Wet Weather Keeps Halloween Crowds Down

Winchester youngsters kept true to tradition Halloween Night. They had a lot of fun and in practically all instances it was good, clean fun. The trick or treat night apparently saw more tricks than treats, with only a few minor mishaps reported.

Winchester High School's front campus and entrance caught the bulk of the night's activity and on Wednesday morning there was an outhouse, wagon, planks and a variety of other objects blocking the main doorway. Elsewhere in the village one or two of the remaining outhouses were upset, a couple of wagons were moved, display windows were plastered with soap marks and a few light switches were pulled. Generally, according to Constable Les Whittaker, "the kids had a lot of fun and they kept it clean." Constable Whittekre went on to congratulate the youngsters on their fine behaviour.

Damage in the district was reported to be more severe and at Vernon a large boulder was rolled on the highway and struck by a passing motorist, severely damaging the car. The accident was investigated by Provincial police.

Again this year centre of the early evening activity was the Community Centre where close to 200 youngsters gathered for the annual 100 Club-Legion Halloween Party. Noise makers were handed out and each youngster in costume was given a noisemaker and a treat in addition to the special prizes awarded to the winners in the various costume classes.

The costumes were colourful, original and many, and judges had a hard time in picking the winners.

The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ledgerwood, Mrs. A. C. Ross and J. Davis.

Winners of the prizes were: Five years and under: Paul Keyes, Viki Lennox, Noreen Byers and Julie Adams.

Six and seven years—Janice Wylie, Allan and Ellen Utman, Jeff Boyd.

Eight to ten years—Eleanor Byers, Debbie Gray, Stephen Kenney, Robbie Hutchison .

11 years and over: Judy Hodgson.

Youngest in costume: John Cooke, 14-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooke.

Oldest in costume: Mrs. Eugene Servais.

Funniest: Gordon Kenney.

Best costume in all classes: Bonnie Boyd.

Canadian Bankers' Association Praises South Mountain Residents

R. D. Mulholland, president of The Canadian Bankers' Association, paid tribute recently to the people of South Mountain who assisted in the capture of the two bandits who robbed the Bank of Nova Scotia there last May. He said it must be regarded with a sense of pride by all people engaged in upholding law and order.

The Canadian Bankers' Association made a presentation of $1,000 to the Ontario Provincial Police Gratuity Fund and presented Constable P. Balog of the Ottawa detachment with a personal household purchase order for $500.

Mr. Mulholland spoke as follows:

"I am here today as President of The Canadian Bankers' Association to pay tribute to one of Canada's finest police forces and, in particular, to pay our respects to one member of that force.

"The event that promtped all this was the hold-up of the Bank of Nova Scotia in South Mountain last May 19. That Eastern Ontario town was the scene of a robbery that was solved quickly and completely by two main forces: a spontaneous demonstration of civic duty by a considerable number of public-spirited men and women, and the single-handed bravery of Constable Balog of the Ottawa detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

"I am sure that you, Mr. Attorney, responsible as you are for the administration of law and order in this province, must have gladdened when you heard of the response of so many citizens of South Mountain when they learned that a bank in their town has been robbed. I am sure, sir, that their wholehearted acceptance of the challenge of theft with violence in their midst, their determination in helping to run down those responsible for it, must be gratifying and a sense of pride to all those engaged in upholding law and order.

"And you, Mr. Commissioner, I feel sure you must share the pride of the Attorney-General in the response of the law-abiding and law-respecting people of South Mountain because you realize, more than any of us, that police work, to be efficient and effective, must be backed up by civic co-operation and civic duty.

"And now with all this as a background, I would like to proceed to my very pleasant task of expressing to the Ontario Provincial Police and to Constable Balog the thanks and admiration of The Canadian Bankers' Association. The successful climax of the hunt for the two men who robbed the South Mountain bank came when Constablel Balog, with great initiative and courage, stopped the get-away car, kept its occupants covered with his gun until they threw their weapons on the road in front of him, then handcuffed and arrested them.

"It was a splendid example of personal bravery and devotion to duty.

"But it was, of course, only the culmination of a capably organized search that involved not only several private citizens of

Approval Wanted

P. S. BOARD ANGERED BY DELAY

Toronto Bound If No Action By The Weekend

Members of Winchester Public School Board are discouraged because of the delay in receiving final approval for the construction of a four-room addition to the Public School. Final approval for the $80,000 addition must come from the Department of Municipal Affairs at Toronto which approves the debenture issue of the municipality.

According to Council, the required information has been in the hands of the Department at Toronto for two months. Approval from the Department of Education for the addition was received last June, paving the way for an early start. However, Board members now feel that the delay may be a costly one unless immediate action is taken. The tender was let to Wiseman and Thompson pending approval by the Department of Municipal Affairs. It is understood that the contractor is now getting anxious as valuable time and, more important, excellent building weather have been missed because of the apparent red tape and delays in receiving the final approval.

Board Chairman Raymond Annable told The Press "we can't understand what's going on in Toronto. We have phoned them and written them but with no success. And each day this project is delayed it is costing the people of the school area more money."

It is understood that the Board plans to meet with Hon. Fred M. Cass this week-end in an attempt to "hurry up" the matter. Mr. Cass has been working with the School Board and intimated he could not understand why there had been such a delay.

School Board members said they would go to Toronto if a decision had not been reached by the first of next week.

