bylaw enforcement officer and at least one in favor of a laissez-faire attitude as far as the village's laws and regulations are concerned.

In the race for reeve, Mr. Brannen has run a low-key campaign, stressing planned development for the village. He has laid a particular emphasis on attracting business to the community so the village will not become a bedroom community for large centres.

Reeve from 1968-70 and defeated in the election that year by Mr. Graham, Mr. Brannen said the last 10 years have seen Chesterville grow and he is proud to have played a part in that growth. It was during his time as reeve that the village sanitary sewer system was begun and he feels such a project could not be completed today in a community the size of Chesterville because of soaring costs.



Jim Brannen

Nelson LaPrade

It cost in the neighborhood of $700,000 to build the system at the time and Mr. Brannen said the cost would be triple that today.

He says his experience with all levels of government will be an asset to the village as the municipality seeks to maintain the amount of provincial assistance it has been receiving.

Mr. LaPrade, a one-term Councillor, came third in the five-way race in the 1974 election.

Caterer at North Dundas Didstict High School's cafeteria, he is mainly concerned with seeing the proposed dam for Chesterville carried through to completion and with the appointment of a combination bylaw enforcement officer-building inspector.

Mr. LaPrade, the most vocal member of the present Council, pushed for legislation to protect local tradesmen from discriminatory hiring practices in other centres and has vowed to continue the fight if elected reeve.

In school board elections, village public school supporters will have a choice between incumbent trustee Lorne Thompson and Winchester Reeve Walter Shadbolt.

Mr. Thompson has been trustee since the inception of the tri-county board and has 32 years of experience in educational matters. He has retired from Nestle (Canada) Ltd. where he was chief electrician.

Mr. Shadbolt was formerly a trustee at Greely and is resigning his post as Reeve of Winchester Village to try and unseat Mr. Thompson.

In the separate school election, incumbent Sarsfield O'Connor faces a challenge from Alphonse Lafrance, RR3 Crysler. Mr. O'Connor has been trustee since 1972 and Mr. Lafrance is taking his first dip in electoral waters.

Monovalent serum runs short but flu clinics still in operation

(Staff) - Nineteen seventy-six will probably go down in the history books as the year Ontario residents got the "big needle" as swine flu immunization clinics swing into operation across the province.

Immunization shots against the virulent influenza strain, which is blamed for the deaths of about 20 million persons in the 1918-19 pandemic, were initiated in Eastern Ontario last week and will continue for about 10 weeks.

Dr. R.V. Peters, medical officer of health with the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, said Monday while visiting a clinic in Chesterville close to 5,500 persons have already been vaccinated in the five eastern counties.

Dr. Peters also regretted announcing he had run out of monovalent serum for persons between 20 and 64 years.

The clinic did go on as scheduled for persons over 65 years to receive their bivalent innoculation of A-New Jersey-76 and A-Victoria-76 serum.

He did say monovalent serum would be received in the near future and another clinic is expected to be rescheduled for sometime before Christmas.

Dr. Peters is co-ordinating the innoculation of some 70,000 persons in the city of Cornwall and counties of Dundas, Glengarry, Stormont, Prescott and Russell.

In four area clinics held recently over 1,200 persons were innoculated. Clinics in Morrisburg had 212 persons, 183 in Winchester, 658 in Ingleside and 169 in Finch.

Dr. Peters explained the program is voluntary and persons are innoculated at no charge. He hopes 60 to 70 per cent of those eligible for innoculation take advantage of the program.

The province-wide program will cost about $9-million, or approximately 70 cents per shot.

A Nestle physician, Dr. Murray Waldman, Toronto, visited the plant here last Wednesday and innoculated 160 employees.

Upon entering a clinic instructions are handed out stating that, the injection should not be taken by those who are sick, pregnant, allergic to eggs or who have received any other vaccine during the past two weeks.

There is also a warning that some people could suffer flu-like symtoms, including muscle pains and a general sick feeling.

Few people are reporting problems after being innoculated.

Persons between the ages of 20 and 50 and those over 65 are most susceptible to swine flu and will be targeted for immunization as will anyone disignated "essential personnel".

Those in the 20-50 age bracket will be vaccinated with '-New Jersey-76 while those over 65 will be innoculated with both swine flue vaccine and A-Victoria. The latter group includes the majority of those suffering from chronic diseases, heart ailments, bronchial diseases, kidney ailments and diabetes.

Area clinics to be held in the near future are Mon., Dec. 6 at the United Church Hall, Lakeshore Drive, Morrisburg, and the United Church Hall at Winchester; Wed., Dec. 8 at the St. Jacques Parish Church Hall, Embrun. The clinics are from 1:30-7:30pm.

Choir here Sunday

(Staff) - Cornwall's Centennial Choir will be presenting a concert of Christmas music and carols this Sunday at 8pm in Trinity United Church.

Led by conductor Brian McCartney, music director at General Vanier Secondary School, the choir is one of the most accomplished in Canada, being the only choral group from this country ever to take part in the annual Welsh Eisteddfod - the world's largest folk music gathering.

Lord knows we've tried

(Staff) — Following complaints from Ottawa city and area subscribers about the tardy delivery pattern The Record has adopted in that area in the past two months, this paper's management contacted officials of Canada Post who met with the editor Friday morning to discuss the problem.

Representing the post office were Gaston Parent, planning and liaison officer, transportation department, Eastern District; Roger Roussy, Eastern District marketing representative, and J.P. Lafontaine, Eastern District customer service representative.

They were informed that the paper is now taking two weeks to travel the 35 miles between Chesterville and Ottawa, a fact unacceptable to both the management of this newspaper and its subscribers. Better service was promised and it remains The Record's contention that subscribers in Ottawa and district should receive two-day delivery, as they had up to two months ago.

If delivery has still not improved, The Record asks its subscribers to contact the paper at P.O. Box 368, Chesterville, KOC IHO, call 448-2321 or 448-2322. The Record would also ask its subscribers to contact the above-mentioned postal officials, all of whom can be reached by writing to the Ottawa Post Office, Eastern District, Ottawa, KIA OCI.

Two plebiscite decisions Monday

(Staff) - Two area municipalities will present their votes with plebiscites in Monday's balloting.

Voters in Winchester Township will be asked whether they are in favor of the sale of liquor, wine and beer in licenced premises where food is available. The question was asked of township residents in 1971 and was defeated. A two-thirds majority is needed before the question can pass.

Interest in, or at least opposition to, the liquor vote is minimal as demonstrated by the fact that no one was chosen to head the anti-liquor camp at a meeting in Winchester Township offices last Monday.

Osnabruck Township residents will vote for the second time on whether they want a community centre in the township.

The question was voted on in 1974 and defeated but at that time the proposal was to build a community centre in the Ingleside area.

This time, residents are being asked if they are in favor of the construcion of an arena and banquet hall within a half mile of the township offices, in Osnabruck Centre.

The proposed building would cost in the neighborhood of $800,000, with $500,000 of that available from the province through the Community Centres Recreation Act and Wintario grants.

The township would have to raise $150,000 through private donations and another $150,000 through taxes. This would mean a 13-mill levy on property taxes in the township for the next two years.

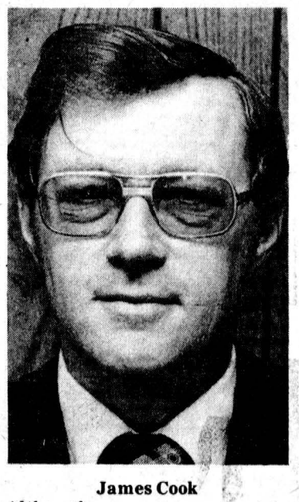
Chesterville Village

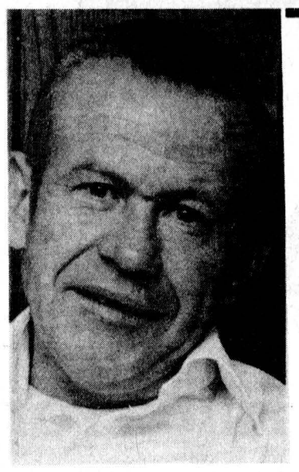
Stuart Allan

First elected to Council in 1970, Mr. Allan, Chesterville's post master, led the polls in the 1974 election. Mr. Allan doesn't believe in making rash election promises since they are rarely lived up to. He is running a low-key campaign, in keeping with his manner at the Council table. A resident of Mill St. and a member of Chesterville Legion Branch 434, Mr. Allan is putting his experience on the line in the nine-way race for Council's four seats.



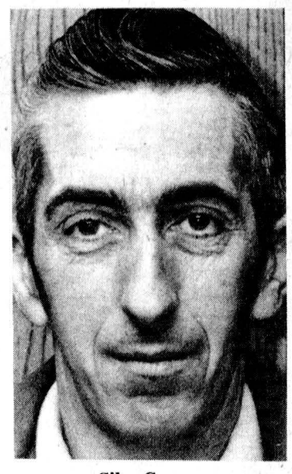
James Cook

Although a newcomer to Chesterville, Mr. Cook has involved himself in local affairs, serving as finance chairman for the nursery school committee and being one of the driving forces in keeping the school open this year. An accountant at Nestle (Canada) Ltd., receiving his degree in 1973, he is a native of Saskatchewan and served five years in the Canadian Navy. He believes in strong local government and thinks the village should continue to be run on a debt-free basis.



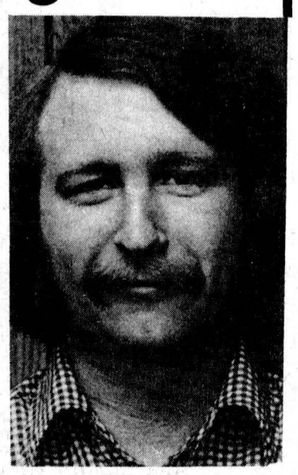
Earl Cross

A long-time businessman in the village, Mr. Cross operates a meat market on King St. as well as a beef farm at RR2 Chesterville. He says he wishes to serve on Council to be of service to all, not for any particular activity or favor. One of seven challengers for the four seats on Council, Mr. Cross says he feels he can work in harmony with a proven team of administrators in a business worth well over $2-million and wants Chesterville's growth to continue on patterned lines.



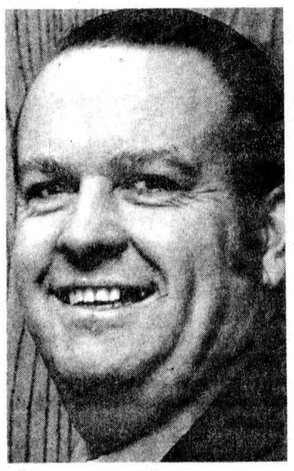
Silas Curran

A Queen St. merchant, Mr. Curran is another challenger for a Council seat this year. Although he has lived in the area all his life, he has been a resident of he village for the past two years, and wants to see the local police force reinstated, or failing that, at least a bylaw enforcement officer be appointed by the village. The 41-year-old father of five says he isn't criticizing the OPP for the job they've been doing, but feels they can't be everywhere at once.



Mike Dean

The youngest candidate in the nine-way Council race, Mr.Dean feels he can offer fresh ideas to the village administration. A native of Ottawa, he moved to Chesterville in May and took over operation of the former Laflamme's Grocery on King St. He wants more flexibility in interpreting village bylaws and a supervised recreation facility for the village's young people. Mr.Dean is also campaigning for better school crossings and more input from community groups at the Council level.

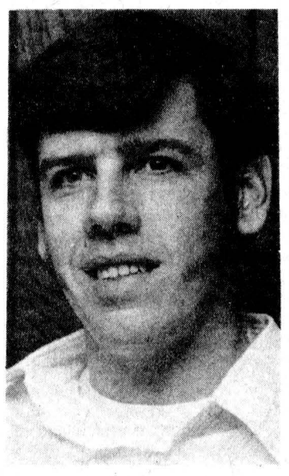


Garnet Droppo

One of the two incumbents running for re-election this year, Mr. Droppo wants to continue to put his business experience to work for the village. Owner-operator of Bogart Motors, corner of King and Queen Streets, he wants to see more businesses locate in Chesterville. Mr. Droppo feels the village is a growing community and is campaigning to provide the services and facilities to keep the growth rolling. Mr. Droppo served a term in the 1960s, dropped out and came back for a second term in 1974.

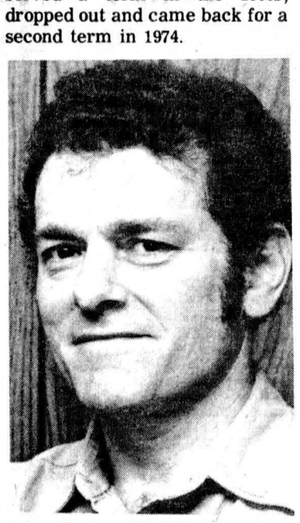
Mac LaSalle

A native of Chesterville, Mr. LaSalle operates Mac's Barber and Hairstyling Shop on King St. He is particularly interested in recreation and the fact the arena lost three hours of ice rentals this year. Mr. LaSalle worked for Ontario Hydro and feels he has the experience to help set up the plans for servicing the growth areas of the village. A resident of Francis St., Mr. LaSalle is the Province of Ontario Returning Officer for the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry electoral district.



Gabriel Martel

One of the younger candidates for Council, Mr. Martel, a resident of Joseph St., has pledged himself to restraint in municipal spending. A building contractor, he wants to see more co-operation between Chesterville and its neighboring communities and would like to have more input from local organizations - particularly service clubs, youth groups, sports associations, church groups and senior citizens - in the decision-making process at the village's top level.



Bert VanKessel

A resident of Chesterville for the past 20 years, Mr. VanKessel, a maintenance mechanic at Nestle (Canada) Ltd., is making his first try for a Council seat. He said he feels the village has given him a great deal and by running for Council he is trying to give something back to the community. He explained that he wants to see the village continued to be run on a businesslike basis, providing all the services it can with the tax money available.

Personal

Wednesday he was at Brockville for a meeting of Brockville Presbytery, at which he also did the piano work for the worship service.

For the past ten years Chesterville has progressed steadily upward in relation to other municipalities. I am proud I was a small part of this progress as reeve from 1968 - 1971. But those years are now behind us and we must look to the future. Chesterville needs a thriving business community. With it we will create jobs in Chesterville. We need jobs here, so that we do not become the sleepground of Eastern Ontario. We need participation from all the people, be they young or a senior citizen. My experience will be an asset in dealing with different levels of gov't, so that we may forge ahead in our fight for a modern, attractive community.

Lack of communication leads to farmer-consumer mistrust

AVONMORE (Staff) - Canadians enjoy a high standard of living because of, not in spite of, the cost of food in this country.

That was the message Diane Harkin, Winchester area farm wife and organizer of Women for the Survival of Agriculture, told the audience at the annual Stormont County Dairy Herd Improvement banquet at St. James United Church here Saturday night.

Mrs. Harkin said farmers have been characterized as growing rich off the high cost of food and non-farmers regard the agricultural community as "the enemy who is ripping them off".

It all boils down to a communication breakdown between farmer and consumer, she said, as the farmer continues to let others tell his side of the story for him.

Too often, she claimed, the result is "the only information the consumer gets is through the media and consumer organizations" where it is biased, false or misleading.

"We have a story to tell, a darned good story and we haven't told it. How are people really going to know if we don't tell them? The facts we have to get out to people are hidden away in books called agricultural statistics, or stored in filing cabinets labelled "unpublished briefs".

To illustrate her claims, she said Canadians spend only 18 per cent of their disposable income on food while in Japan and the U.K. it is 26 per cent, in Russia 54 per cent and some places in mainland Asia, 83 per cent.

The low cost of food subsidizes other aspects of the Canadian standard of living, she said.

With Canadians having to spend so little on food, they have "lots left over to live in a nice home, own a tv, nice furniture, a car and even be able to take a nice vacation."

It's time farmers got out and told their fellow countrymen the reason they are able to enjoy one of the highest standards of living in the world is that farmers have produced some for so little for so many years, Mrs. Harkin said.

Farming has improved its efficiency so much in the past 20 years, that if all segments of the economy followed its lead "there would be no inflation in North America".

She contended the farmer is "the most valuable professional businessman in this country and yet he is regarded as a second class citizen", giving examples of urban ignorance of the agribusiness.

The lack of communication between farmers and consumers was the reason for founding Women for the Survival of Agriculture.

Mrs. Harkin said at first the cynics scoffed at the group, saying, "Nobody is going to listen to a bunch of farm women."

But that isn't the case, she pointed out, as the group has been featured in newspaper articles and in letters to the editor in several of Ontario's major dailies.

Federal and provincial ministries of agriculture have supported the group and the federal department of the Secretary of State has promised to provide continuing funding since the organization is one of the more successful to stem from International Women's Year.

WSA confronted the Food Prices Review Board; debated food prices with politicians, public servants and the public on CBC-TV's Platform series; presented a brief to the Blair Commission on Ontario Tax Reform and voiced opinions at provincial land use meetings.

It is now involved in the Ontario Hydro Eastern Ontario Planning Program with its main aim being to keep nuclear generating stations and powerline corridors from infringing on prime agricultural land. If takeovers cannot be avoided, WSA wants farmers fully compensated for the loss of their land.

The organization is also preparing a script and slide series to be used in reaching schools, consumer groups and public forums, telling the story of agriculture and food.

"Women talking to women has worked; even the men are listening now," Mrs. Harkin said of WSA's success.

More volunteers are needed for the organization.

"One of our members, Aili Brown, defines volunteer work as the rent we pay for our space on earth. The fact that there are fewer and fewer volunteers each year makes it quite evident that too many people aren't paying their rent," she said.

Women are often too timid to come out and join an organization such as WSA and the motivation and encouragement they need should come from their husbands, she said.

"If it weren't for the encouragement and helpful advice, and an occasional hefty shove in the right direction, that I received from my husband, I'd probably still be cowering at home cursing my lot as a farmwife and steaming with resentment and anger towards the indifferent consumer."

