Taking a walk in history

There was a slight reduction in the number of visitors on the opening weekend at Upper Canada Village this year, with 3,506 passing through the turnstiles compared with 3,587 over the same period last year.

Still, those who visited the St. Lawrence Parks Commission site Saturday had a perfect day as sunny skies and warm temperatures created ideal conditions for taking a walk in history.

The village will have another major addition to its many features this summer when its printing shop opens in late July.

School board replies to Morrisburg reeve's charges

CORNWALL — The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education, stung by a letter from Morrisburg Reeve William Dillabough which attacked the board for its "irresponsibility" in raising school taxes in the village, is responding in a form much milder than the one favored by several trustees at last Tuesday's board meeting here.

Board Superintendent of Business D.N. Shuttleworth was deputed by the board to send a letter of explanation to Morrisburg Council explaining the increased education levy and how the board arrived at the amount that must be raised from Morrisburg ratepayers.

The letter is a compromise of sorts as at least three trustees were in favor of sending a representative to Council to explain their position and to give the municipality a better understanding of the board of education's mandate.

Several trustees, including Albert Morin and Eugene Legault, had harsh words for Mr. Dillabough. They, along with Mrs. Joan Findlay, were most in favor of personal board representation at a Morrisburg Council meeting and Mr. Legault was the most vocal in his criticism of the reeve.

He said he "felt sorry for the people of Morrisburg", whose reeve "doesn't understand" the board's jurisdiction and who "isn't very carful" about what he says".

What touched off the trustees' anger was a letter from the Morrisburg Reeve dated May 4 in which Mr. Dillabough said his Council was "astounded and angered to present to our ratepayers an education increase of 46.8 per cent over last year".

Mr. Dillabough's letter continues, "An increase of this magnitude certainly shows no sense of responsibility at all, particularly when, in days of restraints imposed on Councils with respect to all municipal expenditures. We strongly feel that the establishment of the Regional Board of Education was the instrument of destruction of the ability of our ratepayers to pay for this service."

Superintendent Shuttleworth already had a letter of reply to Mr. Dillabough drafted and presented it at last Tuesday's board meeting. But after a motion sponsored by trustee S.J. McLeod, it was shelved and a more graphic explanation is being prepared.

The reply will be sent to all those who received a copy of Mr. Dillabough's letter. These include Premier William Davis, provincial Liberal Leader Stuart Smith, Opposition Leader Stephen Lewis, all reeves in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, the Morrisburg Leader the Cornwall Standard Freeholder and the Chesterville Record.

Trustee Morin's was the only dissenting vote on Mr. McLeod's motion as the Cornwall board member held out for sending a representative to discuss the matter with Council.

Lower county levy softens education blow

Just as it says in the old English Music hall song, "It's the same the whole world over" as far as Eastern Ontario property taxes are concerned this year as increased education levies inflate mill rates.

This time it's Winchester Township, where residential public school supporters face an 11.27-mill hike and those on the commercial rate face an increase of 12.45 mills. On the separate school side, residential taxpayers will pay on the basis of an 8.32-mill hike and commercial ratepayers face a 10.14 increase.

Totals in the four categories are 97.18 and 110.38 for residential and commercial public supporters and 97.61 and 110.82 for residential and commercial separate school supporters.

Translated into dollars and cents, Winchester Township property owners face increases of $33.81 and $37.45 per $3,000 of assessment on the public school side and $24.96 and $30.42 on the separate school side.

The township will work a levy of $543.954 this year, up from the $515,000 it raised last year. Neither figure takes into account drainage debentures, which last year amounted to $65,000.

This year's taxes are based on an assessment of $4,085,305, which represents the first time the township has broke the $4-million assessment mark, according to township clerk-treasurer Glenn MacGregor.

The assessment is broken down to $3,348,940 in residential property and $736,365 in commercial property.

Of the total, the township will require $94,240 for its own purposes, up slightly over the amount it raised last year because of 1.36-mill increases residential and 1.6-mill commercial for township purposes.

According to Mr. MacGregor, the mill rate, struck at a special meeting of Council last Friday, could have climbed considerably higher. However, higher education requirements were partially written off by a decline in the levy for county purposes.

The county levy dropped 3.89 and 4.68 mills for residential and commercial properties, respectively. This is largely due, he said, to the fact that the township received a resource equalization grant of $58,400, $27,000 of which went to the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

The equalization grant is made by the provincial government and is designed to lessen the tax burden in areas of relatively low assessment. It is calculated on the basis of the municipality's expenses and tax base in the previous year.

The counties require $91,646 this year, but the lion's share of the property tax dollar will be taken for education, which accounts for $250,958. Although education levies are up, there isn't a corresponding hike in education spending as the province has forced boards of education to turn more to local taxation to raise their money.

Mr. MacGregor said he expects to have the township's tax bills in the mail by the end of this month. Tax instalments are due June 30 and September 30, he added.

The following are the 1976 mill rates for residential and commercial property owners in Winchester Township, with the 1975 rates following in brackets:

	Residential		Commercial
Township	22.38	(21.02)	26.33	(24.73)
County	14.80	(18.49)	17.17	(21.75)
Secondary School	27.40	(21.03)	30.44	(23.37)
Public School	32.80	(25.27)	36.44	(28.08)
Separate School	33.23	(27.75)	36.88	(30.83)
Totals P.S.	97.18	(85.81)	110.38	(97.93)
S.S.	97.61	(88.29)	110.82	(100.68)

Firehall addition gets approval

Approval has been given to the Chesterville Volunteer Fire Department to build an extension to the Victoria St. fire hall to house the department's growing inventory of firefighting equipment.

Village Council's assent for the project was given at its May meeting following the presentation by Chief Grenville Fyke and secretary Harold Edwards of a set of drawings showing preliminary plans for the 24x36-foot addition to the hall, originally built in 1867.

Council also gave the department its permission to begin negotiations for the purchase of property at the rear of the firehall for the addition.

Mr. Edwards prepared the presentation drawings and also had a preliminary cost estimate for the project, which he said would be in the neighborhood of $10,000. The project will require no structural changes to the existing building.

Mr. Fyke said the department needs more room for its facilities "as our building is getting so small now we have to walk in and back out".

Williamsburg gets reprieve

Members of the elementary panel of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education signify their approval of the School Closing Committee's recommendation that Williamsburg Public School be allowed to remain open at least until the end of the 1976-77 academic year at last Tuesday's board meeting in Cornwall. The committee had originally recommended that the old three-room school be closed at the end of this year and students bussed to Elma in September, but after a meeting with parents last month, members changed their minds and reversed their recommendation.

Horse pull here Sat.

Forty teams are expected to be entered in this Saturday's Eastern Ontario Horse Pulling Championships at the Chesterville Fairgrounds.

They'll be entered in two classes, under 3300 pounds and the heavy-weights, weighing 3300 pounds and over, and their teamsters will be competing for over $1,800 in prize money and trophies, according to Ken McNeely, RR3 Winchester, organizer of the event.

Local teams will be competing against those from across Ontario, Quebec, Northern New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan as old-fashioned horse pulling regains the popularity it once held at agricultural events across the country.

The horses will be urged on by their teamsters as they pull weights on a stone boat a minimum of 15 feet. The team lasting the longest as the weight increases, wins.

Ribbons will be awarded to the top 12 teams in each division at the end of the competition and trophies and prize money, ranging from $100 to the top teams to $20 for 12th-place finishers, will be awarded at the banquet and dance which follows in the Chesterville and District Arena.

Both the pulling event and dinner-dance are sponsored by the Chesterville and District Agricultural Society and Tickets for the latter event, catered by the Winchester Presbyterian Women, are set at $5 per person.

Admission to the grounds for the day is $2 for adults and children under 12 will be admitted free of charge. There will be a beer garden in the arena during the afternoon.

As far as the teams are concerned, there will be no entry fee and arrangements can be made with Mr. McNeely for accommodating horses at the Winchester Livestock Exchange.

Tri-county schools echo with sounds of the pipes

CORNWALL—A breath o'heather wafted through the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education offices here last Tuesday night with the Ontario Ministry of Education's announcement that the Great Highland Bagpipe Course, being taught in three SD&G secondary schools, has been accepted as a credit course.

The course has been taught on a non-credit basis by Pipe Major John MacKenzie since 1970 and earlier this year the tri-county board made application to the ministry to have it included in the secondary school curriculum as a credit course.

Director of Education Rosaire Leger announced at the meeting that ministry approval has been granted and the 60 students in the course, at Char-Lan, Tagwi and Glengarry highschools, will receive their credits beginning in the 1976-77 academic year.

This is probably the only school area in North America offering such a course for credit and it comes only two years after the Scottish Department of Education gave its assent for the course to be taught in schools in that country.

Mr. MacKenzie said although official recognition has come two years after it was granted in the homeland of Highland piping, the course has been in existence here longer than in Scotland.

He first began teaching piping in 1970, following his retirement from the Royal Canadian Air Force and his move to Maxville where he still resides, beginning from scratch with most of his students and building interest in the course to the point where the overwhelming majority of the members of the Glengarry and District Pipe and Drum Band are graduates of or students in his courses. In addition to the three SD&G schools and the band, he teaches 16 students in a night course in Vankleek Hill.

Pipe Major MacKenzie comes with a wealth of qualifications as instructor of this novel course.

He was a piper in the British armed forces through World War II and was piper to the Royal Household through the reign of King George VI and the early years of Queen Elizabeth's reign before joining the RCAF in 1952 and starting the air force's pipe band.

