Here & There

by Kay Kay

One of the things that makes car trips so interesting is the situations you can sometimes get into, very innocently. It may take time and patience to get out of them but they are good conversation pieces later on, when you tell your friends of the good trip you had.

We had one of these interesting sidelights to a recent trip we had pleasure in taking down through the States into the eastern provinces this summer.

About 100 miles or so south of here we blew a tire. From that little incident has come a good story and a moral. The story comes first.

Well we bought a new tire because the tire that blew wouldn't even have made a good spare. Several days later we passed into New Brunswick after two ferry rides and on arrival at a customs house with one man who was very busy we forgot to declare the tire ...mainly because we had made arrangements to ship the old tire home. The nearest trade-in-place was a 40 mile drive out of our way.

Ordinally you are allowed to make necessary repairs to your car, duty free, we're told, to get you safely back to good old Canada...if you declare your purchase.

Upon arrival home on Saturday night, we telephoned to the nearest customs ...and were told we had made a mistake, more or less. As we explained ...we had just forgotten the thing...no intent to do anybody out of anything. Anyway a letter and a few forms and we had that end of it cleared away. But still our old tire hadn't come.

Three telephone calls to where we had purchased the

PEN PALS MEET FOR FIRST TIME SINCE CONTACT IN 1953

This summer two local girls and their American penfriends met for the first time since beginning to write to each other in 1953.

In July, Miss Gertrude McGinn of Ottawa, and Dixon's Corners, spent her holidays with Miss Bonnie Ryfiak and her family in Southgate, Michigan. In August, Miss Jean McGinn visited Miss Carmen Ryfiak, Bonnie's sister. All four girls are in similar work in their own countries.

The Canadian girls were shown the sights of the Detroit area by their American friends and hope some day soon to return the honour.

"MIND POPPING IN? WE'RE SHORT A FOURTH FOR BRIDGE..."

ARE YOU POSITIVE?

Do you know—for sure—if you have ever been infected with the germs that cause tuberculosis?

A tuberculin test will tell you.

The tuberculin test is a completely safe skin test made by inserting a small quantity of clear fluid between the layers of skin on the forearm.

As simple as that sounds, the test is one of the most revealing known to medical science.

If at any time in your life you were in close contact with a person who had active tuberculosis, you could have inhaled some tuberculosis germs. But your body has defences. In practically all cases, these germs will be encased in a thick-walled nodule in your lung. It is called a "healed tubercle". As long as these germs remain enclosed, you are protected.

But the very presence of these germs causes a "positive" reaction if you are tested with tuberculin. There will be a slight swelling on the arm where the test is given. It shows, with almost complete accuracy, that you have been infected with tuberculosis.

This weekend, the total population of this community of Iroquois and the community of Matilda, as well as the rest of Dundas and Stormont Counties, will have the opportunity of securing this remarkable test. The Ontario Department of Health, in cooperation with your Medical Officer of Health and your County or District Tuberculosis Association will be conducting these clinics.

A few days after you receive your test, it will be interpreted. An X-ray machine will be on hand in case you are "positive". If you are over 40 years of age, you will be advised to have a chest X-ray regardless of the test, because conditions other than tuberculosis may be seen developing in your chest that you and your doctor should know about.

But if you do not react to the test and are under 40, you will be advised to have the tuberculin test again in a year's time.

In this survey, each man, woman and child in this area has the opportunity to find out —POSITIVELY— where he stands against tuberculosis.

Be sure YOU find out where YOU stand.

A Passing Fancy

There is beauty even in a smoked fish. George Firth, a third generation smokemaster, opened the huge steel doors of Booth Fisheries' Winnipeg ovens and there, hanging in soldier like precision from suspended rods were several dozen ruby red Winnipeg Goldeye beauties.

In this job of mine, detailing my meandering in diary fashion, I learn something new every day. I never knew for instance, that these delectable fish are becoming extinct. Booth's cannot begin to meet the demand for smoked Winnipeg Goldeyes. Restaurants, CN diners and hotels, plus the domestic demand, far exceeds the supply.

