Hospital Forms E.M. Committee

Detailed Financial Report Heartens Board Members

Because of the hospital's strategic location in time of nuclear attack and conscious of the need in peacetime in case of nearby catastrophe, Winchester District Memorial Hospital Board of Directors voted Tuesday night in favour of forming a special Emergency Measures Committee. The committee, formed at the request of Hospital Administrator John Davis, will include Mr. Davis, Dr. W. M. Byers and W. R. Workman.

The committee will work in conjunction with the Board and with the Emergency Measures Organization of the United Counties. It will gain as much knowledge as possible and make recommendations to the Board from time to time regarding the hospital's position in time of attack or catastrophe. The committee will very likely suggest what type of "extra" supplies should be maintained in case of emergency. In the days ahead, depending greatly on the world situation, the committee could become very important to the proper functioning of the hospital under adverse times and this was the chief reason why it was formed. Up till now work along this line had been carried out by Administrator John Davis who said that without the sanction of the Board "I have gone about as far as I can go."

At Tuesday night's Board meeting directors also learned in a detailed report by Hospital Treasurer John Hatcher that the finances of the hospital were in fairly good order. It now seems apparent that all outstanding accounts will be looked after without too much delay because of the assistance of government grants and the Royal Bank of Canada in extending credit. It is expected that the $50,000 for the sewer system will be paid to the village, which is being pressed by the Ontario Water Resources Commission, as well as $50,000 owing the contractor. In grants receivable the Hospital expects to bring in about $160,000 by the early part of 1962. The outstanding loan at the Bank will be gradually retired through a system of depreciation and differential allotment in hospital wards.

W. J. L. Boyd presided at the meeting and he, along with Miss B. Legris, director of Nurses, and Walter C. MacDonald, gave excellent reports on the recent Ontario Hospital Association Convention at Toronto. Administrator John Davis also reported and all said that it was the "best" convention ever sponsored by the Hospital association. Mr. Davis reported that 32 per cent. of Ontario hospital beds to-day were being supplied through hospitals with 100 beds or less.

Dr. W. M. Byers said the hospital was "busy", and figures presented by both the Director of Nurses and Hospital Administrator sustained the Medical Chief's statement.

Report of the Hospital Auxiliary was given by Mrs. Rose Campbell, president, who said that donations would be received for the new showcase in the hospital lobby.

During October there were 291 admissions at the hospital and Miss Legris said that there were 90 patients in the hospital on Tuesday evening, more than the suggested "peak" number by the Commission.

Nurses' Aides, recently released, were discharged reluctantly by the hospital. However, the action was necessary to cope with the standards set down by the Ontario Hospital Commission, as the Winchester hospital must operate with sixty per cent. professional and forty per cent. non professional help. To further comply with the suggested ratio of help, more nurses' aides will be laid off in the future.

Impressive Cenotaph Service

Winchester and district citizens were out in large numbers to remember their war dead on Sunday at an impressive Remembrance Day service held at the Cenotaph on the Hospital Grounds

The service, held in the splendour of warm sunshine on a beautiful autumn day, was held following the annual Legion Church Parade and Divine Service at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The church auditorium was overflowing for the service and many persons had to be seated in the Sunday School Hall. Rev. William Sutherland presided at the service, and his sermon was in keeping with the Remembrance Day theme. He later presided at the Cenotaph service, assisted by Rev. W. I. Thomas, minister of St. Matthias' Anglican Church, and Rev. W. Mack, minister of the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

The colourful parade included a large turnout of Legion members, members of the Scouts and Cubs, and was headed by the smart and colourful Winchester High School Band. More than 100 strong, the parade was under the command of Ken. Summers. Sam Ault was in charge of the colour party.

Following the playing of the Last Post and the observance of one minute's silence, the following wreaths were laid among the crosses at the Cenotaph: Winchester 100 Club, Winchester Loyal Orange Lodge, Winchester LOBA, Winchester High School, Township of Winchester, Province of Ontario by Mrs. Ella MacIntosh; Village of Winchester by Reeve John Fader; Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Legion, by Mrs. Helen Coons, and Canadian Legion Branch 108, president Basil Dawley.

Family memorial wreaths included those for Lieut. George "Bud" Utman; Corporal Creighton Robinson, and Private Robert Bilow and Gunner F. F. Woods.

Mrs. Ed. Anderson Dies At Ottawa

Long a respected resident of Vernon, Mrs. Edward Anderson died on Monday in the Ottawa Civic Hospital, following a lengthy illness.

In her 75th year, the late Mrs. Anderson was born in London, England, a daughter of the late Thomas Edward Adamthwaite and Kate Furby.

Coming to Canada in 1900, Mrs. Anderson was married to Edward Anderson on February 16th, 1905, and first resided in Winchester, before moving to Vernon. Her husband predeceased her in November 1958. She was a member of Vernon Presbtyerian Church, an active member of the Ladies' Aid, and a life member of the W. M. S. of that church until ill health forced her to retire.

The deceased is survived by three sons, and four daughters: Arthur, of Osgoode; Andy, of Ottawa; Lee, of Toronto; Mrs. Arvi Ristamaki, (Vera), of Fort William; Mrs. Gilbert Raistrick (Anne), Winchester; Mrs. Dougal Harrison (Hazel), and Mrs. Stanley Raistrick (Ruth) of Ottawa. Also surviving are seventeen grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, and a sister, Miss Agnes Adamthwaite, of Hove, England.

The body rested at the Veitch-Draper Funeral Home, Ottawa, where service was conducted on Wednesday afternoon. Interment took place at Spring Hill Cemetery. Rev. Robert Good, of Erskine Presbyterian Church, conducted the service. Earth brought from England by Rev. C. Younger Lewis, at the request of the deceased, was used at the burial service.

Inter County Tourist Association Meets Tonight

An organization for the new Inter-County Tourist Association will be held tonight (Thursday) in the Civic Building at Morrisburg. The Association includes the counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and Grenville, and replaces the previous associations known as the St. Lawrence Valley Tourist Association and the Seaway Valley Travel Council.