The Scottish native started his career at the age of nine at the Queen Victoria School, a military school in Scotland for the sons of servicemen wounded or killed in WWI.

At 15 he joined the renowned Scots Guards as a boy piper and at 18 began service with his regiment through the British Eighth Army's North African campaigns.

After returning home at the conclusion of the Allies' successful campaign in North Africa, he was made Pipe Major of the Guards Training Battalion and at the end of WWII he was transferred back to the Scots Guards where, as Pipe Major, he served as piper to the Royal Household.

Mr. MacKenzie joined the RCAF in 1952 and was transferred to Canadian Forces Base Rockcliffe in 1954, serving as pipe major there until his retirement.

Students in the Great Highland Bagpipe Instrumental Music Course are taught from scratch. Mr. MacKenzie said he is one of the few Pipe Majors who is willing to start with the basics of instruction in the highly complex music of the bagpipe, but he knows his efforts have paid handsome dividends.

Through the GHBC, tri-county students progress through the elementaries of the subject with some of the outstanding students able to handle the pibroch - Scottish classical piping. This is equivalent to attending the Royal Conservatory of Music for musicians on such instruments as the piano.

Students begin by learning the handling and care of their instruments. Then it's quite a while until they are even allowed to start on the pipes.

Mr. MacKenzie said the bagpipes are the only instrument in the world on which beginners are started on another instrument. They begin on a bagpipe-like instrument called a chanter, which is basically a set of pipes without the bag.

After spending six months on the chanter to learn fingering and breathing, they progress to the real thing and after about three years, if they show sufficient aptitude, they will have progressed to the point where they can play as a band piper.

After a piper has been playing for some time, he or she will have 300 or 400 tunes in their head, as pipers are not taught from a score but by memory, Mr. MacKenzie explained.

There has always been an interest in piping in Canada, but the music's popularity has increased so much in recent years that there are now more pipers in this country than in the home of Highland Music, according to Mr. MacKenzie.

He said Class A Canadian bands can now "hold their own in competitions with the best in Scotland" and most of this country's top professionals have learned their art in Canada.

Keep best, cull the rest

Culling the commercial sow herd is a job that requires continual attention and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and food suggests one-third of sow herds should be culled each year. This means in a 100 sow herd approximately three cull-sows should be marketed each and every month, swine specialist Andy Bunn recommends.

Probably the best time to assess what sows should be culled is at weaning time. A sow that has weaned a below-herd-average number of pigs is a prime candidate for culling.

Remember, first-litter gilts will normally wean one pig less and a sow that has weaned an uneven, unthrifty litter should be looked at with a jaundiced eye. Sows with physical defects — lameness, lumps or abscesses — should be culled. Poor breeders or sows that have returned to heat one or more times during past pregnancies should also be culled.

An easy method of maintaining records on each sow is by use of sow and litter cards, Mr. Bunn says. These cards are often available from feed dealers or local agricultural offices. They indicate sow number, pigs born alive, pigs weaned or any other valuable comments the pig breeder may wish to record on the performance of a sow. Sow summary cards are also available and can maintain a permanent lifetime record of each sow in the herd. These records can be easily maintained in a three-ring binder.

If possible, replacement gilts should be selected from within which will reduce the possibility of bringing disease into the herd. These gilts should have good growth rates (200 pounds at 160 days), be lean (under 0.80 inch back fat), have good underlines (12 to 14 teats with no inverted nipples) and good feet and legs.

Commercial pork producers now may have their replacement gilts weighed and probed by technicians employed by the Live Stock Branch. Application forms are available from the Livestock Commissioner, Live Stock Branch, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario M7A 1B4.

School board's reply

Director of Education Rosaire Leger entered the discussion saying that while trustees are accountable to the ratepayers of the United Counties, their responsibility is direct and they shouldn't be held accountable to municipal Councils.

Trustees McLeod and Legault said if a representative were sent to Morrisburg "we'd end up standing in front of every council in SD&G".

Mr. Shuttleworth's first letter pointed out to Council that the reason for the increased levy this year was the small percentage increase in property assessment in the village this year. Morrisburg's increase for elementary schools was 2.3 per cent and 1.8 per cent in the secondary panel, while the increases across the school district were 3.91 per cent and 2.75 per cent, respectively.

Mr. Shuttleworth also pointed out that the assessment equalizing factor, set up by the Ministry of Education and designed to standardize assessment across the school division, is the lowest in Morrisburg of all SD&G municipalities. Morrisburg's is 21.66 per cent while the average is 26.84 per cent and the highest in SD&G is 36.8 per cent.

The lower the equalization factor, the higher a municipality's education costs will be, Mr. Shuttleworth told The Record Monday afternoon. Villages with assessment low in comparison with actual property values will have even higher school taxes, if that is coupled with a low assessment equalization factor. Such is the case in Morrisburg, he said.

The superintendent's letter to Council will also point out that Morrisburg's portion of the total SD&G levy this year declined over 1975 costs.

The village's 1976 public school requisition was 3.096 per cent and secondary school was 2.462 per cent of the total raised in SD&G. In 1975, Morrisburg was assessed 3.145 per cent and 2.487 per cent, respectively.

350 attend careers program

KEMPTVILLE — Two recent over-night Career Search programs brought 350 young people from all corners of Eastern Ontario to visit the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

Career Search is a service sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and the Kemptville college to prospective students interested in a future in agriculture or food and fashion.

Tours, demonstrations, class participation, and entertainment kept the visitors busy, while giving them an insight into courses available at the college and the variety of employment avenues open upon graduation.

Food and fashion followers were amazed at their own talent and each girl went home with a T-shirt she made during a session in the clothing and textiles lab.

Visitors in the agriculture group had a tour of the G. Howard Ferguson Forest Station incorporated into their program.

The enthusiasm of these high school students indicates that interest in agriculture continues to increase, a release from the College States.

At the farewell luncheon, Principal John Curtis and Associate Principal Ruth Shaver stressed that applications were much above normal for this date in both agriculture and food and fashion and that anyone seriously considering enrolling at KCAT this fall should apply soon as facilities are filling fast and a cut-off quota for new students might be necessary.

GO Zero Concord FROM TEAT TO TANK!

The ZERO CONCORD is the only system that provides stable milking vacuum at the teat end — in parlor or stanchion barn — with a low or high, short or long, pipeline — and without injecting air into the milker units to move the milk. Only with stable vacuum and no air injection can you hope to reduce leucocyte counts up to 65% — increase milk production as much as 20% — and prevent off-flavor and rancid milk.

The safe, stable vacuum is made possible by a patented, scientific principle . . . TWIN-VACUUM . . . whereby one vacuum milks the cows, and a different vacuum moves the milk through a separate pipeline into the bulk tank. In addition — thanks to ZERO's patented SPATTER-SPRAY Automatic Washer and new, improved, high-capacity, transparent milker unit — you have built-in, "push-button", visible self-cleaning and sanitizing of the entire system — without disassembling. And there are many other advantages.

Stormont Institute District Annual

INGLESIDE — A very successful Annual Meeting was held in the United Church here Wed., May 12, hosted by the Ingleside Women's Institute Branch.

Registration at 9am showed 74 members and guests in attendance. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. D.R. Ouderkirk, Finch, for the singing of O Canada and the opening exercises.

The minutes of the last District Annual were read and the financial report was given by past president Mrs. C.E. Smith, Cornwall, and for the secreatry treasurer, Mrs. Fred Beer, Cornwall, who was unable to attend. This was followed by the auditor's report and it was noted the year ended in good standing for the District's WI.

Mrs. Ouderkirk welcomed all visitors and members and invited all to join in a brief sing-a-long. The concept of 'enthusiasm' was taken as the main theme of her address to the meeting.

Reports were given by all standing committee conveners showing a wide and varied range of accomplishments.

Highlights of the year included the repair of the Memorial Cairn in Berwick, the adoption of a girl in Kenya by the Ingleside branch and the sponsorship of Sharon Anne Cleary, winner in the Stormont Sweetheart Fair.

Mrs. C.E. McCaffrey, Board Director, discussed the reports and congratulated the ladies on their concise and interesting reports. She followed this with the report from the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario (FWIO) and then conducted the ceremony for the ratification of the district directors.

The 'In Memorium' was conducted by Mrs. G. Casselman, Berwick, public relations officer for the district.

Following the announcements the meeting was adjourned for lunch in the hall where tables were adorned with spring flowers and luncheon served by the United Church ladies.

The afternoon session proved to be busy and enjoyable and opened with the singing of the 'Hymn of all nations'.

Mrs. Dorothy Morgan, Ingleside, extended a warm welcome from the ladies of the hosting unit and announced next year's meeting is to be held in Osnabruck Centre.

The 4-H Club Work Report was given by Mary Michels, SD&G Home Economist. Miss Michels thanked all branches for their work during the year and asked for their support in the coming year, particularly with regards to returning all forms and questionnaires promptly to her office.

The election and installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. G.R. McCaffery after which she answered questions from the question box.

Resolutions were presented by Mrs. E. McDermid of Moose Creek.

New business was brought forth and discussed and it was announced that Mrs. Dorothy Morgan, Ingleside, had won in the Bernice Noblitt Award with her entry of a short play entitled 'The Witch of Plum Hollow'.

Stormont District has been asked to perform this play in the forthcoming area meeting in Ottawa and Mrs. Morgan has been appointed chairman over a committee of five to arrange for auditions for the nine characters in this play.

