Grantley W.A. Members Hold March Meeting At Darling Home

Eleven members of Grantley W.A. braved the extreme March weather to attend the monthly meeting at the home of Mrs Frank and Mrs Isabel Darling on Wednesday afternoon.

The president, Mrs Gordon, opened the meeting with a hymn followed by the Apostle's creed repeated in unison. Owing to "Open House" at Finch that afternoon, Rev and Mrs Spence were unable to attend.

Mrs Claude Carr read Psalm 51 which formed the basis of the worship service with commentaries by Mrs Glenn McMillan. In this Dr Pidgeon compared the sin of David to that of Shakespeare's MacBeth. Mrs Wilburn Robinson read an account of the life and work of Dr Pidgeon and his photo was displayed.

It was decided to invite Miss Adams, of Cornwall, to show slides in the church early in April. A new member, Mrs Clifton Merkley, was welcomed.

Among the Irish thoughts for the roll call was an interesting story of the origin of the shamrock. The roll call for April will be "An Easter Thought."

Mrs Harper expressed thanks for messages of sympathy and Mrs S. B. Casselman sent greetings with her fees and hoped to attend the meetings soon.

Several took part in the study lesson on the "Need for Repentance" as in Luke, followed by current events.

Lunch was served by Mrs Hesson, Mrs Jas. O. McMillan, Mrs Claude Carr and Mrs Gordon.

Mrs Wilburn Robinson thanked the hostesses for a pleasant afternoon. Mrs Ernest Beckstead invited the W.A. to meet at her home in April.

Finch W.I. To Sponsor Films On Public Safety

The regular meeting of Finch Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs W. G. Brownlee on Thursday evening. Mrs Donald Casselman, president, presided at the meeting, assisted by Mrs Ernest Montgomery as secretary.

The meeting was opened by singing the Ode, with Mrs Earl Droppo at the piano. The Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer were repeated in unison.

The motto for the evening was "Take care of your day until 10 o'clock and the rest of the day will take care of itself." The roll call was answered by 16 members telling a kind act done by a neighbour. Many kindnesses were mentioned. One member said how kind all the W.I. members had been by inviting her to join the Institute when she was a newcomer to Finch.

There were 10 visitors present. The secretary read the minutes and correspondence.

It was decided to sponsor a Safety First evening of films in Finch Community Hall when the Department will send a series of films on safety. If even one child's life were saved, this would be a worthwhile project. Miss MacLeod spoke on behalf of the Finch teachers who are co-sponsors.

A letter, pertaining to the homemaking clubs, regarding the working with wool was referred to the leaders.

Mrs Wilkinson, of Moose Creek, addressed the group on the folk school to be held the following week. Folk schools were started in Denmark and have spread through many different countries, the latest being Korea.

It was decided to hold a cooking sale on Saturday, March 24, at Mrs Tom McCaffrey's restaurant.

An excellent reading on St. David's Day was given by Miss Bella MacLeod.

Miss Doris Duff, a recent winner in the Finch High School public speaking contest, repeated her address, Canada, My Native Land," in her usual pleasing manner.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Earl Droppo on April 5.

ROBINS AT GRANTLEY

This week on Monday Mrs Glenn McMillan, of Grantley, phoned us to say that two robins were busily picking gravel in her dooryard. Mr McMillan had noticed them on his way to the barn. Can Spring be far away?

That same evening as we walked home to supper from here we heard a cheery redbreast in the maples beside St. Mary's Church. By next week robins will be with us for the summer.

Work is underway in Chesterville Legion Hall again after a short holdup. Carpenters are busily completing the finishing trim on the inside of the building. Legion president Carl Merkley is confident the work will soon be finished to allow the fine new building to be opened for public use.

Equipment for the hall is starting to be installed. A large electric stove has been put in position and the Legion have gratefully received the gift of a piano from Mr and Mrs H. C. Hummel, of town.

The Barrel Run held each year by the Legion is one of the sources of funds that is making the Legion Hall possible. Have you purchased your tickets yet? You can win one hundred smackers, if you are lucky.

