Candidates hit the campaign trail toward Oct. 14 federal election

CORNWALL — His team calls it a "sea of blue." Over 500 election signs are being put up across SD&G in support of incumbent Conservative candidate Guy Lauzon.

Parliament was dissolved on Sun., Sept. 7, and the election date is set for Tues., Oct. 14 — the day after Thanksgiving weekend.

"Now is not the time to experiment with leadership either nationally or locally," said Lauzon. "I have been honoured to serve the people of this riding and begin to realize a vision for communities across SD&G. I look forward to the opportunity to continue working hard for that privilege."

Lauzon is seeking re-election for his third term as MP for the riding.

Monkland resident Denis Sabourin became the Liberal candidate following a nomination meeting on the same day the election was called. Sabourin was executive assistant for former MP Bob Kilger, and plans to show voters in this riding "that the Liberals have something to offer and that it's time to take back this riding."

The NDP will be represented by Darlene Jalbert, a Martintown resident and board member of the United Way Cornwall. The labour and community activist is an employee at the Workers Health and Safety Centre.

The Green Party candidate is David Rawnsley, a recently retired management consultant. He is currently referee-in-chief of the Char-Lan Minor Soccer Association. Rawnsley has chosen to become active politically "as a result of Canada's abysmal response to the climate change catastrophe that is impacting the globe."

Activist Howard Galganov has joined the race as an independent.

Advance voting will take place Fri., Oct. 3, Sat., Oct. 4, and Mon., Oct. 6.

In the 2006 federal election, Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry residents voted Lauzon to parliament with a 54.73 per cent majority. Liberal candidate Tom Manley received 27.17 per cent of the vote.

Construction begins on housing project

WILLIAMSBURG — Construction of the Hess Street Project — an affordable housing development that will provide 20 rental units primarily for low-income seniors and people with special needs — began last week under the Canada-Ontario Affordable Housing Program.

"Williamsburg Non-Profit Housing Corporation is grateful to the Affordable Housing Program for the opportunity to build 20 townhouses, mainly for the elderly in Williamsburg Village," said Trevor Tolley, president of the corporation. "The corporation is also grateful to the City of Cornwall as service manager, and would like to acknowledge the generous support of the mayor and council of South Dundas in this important undertaking."

The federal and provincial governments, the City of Cornwall, and the Township of South Dundas are joint partners in the project.

"Our government is committed to making affordable housing available in Ontario and across Canada for those who need it most," said Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon, on behalf of Monte Solberg, minister of human resources and social development. "Here in Williamsburg, these new rental units will help low-income seniors and people with special needs access safe, affordable, and quality housing, helping them to build a stronger future."

The $2.2 million project is sponsored by the Williamsburg Non-Profit Housing Corporation and received a total of $1.4 million under the Canada-Ontario Affordable Housing Program.

"Our government is committed to helping Ontario's most vulnerable citizens secure a safe and affordable place to call home," said Jim Watson, provincial minister of municipal affairs and housing. "This project will make it easier for senior citizens and people with special needs in the Cornwall area to live independently and with dignity."

Federal and provincial allocations to the project will be complemented by more than $153,000 in local municipal financial incentives and $120,000 in land equity from the sponsor group.

"I am pleased that new federal and provincial funding for affordable housing has made these 20 townhouses a reality," said South Dundas Mayor Charles Barkley. "I thank the service manager and the Williamsburg Non-Profit Housing Corporation for all their work and dedication to help so many individuals benefit from this new housing service."

The Canada-Ontario Affordable Housing Program comprises a commitment of $301 million from each of the two senior levels of government. In total, the federal, provincial, and municipal governments will invest at least $734 million in the program, which will provide affordable housing for 20,000 households in Ontario.

Donate blood

CHESTERVILLE — A Community Blood Donor Clinic will be held on Thurs., Sept. 11 at the Chesterville Royal Canandian Legion.

Appointments are available from 1 to 3:30 and 5 to 8 pm, and Canadian Blood Services officials say it's never too late to book an appointment — call 1-888-2-DONATE.

More Santa's helpers needed for Parade

WINCHESTER — The 12th annual Country Christmas Parade of Lights is just 87 days away and the organizing committee is looking for some Santa's helpers to lend a hand.

Committee member Lorrie Munro reported that North Dundas Chamber of Commerce president Owen Shortt has stepped forward and offered the chamber's assistance in organizing the event, set for Sat., Dec. 6.

Last year it looked as if the parade would fade into the evening when with two weeks to deadline there were only seven floats entered. A call for support went out and on parade night a procession — including two bands, marching cadets and 40 floats — wound its way through the village.

More volunteers are needed to insure another successful parade. If you are interested in helping out you are invited to attended the inaugural organizational meeting on Wed., Sept. 17. The session will start at 7:30 am at the Country Kitchen Restaurant. For more information, call Lorrie Munro at 613-774-2644.

Building bungle: municipal facilities on chopping block?

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — It's time to make a decision about excess township facilities, according to South Dundas Township councillors at their regular meeting on Tues., Sept. 2.

"It's fairly comprehensive," explained CAO Steve McDonald about a facilities report compiled by staff. "We've tried to put as much information as we can into one package."

Mayor Charles Barkley voiced his concern at council jumping to decisions too quickly.

"I didn't expect to come here and have a bunch of resolutions put on the table tonight," McDonald pointed out. "There are a lot of things to think about. Once council determines where we're headed, we need to get an energy audit done."

McDonald said that the municipality pays approximately $300,000 a year in heat and hydro for its facilities — excluding the Morrisburg Arena.

"Even if we could save 10 per cent... It (an energy audit) would be worthwhile," he said.

"It's just way too much in energy — we've got to do something," agreed councillor Steven Byvelds.

He said he'd like to see the Winchester Springs, Dunbar, and Riverside Heights community halls handed over to those communities.

"I'm not sure how we could handle it, but I'm very willing to look at it," he explained. "Stampville (Centre), we could close and demolish it — it's in poor shape."

Councillor Jim Graham agreed about the Stampville centre, noting that "mould is a real issue."

Byvelds also explained he'd like the building at the Dundela rink demolished as well, and replaced with a smaller shack. He also wants the municipality to sell the Toyes Hill facility.

As for the old high school in Morrisburg, "I think we need to commit to the next step and find out the possibilities to renovate it," said Byvelds, noting that there is lots of useable space. "We have to decide what we're going to do with that building."

Deputy-Mayor Rowdy Gillard said that because it's a heritage building, there are likely grants available for its renovation.

Councillor Del Jones said he would like to take a different approach to the decision making, and rather than just deciding which building should be crossed off the list, have a plan on which to base those decisions.

"Do we want (municipal) space in each of the former municipalities?" he asked. "I suspect — given our geography and distances (to travel) and our aging population — it's going to be difficult to go to one central facility (in each of the former wards). But if we can do that and do it efficiently, and get to the point where we have four facilities that meet the needs of (residents) then we should look at multi-use facilities."

Jones said that council needs to define the municipality's needs before making any decisions, and that the costs of the facilities should be the guiding principles of decision making.

Council seemed to agree that converting the Matilda Community Hall into a multi-use facility would benefit township residents — especially because there has been some concern regarding the lack of use of the facility.

"I'm a little bit concerned lately — it sits there and is never used," said Barkley. "We've lowered the rates — there's something wrong. Maybe we should be looking at someone to run it, to take it over. If we can do something... to make this hall more easily available, we should."

Several councillors voiced complaints they heard following a recent celebration held at the hall.

"Someone had an issue that security was too tight and it took away from the party atmosphere," Byvelds said, noting, however, that licensing the hall under the municipality is "just asking for trouble."

Graham agreed.

"Unless we can get some organization like the Lions or an agricultural society to take on the liquor license ... That's the only way we're going to get around it," he offered.

Byvelds noted that even if the municipality subsidized the cost for current facility users to rent other organization's hall (Oddfellows, Royal Canadian Legion) the township "would be better off" with regard to the current energy and upkeep expenses of its buildings.

"I disagree with that," said Barkley. "We have to provide something to the taxpayers that they own for their tax money."

Plaza planning

WILLIAMSBURG — CAO Steve McDonald explained to South Dundas council at its regular meeting on Tues., Sept. 2 that the municipality has received estimates regarding the redevelopment of the Iroquois Shopping Plaza.

He explained that an engineer is currently evaluating the existing canopy at the plaza. The proposals submitted vary in their plans for the canopy — some companies which to use the existing structure, while others want to demolish the overhang and start fresh.

"We need to find out whether we can just renovate it or whether it needs to be replaced," McDonald said, noting that he will return to council with more information before making a decision as to which company will take on the job.

Council notes from South Dundas

Road compliments

Mayor Charles Barkley complimented public works manager Hugh Garlough on the state of the township's roads. "I think the roads look excellent," he said. "I haven't had one dust complaint this year."

Garlough noted that the better-quality material he used cut down on the dust significantly, and also pointed out that paving in the villages was to be completed by Fri., Sept. 5.

