Sunny skies bask Mountain July 1 party

Canada Day

Patriotism packs region's Canada Day festivities

OSGOODE— Three words can describe the central theme of Canada Day festivities in Russell Village and across Osgoode Township— fun, fun, fun!

Across Osgoode Township, Canada Day celebrations were enjoyed in Kenmore, Vernon and Osgoode Village. Osgoode's show was the largest, attracting several hundred people to the evening extravaganza outside the community centre. A huge afternoon crowd was drawn to the village by a Canada Day parade and a bicycle decorating contest.

Following those events, the crowd 'chowed down' at a barbeque sponsored by the Township of Osgoode Care Centre Auxiliary or enjoyed a piece of the home-made pie offered up at the Women's Institute fundraiser. Pony rides, face painting and balloons by the dozen delighted youngsters before the stage show got underway at about 7pm.

Organizer Sue Knippel did a marvelous job as co- ordinator of the day's events in the village and had perennial crowd pleasers, the Acres Family Singers, as stage show headliners.

Between sets, a variety of local performers kept the audience entertained. Two church choirs, a pair of young dancers and a skit by local theatre group, 'Isle in the River Review', kept hands clapping and toes tapping.

The evening crowd was swollen by three or four bus loads of people brought in from a huge motorcoach gathering being staged in Richmond. Everyone was in fine voice as they joined the Acres Family in the singing of 'O Canada'.

FIREWORKS

As the final words of the anthem echoed across the grounds, the large crowd was treated to a fireworks display which lit up the night for more than 20 minutes.

In the tiny communities of Kenmore and Vernon, July 1 celebrations were staged on a smaller but equally entertaining scale.

Kenmore's party featured softball and horse shoe games a decorated bicycle contest and a parade. A good sized crowd was on hand at the community ballpark for the day's activities as well as for the fireworks which rounded out the events.

In Vernon, the Township of Osgoode Historical Society held an old-fashioned strawberry social and bake sale during the afternoon. People took advantage of an opportunity to browse through the museum's exhibits and to enjoy refreshments accompanied by the music of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Broughton.

A recently mounted display of antique dolls and their clothes was being admired inside the museum, while out in the machinery barn the newest 'gem' in the collection was being inspected. This new piece is a dump cart dating to 1915, which has just recently undergone a complete restoration at the capable hands of Lorne Craig.

Evening festivities were taken care of by the Vernon Recreation Association. The little community can once again thank Jeff and Sue Porteous for their dedication to that association and for their committment of time, energy and funds.

Over the past several weeks they arranged and sold raffle tickets to raise funds to offset the evenings' expenses. Although monies realized from ticket sales didn't cover all costs, it went a long way toward helping with the $1,100 tab for fireworks and sparklers for the kids.

The winners of the raffle, drawn during the July 1 party, were John Hollister, who picked up $200 in meat from Vernon's FoodTown, Colin Young who won a $100 gas voucher from Vernon Variety's PetroCan, and Garnet Quail whose prize was a $50 gift certificate from Rideau Carleton Raceway.

RUSSELL

Russell's party got under way around noon when several teams of canoe racers and a couple of hundred celebrants got together along the mighty Castor River beside the dam. Several heats of canoe relays were run while participants and spectators alike enjoyed the shenanigans as paddlers got wet or got even.

Just as the canoe races ended, the afternoon's main attraction - Awfle Knawfle - arrived. Knawfle, reputed to be the illegitimate son of Evel Knievel, came with the 'cannon' which was to shoot him across the river. The attempt went hilariously awry and the hapless 'stuntman' landed short of his target — about 308 feet short or the width of the river.

