Summit snooze

The leaders of the seven most powerful western industrialized nations on earth arrived in Toronto this week for their annual economic summit.

So what?

The idea for the annual gathering was introduced by France's Valery Giscard d'Estaing as an opportunity for the leaders to make progress on issues such as world economics, trade, international politics and Third World debt. Yet the summit has become nothing more than a showpiece, allowing each leader to score some political points at home.

This year Prime Minister Brian Mulroney said his top priority for the summit was to reduce or eliminate agricultural subsidies in Europe and the United States - subsidies which are keeping world food prices low and hurting Canadian farmers.

But as the summit began Willy de Clerq, the European Economic Community's commissioner for external relations said he did not see why the leaders should discuss such a complex issue as agriculture here.

What are these summits for if not to discuss issues which affect members of the Big 7?

The most aides are hoping for at this summit is agreements on hijackings and drugs.

The leaders cannot even agree on a position regarding South Africa.

Our Prime Minister wants further sanctions against the country but Britain's Margaret Thatcher won't even discuss it.

Security, entertainment and other things that go along with summit protocol are costing Canadian taxpayers millions of dollars.

If the summit produced anything concrete, whether it be an agreement on subsidies or the world economy, the cost might be justified. But to pay such a high price so the leaders, especially our Prime Minister, can look good in front of their electorate is shameful.

Letters

Smoke-free environment necessary for some

The Editor

A couple of weeks ago, you printed a letter from D.L. Freeland complaining about non-smoking regulations in hospitals. I would like to answer that letter.

Do you really think all non-smokers are people who do not like the terrible odor of smoke? No sir, they are not. Some of these people have asthma, emphysema, sinus problems, allergies. Need I go on?

If someone becomes ill and they have one of these, their stay in the hospital would be almost impossible. I am one of those people. Smoke causes me to have a very difficult time breathing. Years ago I loved to eat out, go dancing and attend any public function where a good time could be had. Now, I have developed an allergy to smoke and have trouble just going to the store or the bank in small towns around here, as smokers are allowed to carry their habit with them. I can't go any place where there is just one person smoking and it's getting worse. I've been told that's how it goes. This allergy is one that cannot be cured. The only way to keep from having breathing problems is to stay out of smoke.

I'd like to add that I have found very few of the people who smoke who do not consider others, and most of them do not take their smoke into public places. However, there are a few such as yourself who fail to see that smoking makes people ill, and it's not only the smokers who suffer. The people around them also suffer and some of them cannot tolerate even the smallest amount of smoke.

Not smoking in a building doesn't keep anyone out. Yes, the smoker might have to go out once in a while to smoke, but they can enter. If just one smoker goes in and lights up, many cannot go in for health reasons. So you see, it's not just someone's rights being violated, it's someone's health being affected and their lifestyle being changed to accommodate someone who has a bad habit.

Please don't smoke in stores, banks or washrooms.

People with asthma, etc. also have to use the washroom and if they follow you, their day is finished. Smoke at home and to and from work and leave your smokes out of public places. That way we can all go in.

Over 250 attended abortion information meeting

The Editor

I was all set to thank you and your staff, especially Karen Holmes, for her assistance in creating the three rather large ads which we ran in your newspaper and four other papers previous to the Truth About Abortion information meeting we held on Sunday night, June 12, 1988, at the North Dundas District High School. I was also ready to thank you and commend you for the excellent news coverage given our effort by Joe Meagher. He was also instrumental in selling us the amount of advertising we bought.

But now, after seeing this week's Press, I tend to suppress the urge to compliment you. I appreciate the front page coverage of this all important subject, but the reporting of the meeting leaves much to be desired. It appears to me to be inept and distorted. Two very glaring errors stand out: Dr. Dirk Seelemann was master of ceremonies — shown very clearly in the program folder — not a special speaker, and the audience was in the order of 250-275, rather than 100.

Is it not the purpose of the paper to report news as factually as possible, and only express the opinions of the paper in editorial comment?

A very important fact that was completely missed was the supportive remarks made by Dr. G. Slowey, a deeply committed pro-life family physician.

Now, having gotten that off my chest, I wish to welcome your three new staff members and offer them any help that I may be able to give them.

Yours sincerely,

Laurie Summers

The Bowling Green was never in better shape than it is now, and several very interesting games have been played in the evenings. This year, as last, a $5 gold piece is donated for local single competition, but this year the donor refuses to enter the competition.

