COVERS EASTERN ONTARIO'S GREATEST DAIRYING SECTION

BY'S LINE TODAY

The voters of a neighbouring city can take heart. There's still a little kick in the old grey mayor.

CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

Thar he stood! At least 200 pounds of delicious venison chops, steaks and succulent roasts. Had a head like a hat rack and a mean look in his eye. Steady as a rock we settled in with the cross hairs just behind the shoulder and waited for the meat to form up in a handy pile wrapped in the hide of a recently dead big buck deer. Trouble is, the deer had other ideas and the last this Nimrod saw of the beast was the west end heading rapidly east through the bush. The more we slung the lead, the faster the buck laid on sail to make his easting.

The word is out the great white father met up with a bush buster and muffed his chance. While there might be a muted excuse and a slight mention of twigs and fast travelling bullets, who are we to argue? From the breezes that blew for the rest of the week around our suddenly shortened shirttail, it was evident our evidence was not too good. So the Castle is faced with a starvation diet this coming cold spell. We will be down to beans, bread and bullybeef with a touch of scurvy threatening about April. We have offered to snare the family rabbit out of the back forty, but the v.p. says she'd rather starve than cut a cutlet from a pet. Looks as if our rapacious appetites for wild meat will have to be restrained.

It was interesting to get away from the world's worries for a spell. While the battery radio kept us close to the outside, most of the time the camp's companions were Canada jays, squirrels and inquisitive mice. It was nothing to stand silently on a watch and have a grey and saucy jay, meat bird to the hunter, flicker in and land two feet away. They are fearless and cheerful and love freshly killed venison. Over head the curious voice of ravens would come through. They caw, gurgle, pump water, wheeze and whistle, for all the world like a confused tape recorder. Add to that the bugling morning calls of flighting geese, ringing the bush like small hounds in full cry, and one can get a large dose of Nature with very little effort.

We stumbled our way home in the rain on Saturday. Here we discovered the local hunters found deer practically under the bed, had no trouble getting enough to go around and were home every night in time for chores.

A friend of ours met us this week with a loud remark about people who are silly enough to mess around in the bush looking for little innocent animals. We felt his case was weak. That same character dragged his unprotesting wife to the football game at Ottawa on Saturday, sat in the open stands all afternoon and said he and she had a wonderful time. How can a person have a wonderful time with a face full of rain, a seat full of water and pneumonia threatening with every breath? Hunters know enough to stay in out of the rain, at least.

At least this year's hunt will provide an awful lot of windy stories for the hot stove league during the winter. When a person has tons of luck, most of it bad, then the stage is set for a corresponding weight of alibis. It will take just about all winter to convince the skeptical and embellish the facts until they become believable fancy.

Colquhoun U.C.W. meets at Wright home

The regular monthly meeting of Colquhoun U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs George Wright on Wednesday. There were 14 members and one visitor present.

The meeting was opened with a short prayer, followed by the singing of Hymn 210. Mrs Lloyd Gallinger read the Scripture and the commentary was read by Mrs Graham Wells.

Roll call was answered by the number of sick cards and calls during the past month. Mrs R. C. Colquhoun led the group in prayer.

A note of thanks for plant and cards was read from Mrs Mahlon Gow. It was decided to hold a pot-luck supper in the near future.

Plans were made for a number of the ladies to attend the Presbytery rally at Williamsburg November 15. Mrs Geo. Wright prepared a chapter from the study book.

The meeting closed with prayer. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs Beatrice Colquhoun.

Reeve Carl Merkley officially opened the Christmas Seals campaign here in the village with his purchase of TB seals. He is shown here mailing his cheque to Cornwall, one of the first to answer the appeal. The TB campaign will be underway for the next month in the counties. Everyone is asked to make a donation, use the seals, and take advantage of the application if a chest x-ray is needed.—Record Photo.

Sat. storm damages construction

Last Saturday's heavy rains did some damage to the district although the extra moisture may not come amiss if the winter is sudden and cold.

Out on the Limerick Road, the detour around the creek bridge was washed out. The creek rose like a spring freshet, flushed up over the gravel roadbed, and before long had made a new passage twenty feet wide through the former roadway. Nothing much can be done by way of repair until the flood subsides.

Angus Robertson Construction, building the new school on the Ridge, had a section of freshly raised wall tipped into the excavation by the high and gusty winds. The big 10-inch blocks had been raised three days before, were laced with electrical wiring and other services. The winds were too much for the unsupported wall and a short section collapsed. Superintendent John Barker sees no slow-up of the job through the insurance-covered accident. The work is coming along nicely, is the way he put it to this newspaper on Tuesday of this week.

High School News

This week we were pleased that a new electric refrigerator appeared in our Home Economics room. It was a gift from Ontario Hydro.

The Winchester and Chesterville Home Economics girls are progressing rapidly in the making of their skirts.

At the Student Council meeting, initiation for Grade Nine was discussed and postponed until next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Last Monday at noon the band had its first band practice this year. On Thursday night they had another practice along with some of the Winchester Band in preperation for Remembrance Day. Musical numbers used by both bands were chosen. At this meeting we also met our new band instructor Guy Fortier, a member of the RCAF Central Band. Last period on Friday afternoon Winchester band members came to Chesterville for one last practice together. A shiny new glockenspiel was added to our band.