Peter Manley, MLA for Stormont, will be the chairman of the meeting which has been called to elect a slate of officers and directors from the membership at large. The membership shall be composed of all residents of the four counties interested in tourist promotion.

According to a pre-release, the first duties of the Association shall be to prepare a durable constitution which shall be presented to the membership for ratification as soon as possible.

Delegates from the various areas will not be allowed to vote unless they possess the proper credentials.

240 Attend Dundas Holstein Club Banquet

More than 240 members and guests attended the annual banquet of the Dundas Holstein Club last Wednesday night. Held in the spacious and attractive hall of Iroquois United Church, the banquet was presided over by club president Basil Dawley of Winchester. John Thompson, deputy reeve of Matilda, extended a welcome to the guests, and Bernard Brunt, of Williamsburg, vice president, introduced head table guests including: Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, Brinston; Rev. A. C. Adey, Brinston; Mr. and Mrs. Basil Dawley; Mr. and Mrs. Marland Murray, Ontario Association Director; Grant Smith, Brockville, Eastern Ontario fieldman; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brunt and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Pearson, of Morrisburg.

The ladies of Brinston United Church provided the ample supply of turkey, pie and confections for the banquet, and they were thanked by Franklin Milne.

A relaxing evening of entertainment and trophy presentations followed the banquet. Lorne Henderson, Brinston, was the winner of the Biccum trophy for the premier breeder award at the Dundas Black and White Show. The donor, Howard Biccum, of Winchester, a former president of the Club, made the presentation.

Other awards included the Royal Bank trophy for best udder cow at Dundas Black and White Show to Frank Milne of Mountain, presented by Royal Bank Manager John Hatcher of Winchester; the premier exhibitor banner to Hugh Blaine of Mountain, presented by Grant Smith, fieldman.

Mr. Smith also presented long-time production certificates to Basil Dawley, Gordon Fraser, Merill Graham, Angus Smith, Johann Byveld, Albert Smith, Arnold and George Suffel, George Brooks and others.

Parent association greetings were brought by Marland Murray, Ontario director of Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada. Greetings were also brought from neighbouring county associations in Carleton and Grenville, as well as from the Dundas-Grenville Ayrshire Breeders' Club.

The toast to the ladies was proposed by Lorne Henderson and replied to by Mrs. Harold Merkley of Chesterville.

Plans For Santa's Visit Likely At COC Annual

Plans for Winchester's annual pre Christmas Santa Claus visit and Christmas decorations will be made at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce slated for the Town Hall Council Chambers next Thursday night, November 23.

Although running late, it is expected that plans for the annual Christmas promotion will be finalized at this meeting and put into action without any delay. Because of the Grey Cup classic, the Santa Claus visit is not expected to take place on Saturday, December 2nd, although this is not definite. Most popular date now is Saturday, December 9th, although a definite decision will be made next week.

At the same time a new slate of officers will be brought in and elected, retiring president Roy Fawcett said. Committee appointed at a brief executive meeting to present a new slate of officers is composed of two past presidents, Robert Vice and W. C. MacDonald.

All members and particularly business people are asked to attend the annual meeting next week as there is a full slate of important business to come before the meeting. Details on Santa's visit and the other Christmas promotions will be published as soon as they are known.

Mrs. Desdemonia Nesbitt Donates $500 To United Church WMS

Mrs. Desdemonia Nesbitt, the oldest member of the Women's Missionary Society of Winchester United Church, who will be 98 in December, donated $500.00 to the Society at the meeting held in the church last Thursday.

Mrs. Nsbitt, who has been a member for well over half a century, gave the gift in memory of her husband, Jay W. Nesbitt. She was unable to be present and in her absence the gift was presented by Mrs. William Lannin.

At the same meeting, Mrs. Willis VanAllen, who has been active in the Society for many years, made herself a life member.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Kenneth Carlyle, president, who opened with a Remembrance Day article, "Give Peace." The theme song was "Women of God Arise."

Twenty-three members answered roll call, and the minutes were read by Miss Ellice Smith. Mrs. Bower Potter received reports of 48 hospital calls, 40 house calls and 30 cards sent during the month.

A paper on Temperance, "The Christian as a Citizen," was given by Mrs. Paul Johansen. Miss Florence Milne gave an interesting report of the Eastern Sectional Rally held in Winchester Springs in October.

Mrs. Stanley Rennick conducted the devotional part of the meeting. The theme was "What is the Task of the Church?' She was assisted by Mrs. Rae Merkley. The study book, "Youth in Transition," was given by Miss Ellice Smith. A solo, "My Task," was sung by Mrs. P. S. Durant, accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Steele.

The December meeting will be held on the evening of December 14th when members of the Evening Auxiliary will be entertained.

The offering was received by Mrs. J. L. Dixon and Mrs. Rae Merkley.

EMO Meetings South Mountain

Communications and Rescue Courses organized by the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Emergency Measures Organization, will continue at South Mountain High School every Thursday evening.

There are still a few vacancies and persons interested in taking these courses should report to the school on Thursday nights at eight o'clock.

At present there are 200 people in the counties engaged in these courses.

100 Club

Members of Winchester 100 Club are reminded that to-night (Thursday) is the annual Ladies' Night. A special program has been arranged and the committee in charge is composed of Frank Morgan, Roy Fawcett and Howard Willard.

Mothers of the Cubs and Scouts, with Mrs. Helen Coons as supervisor, will cater. Club president Howard Wilard extends a hearty welcome to the ladies and also says "Visitors are welcome."

The meeting, by the way, will get underway in the Town Hall at 7.00 o'clock.

CFRA Completes "Operation High Tower"

"Operation High Tower," the first commercial construction project of its kind in Canada, was carried out successfully in the Gatineau Hills north of Ottawa, during the week just past.

The operation, which involved four helicopters and precision engineering techniques, was concived by the president of CFRA Broadcasting Limited, Frank Ryan. His idea was to facilitate construction of CFRA's new 146,000 watt FM transmitter tower and building.

Within the amazingly short space of three days, the helicopters airlifted almost 150 tons of crushed stone fill and concrete for the base of the transmitter building, a threehundred foot steel transmitting tower, and a 16 x 36 foot transmitter house.

