McIntosh Apple To Get Plaque This Saturday

This Saturday, September 22, starting at 2.00 p.m., an historical plaque commemorating John McIntosh, discoverer of the McIntosh Red Apple, will be unveiled on the farm of H. A. MacIntosh, Dundela, Dundas County. This plaque is one of a series being erected throughout the province by the Department of Travel and Publicity, acting on the advice of the Archaeological and Historic Sites Board of Ontario.

Saturday's ceremony is being sponsored by the Township Council of Matilda, whose Reeve, Mahlon W. Zeron, will act as program chairman. Among those taking part in the ceremony will be: Dr. G. F. G. Stanley, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, a member of the province's Historic Sites Board; R. Smith, Warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry; and E. K. Pearson, Agricultural Representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture for the County of Dundas. The plaque will be unveiled by the Hon. Fred M. Cass, Q.C., Ontario's Minister of Municipal Affairs, and Dr. Pember MacIntosh, great-grandson of John McIntosh. Rev. C. A. Adey, Minister of Brinston United Church, will perform the dedication.

The McIntosh Red Apple is well and favourably known to Canadians, and has achieved a world-wide reputation. To understand its history, one must go back to the early days of settlement in this province.

John McIntosh, the discoverer and original propagator of this apple, came to Canada from the United States in 1796. His parents had emigrated earlier from Inverness, Scotland, and settled in the Mohawk Valley, N. Y., where John was born in 1777. He married Hannah Doran and lived for a time in Upper Canada beside the St. Lawrence River east of the present community of Iroquois. In 1811 he exchanged his land for an underdeveloped farm lot on the 5th Concession of Matilda Township.

While clearing his new property John McIntosh found 20 or more small apple trees. These he replanted in the area he had laid out for a garden. One of them, possessing superior fruit, survived, and it is from this historic tree that the famous McIntosh Red Apple spread throughout the world.

John's son, Allan, established a well organized apple nursery, and propagated and promoted the new species extensively. Its delicious flavour and spectacular appearance soon made it a prime favourite. Widely acclaimed in Ontario and the northern United States, it was introduced into British Columbia about 1910, and later into many other countries.

The plaque is situated only a short distance from the site where the original McIntosh Red tree stood. That tree continued to bear fruit until about 1906, although it had been damaged by the fire that destroyed the farm house in 1894. Apart from its own value, the McIntosh Red has been used in the propagation of many other famous varieties, including the Courtland, Joyce and Melba.

Chance played a part in the apple's discovery, but much is owed to the initiative and hard work of the pioneer McIntosh family who propagated and promoted this famous fruit, which has become a household word throughout large sections of the world.

Kathryn Summers Still Winning

Winchester High School's fleet track star Kathryn Summers chalked up more victories over the week-end.

Running at the Verdun Olympic Meet in the Midget class, Kathryn won a first in the Broad jump, stretching the tape to 14 feet four inches, two feet more than her nearest competitor. She also won a second in the 60-yard dash and a third in the 100-yard dash.

Graham Bursary Will Assist C.H.S. Students

Introduced for the first time this year and designed to be an annual award the Graham Memorial Bursary of $300.00 has been presented to Mari Vil Manson, a Grade 13 student of Chesterville High School.

The Bursary, in memory of their parents, is made possible by Chesterville Record Editor Keith Graham, Allison Graham, Chesterville High School Principal, and Miss Aura Graham, of Niagara Falls. The Bursary is designed to assist deserving students who wish to continue their education and it will be awarded on the judgment of the donors in co-operation with the principal of the school. It is applicable to students and graduates of Chesterville High School and will continue each year. All applications for the bursary from Grades 12, 13 and university students will be reviewed each year before the actual award is announced.

It is expected that a similar bursary may be set up for Winchester High School students in the near future.

TORIES OPTIMISTIC

Enthusiasm For Premier Robarts In Eastern Ontario

Ontario Premier John P. Robarts and Mrs. Robarts were given warm and enthusiastic receptions by Eastern Ontario on two occasions last week when they visited both Cornwall and Morrisburg.

At Morrisburg the popular Premier and his wife were given a standing ovation by a packed Morrisburg Civic Auditiorium of more than 300 Tories. The occasion was the first annual banquet of the Grenville-Dundas Progressive Conservative Women's Association, and Premier Robarts was the guest speaker. According to Association President Mrs. Parker Locke and secretary Mrs. Arthur Edgerton the number of tickets actually sold did not nearly meet the demand from across the riding.

Introduced by the Hon. Fred M. Cass, Ontario Minister of Municipal Affairs and MLA for Grenville-Dundas, Mr. Robarts urged members of the Progressive Conservative Party to "encourage workers to start campaign activities at once, to be prepared and victory will follow." Although he did not state any definite date he left little doubt of an Ontario election being called, probably next Spring.

Mr. Robarts also lent support to the federal government's dollar devaluation and cited actual examples of where this move had paid off in the tourist industry right in Seaway Valley which has been enjoying an unprecedented year. He outlined the increased numbers at Upper Canada Village and said that more than 2,000,000 people would visit the system of St. Lawrence Parks before the season closes later in October.

He reviewed the tax assistance set up by his government and said that education grants to the riding (Grenville-Dundas) were more than $1,500,000 last year compared to $100,000 in 1944.

Answering critics who implied that his cabinet was "too old" he replied by saying "I am not too old and I'm ready to work." He said the current Ontario government combines youth and action with age and experience to give effective, energetic administration.

Commenting on the highways program in the province he said that once the trans-provincial plan had been completed he believed more money could be directed to the municipalities.