Friday night Mr Unger and Mr Hubenig secured the Legion Hall for a dance honouring the Football, Baseball and Soccer players and also the Band majorettes and cheerleaders. We would like to thank Mrs Hubenig and Mrs Unger for their help. Pictures of the players on the football team and coaches were drawn by the Sinclair brothers.

Music for the evening was provided by records of the students. The cheerleaders demonstrated a few of their yells. Winners of the twist contest were Betty Bolegraaf, Sandra Loughridge, Pat Moore and Orlan Crump. At this dance we discovered more talent in Mr Hubenig. We found he can not only sing, but also twist and play the piano.

Trophies were presented to Dwayne Gilbert for the best offensive player in football, Carl Byers for the best defensive player, Cathy Price received an award for the best baseball player and Roger Carkner was named the best soccer player.

On Sunday morning the band met at the school at 9.40 to leave for Winchester at 10 o'clock, accompanied by Mr Dzwonyk. The members attended a church service at the Wesleyn Methodist church and from there proceeded to the War Memorial for the service. After the service lunch was served at Winchester Legion Hall.

At 2 o'clock the band left the Legion Hall in Chesterville for our Memorial Service and after marching around the streets went back to the Legion Hall for hot drinks and doughnuts.

A 75-year-old retired Finch farmer died before arriving at hospital Saturday after being struck by a hit-and-run car near the Montreal suburb of LaFleche.

Mr Marleau was changing buses when the accident occurred on the middle lane of the Trans-Canada Highway.

He was dead on arrival at St. Lambert Hospital.

Mrs Marleau, who had remained with her daughter, was not injured.

Police explained heavy traffic and rain reduced visibility. A coroner's inquest will be held in a Montreal court, police said.

OPINIONS . . .
OURS AND OTHERS

A good year's work

Chesterville village faces a Nomination Night next week, on the 23rd of November, to be exact. At that time members of the community will be able to hear at first hand a report from local government of the year's work. Because it will be a report of a lot of things done, we will give an outline here in advance. Some questions may come up that might not occur in time at the meeting that need answering.

Two items of outstanding importance were decisions to support better education facilities for the town and district. Following the disastrous fire at Winchester High School, the path became much easier for the location of a central school. A site agreeable to all municipalities was chosen on the Ridge and tenders called for the work. This municipality, through its council, reversed its stand against a central school. In light of the emergency, the council voted unanimously for the town to pick up its share of the central school cost.

The columns of this newspaper explored the idea of a new public school to good effect. Suddenly the local government was deeply involved with the public school board in plans and propositions. Before one could say "Jack Robinson" council had passed a money by-law to raise $122,000, the approval had been received from the Ontario government and the dirt was flying. There was general satisfaction a local construction company, Thompson and Wiseman, had been the fortunate bidders. There is little doubt board chairman Lorne Thompson and his fellow members will have a lot of answers for nomination night.

Over on Albert Street, council members, and particularly street commission members, got in a hassle. Early in April a decision was made to build ancient Church Street to a tune of $8,000. That left a niggardly amount for the rest of the town, but enough if used wisely. Albert Street needed a top dressing and it was decided to chip treat it, a common enough treatment for ailing streets.

The treatment met with very little favour on the street. Outcries ranged from loud to very loud and at one time every street commissioner in town wished he had never heard of chip treatment. Finally the stones stopped flying, the sun made the asphalt smooth out some of the rumble, and there is a rumour that next year's book will have a note about further work on the above-mentioned street.

Church Street ended up 22 feet wide and completely rebuilt from three feet down. It is now good for another 10 years of wear. In keeping with the village plan of reconstruction of streets the next street will be broken-up Mary Street, before the swing goes back north to Hummel and Howard.

The village water system has proven a joy to see in operation. The water flavour brings nothing but praise from something over 200 users. There has never been any question about adequate supplies of water and maintenance expenses have been well in line with projected costs. Only one serious line break has been experienced on South Street East and it was quickly repaired.

Chesterville hydro has humped along making a reasonable profit to be plowed back into better equipment. A major extension is underway at this year-end to supply power to the new public school. It will be heated by electricity and needs a power line construction job to supply the juice from north of the river. More tube lights were installed this year and globe lights placed in some poorly lighted corners.

A gas company is now in process of getting its franchise renewed to pipe natural gas into the village. It has plans to supply the Nestlé plant as soon as all the legal and contract matters can be ironed out and some local firms are talking of making installations.

All in all, it seems to this reporter the work to be done has been done by village council. Whether good or indifferently, that is a public matter of decision. Not all promises have been kept, through circumstances beyond control. But in the main, council members have been earnest in their attempts to do justice where it could be done.

We think it has been a good year for Chesterville.

The squeaky wheel gets the grease

A thought expressed in the Tilbury Times recently is applicable here in Chesterville. The ever increasing frequency of advertising circulars, big and small, from stores outside the community should make local merchants take notice.

Foremost is that such stores probably sell considerable merchandise to local people, or they wouldn't waste their advertising here.

Secondly, in many cases prospects thus are taken right out from under the noses of local merchants.

What is the secret?

Advertising.

Advertising long has been the most effective merchandising aid for businessmen. The most successful retailers advertise regularly.

We have them here. You see their ads in the Chesterville Record. It pays them.

While they are rightly urged to "buy at home," buyers are not always to blame if they pass up prices as good as, if not better than elsewhere; service that has the advantage of being immediately handy; goods of variety and quality. The prospect may not know what is close at hand.

