CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Holiday films to lift your spirits

Many families have their own unique holiday traditions, but some traditions transcend familial lines to become an integral part of many people's holiday celebrations. One of the more popular traditions during this festive time of year is to watch a favourite holiday film with family and friends. With that in mind, the following are some of the most beloved holiday movies ever to make it onto the big screen.

It's a Wonderful Life

Perhaps no holiday film is more beloved than this 1946 Frank Capra-directed classic. Screen legend Jimmy Stewart plays a desperate businessman contemplating suicide during the holiday season. But a guardian angel helps him realize all the good fortune in his life by showing him what life might have been like if he had never existed.

White Christmas

This 1954 song-and-dance film stars Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye as a pair of longtime friends and ex-military men who fall in love with a sister act team that includes famous singer (and aunt to George Clooney) Rosemary Clooney. Crosby and Kaye join forces to save the failing Vermont inn of their beloved former commander.

Miracle on 34th Street

Natalie Wood stars in this 1947 classic that follows the trial of Kris Kringle, who claims to be Santa Claus and must prove otherwise to avoid being institutionalized. Nominated for best picture at the 1948 Academy Awards, Miracle on 34th Street won three of the prestigious statuettes, including one for best supporting actor for Edmund Gwenn, who played the jolly old man in the red suit.

Bad Santa

Though not quite as heartwarming as many holiday films, this 2003 black comedy stars Billy Bob Thornton as miserable, alcoholic con man "Willie," who poses as a mall Santa Claus so he can rob a department store safe on Christmas Eve. But in spite of its rather raunchy take on the holiday season, the film is ultimately a story of redemption as Willie befriends a bullied youngster and begins to turn his life around.

A Christmas Carol

Those looking for a more traditional take on holiday films need look no further than this 1951 adaptation of the Charles Dickens novella, which tells the tale of bitter miser Ebenezer Scrooge as he is haunted by three ghosts on Christmas Eve.

Have a Ball... It's Christmas!

As we celebrate another holiday season, we thank you for giving us so much to celebrate this past year.

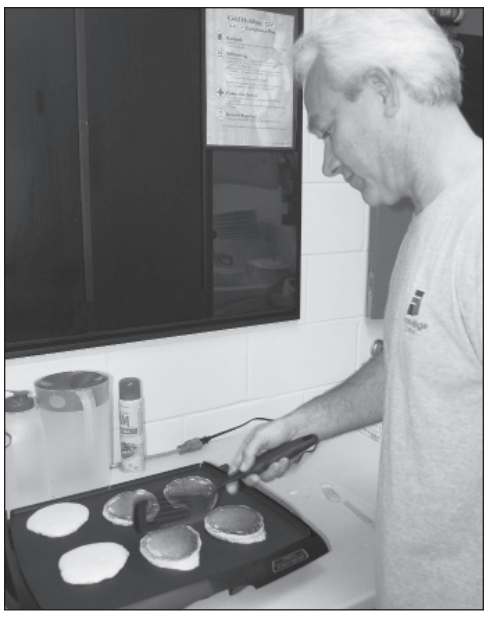
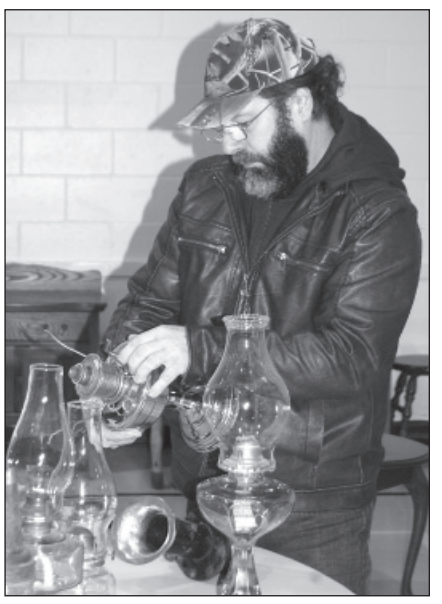
Pancakes and shopping

The Maple Ridge Centre was filled with activity Sat., Dec. 6. In addition to a Christmas bazaar and pancake breakfast, the facility also hosted a live auction featuring new and antique items. The former middle school is home to the Potvin family, who host regular and special events in the facility. The next event, A Maple Ridge Christmas Celebration, is set for Sun., Dec. 21 and is to feature an indoor living nativity scene, horse-drawn wagon rides, Santa Claus, arts and crafts, baked goods, and more.





Anita and Darcy Dunn (above, left) contemplated the age of an antique-looking toy plane, while Jean Lupien inspected one of many oil lamps available during the live auction.

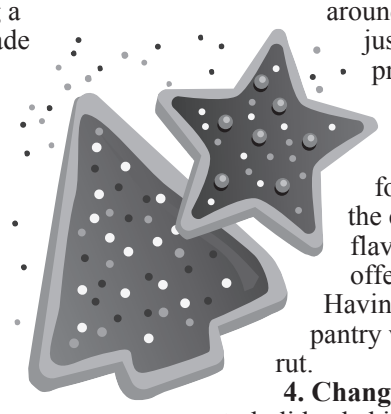
CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Five fun ways to create holiday memories together in the kitchen

In most houses, fresh-from-the-oven cookies don't last long – especially around the holidays. What does last however, are the memories shared with loved ones baking in a warm kitchen and the satisfaction of enjoying a delicious treat (or two!) made from scratch.



Anna Olson, celebrity chef and host of Food Network Canada's Bake with Anna Olson, knows just how great spending time in the kitchen can be at this time of year.

"Holiday baking always stirs up memories for me of spending time with my loved ones," says Olson. "Laughing over spilt ingredients, sneaking a bit of chocolate here and there, watching cookies rise and smelling the sweet aroma of sugar, butter and vanilla."

To make your own memories this season, why not try a few of Anna's favourite baking tips for the most festive time of the year:

1. Start with the basics. Olson suggests stocking your kitchen with essential ingredients. Keeping the basics like flour, sugar, eggs, butter, nuts, dried fruit and chocolate chips on hand means you are ready to start baking at any time.

2. Make it fun. Play your favourite music or holiday tunes to really get you in a festive spirit. Singing and dancing around the kitchen can be just as fun as the baking process.

3. Get inspired. Instead of adding just regular chocolate chips, for example, brighten up the cookies with different flavours, like the variety offered by Hershey's Chipits. Having fun ingredients in your pantry will help avoid a baking rut.

4. Change it up. When it comes to holiday baking we often think of the classics, like decorated sugar and gingerbread cookies, but know that you can branch out and try something modern like cake pops, or whoopie pies with a holiday twist.

5. Or keep it simple. Never underestimate the power of a chocolate chip cookie. Wonderful memories can be made even over the simplest recipe.

Additional information and baking inspiration can be found online at www.hersheyskitchens.ca. – News Canada

How to make Christmas truly magical for kids

We've all felt the pressure to attend every holiday movie, try every sweet goodie, and pile up all of our presents under the tree.

Yet many parents find that it's not the gifts their kids remember. Children most enjoy the traditions, the time spent together and the moments of connection with family, friends, and even complete strangers.

Here are five ideas for memorable, magical holidays:

1. Start a holiday tradition: Try sledding on Christmas Eve, making the cookies your grandmother made, or watching a holiday classic every weekend in December.

2. Open your heart: Give a donation to the local food bank, snowsuit fund, angel tree, or get your kids to send a gift to a family in a developing country. This can be done by visiting World Vision's website.

3. Take in music: Whether it's Christmas music on the radio, or Christmas carols at a nearby church, the sounds of the season have a wonderful way of lifting spirits.

4. Set up mailboxes: Tape large envelopes to bedroom doors and drop in notes of fun and encouragement. Invite kids to cookie baking in the kitchen that afternoon, or count down the days until Christmas.

5. Let the lights shine: Brighten those dark December nights with candles at dinner time. Or let them sleep by the Christmas tree one night, with the lights twinkling.