Warmest congratulations were extended to Mrs. Morgan by all present at the meeting, after which the meeting was adjourned and closed with 'God Save the Queen'.

Quebec City here we come

Grade Six students at Chesterville Public School got a taste of French Canadian culture last week, visiting Quebec City on a three-day excursion after they spent seven months raising money for the trip. Fund raising activities included school sales and donations from various community groups and during their trip, the students visited the Quebec Aquarium, the Plains of Abraham, Citadel, Notre Dame Church, Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Montmorency Falls, a wax museum, a replica of Jacques Cartier's ship anchored in the St. Charles River, the Musee du Fort and travelled across the St. Lawrence to Levis by ferry. They left Chesterville at 8:30am Wednesday, arriving home Friday evening.

UNDERMINING LAWFUL AUTHORITY: The Canadian Labor Congress's demands that the federal Anit-Inflation Board be done away with and replaced with a tri-partite body comprising government, business and labor shows that both the labor organization's members and its leadership have, at best, a shallow understanding of the democratic process. Governments are elected for and by the country at large and are not beholden to the special interest of any pressure groups, whether they be business or labor. CLC president Joe Morris is attemtping to subvert the authority of the Canadian Parliament with his proposal which states that the leadership of the two groups should be consulted if ever and whenever they feel their interests are not being looked after as best they might. Neither labor nor business are shadow governments and neither forms part of the Official Opposition. Granted, the job of their leaders is to represent their respective positions, but their job is circumscribed by representation only. They must not be allowed to usurp power legally delegated to the government of the entire country. If the government knuckles under to their threats, then it might as well prorogue Parliament indefinitely and replace it with an economic triumvirate whose most distinguishing characteristics will be mistrust, tired rhetoric and venality. - RM.

A MESSAGE TO McKEOUGH: Finch Township Council's endorsation Monday night of a Western Ontario municipality's motion that the method of assessment of property taxes in this province be brought up to date is one that should be acted on by municipal governments across Ontario and brought to bear on Queen's Park. The proposal asked for support of Hope Township's motion that the system of assessment equalization factors, used to compute municipalities' education requisitions, should be put more into line with reality now that the province has postponed its planned institution of true assessment (under which taxes would be paid on the true value of property with a corresponding reduction in mill rates to achieve the same tax base until 1978. The assessment equalization factor is what has created the recent squabble between the SD&G County Board of Education and Morrisburg Village Council. As the Province hands more responsibility back to local Councils and school boards for raising their own money, the province should at the same time undertake to modernize the tax system. The current infighting raging over local taxation isn't achieving anything and in too many cases is based on limited understandings of an overly-complex and out of date tax system. - RM.

by wyn thompson

Nobody asked me but...I haven't heard much haranguing about the cost of food lately. The press being inundated with the threats of rising oil prices, no doubt.

And me so well armed with statistics to support the farmer's cause. The pity of it all...because I'm not noted for ever being in a state of preparedness.

So here goes anyway...did you know that farmers have increased their productivity by 100 percent per person in the last 20 years, while other sectors have increased output per person by 50 percent.

And consumers should remember that forty cents of their food dollar actually goes to farmers. "The other 60 percent goes to the many, many middlemen that process, advertise, transport and package the food." These words came from the mouth of federal Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan.

He produced a spate of statistics to support his statement. For example, last year the Consumer Price Index rose by 9.1 percent - the lowest year-to-year increase in two years. Yet food prices accounted for just over one-fifth of that 9.1 percent hike. "The way the press blows it up, however, you would think that food was responsible for 90 percent of the increase."

In fact food prices have actually decreased four times in the last six months, Mr. Whelan said.

During the past 12 months, food prices have increased less than housing (11.5 percent); transportation (12.7 percent); health and personal care (10.1 percent); and recreation (7.2 percent). Food prices rose only 7.1 percent in that period.

Whelan recently debunked the theory that Americans enjoy cheaper food because of their less-regulated economy. "It's not the people of the United States, nor the economic system that's beating down inflation. It's the farmers that are doing all the fighting because they are taking less in return for their products even though their cost of production might still be rising....I don't think it's fair that farmers should be the only people to do all the fighting of inflation."

As for the dairy problem, Whelan defended his decision not to cut the price of industrial milk products by saying, "A lot of people are saying farmers should cut their prices of milk so consumption will increase and Canada will get rid of its surpluses. That's their solution to get rid of the surplus skim milk powder: cut wages of farmers so everyone else can live a little cheaper and get rid of the surpluses. But if I were to suggest that all wage earners should take a cut in their pay, then would you hear the howls!" Bravo, my hero!

Did you know that...15 years ago Ontario farmers produced more beef, pork, poultry, milk, eggs and vegetables than Ontarians ate. By 1973-74 production met consumption in only two of those six commodities (eggs and vegetables.) That year only 73 percent of the beef; 85 percent of the pork; 98 percent of the poultry and 88 percent of the milk consumed in Ontario was produced in Ontario.

Furthermore, production of fruit had dropped from 88 percent of consumption to 62 percent. In potatoes, production dropped from 97 to 58 percent of consumption. If this trend continues to 1985, Ontario farmers' production of these commodities as a percentage of consumption will be: beef, 57; pork, 71; poultry, 83; milk, 58; vegetables, 115; eggs, 110; fruit, 51 and potatoes, 46.

A table showing this startling information was the focus of the OFA annual submission to the provincial cabinet and the opposition parties. Why has this happened? Didn't Ontario farmers need the additional $360 million the extra production would have generated in 1973-74?

Using the multiplier rate of seven, this additional farm income could have generated an extra $2.52 billion in business volume for the Ontario economy. Don't the firms supplying Ontario farms with inputs, the firms processing Ontario farm products, and those servicing Ontario's agribusiness community want a share of these dollars?

Ontario should not be unsympathetic to Canadian farmers in sister provinces who wish to share the market. But why are Ontario farmers losing out? Transportation costs are less, our land is fertile and the climate more favorable. Our farmers are industrious and ingenious, adopting new technology quickly.

Could it be that one of the problems is that control of our agribusiness firms has fallen into the hands of a few conglomerates like George Weston Ltd., Argus Corporation and their international companies.

Argus owns or has interest in: Dominion Stores, General Bakeries, Massey-Ferguson, New Idea, Maple Leaf Mills, Canada Packers and Trans-Canada Freezers. The Weston conglomerate spans Red and White Stores, Luckey Dollar, Super Save, Maple Leaf Stores, Shop-Rite Stores, Loblaws, Donlands Dairies, Royal Dairy, West-Can Sugar, McCarthy Mills, National Grocers, York Trading and Zehrs. Then there are four bakeries, including the giant Weston Bread. And the price of bread is going up again shortly! Will the wheat farmer see a penny?

Surely a government of the people, for the people and by the people must recognize the opportunity that exists lurking on the horizon for both farmers and agribusiness. Remember "dwindling agriculture costs economy $2.5 billion!"

And we've been told...rather than "work your butts off producing food, then spend a lot of time apologizing for what you do," farmers should try to explain to their city cousins what a highly professional and technical business agriculture is today.

"Contact the editors of your local papers and news directors of the radio and television stations...they'll be glad to hear from you," a farm journalist advises. Also letters to politicians carry a lot of clout.

Recently in a spirited defence of producer-controlled marketing boards, this same journalist warned that farmers are otherwise defenceless against giants such as the Argus Corporation and Power Corp. These two holding companies "can control your product from the time it leaves your farm to the time it reaches the consumers' table. Yet they don't want you to organize!"

Strong farm organizations can help maintain a basic industry that provides jobs for 35 percent of Ontario's work force, he added.

Turning to research spending, only $18-$20 million is spent on farm research. Since agriculture in Ontario grosses around $2.3 billion a year, less than one percent is spent on research..."in this high-technology industry."

So, there you have the whole shovelful! Looks as though the farmer should not always be content to take the hind tit.

Fire caused more than $400 damage to a hearse belonging to Thomas W. Cain, Montreal undertaker, Monday afternoon near Summerstown, en route to Morrisburg from Montreal in the funeral cortege of Mrs. Charles Mills of Montreal.

This week, Mr. Sim Bogart, Chesterville's veteran blacksmith, wrought special sets of horseshoes for Dr. M. W. Locke's string of harness horses which are in training at Williamsburg. Mr. Bogart for many years has made a specialty of this work and his shoes have been fitted to many high class horses when Chesterville was a centre of racing. Some of the shoes in this latest set tip the scales at five ounces.

Early Sunday morning, Mahlon Ault of Matilda Township was instantly killed when a car in which he was riding with Basil Ault, the driver, his brother, Donald Ault, and Wellington Keck crashed into the side of a freight train at the crossing north of the linen mills at Iroquois, on the Canadian National Railway.

On Sunday morning, Mother's Day service, two Junior Certificates and pins were awarded at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Barrie, as leader of the Mission Band, was in charge of this part of the service. Miss Gwellda MacDillivray received a Junior Certificate, Miss Mary David reading the address. Miss Audrey McIntosh presented the certificate and Miss Susie Liscombe presented the pin. Miss Agnes McNaul received a Junior Certificate, Miss Ethelwyn Barrie read the address, Miss Ethel Smirle presented the certificate and Miss Dorothy Liscombe presented the pin.

