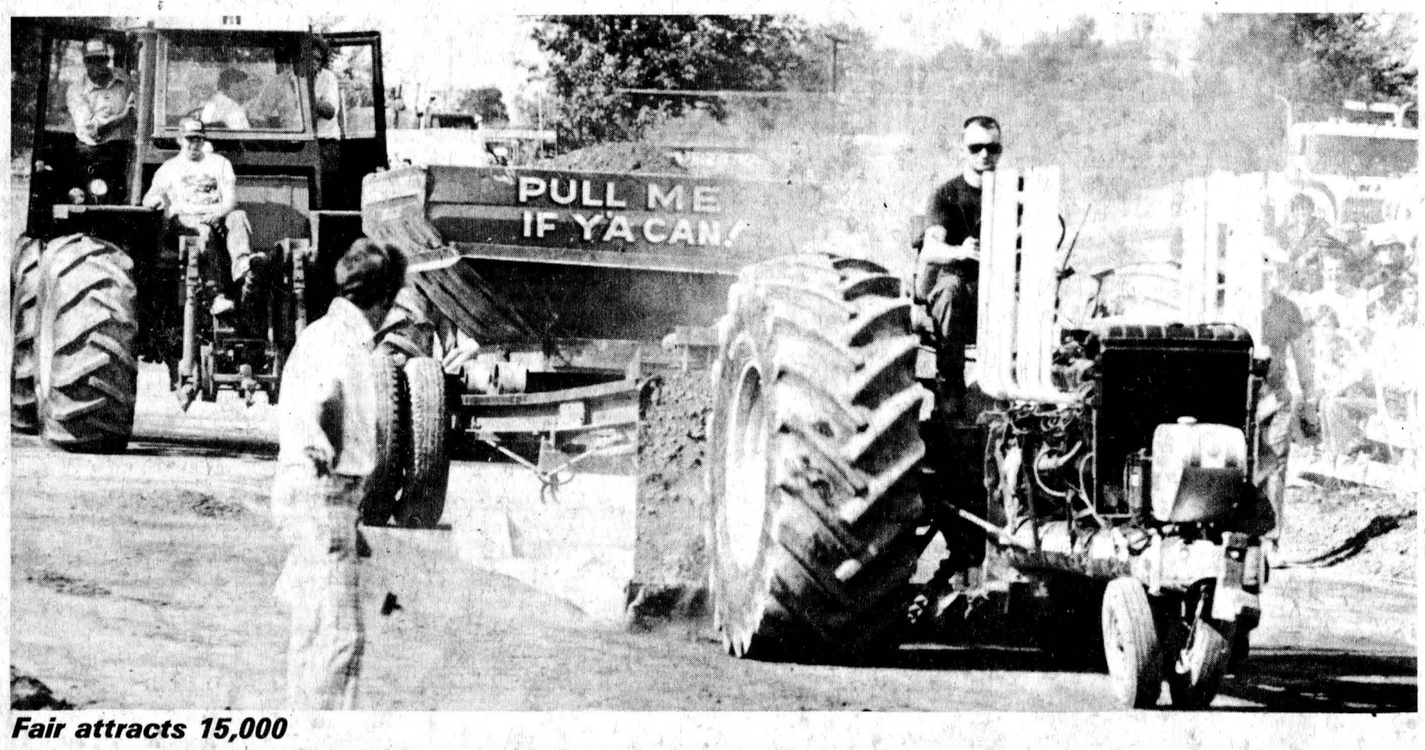
Royal Visit in July



Fair attracts 15,000

The Year In Review

(Staff) - Nineteen Seventy-six is not going to be remembered fondly by the area's agricultural community but nevertheless, the year had its good points.

On the negative side, dairy farmers had their milk quotas cut because of overproduction last year brought about by increased incentives; beef and producers saw their products continue to hold down low prices, and all farmers rued the cold, wet weather which kept them off the land until late in the spring and then delayed hay crop harvests.

On the positive side, it was a good year for community efforts, beginning with the winter carnivals which helped break up the bleak stretch between Christmas and Easter.

Even with the wet weather this summer and fall, agricultural fairs had record-breaking attendances with over 15,000 attending the 45th annual Chesterville Fair.

Thirteen hundred campers and hikers crowded into Chesterville on the Civic Holiday weekend, doubling the village's population while enjoying Eastern Ontario's hospitality and the village was featured via Kevin Gillis's tv program in most of Canada's major cities.

The most memorable event of the year had to be the Royal Visit to Upper Canada Village in July which showed that even in times of flux, traditional values are still held in high regard in SD&G.

The Record's Year In Review appears on pages four and five of this week's issue, so turn the page and take a look at what made 1976 the year it was.

Dundas LIP grants:

$101,000 doubles county projects

(Staff) — The list of projects benefiting from the extra $531,000 of LIP funding for projects in the riding of Stormont-Dundas has been announced by SD MP Ed Lumley.

The extra funding brings the riding's share of the federal job creation program's funding to $989,680 and the allocation for the 50 projects is expected to create 4,114 man weeks of work. The extra allocation for Stormont-Dundas forms part of the additional funding LIP received to dispense in areas where unemployment exceeds seven per cent.

Part of the money will go towards projects approved in the program's first phase. The extra funds allowed the creation of 20 new projects.

This year's allocation brings to almost $2-million the amount LIP has put into Stormont-Dundas in the last three years. It could be the last since LIP is expected to end at the finish of this fiscal year.

The new allocation more than doubles the amount of LIP money coming into directly into Dundas County projects raised the total by $101,490 to $162,520.

Two projects in Chesterville received a total of $15,300, with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church getting $2,040 for renovations to the church building and the village getting $13,260 for renovations to the Community Hall and area and for various town projects.

The Village of Winchester benefited by an extra $17,680 to bring its total for the three approved projects in the community to $32,980.

The Winchester District Memorial Hospital received $8,840 in the new allocations for renovations; Branch 108, Winchester, Royal Canadian Legion, received $5,100 for renovations and landscaping, and the municipality got an extra $8,840 to add to its previous total of $10,200 for work on the arena addition and landscaping of the village park.

Williamsburg Township received $17,680 for landscaping and clearing brush; Matilda Township got an additional $28,050 for the construction of a township hall and senior citizens building; $4,420 went to Seaway Valley Community Services for the operation of its craft centre; Dundas County Co-Op got an extra $4,420 for recycling waste material in the county, and the Morrisburg Industrial Committee received an additional $8,840, to bring its allocation to $29,240, for the development of the village's industrial park.

In Stormont County, Finch Township received an extra $4,420, to bring its total to $14,620, for development of the Crysler Community Centre Park and for brush clearing, while Finch Village received an extra $4,420. The village received a total of 16,660. An additional $8,840 was allocated to Osnabruck Township for the renovation of recreational facilities to bring to $19,040 the total received by the township.

Also in Stormont, Cornwall Township received $32,640 - with $8,840 coming in the latest allocation - for landscaping St. Andrew's pool and Ault Park and miscellaneous other public works.

Counties-wide organizations receiving money include the United Counties, an extra $22,100 for assistance to the working poor, disability pensioners, welfare recipients and for work on the SD&G County Building the sanitorium.

The Raisin River Conservation Authority received $13,260; SD&G and City of Cornwall Libraries, $26,520 for renovations to Simon Fraser Library, branch library and bookmobile; Seaway Valley Snowmobile Association $14,620 for completion of its 200-mile trail network; ODHA, $4,420 for player registration; county board of education, $30,600 for extension of the Early Identification Program and for general works; separate school board, $49,300 for recreational renovations and repair of text and library books; St. John Ambulance, $13,090 to train senior citizens in basic skills of home nursing, nutrition and first aid, and Boy Scouts of Canada, $4,420 for expansion of opportunity.

LIP money is used mostly for the hiring of unemployed, persons although small amounts can go to the purchase of such items as construction materials.

Gillard wins recount

Finish reversed in Williamsburg

Williamsburg (Staff) — Robert Gillard's appeal for a recount of ballots cast in the December 6 municipal election in Williamsburg Township has been upheld and the freshman candidate has won a seat on municipal council.

Mr. Gillard missed out at the polls December 6 by one vote. Gordon McNairn finished third at the polls with 329 votes while Mr. Gillard had 328 and incumbent Graham Hess 323.

Newcomer Dwight Crowder was the poll horse with 473 votes and incumbent Don Kyle was second with 448.

The recount was immediately asked for by Mr. Gillard and the review of the ballots by Judge George A. Stiles in Cornwall last Thursday gave Mr. Gillard a one-vote advantage and the third and final seat on council.

Mr. Gillard gained seven votes in the recount while Mr. McNairn gained five and Mr. Hess four. The final tally has Mr. Gillard at 335, Mr. McNairn at 334 and Mr. Hess at 327.

Mr. Hess gained two votes at poll five and one vote at each of polls eight and nine.

