October 6th Deadline For Power Users Switches Will Be Pulled To Meet Quota

Power Consumption Continues To Be In Excess Of Quota Local Commission Receives Notice From H.E.P.C. Drastic Steps Must Be Taken

At a special meeting of the Chesterville Council last Monday evening, measures were discussed with a view to bringing the consumption of electricity for the village within the quota set by the H.E.P.C. The latest quota for the village is 5000 kilowatt hours and last week the total daily consumption sometimes ran as high as 7800 kilowatt hours. A determined effort is being made to cut the use of power by the town. It was decided at the special meeting to cut out half the street lights, by putting out every other bulb on the streets. This will save the same amount of power as was saved by turning off all the lights for half the night. Some resentment may be felt on the part of consumers who feel that they need sidewalk illumination in front of their homes, but council is endeavoring to be as fair as possible and to cause as little hardship as can be helped.

Other steps are to be taken to acquaint the public with the critical shortage of power. Consumers are to be circularized and advertisments are to appear in the Chesterville Record advising of the regulations in effect.

If blackouts are to be avoided all householders will have to co-operate with the local commission. Lights that are unnecessary should be turned off. Electrical appliances must be used with the greatest possible economy, and turned off immediately when not in use. How many pieces of toast will you be able to toast when the H.E.P.C. decides to pull the main switch on Chesterville at peak load times if we don't conserve our power? Turn those appliances off when they are not being used. Tuesday is one of the heaviest days on the meters. Possibly a result of the innumerable irons that are smoothing out the Monday wash. Could that be done over a period of a couple of days? It is when the load is the greatest that the blackouts will occur. Then the commission can save the most in the shortest time.

The commission is hopeful that it will not have to resort to compulsory saving of electricity through power cut-offs, but it will be necessary if the local consumption does not come down to the level set by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

The following letter has just been received by the Chesterville Hydro Electric System and is self-explanatory:-

September 28, 1948

Chesterville Hydro-Electric System,
Chesterville, Ontario.
Attention: Mr. Harry C. Hummel,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Dear Sirs:

Allocation of Available Power Supplies

Your week-day consumption of kilowatt-hours has been consistently in excess of the quota allotted your Municipality and the Commission is therefore reluctantly obliged to inform you that unless your week-day consumption of kilowatt-hours is reduced to the quota which has been allotted you it will be obliged commencing Wednesday, October 6th, 1948, to request you to open feeders at regular intervals throughout the day until the required reduction is assured. We shall be glad to cooperate with you in arranging the time and duration of these interruptions most suited to your requirements. Failure to comply with any such request, which will be transmitted to you through our operators, will make it necessary for the Commission to interrupt your power supply every hour on the hour throughout the day from dawn until dark for periods of time ranging up to fifteen minutes in duration.

Advance notice of this action is being given so that you may have an opportunity to notify all your consumers of what to expect in the event the required reduction in their week-day consumption of kilowatt-hours is not forthcoming, and also so that you will have an opportunity of taking steps to safe-guard all vital services during power cut-offs, should these become necessary.

Your very truly,
O. S. LUNEY,
Manager Eastern Region.

Morewood United Y P.U. Resumes Meetings

On September 20th, the regular meetings of the Morewood United Church Y.P.U. were resumed with eighteen members present. The meeting was held in the parsonage and opened with several hymns led by Rev. Copsey with Mr. Elgin Bowman at the piano. The meeting officially opened with Kenneth Steven in the chair and the singing of "In The Garden". Rev. Copsey led the group in prayer followed by the minutes. All joined in singing "The Old Rugged Cross." Betty Putnam read the Scripture taken from Matt. 5:34-37.

A business discussion followed. The tennis court was still in need of attention and the group decided to pull weeds the following evening. The treasurer reported that $1.50 was collected. "Abide with Me" brought this part of the meeting to a close.

Mrs. Copsey took the topic on Christian Culture entitled "What am I?"

The next meeting will be held on October 4th. Games followed and refreshments served by Mrs. Copsey.

The evening was brought to a close with the Friendship Circle, Taps and the Mizpah Benediction.

HOCKEY MEETING

A hockey meeting will be held on Monday evening, October 4th, at Leo Gallagher's store. Hockey players and those interested are requested to attend.