Mail Times

Patrons of Winchester Post Office are reminded that with the change back to Eastern Standard Time last Sunday the arrivals of mail trucks have been changed.

The most important mail service now arrives at 8.40 a.m. from Smiths Falls. Other arrivals are: From Cornwall, 10.30 a.m.; from Cornwall, 5.10 p.m., and from Smiths Falls 6.10 p.m.

It should be noted that letters, parcels, etc., to be despatched on these mails should be in the post office one half hour before arrival of truck.

Famed Author Dorothy Sproule 94 Years Old

Mrs. Dorothy Sproule, that ageless Canadian author and poet, celebrates her 94th birthday this Saturday, November 4th. Mrs. Sproule is a native of the Winchester district and still maintains a keen interest in the affairs of this community. She also is still kept quite busy in writing beautiful verses of poetry, and many appear in this paper. She resides in Montreal. The Press joins with a host of admirers and friends in wishing Mrs. Sproule heartiest congratulations on this important milestone in her life.

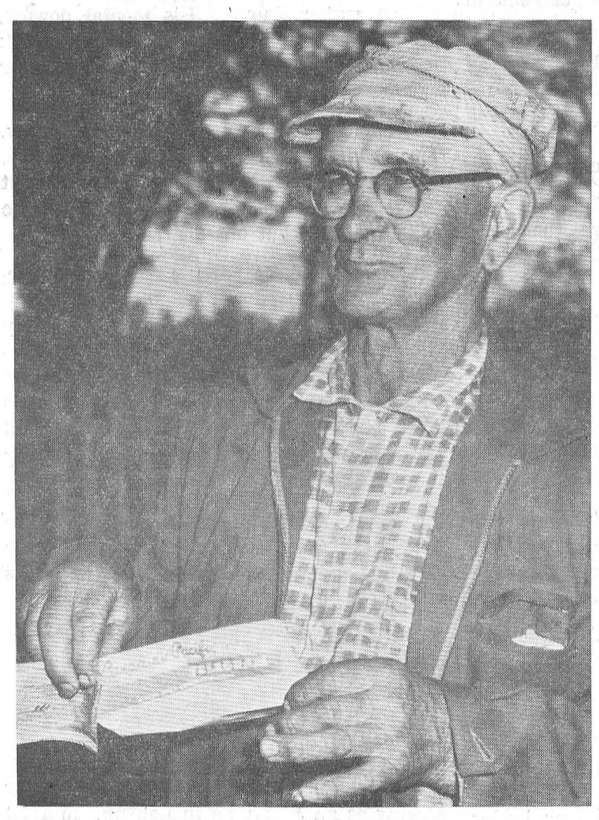
Poppy Sale This Saturday

Archie Rice, chairman of the Legion Poppy campaign, said this week that Poppies would go on sale this Saturday in Winchester with both the Cubs and Scouts selling them to the general public.

At the same time, Mr. Rice said, all places of business are asked to place wreaths in their display windows as a tribute to those who paid the supreme sacrifice in two major conflicts. Wreaths are available from the Legion for both business places and families through Mr. Rice.

On Sunday, November 12th, the annual Remembrance Service will be held at the Cenotaph following the Church parade and service at the Wesleyan Methodist Church. All Legion members and veterans are asked to be on parade.

Second Major Fire Hits Inkerman District



Second major fire to hit the Inkerman district in the past week destroyed the large barn on the farm of Frank Barkley last Thursday morning.

The fire, which completely destroyed the big Barkley barn was discovered about five a.m. by Roy Holmes, who lives nearby. He informed the Barkleys and the alarm was turned in. Winchester Fire Department arrived on the scene shortly afterwards but could do little to save the building. However, the Fire Brigade is credited with saving a nearby shed and the Barkley residence. Fire equipment from South Mountain was also on hand but failed to operate promptly, and was used mainly after the fire had been brought under control.

Also lost in the fire were 400 hens, a wagon, disc plow, a large quantity of feed, hay and grain from the fall harvest.

Mr. Barkley estimates the loss at $20,000 and he told The Press this week that he hopes to rebuild as soon as possible. Cause of the fire is unknown. The Barkley fire was the second in the same district within the past week. Previously the barns on the Herman Hutt farm, about half a mile away, were destroyed by fire.

Sweepstake Winner

Irwin Baker, 74-year-old farmer of R. R. 2, Chesterville, was in the running last week for the big $145,000 Sweepstake win. He held a ticket on Firewalker but the horse did not finish in the money and Mr. Baker wound up with just over $1,000—not a bad return on a ticket that cost about $3.00. The ticket was the fourth Mr. Baker had purchased.—Photo by Daykin.

LIVESTOCK ENTRIES

Dundas Shows Well At Winter Fair

Dundas Live Stock exhibitors were once again out in numbers at the Ottawa Winter Fair. As usual, the Holstein entry was the largest of the Show. The County Herd from Dundas, consisting of two bulls and four females, was third among 11 entries. Hugh Blaine of Mountain had his Reserve All Canadian heifer of last year at the Show and she was winner in the large class of dry 3-year-olds. Blaine was also second in the milking 3-year-old class. Basil Dawley, Winchester, had a second prize yearling heifer, and Morton Stobo and Allison Fawcett, Winchester, were second from the top in the senior yearling bull class. Some of the classes had more than 40 entries. Other exhibitors were Lorne Henderson, Brinston; Johannes Byvelds & Sons, Williamsburg; Clarence Wallace, Iroquois; J. Dwight Dawley, Winchester; Carl Smith, Chesterville, and Allan Fawcett, Winchester.