Finch High School Holds Successful Open House Problems Facing New School Board Outlined for Parents

A large number of parents and friends visited the classrooms of Finch High School on the occasion of the school's annual "Open House" held as a feature of the school's Education Week programme.

T. B. Higginson, B.A., principal of the school, was chairman of the afternoon's programme and welcomed the parents. He said it was encouraging to the members of the teaching stafi to see so many parents present.

Short addresses were given by Rev Ben Spence, supply minister of Chalmer's United Church, and Rev John W. Bell, minister of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church.

Roy Rupert, chairman of the newly-organized North Stormont District High School Board, made an earnest appeal for the co-operation of all ratepayers throughout the district, to ensure that all high school students in the area may have opportunities at least as good as those in neighbouring counties. Mr Rupert stated his firm belief that a new school would be the only solution to a very pressing problem.

At present the board operates two schools in Finch and Avonmore with a total enrolment of 286 students, 45 of whom are from Cornwall Township and 74 from Osnabruck Township.

The newly-organized area includes Finch Township, the village of Finch, and that portion of Roxborough Township not included in the Maxville area, with a total assessment of $3,760,887. Mr Rupert urged all ratepayers to co-operate with their municipal councils and the councils in turn with the school board in order that the approval of the Department of Education may be secured and a start made toward the improvement of the educational facilities in the district.

B. C. McIntosh and J. D. Ferguson, two other members of the board, who were present, gave short addresses. Unavoidably absent were board members J. H. LeHoux and Wilbert Paul.

Mr Higginson introduced the members of his teaching staff, each of whom spoke briefly. Members of the staff are Miss Mabel Pacey, Mrs Ann Webber, Mrs Helen Sutherland, Miss Grace Lamb, Marcel Giroux and Clifford MacRae.

Mr Higginson introduced members of the school's public speaking team who had a few days previously won for the school the Peter Manley Trophy at the inter-high school competition, held in Aultsville. The principal also announced that the school's hockey team had won the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders Trophy, open for competition among the various cadet corps of the district.

Parents were given an opportunity of seeing an interesting display, set up by the students of the Grade XIII Physics class.

Lunch was served by the senior students. Parents and teachers spent a profitable time together discussing problems of mutual concern.

OPINIONS . . .
Ours and Others

Our Springsong—Highway 43

The loud annual lament from this corner regarding the peculiar status of Highway 43 here is beginning to take on the sound of the Record's 'Springsong." For the past couple of years we have been crying aloud the sad state of affairs of the orphaned road with no head, no tail and apparently no parents to plan its upkeep and future.

Mr Peter Manley, MLA for Stormont, rose the other day in the Ontario Legislature to discuss the roads in Eastern Ontario and more particularly the need for a south-north artery from the river to Ottawa in Stormont. The point was made that 43 is a road that runs only from Monckland to Chesterville in the dress of a modern road, and it is very good, until the ends unravel into poor secondaries that can loosen fillings in teeth faster than Joe Louis.

Last Fall members of municipal governments of Chesterville, Winchester and Winchester Township along with Grenville-Dundas MLA F. M. Cass, Q.C., met Highways Minister Allan in Toronto. The basic reason for the visit was to determine some future for Highway 43, at least as far as the juncture with 31 from Chesterville. Asked about the conference last Fall at nomination meeting here, Reeve McMillan could report no progress at all and the subject has remained closed. The only public mention lately of the forthcoming battle of the bumps on the Ridge was a letter ordered sent to the Minister etc. by Chesterville council asking that the battered road be kept in repair this Spring.

Why should a municipality be left in the position of petitioning that a Provincial Highway be at least repaired? The inference is that without the constant repair it would be unserviceable.

How much traffic does a road need to warrant first class attention? Or if there are reasons for hesitating about extensive renovations to the existing route, what alternative route is being considered?

Someday perhaps John Q. Public will be taken into the Minister's confidence and told more than two weeks ahead what plans are afoot for his particular interests. The only claim for the right to the information is rather limited. John Q. Public elects the gentlemen who then spend his money.

