Chinook announces $2M expansion

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—On Monday, the Chinook Group proudly announced a $2 million expansion at the Morrisburg Ontario facility.

A new food grade facility will manufacture Choline based products for global human nutritional markets. These products will be used in the manufacturing of vitamin supplements, infant nursing formulas, and possibly "sports" drinks.

In maintaining its commitment to the local community, Chinook Group is using many local contractors and services. It is expected the addition will generate 10-15 new job placements. Already five have been filled from the local Morrisburg community, and an engineer Tom Highfield has been hired from the Sarnia area.

The project will involve the demolition of a portion of the current structure and construction of a new office complex, a lunch room, washrooms and manufacturing facilities.

In addition to the new building, Chinook Group will construct a new tank farm and truck loading/unloading area. New landscaping is also planned to accent the Allison Road location, new security fencing, and new hydro service to improve upon the existing service and support the new expansion. All aspects of the project meet or exceed all federal and provincial guidelines including the Ministry of Environment and Energy.

"We've been waiting to announce this for the past month," said plant manager Brian Dingwall. "We were just waiting to get the approvals."

The company has had "great cooperation from town officials and the community," Dingwall said.

Management has had a number of meetings with town officials over the need to expand hydro services, sewer requirements, and with environment officials to discuss requirements for containment tanks.

Chinook purchased the present facility at Allison Avenue a few years ago, with the intention to expand. Until now, the plant has been manufacturing animal food supplements at the Industrial Avenue site, where the offices are presently located.

Some 80 per cent of the current product being manufactured at the Industrial Avenue location is sent overseas. Manufacturing of the animal supplement, which is basically a Vitamin B supplement for animals, especially poultry, will continue at both locations. But the plant will expand its operation to include a human food supplement at Allison Avenue.

Here a new 3500 square foot office complex will be built at the west end, with manufacturing facilities at the southeast end and containment tanks at the north east end. At the southwest end, where the new offices will be located, the building will be pulled back from the roadway, and the offices beautified from the outside with plantings of trees and hedges.

Construction is expected to be underway in January and February, and the plant is expected to be in operation during the first quarter of 1997.

Chinook's growth is attributed to focused costumer service efforts, continuous investment directed to increased capacity and a commitment to the highest possible product.

Chinook in Morrisburg and at Sombre are the only two "dry" plants, where a dry product is manufactured from liquid choline chloride.

Chinook is a Canadian-owned company with plants around the world, including Sombre, Ontario, Minnesota, Louisiana in the U.S. and Singapore. Its head office is in Toronto, and its president and owner Peter Copland, resides in Victoria, B.C.

Village may hold public meeting on amalgamation

MORRISBURG—To amalgamate or not to amalgamate?

That is the $64,000 question facing Morrisburg Council nearing year end. This is the target date the province has set for municipalities to come up with a restructuring proposal to cut their numbers by half.

In September, the United Counties of SD & G sent out preliminary proposals including a suggestion that the four municipalities in South Dundas form one township.

On October 28, the Counties sent a questionnaire asking the size of council, the name of head of council (reeve or mayor), method of election (by wards or at large), and name for the new proposed municipality, as well as list of local boards, commissions, and public utilities commissions.

Councillor Larry Schnurr questioned the lack of consultation in the process. "It doesn't say 'in the event'. Effectively, it's almost a 'fait accompli.' To my way of thinking this this document is either jumping the gun, or it is more a statement of the ministry point of view. That is it really doesn't matter what the people think at all, there won't be any public consultation."

The document has been approved by a majority of votes in a previous County Council meeting

"When I see it it almost gives the impression it is closing the door," reeve Gord McGregor said. "But this is not the end of it, it will be as a result of what happens Thursday, in this area and what happens in other areas."

McGregor said he would be disappointed if this proposal would prevent other plans from coming forth. "There's no reason it couldn't be South Dundas, with each retaining its own autonomy."

McGregor noted there should be more than one representative from each village on the new council, equalling the township representation of two.

Coun. Cam Martel pointed out the possibility of a "sovereignty association where we're still autonomous but share some common goals and common goods such as the insurances."

"It seems like we're being dictated to and as if we'll get dragged in kicking and screaming into this. Yet we don't have an alternative to talk about. How quickly do we have time to put this together as four municipalities that might work?"

Coun. Jack Notman said the councils may be a little ahead of themselves. "Because we may discover overwhelmingly everybody wants to amalgamate after we reach phase two. However, if everybody overwhelmingly doesn't want to, I agree we should look at hydro sharing or sharing other services."

An observer pointed out that in his experience, "the upper echelon gets bigger not smaller, and there's never any cost savings. And if we pay road maintenance and police protection, there's no end to it."

On this point, Schnurr agreed: "Our taxes will rise, despite what the accountants say, I think we'll get dinged in a big way."

Deputy reeve Dirk Testerink concurred, "Our taxes will go up 50 per cent, I guarantee it."

Schnurr found it galling that in an upcoming restructuring meeting: "Even if our councils and other councils vote against it, we may be obliged to amalgamate whether we like it or not, and if we are obliged there may be no call for public input whatsoever."

To Schnurr's request to consider a public meeting, McGregor replied, "We would consider one, but what do we tell the people? That we're being shafted by the provincial government into something we're not so sure is going to be all that good?"

"I think we should say to the public that the Village of Morrisburg which was incorporated in 1860, will cease to exist as an incorporated village very shortly with the stroke of a pen, without so much as a squeak, whimper or comment from the people who live here," Schnurr answered. "They have no say."

But Council hasn't been "exactly overloaded with people querying the whole thing" McGregor pointed out.

"Because the public doesn't know," Schnurr countered.

Despite the opinions of individual municipalities, amalgamation will go through on the rule of simple majorities. "In SD & G, there are 20 municipalities, if 11 with over 50 per cent of the population of the three counties vote in favor of it, we're going," McGregor said.

Schnurr held out in support of a meeting and a referendum.

"If the statement is a loud definite no to the minister, that we don't wish to amalgamate, I'm sure he would ignore us, but I want to make it public very much, to go to the national media."

Mike McInnis is pictured with his wife Isabel at an appreciation dinner in Mike's honor Saturday night. He was roasted and toasted by friends and family at the Civic Centre. A capacity crowd enjoyed the event which was highlighted with a roast by Johnny Whitteker, Rowdy Gillard, Gord McGregor, Doug Grenkie, Scott Corden and Earl Baker. Afterwards, Mike was presented with a beautiful painting of the couple's cottage in the Thousand Islands. Proceeds from the evening went to the Friends of the Sanctuary.

Physicians take job action

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—A number of local physicians have started a job action, in response to a letter by the Minister of Health Jim Wilson to the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Earlier this month, the Minister asked the College to amend a regulation in the procedural code of the Health Professions Act to include new grounds for disciplining physicians on grounds of professional misconduct, as failure to provide necessary health services.

Wilson wanted these to include "participating in a withdrawal of services by refusing to render medical services to new patients, or limiting the type or nature of medical services rendered by the member to existing patients, or departing from the member's ordinary course of practice or withdrawing medical services provided to the member's existing patients."

He asked that "counselling or encouraging another member to contravene" in any of the above as a ground for discipline.

Many physicians and surgeons across Ontario have chosen not to see new patients in their practice as a means to protest the current government stance in regard to negotiations with the province's doctors.

However, on November 13, the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons unanimously turned down the government's request, although also issuing a warning to physicians that patients in urgent need not be neglected.

But to protest the government's stance, local specialists, Dr. Suru Chande, Dr. Larry Schnurr, and Dr. Nicholas Kimberley (Winchester), as well as a number of general practitioners have decided not to see new non-emergency patients, although they will treat new urgent cases and continue with existing ones. The area's one obstetrician, Dr. Gerry Rosenquist, is continuing to see new patients.

With the exception of Dr. Kimberley, who decided to repspond to the Specialists Coalition by a job action, previous to the correspondance between Wilson and the College, it was the Minister's action which spurred the specialists to their decision.

Dr. Chande, chief of surgery at Winchester Hospital, said: "It was a difficult decision, but it happened when Wilson wrote to the college asking to amend the constitution and threaten doctors. No organization would put up with it."

One very objectionable item was the statement "a physician couldn't change a pattern of practice," Chande said. "In other words, if a general practitioner who was doing a lot of obstetrics decided not do it any more, she couldn't give it up. Or if I wanted to move to Brockville, I couldn't do it. That was the final straw for most people."

Chande pointed out that this is an area where physicians are not particularly militant. In fact this area did not support the strike in 1986-7.

Although the physicians taking part in job action are not seeing new non-urgent cases, some like Chande and Kimberley, and Schnurr will see new cases of suspected cancer, even if not confirmed.

"I'm only seeing patients who are sufficiently ill that their family physician feels they should be seen right away. Like my surgical colleges, I'm seeing anyone with suspected cancer," said Schnurr.

Any patients without a designated family physician may receive treatment at the emergency department of Winchester Hospital.