An action for $15,000 damages was filed at the courthouse, Ottawa, yesterday, over the death of Eric Stata, a 14-year-old Chesterville youth, who was fatally injured by a companion while playing a game of "cops and robbers" two months ago.

The writ claims "negligent operation by the defendents of a rifle resulting in the death of Eric Stata on or about April 14, 1938."

Ontario Farm Service Force Camps in the fruit and vegetable areas of Ontario are in urgent and immediate need of 500 girls to undertake fruit picking and other essential tasks on the fruit and vegetable farms, it was announced by Alex MacLaren, Director of the Ontario Farm Service.

Most of these camps are now open at Thedford, Cottam, Ruthven, Waterford, Huttonville, Oakville, Clarkson and various points in the Niagara Peninsula, and they are far short of their required number of girls.

Inkerman's new three-room school got its start this week with Dodge Construction Company of Cardinal laying the foundation.

The contract for the construction of the school was signed on June 4th with the Dodge Company.

A tragic accident took the life of Carol Audrey Durant, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Durant, RR3 Chesterville, last Saturday. One of the milk cows, apparently trying to take possession of another cow's calf, knocked the little girl over and her head struck a concrete walk.

She was rushed immediately to Winchester District Memorial Hospital by her father, but was dead on arrival.

Deputy-Reeve Ron Workman has challenged the Ministry of Environment to keep its word about funding a proposed, $1.4 million expansion to the village's lagoon system.

A new ministry funding the policy would indefinitely delay the development of three subdivisions and an apartment building complex that are now being developed in this village of 1,800 people, he said.

Christian orthodoxy

by Gordon C. Smyth

Here is a voice ringing over the centuries to close the gap between the Founder of Christianity and us: "That which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you" (1 John 1:3-4). He is telling us, who are members of the Church Universal, who we are as the Church moves towards the 21st century.

Christians are not adherents of a religion dreamed up 10, 50 or even100 years ago. We share in a common life with one another here — what the Bible calls the "communion of the Holy Spirit", and we share it with 20 centuries of Christian believers. Above all, we share this life with "the Father and his Son Jesus Christ." And the result is the Christian answer to what has been termed "the pursuit of happiness." "And we are writing this that our joy may be complete."

That is what we are as a church — people of all shapes and sizes, temperaments, experiences and backgrounds, drawn together in the communion of the Holy Spirit by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ and the love of God.

These three names of God suggest the doctrine of the Trinity. In turn, this doctrine suggests orthodoxy, and that is not popular in significant circles nowadays. For instance, Rosemary Ruether, an influential feminist, has written, "A new God is being formed in our hearts to teach us to level the heavens and exalt the earth and create a new world without masters and slaves, rulers and subjects."

On the other hand, Gail Ramshaw Schmidt has written "The doctrine of the Trinity remains in the 20th century a test of Christian orthodoxy. Thus it is both desirable and essential that liturgical worship acknowledge God with the biblical names Father, Son and Spirit."

Of course, for some the word "orthodoxy" implies a bland acceptance of the status quo. To be orthodox in religion, in economics, in party politics, in literary criticism is considered a kind of stuffiness, a fear of being out of step, a surrender to authority, a mental laziness or timidity.

All this is strange when you note that the word simply and literally means, "holding the right opinions." And what is wrong with that? Does anyone really want to hold wrong opinions? It can also mean "doing things the right way." The orthodox way of entering my home is to put a key in the door and turn. Does anyone prefer the methods of a cat-burglar?

The ideal orthodoxy is shared with millions in every corner of the world today and with a great company of those who lived and died in this faith, including perhaps your ancestors and mine. What are our troubles with the differences between denominations today, or with certain phrases in the creeds, compared with the communion of all who can say "Jesus Christ is Lord" and seek with others to draw the consequences, compared with those who can joyfully sing together, on earth and in heaven, "Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit!"

And, in every age, this testimony is made in order that the joy of us all "may be complete".