The second annual North Dundas All-Stars Benefit Christmas Show took place Fri., Dec. 5 at Winchester's Old Town Hall, with various local musicians taking the stage to perform holiday favourites and other numbers. Township Mayor Eric Duncan served as the evening's emcee, while funds were being raised for the Dundas Youth Centre.

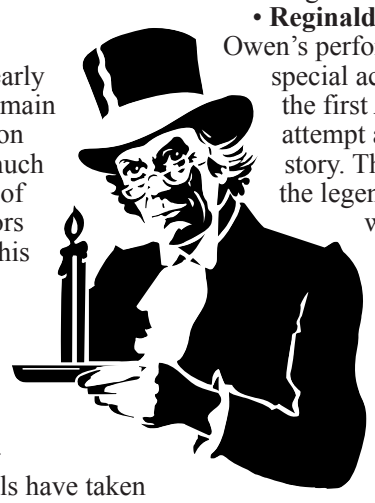
Ebenezer Scrooge

The role of a lifetime for many actors

First published on December 19, 1843, Charles Dickens' novella A Christmas Carol tells the story of Ebenezer Scrooge, a bitter miser whose Christmas Eve encounters with the ghosts of Christmases past, present, and yet to come spark a transformation from a penny-pinching near-recluse into a benevolent do-gooder.

The tale of Ebenezer Scrooge has endured for nearly 175 years, and figures to remain a staple of the holiday season for years to come. But as much as audiences enjoy the tale of Mr. Scrooge, so too do actors enjoy giving their take on this memorable miser.



Nary a year has passed since the classic tale was first adapted for the stage in 1844 that an actor, be it amateur or professional, has not portrayed Ebenezer Scrooge, and such portrayals have taken place on the stage, the small screen, the silver screen, and even the radio. Some manifestations of the old miser have been true to Dickens' version, while others are modernizations of the legendary writer's original story. The following are some of the more memorable performances from actors tasked with playing Ebenezer Scrooge.

• Alastair Sim: Considered by many film critics to be the best version of Ebenezer Scrooge to ever grace the stage, screen, or airwaves, Sim's 1951 performance is still celebrated to this day. Sim would reprise the role 20 years later in the Oscar-winning animated version.

• Albert Finney: The England-born Finney won the role of Ebenezer Scrooge despite being just 34 years old at the time the 1970 musical adaptation was made. Finney would win a Golden Globe Award for his performance in the film, which was titled "Scrooge."

• Tom Ricketts: Though not necessarily as renowned a performance as some others who would follow in his footsteps as Ebenezer Scrooge, Ricketts' efforts are memorable because his 1908 performance came during the silent film era. The 15-minute short version of A Christmas Carol marked Ricketts' first onscreen role after he earned a reputation as a great Shakespearean actor in his native England.

• Reginald Owen: Like Ricketts, Owen's performance did not garner any special acclaim, but it did mark the first American feature length attempt at telling the Dickens story. The role went to Owen after the legendary Lionel Barrymore, who holiday film fans may know as the mean-spirited Mr. Potter from the 1946 classic It's a Wonderful Life, was forced to drop out of the film due to a medical condition.

• George C. Scott: Scott's 1984 turn as Ebenezer Scrooge is memorable for all the right reasons, as the made-for-television tale starring this Oscar winner is widely considered one of the best adaptations of the story ever made. That success may not have come as a surprise to industry insiders 30 years ago, as the version starring the Patton actor was directed by Clive Donner, who served as film editor on the acclaimed 1951 big screen version.

• Bill Murray: Though his character was not named Ebenezer Scrooge, Murray played a Scrooge-like character in 1988's Scrooged, a hilarious modernization of the classic tale. In the film, Murray plays a heartless television executive who undergoes a Scrooge-like transformation while planning a live adaptation of A Christmas Carol for his station.

Charles Dickens' memorable novella A Christmas Carol has endured for nearly 200 years. That endurance can be credited to both Dickens' unique storytelling and the numerous actors who have memorably brought Ebenezer Scrooge to life.

Gift wrap tricks to save time

The task of wrapping gifts may not be something to look forward to, but wrapping gifts is an essential element of the holiday season. Fortunately, there are a few tricks of the trade wrappers can lean on to make the process of wrapping gifts go as quickly and as smoothly as possible.

• Stock up on double-sided tape. Wrapping with double-sided tape helps you avoid unsightly tape lines and creates a neat finished product.

• Use a toilet paper tube to preserve wrapping paper rolls and keep them from unravelling. Simply cut the tube lengthwise and snap it over the open roll of paper to serve as a handy clip to keep the paper tidy.

• When you lose the edge of the tape on a roll, it can take precious time trying to find it again and then lift a piece of tape off the roll. Use a plastic bread clip to hold the place of the edge of the tape to prevent this from happening.

• Turn snack containers into handy gift wrap options. Empty potato chip cannisters can be wrapped and used to hold other food gifts or smaller stocking stuffers. Turn a foil-lined chip or popcorn bag inside out, first cleaning away any grease and crumbs, and use the bag to wrap a gift and tie off the end with a decorative ribbon.

• Popsicle sticks can make clever gift tags. Poke a hole in the end and tie onto your gift.

• Use a piece of fabric to wrap a present if you're not too skilled with traditional paper. Fabric can be reused and is more durable, and you won't run the risk of tearing an edge or poking a hole through it. This can be especially useful for oddly shaped gifts.

• Newsprint tied with natural cord and some pine boughs is an inexpensive, classic-looking gift wrap.

• Kraft butcher paper or brown mailing paper can be used in a pinch. Stamp images on the paper to customize the gift wrap and use ribbons and bows to further dress things up.

• Always work on a hard, flat surface, as working on the floor or a soft surface makes it more difficult to control wrapping paper and you're more likely to tear the paper.

Shop locally this holiday season

Shopping is a big part of the holiday season, when families and friends gather to reconnect and exchange gifts. While the popularity of shopping online has grown, such practices are not always eco-friendly or timely, as gifts bought online must be packaged and shipped, wasting valuable resources and time that last-minute shoppers may not have.

The benefits of shopping locally go beyond convenience and the chance to reduce your carbon footprint. The following are a few ways that shopping locally this holiday season can directly benefit your community and the people who call it home.

Local economy

When people shop locally, they are putting money back into their local communities. Local small businesses may be owned by your neighbours, and it can be comforting to know that your holiday shopping dollars are going to support a neighbour instead of a large corporation. Local businesses also employ your neighbours, so shopping local can strengthen the local economy by creating jobs that may not exist if you and members of your community fail to support local small businesses.

Community identity

Local small businesses go a long way toward creating a neighbourhood identity, and that identity can create a stronger sense of community among you and your neighbours. In addition, a unique community identity can make your town more attractive to outsiders, and that appeal can improve the value of local real estate while also attracting more people to local businesses in your neighbourhood.

Uniqueness of gifts

Gifts purchased from small local businesses tend to be more unique than items bought from national chains. Recipients of such items may find such gifts more thoughtful than mass produced items bought from national chains, and the uniqueness may encourage the gifts' recipients to visit your community and do some shopping, further benefitting your local economy.

Customer service

The accessibility of customer service is another oft-overlooked benefit of shopping locally. When buying from national chains, especially during the holiday season when such businesses may be overwhelmed with orders, making contact with customer service departments can be a trying exercise in patience. But such frustration is rare when buying from local businesses, as consumers can simply take their products into the store, where employees can immediately address their concerns.

All Things Bright And Beautiful

Building Christmas spirit

The 10th annual Gingerbread Workshop, hosted by the Friends of the South Mountain Library, took place Sun. Dec. 7 at the Mountain Township Agricultural Hall. Many of the participants said the event had become a tradition for their families, an opportunity to be together, to be creative, and to get into the Christmas spirit.

