Depressed? Try to envisage a poor Ubangi feeling down in the lip.

CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

A new writer will take over this small corner this week. After last week's sly innuendoes, unprincipled disclosures and general insubordination, it is about time a little authority is felt around the "Record." As editor we try to keep out of the way of the staff, but when certain members become a touch uppity, then we feel we must do a little chastising.

This "Crumbs" column has proved popular, but of late it would appear this writer has been getting what is commonly called the short end of the stick. We had a lovely, quiet time in the north woods, wandering among sylvan glades, playing Robin Hood all day long to the happy tally-ho's of other like-minded tired businessmen. Our evenings were filled with discussions of world affairs and serious symposiums of biological significance, and rarely did one's voice rise higher than the "snap, crackle and smoke" of the burning pine logs.

We get back to work after the idyllic hours have waned; our tired eyes scan the pages of our favourite newspaper on Thursday, and what do we find? Canards of immense magnitude and unlimited falsehood. This column has gotten out of hand and its reporter is now back wiping forms and delving in the hell-box for the fractured truth.

With that matter out of the way, we will now come to the present scene. Politicians, would-be politicians and just plain hopefuls have been visiting us in large numbers this week. The townships have a race on their hands and the old "Record" is just the place to get the word out to the edges. The basic reason for the use of its columns is that we send it to a vast number of voters who will not be called on personally by the candidates. There just isn't time and they know the next best thing is their and the voter's favourite paper to get the message across.

And that brings us to our own little special word to those who came up on the weekend and offered us a kind word for the long session Friday night. All council members were pleased at the interest shown and we had considerable satisfaction in helping to answer some of the questions that needed answers. It has been a most interesting year for this writer, and with 26 meetings already held for the town affairs, hardly a year to do any loafing on town business.

But speaking of town business, we are beginning to make Chesterville's topsoil look like a Swiss cheese in the search for water. "Buck" Weegar says he is soon going to start carrying water from the river for the dry holes if we don't stop pestering him. His opinion is that water is there, but like getting married or buying a sweepstakes ticket, it's a chancy business.

The hired help will take over again next week after the short visit to the woodshed. We are of the opinion this column will be more restrained in the future, at least until we take another holiday.

Village council in by acclamation

Nominations numerous here only necessary slate qualifies

Chesterville voters in small numbers turned out last Friday for nomination night. Something over forty were on hand in Community Hall. At the close of nomination period at eight o'clock there were nine names on the list for councillors and two for reeve. The Public School slate carried five. All officers are in by acclamation.

Acclamations ended the matter by nine Saturday night when just enough qualified to fill the various posts.

The new year will see the following council: Carl Merkley, reeve; councillors H. Sharkey, Keith Graham, Geo. Laflamme and newcomer James Fyke. Present councillor J. A. "Al" Butcher declined both his nomination for reeve and for councillor.

The Public School board will have two shining new faces, Lorne Thompson and W. A. "Archie" Black. They are elected for two-year terms as was Stuart Allan. The third appointment was made necessary by the change of residence of Chairman Jack Doering to the township. Jack Fulton, Lee Smith and Dr B. W. Lapp are the other members of the board.

Those nominated for reeve were Carl Merkley and J. A. Butcher; for councillor: Keith Graham, Harold Sharkey, J. A. Butcher, Geo. Laflamme, Hilton Reid, Albert Kilby, Erwin Merkley, Grenville Fyke and James Fyke. Public School list was: Lorne Thompson, W. A. Black, Stuart Allan, James Fyke and Joseph Pringle.

Questions and answers

Questions and answers were given during the open meeting following official nominations. Reeve Carl Merkley opened with a resume of Counties Council affairs, noting the county levy had increased decidedly this year. He explained where the money is used with reference to connecting roads to the municipality, to the constant drain through the Public Health Service, Glen-Stor-Dun Home for the Aged and other county institutions that are maintained for the good of the municipalities that make up the counties unit.

The reeve was followed by councillor Harold Sharkey with a report on the extent of village road construction. He outlined the program followed by the Department of Highways on Queen and Main and explained that certain clean-up phases of the work are still in process. Francis and Joseph received a new top this year and South Street received $3,400 worth of initial grading and surfacing readying it for hard top next summer.

