"DUNDAS COUNTY THE LAND OF MILK AND HONEY" . . . . . COVERS EASTERN ONTARIO'S GREATEST DAIRYING SECTION

Sixty-fifth Year, No. 6 — Chesterville, Ontario, Thursday, November 6, 1958 — Single Copies, 10c

BY'S LINE TODAY

This time of year, hunters try to shoot a fast buck —instead of make it.

"Catch a falling star"

Tuesday night the village had a momentary visitor; we were in direct line for the passage of a man-made heavenly body and it whipped over on schedule and was gone into the eastern sky.

The editor of the "Record" and daughter Mary were walking down Victoria street when the youthful eyes spotted the speeding glimmer in the clear sky. It was just 8.05 p.m. The speeding streak travelled from west to east almost in a line with Victoria street. It trailed a long white comet-like tail with a gleaming white head like a large oversize falling star.

The object, we believe, was the third stage rocket of Explorer II, tumbling through space, until it loses speed and is destroyed in our atmosphere. The 30-lb. satellite is too small to be seen by the naked eye but the rocket body is a big lump of useless machinery now, a mess of pumps and empty tanks, useful only to some saucer-bound heavenly junker. It whips about the earth every 80 or 90 minutes.

Five generations are pictured here in a notable gathering of age and youthful innocence. Mrs Mary Dawson, of Newington, is 93 and lives alone in her big house on the outskirts of the village. Last Sunday members of her family called and we recorded the generations. Mrs Dawson seated on the left is 93 and her tiny great great grandchild, on the right, is just three months old. He is Derryl McLean, held by his father, George McLean, son of Mrs Bernard McLean, standing behind him. Beside Mrs McLean is her mother, the youthful Mrs Flossie Meldrum, who is a daughter of Mrs Dawson.—Record Photo.

W.I. grandmothers' night fun heightened by old 1938 films

Last Tuesday was Grandmother's Night at the local Women's Institute and everyone enjoyed a most interesting evening. The meeting opened in the usual way with the Mary Stewart Collect, followed by the Institute prayer.

The president called upon the secretary, Mrs D. Docksteader, to read the minutes of the last meeting which were then approved.

Roll call took the form of a query. Members were asked to mention something of grandmother's which they still cherish. The answers covered a wide range of treasures from memories to silverware.

Final plans were made for the Hallowe'en party and judges were chosen for the fancy dress competition. The president announced that a millinery course would be held in the library on November 13, 14 and 15.

At the special request of the members, Mrs P. Hewitt was asked to lay the Institute wreath at the War Memorial on Remembrance Day.

Members were invited to be guests of Morrisburg Women's Institute on the occasion of their 50th anniversary which was to be celebrated the following evening.

A full discussion was held as to the advisability of offering the Women's Institute china for hire in the future. A motion was made and carried stating that the chinaware should be offered for hire to organized groups and responsible caterers, for use only in the Community Hall. It was decided to make a charge of $5 plus replacements of any damaged pieces.

An urgent request was made for pieces of clean, ironed cotton needed by the Cancer Society for a local patient. Anyone who can provide a supply of this is asked to leave the cotton at the residence of Mrs G. W. Gilbert who will deliver it on behalf of the Society. It is needed immediately.

A full report on the area convention was given by Mrs W. Hummel who attended as W.I representative at the meetings which were held recently in the Chateau Laurier. Mrs Hummel had recorded many items of interest to members and she was thanked for a most comprehensive report.

The president, Mrs H. W. Merkley, declared the business section of the meeting closed and turned the program over to Mrs P. Hewitt and her committee.

Mrs C. Allison Graham was accompanied by a group of young ladies from Chesterville Public Schol and they delighted the audience with a charming song describing a visit to grandmother's attic. Those taking part were May Mooney, Jane Hutt, Jean Ouderkirk, Brenda Merkley, Joyce Bugden and Carol Cuff.

C. Allison Graham had brought a projector and the audience were fascinated by the showing of a film made in the village 20 years ago, during the celebration of Old Home Week. There were a few "oh's" and "ah's" as old friends were recognized and even a few squeals as members saw well-known village figures as they were 20 years ago. Members enjoyed it all so much that they prevailed on Mr Graham to run it through a second time.

When the excitement had subsided, Mrs E. E. Cole was given the difficult task of finding three grandmothers to qualify for the titles of oldest grandmother, grandmother with the most children and grandmother with the most comfortable waistline. The grandmothers were all so glamorous that this was a most difficult series of decisions but the prizes were finally awarded and the grandmothers took it all in good part.

The meeting then closed with the singing of the National Anthem. An ample and delicious lunch was served by Mrs Hewitt and her committee which included Mrs C. A. Graham, Mrs E. E. Cole, Mrs E. Casselman, Mrs Ken Merkley and Miss Abby Bogart.

Morewood United W.M.S. holds Thankoffering

The Autumn Thankoffering of Morewood United W.M.S. had as guest speaker Mrs Eldon Fennell, sectional president, of Winchester, as guest speaker. Mrs Fennell took as her topic "Behold Thy Hands," which proved most interesting.

Mrs Archie Coulthart presided and welcomed the guests. Mrs Stuart Mattice was in charge of devotions.

Mrs H. R. Faulkner gave the financial report. The ladies were invited to attend the sectional meeting at Colquhoun Church.

A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

GIVEN OPPORTUNITY TO AID SPRINGHILL

In the course of the morning service in Morewood United Church on Sunday last the pastor, Rev D. L. Gordon, stated that an opportunity would be given the congregation on Sunday, November 9, to make a contribution to the Springhill Disaster Relief Fund.

He said that sometimes our Divine Lord speaks to us of a definite need that must be met, of human beings who are in distress and who require our assistance. It is only right, therefore, that we should remember our brethren who are in distress at this time, and give a practical expression of our Christian faith.

Any contribution, no matter how large or small, will be gratefully received for this worthy cause.

Local Ayrshires make fine ROP records

Ontario Ayrshire herds were prominent among the leaders in the herd averages this fall, and a local herd placed very well in the listings.

H. J. Kittle and Sons, of the Boyne, ranked second in their class in all of Ontario and fifth in the whole of Canada. Their herd completed 23 records that averaged 9,894 lbs. milk, 407 lbs. fat and tested 4.11% in 290 days with a B.C.A. average of 123 in both milk and fat.