He was thanked by Mrs. Jean Casselman, MP for Grenville-Dundas.

Mrs. Parker Locke presided at the meeting and introduced head table guests including: Mrs. Lois Edgerton, secretary of the Women's Association; G. William Gorrell, president of Morrisburg PC Association; Fred Broder, honorary president of the Grenville-Dundas PC Association; Mrs. Fred M. Cass, Hon. Fred M. Cass, Mrs. John P. Robarts, Gordon W. Thom, and W. Reg. Workman, respective presidents of the Grenville-Dundas

Big Majority

MORRISBURG GOES WET ALL THE WAY

Favours Cocktail Lounges And Liquor With Meals

A light vote but a resounding majority seems to sum up Monday's liquor vote in Morrisburg.

With about 40 per cent. of the eligible voters going to the polls in a day of heavy rains, the final count showed that 385 voters favoured the sale of liquor by the glass against the 126 who voted the "no" ticket.

More than 70 per cent. of the ballots favoured cocktail lounges and 71 per cent. the serving of liquor in licensed dining rooms.

Morrisburg already has government controlled retail outlets for the sale of beer and liquor as well as a licensed hotel for the serving of beer.

It is believed that the booming tourist industry which is lending great assistance to Morrisburg's economy had much to do with the result which makes Morrisburg the first town in the area in a position to have cocktail lounges.

MLA For Stormont Peter Manley Injured When Cows Stampede

Peter Manley, MLA for Stormont, suffered undetermined back injuries at his farm home near Berwick early Monday when a herd of cows stampeded, knocking him against a rock.

Mr. Manley was taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital where he is undergoing extensive X-rays and being treated for undetermined back injuries, contusions and shock. He was attended at the scene of the accident by Dr. Howard Justus of Chesterville.

Mr. Manley, Liberal MLA for Stormont and well known farmer, was bringing cows into the barn for the morning milking when something apparently frightened them causing the herd to stampede.

Hospital officials said Mr. Manley would probably remain in hospital for a few days or until extent of his injuries have been determined.

100 Club To-night

Something a little different in the way of 100 Club Luncheon-meetings will take place this Thursday evening when Winchester 100 Club resumes its meetings after a two-month recess. Thursday night will be a "Father-Daughter" banquet and all Centurians are asked to bring their daughters to this banquet if they have one, or to bring a friend's daughter if the family is made up of sons only.

Committee in charge is composed of Max Boyd, Raymond Earl and Rudy Topolinsky, and a good program has been planned for the evening.

The banquet will be held at the Masonic Temple starting at seven o'clock.

Vancamp United Plans Anniversary

Special services marking the anniversary of Vancamp United Church will be held this Sunday, September 23rd. Morning service will start at 10.30, while the evening service will get underway at eight o'clock.

The guest speaker at the morning service will be Rev. John Cook of Maynard, and special music will be provided by Hallville United Church choir under the direction of Mrs. Andrew Logan.

At the evening service the speaker will be Rev. William Macrh of Morrisburg. Music will be provided by an Ottawa choir under the leadership of Mrs. G. E Hopson.

A Helping Hand From MDHS

The desire to help and the friendship which exists among district High Schools was in evidence again this week. Since the devastating fire which completely destroyed Winchester High School last February the Student Council, and the school in general, has been the recipient of many gifts and helpful acts from other district schools.

Latest assistance comes from nearby Mountain District High School. On Monday of this week, in a brief but meaningful ceremony Head Boy and Girl of Mountain District, David Harris and Kathy Beamish, journeyed to Winchester where before the Grade 13 students of Winchester High School located in the Legion Hall they presented Winchester Head Boy and Girl, Richard Holmes and Lynne Davidson, with a detailed and colourful Canadian Atlas. This fine book is designed especially for the Geography course being taught in High Schools to-day and should become a great help to all students studying this course.

The Atlas, an extra large size edition, was purchased last year by MDHS students but was received only this week.

The Atlas was gratefully accepted by the students who voiced the appreciation of Winchester High School to Mountain District for their generous donation.

Mrs. Wm. McIntyre Dies Following Long Illness

A highly respected and beloved resident of Mountain Township, Mrs. W. M. McIntyre, died at her home last Thursday evening, following a lengthy illness.

In her 68th year, she was the former Hazel E. Mill, a daughter of Anna Rose and the J. L. Mill of Mountain Township.

In 1926 she married William McIntyre and moved to the McIntyre homestead where together they had farmed since that time. The late Mrs. McIntyre was held in high esteem by a host of friends in the Mountain communities for her neighbourly kindnesses and her staunch activities in Mountain United Church, of which she was a member; in Mountain W. M. S., the Women's Institute and all community activities.

The deceased is survived by her husband, William; her mother, Mrs. J. L. Mill, and a niece, Marie Greeniaus, of Dorval, Quebec. A brother, Clair, predeceased her some time ago.

The funeral service was conducted on Sunday afternoon from the Armstrong Funeral Home to Mountain United Church by Rev. S. D. Robertson. Interment took place at South Gower Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Ewart Simms, James Baker, Norman Black, Clair VanAllen, Duncan Cameron and Samuel B. Simms.

The many floral tributes as well as donations to the Gideon Bible Society, Cancer Research Fund and Mission work were silent tributes to the memory of Mrs. McIntyre.

Mrs. J. Shaver 90 Years Old

Congratulations are extended this week to a respected senior citizen of Russell, Mrs. J. Shaver, who on Saturday, September 29th, will observe her 90th birthday. Formerly of Morewood, the many friends in the district of Mrs. Shaver join in wishing her well on this important milestone in her life.