Easy ideas for holiday wreaths

Wreaths are synonymous with the holiday season, and they can range from intricate to simple to flashy to rustic. Creating festive wreaths does not necessarily require a lot of skill, and wreaths can be fashioned from a variety of different materials.

The first step to crafting wreaths is to gather the foundation pieces. This usually involves a sturdy material that will serve as the wreath round. It can be vine, foam, branches, or even wire. You'll also need decorative items that fit the theme of your wreath. These may be berries, ornaments, ribbons, bows, and other trinkets that will be attached to the wreath. Florist wire and tape can be used to attach the ornaments to the wreath.

"Say cheese" wreath

Purchase a pre-made evergreen wreath or wrap boughs of pine around a wreath frame to make your own. Glue or tie on small wooden frames with photos of the family to the wreath. Fill in the barren spots with small bows and ornaments.

Fruitful wreath

Instead of an evergreen wreath, create something festive and edible. Fruit and vegetables in vibrant colours can be used to fashion a wreath. Use picks or wire to attach oranges, lemons, limes, clementines, and any other produce desired to a foam wreath. Use leaves to fill in sparse areas and a thick ribbon to hang the wreath.

Holly vine wreath

Purchase a plain grapevine wreath and decorate it with sprigs of holly leaves and stems with berries. Simple and festive, this wreath should take only a few minutes to make and then hang.

Metallic wreath

Add a glamourous touch to an evergreen wreath with faux fruit and pine cones that you paint with glimmering metallic colours. Intersperse items in gold, copper, and silver for an eye-catching piece that can adorn any spot in your home. Add a few twinkling lights to reflect off of the metallic elements to add even more appeal.

Bells or glass ornament wreath

Use flexible wire to string a wreath of metal bells or glass ornaments together in a ring shape. Bells not only look nice but also lend a gentle twinkling sound anytime the door is opened.

Floral wreath

Make a fresh flower wreath from a florist's wreath and fresh blooms. Soak the foam wreath in water according to the packaged directions. Trim flower stems (carnations are durable) and insert the stems into the wreath. Attach a bow to the bottom of the wreath and then hang. This is one wreath that is best displayed the day of the festivities because it has a short shelf life.

Cinnamon wreath

This wreath looks beautiful and gives off that quintessential holiday aroma. Begin with a foam wreath and wrap with a two-inch wide ribbon to cover. Use hot glue to secure cinnamon sticks all around the wreath. For more colour, add sprigs of holly, bows, or mistletoe.

Did you know?

Though there is no official data that declares the best-selling holiday toy for children of all-time, it's fair to assume the lovable "Sesame Street" figure Elmo is high on the list of most popular holiday toys. Much of that popularity can be traced to the introduction of Tickle Me Elmo in 1996. Though not the first Elmo doll, Tickle Me Elmo became the must-have gift of 1996, when parents searched far and wide for the doll that laughed when users tickled its stomach. During the holiday season of 1996, many people paid far beyond market price just so their children could wake up on Christmas and have a Tickle Me Elmo doll to call their own. Since 1996, Elmo has been reincarnated many times over, and each Elmo doll seems to inspire its own craze come the holiday season. Released in 1998, Walk 'N' Talk Elmo was a popular children's gift, as was Rock 'N' Roll Elmo (1999), Tickle Me Elmo Surprise (2001), Chicken Dance Elmo (2002), and SHOUT Elmo (2005). In 2006, Mattel, the company that produces the Elmo dolls, announced a special commemorative Elmo to mark the 10-year anniversary of the introduction of Tickle Me Elmo. That, too, sparked a buying frenzy, as some reports indicated private sellers were selling the latest Elmo, known as TMX Elmo, for thousands of dollars.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

The many ways to recycle Christmas greeting cards

Exchanging cards is a great way for people to show their loved ones that they're thinking about them, and such cards make for festive ornaments to display around homes. But when the holiday season ends, recycling those cards into other items can make good use of the paper resources and turn what's normally a single-use item into an enduring trinket.

• Turn this year's cards into next year's gift tags. Cut out circles, rectangles, or any shape you desire. You can also purchase scissors with decorative edges to cut the shapes.

• Transform a greeting card into a mini puzzle for a youngster.

• Glue silly characters from Christmas cards onto a sheet of magnet. Then use these magnets for decorations next year.

• Frame favourite cards so their messages can endure year after year.

• Turn a beautiful card into a keepsake. Use a decoupage medium to attach a card to a ceramic or wood backing. Coat with a polyurethane top coat to protect it.

• Use greeting cards to make wine charms for holiday entertaining. Guests can keep track of their glasses with ease.

• Use cut-outs of cards to improve the appearance of plain gift wrap or bags.

• Insert cut rounds of greeting cards into the inside of can lids to create crafty ornaments.

• Make a paper Christmas tree from cutouts of greeting cards.

• Encourage kids to make a photo collage from the cards they like. Mount their efforts on poster board and save for next year.

Winter time is family learning time

With kids off school and parents home from work, the winter holidays are perfect for creating family time to play and learn together! ABC Life Literacy Canada offers these holiday family literacy tips to warm your heart – and feed your mind!

Family book snuggle: Gather the family together with a favourite holiday or winter book. Get cozy blankets and comfy chairs, then snuggle in and take turns reading aloud to one another.

Make your own cards and gift tags: Even young children can write or draw on a card to send to friends and family or on a gift tag for someone special.

Bake-off: Get the whole family involved in baking! Following a recipe is a great way to practice reading and comprehension skills. Measuring ingredients and following baking times are practical (and delicious!) applications of math skills.

Out and About: Take in a holiday show or visit a museum. Family outings offer fun learning opportunities – and make sure to read the theatre program and the exhibit descriptions together.

Make a list and check it twice: Grocery shopping can be a fun family literacy activity. Your child can write the holiday shopping list, read signs and labels as you make your way through the aisles, and count items as they go into the shopping cart.

Give the gift of literacy: Encourage literacy by giving books, games, drawing materials, magazine subscriptions, and bookstore gift cards – gifts to enjoy all year long!

When you include fun learning activities in your family's holiday time, everyone stays sharp and ready for the New Year.

Find more family literacy tips and activities at www.FamilyLiteracyDay.ca.

Did you know?

Christmas carols began as an English custom called "wassailing." Individuals toasted neighbours to a long and healthy life.

Despite the common tale that three wise men paid homage to baby Jesus, the Bible never specifically calls out a number. Similarly, there's no specific indication that they visited the infant Jesus. Their visit may have occurred when Jesus was older.

Male reindeer tend to shed their antlers in the winter. This means Santa's reindeer are likely female.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Alight at Night open until Jan. 3

More than one million lights set aglow

MORRISBURG

The 14th annual Alight at Night festival went online earlier this month at Upper Canada Village, with more than one million lights set to glow into the new year.

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission's annual holiday season celebration is one of Ontario's premiere winter events, where the heritage site transforms into a magical wonderland that can be explored by foot, horse-drawn wagon, or by carriage ride.