Seventh Column

by Joe Rowan

A summer much like any other summer you say? Dryer than usual, perhaps, but other than that, the usual train of events? That's exactly what we thought too, until last week when someone suggested there might not be a Russell Fastball Tournament this year. Naturally we told the lad to go soak his head in a rain-barrel. How could any 'rumor mill' possibly church out such ridiculous nonsense. No Lions Ball Tournament at Russell! Unthinkable! Hadn't the anticipated summer event rated top billing since Keith Russell was a big, bashful kid hurling 'bullets' past embarrassed batters? Cancellation of such minor outings as a "Summit Conference" or a "Meach Lake squibble" we could readily understand. But cancellation of Russell's annual sports extravaganza? No way! Wrong... It's gone! Checked with former player, coach, manager, promotor, and Lions past-president Barry McVey Monday morning and he explained why. "No ball teams any more", he mournfully reported, "and fans sure couldn't be expected to pay money and get excited watching a silly, sissy game of 'scrub' called "three-pitch" or "slow-pitch" or something equally as senseless". Think there was a trace of a tear in his eye when he noted, nostagically, that this would have been the tournament's 25th anniversary. Bet there are many like us with wonderful memories of those competitions that attracted the top athletes from not only the Ottawa Valley but as far away as New York, Quebec and Toronto. There may, however, be a dim light at the end of that dismal tunnel. History may be about to repeat itself. Understand Russell, for the first time in many years, once again has a league-leading fastball team. Could be the beginning of another 'dynasty'. Sure hope so.

Strawberry Festival time and Metcalfe Agricultural Society has something real special programmed for this Sunday afternoon. President Harold (Cowan) reports his committee has designed a few hours of entertainment that will combine professionals, local talent and a typical old-fashioned buffet meal with heaping helpings of fresh berries. Although raising a few much-needed dollars is the endeavor's prime purpose, the 'spin-off' is certain to be happy hours of relaxation in an atmosphere of genuine rural hospitality. The curtain will rise at exactly 2:30 with the always-popular Singing Policeman (Dominic D'Arcy) in the spotlight and, before the meal (symbolic of an old-time threshing bee spread) is wheeled in, the "Happy Cop" will have been joined by talented local musicians, singers and dancers. The spacious three-lane curling rink will be colorfully decorated for the occasion; there will be reduced prices for children and no charge whatever for tiny tots (under 6). Most likely we'll see you there.

One good way to forget all about these warm and dry days is to continue thinking about fall fairs. So we'll just do that. Planning for those popular autumn exhibitions has never been an easy task, but Metcalfe's men and women have always managed to keep their show near the top. In recent years the major obstacle encountered has been the weather. Understandably being the last of the fall shows means challenging the relentless approach of winter. That's why the issue has been the topic of lengthy discussion and serious consideration at recent board meetings. Changing the date is not something to be taken lightly since, as one former president points out, while there are countless reasons why an early autumn or late summer fair might prove a wise decision, there are equally as many reasons why being the last rural fair should not be tampered with. The society has proven its ability to make wise decisions over the last 132 years. Have a hunch that same wisdom will prevail when this issue is voted on in July.

This column is always happy to offer guidance to floundering bureaucracies. And, if ever a floundring bureaucracy need guidance, it has to be Canada Post with its 'privatization' blundering. Blundering that would eventually close present employee-staffed outlets in favor of private postal outlets located in drug stores, grocery chains, tobacco stands or other private business centres. That could mean, as we see it, the eventual closure of Winchester's busy Church Street depot. Naturally Canada Post will have to select a 'suitable replacement' at some local business establishment. Think we may have the answer... A 'lean-to' on the chipwagon over at the park. Sounds a bit ridiculous we know... but then so does Canada Post's entire ludicrous "franchization" nonsense.

Maybe you didn't know, but a small Asiastic country, Rwanda, may have recently established a marriage policy worthy of consideration worldwide. Until a few weeks ago the 'going price' for 'brides' in that country was always one cow. The government has now seen fit to make changes. Because parents of marriagable young women have been demanding cash instead of a cow the government has fixed the bride price at "three hoes" — instead of a cow. Seems like a rather high price... but suppose inflation demands drastic action.