Every person is a potential customer. The wise merchant reaches them first, and frequently, through advertising . . . printed, tangible, verifiable advertising in one person's hand, to be read, absorbed, acted upon.

TOO MANY FORMS

At Rensselaer, N.Y., too many forms brought about the formal closing of a nursing home described by a state investigator as "a shining example."

Said proprietor Mrs Earl Gundrum: "It was just impossible. There were 18 state and federal agencies putting forms, questions and statistical requests across my desk. Medical reports . . . cesus figures . . . social security . . . time sheets . . . work plans, etc."

She had 21 patients and 14 employees.

Your Federal Report

by Mrs Jean Casselman, M.P.

A minority Government points up strongly how political parties in the House of Commons struggle with the intricacies of debate, policies, voting decisions, public impression and all the endless difficulties of the party system.

In spite of five previous defeats on Votes of Confidence, this week the Liberal party made the decision that defeating the Government was still most important. In an effort to do so they voted with the Social Credit Party whose purposes they had been attacking bitterly and with whom they are presently involved in a violent struggle in Quebec.

Now the Government has won seven Votes of Confidence and people are asking how many more will be needed before the Government is allowed to settle down to legislation as confidence in the Government requires.

This is a subtle way, but just one of the many ways, Oppositions can harass the Government and force an unfair and unavoidable impression of Government delay and indecision. The better the legislation promised in any Throne Speech the more tendency there is for the Opposition to seek ways to obstruct its completion.

The Leader of the Social Credit, for all his bewildering money theories, is winning support, both inside and outside the House of Commons, with his plea that the Government be allowed to get on with its business. In the meantime the result of previous good legislation makes itself felt.

After opening the three-day Session of the Dominion Council of Health, on behalf of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, I have endeavoured to take every opportunity to sit on their deliberations. This is a body very little known to Canadians generally, but most important and effective. It has met over the last 40 years twice annually, this being the 82nd meeting.

The Act to establish a Department of National Health and Welfare states:

"7. (1) There shall be a Dominion Council of Health consisting of the Deputy Minister, who shall be chairman, the chief executive officer of the Provincial Department or Board of Health of each province, and such other persons, not to exceed five in number, as may be appointed by the Governor in Council, who shall hold office during good behaviour for three years."

At the present time all ten provinces are represented not only by experienced administrators, but all of them doctors by education. This is an impressive combination. Outstanding even in such an august body is the Federal Deputy Minister of Health, Dr Cameron. He chairs this meeting with the greatest charm and good humour but keeps efficient work underway and cleverly avoids any waste of time or undue concentration on any one subject.

The other five persons consist of representatives from agriculture, labour and the universities, and two lady members, one French and one English.

Fortunately the lady members at the present time are well equipped to contribute. Miss Sneider, herself a practising nurse, represents background in her profession, and Dr Gelinas, from the Province of Quebec, is a Public Health official.

Dr Frappier, from the University of Montreal, is also director of the School of Hygiene and director of the Institute of Microbiological Research.

This highly educated and scientific Council, each member so personally modest and conscientious, is a most encouraging body. It approaches such broad, worrisome problems as influenza, the effectiveness of immunization, lung cancer, radiation, to mention just a few of the thirty items on the agenda of this meeting.

From this group comes trustworthy and worthwhile advice to the Federal Minister of Health and Welfare and widening of horizons and means of more effective participation and contribution by the Provincial Ministers who often have a specific experience and ability.

SIX PLANES TO GUARD B.C. FORESTS

Six former RCAF Search and Rescue Canso amphibians are being groomed to make up a highly mobile task force of water bombers that will lead the aerial attack on British Columbia forest fires next year.

Successful water drops by one of the six—the second to be converted to its new role—were carried out in the summer.

The planes, which will be based at strategic locations throughout the province during the fire season, represent a bold step by Vancouver and Calgary businessmen in creation of an air fleet of heavy planes capable of carrying big payloads.

Plans call for basing three planes at Patricia Bay and three at McCall Field, Calgary.

And while the three Alberta-based planes will be available for fire fighting in both that province and in neighbouring Montana, main market for their services is expected to be B.C.'s interior forests.

"Water bombers, like ambulances, recognize no international boundaries," said Calgary lawyer M. A. Mears, president of Cal-Air Services Ltd., and that company's B.C. subsidiary, National Air Tankers Ltd.

Two Cansos of the fleet have already been converted and are operational but future conversions of four more of the venerable flying boats, which for 20 years were the mainstay of RCAF search and rescue operations, call for fitting them with the heavier Wright Cyclone engines.

The engine will mean a boost from the present 900 gallons of water to nearly 1,700 gallons, plus an increase in speed to 190 miles an hour from 125.

Initial conversions of the planes were carried out at Toronto and further refinements were made by Fairey Aviation at Sidney, B.C.

Two planes now operational represent a value of $75,000 each, Mr Mears said. The remaining four, with the heavier engines, will be worth about $100,000 apiece.

Both Cal-Air and National Air Tankers were formed early this year. Vice-president is Vancouver businessman G. W. O'Brien.

"We have studied the need for a water bomber fleet in Western Canada for some time and have come to the conclusion that the forest industry has reached the point where they can't afford the annual losses due to fires," said Mr O'Brien.

He said $44,000,000 worth of timber was lost last year.

The Canso, with its long range and ability to carry a heavy payload, will cut water bombing costs up to 75 per cent, he said.

The Canso was not designed to replace Avenger aircraft now in service but to "complement" their operation.