Best Customer

On this page of the Record this week print the first of a series of thoughtful advertisements of the Steel Company of Canada. The first line reads: "The steel industry's best customer is the farmer." The body of the ad explains the first line.

1956 promises to be a real whoop-an-holler year in nearly every business in Canada. The national income is up higher than ever, there are more luxuries available and more chances to pay a dollar down and a dollar a week. Wages in industry are such that nearly everybody is eating high off the hog and the sow belly of the hungry thirties is only a bad dream.

That is the picture for most industry. Yet the basic industry of all, farming, has suffered a 37 per cent loss of income in the past four years. The farmer has had to accept less for his products as they entered the market, but the price to the consumer has not lowered. Somewhere in between, there has been an increase in handling costs that kept the final cost as high as ever.

The farmer is not blaming the middleman entirely for the unequal spread; the consumer is really the one to get the prod. The demand on the merchandiser by the fat-purse customer has led to a lot of the extra costs. Today a store must sell its merchandise wrapped, painted, packaged and dolled up until a tomato looks like a television star and a can of corn like a vision from Mars. Costwise, something has to give. While the farmer has felt the pinch of lowered returns, the manufacturers have had to spread the increased merchandising costs into the finished product. If the public wants frills, they pay for it.

Trouble is, we have to eat too, and we eat from the shelves of our merchants. If the public demands pink peaches, pink peaches we eat, even if the colour is all on the outside. Even though we like a hunk of cheese out of hand, it is getting harder to escape from the packaged varieties extolled by our advertising columns. Eighty-odd cents is a nice price for a pound of cheese, but that isn't what the farmer gets, neither is the spread all profit to the cheese manufacturer. Again the frills must be paid for.

Farmers are meeting in Toronto this week to examine some of the possibilities of solving the tough nut of reduced farm income. The co-operative system of merchandising basic farm commodities may be part of the answer. Pools of one sort or another, marketing boards with wider controls over produce might help. Whatever is the outcome, the farmer and his income is a very important subject to Chesterville residents. What he gets determines what we have in the frying pan and in the end has a very large bearing on the prosperity of firms like the Steel Company of Canada.

Bits and Pieces

Sidewalk superintendents are invited to brave the raw weather and look in on our new building rising at the rear of the Record building. Sullivan Bros., of Chesterville, are building us an addition 30 by 40 feet to add much needed floor space to our plant. Of cinder block construction, it will also serve as home for a new newspaper press that has been ordered for shipment in late Spring.

o O o

Someone asked us if the ice was going out by the 17th. As usual we said it always does, except that last year proved the exception to the rule. Have you got your Barrel Run ticket yet?

Light Along The Way

The love and mercy of Almighty God, and His willingness to freely give Grace to all men, is the basis of Christian faith. Jesus described how God pours out His love regardless of what men are. As the sun rises on the evil and on the good, and the rain comes to the just and unjust, so His love is given to all men. This is to say that love and grace are not merited, or earned, for they are freely given.

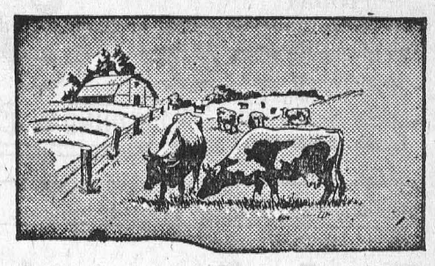
But there is a grave and subtle temptation in this, and it is to make grace cheap. A literal interpretation of Jesus' teaching in this connection sometimes leads men to take for granted what cannot be taken for granted at all. While we are free to receive God's gift of grace, we are not free to take it for granted. The fact of forgiveness must never be confused with our continuing need of forgiveness. As Paul said, the gift of grace frees us from sin, but it does not free us to sin. Forgiveness, or grace, is not an easily acquired measure of liberty which permits man to do as he wills.