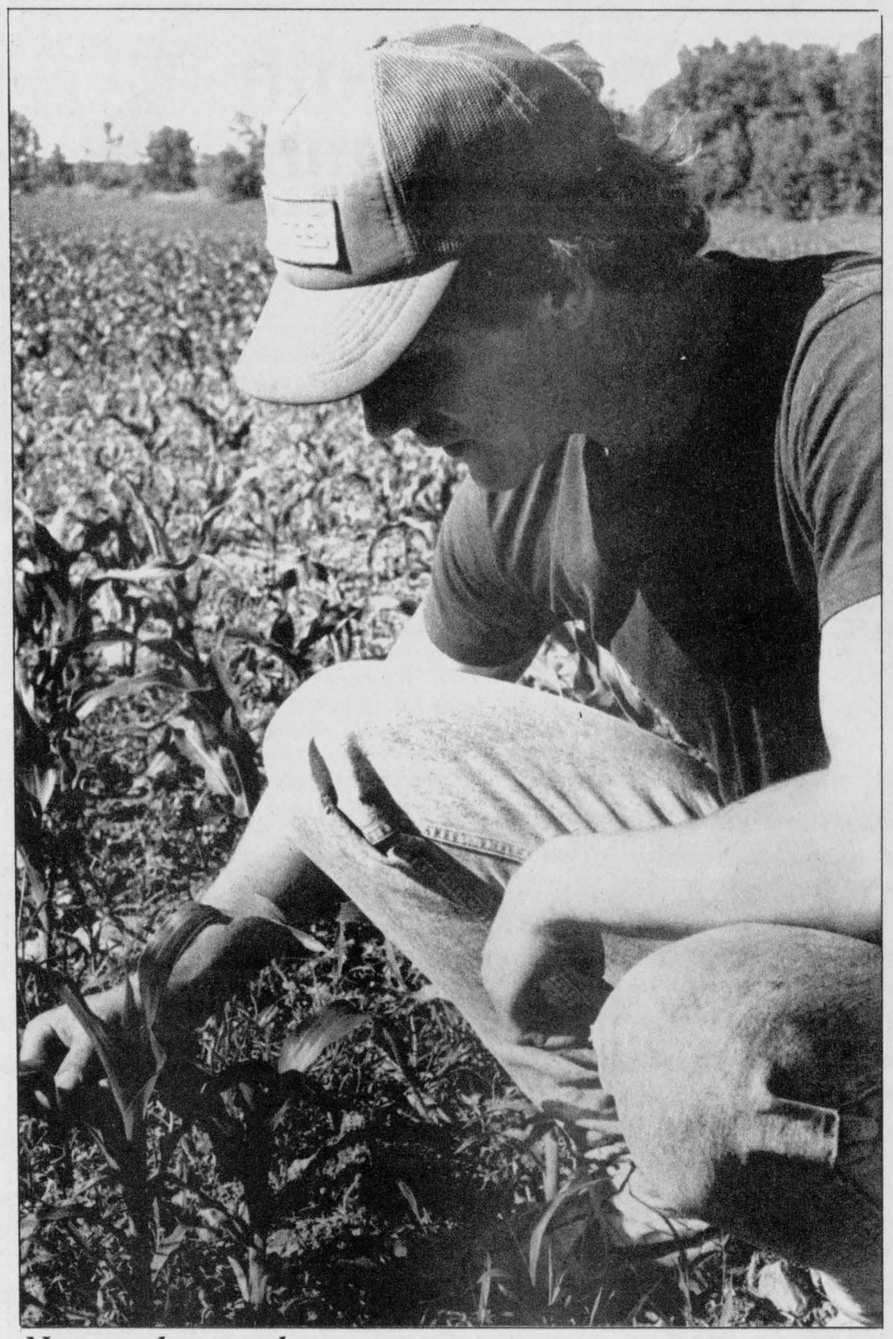
Farm Update



Not much growth

Jeff Van Moorsel, 23, checks a crop of corn grown on his farm in Glen Becker. The hot, humid temperatures coupled with the lack of rain has damaged many crops in Eastern Ontario.

Lack of rain has Dundas crops under seige

WILLIAMSBURG — Eastern Ontario is currently sweltering under a heat wave with no relief in sight.

An above-average rainfall in April signalled the start of a good growing season but unseasonably cold temperatures and resulting frost in early June, coupled with lower-than-average rainfall in May and no traceable amounts this month, have left farmers with damaged crops and nowhere to turn.

Jeff Van Moorsel, 23, who farms with his father, Peter, in Glen Becker says there is little farmers can do to protect their crops.

"There's really nothing we can do right now," he said.

One of the main problems facing the Van Moorsels is damage to crops from herbicides since the chemicals do not work properly unless absorbed by the soil.

"They all work a little bit without rain but we have had burn on some corn," said Van Moorsel. "And the lack of rain is a little hard on the hay. There won't be a second cut of hay if it doesn't rain soon."

The Van Moorsels grow corn and wheat on the family farm. Peter has worked the land since 1952 and says he cannot remember it being this dry so early in the growing season.