A scotsman in peaked cap, rubber boots, open throat shirt and jeans, George Firth was as reticent as most of his nationality to discuss his family's secret process for smoking fish. Only when he reminisced about his grandfather, first of the Firths to improve on the Indian's method of preserving their catch, did Robert Firth's descendant unfold and show me vats, brine and oak logs which provide the ingredients for bringing the finished product to prefection. It didn't take guessing however, to realize that George Firth has inherited his grandfather's and his father's instinct for knowing just when his ovenload has reached the degree of "doneness" that has made Booth Fisheries' Goldeyes a gastronomic wonder.

The secret seems to be in the method of soaking the fresh fish in brine overnight. It they packaging appeal sometimes are to be coloured, and today's demands this, they are quickly dipped in a vegetable dye and then when dry, hung over smouldering oaken embers. To me it all seemed elementary. Surely even a child could smoke a fish.

My guess is that this third generation Firth learned from his ancestor and parent what a perfectly smoked fish feels like. George Forth doesn't time his smoking; he tests the degree of smoking with his hand. They have to reach just the right feel, not too moist, nor too cooked.

George Firth says his sons have no desire to become smokers and that the family secret will die with him.

Booth's smoke and ship from 150,000 to 200,000 pounds of fish every year. To meet the demand for Winnipeg Goldeyes they are importing the species from Alberta.

Summer Who Needs It

Waning summer is a sad time, in a way. The halcyon days are nearing an end. The sun has lost its burning, baking strength. The nights come sooner, and cooler.

Young lovers who have had a summer affair part with a last embrace, desperate promises to write, and a great heart-wrenching, a feeling that something is going to be lost, irrerievable. And they're right.

There is a slightly forlorn, lonely air about the beaches and the resorts and the summer places. They have acquired a certain air of shabbiness that goes with the end of summer.

Canadians fall asleep every year, in June. Lulled by the whispered, scented promises of that lush and lovely month, they dream af dazzzling beaches, pine-scented woods, fun and sun, health and happiness.

And then the dream turns into the reality. The sizzling irritation of the July heat wave, when they have decided for a change, to take their holidays in August this year. And the cold, wet blanket of August this year, which turns camping trips into shivering family feuds, cottages into miniature mental institutions, and resort owners into wild-eyed neurotics.

But don't let this end-of-summer sadness bother you. It's phoney. Canadians are not really sad as summer ends. At least, they're no more sad than I am, when I dream I'm flying to Hongkong with Elizabeth Taylor, and I've just drifted off with her head on my shoulder, and she shakes me gently and leers into my eyes and says "I think I WILL have a double brandy", and suddenly I wake up and Old Battleaxeis shaking my shoulder, the one with the bursitis in it, and mumbling, "Gemme a drinka wodder."

Summer in this country is an absolute fantasy, something in which no sensible Canadian would put any more faith than he would in his Irish Sweepstake ticket, or his old aunt Ethel who has changed her will six times.

Summer in this country is a fraud, an illusion. Every time I lie out in the backyard, on the green grass, with the green trees enclosing a circle of blue sky above me, I shake myself and pinch myself, until I know it's a dream, and that if I tried the same thing four months later, I'd be buried under three feet of snow.

That's why I feel no real sadness as summer draws to a close. The Canadian summer is about as real as Gilbert and Sullivan.

In fact, I am elated at the thought that another two months of muddling around with visiting relatives, irratianal golf balls, reluctant fish and lippy kids is at an end.

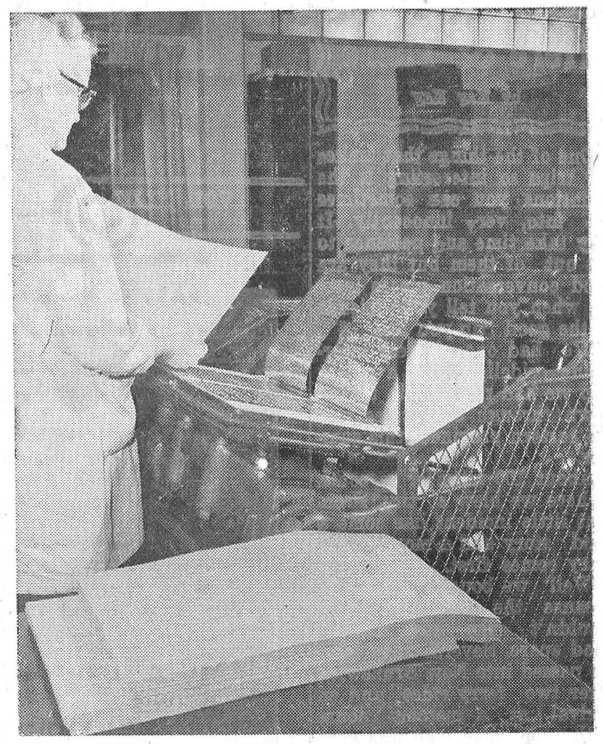
As any true, red-blooded Canadian knows, fall is the time when we begin to live again. We love it. We come alive. We stop dreaming.