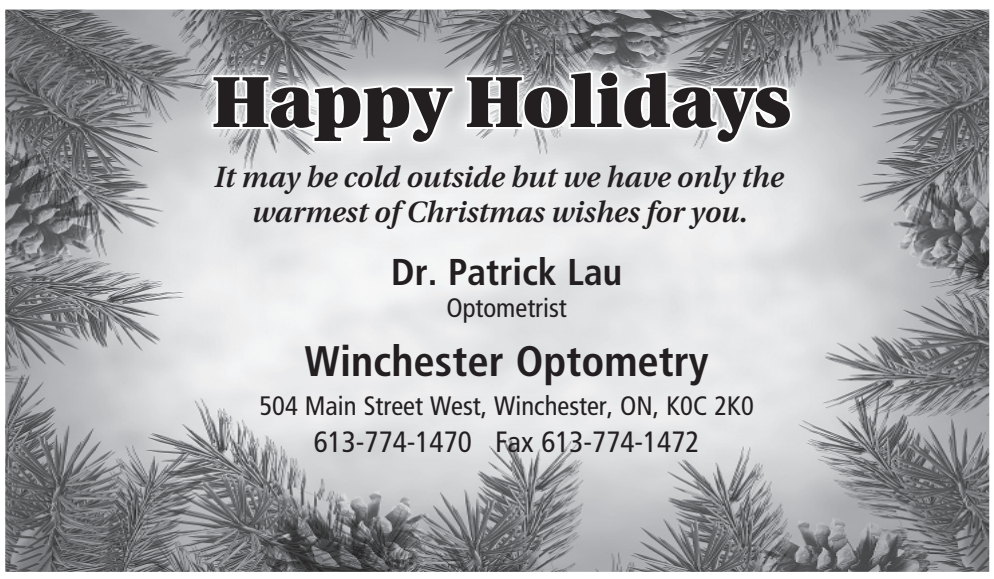
Open 5 to 9 pm on select nights through to Sat., Jan. 3, 2015, visitors will also have the chance to view the village's setup from atop a 50-foot Ferris wheel.

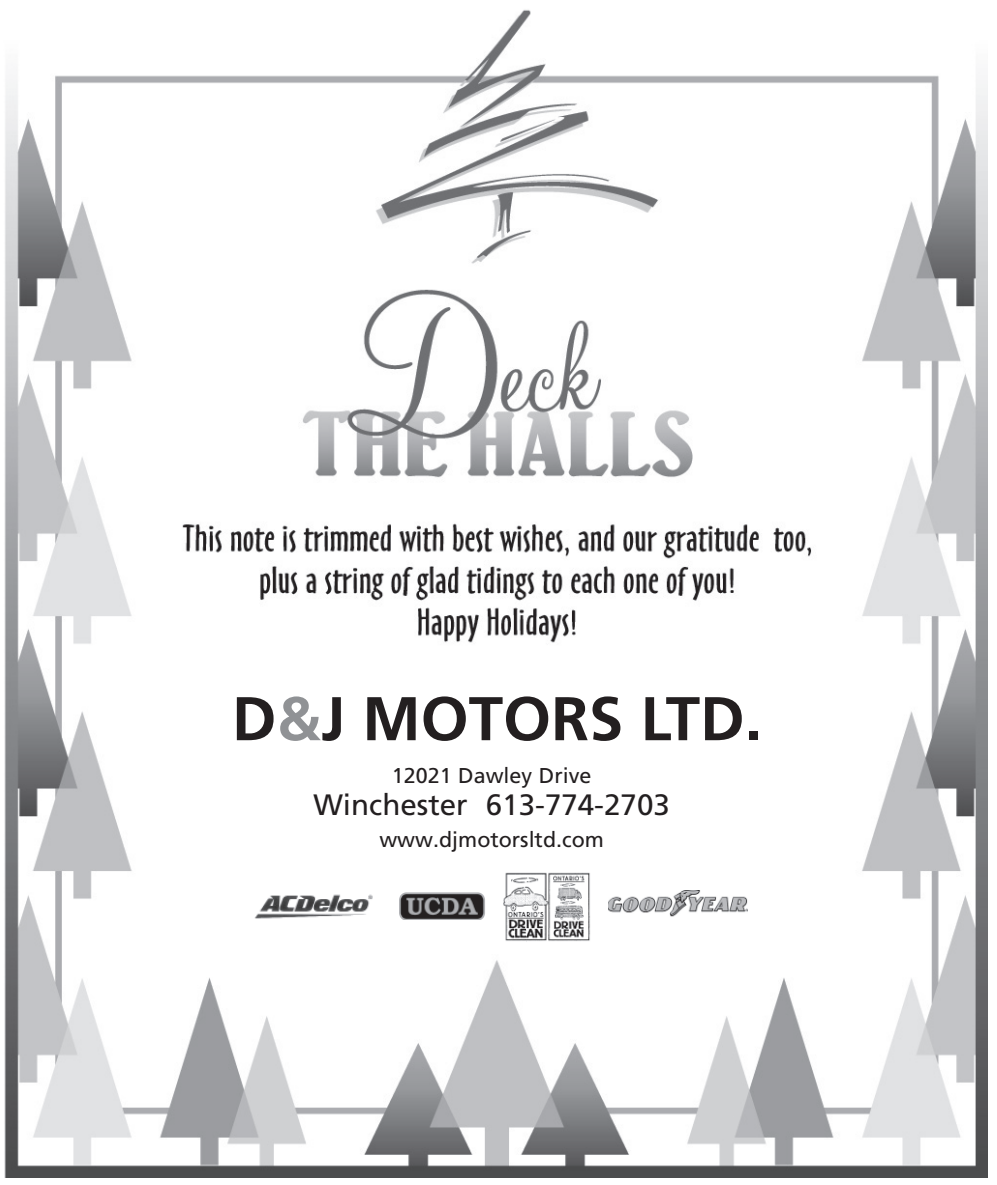
Admission to the carnival attraction, available on a first come, first served basis, is included as part of the price of admission to the festival.

Other attractions this year include Saint Nick's Merry Mansion, which is to greet visitors with a brand new sound and lights show, while inside a Victorian-era Santa Claus will be available for photographs.

Streamlined pricing provides affordable family fun with one price for all activities, including entry to the festival, horse-drawn wagon rides, a ride on the Toy Train and Ferris wheel and a visit with Santa. Costs are: adults, $13; senior's and youth, $10; and children five-years-old and younger, free.

For more information, visit www.alightatnight.ca.





CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

The man behind the beard

Before the modern evolution of Santa Claus lived a very real and generous individual named Nicholas. In the third century, Nicholas served as the Bishop of Myrna in present-day Turkey. He had a reputation for secret gift-giving, believing that giving should be done secretly and sacrificially in Jesus Christ's name rather than one's own.

Stories tell of Nicholas paying the dowry for poor daughters to enable them to get married. He reportedly put coins in the shoes of those who left them out for him. It is believed Nicholas helped to restore the hope of hundreds of people in his community, making him a beloved and revered Bishop. Throughout his ministry, Nicholas fervently shared his life and fortune with others.

Nicholas continued to be revered and commemorated by many Christians even after his death. His charity and unselfish works helped inspire generations of the faithful, and he eventually was named the patron saint of everyone from merchants to sailors to pawnbrokers.

No one really knows what St. Nicholas looked like. But in 2005, a forensic laboratory in England reviewed historical data and photographs of the remains taken from St. Nicholas' grave in the 1950s. Researchers concluded that he was a small man, perhaps no more than five feet in height, with a broken nose.

This image certainly does not fit with the robust frame and other imagery awarded St. Nicholas in more modern years. St. Nicholas is believed to be the inspiration for Santa Claus, which was a name taken from the Dutch Sinterklaas, a contracted form of Sint Nicolass, or St. Nicholas.

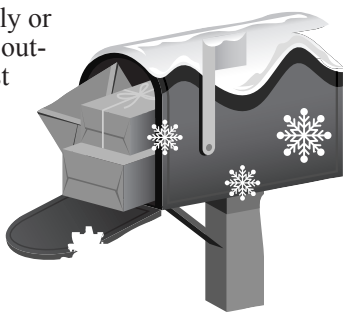
Tales of the real St. Nicholas' giving spirit were blended with a fictional personification by New York-based newspaper writers who blended the St. Nicholas name with the appearance of a Dutch town citizen. The goal was to reach out to the primarily Dutch immigrants living in New York at the time. This jolly elf image was given a boost by the publication of "A Visit From St. Nicholas," which was published around the same time.

Eventually, the merry Santa Claus portrayal began to outshine the more accurate St. Nicholas version as a religious man, fostered by political drawings and caricatures that depicted Santa as a chubby sort in a red suit. That image prevails to this day.