The deciding vote on the recount was found on the last poll, number 10, where Mr. Gillard gained three votes compared to one for Mr. McNairn.

Mr. Gillard lost one vote at poll four but gained two at five and one each at polls one, seven and nine.

Mr. McNairn collected two extra votes on poll five and single votes on polls four, eight and 10.

Councillors Crowder, Kyle and Gillard along with acclaimed Deputy Reeve Glen Cunningham and Reeve John Whitteker will take the oath of office at Council's inaugural meeting at 2pm Sat., Jan. 8 at the IOOF Hall in Williamsburg.

Bomb hoax clears Nestle plant here

(Staff) — A bomb hoax early last Thursday morning halted production at Chesterville's Nestle (Canada) Ltd. plant, sending the 60 workers on the late shift out into the cold for about an hour while the building was searched.

According to the report filed by investigating officer Norm Sarault and Ken Hawkins of the Winchester OPP Detachment, an unidentified person called the plant guardhouse shortly before 2am Thursday and said a bomb had been planted inside the factory. He did not say where the bomb alledgedly had been placed.

The security guard who took the call immediately contacted the OPP in Winchester and Consts. Sarault and Hawkins responded to the call at 1:55am and undertook a search of the plant, assisted by Nestle personnel.

The plant was cleared by 2:20am and by 2:45 searchers were satisfied the call was just a hoax and allowed workers to come back inside.

During the search, the person who made the original call telephoned the guardhouse again to ask if the plant had been evacuated.

Corporal Earl Graves of the Winchester OPP said the detachment's investigation into the matter is continuing and the investigating officers have several suspects.

Seaway District wins IAPA safety contest

IROQUOIS (Staff) - The Seaway District High School team of Evan Black, Larry Beckstead, Richard Lascelles and Graham Houzes won out over four other schools at the Industrial Accident Prevention Association's IAPA High School Safety Training Quiz held at Seaway Wed., Dec. 15 and will be going on to compete against the winner of the Ottawa-Carleton competition in the regional finals in Ottawa February 11.

Seaway District defeated Glengarry, St. Lawrence, North Dundas and General Vanier to take the Cornwall-Hawkesbury championship and earn the right to go on in competition. The team is led by teacher Ron White.

IAPA, an industral association dedicated to the elemination of accidents at work and in the home, sponsors the safety quiz annually among Ontario high schools.

Safety information booklets are distributed to students and after they have had a chance to study this information a competition is held in each school to select a team for inter-school competition.

Moderators, judges and other officials for the inter-school competitions come from local industries as well as from the IAPA and team training and selection is usually done by technical teachers at each school.

At Seaway, the contest's moderator was Earle Briard, IAPA; judges, Syd Thomas, Kraft Foods, Steve Taft, Canadian Industries Ltd.; timekeeper, Lloyd Parsonage, Sims Cabs; scorers, Thelma Walker, IAPA, and O. Grauskofmanis, Domtar Construction Materials Ltd.

The team from North Dundas District High School consisted of teacher Ken Morrow, Janet Jansen, Doug Palmer, Steve Grubb, Ben Wichers-Schreur and Ellen Blaine (alternate).

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Please print this. I don't know of a better way to get a message to the general public.

When you make a condolence call, please don't say, "You're lucky. You still have some family left." The person who is grieving doesn't feel lucky.

Don't say, "He lived a long, rich life." Long or short, it wasn't long enough for those who loved him.

Don't say, "You'll get over it. I'll bet you'll be married again in a couple of years." Such talk shows a lack of sensitivity and is not appreciated.

Don't ask if there was a will - who got what - if she would like to sell her house - her plans for disposing of his clothes, his car, etc.

Say you are sorry. Relate briefly a personal incident that demonstrated kindness or thoughtfulness on the part of the deceased.

Better yet, got out of your way to be considerate of your friends and relatives while they are alive. Don't wait until the funeral and then try to convey your feelings to the next of kin. — Hartford, Connecticut.

Dear H.C. Thank you for a superb letter. You ought to write an advice column.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I never had the opportunity to be around children till we had our own. What should we do about childhood nudity in the home?

We have a girl, 10, and two boys, 8 and 6. They love to run around naked. Now and then they ask if they can bathe together.

My wife and I believe this is innocent childhood behavior that will pass in time. But how long should we allow it to continue? Please advise. — Parents Who Need Guidance.

Dear Parents: If the kids were all the same sex, it wouldn't make any difference, but nudity among brothers and sisters should not be allowed after five years of age. (Coeducational bathing should be stopped, also.)

In most instances, nothing need be said - especially to girls. They usually develop a sense of modesty a few years before bodily changes occur. A girl of 10 who is still romping around nude with her brothers should be told her baby days of running around naked are over.

If you catch the kids "playing doctor," don't take the roof off the house. Simply explain that their bodies are private and no one should be allowed to fool around with private parts.

Dear Ann: Your letter to the mother who wanted to know what her children should call their dad after a sex change operation was too low-key. Why, after all these years, do you still insist on advising kooks as if they were rational people? Give up, Doll. It won't work.

Can you imagine what life would be like for those kids at school? You should have suggested that the woman either threaten to have a sex change operation herself so the children would still have both a mother and father, for, better yet, she should have the nut declared legally dead. — Also Concerned.

Dear Also: Your "advice" wouldn't play in Peoria — or anyplace else. (a) An empty threat is meaningless. (b) The law would not permit a man who is alive to be declared "legally dead."

But thanks a lot. I know you meant will.

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement. Ann Landers's booklet, "Marriage — What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send you request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married three years. I am 25, Greg is 30. After six weeks of marriage, Greg's ex-wife decided she didn't want to be bothered with their four small children so we obtained legal custody. She's been running all over the country "having fun." Every month or so she drops in to stir up a little trouble. We didn't ask for a change in the support payment setup at the final hearing because we feared she might change her mind and ask for the kids. (Greg agreed to give her $90 a week when she had custody.) Now she's a go-go dancer and makes more money than I do.

Is there a chance that we might get her to come across with some support money for the kids? We realize the courts are partial to the natural mother but it burns me up that I work full-time and my husband works 70 and 80 hours a week and this tramp doesn't have to give her children one dime. Call me — Slow Burn.

Dear Burn: If I read you right, Greg is paying Miss Swivel Hips $90 a week for "child support" and the kids aren't even living with her. This is crazy. See a lawyer and put an end to the rip-off.

Dear Ann: Here's the situation: My husband and I have a comfortable den-bedroom combination on the ground floor. Our children (girl-boy-girl) have always occupied the second floor. They have their own bedrooms and there are two baths up there.

Now that the older daughter has left for college, my mother says we are playing with fire by allowing the boy and girl to sleep up there alone. She insists we move into our daughter's room and vacate only when she returns home for vacations and holidays.

This means sacrificing our own comfort and privacy but we would certainly do it if we thought there was a chance that those two might get into "mischief."

Our son and daughter are well-behaved teenagers and we have never seen anything to indicate "a problem." My husband is hypertensive and a worrier. My mother's insistence has upset him and I'm annoyed with her for harping on the subject.

My own opinion is that Mother's imagination is running wild. We will abide by your decision. — Like It Grounded.

Dear G.: Mother should MHOB. Very young brothers and sisters often explore and "experiment" but teenagers are well beyond that stage unless they are kooks — and your two sound O.K. to me.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a middle-aged man who served in the U.S. Army several years ago. (Korean "police action.") I caught gonorrhea from one of the girls who hung around the Army base.

The moment I became aware of my problem I went for treatment. Within weeks the doctor pronounced me completely cured with no permanent damage except to my dignity.

I plan to be married to a wonderful girl. She knows nothing about my Korean infection. Should I tell her about it —Battle "Scarred".

Dear Bat: Only if she makes a similar confession. Otherwise I see no reason to mention it.

Inside Ingleside

by Jean Jeacle

If you come to the library tomorrow be prepared to follow the SILENCE dictum. I have to go to work to catch up on my sleep and digest my butter tarts. It has been a fun-filled, family-filled holiday and now I need a rest.

Do you realize how long it takes to prepare a meal for 11 people — and how short a time it takes them to devour it?

Can you imagine how hard it is to walk through the front hall without tripping over at least one of the 22 snow boots left lying there?

Can you envision 11 people — nine of whom read in the bathroom — lining up to use the facilities?

Do you have any idea what confusion ensues when five kids bed down in one room?

Would you care to estimate the number of litres of liquid needed to satisfy 11 thirsty people?

Do you know what I am talking about? Of course you do - you have been through it all too - and you know as well as I do that despite the confusion, it is just great to have the family together for Christmas.

BITS & PIECES

— It has been a HOME CHRISTMAS for many of the the area's "big kids" who have returned from far and near to spend the holiday with family and friends.

— The Kingston contingent of home — comers includes Sharon Hickey, Bill McAllister, Maureen Acres, Shirley Reynan and Pat and Fay Ransom.