Potential public meeting

It's been two years since councillors were elected to office, and Barkley said he plans to call a public meeting to allow residents to share ideas and concerns with council.

Clerk Brenda Brunt suggested the mid-term meeting take place the week of Oct. 19 to 23, which is designated provinically as "local government week."

Council discusses low-volume toilets

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — South Dundas councillor Jim Graham wants the municipality to adopt a bylaw that all new homes in the township must be equipped with low-flow toilets.

"I've had one in my house for three years and I've never had any problems," Graham told council at its Tues., Sept. 2 meeting.

At the recent Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO) conference in Toronto, Graham heard a presentation on sewage system sustainability, during which low-flow toilets were deemed part of a long-term solution.

Graham also said that besides new development being required to install the eco-friendly flushers, the township should subsidize the replacement of high-volume toilets using its sewage system reserve fund.

"We need to encourage people to put in low-volume toilets," he said, estimating a $200 difference in cost between regular toilets and their high quality, low-flow counterparts. "We should start implementing this immediately. We've got to start cutting the flow to our sewer system."

He also noted that down spouts and sump pumps need to be disconnected from the storm sewers to cut back on wastewater flow to the plant.

Graham suggested hiring students to survey properties, and subsidizing the cost to homeowners who need to make changes to where their water is discharged.

"If we don't pay for that, we'll pay for it in our sewer system," he said. "It's something to look at, anyway."

Other council members agreed with Graham's thoughts.

"Jim's got an excellent idea," said councillor Steven Byvelds. "We've got lots of capacity if we get rid of the (extra) wastewater."

Council made no decisions on the proposed bylaw, but will discuss the issue further at another meeting.

County Road 43 commemorates long-serving SD&G Highlanders

WINCHESTER — Motorists travelling along County Road 43 throughout the United Counties will notice new signs, designating the road the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Highlanders Commemorative Highway.

The renaming of County Road 43 was the brain-child of regimental honourary-colonel William Shearing of Morrisburg. The idea was approved by municipal councils and United Counties council earlier this year.

The signs were erected in July 2008 at six locations along the road.

The new label serves as a tangible reminder of the important role the SD&G Highlanders Regiment, known as the Glens, has played, and continues to play, in the United Counties and overseas, for more than two centuries.

County Road 43 was selected to be the commemorative highway as it stretches almost the entire length of the United Counties. Entering the western edge of the United Counties near Hallville, the Commemorative Highway winds its way past farmland, woodlots, and forest and through the communities of Winchester, Chesterville, Finch, Avonmore, and Monkland before it reaches Alexandria.

Based at the Cornwall Armoury, the Glens date back to 1784, when the Scots Highlanders, who fought on the British side during the American Revolutionary War, were resettled in the eastern-most counties of Upper Canada after the war ended.

The Glens have since continuously served the United Counties and Canada, and fought with distinction in the War of 1812 and both World Wars. Glens have served as peacekeeping troops in many places such as Egypt, Cyprus, Bosnia, and Afghanistan, and are now sending nine soldiers to serve with the Canadian Forces contingent in Kandahar. It is this tradition of service that the highway commemorates.

The Glens will inaugurate the commemorative highway on Nov. 1 by conducting a staggered "battle fitness" route march along its entire length. Nov. 1 is the anniversary of the end of the Battle of the Breskens Pocket, when the Glens captured the last town occupied by the enemy in that area (Knokke along the Belgian coast) in 1944.

Rush is on

Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon helped Carol Stewart of Chesterville (left) and Johanne Rutley of Winchester fill out their passport applications in the Township of North Dundas council chambers on Thurs., Sept. 4. Between 800 and 1,000 people showed up to the clinic, during which 250 passport applications were processed. The turnout was double any previous clinic hosted by the MP in the riding, even those in Cornwall. Residents from North Dundas Township, as well as people from Metcalfe, Russell, and Morrisburg, attended the clinic.

Storey–Dodds

Leona Cameron of Vernon, and Anthony and Allision Storey of Sudbury, are delighted to announce the marriage of their children, Meaghan Dodds and Gavin Storey. The marriage took place on June 29, 2008 at The Southway Inn in Ottawa. Meaghan completed her Honours degree in Sociology at Carleton University in 2007 and graduated cum laude from Suny Pottsdam University, NY, with her Masters of Education. After completing his BA in Economics, Gavin graduated from Nav Can as an air traffic controller in October, 2007. The couple now resides in Timmins, Ontario, where they are both working in their chosen vocations. We give them all our love and best wishes for their new marriage and in their careers. Dad (Jeff Dodds), Poppa (Ron Dodds) and Grannie (Ollie Cameron) watch over them from above.

Alzheimer Day: you can make a difference

WINCHESTER — Alzheimer Day, Sept. 21, is dedicated to raising awareness of a disease that affects over 24 million people worldwide and over 450,000 Canadians over the age of 65.

The Alzheimer Society is nationally promoting a Coffee Break event, but the local society is encouraging residents to make contributions in ways that suit their lifestyle.

"Again this year, we encourage families, friends, and businesses to host their own Coffee Break fundraiser," said Shelley Vaillancourt, executive director of the Alzheimer Society of Cornwall and District. "But, we also want people to get creative with their fundraising ideas and to do something that's meaningful to them."

So whether you lace up for your own walk-a-thon, bake cookies for a fundraising dessert night, or dress down on Fridays, you will not only support all those who currently need the services of the Alzheimer Society, but all those who will need those services in the future.

Funds, will help maintain important services for local families including day-away programs, education, and family support.

For more fundraising ideas or information on Alzheimer's disease and related dementias, call the Alzheimer Society at 613-932-4914 or visit www.alzheimer.ca.

Classicaltronica: new music at Old Town Hall

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Classicaltronica: the fusion of classical and electronic music, and the genre created by Ottawa opera singer Giselle Minns, who will showcase her all new original material in a concert at Winchester's Old Town Hall on Sat., Sept. 20.

"I love the venue," she told the Press in an interview on Wed., Aug. 27. "I love the warmth from the audience — everyone's very friendly, open-minded, and supportive. Winchester seems to be special, and I don't know why."

Her performance marks the beginning of a tour to promote her new album, Turning Circles. The professional soprano composed and orchestrated all the tracks on the album, which she loosely compares to artists such as Enya, Sarah Brightman, and Björk.

After performing with the BBC Concert Orchestra, singing at the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden with The English Bach Festival, and performing roles in Mozart's Requiem, among other well-known Opera titles, she said that performing her own music is very different.

"When you're in an opera, you've got people in the audience who feel they should have had your role, critics and others who know the show and are waiting for you (to hit a wrong note), your agent, and directors taking notes — you don't want to let anyone down," she explained. "There's less pressure when I'm doing my own stuff — no one knows exactly how it's supposed to go."

She said that while her own music is an exciting new stimulus, it's still grounded in classical opera.

"It's a very different form — I hope it will allow people to open up to a new genre," she said. "Fingers crossed everyone will like it."

She said the music will hopefully appeal to all ages.

"It's very accessible," she said, noting that most of the songs are in English, while a couple are in Italian, and one is in French. "My grandma's 98 and she likes it — maybe she a little biased, I don't know."

But, she pointed out, it's not "elitist opera," and incorporates all of her varying musical interests, which she hopes will entice people to attend the local show.

"I think the evening will be very fun, because I like to crack jokes," she said, noting that she will also perform covers of some songs people will know. "It's not going to be an evening of high art and opera arias. But it will be passionate, emotional, and fun."

Minns has been working on the album for two years. It was recorded in Ottawa, mixed in UK, mastered in Mississauga, and manufactured in Toronto. She said that Ontario is extremely special, and has inspired a lot of the songs.

"I have the ability to create and write and express in a way I have never been able to in other countries," said the artist, who has lived in several different countries. "The sky seems bigger here; it gives me more clarity."

Her husband produced the album and added the electronic sounds to the tracks. She said that having her producer "on tap" was an invaluable asset, and there were several brainstorming sessions at 2 am throughout the creation of the album.

Opera singer Giselle Minns will perform songs from her new electronic crossover album Turning Circles at the Old Town Hall in Winchester on Sept. 20.

Press Photo — Duncan

Her favourite track on the album is the first song "No evil," written about her husband — "he's perfect," she said.

Minns won Talent Rock's 2005 Top Female Vocalist Award, appeared on the CTV Network in 2006 where she was interviewed and performed one of her songs live, was nominated for the 2007 Los Angeles Music Awards and the 2007 Ontario Independent Music Awards, and was a winner in the 2007 Billboard Songwriting Contest.

This year she is a West Coast Songwriting honourable nominee and a "100% Songwriting" finalist, amoung other nominations.

"I have been extremely lucky and honoured," she said about the opportunities she has had in her career, noting that she hopes her new music will open even more doors.

"It would be an honour to have my music on television shows and in movies," she said, adding that she thinks it would blend well with hospital dramas like House, ER, and Grey's Anatomy, which have recently been the sought-after platform for the emergence of new artists.