We look at our kids with clear... eyes, after... the opuim-dream... of summer,... and... find they've grown four inches. We look at our stomachs, after two months... of barbecued chicken, french fries and dairy queens, and find they've grown two inches.

We look with loving eyes at our schools and realize with some joy that it's only a few days until we can take advantage of our position as taxpayers, and get rid of the kids for the best part of each week.

We look at our country and see it with new eyes. It's beautiful. Not a tourist in sight.

We look at our soft, soppy, silly, summer sleves, and realize that this is not what life is all about. And we give a dim silent Canadian cheer for the fact that it's all over once again, and we can get back to the serious things of life. Like having a baby. Or running for the school board.



"$5,000.00 is needed for service to the blind and prevention of blindness work in Dundas County for the coming year" said Mrs. J. Bower Potter, Chairman of the Dundas County Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute for the blind.

32 legally blind persons in Dundas County are known to the C.N.I.B. and are eligible for its services. Most of these are of a highly specialized nature, such as free instruction in their homes in braille reading and writing, typewriting and handicrafts. Six blind people in the County were given this type of service last year. Braille books and books recorded on tape and disc are loaned to blind people free of charge. The Advisory Board pays $37.50 per year per borrower though the initial cost of a tape talking book machine and 3 cassettes is $150.00 per borrower. Seven people are currently using Library Service. Other opportunities to the blind are available such as special courses in navigation (travelling with a cane), attendance at the Lake Joseph Adjustment training and holiday centre, accommodation is special residences for the blind, etc.

The C.N.I.B. also provides preventive eye care to people who cannot afford it where there is severe refractive error or pathology. Children with crossed eyes who are seven years of age and under are of particular concern to the C.N.I.B.

With the generous assistance of volunteer workers, particularly from the Women's Institutes, the Dundas County Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind will launch its campaign for funds on September 15th.

The board sincerely hopes for generous public suport.

The BIBLE Today

Mr. Herbert Kassler, newly appointed Bible Society secretary for Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland, reports that 22 colporteures serve rural areas not likely to be reached by the usual channels of distribution.

In these areas it has been estimated that more than 400,000 families live off the soil. One tenth of these earn a responable income from their crops. Another one-tenth are getting a little more than they need to stay alive. The vast remainder are considered to be living at subsistance level or on the breadline.

Mr. Kassler continues, "it is under such conditions that the rural colporteurs work; going out by bicycle with a metal case of Scriptures; sometimes travelling up to 50 miles to sell only a few Gospels. In many areas there are no complete Bibles in the language commonly spoken." These 22 men worked an average of 7 and one half months during the year and distributed a total of 8,041 Bibles, Testaments and Portions.

All of these colporteurs were appointed and worked under the supervision of a local church of the area, and in cooperation with the Bible Society office.

Lands and Forests

Weeky Report

White Cedar Turns Yellow

Our common white cedar (Thuja accidentalis) forms such a major part of the forest stands, hedges and windbreaks of Eastetrn Ontario than any change in the appearance of this species is bound to cause concern. For the past two years the Arborvtae leaf miners severely attacked the species and the May and June mining of leaves resulted in extensive late summer browning of foliage.

This year ,nature with her own controls took care of the situation and damage has been light. It is unlikely that there will be a further increase in the numbers of this insect in the near future. Only rarely did mortality occur and this usually took place where trees were weak.