Pearson's Duty?

Lester B. Pearson, once a great representative of this country in foreign affairs, contents himself to-day with an urgent desire to become the Prime Minister of Canada. At least, from his changed attitude in the last election and his statements since the election it would seem that nothing, now, is more important than becoming Prime Minister. Perhaps this day will arrive — and perhaps not.

Conscientious thinking citizens of this country, including those of all parties, must be just a little concerned about Mr. Pearson's insistent words that it is "his duty" to call a vote of confidence perhaps as early as October 1st while the speech from the throne is still being debated.

His duty! These are big words, important words for a man in Mr. Pearson's position. As official leader of the Opposition he must take into consideration all facts of the present situation. He must not, primarily, be inspired by the green political pastures which he may see in the not so distant future. Rather, he must weigh the situation carefully, determine in his own mind as a good Canadian if the present government is doing anything worthwhile to conduct the affairs of the country, to alleviate our economic problems, to strengthen our dollar. He must decide, as a Canadian and not as a leader of a political party if another election this year is truly warranted — if, for that matter, the Canadian people and their representatives can stand the pace and the economic pressure of another national election.

We think not! And we think most serious-minded Canadians will agree. Certainly the present government has done much to meet certain problems since the June election. Our trade is up, unemployment is down, the dollar has indeed been strengthened and our prestige abroad remains high.

The present government, although a minority government, nevertheless enjoys a better representation from across Canada than any other party. A look at the results shows that the Conservative administration has won seats in every province, a good cross section which the other parties do not possess.

So, if Mr. Pearson still insists it is "his duty" to call for a non-confidence vote we must heartily disagree. If he follows through with his present plans he is not representing Canada but the Liberal party only. His "duty" will be his "duty" to his party, not to his country, and it will satisfy not necessarily Canadians in general, but Lester Pearson in particular.

If there were an emergency demanding immediate changes, if we were being led down the creek by an irresponsible government, if any of the things which cause an election did exist, Mr. Pearson would be quite right in saying it is "his duty" to ask for a vote of confidence. But these things simply do not exist, although certain of the other parties will insist that they do if for no other reason but personal gain. It's a pretty mess facing the Canadian people. We hope between now and the end of this month there will be enough adverse comment to persuade Mr. Pearson to act with good sense for the good of all Canada.

Facts About The Automobile

Thinking of buying a new car this year? Well, with the new models about to be unveiled no doubt you are giving the matter some thought. If you do buy a new one you will very likely be one of three or four hundred thousand Canadians who will buy new vehicles this year.

Automobile manufacturing, of course, is big business. According to the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce we spent $1,551,408,000 on new vehicles in 1961. This figure could be surpassed this year. This figure does not take into account the cost of operation, or repairing older vehicles or many other cost factors.

Last year in Canada some 327,979 passenger cars and 62,918 commercial vehicles were manufactured in Canada. During that time 227,809 passenger cars and 51,128 commercial vehicles came to the end of the trail. Total number of vehicles registered in the country climbed to more than five and a half million,

Although the Canadian car industry is overshadowed by its big brother in United States it is, nevertheless, a vital link in the economy of our nation. And according to many reports, cars assembled in Canada seem to be better than their American counterparts.

Most of this information is available in the Automombile C. of C. annual booklet which came off the press just recently. Practically all makes of cars and their sales in different provinces are listed.

Ontario-wise the sale of new cars in this Eastern Ontario area is, indeed, very good and most car dealers in the area will sustain this statement. From all accounts car dealers are again looking forward to a bumper year with the advent of the new 1963 models.

Meditations

BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Ecclesiastes 1:3 — "What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun?"

Wise King Solomon, the writer of Ecclesiastes, had lived a distinguished life. He was privileged to enjoy great wealth and wisdom. By human standards success was written over all he did. It was this wise and wealthy king and not a pauper that asked concerning the profit of labour.

When a successful, wealthy and internationally-praised wise man asks concerning the profit of labour, everyone suspects a deeper meaning. It is as plain as can be that the question does not concern monetary profit. In Solomon's case labour brought profit-plus.

King Solomon has conditioned his question. His question is both general and restricted. It is general in that it applies to all men. It is restricted in that it deals with only one kind of profit, that which is left to men after death. It is also restricted in that it limits itself to labour under the sun, that which men do on this sin-cursed world for the things of the world. Or in other words, the question is conditioned so that one must answer what good life is lived only "under the sun" and not "under God."

King Solomon, being endowed with a greater measure of wisdom than any man living, knew that at death one leaves all his earthly possessions behind. He knew that if a man has lived only for earthly riches, he has no profit remaining to him, as Scripture declares, "For what is a man advantaged if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away.—(Luke 9:25).

There are two ways in which a man may spend his time on earth. Both of these have eternal rewards. That is why this question is so important, for Scripture warns, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."—Gal. 6:7-8. Scripture's warning is clear. There are rewards for this life's labours to everyone of us. What will our reward be That depends on what we have lived and toiled for on this earth.

It is sommanded that man shall work. It is also a divine gift that man may enjoy many pleasures on this earth. But above and through it all these important questions are answered by each one: What are you working for? What will be your eternal profit? Scripture's answer is unmistakeably clear, "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you."—John 6:27. What are YOU working for?

WHERE ARE BIG TUB, LITTLE TUB, LARGE FLOWERPOT AND SMALL FLOWERPOT?