Indeed the very opposite is true. The more conscious we become of God's grace, the more conscious we become of our desperate and continuing need of it. In our mortal weakness we must have His immortal strength, and one real test of Christian faith is the acknowledgment of the penitent of this great need. What we are is always a fair measure of our acceptance of grace. There is no problem for most Christians in such major temptations as robbery and murder, but many of the subtler temptations evidence our need for strength beyond ourselves. A harsh word or a quick temper, the failure to help another to a fuller life, the lure of petty gambling or turning a fast buck, all of these tempt us to feel a liberty that in no way conforms to the will of God. There is no more dreadful sin than that which makes us feel that since we are under grace we cannot sin.

It was Augustine who wrote: "Love God — and do what you will." The words are so simple that we almost miss their depth. What is love? Love is giving oneself to another, completely. Love is that concern over one thing that excludes all else. In the human relationship of marriage this is the accepted standard, and there is no other. If we love God in this same exclusive way then we incur an enormous responsibility to Him. The key to all freedom is the responsibility with which we accept it.

Grace, then, is discipline. It is the self-imposed discipline of the penitent spirit that seeks the will of God. Paul claimed that this was a new and more perfect form of freedom, for the soul that found it found the means of being separated from sin. The grace of God makes sin more understandable, and strengthens the soul against it. As the ground is never wholly refreshed by one shower, but needs each returning one, so the soul needs the continuing gift of God's grace. One writer has summed up this need in this way: "Is grace for me a continually renewed experience of the mercy of God to my penitent spirit, a gift joyfully and thankfully received 'new every morning,' an incentive to a life of true devotion?" Only when it is can we truly say that we know the gift of grace, and the freedom that it brings.

FRENDLEE FARM CHATS



By Lillian Allison

"Father always saw to it that we lads hung up the harness the right way," Howard said. "There was a big, wooden peg for each collar and the collar was either there or on the horse. There were wooden pegs too for the back-pads and long nails where the chains at the end of each tug were held in place. Twists were'nt allowed in the tugs either, believe me. The bridles hung on two big nails with the lines looped through the bit rings. There were no twists in the either. 'You can judge a man by the way he takes care of his harness,' Father always said.

"And Father wasn't careful only of his harness. I remember his first car," Howard went on. "It was back about 1925 that Father got his first Model T. He sewed together enough cotton bags to cover her from stem to stern and before the garage doors were closed Father had her covered up like a pet horse on a cold day.

"If it happened to be raining on Sunday morning we went to church with the horse and rig. Father'd have gladly walked rather than get 'Jenny' wet. It got to be a family joke too. 'I paid $800 for that automobile,' Father'd explain, 'and I ain't going to get her wet and all rusty. I calculate that car has to do me as long as I live and I don't want to be ridin' around in some beat-up old crate. I'm goin' to take good care of her. She cost me a lot,' he'd say."

"I wonder how we could go about teaching a bit of your father's philosophy today," Frank said. "There's not much of it left, it seems to me."

"You can say that again,' Howard agreed. "Today the attitude seems to be—'Don't worry about it. When this one's done I'll get another'."

"And that not only concerns cars either," suggested Frank. "That goes for everything. Nobody has any idea how to take care of anything these days."

"Right you are," said Howard. "I just wish you'd seen our house when we moved into it. The Watsons bought it new and they'd only lived there two years when they sold it to us. Honest-to-Pete you'd have thought a regiment had been living there.

"Marg. counted thirteen nails pounded into the back of one closet door—just to hang stuff on. They'd put big nails in the plaster too and it had cracked around most of them. There was enamel knocked off the bathtub and I'll never know what they did to the kitchen sink. The countertop had been burned and the paint on the walls and woodwork was chipped and scratched until we had had to do over the whole place. I had no idea folks could do a house so much harm in two years."

"And people are hard on their clothes these days too," Frank said. "You've seen that Fraser girl that boards with us. Never looks like anything. Mary says she never hangs up a dress from one Monday until the next. Her clothes are piled up six deep on a chair. She could get a $50 suit today and by Sunday it would look as if she'd slept in it.