Talking to Mr Kittle about the high standing, the "Record" learned that the above records came from a very young herd; during the testing 50% of the herd of milch cows were just 2- or 3-year-old heifers.

Anniversaries observed by Presbyterians here

The Rev John Bell, B.A., of Finch, was the guest speaker at the recent anniversary services of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Chesterville. At the morning worship special music was presented by Mountain Quartette, Bill Williams, Bill Guy, Donald Shaver and Stanley Wallace. Their selections included "The Jericho Road," "Let the Lower Lights Keep Burning," and "Wandering Child."

The church choir, directed by Mrs Harold Greer, sang the anthem "Abide With Me" at the evening service, and the solo in the anthem was sung by Miss Doreen Cross. Mrs Doug Fry sang the solo "Just for Today."

Both services were well attended as St. Andrew's celebrated this milestone in the history of the church.

Morewood Presbyterian Church

A capacity congregation filled the Presbyterian Church, Morewood, last Sunday morning as that church observed its 88th anniversary. The guest minister was the Rev Stanley D. Self, B.A., of St. Andrew's Church, Lancaster.

The morning anthem was "The Church Marches On" and Mr Lyle Hunter sang the solo "Great Is Thy Faithfulness."

The evening worship was conducted by the minister, the Rev Douglas Fry, assisted by the guest minister and the Rev D. L. Gordon, of Morewood United Church.

The service of praise was led by the male choir who were also heard in two selections, "The Challenge" and "Have Thine Own Way Lord." The latter was sung by the quartette, Ross Nurse, Roy Nurse, Art Koolwyn and Toby Kooyman.

The Kirk Sessions of both churches are appreciative of the prayerful and generous support of members, friends and adherents.

REMEMBRANCE SERVICE

All Legion members and veterans are asked to assemble at the Legion Hall at 1.15 p.m. Sunday, November 9, 1958. The parade will form up and proceed to the Community Hall for service and laying of the wreaths.

Deer hunters plentiful deer scarce

Not too much hunter success has been reported to date in local deerslayer circles. County hunting has seen a lot of deer running but has also seen a lot of deer missed.

Here in the village the bulk of the hunters have been out in camps and reports are not in yet. One that is in though, is the tough luck of Mel Baker, owner of Chesterville Hotel.

Opening morning near Avonmore, Mel and his companions jumped a buck and a doe; the buck took off, chased by a load of SSG; the doe tried to run Mel down on the road. He emptied the shotgun at the hurrying deer but missed and sadly watched it trot slowly across the fields to the nearby bush.

Some hunters were successful up in Mountain. Dwight Tupper and the Munro brothers had three deer by Wednesday of this week. Tupper lost a big fat buck in the usual way when county hunting; he knocked it flying, the deer staggered for a hundred yards and fell. By the time Dwight had reached the animal, another hunter had a tag on it.

Mr and Mrs Harold Feeley and Brian and Mr and Mrs Arza Beckstead spent Saturday evening with Mr and Mrs Borden Armstrong and Ken.

Mr and Mrs Borden Armstrong and Kenneth had dinner with Mr and Mrs Lorne Feeley on Sunday.

RADISHES NOW AND TASTY!

We were on the receiving end of an interesting little gift this week. Mrs Don Cross came to the office and presented us with a handsome corsage nicely ribboned and wrapped—of radishes.

The radishes were just fresh picked from the Cross garden. They had been planted September 1 and were just right for eating now. They looked like spring all over.

Trinity W.M.S. Evening Auxiliary donates to Springhill

The November meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church, Chesterville, was held on Tuesday in the dining hall at 8 p.m. Mrs Hilda Belsher, the president, conducted the meeting, assisted by Mrs Jack Doering, secretary.

The hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers" opened the meeting and was followed by the roll call and minutes of the September and October meetings.

Mrs Douglas Hitsman gave the treasurer's report which included the report of the recent rummage sale.

Mrs F. M. Cass moved that $25 be contributed to the Springhill disaster fund. This was seconded by Mrs Mansell Brownlee.

The president reminded members of the sectional meeting to be held November 5 in Colquholn. The nomination committee, consisting of Mrs Carl Merkley, Mrs Frank Arnold and Mrs Haldane Durant, was reminded that the list of officers for 1959 should be presented at the December meeting.

The committee for the December meeting will be Mrs Alf Jarvis, convener, Mrs H. K. Graham, Mrs C. A. Graham, Mrs Harry Allison, Mrs Doug Hitsman and Mrs F. M. Cass. It was moved by Mrs H. K. Graham and seconded by Mrs Fay Shaver that the Christmas meeting follow the same pattern as in former years.

Mrs Dalton Casselman gave the report of the birthday fund; Mrs Lee Smith, the friendship report, and Mrs Carl Merkley reported on the Baby Band party held in October.

OPINIONS . . .
OURS AND OTHERS

One more chune, Perfessur!

Come nightfall and our bloodshot editorial eye needs a spot of relaxation away from the misplaced "l's" and the lost "p's"; then it is we turn to the one-eyed monster for an hour's soothing relief.

Of late our choler has threatened to enter even the living room, though, when we see the review of guff that passes as entertainment. The soothing part of the evening has been lost in a booming barrage of gunfire that surpasses anything we expect to hear on the Chalk at the end of this week. There are more horses on parade than we ever chored in our days on the farm and the "Howdy podner" line has even been changed to "I'll have whiskey." Night after night Tabloid disappears under a cloud of hoof dust and blowing tumbleweed; when the screen clears there stands one or the other of the latest model of the modern Sir Galahad complete with trusty Excalibur in the model put out by Colt.

Horse opreys undoubtedly are needed in this day and age, and it goes without saying one can do anything while watching them. Babies are changed, spaghetti is consumed and corns are pared without a shot being missed or a plot being misunderstood. The ramifications of a typical Western story are about as difficult to follow as the track of a small boy eating an orange. And the stories exercise even less of a man's grey matter.

When the Westerns have given way to music we come to an even worse malady, now in vogue. And with the introduction of the hen-pecking piano players we bow out and go into a real nasty pout.

What do you suppose it is in the diet of piano players these days that has given them St. Vitus dance of the neck and face muscles? Each time a TV camera pans up close, there is the poor fellow chomping on a tough cud, wrenching his head this way and that, and generally acting as if he is about to have his throat cut.

In the light of the above, maybe that would be a good idea!