She said she would like to write more, and continue to perform.

"My ultimate goal is to mix the performance with dancers," she said, noting that dance is a "beautiful and powerful way to express emotions."

When she spoke with the Press she was anxiously awaiting the delivery of her albums — there had already been phone calls from various people in the entertainment industry wanting to get their hands on the goods.

A portion of the proceeds from the CDs, which will be available to buy at the Winchester show, will go to CHEO's oncology department.

"The more I tour, the more I will sell, and the more I will be able to give," she said

This isn't the first time Minns has performed in Winchester — she accompanied piano sensation Alexander Serdenko in a previous Old Town Hall show.

It was through purchasing a piano from Fawcett's Pianos and Organs that a friendship developed with Roy and Shirley Fawcett, who were instrumental in setting up the Sept. 20 show.

"I think it's nice to bring a few different kinds of entertainment to the area," said Shirley Fawcett.

"We have a good venue for this type of thing," Roy agreed. "I feel it's important for all of our village to showcase exceptional talent."

Minns has sang with the Opera National du Rhin in Strasbourg, France and sang the role of Adele in a Gala Performance of Die Fledermaus in Switzerland with Jose Carreras. But, she said, she loves to perform in small venues, where she can look out and see the faces and reactions of the audience members for whom she is singing.

"They're so close, which I love," she said about singing at the Old Town Hall, where the show is more personal and she has the chance to meet people after the show. "You can feel the energy from the audience. The warmth from the audience washes on stage."

Tickets for the Sat., Sept. 20 show in Winchester are available at Shadbolt's Steadmans V&S (613-774-2008) or Jen's Fawcett's Jewellery and Gifts (613-774-6132), by calling Shirley Fawcett at 613-774-6422, or online at www.giselleminns.com.

Here we go again...

It doesn't seem like that long ago that the Press ran a large front-page photo of MP Guy Lauzon as he celebrated his win in the 2006 election at the Ramada Inn in Cornwall.

It definitely hasn't been four years.

Legislation passed after the Conservatives were elected (something on which Tory candidates across the country based their 2006 campaign) made sure elections would occur every four years, and no sooner. Or so we thought.

The election writ was dropped despite the Conservatives' own legislation that set a fixed election date for October 2009.

Are they breaking their own law for political gain, or is this truly a necessary election to get parliament running smoothly and efficiently? (Oh wait. Apparently this law only applies to majority governments. Yet another political loophole.)

If people were to lie on their résumé about what they can do or what they plan to do and don't follow through, they would be fired. Why do politicians get off scott free?

They get to call an election and campaign their butts off for another chance.

If this election means Canada will have a stronger parliament and a stronger country, then it's a good thing. But if we end up right back where we started following a month-or-so of debate and lots of cost — even just to our environment (the leaders are bussing and jetsetting from one side of the country to the other on sometimes an hourly basis), then what's the point?

It's happening regardless of what anyone says, so residents in Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry, and our readers in the Nepean-Carleton riding, should listen to what all the candidates have to say and make an informed decision on election day.

If nothing else, there will be lots to talk about around the Thanksgiving table this year.

Remember when...

A parade, big-band music, bingo, softball games, and speeches by local big-wigs marked the official opening of the 100 Club Community Park in Winchester. There was no admission to the day's activities, but tickets to the evening dance, which took place at the Park Pavilion, were 50 cents.

1968

The OPP officers from the Morrisburg and Winchester detachments released a statement congratulating drivers in Dundas County for a summer of safe driving. They took the opportunity to remind drivers that safety year-round is important with students walking to school and winter weather fast-approaching.

The North Dundas Demons logo was painted on and North Dundas recreation staff member Dan Roy applied a light mist of water after the application. The ice was ready for the first minor hockey conditioning camp in 1998. The township recreation staff worked double shifts to make the one and a half inch sheet of ice, which took 100 floods.

Meek's Mean Machine was the first Winchester ball hockey "A" champs. Lecour's Lightning took the "B" championship title to finish off the first season. Machine captain Jeff Meek accepted the Winchester Legion Branch 108 Ball Hockey "A" Championship trophy and Lightning captain Dan Lecours accepted the "B" championship award. The awards were presented by Legion representative Alfred Baker at a ceremony following the final games.

1998

Marvelville farmer Jeff McDougall opened doors for hemp farmers in Ontario with his "certified organic" farm in Marvelville — one of the only hemp farms in Eastern Ontario. He said he researched the plant for two years and was interested in hemp for its use as a sustainable and renewable resource. "From an ecological point of view, it's exciting," he said. "It's a crop that can feed the population, house the population, and clothe the population."

Autumn peony preparation

United Counties Master Gardener

by Patricia Stachon

WINCHESTER — It is autumn already! When the leaves on your peony are looking bedraggled and starting to wither, it is a good time to divide them. After three or four years a herbaceous peony, which is continually producing more rhizomes, will eventually form large clumps that should be divided.

Dividing: Lift the plant with a garden fork and clean thoroughly with water. Allow the crown to stand in the shade for a few hours. This makes the tubers more flexible and easier to break apart. Split the crown into pieces of four or five buds, using a sharp clean knife. You may wish to dust with a fungicide before planting. Water well after planting, particularly if the weather has been dry. Your divided peony may or may not bloom the following spring.

Cultivating: Plant in good, well-drained soil. Peonies will not tolerate soggy soil. They flower well in clay soil and sunny conditions. If your soil is sandy they will produce more leaves and not so many flowers. Sandy soil must be amended with well-rotted manure and compost frequently.

Location: It has been said that a peony should not be planted where another has grown before, most likely due to the depletion of trace elements in the soil. If an alternative location cannot be found, replace the excavation with fresh soil, compost, and well-rotted manure. Place the plant in the hole and backfill carefully with soil making sure that all air pockets have been eliminated. It is important to plant it so the buds are covered with no more than three to five centimetres (two inches) of soil. If the plant is too deep it will not flower. After planting, mark the spot so you will avoid nicking new shoots while cleaning up in the spring. If you are using fertilizer, an ideal ratio is 20:20:20.

Spacing: Peonies ideally should be 90 centimetres (three feet) apart. There are varieties that should be staked, particularly the tall double blooming varieties. It is maddening to see those gorgeous double blooms on the ground after a heavy rainfall — it can been avoided with supports in place. Flowering stems can be short, so stake when the buds just start to form. Historically, peonies were cherished traditions with some families and are still seen growing around abandoned rural home sites, often flowering beautifully without attention. Peonies prefer not to be moved, so choose your site with consideration for the longtime garden plan.

If you are a peony lover, consider joining the Canadian Peony Society. This is a young organization that provides information about cultivation, upcoming shows, festivals, root sales, and seed exchanges. Membership is $15 for the year.

You will come to realize that there are: very early, early, mid-season, and late varieties, single flowering, semi-double flowering, and double flowering, and colours from white to magenta, even one described as mahogany. Now is the best time to buy and plant your favourite peony.

It's a sign!

Local lads Will Johnson (left) and Eric Duncan helped Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry Conservative candidate Guy Lauzon get election signs ready for the upcoming federal election. Lauzon and a team of seven helpers washed and repaired signs during an eight-hour blitz on Labour Day. "I am very grateful to these volunteers who gave up this beautiful weather on Labour Day to help," said Lauzon.

Loaded questions

Shepherd Talk

by Pastor Tim Edwards
Discovery Bible Fellowship

WINCHESTER — Have you ever been asked a loaded question? The kind of insincere question that has an agenda separate from just acquiring information; questions meant to communicate an opinion or send a message rather than solicit a response. We can become quite adept at this art if we like to be opinionated in a subtle kind of way.

Sometimes I ask God loaded questions that on the surface seem sincere, but are, in fact, loaded with accusation.

Why are you not listening? Why did you allow this to happen? Why isn't everything working out as planned?

When I examine my heart and I am honest with myself, I recognize I am not simply looking for an objective response, I am trying to lash out at God and tell him he's keeping up his end of the bargain. I am telling God he is being insensitive, unfair, or distant. I am telling him that he is not living up to my expectations.

The Bible tells the story of a "blameless and upright" man called Job, whom God allowed Satan to torment. God's motivation was to prove to Satan that Job's goodness was not based on God's blessings, but rather, based on Job's devotion to God... Job would not reject God even when Satan was allowed to take everything from him, even his family and his health.

The common philosophy of the day was that suffering was a consequence of sin. Contrary to the belief of his close friends, Job knew his suffering could not be a result of his sin. He said: "I will never admit you are in the right; till I die, I will not deny my integrity." If his suffering was not due to his sin, it seems that Job figured God wasn't playing fair.

This error in Job's judgment didn't sit well with God, who has a perfect record when comes to being just. God decided to show Job the error in his thinking and said: "Brace yourself like a man; I will question you, and you shall answer me. Would you discredit my justice? Would you condemn me to justify yourself?" (Job 40:7-8) He then proceeded to show Job how silly it is to assume that a mere human can question God's actions.