— Ottawa was left behind by Cathy Brassard, Cheryl Gillard, Ann McAllister and Lynn McIntyre.

— Doug Schultz, Linda Ross, Jindra Tupy, Sue Murdock, Gary Gallinger and Brad Zeran all deserted Toronto The Good.

1976 The year in review

January

Cold Weather Brings Variety in Headgear

The Chesterville and District Agricultural Society looked back on a successful year and made plans for 1976 at its annual meeting in the Community Hall Sat., Jan. 17. In the election of officers, Stan VandenBosch was again chosen president of the men's section of the society and his wife, Betty, was re-elected president of the women's division. Vice-presidents for 1976 were Doug Durant and George Countryman for the men, and Muriel Smith and Lucille Munroe for the women.

Mrs. Betty VandenBosch was named the first recipient of the Angus Smith Memorial Award, presented by Carl Smith on behalf of his family. The award was made to Mrs. VandenBosch in recognition of her outstanding interest in the affairs of the society.

Dundas County OMAF Ag-Rep Tom W. Clapp received an Award of Merit from the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Association for his concern for and contribution to the agricultural community. This year marked the first time the Award of Merit was presented and Mr. Clapp received his nomination from the Dundas County chapter of the association.

Leslie Byers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Byers, Chesterville, was named Winter Carnival Queen and Reigned over the annual Chamber of Commerce-sponsored events held on the weekend of Jan. 24, 25, 26. Although cold weather cut down on some of the participation, events at the carnival were generally well-attended and everyone enjoyed the pancake breakfast, costume contest, log sawing, bingo, broomball, hockey, hayride, tug of war, carnival supper and dances.

And speaking of cold weather! Old Man Winter had a whole bagful of tricks for Eastern Ontario residents during January 1976. The Temperature went below the zero mark at the beginning of the month and stayed submerged, hitting the all-time low of -29c (without windchill factor) during the night of Sun., Jan. 18. This tied the record low set in 1971.

The Chesterville Rotary Club selected new board of directors in mid-month with Ken Vice, Hugh Montgomery, Carl Ward, Allison Graham and Bill Giles assisting president Harry Allison. From the directors, Hugh Montgomery was selected as the club's vice-president for the 1976-77 Rotary year. Dudley Craig was named treasurer and Doug Moses was made sergeant-at-arms. The club still noted its unsatisfactory meeting conditions and hoped 1976 would bring a place suitable for it to hang its club regalia and hold the traditional singsongs.

March

Something old...something new. That was the story for The Record in March as the newspaper changed hands, being sold by Eastern Ontario Graphics to St. Lawrence Printing Co. Ltd. of Prescott. With the sale went a change in location. The Record moved back to the King St. building it had occupied before being moved to its new plant on the highway 43 bypass.

March was a newsmaking month. To start things off, a group of Chesterville senior citizens applied for and received a $34,000 New Horizons Grant to move the former Chesterville Snowmobile Club clubhouse into the village to serve a a drop-in centre for elderly residents.

A Chesterville man, Dr. Gabriel Slowey, was appointed coroner for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, Prescott and Russell counties with special area of interest in Chesterville Winchester.

The Chesterville and District Co-operative Nursery School had a rough month, learning that its subsidy from the provincial ministry of Community and Social Services had been eliminated and the school's organizing committee would be left to its own devices to raise the $23,000 annual operating costs. It looked as if the school would have to close but the ministry relented later in the month and continued its subsidy to the end of the school year.

Twenty-three-year-old Rick St. Dennis, a graduate of Algonquin College's Recreation Facilities Management Program, was hired to replace Doug Moses as Chesterville recreation director. Mr. Moses, the village's first full-time recreation director, left to accept a similar position in Morrisburg.

The winter's bitter cold finally relented towards the end of the month and the sudden thaw created record flood levels on the South Nation River. The combination of a sudden thaw, heavy winter snows and a high water content in the snow made the flooding the worst in 40 years according to South Nation River Conservation Authority Manager Ken Musclow. The river rose seven feet between Sun., March 21 and Sat., March 27 with the ice going out of Chesterville Fri., March 26. Sixteen thousand acres of farmland were flooded in the Brinston area and 18,000 acres were underwater around Plantagenet.

The raging Nation almost made things worse in Chesterville with the rising flood waters coming to within one inch of the top of the village's wet well and threatening to back up into the municipality's sewer system.

Chesterville dam clears first obstacle

Higher education costs up taxes 17 mills

Good news for village ratepayers opened the month of April. Tax payers in the community learned their 1976 assessment for village purposes would toe the line set in 1975 and would in fact even come down a little. Residential and farm ratepayers had a reduction in village purpose taxes from 58.1 to 58 mills and commercial ratepayers had a similar reduction, from 68.3 to 68.2 mills. Although the village set its own rates during the first week of the month, it had to wait until the end of April for word on education taxes which would write the final tax story for 1976.

The first-ever visit to Dundas County by a reigning monarch was announced in April when plans for the Queen, Prince Philip and Prince Andrew to visit Upper Canada Village were made public by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission. The one-day visit was announced to take place in late July to coincide with the Royal Family's visit to the Montreal Olympics.

Stephen Dafoe, won the public speaking title at Osnabruck District High School's oratory night April 9 at the conclusion of ODHS's Education Week. Runner-up in the senior division was Alice Schultz.

The Chesterville Jets salted away their first ODHA Junior C title by defeating Char-Lan Rebels in two straight games. The Jets took the best-of-three series by defeating Char-Lan 10-5 in Chesterville and hammering them 5-1 the next night in Williamstown. Char-Lan won the North Stormont Long Sault Junior C championship, defeating Finch Township in the league playoffs.

Plans to close Williamsburg Public School were deferred by the SD&G County Board of Education until after board representatives and village parents had a chance to meet to discuss the problem of declining enrollment at the three-room schoolhouse. At the meeting held in Williamsburg, parents loudly protested the planned closing and agreed to wait a year until busing Williamsburg children to Elma Public School.

The Easter Weekend brought the first really warm weather of 1976 to the United Counties and farmers took advantage of the brief warm spell by getting in some early planting. The temperatures soared into the upper 80s on Good Friday and summer really appeared to be on the way. Little did we know of what was in store, weatherwise!

The proposal by Village Council for a new dam for Chesterville cleared its first hurdle with the approval of the project by the conservation authority's executive. Under new grant structures, the dam's cost to the village would decline from $130,000 to about $12,000.

Just as taxes ushered in the month, so they closed it out. But on a much unhappier note as school taxes in Chesterville pushed the total tax rate up by 17 mills.

May

In spring a young man's fancy usually turns to thoughts of love but this May education costs and services were most hotly debated topic in SD&G.

First it was the turn of ratepayers in Finch Township, who were faced with a 16-mill hike as both public elementary and secondary levees spiralled upwards. Winchester Township taxpayers got the bad news the next week. Residential and farm taxpayers got an 11.27-mill hike and those on the commercial rate had their taxes go up by 12.45 mills. Again it was higher education costs which drove taxes up.

Morrisburg Village Council didn't take the matter sitting down and by resolution refused to collect school taxes which were in excess of the six per cent spending increase allowed to municipalities this year. The increase in education taxes in Morrisburg was 46.8 per cent and Council vowed to fight it to the highest court in the province.

While taxes went up, the county board of education announced several cost-cutting measures, including the elimination and restriction of late buses at the area's 10 secondary schools. The cutback in late bus service went into effect for the last two months of the school year over the howls of protest of student councils, teachers and parents.

Meanwhile, the SD&G Roman Catholic Board of Education was going through some serious belt tightening. Increases in spending for separate schools were held to 7.34 per cent, down from the 16 per cent increase in 1975. The smaller increase was made necessary by cuts in provincial grants as the Ministry of Education put more onus on boards to raise their money locally.

Charles E. Johnstone, reeve of Finch Township since 1969, announced his retirement from the post, citing as his reason his Council's "loss of faith in my ability". Former deputy reeve Johnson Ouderkirk stepped up to the township's top post and the deputy reeveship was filled by Councillor Hugh Shaver. This left Council one member short, a condition which existed until the December municipal elections.

Joseph St. residents were less than thrilled over Chesterville Council's decision to rehabilitate their street when it was learned that the reconstruction project meant the street's one sidewalk would be done away with. A petition was delivered to Council protesting the decision to do away with the sidewalk but Council remained firm, saying the $70,000 reconstruction would not be eligible for provincial grants if the street was not widened to the minimum provincial requirement.

Over 600 horse pull fans crowded the fair ground exhibition hall here on the May 24 weekend to watch contestants from a radius of 800 miles take part. Winners in both the heavy and light classes were from the U.S.

Finch Township ratepayers should have tendered a vote of thanks to township clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey as the eagle-eyed administrator found an error in the SD&G County Board of Education's 1976 levy on the township which ended up saving the municipality over $17,000.