Taking part in "Operation High Tower" was Vertol Aircraft of Arnprior, Spartan Air Services of Ottawa, E. Quipp Construction experts of Ottawa, and CFRA engineers.

Contractor Eddie Quipp said that the project would have taken at least two months without the service of the helicopters, if he and his men had had to transport heavy materials up the mountainside by conventional methods.

On Monday, November 6th, the Vertol 42A twin-rotor helicopter from Arnprior airlifted between 60 and 80 tons of crushed stone from a gravel pit on the Gatineau River bank to the site of CFRA's new FM installation on the Skyline Ridge atop the ski hills at Camp Fortune.

Tuesday, another 75 tons of specially-treated concrete was transported by the "flying banana" from the Amyot Ready-Mix plant in Hull to the transmitter site, ten miles away, the way the crow (and helicopter) flies.

Thursday, the critical, but most exciting phase of "Operation High Tower" was watched by thousands of Ottawa-Hull and area residents. One mother told CFRA she kept her young son home from school to witness the exciting spectacle.

The Vertol 42A 'copter, escorted by two Bell whirlybirds, hooked on to one-half of the CFRA-FM transmitter building at Kilreen Farm in the west end of Ottawa and lifted it dramatically and securely to the top of Skyline Ridge, 20 miles away, but closer to 30 miles in flying distance because the heavy load, suspended by steel cable and buffeted by the wind, was taken by a roundabout route to avoid passing over the city. This procedure was repeated with the other half of the building.

The four-ton steel building was manoeuvred into position so that only six inches separated the two sections, making it simple for the engineers to put them together again.

The Vertol work-house then returned to Kilreen Farm, and flew the 300-foot broadcasting tower in dangling sections to the top of the mountain at Camp Fortune. While the Vertol 42A 'copter hovered overhead, Ajax Tower enginers, fighting the 100 - mile - an - hour downdraft from the twin rotors of the helicopter, guided the 107-foot main tower section onto its tiny base, quickly fastened guy wires to the swaying one-ton steel tower

Last Of The Big Ones

The last of the season's big growth is over and the story of the above cabbages just about winds up this year's notebook of really big ones. Mrs. Ed. Skuce, of R. R. 1, Winchester, reported to The Press last week that she grew about 200 head of cabbage this year. Of the total, more than 50 of them averaged 35 to 45 inches in circumference and weighed anywhere from 14 to 16 pounds. Mighty big cabbages but the proof lies in above picture where three of the large ones are being eyed by Lyle Skuce, junior member of the Skuce family. The cabbage in the picture ranged from 14 pounds to 19 pounds, and the larger one had a circumference of just over 45 inches. That's a lot of cabbage!—Press Staff Photo.

It's The Most!

Recently we have become aware of something that has dimly bothered us for a long time and that is that magistrates, learned judges, — those who mete out justice to the offender — are as free with the exaggerated as any bubble-blowing teenager. Conservatism, it appears, has gone the way of the Model T and now you must be either real cool or a rock, boy. Even in the courts of law.

The Uxbridge Times-Journal states editorially: "Take a look at a few clippings from court cases and the denunciations made by the heads of justice: 'This is the most despicable crime in all my years on the bench'; 'This is the most blatant case of gross negligence I have ever seen'; 'This is the most vile thing I have ever heard'; 'This is the most lamentable . . .' and so on. In other words this age is really the MOST.

"Their Honors have probably picked up the exaggerated adjective, the extravagant phrase from their children and their grandchildren where no thing is any longer considered different, inspiring or exciting, but is, rather weird, way out, or fabulous.

"Perhaps they should be forgiven for being so hep and picking up the idiom of the day, but we cannot help having a wave of nostalgia for the days of conservatism when those we looked up to leaned to the dignified understatement that has for so long made our courts of law the august auditoriums of justice they were.

"For if traffic offences, petty crime and other minor infractions are to be continually labelled 'the Most . . .' whatever will they find to say when something much more serious comes before the bench?"

A Killing Pace

The haste in which most of us are moving in this age, more often referred to as a pace, is killing a lot of us off. Unless there is some concrete change there is every reason to expect that the pace in which we make haste will continue to take its toll.

We rush to the office; we rush home; we drive too fast; we play too hard; we do this and do that as if it were the last chance. Actually, we are making it a "last chance" atmosphere because of our fast mode of living.

A lot of people are killed being in a hurry. Sometimes the dangerous rush is their own, sometimes that of another person. But haste is dangerous in many ways, comments The Cornwall Standard-Freeholder.

It is a little difficult to say why extreme haste is such a prominent feature of our day and age. Most people have more time off from work than an earlier generation ever dreamed of. Yet somehow there is more to do than ever before. Perhaps it would be accurate to say we pursue leisure to excess in much the same way as people of an earlier generation were required to work excessive hours and excessively hard.

At any rate, all this rush leads a great many people to indulge in haste where it is easily indulged: at the wheel of a car. A lot of people cannot seem to wait to get home in the evening. Still more rush to work every morning, acting as though they were in a race for some sort of prize.

Far too many accidents on the roads are caused by this haste. Since all the speed we can muster in driving to work can scarcely save the average individual a single minute, it is hard to see why people do it. But they do.

The moral: Slow Down!

Above Average

Most of us have had occasion to admire the courage of the physically handicapped. They are so often imbued with a determination to prove themselves as good as the rest of us, disability or no disability, and sometimes, indeed, they prove more than this.

An example is the conclusion of a company-wide study made by a major U.S. manufacturing concern that its more than 1,000 physically handicapped employees had achieved average or better than average levels of job performance, safety and attendance.

No less interesting, the survey indicated that the severity of a handicap does not prevent the employee from doing a first-rate job: some of the best performers had the most severe handicaps—amputation, blindness, deafness and paraplegia.

The safety records of the handicapped group disclosed that 39 per cent. were better than average, 59 per cent. average, and a mere two per cent. below average. In attendance, 36 per cent. were better than average, half were average, and 14 per cent. below average. In job performance, 27 per cent. were above average, 60 per cent. average, and only 13 per cent. below the norm.

There must be great encouragement for all who are disabled in such results as these. And they surely provide food for thought for the rest of us.