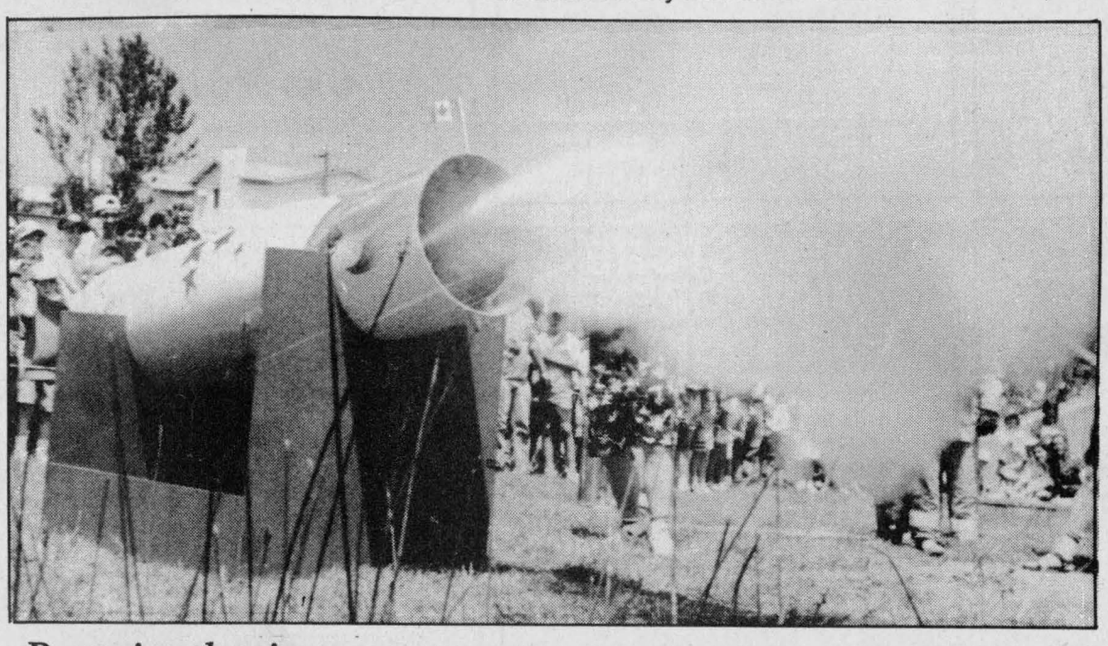
Undaunted despite several miserable failures, Awfle says he will be, "back again next year, or earlier, with another stupendous feat of derring- do."

Following events at the park, the Russell celebration moved to 'Canada Day Central'— the area around the Dr. Frank Kinnaird Arena and the Lions Ball Park at the fairgrounds.

Kid-oriented activities such as face painting, pony rides, a mini parade, the Super Nintendo challenge, a basketball shoot and a paper airplane throwing competition kept everyone entertained. The Lions Club staged a mini fireman's muster and a skydiving demonstration was set for late afternoon, shortly before a free barbeque was served up by the Russell Chamber of Commerce.

Evening events took the form of an air band competition before the Russell Core PRIDE project's grand opening in front of the village's registry office at 8:30pm. As darkness fell the crowd at the ballpark was treated to a huge fireworks display before an evening street dance wrapped up the activities.

Organizers noted that a somewhat smaller crowd was on hand for this year's events as compared to the 1992 show. Lions Mike Miller and Dennis Poirier attributed the lower attendance figures to the fact, "Many people took advantage of the chance to have a four-day weekend and get away to the cottage or out to the lake. It doesn't help our attendance figures but you can't blame them for seizing an opportunity."