"We're very happy the College chose to maintain its independence and integrity," said Dr. Graham Jacques, OMA representative for the 35 physicians who practice out of Winchester and Kemptville hospitals.

Doctors will continue job action until negotiations are settled to their satisfaction. "We're waiting for the government to fulfill the conditions we set, to cover the insurance fees, and to have no restriction on billing numbers. We have already agreed to the government's offer to reduce the clawback of OHIP billings from 10 to 2.9 per cent," Jacques said.

Municipalities examine Phase II of amalgamation

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

DIXONS CORNERS—At a South Dundas restructuring meeting here last Thursday, accountant Ross Markell presented phase two of the amalgamation study.

Phase one dealt with proposed savings based on facts collected by clerks and public works officials of the four municipalities. Phase two outlined strategies to equalize the financial imbalance between them, in the event of amalgamation.

While phase one predicted continual annual savings of $500,00 as a result of restructuring, revisions in phase two resulted in a lower figure of $455,995. But the original estimate of $215,000 for the one-time first year cost of amalgamation remained the same.

In January 1, 1998, the province intends to introduce "actual value assessment" to put all the municipalities in the province on the same footing regarding assessment. Actual value is the method the province will be using to put every single municipality on the same footing. It is based on market value, not resale value but on values used by the assessment office.

Since the four municipalities which comprise South Dundas are assessed on a different basis, it was necessary to equalize assessment to obtain the same base for comparison.

"So that we could compare apples with apples not oranges, we used the same formula the Counties use to get their requisition from the municipalities," Markell said.

The Counties use factors provided by the province to equalize assessment throughout SD & G.

While this formula will not be exactly the same as the actual value assessment in 1998, Markell said he hoped this method would approximate it.

It was determined that Morrisburg (sewer, water, BIA canopy) Matilda (municipal drains) and Williamsburg (sewers) have debt that relates to local improvements and or benefit landowners. Morrisburg's $339,375 debt is divided into $220,000 for water services, $25,932 for sewer, and $24,429 for the Business Improvement Area canopy.

These services are paid for by user fees. Likewise, reserves relating to a local improvement were eliminated from the equalization formulas. But major commitments like Sick Leave Liability and capital commitments have been factored in.

Markell considered three equalization options based on 1995 figures. The first was the combined, or pooled method, which although simple, does not consider financial imbalances upon amalgamation.

The "average" method looks at financial imbalances at amalgamation and adjusts the imbalances through individual mill rates until each municipality has attained the group average. But this method is complicated, and the "average" may not be an appropriate financial level for operation.

Markell recommended the third "net asset" option which accounts for financial imbalances upon amalgamation and adjusts mill rates over a number of years until net assets approach a predetermined level. Although complicated, the approach considers financial imbalances and achieves an appropriate financial position.

"We recommend this method because it deals with the disparity of financial positions of the member municipalities. It also deals with an appropriate level of net assets. The 'average method results in a financial position that would be stronger than necessary for the efficient operation of the amalgamated municipality," Markell said.

"Net assets" are "monetary" assets like cash in bank, taxes receivable or accounts receivable, not capital assets like roads. Consultants look at "net assets" minus liabilities, like short term bank loans and accounts payable.

"We look at the position each municipality is in and compare it to where we believe as a group they should be," Markell said.

"The net asset position is the best financial position to be in to operate efficiently and effectively."

In the "net asset" method, a balance is selected equal to one years amalgamated levy. The municipalities in effect have their own bank with this equity, and do not incur the former high interest charges by borrowing from the bank so frequently. Also, the four municipalities are in a relatively strong financial position, since they have little long-term debt.

After restructuring costs, long term debt and net asset adjustments are factored in, the net amalgamated levy is $2,241,908 in year one. Year two sees a reduction to $1,946,206 and year 3, to $1,936,956.

Impacts on the amalgamated mill rate in the first year are calculated at -40.68 per cent for Iroquois, 2.15 per cent for Matilda, -7.56 per cent for Morrisburg and -15.38 per cent for Williamsburg.

Markell stressed that because the numbers were based 1995 figures, calculations may change in 1998 due to different circumstances.

Morrisburg Council Briefs

Council considered a request by Bill Morrow, to set up a skate sharpening service at the arena. Morrow is also considering a retail outlet for equipment, but is undecided at this point if the service will include sales, or just skate sharpening. Council had no problem with skate sharpening, but since the is arena zoned residential, zoning would have to be changed for retail sales. Morrow not sure if he to sell or just skate sharpening as service.

Council agreed to donate $300 for the Santa Parade, in care of George Davies, chair of the BIA.

The five year corporate plan of the Parks of the St. Lawrence was endorsed, and a copy of the resolution forwarded to the Parks Commission.

Council had no objection to Cruickshank Construction's application to the Land Division Committee to divide a semi detached unit for separate ownership, and for severance for Lot 21, PLan 74 in the Locke Subdivision.

Morrisburg Hydro had already sent an invitation to Williamsburg Council to consider cost savings through a more efficient Hydro Utility, based on Morrisburg Hydro's interest in expanding the area in which it operates.

As well as providing service to Morrisburg and area, Morrisburg Hydro performs maintenance and construction for Iroquois and a limited service including metering to Williamsburg Hydro. The topic was deferred until after last Thursday's restructuring meeting. At that time, the Ministry of Municipal Affairs spokesperson Yves Drouin said only one Hydro Commission would be allowed per amalgamated municipality.

A resolution from Iroquois to consider joint insurance has also been deferred to amalgamation talks.

Stopping the vicious cycle of family abuse

Family violence is still a taboo subject. We prefer to ignore it rather than admit everything's not so wonderful in our homes.

Punches, blows, kicks, threats or unwelcomed touching force family members to experience fear, shame, guilt, insecurity, vulnerability and anger.

Children learn what they see. They often witness their parents' disputes. They learn from them—that it's the only way to solve problems.

And early on, they learn that those who love them are also those who can hurt them. The message is reinforced when they routinely see their parents solve problems or disputes through physical force or mental abuse.

And the children pay the price. Children who witness family violence are emotionally traumatized when parents separate or when the family disintegrates...and they tend to blame themselves. They also struggle with ambivalence, feeling obligated to choose between their mother and father.

The family which moves their place of residence must adapt to a new environment or a restructuring situation. A number of changes are imposed: separation from the usual circle of friends, a change of school and finances, searching for new house and the emotional changes they are faced with when getting their lives back in order.

However traumatic family violence is on the children, we can't forget the spousal abuse cases we hear about almost every day. Most go unnoticed. Not only are wives being abused by husbands, but it's also happening in reverse. These days we are hearing more and more about women doing the abusing: whether it's another woman, an innocent child, a non-abusive partner or total stranger.

Violence is a serious problem in our society. Oftentimes, it's related to alcohol or substance abuse.