Other councillors to speak were J. A. Butcher, Keith Graham and George Laflamme. During their talks questions were answered on the new program of well drilling with a view to starting a water system for the village. It was pointed out by councillor Graham that the whole system hinged on the discovery of sufficient quantities of good water. He explained the steps that had been taken to date and outlined the financing of the project.

Province of Ontario funds will be borrowed through the Water Resources Commission at the going rate the province pays, probably around 5% or a little more. This money would be paid back over thirty years and the payments would be raised by a yearly income from the system through water rates and through a mill rate that might amount to about six mills on all ratepayers.

The water system would be installed in homes and businesses only on a voluntary basis in Chesterville. It was stated that other municipalities have found a water system is used by nearly all residents after a five-year period.

Some discussion followed on policing costs and figures were offered to explain certain amounts that had appeared in the "Record" news stories.

Chesterville Legion gave away another car last Saturday night. The lucky winner was Jimmy Williams, employed by Harold Windsor on his farm up the river, west of town. Jimmy is 71 and has never driven a car, and says he is too old to start. He feels he can make good use of the folding money, though, that will come from its sale. Pictured here is Stuart Allan, president of Chesterville Legion, offering the keys to the winner. —Record Photo.

Bernard Wagner, 25

Bernard Roy Wagner passed away Saturday at 10.30 p.m. in Ottawa Civic Hospital, a victim of bulbar poliomyelitis.

Mr Wagner had been in poor health since August when he was injured in an accident.

The eldest son of Mr and Mrs Percy Wagner, he was born in Chesterville in March, 1933, and educated here. He farmed with his father and later was employed by Roads Resurfacing Co., of Chesterville.

In 1954 he married Betty MacIntosh, of Ormond.

In addition to his wife and parents he leaves to mourn four children, Linda, 3½; Glendon, 2; Brian, 1, and Cathy, 5 weeks; a brother, Wayne, of Cornwall; three sisters, Mrs Jean Servage, Chesterville; Mrs Sydney Locke (Doreen), Long Sault; Mrs Peter Pastuch (Ada), Ingleside; several nieces and nephews.

Prayers were said at the graveside by Rev E. B. Bugden, of Trinity United Church. Burial was at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Lyle Marcellus retires from CPR

Lyle E. Marcellus, of Chesterville, a veteran of 40 years with the Canadian Pacific Railroad, was honoured recently at a special ceremony marking his retirement from the railroad.

He was presented with a gift by T. D. Ross, station agent here, while CPR men from Monckland, Finch, Mountain, Winchester, Smiths Falls and Chesterville extended congratulations.

A veteran of World War I, Mr Marcellus joined the CPR in 1919 and for 22 years was employed as an electric welder. The remaining years were spent as a section man.

The International Peace Garden, covering 2,200 square acres on the U.S.-Canada border, is almost directly south of Brandon, Man.

Research has greatly improved operations in the woodlands.

Township lively as candidates swarm

Townships surrounding Chesterville are swarming with working candidates this week. Both Winchester and Williamsburg are in the throes of electing a new slate with lots of anxious candidates.

Winchester Township finds reeve A. E. Smith declining the nomination to try it for another two years. Gerald Holmes, deputy-reeve, has stepped into the opening with his candidature and he is faced with a return to the arena of Basil Dawley, a former reeve of the municipality. It would appear there is also a run-off in Morewood district with Cecil McNabb and Eric Barclay squaring off for the deputy-reeve spot.

One small interesting item in the Winchester race is that concerning the Annable poll. Known as Annable No. 4, it will see four of the names on the ballot voting there. They will be Basil Dawley and Gerald Holmes, reeve hopefuls, and Willis Robinson and Wm McRoberts up for councillors.

Williamsburg voters will have to choose between reeve Don Kyle and deputy-reeve Mason O. Robinson for another year. They are contesting the reeveship and the race looks tight. Both are popular all through the township. Deputy-reeve spot was filled by acclamation when John Whittaker was the only one to qualify. Councillors will be chosen from four on the list and only three will be lucky by Monday night. The list: Graham Hess, Harold Pemberton, Hubert "Bert" Loucks and Ritchie Warren.