Mrs. Harkin defended the role played by marketing boards, saying consumer advocates' attacks on them are based on ignorance of supply management.

Getting back to the standard of living Canadians enjoy because of low food costs, Mrs. Harkin defended the plan for setting up a national chicken marketing program.

"Good grief, for 18 per cent of their disposable income after taxes, Canadians can buy chicken already cut up in choice pieces, seasoned, cooked and packaged on a throw-away plate. In Asia, for 83 per cent of their disposable income, people buy a scrawny, underfed chicken, covered with flies, hanging by its neck at the side of the road."

She furthered her claim by comparing the food prices of today and those of 40 years ago.

In the 1930s, it cost most people 29 per cent of their income to buy food. In the 1940s it was 22 per cent; in the 60s, 20 per cent.

"Now, in 1976, it has dropped as low as 18 per cent. In the past two years the average North American citizen has spent less of his disposable income on food than ever before in history," she said.

Prior to Mrs. Harkin's speech, 1975 awards were presented to outstanding dairy breeders in the county.

The Rotary Club of Cornwall Trophy for most improved herd went to John Lykx, Berwick; runners-up were John Beehler, Crysler, Martin VanDelst, Finch, R. and M. Leduc, Finch, Bill Paul, Crylser, Irwin Bender, Monkland.

Highest breed class average and Bank of Montreal, Finch, Trophy, to Heinz Mulitze, Ingleside; runners-up, J.W. and W.I. Paul, Crysler, John Lykx, Peter Zeran, Newington, Doug Zeran, Finch.

Best two-year-old, Avonmore Branch, Bank of Nova Scotia Trophy, to Marcel Masse, Crysler; runners-up, Martin VanDelst, R. and M. Leduc, Trenant Acres, Finch, Tom and Barry Armstrong, Crysler.

Finch Lions host advisory body

FINCH (Special) - Last Wednesday night the Finch and District Lions Club hosted a meeting of the Zone Advisory Committee, the Lions supervisory body which oversees the operation of clubs in Alexandria, Maxville, Winchester, Cornwall, Morrisburg, Iroquois and Finch.

The Advisory Committee, comprising senior officials from each of the Lions Clubs was chaired by Harry Ballantyne, Perth.

Discussion at the meeting covered a wide range of subjects relating to Lions' community projects and services, as well as operating methods.

Carl Sadler of Almonte and Lee Rickey of Ottawa, both officials from the Lions organization responsible for all of the 57 Lions Clubs in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec, were present to give guidance and lead the discussion on the topics of Lions in-house bulletins and public relations.

Herman Nyland, secretary for the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Library, briefed the committee on a possible zone project related to bookmobile service.

Memorial dedicated at St. James

AVONMORE (Special) — In the presence of a large congregation in St. James United Church, Sun., Nov. 21, two flower vases were dedicated in memory of Mrs. F.C. (Ada) Eligh, a faithful member who passed away last February.

Rev. H.A. Funge, minister of St. James, conducted the service. The vases, the gift of members of the family and friends, were presented by Mrs. Eligh's brother, W.M. Campbell.

Floral arrangements were placed in the vases by Mrs. W.M. Campbell and Mrs. Maldwyn Watkins.

The choir, under the direction of Kenneth Dunlop, and with the assistance of Rev. Mr. Funge, sang as an anthem "In the Garden".

Mrs. Eligh, involved in all aspects of the community's life, played an important role in many of the church organizations, including the Sunday School and the UCW.

WI notes changes for the better

AVONMORE (Special) - The motto for the November meeting of the Avonmore Women's Institute "Let us not forget that our citizenship in a free world was bought at a great price" was followed by a minute of silence in momory of the many men and women who gave their lives for our freedom.

Mrs. Alex Armour, convention delegate, gave a report on the area convention held in Ottawa. The theme of the two-day meeting was "Change yes-if it means progress".

Mrs. Armour noted that progressive changes are rapidly being made within the Eastern Ontario F.W.I.O. and were reflected in the branch and district reports. Community projects are on the increase and substantial contributions are being made to health, welfare, and educational institutions as well as to nursing homes and manors.

Miss Mary Michels, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food Home Economist, extended an invitation to attend the 4-H Achievement Day at Roxmore Public School at 1:15 pm Sat. Dec. 11. "Here's Looking at You" will be the Spring 4-H Homemakers club.

Mrs. E. Filion provided the evening's entertainment and Mrs. E. Poapst and Mrs. A. Armour served a delicious lunch at the close of the meeting.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE VILLAGE OF CHESTERVILLE

My platform is simply to keep Chesterville a good place to live. This can be done by encouraging light industry to locate here; providing more shopping facilities for village ratepayers and area residents, and by supplying new housing for the families who will help our village grow and grow. I have been in business as owner and operator of Bogart Motor Sales in Chesterville for 21 years and I feel my business experience can be put to use for you and the village. I have served on Council for four years and ask you for your support on December 6 so together we can make it happen.

For
COUNCILLOR
Village of Chesterville

One of the main issues coming before council in the next two years will be a shopping centre for our town. I believe new business should be encouraged to locate in our downtown area. There are more stores needed in Chesterville but let us protect those we have today.

As a councillor I would encourage new businesses to settle in Chesterville in our downtown core. I would push for new sidewalks for our downtown streets, off street parking for employees of stores and better parking facilities for customers.

I believe community associations should have a greater say in community development. Senior citizens, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Womens Clubs, Sports Clubs, Church Organizations and even kindergarden children can help improve the town by expressing their ideas.

I believe in better facilities for our children to help keep them off the street. I don't know what it is but certainly these organizations must have some ideas or even the kids might.

I believe that our pool and arena should be keep open for the hours that we need them not the hours the employees want to work. I believe some of the village bylaws are to strict. I intend to have them loosened up to suit everyone not just those that are better off than you and I.

I will push for a better crossing for our school children before one of them gets killed. I will push for better law enforcement to get those crazy drivers off Chesterville Streets before someone gets killed.

As a business man I can not afford not to listen to your gripes. I must point this out, that I can not fight for something I don't believe in. I will try to do my best in what I promise but remember that I am only one vote and if defeated it is up to you to get after those who voted the other way.

Counties crews ask co-operation

D.J. McDonald
Counties Engineer

CORNWALL (Special) - Winter road conditions are here again. The United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Roads Department, in its efforts to provide the best possible winter maintenance consistent with county road standards and traffic volume, asks your co-operation.

Our crews clear 30 to 50 per cent of the road allowance and as winter progresses require all the available room to store plowed snow.

To assure there is room, we ask that driveway snow not be pushed across the road or piled on the allowance. Such piles cause local drifting, freeze and become potential causes of damage to equipment, and the inevitable trails of snow left on the road surface become a hazard to traffic.

Also, we ask that you not park anywhere on the road allowance as this hinders plowing. Such parking is contrary to the Highway Traffic Act and the counties will report parking problems to the provincial police for action.

The counties' crews maintain 444 miles of road with an on-the-road winter equipped fleet of 24 vehicles (valued at approximately $720,000).

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank all my friends and relatives for their cards, visits and gifts during my stay in Winchester District memorial Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. H.W. Justus and the nursing staff of Maternity Ward.

Mrs. Joseph Goncalves

CARD OF THANKS

Due to my recent operation at the Children's Hospital in Ottawa on November 8, 1976, I want to thank everyone who sent and brought me cards, gifts and treats. Special thanks to Grade 4 at Finch Public School and Donna Byers school bus briver for their thoughtfulness. Also thanks to the nurses on the 5th floor west, Dr. D.W. Thom, Casselman and Dr. H.F. Birewald, Ottawa for their excellent care and concern. Many thanks to Aunt Sandra and Uncle Ian for taking care of Penny while mommy was at the hospital with me.

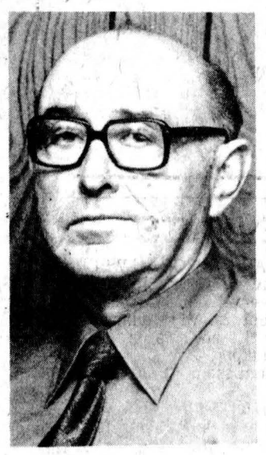
VOTE

James

SULLIVAN

FOR WINCHESTER TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

Finch Township

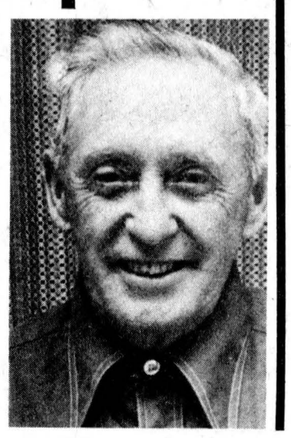


Aurele Forgues

Mr. Forgues, a Crysler area farmer, is one of two incumbents seeking re-election to Township Council. He was first elected in 1970, won re-election in 1972 and ran third in the polls in 1974. Mr. Forgues, as the only bilingual member of Council, is an active member for the many French-speaking residents of the township's north end and the police village of Crysler.

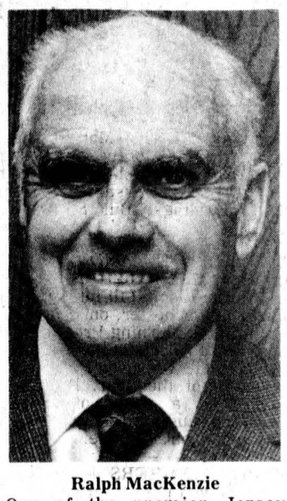
Hugh Shaver

Mr. Shaver, who ran second in the Council race in 1974, was elevated to the deputy reeveship this spring following the accession to reeve by Mr. Ouderkirk. He was also acclaimed to office this year. He served on Council in the early 1950s until defeated in 1955, made a comeback in 1972, won in '74 and received an acclamation this year.



Johnson Ouderkirk

Mr. Ouderkirk received an acclamation to his first full term as township reeve when no other candidates filed for election this year. The dean of township politicians, he served as deputy reeve until last spring when he moved up to fill the reeve's chair, left vacant by the resignation of Charles E. Johnstone.



Ralph MacKenzie

One of the premier Jersey breeders in Stormont County, Mr. MacKenzie led the polls in his first attempt at election, in 1974, receiving 611 votes. As a successful farmer, Mr. MacKenzie feels he has the experience to legislate in the interests of the agriculture community, particularly on drainage matters.

Adam MacQueen

Mr. MacQueen, 65, is a native of the township making a bid to grab the Council seat left vacant by Mr. Shaver's elevation to the deputy reeveship earlier this year. He ran a general store in Berwick with his brother before retiring and had planned to drop out of the race rather than cause an election but changed his mind at the last moment.

Donald Shane

Mr. Shane, a Crsyler area farmer, is making his first attempt to win a seat on Council. Forty-seven years old, he has farmed in the township for the past 16 years. With a large family, most of them living at home, Mr.Shane is particularly interested in township affairs and promises to work for the betterment of the township as a whole.

BROWNLEE

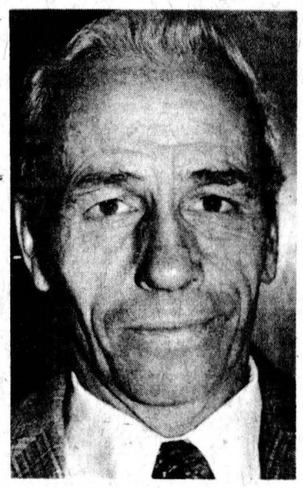
FOR COUNCILLOR

IN THE VILLAGE OF FINCH

Osnabruck Twp.

Stewart Hart

Deputy Reeve for the past two years, Mr. Hart is seeking the township's reeveship because he wants "to see Council brought back to a more business-like basis". A Newington area farmer, he is a member of the Raisin River Conservation Authority, Seaway Valley Tourist Council and member of the Social Services Committee on Counties' Council. He has also served as fire commissioner.

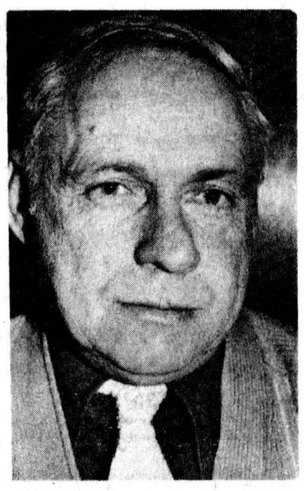


Edwin Waldroff

Mr. Waldroff, a Newington area farmer, offers 17 years of municipal political experience in once again seeking the Osnabruck Township reeveship. He has been reeve for the past six years. Prior to that he served as deputy reeve for seven years and as councillor for four. As a representative on Counties' Council, Mr. Waldroff has been chairman of the Social Services, Roads and Bridges and Finance committees, prerequisites to becoming Warden.

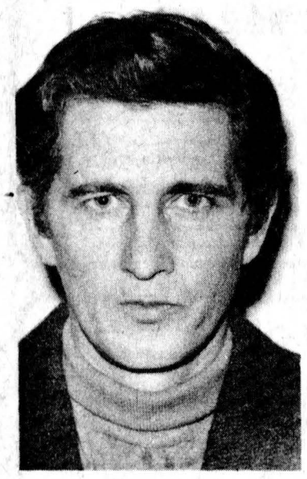
Gordon Ross

Gordon Ross, a 46-year-old father of five children and resident of Ingleside, was acclaimed to the deputy reeve position of Osnabruck Township. An employee of TCF in Cornwall and private auctioneer, he sat on the township council as councillor from 1969 to 1974 when he unsuccessfully challenged incumbent Edwin Waldroff for the reeveship. He is unhappy with so many tax arrears in the township.



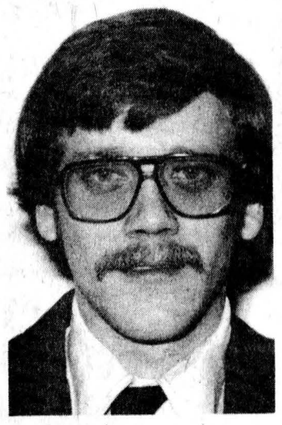
Clayton "Oscar" Ouderkirk

Mr. Ouderkirk is the only incumbent councillor seeking re-election with three newcomers entering the race for three seats. A resident of the township for the past 25 years, he is seeking his second term of office on council. His major concern is the proposed construction of the community centre.



Lee Ward

Mr. Ward, 39-years-old, has been a resident of the township for the past 10 years. Seeking his first term of office, he has some "pet peeves" but said he would work for the betterment of the municipality. He is employed as a lab technician by Rohm and Haas and resides on the township's second concession.



Richard Waldroff

The 26-year-old Ingleside resident is very concerned about the township's young people moving away to find work because Osnabruck offers little to keep these people at home. An employee of Domtar and student of industrial management at St. Lawrence College, he would like to see industrial development within the township.

Personal

Mrs. C. Jordan, Mrs. John MacIntosh, Mrs. Lottie and Margaret Carkner and Mr. Wallace Carkner all of Ottawa had dinner and spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Cam Thompson.

George Hehir

Mr. Hehir is a 54-year-old native of the township seeking his first term of office on municipal council. The 8th concession resident farms and works at Upper Canada Village. He has been a member of the Stormont County Milk Marketing Board for eight years.

IN GEAR AGAIN: All signs point to a heavy voter turnout Monday with every municipality in The Record's coverage area holding an election December 6. Interest is keener this year than it has been in most people's memory as witnessed by the number of candidates vying for office, the number of offices up for election and the two major plebisicites to be answered Monday. Acclamations have always been the easy way out - municipal administrations were chosen via the route of least resistance and while acclaimed Councils usually got the job done as well as elected bodies, the certain something that makes the democratic system work was missing. That certain something was voter participation, the key to the whole clockwork of the democratic system. This year voters will have to do the winding if they want their municipal governments to tick for the next two years. It's a more difficult way of choosing government, but the democratic process has never been an easy system of government. Choices are demanded of the electorate and in order to make a choice, voters must be informed on where candidates stand, their past records, reasons for running and the ramifications of the acceptance or defeat of the plebiscites put to them on election day.

IT WILL NOT BE THE RECORD'S PRACTICE to back a candidate or stand on a plebisicite since to do so would only insult the voter's intelligence. Information on the election has been carried on these pages, through personal visits as candidates do their main-streeting and door-to-door compaigning, through posters and by pamphlets stuffed into mailboxes. Electors know the candidates - their phone numbers are in the book and we'll leave it up to you to pin them down on the issues. But The Record will issue this warning. Beware of those who promise all things to all men: they can never live up to the number of promises they have made. Be equally wary of those who promise nothing: they will have nothing to live up to. Take with a grain of salt those who promise to make government, and schoolboards, more responsive to the people. Don't put your entire trust in the promises of those who would slash spending to the bone while ensuring the same level of services are maintained. Treat with caution those who trumpet popular causes in an election year: too often their contemporary wisdom leads to little more than contemporary justice. Treat with skepticism those whose posturings are suitable only for tilting at windmills: their quixotic flailings will accomplish little. Be equally questioning of those whose campaigns are based on an adversary basis: showdowns at this level of government accomplish nothing more than the creation of hard feelings. Neither borrow from a candidate's store of promises, nor lend him your unqualified support. And most of all, on election day, to thine own self be true. -RM.

chesterville's past

FROM THE RECORD THURS., DEC. 3, 1936

The Community Christmas tree will be erected on the Square this year, permission having been obtained from the Village Council. The Women's Institutes is donating decorations and the Council will supply material for a greater string of lights, the Boy Scouts to make the extension cord in their toy shop.

An oyster supper under the auspices of Cannamore LOL 653 will be held at the home of Mr. Stanley Baker, Morewood, Tuesday evening, December 8th. Admission will be 40 and 45 cents.