God's lesson resulted in Job adopting a new attitude. Job simply responded in a manner that is wonderfully instructive for us today: "Surely I spoke of things I did not understand, things too wonderful for me to know."

This is a good thing for me to keep in mind when I am tempted to assail God with my loaded questions. How can I, in my limited capacity, have the nerve to question His justice and love? As God said through the prophet Isaiah: "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts."

Instead of asking God loaded questions, it would be better to just trust his promise to help us through.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Over 800 attend passport clinic

The Editor:

I want to take a moment to thank the public for their patience at our passport clinic last Thursday evening at the Township of North Dundas municipal office. As those in attendance noticed, we were not expecting a crowd of between 800 and 1,000 people.

This was our 22nd clinic held across the riding. Our largest attendance to date was our first one in Cornwall, which had 500 people. Although the crowd was huge, we were able to process over 250 applications that evening and another 90 on Monday morning during our regular office hours in Winchester.

I want to thank those in attendance who understood that this size of crowd was not expected. We had 16 volunteers from my staff and the Township of North Dundas who donated their evening to make it easier for people in our community to get a passport.

Since some people didn't have the opportunity to hand in their applications, we will host another clinic at the end of October. This time we will move it to the Winchester Arena, have a second photographer on site, and another photocopier. We will also recruit more volunteers to speed up the process.

In the meantime, stop by the North Dundas Township office or go to www.ppt.gc.ca and fill out the application ahead of time to speed up your wait time.

And remember, we have office hours every Monday morning from 10:30 to noon at the township office in Winchester where you can hand in your completed applications. Also, consider getting your photos taken ahead of time as well.

Again, thank you for your understanding and patience. We were truly overwhelmed and look forward to hosting our 23rd clinic next month. Check the local papers for the date and time.

Guy Lauzon
MP Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry

Never mind the excuses

The Editor:

Never mind the excuses, never mind the pretence of consulting with leaders of the opposition parties, in calling an election now (before October 2009). Prime Minister Stephen Harper has broken his word on fixed election dates.

And why should we be surprised?

The party he leads was formed on a broken promise when (Defense Minister) Peter MacKay, broke his pledge to (Liberal MP in Saskatchewan) David Orchard and joined the Progressive Conservatives with Stephen Harper's Reform Alliance to form the Conservative Reform Alliance Party, the CRAP.

From that tainted union how can we expect anything but broken promises?

The fact is that Harper and his reformist Conservatives have shown once again they cannot be trusted. And without trust Harper is no leader. Period. End of story.

Playhouse set to pop out another comedic hit

Doug Tangney (front, left), Susan Greenfield, Kate Egan Veinotte, Parris Greaves, Garfield Andrews (back, left), and Melodee Finlay make up the cast of *Having Hope at Hom*e — the family "dram-edy" that will close the summer season at the Upper Canada Playhouse. The play, a comedy about a family, but not necessarily a family comedy, runs Sept. 11 until Oct. 5.

MORRISBURG — The summer season at Upper Canada Playhouse will close with the labour-induced comedy Having Hope at Home that kicks off Sept. 11.

Playhouse favourites Kate Egan Veinotte, Doug Tangney, Susan Greenfield, Garfield Andrews, and Parris Greaves welcome newcomer Melodee Finlay to UCP to stir up the set with a comedy about a family dinner that never gets eaten.

"It's a comedy about a family, but not necessarily a family comedy," said Egan Veinotte, who plays Carolyn, a young, unwed, nine-month pregnant woman who wants to mend her relationship with her big-city parents before she has the baby.

"Some of the most entertaining plays revolve around family reunions," said Playhouse artistic director Donnie Bowes. "Especially when events erupt that turn the household upside down and pit strong personalities against each other. This show has a little bit of everything, with all the humour and thought-provoking moments that make a great story and the kind of fireworks that make for entertaining and well-rounded theatre."

Carolyn lives with her boyfriend Michel (Greaves) and grandfather Russell (Tangney) in small-town rural Ontario and invites her parents, whom she hasn't seen in three years, for dinner to break the news that she will be giving birth with midwife Dawn, played by Susan Greenfield.

However, Carolyn's father, Bill (Andrews), is a big-city successful pediatrist and her mother, Jane (Finlay), is everything she is not. According to Bowes, family issues and laughs ensue when "the baby and the midwife arrive before the turkey."

This is the first play by Canadian David S. Craig to be featured at the Playhouse and critics have called it "a delight-filled domestic comedy that shouldn't be missed."

Bowes explained that the Playhouse likes to offer a variety of comedies each year, and this one is a good way to end the season.

"You could almost call it a 'dram-edy,'" said Finlay, adding that there is a lot happening all at once.

"Every generation brings in their own perspective," explained Tangney, adding that as the story moves along, the family's background is revealed, and the audience understands why the family is how it is.

Bowes is directing the play and the set is designed by John Thompson, who has created detailed sets for many Playhouse shows including The Affections of May, Lucien: Helter Smelter, and A Gift to Last.

Having Hope at Home runs Sept. 11 until Oct. 5 with evening shows Tuesday through Saturday at 8 pm and matinées Wednesday, Saturday, and Sunday at 2 pm. To reserve tickets call 613-543-3713 soon.

Local artist to display works on Apples and Art Studio Tour

Rachel Bourgon

CORNWALL — Rachel Bourgon, a veterinary technologist at Dundas Veterinary Services in Winchester, will show her art in the upcoming annual Apples and Art Studio Tour in Cornwall.

She will be at Logan's Gallery and Gifts, one of several stops on the tour, which is located at the corner of Amelia and Second Streets. The tour takes place Sat., Sept. 27 and Sun., Sept. 28.

"This tour is a lot of fun and there are many talented artists and artisans to see," said Bourgon, who will be there from 10 am to 5 pm both dates.

The Apples and Art Studio Tour provides visitors with an opportunity to combine a spectacular autumnal drive through the scenic Seaway Valley and Akwesasne while visiting over 35 artists and craftspersons in their studios and at heritage sites and museums.

City's RAPP funding applications due Friday

OTTAWA — The second round of applications are now being accepted for City of Ottawa's 2008 Rural Association Partnership Program (RAPP). The deadline is Fri., Sept. 12 at 4 pm.

RAPP is a $75,000 program to support the rural economy by providing funding for rural business organizations, fairs, and farmers' markets.

Funding is awarded for projects with a defined beginning and end and measurable outcomes. Maximum funding per project will not normally exceed $7,500 to ensure that all rural regions have an opportunity to access the funding. Organizations can only receive RAPP funding once per year.

Organizations based in rural Ottawa that are recognized as being active in supporting local retail and service sector businesses, promoting commerce, and representing local business needs are eligible.

Farmers' markets that are seasonal, multi-vendor, community-driven (not private) organizations selling home-grown produce, home-made crafts, and value-added products where the vendors are primary producers located in rural Ottawa are eligible.

Fairs that are present, promote a major agricultural and-or heritage event, and that celebrate a distinct aspect of the local Ottawa character are also eligible.

For more information on the 2008 Rural Association Partnership Program e-mail ruralaffairs@ottawa.ca or visit ottawa.ca/residents/funding/rural_partnership/index_en. html.

SPC proposal drafted:

Public asked for comment on drinking water protection plan

BERWICK — The Raisin-South Nation Source Protection Committee (SPC) is asking residents to review and comment on its proposed work plan for both the Raisin Region and South Nation source protection areas before it is sent to the Ontario Ministry of the Environment (MOE).

A first round of public consultation has been completed and some changes were made to the plan based on feedback the SPC received. All comments on the proposed draft will be appended to the proposed work plan before it is sent to the MOE for approval to be used in the implementation of the Clean Water Act.

The proposed work plan can be viewed and commented on at www.yourdrinkingwater.ca before Oct. 7 at 4 pm.

Rabies vaccination clinic this Saturday

WINCHESTER — Rabies vaccination clinics will take place Sat., Sept. 13 from 1 to 4 pm at Dundas Veterinary Services and the Winchester Veterinary Clinic. The rabies vaccine costs $15 per cat or dog. No examination will take place.

In order to protect the community against rabies, it's required by law that all dogs and cats three months of age or older be vaccinated against this transmittable and deadly disease.

Rabies is transmitted through rabid animal bites or contact of the animal's saliva with eyes, mouth, or open wounds. Even indoor pets must get the rabies vaccine regularly because bats or potentially rabid animals, can enter into any residence.

The Eastern Ontario Health Unit also reminds pet owners to: supervise your pets when outdoors; have pets spayed or neutered; call Animal Control to remove any stray animals from your neighbourhood; report all animal bites to the Eastern Ontario Health Unit; and, most importantly, keep your four-legged friend's vaccination up-to-date.

Vaccination clinics are also taking place locally in Chesterville, Morrisburg, and Russell.

For more information on rabies and the upcoming vaccination clinics, call the Eastern Ontario Health Unit at 613-933-1375 or at 1-800-267-7120 and ask for the Health Line. You can also visit www.eohu.ca and click on "Community Health," for a complete list of clinics.