All in or near Tobermory, an Ontario village. Tobermory is at the northern tip of Bruce Peninsula on Lake Huron. This picturesque village has two harbours. One is very large, has floating docks and can accommodate huge ships taking shelter from storms. This harbour is called Big Tub. Most of the village is built around the second, smaller harbour, known as Little Tub. Ships bound for Tobermory pass by Flowerpot Island, a 300-acre national park, four miles offshore. The island boasts two curious rock formations, one 50 feet high, the other 20 feet. Small shrubs and trees crown Large Flowerpot and Small Flowerpot, as these formations are known.

WHAT IS THE SMALLEST MINORITY OF BRITISH ISLES ORIGIN IN CANADA?

The Manx. Manxmen first came to Canada in the early 1800's and a trickle of immigration from the little isle in the Irish Sea has continued to the present day. The largest group of Manx in Canada lives in Vancouver, where the climate resembles that of the Isle of Man. The Manx people are of Viking and Celtic origin, rather than Anglo-Saxon. They adapt easily to Canadian life and many have won leading positions in the professions and industry, despite the smallness of their numbers.

Of Many Things

BY AMBROSE HILLS

NATIONAL PROBLEMS

The Board of Broadcast Governors held hearings in Winnipeg recently so I was able to sit in on most of their deliberations. I was struck by the fact that Canada's thin ribbon of population posed so many problems for broadcasting.

Thinking it over, nearly all our national services are hampered by the fact that our population is small, our country rugged, and our people divided by two different languages. In addition to these handicaps, we live beside one of the most dynamic nations in the world's history.

It is remarkable how much we have been able to get done despite these handicaps. We have become a great manufacturing nation, although the bulk of our potential market lies outside of our own boundaries. We have won a fine reputation among the nations of the world for our stability and good sense. We are, little by little, becoming completely bilingual.

A good deal is being said these days about "planning," and it seems to me that Canadians have been mighty good planners or we would not have achieved so much under difficult circumstances. Ours is certainly not an unplanned society — we have always had some national goals in view and we have aimed pretty high and well.

It seems to me that those who now urge upon us a "planned" economy instead of a free one really are urging compulsion rather than co-operation. Canadians do co-operate in freedom toward the achievement of national objectives. If they had not done so they could not have built so well in the face of so many difficulties.

We have our national problems. We know the cause of them is partly our lack of a large population. We are doing something about that — too slowly, I admit — and we are maintaining a very extensive schedule of social services. That is a pretty good score. It would seem to me that there is every reason to feel confident about our future.

4. THE PUBLISHER

Functions Of A Weekly Newspaper

This is the fourth in a series of editorial features on the function of a newspaper.

* * * *

The person who has the final responsibility for any newspaper is the publisher, or publishers as the case may be. He lays down the newspaper's policy and has supervision over all departments.

The publisher's responsibility extends to every word and every picture printed in his paper. He is held responsible for all news items and editorial comments and has secondary responsibility for paid advertisements and articles. Publication of a letter over the author's name does not necessarily free a publisher from his responsibility. Needless to add, therefore, why some letters are "held" by the publisher which may not be of interest to the community served by the newspaper and which could do more harm than good. Some may even be slanderous, something which the publisher must watch carefully at all times.

The editor has the day-to-day task of carrying out the paper's policies as laid down by the publisher. Quite often in a weekly newspaper the editor and publisher may be one and the same person. Reporters, writers, photographers and others work under the direction of the editor. The space and treatment any particular story receives will depend on the editor's judgment. Quite often in a weekly newspaper, and in others too, outright demands are made to have this or that placed on page one or some other choice spot in the paper. To-day's editor must listen to these requests but is not obligated to follow them. In the case of most good weeklies the co-operation of the editor will be received but it is his job, and only his, on where and why such a news item is published.

Broadly speaking, therefore, the publisher lays down the policy of a newspaper and the editor carries it out. Outside interference, of course, is not appreciated and in the majority of cases to-day has little effect on the publisher and the editor who should know, first of all, what is best for their newspaper.

The Seventh Column

At the rate the Ontario government is putting up plaques across the province Ontario could soon be well known as the "plaque province." And with Eastern Ontario sharing in the great heritage of our banner province no few numbers are finding their rightful places in many parts of the Golden Triangle. A lot of people will probably laugh off these short but impressive ceremonies. However, there's more to it than the simple commemoration and the creation of a plaque or monument. The reasons behind these ceremonies and plaques are good reasons why all of us should be mighty proud to be Canadians and, more particularly, citizens of this great province. For instance, this Saturday at Dundela another plaque will be unveiled to the memory of John McIntosh and his now famous McIntosh apple. Residents in this area should take a great deal of pride in this particular plaque. The McIntosh apple to-day is regarded world wide for its quality—and it was first grown right here in Dundas county. And finally, these plaques are ideal for members of many, many historic societies who do a lot of travelling — and most tourists, whether you believe it or not, are interested in history and little plaques like these. So, here's for more plaques.

Now that the crops are almost off and the harvesting well on the way, the time has arrived for the "working up" or Fall plowing of this fertile land which enriches our area. And if you want to see some better than average plowing it might be a good idea to whip over to Don Guy's farm, about a mile east of Inkerman, on September 28th. The occasion is the annual Dundas County Plowing Match — and you'll find that plowing is still quite an art.

On more than one occasion last week we were privileged to converse with Ontario Premier John Robarts. In the past year we have met this man no fewer than six or eight times and each time we seem to like him a little more. He is a man who combines the basic, good ingredients of everyday folk — a blend of humbleness with integrity and intelligence. And right now, in anticipation of a provincial election in the next year, he is going out of his way to meet Ontario citizens and to ask them directly where improvements can be made for the good of all Ontario. Last week John Robarts won a lot of confidence in Eastern Ontario at Cornwall and Morrisburg where he and his charming wife greeted hundreds of people personally. These are the kind of traits we like to see in our political leaders and, so far as we are concerned, there should be more of this kind of thinking by more of our representatives.