Chesterville W. I. Holds "Grandmother's Night"

The regular September meeting of the Chesterville Branch of the Women's Institute was held in the Library on Wednesday evening. The president, Mrs. Fay Shaver, opened the meeting with the Institute Ode and the Creed. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The roll call was answered by the members present telling of something they remembered concerning grandmother.

During the business part of the meeting a discussion arose over the request of the newly formed Auxiliary of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital to use the Library free of charge.' Final decision was deferred until next meeting with permission given for the Auxiliary to use the room for their next meting. Attention was called to the members selling the tickets for the Hallowe'en dance that the price was 50 cents each or $1.00 per couple.

Mrs. Byron Campbell then took charge of the program. The opening number was a solo by Mrs. C. Allison Graham, "Irish Lullaby". A dialogue dealing with the life of the pioneers in 1840 was written by Mrs. Campbell and enacted by Mrs. L. H. Doering, Mrs. Hugh Smith and Mrs. Campbell. Old-time questions and answers provided much information and amusement about customs of earlier days. Lucky word rhymes and prizes and a prize for the oldest grandmother present, Mrs. Will Durant, brought the meeting to a close.

Refreshments were served by the committee, which consisted of Mrs. B. Campbell, Mrs. L. H. Doering, Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mrs. Harold Durant, Mrs. Ward Johnston, Mrs. S. H. Hutt, Mrs. A. Bowman, Mrs. P. Hall, Mrs. Racine, Mrs. H. Henderson, Mrs. H Justus.

Rev. F. J. Vowles, Elma, Addresses Rotary

Rev. F. J. Vowles of Elma United Church was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Chesterville Rotary Club last Monday night at their regular meeting. The meeting was in charge of Vice-President J. Howard Fulton in the absence of the president. Mr. Cliff Butterill was present as a guest of the club.

A report of the financial success of the Fun Fair was given by the committee chairman, Wm. Gould. A fine sum was netted to further the community work of the club.

Introduced by O. L. King, the speaker, Mr. Vowles took as his subject, "Where are you going, and What are you Doing?" Pointing out that self satisfaction and self esteem can lead to too many hindrances to the appoarch to God's perfection, the speaker led his listeners' thoughts through a series of self examinations that called for a summing up of our merits that were worthy of reward. "We must justify our existence and merit a 'Well done'" he said. "The shadows of our living should be beneficial to all those around us", he concluded.

The speaker was thanked on behalf of the club by H. G. Bigelow.

HESS—MORRIS

With the candle-lighted altar decorated with red roses and the nave a wealth of gladioli and fall bloom, Holy Trinity Anglican Church was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony on Saturday, September 25th, when Marjorie Maxine, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Morris, was united in marriage to Charles, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hess, with the rector, Rev. Leon B. G. Adams, officiating.

The bride's dress was of old ivory satin with a small bustle and slight train, and the veil was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. The sleeves ended in points over the hands. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, and her shower bouquet was of red roses and white 'mums.

Miss Marion Morris was her sister's only attendant, and she wore a gown of blue crepe with her white veil held by a sequin trimmed Juliette cap. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Douglas Empey of Mountain assisted the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Desmond Wheeler and Mr. Hilton Reid of Chesterville.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Ralph G. Smith, organist of the church, who also played "Ave Maria" during the rector's address to the bridal couple at the sanctuary steps and during the signing of the registry.

The groom's gift to his bride was a set of travelling cases, to the bridesmaid a strand of pearls. To the groom the bride's gift was a signet ring.

At the reception held in the brilliant autumn sunshine on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents, sixty guests were present. During the afternoon, Rev. Mr. Adams briefly addressed the assembly. A triple-tier wedding cake centred the table. Assisting in the serving were several close friends of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Hess left by train for Montreal and Quebec City, the bride wearing a brown gabardine two piece suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. On their return to Chesterville from their honeymoon trip this week-end, they will take up residence in Toronto.

They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, and prior to the wedding day a shower was sponsored by friends of the bride at the home of Mrs. Mabel Hummel and a gift was also presented by the Ladies' Guild of Holy Trinity Church.

Among the guests at the wedding were the following from out-of-town: Mr. and Mrs. Alex Whitteker of Gouverneur, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Crowder of Williamsburg; Mrs. Graham Swerdfeger, Mr. Stanley Casselman and Nelda, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Price of Morrisburg; Miss Mary Grant of Avonmore; Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Quartus of Merrickville; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morris, Lloyd and June, Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Morris of Cardinal, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morris, Connie and Jackie of Prescott; Mrs. R. J. Keyser of Regina.