Numerous winners at Legion Bingo

Saturday evening saw Community Hall filled to capacity for the annual Legion bingo and car draw. Bingo winners were as follows:

Charter Boy Scouts at Berwick

First Berwick Boy Scout Troop was officially chartered in an impressive ceremony at Berwick Community Hall. The troop is sponsored by the Woman's Association of Berwick United Church but is open to all boys interested in scouting.

A large group of Cornwall District Council officials and troop leaders, along with uniformed Scouts from Knox, St. Paul's, St. Felix and Cornwall Centre troops, were present, lending colour to the ceremony.

District Commissioner George A. Revell presented the charter on behalf of the Boy Scout Association to Berwick group committee chairman Johnson Ouderkirk. He invester Roland Leroux as scoutmaster, with Donald Meldrum and Carmel D. Smirle as assistant scoutmasters.

Frank Cooper, president of Cornwall District Council, presented a Union Jack to Scoutmaster Leroux on behalf of the Council.

A short story, illustrating the scout laws, was related by Commissioner Revell. He offered the assistance of the district staff for giving instruction to the new troop. Proceedings were then turned over to Mr Leroux who, with Mr Ouderkirk and Rev James Hamilton of Berwick United Church, thanked the Cornwall delegation for their co-operation.

Please hurry!

This is the season when the publisher is harried, worried and rushed. Copy is starting to come late to his desk, the editor is burdened with late advertising copy and the wheels are getting slower when they should be picking up to get ready for the Christmas rush.

We would ask your indulgence and a few favours. Please try and have all advertising copy in our hands promptly as possible. Make it Monday if you can't do it on Friday and we will say a prayer for you. Correspondents are asked to be early also and to forgive our blue pencil if advertising crowds the news. This is the time of year when we earn our ulcer.—Editor.

Last week when Rotary staged a Fred Cass Night to honour the Highways Minister, we took the opportunity to gather together a trio of politicians for the Record camera. Grenville-Dundas is flanked on the west by Leeds and on the east by Stormont and their provincial representatives were on hand to join the rest in honouring Mr Cass. From the left are James Auld, P.C., Leeds; Peter Manley, Lib., Stormont, and F. M. Cass, Grenville-Dundas.—Record Photo.

SOCIAL EVENING AT GRANTLEY CHURCH

A social evening was held at Grantley United Church on Friday evening when Mr Stewart Begg, Crysler, entertained with pictures and commentary on his trip through the Maritimes.

A musical program was contributed by Rev James Hamilton, accordian; Mrs Hamilton, guitar, and Nancy McMillan, Lois Robinson and Margaret McMillan, piano solos.

Lunch was served, bringing a very pleasant evening to a close.

Township elections coming up

Friday's nominations developed some ambitions. Here in the village, ambition was attained by acclamation but out in the townships, it was another matter. Both Winchester and Williamsburg will see a race.

Village councillors made their speeches and went on view to a small audience of 43 by count. Some questions were asked and answered, sometimes at remarkable length, but on the whole the meeting was quiet and restrained. When nine o'clock had sounded Saturday night, everything was over. The present reeve, Carl Merkley, was back for another term and councillor Al Butcher had given way to newcomer James Fyke. Other councillors, Sharkey, Laflamme and Graham, were there to give it another year's try.

Village public school trustees in for two years will see two new faces this year. They will be W. A. Black and Lorne Thompson. Three names were up as the 1959 chairman, Jack Doering, has had to relinquish his seat because of a change of residence to the township. Stuart Allan was re-appointed as the third board member.

Winchester township residents will have a choice to make with a complete slate to choose from, with deputy-reeve Gerald Holmes squaring off against returning past reeve Basil Dawley. And in Williamsburg township, reeve Don Kyle will contest the seat with his deputy-reeve, Mason O. Robinson.

The slates for deputies and councillors are also up and a lot of interest will develop between now and next Monday when voting takes place.

Christmas decorations this year

A couple of years ago while Chamber of Commerce was feebly struggling to stay alive, it organized a "Decorate For Christmas" contest that went over in the village in a big way. At that time a prize was offered for the best decorated home outside and for the best decorated business premises outside. As a result, the old town never looked gayer with every street showing up to advantage as householders put their imaginations to work.