"The men aren't much better either. Take Tom Nixon. Saw him in a brand new suit the other day putting oil and antifreeze in the car."

"I know," Howard said. "People just don't have any respect for their belongings any more. They buy expensive power lawnmowers and leave them sitting around in the rain and dew. They drape their garden hose across the driveway and drive over it a dozen times a day. They hammer the daylights out of a door that sticks in damp weather and dig screw drivers into storm windows that won't come off in the spring.

"And the women aren't any better. They throw stuff down the sink that plugs the drain. They slice bread and meat on the new, plastic table top. They never oil the mixer or washer. And they leave clothes on the line for days

Directly, the farmer as an individual is a buyer of steel and on the farmer's prosperity rests the prosperity of the farm implement business, which is one of the three Canadian industries using the most steel.

The two other largest direct customers of the steel industry are the railways and the automotive industry. These also are largely dependent on the farmer's prosperity. Moving crops to market is the part of railway business on which nearly all the rest is based.

Motor vehicles owned by the farmer or by other people moving foodstuffs account for a large part of the total automotive business.

Because it is in the steel industry's interest that the farmer have profitable crops, the industry must try to keep down the costs of steel products the farmer must buy. This company is constantly acquiring new facilities to produce more steel for more people.

Various Reports Given at Hospital Annual Progress Shown in All Lines of Endeavour

(Winchester Press)

Winchester District Memorial Hospital's new $38,000 wing is now completed and in operation, Wallace Carkner, chairman of the Board, said at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening in Winchester Town Hall. The new expanded part of the hospital faces north from the centre of the main building, and affords a new entrance, spacious lobby and offices for administration purposes, and increased dining space downstairs which can be converted into a small auditorium. In addition it has paved the way for the hospital's new blood bank which went into operation in June, 1955. The wing has been erected in such a way that a second storey can be easily added. Modern in every respect, it is a credit to the hospital which is serving a wide territory.

Report for the Board of Directors, Chairman Carkner said that the new hospital expansion would be paid for entirely out of hospital depreciation funds which have accumulated over the years. Mr Carkner said that $20.000 of the total had been paid to date. As assistance to this building fund, United Counties council stepped up its 1955 grant from $2,000 to $5.000. Commenting on the territory the hospital served today Mr Carkner said that the growing need for more hospital beds was more acute than ever. As of Tuesday, he said, there were 89 on the waiting list at the hospital. Hospital expansion in the way of more beds is constantly on the minds of board members, he said. In outlining the views of the Board of Directors towards further expansion he divided his subject into five separate categories. Briefly he stated: "Do we want to expand? Should the hospital adhere to certain boundaries where the admittance of patients is concerned, and if we do expand where would the necessary funds be derived?" At the present time the Board is sitting tight waiting on the necessary co-operation of neighbouring municipal councils and individuals who might give promise of financial assistance. Until such time Mr Carkner explained, the process of adding needed hospital beds would be extremely slow. He said that certain municipalities using the hospital to full advantage were not accepting enough financial responsibility. He intimated that expansion was inevitable and hoped that the provincial government would increase its grant per bed in such case. According to the Department of Health there should be five beds for every 1,000 people. It is estimated that the District Memorial Hospital is serving a population of 20 000 today, necessitating 100 beds. A 34-bed hospital, the institution had a patient day average last year of over 38. He said that today the District Memorial Hospital did not have the capacity for even normal expansion, not to mention the outbreak of epidemics and the proposed National Health scheme which will undoubtedly increase the number of bed patients.

He voiced thanks to the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary for their continued fine work, and was joined by Vice Chairman W. J. L. Boyd in extending a hearty "thank you" to the entire staff of the hospital for their co-operation.

Treasurer's Report

Eric Casselman, of Chesterville, presented the auditors' report in the absence of the treasurer, Hugh Balkwill. The report showed that total revenue in 1955 was $153,-949.23; total expenditures, $154,-872.65, leaving a net deficit of $913.42, after allowance of $10,-000 depreciation on equipment and buildings. General contributions totalled $8,049.31, and requirements were estimated at $15 000 for 1956.