Beneath the Christmas symbolism, the beard and the presents associated with Santa Claus lies a tale of generosity that originated with St. Nicholas.

Gifts for long-distance loved ones

Sending just the right gift can be difficult when family or friends live far away. Often the distance has left us out-of-touch with their tastes and interests – and the last thing we want is to send something they don't like, or can't use, so that your gift is nothing but clutter.



Here are five suggestions to express your love across the miles:

1. Think envelope: Find something small yet thoughtful that can fit in an envelope and qualify for a later mailing date. Maybe have your kids cut out paper snowflakes so loved ones can stick them up in a window.

2. Send words: In a world where many send the same Christmas letter to 50 different people, take the time to compose an e-mail directed especially to your friend or family member.

3. Tell a visual story: Put together a small online photo album with pictures of times you've shared together.

4. Shop local: Google search for a bakery close to where they're living or staying, and place an online order for their favourite cookie or the local delicacy.

5. Honour them: Online you can arrange to send a gift of charity. A web site called World Vision Gifts has a selection to suit every personality on your list, while helping a family in a developing country. For example, if your loved one enjoys gardening, you can give fruit trees in their name.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Gift ideas for the special seniors in your life

With lifetimes of experiences and seemingly everything they could ever want or need in life already at their disposal, seniors can be difficult to shop for come the holiday season. Many even insist that their family members save their money and not buy them anything for the holidays.

But if the thought of Grandma or Grandma not having something to open come the holidays is simply unacceptable, consider the following gift ideas.

Activity assistance devices

The realities of getting older often mean the body slows down and activities may not be as easy as they used to be. Many active seniors are not ready to live sedentary lives, nor should they be forced to do so. Plenty of products exist that can make life easier and more comfortable for older adults.

Television amplifying headphones are one product that can be a great fit for seniors, particularly those having difficulty hearing their televisions. The headphones amplify the sound of the programming without disturbing others in the room, and many such headphones even allow users to mute their televisions. This feature is perfect for someone who likes to watch TV while a spouse is sleeping or reading in the same room.

Other devices that can make life easier for seniors include magnifying products or bookholders. In addition, gel seat cushions can take pressure off of the spine in the car or at home.

Food

Food is always a handy gift because it doesn't take up much room and can be enjoyed at a recipient's leisure. Perhaps there is something the senior in your life used to enjoy as a child. Ask a store manager if a particular item that's not in stock in the store can be a special order.

Photos

Time

Seniors who truly do not want or need anything probably will likely jump at the opportunity to spend time with loved ones. Treat a friend or family member to a meal out or simply spend a few hours chatting at his or her home. Sometimes company and good conversation is the ideal gift.

Until next time...

How to pack up decorations

Although packing holiday decorations may not be a favourite task, the following strategies can save both time and effort.

• Get motivated. The first supply you need when putting holiday decorations away is a healthy dose of motivation. It's easy to put off the taking down of lights or rolling up of holiday garlands, but the earlier you start the more quickly you can move on from the holiday season. Plan a day when you can pack away decorations, and do not schedule anything else for that day.

• Purchase storage bins. Stock up on storage bins. Choose bins of various sizes. Zip-top storage bags are also handy for ornament hooks and small trinkets.

• Find cushioning material. Fragile ornaments will need to be packed in some sort of soft wrapping to prevent breakage. Tissue paper, newspaper, old dish towels, and even faux polyester "snow" can be used to line bins and boxes. Label accordingly so you can isolate the breakable items.

• Organize lights. Spool lights onto an empty paper towel tube or package into individual plastic bags to avoid knots and kinks.

• Divide your home up into quadrants. You likely use the same decorations in the same places each year. To make decorating easier next year, dismantle holiday displays and pack them up according to specific areas of the home. For example, store all picture window decorations in one bin and label. Continue to store decorations according to the room where they are hanged. Items that are used strictly for outdoors can be grouped together and stored in the garage.

• Use a giftwrap organizer. Under-the-bed storage containers are ideal for storing gift wrap and assorted accessories. You also can use a hanging shoe organizer to store bows, tape and name tags. Wrapping paper rolls also can be stored horizontally over rafters in the attic or garage.

• Be especially careful with candles. Pack candles separately from other items, as candles must be kept in a relatively cool area so they do not melt when temperatures rise.

• Keep an empty bin handy. Use this bin to store any gifts or decorations you buy throughout the year. This way you won't forget where you stashed them.

Did you know?

The song "Jingle Bells" was originally written for Thanksgiving and not Christmas. People loved it so much that the lyrics were changed to fit Christmas.

Christmas trees typically grow for 15 years before they're cut and sold. This means the trees sold today were likely planted in 1999.

Christ may have been born in a cave rather than a manger. According to the gospel of Luke, the shepherds that helped find shelter for Mary to give birth kept their flock in a cave. The Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem is built over a cave called the Grotto of the Nativity, where Jesus is believed to have been born.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Once again, the Osgoode Snowmobile Club float was one of the highlights of the village's parade.

The 2014 Osgoode Santa Claus Parade took place Sat., Dec. 6 with the arrival of the man in the red attire officially kick starting the holiday season for children young and old. As well as the traditional parade, guests were treated to a breakfast with Santa at the village's community centre, among other events.

Above, Trinity Bible Church celebrated the first Christmas and had a special message of Christianity in the folders they handed out along the parade route.

At left, Luxie was thankful she didn't have to pull the Roxborough Bus Lines float.

Christmas Greetings

Right: Santa Bear waved and offered free hugs.

Centre: Dave and Ruth Croll attend several Christmas parades during the season, but said Morrisburg is their favourite by far.

Re-enactment soldiers marched and fired their way through the town.

Santa visits Morrisburg

The 21st annual Morrisburg Santa Claus Parade was held Sat., Dec. 6 with children, parents, grandparents, and visitors lining the streets to catch a glimpse of the colourful floats and, of course, the big man in red, Santa.

Left: Trains filled with toys and Christmas joy chugged their way through the village.

Right: Kaitlan Buter was part of the Operating Engineers Training Institute of Ontario's float.

Horses and ponies from Sarabeau Stables trotted through town.

The Royal West Academy Honour Band from Montreal, Que. joined the parade.

While her brother Andy couldn't make it, Raggedy Ann was on hand for the parade.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Carve a turkey like a pro

Roasted turkey is the centrepiece of many holiday feasts. That glistening, golden skin and moist meat beneath is the perfect companion to potatoes, sweet potatoes and any number of side dishes.

Many holiday chefs have received compliments on the appearance of a freshly prepared turkey sitting on the holiday serving platter. But those same chefs may not know how to properly carve up their masterpieces after the grand presentation has been made.

1. Place the turkey on a large, sturdy cutting board. Do not cut the turkey in the pan you used to cook it. Remove the string that may be tying the legs together. Turn the board so that the back of the turkey is facing you.

2. Choose a sharp knife to carve the turkey. A long, narrow knife may work best. Serrated knives may tear the turkey meat, so it may be better to use a flat knife. Some people prefer the ease of an electric knife. This is entirely your choice.

3. Cut through the skin on a leg and gently bend the leg as you slice through to expose the joint. Cut through and remove the entire leg. Then separate the drumstick from the thigh. Repeat on the other side.

4. Cut the thigh meat parallel to the thigh bone and place on your serving platter.

5. To slice the breast meat, insert your knife in the centre of the breast bone and cut down until you reach the ribs. Then slice the breast meat in toward your initial cut so you are cutting across the grain of the meat. This will keep the meat tender. Another idea is to remove one side of the breast and slice across it to produce smaller pieces for serving.

6. Find the wish bone and place it on the side to dry. Children typically like to break the wish bone.

7. Find the joint of the wings and remove them in a similar fashion as you did for the legs. They are small enough that they should not require extra slicing and can be placed whole on the serving platter.