The heavier payload and fast reloading capability of the plane taxiing at 70 miles an hour, it can refill its two main water tanks in 20 seconds, means a radical reduction in the actual cost of water dumping.

Both companies hope to keep the planes operational on a year-round basis.

"During the winter, it would be a simple matter to send several planes to South America to help in the fire season there," said Mr Mears.

Have you ever had little beads appear on that golden meringue after it has cooled? Chances are that the egg whites were not beaten enough after the sugar was added. The sugar must be completely dissolved in the whites before baking to give a light, fine textured meringue.

The BIBLE TODAY . . .

Creole was originally the language used by European settlers and their slaves in the West Indies. It is spoken and read today in Haiti as well as several other islands of the Caribbean.

Putting the whole Bible into Creole for the people of Haiti has been a long, slow task. The first book ever published in Creole was the Gospel of Luke, shortly after World War II, by the American Bible Society.

In 1957, Raymond A. Joseph, a Haitian and a graduate of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, was appointed to oversee the translation of the whole Bible into Creole.

The New Testament and the Psalms were published in 1960. Genesis, Exodus and Proverbs have been translated and are now being checked for publication. Mr Joseph is now at work translating Isaiah into Creole.

"I may be attempting too much," he writes for the Caribbean Challenge magazine, "but I believe in 'attempting great things for God.' God willing, we in Haiti will also have God's Word in our own language, because many have cared."

FLUORIDATED WATER MAY HELP BONES

A dental research group said that preliminary findings in a year-long study indicate that fluoridated water may not only help strengthen teeth but help bone formation as well.

The study, conducted in the Aurora-Rockford, Ill., region, by Dr Harold R. Englander, Dr Rudolph dePalma and Dr Robert G. Kessel is reported in the November issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association.

The survey team chose Aurora, which has naturally fluoridated water, and Rockford, where the fluoride content is slight.

The study was made among 18- and 19-year-olds living in the towns most of their lives. Its results showed five times as much tooth loss and three times as many decayed and filled teeth among the Rockford youngsters as among the Aurorans.

Not one student in Rockford was without some amount of tooth decay. In Aurora, 13 per cent of those surveyed had perfect teeth, the researchers stated.

A greater amount of peridontal (gum) disease, including disease of the jaw structure, was found among the Rockford group. The research team said this seems to indicate that fluorides may be essential for good bone formation.

A second report in the Journal says fluoridation saved the teeth of more than 22,000 children from decay and cut the rate of tooth decay in half during a 15-year program in Evanston, Ill.

This report was made by Dr J. Roy Blayney, an emeritus professor of dental surgery at the University of Chicago.

AVOID LOSS IN STORAGE

Most of the damage to stored grain can be avoided by harvesting the grain when as dry as possible and protecting it in proper storages.

Grain stored when damp is subject to spoilage from heating, insects, mites and molds, especially during periods of high temperatures in the fall and spring, advises J. Hoes of the Morden, Manitoba, experimental farm.

Storage bins should be clean, weather - proof, rodent - proof, well ventilated and the insides treated with an insecticide some weeks before they are to be used. Suitable insecticides are lindane, malathion, methoxychlor and pyrenone.

The grain should be checked at least every two weeks for hot-spots, moisture content, insects, mites, molds, odors and crusted surfaces.

If the grain begins to spoil prompt action should be taken, such as removing spots that are heating, moving the entire bulk and fumigating.

Mr. Hoes says when the situation appears serious, it is advisable to obtain remedies from an agriculture representative or an employee of an elevator company.

CREDIT COLD WATER BEST BURNS CURE

Cold water is winning more medical votes as the best treatment for burns. It is credited with relieving pain faster and promoting faster healing.

Instead of putting grease on a hand or finger or other area burned by a stove, a match, or other heat, some recent medical advice favours bathing the burned area with cold tap water or ice water.

This idea is not new. Dr T. C. King of the University of Kansas, said. Ancient Hindu writings advised the same treatment. Some natives of India regularly apply cold water to burns.

The manual for Russian soldiers advises exposure to cold water or cold air, he added.

Whether the cold treatment would be best for humans who have suffered extensive burns cannot be answered, Dr Kin said. But the laboratory evidence tends to support cold water as a good idea at least for minor burns.

In any case, the doctors agreed, the cold water or ice packs must be applied within a few minutes. Half an hour after a burn, the cold treatment doesn't seem to do any good.

BUTTERFLY TAGGED

A butterfly with an orange and black wing has intrigued Mrs Marie Korthals, Detroit.

Taped to one of the butterfly's wings was a message "Send to museum, Toronto, Canada."

Mrs Korthals plucked the butterfly from a flower bush at her home last summer. She identified the butterfly as a "monarch."

She put it in a ventilated glass jar, then she wrote to Toronto asking: "How do you ship a butterfly by mail?"

Mrs Korthals is just one of many people helping Dr S. A. Urquhart of Toronto in his study of the migration habits of monarch butterflies. She was instructed to send it in a box—in a flat box if it was alive so that it could hardly move its wings and thus prevent damage.

Paint is fine for most things but keep it off the edges of window sashes, sash cords, rubber extension cords, locks, catches and electrical outlets.

Scotch concert proves success at Avonmore

A capacity audience in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Avonmore, gave its enthusiastic approval and applause to the many entertainers who took part in the seventh annual Scotch concert, sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

A wee bit of "Auld Scotia" was conveyed through the skirl of the pipes, the sound of dancing feet, the lyrics and music that have long been identified with Scotland.