Booming business

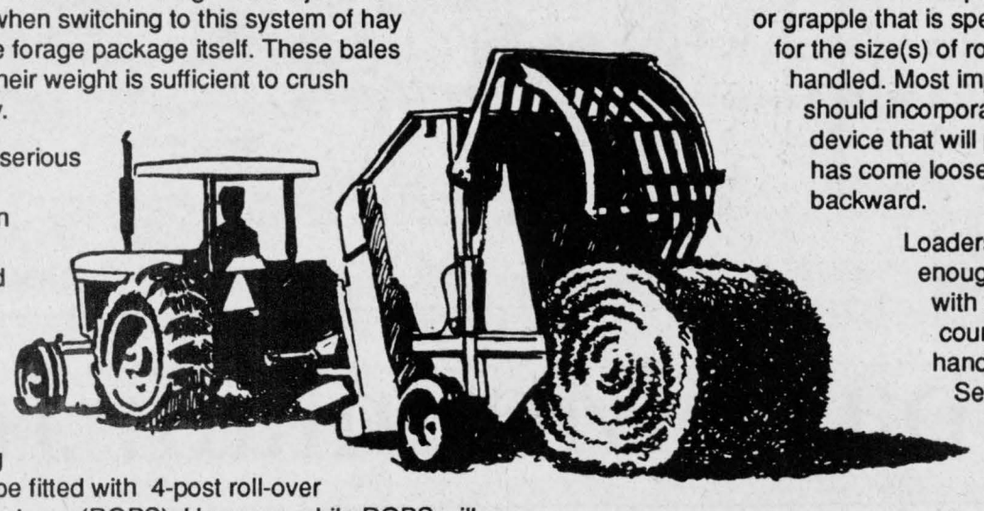
Farm Safety Week
is every week

Round bale handling hazards

The basic principles of equipment safety apply to large round bale harvest and handling. The major new risk encountered when switching to this system of hay handling is the forage package itself. These bales can roll, and their weight is sufficient to crush a human body.



Far too many serious injuries have occurred when improperly secured round bales rolled down front loader arms. Equipment used to handle the big bales should be fitted with 4-post roll-over protective structures (ROPS). However, while ROPS will "cushion the blow", bales shouldn't be rolling down loader arms in the first place!

Never attempt to carry a round bale in a loader bucket. All loaders should be equipped with a spear or grapple that is specifically designed for the size(s) of round bales being handled. Most importantly, a loader should incorporate a restraining device that will prevent a bale that has come loose from sliding backward.

Loaders must be large enough and equipped with sufficient counterweight to handle bales safely. Set wheels at maximum width to increase stability.

Try to avoid steep slopes and rough terrain when moving bales with a loader. If it is impossible to avoid sloping land, approach bales from the downhill side.

Following are some key points to consider before transporting loads of large round bales:

- The load to be pulled should be no heavier than the pulling unit.
- Lock tractor brake pedals.
- Inspect the transporting unit thoroughly before going on the road.
- Take advantage of "engine braking". Use the same gear going down a hill that you would going up. And remember, most tractors only have 2-wheel brakes.
- Wagons used to haul bales should be of sufficient width and have end racks, to prevent bales from moving off the ends or sides during transport.
- Hitching must be secure. Use a top quality draw pin and safety chain.
- Make sure you can signal your intention to turn on the roadway. Use escort vehicles if necessary.
- SMV (Slow Moving Vehicle) sign should be clearly visible on the rear of the wagon or trailer.
- Never carry a large bale on the front end loader while pulling a loaded wagon.

Green gasoline launched at Embrun Co-op gas bar

EMBRUN — People pulling up to the gas pumps at the Embrun Co-op Gas Bar will now be seeing green after a green gas launch was held there last Friday afternoon.

The launching ceremonies, with emcee Bernie Dignard of UCO Petroleum, included a Green Ribbon Cutting ceremony and filling up cars with Co-op ethanol gasolines.

During the event Co-op ethanol gasolines, UCO Petroleum Inc. and the Embrun co-operative were recognized by Don Boudria, MP of Glengarry, Prescott and Russell; Basil Dawley, representing Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry MPP, Noble Villeneuve; Russell Township Reeve, Gaston Patenaude; and UCO director, Francine Cayouette. As well a letter of congratulations was received from Stormont, Dundas MP, Bob Kilger.

Co-op green gasolines are so named because they reduce carbon monoxide and carbon dioxide tailpipe emissions. In addition, for every litre of ethanol, a litre of non-renewable fossil fuels is saved. Co-op ethanol gasolines are recognized as environmental choice products of Environment Canada and carry the Eco logo.