Learn how to market Holsteins worldwide

KEMPTVILLE — Eastern Breeders Inc. and the Ontario Holstein Branch have organized the second genetic marketing workshop. It will be held at University of Guelph, Kemptville campus on Thurs., Oct. 9.

The Canadian Holstein is in demand worldwide for its genetics and the workshop will educate Ontario breeders about the fundamentals of marketing their herds globally.

There will be five speakers throughout the day who will give marketing advice and talk about their success as a Holstein breeder.

The day begins with registration at 10 am, followed by a "marketing embryos" presentation by Paul Greaves of Greaveston Genetics at 10:30 am. Louis Patenaude from La Ferme Gillette in Embrun will speak at 11:15 am about "how to get started." There will be a break for lunch from noon until 12:45 pm when Roger Chabot of GenlBeq will touch on "partnerships." Doug Nelson will speak at 1:30 pm about "sales and consignments," followed by Gerald Coughlin of Trent Valley's presentation about "elite cow care" at 2:30 pm. The workshop will finish with a question period at 3:15 pm.

If you are interested in attending the genetic marketing workshop call Eastern Breeders Inc. at 1-800-267-9222 or the Ontario Branch of Holstein Canada at 519-653-6180 to confirm your attendance. Registration is $10.

Feds allot $1.3 million to promote careers in agriculture

EMBRUN — The Government of Canada is putting over $1.3 million into promoting career opportunities in the agricultural sector.

The announcement was made at La Ferme Gillette in Embrun on Sept. 3. Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Pierre Lemieux announced $1,302,345 in federal funding will be put into three projects led by the Canadian Agricultural Human Resource Council (CAHRC).

"Our government is creating the best-educated, most-skilled, and most-flexible work force in the world," said Lemieux. "This investment will help Canadians learn about career opportunities in agriculture, and help the industry deal with skilled labour shortages."

The CAHRC projects are designed to promote existing and new employment opportunities in agriculture and ensure all stakeholders are aware of the council's research, programs, and learning tools.

"CAHRC is engaged in projects that are uncovering new ways to recruit and retain agriculture workers, and increase training opportunities for farmers to build new skills," said Danielle Vinette, executive director of CAHRC. "This includes analyzing emerging agriculture markets and the skills required of workers to better understand the training and employment needs of farms that are getting into these new markets."

Through Canada's sector council program, the government is providing $645,457 for CAHRC's communications and outreach project; $371,826 for its identifying on-farm occupations project; and $273,062 for its new markets and future skills in agriculture project. This funding will help CAHRC strengthen Canada's agriculture work force.

Since its creation in 2006, CAHRC has worked with industry leaders, governments, and education stakeholders to develop and implement programs and tools that deal with the most pressing human resource challenges facing the agriculture industry.

Canada's sector council program helps meet the objectives set out in Advantage Canada, the Government of Canada's long-term economic plan.

Stand up and be counted

Home Hardware partners with United Way of SD&G

by Sarah Kelford
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The United Way of SD&G is launching its second annual "stand up and be counted" campaign in partnership with Winchester Home Hardware.

Residents can be counted in by purchasing a "loonie man" at Home Hardware stores throughout SD&G beginning Sept. 20.

Last year's campaign raised close to $500, but according to United Way of SD&G board member and secretary Gary Mabe, "it's not about a money goal, it's about getting the message out about our funded agencies."

"There are two problems in rural areas," explained Mabe. "The office is in Cornwall so people think the money is going to Cornwall. Also, it's in the shadow of Ottawa's campaign, but the branches are autonomous, so donations made to one branch are used in that branch."

Mabe added that many people aren't aware of the 18 agencies funded by the United Way.

"The coverage isn't mainstream," he explained. "The money is spent quietly, but the money is being spent very locally. The campaign is to raise awareness of the agencies."

The campaign runs from Sept. 20 until Oct. 11, and once a loonie man is bought, the customer can write their name and have it displayed in-store.

For more information about the United Way of SD&G and its funded agencies please visit their website www.unitedwaysdg.com.

Scott Armstrong United Way of SD&G 2008 campaign chair

Scott Armstrong

CORNWALL — The United Way of SD&G recently announced that Scott Armstrong will be campaign chair for the 2008 "I Believe" campaign.

Armstrong comes with a myriad of qualifications, and was also last year's campaign chair, helping raise a record $675,000 for United Way's 18 funded agencies.

The staff and board of directors are pleased to have Armstrong on the team for another year.

Armstrong was born and raised in Prince Edward County and has worked in broadcasting for 30 years. He started as a disc jockey, was a morning show host, and has worked on-air as a broadcast journalist. He is also a member of the Radio Television News Director Association.

He has received six radio marketing bureau awards and four Canadian Association of Broadcaster awards for creative excellence.

His community involvement includes creating the Corus Radiothon for the Cornwall Community Hospital, co-chair of the Children's Treatment Centre Auction, vice-president of the Cornwall and Area Chamber of Commerce, and member and professor of the journalism advisory committee with St. Lawrence College.

The United Way of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry's 2008 campaign kickoff will take place on Sept. 17 at 7:30 am at the Best Western in Cornwall. There will be a buffet breakfast. For more information please refer to their advertisement on page 26 of this week's Press.

Notes from Timothy Christian
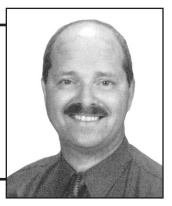
by principal Gary Postma



School begins 46th year of operation

WILLIAMSBURG — Timothy Christian School just began its 46th year of Christian education on Sept. 2 with the theme "Me and God: We're a Team."

Parents who support Timothy Christian School know that God provides for them in many ways — including employment opportunities to cover tuition for this Christian school.

Teachers know that God gives them insight into designing unit and lesson plans and students soon find out they are capable of doing some pretty incredible things when God is directing them.

For the first time in a few years, the number of incoming families is greater than those graduating. We trust that this year marks a turning point in this regard for TCS. We wish to see this school grow.

If you are still considering a Christ-centred education for your child, call 613-535-2687, check our website www.tcswilliamsburg.ca, or e-mail me at principal@tcswilliamsburg.ca.

God bless you and your families!

AgriInvest and AgriStability

AgriInvest accounts are built on government and farmer contributions. It's flexible - farmers can use the money to manage small income declines, reduce their business risk or increase their market income.

To be eligible, all producers, including those who received money under AgriInvest Kickstart, must apply for 2007 AgriInvest. There is no automatic enrollment.

To receive your full government contribution, your tax form must be received by September 30, 2008. Applications will be accepted until December 31, 2008, but a penalty will be applied.

Apply by checking the box on your 2007 farm tax form or contact the call centre at 1-866-367-8506. The call centre will be open for extended hours on Saturday, September 20th and 27th from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. CDT. To learn more, visit www.agr.gc.ca/agriinvest

AgriStability is a margin-based program to support farmers when they have a margin decline of 15% or more.

Participants who are in financial distress can receive half of their estimated 2008 AgriStability benefit by submitting an Interim Payment Application.

Remember to pay your 2008 AgriStability fee before December 31, 2008.

To learn more, or for an application form, call 1-877-838-5144 or visit www.agricorp.com

Hawks a work in progress

On the brink

The Winchester Sox are facing elimination after losing the first two games of their National Capital Baseball League Tier 3 best-of-five championship series. Monday night (Sept. 8) Chris "Edgar" Hart (above left) cracked a solo homer as his team lost game two 3-1 to the Ottawa Raiders. Sox pitcher Justin Comeau (above right) gave up just six hits while his team managed just three safeties. See story on page 19. Press Photos — Van Bridger

WINCHESTER — Rebuilding an Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League team, in most cases, is standard procedure.

It looks as if the 2008-09 edition of the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks is going to be a renovation project for first-year coach and president Darren Stitt and general manager Craig "JB" Smith.

The Hawks opened their exhibition schedule losing 4-0 to the Metro Division's Metcalfe Jets in Osgoode on Saturday (Sept. 6) and received a complete wax job at home on Sunday (Sept. 7) losing 20-2 to another Metro Division squad — the Ottawa Junior Canadians.

Both Stitt and Smith pointed out that Ottawa iced its regular-season line up (one cut left to make) while their squad was made up of six regulars and 15 midget-aged players.

"To be fair most of our kids were on the ice for just the third time. Ottawa's team was pretty well set." offered Stitt. "These games mean nothing and are basically just controlled scrimmages."

Winchester's two goals against Ottawa came in the second period when Chris Embury scored from Bobby Little and Mike Holwell at 8:16 and Alex Hendsbee cashed in a feed from Embury and Cory Giczewski at 4:26.

Ben Collins, Alex Krumins, Oliver Smith, Adam Schofield, Parker Davies, Chris Giczewski and Little were Winchester's veteran skaters. Ryan Hay and Randy Yee were the shell-shocked goaltenders.

Stitt reported the combination he put together for the match against Metcalfe played well considering it was its first experience under game conditions.