Mrs. Chas. Abel Entertains Holy Trinity Anglican Guild

The members of Holy Trinity Anglican Guild held the first of the fall meetings at the home of Mrs. Charles Abel. The meeting was opened by Rev. B. G. Adams. Five new members were welcomed by the President, Mrs. J. Sutherland. The minutes were read by Miss Fairbrass and signed by the President, Mrs. John Sutherland. Miss Fairbrass read a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Harridine for the treats sent and calls made by the Rector. Mrs. Charles Collingridge was presented with a wedding gift and Miss Marjorie Morris, bride-elect, was also presented with a gift from the ladies.

The quilt donated by Mrs. Charles Marcell and Mrs. John Fyke will be quilted at the next meeting.

The October meeting will be a miscellaneous shower for the benefit of the Christmas Sale and will be held at the home of Mrs. A. A. Acheson.

The meeting was closed with prayer by the Rector. The President thanked the hostess and a dainty lunch was served.

Dillabough and was a lifelong resident of Chesterville and district. She was a member of the Trinity United Church, Chesterville, and belonged to various organizations of Chesterville and Elma.

Lloyd of St. John's church, Cornwall, assisted by the Rev. F. J. Vowles of Elma. Interment will be in the Maple Ridge Cemetery.

"WE WANT WATER," IS PLEA VERY DRY FALL MAKES HARDSHIP

With the Fall rains yet to put in an appearance, the water situation is becoming worse every day. Wells on the farms are drying up and many farmers are drawing water for their stock already. Those fortunate ones with wells that are still producing are worried that the continued strain will be too much though there is no question of sharing while the water lasts.

The Nestlé's plant in the village had a time of trouble last Saturday and Sunday when the basin of water behind the dam finally was pumped out. Pumping that had commenced on Wednesday up river had not yet produced water down here and emergency measures were necessary to feed the demand. Finally the town fire pumper was backed down to the pool that remained under the highway bridge and hose laid back up stream to the factory well in the river bed at the main pump house. A stream of water poured steadily upstream then, until on Sunday night the water from the big Diesel pumper upstream finally arrived and saved the day. Now concern is being felt that the river upstream will not stand too much of this forced pumping.

Ploughing is a real chore in the fields, with old sod being left alone until the rains come. Let's hope that won't be too long.

It is not the quality of the meat, but the cheerfulness of the guests, which makes the feast.—Clarendon.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK TO BE OBSERVED IN CANADA

Beginning on Sunday, October 3rd, Fire Prevention Week will be observed in Canada. It is the intention of the proper authorities to present the case for fire prevention forcibly enough that the waste and tragic losses incurred every day of every year be lessened. Nearly thirty-five hundred lives are lost each year in Canada as a direct result of fire and hundreds of millions of dollars of property damage is done through the same cause.

Many of the fires are preventable. It is hoped to explain and prove during Fire Prevention Week that proper precautions will result in the saving of lives and dollars. The press, radio, public meetings and other media will be used to drive home the point that fires can be prevented. Schools should find this coming week a good time to brush up on their fire-drills, fire brigades can do much by public displays of their efficiency and many ways can be found to point out the hazards of fire and its harmful effects when out of control.

COUNTING ONTARIO'S MIGHTY MOOSE

Of all North American Deer, the Moose is the migthiest. Any wanderer in the forest who has seen, or even heard, one of the great creatures of half a ton or more thundering through the obstructing underbrush, will have no doubt whatever about the bulk and strength of the animal. It is this impressive size and power of the moose which arouses admiration, not its appearance. With its high shoulders, immense muzzle, massive antlers and ungainly body, the bull moose has a grotesque figure that would have no chance at all in a beauty contest. Alces americana is a rugged beast that splashes through the shallows of a northern lake like a scow in a gale.

About this fascinating animal surprisingly little scientific information appears in the text books, as any hopeful reader soon discovers. It is to the credit of the Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology that this lack is now being remedied. Under the leadership of Mr. R. L. Peterson of the Museum's division of mammals, intensive research is in progress again this year as it was in 1946-'47. By canoe and plane, on foot through the tangled undergrowth of forests, Museum specialists have trailed the moose in areas from the remoter reaches of Algonquin Park to the islands of Lake Superior and the wilderness beyond that lake. It is a fact-finding project on a scale never before attempted in North America. Moose numbers, habits, haunts and every fact of value contributing to the knowledge and preservation of the species is being thoroughly investigated, so that the mighty moose might be saved from the doom of extinction.