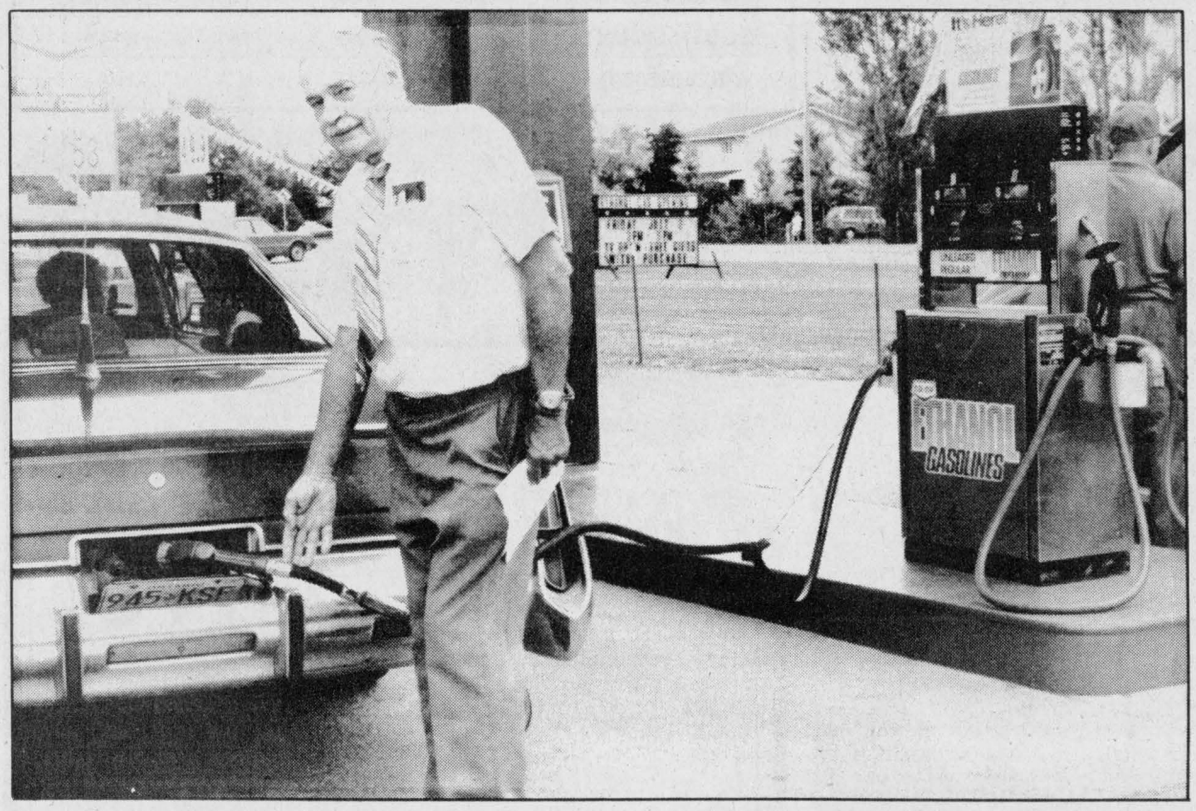
Ethanol can be made from low quality grains or from grain corn which has been stored by ensiling rather than drying.

UCO Petroleum Inc. announced in April of this year that it would make its full line of ethanol-blended gasolines available in eastern Ontario at selected sites due to overwhelming customer support in western Ontario.

UCO Petroleum is a joint venture company owned by Sunoco Inc. and the farm supply co-operative, United Co-operatives of Ontario (UCO). It was formed in 1991 and today distributes over 500 million litres of petroleum products.

Green gas launchings, similar to the one held at the Embrum Co-op were held across central and eastern Ontario last week.

Helping to launch the ethanol gas are: Basil Dawley (second from left); Francine Cayouette, Bernie Dignard, Don Boudria, and Gaston Patenaude.



Basil Dawley of Winchester fills his car with an ethanol-blend gasoline.

Oxford Downs Pony Club to host Elchris Horse Trials

KEMPTVILLE — The Oxford Downs Pony Club will once again host the annual Elchris Horse Trials at the facilities located at the corner of Hwy. 16 and Van Buren Street in Kemptville.