Many of the entertainers who have been part of the local Scotch concert in recent years returned to Avonmore for the concert. In addition, there were the newcomers to the stage, all of whom were warmly welcomed and later thanked.

Among the artists who appeared in this year's concert were:

Pipers: Pipe Major George Montgomery and Miss Elizabeth MacLennan, Cornwall.

Orchestra: The Ferguson family, Avonmore—Marilyn, Carol, George and Allan.

Accordionists: Miss Sharon MacMillan, Sheldon Robertson and Miss Lyma Robertson, Moose Creek.

Highland dancers: MacCullough School of Dancing members — Kevin Flanagan, Kathy Flanagan, Ricky McElheran, Mary McDonell, Louise Chevrier, Barbara Villeneuve, Susan Kemp, Marlene MacLeod, Cheryl MacGillis, Kathleen Villenuve, Sharon MacMillan, Joanne Emburg, Lois Emburg, Heather McCulloch and Gregory MacGregor. Dances included a full range of folk dances, among them the Highland Fling. Shean Triubhas Reel of Tulloch and Flora MacDonald's Fancy.

Highland dances: Miss Heather MacDonald, Cornwall.

Tap dancing: Miss Sharon MacMillan, Moose Creek; Kevin Flanagan, Ricky McElheran and Gerry McElheran, Avonmore.

Male vocalists: Innis Campbell, Montreal, and Howard Morris, Alexandria, accompanied by Mrs Neil Bush at the piano.

E. M. O.
To The General Public
This Concerns You

The World situation is still rather difficult and as a result of the many questions being asked of this Organization it is felt that a list of questions and answers regarding personal survival would be appropriate at this time.

First we would point that the sirens installed in the City of Cornwall might sound two types of warning.

(1) The "ALERT" . . . a 3 minute Steady Note . . . which means . . . Listen to your LOCAL RADIO STATION and put your personal plans for Survival into operation.

(2) The "TAKE COVER" . . . a 3 minute Wailing Note . . . which means . . . Get under cover with enough food and water supplies to last for approximately 14 days.

In the Counties the Township Clerks will receive the Warnings by telephone and will use whatever means are at their disposal for warning the public.

All Radio stations will carry warnings which will be issued simultaneously with sirens sounding.

For your Survival the 11 recommended steps are:

1.—Know the effects of Nuclear Explosions. 2.—Know the facts about Radioactive Fallout. 3.—Know the Warning Signals and have a battery powered radio. 4.—Have some shelter to go to. 5.—Have fourteen days emergency supplies. 6.—Know how to prevent and fight fires. 7.—Know First Aid and Home Nursing. 8.—Know emergency cleanliness. 9.—Know how to get rid of radioactive dust. 10.—Know your Municipal emergency plans. 11.—Have a plan for your family.

The answers to the above are contained in a booklet obtainable as follows:

In the Counties . . . at all Township Clerks and incorporated Village Clerks offices.
In the City of Cornwall . . . at the City Police Station, Pitt Street, or E.M.O. Headquarters . . . 207 Fourth Street West, Cornwall, or at the East End Fire Station . . . First Street near 400 St. Felix Street.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

1. Q. Are we a target for attack?
   A. It is not believed we are of sufficient importance to the enemy to warrant a primary or secondary attack. This does not rule out the fact that we could be affected by random bombing.

2. Q. Why are we advised to build fallout shelters?
   A. Because, depending on wind conditions, we could receive radioactive fallout dust in this area which may be of very high intensity. The early fallout particles, which are the more dangerous, could commence falling over our area any time after the explosion. It is anticipated we would have at least ½ hour to gain protection from fallout.

3. Q. How can we protect ourselves from Radioactivity?
   A. Only by the use of dense materials such as lead, concrete, well packed earth or sand, etc. One can get protection of approximately 100 (not 100%) with a shelter built to specifications laid down in booklet, "Your Basement Fallout Shelter." If reading outside is 300 then reading inside shelter will be approximately 3.

4. Q. If we have not a shelter what can we do to protect ourselves from Fallout?
   A. Find some means of shelter, either by the use of Sandbags around the basement walls or a lean-to in the basement covered by Sandbags. Wooden or steel framed shelters covered with sand or earth to a depth of about 3' will give excellent protection. Shelters can be built inside or outside of buildings but stocking with Food and Water, Heating and keeping the shelter dry are of primary importance.

5. Q. How long would we require to stay in Shelter?
   A. This depends on the amount of radioactivity in the area and the radioactive life of the material giving off the rays. However, as a rule, one can say that when time is multiplied by 7 radiation is reduced by a factor of 10. From this it will be seen that assuming a 300 reading in the area at 7 hours after the explosion 7 x 7 hours or 49 hours (2 days) later the reading will be down to 30 and at 7 x 2 i.e. 14 days after the reading will be 3. If you are in a shelter with 100 protection the amount you will receive at 7 hours is 3, at 2 days = .3 and at 14 days .03. By taking a steady dose like this your body will be able to overcome the damage being done. If, however, you expose the whole of your body to a 300 reading for 2 hours you would almost certainly die. Similarly if you expose it to a 400 reading, i.e. 1 hour and 20 minutes at 300, there would be a 50/50 chance of your dying. It is possible that with the reading of 30 at 2 days, the public would be allowed to come out of their shelter for half hour or so. Such instructions would be given over your local radio station. (Do not listen to CONELRAD, this is for the United States only.)