The Chamber is hibernating at the moment and there is little chance it will become active now before Christmas.

The "Record" therefore would like to offer a small inducement taking the form of a spot of the Queen's folding money to the best decorated home outside, this Christmas. And if we can beat a couple of our business friends over the head with arguments strong enough, we are sure we can raise the necessary for a business place prize too.

Contest rules will be simple and we will probably make them up as we go along. The house that has the nicest outside decorations for Christmas will get our ten dollars. The judge will be someone we have tried to bribe and found completely honest and will work neither for the "Record" nor the prize winner. The judging will take place during Christmas week that begins on December 20 up to December 25.

We will mention this matter again before Christmas in case you forget. Remember, the best outside Christmas decorations are worth a ten dollar prize. Start your plans now for platoons of deer, Santas and angels with lights and tapers. Let's see your imagination at work.

Puff-balls and mushrooms

By Amelia MacMillan Lambkin

In the issue of October 15th of the "Record" there appeared a very interesting picture of Mary Graham and Jack Lannin, each holding a goodly-sized puff-ball, which they had found on a neighbouring farm when out hunting for partridge.

I wondered as I looked at the pictures if the youngsters, or their parents, or in fact if any one who saw them (these so-called "puffballs") knew that they were really the most delicious variety of mushroom. I knew this to be correct, and this is how I found out:

I was visiting at my cousin Sam Kyle's home in Colquhoun when he landed in from his hardwood bush with an immense puff-ball which looked exactly like a large loaf of newly-risen bread just ready to put in the oven. We admired it and thought it a puff-ball, until a family (the Ballantynes who came from Montreal and were thoroughly informed on all species of mushrooms) enlightened us on this type. They knew it and had enjoyed eating it for years. So they gave us the exact directions, which we used and later passed on to our friends. Here it is; so if you should get another one, Jack and Mary, take it home and if your families like mushrooms watch them pass their plates for more.

"Peel the large puff-ball as you would any other mushroom. You will find it hard and easily cut in slices or squares around—say a four-inch square. Place in a large sauce-pan and cover with slightly salted water. Parboil the pieces for a few moments, then drain thoroughly and fry in a frying pan in deep butter or margarine and dust with salt and pepper. When a golden brown remove to the table and hear those present say "More mushrooms, please."

Never call them "puff-balls" again. They are mushrooms.

A gangling youth, his overalls supported by only one suspender, ambled up to face a moonshining charge. He announced in a loud voice, "Not guilty y'honour."

"Have you ever been in jail before son?" the benign old judge asked.

"No, sir," was the emphatic reply. "I always managed to outrun 'em till this time."

Banff National Park is open all year around.

The BIBLE TODAY . . .

Celebrating the 150th year of its life in 1959, the National Bible Society of Scotland reviewed its work all over the world. A story of the work of this Society in Indonesia tells how some German missionaries obtained permission, grudgingly given, to teach a remote tribe. Two years were spent teaching the principles of right and wrong largely from the Old Testament. The chief of the tribe ordered the missionaries to depart as they had not taught the people anything they did not already know.

They were thunderstruck and pleaded to be allowed to stay another six months. They concentrated entirely on the New Testament and the stories of Jesus and His love. The chief told them at the end of the six months that they could stay as long as they liked because this really was new. So the Gospels distributed by the Society speak new truth to all people.

BOTTLES IN THE SEA

Nearly 2,000 soft drink bottles are being dropped into the Atlantic by scientists who want to find out where the current will carry them.

The bottles, made with clear glass and plugged with rubber stoppers, are being released 10 to 35 miles off shore between Boston and the eastern tip of Long Island.

Each bottle contains two cards. One explains the experiment and the other is a postpaid form asking where and when the bottle was found.

Purpose of the experiment is to learn more about seasonal variations in ocean current. A survey official said the operation will be repeated in other seasons so comparisons can be made.