The South Nation River Conservation Authority learned at its June executive meeting that $1.8-million was available from the provincial Ministry of Natural Resources for channel improvements upstream of the proposed new dam in Chesterville. This moved the decision to go ahead with the project a step closer and final word on the acceptance of the proposal was left to the July general meeting.

Plans for a $180,000 curling rink to be built on the Stormont County fairgrounds in Newington were unveiled at a public meeting at the fire hall in Newington by members of the county agricultural society. The society said it hoped to raise about $35,000 through private donations and expected the rest to come from the society and senior levels of government. The ice surface would be 50 feet wide and a second storey would house a kitchen, lounge, bar and office space as well as spectator area.

The Circle V Flying Club's Fly-in Breakfast took it on the chin two weeks in a row as rain soaked in the Winchester Air Park. The event was first postponed because of rain and on its rescheduled date, Sun., June 27, the planned program had to be reduced because of rain.

Residents of the village were still in shock over the tragic fire in the week of May which claimed the life of one young Chesterville man and seriously injured another. James Jackson, 25, lost his life when fire swept through the Main St. apartment building, owned by Louis Moriarty, in which he lived. Seriously injured was John Nichol. Residents of three other apartments in the building were left homeless and two businesses were gutted. Residents of an adjacent building were also forced to flee their home when the early morning fire threatened to engulf it as well. Winchester Village and Township fire departments assisted Chesterville firefighters in quelling the blaze.

After an extremely wet spring the first week of June brought some relief to area farmers as they rushed onto the land to take advantage of the dry spell. Some fields were still under water and corn and grain planting had been reduced to a crawl. Agricultural experts were not predicting a good year for the area's hay crop because of the low acreage in seed.

The population of Chesterville would double over the Civic Holiday weekend as the 1300 members of the National Campers and Hikers Association's Eastern region announced their intention to camp out on the fairgrounds here for three days for their annual convention.

Janet Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Graham, Russell, said the five years she spent at North Dundas District High School would be best remembered by the "little moments of joy" she had had in high school. Miss Graham, the 1976 NDDHS valedictorian, was the top academic achiever of the 38-member year five graduating class with an average of over 90 per cent. NDDHS and nine Ontario Scholars in its year five graduating class and 163 students received their year four graduation diplomas.

Eastern Ontario farmers converged on the Nepean Sportsplex to let the federal government know of their displeasure at quota cuts which have cut dairy farm incomes by as much as 15 per cent.

At its meeting in the second week of the month, the general membership of the South Nation River Conservation Authority endorsed the proposal for a new dam to be built in Chesterville just downstream from the present Nestle (Canada) Ltd. dam and forwarded the request to the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources for final approval. The dam would not cost Chesterville more than $12,000 and the authority more than $30,000. The province would pick up the majority of the cost, member municipalities were told.

Roxborough Township's new $130,000 recreation centre was opened in Moose Creek Sat., July 10 by SD MP Ed Lumley, SD&G MLA Osie Villeneuve, Reeve George Crites and building committee chairman Bud Atkins. Mr. Lumley praised the co-operation between all three levels of government involved in getting the new building underway.

Upper Canada Jaycees staged the first-ever Summerfest 76 at Ingleside Sat., July 17 with a day long program of soccer, horseshoes, pancake breakfast, bicycle rodeo, tug of war, street dance and fireworks display. The Stormont County Fair Board won the tug of war; Glen Nevis the soccer tournament; Ron Brown and Cliff Robinson the horseshoe tourney, and Robbie Smith, Tony Dewey, Donna Lynn Wells and Peg Rowden the bicycle rodeo. Perfect weather and a good attendance ensured the success of the event.

The Royal Visit to Upper Canada Village closed out the month as thousands of tri-county residents jammed the Village and Crysler Park to give Her Majesty and Price Andrew a tumultuous welcome. A last-minute change in plans meant Prince Philip was unable to take the walking tour of UCV but the gracious presence of Queen Elizabeth and the good looks and charm of Prince Andrew more than made up for this deficiency. The only sour note of the visit was the swarm of media members which crowded round the Royal Family and blocked the view of those who had waited patiently for hours to catch a glimpse of the first reigning monarch to visit Dundas County.

Williamsburg Township was told in the same week that lack of written support for its request for a senior citizen housing complex meant no apratment units would be built in the township.

There were some strange goings-on in the village Saturday morning with the Chesterville Fire Department on hand to douse everyone with water. Reason for the bath, like a lot of things in the village lately, was singing "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head". The sequence was shot on King St. and will be used in Kevin's upcoming show Bang! Camp-out a family affair

For Art and Doris and Dale and Marilyn and Diane and James Brown of Kingston, last week's camp-out, sponsored by the Eastern Campers and Hikers Organization and the NCHA at the Chesterville Fairgrounds, was a real family affair. One hundred and sixty-four units were registered at the gate Saturday morning, with campers coming from as far away as Ottawa and Napanee. Not to be outdone, the Brown family of Kingston, who have been camping for 15 years, came complete with camper, tent trailer and boat. Graham officially opened the camp Saturday afternoon. Recreation director Buck St. Denis said the campers were some of the most co-operative he has ever worked with, and said that Howard Clark left the facilities in such good shape afterwards, held a dance Sunday night, cleaner than the way they found them. The only disappointment they expressed about Chesterville was the poor response from the townspeople to their parade Sunday afternoon.

Kennedy Sun., Aug. 22, Chesterville volunteer firefighters, aided by civilian helpers, fought the blaze for about six hours but couldn't save the old brick home. An addition to the building which housed a recreation room and indoor swimming pool completely destroyed and the older part of the house was reduced to a shell.

The Village's population increased 100 per cent over the Civic Holiday long weekend with the influx of members of the National Campers and Hikers Association, for their annual family campout at the Chesterville and District Agricultural Society's fairgrounds. The group began arriving on the Friday afternoon and spent all day Saturday and Sunday engaged in sports and other family recreation and on Sunday afternoon staged a parade through Chesterville.

A resident of Chesterville for the past several years, Kevin Gillis began realizing plans this month to put the village on the map across Canada with the filming of his television variety show Bang! Bang! You're Alive. Studio tapings for the show were done in Ottawa but location shots were made of the Chesterville area and were included in each of the show's 13 segments.

Nelson LaPrade, Chesterville, was awarded the catering contract for the North Dundas District High School cafeteria at a special meeting of the SD&G County Board of Education. Mr. LaPrade was one of only two private operators to land catering contracts at the area's 10 secondary schools for this year. The other small operator won the contract for Glengarry District High School in Alexandria.

Senior citizens began moving into the new apartment complex on Water St. in August. The 25-unit building was completed this month, somewhat behind schedule, but still early enough for September 1 occupancy. Residents who moved into the new building in August were not charged rent until the September rental period began.

The 116th edition of the Avonmore Fair was an unqualified success in mid-month as hot, dry weather prevailed for the Roxborough Township Agricultural Society's three-day affair. Over 1,000 persons visited the fair which was officially opened by SD&G MLA Osie Villeneuve. Mr. Villeneuve praised the fair's organizers and said it was heart warming to see so many young people, who will be the farmers of tomorrow, in attendance.

Higher registration fees and a tremendous amount of activity during the summer months by its finance committee enabled the Chesterville and District Co-operative Nursery School to open its doors for the fall session. By the end of August, the finance committee's 50-50 draws and raffles put the school association in good enough shape to ensure that the school would be in operation for its third year.

The event was a week-long western celebration complete with western-style games, horseshoe tournament, horse drawing contest, arm wrestling championship, casino night and street dances. September is traditionally the month for area farmers and homemakers to show off their prowess as agricultural fair season gets into full swing. This year was an especially good one for fairs with record crowds trudling through the turnstiles at the Stormont County Fair in Newington and at the Chesterville and District Agricultural Society Fair.

Over 12,000 persons viewed the exhibits in Newington on the Labor Day weekend and on the following weekend, despite rainy weather for the first two days of the Chesterville Fair, and attendance record was set with 15,000 on hand throughout the event's three-day run. Over 5,000 jammed the grandstand and softball diamond for Sunday afternoon's tractor pull which took place under smiling, sunny skies.

High school athletic programs had to contend with a drastically reduced late bus system which went into effect this month. After listening to the protests of students and parents in rural areas, the board of education relented a bit on its original decision to do away with late buses entirely and implemented a reduced schedule, Athletes and coaches agreed that fewer buses were better than no buses at all.

One of the biggest events planned for SD&G this year turned out to be the year's biggest bust when Ken Carter, the "Mad Canadian", indefinitely postponed his rocket car jump across the St. Lawrence Seaway. Mr. Carter, which had a $105,000 jet-powered car built for the jump, cancelled the stunt when the ramp from which he was to have launched himself from a farm west of Morrisburg to Ogden Island, N.Y., was not completed in time for the jump to be carried on ABC's Wide World of Sports. While those who purchased tickets to the event were disappointed, the reeve of Matilda Township was relieved when the jump was cancelled.