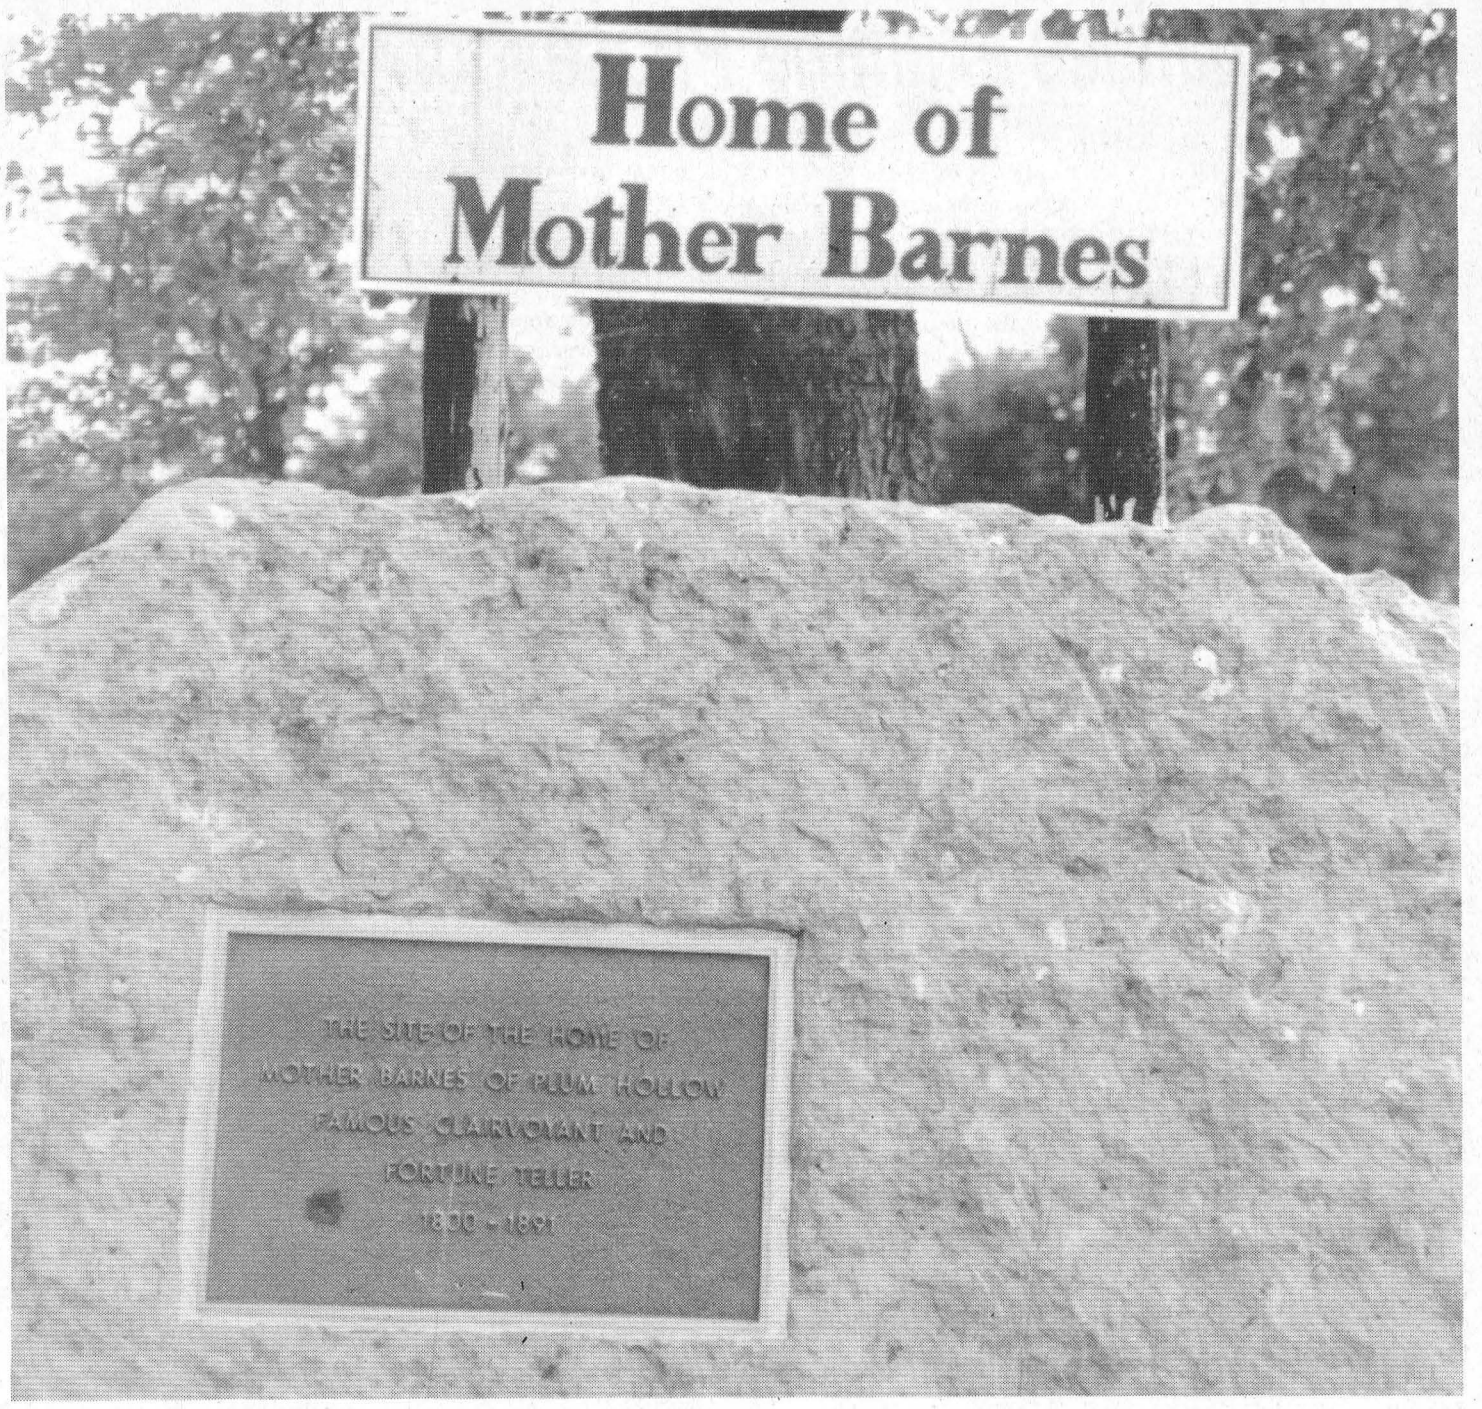
All types of abuse leave serious scars, especially among the young who are just learning social and cultural values. A young adults, they begin to feel peer pressure. Bad choices result in alcohol or substance abuse, or family violence.

If you would like to have more information on this subject you can your area Ontario Health Unit.

Together we can stop the vicious cycle of abuse and violence. Let's help break the silence.

We can make a difference.

We've got the power!



This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles by Laurie Day

The Morrisburg Business Improvement Association was planning some shopping centre upgrades. Members were impressed with the good turnout at the Morrisburg Golf Club to hear about those changes such as parks, hard services, and community facilities and the development of a promotion and marketing program for business people located within the mall.

Users of the Morrisburg Arena were breathing a little easier knowing that repairs to the facility were to begin in the spring...provided that nothing went wrong in the winter. The life expectancy of the ice plant was limited to six years, when refrigeration experts were forced to weld the condenser tubes which help in the freezing process, in the fall of 1985. Council had received a $96,000 Provincial grant for the replacement of the iceplant and floor. Total cost to repair the arena was estimated at $200,000. The extra money was to be raised locally.

Lloyd Barkley celebrated 30 years at the village clerk in Morrisburg. He stated in an interview with The Leader's Louis Daignault, that "There is pressure at time. There is a lot of public relations you really have to be able to say no in a manner a person will understand and agree with you. I feel very humble about this position and also very fortunate to comprehend the magnitude of the challenge it presents."

Industrial prospects in Morrisburg improved somewhat with the sale of twp parcels of land in the industrial zoned area. Total area of the two parcels was 23.5 acres and the sales were approved at a special meeting of council. Bayne Filters Ltd. of California was to get 1.5 acres for a factory to manufacture industrial filters. The Industrial Division of the CNR purchased 22 acres which was unspecified for what at the time. In disposing of these lands to industrial prospects, council hoped that the sales would assist to balance the Commercial Assessment with the Residential Assessment and enhance the tax situation for residential taxpayers.

The Morrisburg Lions moved to the top of the EOJBHL standings after three consecutive wins in league play. During their previous weekend, they won over Gananoque by a 9-6 score, and upset Athens 3-1.

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Roads Department was asking the public's cooperation to help maintain the best possible winter maintenance consistent with County Road standards and traffic volume. The crews cleared 30 to 50 per cent of the road allowance and as winter progressed, required all the available room to store plowed snow. To assure there was room, the crews were asking that driveway snow not be pushed across the road and or piled on the allowance. Such piles caused local drifting, freeze and became potential causes of damage to equipment. Plus, the trail of snow left on the roads was also a danger to drivers.

The November 18th issue of The Leader reported the death of Wayne McIntosh, 16, who was killed in a single car crash near Prescott. Born August 4th, 1950, Wayne, a son of Mr. and MRs. Ernest McIntosh, was a grade 10 student at Morrisburg High School where he was a favorite with his fellow students. Also injured in the crash were George Locke, David Mabo, David Carr and Gary Lunn.

After a 5-3 loss to the Ottawa Nationals in their opening game of the season, the Combines retaliated by beating the same team 5-1 in Morrisburg. Scoring for the Combines were Jim Forrest with two, Mel Tomalty, Rowdy Gillard and Derek Holmes.

Under the headline, The Roaring Game has a long history in the village, it was written that curling had its beginnings in Morrisburg in 1903 when a charter was issued for the St. Lawrence Curling and Bowling Club. The skating rink at the old public school became the scene of the unprecedented activity. So great was the interest in the game that in 1906, through the efforts of local citizens, a curling rink was built on Colin Street. T.C. Whitteker was president of the first club which had two sheets of ice. Gradually over the years interest dwindled and in 1934 R.A. Jeffrey wrote 'the game in Morrisburg is as dead as the Witch of Plum Hollow.' The corpse of the roarin' game however refused to be buried and three years later, two rinks of champions emerged from the shadows, dusted off their bonnets and epaulets and set forth for the Edinburgh Bonspiel at Montreal. They won the coveted Edinburgh granites with which they replaced the irons that had been formerly in use Ashleigh St. John (aka Pepe Le Pew) and Crystal Cassell were trekking home from a junior "B" game recently when the daring duo decided to take a short cut. Well, that proved to be a mistake, as they were sprayed by a skunk. Crystal's father Jeff had a chuckle as it's he who has the nickname 'Skunk". Like father, like daughter.