Use for the theatre

Chesterville village is harbouring a lot of good usable space at Community Hall and getting neither use nor income from it. We are referring, of course, to the vacant theatre.

It seems a shame the large room there is not put to more use. With the exception of an occasional meeting that is too small for upstairs and too large for the library, the theatre is never opened.

We think here would be a good project for one of the organizations of the village to take over. A little enthusiasm, some considerable planning and that large room could become a real asset to the community.

The first thing needed would be a new floor to eliminate the present sloping one after arrangements had been made to have the theatre seats removed. Then a serving area could be built up in connection with the hall kitchen to allow more use to be made of that unit. There is also much to be said about installing a movable partition crossing the centre of the room to make it manageable with small parties.

Good business practice dictates that use should be made of the theatre in one way or another. Several ideas have been explored with the intention of getting movies started again but they have all foundered; the hard economic facts of life here just refuse to support a theatre.

We would like to see council offer support to any group who could take over the project. Perhaps a rent free period with the organization collecting the fees for its use would be feasible to help pay for the renovation. Perhaps council itself could budget next year to make renovations and hope to add to the falling rentals from Community Hall.

The community could make good use of a mid-size hall and with a modern kitchen to follow, would be a decided asset.

Dundas to be congratulated

Dundas county is to be congratulated. It will be the first county in Ontario certified as free listed or free from brucellosis and able, under the new regulations, to ship cattle to the U.S. market come November 15.

The free listing of the county is in large measure the result of a long range program started and kept going by the Federation of Agriculture. The county federation started some years ago to institute calfhood vaccination throughout the area; when the new testing for the county came into effect, as a result of a petition from the cattlemen themselves, the number of positive cattle was negligible. Actually so small that it is presumed Dundas will get immediate clearance to ship cattle under the new regulations on November 15.

The county and Dundas Federation of Agriculture are to be congratulated on their foresight. The health of the most important farm animal in the county has always been a matter of economic attention; that attention is now paying off with a vengeance and puts Dundas ahead of the whole province.

Money Talks

If we look at the many expressions used to denote money, we find that many which we regard as essentially modern have a long pedigree. Perhaps the most surprising in this category is the expression "the wherewithal," which we find was actually used by Petronius about A.D. 60. Again, the modern reader finds it almost comical to come across in Isaiah the sentence " I will take away all thy tin." That was written sometime in the eighth century B.C. The word "brass" was also used in very remote times for the money.

What is interesting about terms of this sort is the fact that they have survived so many centuries after the use, as money, of the metal concerned has ceased. Another word similarly used in more recent times is "dust" which was common in the days of the California gold rush among the "forty-niners," when gold dust was actually employed as a medium of exchange.

The expression "worth his weight in gold," goes back to the days of King Solomon, who took his weight in gold every year for payment as the ruler of Jerusalem.

"The love of money is the root of all evil" dates back to the New Testament. Even then, however, it was not newly coined for, long before that, in the fourth Century B.C., Diogenes had said: "The love of money is the mother-city of all evil." A more cynical version of it is that attributed to George Bernard Shaw and Mark Twain: "The lack of money is the root of all evil," in which form it will command a ready response from many modern readers.

Between the pleasures of possessing money and the pains of not possessing it lies the problem that—more than ever in these present days—it disappears. Living expenses depend on what people make. It costs people more to live today than ever before, because they make more than ever before.

It is some consolation, though a mild one at best, to know that the problem is no new one, for money has been burning a hole in its owners' pockets for hundreds of years.

SHOWS SCENTS

A private garbage collecting firm that serves 25,000 Long Island, N.Y., families began experimenting with a device that disinfects and perfumes its garbage cans.

One of the East Meadow Sanitation Company's 15 trucks has been equipped to leave cans with a lavendar scent. The head of the firm that supplies the spray said:

"We decided to use the lavender scent because my wife insisted on it but we are considering a postcard poll to see if home owners might prefer other scents as well. Maybe we'll vary the smell to keep people from getting bored.

"Lillies today, gladiolas tomorrow—you know what I mean?"

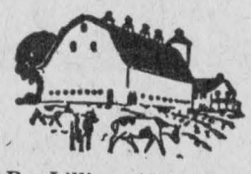
FRENDLEE FARM CHATS



By Lillian Allison

There was an article in one of the newspapers the other day which attempted to convince us that the commercials on TV are really good for us. The writer argued that after all they are actually conducive to the developing of character. They teach us that we have to pay for what we get. If we are to receive entertainment we must watch them whether we like them or not. That is life. We get only what we pay for.

Now for my part I don't find watching commercials a very expensive charge for the entertainment and information television provides. Some of them are downright clever.

I like the cartoons. Sometimes there's a man with chalk and a blackboard or black crayon and paper who draws pictures as the voice in the background reads the sponsor's spiel. I haven't the foggiest idea what product it is that these artists are illustrating. I never listen to the words. I'm too fascinated with the pictures. I'd give two well-decayed teeth to be able to draw such clever figures with a few strokes of the chalk.

Then there's the cartoon character with the stick body and the big, fat head that I like. He looks so sad and shakes his head so painfully when the voice says, "Got a headache? A real bad headache?" As often as I've seen that commercial I can't help smiling when I watch that egg-headed character's face light up when the voice suggests a pill that will cure all his troubles.

I still get a kick out of that silly cartoon that shows Sally in the city and the devil with his three-tined fork prodding her to eat between meals. And if it weren't for that crazy cartoon on TV how would I ever know how a pill disintegrates in the stomach and dashes up through a pipe to the head to kill a headache?

I've never tired of seeing advertised that laundry product they recommend for automatic washers. The man says that ordinary soap powders slow down action and with that his voice slows down and gets so slow and low that it sounds quite funny.

Some of the movie commercials are quite informative. I can hardly believe my eyes when I watch some of the fancy stitching the sewing machines do. I'd have never known that the big, shiny car that drove in at Frendlee Farm the other day was a 1959 model if I hadn't seen it on the TV commercials. I wouldn't know how the swivel seats in the new cars work or how much one can pack into station wagons, how the glass rolls down at the touch of a button or how the automatic gear shift is operated if I hadn't seen it all on TV commercials.