The suggestion has been made that as there is likelihood of the Ottawa and New York Railway between the capital and Cornwall being abandoned, that the right-of-way be turned into a more direct motor route between these two points and a direct connection given at the border where the bridge has been adapted to motor traffic. The shortest improved route between Ottawa and Cornwall is by way of Highway 31 to a mile south of Winchester, then by a continuation of Highway 7 through Chesterville and Finch to Monkland, thence straight south to Cornwall, with the distance but little over 70 miles. All but a few miles of this route is surfaced country road, and all of it could be made into No. 7 Highway without great expense.

This district had almost as many varieties of weather in yesterday's round of the clock as the well-advertised fifty-seven, but perhaps luckily for most people they were under the blankets when Old Boreas did his worst, which was at about three o'clock yesterday morning when a raging blizzard swept over the countryside in a blinding snowstorm.

FROM THE RECORD
THURS., MAY 23, 1946

Attended by a crowd of more than 500 farmers, which more than taxed the capacity of the Chesterville Community Hall Tuesday night, members of the Chesterville Local, Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers Association, passed resolutions demanding $3 per hundred for their milk, and with almost 400 signatures backed up the demand with the promise to the Ontario Head office to strike in this action if necessary. J. Frank Casselman, president of the Chesterville local, C. Allison Graham, treasurer and Alex Little, representative from Russell, were in charge of the meeting.

An impressive ceremonial drill followed the inspection of Chesterville High School's Cadet Corps by Major T. C. Holmes, D.C.O., Kingston, Monday afternoon. The local cadets marched past in columns of platoons and in route and advanced in review order. The Chesterville Cadets are led by officers C.C.Gordon Fulton; C.S.M. Douglas Hough; 21C Neil Kelly and Q.M.S. Ronald McIntosh. The other boy officers are No. 1 Platoon - Lieut. Ernest Fawcett, Sgt. Kenneth Coughlar; Cpls. Floyd Taylor, Bob Cross and Bob Hummel, and L.Cpls. Garry Smith, Tommy Moran and Henry Feeley. Girl Officers are No. 2 Platoon - Lieut. Evelene Masterson, Sgt. Ardeth Justus, Cpls. Lois Renwick, Margery Thom, Katherine Servage, L. Cpls. Marion Bell, Doreen Wagner, Helen Armstrong; No. 3 Platoon - Lieut. Rita Paul, Sgt. Helen Masterson, Cpls. Muriel Julyan, Marion Klingval, Leona Manley, L. Cpls. Marguerite McCadden, Cassie Moriarty and Beth McKercher.

Torrential rains which commenced Thursday and continued throughout the weekend, brought a definite halt to seeding operations throughout this district in general with a large portion of the province.

Most of the business in Chesterville will be closed tomorrow, May 24th, in observance of Victoria Day.

Chesterville may soon have a "Free" Public Library in place of the present Library Board Association if enthusiasm shown at a meeting of the Library Board last night, and Women's Institute addressed by Mr. Angus Mowat, Inspector of Public Libraries for Ontario, is any criterion.

FROM THE RECORD
THURS., MAY 24, 1956

Christian Family Day was observed in Morewood United Church at the morning service. Rev. D. L. Gordon was in charge. The rite of baptism was administered to Deborah Katherine, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stewart; Angus Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Halford Crump; Carl Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mattice, and Gary Hubert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Merkley.

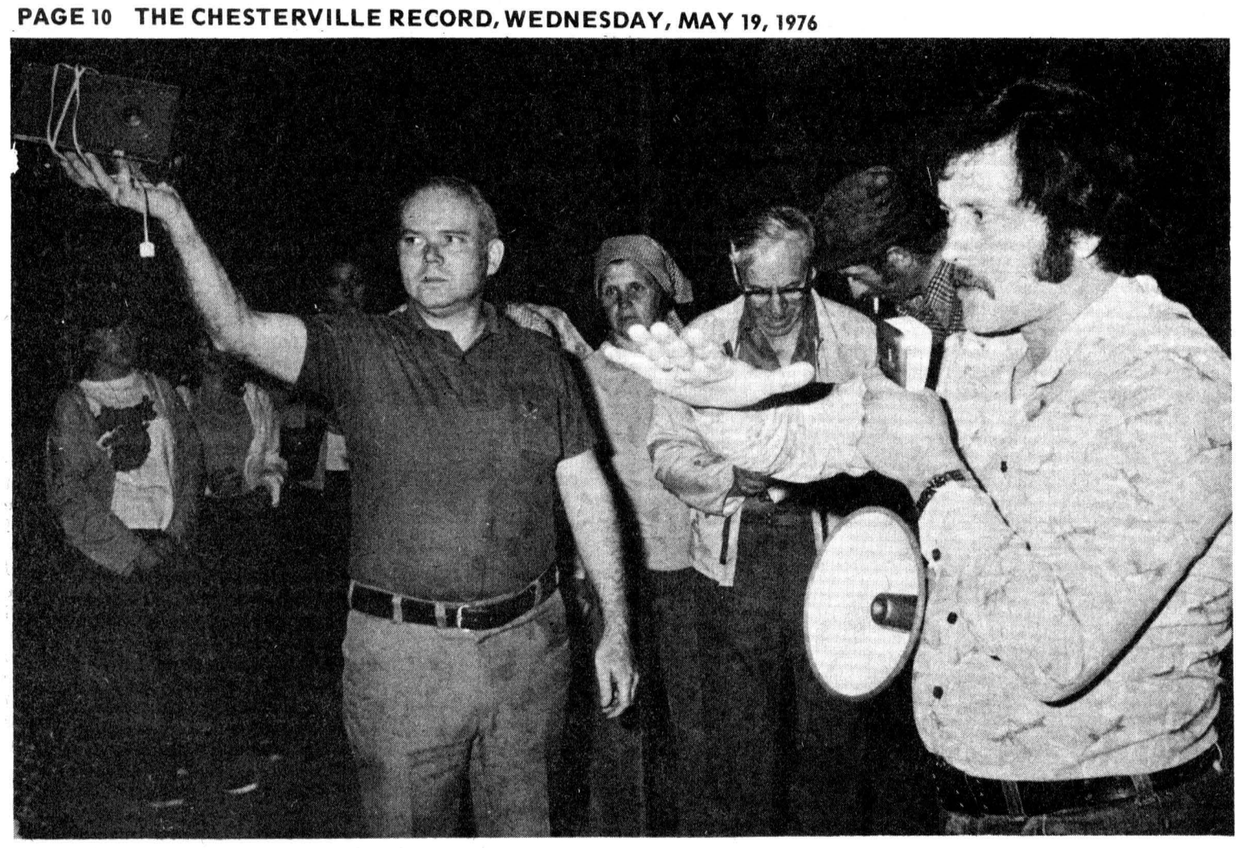
A good turnout of Williamsburg ball players and members of the executive attended the organization meeting of the Softball Club, held at Locketon Lodge. A successful 1955 season was reviewed with the highlights being the capturing of the league championship for the third year in a row. In the election of officers, Ross Wingard will again head the club as manager; Arden Trickey will remain as coach, with Carl Laushway getting the new post as assistant coach. George K. Casselman is the new treasurer, succeeding Graham Garlough.

Last weekend many fishermen reported good catches in spite of the cold and damp. Those trying their luck on the Rideau seemed to share the best strings. Bert Gillard and Wm. Nash each boated pickerel in the 7-pound class, running about 28 inches long. John Rennison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rennison, snaffled a pickerel even larger from the end of the Lannin Wharf when he was trying for mudpouts and Bill Lannin proved himself a true fisherman when he landed and released a muskie over three feet long.

The siren warned of a fire Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. The long, sustained blast meant a fire in the country and the blaze was found to be in the roof of the home of Kenneth Merkley on the Nation River Road west of the first bridge.

Last week's Record reported miserable weather, with crops 'way behind and cold and rain at hand every other day. It has not changed much in the week since. Some respite has been offered in the way of drier skies and tractors have been humming day and night, but the cold waves are with us. With forty degree nights, we are mixing our seasons.

Australia — Production of beef and veal for 1976 is forecast at 1.75 million metric tons, up 5.6 per cent from 1975 and substantially above the 1.3 million reported in 1974. Cattle numbers in Australia appear to be levelling off, though the potential production of beef and veal remains high.



Going once, going twice, gone

School board's taxation methods perplex Council

BERWICK — Finch Township Council still can't understand how the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education assesses the township for its education taxes.

The township was the only municipality of 21 in the board's jurisdiction that was underlevied on the board's high school panel last year. That means the amount the board requires from Finch Township ratepayers is $9,000 over and above the 1976 levy, as that is the amount of the 1975 underpayment.

"I can't understand how they figure it out. We've paid them for everything they've asked for," township clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey said at Monday night's Council meeting here after reading a letter from the board. He said it was the more surprising in light of the fact that most communities are over-levied and get credit for their overpayments from last year to this.

In other business at a light meeting that still managed to stretch past 11pm, Council was informed by the province that the Legault subdivision in Crysler has received OMB approval and when the subdivider meets township requirements, the subdivider can be registered at the Stormont County Land Registry Office in Cornwall.

Council set the wheels of its approval in motion Monday night with a resolution passed to contact the municipality's solicitor to wrap up the matter.

Council appointed Deputy Reeve Hugh Shaver to fill the vacancy on the Lower St. Lawrence Planning Board following the May 4, resignation of Charles E. Johnstone as reeve. The planning board met in Cornwall Centre Tuesday evening.