Preliminary work on the new dam at Chesterville got underway in September when the SNRCA contracted an Ottawa firm to start preliminary engineering-work. The firm of M.M. Dillon was expected to have its report finished by January, 1977.

The bell will remain forever silent though, since its clapper has been removed to preserve the peace.

Although still a month away, December's municiapl elections dominated the news pages for most of November as candidates jockeyed for position during the first two weeks of the month and then were off and running after the November 15 nomination deadline.

The two-way race for the reeveship dominated the campaign in Chesterville where nine candidates sought the four council seats. Jim Brannen tossed his hat into the ring the week before nominations closed to create a two-way fight with Nelson LaPrade for the village's top elected post. On the council side, incumbents Garnet Droppo and Stuart Allan faced opposition from seven newcomers, Mike Dean, Silas Curran, Mac LaSalle, Jim Cook, Bert VanKessel, Earl Cross and Gabriel Martel.

In Finch Township, Reeve Johnson Ouderkirk received an acclamation as did Deputy Reeve Hugh Shaver but councillors Aurele Forgues and Ralph MacKenzie were challenged by Adam MacQueen and Donald Shane.

Finch Village Reeve Lynden Hough was acclaimed but a council race developed among Barry Brownlee, Donald Vollrath, Gordon MacIntyre, Bill Workman, Archie Lang and Dalton Ouderkirk.

In Winchester Township, Reeve Cecil MacNabb faced a challenge from Delbert Link and Councillors Jim Sullivan and Roland Cayer faced fights from Albert St. Pierre and Claude Cousineau. Gerald Holmes was acclaimed deputy reeve.

Johnny Whitteker was again acclaimed Reeve of Williamsburg Township as was the deputy reeve Glenn Cunningham. Incumbents Graham Hess and Don Kyle faced Gordon McNairn, Dwight Drowder and Robert Gillard for the three Council seats.

In Osnabruck, incumbent Edwin Waldroff was challenged by Stewart Hart for the reeveship while Clayton Ouderkirk, the only Councillor to seek re-election, was challenged by George Hehir, Richard Waldroff and Lee Ward.

In school board elections, Lorne Thompson was challenged by Walter Shadbolt in the Chesterville area and Leslie Wismer and Lloyd Markell battled it out in Finch-Osnabruck. Alphonse Lafrance entered his name in the lists against Sarsfield O'Connor in the zone one SD&G County Roman Catholic Separate School Board election.

On the sport scene, Tagwi Warriors saw their playoff hopes dashed in the last game of the season as CCVS Golden Raiders stopped them in the last quarter to pull out an 8-6 win and earn the right to face Glengarry in the league final.

Centre Julie Holmes again paced the NDDHS Trojans as they completed their SD&G league schedule undefeated and went into the finals against General Vanier. They lost the first game of the two-game total-point series but rebounded for a 46-35 win in the second and deciding game.

season in the first week of the month and the NDDHS senior girls basketball team starting its inexorable march to the league crown.

The Warriors put it together late in the game to defeat La Citadelle 9-6 to run their record to 2-0 but they didn't have enough smoke the next week as Glengarry District Gaels stomped them 20-12 and they dropped to .500 football two weeks later after an embarrassing 40-0 loss to Char-Lan Crusaders. They rebounded the next week to dump St. Lawrence 26-9 to keep their playoff hopes alive going into the last game of the season.

Led by the relentless Julie Holmes, NDDHS Trojans survived a come from behind effort to defeat Cornwall Collegiate 45-32 in their first game of the season. The next week they were just too powerful for Osnabruck, defeating ODHS 67-19 and stopping St. Lawrence 44-22 to run their record to 3-0. They continued to out class the opposition and Holmes led them to their sixth straight win, 45-40 over St. Lawrence in the last week of the month.

The queue began to form in October for December's municipal elections with first Nelson LaPrade announcing his candidacy for the reeveship of Chesterville and Cecil MacNabb, Reeve of Winchester Township since 1961, announcing he would run for office one more time. Mr. LaPrade was finishing up his first term as a member of village council and announced his intention to seek the post left open by Keith Graham who said in September he would not contest the reeveship again.

Education comes not only from books, but from the social interaction of school life, valedictorian Marianne Brunsveld told the 1976 graduating class at Osnabruck District High School. Miss Brunsveld, who had the highest average of any level five graduate in SD&G, had the highest marks of any graduating student in the history of ODHS. She was one of three Ontario Scholars among the 16-member level five graduating class, members of which received their diplomas Fri., Oct. 8.

Dawn Wert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sesel Wert, Avonmore, was presented with the Principal's Award at the commencement of Tagwi Secondary School Fri., Oct. 30. The 18-year-old student at the University of Guelph was presented with the Principal's Award for her excellence in academics and citizenship by principal Gilles Metivier. There were 13 Ontario Scholars among the 62 level five graduates at Tagwi.

Ontario hydro had to cough up $45,000 it had overcharged the Village of Chesterville during 1976 when clerk-treasurer Lloyd Graham noticed an accounting error in the commission's billing. The village received the payment in late October and the money put the municipality's hydro program back on schedule.

December

Santa Claus came early for some candidates this year while others would claim that the December 6 municipal election was the Grinch that stole Christmas.

In Chesterville Jim Brannen doubled Nelson LaPrade for the reeveship while Garnet Droppo and Stuart Allan were re-elected to council along with Mac LaSalle and Bert VanKessel.

In Winchester Township, Delbert Link upset incumbent Cecil MacNabb to end the reeve's 15-year administration. Jim Sullivan and Roland Cayer each won re-election and Albert St. Pierre won over Claude Cousineau to nail down the final seat.

Aurele Forgues topped the polls in Finch Township and Crysler area farmer Donald Shane came second in the council race while incumbent Ralph MacKenzie got the final seat by running third.

In Finch Village, Dalton Ouderkirk found it easier going the second time around as he won election to council along with incumbents Barry Brownlee, Donald Vollrath and Gordon MacIntyre.

Edwin Waldroff withstood the challenge issued by Stewart Hart to hang onto Osnabruck Township's reeveship and Clayton Ouderkirk was returned to council. George Hehir and Richard Waldroff rounded out the list of councillors.

A recount was ordered in Williamsburg Township after challenger Robert Gillard failed in his first election bid by only one vote. He trailed Gordon McNairn. In first place in the council race was newcomer Dwight Crowder and in second, incumbent Don Kyle.

Gilles Sabourin topped the council polls in Roxborough and was followed by Bill MacMillan, Ray Alguire and Howard Prodonick. All four candidates were taking their first swim in electoral waters.

Lorne Thompson beat back Walter Shadbolt's challenge; Lloyd Markell topped Leslie Wismer, and Alphonse Lafrance dumped Sarsfield O'Connor in school board elections.

Referendums batted .500 as Winchester Township voters decided to go wet and Osnabruck voters turned back a proposal which would have called for an $800,000 community arena within a ½-mile radius of the township office in Osnabruck Centre.

Jolly Old St. Nick made his annual pre-Christmas visits in Stormont and Dundas communities throughout December, appearing in parades in Chesterville, Winchester, Morewood, Berwick and Newington. The Chesterville parade was the largest in the area with over 40 floats entered.

Area churches celebrated the birth of Christ on different dates this year, with many congregations holding special services as much as two weeks in advance of Christmas, but the message was still the same: Christmas remains the most important date in the Christian calendar, Santa Claus and commercialism notwithstanding.

Village council accepts proposal from contractor

All I want for Christmas...

Santa Claus made his yearly pre-Christmas visit to Chesterville Saturday afternoon as compared to a record number of floats in the annual Chamber of Commerce parade. The floats entered in Western Ontario Public School's Chesterville Volunteer Fire Department and the Winchester Press took first, second and third prizes respectively. This year marked the first time cash prizes were awarded to the prize winners. Over 1,200 area residents jammed the parade route to see the record number of entrees and Santa's last appearance before Christmas. Santa's arrival in the village by helicopter sent hundreds of youngsters scurrying into the arena lobby to get a look at him.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM

In fond and loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Fred McMahon who passed away January 5, 1976.
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