And some night I may miss a good show if I rush to the kitchen to make one of those delectable-looking concoctions with cheese and mayonnaise that they picture and describe so temptingly. Already I've consumed gallons of coffee after watching them pour the steaming stuff into pretty cups night after night. And perhaps if they continue to show the film long enough they will finally convince me that they really do pick only the two top leaves and the bud to make good tea.

Some of the commercials we've seen lately that begin "They said it couldn't be done," are a little entertaining too. But for entertaining commercials give me Arthur Godfrey. Ordinarily I don't like to see the star of the show do the advertising too. Few performers can get away with it. Garry Moore does it very well but Arthur Godfrey is the only one who can make the commercials more entertaining than the rest of the show.

Oh, I agree that sometimes commercials become very boring and uninteresting and we feel that in watching them we are paying plenty for the entertainment we receive. We envy the people who can watch the BBC without being subjected to soap-suds, toothpaste, hair goo and such. But at other times I have to admit that the commercials are really clever and entertaining. Besides, they give us an opportunity to go to check the fire or inspect the plumbing.

MIND READER FORESAW FREEDOM

Six spectators in a courtroom in suburban Berlin raised their hands. Yes, they told the judge, they were willing to have their minds read by the man on trial.

They wrote six questions and handed them to the bench. The judge turned to Gerhard Belgardt, 39, otherwise known as "Hanussen II, Germany's No. 1 mind reader."

He was charged with having swindled funds in private seances by professing to give news of missing relatives.

The judge: "What is on the first piece of paper?"

Belgardt: "The lady is asking about her sister. She is an inch taller, considerably younger, blonde and works in a public building."

The questioner: "That's right. My sister works as a medical assistant."

The judge: "What is on the next paper?"

Belgardt: "The man has asked about his son. He will come along well in school."

The man: "Correct."

The judge: "The next questioner is a city detective. What has he written.

Belgardt, hesitating: "He asks about his mother or grandmother. I have no contact. Either the question is a phony or she is dead. The man has suffered long—a concentration camp? Is that correct?"

The detective: "Correct. I asked about my grandmother. She is dead. I was in a concentration camp."

Three further questions were asked and Belgardt supplied the right answers.

The judge: "I see no evidence that Belgardt has deliberately cheated people. The experiments in court, particularly that with the detective, indicate that the accused has a certain validity to his claims as a mind reader. Case dismissed."

Hanussen II, embracing his wife, said: "I had foreseen that I would be freed."

Keen interest in Farmstead Improvement competition generous prizes and hard work contribute to success

Keen interest among contestants, generous prize donations and hard-working township committees resulted in a very successful Dundas County Farmstead Improvement competition. The competition was held in conjunction with the International Plowing Match.

Championship for the county went to Mr and Mrs Gordon Hyndman, Hallville, and an attractive silver cup was presented to them by Mrs Jean Casselman, M.P., on the opening day of the Plowing Match. In addition, Mr and Mrs Hyndman received $75 in cash as Mountain Township winner and a wrist watch donated by Fawcett's Jewellery, Winchester.

Seventy-eight competitors took part in the four township competitions in Dundas and while the tented city and the gigantic machinery display of the International Plowing Match are now only memories the work of the participants in this competition will be evident for years to come.

The judge for Dundas was Aden Casselman, Berwick, who made his first visit and score on the competition in the Spring and his second inspection in September.

Winners were declared on the basis of the improvements made in the intervening period.

Township Winners

The first five winners in each township and the township committees were as follows:

Mountain Township: Gordon Hyndman, Hallville; Roy and Arnold Shaver and Sons, South Mountain; Cecil Harper, South Mountain; Hugh Blaine, Mountain; W. P. Hogoboam, Mountain. Committee: Mrs Gordon Simzer, Mrs Fenton Hyndman, Franklin Milne.

Winchester Township: Roy Styles, of Chesterville; Sherwood Coons, Inkerman; Millan Smirle, Morewood; Hugh Porteous, Winchester; Willis Robinson, Winchester. Committee: Mrs Hugh Coons, Mrs Lillian Allison, Willis Robinson.

Williamsburg Township: Bernice W. Froats, Chesterville; Harold McIntosh, Chesterville; tied, Wray McPherson, Chesterville, and Harold Pemberton, of Williamsburg; Don Kyle, Chesterville. Committee: Wilfred McMillan, Mrs Don Kyle, Graham Wells.

Matilda Township: Milton Barkley, Iroquois; Aden Marcellus, Iroquois; Carl Empey, Iroquois; tied, Mrs Edward Foster and Lorne Bouck, Iroquois. Committee: Mrs Oliver Smyth, W. A. Hanson, Dwight Merkley and Wilbert Safford.

Local businessmen and associations, through their generous donations, increased the original prize awards made available through the Federation of Agriculture, Canada Paint and Varnish Association and the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

The County Committee consisted of Willis Riddell, chairman, Mrs Hugh McMillan and E. K. Pearson, agricultural representative.

Rabies threat still present in Dundas

The first case of rabies in Dundas livestock reported during the past week indicates that the threat of a more wide-spread rabies infection is still present. The animal concerned, owned by a Williamsburg district farmer, was a five-month-old calf which, because of its abnormal condition, was reported to the Health of Animals Division of the Canada Department of Agriculture, Brockville. Subsequent investigation showed that the calf was positive for rabies.

In view of the number of rabid foxes which have been reported in the county, it is not surprising that a livestock infection has been reported. In addition, the area is considered to have a very heavy fox population which further increases the possibility of increased rabies occurrence.

The disease is spread by any means which will introduce the virus from one infected animal into the tissues of another. Because of this, animals having a natural instinct to bite as a means of defence, such as dogs, foxes and wolves, are the principle animals that spread the disease.

Prompt Treatment

Persons having contact with rabid animals in any way which may permit infection must have prompt treatment with anti-rabies vaccine. If allowed to develop the disease is fatal to man and domestic animals such as cattle, hogs, sheep and horses. In dogs and foxes the disease symptoms vary with the stage of the disease. Frequently the disposition of the animal may completely reverse, with quiet animals becoming quarrelsome and the snarly animal becoming very friendly. Infected dogs and foxes may eat wood or stone, eyes become starey and the animal barks and bites at imaginary objects. Saliva drools from the partly open mouth.

In cattle, the infected animal may stand off by itself. They stop eating and drinking and there is a considerable amount of drooling. Infected cattle do not run a temperature and there is a considerable amount of forcing and straining as if attempting to abort. No treatment should be given to animals where rabies infection is suspected.