"Not a bad game considering Metcalfe had been on the ice for a couple of weeks," said the coach.

Smith said the team is being built slowly and he is still recruiting players.

"Last year we put our team together right away and then had no where to go later on when we needed something extra. I have always said that every year in junior hockey is a new process," offered the GM.

Panthers lose opener 4-1

OTTAWA — In spite of finishing the regular season two games under 500 the Winchester Panthers have qualified for the 2008 National Capital Baseball League's Tier 1 championship series.

Unfortunately for the fifth-place Panthers (10-12-2) they suffered a setback losing 4-1 to the pennant-winning Kanata Selects (18-5-0) in the opening game (Sun., Sept. 7) of the best-of-five final.

Panther starter Justin Morozuk was solid on the mound allowing four runs on five hits, two walks and two errors. He struck seven Selects. His mates managed just six hits. Keith Bray walked and supplied the Panthers lone run in the fifth frame.

Final series

Game two was played last night (Tues., Sept. 9) at the Sportsplex. Game three is set for Kinsmen Park on Fri., Sept. 12. If necessary game four will be played at the Sportsplex on Sun., Sept. 14. Game five will be scheduled for either Mon., Sept. 15 or Tues., Sept. 16.

Winchester launched their post season slate against the fourth-place Capital City Stingrays (10-10-4) and claimed that series in three games winning 7-3 in game one, losing 7-4 in game two before eliminating the Rays 3-1 in the final meeting.

The Panthers then advanced to the semi-final round where they squared off against the Nepean Brewers (16-8-0).

Pitcher Marc Charbonneau was the key to Winchester's semi-final success twisting up a pair of shutout victories. He held the Brewers to three hits in the 4-0 series opener. He walked four and struck out 12 Brewers on his way to the shutout.

A pair of former Winchester Sox Justin Morozuk and Mike McCann worked six and two third innings of game two a suffered a 4-3 loss in which the Brewers cashed in three unearned runs to tie the series at a game each.

Final fling

Charbonneau was back on the hill for Friday's (Sept. 5) third and final meeting. Once again he was unbeatable firing a four hit, 1-0 shutout at the Brewers.

Sonics battle to 1-1 draw, finish third

OTTAWA — A late goal by Dave Coady enabled the Winchester Sonics to salvage a 1-1 draw with the Falcons Rangers on the final day of the 2008 Ottawa Carleton Soccer League season.

It wasn't the result the Mens Rec3 (MR3) squad was looking for but it was a positive one that left them with a third-place 9-2-3 record and a positive goal differential of 29 (44-15).

A victory over the Falcons Rangers and the Sonics would have secured a share of second place and the opportunity of graduating to Mens Rec2 (MR2).

The Gloucester Celtic put together a strong finishing kick, leap-frogged over Winchester and CUSC and finished first with a record of 11-2-0 and 33 points. CUSC (10-2-2) snagged second with 32 points while the Sonics settled into third in the 15-team division with 30 points.

Sonics spokesman Will O'Connor explained that Winchester may still have the opportunity to move up to MR2.

"Because there are just 11 teams the league (OCSL) might take the top three from our division (MR3)," explained O'Connor. "Mike Ennis (Sonics captain) is going to send a request to the league. I guess they aren't too strict on this and we will most likely move up to MR2."

The Winchester Sonics' 2008 Ottawa Carleton Soccer League season ended on Sept. 3 when they battled the Falcons Rangers to a 1-1 draw. Shawn Francis and his Mens Rec3 teammates put together a third-place record of nine wins, two losses and three ties. Press Photo — Van Bridger

Fit to be tied

The number-five ranked Falcons Rangers (8-5-1) took the lead when they cracked a shot in behind Mike "Keeper" Casselman with three minutes left in the half of the match played in Kanata on Sept. 3.

Dave Coady drew the Sonics even when he bounced a shot off the head of a defender and into the mesh. It was Coady's seventh goal of the season and seventh in eight games.

Winchester continued to press but ran out of time because the game started late and was shortened to 35-minute halves.

Jason Catellier and Jon Nadobny had excellent chances to net the winning goal but sent their shots wide.

"The brutal part is that they don't even have a real keeper," said O'Connor. "One of their "D" played the first half and the guy that scored their goal played the second half — a tough game to tie."

Hawks winless in pre-season

Smith also reported that goaltender Michael Hitesman returned to the Hawks camp on Sunday after taking a run at making the Georgetown Junior "A" club but veteran Kyle Neville is still a no-show.

Need assistance

Smith said the club is still looking for a trainer and equipment manager as well as more volunteers at the executive level.

The Winchester Hawks Hockey Club and the Winchester Lions Club have announced that their $100 Dream Vacation Draw tickets are on sale. The club is also offering season tickets.

Three games

The Hawks have exhibition games left on their schedule: tonight (Wed., Sept. 10) they are in Clarence Creek to take on the Beavers; Friday (Sept. 12) the Beavers are in town for an 8 pm contest: and Sunday (Sept. 14) the Metcalfe Jets are in Winchester at 8 pm to play the second and final game of the Joe Rowan Memorial Challenge Cup series.

The regular St. Lawrence Division season opens for the Hawks on Fri., Sept. 19 when they play host to the Char-Lan Rebels at 8:15 pm.

Panthers qualify for championship

He fanned 13 members of the "Brew Crew" to improve his 2008 record to 8-0.

"Charbonneau was awesome again," offered assistant coach Chris "Edgar" Hart. "It was a good exciting game, but hard on the nerves — I think I aged 10 years."

Panther first baseman Tim Gautam singled to start the sixth inning. Nik Paas followed with a sacrifice bunt to move Gautam to second base. Trevor Bowering and Mike Disalvo followed with back-to-back singles to give Winchester its winning run.

Charbonneau was rarely in trouble during the game. He allowed one Select runner to reach third base in the sixth inning before fanning two of the next three men he faced. He gave up back-to-back singles and got into a bit of bind in the seventh, but struck out the next three batters he faced to end the game.

Keith Bray, Kevin Miller, Bowering and Disalvo each had two hits for the Panthers.

All of the young golfers who helped raise $4,700 by taking part in the second annual Kids for Wish Kids Golf Tournament at the Metcalfe Golf and Country Club received recognition at the awards ceremony at the conclusion of the Labour Day (Sept. 1) fundraiser.

Metcalfe kids raise $4,700 for Make-A-Wish Foundation

METCALFE — Originally titled the Metcalfe Golf and Country Club's Parent - Child Tournament the annual fundraiser is now known as the Kids For Wish Kids Golf Tournament.

The second annual Kids for Wish Kids event was presented by Preferred Advantage Realty (P.A.R.) on Labour Day (Sept. 1). This year the 64 participants played nine holes, enjoyed a barbecue supper and raised $4,700.

The Parent - Kids tournament was introduced in 1999 and is now the centre piece event of the Metcalfe Golf and Country Club's Kids Play Free Program that encourages families to play golf together by offering free golf to children 16 and under after 4 pm on Saturdays and Sundays.

The Anderson family took part in the second annual Kids for Wish Kids Golf Tournament at the Metcalfe Golf and Country Club on Labour Day (Sept. 1). The parent - child tournament raised $4,700 for Make-A-Wish Eastern Ontario. Cameron (left), Doug, Rachel and Colin Anderson played nine holes for the cause.

At the awards ceremony Mike Wlotzki, executive director of Make-A-Wish Eastern Ontario, thanked the participants and added, "It is great that all of you came out today and helped make a difference in a sick child's life. The money raised here today will fund a wish for a child."

The Metcalfe Golf and Country Club (MGCC) has been working with Make-A-Wish for the past three years. During that time, through various events and programs, the club has generated over $20,000 for Make-A-Wish Eastern Ontario.

"We are very proud to be a partner and contributor to Make-A-Wish," said MGCC general manager Rob Howell. "With the family atmosphere here at the club, Make-A-Wish is a great charity for us and our customers to support."

Cedar Glen men clean up Valley League silverware

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — It was a harvest of Valley League hardware for the Cedar Glen Golf Club squad on Aug. 23.

The men representing the Boucks Hill course turned in a team low gross score of 1209 and collected the MacLennan Trophy as the 2008 Valley League champions in the tournament played in South Mountain at Sandy Row Golf Course.

The Morrisburg team claimed the Comrie Blakley Trophy for registering a low net score of 905. Summerheights, Iroquois and Sandy Row also competed.

Five Cedar Glen shooters also earned individual awards including 2008 club champion Kurtis Barkley who won the Millard Trophy. Barkley's 74 was the low gross score posted in "A" class.

The Sports Unlimited Trophy went to Darrell Shelp who recorded a low net 80 and topped the "B" class field. The Fun Night Trophy for the low gross in "C" class when to Robert St. Pierre who carded an 88. J.P. St. Pierre shot an 80 and accepted the T. Parker Trophy (low gross - senior). Rob Casselman put together a low net 72 and received the Fader Trophy (low net - president).

Sandy Row's Dave Fagan claimed the Cedar Glen Trophy after recording a low net 66 in "B" class.