In Ayrshires, Wm. McRoberts and Son, Winchester, were the only exhibitors from the County. They had senior bull calf, junior yearling heifer, and were the winners of the Ottawa Citizen Special and the Ottawa Journal Perpetual trophy for breeders' herd.

Malcolm MacGregor, Crysler, and L. J. Walker, Winchester Springs, were exhibitors of Guernsey cattle. MacGregor had the Senior and Grand Champion Bull, while Walker took the Reserve Grand Championship. Included in MacGregor's wins were: First prize Junior yearling heifer, Junior get-of-sire, and 3-year-old in milk. The latter was Senior and Grand Champion Guernsey cow. MacGregor also had the best uddered female and first prize in dairy herd and Senior get-of-sire.

In the Swine Show, Clarence Wallace, Iroquois, Morton Stobo of Winchester and Gerald Stobo, Hallville, won many awards. Wallace had the Senior and Grand Champion boar, with the Reserve Grand Champion going to Morton Stobo. The Junior Champion sow was exhibited by Gerald Stobo. These exhibitors won 9 of the 13 regular classes.

The 4-H Show was again a tremendous spectacle. This event took place on Friday, and Dundas County was represented by 27 boys and girls and their calves.

Homework Still Important

Homework and the support of the home in education are needed more than ever.

Parents will act skeptical and the children will balk at the thought of more time spent over books and away from the television screen or transistor rock and roll—but statistics bear out the facts.

A further problem is realized when we consider that of the 26,638 candidates who wrote Grade 13 papers last year, only 4,618 passed with sufficient credits to enter Canadian universities, which, in most cases, stipulated an average of at least 60 per cent. in nine papers.

Part of the answer has been met by Federal impetus into a crash program of technical schools. It will help to solve the immediate problem — to some extent.

Part of the problem can be traced back to the home.

Homework can have more than one facet. It can be the work of the parents who unfold to their children the wonders of the world around them, exposing them to the books, the art, the culture, the language of people.

The most common idea of homework is the assignments given by the teacher to be studied aside from, and in addition to, the regular classes in school.

The attitude of the student toward this extra-curricular work will determine his interest in academic progress, and ultimately his capabilities in areas of higher education.

The way to learning is hard; it is something which must be taught by the parents as soon as the child can understand. The key to learning is study, and study is a prelude to the future which will require a habit of study for success.

A Federation, panel discussion on homework offers information about study at home. It points out that homework well done gives the pupil a chance to review what has been learned that day, to have it settle down in his mind, to assimilate it, to have points cleared up, to see how the details fit together in the whole lesson. The pupil doing homework with diligence will get a mastery of the matter taught. His mental powers, mind, imagination and memory will work together and are stimulated to a greater keenness.

Character is strengthened by homework. The child doing homework learns initiative, drive, self reliance in doing work without the teacher. It requires the decision of the will to sit and put out distractions.

Here is where parents fit into the picture. They must insist on homework being done — and being done carefully. They should provide the atmosphere for study—good light, quiet, dictionaries, reference books. They should check the assignments given and the work completed. They should learn the weak subjects and urge extra study in these areas.

They should question material from text books and notes, check report cards carefully and take advantage of teacher visits and "open houses."

Home work is the key to academic excellence!

John. P. Robarts

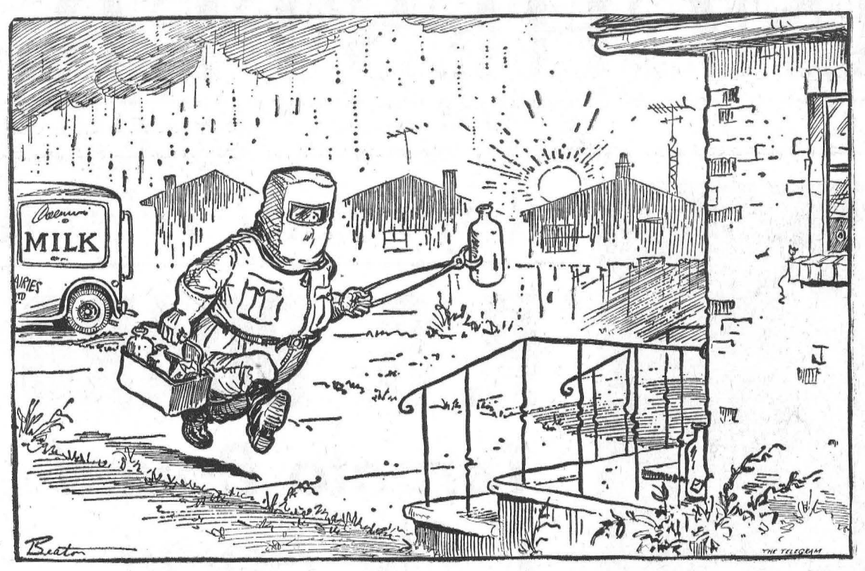
John Parmenter Robarts, 44-year-old London, Ontario lawyer, is the new leader of the Progressive Conservative party in Ontario and in a few days he will become Prime Minister of the province, succeeding the Hon. Leslie M. Frost.