Safety First

Ontario having become the eighth province to institute a provincial sales tax, shopping is somewhat more complicated than it used to be.

The younger set, however, seem anything but fazed. The young man sent by his mother to the drug store to buy diapers, for instance.

"Ninety cents for the diapers and three cents for tax, please," said the clerk, handing them to him. To which the small boy replied: "Oh, never mind the tacks, thank you, my mother always uses safety pins!"

ARE THE ESKIMO A SEPARATE RACE?

From the early days of Arctic exploration, scholars have debated whether the Eskimo constitute a separate race distinct from other American aborigines or whether they are merely a branch of our Indians that moved into a unique environment and developed their own apperance, language and ways of life. Until the late 19th century, Europeans had come into close contact with the Eskimo mainly at the extreme limits of their range—Alaska on one side and Greenland and Labrador on the other—and they had assumed that the physical type, the language and the customs were fairly uniform everywhere. This is now known to be incorrect. In Alaska, and even in Canada which contains less than a fifth of the total Eskimo population, there have been discovered marked differences between groups in different areas, differences that suggest a complex history extending over many thousands of years and an origin from more than one racial strain.

WHERE DID THE METHODIST FAITH HAVE ITS CANADIAN BEGINNINGS?

Methodism in Canada had several separate beginnings. It has been said that Methodism came into the Maritimes with the conversion of William Black. This young man of Yorkshire descent went throughout the eastern provinces from 1781 onwards, preaching and organizing Methodist churches. Among British troops that came to Quebec in 1780 there were a number who belonged to branches of the faith in England and Ireland. In 1778 Loyalists from the United States formed a Methodist society along the Bay of Quinte in Ontario, and in 1791 preachers who had braved many hardships established the first circuit in Upper Canada. The first Methodist churches in North America of which there is any certain record were built in 1768—one in New York City associated with the name of Barbara Heck, another in Baltimore that resulted from the labors of Robert Strawbridge.

WHEN DID THE 49th PARALLEL BECOME THE BOUNDARY?

In 1818. When the Treaty of Paris was signed in 1783 between the newly formed United States, the boundary between the States and the British North American possessions was fixed through the Great Lakes as at present and on to Rainy Lake and the Lake of the Woods. From the northwest point of the Lake of the Woods it was discovered that a line drawn due west from the northwest point of the Lake of the Woods did not touch the Mississippi River, which rose farther south. This difficulty was resolved in 1818 when by common agreement it was decided that the line should be drawn along the 49th parallel of latitude from the Lake of the Woods to the Rocky Mountains.

Of Many Things

BY AMBROSE HILLS

COMMUNISM AND THE CHURCHES

The Canadian Council of Evangelical Churches, headed by Dr. Slade, pastor of the Jarvis Street Baptist Church in Toronto, is greatly concerned about what it believes to be Communist use of religion to advance the cause of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

The reason for its concern was, apparently, a visit to Canada by a religious delegation from Russia, headed by Jakov Zhidkov and two associates. According to the Christian Beacon, the Russian delegation is composed of propagandists for Khrushchev. That religious newspaper claims that the Canadians who sponsored the Russian visit "may be counted among the duped."

Dr. Carl McIntire, president of the International Council of Christian Churches, said bluntly that the three Russian ministers visiting Toronto are Communist agents, and that one is an elite member of the NKVD (secret police). Dr. McIntire added, "The real Christians in Russia tonight are in the underground, the catacombs, in Siberia, and thousands are in their graves. They're not walking around like these men."

What is one to make of these charges? The Gospel Witness, published by the Baptist Church, has accused the Baptist Federation of Canada of "collaboration with Communists." On the other hand, there are leading spokesmen of the Baptist faith who defend and approve of the Russian tour and the man who heads it. One, Dr. Emlyn Davies, minister of Yorkminster Baptist Church in Toronto and president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, is quoted by the Canadian Press as saying, "The charges made against him (Zhidkov) are groundless and unworthy, but typical of the McCarthys of Protestantism. Most of the accusations are part of a smear campaign and unworthy of a Christian minister."

In the United States, there has been a struggle going on for many years between those who are convinced that Communists are infiltrating church organizations, and those who are leaders in the ecumenical movement. It seems certain, now, that the Russian tour has started similar conflict here in Canada. It is an issue which cannot help but lead to very bitter disputes.

It would seem to me that much of this bitterness and ill-will could be avoided if a committee composed of members from each group could meet and study the situation calmly. Jakov Zhidkov has written many articles and made numerous speeches. Surely a careful study of his own words would disclose more truth about him than do the charges and counter-charges being hurled back and forth today between members of the same faith.

SUGAR and SPICE

By Bill Smiley

It's not only the ducks and deer that are catching it this fall. Apparently it's also open season on columnists. Latest salvo fired in my direction was discharged by a Baptist minister. His volley appeared in the Atikokan, Ontario Progress, which has run this column for some years.

Dearie me, that parson has a wicked tongue in his head. He can reallly dish it out. And when he runs out of personal abuse he falls back on a passage of scripture, torn from context, of course.

Herewith a few samples. The letter begins: "I would appreciate the opportunity to express my disgust over an article that appeared in your paper by one self-styled Romeo and tough guy, Bill Smiley. This article was a mixture of trash and rubbish with a whole lot of nothing thrown in."

* * * *

Now this gentle man of the cloth obviously has me mixed up with someone else. If I didn't believe that, I'd be hurt. Me, a Romeo? It is to laugh. I haven't been out with a girl, except my wife, since I started courting her back in '49. Me, a tough guy? The same wife, who weighs about 108, can quell me with an eyebrow. I'll admit the article was a mixture of trash and rubbish, but I'm not going to take that part about "a whole lot of nothing" lying down. There was also junk in it, and nonsense, but there wasn't any nothing in it.

The parson goes on to suggest that he'd enjoy giving me a physical pounding, as well as a verbal one. Careful, mister. I may be a 138-pound coward, but my big brother isn't. He is currently bossing a lumber camp.

