Many Annual Meetings Held During The Week

ST. PAUL'S LADIES' AID ANNUAL MEETING

Splendid reports were presented of an active and successful year, at the annual meeting held Thursday afternoon, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church Ladies' Aid, at the home of Mrs. W. D. Turner (The Manse). The president, Mrs. Albert Edgerton, occupied the chair, previous to the election of officers, and Mrs. W. D. Turner led in prayer. Flowers were placed regularly in th church by various committees and Mrs. Wm. Dickson. Mrs. Lorne Kinkaid, convener of nominating committee, presented the report of committee and the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Albert Edgerton; vice presidents, Mrs. Lorne Kinkaid, Mrs. Louis Bouchard, Mrs. Frank Elliott; secretary, Mrs. Geo. Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. Chester Robinson; press secretary, Miss Grace Irving; committee of Management, Mrs. I. Curtis, Mrs. Edgar Smith; pianist, Miss Mary Empey.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Gray and Mrs. E. Payne, after which a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to all.

ROSEVERE MISSION BAND

The Rosevere Mission Band held its December meeting on Wednesday in the Sunday School rooms. The worship period was conducted by Mabel O'Neil and Patti Cass and the Scripture lesson from Luke was read by Joyce LeVere and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. The worship story was given by Doris Armstrong, telling how a small boy objected to other boys taking God's name in vain. The offering was taken by Marjory Armstrong. The secretary read the minutes and the treasurer reported the allocation reached and over the top.

The lesson story was given by Miss Alice Singleton, continuing the journey by plane with Joan and Ray Morton to the Holy Land and learning of the people and their customs.

The secretary was asked to write letters of appreciation to the W. M. S. and Circle for their co-operation and help during the year, and also to the editor for the space in the Press given each month. The roll call showed 30 in attendance.

The officers for 1937 were then elected as follows:

Hon. president, Mrs. Geo. Reveler; past president, Miss Mabel O'Neil; superintendent, Mrs. W. J. Stewart; president. Doris Armstrong; 1st vice, Jean Nesbitt; rec. secretary, George Carlyle; cor. secretary, Betty Stewart; treasurer, (to be elected); Temperance secretary. Marian Coons; mite box secretary, Joyce Crawford and Doreen Hutt; world friends' secretary, Velma Johnston. The meeting was then brought to a close with the Mizpah Benediction.

ELECTED TO COUNCIL

We offer our heartiest cogratulations to Mr. Benjamin L. Carr, of Morrisburg. who was elected as a member of the Morrisburg Municipal Council at the election held on Monday last. Mr. Carr, who is a former resident of Winchester, should prove to be a valuable member of the Council Board.

UNITED CHURCH C. G. I. T.

The C. G. I. T. met in the Sunday School room at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening. The session was spent in practising Christmas Carols. Between 8 o'clock and 9.30 the group enjoyed a Skating Party after which the Tuxis Boys were entertained to lunch by the C. G. I. T. On behalf of the boys, a vote of thanks was tendered to the girls by Ritchie Allison, to which Edrie Boyd fittingly replied.

ARENA OPENED ON SATURDAY

The local arena opened for the 1936-37 season on Saturday night last and a large crowd of skaters took advantage of the opportunity to "don the blades" for the first time this winter. The Citizens' Band has been re-engaged for the year and will supply music as usual on Tuesday and Saturday nights as well as at all Town League hockey games.

WEDDINGS

BLACK—SUMMERS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Summers, Center street, was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony at 7.30 o'clock on Friday evening, when their daughter, Clara Pearl, was united in marriage to Hubert S. Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Black. Rev. D W. Summers, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church, officiated

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a black transparent velvet gown, with silver metallic tunic blouse, fitted. The gown was made on long lines, the bodice being buttoned with black velvet buttons with a silver flower at the throat. She wore suede shoes and a black hat with metallic trimming and veil.

Mrs. Bryson Carswell of Ottawa, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, while Mr. Carswell acted as groomsman.

Following a wedding dinner, attended by the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties, the couple left by motor on a trip to Montreal and other eastern points. Travelling, the bride wore a rose dress trimmed with brown velvet and metallic lace, and coat and accessories to match.

On their return they will reside at Cornwall, Ont.

KING EDWARD VIII HAS ABDICATED HIS THRONE

His Majesty King Edward VIII has abdicated the Throne of England.

The definite announcement was made by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin from the floor of the British House of Commons at 10.55 a.m. this morning (3.55 p.m. London time). The statement read, had been issued by His Majesty the King, and had been witnessed by the Dukes of York, Gloucester and Kent, his brothers.

The official statement of abdication began thus: I, Edward VIII, of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, King, Emperor of India, do hereby declare my irrevocable determination to renounce the Throne for myself and my descendants, and my desire that effect to this instrument of abdication should be given immediately."

The statement, which will be received by British subjects throughout the world with deep feelings, was signed "Edward R. I."

Profound silence reigned in the House of Commons as the statement was being read. The Prime Minister, at its conclusion, rose to his feet and stated to the silent House, that no more grave message had ever been received by Parliament. He then delivered a speech in which a detailed statement of events leading up to the King's momentous decision of this morning was given. Lord Halifax read the statement in the House of Lords.

It is understood that Parliament will immediately pass an Act validating the instrument of abdication.

At 1 p.m. Prime Minister Mackenzie King delivered an address to the people of Canada, in which he outlined the position of this Dominion with respect to the King's abdication. His remarks were followed by a message delivered by Honourable Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, who spoke in French.

GOES TO REFORMATORY

Aurele Hills, 19, of Hull, Que., appeared before Magistrate John McCormick in court here on Saturday last to answer to a charge of theft of a quantity of cheese from a Morewood factory some time ago. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to serve six months definite and three months indefinite at the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph.

Hills was brought out from Ottawa by Constable Frank Rose of the provincial police. He had been a patient in the Ottawa Civic Hospital for some time suffering from a gunshot wound received when he tried to elude capture by police officers. His sentence dates from the time he was admitted to the hospital.

Police are still watching for Benjamin Hills in connection with the same case. To date he has escaped the long arm of the law.

Municipal Council Has Busy Session

The regular meeting of the Municipal Council was held on Friday evening last in the Council Chambers, with Reeve T. O. Keyes presiding and the following members present. Councillors E. J. Christie, Dr. W. A. Sherood, and Hy. Bessin; the clerk, E M. Shaver, and the tax collector, N. W. Beach.

In his report to the Council, Mr. Beach stated that practically all tax arrears had been paid and that he would have his report on the 1936 collections ready for the final meeting of the council on December 15.

W. J. Cass, K.C., the town solicitor, presented an application to the reeve, on behalf of a local restaurant owner, asking that he be allowed to operate a mechanical ball game on his premises, as he did not consider it was a game of chance, which is prohibited by a recent bylaw. The council took no action in the matter.

The reeve reported that excavation work on the Henderson Creek drain had been discontinued until next spring, when it would be completed. The scheme is half done at present. He also informed the members that an extra levy might have to be made on the ratepayers concerned, as the engineer had not allowed enough money in his estimates for the replacing of tile in the culverts, nearly all of which will have to be lowered.

The street committee reported that, although they had made arrangements for the purchase of a sufficient quantity of stone to meet next year's road repairs, only two loads had been delivered to date, and that was all they could get at the original price agreed to be paid.

Indigent Patients.

A few accounts for the treatment and care of indigent patients were passed, and a letter was read from the solicitor for the Cornwall hospitals, that in future drastic steps would be taken to collect indigent patient accounts. This, however, does not affect Winchester as it has no obligations to fulfill in this respect at the present time.

On the suggestion of the relief committee, Councillors Dr. W. A. Sherwood and Hy. Bessin, the names of all indigent patients and those receiving relief will not appear in the annual financial statement, published at the end of the year, as has been customary.

A lengthy discussion followed the presentation of a relief account for $3.50 which was the first relief case this year. Reeve Keyes cautioned the relief committee that great care must be exercised in administering relief in the future, and that owing to the economy program being practised by the council, certain relief rules must be adhered to, which had not beeen done regarding the account in question.