Mr. Robarts, a favourite from the start, conducted a sound, clean campaign for the leadership. He showed that he has a blend of experience and youthfulness in leadership, both important in the key role he will now assume. His victory came on the final ballot over the hard working Attorney General Kelso Roberts, and when it was all over there seemed to be a general acceptance that John Robarts, after all, was the best man for the job.

In many respects the new PC Leader resembles the retiring Mr. Frost. Both were born in small towns, both are lawyers, serious minded and both are not known for spectacular speaking. Mr. Robarts, the new leader, is a family man and he has been in provincial politics for the past ten years after serving as an Alderman in London. In 1958 he was appointed Minister without portfolio in the Frost Administration and the following year became Minister of Education, a post he still holds. He comes from a family of lawyers and bankers, not politicians, but he is keenly interested in serving the people of Ontario and thinks he can do the job.

John Parmenter Robarts is tall, handsome and appears calm under fire like Mr. Frost. He realizes that there is much good material in the present cabinet although it seems certain that there will be some changes.

We wish him well in his new and demanding job as leader of the government of Ontario. He will need to use all of his resources and must depend on the assistance he will receive from colleagues who are presently holding down important cabinet posts. Among them is the Hon. Fred M. Cass who will undoubtedly be an important spoke in the new Cabinet wheel.



Sugar and Spice

By Bill Smiley

You've probably noticed that this column has taken on a little higher tone of late. There's a certain je ne sais quoi, a soupcon of noblesse oblige and a dash of summa cum laude that wasn't there before. And it isn't because I'm scared of that lady in Beamsville who reamed me out a couple of weeks ago.

* * * *

No, the reason for the new note of gentility, the touch of sophistication, is that the Smileys has finally arrived. Years of struggle and poverty, of hardship and privation, have paid off. We have made it. We have acquired the status symbol, the nadir of nothingness, the acme of asininity. We have two toilets.

* * * *

When I think of what we have gone through in our pursuit of this pot of porcelain at the end of the rainbow, I could cry. Lots of these young newlyweds nowadays move right into a new home with a real bathroom upstairs and a powder room on the ground floor. We didn't even have one toilet of our own until our youngest was old enough to be self-supporting in the bathroom.

* * * *

Let's see. When we married, the Old Girl and I took a furnished room in the city, close to the university. It was even closer to the redlight district. We shared a bathroom with the eleventeen occupants of the second floor. Every one of these was a baggy-eyed slattern in a dressing gown who spent hours every day frying onions over a gas fire on the landing just outside the bathroom door.

* * * *

Our next abode was a three-room flat in the factory district. By this time we had a year-old son. Don't ask me how that happened. It's a long story. Here we shared the bathroom with only the landlady. She was a bit peculiar, but not a bad old skirt. She had a wall eye, a habit of sucking snuff, and a passion for antique furniture. You had to climb over an old setee and lower yourself from an ancient china cabinet to get into the bathtub.

* * * *

That bathroom brings back fond memories. Once I was giving the baby a bath. I had soaped him, and he was as slippery as a speckled trout. He eeled out of my grasp, ker-whunked his face on the tub's edge, and bellowed. His mother rushed in, snatched him, examined him, found he'd chipped a tooth, and promptly tried to break every bone in my head.

* * * *

Another time, the same kid, who could just toddle, got into the same bathroom, and managed to shoot the bolt, from the inside. I know it's a classic situation and has happened to others. But if you want to know what hell is like, before you get there, try it.

* * * *

Inside is the tiny boy, wailing piteously. Outside are: his father, telling the child, who doesn't understand a word of it, or anything else, how to unlock the door; the mother, screaming at the father to do something before baby suffocates (in a bathroom!); the landlady, moaning, wringing her hands, and imploring the father to get him out but not to break the lock.

* * * *

I broke the lock, all the skin off my knuckles, and the third commandment, in that order, but we got him out. From those exciting times, we moved to a small town, and life declined into a series of dreary bathroom-sharing, in various old houses, with other young couples and their children, all of whom seemed to have kidney conditions.

* * * *

Then came the great day when we had a house all to ourselves. The bathroom apparently had been installed in honor of Champlain's first visit. Oh, it worked. But you had to take the top off the tank and fiddle with the bulbs every time you flushed the toilet. And you had to wash with your stomach against the sink, because the extra weight of the water would have torn it right off the wall.

* * * *

You can imagine what happened. My wife went a bit psychotic after all those years of shared bathrooms. We wound up with a bathroom that would not have disgraced a sultan's boudoir, complete with shocking pink fixtures, mother-of-pearl toilet seat, and a $1,000 bill at the plumber's.

* * * *

But all that's behind. We've moved into a house with a downstairs johnnie, and there is a new grace and elegance in our domestic life. However, it's taking a while to get used to. We sometimes find ourselves halfway upstairs before we remember it, and are torn between going on up or going back down — a tough decision. And I still find that the minute I get established in one of them—and it doesn't matter which one—there's a kid beating on the door and pleading in agonized accents.

Remember . . . Buy a Poppy . . . Your Badge of Remembrance!