Elaine Harward had a bit of a nail-biting experience on Tuesday last week. She had lost her gold bracelets which hubby Vic had bought her for their 35th wedding anniversary. She couldn't sleep and was all upset. The next day, she retraced her steps throughout the mall when Brian Wheeler informed her that one of the girls at Mr. Grocer (valu-mart) turned it in. Apparently Elsie Guindon noticed the bracelets, and gave them to Sharon Barclay, who in turn handed them over to Brian. "I just wanted to say a big thank you to them," said Elaine. "I was very relieved that I got them back."

We managed to nab the Toronto Maple Leafs roster from Dale Lewis who has been keeping it under lock and key for the past month. Suiting up for the Leafs' old timers team when they play the Morrisburg Lions Club on December 7th will be Peter McDuffe (1), Mike Pelyk (2), Bob Lorimer (3), Dick Redmond (4), Ron Ellis (6), Norm Ullman (7), Jack Valiquette (8), Andy Bathgate (9), Keith McCreary (10), Walt Tkaczuk (12), Bob Attwell (14), Bill Derlago (18), John Miszuk (20), and coach Dan Maloney (22). Once again, referee for the night will be Eddie Shack. So get your tickets, if you haven't already. They're $10 for adults, and $5 for children, and they are available from Lions Club members or at area businesses.

Well, if you missed Yuk Yuks at Matilda Hall on Saturday night, Cindy Peters and cousin Michelle say we missed a good one. "They had us laughing all night long," says Cindy. "When I got up the next day, I couldn't even talk." The place was packed, as tickets were sold out just a few weeks after going on sale. The great fund raiser was a super idea for the Matilda Recreation Committee, and chances are if you missed this one, you can catch the next event sometime in the spring possibly. Tickets will most likely be sold out in a few hours. Just ask Paul Plante how many he intends to buy.

Those of you who read the History weekly, will no doubt 'get' the photograph on this week's Editorial page (above). But those who don't will probably wonder just what that picture represents. Well, it's a monument erected near Plum Hallow, Ontario, in memory of the famous Mother Barnes, Witch of Plum Hallow. She was a well known clairvoyant and fortune teller. She lived from 1800-1891. There is a reference made to her in the history this week.

Emergency 911 system hits snag with amalgamation

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

WILLIAMSBURG—In case of emergency, dial 911. But what happens if the emergency crew goes to Henderson Road in Williamsburg Twp., and they should be in Matilda?

Or how about Church Street in Morrisburg when the emergency is in Iroquois on the same street?

SD&G Counties Council has been looking at implementing the 911 Emergency System for the past three or four years, and now that amalgamation is on the horizon, there are a few more problems to iron out.

When amalgamation goes into effect, roads within the combined municipalities with the same name: for instance Henderson Road or Church Street; one or the other will have to be changed.

"But as for which road or street name is changed, I'm not sure how that will be done," says Lyle Van Allen, Williamsburg deputy reeve.

"The earliest possible date for implementation of the 911 system is January 1998 because we're on about a 12-month waiting list right now."

"The sooner we get our proposals into Bell Canada, the sooner we'll have the system in the municipality," he says.

The trouble is getting that proposal in, which consists of detailed maps of each municipality.

The 911 system utilizes address information associated with the originating caller's telephone number to route the emergency call to the appropriate 911 primary public service answer point and subsequently transfer the call the the emergency agency dispatch center.

In order to establish the serving area and the various emergency service zones for police, fire and ambulance dispatch centres, Bell Canada utilizes a digital map- based system called a Graphic Geofile Manager. This system allows for the accurate identification of the various emergency zones and telephone exchange boundaries in a computerized format.

The information is used to establish call routing instructions in Bell's digital network switching systems. Call routing is based on the zone attached to each telephone number.

The municipalities must provide the necessary address information to be applied to these map files. The official road names, and any other names (aliases) the road may be called, must be provided. Also, the address ranges for each block section along each road is needed.

"Some of the municipalities in SD&G are dragging their feet," says Van Allen. "Others are completely finished.

Those residences in Williamsburg Township on Coyle Drive and Steward Drive west of Morrisburg, civic numbers have not been installed, but Mike Waddell, Twp. administrator says this is not a problem.

"We consider those house numbers their emergency numbers," he said. "There is no need for civic numbers."

But Van Allen says that for safety reasons, especially for this 911 system, civic numbers should be posted.

"Festival of Trees" at Cornwall Armory

CORNWALL—The Cornwall Armory will be a winter wonderland when the city hosts its first Festival of Trees in November as a fund raising activity.

Designer Christmas trees will be on display from November 22 to 24, which are sponsored by the Eastern Counties Lung Association, in conjunction with the Seaway Arts Council.

Creating excitement and business opportunities, as well as generating tourism in the area, are what organizers are trying to accomplish.

Along with trees, there will also be other items on display like wreaths, Christmas vignettes, gingerbread village and entertainment by local groups and choirs.

The weekend will have a seniors' only viewing time on Friday, with tea and goodies served. THat evening, opening ceremonies will allow for general viewing.

On Saturday, children's breakfast with games, songs and entertainment will be held, and later that night, the Carm Aube Big Band will entertain during the dinner hour and later for the dance. Tickets for this event are going quite quickly.

Following the dance will be an auction and raffle, where the displays will be sold or raffled off.

Sunday, more public viewing will be allowed, followed by closing ceremonies.

and since that day Morrisburg has been curling conscious. Not long after this incident an urban publication read by local members aired philosophies on the curling advantage to be derived from association with the ladies. Immediate steps were taken to organized this department with Mrs. Fred Broder assuming the presidency and 30 ladies becoming members. In 1938 an attractive cement block building was erected at the south end of the curling rink facing Henry Street for use as a clubhouse and in 1949 artificial ice was installed. In 1957 the curling rink fell victim to the ST. Lawrence Seaway and was replaced by a fine building with three sheets of ice on Victoria Street.

The Morrisburg Golf Club completed its season with the annual club meeting and trophy presentation .Picking up club championship silverware were Red Cook and Marg Droppo. Hosea Droppo was elected president for 1967.

The November 16th issue of The Leader reported that at a special meeting of Morrisburg council, a new municipal clerk and chief of police had been hired. Lloyd Barkley, a native of the Morrisburg district who had 10 years experience with the Pyramid Paper Products at Morrisburg, the past seven as office manager, had been retained as municipal clerk. Council also appointed John Rankin, 42, as Chief of Police.

A notice read: Due to Seaway Development we are forced to discontinue our feed business. I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your patronage for the past 30 years. J.D. Connor.

Nomination day was approaching for both Morrisburg and Williamsburg and residents were gearing for the annual meetings which were usually quite lively. This was the time when the 'little people' could attend a meeting and call to account, those to whom they had entrusted the conduct of their civic affairs for the past 12 months.

The November 19th issue of The Leader reported the Lighthouse service had announced all buoys would be withdrawn from the St. Lawrence River shortly after December 1st.

The Leanora Beauty Parlor had secured the premises next door to the Post Office and would be open for business every Tuesday and Friday. Marcelling and haircuts were advertised as their specialties.

Teachers reject offer

CORNWALL—The elementary teachers of the Ontario English Catholic Teachers Association, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry unit have rejected the S.D. & G. Separate School Board's final offer by a vote of 98.8 per cent.

The teachers have made it clear that items such as benefits and preparation time will not be taken away or altered. The vote is also a strong endorsement for full restoration of increments for experience purposes which younger teachers were deprived of during the Social Contract.

Chief negotiator Ray Barnes states, "We feel that the message of our resolve is loud and clear. Our desire is to have an agreement reached at the table and we hope this can occur in the near future."

Williamsburg approves proposal

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

DIXONS CORNERS—The Township of Williamsburg approved County Council's preliminary proposal for restructuring at last Thursday's meeting here.

Reeve Johnny Whitteker and deputy reeve Lyle Van Allen who are on record as opposing voted against, while Councillors David Carkner, Robert Gillard, and Tom Henderson were in favor.

"The majority of council felt it is going to go, as it is partially passed at Councy Council. They thought we should get on with decisions and come up with a proposal to please everybody," Clerk Mike Waddell explained afterwards.

The Village of Morrisburg and Village of Iroquois as well as the Township of Matilda have not yet voted on the proposal. Warden Charles Barkley asked municipalties to vote on the proposal, and send the results in to County Council.

In September, County Council sent out a preliminary incomplete proposal to local municipalities suggesting they could be restructured into six municipalties, while retaining the two-tier system of government.

According to the proposal, Morrisburg, Williamsburg, Iroquois and Matilda would become one township, while Mountain, Winchester, Chesterville and Winchester would become another township.

The Township of Osnabruck and Cornwall township would be another township. The Township of Finch, Township of Roxborough and Village of Finch would become one township municipality. The Townships of Kenyon, Lochiel, Alexandria and Village of Maxville would be one township.

By the November 18 County Council meeting, Mountain and Winchester Township had agreed, while Chesterville has not responded. Roxborough and Finch Township agreed, and Finch Village had not responded. Lancaster Village, Lancaster Township, and Charlottenburgh Township had agreed. Also in agreement were Cornwall Township and Osnabruck Township.