Silent Collector

There is a lady operating a boarding house down in Alabama who has a simple, silent but most effective method of collecting money from delinquent boarders.

A new arrival at this lady's establishment noticed at supper that one of the boarders had one fork too many beside his plate and seemed to be acutely embarrassed over the circumstance.

"Why is he so disturbed over the extra fork?" the new boarder whispered to the gentleman beside him.

"Oh, that's how the landlady collects past due board bills," was the explanation. "When she puts the extra implement beside a plate it simply means 'fork over'."

BUTTONS BY THE BILLION S

By Olive Williamson

Keeping pace with feminine fancy is never an easy task, but nowhere is it more difficult than in the manufacture of those fetching bits of artistry that serve both a fastening and fascinating function.

When the lady of fashion ponders over her wardrobe and devises ways and means of adapting the current "Look" to her personality, she considers every item of apparel in detail. Not least among these are the sizes, style, colour and number of buttons on her garments.

With styles as dated as yesterday's newspaper, today's fad seldom bears any relation to tomorrow's fancy, hence the tremendous turnover in button designs. The advent of the zipper has had no noticeable effect on the industry and more buttons than ever are being made today in Canada and in an ever-increasing variety of shapes, sizes and colours. During the past 12 months alone more than a billion and a half buttons were produced in thousands of different styles.

It is easy to see that the button manufacturer is faced with a peculiar set of problems. Flexibility above all, is a necessity of the industry. Keeping a few jumps ahead of demand has at last been made possible by the versatility of the chemically-produced materials now basic in the button business—plastic.

Not all plastics are suitable for button manufacture, of course—just as not all metals are suitable for making automobiles. Among the most popular varieties of plastic for this purpose, however, are "Plaskon", "Plastacele", "Pyralin", "Lucite", and latest of all, nylon.

The popularity of these materials is largely explained by the quality of the finished products but from the manufacturer's point of view the important consideration is adaptability for mass production.

One process well adapted to mass production is compression mulding, which utilizes "Plaskon" urea formaldehyde moulding powder. The powder is compressed into "pills" or preforms which are similar in size to the buttons into which they will be transformed. These preforms are placed in the holes of a special tray which slides between the upper and lower mould mounted in a hydraulic compression press. Tremendous heat and pressure are applied for up to a minute, then the buttons are removed, almost ready for wear. Edges are now smoothed and the buttons polished by "tumbling" in rotating barrels. The bright new buttons are hard and solid but light in weight. Because the colour is dyed right through the plastic, they can be laundered or even scratched with little effect.

The injection moulding process uses "Plastacele", an acetate compound. Here the powder is heated to a workable plastic condition and extuded into the centre groove of a hollow, unheated mould branching off into individual die cavities. When removed, the buttons are attatched to "sprues", like leaves on the end of branches. These sprues, which are halves of a heated, highly polished waste pieces resulting from the overflow, can be reground and the material used again.

Casein plastic buttons, more expensive than those already mentioned, are fabricated on machines. The plastic, made from the protein of skim milk, is formed in long rods the diameter of the finished buttons. These rods are cut to form discs, and patterns are machine-worked on each one separately. To get two-tone effects the buttons are dyed after the design has been only partially cut and re-dyed after te pattern has been finished.

Also fabricated in this manner are exotic "Lucite" buttons, which show up strikingly on milady's gowns or tailored suits. The beautiful material, an acrylic resin, simulates crystal almost perfectly. Odd as it sounds, "Lucite" combined with scrapings from fish scales gives an effect which nearly outdoes the glow of original mother of pearl.

Knots, bows, floral clusters or other fanciful shapes are most often seen in buttons made of the cellulose plastic, "Pyralin". This adaptable product is easily hand-worked to produce the variety. "Pyralin" can be used clear, clouded or both—clear on the edges of the button and clouded in the centre like agate. Coatings of gold, silver or other metals can be added to give an "antique" look. "Pyralin" can also be combined with other materials. While machines are used to produce buttons of simple design or to cut basic shapes, fanciful twists are all done by hand.

The various button companies take great pride in their unique products. They admit that button manufacture may not be Canada's biggest industries, but, they ask, where would fashion designers be without the variety and scope provided by these functional and fancy accessories ?