Now cedar once again presents an unusual appearance but the added colour is a yelreddish brown of mined out lowish brown and unlike the foliage. The new colour is the result of a heavy cone crop. Cedar normally bears heavily once every five years and a light crop at other times. This is the year of plenty and the trees are loaded with cones. As they ripen, the colour will darken and become less conspicuous and green will once again predominate and this important local species will take on a normal appearance.

tire and we finally got it on its way home. Then a card comes telling us the tire is in bond in Cornwall.

Now, being uninitiated in the ways of customs and so on, we figured naturally that we must go to the customs house over the International bridge to get that tire out of hock.

If you remember that bridge, you will also remember that you come to the toll building first. A few hundred yards further on is the customs house. But to get to it, if you are more willing than us, you pay $1.00 and another dollar to get back. Just to visit the customs house to ask for something that belongs to us in the first place.

Anyway, we couldn't see paying another $20. on top of what it cost to send the old tire back, plus the three phone calls plus the trip to Cornwall...not to mention the time we'd spent.

But...the two fellows in the toll building, after looking at the card we had received telling about the tire in bond, but not telling us where to go to get it, suggested we had better telephone downtown to a customs and excise office which does exist in the fair city of Cornwall in the post office building.

So we make a trip down there. Still we don't get the tire. No sir, not on your cotton picken' life. You sign another form and are told to take it to the express office. They in turn release the thing and you can go back to the customs and excise office and get your old tire...valued at $10.00 on the forms and by this time owing you more money than it could possibly be worth if you got another 50,000 miles out of it.

There's a moral to this story somewhere...but for the life of us, when the dander is up it's hard to see straight or to find the moral.

Nevertheless, we must admit that whoever planned that toll gate and the customs building so that you had to pay two bucks to get into our own Canadian customs building should have to make the trip once a day for a year (we're mean) because all that planning must have been purely accidental! Nobody, but nobody is that good!

The other thing is..if you buy a tire in the States, for gosh sakes declare it or come home on the rim.

Every adult and child in Iroquois and Matilda Township will be given the opportunity to have a check-up for TB this Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. On Wednesday, September 9th at Brinston, between 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. at the Memorial Hall, a team from the St. Lawrence TB Association will give the Heaf Test. At Iroquois on Thursday and Friday, in the Civic Centre, from 2 to 5 p.m. on Thursday only from 7 to 10 p.m. the group will go through the same procedure.

Reading of this test will take place Monday, September 14th for those attending the Brinston Clinic and on September 15 and 16 for those at Iroquois. The same hours as above will be observed.

It is being urged that all who take the test should appear on the reading dates to have the test read.

lays the drying but never the quality of the finished product. That is, if you know what you are doing, as George Firth obviously does.

Improved On Indian Method

Robert Firth, his grandfather was a butcher in Scotland, who upon immigration to this country, set up his fires on the shores of the Assiniboine River and long before Winnipeg grew to a populated metropolis watched Indians curing their Winter's supply of fish dinners. He kept experimenting until he found a way, not only to preserve the fish, but to cook the flesh of a Goldeye. Indian smoked fish were dry and tough; Firth's moist, tasty and tender. The Firth secret handed down from one generation to another is equally successful in smoking salmon, tullibees, eels, whitefish and sturgeon.

Standard size of a smoked Goldeye is about half a pound. Though typically Manitoba fish, they are now found in St. Clair Lake in Alberta and smaller lakes north of The Pas. Previously they were netted in great quantity in Lake Winnipeg and Lake Winnipegosis. Why are they so scarce now? George Firth says oils and chemicals introduced into the lake waters are the real cause though the Goldeye is prey for more aggressive finny species.

Never look a Goldeye in the eye if you want to be sure you are being served the genuine article and not its prolific imitator, a tullibee. Look it in the mouth, if it hasn't any teeth it's an imposter.

GOLF News

Marge Johnstone (Finals) — Ruth (Mack) Fetterly defeated Shirley Fisher.

Ladies' Handicap Division (semi-finals) — Mary McAdam won over Ruth (Jack) Fetterly; Edith Norton defeated Valerie Coons. (Finals) Mary McAdam defeated Edith Norton.

Thus in all divisions, competition produced brand new champions, except the Ladies' Handicap Division where Mary McAdam has won this trophy for the second consecutive year.