FRENDLEE FARM CHATS

by Lillian Allison

If you're in a hurry to get wherever you're going let me recommend these U.S. toll roads. To remove the implications of the word "toll" they call them "Thruways," "Parkways," "Turnpikes and such. But even though that nasty little word isn't there you still must pay for the privilege of travelling on them —about a cent and a quarter a mile I think it is.

We went to Watertown and Utica on the ordinary two-lane highways then swung east onto the New York Thruway. A nice chap in a uniform at one of the gateways gave us a colourful card as we passed through with the date and the exact minute of the day stamped on it. We were off.

Now a Thruway differs from an ordinary four-lane highway in several ways. It is designed solely for speed, safety and efficiency. There are no cross-roads leading onto it. You enter on the right at the large centres via cloverleaves. There is an extra lane for a short distance which you must keep on until you finally merge with the traffic. So you can enter the Thruway without stopping. You leave at an exit via an extra lane on the right side so there is no need for you to get in anyone's way.

It is strictly unlawful to stop on the Thruway for any reason except repairs. Every so often there are parking areas where you can pull off via an extra lane to change drivers or rest. There's an extra lane to get back on again too.

About every thirty miles there is a service area to provide all the amenities the travelling motorist requires. Part of the place is a service station where about a dozen different varieties of gasoline are available. They'll fill your car—even wash it—while you refresh yourself.

Refreshing yourself is fairly easy. There is a swank restaurant and dining room offering all the good things in life at a reasonable price. The snack bar apparently is open only in summer. If you don't eat all your money you can shop in a souvenir place which is part of the establishment. If you haven't any change left you can just browse around. A good look is quite educational. It is amazing what these places believe they can sell to the travelling public.

You can rest in a hotel-lobby sort of place or visit the conveniences without feeding the door one of your precious dimes.

When you're refreshed and refuelled you re-enter the Thruway via an extra lane on the right and you're off. Sixty miles per hour for passenger cars, the law says, but few drivers believe that the law was intended for them.

One thing that is very necessary on these pay roads is the ability to read. Of course you don't read billboards and Burma Shave signs. There isn't one in sight; you simply read instructions: "Exit No. 21 17 miles ahead;" "Exit No. 21 8 miles ahead;" Keep right for Exit 21," and on and on; "Exit for Albany 4 miles ahead;" "Slow down;" "Do not stop." The place is decorated the whole way with large , luminous signs to keep you up on your reading.

But all you have to do on these toll roads is drive, read and pay. You can get off the Thruway onto the Garden State Parkway and from it to the New Jersey Turnpike with the agility of a veteran if you can drive, read and pay.

When you leave the Thruway you drive through one of the gates again. The sign says to have your card ready. The man in the booth tells you how much to pay and you're on your way.

The Garden State Parkway is the road that runs past New York and 75 other cities that are roughly suburbs of New York. Since there are so many exits and entrances it has a different system of paying. Every few miles a sign warns you to have your quarter ready. You drive through a gateway with a green light above it and there on the driver's side is a big wire basket. You toss your coin into it. A green light immediately flicks on ahead and you're off.

If you don't have the change the sign says to use the gate on the left. There a man gives you

Roxborough Township to remain "dry" large turnout of voters in township

Roxborough Township residents turned out last week and voted once again to remain "dry" on the question of permitting beverage rooms and liquor lounges to operate in the township. This was the third such vote in 25 years and the township has remained dry since 1914.

Those voting "wet" on the question polled 51 per cent of the total vote, while "dries" polled 49 per cent of the total. A 60 percent majority was required.

Approximately 76 per cent of all eligible voters turned out at the polls and some polls reported a 90 percent turnout.

Four questions were at stake in the vote. Firstly, the permission to operate women's beverage rooms; second, permission to operate men's beverage rooms; third, the operation of liquor lounges; fourth, permission to sell liquor in dining lounges.

Voting on all four types of outlets followed a similar trend with the "wet" element maintaining a slight majority, not sufficient, however, to give them the necessary 60 per cent total.

An exampie of this was seen in voting on the question of permitting women's beverage rooms. Affirmative votes totalled 723, while 695 voted negative.

Stronghold of the dry element was in the village of Avonmore where on each question voters overwhelmingly supported George McElheran's "no" committee.