Superintendent's Report

In presenting her report of hospital activity in 1955 Mrs Grace Mulloy, new director of nursing, said that there were 1,980 patients admitted last year including 233 children and 512 births with seven sets of twins. Other interesting facts revealed in her report were: Patients discharged, 1,940; daily average, 38.41, compared with 37.98 in 1954; 41 deaths (5 infants), 7 within 48 hours not rated as institutional; 11 still births, 2.15 per cent of total births. Surgery saw 237 major operations, 385 of a minor nature; O. P. D., 298; ear, nose and throat, 120, making a grand total of 1,040. There were 6,337 laboratory tests. There have been 163 donors to the blood bank which has been in operation since June, 1955, and 110 transfusions. 1,371 X-rays necessitated the use of 3,967 films. Ninety per cent of patients admitted received chest X-ray. 56,926 meals were served at the hospital during 1955, an average of 156 meals per day.

In closing, Mrs Mulloy expressed humble thanks to the ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary for their splendid and enthusiastic support; to the medical staff who gave so generously of their time and advice; to the Board of Directors for consideration of problems and assistance and to other groups and individuals in general who assisted to make the hospital year such a success.

Hospital Auxiliary Report

Mrs Percy Roberts, president, reported for the District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, and briefly outlined the work of the Auxiliary in 1955. Last year the Auxiliary raised $5,667.76, she said, with $3.200 going to the reserve fund which today stands at roughly $10,-000. The 1955 membership roll stands at 1,069 members. 17 units plus a few affiliated arganizations are in the district. She said the net profit for the 1955 Garden Party was $1,500. Mrs Roberts outlined the part she and Mrs K. Carkner had taken at the annual Auxiliary convention in Toronto last year. Winchester Auxiliary is recognized as one of the strongest in the province. Concluding, she expressed her thanks to everyone who had assisted the Auxiliary during the year.

Medical Report

Drs H. G. Barton and C. Morrow spoke for the Medical Board. Both were high in their praise of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary, and both lauded the addition of the blood bank. Dr Morrow said that certain renovations may be made to the nursery in 1956, and that the need of more beds at the hospital had reached the very acute stage. Both doctors expressed thanks to the Hospital Board and staff for their continued co-operation.

Officers and Directors

Chairman Wallace Carkner was re-elected for another term, as was vice chairman W. J. L. Boyd. Direc-

FINCH CADET CORPS WINS HOCKEY TROPHY

After three years in the possession of Avonmore High School, the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Hockey Trophy was brought back to Finch High School. This trophy is competed for by the various Cadet Corps of the region.

In three games, the Finch team defeated and tied with Avonmore and defeated Maxville. The rest of the schedule had to be cancelled due to the weather. Also Finch and Avonmore each won a game by default from Maxville. Maxville, besides, defaulted one each to the other two teams.

The league schedule ended up with Finch unbeaten in first place, followed by Avonmore and Maxville.

GIVE YOUR CHICKS A "FLYING START"

FEED CHICK STARTENA

Purina Chick Startena is a COMPLETE feed, fed dry, without additions. It comes in two forms–mash and Checker-Etts. (We especially recommend Checker-Etts, varying from mash to cracked grain size. They have given exceptionally good results.)

Keep Startena in front of chicks all the time. At first fill feeders full. After chicks get used to finding feeders, fill only two-thirds.

Amount needed: 2 lbs. per chick–then they're ready for a Purina growing ration.

"But kids are the worst of all," Howard cut in. "They have no respect for things at all. Expensive dolls, trains, bikes and so on are just things to smash as far as most kids are concerned."

"But how do you go about teaching kids to take care of things?" Frank inquired.

"Just the way Father taught me," Howard replied. "Set them a good example. Tell them what is expected of them and see that they do it. Father wasn't far out when he said 'You can judge a man by the way he takes care of his harness.' And that goes for other things besides harness too, it seems to me."

EVERYBODY EATS-- TRY THESE!