8. Drizzle the sliced meat with any reserved cooking juices to keep the turkey moist and flavourful.

Since turkey is usually the star of many holiday meals, it pays to know the correct way to carve turkey for celebrations.

Pumpkin Flan

Submitted by Sharon Holmes, administrative assistant

1 cup butter
½ cup brown sugar
2 cups whole wheat flour
2 Tbsp lemon juice
1½ cups pumpkin
¾ cup sour cream
½ cup cream cheese
¼ tsp cloves; 1½ tsp cinnamon; ¼ tsp nutmeg
3 egg yolks
3 egg whites

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Separate eggs; mix butter, brown sugar, flour and lemon juice until well blended; then kneed well with your hands; press into a 12-inch flan pan. Bake 20 minutes.
In top of double boiler add all but whites and beat until thick – about 15 minutes. Remove from heat. Beat whites until stiff; fold into pumpkin mixtures; pour over the crust and bake 30 minutes.
Serve cold with whipped cream

Crock Pot Cheesy Bacon Onion Dip

Submitted by Janet LaPierre, production manager

8 slices of thick cut bacon
1 large onion, chopped
1 tsp salt
½ tsp pepper
1 Tbsp brown sugar
2 cloves of garlic, chopped
8 oz. cream cheese, softened
1 cup sour cream
2 cups mozzarella, shredded
10 oz. can diced tomatoes with chilies, drained

Cook bacon in a large skillet over medium heat until slightly crispy. Remove, allow to drain on a paper towel. Chop when cooled. Drain the bacon grease and leave one Tbsp in the skillet. Add the onion to the pan and season with salt, pepper, and brown sugar, cook for 1-2 minutes. Stir in the garlic and cook for another 30 seconds to one minute. Mix the cream cheese and sour cream together in the slow cooker. Add in the mozzarella cheese, onions, bacon and diced tomatoes. Heat on high 1-2 hours or until warm and cheese has melted. Serve with chips or crackers.

Brunch Bacon Muffins

Submitted by Donna Rushford, co-publisher and advertising manager

2 cups flour
1 Tbsp sugar
1 Tbsp baking powder
½ tsp salt
1 – 10 oz. can cream of chicken soup
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup vegetable oil
½ cup cooked and diced bacon
½ cup grated cheddar cheese

Mix together flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Combine soup, egg, and oil and add to flour mixture. Stir only until moistened. Blend in bacon. Fill greased muffin cups two-thirds full. Sprinkle cheese over top. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F) about 18 – 20 minutes. Serve warm with butter.
Makes about 12 muffins.

Cow Pies

Submitted by Sharon Holmes, administrative assistant

1 package (350 g) semi-sweet chocolate chips
1 can Eagle Brand condensed milk
2 cups of pretzel sticks, broken into 1" pieces (or 4 oz chow mein noodles)
1 cup dry roasted peanuts or whole roasted almonds

In a double boiler over simmering water, melt the chocolate chips and Eagle Brand stirring until smooth. Remove from heat. In large bowl combine nuts and pretzels; stir in chocolate mix. Drop by tablespoon onto wax paper-lined baking sheets. Chill 2 hours. Store loosely covered in cool, dry place. Makes about 36.

Orange Fudgey Pecans

The coating is definitely fudge-like. Yummy!

Submitted by Elan Slack, advertising sales

3 cups pecan halves
1 Tbsp grated orange peel
1 ½ cups granulated sugar
½ cup prepared orange juice
½ cup milk

Measure pecans into large glass bowl. Add orange peel. Combine sugar, orange juice and milk in large saucepan. Heat and stir until sugar is dissolved and mixture is boiling. Boil, without stirring, until mixture reaches soft ball stage (234 to 240 degrees F) on candy thermometer or until small amount dropped into very cold water forms a soft ball that flattens of its own accord when removed. Remove from heat. Pour over pecan mixture. Stir until stiffened. Pour out onto greased baking sheet. Separate into single pieces. Cool completely. Makes 5 cups.

Overnight Buns

Submitted Nancy Torrance, graphic designer

½ cup light cooking oil
½ cup white sugar
1 ½ tsp salt
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup + ¾ cup warm water (divided)
1 pkg. yeast
6-8 cups flour

DO THIS AT SUPPERTIME:
Whisk one Tbsp of the sugar and the yeast into ½ cup warm water. (Water should feel warm on your wrist but not hot.) Let sit 5-10 minutes until creamy and foamy.

Meanwhile, combine 6 cups flour with sugar and salt. Add eggs, oil, water and yeast mixture and stir thoroughly. Add flour in small batches until mixture in the bowl forms a soft ball. Turn out onto a floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic. Add only as much flour as you need so the dough is not sticky.

Oil a large bowl and put the ball of dough in it, turning it around to oil all sides. Cover tightly and keep in a warm place. (Microwave works well.)

DO THIS AT BEDTIME:
Grease two large cookie sheets or whatever pans you need with shortening. Turn the dough out onto a clean surface and use your hands and a rolling pin to flatten it into a large rectangle. Squeeze as many air bubbles out as you can. Using a sharp knife, cut the dough into 40 equal portions. Form each portion into a nice round ball (ping pong - golf ball size?), being sure to tuck the loose corners underneath. Place the balls close together in the pans. They should have some space between them to allow room to rise. Place the pans in a cold oven overnight. If the house is very cold you might want to leave the oven light on but you shouldn't need to.

AT BREAKFAST TIME:
Remove the pans from the oven. Buns should be quite a bit larger and light. Preheat the oven to 400 degrees F and bake about 8-10 minutes until golden. Remove when baked and turn upside down onto a clean towel on the counter to cool completely.

No Bake Oreo Truffles

Submitted by Janet LaPierre, production manager

1 package Double Stuffed Oreos
4 oz. cream cheese
Dipping chocolate

Chop Oreos up finely in a food processor. Save a small amount of the finely crushed Oreos for garnish later and set aside. Mash softened cream cheese and crushed Oreos until well combined. Roll into one-inch balls and place on a waxed paper covered cookie sheet. Put in freezer for 15 minutes. Melt dipping chocolate. Take the Oreo Truffles out of freezer, and dip into chocolate. Garnish with reserved crumbs before the chocolate sets. Let chocolate set. Refrigerate.

Chicken and Rice

Submitted by Connie Hart, office manager

An easy to prepare dish that gives you time to wrap gifts while it is cooking. Add a salad and your meal is complete.

6 pieces of chicken, skinned
1 cup water
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 pkg. Lipton onion soup mix
1 cup long grain rice (uncooked)

Mix all ingredients in a roasting pan, putting chicken on top. Cover and bake at 350 degrees F for two hours.

White Chocolate and Raspberry Bread Pudding

Submitted by Linda Johnston, graphic designer

5 cups french bread cubes, one-inch pieces (let sit out for awhile)
4 Tbsp butter, melted
8 oz white chocolate (divided)
½ pint of fresh raspberries
½ tsp clear vanilla
4 eggs
⅔ cup sugar
2 cups milk

RASPBERRY SAUCE:
½ pint fresh raspberries
juice from one lemon
½ cup sugar

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Use a muffin tin with 6 large wells. To each muffin well, add melted butter, divided equally. Chop half the white chocolate into little pieces, add to bread cubes, mix, then fill wells, set aside. In a heavy saucepan, add milk and sugar. Heat until sugar is melted, don't boil. Add vanilla. Once sugar is melted turn off heat. Stir in half of the white chocolate until melted. In a medium bowl, beat eggs. TO THE EGGS, add warm milk mixture SLOWLY, whisking as you add the milk. Pour egg and milk mixture over bread cubes. Push bread cubes down into the mixture to immerse them. Allow them to sit for 15 minutes. Add a handful of raspberries to the top of each wells. Set the muffin tin into a larger pan, and add water up to about halfway of the wells to create a water bath. Bake uncovered, 40 - 45 minutes at 350 degrees F. It should have stopped being "jiggly" by now, and top should be golden brown. Don't overcook. While the bread pudding is baking, make sauce. Add raspberries, sugar, and lemon juice to a small saucepan. Heat until berries have broken down and sugar is melted. Mash raspberries. Serve warm, with sauce and shaved white chocolate curls (optional). This recipe could also be made in a square or rectangular baking dish.