Councillor Bessin said that he had made a personal investigation into this case and found that the party was deserving of assistance. His stand in the matter was sanctioned by Councillor Sherwood, the other member of the relief committee.

According to little Willie, a skeleton is a thing with the insides out and the outside off.

Results of Elections For Municipal Officers

Arthur Flynn Returned

Arthur Flynn. present reeve and warden of the United Counties of Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry, was returned to the reeveship of Morrisburg in Monday's elections by a good majority. Elected to council were: Fred H. Broder and John Harback, of the present council, and J. E. Christensen and Benjamin L. Carr, newcomers to municipal governments.

Williamsburg Township

Williamsburg township election results gave Oscar Beckstead the reeveship and made Edgar Whittaker deputy reeve. The council had been elected by acclamation. Williamsburg village police trustees were elected as follows: Adam Froats, Clifford McIntosh and Alfred Casselman.

Edward Strader Elected

Edward Strader, an old campaigner, defeated William Barclay for the reeveship of Iroquois by 25 to 177 in the elections on Monday. Barclay was reeve this year. Councillors elected were: George Bouck, Colin Cameron. Robert Ellis and Dwight Hamilton.

Morrisburg Electors Vote for Hydro Power

Morrisburg electors strongly upheld the securing ofelectric power from the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario in the municipal elections at the polls held on Monday. The question was put to them and the return gave 216 for and 113 against. Morrisburg at present supplies itself with electricity by water and Diesel power.

Horovitz Returned

With the number of voters casting ballots nearly approaching the record set in 1933, Cornwall experienced an unusually heavy vote in the municipal elections on Monday, when Aaron Horovitz, Canada's first Jewish mayor, was returned to office for his seventh term. He received a majority of 417 over Edmond Watters. Although the various candidates worked hard to get the voters out, there seemed to be little interest in the election and the high total of voters came as a distinct surprise.

LATE MRS. JAMES SANDERSON

Death removed another of Oxford Mills' aged and much respected residents on Monday morning in the person of Mrs. James Sanderson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Todd. She was born in Oxford township 87 years ago and was a member of the Anglican church. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. James Dangerfield, Mrs. A. McLellan, Kemptville. and Mrs. James Monteith of Vancouver, B. C.; one son, Fred, of Oxford Mills; two sisters. Mrs. Annie Christie, Ottawa, and Mrs. Eliza Rawson, Toronto; and one brother, Benjamin Todd, of Oxford Mills. Her husband predeceased her some years ago.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock from her late residence to Oxford Mills Anglican church. Interment will be in the Oxford Mills cemetery.

CONSERVATIVES WIN EAST HASTINGS

Dr. Harold E. Welsh, of Roslin, Ont., Conservative, was elected to the Ontario Legislature yesterday as member for East Hastings over Dr. H. A. Boyce. Liberal, of Deseronto, after a bitter by-election campaign by the forces of both parties.

Unofficial returns from 59 of 84 polls gave Dr. Welsh a majority of more than 1000 over his opponent. It was unofficially placed at 1258. In 1934 the Conservative majority was 418.

It's grand to do right against inclination, but grander to have an inclination to do right.

Prominent Citizen Passes At Mountain

The death occurred on Thursday evening last, of a widely known and respected citizen of Mountain Township in the person of Robert Kennedy Graham in his 77th year. The deceased had been in ill health for the past four months, having suffered from a severe paralytic seizure.

The late Mr. Graham was born in Mountain township in 1860, the son of the late Robert Graham and his wife Agnes Thompson, pioneer settlers of the district. As a young man he was engaged with his father, who operated a large saw-mill on the banks of the Nation River.

In 1887 he was married to Miss Margaret Martin of Kemptville and took up farming near his old home. He continued in this occupation until about a year ago when his health forced him to retire.

Prominent in local affairs, the late Mr. Graham was the president of the Mountain Agricultural Society for a period of four years, and always took a keen interest in the affairs of that organization. He was, for a number of years, a school trustee of S. S. No. 16 Mountain, although recently, he had been unable to take any active part in community service. Highly esteemed throughout the district for his excellent qualities and kindly disposition, he was a devoted member of the South Mountain Presbyterian Church and served on the board of elders over a period of years.

The funeral was held on Saturday last from his late residence to the South Gower Baptist church where an impressive service was conducted by Rev. Herbert Wood, of Winchester, assisted by Rev. W. R. Johnston of South Mountain United church. The choir was present under the leadership of Miss Jessie Knox, while Mrs. W. R. Johnston sang "Will there be any stars in my Crown," at the request of the deceased. Interment was made at South Gower cemetery.

Those who survive are his widow, four sons, William E. Graham, Samuel M. Graham, Harold T. Graham and Gordon H. Graham, all of Mountain township; two brothers, Anson of Mountain and Andrew of Calgary, Alta.; and one sister, Mrs. William Brunton, of Kenmore; also five grandchildren.

The pallbearers, who were all neighbours and life-long friends of the deceased, were: Messrs. Edward Shaver, John Forrester, Gordon Mulholland, Christopher Forrester, John Gilroy and Ernest Boyd.

CELEBRATES 80th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Ira Annable, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Winchester, celebrated her 80th birthday on Thursday last. Throughout the day, she was the recipient of many kind messages of congratulations and best wishes from her numerous friends throughout the district.

At the noon hour, Mrs. Annable was the guest of honour at a birthday dinner-party at the home of her son, Mr. Lawrence Annable, when all members of her family were present including Mr. and Mrs. John Moffatt. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McInnis of Iroquois, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simon of Spencerville and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Steele.

The Press joins in wishing Mrs. Annable continued health and happiness in the years that lie ahead.

FENNELL FEED COMPANY

TIMOTHY AND CLOVER SEED

Although the Timothy Seed Market is slow we have been able to place nearly all the seed offered and at reasonably good prices. The price is slightly lower than it was earlier in the season with fewer inquiries from the seed firms.

We have been paying 6 1-4 cents for No. 1 Timothy; 5 3-4 cents for No. 2 (Purity 1); and 5 1-4 cents for a straight No. 2. We cannot guarantee these prices but we are hoping that the demand may continue. There is a lot of seed around and it would seem well to get it away while the market is open and turn it into cash.

Red Clover is still around 18 cents. Several fair-sized lots have gone out at that price. There is a good demand and offers are holding about the same.

Bring in samples. We will do our best to place any lots of graded seed that are offered.

WHEAT AND FLOUR PRICES HIGHER.

The advance in wheat within the last week has also influenced the flour market and wholesale prices have again been marked up.

We are selling Gilt Edge at $3.25 per 100 lbs.

This is extra good value especially considering the high quality of the flour and the fact that Gilt Edge is the only flour packed in full 100 pounds; all others are 98 lbs.

Corn is a Real Buy at $1.65 per 100 lbs.

THE DOUBLE-BARRED CROSS

International Symbol of the Crusade against Tuberculosis

As armies march across the pages of history, fighting for their rights or their wrongs as the case may be, one custom seems to have been common to them all: each carried flags and banners on which appeared the emblem of the cause. Good or bad, the cause was always blazoned forth in terms of heraldry which gradually became a highly specialized study. After the dawn of the Christian era the cross became a tremendously popular symbol and with this emblem upon their banner, many a doughty knight rode forth to do battle for his principles and to save or reclaim the Holy Land from the Infidel.

Crosses of all shapes, sizes and ornamentations have been used by innumerable families, cities, orders, guilds, nations and causes. The Spaniards found a religious symbol among the Aztecs which was very similar to our cross. The swastika of Hitlerism is an old symbol made of several crosses. Thus the habit of choosing emblems has carried over into our modern civilization and clubs and such peacetime associations still follow that age-old custom.

It was therefore quite the natural thing that as the war against tuberculosis gathered momentum, and nation after nation took up the cause, that some international emblem should be chosen which would be symbolic. The matter was given careful consideration for it was important that the symbol should be internationally accepted and have a universal appeal, and yet it should be decidedly distinct from any already adopted international symbol such as the Red Cross.