The annual meeting of the Chesterville Agricultural Society was held in the Community Theatre yesterday afternoon when a representative gathering heard an optimistic address by the president, Mr. W.J. McConnell, who spoke enthusiastically of the success of this year's exhibition and presented several features for the consideration of the new officers for making future exhibitions even greater successes. All the officials for 1936 were returned for 1937, with the name of Charles F. Marselis added to the directors. The executive is as follows: president, W.J. McConnell; first vice-president, Thos. Allen; second vice, Dr. J.H. Grisdale; treasurer, H.E. Wales; secretary, W.H. Casselman; directors, W.A. McElroy, Howard Kittle, P. Elliott, H.E. Durant, D. Allison, Orrin Dillabough, Melvin Beggs, Victor Johnson, Andrew Fawcett, Chas. F. Marcelis. Auditors, P.S. Boyd and T.J. Bourke.

Special mention for the following who improved their standings by five per cent or more during the month of November: Marjorie Elliott, Anne Fulton, Elva Barr, Edith Harper, Allan Sharkey, Earle Cross, Lloyd Fyke, Bert Fyke, Sterling Liscombe.

Councillor Thos. Allen was taken suddenly ill at the weekend, suffering from an attack of appendicitis. Mr. Allen has improved and is now recuperating nicely at his home in town.

It is surely must be some kind of record when the roads of this district require to be ploughed out during the first week of December. This morning the Ridge Road had the big plough over it for the first time, following the very heavy fall of snow yesterday when well over a foot of snow came down.

FROM THE RECORD THURS., DEC. 5, 1946

With but three candidates qualifying for Councillors in the Village of Chesterville following Monday's nomination meeting, a second nomination has been called for December 12 to fill the position of Reeve and one Councillor and the election date, if necessary, set for Monday, December 30th. Qualifying for seats on Council were John L.M. Turner, Glenn E. Merkley, M.A. Flynn and J.A. Morris, with the latter resigning before the 9pm deadline Tuesday night. None of the three candidates for Reeve qualified. They were P.S. Boyd, Wm. McCloskey and Chas. McMillan.

Appointment of a committee to handle the management of the Legion Memorial Rink Fund and the possibility of securing rooms to accommodate the growning membership were two of the main items of business for the Chesterville Branch 434, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., meeting in the public library room Monday night. Carl G. Merkley was named chairman of the important rink committee, which consists of 12 members: Leonard Moran, Staley Chambers, Jas. G. Fleming, E. Johnstone, Dr. H.G. Barton, Hubert McCloskey, Geo. Crawford, W.C. Fulton, Jack McMillan and Leonard Moriarty.

Figures don't agree

The Editor:

In the staff report (Nov. 17 issue) of a meeting at Osnabruck Centre, the proposed Community Centre, estimated to cost $800,000 was stated to require a 10 mill increase in the tax rate, to provide $150,000 that would remain if $150,000 could be raised in cash and pledge donations, as required before a provincial grant of $200,000 and a Wintario grant of a whoping $300,000 could be available.

This is not quite correct.

That 10 mill increase was to pay the estimated yearly operating deficit. In answer to a question of mine, Mr. Ouderkirk stated that the remaining $150,000 could not be spread over more than two years and would require another 13 mill increase for those two years.

The total increase would, therefore, be 23 mills for two years and 10 mills thereafter. On a modest small home or farm, with a $5000 assessment, yearly taxes would increase by $115 for two year and by $50 thereafter.

When voting on this referendum, taxpayers should clearly understand that a desire for this recreation complex, as indicated by a yes vote, will also imply that they are willing to pay this increase in tax.

I was surprised at how costly this project would be, in total and individually to taxpayers, who would pay only 19 per cent directly. Who would pay the remaining 81 per cent? The largest share, 38 per cent would be sucker money, tricked out of the pathetic Wintario gamblers, who take this last chance to get rich. Twenty-five per cent would come out of sales tax, tobacco and alcohol tax, that one can avoid, indeed, must avoid, if you don't have the cash to spend.

Other provincial tax is said to be needed to finance the services so taxed and so, leaves nothing for unrelated programs. Even provincial death taxes can be explained as recovery of provincial expenditure on the ather generous health and welfare service costs.

Two years ago, we voted this project down, because we didn't think we could afford the $500,000 then estimated as the cost. Wintario grant money is the plausible reason for asking the same question again, though the amount available exactly matches the increase in cost. We in opposition suspect that local politicos, large toads in small puddles, would imitate their big city and national counterparts, a bit of empire building, though without the Olympic grandeur or the Nannygate opulence possible in big puddles.

Thanks,
Arnold Rupert

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Rupert's assertion that a 23-mill tax increase for two years and a 10-mill increase thereafter to cover construction costs and the "operating deficit" of the proposed Osnabruck Township Community centre has both the township clerk-treasurer and The Record reporter who covered the meeting mystified.

A 10-mill tax rate to cover an "operating deficit" would mean township taxpeyers would have to come up with $60,000 yearly to cover the difference between revenue and expenses at the community centre.

Mr. Rupert says in his letter that candidate Clayton Ouderkirk claimed there would be such a deficit and the increase would be made necessary to cover it.

Altough the sum of $60,000 was mentioned at the all candidates meeting, the sum was mentioned as an operating cost and not a deficit. To offset operating costs, groups are charged an operating cost and not a deficit. To offset operating costs, groups are charged a certain rate which will make up this difference. This is the normal practice in arenas across the country. Also proposed for the arena is a hall with a seating capacity of 300 which would act as an extra generator of revenue.

Mr. Rupert's claim that a 23-mill increase would be necessary over the first two years perhaps indicates a lack of understanding on his part.

This would include the amount needed to raise $150,000 through taxes plus look after an "operating deficit". However, since these arenas generally take about two years to come into being, there would be no operating costs. Before one has operating costs, one must first have a building to operate.

Although there might be the odd year in which a mill or two would have to be tacked onto the tax rate to make up a deficit, there is no conceivable way such a community centre could cost taxpayers $60,000 annually. This is about 10 per cent of the total assessment in the township and would account for almost one-third of the amount of taxes needed for township purposes.

Community arenas are generally well-managed and operated at or very close to the break-even point.

Reader wants meeting

The Editor: As a recent arrival to the village of Chesterville, I am a little disturbed that a community group has not yet and probably will not sponsor an all-candidates meeting for the municipal election.

The recent cry has been that Chesterville is a growing community with many new faces moving here.

Many of these new people, like myself, may not know some of the candidates very well - perhaps not at all - making their trip to the polls Monday almost useless. How do you vote for someone you do not know?

An all-candidates meeting is the only way at least to see who the people are even if you do not get to speak with them personally.

Granted, all-candidates meetings usually attract more candidates than anything else but the public is still being made aware of what goes on at the meeting by the village's newspaper.

It is too late to solve the problem now but we suggest some planning be done the next time around.

Waste not, want not

The Editor:

Despite the prominence given to the conservation of energy by the news media recently, very few people seem to take it seriously.

It is time that we realized that with the increasing costs and diminishing reserves of all forms of energy we must continue to practise and promote the conservation theme.

For example, we should check to see if our homes require additional insulation added to the ceilings and whether additional caulking around the windows and door frames will eliminate drafts and help reduce our heating costs.

And what about hot water? That convenience alone represents about 30 per cent of the energy used in the home today.

The important thing is that there must be individual initiative to conserve and the wise use of electricity should be a goal for all of us.

We have been told that with our present rate of use, increasing at seven per cent per year in Ontario, we will be facing shortages in 1980. If we can reduce this increase to six per cent per year, Ontario Hydro's load forecasters believe we can control the problem.

A little thought towards eliminating wasteful useage of electrical energy will not only cost us less, but assure us of continuing electrical power - a service to which we are accumstomed.

Yours sincerely,
H.D. Hamilton, P. Eng.

Candidate unavoidably absent

The Editor:

My name is Gordon McNairn and I am running for the position of Councillor in the Township of Williamsburg.

On Sat., Nov. 20 an all candidates meeting was held at the IOOF Hall at Williamsburg. I was not present at this meeting because of the untimely death of my beloved mother on November 17th and her subsequent burial on Saturday.

It was truly unfortunate I could not attend the all candidates meeting and express my opinions, and reflect my views on the subjects discussed.

Further I would like to add that if anyone would like to discuss the municipality's wants or needs that they feel free to contact me at any time.

Timmons and Mrs. T. Klingval.

A cheque for $25 was received this week by the executive of the Legion Memorial Rink, Chesterville, from the Winchester Rink Company to assist in the fund for rebuilding the Chesterville and District Rink.

J.A. Bogart, Roy E. Annable and Ernest Summers, the present reeve, are contesting the reeveship of the township of Winchester. Councillors and Deputy Reeve were accorded acclamation following a very small attendance at Nominations.

FROM THE RECORD
THURS., DEC. 6, 1956

Reeve Chas. McMillan and councillors C. and E. Merkley, H. Sharkey and F. Arnold were re-elected by acclamation last Friday night. When nominations were over the reeve was in by acclamation, the only name presented for the post. One other name, that of former councillor Carl McMillan, was on the list for councillor but he failed to qualify. A very small crowd was on hand to nominate those for the village administration with something less than 40 persons present in the large auditorium.

Basil Dawley was returned as reeve of Winchester Township Monday in a hot contest that saw him successful over E.B. McMillan with a majority of 84 votes. In one of the largest turnouts in over 30 years, the voters stated their wishes in no uncertain terms. A.E. "Ab" Smith headed the polls in votes cast to be successful in the race for deputy reeve over Eric Barclay.

The following is the honor roll for Elma Public School for the fall term: grade VIII - Diana McMillan 86, Donna McMillan 77; Grade VII - Robert Barkley 86, Margaret Dillabough 79, Sharolle Weegar 66; grade VI - Mary Carruthers 75; Grade V - Gerald Barkley 87, Gary Pemberton 66; Grade IV - Jean Barkley 86, Bert Loucks 85, Beverly McIntosh 72, Lyn Weegar 71; Grade IIA - Heather McMillan A, Garry Flegg B, Carl Geggie B; grade I - Susan Flegg B, Dale Froats B.

Long Sault Det. Sgt. promoted

LONG SAULT (Staff) - Robert S. Rose, detective sergeant with the Long Sault Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, has been promoted to Inspector with the force and transferred to the Mount Forest District Headquarters, north of Toronto.

The appointment was made Monday and moves the 23-year force veteran into the upper echelon of the OPP.

Inspector Rose began his police career January 6, 1953. He was 21 at the time and was posted to Toronto's anti-gambling squad, remaining there for a year before being transferred to the Barrie district.

In 1967, while in Orillia, then-const. Rose was promoted to the rank of corporal and remained in that district until 1971 when he was promoted to sergeant and posted to South Porcupine.

On December 1, 1974 he was again promoted, this time to detective sergeant, and again transferred, to Long Sault.

He served with the detachment there for just two days short of two years before receiving his fourth promotion.

His wife, Lois, 20-year-old son, Brent, and 17-year-old daughter, Lori, will shortly be leaving Cornwall, where the Roses have made their home, to join Insp. Rose in Mount Forest.

Det. Sgt. M. Kulmatycki has moved from Kenora to take over Insp. Rose's duties in Long Sault.

TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOL ELECTORS
ELECTORS OF FINCH VILLAGE,
FINCH TWP.
AND OSNABRUCK TWP.

I am concerned, as you are, with the problems in our schools, especially at the elementary level where changes have to be made immediately if our children are not to receive a second-class education. I know what the problems are and have the experience, with 12 years behind me as a schoolboard trustee - six on the Osnabruck Township Board and six on the tri-county board - to correct them. I need your support December 6 to put me in a position to make the changes our children need.

the farmer's wife

by wyn thompson

A light dusting of snow came again today. I have an appointment now, with winter and I am ready. I find I go along for some time feeling it can't happen yet, I'm not quite ready. And then, of a sudden, I want the snow to come with a purpose and stay. Perhaps, it's the impending season of Christmas that spurs my desire for winter to get on with her business.

What ever the reason, the month of Christmas begins today and I settle myself to enjoy every inch of it to the fullest. For I will not have this specific opportunity again. So amidst year end closing of the corporation's books, the pre-audit, and numerous other responsibilities, I thrill again to the songs and stories of old. I thrill again to the sights and sounds of busy shoppers as I attempt to keep my lists simple and give more of myself.

And just for this one month I enjoy life more and I have a feeling I am a better person for it. Certainly, I have more fun than at any other time of year. Perhaps, I suggest to the Farmer, it is because I have reached that wonderful age or stage when I do as I please. To his question, "when didn't you?" I keep my peace for after all it is the month of Christmas.

Of all sides one hears that Christmas is commercial, Christmas is a rat race, Christmas is a heavy scene and Christmas is pine needles that cling to the underside of the new shag rugs until spring. It is television specials, the same ones over and over again; Christmas is a hassle. And more and more, Christmas is a broken record that scratches too long on the brain.

Well, if it is, it must be our own fault. So let's do something about it. To thine own self be true, a wise man once cautioned. Take the best out of the month of Christmas and leave the rest.

Chrsitmas has always been one of the things I like best. What can you possibly see in Christmas to continually extoll its virtues? a friend asks. Well, aside from the real meaning of the day . . . the birthday of a truly great man, what I like about it is everything.

What can match the smell of a room full of fresh-cut spruce, with an overlay of steaming plum puddings? Does anything taste better than dark brown giblet gravy on mashed potatoes? No, it doesn't. And name me any other occasion that has given us more than one decent song. Christmas has given us hundreds.

And then there's the Christmas tree, which I consider the greatest invention of all times . . . hanging right in there with the pill, the hot dog, and the banana split.

People often call me materialistic because I love all the trappings of Christmas. Once an angry person told me I didn't understand the real meaning of the Christmas spirit . . . things like peace on earth, joy, goodwill.

"Hogwash," I announced as I flung open the door to get another arm of wood and ran smack-dab into my neighbor Sam. "What eats you?" he said. "You look fit to chew fence staples!"

"Nothing," I roared. "Well, I'll come in and set a spell . . . you'll cool off in a minute and spill the beans."

"If I devote one day out of the year to colored lights, rich food, and lots of laughter, that's nothing to be ashamed of. But if I devote only one day a year to peace and good-will and joy . . . why then I think I have got a problem." Sam didn't have an answer for that. As a matter of fact he wasn't even listening. He was reading the Farmer's Almanac.

I celebrated Christmas in a warm climate once and I had a ball but there's something about snow . . . the way it halos the streetlights and crunches on the path, the way it smells.

It's like the river. Each spring when you return to the river for the first time, you smell the river and it's just the way you remembered it. Exactly. A couple of hours later and it's gone. Same with snow. The first cold morning you saunter out to work and take a deep breath, and the snow smells the same as it did when you were six and hadn't a care in the world.

"Guess you would have a problem then, better you go your strange way," Sam said rising. "It's not the way everyone looks at it, but then that don't mean they're always right either," Sam snorted and left.

And so, as Sam knows only too well, I'll continue doing my own things. There's always the music, the food, the decorations, the shops, the outdoors itself, and they all in their own way add a bit to this most splendid month of the year.

Each year I try to do something that makes the month of Christmas special. This year it will be a theatre production of Anne of Green Gables. One year it was dinner and the movies . . . not just one but two. I smile in fond remembrance yet. The richness of the month of Christmas is with us and each person will translate it's message in his or her own way. The joy of Christmas compensates for the commercialism which sometimes threatens to engulf it entirely.

Winter is with us now and it is the time to do odd jobs around the house. The pressure lets up outside as the snow takes things over. I make a project of baking bread or making pies. What a challenge to make pumpkin pie with artificial sweetener. I make a project of redoing my herb and spice cupboard. I am encouraged by the fact that the village store has recently added new herbs and spices to their stock. Our little village store is rapidly becoming a gourmet's dream.

"Dozens," says the clerk, helping me find oregano. Herbs, I feel, must be right at hand or the cook won't use them, at least my kind of cook. I want to reach up and tilt the herb jar right by the simmering pot. So my herb cupboard is right by my stove, I don't have to take one step.

This serves two purposes, it provides handy access to the seasonings, and makes my meal-getting romantic. For the whole world comes into my kitchen with cardamom, saffron, cloves, chili powder, curry, basil and bay. For instance, bay, which is laurel brings to mind the golden days of Greece with the victor's brow encircled in laurel leaves. So, I think, as I carefully press a bay leaf into the top of a meat loaf, who could ever say cooking is dull? It is packed with excitement and I read, just recently, that doctor's are advising it for executives at the end of a tense, tiresome day. Potting about the kitchen is supposed to be a great release.

Heuff-Droppo vows solemnized Oct. 2

Marilyn Beth Droppo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Droppo, Chesterville, and Archie Heuff, son of Mr and Mrs. Adriaan Heuff, Morewood, were united in marriage Sat., Oct. 2 at 4pm in Trinity United Church. Rev. L.M. Ferguson officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Joye Loucks played the organ and William Giles was soloist.

The bride was attended by Miss Mary Craig as maid of honor and by Miss June Heuff and Miss Miriam Droppo as bridesmaids. Miss Terri Lee Lightfoot was flower girl and Master Charles Droppo acted as ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floorlength empire waist gown of ligoda and chantilly lace trim, Princess Ann sleeves trimmed in maribou, built-in train and stand up collar.

Her headpiece was a Juliette cap with pearls and chantilly lace silk illusion veil. Her bouquet was roses and mums.

The maid of honor wore a rust jersey chemise gown with a V-neckline and bishop sleeves and sash. Bridesmaids and flower girl wore matching dresses in green. They all wore beige picture hats with matching trims.

The groom was attended by his cousin John Heuff Jr. and the ushers were Peter Lightfoot and Larry Marcellus.

Following the ceremony a dinner was enjoyed in the church dining hall while Mrs. Don Cross played organ music. Later a reception in the Community Hall was attended by many friends and relatives.

The bride and groom left for Niagara Falls on their honeymoon.

Knox Presbyterian Women have busy Yuletide schedule

MORRISBURG (Special) - The regular monthly meeting of Knox Women's Club was held Mon., Nov. 22, in the lecture room of the church. The meeting was opened by president Mrs. Margaret Reynolds.