Monday night's meeting was the first regular session at which newly-appointed Reeve Johnson Ouderkirk occupied the chairman's seat. Mr. Ouderkirk was chosen reeve at the same special meeting at which Mr. Shaver was moved up to the deputy post.

Council will operate with a vacant seat on Council until the December municipal elections because of the former reeve's resignation. Had Mr. Johnstone resigned from office before March 31, an election would have been required to fill the vacancy. However, his resignation came after March 31 in an election year and does not require an election.

Council received another tile drainage request Monday night, this one for $4,900 and the request has been filed and will be acted upon only if the provincial Ministry of Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs releases more funds for municipal tile drain allocations.

The township has already received more requests than it can handle in this year of restraints, although there are indications from the province that allocations will be increased because of the hardships the cutbacks are creating this year.

Four North Dundas athletes take top regional meet honors

Thirteen was the lucky number last Friday for North Dundas District High School track and field athletes at the SD&G Regional Championships held at General Vanier Secondary School as that was the number of competitors who qualified for the Eastern Ontario Secondary School qualifying meet in Kingston this week.

North Grenville also dominated the outstanding athletes awards at the regional meet as four local students combined to bring home top honors in three categories.

Rose Hauch and Brian Paul made it a clean sweep in the senior division and Julie Holmes and Kathy Workman tied for top junior girl athlete.

Rose again outdistanced the senior girls in field events, taking first in the shot put and discus and a fourth in the javelin while Brian was the class of the senior boys middle distance events. He took firsts in the 1500-m. and 800-m. and placed fourth in the long jump.

Julie Holmes sprinted to first place finishes in the junior girls 100- and 200-m. events while Kathy Workman tied her for tops in the division with first-place finishes in the 80-m. hurdles and long jump.

North Dundas picked up two other firsts at the meet, both in girls' events with the junior 4x100 relay team winning going away and JoAnne Graves taking the midget girls high jump.

The top three finishers in each event won the right to compete at the EOSSA meet Friday, with winners and second-place qualifiers there travelling to the All Ontario meet in Etobicoke Stadium, Toronto, June 4 and 5.

Making the trip to Queens University's Richardson Stadium this Friday along with the first-place finishers will be Steve Thatcher, second in the senior boys shot put; Don Sidney, second in the senior boys 100-m.; Dave McIntosh, third in the senior boys 3000-m.; Neil Kittle, second in the junior boys 200-m.; Debbie Patterson, third in the midget girls high jump; Karen Blom, second in the midget girls 200-m., and the senior boys relay team, which placed third in the 4x100m. event.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I am a woman in my 60's who works as a volunteer in a nursing home. For a long time I have witnessed the impact of the clerical collar. Even though it may be uncomfortable at times, it adds a great deal of dignity. Furthermore, the collar identifies the wearer as a man who is doing God's work. It is his "badge of office". People respect it.

My husband died in the home where I now do volunteer work. Our pastor used to come often to chat with him. The pastor was extremely kind and supportive. He always wore his collar.

After my husband passed away, the pastor took to calling on me at my apartment in the early evening. He wore a shirt and tie and a plaid sport jacket. I finally asked him please not to come anymore although I didn't tell him why. Actually, I was concerned about what the neighbours might think.

Please Ann, if you agree with me,print this letter for those of us who are too shy to speak out.

The Old Way Was Better

Dear Better: While the clerical collar does nothing to improve the quality of the man who wears it, I agree it adds dignity. And, as you said, it insures immediate recognition.

Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I like the look of the clerical collar. Any man can wear a plaid sport jacket. The collar represents something special.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married 15 years. We have two wonderful children and a beautiful home, many friends and no money trouble. There's only one problem and it's MINE, not OURS.

Walter and I were married only a year when he was drafted into the army and sent to Korea. He was gone 13 months. Not a day went by that we didn't write to each other. When he returned we were like newlyweds.

Several times during these past 14 years, Walter has asked me if I ever cheated on him when he was in Korea. I did not and told him so repeatedly. Last year he became unusually persistent in his questioning. Suddenly I understood why. He was feeling guilty about something. Well, I was right. Walter confessed that he and several buddies went to a Korean house of prostitution to relieve a physical need.

That ended our marriage in my heart. I am crushed. I think about it day and night. I don't trust him to go for a newspaper. I feel totally betrayed and can't shake this depression. Why' oh why did he have to tell me? Please help if you can.

What I Didn't Know Didn't Hurt Me

Dear Didn't Know: Your attitude is immature and lacking in compassion. Moreover, your inability to forgive and forget has made you sick. I suggest counselling at one.

Dear Ann Landers: My dad's sister lives 60 miles from here. Aunt Mae comes to town every weekend. She used to sleep in the guest room, but my sis got a divorce and moved in there. So Aunt Mae has been sleeping on the sofa.

We got a new sofa last week and Mom doesn't want Aunt Mae to sleep on it. Dad says her weight (about 170) is less than two people sitting on it. Last night they argued past midnight. What do you think??

Reno Wrangle

Dear Reno: If your mom doesn't want Aunt Mae to sleep on the new sofa, that ought to settle it. Your dad should buy a cot for his sister and end the wrangling already.

Don't flunk your chemistry test. Love is more than one set of glands calling to another. If you have trouble making a distinction you need Ann's booklet, "Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference." Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request and 50 cents in coin to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Haylage harvest precautions

More and more farmers in Eastern Ontario are making the switch to haylage. They have grown tired of slugging 50 or 60 pound bales and trying to outguess the weatherman in June. An automated system of feed handling is much more attractive to today's farmers, says OMAF soils and crop specialist D.L. Massey.

The haylage system is not without its problems and several factors affect how well haylage is preserved in the silo. One of these factors is the length of cut of forages.

A study of 12 farms in Brant county in 1975 showed that a large portion, up to 43 per cent in one case, of the forage going into the silo was over 1¼ inches in length. Long, stringy material may be four or five inches in length. This material tends to be fluffy and will not pack as well as a short cut unless top management is employed, Mr. Massey says.

The probability of encountering heat damage to protein is greater if the haylage is cut very long. Compaction of haylage to exclude air from the mass becomes very important with horizontal silos where poor management can lead to excessive storage losses.

Sharp knives and proper knife settings on the forage harvester are necessary to obtain a short cut. Farmers should refer to their operator's manual for instructions on setting the shear bar to a minimum knife clearance. A ¼ inch to ⅜ inch "theoretical" cut is recommended. Since many of the stems of a windrow will not feed in straight, the actual length of cut should average about twice the theoretical cut, or ½ to ¾ inch.

Remember that groundhog mounds and stony fields can soon dull the sharpest knives, Mr. Massey warns.

Knife sharpness should be checked after every field is harvested as dull knives will increase power requirements and slow down harvesting rate.

The cutting length of haylage put up by dairy producers should be a compromise between the short cut required for good packing and the longer cut needed to provide dairy cattle with their roughage requirements. In summary, cut the forage long enough to pack well, he concludes.

Euchre winners

AVONMORE — A large crowd attended the Euchre held in Avonmore centre under the auspices of the ACAA.

The following were the winners: Ladies first, Annie Parker, second, Eva McHugh, third, Mrs. Carl Waldroff; Gents first, Howard Eamon, second, Neil Cleary, third, Sinclair Feek; door prize C. O. Byene.

Argentina — Beef production rose 16 per cent in 1975, and a further rise of 8 per cent this year is anticipated. Argentine cattle numbers are expected to decline 1 to 2 per cent in 1976. Beef consumption in the Argentine rose to almost 200 lbs. per capita in 1975.

NORTH DUNDAS DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Linda & Laura Holmes

Seven days have passed and the events of another week have accumulated. This week's excitement started early when the boys relay teams travelled to Mirvale and the midgets claimed a fifth; the juniors won a third, and the senior boys won a third and a fifth in their races.

Friday the EOSSA qualifying meet took place in Cornwall. Last Saturday many more awards were claimed at the Cornwall Legion meet. Julie Holmes, Rosemary Hauch and Brian Paul made fine performances and were each credited with two firsts in their events. Chris McIntosh, Neil Kittle and Steve Thatcher received second place in their events. Don Sidney placed third in both of his races. Neil Kittle and Karen Blom achieved fourth place awards.

Once again the halls are lined with a variety of posters incouraging students to vote for their favourite candidate. The campaigns for the 1976-77 Student Council Executive elections is in full swing. Votes were cast Wednesday.

Everyone has been invited to the spring prom. Tickets for this memorable event went on sale last week.

Many students from the school have entries in the art exhibition in Cornwall. In total four schools are displaying entries. This exhibition runs from May 11-23.

On Thursday, the Society Helpers held their annual spring bake sale. All proceeds were in aid of their orphan.

The Senior band has returned home from an enjoyable and a memorable trip to Binghamton. Fine concerts were presented and they were well received.

SEAWAY DISTRICT H.S.

PER ARDUA AD ASTRA

IROQUOIS—The aim of the French Program is to teach students enough basic vocabulary and structures, so that when given the opportunities, some communication will be possible. Many students do well enough that at the end of five years they can easily understand and converse with French-speaking Canadians.

However, the regular school program must be supplemented and two excellent opportunities are available to Seaway students at all levels.

The first is the exchange program sponsored by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews during the month of July. A Seaway student is matched to a French Canadian student on the basis of sex, interest, education, etc.

Because the Olympics are being held in Quebec this summer, Quebec students will be visiting their partners during the first two weeks of the exchange. The Seaway student then returns with his-her partner to Quebec for two weeks.