Joking aside, you didn't reallly mean it, did you, reverend? I didn't mind that bit where you linked me with harlots, drunkards, dope addicts and Mr. Khrushchev, but the next part hurt, where you said: "I recently read where a college graduate could not read nor write. Could it be that Smiley was his teacher? Any school that is foolish enough to have a man like him on their staff would no doubt have him in the English department."

Yep, that's where all us dope fiends and drunks wind up. I showed your letter to my department head, a gentle lady who has been teaching for many years, just to let her know what a viper she was nursing. She read it and grinned.

I liked the last paragraph, though, in which you said: "I wish he were a member of my church. It would give me great joy to have him voted out of the membership." That bit has the nicest touch in the whole diatribe, and I refuse to make any of the comments that leap to mind.

However, dear sir, I'm sorry if you have been offended. I am sure you are a good man. I am not a good man. I am not a very bad one, either, just an ordinary husband and father, a broken-down weekly editor, a school teacher, a newspaper columnist, and a sinner. I go to church, but I'm not quite sure whether I'm saved or not. I rather doubt it.

At any rate, let's not be hostile. There's enough bickering in the world. Some of your fellow-townsmen have come to my defense, in your paper. I thank them, and suggest we drop the whole matter. I respect your sincerity. You must respect mine.

Rather than defend myself, I'll let this retired high school teacher, a gentleman and scholar, do it for me. He writes: "Smiley . . . writes not only 'sugar' but 'spice'; he appeals to the vulgar, plebian strain in most of us."

"Now, to my mind, "darn' and 'damn' are mere expletives, the uttering of which relieves tension. Would you have Smiley say 'my goodness sakes alive', or, as an evanlistic who campaigned in my youth recommended, 'Tobacco, pipes and wine', in place of 'hell' and 'damn'?'.

"Personally, I don't see why a lady should be upset by mention of the final goal of sinners, or the verb that condemns them to it. In my view it is more revolting and disgusting to hear the English language murdered by semi-literate radio and television personalities."

"Smiley is not going to change his style. Good for him. I shall still enjoy Sugar and Spice." Thank you, Fred G. Millar, of Halifax, and may your enjoyment be of many years' duration.

The Winchester Press:

Dear Sirs:

On behalf of the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary I have been asked to forward our thanks to your newspaper for your co-operation in publishing our monthly reports, etc.

Your future interest will be greatly appreciated.

I am

The Seventh Column

Sirens blasted all over Canada in a mock bomb attack on Monday. Officials estimated that close to 4,000,000 Canadians died on paper. If it had been the real thing the figure could have been higher. Makes one shudder to think that it is even necessary to have tests of this kind. World situation as it is, there seems little doubt that preparedness could save many lives if and when the time ever comes for actual nuclear bombing of this or any other country. In the Ottawa district many towns outside the Capital have air raid sirens tied in with the warning system at Ottawa. Winchester, less than 30 miles from the city, does not have any type of warning system. Talking to another Winchester businessman the other night at the Curling Club opening, the question was asked why there had not been an attempt to have a siren located in Winchester and tied in with the city warning system. Places like Almonte and Arnprior, both farther away than Winchester, have this warning system. Looks like a good question for Council. Maybe a siren could be located here and, perhaps, the present fire siren could be used. In any case, it's worth investigating.

And on the subect of nuclear attack and fall-out we would stress that milk supplies are not contaminated nor will they become that way until such time as the entire district is covered with heavy fall-out. Let's hope this never happens. Seems there are always people who like to stretch an inch into a mile and who, invariably, seem to misinterpret a good news story. In recent weeks the use of skim milk powder, when whole milk supplies become contaminated, has been stressed. Seems like good sense. One of the country's big skim milk powder manufacturers is Ault Milk Products of Winchester, and in last week's issue we used a picture of a small part of the thousands of pounds of milk powder presently in storage. However, whole milk is still being used and is in no danger of contamination from fall-out at the present time. A recent British government experiment revealed that the cow is a natural radioactive filter and even when fed large amounts of radioactive food, produces milk relatively free of radiation. So it may be that "Old Bessie" could be supplying milk a lot longer and a lot safer than many scientists would think.

Many of the hunters are still away seeking the big game. Others have returned home and, it seems, this year's hunting in many of the usually good places was not so hot. However, Keith Graham is back at the editor's chair of the Chesterville Record this week after a week up north. And he was complaining about having to lug an 1100-pound moose through the bush to the camp before coming home. Seems his camp has picked up three of the "big boys" and ye old editor reports he also shot a bear. Nice to know that Keith was one of the luckier hunters and, of course, being a good friend and fellow editor of yours truly there's every reason to anticipate a nice juicy roast or a couple of thick tender steaks. Well, as the saying goes, "a Buck in the bush isn't worth two cents when you get it home."

Obituary of the 1961 Rough Riders has been written so many times that there is not much need for us to continue the painful duty. The Roughies were buried last week by the steamed up Toronto Argos. It was a sad day for the team and for Ottawa fans. And, as yet, we haven't heard a reasonable explanation from anyone including the coaches. Somewhere, about five weeks ago, something happened to this Ottawa team and they never did recover. Seems to us that the management will have to take a good look at what is going on—and not just at the player personnel. Last Saturday's game was not only poorly played, it was poorly handled from a coaching standpoint. We aren't suggesting new coaches, but we are stressing that there is room for improvement in every department. It's tough business to be in, but anyone suggesting that the fans received full value for their money this year is suffering from some sort of an illusion. This team didn't have a decent game in its last five, yet we were still led up the creek, supposedly, by the usual soft-minced words of the coaches, and others, with all this baloney about not being mentally "up" for the game. Good players, some original plays and the use of "all" good personnel would help. After all, this team did win the Grey Cup last year. Yet the Riders, for a variety of reasons apparently, were lucky to even get into the play-offs this year. There is still a nucleus for a good team here with players like Vaughn, Reynolds, Jackson, Thelen and Nesbitt, as good as any in the league. But, before another season is here the Riders will have to start on a rebuilding job and, unless there is a change of heart, the famine may have started last Saturday at Lansdowne.