One of 11 events in the National Capital Region, the trials set for July 11, are designed to test the overall ability of the rider and horse. The day-long competition is divided into three phases, dressage in the morning, stadium jumping and cross country in the afternoon. This year a new "starter" division is being offered for riders new to the sport of eventing.

Competitors are expected from Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec. Winners in each division will receive a trophy and monogrammed horse cooler.

Spectators are welcome to attend this event and take advantage of the opportunity to learn about the Oxford Downs Pony Club and the sport of eventing.

Food will be available on the grounds. As well, crafts and some home baking will be for sale.

Raffle tickets for seven prizes are available throughout the summer from any pony club member. Prizes include a hand-painted mirror, a designer sweater with a hunt scene, and water color of horses in winter.

Funds raised from the raffle and Elchris will help to support the Oxford Downs Pony Club activities throughout the next year.

Selection for protein

by Blair Murray
Dairy Cattle Specialist, OMAF

The dairy industry is searching for the fast track to increased protein and decreased butterfat production. Quota concerns and perceived market pressures have resulted in increased interest in improving protein and reducing fat, more than the present pricing system for components would warrant.

Generations of selection for improved hay production have resulted in steady improvement in genetic ability to produce butterfat. Breeding for fat also tends to improve protein yield, so protein yield as improved, although not as rapidly as fat. Unfortunately, the positive relation between fat and protein also means that it is difficult through normal selection methods, to improve protein and at the same time decrease fat production.

We looked at AI sire rankings using different economic weights: three for fat and eight for protein as is in the LPI, protein only, and various weights, from a slight to a large minus, for fat. The top 10 sires do not change much whether we use LPI weights or just protein only. Slight negative weight on fat slows the gains in fat and does not seem to detract from protein. Serious negative weights on fat will also slow the gain in protein and are probably not a good idea.

It is very important to use the best bulls available. Use of mediocre bulls does not make a breeding program at all. Select for protein yield as a general strategy, not per cent or per cent deviation. High per cent without high yield means less of saleable product in future.

Present market prices and quota values indicate fat has a positive value. If we in future have quota on protein or solids that will affect the relative weight. Setting up selection weights is easy, compared to predicting what the market will be five years from now!

SHORT TERM STRATEGY IF YOU WANT HIGH PROTEIN

- Keep cows with high protein yield.
- Cull cows with the lowest protein yield. Improve your voluntary cull rate, normally about ten per cent.
- Bring in heifers that index high for protein.
- When selling heifers, sell those with low index for protein yield.

LONG-TERM STRATEGY

- Select sires for use in the herd with high proof for protein yield: The top ten bulls for protein on the current proof list average +20 for protein.
- Use young sires indexed highest for protein.
- Select heifers which index high for protein yield, sell 20 per cent with the lowest index.
- Breed heifers to highest proven bulls for protein.
- Embryo transfer is costly, but can speed up genetic gain provided the donor cows have superior protein index and the service sire is in the top three to five per cent of the breed (+18 or better).

The fast track in terms of selection for protein is for gradual change over time: 1.5 per cent per year (two BCA points) change in herd average is possible, and it adds up, year after year.

4-Hers learn about calf feed

by Steve Bossel

The West Dundas Dairy Club is nearing the end of the 1993 season. The club held its fourth meeting Mon., June 28 at Kevlyndale Farms.

The meeting was promptly called to order by Ryan Fawcett at 7:30pm. We then proceeded outside and Steve led us through the 4-H pledge.

The meeting was then turned over to Amber who continued with the roll-call; "Name one place where feed could be stored for a calf". She then read the minutes with no errors or omissions. The minutes then were adopted as read and no business arose from them.

We were then introduced to Jeff Hardy.

We then discussed different types of storage for feed. Keith split us up into groups of two and assigned each group a different type of storage to do a report on. Each group then presented their report in front of the other members.

The meeting then was turned over to Keith who talked about feed delivery in tie stall and free stall barns. Cathy then talked about grain bin dangers and silo gas.