However, the Township of Kenyon, Township of Lochiel, Town of Alexandria and Village of Maxville replied that they wish Glengarry County to be one municipality.

On October 28, County Council also sent out a questionnaire to municipalities asking to fill in the size of a new amalgamated council, name for the new municipalty, and method of electing councillors etc. Ten were completed by November 18.

Ministry of Municipal Affairs spokesperson Yves Drouin said the province has allowed municipalities the option of choosing their own restructuring model, but the status quo is not an option.The province is overhauling the Municipal Act and would like municipalities to be ready with proposals for structural changes, with the intention of cutting municipalities by half for the 1997 November election.

The ministry has also stated that if municipalties do not choose to restructure, the province will decide for them through a commissioner.

The province wants municipalities to have their restructuring proposals by the end of the year. When the Counties Executive committee compiles information from the letters, they will form a draft restructuring proposal. This draft will be returned to each individual municipality for support or rejection.

"No decisions have been binding to date, since the draft has not been forumlated," Counties Clerk Ray Lapointe said.

For a restructuring proposal to go through, at least 11 of the 20 municipalities representing a majority of electors in SD & G must show support. The approvals are sent to County Council for another vote, and at least 28 of these 55 votes must be in favor.

On behalf of Craig, Gareau, Keen, Despatie and Markell, accountant Ross Markell presented phase two of the amalgamation study, outlining methods by which amalgamation would proceed. Phase one dealt with proposed savings based on facts collected by clerks and public works officials of the four municipalities.

Morrisburg Women's Institute meeting

MORRISBURG—Fall meeting of the Morrisburg Women's Institute started off in September.

After the usual business, a poem was read, and Maurine showed the group an old iron from her grandmother's day. This brought memories of long ago, and the end of the changes in the way we do out work.

At the October meeting, Wayne Markell told the group about 911 coming to Morrisburg soon, but it is only for emergencies. For other calls, they were instructed they still have to call the full number. Wayne also gave an update in the work of the ambulance attendants. Some questions were asked and answered.

A poem "I Remember When" was read, and 'thank-you' letters from the schools in the community for bursaries.

Roll Call on Canadian Industries convinced the group that Canadian-made clothes are sometimes hard to come by.

The November meeting was attended by nine members and six ladies from Williamsburg.

The president asked for two minutes silence in honor of the fallen soldiers.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Beland, gave an interesting talk on life in England during the first years of the war. It was a little different from the stories usually heard, because she was still young, and it was more of an adventure for her.

Members also had a display of crafts which drew lots of attention.

A lunch and social time followed and was enjoyed by all in attendance.

Seaway This Week

SARAH-JANE WHITTAKER

Seaway's Remembrance Day ceremony was outstanding this year. Grade 12 and OAC drama students re-created wartime life through the reading of fictional and genuine accounts from the battlefields and the homefront. Miss Wendy Gibb and mr. Jim Millard produced an original film containing images of battle in three major world conflicts, and set it to music from Holst's "The Planets - Mars" and the film "Apollo 13". People from the community watched as veterans from the Iroquois Legion and Seaway's Students' Council laid wreaths in memory of those who lost their lives in war. Thank you to Miss Gibb for organizing such an important event.

Representatives from Seaway's chapter of OSAID, Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving, attended a conference in Bonville with over 100 student members from area schools last Friday. Mary Jo Wheeler, a Gr. 12 student from Tagwi, organized the event dedicated to the victims of impaired driving. Guest speaker, OPP Constable Joel Doiron, discussed the laws against impaired driving, while Mark Cripps, editor of the Prescott Journal, related how impaired driving affected him. Those attending the conference learned how to create a chapter of OSAID, how to organize membership and how to increase awareness about impaired driving.

Seaway's Senior Girls' Basketball team defeated Rothwell-Osnabruck last Wednesday to win the SD&G championship. The exceptional team leadership displayed by Tracey Irven and Megan Gilmer, and the superb performance of Jen Banford contributed to an overwhelming victory for Seaway, with a final score of 53-22. Congratulations to Coach Irv Francis and the team for an outstanding tournament, and good luck at EOSSA!

Grain to be transported overseas

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

WILLIAMSBURG—It was harvest day at the Williamsburg United Church last Thursday.

As Donald Robinson of Elma, worked the combine, church member Gordon Garlough and Rev. Sandy MacPherson proudly surveyed the product, a little over eight metric tonnes of corn.

The church had 3.5 acres of idle land, which the members decided to put to good use by planting in corn. The corn is destined for the Canadian Food Grains Bank under the program "Christian Response to Hunger."

Gordon Garlough said the grain will be stored and handled at Stan and Betty VandenBosch's place near Chesterville. The Food Grains Bank will transport the grain to their depot in Goderich for shipment overseas.

Or if it is financially advantageous, the corn will be sold and the cash used to buy other materials for hunger relief like wheat, soybeans or cooking oil, which is in great demand in third world countries.

"Last year, it went to places like Bosnia, Rwanda, and a small shipment was sent to North Korea," Garlough said.

The Canadian Food Grains Bank is operated by 13 mainline churches, with members on the board of directors who govern it. The churches in Canada have links with churches in the Third World, who if there is a need, make a request to their Canadian church partner.

"Then the Canadian church partner takes the corn, or buys soybeans or whatever, ships it not to the government but to the partner church over there, so it avoids the middle man, and the possibility of crooks getting it and selling it for their own benefit," Garlough explained.

Once the product is sent to the needy country, it is distributed there by the partner church.

The Canadian government assists in the projects, by matching four dollars for each dollar of the products market value.

The Canadian International Development Agency adds $4800 to the $1200 market value for 8.1 metric tonnes, towards a total of $6,000 in Canadian grains or food products for use in needy countries.

Two other Williamsburg churches growing grain on plots of land for Food Grain projects are the Christian Reformed, and the Lutheran.

Long Sault UCW welcomes visitors

Long Sault U.C.W. welcomed members from Seaway Valley Presbyterial U.C.W. as they met on November 12. Muffins, coffee and tables of books and resources kept everyone busy until President Louise Shaw called the meeting to order with remarks on "What is freedom?"

O Canada was sung and the U.C.W. Purpose repeated. Erna Witherspoon welcomed all on behalf of the local U.C.W. while Rev. Janet Evans gave a welcome on behalf of their church.

Dorothy Day told of the past history of the women's groups in the area.

Worship was conducted by Flo Burnett and Pam Owen of the Kemptville U.C.W. Louise sang, "Here I am Lord" accompanied by Joan McEwan.

The program was taken from Betty Turcott's new book, "There is a season".

Enrichment time, under the topic of communications was presented by Peg Campbell. Using the United Church resource, "Gifts for Leadership", discussion centered around some of the areas which might be looked at to help us improve our groups.

Joan McEwan and Lois Johnson gave a marvellous book report. So many excellent books and resources had been sent from the Montreal Book Room, on Advent, Christmas, Communications, just to name a few topics.

Doris Ennis said grace and we all enjoyed home-made soup with our bag lunches, thanks to the ladies of the church. Donations were made to the Native Healing Fund.

After lunch, Shirley Nichol-Scott gave us an up date on the work at the House of Lazarus. Volunteers are still needed.

Again this year they are asking for toiletry items so that they can make up bags for the clients.

The proposed budget was accepted. We were reminded that U.C.W.s should keep over into the new year, only enough funds to take care of expenses for the first quarter.

Extra monies could be directed to funds such as the Mission and Service fund or the Native Healing Fund.

Ina Poole told about the ABC quilt project for small children. If a group would be interested in knitting, please contact Ina.

Muriel Eastwood asked for our prayers for Zaire. Janice Reynolds mentioned that global Ed-Med no longer takes pill bottles or bandages, we still collect plastic bread tabs and metal can tabs.

The yearly report forms were distributed. They need to be filled in and returned by January, 15. Remember to send to the secretary, Betty Martin, the name, address and phone number of your new president, if you are changing.

Funding for Life Membership pins may now be taken from general funds, as well as from a special collection. The registration forms for the national celebration of 35 years of U.C.W. to be held next year at McMaster University are now out.

Get in touch with Louise if you are planning to go. We only have 40 spaces for our Conference.

The annual meeting will be held on April 8, 1997 in Ingleside.

The next Presbyterial meeting is in Avonmore on Tuesday, February 12, 1997. The snow date is February 13th. Check with your regional representative and listen to CKBY.

It has been suggested that U.C.W.s could make a special offering of $35.00 in celebration of the 35 years of U.C.W.

Mark your contribution "35th Anniversary Gift". The U.C.W.s are encouraged to take one church service during the year with the 35th as the theme. Material for this may be founded in the Exchange magazine.

Margaret Holmes of Winchester Springs gave the courtesies of the day. The meeting closed with the benediction and "Go now in Peace".

Happy Holiday season ! See you in February.

EOSSAA this Thursday for Seniors

Spartans take SD&G title with romp over Tagwi

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

IROQUOIS—For the second year in a row, the Seaway District High School's senior girls' basketball team is the SD&G champion.