No clinics for the vaccination of dogs have as yet been established in Dundas County by Health of Animals officials. Vaccination of dogs may be done by private veterinarians but vaccination is not a complete guarantee that the dog will not develop the disease if exposed to infected animals.

In the meantime, all dogs should be securely tied up and suspicious animals of any kind reported immediately to the Health of Animals Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, Fulford Building, Brockville, or to E. K. Pearson, agricultural representative, Morrisburg.

Venetian blinds, be they plastic, wood or metal, often accumulate a greasy film from cooking and heating. This film can be removed with a creamy clean-up wax which also protects the blinds from accumulated dirt and grime.

ONTARIO

...ARE YOU ONE OF THE 5,300,000 ONTARIANS WHO ARE REGISTERED FOR ONTARIO HOSPITAL INSURANCE?

Registration for Ontario Hospital Insurance has been an overwhelming success. To date, more than 5,300,000 residents of Ontario (over 90%) are registered and will be eligible for benefits when the plan becomes effective on January 1, 1959. However, there are still some residents of the province who are not registered and it is to these people that this message is addressed.

It should be clearly understood, and remembered, that only insured residents will receive benefits under the plan.

ON AND AFTER JANUARY 1, 1959, THOSE PERSONS WHO ARE NOT INSURED UNDER THE ONTARIO PLAN MUST PAY THEIR OWN HOSPITAL BILLS IF THEY ARE ADMITTED FOR TREATMENT.

NOVEMBER 29 IS DEFINITELY YOUR LAST OPPORTUNITY TO REGISTER AND BE ELIGIBLE FOR BENEFITS ON JANUARY 1, 1959

To be sure that every resident who is not yet registered may have a final chance to obtain the two months' free coverage, and also be protected as of January 1, next, the initial registration period has been extended to November 29, 1958. Residents who apply after November 29 will lose the two months' free coverage, and will have to wait up to three months before their hospital insurance becomes effective. This means that, if you are hospitalized during the waiting period, you will have to pay your own hospital bills at the "all-inclusive" rates. Register NOW and have no regrets.

- Have you a son or daughter 19 or over who should be registered at the single premium?
- Have you a relative or a friend who is aged or infirm whom you should encourage to register?

A NOTE TO ALL EMPLOYERS

If you employ 15 or more persons, enrolment is mandatory for every Ontario resident on your payroll. If there is any employer who has not yet registered his employees with the Commission, he must do so immediately to comply with regulations under the Ontario Hospital Services Commission Act.

EMPLOYERS OF FEWER THAN 15 PERSONS

Thousands of firms employing fewer than 15 persons have elected to enrol their employees as groups.

If you employ fewer than 15 persons you may do the same, and afford your employees the convenience of group participation.

Group registration forms are available from the Commission on request.

A NOTE ABOUT "ALL-INCLUSIVE" HOSPITAL RATES

Beginning on January 1, 1959, the hospitals of Ontario will charge "all-inclusive" daily rates, instead of basic daily rates, plus extras, as at present. The standard ward "all-inclusive" rate, which will include the cost of extra services (use of operating room, drugs, etc.), is expected to average about $17.00 a day for the public hospitals of Ontario. However, as rates will vary from hospital to hospital, according to the type of services available, the charge may be $20.00 or more a day in some hospitals.

The "all-inclusive" rates will apply whether the hospital bill is paid by the insurance plan or by the patient himself.

The ONLY Basic Hospital Insurance Available

The Ontario Hospital Insurance plan provides the most comprehensive hospital benefits ever made available to the people of this province. It will cover all the standard ward hospital services which are medically necessary to the treatment of "in-patients" in approved hospitals. It will also provide benefits for emergency "out-patient" hospital care within 24 hours following an accident.

The very low premiums of $2.10 a month for the single person and $4.20 a month for the family are made possible by substantial contributions toward the cost from the Provincial and Federal Governments. The "Family" premium covers husband, wife, and all unmarried, unemployed children under age 19, and children 19 or over who are financially dependent because of physical or mental infirmity.

AS OF NEXT JANUARY 1, THIS WILL BE THE ONLY STANDARD WARD HOSPITAL INSURANCE AVAILABLE TO RESIDENTS OF ONTARIO. IF YOU ARE NOT REGISTERED YOU ARE NOT INSURED.

CBC FARM TEAM—Looking over a prize heifer on a southern Ontario farm are, left to right, George Atkins, Ken Graydon, Johnny Moles and Jim Ross, the four Toronto farm commentators who together make up CBC's farm broadcast team. They bring an assortment of farm programs, both radio and television, to towns and rural centres throughout Ontario and Quebec.

Mrs C. Shannette

Mrs Clifford Shannette passed away at her home recently, having been in poor health for some time. In her 64th year, she was born in Winchester Township, the former Emma O'Shaughnessy.

She was married to Clifford Shannette 38 years ago and had resided on a farm in Williamsburg Township since that time. Mrs Shannette was one of Williamsburg's most highly esteemed citizens and her passing is mourned by a wide circle of friends.

Besides her husband, she leaves six daughters: Mrs Lloyd Casselman (Beatrice, Mrs Bernice Crowder (Eva), of Williamsburg; Mrs Gerald Hitsman (Ruby), Brockville; Mrs Gerald Crowder (Alice), Inkerman, and Betty and Marjorie, at home. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs Asa Shay, Chesterville, and Mrs Arnold Duncan, Winchester; two brothers, Rev H. M. Servage, of Kingston, and William Servage, of Winchester.

The funeral service was held at the residence, with Rev D. H. Ramsay, pastor of Williamsburg United Church, officiating.

Interment was made in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were William Casselman, Frank Merkley, Ford Cunningham, Harry Bowman, Grant McIntosh and Robert Coughlar.

Faded fibre rugs can be given a fresh outlook if they are painted or stained. Thin paint does fine or you can use a hot fabric dye. Don't do this job indoors because the thinned paint or dye will soak through the rug and stain the floor underneath.

Gallinger–Zeran

The marriage of Verla Mae, daughter of Mr and Mrs Arthur Zeran, Newington, to John Gallinger, son of Mr and Mrs Willis Gallinger, Ingleside, took place at the home of the bride's parents, with Rev D. A. Timpany, of Cornwall First Baptist Church, performing the ceremony. George Patrick played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta in two shades of blue, with feathered hat and glass slippers.