It would seem that the tuberculosis campaigners of the eighteen-nineties or thereabout, deliberately went out after a symbol that would have something like the significance and universal acceptance of the Red (Geneva) Cross, and yet be quite distinguishable from it. They had to avoid not only the Red Cross, but those of the various saints, George, Anthony, Andrew and so on. They had also to avoid the Celtic, the Greek, the Maltese and the Papal. In the words of Dr. D. A. Stewart, 'After that, it would seem that what they thought they might require they went and took.' And so we have the patriarchal cross, the Lorraine cross of the two crusades accomplished, now a symbol in every land of a new popular, enthusiastic and successful crusade against entrenched tuberculosis, a new crusade to win back for all the people of the world the Holy Land of Health."

This is the banner under which the Muskoka, the Toronto and the Queen Mary Hospitals for Consumptives have marched these many years—the banner under which they and other sanatorium and tuberculosis workers' organizations in the Province have won such marked success.

But victory can only be won with the continued effort and the financial support of the people at large.

Your contribution to National Sanitarium Association, 223 College St., Toronto will be greatly appreciated.

HALLVILLE HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY SOCIETY

The first meeting of the Hallville High School Literary Society was held on Friday afternoon in the Assembly Hall. The president, Roy Hastings, was in the chair. The meeting was in charge of Form V and was opened by a quartette composed of Dick Richardson, James Cassidy, Dwight Guy and Gordon Shaver. Margaret Christie then gave a reading on "The Last Session of the League of Nations." Piano solos were given by Doris Duncan and James Cassidy, after which the Form V boys presented a clown show. Dick Richardson also favored the school with a vocal solo, with his own accompaniment on the guitar. As this is the First Literary Society in this school, Mr. W. L. Brown, principal, gave some helpful criticism.

The Farm and Christmas

"Christmas and the Farm; the Farm and Food."

Christmas 1936 should see a revival of this ancient Christmas toast. Those were the days when the value of the farm was universally recognized, but in the whirl of modern life the farm, as the sure foundation of material civilization, is apt to be forgotten. The word farm means food and was called because in older times the tenant was required to provide the landlord with food by way of rent. Today this definition has been considerably extended in that the farm suplies the nation with food, and without food, without the feeding of the multitude, it is not given to human beings to be able openly to express that spirit of universal kindness and peace and good will evoked by the teachings of the Master in the celebration of the festival of Christmas.

The connection between agriculture and Christmas has been intimate from the beginning. It was to shepherds watching their flocks by night that the words "Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy" were addressed. It was in a lowly stable attached to a farmkhan that the Saviour of the World was born, and a few days later it was on the back of the most humble farm animal, the ass, that He was borne to Egypt in safety.

It was from the agricultural population mainly that the early Christians drew their adherents, and many years later it was over the farms and orchards in the vicinity of Rome that the early Christians scoured the country in search of holly branches to decorate their houses and churches at Christmastide.

Meanwhile, the farm, as ever, continued to furnish the wherewithal for the feast, and at the same time, as centuries rolled by and towns became swamped in their own activities, it was the farm that kept alive the kindly, ancient rites of the feast. Many centuries later, Charles Dickens restored to the townsfolk of England something of the joy and beauty of the spirit of Christmas which still flourished among agricultural communities. Even today many of the ancient agricultural Christmas celebrations, as distinct from the towns, survive, some of them under limited conditions. There is Plough Monday, for example, which is still observed in several countries, including the British Isles In olden times in Europe, Plough Monday marked the end of the Christmas holidays. It was held on the first Monday in January after the Twelfth Day. It was customary on Plough Monday, before the ploughman returned to work on the following day, to draw a plough from door to door of the parish to solicit "plough money" to spend in a frolic. The queen of the banquet was called Bessy.

Then there was the ancient feast of the boar's head which still exists in at least three distinct communities in England—at Queen's College, Oxford, on Christmas Day, and at the annual Christmas banquets of the City of London at the Guildhall and of the Worshipful Company of Cutlers in London. The proceedings are much the same. Trumpets sound and the boar's head is carried in procession, escorted by chorristers singing the old carol "The boar's head in hand bring I." At the City of London feast, the master takes the lemon from the boar's jaws and at Oxford the Provost takes the orange and presents it to the principal singer. At the Cutlers' Hall, the president of the feast accepts the present of a pot of mustard, and extols the circumstances of the feast. The reference to mustard must be very old, because in a carol that had been in vogue for centuries before, Wynkn de Worde printed the words in 1521 A. D., the last line of which runs "the bore's heed with mustarde."

The phrase "Christmas Box" originated in the early Christian times. It was really then a box which was placed in the church for promiscuous charities and was opened on Christmas Day. The contents were distributed the next day (Boxing Day) by the priest, and where the contributions consisted of cash were known as box money. However, farmers accustomed to leave their contributions in kind, eggs, butter, flour, meat, and other agricultural products, much the same as the farmers of Quebec today place fruits at the church entrance on Thanksgiving Day, the results of sales of which go towards masses for the souls of relatives. In many churches in Canada, the accumulation of Christmas gifts is distributed in much the same manner as in the earliest Christian days.

And at this Christmastide, as in the days gone by, the farm has furnished the chief necessaries for the Christmas feast. such as meats, the turkeys, the geese, the ducks and chickens, the cereal foods, the vegetables, the cream, milk, eggs, and cheese, not forgetting that many of the other essentials, the candies and confectionery, the pickles, cigars and cigarettes, are all of agricultural origin.

So once more. the ancient toast:

"Christmas and the Farm; the Farm and Food."

ABOUT CHEESE

Ontario cheese makers and patrons have never had a better opportunity of capturing the Cheddar cheese trade in the United Kingdom than at the present time, is the opinion of Mr. S. L. Joss, Provincial Secretary of the Ontario Cheese Patrons' Association, following receipt of the latest reports on the industry in that country.

Mr. Joss based his statement on the fact that for the past few years there has been, in Great Britain, a steady diversion from Farmhouse Cheddar to factory cheese. Owing to various conditions, the latter cheese has not always been of the best quality nor in as great demand, whereas the Farmhouse cheese has long been recognized as the finest type in the world.

"Ontario's best Cheddar, however, has always compared favourably with Britain's Farm Chedar, and with the decrease in make of this type in Great Britain, a splendid opportunity exists now for Ontario to break into the market and capture this trade," Mr. Joss, stated.

The importance of haste in the matter was stressed by the provincial secretary.

"The Old Country people are much too progressive to continue to make this type of factory cheese which will bring them only a minimum price because of poor quality. They are making progress in improving their cheese, and this improvement is going to continue. The time will never be better for Ontario to make headway in the market than right now. A high class market, made to order for Canadians, exists," he pointed out.

In Scotland, two years ago, making an intensive survey of the foreign market. Mr. Joss. during an interview with the manager of the Scottish Milk Marketing Board, was informed of the intention of the Board of sending a practical man to Canada to study methods of cheese making. Ontario would be one of the focal points for this purpose.

'This proves they are out to really learn as much of the trade as they can to hold their own market by improving quality,' he declared.

In a current edition of the Glasgow (Scotland) Herald, an editorial comment upon the cheese industry in that country points out that the Scottish Milk Marketing Board has made considerable and steady progress in the matter of improving quality.

"It has been an accepted fact in the cheese trade for many years that the best class of Scots farm-made cheese is the finest cheese in the world. That is why every effort being made by the Board to encourage cheese making on the farm is to be commended. The improved level of the general market price for cheese is undoubtedly the best encouragment cheese makers could experience," declared the editorial.

"However much the farm product responds to better returns now ruling, the fact must be faced that cheese making on the farm is, in the point of scale, a declining industry. The pride of craftsmanship is not so pronounced, and the younger generation is not disposed to face the work. Because of that tendency, it is important that any inevitable transfer of operations from farm to factory should not be allowed to undermine the reputation of Scottish cheese," the editorial adds.

"There is no better argument in support of my statement than the above." pointed out Mr. Joss.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS

The Star still shines, as on that night divine,
And happy children sing their carols sweet;
The tall Cathedral candles, softly gleam,
And we still worship at the Christ Child's feet.

Through misty light, and wreaths of evergreen,
Trees, trimmed with tinsel, silver, gold, and red;
—All I can see is Mary's flower-white face,
And on her breast, a tiny baby head.