It is interesting to note that a Junior, Randy Thompson, won the Men's Handicap Trophy. His medal score in the semi-finals was no less than 41-43 (84) which indicates even keener competition for future years.

Someone has said that every hour you can spend in constructive practice will eventually be reflected in lower scores. It is logical to assume that the once-a-week player cannot expect to be among the winners. That real competition brings out a player's true ability was proven by the fact that many of the competitors, particularly in the men's division, played the best golf in their experience. This rapid improvement points to better and better golf in coming years.

Space does not permit us to make other observations at this time but we do point out that it would be appropos to play oftener and use this splendid course if for no other reason than to show our endorsation of the craftsmanship so obviously employed in producing such fine greens.

The playing season isn't over yet by any means and we can look forward to weeks of fine playing weather. Yet to be played are the Junior boys and girls championships, and don't forget the Tombstone Competition for men and ladies on Sunday, September 30th.

This club takes the opportunity to congratulate the champions and all the good sports who participated to make the events so interesting and eventful.

IHS NEWS

by Dennis Ault

The 1964-65 academic year began on Tuesday, September 8th with an assembly in the school auditorium. Mr. Bray introduced the teachers and assigned each class a home room. At this time your reporter would like to welcome all the teachers, especially the new ones, Miss S. Leroy, Mrs. A. Fowler, Mr. P. McVittie, Mr. D. Livingstone and Mr. R. Lalonde.

At the beginning of a school year some may ask why does our society place stress on education? The answer lies partly in the complexity of society itself. In our ancestors day a man had but to cut wood to provide heat for his family and to till the soil to provide food for them. Today a man must be educated to understand the central heating device that heats his home or to read the chemical analysis of his soil.

Another answer to the question of the way of education lies in the realm of economics. As society changes the need for educated skilled individuals increase and the need for uneducated individuals decreases. But man is not meant merely to spend his days in labour alone but to develop intellectually and morally as well as physically. The school provides this development.

A coming event of interest to all students is the A.Y.P.A. dance on September the eleventh. (this Friday).

Floral Setting For Late Summer Wedding

Baskets of white gladioli and shasta chrysanthemums formed a pretty setting in Iroquois United Church, Saturday, August 22nd, for the marriage of Miss Barbara Ann Bouck and Mr. Robert George Good. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bouck, of Iroquois, and the late Mr. Charles R. Bouck. The groom's parents are Mr. William C. Good, of Brantford, and the late Mrs. Good. Rev. L. Dean officiated at the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Thayer Bouck, of Welland, Ont.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of silk sheer over taffeta, fashioned on an Empire line. The waist line was accented with appliques of lace and seed pearls. The front of the straight skirt was enhanced with matching appliques, as were the over panels, which hung freely from the waist line at the sides and back. A small crown of seed pearls and aurora borealis held her finger tip veil in place. She carried a cascade of yellow and white roses with chrysanthemums.

Miss Wendy Bouck attended her sister as maid of honour. The bridesmaids were Miss Georgina Agnew, of Brantford, and Miss Mary Good, of Kingston, a niece of the groom. The three attendants wore matching dresses of white silk organja over taffeta with a yellow velvet ribbon accenting the lace in at the waist. Their headpieces were of white veil attached to a floral cluster of seed pearls. They carried bouquets of yellow and white shasta chrysanthemums. Little Miss Susan Bell, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl.

Mr. Thomas Good, Toronto, nephew of the groom, acted as best man. Mr Robert Latzer, of St. Louis Missouri; Rev. Harry Kuntz, of Bantford; Mr. Derek Blackburn, of Stratford, and Mr. Peter Homemuck, of Ridgeville, Ont. ushered. During the ceremony Mr. John Clarke, of Toronto, sang "The Lord's Prayer", and "A wedding Hymn". Miss Margaret Kaine, of Iroquois, was the organist.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Bouck assisted by the groom's sister, Mrs. Thomas Latzer, received the guests at a reception held at the Golf Club. Mrs. Bouck chose a sheath dress with matching jacket and taffeta. Her accessories were hat of pale green brocaded biege, and wore a corsage of bronje roses. Mrs. Latzer's dress was flowered blue and green taffeta, accented by white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Good left on a wedding trip to the West Coast, with the bride wearing a three-pieced ensemble of light biege with brown accessories and a corsage of bronze roses. On their return they will reside at Brantford, Ontario.