On the other hand, Moose Creek strongly favoured the affirmative side of the picture.

In other polling districts the voting was pretty much split between the "dries" and the "wets," with each group acquiring slight majorities in different districts.

Although a lively campaign was waged between the two groups, no incidents were reported at the polling stations during the day. Voters came out quietly went through the process of casting their ballots. The weather was perfect for voting.

The last vote on this matter was held in 1950. At that time the "dries" polled 55 percent of the total vote.

HAD ALIBI

George Albert, president of the New Haven Railroad, had an alibi for being late at a dinner of the Woonsocket, R.I., Traffic Club.

He said he had "made a mistake" by taking a plane rather than a train from New York, and while waiting an hour and 35 minutes for the plane to take off he amused himself by reading a New York newspaper account of a New Haven commuter train which was 25 minutes late.

To the Electors of Williamsburg Township

Having qualified for reeve for 1960, I would appreciate your support on December 7. It has been my privilege to serve you in municipal affairs in the past, for which I thank you. My only promise is to work for the best interests of our municipality, if I should be elected.

Don Kyle.

To the Electors of Winchester Township

Having served as councillor for five years under reeves Dawley and Smith, I believe under the able leadership of Gerald Holmes I would be in a position to give my whole-hearted support. I therefore ask for your support at the polls on December 7, 1959. Wishing you all the Compliments of the Season.

Garfield Baker.

To the Electors of Winchester Township

Having been nominated for the office of deputy-reeve and feeling that my five years' experience as councillor of the township would be an asset to the business administration of our township affairs, I therefore ask for your support and influence at the polls on Monday, December 7, for the office of deputy-reeve.

Eric Barclay.

To the Electors of Williamsburg Township

Having allowed my name to stand after being nominated as councillor for the Township of Williamsburg, I would solicit your support on December 7 at the polls.

If elected I will endeavour to serve one and all faithfully to the best of my ability with special respect to the assessment picture in the township.

Bert (Hubert) Loucks.

To the Electors of Winchester Township

As I have been approached by a large number of the electors of Winchester Township to permit my name to stand for the office of deputy-reeve, I have decided to accede to that request.

For the past two years, as a councillor, I have tried at all times to work in the best interests of the township, and I assure you that if I am elected on Monday, December 7, I shall continue to serve you to the best of my ability.

Due to illness in my family, it will be impossible to meet everyone in person between now and election day. I take this opportunity to earnestly solicit your valued support.

Cecil McNabb.

To the Electors of Winchester Township

Having been nominated as candidate for councillor of this township, I am soliciting your support. I have been interested in the municipal affairs of this township for some time and, if elected, my aim is to serve for the best interests of everyone.

I have had occasion to serve as one of the representatives of this township on the Winchester Memorial Hospital Board and Winchester and Suburban Planning Board, and as school trustee for 14 years.

Should you consider my past experience an asset to the township council I would appreciate your support on election day, December 7.

Willis Robinson.

To the Electors of Osnabruck Township

Having been nominated for the position of deputy-reeve of Osnabruck township and, as it will not be possible for me to visit you all personally, I take this opportunity of soliciting your vote and influence on December 7 at the polls. If elected, I will work for the best interests of the township. Also let me thank you for your support in the past.

Wallace Gallinger.

To the Electors of Williamsburg Township

I have served as a member of council for two years and am in my third year as deputy-reeve. I would ask your support in the coming election on Monday, December 7, for the position of reeve.

If elected I shall attempt to administer the affairs of this township with justice and fair play to all concerned and to do my utmost to introduce and promote anything that would advance or benefit this municipality.

Mason O. Robinson.

To the Electors of Winchester Township

Having been prevailed upon to allow my name to appear on the ballot as candidate for councillor, I hereby solicit your support. I have no previous municipal experience and can offer no secret formula to solve all our problems but I can assure you that, if elected, I will do my utmost to administer the township business in a fair and honest manner to help keep Winchester the best township in Ontario.

It will be impossible for me to contact everyone, so consider this a personal appeal.

Exercise your franchise in the way you see fit but, in any case, be sure to vote.