—Dorothy Sproule.

SESSION WILL OPEN JANUARY 14

Parliament will assemble Jan. 14 for what is hoped will be a quick session ending the last of April so that members of the government and of both Houses may attend the coronation ceremonies in London May 12. Prime Minister Mackenzie King, announcing the opening date recently, said he could see no reason why the work of Parliament could not be completed in three and a half months.

"If we are unable to prorogue before the coronation we will have to adjourn and come back for a midsummer session," the Prime Minister said. Immedately after the coronation there will be an Imperial Conference which will take up the greater part of June if not longer.

Inkerman Citizen Honored By Writer

DANIEL H. McDOUGALL

(By Dr. Redmond A. Bolton)

It seems to be a custom in this country to wait until our friends and loved ones have passed to the Great Beyond before we do them honor, or attempt to show any appreciation for the lives they have lived, or the good work they have done.

Post-mortem kindness is of no value—the flowers we place on the casket and the words we utter and the tears we drop over their dead body bring no comfort or satisfaction. If we have any flowers that we are saving to place on the casket, we should bring them to the home or office of our friends while they are living. If we have any kind words to speak. why not say them while they are living, so that their hearts may be gladdened and strengthened. Human kindness is not for the dead but for the living.

I was deeply impressed with this thought in September when I was an invited guest at the eighty-fourth birthday anniversary of Daniel H. McDougall, Inkerman, Ontario.

Mr. McDougall is spending the evening of his long and useful life on the banks of the North Branch of the Nation River—a beautiful spot surrounded by trees and shrubbery. His sister, Kate, who is a few years his junior, is his sole companion—they are both healthy and happy—have plenty and to spare.

Mr. McDougall is Canadian born and has lived much of his life in the district of his present home. He has travelled extensively in the United States and Canada—has gathered a wealth of knowledge which he has put into practical use—he has been and is today a very successful business man.

His companionship always throws a glow of good fellowship and love around any gathering that he may be in, and like the beautiful and blooming rose in the garden of flowers, that sheds its fragrance and radiance to its garden companions, so is Dan McDougall, among his friends, ever shedding the radiance and fragrance of his kindly manners and practicing those God-given virtues of helping the needy. alleviating the suffering of the distressed, and stretching forth the helping hand to the oppressed and afflicted.

Particularly applicable are the lines of the poet, who wrote that:

"A heart that can feel for another's woe,
And share his joy with a genial glow,
With sympathies large enough to infold
All men are brothers, is better than gold"

Dan cares not for wealth, except for the good he can do with it. He is everybody's friend and nobody's enemy—always a welcome visitor in our homes, lodges and council chambers, among those who know him best, love him most.

Dan believes in the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man; in the religion of love and a gospel of good works; that above all sects is truth, and above all nations is humanity; He believes that all the sons of men are the Sons of God. He sympathizes with human frailties and human sufferings. He believes that the man who scatters flowers in the pathway of his fellowmen, who lets into the dark places of life the sunshine of human sympathy and human helpfulness, is following in the footsteps of the Master. He believes that we rise by raising others, and he who stoops above the fallen, stands erect.

Dan is a true patriot, he believes that getting on well in the home, in the community, in the province and in the nation is an important sign of good citizenship that the good citizen works well, plays well, earns money, spends wisely, and saves systematically. He is always ready to help others as he would have them treat him. He votes intelligently, serves faithfully when elected to office. He obeys the laws of the Province and the Nation. He is always loyal to his country's flag and to the principles for which it stands.

He believes we can no longer separate ourselves from the affairs of the world. Just as individuals depend more and more upon one another, so the people of one nation depend upon the people of other nations for the satisfaction of their needs. Nothing develops men like habits and clean living in daily practice. Citizens who daily practice loyalty to the flag, respect for law and government, and who observe the principles of the square deal in all their relationships, are certain to help their country to feel and to merit its responsibilities in larger world relationships.

May the blessing of God and the best wishes of all men rest upon men who possess these sterling qualities. May they live long, have plenty and be of great service to their community and the world at large.

Modern Christmas Recipes

By BETTY BARCLAY

Wherever Christianity is the prevailing religion, Christmas day is observed. Everyone agrees that it is the finest of all holidays, especially for the children.

Christmas dinner is a gala occasion. It is the high spot of the holiday get-together. Housewives start planning for it days in advance.

Take cranberry sauce, for instance — no Christmas dinner has ever been complete without it. Our grandmothers prepared it at least a week ahead. In those days cranberry sauce, thick with berries, was served in a side dish. Today, it may be strained, put into a mold and chilled. The newest and most attractive method is to make it without any cooking, and the addition of orange gives it a new interest. At serving time it comes to the table side by side with the roast, in cubes which adorn the edge of the dinner plate. One of the advantages of this method is that it can be prepared at practically the last minute because quick-setting gelatin requires only an hour to become firm.

Below are the modern versions of cranberry sauce and holiday fruit cake:

Holiday Fruit Cake (White)

Can be baked three or four weeks ahead

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
4 egg whites
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon cream of tartar baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
¼ lb. (1 cup) candied citron
¼ lb. (½ cup) candied cherries
¼ lb. (1 slice) candied pineapple
¼ cup black walnut meats

Cream shortening; add sugar gradually, mixing in well. Add unbeaten egg whites one at a time, beating well between each addition. Sift baking powder and salt with half the flour; add alternately with water to first mixture. Add remaining flour to chopped fruit and nuts; add to cake mixture. Bake in loaf or tube pan lined with heavy oiled paper. Bake in slow oven at 250° F.-300° F. about 2½ hours. Makes 1 loaf.

Cranberry Orange Relish

1 package quick setting gelatin dessert (orange flavor)
1 cup boiling water
½ orange
3 tablespoons sugar
1 cup cold water
1½ cups uncooked cranberries

Dissolve quick setting gelatin dessert in boiling water; add sugar and cold water. Put cranberries and unpeeled orange through food chopper; add to gelatin mixture and chill until it begins to thicken. Stir up and pour into molds. Chill until firm. Serves 12.

WORK ON SANATORIUM IS PROGRESSING

Inspected by an official from the Department of Health of the provincial government, the proposed sewage disposal and sanitation system for the new St. Lawrence Tuberculosis Sanatorium, being built by the United Counties 5 1-2 miles east of Cornwall, was highly approved. The inspector, Dr. Berry of Toronto, who is head of the Water and Sanitation Branch of the Department of Health, also strongly recommended to the Sanatorium committee and the architect, Chester Woods, that the water supply for the building be drawn from the St. Lawrence River due to the hardness of the well water in the district. The St. Lawrence water was tested by Dr. Berry and was rated highly.

Those in charge of the work at the sanatorium expressed themselves as highly pleased with the progress made to date, in spite of the cold weather. Somewhat delayed by the heavy fall of snow, the work swung back to top speed on Thursday last, and on Friday the largest pour of cement to date was made. With the cement footings already in place, the network of cement walls that form the foundation of the building were constructed when the steel reinforcing rods were put into place and the cement was poured into the forms, the building of which has formed the main part of the work during the past couple of weeks.

About 30 Working

The number of men working on the job varies somewhat from day to day, according to the work to be done, but usually runs from 25 to 30 men. A great deal of night work is being done, as the contractors are rushing the work in order to be ready for the structural steel as soon as possible.

Practically all the excavation has been completed, and the steam shovel is busy at present digging the big cesspool and the foundation for the sewage disposal plant, which is situated in the southeast corner of the property, a considerable distance from the main building.

None of the structural steel has arrived as yet, and it is not expected that the workmen will be able to go ahead with part of the work for some time yet. A large quantity of cement is yet to be poured.

Mains From River

Members of the Sanatorium committee were highly pleased with the report of Dr. Berry regarding the question of the water supply, as there had previously been some discussion as to what would be the best plan. Due to the extreme hardness of the water in the district. the problem of softening the water would have been a considerable item of expense. It is planned to lay a copper water main to the river, in order to forestall any danger of corrosion. It was estimated that the sanatorium when functioning, will use approximately 15,000 gallons of water a day.