Maybe we weren't the first, but it's a safe bet The Press was one of the first newspapers in Ontario to publish the names of the men sitting on the new cabinet of Premier John Robarts. Thanks to the co-operation of CFRA, The Press was able to hold its deadline an hour and the format of the front page was changed at the last minute when it was official that Fred Cass had been named the new Minister of Municipal Affairs. Certainly this newspaper was the first to carry this particular news in Eastern Ontario, and we even beat the dailies. Not often this sort of thing happens, and although it may not be entirely necessary, it has its moments of satisfaction.

Meditations

BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Matthew 5:7 — "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

One of man's greatest virtues is mercy. Mercy is love applied. It is when practicing mercy that men most closely resemble their heavenly Father, of Whom it is said repeatedly, "The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy." — Psalm 103:8. The whole plan and work of redemption has its origin in God's great love and mercy towards mankind. It is God's love and mercy that made Calvary possible and make salvation a reality to all who believe.

God requires mercy from all men. They must be merciful like He is. Our mercy must proceed from the love God has bestowed on us and in us. We must love God above all and with our whole being and our neighbour as our self. If we truly love our neighbour, because we truly love God, we will also have that compassion towards him that God requires of us.

This fact, that our mercy must flow forth from our love to God, which alone makes possible our love to men, qualifies our mercy, and gives it a certain characteristic. Our mercy will then proceed from a genuine concern for man's needs and his sufferings, and it will move us to seek his good, his comfort and alleviation from suffering.

No one can show true mercy except he be renewed by God's spirit. Only those born of God can show true mercy, for true love to man has its source in Christ's work in us. Only the heart born again (John 3:3) can love God and man. Of the unregenerate heart Scripture says that it is, " . . . deceived, serving divers' lusts and passions, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another."—Titus 3:3). A heart unregenerate cannot have true mercy for it is filled with and controlled by hate and malice.

True mercy seeks the alleviation of man's needs. Man's greatest needs are spiritual and not natural or physical. The merciful therefore seeks first of all to bring men to a knowledge of their lost estate so that they may turn to God in faith and live. For that reason he will also seek to help men in their earthly distresses and miseries. But this always with regard to bringing men to an alleviation of their greatest misery, namely, to deliver them from the bondage of sin and death and hell.

It follows that there is nothing wishy-washy about mercy. It is strong, and even at times unduly sharp, because it seeks man's highest good. Genuine mercy is never at the expense of justice, but always seeking to help within the framework of justice. Sometimes it is a form of the highest mercy that crimes be punished and sin be corrected and rebuked.

To those who are thus merciful, that is, with a view to helping men to true happiness and peace, the promise is that they shall also obtain mercy. They will not merit mercy, but rather, their showing mercy is a demonstration of mercy received, and God rewards by grace; grace upon grace to those who practice love. This is God's Word to us. The question we must answer is this: Are we truly merciful?

COMMITTEE FORMED

Cattle Beeders To Amalgamate

The boards of directors of the Eastern Ontario Cattle Breeding Association at Kemptville, and the Quinte District Cattle Breeding Association at Belleville have announced the appointment of a joint committee to study the aspects of an amalgamation of the two businesses.

The advantages of more economical operations and greater possibilities in proving and using superior sires has initiated the idea.

The two organizations are presently providing artificial insemination service to sixteen Eastern Ontario counties and sections of Western Quebec. Approximately 110,000 cows will beb red during 1961 in the area presently serviced.

The amalgamation, if completed, could result in the largest artificial breeding operation in Canada, since a potential of approximately 400,000 cows exists in this section of Ontario and Quebec.

President of the Eastern Ontario Cattle Breeding Association is Charles A. Campbell of Arnprior, and Manger, Dr. R. G. Smiley, Kemptville. The Quinte Association has Russell Osborne of Newcastle as its president and Dr. J. M. McLean of Belleville as its manager.

NATIONAL JEWELLERY WEEK

NOVEMBER 18th to 25th, 1961

Too often the owner of a fine watch is apt to take his precious timepiece for granted — and forget to bring it to his good friend, the local jeweller, for a necessary periodical check-up and oiling.

A periodical cleaning of your watch is a "time" saver in two ways. The repairman not only removes dust or dirt that might have sifted into the movement, he also removes congealed, dirty oil.

Like any machine, your precious watch movement needs oil —and the right oil—to protect its moving parts against frictional wear. The lack of proper lubrication too often results in this wear, and ultimate necessary or complete stoppage of the movement.

Avoid all possible shocks to your watch. Remember, many an automobile's shock absorbers have been broken when going over a deep rut in the road, and even a "shock-resistant" watch can take just so much out-of-the-ordinary jolting. Gentle handling is insurance against broken parts.

When you wind the stem of your timepiece, the action tightens the mainspring and stores new energy needed to run the watch. Wind it gently with the thumb and finger and stop when you feel that the tension is at the maximum.

When you want to reset the hands on your watch, gently pull out the stem. And set it back in the same way.

In brief, jewellers give this advice to the owner of a quality watch who wants a well-maintained, accurate timepiece:

(3) Wind it once a day, preferably in the morning. And when you wind it, take it off your wrist.
(4) Try not to expose it to extreme hot or cold conditions.
(5) Keep it away from perfume, powder, or loose tobacco crumbs.
(6) And, above all, if the watch should lose its accuracy or stop completely, don't try fixing it yourself. Tinkering with a fine watch movement can be an expensive experiment. Your community watchmaker makes it his business to nurse "sick" watches back to health.

New Night Economy Plan and Other Long Distance Reductions . . .

On our Night Economy plan you can call your out of town family and friends in Ontario and Quebec at less cost! On any Bell Company station-to-station call within Ontario and Quebec, placed after 9 p.m. you will pay the low night rate for the first five minutes - but don't hang up yet! There is NO ADDITIONAL CHARGE for the next five minutes!, and then for each two additional minutes, you will be charged only one.

Increased automation has enabled us to pass along to our customers the economies on station-to-station calls. Calls requiring the services of an operator will however, now reflect more closely their actual costs. For example, Person-to-Person calls are more expensive for distances up to 276 miles, with reductions for greater distances. The Night and Sunday discount for Person-to-Person calls is also eliminated, and the surcharge for third number or "collect" calls has been increased from ten to 20 cents. I know you will enjoy being able to talk more for the same charges.