Shawn Lapier, representing the Iroquois Golf Club, claimed the Julien Trophy for shooting a low net 69 in "A" class. Clubmate Les Craig earned the Lorne Barkley Memorial Trophy as the low net (68) winner in the "C" bracket.

A pair of Morrisburg golfers, Andy Patenaude and Korey Casselman, also picked up prizes. Patenaude was the Hugh Hutchinson Trophy (low net - club captain) winner as for his round of 75. Casselman recorded a rare hole-in-one.

The 2008 Men's Valley League champions from the Cedar Glen Golf Club showed off the silverware they carried away from the annual competition held at Sandy Row Golf Course on Aug. 23. Guarding the hardware harvest were: Terry Barkley (left), Barry Casselman, Craig Villeneuve, Jason Savage, Kurtis Barkley, Darrell Shelp, Robert St. Pierre and J.P. St. Pierre. Missing: Jeff Whitteker, Vince Cousineau, Greg VanDellen, Denis Villeneuve, David Don, Don McIntosh, Rob Casselman and Peter Romme.

Glen ladies record final official scores

WILLIAMSBURG — Cedar Glen Golf Course has officially ended its weekly Ladies Night for the 2008 season.

A field of 43 golfers turned out for the presentation of awards and a final "official" nine holes on Sept. 4.

Pat McKay won the 2008 Ladies Night chip-in award while Sheila Crowder won the birdies prize. Shari Boys picked up the hole-in-one award for her ace on No. Six on May 16.

Greta McGann won a lawn chair for winning the guess how many tees there were in the piggy. She guessed 44. The answer was 45.

Elaine Whitteker won the 50-50 draw.

Linda Murphy dropped her shot closest to the No. 15 pin while Leanne Munro spun her shot closest to the No. 12 flag.

Barb Phifer's 33 was low net score in "B' class and the lowest net number overall.

Cheryl Lowe shot a low gross 46 in "A" flight. Lynn Shaw carded the low net 39 in the same bracket. Best of "B" class were: Sheila Crowder — low gross 48; Joan Findlay — low net 39; Pat Reaney — second low gross 53. Barb Mabe recorded the low gross score of 51 in "C" class.

Chris Yelle (low gross 59) and Pamela McTeer (low net 41) dominated "D" class.

Seaway Selects win bantam girls championship

NEWMARKET — A year after they received a "schooling" from the gold-medal winners from Brampton, the Seaway Selects were able to conquer the competition provided by a field of 16 of the top teams in Ontario and claim the Bantam Girls Provincial Softball championship trophy.

The Selects qualified for the medal round by claiming top spot in their division posting wins over Sudbury, Brantford and Chatham. A 7-3 victory over Chatham featured a stellar 12-strike-out performance by pitcher Katelyn Sanderson of Newington and solid hitting by both Jessica Whitteker (three for three) and Amy Veltkamp (three for four). The locals outscored the opposition 38-12 on their way to the semi-finals.

Sunday's semi-final matchup pitted the Selects against the defending gold-medal champions from Brampton who gave the Seaway crew a lesson at the 2007 championships.

Best bantams

The Seaway Selects composed a perfect 5-0 record winning the gold medal at the 2008 provincial bantam girls softball championship Tournament in Newmarket (Aug. 23 and 24). The gold-medal winners are: front (left) - Amy Veltkamp, Lacey McCaslin, Carley Lawlor, Michaela Morrow; back (left) - Jeff Allen - ass't coach, Mackenzie Allen, Jessica Whitteker, Kristina Swank, Sarah Casselman, Katelyn Sanderson, Jessica Earl, Kelsey Hall, Teresa Veltkamp - coach.

The game got off to a slow start with the Selects managing just one base runner in the first three innings. Brampton threatened in the first two frames and final posted a run in the third. Seaway broke into a 4-1 lead plating four runs in the fourth frame. Brampton closed the gap to 4-3 scoring twice in the bottom of the sixth — that was as close as they would get to earning a berth in the gold-medal match.

The Selects exploded for five runs in the top of the seventh and cruised into the title match on the strength of a 9-3 decision.

The trio of Kelsey Hall, Jessica Earl and Veltkamp all hit safely in their final at-bats and finished the game a combined eight for nine.

Sanderson mowed down the three Brampton batters she faced in the bottom of the seventh and recorded strikeouts 11 and 12 in the process.

Gold medal game

Seaway and Sebringville faced off in the title match and played cautiously through four innings that featured solid defence and pinpoint pitching.

A single up the middle by Sarah Casselman led off the top of the fifth frame. Carley Lawlor followed by drawing a walk. With one out and runners on first and second, coach Teresa Veltkamp signalled for a steal. Kelsey Hall was at the plate and faked a bunt, drawing the Sebringville corners (first and third) in. The opposition defence made it a close call at third but the Selects' lead runner (Casselman) was safe.

Two batters later Whitteker hit a ground ball to third base and cashed in Casselman with the game's only run.

Sebringville loaded the bases in the bottom of the sixth but couldn't book a run. They threatened again in the seventh but a lead-off single ended up stranded at third when Sanderson fanned the next two hitters to end the game and complete a four-hit, 13-strikeout performance.

Sox need win to prolong series

WINCHESTER — Two games into the 2008 National Capital Baseball League's Tier 3 championship series the Sox are suddenly finding themselves offensively challenged.

During the 24-game regular season Winchester produced 245 runs more than any of the other 31 NCBL teams. Only the Ottawa Raiders, who the Sox are currently playing in the title round, were close plating 237. The Tier 1 winning Kanata Selects produced 130, the Tier 2 Metcalfe Mudd pumped out 156 and the Tier 4 Knights led their division with 149 runs.

But Monday night (Sept. 8) Winchester's batting order produced one run on three hits and left just four men on base. The last nine Sox that went to the plate went down in order. The result was a 3-1 loss to the Raiders and a 2-0 deficit in the best-of-five final.

The Sox were manhandled 18-9 in Sunday's (Sept. 7) opener by the Raiders in a mud bowl in Ottawa.

"The scary thing is that was probably our best-hitting line-up," offered playing manager Chris "Edgar" Hart following the 3-1 loss.

Winchester also wasted a stellar effort by pitcher Justin Comeau who served up three runs on six hits and three walks. He struck out two and had two errors committed behind him.

"Justin pitched well. We didn't give him any support," said Hart.

Winchester's lone run was booked when Hart went yard in the fourth frame. The game was tied 1-1 after four and the Raiders won it scoring a pair of runs in the fifth.

Game one

Game one was played on a muddy field and was best described as a mess by Winchester manager Hart.

"We led 8-0 after our first at-bat and lost 18-9 in four innings — it was a mess," he said.

The pennant-winning Raiders gleaned 18 runs, 10 hits and 12 walks off starter Duane Rolls and reliever Vincent Viau.

Tyler Armstrong (2), Dave Yarwood (2), Matt Ware, Denis Viau, Hart, Sylvain Viau, and Josh Kirkby plated the Winchester runs.

Game three is set for tomorrow (Thurs., Sept. 11) at the Nepean Sportsplex. If necessary game four will be played in Winchester on Sun., Sept. 14 at 7 pm. Game five will be played at the Sportsplex on Mon., Sept. 15.

Cedar Glen Juniors

Summerheights Golf Links hosted the annual Junior Valley League Tournament on Aug. 23 and its junior squad cruised to a 43-stroke victory over teams from Morrisburg and Cedar Glen Golf Clubs. It was the fourth consecutive win for the host club. Cedar Glen's Warren Steele claimed the low net trophy carding a 61. The Cedar Glen Valley League juniors are: Shawn Crook (left), Marc Melenhorst, Liam Morrow, Jeremy Plummer, Brandon Cousineau and Bryden VanKessel. Missing: Warren Steele and Jessica Whitteker.

Barkley's battle for Men's Open title

WILLIAMSBURG — It was a two-man battle for the championship crown at the 2008 Cedar Glen Men's Open.

Rick Barkley and his son Kurtis, the defending Open champ, went head-to-head for this year's title. When the tabulations were completed at the conclusion of the Labour Day tournament it was the elder Barkley holding the "A" flight hardware.

Rick led his son by a stroke after playing the front nine on Sept. 1 as he owned a three-over par 37. They finished the back nine with matching 37s which enabled Rick to post a one-shot, four-over par 74. Kurtis settled in at 75, one off the pace.

A field of 79 played the '08 Open in ideal conditions but only seven, including the Barkleys, managed to break the 80-stroke barrier.

The "A" flight featured a field of 36. The players who made the sub-80 grade included Morrisburg's Korey Casselman (78), Cedar Glen's Wade Roles (79) and Upper Canada reps Tony Cummins and Randy Leclair, who carded 79's.

Williamsburg's Rob Casselman rounded out the list of silver seven shooters. He decimated the "B" class field shooting a 77 — the best round of his career.

The net winner in "A" class was Gary McMillan with a 69. Gary Graham and Randy Mullin followed with 81s. Andy Blaine was next at 82.