"CIRCLE" GETTING SMALLER

Williamsburg, the scene of a milling crowd during the summer months, and at one time enjoying a floating population of more than 2,000 people, is today a deserted village by comparison, with about 150 visitors attending the famous Dr. Locke clinic. An unusually large number of the visitors and some who are attending the clinic, but who have become more or less permanent residents of the place, have left for the winter and a great many of them have gone to southern lands for the next three or four months.

As a result, Williamsburg business places and tourist homes are almost without business, with the exception of some people still staying on for the winter, and Dr. M. W. Locke, who works so hard and steadily during the summer months, is having a rest. It is officially announced that Dr. Locke will take a vacation and will not be giving treatments at the clinic from December 24, 1936, until February 1, 1937.

GOOD INTENTIONS

If only all the nice letters we intended to write were written; if all the good deeds we intended to do were done, what a different world this would be! Many a lonely life would have been brightened, many a discouraged heart would have been strengthened, and heaven would have come nearer to earth; yet we failed. Perhaps we were tired, perhaps we were too busy with something of much less importance; and the day slipped by and there was nothing but the good intention to show what we really intended to be. And the intention never compensates for the lack of the fulfilment.

HINTS FOR THE FARMER

Geese, like ducks, require a large proportion of roughage in their feed. This is supplied best in winter by the use of alfalfa or clover hay and roots, and in summer by grass.

WATCH THE SEED FAIR

The adaptibility of different varieties of grain to different soil and climatic conditions is reflected to no small extent in the degree of development attained by individual kernels. Varieties which consistently win high places at our seed fairs are therefore likely to be at least reasonably well suited to the district from which they come. Moral: Watch the winners at the seed fairs!

STORE FARM MACHINERY FOR WINTER REPAIR

Place all farm equipment under cover at this time of year, but store it with a view to convenience in removing to repair during the winter. In repairing inspect all the field machinery; tighten all frame bolts; clean and wash the bearings with coal oil or gasoline; overhaul and straighten all bent members, replace unserviceable parts; sharpen all cutting edges and apply a coat of paint where required. Winter repairing insures against breakdowns, loss and annoyance in rush seasons.

OVERHAUL THE FARM PLANT

Now is the time for farmers to pay attention to their buildings. Slacken all bands on stave silos; repair any leaks in the roofs, check up on storm sashes; fit them, and repair broken glass; clean out all trap gullies; thoroughly flush drains, clean out root cellar ventilators, fresh air intakes and foul air outlets in barns. stables, piggeries and poultry houses; thoroughly inspect and overhaul the water supply, if a pump service check up on the valves, if a pressure supply see that all pipes and tanks are protected from frost.

THE RIGHT-OF-WAY

In the days when automobile accidents on provincial highways are almost a daily occurrence, the question of who has the right-of-way at road intersections is one that is frequently to the fore. The Port Hope News in a recent editorial points out that "the actions of most motorists on a "through highway" would seem to imply that they feel they have the precedure over all other traffic. Our contemporary is quite right in its contention as can be attested to by anyone who has had to wait some minutes at an intersection before daring to venture out onto a main highway or street.

Subsection 1 of section 35 of the Highway Traffic Act. referring to right-of-way, reads:

"Where two persons in charge of vehicles or on horseback approach a crossroad or intersection, at the same time, the person to the right of the other vehicle or horseman shall have the right-of-way."

It seems to be the general opinion among motorists that this right-of-way rule is suspended at "stop" streets, but such is not the case. Once the full stop has been made by the driver on the side street the right-of-way rule is again applicable. Subsection 2 of the same article says.

"The operator or driver of every vehicle or street car. or the car of an electric railway shall immediately before entering or crossing a through highway bring the vehicle to a full stop,—"

But it goes on to say:

"The driver or operator of any vehicle who has come to a full stop as required above, upon entering the through highway as well as driver or operators of vehicle on such through highway, shall be subject to the usual right-of-way rule prescribed in subsection 1 of this section and applicable to vehicles at intersections."

There are apparently a great number of persons driving motor cars who are not familiar with this section of the Traffic law and there is no doubt but that if it were common knowledge many many accidents might be avoided, and the toll of human lives decreased. A number of years ago it was the practice of the Department of Highways to furnish each applicant for a motor license with a copy of the traffic regulations which he might peruse at his leisure. but for some reason this has been discontinued. Perhaps some other means could be used to familiarize motorists with the law governing vehicular traffic.

Some members of a farming community were listening to a political speaker.

"What is agriculture?" he exclaimed. "What is agriculture that it should be ignored; that it should be scorned!" He paused dramatically. "Again I repeat, what is agriculture?"

"Well," called out a voice from the rear of the room, "I always thought it was just farmin' dressed up a little."

BLOOMFIELD COW GAVE BIRTH TO THREE CALVES

Shades of the Dionnes! The centennial celebration spirit apparently has reached the beasts of the country. At any rate, a cow belonging to Mr. Fred Peech, of Bloomfield, R. R. 1, near Picton, has started a freak show by giving birth to three calves on Sunday morning last.

The calves are all alive and healthy, Mr. Keech reports that they are quite frisky and eat readily. He is taking precautions to protect them from the cold.

The cow is a grade Holstein. Last year she gave a little warning of her performance by giving birth to twin calves. One, however, was deformed and was destroyed. The cow is five years old.—Picton Times.

THE CLYDESDALE HORSE

The Clydesdale horse originated in Scotland. Historical evidence shows that John Paterson, tenant farmer of Lochlyock in the county of Lanark, (known as the Clydesdale district), between 1715 and 1720, crossed a Flemish stallion from England on native mares. Importations were first made in large numbers into the United States about 1880-81. Clydesdales are typically bay or brown with four white stockings and a white strip on the face. Breeders emphasize light silky hair on the back of the legs (called feather), long sloping pasterns, and large, round feet.—Hoard's Dairyman.

BORN AT WILLIAMSBURG

The funeral was held on Tuesday last in Watertown, N. Y., of Bernice R. Reed, aged 76, of that city. who passed away in the House of the Good Samaritan, following a surgical operation. He was born in Williamsburg in 1860.

LICENSE PLATE SALE GOOD

If you don't think prosperity has returned, ask the Ontario Highway Department and officials will point to license plate sales as an indicator of recovery. "When times are good, motorists have the ready cash to buy their new plates early," an official said. "In the depression days we had difficulty in making motorists buy their license by March 30. By Nov. 30 last year 15,318 new passenger licenses had been issued, compared with 19,500 to date this year. In addition there have been 2,472 trucking licenses sold this year, compared with 2,147 up to Nov. 30, 1935.

CULINARY WISDOM

Soda added to vegetables when cooking heightens the colour but destroys valuable vitamins

Vitamins B., C. and E. are water soluble and therefore the water in which vegetables are cooked should never be thrown away.

If old carrots are soaked in cold water for an hour they may be scraped instead of peeling and more food value is thus retained.

Parsnips are better if peeled after cooking.

Cabbage should be soaked in cold salted water for about 20 minutes before cooking and 8 minutes is sufficient time for cooking if chopped, and 15 minutes if in quarters.

Salt added to coloured vegetables when partially cooked prevents loss of colour.

If onions are peeled under water they do not cause tears.

Dried beans, peas and lentils should be soaked in soft water.

GET READY FOR WINTER DRIVING

Now is the time to have your car or truck prepared for the cold weather driving. Winter grades of motor oils and greases are necessary for the protection of your motor. THE UNITED CHURCH

In a brief reference to the early life of Booker T. Washington, Rev. W. S. Atchison, in his usual morning talk to the junior congregation, urged them to take every opportunity to prepare themselves for life. Before beginning his sermon from Esther 4:14, he extended congratulations to teachers and students of our schools on their good records. In solving their life problems he told them to find the value of Jesus Christ. He sketched the outstanding work of each century from the 15th to the present age, and it is now that we need a new religious emphasis. Unless our youth give themselves to Jesus Christ, we lose out. A passionate appeal was made to the youth to give their lives to Jesus.

"A man's debate with his soul" was the subject for the evening service, the text being Luke 12:19. The pastor gave this in the form of a monologue with the following episodes: the soul longing for food; its revolt against an empty life; its dream of pleasure lost; the soul debased to sin; and the soul of man required.