Santa is feverishly working on his Christmas list—just as you and I are. Speaking of remembering folks at Christmas, one of the finest ways to make a lasting impression on your loved ones is to provide them with a thing of beauty that will give them year-round convenience and pleasure —a constant reminder of your thoughtfulness. May we suggest that an extension phone in colour in the bedroom, kitchen, den or basement workshop would give this sort of pleasure and convenience. Why not provide someone dear to you with extension telephone service this Christmas? It's something that's sure to be well used and appreciated throughout the year. And, as an added feature, this year we will CHRISTMAS-WRAP the extension phone of your choice—Princess, wall or table phone—to put under the tree. One of our installers will come after Christmas to connect it where it's wanted. If the extension service is for relatives or friends, you can arrange payment on your own phone bill. To order, just call our Business Office at Zenith 60,000 or ask the man in our green truck.

Evening Auxiliary Observes 15th Birthday Meeting

An impressive Candle-lighting service was carried out at the 15th Birthday meeting of the Evening Auxiliary, held Tuesday evening in the United Church S. S. Hall. Eight past presidents each lit a candle and reminisced about the year or years they were president since 1940 when the Evening Auxiliary took its name from the former Mission Circle.

The following presidents took part in the ceremony: Mrs. Sydney Lindsay, Mrs. Ken. Carlyle who had been president on two different occasions; Mrs. James Crummy, Mrs. Leonard Porteous, Mrs. Byron Dawson, Mrs. Eldon Davidson, Mrs. Robert Holmes, Mrs. R. Wylie and the presiding president, Mrs. R. Earl. Miss E. Fennell, Mrs. A. MacDonald and Mrs. H. Clark lit candles for Mrs. Ernest Kellogg, Mrs. W. J. Thomas and Mrs. Wm. McVey, respectively. These three former presidents were unable to be present. Other candles were lit by Mrs. D. L. MacLean and Mrs. L. Isaac.

Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Glenn Docksteader and Mrs. Harold Clark led the worship service, the theme being "Prepare ye the Way of the Lord.'"

Rev. A. MacDonald showed a film on "When The Healer Comes," based on the sickness in India and the challenge for more missionary work.

Mrs. Earl opened the business meeting with a poem entitled "Thanks To Thee." She extended a warm welcome to everyone present, especially the past presidents. Various reports were heard, and Mrs. Robert Holmes gave a reading on Christian Stewardship. Miss Lila Hughes read a poem entitled "The Ministry of Peace."

Members accepted an invitation to attend the W. M. S. meeting on December 14th in the S. S. Rooms.

Mrs. M. Carkner closed the business meeting. A delicious lunch was served by the committee including the lovely birthday cake. Mrs. C. Curtis voiced the thanks of the members present, and Rev. A. MacDonald closed with prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hyndman McMillan

Potted ferns and baskets of chrysanthemums formed the setting for the wedding of Marian Grace Gray and John Hyndman McMillan in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Winchester, at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Neil Gray, Winchester, are the parents of the bride, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyndman McMillan, R. R. 2, Chesterville.

Rev. William Sutherland officiated at the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Hugh Wilson accompanied the guest soloist, Mrs. Florence English, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "I'll Walk Beside You." George Carruthers and Gordon Whitteker were ushers, and the groom was assisted by Earle Gray as best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length bridal gown of white chiffon velvet, featuring long sleeves, sabrina neckline, appliqued yoke and a princess line gored skirt extending into a sweeping chapel train. A tiara of rhinestones and seed pearls held her bouffant veil of tulle illusion. She wore a strand of cultured pearls, and earrings to match, a gift of the groom, and carried a cascade of blue vanda orchids with ivy and stephanotis.

The bridal attendants were Miss Judy Geggie, as maid of honour, and Misses Helen Allen and Mary McMillan as bridesmaids. They wore identical street-length gowns of saphrine Blue velvet with matching headdresses and shoes. Their matching sterling pins and earrings were gifts of the bride, and they carried semi-crescent bouquets of pink delight and flame-red baccara roses.

To receive the guests at the wedding reception held in the church hall, Mrs. Gray wore a champagne brocade gown with green accessories and a corsage of bronze mums. The mother of the groom chose a beige brocade dress with gold accessories and a corsage of feathered yellow mums.

Following the reception, the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to the U. S. A. Going away, Mrs. McMillan donned a sheath dress of pale blue wool trimmed with peau de soie, with blue and white accessories, and a corsage of blue vanda orchids and stephanotis.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. McMillan will reside in Chesterville.

NATIONAL JEWELLERY WEEK

NOVEMBER 18th to 25th, 1961

If you want to tell some man you think he's headed for the top of the heap, there's no better way this Christmas than with the new men's jewellery. For it fairly breathes success.

The new cuff links of textured gold or silver with perhaps the gleam of a precious or semi-precious stone provide the sparks of brightness that suits in dark colours call for. They are also the sort of touch that identifies a man who thinks a lot about his appearance—or knows a woman who does.

Shining examples include those of black onyx mounted on textured gold plaques, lapis lazuli in a three-dimensional silver setting, curved gold bands set with rubies, and tigers' eyes mounted on gold.

There are also reflections of Edwardian elegance in cameo links banded with textured gold. And, of course, gold cuff links with the owner's initials engraved in fine script are timeless in their appeal.

New watches also serve as striking accessories. They are thinner and lighter than ever, and notable for such things as distinctive lettering and patrician shapes.

Masculine rings, whether stone set, signet or emblematic, quickly bespeak, through their modern appearance, a hint of distinction or achievement in the wearer.

Cigarette lighters and cases are also lighter and sleeker—and also handsomer. Other gifts of functional elegance that are sure to be appreciated include gold chains and gold-filled pen and pencil sets.

All writers of men's fashion-notes are agreed that men are showing more and more signs that they like to receive as well as give jewellery. It's a smart woman — and not altogether an unselfish one -- who encourages them.

FEED NEWS

For Dairy Feed

With a fair quantity of local grain around, a lot of it will be made into dairy feed. Most feeders want the grain either rolled or coarse ground, then mixed with Dairy Concentrate or made up with separate ingredients.
For milk production, a 16% protein dairy ration is recommended.
For a dry and freshening ration a 13% or 14% protein mixture is considered high enough.
Following is a list of Concentrates and separate feeds available for making up a balanced meal ration.