After the singing of hymn 120, "O Come All Ye Faithful", Mrs. Annie Kinkaid read the scripture lesson on Exodus 4, verses 1-12. Devotions, based on Exodus 4:2 "Use What You Have", were read by Mrs. Grace Dikland,, followed with prayer by Mrs. Maude Farlinger.

The offering was received and dedicated. Seventeen members answered the roll call with a fact about a child of the Bible. Members brought in Christmas gifts for the resident of Gilmour and Tupper homes. They were dedicated by Mrs. Joan Farlinger.

The minutes were read by secretary Mrs Catherine Scott. In the absence of Mrs. Jo Mott, Mrs. Reynolds read the treasurer's report.

At this time, Mrs. Laura Fraser addressed the president, the catering convener and all the club members, thanking them for helping on their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

It was announced that on Sat., Dec. 11, the Sunday School children will go to the Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge in Cornwall to perform a Christmas pageant for the patients. Then on Sunday December 12 at 7pm the Sunday School children will perform their Christmas Story at Knox Presbyterian Church. Co-Op member investment up

FINCH (Staff) - The St. Lawrence Group of the United Co-Operatives of Ontario showed a 12 per cent increase in net profits this year, increasing earnings from $25,000 in 1975 to $28,000 in 1976.

The group is made up of branches in Chesterville, Finch and Cornwall.

The increase in earnings was made on an overall sales increase of $187,000, with the Cornwall branch leading the way in increased sales, with $556,267 this year as opposed to $334,785 in 1875.

This more than made up for the decline in sales at the other two branches, which dipped about $60,000 below 1975 levels.

With 80 new members added to the group's list this year, member investment shot up by $96,000 in the past year to $1,314,961. This is a $330,000 increase in the last two years.

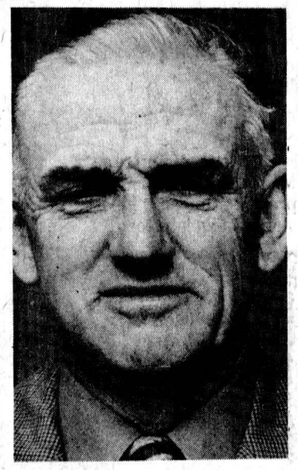
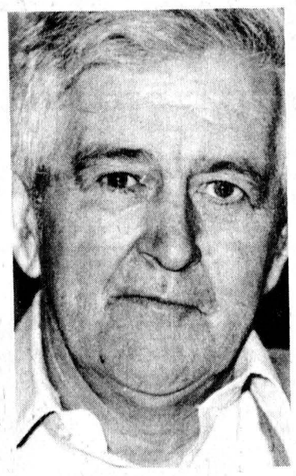
Winchester Township Council



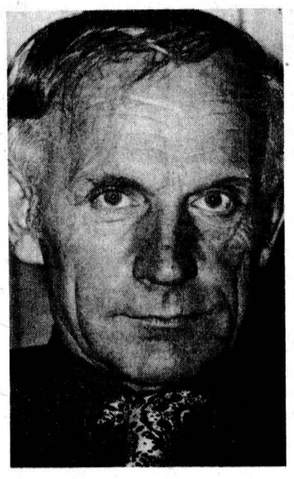
Delbert Link

A Cass Bridge Farmer and native of Winchester Township, Mr. Delbert Link is seeking the reeveship. A member of township council for 11 years, four as councillor and the last seven as Deputy Reeve, Mr. Link says his decision to move up the municipal ladder is simply to make room for someone else.



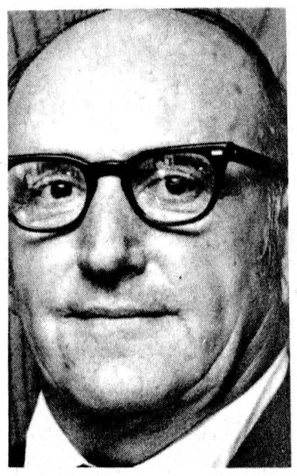
Cecil MacNabb

Reeve since 1961, Mr. MacNabb is seeking another term of office in Winchester Township's top elected position. He has been a resident of Morewood since 1956 and he was first elected to Township Council in 1959. He has only had opposition for the reeveship once. in 1970, when he won and was appointed Warden of the United Counties.



Gerald Holmes

Mr. Holmes had been acclaimed Deputy Reeve for the next two-year term in Winchester Township. A Councillor for the past four years, he has a wealth of municipal political experience, serving as councillor, deputy reeve and reeve of the township from 1956-61. He lost out at the polls to Mr. MacNabb for the reeveship in 1961. He resides just east of Winchester Village.

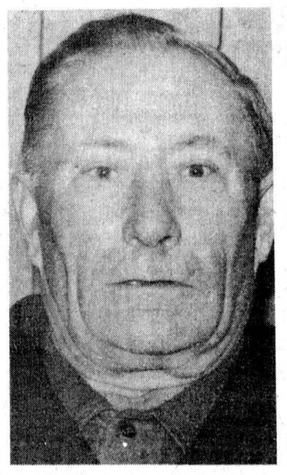


Roland Cayer

The only bilingual member of Winchester Township Council, Mr. Cayer has served as councillor for six years. He has been a resident farmer of Winchester Township for the past 30 years. While on council, he has been involved in several drainage projects, recreation work and improvement work authorized for the hamlets of Morewood and Winchester Springs.

Claude Cousineau

Making his first attempt in the realm of municipal politics, Mr. Cousineau feels he can offer a younger viewpoint and new ideals as a Winchester Township Councillor. A Morewood businessman, he is the deputy fire chief of Winchester Township and is the vice-chairman of the Morewood Recreation Association.



Albert St. Pierre

Unsuccessful in council elections in 1974, Mr. St. Pierre says there are problems, important to everyone, that need attention and he can help. A retired Ormond area farmer, he has been a township resident for many years. He intends to work hard for those who are still valuable assets of the township, its senior citizens and pensioners.

James Sullivan

A member of Winchester Township Council since 1968, Mr. Sullivan was second at the polls to Gerald Holmes in the 1974 election. He says he can offer more to the township as a councillor because he cannot attend the many day meetings required of the reeve and deputy reeve due to his business commitments.

W.A. Lannin, Winchester, dies at age 56

Industry switches on in Finch, to employ five

FINCH (Staff) - Finch Village has acquired a new industry which will eventually employ about 20 persons in the former North Stormont District High Building at the west end of the community.

The building has been purchased by Charles Bell of Toronto, whose company, Tarascan Industries Inc., will go into production in the new year manufacturing electrical switches for industrial equipment and machinery.

Five persons will be employed when the plant opens, probably in February, and Mr. Bell hopes to see employment gradually expand to 20 positions.

Mr. Bell's company, named after Mexico's Aztec Indians, has plenty of room for expansion in the former school building, closed in 1974 when Tagwi Secondary School was completed. He will need between 2500 and 3,000 sq. ft. of floor space when the industry first goes into production. The building has a total of 22,000 sq. ft. of floor space.

Tarascan will make complicated switches of the type used in aircraft simulators and subway trains, as well as industrial equipment and machinery. At present there are no Candaian firms manufacturing such switches and Mr. Bell hopes to supply the Canadian market as well as exporting his product.

He estimates exports will take up the majority of production with 60 per cent going to the U.S.A and Europe. He also plans to tap the South American market but doesn't feel he can compete in Japan.

Sales organizations have already been set up in the U.S. and Europe and there are plans to build a warehouse in Northern New York to service the American market. Easy access to the U.S. was one of his main reasons for situating in Eastern Ontario.

The existing market for the type of switches Tarascan will be manufacturing is in excess of $20-million in Canada alone. The company hopes to do about $150,000 of business in its first year. The switches will sell for between 20 and 25 cents.

A former sales manager of an electrical components firm, Mr. Bell wanted to situate in this area and contacted the SD&G County Board of Education to see if there were any vacant premises available.

He got in touch with Finch Village Reeve Lynden Hough and Council who arranged the purchase of the former NSHL building from the board of education.

The municipality purchased the building from the board and then sold it to Tarascan. Included in the purchase is 2.6 acres of land surrounding the building. The remaining 4.5 acres has been retained by the village and will be used for municipal recreation.

Two ball diamonds will be built on the land, with one of them lighted for night games. Lights will be provided by the Finch and District Lions Club in conjunction with the village. There will also be a bathroom and changerooms and a parking lot with driveway off highway 43.

To set up production, Mr. Bell has applied for an Eastern Ontario Development Corporation Loan and will be receiving a $12,240 Local Initiatives Program grant which will be announced shortly by Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley.

Equipment will be installed in the building early in 1977 and the first switches should roll off the line in February.

Tarascan is owned jointly by Mr. Bell, his wife, Linda, and two sons, Douglas and David.

Finch Reeve Lynden Hough, left welcomes Charles Bell of Tarascan Industries Inc. to the village. The new business will operate out of the former North Stormont High School building and should be in operation, manufacturing electrical switches, by February 1977. It hopes to supply the Canadian domestic market with switches for industrial equipment and machinery and move into the export market. Initially it will employ five persons but plans have been made to have about 20 employees by 1979. - staff photo -

Lumley elected to inter-faith post

OTTAWA (Special) Ed Lumley, Stormont-Dundas MP, was re-elected to the executive committee of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews (Capital Region), last week.

The election, held at the annual meeting of the interfaith organization, marks Mr. Lumley's second term in the position. The council sponsors the nationwide Brotherhood Week whose motto this year is "Do Good".

The council has as its goals the promotion of justice, understanding and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews, and the elimination of intergroup prejudices. I works for a social order in which the ideal of brotherhood and justice are the standards of human relationships.

The Council's activities in the Cornwall area last year included a Summer Student Exchange Program in which 75 students from the Cornwall, Kingston and Ottawa reas and several regions in Quebec were involved.

This year a Labor-Management Conference and a French-English Relations Seminar are two events planned for Cornwall. The council also hopes to establish a chapter in the city by the first of the new year and will be meeting with community leaders shortly.

Mr. Lumley, Chairman of the Ontario Liberal Caucus, was recently appointed Parlimentary Secretary to the Department of Regional and Economic Expansion (DREE).

Other members of the newly-elected executive committee include J. Bouey, Governor of the Bank of Canada, Senator David Croll and Ottawa businessman David Loeb.

Personal

Rev. E. Earle Eaton was in Ottawa for the Eastern Football Conference awards banquet, the crysanthemum show, and meetings of Social Planning Counsel, Red Cross Society and British-Israel Association. He attended a ministerial reception at Spencerville, a meeting of Presbyterian Men at Martintown, an evangelistic meeting in Montreal and a Gospel Fellowship Breakfast in Cornwall.

THE CHESTERVILLE RECORD

Pining for winter?

Carl Nye seems to be in the doldrums as he waits for the snow to fly but snowmobilers needn't have the blues because there's no white stuff on the ground. Now's the time to make sure your machine's engine is running properly; your club membership is paid up; if you are over 16, your motorized snow vehicle licence has been obtained; your kids' snowmobile suits still fit, and your club's trails have been groomed for enjoyable wintertime riding. And with only 20 shopping days left until Christmas, you'd better get in gear if you plan to get any gifts for the snowmobilers in your family. - staff photo -

Snowmobiling comes of age

A press release just received from the International Snowmobile Industry Association (I.S.I.A.) has announced the results of the '76 assessment of the industry.

This report provides a good outlook of the sport as industry and government settle down into a stable form. Maturity and all-encompassing cohesiveness are the principal traits identified by the president and executive chief of ISIA.

"Snowmobiling is a sport, a recreation, a very large business, and a pastime that involves government cooperation," he says, "It is also, in a very real sense, a family. These members of the snowmobile family have grown together through the years, to form one of the most cohesive forces for easing the boredom and rigors of winter, in North America."

A first sign of this maturity is the hard, lean look of the snowmobile manufacturing community, according to the president. He identifies 10 firms as probable entrants into this year's market, as opposed to 38 in 1973, and 13 last year. The 10 remaining producers are expected to sell between 225,000 to 275,000 new machines in 1976-77, roughly equivalent to the past season's 243,000. He forecasts a potential increase in snowmobile sales of over 50,000 units, to an annual level of 300,000 units in the very near future. and points out that the substantial cost associated with sound level reduction expenditures actually caused the rise in snowmobile prices to merely parallel the inflation spiral in the U.S. and Canada. Hope for future markets is evident in his report of over 500,000 young operators in North America who have received formal safety training over the past six years.

In every area of activity, the president states, 1975-76 was an excellent season for snowmobilers: "Proof that snowmobilers could initiate positive legislative change, rather than merely react to the discriminatory proposals of others, encouraged organization after organization to assume a more active role, on behalf of their members."

In addressing the question of government relations, he makes a significant point, "Unlike the situation in many areas of special interest, relations between snowmobilers and government administrators are becoming extremely cooperative. Snowmobile administrators have, in fact, frequently taken the lead in providing helpful information and in pressing for fair treatment of the sport in terms of tax dollars for trail development."

Snomobiles and wildlife

Snowmobiles and wildlife are, by nature, foreign to each other and for this reason the Ministry of Natural Resources has purposely made some snowmobile trails in its conservation areas narrow and crooked so that animals, especially deer, cannot be chased out of their yarding areas.

The snowmobiler should look upon himself as a guest in wildlife areas and treat the animals living in their natural habitat as gracious hosts. The vast majority of snowmobilers do exactly that, but there is a small minority who seem determined to do no more than give the sport a bad name.

It is because of them that the ministry has issued the following guidelines for the treatment of animals encountered in their wild state.

When wildlife is observed, snowmobilers should just observe and not harass.

An animal is no match for the speed or endurance of a motorized snow vehicle and shouldn't be chased. If they don't die of outright exhaustion from being molested, they can overheat themselves, catch a cold and die of pneumonia.

Females heavy with young can lose their young and sometimes die themselves if subjected to harassment.

Chasing an animal out of its yarding area leaves it subject to be run down by dogs or be in an area where it could be struck by a car. Snowmobilers should not allow their dogs to follow them on the trails. Winter nights are too often punctured by the howls of packs who have begun to run wild and snowmobilers shouldn't give their pets the opportunity to run with these packs.

Partridge will roost on snowmobile trails so drivers should travel slowly and carefully so as not to disturb the coveys.

The ministry has established 20 miles of marked trails in Limerick Forest South and an additional 32 in Limerick Forest North and has obtained permission from private landowners to establish a marked trail system from Kemptville to the south forest and from there to Limerick Forest North and then on to Merrickville.

The trails are open to the general public, who may use them at their own risk. They must stay on the marked trails at all times and must obey and heed all signs.

Those using the trails should not leave empty gas or oil cans behind them and above all, must not molest wildlife.

Ontario's snowmobile regulations

The operation of snow vehicles in Ontario is governed by the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act 1974, and Regulation 614 as amended. The information contained in this article is a summary of the laws pertaining to snow vehicles. For full information on all aspects of the law, reference should be made to the Act itself.

Motorized Snow Vehicle Operator's Licence

All applicants for a motorized snow vehicle operator's licence are required to complete a snow vehicle safety training course.

On successful completion of the course, the snow vehicle operator's licence must be taken to a driver examination office of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications where, on payment of $2, a validation sticker will be affixed which becomes a licence to drive a motorized snow vehicle.

The operator's licence must be carried at all times while operating a snow vehicle on lands other than those occupied by the operator of the snow vehicle. It is a requirement under law that the licence be produced when requested by a law enforcement officer and that the driver identify himself.

Age Limits

The minimum age at which motorized snow vehicle operators can be licensed is 12. At 12 or 13 years of age such persons can drive on a public trail, but not on a highway (which includes streets and roads).

At 14 or 15 years they can drive on a public trail or across a highway at right angles (90 degrees), but not on a highway (which includes streets and roads).

At 16 years of age they can drive on a public trail, across a highway at right angles or along a highway (where permitted).

If you have a driver's licence for a motor vehicle you do not require a motorized snow vehicle operator's licence. No licence is required elsewhere than on public trails and highways.

Where You May Drive

You may operate your snow vehicle on your own property or on other private land where you or your club have the owner's written permission to do so. You may drive it on public trails, public parks, and conservation areas, except where prohibited.

Generally, if you are 16 years of age or over you may drive along a King's highway or secondary highway, except where prohibited, between the shoulder and the fence provided that you drive as far from the serviced roadway as possible. (The serviced roadway includes the ploughed portion of the shoulder).

You may not drive on the serviced roadway (from shoulder to shoulder) of most King's highways or secondary highways, except to cross, and this must be done only at right angles (90 degrees). You must not operate a snow vehicle anywhere on a freeway from fence to fence.

Local municipalities may pass by-laws regulating or prohibiting the operation of snow vehicles anywhere within their boundaries, on or off the highway. Counties and regional municipalities may do likewise with regard to highways under their jurisdictions.

Safety Helmets

Approved safety helmets must be worn by the driver and passengers on a snow vehicle at all times when on a serviced roadway or public trail.

Registrations and Permits

All motorized snow vehicles must be registered. Every dealer who sells a new motorized snow vehicle must register it on behalf of the owner with the Ministry of Transportation and Communications within six days of the sale.

Upon registration, for which no fee is charged, a numbered ownership certificate will be issued bearing the registration number assigned to the motorized snow vehicle. The registration number must be attached to or painted on both sides of the vehicle cowling by the owner in a clearly visible position and must be kept clean of dirt, snow or ice.

If the motorized snow vehicle is to be operated on land other than the owner's, and other than certain exempted areas of Northwestern Ontario, then a permit to do so must be obtained from the ministry.

The annual fee for such a permit is $10. The permit is affixed to the registration certificate and evidence of issue of such a permit in the form of adhesive devices must be placed on both sides of the motorized snow vehicle alongside the registration number, and between the registration number and the rear of the cowling.