6. Q. Does Radioactivity passing through foodstuffs make such food unfit to eat?
   A. No. Providing Radioactive dust is washed off, the food can be eaten. (This applies to food outside the immediate Target area.) Fruit and vegetables growing in the garden, which have passed their growing stage, can also be eaten once the radioactive dust has been washed off. However further instructions regarding foodstuffs, reintroducing cattle to grazing lands, etc., will be given by the Dept. of Agriculture after local checks for radioactivity have been made. Canned goods exposed to radiation can be eaten safely after the radioactive dust has been washed off the cans and the food emptied out of the can.

7. Q. Is water, which has been exposed to radioactivity, fit to drink?
   A. Providing it is otherwise fit for consumption and radioactive dust has not fallen into the water, the answer is "Yes." If radioactive dust has fallen into the water it should be filtered out. After filtering the water is fit for drinking. The public are advised to drink only water known to be safe.

8. Q. Do you believe there is going to be a war and if so would nuclear weapons be used?
   A. You have as much news of the world situation as I do. No one can say there is or is not going to be a war. The countries of the world may find themselves involved in war against their will due to the action of one country, i.e. the Russian build up of missile bases in Cuba, or an attempted invasion of Cuba by anti Castro parties living in the United States, or the territorial aspirations of Communist China in India, Thailand, Korea, etc. With regard to part 2 of the question, I personally believe there is no doubt that nuclear weapons would be used if it was found necessary.

9. Q. Should I try to evacuate?
   A. No. If you so wish, there is nothing to stop you evacuating—But—where would you go? You may run into danger instead of away from it. You are far better advised to stay put. If evacuation of this area is necessary after the event, the public will be given explicit instructions over the radio.

It is as well to be prepared for the worst type of disaster; then we are ready to meet any disaster which may come. If each family has its own survival plan and takes proper precautions and if we have a large number of trained personnel to look after the sick and injured, the evacuees and refugees and to rescue those trapped, we could save a large percentage of the population. IT'S UP TO YOU.

GEORGE F. JAMES UPFIELD.

McCadden–Ulmer

Of interest to a wide circle of friends is the recent marriage of Ruth Lorraine Catherine, only daughter of Mr and Mrs J. C. Ulmer, Kelowna, B.C., to Thomas B. McCadden, son of Mr and Mrs T. McCadden, Chesterville, Ont.

The couple exchanged their vows in a pretty, double-ring ceremony at Saint Therese's Church in Rutland, with Father Flynne officiating.

The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with white fan-shaped baskets of fuchsia coloured gladioli flowerets, tied with white satin ribbon, marking the guest pews.

Given away by her father, the bride made a lovely picture as she entered to the strains of the "Wedding March" played by the organist, Mrs Fred Morrison, of Lumby. Her white floor-length gown was of organza over taffeta, with a full hoop skirt and lily-point sleeves. It featured a lace yoke, with a sequin and pearl trimmed neckline and scalloped lace inserts extending down the back. A white organza pillbox headdress held the shoulder-length veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white feathered chyrsanthemums. Her only jewellery was a sculptured pearl necklace and matching earring set, a gift of the groom.

Mrs Ted McArthur, of Tofino, B.C., and Mrs J. Potterfield, of Kamloops, attended the bride, the former wearing a gown of yellow nylon over taffeta with a full skirt and matching sheer headdress. Her accessories were white and she carried a bouquet of turquoise tinted daisies.

Mrs Potterfield's gown was identical, in turquoise, with white accessories and yellow-tinted daisy bouquet. Both attendants wore a matching set of sculptured drop pearl necklace and earrings, a gift from the bride.

Mrs Ulmer received the guests in a Laurel Rose knit sheath dress, with coffee-coloured accessories. A corsage of white roses completed her ensemble.

The groom's parents were unable to attend, but phoned to convey their best wishes.

Following the ceremony, approximately 90 guests sat down to a supper at the Aberdeen Room of the Royal Anne Hotel in Kelowna, which was decorated with white streamers and wedding bells and bouquets of multi-coloured gladioli. A three-tiered wedding cake centred the bridal table, flanked by copper candelaba with white candles. The cake was embedded in white tulle intermingled with red rose buds to match the bride's bouquet.

Several telegrams of congratulations were read by the master of ceremonies, Bob Porter, a long time friend of the family.

For her honeymoon trip, the bride changed into a two-piece coral rose suit, with hat en tone, and bone-coloured accessories. A white orchid corsage completed her costume.

The couple will make their home in Smithers, where the groom is employed by the B.C. Hydro Co., and the bride is on the teaching staff.

Out of town guests were from Alberta, Vancouver, Dawson Creek, Prince George, Vernon, Lumby and Kamloops.

The bride grew up in Lumby and received all her schooling there. After becoming a teacher she taught in both the elementary and primary schools.

Crysler native dies in accident

A mother of six perished and two St. Hyacinthe, Que., residents were rushed to hospital following an accident on County Road 16 about one-half mile south of St. Andrews early Saturday evening.

Dead is Mrs Dolores Denise McIntosh, 40, of St. Andrews West.

Reported in satisfactory condition at Hotel Dieu Hospital is 30-year-oldR Romeo Chicoyne, of St. Hyacinthe, Que. His wife, Muriel, is in fair condition.