Apple Cinnamon Sugar Doughnuts

Submitted by Marlene Harper, administrative assistant

l ½ cups all-purpose flour
2 tsp baking powder
½ tsp salt
½ tsp ground cardamom (optional)
2 eggs
⅔ cup granulated sugar
¾ cup coarsely grated peeled apple
¼ cup buttermilk
2 Tbsp vegetable oil or butter, melted
¾ tsp vanilla

Cinnamon Sugar
6 Tbsp granulated sugar
l ½ tsp ground cinnamon
6 Tbsp butter, melted

In medium bowl, whisk together flour, baking powder, salt, and cardamom, if using. In large bowl, whisk eggs with sugar; stir in apple, buttermilk, oil and vanilla. Stir in flour mixture until moistened. Spray two six-doughnut pans with cooking spray. Fill each cavity with about ¼ cup batter. (If you have only one pan, cover and refrigerate remaining batter.) Bake in 350 degrees F oven for l0 to l2 minutes or until doughnuts spring back when touched and are light in colour. Let cool in pan for three minutes; invert onto rack and let cool completely. Repeat with remaining batter if necessary, cleaning and re-spraying pan.

Cinnamon Sugar: In medium bowl, mix sugar with cinnamon. Brush or dip doughnuts in butter to coat all over. Dip doughnuts into cinnamon sugar, pressing lightly to adhere.

Spiced Nuts

Crusty on the outside but sweet nonetheless

Submitted by Elan Slack, advertising sales

½ cup	brown sugar packed
½ cup	granulated sugar
l ½ tsp	cinnamon
½ tsp	nutmeg
½ tsp	ginger
¼ tsp	cloves
l	egg white from large egg
l Tbsp	water
4 cups	mixed nuts

Combine the first 6 ingredients in small bowl. Beat egg white and water in medium bowl until frothy. Add sugar mixture and stir. Add nuts. Stir. Spread on greased baking sheet. Bake in 325 degrees F oven for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally, until golden. Cool thoroughly. Store in airtight container. Makes 6 cups.

Peanut Butter Cookie Dough Bites

Submitted by Sandy Casselman, reporter

l ½ cups gluten-free rolled oats
2 Tbsp coconut oil
2 Tbsp smooth peanut butter
¼ cup pure maple syrup
l tsp pure vanilla extract
½ cup almond flour
¼ tsp fine-grain sea salt
2 Tbsp mini dark chocolate chips

Blend oats into fine flour using high speed blender. Set aside. In a large bowl, combine oil, peanut butter, maple syrup, and vanilla. Beat until smooth. Add almond flour, oat flour, and salt to liquid mixture and blend together. Fold in chocolate chips. Roll into balls. Freeze for 5 to l0 minutes or until firm. (Can be stored in freezer for bite-size snacks.)

Cranberry Coffee Cake

Submitted by Linda Johnston, graphic designer

Cream: ½ cup margarine
l cup sugar
2 eggs

Sift: 2 cups flour
l tsp baking powder
l tsp baking soda
½ tsp salt

Mix alternately into egg and sugar mixture the dry ingredients and l cup of sour cream (or l cup plain yogourt). Add l tsp almond extract. Beat then spread ½ batter in well-greased funnel pan and spread over this ½ can whole cranberry sauce. Spread the rest of the batter over this then ½ can of the cranberry sauce. Sprinkle with ½ cup chopped nuts. Bake at 350 degrees F for 30-40 minutes.

GLAZE
Mix well: ¾ cup icing sugar
l Tbsp hot water
½ tsp almond extract
Spread over top and drizzle down sides.

Butter Tarts

Submitted by Donna Rushford, co-publisher and advertising manager

1/3 cup butter	2 beaten eggs
½ cup corn syrup	½ cup raisins
½ cup brown sugar	l tsp. vanilla

Put in pastry shells, bake at 425 degrees F for l0 to l5 minutes.

It's finally Christmas

It's finally Christmas. The best time of year.
I smell pine and hot chocolate and carols I hear.

The kids are exited, for he comes tonight.
Red and white with a hat and a belt that was tight.

He'll fill up the stockings, put gifts by the tree.
He'll chuckle with his bag in his sleigh with glee.

We'll wake up in the morning to find out how clever
Santa is. It's the best Christmas ever.

My Christmas Poem

It was Christmas night and all through the church,
No mouse was even running quickly up the birch.

All the people were huddled in the warm cozy bed,
So many people with Santa in their head.

Finally a sound that only kids heard.
A clip clopping on the roof that was definitely not a bird.

With a poof down the chimney and a stroking of his beard,
All kids knew he is someone that should not be feared.

He hugged all the kids with a twinkle in his eye.
The kids thought "What a jolly happy guy".

He started putting presents right under the tree.
He smiled and gave one directly to me.

He climbed up the chimney and then he took flight.
"Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night!"

Owen Latimer, St. Mary Catholic School

Christmas Greetings

Christmas Day

On Christmas Day children sing
Allaluia praise the king.
Hope and joy here and there
With the smell of pine trees in the air.
People bake cookies for that man
For he covers all the land.
Santa Claus that's his name
Every person are to him the same.
The nought and the nice he still comes
Even if they don't believe and thinks he is dum.

My Christmas Poem

Every year it comes down,
Covering every single town.
Kids having snowball fights,
And looking very bright.
Then we will play on our sled,
And then we will go to bed.
The bright shiny light,
Twinching in the dark Christmas night.
When Christmas finnaly comes here,
It is time to celbrate and cheer.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

LETTERS TO SANTA

The Winchester Press is proud to present some of the letters we have received from our area children, sharing with us their hopes and dreams for Christmas and what presents they would like from Santa.

Dear Santa

How many elves do you have? How is the North Pole going? Are the elves having fun? How tall are the elves? Are you the same height? How many gifts do you have? How old are you? How long do elves live? There's nothing I really want for Christmas, but if you could bring something special for my Mom and my sister Beth, that would be great. Thank you.

Sophy
St. Mary Catholic School

Dear Santa

Thank you for getting that video game for me last year. How are you feeling today? How do your reindeer fly? How many elves do you have? Why do you like cookies so much? Here is my list of things I would like: the movie Guardians of the Galaxy, a Zoomer Dog, a Dog Tummy Stuffer.

Your friend, Cadence
St. Mary Catholic School

P.S. I like the colour red too!
P.P.S. You are wonderful!

Dear Santa

Thank you for my gift last year. How do you get to all of the houses in just one night? Is it true that you have 28,418 elves? Did you like your brownies last year? Can you take a picture of your reindeer and sleigh please. For Christmas I would like Isabelle the American Girl, the Leap Frog Band and Zoomer Dog.
Thanks Santa.

Sinciraly, Kiera La Russa
St. Mary Catholic School

Dear Santa

You look great. How are you and your elves?
How do you get in the houses so quickly and wut I wont is a Lego set. Ho! Ho! Ho!

Dylan
St. Mary Catholic School

Dear Santa

Thank you for bringing my Roman Vessal! It's me again. So before I tell you what I want, may I inquire to ask a few questions? First on the list, are you a Lapp Shaman? I read they use reindeer pulled sleighs. They're a kind of wizard and I know wizards use the help of fairies and elves. Lapp Shamans also live the extreme north and are very merry. Lastly, I wouldn't assume this unless they bring toys, and they do! The other question, "Do you use stardust?" was answered already by my elf on the shelf, Snowflake. Phew, ok, I'm finished. For Christmas I would like a Playmobil Adventure Treasure Island. Thanks!