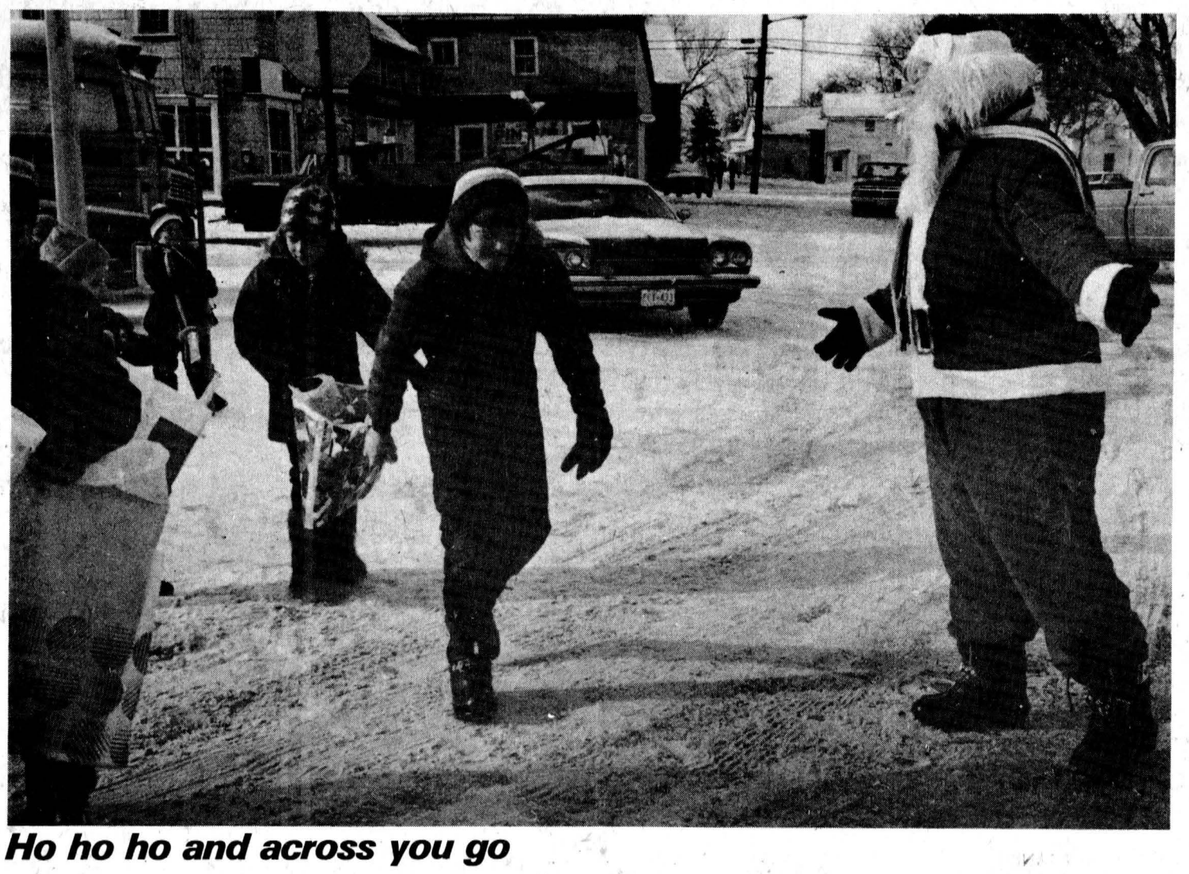
CANADIAN ADVERTISING ADVISORY BOARD



Ho ho ho and across you go

Chesterville Public School Highway Patrol Mrs. Alice Barkley, Main St., disguised herself as Santa Claus on the last day of school before Christmas to distribute candy to the youngsters crossing the roadway near the Community Hall. The Village Council thanked Mrs. Barkley for her efforts throughout the year by letter. The letter read: "The village of Chesterville would like to express its appreciation to you for the excellent voluntary service you have performed with Chesterville Public School Highway Patrol. It is this sort of public-minded attitude that makes it much easier for a local government and for a public group, such as a school board, to service properly a community. Again may we express our thanks to you for the many hours you have spent in 1976 acting as a voluntary Patrol Guard at one of our busy intersections." - staff photo -

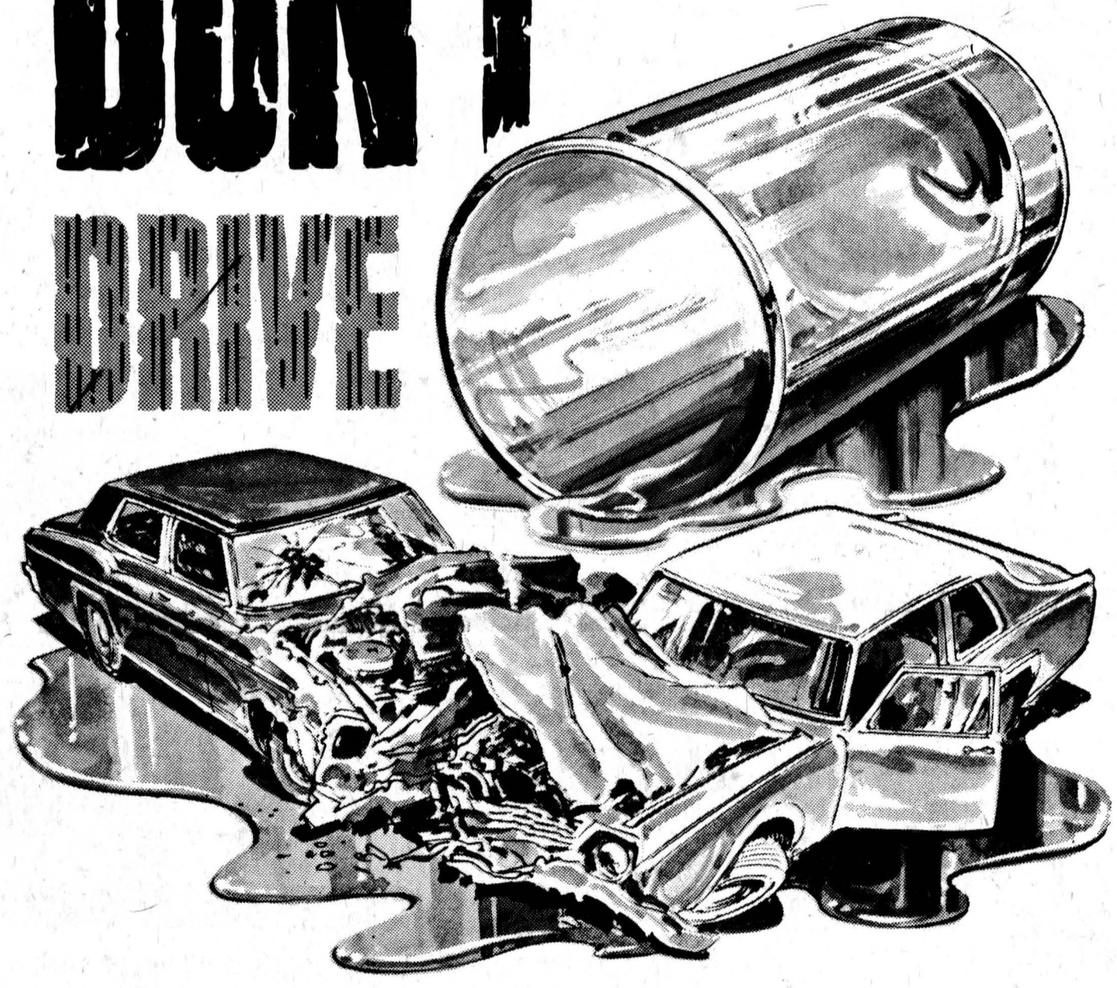
DEATH Knows No Holiday

IF YOU DRINK DON'T DRIVE



You have a lot of living left to do!

Yes friend, your family loves you. But they do more than that -- they place all their hopes and dreams in your hands when those hands grasp the steering wheel of your car. Oh, yes, driving conditions and winter weather get the blame for most accidents, but we all know the real culprit is the driver who fails to adjust to cold weather problems.

"Too fast for conditions" is all too frequently listed as an accident factor, so it follows you must lower your speed when the road surface is hazardous. Limited visibility is a major problem. A driver who scrapes only a little peephole in his ice-covered windshield is asking for trouble -- be very sure that defroster is in working order.

Also keep in mind that tire inflation should be checked more frequently during winter months since cold weather reduces tire pressure approximately one pound every 5 degrees celsius drop in temperature.

But remember, too, your family is depending on you when they are all at home and you are at the wheel alone.

Weariness is a known killer; alcohol and gasoline just won't mix. Should you have any doubts concerning your ability to drive, call a friend, or a taxi.

Assure a happy Holiday at your house — BY BEING THERE.
And bring continued happiness to your home in the New Year by being a safe, sane, sensible driver

AT ALL TIMES!

Ottawa Canadians win trip to Ontario Games

MORRISBURG (Staff) - The Morrisburg Lions came within eight minutes of opening a late Christmas parcel here Monday.

The package, with tickets to the Ontario Games in North Bay in mid-February, was snatched from the Lions when Dave McDonell shovelled the puck into the net to give the South Ottawa Parkway Canadians a 5-4 win in the title contest of the third annual ODHA Junior B tournament.

The Lions decked the halls, lit up the lights and were ready for a celebration when McDonell grabbed the parcel before the wrapping was opened.

The Lions unravelled the ribbon with a 3-1 over St. Isidore Eagles in the morning and then peeled off the wrapping paper late in the afternoon with a 4-2 verdict over the Vanier 72s.

McDonell's goal marked a comeback for the Ottawa club, which had only to tear off the top to see what the tickets to the northern Ontario centre looked like.