Last Friday, the girls capped their impressive season with a huge 53-22 upset over the Rothwell/Osnabruck Lancers.

It was also the second time that Seaway had upset R/O for the SD&G honors, and the right to represent the area at EOSSAA this week.

Coach Irv Francis took it all in stride. Nevertheless, he was quite pleased with the team's championship.

"They played a really great game," he said afterwards. "Very deserving of the win."

Forward and top-point-getter of the game, Shanna Dawley, was extremely happy with the result.

" It was awesome! This team is the best team I've played with in all the years I've been here," she said. "We were a bit nervous at the start of the game and we couldn't get any points, but after the half, things just kind of started to click."

And they couldn't miss.

Megan Gilmer, another towering forward on the squad was equally impressed with the victory.

"I think we expected a lot more out of them. A tougher fight, but it was still nerve wracking at the first. After the half though, we couldn't miss."

Dawley fired 10 points in the upset, while Gilmer, captain Tracey Irven and point-guard Jen Banford had nine each.

Jen Morrow and Marla Duvall had six each, and Jenn Mellan and April Hadley added two each.

"I think this was the best game these girls have played all season," said Francis. "For Tracey, this was her best one bar far."

From a coach's point of view, Francis says that Irven has been an absolutely incredible player to coach.

"She's everything you'd ever expect and then some," he added.

Francis says that next year he's really going to miss the comedic antics of Morrow, Irven and Duvall.

"It's been a great season, and I'm going to miss these girls. If you can't have fun with these guys, you just don't know what fun is!"

Francis stated that these girls were the first ones he coached when he came to Seaway five years ago.

Juniors ousted by Tagwi

The junior Spartans lost their first game over the better part of two seasons here Friday, but it wasn't because they gave up trying.

"They dug themselves too big of a hole and couldn't get out," said an emotional coach Scott Corden as the medallions were awarded to Tagwi after a 41-36 SD&G final upset.

"But I have to give them credit; they never gave up."

Being down by 10 against Tagwi wasn't really a big deal, as the other two times Seaway played Tagwi in regulation, they posted huge comebacks.

In their last regular season game, Seaway won by a mere point—and it was from the free throw line.

"It was a pretty intense game...talk about emotion," noted Francis.

Looking down the bench, two were already in tears and nervous feet keep time to an invisible beat.

By the time the final buzzer sounded, Seaway was half way to the dressing room.

Hopes crushed.

Chance of a three-peat ruined.

Tagwi towered over Seaway and the visitors were able to scramble under the basket to grab the rebounds.

It was shear guts and determination that stopped the Warriors from taking total control of the game.

Seaway managed a comeback in the third quarter and forced three Warriors out of the game as a result of foul trouble, but they couldn't seem to get out of their 10-point hole.

"If they're down by more than 10, it's going to be almost impossible to get out of the hole," said Francis mid-way through the game, at which time they were down by 13.

"Ten is DO-able. Scott can out-coach that guy, but they have to play aggressively. Put the pressure on and trap."

Seaway was getting the foul shot chances, but the ball wouldn't find the net. It would either bounce off the rim, or roll around it. The Spartans could only nail 10 of 29 from the line.

"We can't even buy one today," said Francis. "Too bad they couldn't order out some height."

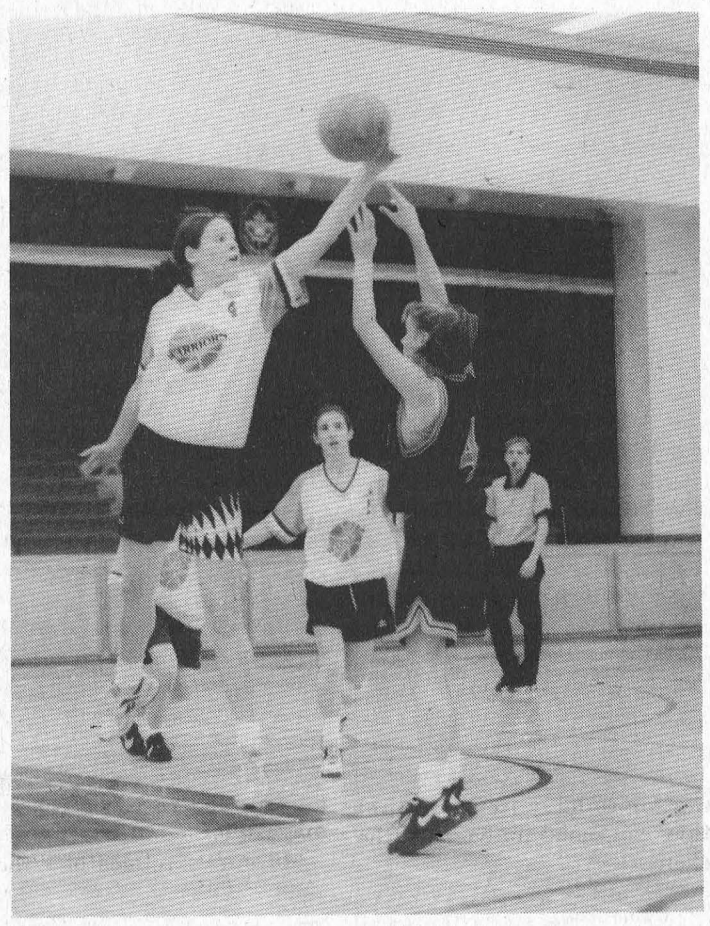
Dana Hassen had seven for Seaway, while Stephanie DeVries, Robin Hamilton and Katherine Adams had six each. Sarah Charbot came up with five, Michelle Verbruggen four and Lindsay Waddell had a pair.

Hitting for Tagwi were Wendy Jacques with 15, Melissa Ridderham with eight, and Cathy Toxopeus with six.

EOSSAA

The seniors are heading to Vankleek Hill for weekend EOSSAA tournament Thursday afternoon.

Tagwi will be representing SD&G at Gananoque on Friday.



Juniors ousted
The Junior girls' basketball team was upset by Tagwi at home Friday. Here Catherine Adams wonders just what to do about the towering Tagwi forward. Seaway put up a good fight, but couldn't manage a comeback.

You've got the power to make the right choices

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

IROQUOIS—Power, choices and control.

These were words of wisdom spoken by Leslie Estwick, special guest speaker at Seaway District High School Monday afternoon, as Drug Awareness Week kicked off in the province.

Estwick, a two-time defending Canadian track and field champion, is also a coach at the Ottawa Lions athletic club. Seaway's own star hurdler and sprinter, Sharon Spear is coached by Estwick.

"Sharon's got what it takes," said Estwick prior to the assembly.

Spear says she's trying to stay focused this year, so she's skipping out on other sports she's formerly participated in.

"I really want to concentrate on track this year," said Spear. "With OAC's it's tough."

But that was the message portrayed by Estwick's motivational talk with the audience.

"Keep as many doors open as you can," she said.

"It's totally within your control. There are so many lessons to learn in life, and making choices is part of it.

"If you set goals relative to yourself, you don't have to worry about the guy beside you. Somewhere out there, there will always be someone a little bit better than you."

"Go for it. Just do it. Because you've go the power!

As Eastern Ontario's launch site for this special event, Seaway's Healthy Lifestyles (HLC) and the Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving (OSAID) committees have worked diligently to make this happen.

Seaway was honored by the Ontario Drug Awareness partnership for work done last year by the HLC in activities promoting awareness of drug and alcohol concerns involving the community.

During this National Drug Awareness Week, from November 17 to 24, Seaway will be hosting special events daily.

Today at the school in the cafeteria, a non-alcohol cocktail judging contest will be held. Thursday, information booths will be featured with displays by the RCMP, OPP, and the Eastern Ontario Health Unit. Some of the items on display will be the breathalizer, illegal drugs, and other pamphlets and brochures.

A multi-media motivational presentation (Powerplay) will feature celebrities and music on Friday morning.

Students from St. Cecilia's and Iroquois Public School students will be able to catch the presentation.

Seaway will wrap the week long event up on with poster and poem contest awards' presentation.

Greg Garry, Ontario Drug Awareness Program member and former Hamilton Tiger Cat, will be making a guest appearance Friday.

Motivated athletes
Sharon Spear, one of Seaway's top athletes who is coached by Leslie Estwick (right) at the Ottawa Lions club, helped welcome Estwick to the school Monday. Estwick, who is a national champion on the track, was the motivational guest speaker to kick off Drug Awareness Week across the province. Seaway High School was chosen as the launch sight as their Healthy Lifestyles Committee has played a key role in promoting healthy lifetyles. Colin Vickers, SD&G school board superintendent, was on hand to congratulate Ms. Diane Schultz, and her committee for the great job they have done. For the entire Drug Awareness Week (November 17 to 23) Seaway will be hosting many more promotional events. Day photo

Deleavey leads KBD to victory in TL play

JEFF BARCLAY
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—On Thursday night Bob Deleavey led KBD to a win in town league play.