Caleb David Thompson
St. Mary Catholic School

Dear Santa

How do you get to everyone's houses in one night? How are your elves doing? I wish for a fluffy unicorn and a Ipod. Merry Christmas! Ho! Ho! Ho!

Dear Santa

Please get me Emma and figure skating outfit and beauty salon chair and city girl clothes and a My Little Pone Rainbow Rock movie.

Dear Santa

Thank you for the CD player last year. Taylor and I love to listen to music!
How many elves do you have? Do your reindeer really fly? Why do other people dress as you at Christmas time? I like that you are nice and have patience.
I have one more question for you. Why is your name Santa Claus?
Have a merry Christmas.

Your biggest fan,
Bryanna Larouque, St. Mary Catholic School

P.S. What kind of cookies do you like the best?

Dear Santa

My name is Jacklyn. I'm 10 years old. I love horses, puppies, kittens and turtles/tortoises. This year I get to be in my church's Christmas play where I play the role of a housekeeper. I have four best friends their names are Grace McKercher, Ally Beblow, and Layla Savage and Lauren Kluke. It's Grace's birthday! But it's in two days. The gift that I want is a puppy. A real live, breathing, eating, pooping puppy. I want a puppy because the last dog that I had ran away and didn't come back. And that's why I want a puppy. Here is three reasons why I deserve a puppy. I have tried to be good all year, I would share it with my sister, and I am very good with dogs and cats. And those are my three reasons.
Hooooo, Merrry Christmas.

Sincerely, Jacklyn Bryson

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

LETTERS TO SANTA

Dear Santa

Do you remember me, I was the kid whose sister moved away. I asked you if the elves got frostbite.
I'm the kid with the school newspaper. I'm Braxton R.J. Bowers. I go to Winchester Public. I'm in the fifth grade. I'm a kid with nothing but a piano and a dream. I play piano and I love to play it. You might know me from the "out of the darkness and into the light," newspaper column. It came out a few months ago. I'm the only blind kid at school. You might see me with a big white stick in my hand. There's three things I want for Christmas this year. I'll list them:
1. A nice Christmas dinner.
2. To spend Christmas with my friends.
3. To be with my parents and my sister.
I hope you can give that to me. If you can, then this will be the best Christmas ever. I don't need toys, I need friends and family. Merry Christmas!

Sincerely,
Braxton Raymond Jhon Bowers
Winchester Public School

Dear Santa

Hi my name is Liam Berry. I am into hockey and electronics. For hockey I am a lefty. For electronics my mom is a website designer and I would like to do that too. I would like a hockey stick (left). The stick brand is Easton Stealth hockey games. Here are three reasons why I derseve the gift .
1. I've been good in school. 2. I've been listening. 3. I need a hockey stick.

Sincerely, Liam Berry
Winchester Public School

Dear Santa

How are you and Mrs. Claus and your family? How do you make your reindeer fly? You must have a big appetite. I am not sure what I want. But I am sure you will find something for me.

Ava Bradley
St. Mary Catholic School

Dear Santa

Hello I'm Ashlyn Antille. I'm nine years old. I have a pet cat named Oscar. He is three years old. I have a mom her name is Candy and she is 42 years old and my dad is 44 years old. I have a brother his name is Alex he is 11 years old. Also I have another brother named Nick he is seven. I don't know when our mom or dad were born. Oscar was born in 2011 and my brother Alex was born in 2003 and I was born in 2004. Santa can I have a HideAway Pet and a Zoomer Dino the most out of those two that I want is the HideAway Pet. I want the toy because it's really cute. The three reasons why I want the Hideaway Pet and why I deserve one is because I have been a good girl, I have been nice to my friends, and I have my birthday on December ninth. Goodbye Santa.

Sincerily, Ashlyn Antille
Winchester Public School

Dear Santa

Hello my name is Grace and I am in grade 5. I am nine years old. In one day I will be 10. I have glasses and long blonde hair. My eyes are hazle and my favorite colour is pink. My favorite season is winter because you can make a snow fort and a snow man. I love my family and when I am an adult I want to be a scientist so I can find a cure for ALS.
Santa, for Christmas I would like an Ipad because all my cousins have their own Ipad so I want my own. If I get my own, I can play on it and Dad can play on the family Ipad and mom can play on her phone.
I have three reasons: I have wanted an Ipad forever so I want one for Christams. I have been really nice. I am really responsible and I deserve it.

Sincerely, Grace
Winchester Public School

Dear Santa

How do you get in homes? How do you make toys?
I wish for a Speed Orr and a gocart please and thank you. I hope you have a great ride.

Owen
St. Mary Catholic School

Dear Santa

Hi Santa. My name is Noah and I live in Winchester. I go to WPS which stands for Winchester Public School. I have no siblings and two dogs. One is a charcoal gray lab and the other one is a husky.
I was hoping that I could get Black Ops MW3 because I already have Call of Duty Ghosts and Black Ops 2. So, I was wondering if I could keep going in the series. Also I really like playing Black Ops with my Dad. I'm really excited for Christmas. It's okay if you can't bring it. Are you excited for Christmas? Don't worry I won't forget to get milk and cookies if you're not already full.

Sincerely, Noah Tessier, Winchester Public School

Dear Santa

Can you please get me a Lego set and a Nerf gun for Christmas this year. Make sur to feed Rudolph for me and say Hi to all of the elves.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

LETTERS TO SANTA

Dear Santa

My name is Kiara and I come from Moncton, New Brunswick, but I live in Chesterville. My sock puppet, Steve, just convinced me to write to you now that he isn't missing anymore. My year hasn't been bad, but it hasn't been that good either because my big brother, Kaeden, doesn't live with us anymore, so my baby brother, Frae, only has me to bother.
I would like rubber threaded insolated water repellent gloves, so Frae won't electracute me, a Nintendo 3DS charger, because my Nintendo 3DS has been lying in my room dead for quite some time now. I would also like a Cream Soda Cheeky Dog Webkinz, because my cat, Mischief destroyed my Blueberry Cheeky Dog Webkinz, and a Super Mario Brothers Nintendo 3DS game because I'm a bit bored with the games I have, and any device to prove my baby brother is an alien.
I like Christmas because I get to open one present on Christmas Eve, and watch Griswold's Family Christmas on Christmas Eve too.
Best wishes to you and your loved ones.

Yours truly, Kiara
Winchester Public School

Dear Santa

I am good at playing hockey. I play forward. My team is called North Dundas Demons. I won five games and lost six hockey games both me and my team. If we win all our games my coach will shave his beard. Santa – tell me how the elves are doing. Oh yeah, tell me if Rudolf is coming to town. I would like to have a Tekdek and goalie pads goalie blocke goalie gloves, ride flicker, and a skateboard, Furbie Boom and a Twister game. I go and get a Christmas tree and I decorate it on the first day of December. I love December because I could decorate the Christmas tree. I love Christmas because Santa comes to town.

Cameron
Winchester Public School

Dear Santa

Hi Santa. My name is Darrien. My favorite sport is soccer. I'm in Grade 5 and I love music. I play drums. My favorite colour is green. I would love a Playstation 4 bundle with the game Last of Us. I deserve it because I've been good. My friends have it. I would like it because I don't already have it.

Sincerely, Darrien
Winchester Public School

Dear Santa

How's Mrs. Claus and the elfs. How do you get to all the houses in one night? I would like a Frozen doll hur name is Elsa.
Merry Christmas.

Kayla
St. Mary Catholic School

Dear Santa

My name is Emma. I am 10 years old. My favourite thing to do is draw. My favourite Christmas treat is ice cream with cookies and nice warm tea. For Christmas this year I would like a drawing tutorial book. I would like it because it will help me become better at the thing I love to do the most. I think I deserve the drawing tutorial book because this year I've been good 90% of the time. I love to draw so I know I will love this present. My teacher says there is always room for improvement so that also goes for drawing!