HISTED—KEARNEY

St. Mary's church, Chesterville, was the scene of a pretty Autumn wedding at ten o'clck on Saturday morning, September 25th, when Miss Mary Veronica Kearney, second daughter of Mrs. Denis Kearney and the late Mr. Kearney of Chesterville, became the bride of Mr. Henry Ross Histed, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Histed of Hamilton. Rev. Father S. LeSage, P.P. of St. Mary's officiated at the ceremony. Mr. Thomas Moran assisted at the Altar.

Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Father G. E. Cousineau, O.M.I., Superior of Holy Rosary Scholasticate, and Rev. Father M. Gillis, O.M.I., both of Ottawa.

The church was effectively adorned with asters, ferns and white satin bow-decked baskets of peach and white gladiolas. White satin bows marked the guest pews.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Denis Kearney, wearing a graceful period gown of snow-drift satin, enhanced by Chantilly lace. The gown was fashioned with a high round neckline, moulded bodice, and full skirt flaring into a short train. The long lily-point sleeves buttoned at the wrist with tiny self covered satin buttons. Her train-length veil of tulle illusion with embroidered edging and appliqued bows draped softly from a tiara of orange blossoms. White satin sandals were worn by the bride. She carried an arm bouquet of Bettertime roses, with white ostrich feather trimmings and white satin streamers.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Ellen Kearney, who wore a gown of turquoise. The fitted bodice of brocaded satin was designed with a scalloped peplum and self covered buttons extended down the back. The full skirt was of net. She wore a matching net halo, shoulder veil, and lace mittens. She carried an arm bouquet of Briarcliffe roses with pink ostrich feathers and pink satin streamers. Silver sandals were worn by the bridesmaid. Attending the groom was Mr. George Scully of Pembroke.

The bride's mother wore a black crepe gown, black hat with a soft pink ostrich plume and wore a corsage of sweetheart roses with pink ostrich feather trimmings.

During the nuptial mass St. Mary's choir, in charge of Rev. Sister Mary Avila, rendered appropriate hymns. Mr. Matthew Flynn was the soloist.

After the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride. The house was decorated for the occasion and centred on the table was a three-tiered wedding cake.

Later Mr. Histed and his bride left on an extended honeymoon to Vancouver and California. On their return they will reside in Hamilton.

The bride travelled in a garnet red suit and matching hat with a white plume and wore a corsage of Killarney white roses.

The bride's gift to the groom was a leather travelling case and to the bridesmaitd a three-strand necklace of pearls. The groom's gift to the bride was a watch and to the best man a Ronson lighter.

The bride taught school during the past six years in Hamilton. Prior to her leaving was tendered a farewell address by her students and was presented with gifts of china aend crystal.

HUTCHESON—BOWLES

On Saturday, September 25th, the Presbyterian Manse in Smiths Falls, was the scene of a quiet but very impressive wedding when Vera Mabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bowles, became the bride of Kenneth William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hutcheson.

The bride looked charming in a floor-length gown of white rayon sheer with sweetheart neckline outlined with sequins and with long sleeves which came to a point over the hand. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet hearddress and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty Roses and Forget-Me-Nots.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Harvey Lang and looked lovely in a floor-length gown of baby blue sheer and net and carried an arm bouquet of roses and lillies of the valley.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. James Hutcheson.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with about twenty immediate relatives of the young couple in attendance. The room was decorated with many beautiful flowers and pink and white streamers. A three-tier wedding cake centered the table and dainty refreshments were served by Miss Doreen Jones and Mrs. Doris Watson.

The bride's mother wore a blue sheer dress and corsage of roses. The groom's mother chose a navy sheer dress with a corsage of roses and were seated at the table with the bride and groom and the attendants.

After the reception the happy couple left for Toronto and points west. For travelling the bride wore a dove-grey woollen suit with white blouse and black accessories.

They were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts including a chest of silver, the gift of the groom's parents: a Kenwood blanket from Frost and Wood, where Mr. Hutcheson is employed: a Kenwood blanket and chenille bedspread from Falls Manufacturing Ltd., where Mrs. Hutcheson was employed.

When they return they will reside in Smiths Falls.

DEER HUNTERS THIS YEAR MUST ATTACH NEW TAG

Every deer and moose hunter going into Ontario woods this fall will be supplied with a metal tag when he purchases his hunting license. New regulations require that a hunter must attach his tag to the carcass of his deer or moose. Tags must be attached to deer before they are transported; to moose as soon as they are killed. Violation of the regulations carries a minimum penalty of $20. The object of the new regulations is more rigid control of hunting.