Change of Address

When the owner of a motorized snow vehicle changes his address after his motorized snow vehicle has been registered, he must within six days send by registered mail to, or file with, the ministry a notice of his new address.

Change of Ownership

When you buy or sell a motorized snow vehicle you must, within six days of the sale or purchase, forward to the ministry on the prescribed form a notice of the sale or purchase.

Insurance

A motorized snow vehicle must be insured under a motor vehicle liability policy if it is to be operated on a highway or public trail.

Also, the owner of a motorized snow vehicle must not permit any person to drive the vehicle on a highway or public trail unless the vehicle is so insured. Proof of insurance must be produced when requested by a law enforcement officer.

Collisions

A motorized snow vehicle driver who is directly or indirectly involved in a collision, if it results in injury to any person, or damage to perperty apparently exceeding $100, must report the collision immediately to the nearest police officer, giving him all details of the collision.

Speed Limits

Maximum speed limits for motorized snow vehicles have been set at 15 miles per hour on a highway where the speed limit is 30 miles per hour or less, and also in any public park or exhibition ground.

Thirty miles per hour is the maximum speed limit on highways where the speed limit is greater than 30 miles per hour, or on any public trail.

A municipality may, by by-law, set a lower rate of speed on any highway under its jurisdiction, or set a higher or lower limit on a public trail, public park, or exhibition ground under its jurisdiction. Signs must be erected to this effect by the municipality.

Careless Driving

Any person who drives a motorized snow vehicle without due care and attention or without reasonable consideration for other persons is guilty of the offence of careless driving.

Towing

A rigid tow-bar must be used when towing a cutter, toboggan, sled or similar conveyance. Towing is not allowed on a serviced roadway except to cross at a right angle (90 degrees).

Trespassing

It is illegal to operate a motorized snow vehicle on land owned by a person other than the owner of the motorized snow vehicle.

The exceptions to this rule are: on a public highway or public trail; on unpatented Crown land; on public lands such as parks and conservation; areas unless otherwise prohibited; or where the operator of the motorized snow vehicle (or his club) has the written permission of the landowner to operate on his property.

Liability

A motorized snow vehicle operator who is trespassing on private land, or is a licensee on that land, has no claim on the occupier of that land in case of an accident, unless a danger is created by the occupier with deliberate intent of doing harm or damage to a trespasser or licensee.

The driver of a motorized snow vehicle who is not the owner is liable for damages respecting damage or injury caused by him in the operation of the motorized snow vehicle, and if operated with the consent of the owner, the owner is jointly liable.

Both the owner and driver of a motorized snow vehicle are liable for any penalties incurred in contravening the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act or Regulations, or any municipal by-law relating to snow vehicles, unless the motorized snow vehicle driver is using the vehicle without the consent of the owner, in which case the driver alone is liable.

Penalty for Trespassing

Any motorized snow vehicle driver who trespasses on land while operating the vehicle, whether knowingly or unknowingly, is guilty of an offence and on conviction is liable to a fine not exceeding $500.

Mufflers & Modification of Components

No motorized snow vehicle shall be driven unless the muffler is in good working order, and no component of the snow vehicle, including the muffler, shall be removed, modified or rendered inoperative, but must remain in conformity with the requirements of the Motor Vehicle Safety Act (Canada).

Rules of the Road

Motorized snow vehicle drivers under 16 years of age cannot legally drive along any roadway, but anyone 16 years or older who holds either a driver's licence or a motorized snow vehicle operator's licence can do so where permitted.

Right-of-Ways

A driver of a motorized snow vehicle approaching an intersection shall yield the right-of-way to vehicles approaching from the right.

Signs

All official signs as defined in the Highway Traffic Act or prescribed under the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act must be obeyed.

Entering or Crossing a Roadway

When entering or crossing a roadway the driver of a Motorized Snow Vehicle must bring it to a complete stop, and upon entering the roadway, yield right-of-way to all on-coming traffic that constitutes a hazard.

Right Turns

Approach the intersection and turn as closely as practicable to the right curb or edge of roadway.

Left Turns

Enter the intersection just to the right of the centre line and make a left turn by passing to the right of the centre line of the highway being entered. Give way to oncoming traffic before making the turn.

Signalling

Before turning left extend the hand and arm horizontally and beyond the left side of the vehicle. Before turning right extend the hand and arm upward and beyond the left side of the vehicle. Before stopping or decreasing speed give a signal with the hand and arm extended downwards beyond the left side of the vehicle.

Arctic introduces economical sled

If you're one of the 750,000 snowmobilers out there who hasn't bought a new sled in the last four years, the Arctic Cat Jag 3000 was built for your strong consideration.

The Jag is a middle of the line sled that offers most of the features of the high priced stuff, still lets you do it all at a pretty good clip in satisfactory comfort and yet bears a price of $1,545.00. For the $1,545.00 you'll be picking off quite a sled that is an effective demonstration that a quality snowmobile package doesn't have to cost a lot. In every major criterion for evaluating a trail riding snowmobile, circa 1977, the Jag ranks from satisfactory to excellent.

In the area of performance, the Jag should be satisfactory for anyone serious about a trail riding snowmobile. Powered by a Spirit 3000, a free air twin with 336 cc's capable of producing 30 horses at 6 grand, the Jag won't snap your helmet off, but it's definitely a Cat and not a dog. Snap the throttle at any speed and you get a nice surge of power along with a feeling that, as they say, "the Spirit is gonna move ya." In fact, during two acceleration runs on hard pack through the quarter mile with the 30 sleds tested at Grand Portage, the Jag bested five pumping run where a higher percentage of the Jag's 30 horses were needed just to overcome resistance, the El Tigre-bred sports sled still bested three 440's.

As last year, Arctic's Spirit features the high horsepower, slow rpm concept. In examining the Jag or any Spirit-powered Arctic, you should think in terms of horsepower, not displacement. For instance, on the Jag 3000, with performance greater than most 295's on the market, the displacement is actually 336 cc's. The extra displacement permits the engine to more than match conventional performance, running at about 1,500 to 2,000 rpm slower.

As a sidelight that should interest any potential Arctic buyers, last year's complete conversion to Spirit engines was achieved satisfactorily without any real problems, which speaks well both for Arctic's research and development, and quality control. According to Arctic, last year's warranty claims on a per engine built basis were the lowest in the company's manufacturing history. Incidentally, warranty claims on the Jag Spirit engines were the lowest.

The Jag has all the Arctic quality features. The engine sports CDI, a 120-watt alternator and is fueled through a single 30 mm Mikuni slide carb.

Taking a trail filled with deep moguls at a rapid speed on the Jag gives the feeling that for some reason you entered a rodeo and the chute just opened. One roller coaster ride over the deep moguls gives you a liberal arts degree in riding the Jag under the worst of conditions. Both the seat and suspension can handle the deep moguls and not give your body any punishment at all.

Under all other test riding conditions, the Jag performed in a more than satisfactory fashion - acceleration and straight line stability across snow capped lakes are excellent, hill-climbing agility, taking the skill of the rider into consideration, is adequate and the easy steering, seat and suspension make a four hour trail ride relaxing enjoyment and not a macho badge of honor.

One thing that will be a macho badge of honor with the Jag after that four hour ride is its remarkable gasoline economy. During a 20 mile trail ride through all types of riding conditions, snow types and terrain, including plowing two feet deep powder, the Jag came through with over 23 miles per gallon.

The old myth about free airs not cooling as effectively or being as dependable as fan-cooled sleds should be buried as far out of sight as Jimmy Hoffa. It just isn't true anymore. This isn't true anymore. This isn't saying that FA's are better than fans. Both are dependable. Both give excellent performance.

Dual purpose is an often heard phrase bandied about this sport and industry, but it really does apply aptly to the Jag. You can handle it as a luxury machine where you just get on and steer it. Or you can jump on, really get into it, and treat it like the fun machines that all sleds used to be when just riding a snowmobile through fresh powder or around body leaning and challenging tight turns was an end unto itself and the only real justification that you needed to buy a new sled. Handled the way most of us learned how to ride way back when, sleds like the Jag stand for the best fun and adrenalin pumping high that the sport has to offer.

JAG 3000.

Unbeatable on trails and in budgets.

Quick, responsive, maneuverable. A performance Cat – but costs less than you'd imagine. Less when you buy it. Plus better operating economy than competitive 340s. Come on in. We'll get you started on a beautiful relationship with a Jag.

A mighty good healin' comes with the Cat

How this Toro can hurl a ton of snow a minute

The key is two-stage construction. An "intake auger" that bites deep into the snow and then a "hurling fan" that throws snow up to 25 feet!

There are over 20 features that can add up to a ton of snow a minute!

Toro's patented drum-type intake auger (see drawing) is efficient. It meters snow evenly to help reduce clogging.

Then the powerful hurling fan takes over. It's 14" wide, capable of hurling up to a ton of snow per minute 25 feet!

There's a powerful 8-h.p. engine that's winterized to start easily, even on sub-zero mornings.

The directional chute control is extra wide, designed to reduce clogging. It lets you throw snow where you want it, to the left, right or straight ahead.

Unique pivoting scraper blade is designed to clean down to the pavement. The "pivoting" action lets the auger take a deeper bite. Gives smooth operation so you do less work.

Independent wheel clutches let you make one-hand turns. Just disengage one wheel while the other keeps going. The machine does all the work.

Toro safety features plus options

Special safety grip system shuts the machine off automatically should you release the handlebars without first disengaging the auger.

If you stumble, a non-locking reverse gear automatically returns to neutral if the shift lever is released.

"Cleated" pneumatic tires provide good traction and stability. For extra traction, optional chains and studs are available.

A guaranteed Toro for every job

Toro has seven models to choose from, including the 524 and 724 intermediates and the amazing Snow Pup®. All Toro snowthrowers for residential use are guaranteed to the original owner against defective parts and workmanship for one year. Transportation costs excluded.

Ask your nearest Toro Dealer for a free demonstration. You'll find him listed in the Yellow Pages.

A message from the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs (OFSC)

"So you bought a snowmobile."

No matter what make you have bought, whether it be brand-spanking-new or a used machine, you have become another owner among the 330,000 other owners in Ontario.

We on the Board of Directors of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs welcome you to the wonderful world of winter -- an experience open to the recreational snowmobiler of Ontario.

Recreational snowmobiling has as its heartstring the clubs of Ontario and we point with pride to the outstanding record of safety held by club-sponsored activities in this province. Not one single fatality.

Belonging to a club adds a new dimension to your winter activity, one of socializing with others who, like yourself, enjoy snowmobiling. It also gives the snowmobiler the opportunity to travel on well groomed, well marked and organized mapped trails which offer the novice snowmobiler a short interesting trail and the more venturesome rider an interconnecting link of co-operating clubs and their trails.

Interesting for one and all is the fact that the recreational snowmobiler no longer is left at loose ends during the off season, since most clubs operate on 12-month basis with family programs planned for all.

The Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs operates as the organization for all clubs in the province.

Clubs throughout Ontario are free to make a choice and most have chosen to join the federation and to derive greater benefits which accrue from belonging to this province-wide group.

The OFSC has become not only the recognized spokesman and authority for recreational snowmobilers, it has become the moving force in driver safety instruction and driver certification in Ontario. Students from all age groups are now being trained by OFSC trained instructors. The one overriding purpose, safety for the recreational snowmobiler.

Each year snowmobilers gather several hundred strong for the annual OFSC convention - last April 700 delegates at London, and in 1977 Sault Ste. Marie and in 1978 Barrie. Convention agendas include speakers from government, industry and snowmobiling to give up-to-date information to the avid sledder.

Time for socializing and exchanges of crests, friendships, and club program ideas is also provided. During the convention the democratic process provide for the clubs of Ontario to elect a board for the ensuing year.

We suggest that all snowmobilers "recreational" or "racing" should look to the clubs of your home area or in your "snowmobiling area" for an outlet for your enthusiasm. The result can only be a greater sense of self satisfaction from your chosen winter activity.

If you wish any information on such things as forming a club, joining a club, driver training, or government regulations write or call the office of OFSC, or contact any of the 16 directors of the Provincial Board who live in your area.

In this area these include Ron Eamer, Vice President, French Language Coordinator, 1310 Lee St., Cornwall, K6J 4W5, 932-8627 and Valerie Madden, Treasurer, RR 2, Mountain, K0E 1So, 989-5569.

Take good care of yourself

How does that old song go? Something like, "Take good care of yourself, you belong to me." Well, for the safety conscious snowmobiler that means getting yourself a good, strong helmet with tinted visor or sunglasses. High impact collisions offer the driver or passenger little chance of escaping without injury if a helmet is not worn and snowblindness can occur if proper eye protection is not provided. The snowmobiler's suit is both colorful and functional as it keeps out the winter cold, but additional clothing should be worn underneath to preserve as much body heat as possible. - staff photo -

An ounce of prevention

Emergency kit

A breakdown can be more than just an inconvenience to the snowmobiler. It can be downright dangerous if it occurs on a deserted trail, especially if it comes after dark or during a bad storm.

By preparing a combination repair-survival kit, to be kept on the vehicle at all times, the snowmobiler can assure him - or herself that if a breakdown occurs and if it can't be immediately repaired, at least basic needs can be looked after until help arrives.

The kit should include spare parts, particularly a drive belt, two spark plugs, two rear springs (right and left), a boggy spring, throttle and brake cables, gas line anti-freeze, two quarts of properly mixed gasoline; tool kit containing a spark plug wrench suitable for the machine, a pair of pliers, screw driver, one inch crescent wrench, 1¼" crescent wrench, vise grips and roll of electricians' tape.

Also included in the kit should be a small first aid kit, pack of waterproof matches, a small axe in its sheath, 10 feet or more of ⅜ inch nylon rope and a spare pair of socks.

If the snowmobiler is planning to travel on long trips in wilderness areas, the following should be added to the basic kit: a pair of snowshoes, sleeping bag, 10x10' plastic tarpaulin, spare carburetor parts (diaphragms), minimum of four extra gallons of gas, five feet of gas line hose, small tea pail, dehydrated soups and foods and several chocolate bars.

How to ride safely

Do not operate your snowmobile at excessive speeds or at fast acceleration rates. Consider your environmental-weather exposure, abilities and limitations, as well as those of the machine. Riding your snowmobile is relatively simple, but there are certain fundamentals that everyone should know before venturing forth.

Your riding position and your balance are the two basic principles of making your snowmobile go where you want it to. The principle of balance is quite simple. When turning and when on uneven terrain or the side of a hill, you - the operator - and your passenger must be ready to shift your weight to help the machine go in the direction that you want it to.

Experience will teach you how much lean to put into turns at different speeds, and how much you will have to lean into a slope to maintain proper balance.

Generally, the riding position for best balance and control is siting. However, the posting, kneeling or standing positions are also used under certain conditions.

SITTING

Feet on the running boards, body midway back on seat; an ideal position when operating the snowmobile over familiar, smooth terrain. In this position, the legs should not be fully extended under the hood. Knees and hips should remain flexible to absorb shocks.

POSTING

A semi-sitting position wih the body off the seat and the feet under the body in a sort of squatting posture, thus allowing the legs to absorb the shocks when traveling over uneven terrain.

KNEELING

This position is achieved by placing one foot firmly on the running board and the opposite knee on the seat.

STANDING

Place both feet on the running boards. Knees should be flexed to absorb the shock from surface bumps. This is an effective position to see better and to shift weight as conditions dictate.

What will the well-dressed snowmobiler wear this year?

Nobody knows better than the experienced snowmobiler just how cold and unrelenting a Canadian winter can be.

But there will be a fresh crop of drivers and riders this year - persons who don't realize the importance of dressing properly to ward off the cold out on the trail.

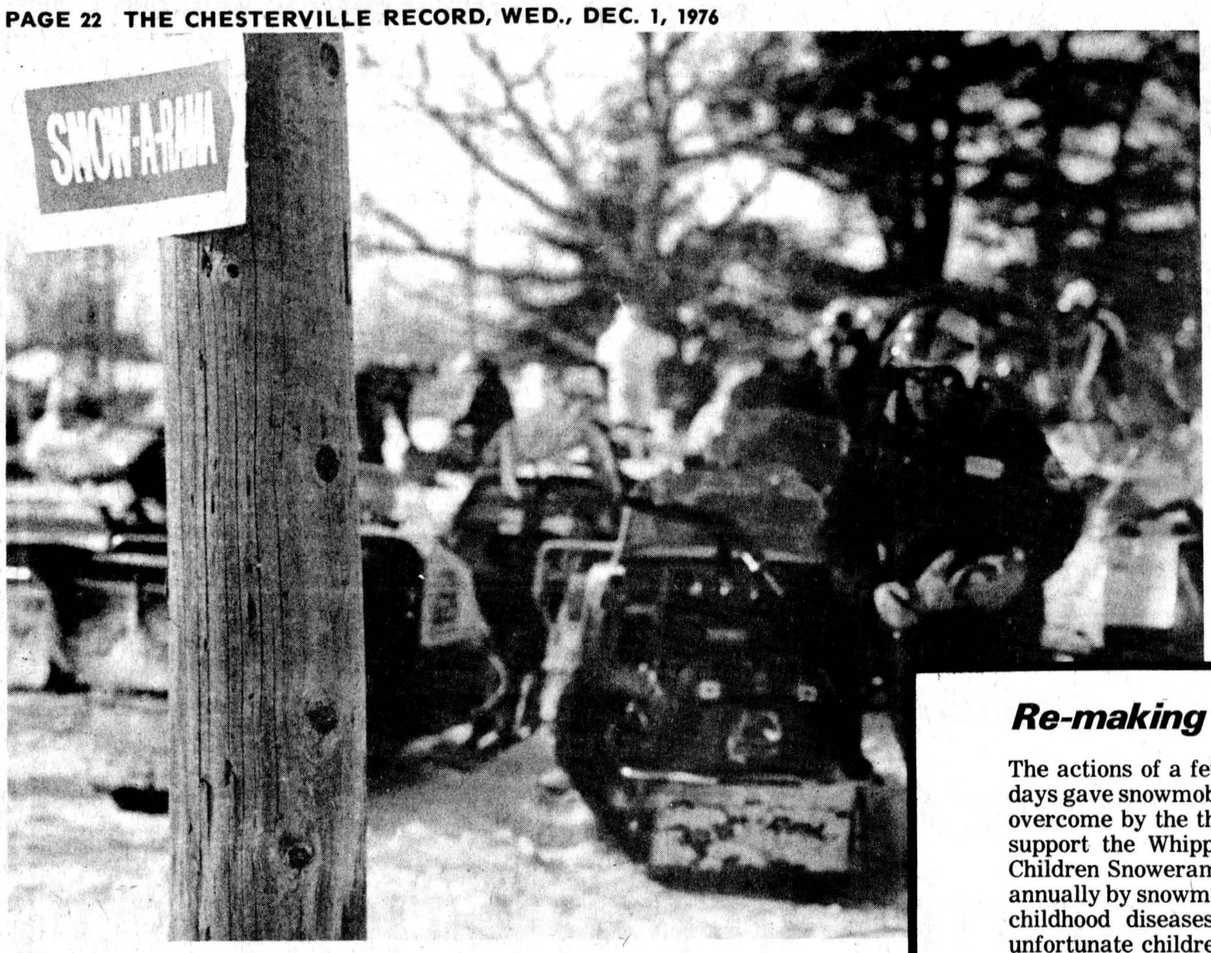
The following list was prepared by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources to hlep novices prepare themselves properl n enjoy to the fullest one of Ontario's most popular winter sports.