Spencerville Couple Honoured On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dobbie of Spencerville were honoured on Sunday evening, August 30, 1964, on the occasion of their 35th, wedding anniversary. Their many friends of Ventnor, Spencerville, and district gathered for the surprise party at the home of their son, Bert Dobbie, Ventnor.

Everyone enjoyed a delightful evening. Mrs. Freda Mellan, Mountain, read a published account of the, couples wedding, of August 28, 1929, which took place at Butternut Bay. The marriage was officiated by Rev. Knowles. Carol Darling read some humourous poetry about the couple's life.

A special message to all parents of boys and girls now in high school

You can guarantee your youngster's College Education in partnership with "MY BANK" TO 3 MILLION CANADIANS B of M

BANK OF MONTREAL

UNIVERSITY EDUCATION PROGRAMME

A comprehensive, life-insured plan for financing a college education for boys and girls now in high school

If you are like most parents with children in high school, you are probably wondering how you are going to meet the costs of financing your youngster's college education. To help parents solve this problem, the Bank of Montreal has introduced its University Education Programme—the first life-insured plan of its kind in Canada.

Under this comprehensive programme, parents, guardians and sponsors of high-school students can spread the cost of a university education over periods of up to nine years, thus keeping monthly payments to amounts they can afford without hardship. And the cost to the parent is only a fraction of the interest paid on a straight loan programme.

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS

Under the basic plan, the parent agrees to make monthly payments to the Bank starting, say, two years before the student enters university, and terminating one year after graduation. In return, the parent receives an annual sum from the Bank at the start of each of the four university years.

VARIANTS OF THE PLAN

Several optional plans are available under the programme, and these vary as to the number of years in which the parent wishes to make monthly payments, as well as to the amount required annually for university expenses. Plans are based on objectives ranging from $1,000 to $8,000 payable to the parent in four annual instalments.

Here is an example of how one of the basic plans can be varied to suit your needs:

OBJECTIVE: $4,000
To be paid to the parent in four annual amounts of $1,000 each

OPTIONS	YOU PAY MONTHLY	PERIODS OF PAYMENT	YOUR PAYMENTS BEGIN
Plan A	$49.55	7 years	2 years before university
Plan B	42.78	8 years	3 years before university
Plan C	37.56	9 years	4 years before university

LIFE-INSURANCE FEATURE

If the parent concerned should die after the start of the programme, the funds for education specified in the agreement will be advanced by the Bank each year without any further payments being made by the family or the estate.

HOW TO JOIN THE PROGRAMME

See the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will receive a warm welcome from a staff who will be pleased to give you further details and to help you select a plan suited to your needs. Ask for your copy of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme folder.

P.S. If you need help in financing a student already in University — or planning to register this year—talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances.

Pioneer Agricultural Fair To Be Commemorated

On Wednesday, September 9, 1964, commencing at 1:00 p.m., an historical plaque commemorating the Williamstown Fair, this province's oldest continually operated agricultural fair, will be unveiled at the entrance to the fair grounds. This plaque is one of a series being erected throughout the province by the Department of Tourism and Information, acting on the advice of the Archaeological and Historic Sites Board of Ontario.

Wednesday's ceremony is being arranged and sponsored by the St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society, and Mr. Archibald MacDonell, Reeve of Charlottenburgh Township will act as programme chairman. Among those expected to take part in the ceremony are; Mr. Sam McLeod, President of the St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society; Dr. G.F.G. Stanley, representing the province's Historic Sites Board; Mr. John McLennan, a Past President of the Society; and Mr. Osie F. Villeneuve, M.P.P. (Kingston), and former National Hockey League star.

The agricultural organizations of Early Upper Canada were not indigenous but were imitations of those of great Britain of the United States. One of them, the agricultural society, is of recent origin. Another, the market fair, had its roots in the medival world.

The periodical market fairs, of which Stourbridge Fair at Cambridge and St. Bartholomew near London, were the best English examples, were ancient institutions. There were similar fairs, usually on a semi-annual basis, in most of the seaboard colonies and they provided an opportunity for farmers to buy or trade livestock, implements, and "domestic manufactures", to engage in horse-racing, and other forms of amusement.