The drought affects all farmers whether they grow cash crops or own livestock.

Lyle Van Allen, a dairy farmer in Williamsburg Township, says the quantity of milk produced by his dairy herd has dropped significantly because of the dry conditions.

"When the grass doesn't grow the cows don't have choice food to eat," he said. "As a result the milk goes down in quantity."

Van Allen estimates the quantity of milk collected on his farm dropped by 40 litres over a two-day period last week.

"I imagine that is because of the humidity," he said. "We will have to wait it out. About the only thing we can do is make sure the cows have enough water to drink."

He says he is fortunate to have a pond located on his Lightning Street property which will provide enough water for his livestock but he won't be able to get more than one cut of hay.

"I sell a little bit of hay for feed during the winter but I doubt I'll have any for sale this year," he said. "It is about 50 to 75 per cent of what it was last year."

Demand for agricrews high

KEMPTVILLE — Once again this summer, the Agricrews are available for hiring but the demand is high so farmers are urged to call as early as possible.

"We're booked full until the middle of July," said Rhonda Patterson, Youth Employment Officer with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food in Kemptville. "I've had calls and I've had to turn them down. My recommendation is to call a month in advance."

Applications from students were down from last year but a sufficient number have applied to allot one crew to Grenville County and one to Dundas.

The crews are made up of one foreman and three crew members. They are hired for an eight hour day at a rate of $110. The crews will do work such as haying, weeding, painting, pruning, fencing and general clean-up. A maximum of five days and a minimum of one day can be booked.

Patterson said one crew foreman is a recent graduate of Kemptville College while the rest attend local high schools in the two counties.

"The demand is high," said Patterson. "I won't say no to any applications but it is getting late. I will need people to fill in if someone quits or they are sick for a day. All the applications I get will be kept on hand for sure."

The program will be starting later this year because of conflicts with exam schedules at area high schools. Originally the program was to start June 20 but now will begin June 22 and run until August 19.

As well, Patterson says the Junior Agriculturalist Program that allows students with no farm experience to live and work with a host farm family throughout the summer will get off to a later start due to exams. So far six families in Grenville and Dundas have been matched with a student with two families still awaiting matches.

Eleven-year-old Karen Willis took time out from her Saturday morning strawberry picking to enjoy one of the juicy fruits. The Kemptville girl was one of many area residents out picking their own boxes of strawberries over the weekend.

Ripe for the pickin'

Pick-your-own outlets approach height of season

by Jim Day
Press Staff Reporter

The weather was ripe for area strawberry picking during the weekend as the season for the juicy fruit got off to a sweet start.

Early Saturday morning at Madill Orchards near Kemptville, about a dozen people were out in the fields picking their own strawberries.

John Madill, owner of the orchard, said that in his strawberry fields "traditionally, pick your own has been very popular."

He said by offering a snack bar, selling ice cream and providing picnic tables and washrooms, people are encouraged to stick around and pick his/her own strawberries.

Picking the berries, of course, is less expensive than buying them prepicked. At Robertson's Apple Farm just west of Morrisburg, a quart-sized box of strawberries bought off the shelf costs $1.65 while someone can save 65 cents picking their own.

Most farmers anticipate their strawberry season will be about three weeks long.

Robertson's is open from 7am to 8pm, Monday through Saturday. Madill's is open seven days a week from 8am to 9pm. Dentz Orchards and Strawberry Farm near Brinston between Hainsville and Williamsburg will be open 8am to 8pm Monday to Saturday. Mountain Orchards, located between Kemptville and Winchester, will be open Monday to Saturday from 8am to dusk and on Sunday from 10am to 5pm.

Madill said the "prime time" for plucking is during the second week of the strawberry season, which will be the end of this week.

The taste tails off near the end of the season, Madill said, with the strawberries starting to taste bitter.

Madill's strawberry crop is considerably less than last year because of severe winter kill. "I'm a little short on product this year."

Strawberries make up about 75 per cent of Madill's crop and he has replanted already, predicting a good crop next year.

Looking ahead a bit, Madill said the raspberry season begins in mid-July.

The orchard farmers also offered some tips for those planning on popping into the fields to pick their own strawberries.