It should be remembered that the primary purpose of the exchange is the immersion of the visitor into the home and language of their partner. Total cost of the exchange is $35 plus pocket money.

The second opportunity is the immersion summer school course offered by the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board. It is being held between July 5 and August 6 at Glengarry District High School in Alexandria. The course consists of four hours of formal classes (emphasis on oral) in an air-conditioned language laboratory and three hours of sports and activities, all of which will be done in French. The wrinkle in this program is that students will be living at the home of a French Canadian family from Monday evening to Friday morning. All transportation is provided. There is a registration fee of $50 plus room and board.

Seaway French teachers strongly endorse either of these programs. For further information, contact John McAllister at the school. (652-4878).

Church youth work subject of committee

Brockville Presbytery, through its Committee on Congregational Life, has commissioned its special Youth Work Committee under the convenership of Rev. E. Earle Eaton of Chesterville.

The committee will undertake a through analysis of Christian youth work as it relates both to local churches and on a collective Presbytery basis. It will take the form of a study of successful Christian youth societies in other Presbyteries and in churches of other denominations; an examination of available courses of study for teen-agers and a study of the entire philosophy of Christian youth work, with a critical presentation of its findings to the Presbytery.

The Committee on Youth Work includes, besides the convener, Mr. and Mrs. James Gursby of Kemptville, Mrs. John Clark of Mountain, Miss Anne Yee of Iroquois, Mrs. John Degray of Morrisburg as music director at rally events, Rev. A.J. Morrison of Cardinal as P.Y.P.S. adviser, Rev. Howard D. Smith of Winchester as Christian education consultant, and Miss Tami Forrester, Cardinal, as youth representative. Several study sessions are planned for the near future. The Committee gives leadership and guidance to the Youth Council and helps arrange rallies, outings, study courses and Synod participation.

Ex officio members on the Committee include the convener of the Committee on Congregational Life, Rev. Leslie R. Renault of Brockville, and the Moderator of Presbytery, Rev. Lawrence Cowper of Spencerville.

A recent submission on youth activities was given by Rev. Roy Curry, Lansdowne, Rev. Nicholas Vandermey, Prescott, and Rv. Fred Reed, Chesterville. It is planned to build a program and schedule of activities involving all young people in the Presbytery, including outreach to the communities in which the churches are located.

Elliott-Walker vows heard in Ingleside

Saturday May 1st, was the scene of a pretty spring wedding in Trinity United Church, Ingleside, when Cathy Eva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Walker, Ingleside, was united in marriage with Carson Ren, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ren Elliott of RR2, Chesterville.

The bride wore a traditional, floor-length white satin gown with lace trim. She carried a bouquet of miniature red roses and pink carnations in a bridal delight arrangement.

Her maid of honour was Miss June Henry of Ottawa. She was attired in a yellow lace gown and carried a bouquet of lace lovely daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Brenda Elliott, sister of the groom, and Miss Deborah Herridge of Dorval, P.Q.

Miss Elliott wore a gown of light green polyester silk with a brocade of white lace and Miss Herridge wore a gown of green trimmed in white. Both ladies carried bouquets of lace lovely daisies.

The groom was attended by his brother, Gordon Elliott of Chesterville. Ushers were David Walker, brother of the bride and Barry Elliott, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a light green gown with long chiffon sleeves and a corsage of white carnations trimmed in green. The groom's mother wore a gown of light brown with a floral patterned silk top and a mink stole. Her corsage was of white carnations trimmed in coral.

Rev. Cliff Allan officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. John McEwan was organist and Harry Castle was the soloist. The First Ingleside Girl Guide company served as an Honor Guard at the ceremony.

Several guests were present from out of town. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Maude Bishop was present accompanied by Mrs. Edith Neison, the bride's aunt, from Turtleford, Sask. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott, the groom's grandparents, were present from Chesterville, and the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart Walker of Long Sault were also present. Other guests were present from Chesterville, Morrisburg, Dunbar, Cornwall, South Mountain, Dorval, Beaconsfield, P.Q., and Ingleside.

For travelling, the bride wore a two-piece navy blue pant suit ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott upon returning will reside at 42 Elm Street, Ingleside, Ontario.

Protein supplements can present problems as well as solving them

Protein is a critical nutrient for growing and finishing cattle and not adequately supplied, results in cattle growing slowly and inefficiently. On the other hand, excess protein is simply wasteful, states G.K. Macleod of the Department of Animal and Poultry Science, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Recommendations for feeding levels of protein supplements have been based on standards set by the American National Research Council (NRC) and personal experience.

Recent research from U.S. experiment stations has suggested that although NRC levels (1970 report) for growing cattle are sound, they may be high for finishing cattle. United States research stations' tests showed that, after a certain time on feed or about 900 to 950 pounds liveweight, cattle on corn grain plus corn silage rations gained as well without protein supplement as with it.

Ontario Agricultural College faculty members conducted a trial at the Elora Beef Cattle Research Centre which related to the effect of protein supplementation of corn grain plus corn silage rations to weight of animals, explains Mr. Macleod.

Hereford and Hereford x Angus crossbred steers were fed a corn silage ration including shelled corn at a rate of approximately one per cent of body weight daily. Equal mineral and vitamin supplement was given to all cattle, though one-half of the animals received protein supplement in the form of soybean meal.

Those steers receiving extra protein outgained others for the first 56 days on feed (2.3 vs 2.0 pounds per day) until they reached 900 to 950 pounds, after which they did not benefit from supplemental protein.

While these results are in agreement with most American findings, they cannot be interpreted as covering all situations, Mr. Macleod says.

Protein is extremely critical if it isn't up to adequate levels in the ration - nine per cent or better on a dry basis. One must be very sure of consistently high protein levels in the basal feeds of silage and grain before eliminating the supplement.

Since the research to date has been carried out on cattle receiving considerable grain, the requirements may be somewhat different for cattle fed corn silage with little or no grain.

Guelph's Agricultural College is currently investigating protein withdrawal with steers fed straight corn silage and warns beef producers that when protein-mineral-vitamin supplement is dropped, to make sure it is replaced with a mineral-vitamin supplement.

Though protein supplement should probably not be dropped before steers are at least 900 pounds liveweight, the college doesn't have evidence to suggest a time at which it can be omitted for bulls, heifers or for very fast-gaining cattle that are growing more than fattening. If the cattle are variable and cannot be easily grouped by age, sex, weight, breeding and origin, it is probably wise to continue feeding protein supplement at recommended levels.

Mr. Macleod says that in view of the very serious growth depression when cattle are short-changed on protein, feeders should be cautioned against saving dollars by cutting protein supplement.

Consultation with the livestock extension specialist along with an analysis of basal feeds is recommended to provide the base for any change in rations, he concludes.

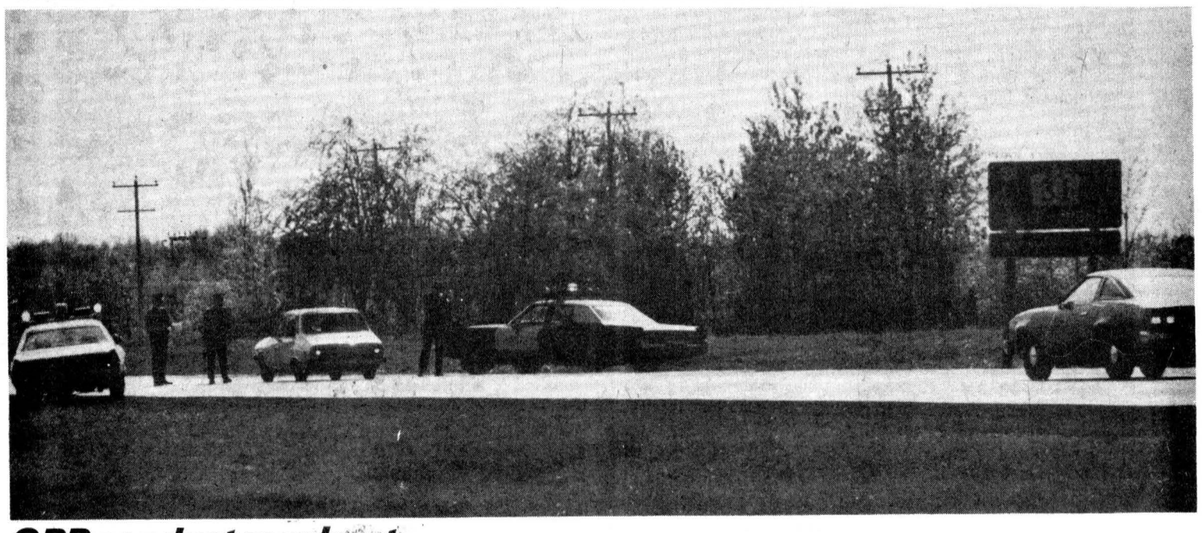
Five new members attend second 4-H meeting

The second meeting of the Chesterville 4-H Garden Club was held on April 27. Five new members attended, making the Garden Club a group of ten. The members are, Greg Ward, press reporter, Tessie Van Dongen, Ellen Roberge, Nancy Vanden Bosch and ge, Nancy Vanden Bosch and Kim Miltimore, initial members; and new members Mimi Droppo, Lorraine Hutt, Tommy Levere, Jeff MacIntosh and Karen Merkley.