She was attended by a sister of the groom, Mrs Bert Zeran, who wore a rose sheath style dress with corsage of pink and white carnations.

The bride's brother, Bert Zeran, of Newington, was best man for the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Zeran chose a turquoise blue sheath style dress of embroidered lace with black accessories. Mrs Gallinger, mother of the groom, wore a green figured gown with black accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a mink-brown suit with matching purse and shoes and tan gloves and hat.

Mr and Mrs Gallinger will reside in Ingleside.

FIRE WOMEN

The ladies' auxiliary of the Green Haven, Md., Volunteer Fire Department wants to do more than cook dinners and bake cakes to raise money for their firefighting husbands.

The gals are learning to handle the fire hose.

They have had seven basic lessons and they even put out a blaze on the training grounds at the University of Maryland.

Dundas Only County Free in Brucellosis Test

Ontario Livestock Commissioner W. P. Watson states he expects at least two or three counties to be cleared of brucellosis in dairy cattle before United States import restrictions take effect November 15.

Dundas county already appears certain of clearance under a weeding-out program of blood testing undertaken by the Federal Agriculture Department last March.

Brucellosis, a disease inducing abortion in cows but harmless to humans, for a time threatened to bar the $10,000,000-a-year U.S. market to many Ontario cattlemen.

The American regulations restrict cattle imports to listed brucellosis-free herds or from areas certified as free from the disease. Before a herd is listed every head must be given three blood tests. If disease is encountered, testing frequently has to be started over again.

Under the program begun last March, veterinarians paid by the Federal Government carry out compulsory testing on an area-wide basis free of charge. Cattlemen must first petition for their county to be designated as a brucellosis control area.

Mr Watson said petitions have been received so far from a third of the counties in Southwestern Ontario and every county but Renfrew in Eastern Ontario. Testing has begun in 10 counties.

Brucellosis-free certificates are granted to counties with less than one percent of cattle infected and less than five percent of herds infected.

In six counties where testing is nearing completion, percentages of infected cattle and herds are mostly above the maximum. Second or third rounds of testing will be needed.

Dundas Leads

So far only Dundas has met requirements, with .5 percent of cattle infected and 4.13 percent of herds. Stormont has only .89 percent of cattle infected but 7.56 percent of herds.

Grenville's figures are 1.21 and 5.94, Halton's 1.13 and 7.19.

A second round of testing is under way in Oxford and Prince Edward counties, where first-round figures were 3.07 and 17.17 for Oxford and 1.18 and 6.58 for Prince Edward.

Testing has also begun in Glengarry, Carleton, Leeds and Peel. Only one case was found in the first 47 herds tested in Peel.

Mr Watson said the U.S. deadline, originally set for October 15, will result in a temporary decline in exports by Ontario cattlemen, now running about 15 percent ahead of last year.

Cattlemen in counties not certified as brucellosis-free are expected to move cattle into certified area counties for quarantine periods to permit export.

It took 24 years—from 1927 to 1954—to have all of Ontario certified as free from tuberculosis but Mr Watson said he thinks the brucellosis program should be completed within five years at most.

"The bottleneck has been the shortage of laboratory space for analyzing blood samples," he said. "More facilities would double the rate of testing."

Blood samples now are sent only to Federal laboratories at Hull, Que. Negotiations are under way to carry out testing at the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph.

TIME EXPOSURE

The story comes from Sedgley, Eng., that ghostly figures of 13 people in medieval robes have shown up on a colour picture taken of the deserted high altar of Winchester Cathedral, an amateur photographer has claimed.

T. L. Taylor, 42, an electrical engineer, said he has no explanation for the strange, ancient figures that appear to be standing and kneeling before the altar.

Colour-film experts said the picture is not a double-exposure. Taylor's 35-millimetre camera is fitted with a device to prevent double exposures.

Taylor's wife, daughter and a friend were present when he took two photographs of the altar.

The first shows the choir stalls empty.

The second, taken one minute later, and five yards farther back, shows the 13 people. The line of the altar's steps is clearly visible through the transparent bodies of some of the figures.

The seated figures are dressed in robes or cloaks of Plantagenet or Tudor times. One is bearded like a Biblical patriarch.

"It was some time after they had been processed that I bothered to project these two transparencies, because they were over-exposed and the only two on the whole film that were not near perfect," Taylor said.

"We were quite flabbergasted."

Dundas exhibitors win many awards at Winter Fair

In an exceptionally large livestock show at the 1958 Ottawa Winter Fair, Dundas exhibitors once again were the winners of many top awards.

In Yorkshire hog classes, Mort Stobo, Winchester, made an almost clean sweep of first prizes and championships. Mr Stobo exhibited the junior, senior and grand champion boars and also the senior and grand champion sow. Nine first prizes and the Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor's awards were also among his winnings.

Dundas County also had the winning inter-county market hog entry in a pen exhibited by Stewart Gunn, Winchester. Clarence Wallace, Iroquois, also made a creditable showing in Yorkshires and had the first prize 2-year-old sow.

The Holstein show had 324 head from 85 exhibitors. In very large classes J. Dwight Dawley, Winchester, exhibited the 2nd prize 2-year-old dry, with Basil Dawley, Winchester, 3rd in the same class. Mrs Frank Milne, of Mountain, had the 2nd prize 3-year-old dry. The county herd entry was 6th among 11 entries.

Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor in Ayrshires was the well-known herd of Samuel S. Rose and Sons, of Mountain, whose winings included four firsts, five seconds and four thirds.

Malcolm MacGregor, Crysler, exhibited the junior champion, reserve senior and reserve grand champion Guernsey bull and was Premier Guernsey Exhibitor. Premier Breeder was Colin A. MacGregor, Crysler. L. J. Walker, Winchester Springs, also had many winning entries including three first prize animals.

In the seed and grain show, W. S. Feeley, Crysler, showed the first prize winner in grain corn. Mr Feeley, who is 78 years old, has made a lifetime hobby of growing corn and his outstanding entry was an easy winner in its class.

POPULAR FELLOW

Bristol Township Constable Raymond Fate insisted the prisoner was his.

"No, he's mine," replied Detective William Lovejoy of the Philadelphia police.

"Hey, the handcuffs are too tight," complained Dominic Santilli, arrested on a charge of larceny by trick in adjacent Bucks County.