Joke of the Week

The Seventh Column

It was like a "Winchester Reunion" in Toronto last week. No matter where you went you could almost be certain of running into someone from the town and district. We aren't certain how many townspeople were in the Queen City but a quick count would probably put the figure in the vicinity of 20, not to mention the many others from the district. They were attending the annual meeting of the Ontario Hospital Association and the Leadership Convention of the Ontario Progressive Conservative party. This writer was one of the delegates at the PC Leadership Convention. What an experience! It was three days packed with meetings, meeting people and vote getting and, we think, we learned a lot about the behind-the-scene action at conventions of this kind. When it was all over the PC's had elected a young London, Ontario lawyer, John P. Robarts as their new leader. But not before the maximum six ballots had been taken. It was probably the biggest and most colourful political convention ever staged in Ontario —maybe in the entire country. What a lot of people around here want to know — how does all this affect our own member, Hon. Fred M. Cass, Minister of Highways. Of course, we cannot be completely certain but we'll wager a goodly amount that Fred will remain one of the key members of the new cabinet when it is appointed. Our member is an important cog in the provincial government and certainly the new leader cannot afford to overlook men of his calibre when he appoints his cabinet. From this corner it looks as though Fred will keep the Highways portfolio because of the tremendous job he has been doing. If he doesn't get this post he will most certainly receive another important portfolio. Fred is a popular member in Toronto and he enjoys a lot of good support from across the province. It was this part of the convention that impressed us most.

Most Winchester and district delegates stayed in the Royal York or the Park Plaza. This writer stayed in the Park Plaza, centre of most of the activity because of its closeness to Varsity Arena where the convention was being held. But the crowds were terrific and each candidate for the leadership had committee rooms in this hotel and, it seemed, they were always packed with people. At one time it took more than two hours to get from the first to the fifth floor of the hotel because the elevators were so busy carrying delegates, well wishers and gingerale.

The convention was colourful, hectic and, at times, quite serious. The demonstrations for the various candidates were something to see, and included everything from a cow to a dancer doing the Charleston. Both Premier Frost and Prime Minister Diefenbaker were on hand to deliver key addresses to the large crowds. It was a great three days for the Progressive Conservative party of Ontario which, it would seem, is still enjoying a great deal of support from all kinds of people in all corners of the province.

It has been a wonderful fall season and it's hard to realize that winter weather is not far off. All of which reminds us that little action has been taken, as yet, on the annual Christmas decorations, store hours and Santa Claus visit in Winchester. Perhaps this important undertaking has been overlooked because of the weather. Actually, all of this starts in just one short month. Maybe it would be a good idea for the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the Christmas program, to get cracking now. A month isn't too much time to prepare for such an event.

As all of us know too well, the Russians have carried out their threats in setting off a nuclear bomb, judged to be at least 50 megatons in size. Seems that this sort of thing smells of the days of previous maniacs who wanted world control. Ignoring the pleas of freedom loving nations, indeed all of mankind, just to satisfy a personal greed and lust for power. These are serious times for all of us, and as long as men like Khruschev exist there will always be the threat of war.

Radio Station CFRA has taken another important step forward — one of many in its young years. This week the station steps up to 50,000 watts power and it also changes its location on the dial slightly for an even more powerful signal that will be heard for hundreds of miles in every direction. For further particulars listen to this station and read the special advertisement in next week's Press. And to Frank and the rest of the CFRA crew, doing such a fine job in radio, our congratulations again. We in this Eastern Ontario area can take much pride in knowing that we not only have one of the best but now one of the most powerul radio stations in all of Canada.

Attention, Eliot Ness fans. Did you know that cats without claws are called "The Unscratchables."

Another sign that the winter season is on the way. Ice making operations at the Curling Club are underway in preparation for the Club's season opening on Saturday, November 11. Elsewhere in this issue an article appears telling of the first curling game ever played in Winchester.

We are fast coming to that time of year when we pay tribute to the fallen comrades of two world wars. Remembrance Day is on Saturday, November 11, and the annual Remembrance Service at the Cenotaph will be held on Sunday, November 12th following the morning service of worship at Winchester churches. Poppies, by the way, go on sale this Saturday. The poppy is your Badge of Remembrance, so make certain you remember and buy one.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Eastend, Sask.
October, 1961.

Editor, Winchester Press,

Dear Sir:—

If space permits, I would appreciate it very much if you could "squeeze" this letter into a corner of your paper. It has a three-fold purpose as you might expect from one who is gradually falling into the habit of preparing three point sermons.

First, Reg, we want to tell you how much we appreciate the "news from home" in the Press each week. Somehow or other it bridges the miles separating Winchester and Eastend. The latest edition we received, the ones with the pictures of the Trade Fair, almost took me back inside the "old rink." I assure you we look forward to receiving the paper each week.

Secondly, Mary and I would like to use this medium to thank a host of people in and around Winchester for their wedding gift of money. It was very kind and thoughtful of them. We have used the money to buy a lovely coffee table (used mainly for the ladies' afternoon teas) and also an equally fine end table. Mary convinced me that one rocking chair in the house was plenty.

Finally, a word about Eastend itself. The town, very typically Western, has a population of approximately 900 people. It is nestled in a valley and surrounded by rather bald prairie. This year especially the hills are of an extremely brown nature. There has been an astonishing small amount of rainfall and as a result the wheat crop has been either a complete failure or has yielded only one or two bushels per acre in this area. Eastend is fairly well equipped with a covered skating rink, curling rink, gymnasium, golf course and athletic field. Hunting facilities are more than adequate with pheasants, antelope, deer and partridge abounding. So far I have managed to bag some ducks and pheasants. Deer season is next.