Footwear: snowmobile boots with felt liners, or rubber goloshes with moccasins, or rubber galoshes with felt liners, one pair of heavy wool socks and one pair of light wool or nylon socks.

Snowmobile Suits: should be of a nylon cloth - one piece with a hood. Under the suit wear: light pants, a shirt and light sweater.

Hand Wear: nylon or leather mitts with a large cuff that will cover the sleeve of the snowmobile suit. They should have only a thumb with the remainder of fingers together. A pair of wool liners should also be worn.

Head Wear: a proper fitting helmet, a liner, or a balaclava face mask. A plastic visor should be attached to the helmet. The snowmobiler can also wear a pair of colored goggles.



Ministry allocates $250,000 for snowmobile trail network

The Ontario government is allocating $250,000 to assist local winter trails clubs to provide outdoor recreation opportunities, Natural Resources Minister Leo Bernier announced last week.

Mr. Bernier said: "This is the third year the ministry of Natural Resources has offered a winter trails grooming and maintenance program. The Ministry will continue its own program on public lands in high demand areas of the province."

Trails clubs may also apply to the Wintario fund for financial assistance for trail-related capital projects through the Ministry of Culture and Recreation.

The ministry's allocation will be used to assist snowmobile and cross-country ski clubs in grooming and maintaining trails and for maintenance, repair and replacement of Ministry equipment which will be loaned to clubs for this purpose.

"It is our hope that this program of government assistance will give thousands of Ontario people a rich opportunity to enjoy recreation on winter trails during this coming season," Mr. Bernier told the Legislature.

"The Ministry of Culture and Recreation, by offering funds in addition to those allocated by the Ministry of Natural Resources will provide another opportunity for the people of Ontario to benefit from their provincial lottery," Culture and Recreation Minister Robert Welch said.

Applications for funding from the Ministry of Natural Resources trails grooming and maintenance program should be made to the nearest Ministry district office, while those clubs wishing to apply for Wintario funding should apply to a local field office of the Ministry of Culture and Recreation.

Re-making the snowmobiler's image

The actions of a few irresponsible drivers in the sport's beginning days gave snowmobiling an unwarranted bad name but that is being overcome by the thousands of drivers who every year turn out to support the Whipper Billy Watson Ontario Society for Crippled Children Snowerama. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are raised annually by snowmobilers to help with research to combat crippling childhood diseases and to make life a little easier for those unfortunate children who have been afflicted with birth defects or debilitating diseases. - staff photo -

Keep snowmobile accidents down, MTC minister urges

Snowmobile accidents, injuries and deaths for the 1975-76 season were the lowest in five years, Minister of Transportation and Communications James Snow said last week.

Compared to the 1974-75 season, there was a 5.1 per cent drop in the total number of collisions.

"There has been a 28.6 per cent decrease in fatal snowmobile collisions," said Mr. Snow, "plus a 13.5 per cent decrease in personal injury collisions; a 31.6 per cent drop in the number of persons killed and 15 per cent fewer persons injured.

"This is encouraging, and I hope it's indicative of the greater attention snowmobilers are giving to the safe operation of their machines."

Mr. Snow reported that collisions involving property-damage-only rose 18.6 per cent, but he stressed that the increase was due mainly to a change in legislation that lowered reporting of property-damage-only collisions from $200 to $100.

Of all reported accidents, 415 (55 per cent) occurred on highways; 345 (45 per cent) off the highways. 486 (63.9 per cent) of the accidents occurred on weekends.

During the 75-76 season, of the 760 snowmobile collisions, 25 were fatal, 467 caused personal injury, 268 involved property damage only.

In the 415 on-highway accidents, 30 drivers were under 16 and driving illegally. Fifty-two operators 16 and over did not have valid drivers licneces.

"While fatalities and injuries are lower, what we should be aiming for are no fatalities and no injuries," said Mr. Snow. "And one big step I see in cutting down the statistics even further is the establishing of snow vehicle operator's courses by the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs and the Ontario Safety League in conjunction with my Ministry.

"They will train young people from the age of 12, as well as older learners without a driver's licence. Those interested in taking this course should get in touch with their local OFSC snowmobile club now, or the Ontario Safety League.

"This is the kind of expert instruction we need right now if we're going to keep lowering snowmobile accident figures," the minister said.

Weekend victories vault Jr. B Lions into first place

MORRISBURG (Staff) - The Morrisburg Lions moved into first place in the St. Lawrence division standings of the ODHA Junior B hockey standings on the weekend and the Winchester Hawks had very little to chirp about.

The Lions scored a pair of weekend wins while the Hawks collected only two of a possible six points.

Morrisburg downed Gananoque 9-6 Friday night and Athens 6-5 Sunday while Winchester nipped the Brockville Locke Truss Tikis 5-4 Friday.

That was all the Hawks had to be joyous about because they bowed 16-1 to Spencerville Saturday night and 21-2 to Gen Sunday.

The Prescott Saints dropped three games last week to fall into second place while the Cardinal Broncos scored a pair of wins to drop the Long Sault Pats into the division cellar.

Morrisburg easily handled the G-Men Friday night, holding 3-1 and 8-4 period leads.

Billy Morrow and David Tait each fired a pair of goals for the winners while Doug McNairn, Bob McNairn, Kevin Duvall, Mike Moran and Brian Moran contributed with singles.

Gananoque got goals from Steve Greene, Dave Freeland, Eric Tackaberry, Stan Johnston, Doug Scheffield and Dan Greene.

On Sunday, the Lions got an unassisted powerplay goal from Pete McIntosh at 16:23 of the third period to snap a 5-5 tie with Athens.

The teams played a scoreless opening frame before Morrisburg grabbed a 3-1 second-period lead. However, the Aeros scored four straight goals before the Lions charged back to post their fifth win of the year.

Jeff Cassell, Bob McNairn, Kevin Mackler, Doug McNairn and Robbie Reynolds fired the other Morrisburg goals.

Brad Millett scored a pair for the Aeros. Singles went to Rick Merkley, Richie Welsh and Chris Bresee.

Despite a disastrous weekend, Winchester still maintained its hold on third place.

They started the weekend with a narrow win over Brockville, Friday. Al McLean led the way with two goals as singles went to Greg Casselman, Mike Armstrong and Doug Crowder.

McLean's second goal was the eventual winner, coming with 46 seconds left in the game. Brockville's Ken Barrington narrowed the margin to a single goal, scoring with eight seconds showing on the clock. Nick Newman, John Graham and Jeff Bennett scored the other Tiki goals.

Winchester held 1-0 and 2-1 period leads.

On Saturday night, Spencerville's high scoring trio of Ron Breau, Bryan Dalley and Al Jodoin collected 18 points.

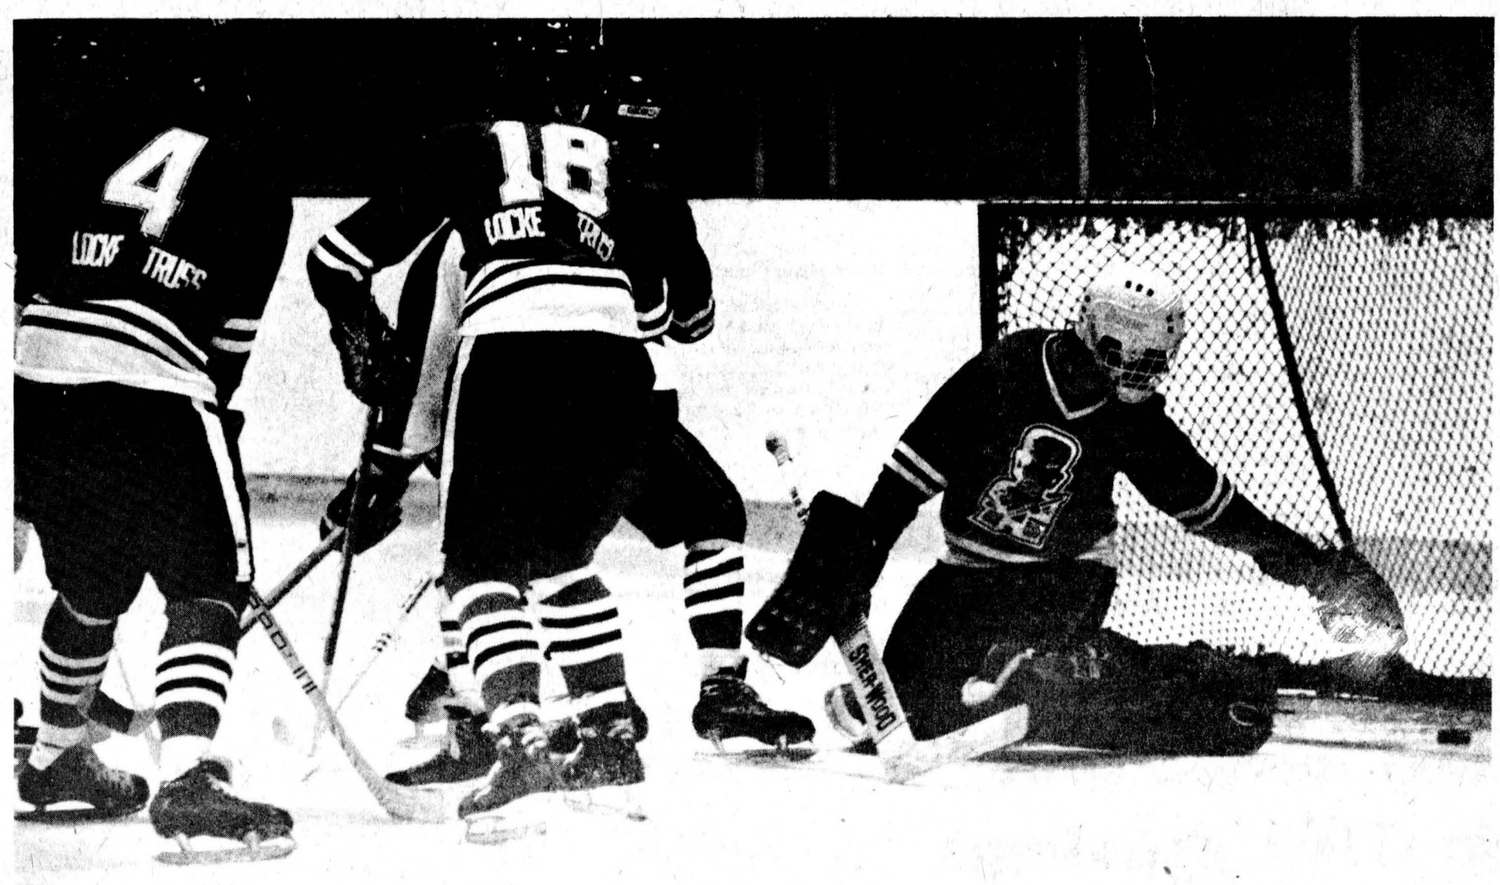
Breau led the line with four goals and four assists while Dalley had a hat trick and four assists and Jodoin collected a pair of goals and an assist.

Brian DeDekker scored twice. Steve Wyatt and Brian St. John each scored once and added three assists. Other goals went to Greg Morris, Bill Lawrence and Steve Summers as the Bruins led 6-1 and 10-1 at the period breaks. Keith McRoberts got the lone Winchester goal.

Gan scored 11 third period goals Sunday after holding 5-1 and 10-2 period leads.

Greg Martin and Shane Jordan got the Winchester goals.

Dave McClement scored three times for the winners as Harold Higgs, Dave Freeland, Tim Higgins, Doug Scheffield, Pete Keyes, Dick Kirkby and Steve Emmons each notched a pair. Contributing singles were Eric Tackaberry, Ron McNeil, Stan Johnston and Dan Brownlee.



Eyes right

Brockville goaltender Bernie Edwards is just a little short on the reach on this play during Friday night's 5-4 loss to the Winchester Hawks. Winchester's Doug Crowder, barely seen in the photo, appears to be tied up in knots by Dan Sparring (18) and Peter Edwards (4) as his soft backhand shot dribbled into the cage giving the Hawks a 4-3 lead at the time. - staff photo -

No stopping Highlanders; win three more games

(Staff) - It took the Maxville Highlanders only one regular season game to get in shape and since then all opposition in the NSLSJHL has been unable to stop them.

The Highlanders bowed 6-3 to Char-Lan in their season opener but have since then been unbeatable, winning six straight games.

They chalked up three more last week to take over the lead in the league standings.

Centre Robert Wheeler also added six points in the three victories to move from seventh to second in the league's individual scoring race.

Jets 9, Rebels 4

Chesterville's John Elliott held his own birthday party last Tuesday night and the Char-Lan Rebels wished they hadn't been invited.

The little right winger scored three times and set up two other goals as the Jets humbled the Rebels 9-4.

Wensink gave the Highlanders a 1-0 first period lead beating Chesterville netminder Larry Curran with a shot with 3:44 remaining in the frame.

The second period was scoreless and Maxville increased

Elliott's five-point performance almost equalled his point production in the team's first five games. He went into the game with six points on three goals and three assists.

His linemates, centre Dave Cross, scored twice and assisted on all of Elliott's goals, while left winger Kevin Smith picked up a pair of assists.

Kevin Blair also scored twice while Lorne Cook and Greg Beckstead each contributed singles.

Char-Lan's Jeff Fisher also collected a hat trick, giving him seven goals for the season, as Lloyd Fourney got the other goal.

The Jets were sluggish in the opening period as the Rebels dominated play but the teams went to the dressing room with the scored tied 1-1.

Wayne Dillabough ignited Chesterville early in the second frame when he won a clear decision over Char-Lan's Vance MacLaughlin.

The after-burners took over and the Jets scored five times within a six-minute period to carry a 6-2 margin to the dressing room. The outburst of goals even chased starting netminder Mark Gareau to the bench with Rady Fisher coming on to finish the game.

Chesterville received eight minor penalties and the Rebels had seven.

Highlanders 6, Aces 2

After losing their season opener, the Maxville Highlanders ran their unbeaten string to four games at Finch last Wednesday by dropping winless Avonmore 6-2.

The Highlanders fired five first half goals, two on powerplays, and then rolled easily to the victory in the second half.

Doug Ferguson counted both Avonmore goals in the second half.

Frank Perras paced Maxville with a pair of goals. Singles went to Brian Kinnear, Robert Wheeler, Bruce McPhail and Lynden Jackson.

The Highlanders received six minors and one major penalty while Avonmore was handed nine minors.

Finch 6, Osna. 2

Osnabruck Township had the Finch Township 76's on the ropes for over half of the game last Wednesday before their balloon burst.

The teams were scoreless at the half and Osnabruck was enjoying a 2-1 lead before the 76's took over.

Richard Courville, John MacNaughton and Eddie Gove fired goals within a two-minute span to give Finch a 4-2 lead.

Dave Rumer increased his goal production to 11 by scoring twice and Steve McRae got the other Finch Township goal.

Clayton Ouderkirk and Mark Stephenson scored for Osnabruck Township.

Osnabruck received five of the game's 14 minor penalties.

Char-Lan 3, Osnabruck 2

The Rebels carried the won-loss record back to the .500 point Thursday night by nipping Osnabruck Township, winless in their first four games.

Mike Tessier gave Char-Lan the lead midway through the second period as Randy Fisher of Char-Lan and Kevin Pilon of Osnabruck played shutout hockey in the opening frame.

In the final stanza, Lyle Ross scored a pair of goals for the Rebels. Defenceman Dan Hogaboam and Mark Stephenson got the Osnabruck goals.

Officials handed Osnabruck six minor penalties and one fighting major while the Rebels received nine minors and a fighting major.

Maxville 3, Chesterville 0

The Highlanders ran their unbeaten string to six straight games with their second win of the week and second victory over Chesterville this year.

Defenceman Richard their margin in the final period with Robert Wheeler netting his ninth goal of the season and Allan Blaney notching the final goal.

Garry Perras posted the shutout.

Chesterville's Bruce Angus and Maxville's Larry Jackson traded punches late in the first period. When it was over, Angus had three minutes for roughing and seven for fighting while Jackson had seven for fighting, a game misconduct and a minor.

Chesterville received nine minors and one major. Maxville had 10 minors, a major and a game misconduct.

Maxville 3, Finch 2

Larry Jackson beat Finch Township 76's goaltender Jim Hume with a shot with only 43 seconds left on the clock Saturday night as the Highlanders squeezed out a 3-2 win.