Over 1,000 persons were in attendance for the final game which featured end-to-end rushes, tough defensive play and fast skating.

Bill Kilrea gave Ottawa the lead before the game was two minutes old but little Ernie Duval tied it up about six minutes later.

He beat Gaetan Desfosses with a trickling shot while sliding on the ice after teammate Kevin Duvall had the puck checked away.

One minute later captain Doug McNairn shot Morrisburg into the lead with a penalty shot after Ottawa had been called for covering the puck with a hand while in the crease.

Don Adams replied for Ottawa four minutes later before Dave Tait sent the Lions back into the lead and Bob McNairn pushed the margin to two goals before the period ended.

Tait's goal also sent starting netminder Desfosses to the bench to be replaced by Jeff Mulcock.

The Canadians took charge in the middle frame with Simon Chretien scoring and then setting up Marc Martin to tie the score a minute later.

Both teams missed several scoring chances in the remainder of the frame and early in the final stanza before McDonell got the puck past Don McNairn.

To reach the finals, Morrisburg, the defending ODHA champions, got single goals from Kevin Duvall, Doug McNairn and Bryan Rutley in the win over St. Isidore.

The Lions led 2-0 at the period breaks as Don McNairn lost his shutout early in the third period.

In their second game, against Vanier, Ernie Duval led the way with a pair of goals as singles went to Bob McNairn and Jeff Cassell.

The teams split a pair of first period goals before the Lions went ahead 2-1 after two grames.

The winning goal came on a powerplay with 9:20 left in the game.

Ottawa reached the championship game of the single-day event by downing Kemptville 5-2 and Carleton Place 6-3.

Defending champion Gananoque did almost everything but couldn't score enough goals in a first-round 3-1 defeat to Carleton Place.

Cardinal, the other representative of the St. Lawrence division along with Morrisburg, had Vanier 3-2 early in the second period but fell apart.

Vanier stormed back to lead 4-3 after the second period and went on to win 7-3.

Cy Easterbrook, past executive member of the ODHA, presented the Cy Easterbrook Trophy to Ottawa captain Rob Clouthier while ODHA president Bill Dillabough presented the runner-up ODHA Junior Council Chairman's Trophy to Doug McNairn.

The Canadians, a first year Junior B squad, will represent the ODHA at the Ontario Games from Feb. 11-14.

Morrisburg's Ernie Duval, headed for the ice on this play, was a constant thorn in the side for opposition Monday as the Lions went to the finals before losing in the ODHA Junior B Hockey League tournament. The pesky little winger made things tough for opposing defencemen and goalies during the tournament. Vanier defenceman Scott Hamilton took Ernie down on this play as netminder Anthony Lamonica keeps his eye on the play coming his way. Morrisburg downed St. Isidore 3-1, and Vanier 4-2 before losing 5-4 to Ottawa.

Morrisburg pads lead in Jr. B hockey league

MORRISBURG (Staff) - The Morrisburg Lions padded their hold on first place in the St. Lawrence division of the ODHA Junior B Hockey League by nipping the Cardinal Broncos 4-3 here Sunday night.

Doug McNairn's 18th goal of the season was the winner and came on a power play at 13:30 of the third period.

The win increased Morrisburg's hold on first place to 14 points over second place Prescott.

The Lions held 2-0 and 3-0 period leads but had their advantage slip from their grasp before McNairn fired the winner.

Tim Cassell and Kevin Duvall scored first period goals and Ernie Duval got the third Morrisburg goal.

Bill Mullin led the Broncos on the comeback with a pair of goals and Doug Byers scored once.

Morrisburg had seven minor penalties compared to Cardinal's nine minors, a major and a game misconduct.

NEW JOBS FROM COMMUNITY PROJECTS. THINK ABOUT IT.

Canada Works
Young Canada Works

Canada Works is a new job creation program that will be launched in January.

This new year-round program is designed to get needed work done by people not employed in the private sector.

Canada Works will accept applications from groups and organizations including private businesses who wish to develop, sponsor and administer worthwhile community projects. Funds will mainly be allocated to areas of high unemployment and projects will be tailored to special employment needs of your local community.

Canada Works will generate employment for more than 60,000 Canadians who are presently unemployed. Applications will be considered twice a year – in Winter and Summer.

Think about your projects now! Early in the new year, your local Canada Manpower Centre will have application forms and a Canada Works "Guide to Applicants," with full details on the program. Canada Works for your community. Make your worthwhile projects work next year!

A second program is for students. Young Canada Works will create jobs for more than 20,000 students next summer. The emphasis will be on projects of solid community value. It has many of the same features as the year-round program, except projects will be limited to 14 weeks during the summer months.

At the same time, Young Canada Works will enable students to gain valuable work experience and test their career aspirations.

Like Canada Works, your Canada Manpower Centre will have application forms and a Young Canada Works "Guide to Applicants" early in the new year.

So, think about what your organization would like to do for students. Young Canada Works for students in your community.

M-F Red Nites

The Massey-Ferguson precision snowmobile team, the Red Nites, was in Chesterville last Wednesday to entertain at the open house of Burnis Short's expanded dealership facilities south of the village. Four of the team's five members were in attendance to perform basic manoeuvres. Each manoeuvre differs from the others as to pattern and complexity, yet each is alike in that all include either cross-overs or forming rank file from a single file start or vice-versa. The Red Nites were formed in September 1969 with toy cars employed to plot the various manoeuvres before snowmobiles were used. They first performed near Toronto in January 1970 and have since appeared at more than 50 winter carnivals and similar gatherings. The team's members, captain Wayne Cowley, Jim Bueschler, Ed Martynuik, Doug Becker and Murray Herrington, are all full-time employees of Massey Ferguson Industries Limited in Toronto. - staff photos -

Several students visit Queen's University

IROQUOIS (Special) — December 9, about 30 grade 13 students from Seaway travelled to Queen's University to spend the day. The trip was designed to allow students to experience a day at university and they attended first year lectures and seminars and visited residences and various buildings. Since applicatons to Ontario universities must be in by December 31, this trip gave students a chance to decide if Queen's was one of the universities to which they wished to apply. It was a very informative day, enjoyed by all who attended.

Library open house — A Library Open House was held December 16 and 17. The first day was devoted to teachers and on the second day students were invited to view new materials.

On display were books intended for classroom use, such as Canada on the Pacific Rim by J. Arthur Lower, Gabriel Dumont by George Woodcock, Stress Disease by Peter Blythe, and Modern Japanese Haiku by Makoto Ueda.

Books intended for recreational reading were also viewed. These included such titles as Ken Dryden by Fred McFaden, Understanding Pop by Tony Jaspar, The Fire Eaters by Gwendolyn MacEwan, and Folklore of Canada by Edith Fowle.

The Open House was enjoyed by all. Miss Crozier gave candy canes to the students. We thank the Library Club members who helped decorate the library and organized the Open House.

Chesterville wins three to take over first place

(Staff) - When the management of the Chesterville Jets first saw the NSLSJHL schedule there were doubts about the busy lineup of games around Christmas time.

That has now passed and the Jets came out of the briar patch without a scratch. In fact, they won all three games last week to charge from a second place tie into the top spot with a three point lead.

Tuesday they bombed Avonmore 11-4; they blanked Char-Lan 3-0 two nights later, and then thumped Maxville 7-2 the day after Christmas.

The Jets hold a three-point lead over Maxville and four point over Finch but the Highlanders have four games in hand and the 76s two games.

Rebels 9, Osna. 1

Char-Lan spared little mercy on a shorthanded Osnabruck Township club last Thursday, handing out a 9-1 thumping.

Centre Tom Ross led the onslaught against the Osnabruck 10 by scoring four goals.

Team captain Jeff Fisher netted a pair for the winners and singles went to Mickey Wolfe, Bob Julien and Mike Tessier.

Robert Aubin snapped Randy Fisher's shutout bid early in the middle stanza to make the score 2-1 at the time.

Greg Beckstead netted the final goal late in the final period.

Chesterville John Elliott was ejected from the game at the end of the second period. After the second Chesterville goal, he became involved with a Char-Lan play.

Officials warned him but he kept it up and was given a 10-minute misconduct. When leaving the ice at the conclusion of the period, he became involved again and was given a game misconduct.

In the final period, CharLan's Vance MacLaughlin battled Dillabough. Dillabough received a fighting major while MacLaughlin got a major, a game misconduct and automatic minor.

Chesterville also received nine minors compared to Char-Lan's six.

Jets 7, Highlanders 2

All around but no luck

Stingy goaltending was prevalent Tuesday as sharpshooters were held to only 51 goals in the annual Chesterville Fire Department bantam hockey tournament's 10 games. Iroquois players in the dark sweaters, are seen buzzing around the Morrisburg net in a consolation round semi-final game. They came up empty on this play but did win contest 2-1 in overtime. Iroquois won the consolation title and the host Chesterville Bantam Flyers nipped Winchester 2-1 to claim the grand championship. - staff photo -

Doug Rance's last minute goal gives Chesterville tourney win

(Staff) — Revenge was the end result but it wasn't easy as the Chesterville Bantam Flyers captured the top award at the annual Chesterville Fire Department Tournament Tuesday.