Following "B" flight leader Rob Casselman and his low gross 77 were Terry Barkley, Vince Cousineau, Phil Douglas, Cory Walters and J.R. Thompson who finished with 86s. All but Thompson (Upper Canada) are members at the host club. Sam Lock (87), Larry Gaton (88) and Francis Barkley (89) also finished under 90. Walters grabbed the low net award with his 66.

Sandy Row's Bill Berube (90) edged clubmate John Hitsman (91) by a stroke to claim the "C" flight championship. Bob Porteous (93), Mike Berube (94), Jim Casselman (96), Ron Robinson (96), Brian Erwin (98) and Bruce Kerr (99) all broke 100.

Card of Thanks

THANK YOU – Words cannot express our pride and joy in our family for the wonderful 50th Anniversary Party they gave us. Especially Tammy for all her hard work in months of preparation. Job well done Tammy! To our friends, neighbours and relatives for their gifts and cards and for taking the time to come and celebrate with us. To God for such a beautiful day.
– Charles and Jackie Droppo
26

CARD OF THANKS – I would like to thank my family, Dr. Burke and nurses at WDMH for helping me through this time, also the staff at Hillcrest Haven; ParaMed since returning home and all my concerned friends for inquiring about me. Your prayers were with me.
– Vivian Fawcett
26

In Memoriam

BAKER – In fond memory of Jim and Betty Baker, our beloved parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents. Mom passed away on July 14, 1995, and Dad passed away on September 8, 1997.
Nothing can every take away,
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance holds them near.
– Your Family
26

FAWCETT – In loving memory of my husband, Gordon Earl, who passed away September 13, 2001.
Always in my thoughts.
Forever in my heart.

Our Condolences

The Selst/Van Dijk families would like to extend their condolences to the Lubbers family in the passing away of Henk Lubbers. We wish to recognize Henk for the years of companionship with Sophia Selst and as surrogate father and Opa. He provided many wonderful memories for us to cherish. He will be missed.

TOWNSHIP OF SOUTH DUNDAS

CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF SOUTH DUNDAS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING CONCERNING A PROPOSED ZONING BY-LAW AMENDMENT

PART LOT 28, CONCESSION 8
10537 PLEASANT VALLEY ROAD
FORMER TOWNSHIP OF MATILDA

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of South Dundas will hold a public meeting on the 7th day of October, 2008, at 7:10 p.m. at the Township Office, to consider a proposed Zoning By-law amendment under Section 34 of the Planning Act.

This By-Law will change the zoning for the property noted above. This Zoning By-law amendment rezones the subject land from Agriculture (A) to Agriculture Special Exception 10 (A-10) in order to permit a rural home based industry.

This Zoning By-Law amendment is not related to any Consent, Minor Variance, Official Plan amendment or Plan of Subdivision.

ANY PERSON may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed amendment.

If a person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting or make written submissions to the Township of South Dundas before the By-law is passed, the person or public body is not entitled to appeal the decision of the Council of the Township of South Dundas to the Ontario Municipal Board.

If a person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting, or make written submissions to the Township of South Dundas before the By-law is passed, the person or public body may not be added as a party to the hearing of an appeal before the Ontario Municipal Board unless, in the opinion of the Board, there are reasonable grounds to do so.

A copy of the complete By-law is available for inspection at the Township Office during regular office hours.

DATED at the Township of South Dundas this 10th day of September, 2008.

LARGE 2-DAY ESTATE ANTIQUE AUCTION SALE
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11
commencing at 5 pm
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 13
commencing at 9 am
It is with the utmost pride that we have been consigned to sell an extremely large collection of antiques and collectibles for a family from Ingleside who started their extensive collection prior to the Seaway in amongst the Lost Villages.
Due to the volume of this auction it will be sold in 2 parts, both being at our facility, 15093 County Road 18 east of Osnabruck Center. From Highway 401 take Ingleside Exit #770 (Dickinson Drive), travel north approximately 1.5 km to Osnabruck Center, turn east and travel approximately 1/2 km. Watch for signs!
Note: This is a very partial listing of an extremely large auction of exceptional quality. Plan to attend for this will no doubt be the best antique auction we will host this year.

Thank You

We are truly grateful to all family, friends, neighbours and acquaintances for the many acts of kindness shown us during Russ's illness and passing. Thank you for all the hugs and kind words, phone calls, cards, flowers and donations as well as all the food brought to our homes. A special thank you to Daley Family Funeral Home and Rev. George Scharf. Your care and compassion was second to none, and we will be forever grateful for allowing us to do things 'our way'. For those whose addresses are unknown, please accept this as a personal thank you.

The Government of Ontario will be contributing significant financial assistance over the next 4 years to improve High Speed Internet Access (Broadband Connectivity) to rural communities as part of its Rural Connections Program.

The Counties of Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry is hosting public information sessions about this Ontario funding program, and to gather community input.

Your assistance is requested to help identify areas without sufficient access to High Speed Internet services. If you have attempted to acquire service and have been unsuccessful come and indicate your location.

Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry is planning to submit an application for funding from the Program to improve Broadband Access, and a critical component of the government application is to identify areas that do not have access to these services.

Provide your input and learn and discuss with industry experts about technology solutions and how services may be delivered.

If you are unable to attend this session, and are interested in providing input please contact us and tell us your name, civic address, why you do not have access to High Speed Internet Access and how you would use it if you had it.

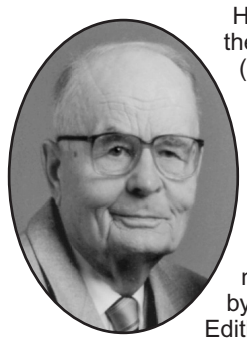
OBITUARY

Harold Dunbar

Harold Edward Dunbar, formerly of Newington, passed away on Sat., Sept. 6, 2008 at Senior Country Living in Lunenburg. He was 97.



He was the beloved husband of the late Mabel Elizabeth Dunbar (nee Zummach). He was the dear brother of Albert Dunbar of Winchester, Nellie McEwan (Sterling) of North Gower, Hazel Holmes (Stanley) of Winchester, and Clare Dunbar (Mildred) of Iroquois. He will be sadly missed by numerous nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his parents Orin John and Sarah Edith Dunbar (nee Brownell), and by one brother Floyd (Ruth) of North Gower.

Visitation was held at the Brownlee Funeral Home in Finch on Mon., Sept. 8 and at Newington Wesleyan Church on Tues., Sept. 9 followed by a service in celebration of his life with Rev. Krista Shaver officiating. Interment followed at North Valley Cemetery.

As expressions of sympathy, memorial donations to the Prairie Bible Institute or the Newington Wesleyan Church would be appreciated by the family.

The Russell Fair celebrates 150 years

She had to stand on her toes to see what she was doing, but two-year-old Sydney Barry (above) was determined to fish for her own prizes.

Press photo feature by Matthew Barbour

Roch Sabourin (below) was the only competitor able to maintain his grip during the Trapeze Bean Bag Toss — the last challenge of this year's Fair Factor contest on Sun., Sept. 7. Contestants had to swing down from a 30-foot high scaffold and drop bean bags from between their knees and teeth onto the target. Sabourin went home with first prize — $1,000 in cash. Contestants were covered with scorpions in a coffin and being submerged upside down in a dunk tank in other challenges.

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Pierre Lemieux couldn't quite coax enough milk out of his cow in the celebrity milking contest.

Michelle MacGillivray, 15, of Oxford Station placed first in Senior Showmanship of the Russell Fair's Junior Sheep Show on Sun., Sept. 7.

Henry Stall showed off his 1938 Minneapolis Moline UDLX in the antique show at this year's Russell Fair. It took five years to restore what was once known as the gentleman's tractor and was 30 years ahead of its time. "The idea was that a farmer could work all day in the field with it, then take his wife to town in the evening. It was equipped with a fully enclosed heated cab, a passenger seat, a radio and even a cigarette lighter — unheard of in those days," he explained. Only 150 of these machines were made.

Six-year-old Katrina Soumis (left) and two-year-old Leah Prosper were flying high on this midway ride.

Gary Hughes of Ingersoll, Ont. removed the bridle from his horse, Patton Startack, for this demonstration. Using only reins on the horse's neck, he identified the calf to be separated from the herd, then allowed the horse to do the rest of the work without instruction.

Participating in the fair's official 150th anniversary "father and son"-themed opening ceremony were: Russell Agricultural Society president Theresa Wever (left) and past presidents Hank Staal (president in 1966, fair board director for 50 years and father of two past presidents, Harold and Henry Staal), Mac Arbuthnot (president in 1965, currently lives in Calgary), George James (president in 1984; his father, Carmen James, was president in 1960), and Jim Sullivan (president from 1967 to 1969, fair board director for 50 years; his father, Asa Sullivan, was president 1954 to 1956). Members of the executive and honourary directors, including MPP Jean-Marc Lalonde, were also present for the ceremony. Photo — Martha Tanner