We went inside to look and talk about the TMR mixer, its functions and benefits. We finally judged a class of four-year-old Holstein cows and gave reasons. The official placing was read by Neil. Barry told us how we could improve on our reasons.

Cathy brought to our attention the day and time of of our judging night. Robert then thanked Mr. Boyd for hosting the meeting. The meeting was adjourned by Ryan at 9pm. Refreshments were available.

The next meeting will be Mon., July 12 at 7:30pm at the home of Kelly and Ryan Fawcett.

4-H members were asked by their leaders to find a weed from the field to identify.

The next field crops meeting is slated for July 14 at the Hardy farm.

The third meeting was adjourned by Stephen at 9:10pm.

There is a "Christmas Room", an "Art Room" featuring framed prints by Kierstead and Robert Bateman, animal figurines, wooden quilt racks, and more. "The Next Generation" has teddy bears, wooden toys, wall plaques and hangings. "His Nibs" for the men contains paperweights, puzzles, telephone directories and clocks. In 1970 Gilles and Fern Bérubé became actively involved in their father Eugene Bérubé's small photography studio that he had established some 12 years before in Russell. In 1988, Studio Bérubé, owned exclusively by Gilles and Fern Bérubé, opened its present facilities on Castor Street. In this location it has evolved from its quiet beginnings to a busy full-service professional studio.

The studio's scope is wide and varied. They estimate their studio covers over 100 weddings per year, as well as school graduations and family portraits. The studio also offers laminating, restoration and framing services.

"We're a family business. We believe in taking a personal, caring approach. And that's the bottom line," says Fern Bérubé, explaining what he believes sets their studio apart from the others.

For Gilles & Fern Bérubé, photography is more than just a business - it's a way of life!

Studio hours are Monday to Friday, 10am till 5pm; Wednesday and Thursday, 7:30pm till 9pm.

Notice of Public Meeting Concerning Proposed Official Plan and Zoning Bylaw Amendments
ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Village of Winchester will hold a public meeting on the 3rd day of August, 1993 at 7:00pm to consider a proposed official plan and zoning bylaw amendments under Sections 17 and 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O. 1990.

The proposed official plan and zoning bylaw amendments affect approximately 485² (5,220 square feet) of land located on the west side of Centre Street, north of Main Street.

The subject property is located immediately behind the Canadian Legion property on Main Street and is being acquired by the Legion at this time in order to allow a future expansion of the Legion should the need arise. Note that there are no specific plans for the property at this time.

The proposed official plan amendment would redesignate the subject property from "Residential" to "Commercial".

The proposed zoning bylaw amendment would rezone the subject property from "Residential Density 1" (R1) to "General Commercial" (C1).

ANY PERSON interested may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed official plan amendment and/or zoning bylaw amendment.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION relating to the proposed official plan amendment and/or zoning bylaw amendment is available for inspection during normal office hours at the municipal offices in Winchester.

DATED at the Village of Winchester this 7th day of July, 1993.

Notice of Public Meeting Concerning Proposed Zoning Bylaw Amendments
SLOAN & HAMEL SHOPPING CENTRE

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Village of Winchester will hold a public meeting on the 3rd day of August, 1993 at 7:00pm to consider a proposed official plan and zoning bylaw amendments under Section 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O. 1990.

The proposed zoning bylaw amendment would rezone approximately 4.5 ha (11 acres) of land located on the west side of St. Lawrence Street north of Ontario Hydro property from the "Development Zone" (D) and the "Rural Zone" (RU) to the "General Commercial Zone - Exception" (C1-2).

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to permit a shopping centre to be developed on the property. Note that an official plan amendment to permit the proposed shopping centre was adopted by Council in the fall of 1992.

The "exception" provisions permit the proposed shopping centre, set minimum yard, landscaping and parking requirements, and set maximum floor space, floor space index and building height for the proposed shopping centre. Note that the zoning bylaw does not recognize a shopping centre, with the result that the "exception" provisions are intended to establish appropriate zoning regulations for a shopping centre until such time as the village adopts its new zoning bylaw.