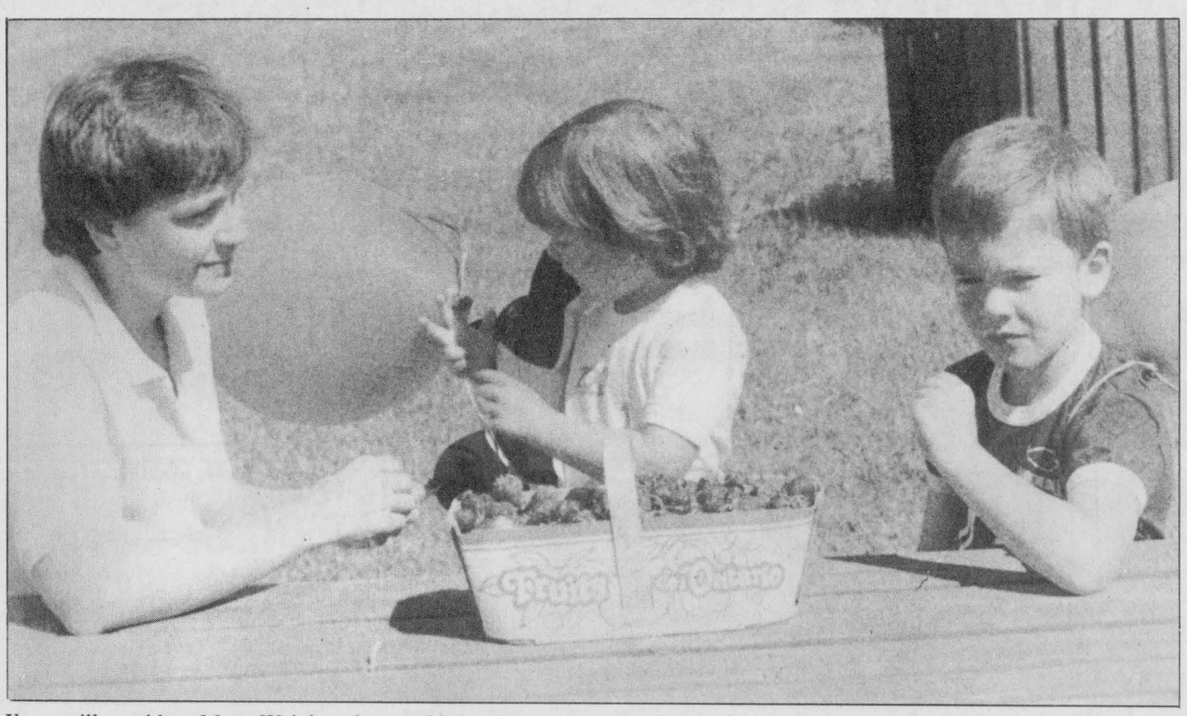
Dress for hot weather as the fields are open and completely exposed to the sun. Light clothing, a hat and sunglasses are the recommended garb.

It is also advised to avoid wearing white clothing or Murphy's Law of blotching red stains will surely apply.

For those not making it to any of the area orchids to buy strawberries, there are a number of strawberry socials coming up later in June.

They include:

- The Williamsburg United Church on June 25 at 4:30 pm. Admission is $3.50 for adults; $2 for children under 12 and free for preschoolers.
- With full-course meal at St. Andrew's United Church in Halville on June 21 at 5pm. Adults — $5; 12 and under — $3 and preschoolers free.
- Winchester Springs United Church on June 22 at 5:30pm. Adults — $4; children — $2. There will be entertainment.
- St. John's Lutheran Church at Riverside Heights on June 25 from 4 to 7pm. A full course meal. Adults — $6.50; children six to 12 years old — $3.50 and under six free.
- Dunbar Presbyterian Church on June 23 at 5pm. Adults — $4; children — $2 and preschoolers free.
- Strawberry festival at the Metcalf Curling Club on June 26 from 2:30pm to 7:30pm. Dominic D'arcy, the "singing policeman" and local talent. There will be a buffet dinner from 5pm to 6:30pm. Admission for adults is $10 or $8 in advance; $5 for children between six and 12 and free for children under six.



Kemptville resident Mary Wright relaxes with her children at Madill's Orchards during the weekend. Erin, 3, and Simon, 5, do not appear to be to preoccupied with the basket of strawberries that they helped pick.

Search on for dairy princess

BERWICK — Stormont and Dundas have launched a search for royalty.

But co-ordinators of the contests to choose successors to the counties' dairy princesses believe it may take some arm twisting to convince young women to seek the 1988-89 title.

The deadline for Stormont contestants is a little more than a week away and co-ordinator Barbara-Ann Glaude had not received any applications as of last week.