Six of the tournament's 10 games were decided by one goal margins and the grand champion was not decided until almost the last second.

Right winger Doug Rance converted a two-on-one break with Curtis McMillan with only nine seconds remaining in the game to give the Flyers a 2-1 decision over Winchester.

Iroquois, the defending champion, split a pair of overtime contests before blanking Char-Lan 3-0 to win the consolation round championship.

Over half of the games went down to the wire and four were forced into overtime. Three were decided there but one, involving Chesterville and Osgoode-Rideau, remained tied at the end of the five-minute extra period. Chesterville was awarded the win for the scoring the first goal of the game.

Rance's game winner, a high wrist shot on the stick side of Winchester goalie Kevin Lunn, came just seconds after Winchester was thwarted at the other end of the ice by Flyers' goalie Eddie Witteveen.

The victory was especially pleasing for coach Bernie Harper who had his charges bow 4-2 to the Winchester squad just the day before in opening round action of the Carleton-Dundas Minor Hockey League Tournament.

Bruce Graves gave Winchester the first period lead on a powerplay at 5:44 just minutes after Witteveen had stopped him twice.

Early in the second frame, Donny Richards knotted the score while Dwayne Fawcett sat out his second straight penalty of the period.

That set the stage for end-to-end rushes and possible overtime as the clock ticked down.

Rance was awarded a gold medallion as Chesterville's player of the game. Peter Marriner received a similar award from Fire Chief Grenville Fyke as Winchester's top player.

In the consolation final, Iroquois got a single goal in the first period and two more in the second. B. Armstrong, R. Casselman and D. Bueley scored for the winners and K. Smith got the shutout.

Kent Holder was Iroquois' player of the game and Greg Kalil was named Char-Lan's top performer in the final contest.

The championship route was not an easy one for the Flyers as Iroquois took them to overtime in the opening game before losing 4-3.

Glen Patterson's third goal of the game was the winner. Doug Rance got the other goal in the come-from-behind win.

In their second game, Osgoode-Rideau scored with one second remaining to send the game into overtime. Rance, Rick Grisel, Don Richards and Glendon Shay got the goals.

Winchester's Ken Rose fired his second goal of the game in overtime to down Char-Lan 4-3. Peter Marriner and Bill Kerr got the other goals.

In the second round, Marriner netted the winner over North Franklin, N.Y., with 20 seconds left in the game.

Iroquois nipped Morrisburg 2-1 in overtime to advance to the consolation finals after losing its first game to Chesterville.

Char-Lan bowed to Winchester in the first round and then blanked Alexandria 2-0.

the farmer's wife

by wyn thompson

Just prior to Christmas we spent a few delightful days with the Farmer's sister and her husband in Montreal. Sarah companioned the four of us as we bustled about from one happy scene to another.

As we travelled home I recalled the following, "Happy, happy Christmas, that can win us back the delusions of our childish days; that can recall to the old man the pleasures of his youth; and transport sailor and the traveller, thousands of miles away, back to his own fire-side and his quiet home."

The quotation is from Pickwick Papers by Charles Dickens, of course, and it bears out my firm belief that the lasting wealth we give to our children and friends is the memory of happy times. Dr. Wilder Penfield of the Montreal Neurological Institute discovered (by applying electrodes to different brain areas) that the human brain actually does store a permanent detailed record of our lives.

When the nerve cells were activated, clear and vivid scenes complete with sound, smell and original emotions were remembered. So a pre-Christmas celebration in Montreal will be stored in Sarah's mind as well as ours. There was the most handsome of Santas, the Three Bears, a puppet show, colored lights, music, shortbreads and sweet treats, and many items baked with artificial sweetener, especially for the Farmer. And fun! And laughter! And remembrances!

And as Sarah so well put it when we started for home, "Boy, I am tired, but I had fun!"

Home meant getting the tree in place, the outside lights up, a party or two to attend to, and all the myriad things that spell Christmas in this land of plenty. I never feel that I will be ready in time but, somehow I am.

Then, it is over and we once again lug the Christmas tree ornaments to the storage cupboard and begin the battle of the pine needles, which fill every available nook and cranny, I think of all the Christmases past with a little sadness tugging at my heart. My father is no longer with us nor, is Grannie. And other friends. Yes, things change, I reflect, as I unwind the tinsel and lay aside the Christmas cards to reread.

I have always so hated to see the last of the Christmas cards. I keep them around to January and look at them from time to time. I hate sending them but I love receiving them. The old-fashioned ones with sleighs and snow are a real treat and the ones with snapshots of the children are always lovely.

It is good to remember past Christmases. Memory may play tricks on us at times, but Christmas seems to pinpoint things, a beginning again. I think, as I said before, that one of the chief values of Christmas is that we remember the good things, the love, the friendship we have experienced.

We are ready to see the new year in. There is magic in the last minutes of the old year - and a spirit of adventure and excitement in the beginning of the New. Celebrating the New Year is an old, old custom. It dates back to well before the Christian era, its origin being variously ascribed to the Romans, the Chinese or the Teutons.

But whatever its origin, as we, look backward and forward, we feel like Robbie Burns, when he said -"And forward though I canna see, I guess and fear."

Looking back we are grateful for all the good the old year has brought us- old friendships grown dearer, new friendships made. And we all begin the New Year with a mixture of timidity - of fear and hope.

Our Scottish and French-Canadian friends observe the occasion more joyfully than most - the Scots with "Hogmanay" and "first-footing", the French celebrating 'Le jour de l'an" with partying and the giving of gifts, as they usher out the Old Year and welcome in the New in time-honored custom. To all of us there is something of the spirit of adventure - of expectancy, as we enter a New Year.

We prayerfully hope that all our present cares and worries go out on the shoulders of old Father Time, and wistfully wish that the new infant year will see the fulfillment of some of some of our most cherished dreams.

And we make resolutions - hundreds of them, in the hope of making it a better year. And when the cynical tell us that the road to hell is paved with good resolutions, they forget that the road to heaven has similar pavement. So in spite of the cynical beings that still are around, we will resolve to have another try at being the kind of person we would really like to be.

And so the Farmer and I wish you all a Very Happy New Year. I wish the things you are afraid of may never happen, but I wish still more that you may cease to be afraid of them. I wish you a Year filled with love and friendship and good health - and the spirit that keeps you living each day happily.

I wish you above all - Contentment. A Happy, happy 1977.

60 senior citizens enjoy Christmas party

MOREWOOD (Special) — On the afternoon of Fri., Dec. 17, about 60 Morewood and vicinity senior citizens gathered in the Senior Citizens Meeting Hall to enjoy a ham pot-luck dinner.

The hall and Christmas tree were decorated by Ken Broom and his committee and the refreshment committee was responsible for the Christmas table decorations.

Everyone was in a festive mood from the beginning and when everyone was seated, president Jack James made a few announcements. The club's next executive meeting will be held Mon., Jan. 3 when a good number of members are requested to attend as the election of officers will take place. The next general meeting will be held January 7 at the regular time.

Mrs. Ross Nurse offered the blessing, using the Kitchen Prayer and following the meal, a photograph was taken of the club's seven 80-years-plus members and all members were photographed in groups for those who wished photos.

An interesting program was introduced by social committee chairman Harry Hutchinson, beginning with a sing-song of a number of Christmas carols with Mrs. Ken Broom at the piano. John Hutt favored the members with several selections on the harmonica and a mixed choir, consisting of Gladys Broom, Nora Dyer, Harry Hutchinson, Ross Nurse, Ken Broom and Fred Weaver, with Mrs. Broom at the piano, sang Amazing Grace and Silent Night. Mrs. Jean Mattice gave a reading. entitled "the priceless gift of Christmas" and Mrs. Zoe McQuaig conducted a humorous skit, a takeoff on some of the members present who were in difficulty with their Christmas shopping.

Movies of interesting scenes in the US were shown by Mr. Broom with commentary by Mrs. Broom.

Seniors participate in parade

MOREWOOD (Special) — About 15 members of the Morewood Senior Citizens Club were fit enough to brave the cold weather Sat., Dec. 18 to take part in the Morewood Santa Claus Parade, the best ever held in the village.

The club extended its thanks to Dutch Sash and Door Ltd. for providing its house-moving float on which the seniors were seated, bundled in warm clothing and wrapped in red and green blankets.

The float was decorated by Ken Broom and his committee. The club also paid tribute to Carl Hutchinson who provided the accompaniment on his electric organ for the carols sung by the occupants of the float.

When the parade finished where it had begun, at the Recreation Centre, all the seniors felt they had contributed to making the event the success it was.