ANY PERSON interested may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed official plan amendment and/or zoning bylaw amendment.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION relating to the proposed official plan amendment and/or zoning bylaw amendment is available for inspection during normal office hours at the municipal offices in Winchester.

Photo contest focuses on beauty of SD&G

CORNWALL — Smile! You could be a tourist attraction! Keep your eyes on the lookout for those flashbulbs and camera clicks this summer because the first ever 1993 regional summer photo contest was launched recently.

The Cornwall Regional Visitor and Convention Bureau is inviting all citizens of Cornwall and SD&G to enter their best 1993 summer photographs of our region for a chance to win some great prizes. Gaby of Cornwall will provide the grand prize winner with a prize package valued at $1,500, including a Minolta Memory Maker camera and a laminated 16 inch by 20 inch enlargement of their winning photograph, valued at $250.

Photographs deserving of an honorable mention will win a laminated eight-inch by 10-inch enlargement of their winning photograph.

Here's your opportunity to get out to local events and attractions, and capture the spirit of Cornwall and the Three United Counties by photographing the people who live and work here, the beauty of our waterfront and surrounding areas, and the excitement of local festivals, events and attractions.

A challenge has been issued to everyone in the region to uncover that secret or special place, event or person that a tourist to our area wouldn't want to miss.

Photographs will be judged in the following five separate categories: 1. People of the Seaway Valley; 2. Waterfront and waterfront Activities; 3. Festivals, Events and Attractions; 4. Picturesque Scenery; 5. "Hidden" Tourist Attractions.

Weekly draws for locally donated prizes will be drawn beginning the first week of July. The final closing date for this summer photo contest is Sept. 15.

Amateur photographers and first time camera users are encouraged to enter.

A special thanks is also extended to all businesses within SD&G who have donated a prize for our weekly draws. The bureau hopes to create a better local sense of tourism awareness and to develop a library of regional photographs.

Registration forms and a copy of contest rules are now available at the following official photo contest registration sites: Morrisburg: Seaway Valley Pharmacy, Morrisburg Village Plaza; Winchester: Shadbolt's Department Store; Seaway Valley IDA Drug Store; Chesterville: Seaway Valley Pharmacy.

For additional information please contact: Janet Parisien, executive manager, The Cornwall Regional Visitor and Convention Bureau, 1302 Second Street West, Cornwall, Ontario. K6J 1J3. Tel.: 613-938- 4748 or fax: 613-938-4751.

Evening entertainment at UCV

MORRISBURG — As part of the 1993 season, Upper Canada Village will be offering entertainment every Saturday evening during the month of July.

Join the villagers as they parade through 100 years of fashion or participate in a lantern walk through history.

On July 17, the Children's Activity Centre in the village will play host to a special fashion show which illustrates 100 years of fashion.

Visitors will have the opportunity to view both military and civilian clothing designed for all "classes", ages and seasons from the period 1785 to 1885. The clothing is from the village's collection, Parks Canada and from private collectors.

Clothing of the era was a distincitve mark used to suggest the social structure to which one was fitted into. During the evening, spectators will receive tips on etiquette and courting rituals of the 19th century.

There will be two shows at 5:30pm and 7pm. Willard's Hotel will be open for fine 1860s' dining and will also offer a special dessert menu.

Lantern walks will be slated to start at 7:30pm on July 10, as well as on the 24th.

Visitors will be greeted at the village entrance and will be escorted through the gates to become part of history as they experience a segment of 1860s' life.

The Brockville Infantry Company will partake in an interesting and amusing staged event that promises to delight and thrill visitors of all ages.

Admission to the fashion shows and lantern walks is $3.25 for adults, $1.50 for senior citizens, students and children six to 12 years of age and children five years of age and under are free.

Reservations for these special events are recommended and may be obtained by calling 613- 543-3704.

Be sure to mark July 31 on the calendar as Upper Canada Village presents Folkfest '93. Keep watch for more information on this special event.

Please call the Parks of the St. Lawrence at 613- 543-3704, TDD 613-543-4181, for further information on the Village's evening entertainment.