By Helen Graham

GREEN IS FOR THE IRISH

IT IS EASY TO HONOUR St. Patrick in our meals as there are so many green foods. It wouldn't be so easy if Ireland's colour were blue. The only blue food I can think of at the moment is blue cheese and it isn't a very good shade of blue at that.

Irish Stew

- 3 tbsps. fat
- 2 lbs. chuck beef (cubed)
- ½ cup water
- 2 tsps. salt
- 2 onions, sliced
- 3 carrots,cubed
- 3 medium potatoes, cubed
- 2 cups canned tomato juice
- 1 cup diced celery
- 3 tbsps. flour
- ¼ cup water

Melt fat in heavy sauce pan. Sear meat on all sides. Add ½ cup water and the salt. Cook slowly for two hours or 10 minutes at 15 pounds pressure in a pressure pan. If using pressure pan reduce pressure quickly at end of 10 minutes. Add vegetables and cook till tender or for five minutes under pressure. Thicken gravy with ¼ cup flour mixed with ¼ cup cold water. If desired serve with dumplings using your favourite dumpling recipe.

Perfection Salad

Add a few drops of green colouring to this salad to give an Irish touch.

- 1 tbsp. gelatine
- ¼ cup cold water
- 2 tbsps. sugar
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 cup hot water
- 2 tbsps. vinegar
- 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- 1 cup finely shredded cabbage
- 1 cup diced celery
- 2 tbsps. finely chopped green pepper

Soak gelatine in cold water. Add sugar, salt and hot water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add vinegar and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened, then fold in remaining ingredients. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce and serve with mayonnaise.

St. Patrick's Sandwiches

These can easily be made by colouring cream cheese with a few drops of green food colouring. Be careful in using green colouring as to much will give your sandwiches a poisonous-appearing deep green colour.

Vegetable Suggestions For St. Patrick's Day

There is a wide choice of green vegetables such as spinach, peas, broccoli, cabbage, lima beans or green string beans.

Drop Cakes with Green Icing

- 1 cup butter
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 1-3 cups flour
- 1 tsp. soda
- ⅛ tsp. salt
- 1¼ cups raisins
- 1¼ cups dates
- ½ cup cocoanut
- ¼ tsp. allspice
- ½ tsp. cinnamon
- ¼ tsp. allspice

Cream the butter; add sugar gradually. Add egg well beaten, then fruit. Sift dry ingredients and add to mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven 12 to 15 minutes. When cool frost with butter icing to which a few drops of green colouring have been added.

Hard cooked eggs can be coloured green by allowing the cooked eggs to stand for several hours in water to which green colouring has been added. Remember this method of colouring eggs for Easter and use a variety of colours.

IT'S A GREAT DAY—When St. Patrick's Day rolls around March 17, it's a sure bet that Canadian television will be up to its ears with Irish songs—whether they be sung by Irishmen or not. Here are four such gentlemen from CBC-TP: (l. to r., Don Garrard of "Showtime," George Murray of "Hit Parade," Jack Duffy, who works and sings with "The Billy O'Connor Show," and O'Connor himself. O'Connor, the only real Irishman of the bunch, doesn't mind their intrusion in the Irish tenor business. Says he, "After all, everybody in the world is either Irish or wishes he were."

CHURCH ROAD

Entertains Sewing Club

Personals

Mr and Mrs Clare Dafoe, Morrisburg, Mr and Mrs Earl Clause and baby, Ottawa, were recent guests of Mr and Mrs Wm Dafoe.

CANADIAN SHOE INDUSTRY STEPS AHEAD

Two and a half million Canadian cattle gave up their hides to keep Canadian humans in shoe leather last year. A leather industries spokesman said the trade really stepped lively, businesswise, during the past 12 months.

It also took 1.2 million calfskins, 1.2 million sheep and lambskins and approximately a million skins of goats, horses, alligators, reptiles, kangaroos, buffalos, seals etc., for the 40,000,000 pairs of shoes produced in Canada in 1955.