Deleavey scored two goals and assisted on two others to defeat Impact Sports by a score of 5-3.

Impact was first to the score board, when #14 put one by Lenny Beckstead, early in the first.

Maintaining their momentum, Impact Sports', Jim Bennis netted one unassisted making the score 2-0.

Just one minute later Kirk barkley put one past Beckstead assisted by Jamie Smith and George Michaels, making it a 3-0 lead before KBD could get started.

Then the momentum changed hands as KBD's Allen Black got by Dave Black, assisted by Perry Brunt.

KBD kept coming and rallied with four more unanswered goals. Bob Deleavey got his first of two goals assisted by Perry Brunt and Greg Workman.

Deleavey got his second of the night when Donald Black passed it over and Deleavey put it by David Black, making it 3-3.

Tom Hodgson got the go ahead goal at 6:44 of the final period, assisted by Deleavey.

Adding one for insurance, Perry Brunt put one by Black to end the game at 5-3.

In the second game Nicks and RJC fought it out to a 1-1 tie.

Nicks got on the board first at 2:10 to go in the first when Jeff Van Moorsel netted one by Paul Hill.

The game went scoreless for most of both periods, looking as if Nicks may take the win, until Johnny Morrow put one by Frank Waytowich to tie it up at 1:12 to go in the game.

Just Another Day

Laurie Day

Driving home from work Monday night, I couldn't help but get a little annoyed with people are already in that festive spirit.

Really people! Christmas lights and decorations in the middle of November?

I just have one word for all you folks out there who love to rush the season.

Why?

Why bother turning on those lights as they take up thousands of kw's? I shudder to think of my meter whirling away for no good reason. I can barely pay the hydro bill after running my hair dryer for 30 days straight.

Bah! Waste of electricity.

And really, those prancing little reindeer on your roof. Unbelievable.

Santa has enough trouble getting down your chimney. And if's he's been drinking eggnog, chances are those deer will be on the ground by morning. Just something else to hold up ol' Saint Nick.

Then there are these holiday shoppers.

Why not wait till the last possible minute before going to the mall? That way you will save a bundle on all that stuff which is marked up for this special occasion. No doubt that some high-priced items will be on sale just one second after midnight on December 24th.

Ever think of that? No! You holiday rushers love to shop in November, then when people like me (who love to leave it all to the last minute) ask if you've got your shopping done, you smartly and tartly retort, "Well yessss!! I've had it done since last month!"

I can see the last strand of hair being pulled out of my head.

That's something else that annoys me to no end. Spending money and going into debt like there's no tomorrow.

"I don't care. It's Christmas," you think. Then you proceed to max out the Mastercard, Visa, American Express...yada, yada, yada.

And when the bills come in January, you promptly head to the bank and hand over the keys to that new Mercedes.

"Might as well take my car," you say. "Can't pay off my credit cards. I'm bankrupt. But hey, we had a fantastic Christmas.'

"Bought the kids that horse they've always wanted; got Grandma a computer. Now she's surfing the Net like an ol' pro. And the spouse and I just got back from a much-needed vacation in Jamacia...trying to get rid of that post-holiday stress."

Oh yeah. Almost forgot. I have to run to the camera store and pick up the five thousand films I took during the holidays.

Just thinking about this wonderful Christmas season, I get a little crazy.

It used to be fun. It used to be something to look forward to.

Spending time with family and friends, drinking and eating way too much, and getting one really special gift.

What ever happened to those good old days? I guess I grew up and forgot to appreciate what I had when I was a kid.

Wells' crew wins Legion Dart touranment

MORRISBURG—How could anyone shoot a '0' when there are over 400 points to go, then step to the line on the next shot and take a three-dart clutch out on 40?

"I don't know, it was pretty embarrassing," said Laurie Day, one of the players on the mixed dart team that won the tournament at the Morrisburg Legion Saturday afternoon.

"My team mates took it in stride though, but not without a good ribbing afterwards. I'm still smarting."

David and Ruth Wells, Bobby Jack Hart and Day teamed up to win 13 out of 20 games for the $220 first place prize.

Thirteen teams took part in the tournament, with Wells' team winning 10 out of 15 on the B side. Another clutch out came from Ruth Wells in the final series as she picked off a double four on the first dart to clinch first place.

In the A division, it was a rat race to the finish with three teams playing of for second place with 10 games won.

Ernie Beckstead, Fred Devaul, Sherry Wereley and Bev Brown claimed the division win with 11 of a possible 18 wins, after easily upsetting Mike Osborne's team in three straight.

Fred Diegel, Frank Marriner, Barb Marriner and Carolyn Gale won the shootoff for second place.

For first and second place, Wells' team faced off against Beckstead's team.

Wells took game one, but Beckstead's came back to win the next two with outs by Ernie and Sherry Wereley.

Day took game four to tie the best of five series at four apiece.

Both teams had a chance to win the final game but it was Hart with the double nine to take it on the first dart.

Beckstead had to settle for $120 for second place.

A team from Cardinal with Dominique and Mike Reid won $80 for third place after upsetting Fred Diegel's team who ended with $40.

Men's and ladies' high scores were also awarded $20 each.

For the women, Pat Right won $20, and Mike Levere took the men's high (140) after a six-man playoff.

Bobby Jack Hart also won $20 for being the first person to shoot a 180. Hart had three throughout the day.

Dart tournament winners

David and Ruth Wells, Laurie Day and Bobby Jack Hart won the Morrisburg Legion mixed dart tournament on Saturday, after upsetting Fred Devaul, Ernie Beckstead, Sherry Wereley and Bev Brown in the finals, three games to two. The team won $220 for their efforts, while Devaul picked up $120. Ron Bradford photo

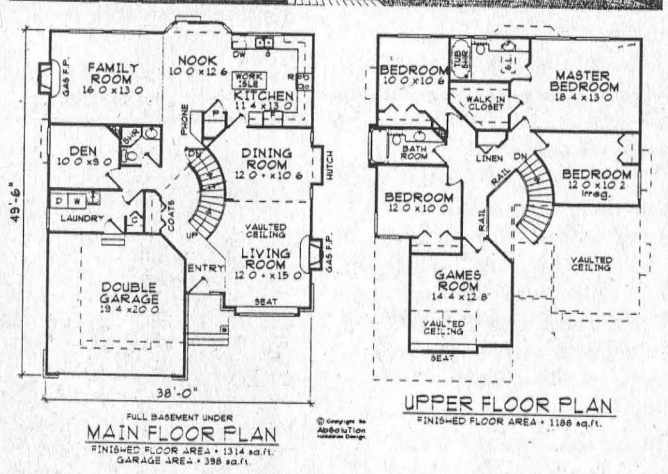
The Home Of The Week ...
YOUR HOME IMPROVEMENT
"SPECIALISTS!"



PLAN NO. AT01900B
EFFICIENT LAYOUT FOR COMPACT DESIGN
By M. Tynan Copyright 1996

At 38'-0" wide by 49'-6", this home will fit on a variety of today's smaller lots. The living space has been arranged to provide a comfortable and spacious environment in a relatively low square footage.

Enter into a foyer brightened by an overhead window. An open plan for the living and dining room creates a large area for formal entertaining which features a vaulted ceiling and boxed out window seat in the living room.

The kitchen offers a practical "u" shaped work area with plenty of cupboard and counter space, a pantry, and a handy work island. The family room, open to the nook and kitchen, provides a comfortable area for informal gatherings and features a cosy fireplace. The den, set apart from the main traffic areas, would make an ideal study room or library.

Upstairs, the master boasts a three piece ensuite and a walk-in closet. The games room, with the addition of a closet, could be used as a fifth bedroom, and features a vaulted ceiling and a boxed out window seat.

An unfinished basement awaits your creative touch.

Plans for AT01900B may be obtained for $495.00 for a package of five complete sets of working prints and $45.00 for each additional set of the same plan. Allow $15.00 extra to cover the cost of postage and handling (B.C. residents add applicable sales tax to plan total) (All Canadian residents add 7% GST to plan total plus postage and handling.

This is one of our new designs. Many innovative plans are now available in our home plan catalogue for $13.85 including postage and handling and 7% GST.