This may be the year of "the big freeze." According to a recent American medical bulletin patients whose duodenal ulcers were so bad they seriously considered surgery are obtaining at least temporary relieve by having their stomachs frozen. And with the number of duodenal ulcers making the rounds, don't be surprised if you see George walking down the street with an ice pack — not around his head but around his stomach. And if this cure is as good as they say it is, maybe we'll see a new style this winter for men — bare midriffs for automatic stomach freezing. And, of course, if the freeze is too much there's always another tonic used by many for "thawing out" purposes. Trouble is this kind of tonic and ulcers don't get along too well. In any event, we'll be watching for the ice packs.

Not so long from now the "big shoot" gets underway and although they call it "accidental" a lot of experts are referring to it now as "Bush murder." We refer, of course, to the deer hunter, — duck hunters are just about as dangerous when the 12--guage goes off — who sometimes shoots at anything and everything without checking. There's nothing wrong with hunting, it's the hunter. So this year if you are one of the thousands who plans to make the trek to the northlands just remember that there are a few simple rules of safety to follow. By exercising them each time you go hunting you are not only assuring yourself a safe return, but that of your partner. Good hunting — for deer that is!

In this age of high automation and expert business computer devices the following story out of Toronto seems to bring up a good point. Seems machines are witless, but Toronto employees of a major airline are beginning to wonder about the one that turns out their pay cheques. All on its own recently, it gave raises to the lower-salaried members of the staff and cut the pay of the higher-priced help. It issued one woman office worker a cheque for more than a million dollars — not a bad salary for one week, what! The report didn't say what happened to the machine, but if you'll take a close look in the junk yard . . . .

Abercrombie, Les Lye's other half, each morning on CFRA is always coming up with a few well chosen words—mostly about women. This week Ab. claims that in Hollywood many a girl carries a torch for a man — because she doesn't trust him in the dark!

Sugar and Spice

By Bill Smiley

Do you like autumn? I do. For me it's the epitome of all that's best in Canada. You can have your spring, glorious spring, with its drizzles and its mud and its chilling winds. You can have your summer, with its particular pests — tourists, bugs, visitors. And you can most definitely have winter in its every possible aspect. Just give me about six months of that September-October weather, and you couldn't drag me out of this country to the island of Bali.

* * * *

I know that, according to the rhythm of nature, Fall is supposed to be a time of dying, of melancholy, of shrivelling on the vine, of preparing for the deep, dead sleep of winter.

* * * *

Maybe Canadians are just contrary, but they don't react in the way they're supposed to at all, in the fall. Instead of carefully preparing for winter, drawing in their horns, and going around with long faces, they bust out all over as soon as that first nip is felt in the morning air.

* * * *

Perhaps they're just fooling themselves, but Canadians act as though they love the Fall. They come to life. They bustle. They form committees, make plans, have parties. They even start going to church. Perhaps it's just a last hysterical fling, a frantic escape from reality, with the grim prospect of six months' winter ahead, but they certainly burn with a clear, gem-like flame while it lasts.

* * * *

Where is the sober householder who should be chinking up the nooks and crannies, putting on the storm windows, getting in his fuel supply, and battening down all the hatches for the bitter voyage that looms ahead.

* * * *

I'll tell you where he is, on his day off. He's standing in ice water up to his nipples, trying to catch a rainbow trout. Or out on the golf course, so bundled with sweaters he can hardly swing. Or he's sitting with a noggin, watching the football game on television. That's where he is.

* * * *

And where's the guidewife, who should be knitting woollen socks, putting down preserves and canned meat, airing the flannelette sheets, patching the family's long underwear, and quilting a quilt?

* * * *

I'll tell you where she is. She's on the phone, talking about what she's going to wear to the tea. Or she's off in the car to attend a wedding. Or she's out playing bingo. Or she's taking in an auction sale. Or she's sitting around with her feet up, watching the afternoon movie. That's where she is.

* * * *

It must shake our pioneer ancestors rigid to look down, or up, from their present abode, and see us preparing for winter. About this time of year, grandfather was killing a beef, shooting a deer, salting down a hog, making apple cider, stacking vast piles of firewood and hustling his wheat to the mill.

* * * *

It must rot his celestial socks to look down and see his grandson hunting deer for a holiday, buying his pig pre-cooked at the meat counter, and laying in his fuel supply by picking up the phone and calling the oil dealer.

* * * *

And what about Granny? In her day, Fall was the time when you worked like a beaver, making sausage, spinning wool, putting eggs away in waterglass, filling the root cellar, making candles and soap.

She must do a little quiet cussing, in the shadow of her halo, when she sees her granddaughter facing up to the rigors of winter; racked by the dreadful indecision of whether to buy a home freezer or a fur coat; torn by the dilemma of whether to have the cleaning woman come once or twice a week.

* * * *

But, of course, that's looking at only one side of the situation. Granddaddy didn't have to worry about anti-freeze, atom bombs, income tax or payments on the car. He didn't need suppositories, diets and a new tail-pipe every time he turned around.

* * * *

And Granny didn't have to cope with a kitchenful of machinery, kids who were smarter than she was, and the late movie. She didn't need sleeping pills, cigarettes or psychology.

* * * *

Say, come to think of it, those WERE the good old days. They didn't have much, but what they had was their own, not the finance company's. No auto accidents, no alcoholics anonymous, no aspirin. Let's stop worrying about the hardships of our pioneer ancestors and get back to sweating over our own neurotic chaos.