24% DAIRY SUPPLEMENT
The 24% Protein Supplement has an assortment of proteins as well as vitamins and minerals needed for consistant heavy milk production.
To make a 16% ration, mix at the rate of 100 lbs. 24% Supplement to 200 lbs. of grain.
We have a fresh stock of Shur-Gain 24% all the time — other brands available as required.

32% DAIRY CONCENTRATE
A 32% Concentrate has everything needed for a good dairy mix, but because of the higher protein, you use less of it in a mix.
For a 16% ration, mix 1 of 32% Dairy Concntrate to 4 of ground or rolled grain.
We have Shur-Gain and Master 32% in stock.

BRAN AND SHORTS
Bran has about 15% protein—Shorts 16%. Nearly all dairy mixes have either Bran or Shorts or both.

BEET PULP
Beet Pulp is in demand as a bulk feed and conditioner. Some of our best dairymen feed it regularly.

SOYBEAN OIL MEAT
Soybean Meal has 44% protein—the highest of the regular protein feeds. There is more of it used than any other too. Soybean goes into nearly all livestock and poultry rations.

OILCAKE MEAL
We carry Sherwin-Williams 35% Meal all the time. Oilcake has been used as a protein ingredient in dairy feed for a long while, and it's still one of the most dependable feeds. Oilcake is higher in fat—5½%.

GLUTEN FEED
Gluten Feed with 21% is lowest in cost of any of the proteins. Because of the granular texture, Gluten mixes well and it's very palatable too. Gluten Feed is fairly high in Vitamin A—that makes it a valuable ingredient in a dairy feed.

MOLASSES
Practically all dairy feed mixes have up to 10% molasses.
Have molasses added to each mix as required.

CORN
Corn is the cheapest grain this year. It makes a good job added to local grain—corn is high in Vitamin A too.

Students Attend M.D.H.S. Remembrance Day Service

An impressive Remembrance Day programme was conducted by the public and high school students at the Mountain Memorial Park on Friday. A large number of parents and friends were in attendance to join with the students in tribute to those of our country who so bravely and freely gave their lives for our country.

Wreaths were placed at the Memorial by the following: Mountain District Chamber of Commerce; Pollice Village of South Mountain; South Mountain Oddfellows' Lodge, No. 428; Mountain Oddfellows' Lodge, No. 315; South Mountain W. I.; Mountain W. I.; South Mountain-Mountain C. G. I. T.; Hulbert Young People's Union; Winchester Legion, Mountain Township; Mountain Township Public School, and the Student Council, Mountain District High School.

The address of Remembrance was given by Rev. Douglas Fry of the Iroquois and South Mountain Presbyterian churches, who called on the young people of our country to become the heroes of peace. The music was provided by a mixed choir of public and high school students. Gordon Cumming donated his public address system for the service.

The students of the high school sold poppies and wreaths in the area and realized approximately one hundred dollars, which is to be forwarded to the Winchester Legion.

Ontario Hydro's New Safety Program

A new program of electrical safety, designed especially for elementary and secondary school students in the province, has been launched by Ontario Hydro.

In co-operation with the Department of Education of Ontario, Hydro has produced a series of safety posters to be displayed on school bulletin boards at appropriate times during the current school year. The posters cover three aspects of electrical safety of particular importance to young people.

The posters point out the damage that can result from throwing stones or shooting at insulators on Hydro poles, the hazards of fallen Hydro lines, and the dangers of flying kites and model airplanes close to Hydro lines.

Three copies of each poster will be sent to the 6,934 elementary schools and the 747 secondary, private and special schools in the province. Copies will also be sent to all Ontario elementary and secondary school inspectors, Department of Education officials, local municipal electrical utilities and Ontario Hydro's regional and area offices.

Pleasant Valley Mourns Sudden Death of Esteemed Citizen

The entire community of Pleasant Valley and vicinity was shocked and grieved to learn of the sudden passing of Mrs. Garnet Sears in the Ottawa Civic Hospital recently.

Mrs. Sears, whose maiden name was Esther Somerville, daughter of the late James Somerville and Jennie Gilmer, of Hyndmans, was born on July 25th, 1914. On June 29, 1940, she was united in marriage to Garnet Sears, of Hallville.

Surviving, besides her husband, are, one daughter, Barbara, of Ottawa; one son, Carl, at home; and two brothers, Ernest, of Groveton, and Cecil of Hyndmans.

Mrs. Sears was keenly interested in the work of Pleasant Valley United Church, and a valued member of the W. A., the Sunday School and church choir. She was ever ready to give of her time and talents for the good of others, and her passing is a distinct loss to the community and to the organizations to which she belonged.

Funeral service was held in Pleasant Valley United Church and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. L. M. Ferguson, who also sang "Sweet Peace, The Gift of God's Love," by request. Burial was made at South Gower Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Ivan Crowder, Dwight Gilmer, Kenneth Hunter, Donald Francis, Lorne Conley and Hubert Robinson.

Many beautiful floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which the late Mrs. Sears was held.

"Tower"

and secured them to guy blocks around the base of the tower. It was a breath-taking moment, filled with suspense.

The climax came with the sliding home of a cotter pin, which required accuracy of placement by the helicopter within a fraction of an inch.

All concerned with "Operation High Tower" termed the three-day history-making construction job a tremendous success.

Mr. Ryan, pleased and excited at having been on top of Skyline Ridge broadcasting his "Farmer's Notebook "live" when the first section of the transmitter house was put down from the sky, paid tribute to the skill of the pilots and the engineers.

He said that, thanks to the co-operation of Vertol Aircraft of Arnprior, Spartan Air Services of Ottawa, and E. Quipp and Company Construction Engineers, CFRA-FM will be serving Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec with 146,000 watts of high fidelity broadcasting from the unequalled vantage point on the Gatineau mountaintop.

Mr. Ryan said that the success of "Operation High Tower" meant that CFRA-FM will be able to increase power through the use of the new transmitter facilities at Camp Fortune, some time before Christmas.