Drifting was shown to be a prevailing cause of lost souls. We need to counteract this by giving more earnest heed to the things we have heard, lest we drift, which is so easy. and ends in ruin. The antidote is to make a complete surrender to Jesus Christ and the safe time to do it is now.

God Save the King was sung at the close of both services and a special solo: "Faiths Alchemy," written by Mrs. F. Sproule, was sung by Mrs. P. Durant in the morning.

A REAL ISSUE

Those citizens who attended the High School Commencement Exercises, held in the Town Hall last week, undoubtedly came away more impressed than ever with the fact that the hall, as it now stands, is entirely inadequate to serve the needs of this municipality. Aside from the fact that the audience was so tightly packed in the rows of chairs that there was little enjoyment for anyone, the building loomed as a veritable firetrap with the one exit being obstructed completely by persons standing in the only aisle.

Such a situation should not be allowed to exist in a town, noted for its progressiveness. and immediate action should be taken to relieve the situation by the proper authorities.

The enlargement of the Town Hall would occasion considerable expense, but the benefits that would be derived from such a project would amply repay the municipality. The enlarged hall could be made to house the offices of the municipal clerk and the Hydro Electric Commission, thus relieving the municipality of rental costs which are now being paid. The auditorium would not only provide plenty of accommodation for public gatherings, but could be utilized as a recreation room with space for badminton courts, basketball and other indoor sports, the lack of which has placed Winchester far behind neighbouring towns.

A fine new Community Hall was erected in Chesterville last year, as a relief project, and the building is a credit to the town. On Dec. 12th the new Matilda Community Hall will be officially opened at Brinstons. This enterprise was undertaken by the Women's Institute and a worthy one it was. There is no doubt but the local 100 Club and Women's Institute would co-operate most heartily with the Municipal Council if a similar scheme were introduced here.

A larger community hall is the most pressing need of this town at the present time. With reference to the cost, we are informed by Councillor Hy. Bessin that, taking the Government grant towards such a project into consideration. as well as the guaranteed revenue through rentals of hall and offices, the Town Hall could be enlarged to a size adequate to serve the needs of the municipality without additional levies being made on the taxpayer. Such being the case, no effort should be spared to have the project undertaken.

MUNICIPAL AUDITS

Reports are in circulation to the effect that the provincial department of municipal affairs will insist upon improved and standard systems of accounting and auditing for municipalities. It is said that, although there are 940 municipalities in the province, only 100 of them have proper audits, the remaining 840 municipalities paying for so-called audits which are of comparatively little value.

It is not suggested that municipal audits shall be placed in charge of chartered accountants. This would be altogther too great a burden for many of the smaller communities to bear. But the department is evidently going to insist upon competent audits so that the interests of the taxpayers may be protected.

In some municipalities, the periodical audit is scarcely more than formality. Auditors are chosen without regard to their qualifications for the position and very little attention is paid to this important matter. Is it any wonder that, in view of this, losses on the part of municipalities are sometimes not revealed until years after they have been contracted?

Without waiting for pressure to be brought to bear upon them, municipalities can, we feel, gain largely and make their positions more secure by ensuring that their audits shall be placed in competent hands.—Exchange.

With reference to the situation locally, the municipal auditors are men who have served in that capacity for many years, and whose work has always proven to be thorough and painstaking. Winchester is fortunate in having, among its citizens, men who are willing to carry the responsibilities attached to the position of municipal auditor, and who are efficient and conscientious in their efforts to act in that capacity. The citizens generally will agree that Messrs. J. D. Stewart and A. E. Goodfellow have served this municipality well.

SPEED IN EDUCATION

Most parents wish their children to be smart at school, some push their children ahead as fast as is possible, and even urge the teacher to give them special attention, so that they will keep up with—or excel their playmates of the same age. The Ottawa Journal thinks this is a mistake, and goes on to make out a sensible case against efforts to equal the records of the exceptionally brilliant students.

Nothing is gained by passing them through the public schools too quickly. The training a child receives in the primary grades is the foundation upon which it builds future education. The grounding cannot be too thorough. It is far better to slow down the brilliant pupil than rush the average child, or, as the Journal expresses it "educaton in slower, broader doses mixed with play is likely to be better in the end than when taken in indigestible gulps.—Chatham News.

IT ISN'T FAIR

Recently a judge severely reprimanded a witness because the witness handed back to an examining lawyer on the case, an insinuating statement; the judge remarking: "I am not going to have counsel insulted." But who ever heard of a judge remarking, "I am not going to have witness insulted?" If it is contempt of court to have counsel insulted, is it any less contempt to have witness insulted? Yet how frequently does the latter occur, and the judge lets it pass without comment. In a court of justice is not a witness as much entitled to protection as an examining lawyer

United Church W. M. S.

The Women's Missionary Society met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Gilroy, for the purpose of quilting, and the packing of a bale to be sent to the West. A hot dish supper was served, after which the regular meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Gordon Cleland, in the chair, and Mrs. Ed. Cassidy in charge of the programme. The meeting opened with a song service, the hymns sung being: "Tell Me the Old, Old Story," "He Leadeth Me." and "Silent Night." Mrs. Cassidy gave the theme as "Jesus in the Village." Hymn, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" was sung, followed by prayer by Mrs. John Baldwin and Mrs. Patton. Psalm 747 was then read responsively and the Scripture lesson taken by Mrs. Delbert Merkley. Mrs. Robert Murdock, and Mrs. Lorne Boyd. Mrs. Asa Berry read the devotional leaflet entitled "In the Footsteps of Jesus." A very pleasing duet, entitled "Just When I Need Him Most," was rendered by Mrs. W. R. Johnston and Miss Helen Cleland. This was followed by short prayers by a few of the members —Mrs. W. R. Johnston, Mrs. Milton Murdock, Mrs. John W. Gilroy, and Mrs. Gordon Cleland.

Mrs. Gordon Cleland then took charge of the business part. Minutes of previous meeting were read, and roll called by the secretary, Mrs. Fred Barriger. As this was the last meeting of the year, all the officers gave reports of the year's work, these being very favorable. It was decided to send for the new study book, and to invite Mrs. R. Peterson to our next meeting for the Installation of the officers for 1937.

Mrs. Cassidy again took the chair. A quartette composed of Mrs. W. R Johnston, Mrs. Len. McMnteith, Mr. J. W. Gilroy and Mr. Ernie Barkley, sang "Lord Plant My Feet on Higher Ground." A recitation entitled "A Dime's Lament," was given by Glenna Murdock. Mrs. Wynn gave a temperance reading. A playette, entitled: "Waked Up," was presented by Mrs. Gordon Cleland, Mrs. Harry Murdock, Mrs. Ernie Barkley, Mrs. Gordon Mulholland, Mrs. John W. Gilroy and Mrs. Milton Murdock. The quartette again sang, "He Keeps on Loving Me Still." Miss Lula Mulholland gave a reading "The Second Mile." The meeting closed with "Hail to the Lord's Anointed," and the Mizpah Benediction."

The Ladies' Guild

The Ladies' Guild of Holy Trinity church held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. A. Latimer, with twenty in attendance. The president, Mrs. R. B. Stanley presided, assisted in devotional exercises by Rev. H. A. Irwin. Mrs. Milton Jeacle acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs F. R. Stanley. Reports presented by the various officers showed a successful year and a creditable balance on hand. The group system by which the work had been carried on, had proved very successful. and was commended for 1937.

In a short business period, $20,00 was voted to the Missionary work of the church. and arrangements were made for a Christmas party for the children of the parish to be held on Dec. 29. Members of the Guild were also asked to meet on Dec. 24 to decorate the church for Christmas service.

After expressing her appreciation of the co-operation received from the members during the past year, the retiring president asked Rev. H. A. Irwin to preside for election of officers, who are as follows:

Honorary president, Mrs. H. A. Irwin; president. Mrs. E. H. Rolston; vice president, Mrs. R. B. Stanley; secretary, Mrs S. S. Latimer; treasurer, Mrs. F. T. Latimer; Dorcas secretaries, Mrs. Geo. Morris, Mrs. Jas. Stanley; press secretary, Mrs. Frank Dowser.