For You

As a depositor or borrower, you value privacy in money matters. Your banker protects that privacy. Your banking transactions are not open to the eyes and ears of your competitor, your neighbor, your community.

In other words, the manager of your branch bank and his whole staff are working for you.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a public official working for the State! State monopoly of banking, proposed by Socialists here, would open your banking transactions to political intrusion.

Church News

MOREWOOD UNITED CHURCH

The services at the Morewood United Church were conducted on Sunday by the minister, Rev. W. J. Copsey, B.A. The text of the morning service was John 3;16, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." This best known text of the New Testament reveals the love of the Heavenly Father for mankind in the redeeming work of Christ to bring to the penitent sinner liberation from the power and guilt of sin and the freeing of all his powers for the realization of his true destiny which is the presence of God. Salvation is a free gift from Heaven bringing through the experience of the new birth a life fitted for eternity. This Divine plan is accepted by faith, the commitment of oneself to the guidance of God.

The anthem rendered by the choir was "To the Land of Perfect Day," the baritone solo part being taken by Mr. James Shaw.

The theme of the evening service was the parable of children at play, Matt. 11;16-19 "But where unto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the market and calling unto their fellows and saying, "We have piped unto you and you have not danced; we have mourned unto you and you have not lamented". John came neither eating nor drinking and they say he hath a devil. The Son of man came eating and drinking and they say, "Behold a man gluttonous and a wine bibber a friend of publicans and sinners; but Wisdom is justified of her children." The message of the parable is applicable to this generation. By many the call to repentance as of John is neglected, that way is declared too hard. The message of forgiveness as of Jesus is ignored, that way is declared too easy. Like children in their fickleness they will neither play at weddings or at funerals. Those, however, who are taught by divine Wisdom recognize and honour its varied exhibitions in John and Jesus and receive both. Thus Wisdom is justified by the reaction of her believing children. Miss Ellice Smith presided at the organ.

GOD—THREE PERSONS

A resume of the subject for discussion by Rev. H. Heustin, presented at the meeting of Winchester and District Ministerial Association held in Osgoode Baptist Church, Vernon.

God is a Spirit, infinite, eternal, unchangeable in his being, wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness and truth. The Christian thought of God is centred in Jesus Christ by whom the fulness of the love of God has been revealed, and also his grace behind all his judgments. He is sovereign and absolutely supreme. What he has purposed and foreordained will come to pass. This belief is of great practical value.. It has always restored courage to men, given them hope and kept them faithful.

The Trinity is a doctrine developed and worked out in Christian thought, rooted in the facts of and a deduction from the facts of Christian experience. Jesus Christ is truly God and in him God and man were really united, "So that two whole, perfect, and distinct natures, the Godhead and the Manhood, were inseperably joined together in one person, without conversion, composition or confusion." Often the humanity of Jesus has not been stressed. Now too often the Divinity of Jesus is not being stressed.

The Holy Ghost is the Person of God Himself present in the fulness of His being and power. He is the Spirit of the Son, the Spirit of Jesus, the Spirit of Purity and Holiness, and the Spirit of Truth to lead the people of God into all the truth.

When the Holy Scriptures are quoted by men they should quote the Scriptures correctly, including rather than excluding the name of the Lord Jesus Christ who said, "I am the truth," and who is the personification of truth, being God, and equal with the Father who hath said, "Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you neither shall ye diminish aught from it."

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello, Homemakers! How far will five dollars worth of meat go for five people? The so-called inexpensive cuts which are usually meat extras such as liver, heart, and sausages, amount to the same price as chops and cutlets in proportion, when served hot. Last weekend, our order was a roast of beef although the price per pound seemed prohibitive for the budget. With due consideration to saving electricity, we placed the meat in a cold oven. When the thermometer registered 350 degrees on Bake which meant that we were heating the oven and the meat using only the bottom element, we took out the roast, covered it and left it to cook slowly in the "meat-heat" while we placed a cake in the oven for 45 mins. As the cake was taken out, the meat was uncovered and replaced in oven. Actual roasting time was calculated from this point allowing 28 minutes per pound.

The greatest saving was effected by slicing the meat when cold with a good sharp knife. Even servings amounted to five slices per person per pound this does not necessarily mean that meat should be served cold, you can heat the slices in gravy or over the potato kettle in parchment paper or aluminum foil. By the way, sliced meat has a tendency to curl so weight the pieces with a plate or small cover.