IN MEMORIAM

HUMMEL–In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mary, who passed away Nov. 22, 1995.
Your end came sad and sudden
No time to say goodbye,
You were gone before we realized
And only God knows why.
You often times said we'd miss you,
Those words have proved to be true.
Many think the wound has healed,
But they little know the sorrow,
Lying in our hearts concealed.
Your someone very special,
Someone good and true.
You will never be forgotten,
For we thought the world of you.
–Always remembered by George and Marilyn, Carl and Francis, grandchildren and Rambo 47p

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSON–In loving memory of my dear husband, Dwayne, who passed away three years ago November 23, 1993.
My memories of you will never grow old,
They are locked in my heart in letters of gold,
Death cannot part us, or distance divide,
For each day of my life, you walk by my side.
–Lovingly remembered Millie 47p

HENOPHY–In loving memory of my dear husband, Carl, who passed away November 21, 1992.
Four years ago since that sad day,
The one I loved was called away
God took him home, it was his will
But in my heart he liveth still.
–Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by wife Dorcas (Dot) 47p

HUMMEL–Mary
This year I found another way to love you
That has kept you so very near
I close my eyes and there you are
Just one blink away.
I've learnt to talk with you a different way
By simply recalling what I know
That you would say.
I even pray a different way
I used to thank God when you were here
For how you blossomed in my life
Now I pray thanking Him for the Rose that never died.
Oh! So much has changed since you left
One short year ago
How back then I thought our love had ended
Blessed I am for I found another way to love you
How blessed we are for John, Chapter 8 Verse 51.
–Donna and children 47p

HUMMEL–Mary, November 22, 1995.
Over the years, you came to be,
A very special person to me,
You took the place of one I lost,
At a young age, unaware of the cost.
To some you were just,
Wrinkled and old.
But to me, you were there
With a heart full of gold.
Never to question, never to ask.
The bond that we had,
will forever last
It's just been a year
Since you left us here
But warm thoughts of you
Are forever near.
–Lovingly remembered by Rosey Stitt 47p

LEVERE–In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Lyall, who tragically died 40 years ago today, November 23, 1956, at 37 years old.
Marriage is like a dance–you choose a partner, and if love and luck are on your side, you move onward together, hand-in-hand, step-by-step!
And now, I'm glad I didn't know
The way it all would end;
The way it all would go.
Our lives are better left to chance;
I could have missed the pain–
But I'd have had to miss the dance.
–Forgotten never–loved forever, Muriel, Shirley, Allan and families 47p

New structure for park looked at

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

WILLIAMSBURG—A more stable structure for the Williamsburg Park is a concern of the Community Association.

David Lapier, president of the WCA, approached Reeve Johnny Whitteker about putting up a new structure at the ball park, prior to last week's monthly meeting of council.

"Every year during Harvest Fest we rent a tent at a cost of $2,000. It would be nice to have something more permanent there," said Lapier.

The WCA is looking to erect a structure with a steel frame and roof, and canvas sides. Something to allow protection of the ice surface in the winter, with adjustable sides, the structure.

It would be cheaper than if they went to a hall-type building.

Lapier says he's waiting on a few estimates before he goes to council with the numbers.

"The service groups I've talked to are quite enthusiastic about the idea," he added.

The WCA has money in the bank, but they are waiting to see just how much will be needed for this structure, before the group goes to council.

SDRC subsidies

In other council news, Administrator Mike Waddell says the South Dundas Recreation Council has paid out $92,000 in subsidies, and adding the soccer subsidy, the pay-out is $94,000. They had budgeted for $107,000. To calculate the subsidy allowance, the percentage of user fees and fund raising of 60 per cent will stay basically the same for 1997 allocations.

Offsetting this year are the arena repairs and the amount still owing Morrisburg and District Minor Hockey which is estimated at $30,000.

Reeve Whitteker noted that utilizing the arena to its fullest potential is somewhat of a challenge, and offered ideas such as ringette, lacrosse.

"When they built that thing, they weren't thinking about having parties upstairs," Whitteker said.

Other arenas in the area with upstairs facilities, he noted, are operating in the black.

Recycle truck losing load

It was brought to Council's attention that the recycle truck has been losing too much garbage when travelling on the Township roads.

"I've spoken to the driver (William Toop of TCD Waste Systems)," said Roads Superintendent, Hugh Garlough. "I've told him to tarp the truck, but garbage is still flying all over the place. I think it's time to take a stronger action."

Council agreed, that they will address this concern through a written letter, since it's been ongoing since the spring. It was also noted that it's strictly the recycle truck and not the garbage truck that is committing the offence.

Minor Atom Kings

On Remembrance day, the Minor Atom Rideau St. Lawrence Kings were in Gloucester to play the Rangers.

Andrew Manuel started out the game in net for the Kings. The Rangers scored two in the first period while the Kings could never made it to the score board.

Garrett Healey started the second period with the Kings first goal. Brandon Byrd and Clay McFadden assisted.

Gloucester scored their third goal and Michael Robillard was sent in to finish the game in net.

Healey scored the Kings second goal on a break away. The Rangers answered by blowing three past Robillard.

Travis Leach scored the Kings third goal and then late in the second Clay McFadden passed the puck over to Matt Templeton who fired one by the Rangers goalie.

McFadden started the third period off with a goal assisted by Cody Casselman and Garrett Healey. McFadden scored the last goal of the game with assists from Brandon Byrd and Cory Cassell.

On Tuesday the Kings were in Cantebury to play the South Ottawa Canadians for a 7-1 win. Manuel and Robillard split the game.

Byrd was first to score with an assist from Alex Rees. McFadden scored a hat trick with assists from Cory Cassell on the first, Healey on the second and Cassell and Byrd on the third.

Byrd scored his second goal with assists from McFadden and Cassell. Healey scored one with an assist from both Byrd and McFadden.

Sunday November 17, the Kings were in Maxville to play the Seaway Valley Rapids. Michael Robillard was in the nets for the Kings and was severely tested through out the game.

After out playing the Kings, Seaway scored the first and only goal of the first period. Healey tied the game up early in the second with an assist from Byrd.

Slightly more than two minutes later, McFadden scored the Kings go ahead goal with assists from Healey and Rees.

The Rapids continued to out play the Kings and scored their tying goal on a rebound. With 1:12 left in the game the Seaway captain broke away in the neutral zone and scored short handed, for their winning goal on a break away ending thegame 3-2 for the Rapids.

Happy 1st Birthday MEGAN

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Village of Morrisburg will hold a public meeting on Tuesday, December 10, 1996, at 7:30 p.m. at the Village Municipal Building to consider a proposed zoning by-law amendment under Section 34 of the Land Use Planning and Protection Act, 1996.

The proposed zoning by-law amendment is intended to rezone approximately 1,135.29 square metres (12,220.56 square feet) of land containing 6 rowhouse units situated on Lot 16 and Lot 17 on Registered Plan No. 83 in the Village of Morrisburg, (as shown below), street numbered as 72 - 82 Carraway Crescent, from "Multiple Family Residential (RM) Zone" to "Special Multiple Residential - 5 (RM-5) Zone". The amendment will allow each unit to be sold and therefore held in separate ownership and the properties could eventually become owner occupied. The amendment is also tailored to recognize the existing situation.

ANY PERSON may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed zoning by-law amendment.

If a person or public body that files an appeal of a decision of the Village of Morrisburg in respect of the proposed zoning by-law does not make oral submissions at a public meeting or make written submissions to the Village of Morrisburg before the proposed zoning by-law is adopted, the Ontario Municipal Board may dismiss all or part of the appeal.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION relating to the proposed amendment is available for inspection at my office during regular business hours.

DATED at the Village of Morrisburg this 20th day of November, 1996.

CWI news

IROQUOIS—"Every time we have this gathering of goods for Davis Inlet, it just amazes me because this is such a generous parish," said Elise Weagant, regarding the Mission Project at a recent meeting of the Morrisburg-Iroquois Catholic Women's League.

During the month of October, the CWL had boxes at both St. Mary's and St. Cecilia's Churches to collect donations. The mission priest, Father Anthony Kyere-Menash, had requested children's mitts, hats, socks, and blankets and linens.

Weagant did the packing and sent five boxes to the mission containing three dozen towels (donated by CS Brooks Caldwell), sheets, tablecloths and napkins. Children's clothing and outerwear were also sent. The CWL wishes to thank everyone for their generous support of this project.

The October meeting was well attended and following the celebration of evening mass, president Debbie Byvelds opened with prayer and greetings to all attending. Minutes of the past month's meeting were read and the convenor's reports were presented.

In response to a letter received from the South Dundas Christmas Exchange asking for help, it was proposed and agreed upon that a donation of $200 be sent to this charity, also as in other years, boxes will be placed at both churches in November to collect non-perishable foods for the exchange.

Under "New Business", Byvelds announced that "Peace Dove" suncatchers had been purchased to be presented to the 22 children confirmed on November 3rd. Wreaths were laid for Remembrance Day on behalf of the CWL, at both Morrisburg and Iroquois Legion services.

The always popular Christmas Dinner and auction will be held at the Morrisburg Legion on December 2. The cost of the dinner is $9 per person. Tickets are being sold for a charity raffle as well to be held that evening. First prize is a custom made coffee table, second prize, a hand crocheted baby afghan, third prize, a set of Christmas angels. Tickets are $1 each and can be purchased from Cathy Lortie, 543-2059.

After the closing of the business portion of the meeting, Father Shea was introduced as the guest speaker. His topic, "The History of the Catholic Church - Wants and All". In 15 minutes, Father Shea gave a light humorous informative history of the church from the Old Testament to the Protestant Reformation. A quiz was given at the end of the program which was comical and refreshing. As always, Father Shea's commentary was enjoyed by everyone.

The meeting ended with coffee and dessert.