As far as church work is concerned, I am slowly getting into all the various phases. The church building, which seats about 150 people, is well filled for Sunday services (many more women than men). A couple of weeks ago I conducted the funeral service for Flight Lieutenant James Johnson. He was the young pilot killed in the jet crash near Downsview in the Toronto area. On October 27 I am to conduct my first marriage service. All in all, the days do not come quickly enough and do not last long enough to get everything done. However, the people are very hospitable and co-operative, the Church is active and growing, and the climate is very agreeable. One could not ask for more than that.

Now I have written far more than I ever intended. I do hope that you will find it possible to pass the main thoughts on to the Press readers. We would be very happy to hear from any of the Winchester folk at any time. Once again, Reg, "thank you" and we hope to see you next summer.

Sincerely,

MALCOLM STIENBURG.

KNOW YOUR Canada

Prepared by the Research Staff of ENCYCLOPEDIA CANADIANA

IS THE GRAPE A NATIVE CANADIAN FRUIT?

Yes, it is, although the native species have not contributed to the cultivated varieties. The commercial cultivation of grapes is practically limited to the Okanagan Valley of British Columbia and the Niagara Peninsula of Ontario. In most other regions the vines have to be protected over winter and the season is too short for assured production. Much of the Canadian production goes into native wines. These varieties are mainly of American origin, characterized by a different flavor, lower sugar content and thicker skin than the European varieties. In recent years a few European varieties have been adapted and many of the newer commercial sorts have a considerable element of European parentage.

'Going Up' and 'Growing Up'

Seems to us that the impressive Cub-Scout ceremony at the Community Centre last Tuesday night was not only a "Going Up" procedure from Cubs to Scouts but also a "Growing Up" phase in the life of several young Winchester citizens.

It is an important transition in the lives of these youngsters who have taken the step beyond childhood into that first important part of being a youth, which all of us must go through in our advance towards being an adult.

So, now, a lot of youngsters are not so young any more, but we may be assured that by being a Cub firstly and later the big step towards being a Scout our young people are being well trained towards being a better Canadian citizen. This training is invaluable. It's the sort of thing you can't buy. It's a way of life that helps prevent juvenile delinquency in later years.

If you missed this ceremony, and you probably did, you are just one of many taking this sort of thing for granted. But, it just doesn't happen. There has to be leadership and organization and desire — and hard work by both the leaders and the Scouts or Cubs. In this organization you have to earn your promotion.

The leaders, by the way, receive no remuneration for their time and effort—rather a self satisfaction in knowing that they are contributing towards a better community.

This year the groups are growing and there are more than 40 Cubs alone. This means that more adult leaders are needed to carry on this very important work. It takes a little time and a little effort, but the work is very rewarding.

How about it, will you help?

Mr. Ed. Lewis and Barbara, of Markham, were week-end visitors of Mrs. George Lewis and Donald.

Members of the Lions Club entertained the boys and girls of the ball clubs and several of the mothers and fathers last Wednesday evening at the Lions den in Metcalfe. A bean supper was held, after which films were shown and musical selections enjoyed.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. James Cameron is a patient in the hospital at Winchester, and Brian Campbell a patient in the Ottawa Civic Hospital. All hope they may soon be well.

The TB clinic, which was held here last Tuesday, was well attended. Members of the Women's Institute assisted at the clinic.

Dinner guests on Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Bath and children were Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Acres and family, of Winchester. Mrs. Acres was just returning home from a trip to England.

Elma "Fruit Cups"

The second meeting of Elma "Fruit Cups" opened with the 4-H Club pledge and the reading of the minutes. Talks were given by the leaders on Ontario Fresh Fruits and their many uses. The girls took part in a demonstration on how to make a Fruit Cake.

AT KEMPTVILLE ARMOURIES

National Survival Training Course

The 30th Field Artillery Regiment, Canadian Army (Militia) will make the recently announced National Survival training courses available at its 25th Field Battery Armoury, Kemptville.

Lt. Col. H. T. Vergette, Commanding Officer of the regiment has announced that he has been authorized to conduct four six-week courses of 50 candidates each. The courses will be open to married or single men, 18 to 51 years of age, who have good health.

The first course starts November 6, the other three courses start January 8, February 26 and April 16. During each course the trainees will be paid weekly, the regular army rates of pay and subsistance allowance totalling $173 on a monthly basis. The recruits will receive free uniforms, work a five day week, and live at home.

The training given will enable the candidates to become competent in performing rescue procedures, administer first aid, control traffic, and to make temporary repairs to damaged buildings. Sufficient military training will be given to enable the recruits to become regular Militia members, if they wish, following the course.

Candidates will be recruited thoroughout the entire Kemptville district, taking in Winchester on the east, Prescott on the south, Smiths Falls on the west and Manotick on the north, including Osgoode Station, Kars, North Gower, Spencerville, Merrickville and South Mountain. Efforts will be made to provide transportation for groups travelling to Kemptville.

The 25th Battery is commanded by Major Roger St. Jean of Ottawa, and the Kemptville course will be commanded by Captain Victor Thompson of North Gower, who will be assisted by regular army and militia instructors.