A fugitive can't be released without a magistrate's hearing, said Lovejoy.

"I'm taking him out," said Fate.

Lovejoy, quick to intercept, grabbed constable, prisoner and cuffs and put them into a cell.

At the hearing a manual proved the constable was correct in demanding his prisoner.

As he left city hall in somewhat of a huff his prisoner was heard to remark:

"Hey, the handcuffs are too tight."

OUR APPRECIATION

We approached the problem of remodelling the front of our store with many doubts. The idea of having to leave the whole street side almost open and unprotected for several weeks seemed to be inviting trouble.

Thanks to you, the people of Chesterville and district, our store was not molested in any way all that time. We are very grateful to everyone for their appreciation of our problem and again we wish to express our thanks.

Watch for the grand opening of our new store very soon.

SALT AND PEPPER SHAKERS ARE HER HOBBY

The household of Mrs J. J. MacDonald, of Moose Jaw, has 500 salt and pepper shakers, but no one in the family uses salt or pepper.

Over the years Mrs MacDonald has accumulated the shaker sets and the only time one ever sits on the dinner table is when guests are invited.

"And only about two sets are ever filled—it's really quite funny when you stop to think about it," says Mrs MacDonald.

Of all shapes and sizes, the shaker sets have travelled many miles before settling in the nooks of the MacDonald home.

A set of bugle-shaped shakers was purchased in Concord, Mass.; a cowboy boot pair was sent from Tucson, Ariz., by Mrs MacDonald's parents, and a loving cup set was sent by a daughter from Waltham, Mass.

"Only a few sets are identical. It's really quite surprising that of the many sets I received as gifts, only a few are the same."

The shakers are only one of her many hobbies. She does petit-point and cross-stitching, leather work, quilting, copper jewellery, copper tooling, knitting and crocheting in any spare time.

INNER VOICE

Frank Kyle's inner voice has landed him in the clink again.

Kyle, 39, spent 2½ hours searching for a detective squad the other night. He finally found one.

"It's my conscience again," Kyle said. "Please lock me up. I've robbed two homes."

The Chicago detectives obliged. They discovered that the two homes Kyle mentioned had been broken into.

Kyle said he has served prison terms in Boston, New Jersey, Texas and Alabama for theft and burglary.

"Each time that inner voice —my conscience—made me give myself up," he moaned. "It has cost me 10 years and my career."

RUNAWAY "COWPOKES" SEE THE SIGHTS

A couple of runaway teen-age cowpokes from Long Island, N.Y., were foiled by police.

One of them, Douglas Gunner, 16, summed up the situation.

"We had a ball. When Dad catches up with me, it's going to be pow."

That could well be. Police said Douglas had withdrawn $3,650 from his father's bank account to finance a trip into the wild west by him and his pal, Kenny Grimsby, 14.

The young cowpokes, complete with 10-gallon hats and an arsenal of guns, were picked up at a Hollywood motel. Someone had reported seeing them with guns.

The lads tried to convince police that they were from the Circle C ranch in the Texas Panhandle and that their parents had given them $3,500 to go hunting in Montana. But their New York accents tripped them up.

Police said the boys had spent a considerable amount of money for guns, including a rifle, an elephant gun, two hand-tooled rifle scabbards and a magnum rifle. Gunner said he had only $1,365 left. The boys were booked on suspicion of illegal possession of firearms by minors.

ANIMAL FALLACIES

Some fallacies and outmoded beliefs, too often, unfortunately, implanted in the minds of children, are "debunked" by officials of the Department of Lands and Forests.

"Don't kill a spider or it will rain" and "Touch a toad and it will give you warts" are common enough, but there are also erroneous beliefs concerning larger animals found in the woods, they say. For example:

When it is reported that a bear, wildcat or lynx has been seen in the district, there is often mass alarm. Demands for immediate extermination are received and children often are kept indoors and not even allowed to walk to school. A large percentage of these reports in Southern Ontario is unfounded. In any event, the animals would be fearful of humans.

Other beliefs are:

Skunk—"You can tell if a skunk is around because you can smell it." Actually, a skunk is an exceptionally clean animal. It could have the run of the house, sleep on the chesterfield and would probably create no more nuisance than the average pet duck. A skunk will eject an unpleasant spray and obnoxious odour only as a last resort, when in fear of its life. A skunk will not foul its own coat or den with this weapon and actually appears to have as much dislike for the odour as do humans.

Porcupine — "A porcupine should not be destroyed because it is the only animal that you could kill with a stick for food if you were lost in the woods." Wise advice is that if a porcupine is killing your trees, as many people, unfortunately, have have found, it should be disposed of. It is not protected by law. The animal is also very palatable.

Workmen recently installed a stove for burning wood shavings in the old Casper, Wyo., city hall.

RAWHIDE IS BACK—Not even the CBC who employ him are safe from the outrageous humour of Max Ferguson who is back once more on the air as Rawhide, the multi-voiced entertainer. His satirical skits lampooning officialdom can be heard on the Trans-Canada network of the CBC every evening Mondays through Friday. Not everybody realizes that all the voices in the program are done by Max Ferguson himself—and there may be a dozen in one show!

RAT DAY

It was rat-killing day in Oklahoma City recently. Shotgun-armed police and firemen with flame throwers waded into a weedy area in the northwest sector.

Police Chief Roy Bergman personally directed the big hunt as housewives who had turned their anti-rat wrath on city hall watched from the sidelines.

After an hour of hunting, a tiny cotton rat poked his nose from the burning debris and was pulverized by shotgun blasts. Only four others were found by the hunters, who had expected some 600.

Bergman said philisophically: "Everyone co-operated but the rats."

WORLD'S SMALLEST TOWN IN THE NETHERLANDS

Everyone, whether a youngster or an adult, magically becomes a towering Gulliver when they stride into the Madurodam, at The Hague, for it has been dubbed "The World's Smallest Town."

Situated on a four-acre site, the Madurodam is a complex miniature of Holland itself. The tiny community is built on a scale of one-half inch to a foot, and visitors are apt to rub their eyes in disbelief when they see this fascinating spectacle of life in this minute city.

There are streets lined with shops, there are canals and windmills, factories, farms and castles. The church tower is no higher than your head, and yet its carillon actually plays. Model liners enter and leave the docks, tiny trains are constantly arriving and departing, and a stone's throw away is a little air terminal designed along the lines of Amsterdam's Schipol Airport. On the runways there are even replicas of KLM Royal Dutch Airlines planes, ready to take off for a dozen destinations.