Mrs McIntosh died instantly when the car she was driving was struck from behind by the Chicoyne vehicle.

Both vehicles were totally demolished.

The accident victim is the wife of Donald J. McIntosh and resided in St. Andrews West. She was born in Crysler, May 7, 1922, a daughter of Alex H. Lanctot, who survives in Embrun, and the late Rosalba Forget.

Mrs McIntosh leaves five daughters and one son, all at home. They are Beverley, Judy, Janet, Catherine, Patricia and Donald.

Six brothers and two sisters survive.

The body rested at Miller's Funeral Home from where the funeral left Tuesday at 9.30 a.m. for requiem high mass at St. Andrew's Church, St. Andrews West, at 10 a.m. Burial followed in the parish cemetery.

SOME CHASE

Patrolman Peter Weyeth, Andover, Eng., chased a drunken motorist for a mile before he caught him. The motorist was driving a Jaguar while Weyeth was on a bicycle.

About 450 historic homes in Britain are open to the public for a fee, mostly to meet death dues and taxes.

PASS THE DONKEY

An animal protection society thinks donkeys arriving from Ireland have "mysteriously disappeared" and it fears donkey meat is finding its way into English restaurants.

Mona Huskie of the Horses' and Ponies Protection Association, said she knows some London restaurants have been dishing up donkey meat as veal.

"But it's extremely difficult to prove," she said.

"A watch is being kept on the movements of herds of donkeys in Britain."

Miss Huskie said her main complaint is that the donkeys suffer during transport, but she added:

"It is against the law to sell horse or donkey meat without declaring that you are doing so. Manufacturers share the blame. They buy this type of meat because it's easy to get—and because it's cheaper."

$600,000,000 FOR ONTARIO

The people of Ontario can make a $600,000,000 present to themselves in one year by reducing their spending on imported goods by $100 per person. This action on the part of every person in the province would help create 60,000 new jobs.

We are the world's greatest importers of manufactured goods. Contrast our yearly total with that of other countries:

Americans spend $35 per capita.
The British spend $75...
West Germans spend $60...
Canadians spend $235 per person per year on manufactured goods.

If these expenditures in Ontario on imported goods could be reduced by $100, we would still be amongst the world's greatest importers. If that $100 were diverted to Canadian goods we would add $600,000,000 to our economy and help create 60,000 new jobs!

To accomplish this, the consumer must become "label conscious"; it is the sum of all our day-to-day purchases which can add up to the success or failure of our economy. Whenever the consumer reaches out for an imported product, he or she should ask, "Is there a Canadian equivalent?"

For in most cases there is a Canadian product that is as good or better. The more money we spend on things we make, the more prosperous the people of Ontario will be!

TURTLE RESPONSE

Who would think of serenading a turtle? In the Fiji Islands there are women who do. They sing to the turtles and when the turtles hear they swim up to the surface of the water.

Someone investigating this strange custom took a tape recorder to one of the 320 islands, a hundred of which are inhabited, and watched about 20 women settle themselves on top of a rock and begin a mournful chant. This they repeated over and over again.

After a while those who were watching the water far below saw three brownish forms slowly surfacing. They were three turtles and they stayed quite a while on top of the water listening to the chanting before swimming slowly away.

HAZARD IN HIGH PLACES

High-flying jet airliners are being contaminated by radioactive fallout from nuclear bomb tests. At least one airline, British Overseas Airways Corp., is decontaminating its aircraft when they arrive at London Airport after flying so many hours in the polluted upper atmosphere, says The Financial Post.

BOAC isn't the only airline showing concern. Others are quietly monitoring the radioactivity picked up by their planes. The minute radioactive dust clings to the exterior surfaces of a plane in spite of the 600 mph airflow, due to a phenomenon called "skin friction". This is the tendency of a very thin layer of air to stick to the aircraft and move along with it. An expert on the problem of public safety in flight says that there is currently no risk to passengers or crew. But if the nuclear tests continue at their present rate and intensity a definite hazard could result.

BELIEVES MORE MONEY IN BOOKMAKING

A 25-year-old Kingsbridge, Eng., school mistress said she is going to quit the classroom to become a full-fledged bookie.

"I've decided to give up teaching and concentrate on bookmaking," said Mrs Jennifer Rogers.

For the last four years she has been teaching day school and working as a clerk-accountant for a local bookie in the evening.

"I've learned so much about bookmaking," said Mrs Rogers, "that I've decided to branch out on my own. I shall make an application for a licence."

Mrs Rogers is believed to be the first woman to seek a licence as a full-time bookie.

She explained that holding two jobs and being married was too much for her and that bookmaking should prove more profitable than teaching.

Her husband has no qualms about having a bookie for a wife.

"She's been backing horses on her own since she was 14," said Rogers, "and she does very well at it. So, I don't mind if she wants to put my shirt on a horse."

MICE LOVERS PROTEST FREIGHT RATES

The wee, sleekit, cow'rin, tim'rous beastie immortalized by Robert Burns has suddenly become the symbol of a struggle against rising costs.

It all started when someone noted that it costs more for a mouse to travel on British railways than it does for a man. The news brought an indignant squeak from the ever-growing band of Britains who enter their pets in mice shows.

Percy Ashley, 73-year-old secretary of the National Mouse Club, says that for one particular seven-mile rail trip the humans pay one shilling and threepence. To send a mouse unaccompanied costs an extra seven pennies.