Now that the Ontario Government has led the way in encouraging their employees to take the course by guaranteeing their salaries, it is hoped other employers will follow suit, so that their employees will be fully qualified to assist their families and communities in time of emergency.

The Kemptville Armoury will be open for recruiting from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 8 to 10 p.m. Wednesday and Friday evenings. Enquiries may also be made by phoning Kemptville 258-3331.

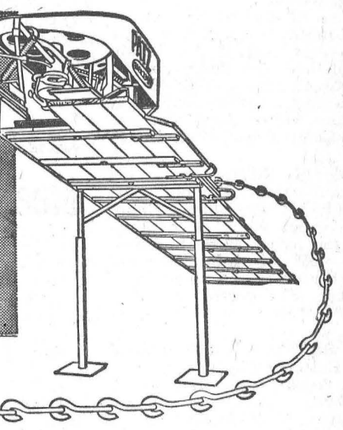
A PATZ BARN CLEANER COSTS LESS PER YEAR TO OWN!!!



That's right! A Patz Barn Cleaner definitely costs less to own. Costs less because it's BUILT STRONGER . . . HAS FEWER PARTS TO WEAR . . . IS DESIGNED FOR RUGGED DAILY USE . . . AND . . . IS EASIER TO SERVICE.

Patz Barn Cleaners are the original, pitless, endless chain type for easy tension-free 90 degree right or left-hand turns — and any degree of elevation required.

As a result, you get added years of dependable, more economical use. What's more — servicing is extra easy since Patz Barn Cleaner Links can be added or removed in a jiffy without tools. Trouble-free corner wheel installation is quick — engineered to completely eliminate removal problems.

In fact — all Patz Barn Cleaner parts — power unit, speed reducer, return corner — are made for extra-easy installation. Yes — a Patz Barn Cleaner does cost less per year to own. Just check any man that owns a Patz — he'll tell you the same.

A New World of Worth from Chevrolet

New Impala Sport Sedan — fresh-shaped elegance with Body by Fisher craftsmanship.

Jaunty new beauty with a road-gentling ride!

JET-SMOOTH '62 CHEVROLET

In came the new '62 Chevrolet — and out went the days when you had to plunk down a big bundle to ride around feeling like a king.

Look at that fresh styling — clean, graceful, tasteful, isn't it? Imagine opening one of those big solid doors, slipping in, sinking down in those sofa-wide seats and taking in the rich new decor. Now, you switch on your engine—a fuel-shy 135-hp. Six or your choice of new V8 vigor up to an optional-at-extra-cost 409-hp. whirlwind — and go, man, go.

Isn't that Jet-smooth ride something, though? At each wheel a big steely coil spring turning the road into cream and over 700 sound and vibration insulators turning the car into one big quiet zone.

Ahead of you are front fenders with steel underskirts that give extra protection against rust, slush and stones (what won't our engineers come up with next!). Behind you there's that goods-gobbling deep-well trunk. And, in between, you'll find one fine car feature after another, along with Body by Fisher quality.

Really, about the only thing the new Jet-smooth '62 Chevrolet leaves to be desired is—a prompt powwow with your Chevrolet dealer. Whitewall Tires Optional at Extra Cost

And inside—beautiful new ways to bolster your pride!

The Impala Sport Coupe interior, at right, shows just a sample of how Chevrolet makes you more than pleased and proud of your exciting new '62 car. Deep soft seats. Thick deep-twist carpeting. Plush new upholstery in a host of new color combinations. And, of course, you're surrounded by the unmistakable, and unbeatable craftsmanship of Body by Fisher. When Chevrolet gives so much, who needs pay more? See your Chevrolet dealer today!

Morrow-McConnell Vows Exchanged

Knox Presbyterian Church, Winchester Springs, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon when vows were exchanged by Helen Eileen Morrow and Charles Arthur McConnell.

Rev. Everett Hawkes, Morrisburg, officiated at the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William Morrow and the late Mr. Morrow, of Winchester, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McConnell, Ingleside.

Baskets of gladioli and variegated mums decorated the church altar. Mrs. Arthur Thom accompanied the guest soloist, Miss Doreen Cross. Gerald Labelle, Ottawa, was best man, and the ushers were Lloyd Morrow, Ottawa, and Mark Hart, Ingleside.

Donald H. Morrow gave his niece in marriage. For her wedding, Miss Morrow wore a floor-length bridal gown of alencon lace over satin, with a floor-length veil of tulle illusion, caught by a tiara of seed pearls and lace. She carried a white Bible centred with sweetheart roses.

Miss Betty Morrow and Miss Ivalou Bolton were bridesmaids. Gloria Henderson attended as flower girl. All wore similar pink gowns of nylon and lace.

The wedding reception was held in the Orange Hall, Winchester Springs. To receive the guests the mother of the bride wore a dress of sky blue lace over taffeta with matching accessories. Mrs. McConnell chose a dawn grey dress with grey accessories.

For her honeymoon to Northern U.S.A. the bride wore a champagne ensemble with green accessories and a corsage of bronze mums.

Out-of-town guests were present from Jasper, Ottawa, Merrickville, Chesterville, Morrisburg, Ingleside and Winchester.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. McConnell will reside in Winchester.