Canadian industry has pretty well taken over the shoeing of its own people. This partly because technologists have been so busy with such good results. They have improved the appearance and durability of leather, and designers have developed new and attractive fashions, including an almost complete re-styling of men's shoes.

REPAIRS COST PLENTY

A man who spent two hours repairing an adding machine in a Whittier, Calif., department store got $7,455 for his efforts.

When he was just about finished with the adding machine he asked cashier Lela Thompson if a cardboard box of cheques and money on her desk constituted the day's receipts. She said they did.

To her amazement, the man began stuffing the funds into a briefcase. She protested, but he told her he had a gun, and made his getaway.

It developed that nobody had called for an adding machine repair man.

Cerebral Palsy Being Fought at Woodeden Centre
Easter Seal Donations Go to Aid Afflicted Children

In a pleasant, wooded area near London, Ontario, a group of hard-working patient people are pioneering in the advances against one of the most heart-rending afflictions of children, the mysterious and baffling condition known as cerebral palsy.

Medical science knows only that CP, as the condition is often called, is a lack of co-ordination between mind and muscle, a failure in the nerve system which controls physical movement. But today, largely because of the techniques developed at the Woodeden residential centre for CP children, which is supported by the Easter Seals fund of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, it is known that patient training can overcome much of this lack. Constant repetition of movements can teach twitching muscles to accomplish common tasks that everyone else takes for granted.

CP children are average children, some brilliant, some not. But very few of the parents of CP children have the time, the skill or the emotional restraint or control to carry out the laborious, painstaking treatment for their children which accomplishes the miracle of making a helpless youngster into a hopeful, happy and eager child, doing things for himself. This treatment involves top-notch medical direction along with physiotherapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, nursery school training, plus the day-in-day-out most important therapy of all, encouragement and enthusiasm.

Because only training centre routine can provide what parents are unable to do, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children established the Woodeden centre several years ago and pioneered in developing treatment methods. Its successes aroused enthusiasm among medical men and parents alike.

The the Society encouraged the parents of the 3,000 known CP children in Ontario to band together in the Parents' Councils of the Ontario Federation for the Cerebral Palsied, so that they could meet and understand the necessity of getting the child out of the home and into a training centre routine, where treatment may start and where the child is encouraged by seeing others like himself.

At the centre, often months of coaching and teaching are needed before the first understandable word comes from quivering lips, before a twitching arm and hand first grasps a spoon and raises it to an eager mouth, or before young legs begin to take hopeful steps and a child walks without stumbling or weaving. It may take a child three years to learn to feed himself, to help in dressing or removing clothing, or to climb on a tricycle and triumphantly pedal it.

It's slow, costly and often seemingly hopeless. Yet in the end, miracles occur. The Woodeden centre has become internationally known, and has become the objective of visits by scores of authorities from a dozen lands who came to see what is being done. And most of all, to its staff, its greatest accomplishment is not its methods but in the creation of new happiness for the children who go home with new hope. The provincial objective of the annual Easter Seals campaign is $625,000.

In 1953 Canadians spent $7.80 per capita on motion picture entertainment.

Final Tribute Paid
Mrs Carman Barkley

The funeral service of Mrs Carman Barkley, of Bouck's Hill, was held in Knox Presbyterian Church, Morrisburg. The minister, Rev J. Hardwick, officiated, assisted by Rev W. Orak, of Lanark, formerly of Dunbar, and a lifelong friend of the family.

The church was filled to capacity by friends paying a final tribute to a devoted friend and neighbour, whose sudden passing, Tuesday evening, February 28, caused much sorrow in the district, where her life was spent and where she was esteemed by all who knew her.

She had been a devoted member of Knox Presbyterian Church, Morrisburg, for many years, a member of the W.M.S. and the Order of Rebekah, Matilda Chapter.

Born at Dunbar in 1893, she was a daughter of the late Mr and Mrs William Elliott, her maiden name being Edith Isabel Elliott. She attended township schools and in 1916 was married at Dunbar to Carman Barkley, who survives. They resided at Bouck's Hill for many years, where her husband operates a store.