Final Tribute Paid Memory Of Sherwood Coons

Friends and relatives paid their final tribute to the memory of Sherwood Coons at the Vice and Craig Funeral Home on Tuesday last. Rev. D. L. Gordon, of Morewood United Church, conducted the service, and burial was made in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

The late Mr. Coons was born at Iroquois, a son of the late Milton Coons and his wife, Fanny Bell Cass. He moved to Cass Bridge at the age of nine and attended public school there. He returned to Iroquois to complete his education at Iroquois High School.

He joined his father on the family farm at Cass Bridge. In 1918 he married the former Grace Kathleen MacMillan at Finch. With the help of his wife, who predeceased him earlier this year, he devoted his life to farming. He was keenly interested in all agricultural activities, especially the Dundas Holstein Breeders' Club and the Dundas Soil and Crop Improvemnet Association.

Surviving are four daughters: Mrs. Harold McMenomy (Dorothy) of Inkerman; Mrs. John W. Foster (Fanny), of London; Mrs. Joseph C. Hindlye (Irene), of Rockwood, and Mrs. Orval Morton (Ella) of Inverary; two sons, Hugh, of Cass Bridge, and Fred of Vernon, and seventeen grandchildren.

Dr. Kenneth Prior Addresses U.C.W. At Hallville

Following thirty years of service in evangelism, education, medicine and agriculture in Africa, Dr. Prior was appointed Field Secretary for the Board of World Missions in 1954. His enlightening address brought to the fore a vivid picture of the vast scope of work being done, and yet to be done, in the poverty-stricken and over-populated Far East.

Mr. Mervyn Peters, pastor of the charge, introduced the guest speaker.

The opening worship service was conducted by four presidents of U. C. W. on the charge: Mrs. Fenton Hyndman, Hallville; Mrs. Russell Suffel, Inkerman; Miss Edna Swerdfeger, Vancamp, and Mrs. Chas. Patterson, Reid's Mills.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the Hallville ladies. Mrs. Ray Brown, Inkerman, expressed appreciation to Dr. Prior, members of Hallville U. C. W. and others who had contributed to the interesting meeting.

Vernon

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Porteous on the birth of their son, Peter James, on September 10th at the Winchester hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Matthews, newlyweds, of Toronto, spent a few days recently with his cousin, Mrs. George Lewis, and also visited the other Lewis' families.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Furlong (nee Dorothy Patterson) who were married on Saturday in Ottawa, after which dinner was enjoyed by the guests at the Red Door Restaurant. A reception in the evening followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ob. Patterson.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coons in the death of his father, Sherwood Coons, last week.

A surprise birthday party was held recently at the home of Alex Mulligan to honour Mrs. Howard McConnell. Several persons attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Porteous and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Porteous left Friday for St. Catharines and attended the wedding of their nephew, Rev. Howard McIlveen, of Cardinal.

Ellis Family Holds Reunion

A reunion of the family and descendants of the late Samuell Shepherd Ellis and his wife, the late Sarah Jane Corker, of Pleasant Valley, was held recently at the summer homes on Lake St. Lawrence of Mrs. Robert MacRorie and Mrs. Harold Mullen, who are the daughters of the late Mrs. Mervyn Colborne (nee Ethel Ellis) of Ogdensburg, formerly of Heckston.

As this was the first reunion of any magnitude, no attempt was made to form an organization, and the day was very pleasantly spent in renewing old acquaintances and getting to know new members of the family.

The two surviving daughters of Samuel Ellis were present—Mrs. Arthur Fader (Mabel), of Iroquois, and Mrs. G. Ira Shaver (Bertha), of Ottawa, together with their children and grandchildren. There were in all sixty-eight members of the family present, coming from Ottawa, Toronto, Cornwall, Winchester, Manotick, Brinston, Prescott, Montreal and Aylmer, Que.

It is proposed to make this gathering an annual event and the date for 1963 has been set as the second Sunday in August. If there are any who have not been already advised, and who would like to join their relatives, will they be good enough to write to Mrs. Robert MacRorie of Heuvelton, N. Y., or to Mrs. W. Howard Boyles (nee Mary Ellis), 677 Warwick Drive, Baie d'Urfe, Que.

Unusual Growth!

Where growth is vigorous there is often the unusual. This week Hobart Holmes of Winchester brought three good size tomatoes to the office of The Press. The tomatoes, all three, had three ear-like lobes, perfectly proportioned, growing from the top. The lobes measured about an inch in length and about one inch in circumference. The unusual part was that the lobes were identical on all three tomatoes.

MAKE DAIRY RATION WITH LOCAL GRAIN
For milk production, a meal ration of 16% protein is recommended.
For a dry and freshening or fitting ration — 13% or 14% protein, providing the mixture has enough minerals and Vitamin A.
Local grain has from 11% to 12% protein. The 4% to 5% protein as well as minerals are needed to bring the ration up to recommended levels for economical production. These are provided by concentrates or protein and mineral ingredients.
24% DAIRY SUPPLEMENT
To make a 16% Dairy Ration, mix at the rate of 100 lbs. 24% Supplement to 200 lbs. ground or rolled grain.
Add molasses up to 10%.
32% DAIRY CONCENTRATE
32% Concentrate also has everything needed to balance up the protein and minerals needed in local grain. Because of the higher protein and mineral content, less concentrate is needed in a mix.
For a 16% Ration, mix at the rate of 1 of 32% Concentrate to 4 of grain.
With up to 10% molasses included in this ration, it should give excellent results both in milk production and in keeping the herd in condition.
PROTEIN AND MINERAL INGREDIENTS
If separate ingredients are preferred, we have a full range of protein and mineral feeds—
Soybean Oil Meal, Gluten Feed, Oilcake Meal, Bran, Shorts, and Beet Pulp.
Shur-Gain and Swift's Cattle Minerals, Iodized Salt.
We'll help figure out a ration at any protein level required.
Pick up some of these folders and books with recommended Poultry, Pig and Dairy Rations—they have many helpful suggestions on feeding and management.