In May, 1765 the Hants County Agricultural Fair was founded in Windsor, Nova Scotia and the following year was granted a Royal Charter. It is believed that this was Canada's first agricultural fair.

The first organization in this province devoted to the improvement of agriculture was founded by 1792 in Niagara and was known as the Agricultural Society of Upper Canada (later the Niagara Agricultural Society). Lieutenant-Governor John Graves Simcoe was a patron of the society and subscribed ten guineas annually toward its support. This society at Niagara held periodical fairs and flourished for some time, but in later years it became rather neglected by its members and finally was abandoned.

However, the Williamstown Fair in Glengarry County is this province's oldest continually operated agricultural fair. On March 29, 1808 it received a petition from Francis Core, Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada which read: "Whereas it has been represented to us by a certain petition from divers of the Justices of the Peace in and for the Eastern District that it would be highly advantageous to the interests, welfare convenience, and prosperous advancement of the county of Glengarry, in the District of aforesaid, to establish a Public Fair, to be held therein in some convenient place in the said County: Now Know Ye that in furtherance of so desirable an object, we have thought fit by our letters Patent, bearing even date with these presents, to give and grant to Neil McLean, Esquire, being our Sheriff in and for the Eastern District, and his successors respectively, Sheriffs of the same. All and singular, the right, privilege, advantage, and franchise, of keeping and holding a public Fair (as stewards of the same respectively) at and within the Township of Williamstown in the county and District aforesaid at two different times each year.

It is posible that, at first, the local farmers simply gathered on the village common or in the streets of Williamstown. However, on June 25, 1814, Sir John Johnson, United Empire Loyalist and founder of Williamstown, granted twelve acres for, the express purpose of holding a fair and it has been held there annually ever since.

Originally the fair was held not only to exhibit fine cattle and farm products, but also as a place of trade. Sometimes special attractions were added to the annual exhibition to draw greater crowds and provide variety in entertainment. One of the most interesting features was a road race held in 1907 from Lancaster to the fair grounds. One of the greatest marathon runners of all time, Tom Longboat, an Onondaga from the Grand River Reserve of the Six Nations Iroquois took part and was victorious. The following year Longboat requested Canada in the Olympic Games.

The fair, now managed by the St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society, is a highly competitive agricultural exhibition which through the years has contributed to raising the standards of agriculture by providing a centre for the display of superior farm products and livestock.

FAME Expands

FARMERS' ALLIED MEAT CO-OPERATIVE LIMITED purchased, last week, all of the shares of F. W. Fearman Co. Ltd. (meat processors) of Burlington, Ontario.

This announcement was made by the President, C.W. McIuuis, at a meeting of the Country FAME Committee Chairman held August 29th, 1964, at the Head Office in Toronto, Ontario.

FAME took possession Monday August 31st, at 11.00 a.m. and began operations of the plant as a totally owned subsidiary of the FAME CO-OPERATIVE without interruption in production.

The Fearman Trade Mark will be used on the line of products previously processed in the newly acquired plant with new items introduced under the FAME label.

The plant is closely similar in capacity to the original plan for the central plant that was proposed for the Ayr site.

It is equipped to do complete processing of all meats and by-products with ample space available for the processing of product from three slaughtering plants.

The President emphasized that this move does not mean any change in the FAME program.

"Additional slaughtering and processing plants will be built just as quickly as possible so that an ever increasing number of livestock producers can enjoy the servics of their own processing and slaughtering facilities", the President concluded.

The Red Cross Thanks You

YOUR RED CROSS IS ALWAYS ON THE JOB

At its annual meeting the Canadian Red Cross Society expressed resolutions of thanks to all those Canadians who helped make the year 1963 a notable one in its history.

"To every Canadian who has during the year donated blood or contributed money through Red Cross."

"To every Canadian who has during the year given voluntary service, particularly those who have accepted regular assignments for the Women's Work Committee, Veteran's Services, Blood Tranfusion Clinics or other Red Cross programmes and services.