The club's 368 members have diverted their attentions from making the nation rodent-conscious to getting their "freight" rates cut.

To add weight to the campaign they have called in help from the British Rabbit Council and delegates from guinea pig clubs. These, too, are peeved about the rates.

So far British railways has refused to take action. They say that unaccompanied mice constitute parcels and the cost depends on weight. Carrying small insignificant parcels is uneconomic, say the railwaymen.

Linen which must be stored will not turn yellow if it is placed between layers of dark-blue tissue paper.

ADVERTISING PAYS

A West German manufacturer discovered that advertising pays —with a vengeance.

When he offered 500 free watches in Bonn newspaper advertisements to celebrate the opening of a new branch in the West German capital he hoped for an enthusiastic reception.

He got a riot.

More than an hour before the give-away, a howling, struggling, fighting mob had gathered before the shop, in one of the capital's busiest and narrowest streets. Police in radio cars and trucks fought deseperately but in vain to clear away the hundreds blocking the street.

Only when it was announced that disposal of the free watches—and all other business—had been suspended by the manager, did the mob finally disperse.

IT'S TIME TO THINK ABOUT FRUIT CAKES

WHEN THE TOP CRUMB BEGINS to collect his hunting gear I know it is time to think about making fruit cake.

I am not very daring when it comes to fruit cakes. I have two recipes I am particularly fond of and even though I have tried others from time to time I always return to one or other of them. So here they are again.

Fruity Christmas Cake

2 cups seedless raisins
1 cup currants
1½ cups separated seeded raisins
1 cup drained red maraschino or candied cherries (or a mixture of red cherries and green candied cherries)
1 cup almonds, slivered
1 cup cut-up pitted dates
1½ cups slivered or chopped mixed candied peels and citron
1 cup cut-up candied pineapple or other candied fruits
1 tbsp. finely-chopped candied ginger
3 cups sifted pastry flour
1½ tsps. baking powder
¾ tsp. salt
1½ tsps. ground cinnamon
½ tsp. grated nutmeg
½ tsp. ground ginger
¼ tsp. ground cloves
1 cup butter
1¼ cups lightly-packed brown sugar
6 eggs
¼ cup molasses
1/3 cup cold strong coffee

Wash and dry the seedless raisins and currants. Wash and dry the seeded raisins, if necessary, and cut into halves. Cut cherries into halves. Blanch the almonds and cut into slivers. Prepare the dates, peels and citron, candied pineapple or other fruits, and ginger.

Sift together three times the flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon ,nutmeg, ginger and cloves; add prepared fruits and nuts, a few at a time, mixing until fruits are separated and coated with flour.

Cream the butter; gradually blend in the sugar. Add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition; stir in molasses. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with coffee, combining thoroughly after each addition. Turn batter into a deep 8-inch square cake pan that has been lined with three layers of heavy paper and the top layer greased with butter; spread evenly.

Bake in a slow oven, 300 degrees, 2¾ to 3 hours. Let cake stand in its pan on a cake cooler until cold. Store in a crock, or wrap in waxed paper and store in a tin.

A few days before cake is to be cut, top with almond paste and ornamental icing; just before cutting, cake may be decorated attractively.

Light Fruit Cake

16 oz. mixed fruitcake fruits
¼ cup chopped candied pineapple
¼ cup preserved or candied ginger
½ cup chopped dried apricots
½ cup chopped moist figs
2 cups light raisins
3 oz. pkg. blanched almonds, cut in slivers
2 cups flaked cocoanut
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ tsps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 cup butter or shortening
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. rum extract or sherry
5 eggs
½ cup unsweetened pineapple juice

Mix all fruits, nuts and cocoanut. Cream butter thoroughly. Add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flavouring and eggs one at a time. Beat thoroughly. If the mixture curdles slightly do not be alarmed as it will not affect the finished cake. Sift flour then measure it and sift with remaining dry ingredients. Use ½ cup of flour mixture to dredge fruits. Add flour mixture and pineapple juice alternately to egg mixture. Stir in fruits and nuts. Pour into two loaf pans which have been lined with foil and greased. Bake at 275 degrees for 3½ hours. Place pan of water in bottom of oven during baking.

Almond Icing

1 lb. shelled almonds
3 egg yolks
1 lb. icing sugar
1 tsp. rose water
½ tsp. bitter almond flavouring

Blanch almonds; put through the food chopper or roll with a rolling pin. Work to a paste; add unbeaten yolks, flavouring and sugar gradually. Work until very smooth, adding more sugar if necessary. Sprinkle board with icing sugar, place almond paste on it and roll to required shape. Moisten the top of cake with cold water, press icing on it, allow to stand 24 hours before frosting.

Frosting for Fruit Cake

1¾ cups icing sugar
½ cup condensed milk
1½ tsps. vanilla

Stir sifted icing sugar into the condensed milk. Add vanilla. Beat until smooth and creamy. This frosting has the advantage that it does not get too hard.

LOOSENING SCREWS

To loosen screws which are set so tight that an ordinary screwdriver simply will not budge them, here is a technique the handyman can try:

First, place the blade of the screwdriver in the screw slot, then tap the handle lightly with a hammer. If this doesn't jar the screw loose, then grab the flat part of the blade with a pair of pliers while maintaining pressure against the screw slot. The pliers will provide the needed added leverage to permit loosening the screw in almost all cases. However, care must be exercised to avoid bending the tip of the screwdrived blade with excessive pressure.