For years the Madurodam has fascinated children. They come by the thousands to fall under the spell of this Lilliputia. If you place a coin in the slot, a four-inch-high organ grinder will turn the crank and play a merry tune. Across the road a wedding is in progress, and you hear the stirring notes of a wedding march.

The most beautiful view of any town is obtained at night—and the Madurodam is no exception. It is a unique sensation to see the 36,000 lights switched on, and its nightly activity gets under way.

But if children find this "baby town" irresistible, what of the grown-ups? Attendance figures show that an even larger volume of adult visitors come to gaze in awe at the world's biggest little wonders.

INTERESTING BOOKLET TELLS STORY OF BANKS

A short story for Canadians about the country's banking system and its unique features is told in a booklet distributed by The Canadian Bankers' Association.

It explains in a half-hour's reading how Canada got its strong banking system, how it keeps it up to date and how it provides Canadians in big and small communities with the same wide range of banking services.

The 28-page booklet, "The Chartered Banks of Canada," in 16 brief chapters goes quickly through the history of Canadian banking, outlining how the modern system was built up and how it operates.

Canada has a branch bank system, the booklet explains. The first branch was opened in Quebec City in 1817 and today there are more than 4,600 in Canada and 151 in 18 foreign countries and eight territories of the British West Indies. Canada has more banking offices in relation to population than any other country, the booklet notes.

At Confederation, the federal government got the power to regulate banking in the country, and the booklet tells how, by revision every 10 years, the Bank Act is kept up to date and the banking system kept abreast of the nation's needs.

There is a chapter on the Bank of Canada, the nation's central bank, and how it controls the amount of credit and money available in the country at any given period.

The booklet also contains a number of simple facts often forgotten:

There are 11,000,000 deposit accounts in the chartered banks.

At any given moment the banks have about 1,250,000 loans on their books. These aren't only loans to businessmen. A one-day check among bank branches made a couple of years ago showed that personal loans totalled $220,123,000. The size of these loans was from under $300 up to $3,500.

Winding up its story the booklet says:

"The Canadian banking system long has been known for its strength and stability, its ability to keep pace with the growing, expanding needs of a young and progressive nation."

CHRISTMAS CAKES

AS THE DAYS GROW SHORTER and the first flurries of snow fall, our thoughts turn to Christmas, and Christmas means entertaining and, of course, food. We will want spicy, fruit-filled cake to pass when friends drop in to say "Merry Christmas."

There is nothing better than Grandma's tried and true old-fashioned fruit cake, but perhaps you want something that takes less time to make so here is a recipe for an uncooked fruit cake. This is deliciously filled with fruit and spices and nuts, but don't expect it to be the same as a baked and steamed fruit cake.

Uncooked Fruit Cake

1 small can evaporated milk
12 finely chopped marshmallows
½ cup orange juice
6 doz. graham crackers
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
¼ tsp. cloves
¾ cup dark seedless raisins
¾ cup light seedless raisins
¾ cup finely cut dates
½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts
1¼ cups mixed candied fruits

Mix milk, marshmallows and orange juice. When cutting marshmallows, if you dip the knife in cold water after each marshmallow they will not stick to the knife. Allow this mixture to stand while getting other ingredients ready. Roll crumbs fine, add spices and fruit. Add milk mixture. Mix well with spoons and hands until well moistened. Press firmly into pan which has been lined with waxed paper, both bottom and sides. Top with more nuts and fruit, if desired. Cover tightly. Chill several days before using. This cake should be kept in a cool place. Of course it will not keep as long as an ordinary fruit cake but it is so good that that will not be a problem.

Rich Fruit Cake No. 1

The following recipe will make four medium-sized cakes:

1¼ lbs. butter
1¼ lbs. light brown sugar
13 eggs
5 cups flour
2 tsps. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. cloves
½ tsp. mace
2 lbs. currants
3 lbs. raisins
½ lb. dates
½ lb. almonds
1 lb. citron peel
½ cup orange juice
½ cup strong coffee

In making a large fruit cake, it is best to prepare the fruit one day and bake the cake the following day. To do this, pick over, wash and dry the currants; wash, seed and cut the raisins; wash, dry and stone the dates; cut the peel into very thin pieces; blanche the almonds and cut in small pieces. Mix the fruit and nuts and dredge with 1-3 cup of the flour. Also dredge the citron peel with the flour. If you neglect to dredge the fruit and nuts with flour they will stick together in lumps and it will be almost impossible to mix them thoroughly with the other ingredients.

In mixing the cake use the following method: Cream the butter thoroughly. Add sifted sugar slowly; beat until very light. Add one-quarter of the flour and spices mixed and sifted together. Add yolks of eggs, well beaten, then whites, beaten; stir; beat the mixture until very light. Add fruit juice and coffee alternately with remaining flour; beat well. Add fruit, one-third at a time. Pour mixture into pans which have been carefully lined with three thicknesses of paper, of which the top layer has been buttered. The pans should not be more than two-thirds full. Bake in a very slow oven 3 to 4 hours. If steamed for 2½ hours and baked for 1 hour the cake will be more moist.

Rich Fruit Cake No. 2

Mix and bake this cake in the same manner as Fruit Cake No. 1. This one has molasses instead of strong coffee as the liquid and has a slightly different combination of fruits.

1¼ lbs. butter
1¼ lbs. light brown sugar
13 eggs
5 cups flour
2 tsps. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. cloves
½ tsp. mace
1 lb. light seeded raisins
1 lb. dark seeded raisins
3 lbs. seedless raisins
¼ lb. green candied cherries
¼ lb. red candied cherries
¼ lb. candied pineapple
¾ lb. almonds
1 lb. citron peel
½ cup grape juice
2-3 cup strawberry jam
½ cup molasses

Hallowe'en has come and gone but the debris lingers on—in the village square. This was the picture Saturday morning atfer some of the mess had been cleared away. The usual motley assortment of junk and old cars made a familiar picture and a couple of Chic Sale models added a certain flavour to the scene. Children of the village behaved themselves very well this year and soaping and writing was held to a minimum. Some older children with a tendency to be lunkheads blew the fire siren twice. Police are investigating that escapade.—Record Photo.