Cooking in a pressure cooker is another method of preventing meat shrinkage. The constant heat in the sealed-tight saucepan will cook meat tender in a short time without loss of moisture. Allow 12 minutes to the pound for well-done rump or chuck pieces. Veal is cooked to perfection at 15 lbs. pressure as follows: Select a 3-lb. boned leg of veal and cut about 15 gashes, one-half inch deep into it. Insert a sliver of garlic into each section. Rub the roast with flour, salt and pepper. Brown in an open saucepan with a very little fat. (1 tsp.). Then put rack in cooker; add ½ cup hot water and the meat; adjust the cover and when it begins to steam or indicate pressure, allow 10 mins. per pound or one-half hour. Usually ten minutes before the end of the cooking period we cool the saucepan under the cold water tap thus reducing the pressure; take off the lid and add the vegetables. When the indicator reads the 15 lbs. pressure again we watch the clock for exactly 8 mins. Time, fuel and food are saved with this method of cooking.

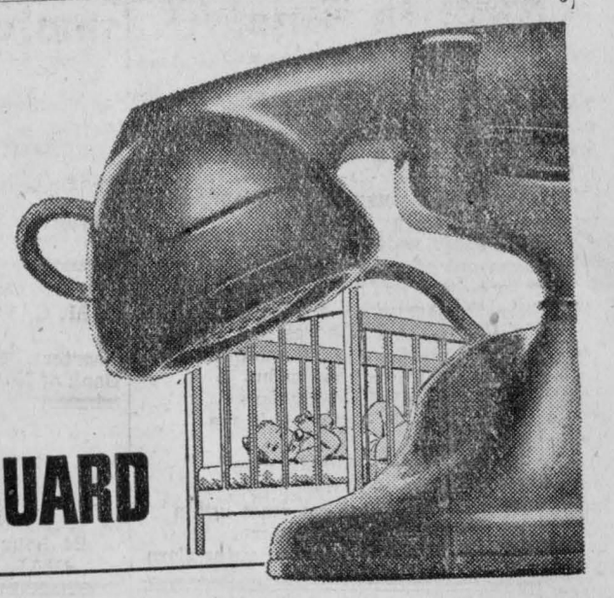
ADDITIONAL SUGGESTIONS

1. Tie meat and use skewers as well to keep meat pieces in shape and you will be able to serve even servings.
2. Serve meat extenders such as dressing, spaghetti sauce, vegetable sauce with small pieces of meat.
3. Use lots of gravy using bacon dripping if necessary.
4. Cook ham with rind on to prevent shrinkage.
5. Buy tongue and meat extras when you can. Pressure cook tongue at 15 lbs. allowing 14 mins. per pound and cook liver in the oven with tomatoes or sauté slowly in a pan.

THE QUESTION BOX
Mr. N. J. asks for
ELDERBERRY JELLY

Elderberries are easy to pick from their roadside bushes. The small blue berries shredded from the bunches in which they grow make fine jelly or wine.

wash and shred from stems two qts. of elderberries, place in preserving kettle; barely cover with water; simmer for ten minutes; mash well and continue cooking for a few minutes longer, or until all the juice is extracted. Strain through a jelly bag. Measure juice, bring to a boil, and add ¾ cup sugar to each cup of juice. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Boil rapidly until jelly stage is reached. Pour it into hot sterilized glasses and seal.



Day and night, more dependable than ever

TODAY, telephones are four times as free from "trouble" as twenty years ago, and there are twice as many of them!

Each month 10,000 are being added so that soon all may have dependable telephone service and the security that goes with it.

This is being done in spite of rising costs, yet up to now there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 21 years ago.

For you, this means greater value than ever before; for us, the satisfaction of providing "the best telephone service at the lowest cost".

IN MEMORIAM

HUMMEL—In memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Edward Hummel, who passed away five years ago on October 1st.

Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord
That they may rest from their labours
And their works do follow them.
Gone out of a world of sorrow
Into a haven of rest,
Into the beautiful garden
As God always chooses the best.
Safe from the world's temptations
Where sin cannot enter in
God has you in His keeping
In perfect peace you await me
'Till we meet again.
Dead is she not, but departed
For the Christian never dies,
'Tis sweet to know we meet again
Where sorrows are no more.

—Sadly missed by her daughter Cora.