ODD FACT

A man accused of being a Peeping Tom and apprehended while carrying a chair through a back yard in San Jose, Calif., explained that the reason why he was carrying the chair was because, when on a walk, he often got tired and wanted to sit down.

"Here's where our merry Christmas starts, Santa."

Anticipation is one of the joys of Christmas. Bringing in the tree to be gaily trimmed . . . listening to the soft pat of snowflakes on the windowpane . . . watching the expectant eyes of the children—these are pleasures we turn over in our minds many months before the event. "No Small Tempest," E. Richardson; "Celia Garth," Gwen Bristow; "The Enemy Stars," Paul Anderson; "Robina," E. V. Timms; "Silent River," Wayne Roberts; "Live from the Devil," W. Blassingame; "The Ice Was All Between," Lieut.-Commander Irvine; "The Bottletop Affair," G. Cotler.

Highway 43 extension under study

Extension of Highway 43 west from Winchester to Smiths Falls is being considered by the Ontario Department of Highways.

Highways Minister Fred Cass said his department had been flooded with requests for the road and that he, personally, favoured its construction.

He said the requests had been turned over to his planning engineer's office for consideration but he declined to say when a decision would be likely.

Highway 43 now runs west from Alexandria through Chesterville and ends at Highway 31 south of Winchester. The proposed extension would go through Winchester, Kemptville, Merrickville to Smiths Falls. These centres are now linked by county roads.

NORTH VALLEY W.A. MEETS AT SHAVER HOME

North Valley W.A. held their meeting at the home of Mrs Kenneth Shaver on Thursday, November 12. The meeting opened with a hymn, followed by Scripture read in unison.

The topic, "Therefore Stand," was taken by Mrs K. Shaver.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs Fern Zummach. Roll call was answered by 13 members. There were four visitors present.

Thank-you cards were read.

Mrs A. Morrison, Mrs Arthur Shaver and Miss Clara Rupert gave very interesting talks on the W.A., Presbytery and ministers' homes. The meeting closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Lunch was served by Mrs Shaver and Mrs Brownell and a very enjoyable time spent.

REMOVING CALCIMINE

Heavy coatings of calcimine can be removed by first wetting it down with a sponge and warm water and then peeling it off the wall with a broad putty knife.

NO PIKER

A pike among a delivery of fish to a firm in Bradford, Eng., was found still alive after being out of the water for 24 hours.

The firm decided the fish had earned a reprieve and put it in a tank of water.

To the Electors of Winchester Township

After careful consideration and at the request of many ratepayers, I have decided to contest the seat for reeve.

I was born and have lived all my life in Winchester Township and am at the present time operating a prosperous dairy farm in the municipality.

I attended the Winchester Public and High Schools and graduated with a Senior Matriculation diploma. I adhere to the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

I have been interested in municipal politics for several years now and have served terms as councillor and also deputy-reeve.

Honesty, square dealing and co-operation with my fellow men has always been my motto in my personal business and I sincerely promise to apply it to my administration of municipal affairs.

I will endeavour to promote better supervision in all departments, especially in our roads department where, in my belief, there is a lot to be desired.

It has been my sole ambition to represent you, my fellow ratepayers, without partiality, to my best best ability and have always tried to make your problems my prime interest, both in Township and Counties Council.

I hope you may see fit to mark your ballot for reeve in my favour on Monday, December 7.

By all means, exercise your franchise.

Gerald C. Holmes.

To the Electors of Winchester Township

As last year's reeve, Mr Albert Smith, did not qualify for reeve this year, and as the other candidate for reeve has had only one year's experience, after much thought and discussion I have decided to allow my name to appear on your election ballot for reeve for the next two-year term.

Before marking your ballot I would draw your attention to consider the fact that on your new council there will be a new deputy-reeve who will be a stranger to Counties Council. I promise to give all of my seven years' experience at Counties Council to whomever you elect as deputy-reeve, to the new clerk-treasurer and to the other members of council. It is important, in my opinion, to have a strong, experienced man at the head of this township for the next two years who will work with all members of council to achieve results.

This past year has seen a decision to build a new school in the area, the cost of which is approximately $600,000, and this township will pay half that cost. This year also saw road jobs, which were started in 1958, not completed. I refer to the Marionville to Ormond road and the Maple Ridge road. In my opinion our county road from Morewood north to the Russell boundary should be completed and paved immediately.