Discussed at the meeting were the following topics: steps necessary in preparing a garden for planting, things to remember when planting seeds, steps needed in looking after garden, how to care for flowers, and principles of planting landscapes.

The next meeting will be held on May 26, at 7am in the Woman's Institute Room in the Community Hall.

New Zealand — Beef and veal output for New Zealand is placed at 475,000 tons in 1976, down 6 per cent from a year ago. The decline would be even greater if it was not for the anticipated kill-off in the South Island where there is a back-to-sheep raising trend. On the other hand, if grazing conditions deteriorate and-or the North American boneless beef market strenghthens further the decline in slaughter may be less than currently predicted.



OPP conduct manhunt

Members of the Morrisburg OPP Detachment took part in the massive search Saturday afternoon for convicted armed robber Gilles Lessard who escaped from Cornwall Jail at 2pm Saturday afternoon. This roadblock on highway 401 just east of Morrisburg was just one of many the OPP threw up across Eastern Ontario as they pressed the search for the 28-year-old who escaped from the jail's exercise yard after an accomplice tossed a rope over the wall and the two made off on a motorcycle. Lessard was waiting to be moved to a maximum security institution to begin serving a 10-year sentence imposed this spring after he was convicted of the August 14, 1974 armed robbery of a Cornwall bank. - staff photo -

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education has accepted a request from the Ontario Ministry of Education to become the official host of the province's Education Week in 1978. Correction

In The Record's account of the special service and party held for members of the congregation of Notre Dame de la Rosaire Roman Catholic Church in Crysler who were honored for being married for 50 years or more, we inadvertently transposed the number of years that two couples have been married. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMahon have been married 56 years and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Farley have been married 52 years. We regret any embarrassment we have caused the two couples.

Addresses Canadian Club

Outgoing Morrisburg and District Canadian Club president William MacDonald welcomes Privy Council President and Government House Leader Mitchell Sharp to the club's meeting last Wednesday night. Mr. Sharp told club members that Canada faces problems more complex than ever before and described his government's efforts in dealing with the problems. Number one enemy on the government's list is inflation, which poses a major threat to the well-being of all Canadians, Mr. Sharp said.

MORRISBURG — Wage and price controls are a necessary evil required to bring inflation within reasonable bounds and the federal government doesn't plan to enforce them "for even one day longer than is necessary" Privy Council President Mitchell Sharp told members of the Morrisburg and District Canadian Club here last Wednesday night.

Mr. Sharp, who doubles as Government House Leader as well as holding the top Privy Council post, told club members at their last meeting of 1975-76 that the government aims to rein inflation to within eight percent in the first year of the program and its objective is now within sight.

Following the dinner meeting, the club held its annual meeting and election of officers for 1976-77, with James Locke of Dixons Corners succeeding William MacDonald, South Mountain, as president. Other executive members for the coming year are: past president, Mr. MacDonald; vice president, Harold Lannin, Winchester; secretary, Doug Grenkie, Morrisburg; treasurer, Glen Keyes, Morrisburg; speaker's chairman, Dr. George Fisher, Kemptville; program director, Roy Brister, Morrisburg; directors, Don Shaver, Ingleside, Harold McMenomy, Inkerman; Caryl Cooper, Dixons Corners; Gordon Simzer, Mountain; Donald Robertson and John McCaslin, Matilda Front; James Morrison, Iroquois; Sidney Chapman, Riverside Heights; G.W. Ministry dumps on Finch Twp.

BERWICK — Ontario Ministry of the Environment has notified Finch Township Council that it is unhappy with conditions at the township dump, located on lot 21 concession seven, in the annual springtime dispute between the ministry and the township.

In a letter from Cornwall branch Senior Environmental Officer L.L. Benoit read at Council here Monday night, the township is criticized for not having signs posted notifying the public of dumping hours; for not having covering operations carried out for some time, and for allowing garbage to be strewn along fences, and along with other debris placed at random along the working face.

The problems are those faced by most rural municipalities, clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey pointed out to Council. His comments were seconded by roads superintendent Reg Burd, who said that no matter how much attention the township lavishes on the site, these abuses will still occur.

Mr. Burd said he has painted and erected signs notifying the public that dumping hours are set for Mondays and Saturdays but every time he visits the site someone has torn down the sign, taken the dump's gate off its hinges or torn down the fence in order to get in.

He added that it's still too wet for earth moving equipment to work on the site and that short of placing a watchman on the site, the township is powerless to stop those who habitually abuse the municipal facility.

Mr. Empey said that would be the ideal solution, but for a municipality with an assessment as low as Finch's it would be too expensive. He also dismissed Mr. Benoit's suggestion that refuse be covered at least once a week as too costly for Finch.

The ministry's complaints are predictable, Mr. Empey told Council. OME officials come every spring "before we have a chance to clean up the site" and offer the same complaints and suggestions, he said.

A letter has been sent to the ministry's Cornwall office explaining the situation and stating that the township will "endeavor to have everything (the ministry suggests) done as soon as weather conditions permit".

For market pigs under three months on April 1, the federal statistical collecting agency places numbers on a par with a year earlier. They report Eastern numbers are up 2 per cent from a year ago, with Western numbers down 3 per cent.

Birds of a feather examined together

CORNWALL — Discussion on examination days for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry high schools sparked a lively little exchange at the tri-county board of education meeting here last Tuesday night with Matilda and Iroquois Village Trustee Lorne Mellan getting in the last word on Cornwall trustee Claude J. Courville.

Mr. Courville was objecting to the re-institution of formal examinations in SD&G secondary schools, saying that in his estimation "final exams are for the birds".

He was told by Director Education Rosaire Leger that it had been the policy to do away with formal testing of high school students but after two years of the board having its own way "the province in its wisdom is bringing them back".

Trustee Mellan got in the parting shot, saying he is "glad to see the birds are bringing exams back" to schools in the board's jurisdiction.

Trustees had earlier been presented with the schedule for examination dates in the academic year 1976-77 in the area's high schools with, Osnabruck and Seaway District having yet to set their exam periods.

North Dundas District High School will have 10 days set aside for examinations, five at the end of the first semester (from January 22-28) and five at the end of the second semester (June 17 to 23).

Tagwi Secondary School, because of different groupings of option subjects which made time tabling exams less difficult, will require only eight days - four at the end of each semester - for testing, while Char-Lan District will have two five-day periods, at the end of each semester.

Glengarry District will have two turn-around days between semesters and five examinations days before the end of each semester.

The examination dates were presented to the board by Superintendent of Education Jean-Paul Scott whose report also included a schedule of holidays and teacher professional activity days for the 1976-77 school year.

Under provincial regulations, the 1976-77 school year includes 185 instructional days and 11 professional activity days. Seven days for professional activity days, which include days set aside for routine work such as turn-around days and year-end activities as well as think sessions aimed at curriculum improvement, have been set aside for elementary and non-semestered secondary school teachers while eight have been scheduled for semestered secondary schools.

The remaining days will be determined on a Family of Schools basis before the end of June, Mr. Scott reported at last Tuesday's session.

Teachers and students will get 16 days of holidays during the next school year. Included among them are Thanksgiving and Remembrance Days, six days at Christmas, a five-day March break, Good Friday, Easter Monday and Victoria Day.

$28,000 in grants to S-D senior citizens

OTTAWA — Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley announced last Friday Minister of Health and Welfare Marc Lalonde has awarded two New Horizons grants to Senior Citizens groups in the area totalling more than $28,000.

The amount of $18,195 has been awarded to the Jolly Sixties Arts and Craft Club of Long Sault. These funds will be used mainly for renovations to the old Long Sault fire hall so that it can be used as a centre for the group. Currently, members are picked up by bus and taken to Cornwall for their meetings.

The remainder of their funds will finance the various arts and crafts projects of the club. Both groups offer instructions in and facilities for oil painting, macrame, knitting, crocheting, fancy work, leather tooling and carving and other crafts for up to as many as 750 senior citizens.

The second grant, of $10,250, was awarded to the Jolly Sixties Club of Cornwall. This grant is to help the group start afresh following the total loss of its centre and contents as a result of a disasterous fire. The group will be able to resume their very successful arts and craft activities for which they require new equipment and materials.

"Both the Jolly Sixties Club of Cornwall and their satellite in Long Sault are to be congratulated for taking the initiative to provide these services for senior citizens, especially overcoming substantial obstacles encountered in their first program."

"Also, the convenience of having a local club providing services of this nature I'm sure will enable more senior citizens in the Long Sault area to participate in the program," Mr. Lumley said in making the announcement.

New Horizons grants are made available to senior citizens groups for projects which will benefit themselves and others in the community.

Since the introduction of the program, 21 organizations in the area have benefitted $233,322 obtained through the program.

Vandalism increasing in Dundas

MORRISBURG — Incidents of wilful damage are steadily increasing in Dundas County and in some cases those responsible are known and action has been taken, reports OPP community Services Officer Const. John Watson.

However, there are other occasions where the culprits are unknown at the present time.

The crime of wilful damage is despicable, states Const. Watson, who warns that the wanton destruction of other people's property is an extremely serious crime and it can't be over-emphasized that anyone found committing wilful damage will be prosecuted.

There has been evidence left at the scene of recent cases, which indicates that younger persons are responsible, he says.

It is the duty of every parent to know where and what their children are involved in. Failure to do so may result in court appearances for their children, the constable warns.

Olive Stanley, Metcalfe, dies at age 78

Mrs. Olive Essie Stanley, Victoria St., Metcalfe, died at her home Tues., May 11 at the age of 78.