All Livestock Feeders sometimes wonder what the difference is between Profitable Rations and "Just Feeds".
A GOOD RATION SHOULD BE:
1. Carefully manufactured from good quality ingredients.
2. Be formulated by experts to bring the best results economically.
3. Be field tested coast to coast if possible, to prove it will perform under varying conditions.
4. Be checked for unifomity and maintenance of analysis in the laboratory.
5. Be incorporated in a well planned program to make profits for the farmer.
We are proud to say that you can tick "√" YES for each one of these requirements when you feed . . .

Carleton U. Extension Courses Start Oct. 1st

Carleton University's 1962-63 program of extension division courses begins October 1 with a calendar of 29 non-credit courses ranging from Space Research to Sanskrit.

Among the courses are a number of "repeats" from other years, including "Freelance Writing," "Effective English," "Scientific Russian" and several courses in Religion.

Courses offered this year for the first time include lectures on "Trends in Geographic Research," "Introduction to Sanskrit," and "Expenditure Accounting and Control in the Government of Canada."

Also planned for the Fall and Winter months are a number of public lecture series. These include a series on "Causes of War and Preservation of Peace" in November; ten lectures on "Soviet Society" beginning in January; and a continuation of the popular series "Our Living Tradition," sponsored by the Institute of Canadian Studies and set for the Spring and Fall of 1963.

Extension courses are offered by the university to provide non-degree courses of general interest, in areas of study suited to mature individuals. The courses and lecture series have been well attended by Ottawa area residents in the past. Enrolment in regular extension courses last year exceeded 700. Fees for the courses, which range in length from 6 to 26 weeks, vary from $10 to $60. Public lectures are free of charge.

Information about extension courses may be obtained from the office of the registrar at the University, or by telephoning CE 5-5162.

TALL!

Back around Kenmore they grow the corn really tall. Nobody likes to relate these tall tales more than Edgar Craig, well known Winchester resident, and formerly a popular and progressive farmer in the Kenmore area.

Last week Edgar dropped into the business office of The Press pulling a huge stalk of corn. The stalk was so long he couldn't get it in the door. One of the Press photographers grabbed the camera, propped the tall corn stalk against the marquee which runs across the front of the office and asked Edgar to pose with the prize.

The accompanying picture is the result and proof that this tall tale is really true. The corn stalk measured just over 12 feet high and it was grown on the farm of Lorne Harrison of Kenmore who, Edgar says, "has acres and acres of corn this tall, maybe even taller."—Press Staff Photo.

WHAT'S THE "INSTALMENT PLAN" WAY TO SAVE FOR THE FUTURE?

Suppose, for example, he has the makings of a concert pianist . . . or a scientist, a doctor, a lawyer, or a statesman. Now is the time to ensure that, when the time comes for it, you can afford his training. It's time to start looking after his future with the help of Scotiabank's Personal Security Program, or PSP—a protected savings plan that's exclusive with The Bank of Nova Scotia. Here's how PSP works: you select a savings goal (from $100 to $2,500), which you reach in 50 equal payments. As you save, you're life-insured for the full amount of your goal—at no added cost to you. When you reach your goal, you collect all you've saved, plus a cash bonus. PSP is the ideal way to save for any future, for a holiday abroad, or a boat, or a new home. Ask about PSP at your nearest Scotiabank.

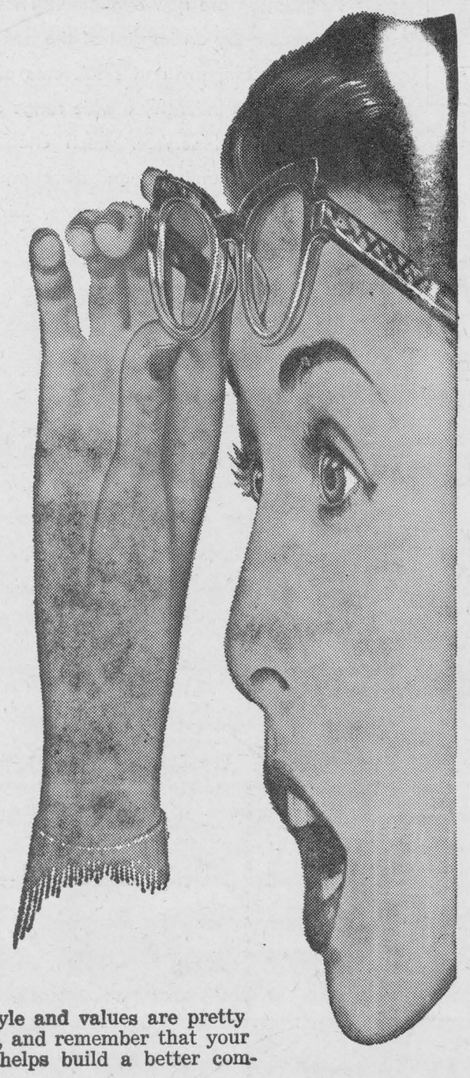
Looking for Bargains?