Ladies' Guild Meeting Held

The October meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Acres last Thursday evening with a good attendance. Mrs. Colley presided and opened the meeting with the Guild prayer, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

An invitation was read inviting all to the Anglican Tea and Bazaar at Metcalfe. Another paper collection was planned for the end of the month. Plans were made to hold a card party on November 18th at the home of Frank Acres. The Auction, donated by the hostess, netted $1.30. The travelling apron was passed on to Mrs. Coons. Mrs. Colley offered to take the Auction to the next meeting in November, to be held at the home of Mrs. Ivor Bath.

Rev. Mr. McConnell closed the meeting with prayer.

United Church Couples Club Meets

The United Church Couples Club met in the S. S. Hall last Thursday evening and entertained the Couples' Club from Winchester Springs. Mrs. Eric Steele welcomed the visitors.

Rev. A. MacDonald led the devotions. Eldon Fennell showed two interesting films, "The Copperbelt," and "Mayflower II."

The committee in charge consisted of Rev. and Mrs. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Isaac. Games were enjoyed by all, after which a delicious lunch was served. Graham Casselman thanked the local club on behalf of the Winchester Springs' group for the enjoyable evening, and hoped to be able to return the invitation at a later date. Charles Anderson thanked the committee in charge.

4-H Club Meeting

The second and third meetings of the Winchester "Featuring Fruit" 4-H Club were held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Johnstone. A new member was welcomed, and the members made a shortcake.

Home Economist Miss Reid was present at the third meeting. A light lunch, prepared by the members, was enjoyed by all.

Wells -- Casselman

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Williamsburg Lutheran Church on Saturday afternoon when Rev. A. Blackwell joined in marriage Mary Ellyn Casselman and Donald Lloyd Wells. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Casselman of Williamsburg, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wells, Williamsburg.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of white satin brocade. A tiara of seed pearls held her shoulder-length veil, and she wore a corsage of red roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Myrna Casselman, sister of the bride, wore a mauve velvet street-length dress with white accessories and a corsage of white mums.

The groom was assisted by Glen Casselman, of Inkerman, as best man.

Following the ceremony, sixty guests attended a wedding reception in Colquhoun Hall. Mrs. Casselman wore a plum crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Wells chose a dress of olive green wool with matching accessories and a corsage of bronze mums.

On their return from a honeymoon trip to Northern U. S. A., Mr. and Mrs. Wells will reside near Williamsburg.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Carkner, of Winchester, wish to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Ethelwyn Anne, to George Ralph, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Barkley, of Williamsburg. Marriage to take place on Saturday, November 25th, at 6 p.m. in the Winchester Baptist Church.

W.C.T.U. Holds Meeting

The W. C. T. U. was entertained at the home of Miss Jean Wyatt last Wednesday afternoon. The president opened the meeting with a hymn, and prayer by Mrs. E. Fennell followed. Devotions were taken by Mrs. G. L. Barclay, the topic being "Feed on His Faithfulness." Mrs. O. Wallace read an article on "Public Opinion," as given in the "Citizen," a paper from the Government on Canadianization and Citizenship." The Flower Mission was attended to by Miss Jean Watt, and the clip sheet, "Freedom and Liberty," was given by a number of the ladies in the absence of Mrs. A. Christie.

Mrs. T. J. Keyes closed the meeting with prayer, and the hostess served lunch.

Personals . . .

Mrs. Norbert Hutt and Miss Linda Ross attended the "Rilling" Hairdressers' Convention, held in Renfrew during the past week-end.

Mr. Michael Dukelow, of Ryerson College, Toronto, spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dukelow.

Mrs. Keith Hamilton, of Brinston, and Miss Joyce Hamilton of Ottawa, are spending some time with their mother, Mrs. Stanley Hamilton, of Ingleside, who is very ill.

In honour of their Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary last Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Barton, of South Mountain, were entertained to a six o'clock dinner in Ottawa at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ayearst.

First Curling Game Played Here In 1928

Winchester Curling Club's 1961-62 season is just around the corner with the opening night set for Saturday, November 11th. There has been a renewed interest in curling in Winchester in recent years with an increased membership at the Curling Club here.

In addition to the extra members the Club has been completely renovated. This year again the Club invites all potential curlers out for a "try," as more members will be accepted. The first year membership is only $15.00 for men and $8.00 for women.

The first curling match ever played in Winchester was reported in the February 21st issue of the Press in 1928. The rink was then located immediately south of the Community Centre.

Two teams from Metcalfe were the visitors, and according to the report the natural ice was "keen and fairly tricky." (It's still the same even though it is now artificial ice).

Personnel of the teams were: Metcalfe — S. Thompson, S. S. Latimer, J. P. Dowser, Dr. J. C. Byers, skip; and R. L. Boyd, J. P. Grant, Rev. P. C. Eakin and Rev. Father Harris, skip.

The Winchester teams consisted of L. Mills, E. Summers, B. Carr, H. L. Lee, R. Kennedy, D. H. Weir, J. H. Ross and W. Leonard.

Metcalfe took the round by two points.

TAKE TIME OUT FOR SURVIVAL

Six-week training courses are being held in your own community beginning November 6 1961. Later courses start January 8, February 26 and April 16, 1962.

If you are between 18 and 50, and meet enrolment standards, will you go to work this winter for Canada? During the course you are given all-day training five days a week. You receive the same pay as a regular soldier; you will live at home and receive a living allowance.

Get full details, without obligation, from the Militia Recruiting Officer at the address below that is nearest to your home.