She was born in Osgoode Township March 8, 1898, one of four daughters of the late William and Mary Ann (Wallace) Quaile and married Edgar L. Stanley, who died Feb. 25, 1969.

A member of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Metcalfe, Mrs. Stanley is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Annie Baker, Mrs. Herbert James and Mrs. Mary Grey, all of Ottawa; one daughter, Mrs. Mae Haas, and one grandson, Allan Haas.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. H. Lamble from Holy Trinity at 2:30pm Thurs., May 13 with interment at All Saints Anglican Cemetery, Greely.

Pallbearers were Cleland Hamilton, Clarence Prescott, Lloyd Hill, Eldon Quaile, Charlie Quaile and Emerson Stanley.

Farmers reported intentions to farrow 2 per cent more sows in the April - June '76 quarter than in the same period a year ago. This was made up of a 5 per cent gain in Eastern Canada and a 1 per cent drop in the West.

WDMH observes Hospital Day

Director of Nursing Mrs. Caroline Manley with one of the Hospital Day displays at Winchester District Memorial Hospital last Wednesday morning. The theme for this year's observance of the nationally-proclaimed day was "A costly business - but still your best value", which, according to WDMH administrator H.P. Stel, is in keeping with this year's financial restraints placed on hospitals by the provincial government which call for more co-operation from patients, public, medical and hospital staffs if the local hospital is to continue to be "the best value available to the residents of the area served by our hospital".

Pentecostal Church rededicated Sunday

The doors of the Chesterville Pentescostal Church are open to the public once again following the re-opening service at 3pm Sunday afternoon conducted by the new pastors, George Prosser and Gunther Benjatschek.

Rev. A.J. Edgeley, a former pastor at the church, which was closed several years ago, opened the service and acted as master of ceremonies.

Following some congregational singing by the over 50 members present and the dedicatory prayer, Susan True sang a solo and joined in a duet with Mrs. Paul Ripley. After their vocal presentations, the McWaters family sang a number of hymns.

Called upon to speak, the new pastors said they both believed that "true victory in life can only be found in God through prayer and not in ourselves".

Rev. Paul Ripley of Cornwall said he brought the message "that the cross is the heart of Christianity".

Services at the Chesterville Pentescostal Church will be conducted every Sunday at 3pm until further notice and there will be Bible Studies and prayer sessions every Wednesday at 7pm.

All 56 booths rented for June antique market

WINCHESTER — Plans for the Antique and Craft show being sponsored by the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary June 25 and 26 in the Winchester Community Centre are almost completed.

According to Mrs. Louise Sloan, convener, reporting to the regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary Thurs., May 13, all 56 booths have been sold and four additional booths will be operated by the auxiliary units.

There will be a wide range of displays with something of interest for almost everyone — antiques, unusual dolls, paintings, jewellery, early Canadian glass and quilts, are just a few examples.

Proceeds are to be used toward the purchase of a MS2 blood analyzer for the hospital laboratory. The purchase of this was approved by the membership on the recommendation of the purchasing committee at Thursday's meeting.

Max Keeping, CJOH-TV broadcaster will officially open the show on Friday evening at 8:15 prior to a wine and cheese party. All booths will be operating both Friday evening and all day Saturday and an afternoon tea will be featured Saturday.

Anyone wishing to make donations to the Auxiliary Memorial fund may do so by making their cheques payable to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Memorial Fund and mailing them to Mrs. Williar Acres, Box 247, Winchester.

Mrs. Rose Beeman, volunteer convener, reported the junior volunteer program is shaping up with Mrs. Corrine Holtby, Winchester, and Mrs. Kay Helmer, Morewood in charge. Applications have been sent out to area high schools and interested young persons should contact their guidance councillors or principals for details.

Mrs. Irene Wallace and Mrs. Evelyn McCartney, who attended the "Institute on Preparation for Executive Leadership" conference in Toronto, gave reports and termed it a "most stimulating" conference.

Summers-Cass Bridge Unit brightened the trays of the hospital patients with favors to celebrate Hospital Day, last Wednesday.

Ormond Unit operated a bake sale prior to the meeting and realized $90.

The tuck cart will be operated by the Golden Valley Unit in June and the Metcalfe Unit in July.

Mrs. Phyllis Dillabough, Morrisburg director, reported a successful rummage sale and extended an invitation to everyone to attend a tea at the home of Mrs. Wm. Gorrell, Lakeshore Drive, June 2.

Bicycle rally June 6 to aid Berwick diamond

BERWICK—Cyclists young and old will be pedalling for their community sports program here Sun., June 6 when they take part in a 24-mile bikeathon to raise money for the Berwick Sports Field.

Everyone is welcome to join in and pledge sheets and rules are available from most merchants in Berwick and Finch.

Cyclists will travel a rectangular route through four check points from Berwick west to check point one at the intersection of the Berwick and Morewood Roads, then north to Morewood and east to checkpoint three at the Boundary Road, continuing east to Crysler and checkpoint four at Benoit's Luck Dollar and on to the finish at Berwick Community Hall.

Free refreshments will be available at the second checkpoint, in front of the brick schoolhouse in Morewood and free hot dogs and soft drinks will be given to all cyclists at the Berwick Sports Field. Light meals and refreshments will also be available at the Berwick Hotel.

Starting times are from 9am to noon and service vehicles will be on the road at all times to aid anyone requiring assistance along the 24-mile route.

Participants will be competing for prize money as well as for the satisfaction of helping their community. Twenty-five dollars will be awarded to the adult (over 16) who brings in the most money; $10 for the child (under 16) bringing in the largest amount; $10 for the youngest rider to compete and $10 for the oldest rider to take part in the event.

All participants are asked to have their pledges turned in no later than three weeks after the event and all cyclists under 16 years of age will require parental consent in order to take part. Parental consent forms are attached to the pledge sheets.

Pledges will be paid only the number of miles actually completed and will be calculated on the basis of the last checkpoint passed through. Participants must pass through and be checked in as present at checkpoints in order for them to collect their pledges.

At the completion of the route, all riders must get a verification signature of a bikeathon official in order to collect pledges.

No motorized vehicles will be allowed to take part, with the exception of service vehicles, and all riders must receive an official biker's number at the Berwick Community Hall before starting the course.

Anyone wishing further information on the bikeathon is asked to contact Mike Casselman at 984-2064 or Lyle Ouderkirk at 984-2657.

Winchester pack takes top trophy at 'Cuboree'

MORRISBURG — This village was the scene of the assembling of over 200 Wolf Cubs, their leaders, parents and friends, and officials of St. Lawrence Scout District, last Saturday.

The annual event, held on the grounds adjacent to the public school, was opened with prayer offered by Rev. E. Earle Eaton of Chesterville, district chaplain, followed by greetings from Reeve William Dillabough.

A parade from the Shopping Centre preceded the assembling at the school grounds. Bill Sheldrick, St. Lawrence Council president, was marshall, and took the salute as the packs marched past on review. George Lewis, assistant commissioner, Chaplain Eaton and Reeve Dillabough stood with the marshall as a reviewing committee.

Jim Mckiver, Cornwall, piper, led the parade. Bill Sheldrick, Jr. of Morrisburg was flag bearer at the head of the procession, representing Morrisburg Scouts. The "Grand Howl" was led by the host pack, after which the packs addressed themselves to the events of the day.

"Golf" was in charge of Winchester pack, led by Mrs. Valerie Doyle, Suzanne Alexander, Vicki Lennox and Jenny Blaxell. Cardinal Pack, in charge of the javelin throw, was led by Eileen Sayeau, assisted by Allen Toussaint, Ron Sayeau and Grant Merriman. Seventh Prescott, led by John McCauley and Bill and Dolores Maville, led the rock throw.

Chesterville's assignment was "spear the dinosaur". Johnstown pack was in charge of the "vine climb", led by Larry Gladstone, Leslie Matthews, Dave Trick and Cory Minkhorst. Morrisburg pack, led by Mrs. George Lewis, Bill Sheldrick and Cindy Sheldrick, had charge of the obstacle course.

Iroquois, in charge of Walter Bailey, Louis Noakes, Mrs. Evelyn Seeley and Mrs. Gail Prunner, had the sponge throw. First Prescott pack had a "surprise feature", in charge of Marlin Wade. Kemptville pack, in charge of Mrs. Joyce Seguin, Bud Crozier, Lawrence Berge and Jerry Kraay, featured the ever-popular "Kim's Game". Spencerville, in charge of Maurice Baas, John Bernard and Peter Watson, led in the relay race. Judy Sheldrick was registrar.

The Kincaid Trophy, for most points gained in the course of the day, was presented by Chaplain Eaton to Winchester, whose pack scored 96.9; runners-up were Kemptville and Spencerville.

Rev. Eaton also presented the trophy for winners in the "tug-of-war", to Winchester. Kemptville pack was judged best on parade and was awarded their trophy by Council Secretary Mrs. Maville. The new district staff trophy, for best-disciplined pack, was presented by Mr. Sheldrick to Johnstown, with Cardinal and 1st Prescott as runners-up.

During intervals the leaders enjoyed their own "tug-of-war", while First Prescott pack, in their free time, produced a 60-foot long dandelion stem, so cleverly assembled that the joints could not be distinguished. Their work was admired by many.

The day ended with the "sweep the field" feature, led by Assistant Commissioner Lewis of Morrisburg.