Rev. H. A. Irwin closed the meeting after which a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. G. A. Latimer, assisted by Mrs. C. N. Latimer.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Frank Dowser.

The thanks and appreciation of the Association to the retiring Officers was voiced by Mrs. Hilliard Thompson and Mrs. F. York.

United Church Mission Band

The December meeting of the Mission Band of the United Church was held in the Sunday School room on Saturday afternoon with an average attendance. The leaders, Mrs. E. Totten and Mrs. R. A. F. Blair. were in charge, with Dorothea Blair at the organ and Grace Woods assisting with the devotional exercises. Minutes were read by Eleanor Gaukrodger and the treasurer, Ina York read the financial report for the year, showing that the objective of $20 would be reached by the end of the year. The award cards for regular attendance were presented to Ina York and Isabel Blair. Memory verses were repeated by Isabel Gaukrodger, Eleanor Gaukrodger, Elizabeth Woods, Grace Woods. It was also decided to change the name of the Band for 1937, and at the suggestion of Isabel Blair and Billie Woods, the "Daisy Band" was the name chosen.

Mrs. Blair invited the members to attend a Christmas Party at her home on the afternoon of Dec. 23rd, and cards for an exchange of gifts were drawn.

Officers for 1937 were appointed as follows: President, Elizabeth Woods; secretary. Edna Harrison; treasurer, Isabel Blair; world friends' secretary, Billie Woods; press secretary, the leaders. A unanimous request from the members was presented to Mrs. Totten and Mrs. Blair to accept the leadership again for 1937.

What Every Child Should Eat...

By BETTY BARCLAY

In the club car of an express train rushing from New York to Philadelphia the other day, I was introduced to Dr. R. E. Lee, Director of the Department of Applied Research of Standard Brands Incorporated, one of the leading food organizations of the world. As he spends a large part of his time studying diets, I asked him if he would recommend some diet for growing children to be sure they got everything in their food that they needed. This is what he said:

"Every child should have a quart of Vitamin D milk every day. Also the diet should include:

"Toast and cereal at breakfast.

"Bread at noon and night.

"Generous servings of two or more vegetables, at least three or four times a week.

"Fruit at least once a day, or tomato, orange or pineapple juice daily.

"Either an egg, meat, fish, dried beans, peas or lentils daily.

"A moderate amount of fat and not much sweets.

"Bread is good for whatever eating is permitted between meals, and may be eaten in abundance as a nourishing and low-cost food."

Every mother will be interested in that, to check up on what her youngsters are getting each day.

THE CHALLENGE OF THE NEW YEAR

May we all help to make a fairer world,
On this day's sunrise of a brave New year,
May all its clouds be turned to rosy hue,
With a world, clarion, "Peace Call" sounding clear.

May fear, and doubt, and hate, and selfish gain
Be banished from the minds, and hearts, of men;
While to this stricken earth, the New Year brings
Courage and hope, and happiness again.
—Dorothy Sproule.

Hints for the Household

TESTED RECIPES

Maple Custard

2 cups milk; 1 cup maple syrup; 3 eggs.

Heat milk and maple syrup together to boiling point but do not allow to boil. Pour over the eggs which have been well beaten, add a few grains of salt and strain into buttered custard cups. Set cups in warm water and bake until custard is firm. Cool and turn out. Serve with maple syrup if desired.

4 cups maple syrup; 1-2 cup cream.

Maple Spread

Boil syrup five minutes. Add cream and boil three minutes. Remove from fire and allow to become cool, beat five minutes and pour into glasses. This may be used as a cake icing, a spread for toast, or as a hard sauce for plain puddings.

Maple Trifle

Crumble stale cake crumbs in four custard cups until half full. Over them pour maple syrup allowing about three tablespoons to each cup. Allow to stand 20 minutes. Then pour over a custard made as follows:

1 cup milk, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons of maple syrup.

Heat milk and syrup to boiling point. Beat egg and one yolk until thick, add hot water and cook in a double boiler until the mixture coats the spoon. Pour over crumbs while hot. When cold, cover with a meringue made from one egg white and two tablespoons granulatetd sugar and brown in a slow oven.

Maple-Apple Pudding.

4 apples, 1 cup flour. 1-2 cup water, 3-4 cup maple syrup, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon baking powder.

Put sliced apples in a buttered casserole and pour maple syrup over them.

Sift flour with baking powder. Melt butter and add cold water. Pour over sifted flour, beat well and spread over apples. Steam three-quarters of an hour or bake 20 minutes.

QUICK DESERT

Here is a delicous quick dessert:—Sponge cake squares served with any preserved or fresh fruit with a topping of whipped cream.

Sprinkle a little flour in the grease in which eggs are to fry, and the grease will not spatter.

HONORED ON DEPARTURE

That Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kennedy have won many friends for themselves in Williamsburg was evident on Tuesday evening last when, following their regular meeting, about 20 members of the Young People's League, of Williamsburg United Church. gathered in the church hall to honor them and to spend a social hour prior to their departure for their home at Ventnor. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy took an active part in the Y. P. L. during their stay in Williamsburg and their friends felt that they could not let them leave the community without some expression of their regard for them

A most enjoyable time was spent in playing games, after which Rev. A. C. Adey, pastor of the church, and Wilbur Garlough, vice president of the League, spoke briefly of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy's help in the League, and expressed regret at their departure. Mr. Kennedy. on behalf of Mrs. Kennedy, made suitable acknowledgment of the kind words and extended an invitation to the members of the League to visit them at their home at Ventnor on Friday evening, December 4, after which all joined hands and sang, "Auld Lang Syne," and "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Refreshments were served at the close of the evening's enjoyment. Assisting with the serving were: Mrs. C. A. Adey, Mrs. Ward Casselman. Misses Maxine and Ellen Alguire and Marion Adey

AN EDITOR'S SONG

How dear to our heart is the steady subscriber,
Who pays in advance on the birth of each year,
Who lays down the money and does it quite gladly,
And casts round the office a halo of cheer!

He never says "Stop it; I cannot afford it.
I'm getting more magazines now than I read;"
But always says, "Send it; our people like it—
In fact, we all think it a help and a need."

How welcome his check when it reaches our sanctum;
How it makes our pulse throb; how it makes our heart dance!
We outwardly thank him; we inwardly bless him—
The steady subscriber who pays in advance!

Read about the Thundering Legion of the Roman Army, It gained its victories owing to the severe storms which were supposed to have been brought about by the prayers of the Christian in its ranks.

Learn that the theory of tides was first made clear by Kepler in 1598, but had been studied by Posidonius of Apamea in 79 B.C.? They were completely explained by Sir Isaac Newton in 1683.

Know that torpedoes were invented by David Bushnell in 1777 in America, Fulton offered his invention to the British Government in 1805. Torpedoes were first used in the civil war in the United States.

Know that tolls date back to 1109? They were first established for vessels on the Elbe in that year. The first tolls in England were collected in London 158 years later. Toll gates were instituted in 1663. From 1827 to 1893 toll gates were abolished in England, with very few remaining as curiosities.

Read that the use of the silkworm was discovered by the Chinese about 2640 B.C.. as far as can be ascertained, although it may have been earlier? Silkworms were introduced into Europe in 552 by two Persian monks and silk was manufactured in Italy, Spain and South France in 1510. First silk mills were established in England in 1604, all silk formerly having been brought from abroad.

PITIFUL, BUT TRUE!

"If you wish to grow thinner,
Diminish your dinner
And take to light claret
Instead of pale Ale.
(You might substitute tomato juice)
Look down with an utter
Contempt upon butter,
And never touch bread

WHAT CAUSES FAT?

Some people are born fat, others achieve fatness and the rest have it thrust upon them. In a great many cases fat people are descended from fat parents and there is little that can be done about it, although physicians claim that a certain reduction can be obtained by careful consumption of foods and proper dieting. Yet it is difficult for a man or woman reaching the mid thirties to stay thin if fatness is the general trend in the family. He or she can try, but in many cases strict dieting will set up their troubles. Now Hazel M. Hauck of the New York State College of Home Economics at Ithaca, N. Y., says it's that tempting snack between meals which causes the extra pounds on the ordinary inactive person. She adds: "For eating one caramel, five-sevenths of a mile is needed to walk it off. And for one jelly-bean, one-tenth of a mile is needed and for a five-cent bar of chocolate, four miles." Guess it's about time to start walking.—Prescott Journal.