In Dundas, the deadline for the Aug. 6 competition in Winchester, is July 15. Co-ordinator Mary Fisher said several young women have said they're interested in running.

"Sometimes I wonder if interest is waning and yet when you get those young people into it, they're very interested," said Fisher.

Glaude, co-ordinating her second competiton, said interest goes "in spurts and sprees".

The demanding schedule for the winner could also be a factor. The dairy princess speaks at schools throughout the county (in the past year, Dundas princess Colleen Acres spoke to an estimated 2,500 students at nine schools), as well as meetings ranging "from Women's Institutes to 4-H to banquets," said Glaude.

"They are ambassadors for the milk industry and that's what they're out there to do, to promote the product and to verbalize what's happening with milk."

The fear of public speaking could also stand in the way of potential contestants. But Fisher reminds contestants public speaking "even bothers the politicians sometimes."

Fisher said the program offers young women a chance to boost their self-confidence.

"Our current dairy princess says she's certainly gained more experience in dealing with the public."

Fisher also spoke to several of the region's dairy princesses who participated in Ottawa's Festival of Spring earlier this year.

"They all came back with the same word. 'It's much easier to meet strangers now.' "

The contest is open to young women between the ages of 16 and 25 who have had some involvement in the past three years with the dairy industry, either through farming or their parent's work in the manufacturing of dairy products.

Sixty-five per cent of a contestant's mark is based on an interview with judges. Appearance, personality and ability to respond to questions are each rated out of a possible 15 marks; extra-curricular activity accounts for 10, while maturity and knowledge of the industry each account for five.

The remaining 35 per cent is based on a public speech about some aspect of the dairy industry.

"It's not a beauty contest at all. It's judged on their knowledge of the dairy industry, how they present themselves," said Glaude.

Further information can be obtained from Glaude at 984-2398, or Fisher at 774-6115.

Farm management club forms

NEPEAN — Carleton County will form a new farm management club beginning this fall.

The purpose of the club is to make farm financial management more enjoyable for farmers. George McLaughlin, Chairman of the Farm Debt Review Board says much of the financial stress experienced by farmers in this decade could have been avoided or reduced with better financial management.

Further information can be obtained by calling the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office in Nepean.

Tug-of-war

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Dundas County 4-H members are encouraged to join a tug-of-war between clubs on July 1 at the South Mountain Fairgrounds beginning at 8pm.

In addition, regular Canada Day celebrations will be held including children's races, bed races, variety show and fireworks.

Dairymen's competition

The eighth annual Future Dairymen's Competition will be held on Aug. 16 at the A.M. Barr Arena at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

Participants will include three senior 4-H members and one leader from each of Eastern Breeders Incorporated 16 counties. Further information can be obtained from the OMAF office in Winchester.

Bull breeder wins award

RAMSAYVILLE — Limousin breeder Russell Scharfe of Ramsayville, Ontario, received the "Max Burnside Memorial Trophy" for having the top performance Limousin bull in Ontario in 1988.

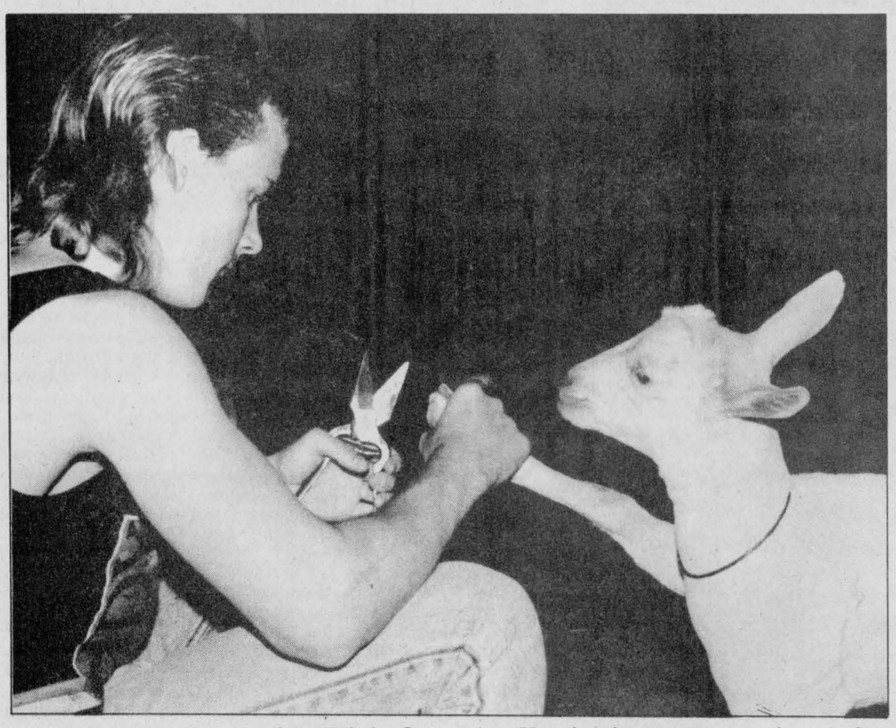
The bull had an ROP Index of 142 and an average daily gain of 4.91 pounds. Scharfe has two bulls for sale at the Douglas Point ROP Station on July 21.