During my previous term of office ten miles of county road from Highway 31 through Morewood to the Finch boundary was rebuilt and paved, the new corner north of Chesterville was built, the township road from Winchester through the Melvin Settlement to the Morewood road was rebuilt and widened and the Holmes road from Highway 43 west was added to the county road system. In addition, over 3½ miles of township road was widened and a new township garage and office were built. During the same period the township mill rate remained almost stationary.

I am in a position, with my experience, to recommend the above statements to your council. I have two boys, 17 and 14, to assist in my farm work. If it is your wish on December 7 to elect an experienced man who has the interests of Winchester township at heart at all times, mark your ballot as follows: DAWLEY, Basil X.

As I cannot visit all the ratepayers in the township, I would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone the Compliments of the Season and may you have a happy and prosperous 1960.

Basil Dawley.

LOST AND FOUND

As Woldemar Kima told it, he was so interested in taking snapshots in the Arizona desert last week he did not notice that his eyeglasses were missing.

Kima made a fruitless search, then went home and bought new glasses. He also had his snapshots developed.

One showed a desert bush and on the bush, in perfect focus, lay the eyeglasses.

MONEY TO BURN

Police said a garbage incinerator may have already destroyed a pair of old trousers discarded by a Montreal man who did not know they contained $2,000 in cash and jewellery.

Mrs F. W. Sterman told police her husband discarded the trousers thinking they were worthless. But she had hidden $250, a $750 ring and a $1,000 pearl necklace in a pocket.

By the time the mistake was discovered the garbage was collected.

"It may be too late to recover the trousers," police said. "Rubbish that will burn—such as trousers—is usually thrown into the fire."

The harbour at Syndney, Australia, extends inland for 20 miles.

Today's glaciers in the Alps are remnants of an ice sheet that once covered all Switzerland.

EVERYBODY EATS- TRY THESE!

START WITH A CAKE MIX

IF YOU ARE PRESSED FOR TIME, and who isn't these busy weeks before Christmas, start with a cake mix and fix a glamourous dessert in half the time.

Angel Lemon Custard

1 angel food cake mix (baked according to instructions on package
6 beaten egg yolks
¾ cup sugar
½ cup lemon juice
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 envelope unflavoured gelatine
¼ cup water
6 egg whites beaten stiff
¾ cup sugar
Few drops yellow food colouring

Trim crusts from angel cake. Tear into pieces. Combine egg yolks, ¾ cup sugar, lemon juice and rind. Cook in double boiler until mixture coats a silver spoon. Remove from heat and add gelatine which has been softened with cold water. Cool until partially set. Fold in egg whites beaten with remaining ¾ cup sugar. Add yellow colouring.

Arrange ¾ of the cake pieces loosely in the bottom of a large tube pan. Pour 1/3 custard mixture over cake so it will run between pieces. Continue until there are three layers of cake and custard.

Chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate and frost cake with sweetened whipped cream.

Applesauce Cake

1 pkg. spice cake
½ tsp. soda
1 cup applesauce
½ cup nuts
½ cup seeded raisins

Add soda to cake mix and prepare according to directions substituting 1 cup applesauce for ¾ cup of liquid. Stir in nuts and raisins just before turning into pan. Bake about 50 minutes in a moderate oven.

Serve as cake or top with additional applesauce and whipped cream for dessert.

Cocoanut Drops

1 pkg. golden cake mix
½ cup softened shortening
1 egg
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries
¼ cup shredded cocoanut

Add shortening and egg to cake mix. Mix until well blended. Stir in cherries, nuts and cocoanut. Drop by spoonfuls two inches apart onto greased cookie sheet. Bake about 12 minutes.

Orange Squares

1 pkg. orange cake mix
1 recipe lemon pie filling (use mix if desired)
Chopped maraschino cherries
Shredded cocoanut
Chopped nuts

Prepare cake mix according to directions. When baked turn onto a cooling rack. Spread with one recipe of cooled lemon pie filling. Sprinkle with cherries, cocoanut and nuts.

THE CADS!