Dave Rumer, the league's top scorer, evened the count early in the third period before Mike Atkins sent the Highlanders back on top. However, two minutes later Richard Courville knotted the score for the second time in the game.

Maxville received 16 minors and a 10-minute misconduct while the 76's received 17 minors and a 10-minute misconduct.

Bantam Flyers unbeaten after four season games

(Special) - Chesterville Bantam Flyers pushed their record to four wins and no losses with a 5-1 victory over Metcalfe Jets in Carleton-Dundas League action last week.

The Jets visited Chesterville last Wednesday and provided stiff opposition for two periods. Jets' S. Patterson made it 1-0 in the second period on a powerplay while Glendon Shay was serving a hooking sentence.

Flyers' captain Curtis McMillan tied it up on a Chesterville powerplay with 4:12 left in the middle period.

The dam burst on the Jets with 9:05 left in the game as the Flyers tallied four unanswered goals to post the win. Scoring for Chesterville was McMillan, Steve Jones, Glen Patterson and Mike Beckstead. Marque Laflamme added three assists. Flyers outshot Metcalfe 25-8 as Chris Laflamme had an easy night in Flyers' net.

In exhibition play, Flyers split a pair on the road, dropping a 4-1 game to Alexandria in their new home, and shutting out Morrisburg 4-0 in their recently refurbished arena.

In Alexandria, Don Servage scored his first goal in two years, and it was all Flyers could muster against the strong Glens.

In Morrisburg, the Flyers made their shots count as they only had a total of 11 but scored four times. Scoring for the Flyers were Laflamme wih two, Shay, and McMillan. Dave Byers added three asssits.

Red, Green teams tied for top spot in CTHL standings

(Staff) - The Red and Green teams each posted wins in the Chesterville Town Hockey League last week to remain tied for first place in the standings.

Red beat Yellow 5-1 Wednesday while Greens nipped Blue 3-2 the following night, each running their won-loss records to 3-1.

Pete LaSalle and Garry Gallinger each fired a pair of goals for the Reds and Neil Beckstead scored once. Frank Beckstead replied for the winless Yellow squad.

Phil Groves scored a late goal Thursday night to break a 2-2 tie and lift the Greens to victory.

After a scoreless opening frame, the teams split four second period goals. Mike Lecuyer and Frank Swerdfeger got the other goals for the winners.

Bob Youmelle and Brian McMillan scored for the Blues.

Barring a deadlock tie, the first place tie will be snapped tonight with Red meeting Green. Blue takes on Yellow Thursday. Both games start at 10pm.

Top scorers in the league are Pete LaSalle with seven, Garry Mallinger and Dave Carkner wih five each, Neil Beckstead and Mike Lecuyer with four each.

Bantam B pucksters lose pair

(Special) - The Chesterville Bantam B Flyers played their second league game against Osnabruck last Tuesday night losing 3-2.

Chesterville started the scoring with Jimmy Derue getting the first goal and Osnaburck tieing it up with one in the first period.

Halfway through the second period Danny Trillo came back to score giving Chesterville the lead. Late in the third period Osnabruck scored two fast goals which downed the Flyers.

On Saturday, the locals travelled to Stittsville for a return exhibition game, losing 8-3.

Stittsville started the scoring with the only goal in the first period. Kim Cass came back in the second period to tie it up, only to be followed up with four more Stitsville goals. Danny Trillo and Tony Fraser each scored once in the third period, but Stittsville were right behind them with three more to win the game.

Peewees lose five games

(Special) - The Chesterville Legion Pee Wees played a heavy schedule over the past week, trying hard to tackle the toughest competition in the area, in order to develop some new skills and sharpen the old.

Only one game was a league game against Metcalfe played last Wednesday here. The score was tied at the end of the first period with Vinie Cousineau opening the scoring from Terry Barkley and Scott Richards. Metcalfe answered shortly before the period was over.

The last few seconds of the middle period saw Metcalfe move ahead, with no further scoring until the last minute of the game when Metcalfe salted the game away. Although, the goalie for Chesterville was pulled in order to pack the zone with Legion players, the Chesterville group couldn't get organized and saw Metcalfe score into the open net, for a final 4-1 score against Chesterville.

The other games of the week were exhibition home and home games with Alexandria and Iroquois. Although all games ended with Chesterville on the losing end, each return game showed considerable improvement in the local boys' play.

The first game in Alexandria showed weak goaltending, weak defense and weak offense. The goals were scored for Chesterville by the main stay of the team, Captain Kenny Shay who collected three goals, while Duff Mitchell scored once while assisting on two of Kenny's. The Alexandria team found the going easy and scored 11 times.

The return engagement played here Saturday was a different story. In a losing cause, Terry Barkley scored a hat trick. The Alexandria team had Chesterville 4-1 at the end of the second period. In a game that looked like Chesterville had the upper hand, the Legion team fought to within one goal before Joey McRae scored the fifth goal, his second of the game.

The final score was 5-3, but Chesterville looked much more like a team, and showed they are learning by their mistakes.

The other series was with their old rivals from Iroquois. These teams had battled last season for the league championship, and with the change in league by Chesterville from Upper St. Lawrence, as champs, to the Carleton-Dundas league, the teams wish to keep the competition alive.

Iroquois kept the home squad off the sheet in a 6-0 contest here on Friday evening, in a game that saw no penalties. However in a Grey Cup day effort, the score was cut to 4-1 for Iroquois, with Kenny Shay scoring in the second period. Penalties played a large part in this game, as Chesterville picked up a misconduct penalty with a questionable automatic minor. However, again improvement in team play was evident, and the coaches, aware a lot of learning must take place, are confident their team is going to be a winner this year.

MAPLE RIDGE (Special) - Four students from North Dundas brought further honor to our school this past week.

Steve Athey, Jeff Hunter, John Maxwell and Peter McLeod participated in the television show "Reach for the Top" and finished with great results, winning the zone championship.

On November 18 they defeated Tagwi 190-175 and November 19 they were also victorious over Thousand Island Secondary School and South Grenville District High School with scores of 230-190 and 330-320 respectively.

They will advance to compete in the Ottawa Region Championships in January and the games may be watched on television beginning January 29th.

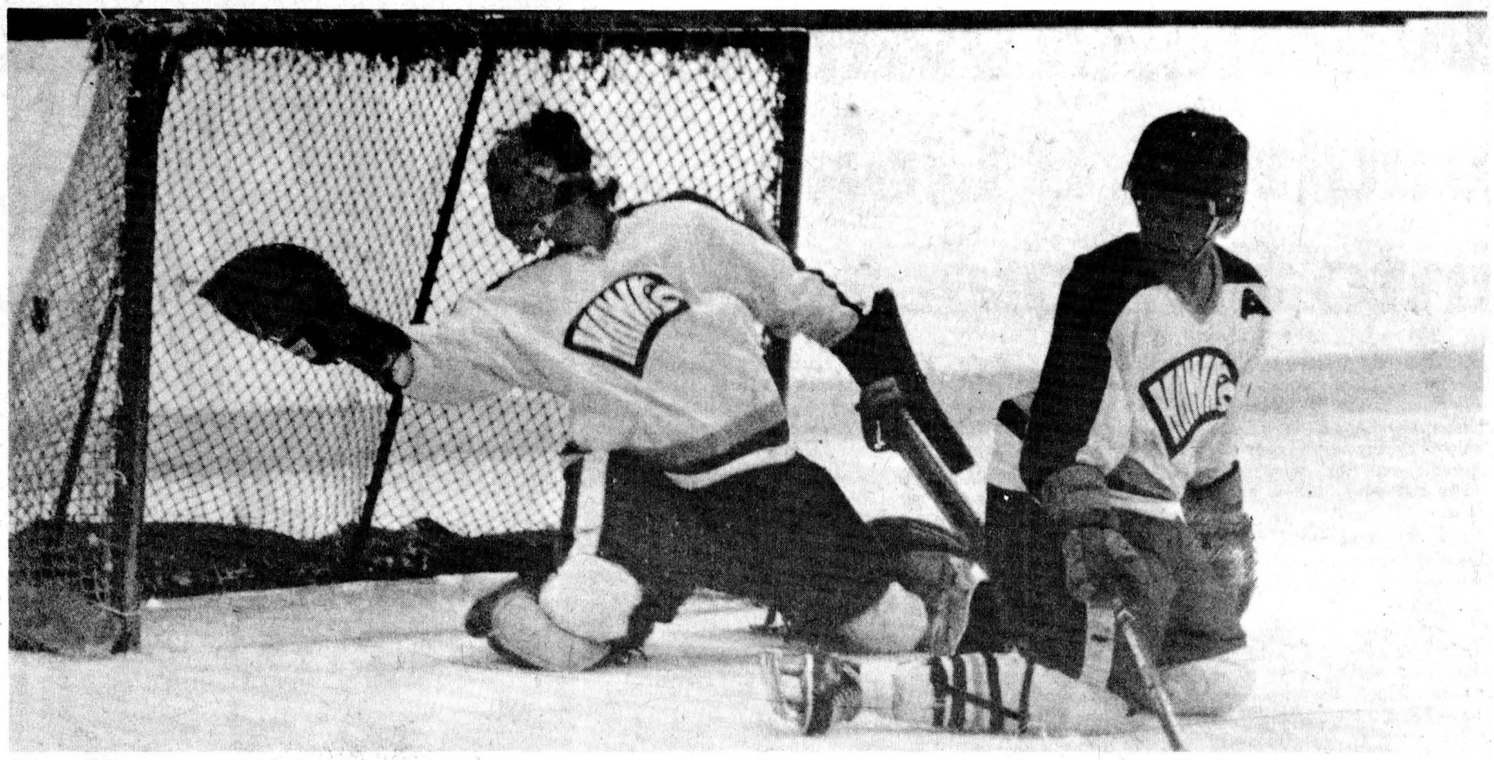
On Fri., Nov. 19, our Senior Girls basketball team participated in the EOSSA Championships in Cornwall.

We are very pleased to say that they won this championship with a great display of skill and sportsmanship.

Their victories are as follows: North Dundas vs Smith Falls 47-35 and North Dundas vs South Grenville 40-19. The girls are holding a penny drive to help them finance their trip to Sarnia to compete in the all-Ontario championships. Best of luck!

A student council meeting was held Wed. Nov. 24.

Their main concern at this time was the distribution of money to the various clubs at NDDHS.



Double protection

Winchester Hawks' defenceman Karl McRoberts gave netminder Dan McMartin a little added assistance on this play Friday night but it didn't help very mush as the puck (hitting the back of the net) got by. Winchester won the ODHA Junior B Hockey League game 5-4 over the Brockville Locke Truss Tikis.

Embrun Panthers on top

Gananoque club disbands operations

EMBRUN (Staff) - The Embrun Panthers are back atop their familiar pedestal but the Ottawa District Senior Hockey League received a stunning blow last week when the Gananoque Islanders announced they would be disbanding their operation.

The loss of the Islanders not only reduced the league to four teams but also forced the league to do some quick juggling.

Under Canadian Amateur Hockey Association rules, participants in the spring season playdowns for the Allan and Hardy cups must play a minimum of 24 regular season games.

The loss of the Islanders dropped each team below that limit and league officials met last Thursday to revise the original league schedule to include an additional home and home series for each remaining team, bringing them to 26 games prior to league playoffs.

Gananoque, in their second season in the Ottawa district loop, was forced to disband when the Ontario Hockey Association took major steps against a Kingston team for tampering with seven Gan players. The players were also suspended from hockey for one year.

Prior to disbanding the team, the Islanders had not been enjoying very much success on the ice.

In eight games, two against each of the other four teams in the circuit, they had recorded only one win and seven defeats. They had scored only 29 goals while giving up 70.

Embrun throttled the Ottawa Cougars 10-2 last Thursday and destroyed a shorthanded Cougars' club 11-2 at home the following night.

The latter game was rescheduled with Gan dropping out of the league and Ottawa could only muster nine players, including a goaltender.

Centre John Hutton paced the defending Hardy Cup champs to victory Thursday night scoring four times. Singles went to Dave Dixie, John Bonnar, Randy Burman, Steve Desloges, Dave Hunt and Larry Mick.

Paul DeNomme and Roger McNabb managed third period goals on Wayne Hughes. the Panthers led 4-0 and 6-0 at the period breaks.

On Friday night, the Panthers outshot the Cougars 51-22 as they held 2-0 and 5-1 period leads.

Dixie paced the winners with a hat trick. Hunt fired a pair of goals and Derek Edghill got his first two goals of the season. Singles went to Brent Ellis, Pierre Patenaude, Rick Larose and Mick.

Ray Bailey and Garth Rogers scored for Ottawa.

Going into the weekend action, Gatineau's Yves Plouffe and Michel Cayer lead the league in scoring, each with 17 points.

Roger McNabb of Ottawa, Alf Maki of Potsdam and Denis Roy and Greg Fagan, both of Gatineau, all had 15 points.

League statistician Hubert Bertrand noted those figures would change greatly with Embrun's two high scoring games not included.

This coming weekend the Panthers play a home and home series with Potsdam. They play in Embrun at 8:30pm Friday and back in Potsdam at 7:30pm Sunday.

THE FLU.

This is how Ontario's no-cost flu protection program will work.

There could be an outbreak of flu in Ontario this winter. So your Province is recommending vaccination against both swine flu and Victoria flu for people age 65 and older, and people age 20 and older who have certain chronic illnesses such as diabetes, heart, lung or kidney disease. We plan to vaccinate them with one inoculation before the diseases strike — if they strike. There is no charge.

We are also offering no-cost swine flu vaccination to other people age 20 and older who want to be vaccinated.

But no one will be required to accept vaccination— it is a personal and voluntary decision.

What these flus are

Both flus are caused by contagious viruses that spread directly from one person to another, just like the common cold. (Swine flu is not caused by eating pork.)

Swine flu is suspected of being similar to the 1918-19 flu which was responsible for the deaths of 20 million people world-wide, including 45,000 Canadians. Victoria flu was responsible for many deaths and illnesses as recently as last winter.

Symptoms

The symptoms are usually fever, muscle aches, headaches, chills and coughing. It takes one to three days from the time the virus gets into your system until you start feeling ill. The flu lasts two to seven days. With severe infections, flu can kill. Swine flu can kill within 24 hours.

Ontario's no-cost vaccination program

To ward off these two flus, Ontario's 44 local Medical Officers of Health will administer a province-wide vaccination program. Dates, places and times of clinics in your area will be announced.

Many of Ontario's 2,200 public health nurses will carry out the actual vaccinations. Some family physicians will be vaccinating their own chronically-ill patients. Your Ontario Government pays all costs.

Vaccinations will be given with traditional needles or with fast painless air spray injectors that shoot a light spray of vaccine through the skin of the arm. The injector can vaccinate 1,000 people an hour, and it has been used safely for many years. Flu vaccination does not leave a scar.

Possible side effects for those who should be vaccinated

Most people will have no side effects from this vaccination. Serious side effects are rare, but they can occur — as with any vaccination. Minor side effects can include a sore arm, headache, fever and muscle aches, lasting one or two days. If these minor symptoms persist, contact your doctor. Protection through vaccination starts in about three weeks and will probably last a year or more.

Who should NOT be vaccinated

If you are allergic to chicken eggs, chicken or chicken feathers, don't be vaccinated at all, because the vaccine is made from chicken eggs and can cause a severe reaction. If you have fever, acute respiratory or other active infections, don't be vaccinated while you are ill. No one should be vaccinated for swine flu within 14 days before or after any other vaccination.

Flu vaccine will protect 80 to 90 per cent of those vaccinated — but there is no drug or antibiotic to cure flu, so vaccination is desirable.

For further information about the flu vaccination program, contact your local public health unit.

Keep it up Greg

Chesterville native Greg Casselman is this season patrolling the right wing boards for the Winchester Hawks of the ODHA Junior B Hockey League St. Lawrence division. Greg is not known for goal scoring but he makes up for that with determination and his checking skills. In 10 games so far this season, Greg has matched his sweater number with three goals and three assists. He scored the Hawks' opening goal Friday night as they nipped Brockville 5-4.

ODHS students react to plebiscite

Dallas Buchan

INGLESIDE (Special) - Last week the following letter was read to the ODHS student body. The students were asked to think about the letter and if in agreement to sign the petition.

Frances and Mary Donkers drew up the letter to change the wording of the ballot concerning the Community Centre.

The letter is as follows:

"The students of ODHS and Rothwell Public School were not pleased with the question put forth concerning the Community Centre. The question was: "Are you in favour of a community centre to be erected within a radius of ½ mile of the Municipal Offices?" For instance if you voted No there wouldn't be a Community Centre built and if you voted Yes it would be in a ½ mile radius of the Municipal Offices which would place it in the vicinity of Osnabruck Centre. The students felt that this left little choice for the voters.

Our reasons for thinking it should not be like this are:

1) That if you built it in the Town of Ingleside you would be saving money for yourself and for the taxpayers because you would not need to build sewage facilities and the water supply is there already.

2) If it were in Ingleside all three schools would benefit from it because it would be within walking distance and we wouldn't have to pay for bus services. Also school hockey and broomball teams could be organized into leagues. The students could use these facilities after school to practise and take the late bus home as the basketball and soccer teams do.

3) Since Ingleside runs right along highway two many tourists come into town especially in the summer and it would be of use to them too.

4) As well as our school using these facilities there are many other clubs around Ingleside that would find use from this building.

There also were a few other reasons but these are a few examples.

The students have written to the township concerning this question which will be on the ballot December 6.

Approximately ¾ of the student body signed this letter in agreement to change the wording of the question asked.

They suggested to change the question in two, such as: 1) Would you like a Community Centre in our Township? 2) Would you like it in the town of Osnabruck Centre within a ½ mile radius of Municipal Offices?"

How they did in '74

(Staff) — I've heard this all somewhere before, you say.