TIPS ON BROOD SOW CARE

The ration you feed your brood sow during gestation will help decide the size, strength and condition of the litter she'll farrow. Don't try to cheat your brood sow, it can't be done.

In fact, in an effort to maintain her own body, a sow will resorb some of the tiny embryos. In this way you might be losing pigs you never even see because your sow's nutritional requirements are not met. If you don't feed her properly through the gestation period you'll get smaller litters.

Watch your sow's weight and condition carefully. The average sow should gain from 100 to 115 pounds during gestation. Provide plenty of water.

We recommend hand feeding each sow 4 to 6 lbs. per day of Purina Sow Chow Concentrate and grain, mixed 1 to 4, or of Purina Sow Chow Complete. In addition your sow will make good use of high quality, leafy hay if you have it available. Tests at Purina's Research Farm have shown that feeding is even more important than breeding if you want to farrow those big, healthy litters. Give me a call, or drop in. I'd like to tell you about Purina's Hog Feeding Program for baby pigs too!

LOANS FOR STUDENTS

Guaranteed by the Government of Canada

Purpose: The purpose of the Canada Student Loans Act is to facilitate bank loans for students who need financial help to continue full-time studies beyond secondary school level at Universities and other educational institutions.

Who can apply: Any Canadian citizen, or anyone resident in Canada for one year who intends to live in Canada after completion of studies, may apply for a loan under the Act. An applicant must be enrolled or intend to enroll as a full-time student at an educational institution approved by provincial authorities, and must meet the standards of academic qualification and financial need established by the student loan authority in the Province in which he applies.

Amount of loans: Depending upon individual circumstances and financial need, loans up to $1,000 a year may be made, with a maximum of $5,000 during a student's academic career. The Provincial Authority receiving applications and determining eligibility will issue a certificate to each eligible student stating the maximum amount the student may borrow. This Certificate of Eligibility is required before a student can arrange a Government Guaranteed Student Loan with the bank of his choice.

Repayment:

Interest-Free and Delayed Repayment Period

To assist students, the interest on loans during the period a student continues full-time studies, and for six months thereafter, will be paid by the Government of Canada. During this same period no repayment of principal is required, nor will any service charge or fee be payable by the student.

Method of Repayment

Borrowers will begin to pay interest and to repay loans six months after they cease to be full-time students. The current interest rate to students is 5¾% per annum. Normally the repayment period will be five to ten years. Borrowers have the right to repay loans in part or in full at any time without penalty.

Life Insured

In the event of the death of a borrower responsibility for repayment of the loans will be assumed by the Government of Canada.

Where to apply: A list of approved educational institutions in Ontario is contained in a brochure now available at banks, universities and other educational institutions. Ontario residents planning to attend one of these institutions should apply directly to that institution for a Certificate of Eligibility.

Ontario residents planning to study in other provinces or countries should direct enquiries to: Department of University Affairs, Suite 600, 344 Bloor Street West, Toronto.

The above notes are based upon the Canada Student Loans Act 1964 and are for reference only. All applications and loans are subject to the full terms and conditions of the Act.

STRADER HILL NEWS NOTES

Mourn Death Mrs. Seeley

Mrs. Mackenzie Seeley, an area native and a resident of Morrisburg for the past eighteen years, died at Oxford Private Hospital, Kemptville, Saturday, August 30, following a lengthy illness. Four months ago, she moved to Oxford Mills to be with her daughter, Mrs. Basil Glover. She was in her 88th, year.

The former Ella E. Beckstead was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beckstead of Glen Becker, north of Morrisburg. In 1900 she married Mackenzie Seeley, a Matilda Township farmer who predeceased her 21 years ago. Following the death of her husband, she remained on the farm until 1946, when she moved to Morrisburg to reside with her brother, Mr. Allen Beckstead and Mrs. Beckstead.

Mrs. Seeley was a kindly and a friendly person. She had a keen intellect and was famed throughout the village for the beautiful braided rugs she made. She was a member of Lakeshore Drive United Church and was especially associated with the S.S.S. women's group. The wealth of floral tributes and messages of sympathy testified to the esteem in which she was held.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Basil Glover (Lena) at Oxford Mills, and two brothers, Allen Beckstead and John C. Beckstead, both at Morrisburg, and several nieces and nephews