Policy adopted

KEMPTVILLE — The Breeders Association and AI Units in the province have joined the Ontario Dairy Herd Improvement Corporation in the endorsement of a new policy for those involved in supervised official milk recording.

In Ontario, approximately 9,000 or four per cent of cows enrolled on official supervised recording are not positively identified (NIP or registered).

The Canadian Milk Recording Board is the national regulatory agency which sets and oversees the standards for all milk recording programs across Canada. One of the CMRB requirements states that every dairy animal on official recording must be positively identified. Therefore ODHIC is currently contravening national guidelines.



Trevor Cavanagh, 19, came from Toledo, Ontario to participate in the Eastern Ontario Goat Federation Field Day in Kemptville on Saturday. Here he gives a goat a manicure before it is judged during the weekend competition. Press Photo—Day

Toledo goat breeder captures championships at Kemptville

KEMPTVILLE — Ed Cavanagh should treat his animals to a well deserved snack of goat-nip following their impressive showing on the weekend.

Cavanagh's goats were winners in numerous categories during Saturday's Eastern Ontario Goat Federation Field Day at the A.M. Barr Arena in Kemptville.

There was a judge for both the buck and doe shows. The breeds being judged were Alpine, Nubians, Toggenburgs, Lamanchas and Saanens with a recorded grades category only for the doe shows.

A 24-hour "milk out" was held to determine which goats produced the superior milk. Samples were sent to the labs at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology to be rated on volume and butterfat content.

One of Cavanagh's goats, Gryphon SS Sophia, was named Best Doe in the Show and it also was recognized for Best Udder.

Cavanagh also had the Best Dairy Herd.

It was a clean sweep for Cavanagh in the Alpine category, with his goats taking the Junior, Senior and Grand Championship.

In the Nubian Doe category, Sylvia Spasoff's Kellygreen Acres Jasmine took the Senior and Grand Championship. Helen Brown's Red Road Jade's Hat Trick won the Junior Championship.

Denis and Carol Gervais' Royal Pride Charmaine was both Senior and Grand Champion in the Saanen breed. Cavanagh's Pixieland Celeste was Junior Champion.

The Toggenburg Senior and Grand Champion went to Barb and Neville Vincent's Sunny Stead Starshine. Helen Brown's Red Road Nola's Duchess was Junior Champion.

All three categories for Lamancha went to Helen Brown's goats, Red Road Missy's Crystal taking the Junior Championship and Red Road Missy's Vanilla taking both Senior and Grand Championship.

Open Doe Show's Senior and Grand Champion was Royal Pride Charmaine, owned by Denis and Carol Gervais.

R.L. Lamothe and Guy Poirier goats swept the Alpine breed categories.

Sylvia Spasoff's Ralma Acres Caesar was both Senior and Grand Champion. Doris Evoy's Red Road Abe's Medicine Man was Junior Champion.

Senior and Grand Championships for the Saanen's breed went to Carol and Denis Gervais' Royal Pride Fancy's Favor. Cavanagh's Windywillow RCCP Duke was the Junior Champion.

Bev and Don Wigney's male goats swept the Champions' categories for the Toggenburg breed.

Helen Brown's Red Road Chieco's Humby swept the Lamancha breed awards.

The Best in Show for the bucks was Gervais' Royal Pride Fancy's Favor.

In Memoriam

BELLINGER — In loving memory of my mother, Lucy, who passed away June 23, 1974.
She left us quietly,
Her thoughts unknown,
But left us a memory,
We are proud to own.

In your garden of rest,
For when on earth,
She was one of the best.