BRAN BUTTER SCOTCH REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

1 cup butter, 2 cups brown sugar, 2 eggs well beaten, 1 cup all bran, 3 scant cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and sugar together well. Add the eggs and the bran. Now sift and then measure the flour, and sift twice with the baking powder and salt. Add to first mixture and blend thoroughly. Shape mixture into a roll two inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and store in electric refrigerator over night. Cut in slices and arrange on well greased cookie sheets. Bake at 425 deg. F. for ten minutes.

RETAIL SALES UP

Indicating improved conditions, retail sales in Ontario during 1935 totalled more than 848 million dollars, an increase of 4 per cent. over 1934, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The value of retail trade was 15 per cent. higher in 1935 than it was in 1933, when the lowest point in the depression was reached, but it was still 23 per cent. below the 1930 level.

The greatest gains in 1935 over the preceding year recorded by those kinds of business which experienced the greatest reductions in trade prior to 1934 and which deal primarily in luxury or semi-luxury lines or merchandise, such as motor vehicle dealers, furniture stores, household appliance stores, radio and music stores, and jewellery stores. On the other hand, grocery stores, country general stores and other types of retail establishments dealing chiefly in necessities or stable lines of goods recorded but slight increases.

For the second consecutive year, motor vehicle dealers reported the greatest annual increase in business, the aggregate sales of all such establishments in the province amounting to $102,571,000, an increase of 17 per cent. over the 1934 figure and only 6 per cent. below the corresponding amount for 1930.

GUIDES FOR CORONATION

Thirty-five Girl Guides and Guiders from Canada will be among the representatives from the 43 countries of the world in which guiding is organized, camping at Chigwell park, Epping forest, England, during the coronation cermonies. The invitation from the Imperial headquarters in London has been received by the Dominion Council of Girl Guides and the quota from each province has been allotted. Ontario, foremost in Guide movement in the Dominion with a registration of 18,000, has been allotted two Guiders and three Guides, or company leaders. Recommendations have been sent by the Ontario Provincial Council, to the Dominion Council, and those selected will shortly be announced.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN H

For further proof address the author, inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg U S P

Strange as it seems, when fire-arms and sharp-edged weapons—such as the modern army rifle with bayonet attached—were first united, the gun played only a secondary part in the combined weapon. The sword was the thing that the fighting man relied upon.

Three hundred years ago in Germany small pistols were mounted on rapiers near the hilt, to be used in emergencies. You merely pointed your rapier at the enemy and fired the pistol. In the evolution of firearms that followed the development of gunpowder. the cutting weapon became less and less important until today the bayonet is rarely used.

Originally rifle bayonets were simply daggers stuck in the muzzles of the guns, rendering the guns useless as firearms as long as the bayonets were fixed. In 1690, more than half a century after the rapier-pistol shown above was developed, General Mackay introduced the use of the ring bayonet which did not obstruct the rifle barrel.

Mute evidence in the form of the bones of thousands of rabbits on Lisiansky Island in the Hawaiian group, tells the fate of rabbits which ate themselves out of house and home, changing a tropical paradise into a barren island. The island was once the home of countless birds, it was covered with rich vegetation, and visited regularly by men gathering guano. One such party put a few pairs of rabbits on the island. The rabbits did the rest. They multiplied so fast and ate so much vegetation that eventually they had stripped the island of greens. They died of starvation, and not one survived.

MANY MILES OF CHEWING GUM CONSUMED ANNUALLY

Over 100,000 miles of chewing gum are sold every year, the major portion being consumed in the United States, states the Montreal Herald.

Chewing gum in its raw state is the juice of a tree known as the sapote, which grows in various parts of Central America.

The sapote is a graceful tree, with a straight trunk some forty feet high. It is tapped very much after the manner of a rubber tree, spiral cuts being made in the bark, through which the juice runs down the trunk to jars placed at the foot.

The sap, or "chicle" as it is called, looks like milk when it first enters the jar, but on exposure the colour changes to a dull yellow, and thickens until it is almost like syrup.

The gum is taken out of the jars and boiled down in huge pots, after which it is kneaded and excess moisture is squeezed out. It is then moulded into large loaves, cooled, and wrapped in canvass for exportation to the chewing gum factory.

In the factory it is mixed and boiled in copper vats to the desired thickness and sugar is added with flavoured essences.

A BOY WITH TWO FACES

I've heard about the queerest boy,
A boy that has two faces;
One face is round and full of joy,
As out of doors he races.
But when his mother calls him in,
He changes to the other.
And that is long and sour and thin—
I'm sorry for his mother.

LETTER VOICES APPRECIATION

The following letter was received by Rev. G. O. Davies recently, with reference to the carload of foodstuffs shipped from this district to the drought area in Saskatchewan. The communication read as follows:

Broderick, Sask., Dec. 3rd, 1936.
Rev. G. Oliver Davies,
Winchester. Ont.
Dear Sir:—

Some time ago we have received and distributed one carload of vegetables and some other goods donated by the people of your community and district.

May I trouble you to convey our most sincere appreciation and heartiest gratitude to the people within your reach, who donate it? We are humbled by the noble, generous spirit of love, sacrifice and service of Eastern people, who repeatedly during the past few years shared with us so unselfishly and brotherly our difficult struggle for existence.

We have not had any crop for the last seven years on this open prairie, always hoping for a change, however the drought continues. We have been troubled on every side, yet not distressed; perplexed so much, but not in despair; cast down materially, but not destroyed We admire your kindly way of sharing our troubles and rejoice seeing, that we are not forgotten.

On behalf of my congregation, this community and district. I am yours, with fraternal greetings.

H. C. Vaclavik.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING

Certificates will be presented to nineteen young people at the morning service next Sunday. Mr. Aaron Sweet. recording secretary of the Official Board, will present the certificates. The Course was based upon a study of the New Testament, directed by Mrs. W. S. Atchison.

Another Course is now well on the way in cooperation with the Y. P. U. on Monday night. Tuxis' boys on Tuesday night by W. Agnew, and also with the Adult Group on Wednesday night. The general topic of the Course is "The message of Jesus for the life of today."

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION

The Young People's Union met in the Sunday School rooms on Monday evening at 7.00 o'clock. The meeting was opened with a sing-song directed by Mr. Atchison, Luella Allison, Evelyn Erratt and Dwight Dawley conducted the Worship Period. A very helpful discussion on "Citizens without the Church at Christmas" was led by Luella Allison. If we decline to carry out our Christianity in a positive, intelligent citizenship, then, no matter what we do at Christmas for local families in need or the hobo passing through, we shall be traitors to our profession of discipleship to Jesus Christ.

At the close of the programme period, Mr. Atchison dealt with the third lesson in the Leadership Training Course, "The Kingdom of God." In the days of Jesus upon earth repentance demanded radical changes in the whole attitude to life. While we adhere to a wrong motive in life do we gain anything by repenting of a few "acts" which, we have been taught to call "sins?" Our soldiers died in defence of our country. Can we defend our country by living to rebuild society? This is the challenge of today.

INKERMAN UNITED CHURCH

Revival services are being held in Inkerman United church under the direction of Evangelists Gilbart and Leonard. These services, which have been well attended have been conducted during the past three weeks and will continue, God willing, over next Sunday evening. A men's meeting will be held on Sunday at 2.30 p.m.

Rev. Gilbart, who is a very forceful speaker, as well as a leader in this work, has delivered some wonderful sermons, and Mr. Leonard, who leads in the singing of the gospel songs, have been proving themselves yet better ordained for this work than when here a year ago, when so many were led to accept their Saviour.

On Sunday evening. when Rev. Mr. Gilbart preached on "The Tragedy of a Wasted Life," he held the large congregation at such attention that the spirit of God was so manifest that a number of people decided to turn from their earthly habits and work more earnestly in the service of the Master.

The attendance from outside churches has been greatly appreciated by those in management.