Why not do your sleuthing in your own home town?

When you add up travelling costs, not to mention road hazards, parking problems and jostling crowds, and affix these items to the "bargain" you got in the "big city" you'll probably find it wasn't such a good deal after all.

Think about it. Quality, style and values are pretty good right in our own town, and remember that your support of local business helps build a better community.

GARNET RALPH

Wins Carleton Pasture Contest

Garnet Ralph, of Richmond, is the 1962 Pasture Champion of Carleton County. His pastures were judged the best among 39 entries and will now be considered against other County winners in Eastern Ontario.

Although Garnet pastures 80 to 100 cows on the home farm, he is able to provide them with adequate pasture through the season by rotational grazing, the use of good grass and clover mixtures and a high fertility program.

Below Garnet Ralph, in order of their placing, were Neil Lee of Winchester, Don Mitchell of Kenmore, Allan Brown of Richmond, Black Bros. of Stittsville, and Jas. Bradley of Carp.

IN GREAT BRITAIN

District Girl Helps Food Trade Drive

Sales of Ontario grown food in Great Britain increased sharply during the first half of September mainly as a result of a trade drive spearheaded by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Five Ontario girls flew over to lead a contingent of 32 food demonstrators who manned the ODA booth at the British Food Fair. These ladies personally sold over $10,000 worth of Ontario produce to visitors—such items as fresh peaches brought 15 cents each, while fresh carrots and cheese, honey and a long list of canned fruits and vegetables sold readily.

This is the first time the ODA has had its own display at the Food Fair but it is only part of the trade drive. Hon. Chas. McNaughton, Minister without Portfolio in the Ontario government, is leading a delegation of producers and processors of farm produce and ODA officials into the U. K. and Europe. Several Ontario processors reported they were deluged with orders at the Food Fair, but no official estimate of the amount of produce sold is available yet. Cherry pie fill, apple and tomato juice and peaches appear the most popular in the processed division.

Order books in hand, the Ontario group moved from the Food Fair into western Europe. The Ontario Vegetable Growers Marketing Board sent Ed. Ruthven of Port Hope and Jack Howard, Hamilton, and the Flue Cured Tobacco Growers Marketing four-man team was led by its chairman, George Demeyere, Tillsonburg. Among the processors and distributors of farm produce were Philip Latelman, president of Federal Farms, Bradford; Ed. Smart of Smart Bros., Collingwood; Steve Csumrick, Canada Packers, Toronto, and Fred Brown, seedsman and feed merchant from Arkona.

Williamsburg Legion's first attempt at sponsoring a Barbecue has come off so successful that present intentions are to make the Barbecue an annual event.

Sunday afternoon at Williamsburg Recreation Park about 500 district people attended the first barbecue which actually ended up roasting hams in place of the chickens which had been already served to the large crowd.

Donations towards the Barbecue were made by Nestles, Producers' Dairy and Morrison Lamothe. Duane Munroe of Chesterville Legion assisted in the actual barbecueing of the chickens, assisted by members of the Williamsburg Branch.

During the afternoon a softball tournament was played with Williamsburg Pee Wees downing Winchester 9 to 8, and Chesterville swamping Williamsburg 27-3. Williamsburg Bantams edged a team from the Sixth Concession 6-5, and Williamsburg and Chesterville Intermediates ended in a deadlock 2-2.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merkley, of Williamsburg, celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary last week.

They were married September 4th, 1912, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Saddlemire, of Glen Becker. Mrs. Merkley is the former Evah Saddlemire.

They reside on the Merkley homestead for which a crown deed was given to Mr. Merkley's great grandfather, Captain Henry Merkley.

They have three daughters: Mrs. Gerald Patterson (Joyce), of Ottawa; Mrs. Emerson Harriman (Norma), of Williamsburg, and Mrs. Wm. Kurschinski (Virgie), of St. Johns, Newfoundland. They also have eight grandchildren.

Open house was held at their home and many friends and relatives called to extend their best wishes. They received many lovely gifts and cards and flowers.

Ontario Plans First Exhibition Of Handicrafts

Encouragement and promotion of Indian-made souvenirs and handicrafts from Ontario are embraced in plans for the province's first exhibition and competition in the souvenir and handicraft industry to take place next spring.

The announcement was made jointly by the Honourable Bryan L. Cathcart, Minister of Travel and Publicity, and the Honourable Robert W. Macaulay, Minister of Economics and Development, whose Departments are organizing the event.

Meetings of the two Departments have laid groundwork for both the exhibition and competition, and full details will be released as soon as minor clearances are arranged, said Mr. Cathcart.

He said recent press attention to distinctive Indian handicraft had inspired a great deal of interest.

Three full-scale meetings have been held dealing with the overall project, and further meetings will be held next week so that early clarification of the rules of the competition can be made public.

Attend 3-Day Training Seminar At Cleveland

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Summers of the local BELTONE Hearing Centre, have recently returned from a three-day training seminar in Cleveland, Ohio, on the latest audiological techniques for measuring hearing loss and fitting hearing aids.

They noted that the sessions included intensive workshops, lectures and discussions on audiological procedures, using the Beltone Binaural Audio-Selector recently developed by the Beltone Hearing Aid Company. The program was supervised by Dr. William F. Carver, director of audiological services for Beltone.

"The sciences of hearing correction are rapidly progressing to greater precision in hearing loss and in selecting the exact instrument that can provide the maximum assistance for that loss," they said.

The Cleveland session was one of a series of six regional seminars Beltone is conducting for its distributors across the country. David H. Barnow, Beltone executive vice president, is in charge of the in-service training program.