Newspapers in every community in Ontario have been jammed for the last two weeks with municipal election advertising and the same slogans and faces seem to be popping up again as incumbents try to hold off a new crop of challengers.

As election interest in this area peaks with 64 candidates vying for 37 vacant positions in nine municipalities, The Record presents this little reminder of how the electorates responded in 1974:

Chesterville: Reeve Keith Graham was acclaimed to office again and incumbent Stuart Allan was the poll horse, leading the five-candidate field with 338 votes; challenger Garnet Droppo was second with 285, Nelson LaPrade third with 274, and incumbent Archie Black got the last seat with 237. Incumbent Fred Coons lost his seat, trailing the field with 224 votes.

Winchester Township: Cecil MacNabb was again acclaimed to office and incumbent Delbert Link held off Joe Marquette's bid for the Deputy Reeveship, almost doubling his vote, 617 to 223. Incumbent Councillors Gerald Holmes, James Sullivan and Roland Cayer ran one-two-three with 709, 603 and 501 votes respectively, as newcomer Albert St. Pierre failed in his bid for election, getting 343 votes.

Osnabruck: Incumbent Reeve Edwin Waldroff polled 906 votes to defeat Gordon Ross, who received 647. Stuart Hart moved up from Council to topple Deputy Reeve John MacLeod, defeating him 995-485; and on the Council side David Thompson led the field with 762, Clayton Ouderkirk had 595 and Mervyn Zummach got the last seat with 578. Edged out in the Council race were Harold Warner with 496, Robert Bedingfield with 442, Brian Casselman, 398, and Robert Atchison, 343. The township plebiscite for a proposed community arena for the Ingleside area was defeated 827-714.

Finch Township: Charles E. Johnstone took the reeveship by acclamation and incumbent Deputy Reeve Johnson Ouderkirk easily handled challenger Pierre Bourbonnais 632-438. Newcomer Ralph MacKenzie ran first in the contest for Council, polling 611 votes, with incumbents Hugh Shaver getting 550 and Aurele Forgues 500, leaving another newcomer, Marcel Lafleche, out in the cold with 432 votes. Sixty per cent of the township's 1600 voters went to the polls.

Finch Village: Incumbent Reeve Lynden Hough received 136 votes to hold off the challenger issued by Keith MacMillan, incumbent Councillor, who polled 120. Barry Brownlee got 198 votes to win another term on Council, Don Vollrath got on with 173 and W.H. Workman, who received 142, and incumbent Gordon MacIntyre took the last seat with 114 votes, getting through one vote ahead of Dalton Ouderkirk and three ahead of Archie Lang. They had 113 and 111.

Winchester Village: Basil Dawley and Dr. Larry Gray polled enough votes between them, 293 and 148, respectively, to beat incumbent Walter Shadbolt but that's not the way the election game works as the Reeve polled 396 to win another term. Keith Marquette took the, Deputy reeveship over Mel Vice, trimming the furniture store operator 506-299. All Councillors, Joel Steele, Robert Carkner and George Armstrong, went in by acclamation. Sixty-four-point-two per cent of the village's 1309 electors exercised their franchise.

Roxborough: All seats were filled by acclamation-Reeve George Crites, Deputy Reeve Leonard MacIntosh and Councillors Hector Bazinet, Sesel Wert and Garnet Robertson.

Williamsburg Township: Again all seats filled by acclamation - Reeve Johnny Whitteker, Deputy Reeve Ed Hanson and Councillors Graham Hess, D.N. Kyle and Glen Cunningham.

Morrisburg: Bill Dillabough won his first term as Reeve, beating J.R. Bright by 35 votes, 499-464. Deputy Reeve Edwin Jones was acclaimed as were Councillors Carlton McInnis, Albert Belanger and Fred Hill. In Hydro Commission elections, incumbents Thomas Jones, with 626, and John Thompson, with 501, retained their seats as newcomer Gerald Hillard failed in his bid with 313. Morrisburg had a turnout of 59 per cent of its 1631 eligible voters.

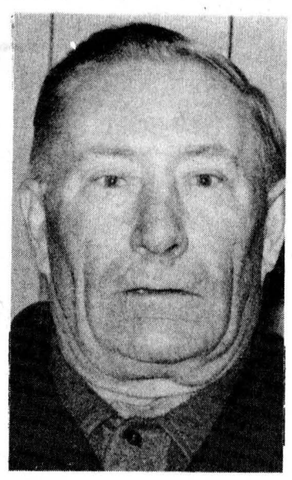
Message To The Voters Of Winchester Township



Ladies and Gentlemen

The principal reason a man runs for a seat on Council is because he feels that there are problems - important to everyone - that need attention, and a contribution he can make toward correcting them. That is my reason, and that too is my intention.

As a farmer for many years in the Township, I am familiar with the problems we all face. I hope to be given the opportunity to work with you on those and on the different affairs that affect the business community. I intend to work hard also for those who are still valuable assets of the Township, our senior citizens and pensioners. They gave and are still giving a valuable contribution, I can do no less.

If I am elected I will serve the Township and the interests of all in the best ways I am able. With your help and support I am convinced that we can make our Township the best run in Ontario.

I hope the tax-payers and others will remember that the Council is always open to suggestions and anxious for input from concerned members of the public.

After an argument with both teams' management, and the referees, the lights were turned back on again. About 20 minutes were taken up with the delay. - staff photo -

Drama class enacts docu-drama

IROQUOIS (Special) - On Friday, November 12, the Theatre 490 class presented its first performance for the students of Seaway.

During the show, they were assisted by the Theatre 390 class. The show, "Everything You Always Wanted, But Were Afraid to Ask", was a docu-drama based on the history of Morrisburg, Iroquois and Williamsburg.

The cast danced, sang and re-enacted stories, legends and poems about the people who first settled and still live in this county. There was something for everyone in the show and the students of the school responded very warmly.

The cast, which included Terry Cassell, Coleen Holder, Joy Parks, Lee Beaupre, Jeff Cassell, Debbie Ace, Larry Beckstead, Diana Bothmann, Wanda Boulerice, Ron Bright, Debbie Byers, Cheryl Freer, Josie Groniger, Cindy Henophy, Paula Leel Cindy Mason, Margie Markley, Sharon Nugent, Jennifer Payne, Jim Roberts, Karen Shearing, Cindy Sheldrick, Christie Smithson, Barry Strader, Penny Strader, Tom Tindal, Philip Tupper and Wayne Wageman put in a lot of hours of hard work. They were excellent. Look for our next show, "A Christmas Carol" in December.

On Friday, November 5, six members of Seaway's Cross Country team travelled to St. Catharines to compete in the OFSSA Cross Country Meet. The meet, which included schools from all of Ontario, was run Sat., Nov. 6, at Brock University, situated on the Niagara Escarpment.

Well over 200 boys entered the senior event. The five members of Seaway's Senior Boys team placed as follows: Kevin MacIntosh 48th, Doug Kennedy 57th, Steven Smith 73rd, Mark Stevens 150th.

Lisa Peake, running in Midget Girls, placed 92nd in a field of over 200.

Final team standings have not been confirmed, but the Senior team placed around 6th overall in a field of 32 teams.Congratulations to all team members, and to Miss K. Crozier the coach!

On Friday, November 12, Seaway's regular season began with a practice which initiated the new curlers.

On Sunday, November 14, two teams from Seaway entered in the first bonspeil of the curling season. Tom MacDonald's team won both games and Gary MacDonald's team lost one and won another.

On November 19, the teams were drawn up and the regular season began.

On Tuesday, November 16, Seaway's Senior Girls basketball team participated in a tournament at Osnabruck.

In the first two games Seaway emerged as winners, defeating Vankleek Hill and Rideau 44-42 and 41-26 respectively. Seaway was defeated 44-22 in the final by Almonte.

Contratulations to the coach, Mr. D. Stevens, and to the team!

Chesterville atoms win pair 4-2, 9-2

(Special) - C of C Atom Flyers did well in Carleton-Dundas League play, this week.

Last Tuesday the shorthanded team, consisting of 10 skaters and a goalie, gave all they had in Russell and came up tired winners.

Scoring began at 6:22 of the first period on a goal by David Van Delst and one minute later Mark Smith scored making the score 2-0 for Chesterville.

The second period saw two goals notched for Russell.

In the third period Kirk Barkley broke the tie and Kelly Mitchell added an insurance marker at 5:04 to give Chesterville the game 4-2.

Last Wednesday Chesterville hosted the Metcalfe Jets and came up with a big 9-2 win. The Flyers worked hard scoring three first period goals.

Kent Smith opened the scoring and David VanDelst followed with two goals.

The second period saw good play and end to end rushes netting two goals for Metcalfe and one for Chesterville. Mark Smith replied for Flyers.

The third period proved to be a long one for the Jets as the Flyers notched five unanswered goals. Scoring for the Flyers were Derek Morrison, David VanDelst, Rene Boulanger and two for Kirk Barkley.

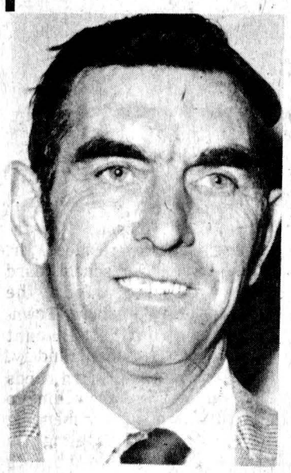
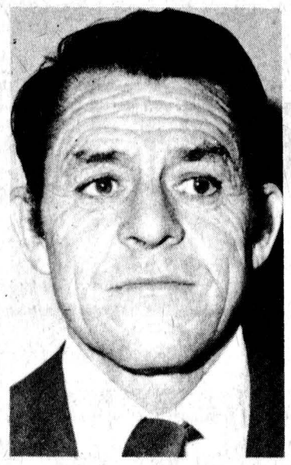
Williamsburg Township Council



John Whitteker

A member of the Williamsburg Township council since 1956, Mr. Whitteker was re-acclaimed reeve for another term of office. Reeve of the township for almost 10 years, he is finishing his term as Warden of the United Counties' Council.



Glen Cunningham

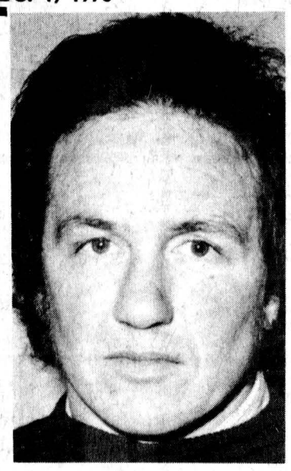
Serving as councillor for the past two years on the township council, Mr. Cunningham was acclaimed to the deputy reeve position. He will replace Ed Hanson, who declined his position this time around. It was rumored Mr. Hanson would seek the reeveship but he did not file for office.

Gordon McNairn

Gordon McNairn is one of three newcomers to the municipality's political field, vying for the vacant seat left by Glen Cunningham who was acclaimed deputy reeve. He is a Morrisburg native and resident of the township's second concession.

Dwight Crowder

Mr. Crowder is seeking his first term of office on Williamsburg Township Council. He is a Morrisburg resident and owner of Crowder Monuments Ltd., Williamsburg.

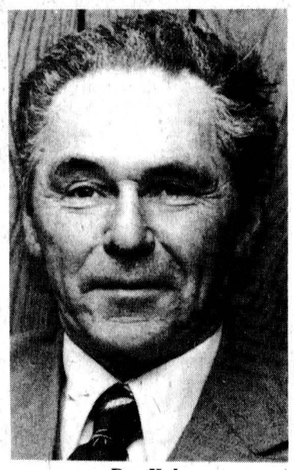


Robert Gillard

Robert Gillard is a Morrisburg native and resident of the township's sixth concession. Seeking his first term of office on council, he is hoping to instill some younger blood and ideas into the municipality's adminstration.

Graham Hess

Mr. Hess is no stranger to municipal politics. He was first elected as Councillor in the mid-1960's and was off for one term. A Williamsburg area farmer, he is especially proud of the township's road system, particularly in the past two years as the blacktopping program got underway.



Don Kyle

A Williamsburg area farmer, Mr. Kyle was first elected to Williamsburg Township Council in 1949. He has missed two terms of office. He is looking for development in the township with land being purchased near the river front and possibilities of being sold for a commercial development.

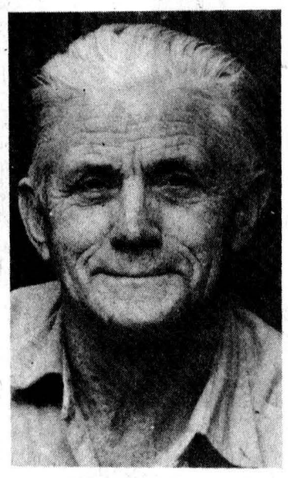
Separate and Elementary Candidates

Walter Shadbolt

Mr. Shadbolt is leaving office as Reeve of Winchester Village this year to seek the county board of education trusteeship for Chesterville, Winchester and Winchester Township. He is a former trustee in the Greely area and wants more emphasis put on the basics in education in SD&G as well as tighter controls on spending. He says he wants the board administration held responsible for making sure basic values are instilled in the jurisdiction's children and he will hold the administration accountable for spending practices.



Lorne Thompson

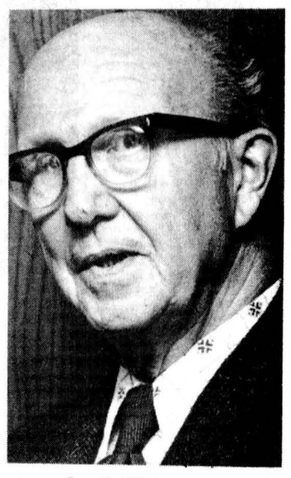
Mr. Thompson, a resident of Chesterville, is putting his 32 years of experience as a school trustee on the line this year in his bid for re-election as trustee for the village, Winchester Village and Winchester Township. Mr. Thompson retired as of yesterday (November 30) from Nestle (Canada) Ltd., where he was chief electrician and feels that now with more time on his hands, he can devote himself to educational matters. Mr. Thompson has been zone two trustee since the inception of the tri-county board and has been board chairman.

Alphonse Lafrance

Mr. Lafrance, a Crysler area farmer, is making his first attempt at the tri-county separate school trusteeship for zone four, which comprises Dundas County and the west half of Stormont. He has stated he feels rural areas are not getting a square deal from the board and rural taxpayers are, in effect, subsidizing urban schools. Mr. Lafrance has lived in the Crysler area for 20 years. He and his wife have six children, four of whom attend elementary school in Crysler.

Sarsfield O'Connor

Mr. O'Connor is making a bid for his third consecutive term as separate school trustee for zone one. A resident of Riverside Dr., Chesterville, he was first elected in 1972 and during his last term was one of the instigators of the plan to have a new 220-student elementary school built in Moose Creek. Mr. O'Connor is eastern marketing director for the OMMB and was born and raised in Ireland, where he received his bachelor's degree in dairy science.



Leslie Wismer

A retired math and science teacher at Osnabruck District High School, Mr. Wismer believes principals had much of their power eroded over the past years and wants to see it restored so that essential courses can be re-inserted into the school curriculum. A former MLA for Toronto-Riverdale, he wants the credit system revamped and made more responsive to the needs both of students who are going on to higher education and those wishing to leave school at the end of high school.

Lloyd Markell

Mr. Markell is in a two-way fight for the Osnabruck-Finch Village-Finch Township public school board trustesship vacated this year by John Schultz, who defeated Mr. Markell in 1974. The Ingleside father of 10 sat for six years on the township board of education and had four on the county board. An employee of Domtar Ltd., Cornwall, he wants to see more of an emphasis placed on the trades in the area's secondary schools and says he wants to finish what he started.

Dale Beckstead

Mr. Beckstead was a member of the South Dundas District Board of Education from 1960-69 but was defeated in his first attempt to win the Morrisburg-Williamsburg Township trusteeship on the tri-county board of education in 1969. He served on the board from 1972-74 and was defeated by Mrs. Joan Findlay in 1974. He has pledged to do all he can to keep the Morrisburg district office open to give area residents an accessible means of approaching the board.

Bill Robson

A Morrisburg area resident, Mr. Robson is in his first school board election, vying for the Morrisburg-Williamsburg Township trusteeship left vacant this year by Mrs. Joan Findlay. Mr. Robson said the board needs more members who are willing to serve as watchdogs on spending and said at a meeting in Morrisburg last week that boards of education should be accountable to municipal councils and should represent themselves there regularly.

Get the right package together.

That's what it's all about so you can start your corn harvest earlier with good performance. You have probably tried early varieties and been disappointed with the results and tried the full season varieties and ended up with high yield and also high moisture. With the high cost of fuel the high moisture level of full maturing varieties reduces your potential of high profit. Over the years Funk research has developed high yielding, fast drying varieties for all maturing ranges, so it is no longer necessary to sacrifice yield or pay the penalty of excessive moisture. We have not eliminated the drying cost, but we can reduce it and you can increase your profit per acre. If you have a small or large corn acreage, grow corn for grain or silage, select Funk's G Hybrids for high yield, strong stand and fast dry down. It is recommended that you use 2 or 3 different maturing Funk's G Hybrids for best performance. Planting different maturing Hybrids allows you to start earlier and harvest your crop at its peak of maturity.

eg. 20% early maturing, 60% medium maturing and 20% full maturing. This may vary by your particular needs, equipment, soil and climatic conditions. At Funk's we feel that the early maturing gets you going till the medium maturing is ready. The medium maturing should give you the bulk of your harvest as it will finish with low moisture content giving you good profit per acre. The quantity of full maturing will be determined by you, as this is the higher risk, higher profit potential area and we recommend you choose this carefully to use with the early and medium maturing varieties. Here are several suggested packages for grain.

Getting the right package together is just as important for silage too. Particularly so for the farmer with the big acreage. The right package will allow you to make high tonnage, high quality silage throughout the harvest season. Here are several packages for silage.
