Firefighters - 35 Years of Service

With close to 35 years of service and experience since its founding, the Iroquois Fire Department can look back at its history with a sense of pride and accomplishment.

The present department consists of 16 volunteers serving Iroquois and Matilda Township. Equipped with modern equipment, the well-trained group of men are able to respond to any emergency in a matter of minutes.

The Department was formed on January 23, 1941 with the assistance of Rev. John L. Hodgson. Officers elected during that first year were Chief Jack Gregory, Dept. Chief Frank Fader, Capt. Delbert Fawcett, Lt. William Cameron, Lt. Murray Storey, Sec. Ray Parmeter and Drill Instructor Rev. Hodgson.

Equipment has changed since those early days and the Department is constantly updating its vehicles and auciliary equipment.

The first piece of fire-fighting equipment was a hand-pulled hose reel containing a 2 1/2 inch hose. A used 1938 Maple Leaf truck was purchased in 1943 from the Reddin Coal Co., of Cardinal. It was transformed into a fire truck with a front mounted pump purchased from war assets. Pump capacity was 250 gallons per minute powered by a 4-cylinder Evinnude outboard converted for the purpose.

The truck carried 850 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose along with one 12-foot roof ladder and one 28-foot extension ladder. Its only water supply was five gallon pump cans. The truck's box and pump were built and installed by Caldwell Linen Mills and painted by Fetterly's without charge.

In 1963 the Corporation of Iroquois purchased a new fire engine from Thibeault. This unit was mounted on a 1963 Dodge chasis. The fire unit itself consists of a Thibeault 625 gallon per minute pump, a 500 gallon water supply and a hose reel with 200 feet of one-inch hose.

This vehicle also carries 2,000 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose, 1,200 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose, a Hale portable pump, two Scott air packs and a complete medical chest with stretcher. Ladders included are one 12-foot roof ladder, one 28-foot and one 35-foot extension ladder. Four 10-pound dry chemical fire extinguishers along with other necessary fire-fighting equipment completes the regalia carried by the pumper.

The Departments latest acquisition is a tanker received from Matilda Township in January 1975. This truck consists of a 1963 Ford chassis with a 1,200 gallon water tank as well as a 1,000 gallon collapsible tank. The vehicle is equipped with a Thiveault 4-cylinder protable pump (capacity, 425 gallons per minute) 1,000 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose, 500 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose, two air packs with extra cylinders, a medical chest, one 14-foot roof ladder, one 28 foot extension ladder and five 5lb dry chemical extinguishers.

The Department is planning to purchase an emergency van to carry extra equipment and a recessitator and are raising the money themselves.

The present Department consists of 16 men headed by Chief Mac Anderson. Members making-up the full compliment are: Dept. Chief Wayne Gilmour, Captain Norm Bailey, 1st. Lt. Willard Duncan, 2nd. Lt. Carl Robertson, Sec. Tres. Carl Banford, Fire Prevention Officer Dean McCurdy, Firefighters Pat Pope, Lorne Keeler, Dale Roberts, Gary Banford, Russ Fader, Guy Croteau, Art Farr, Doug Reynolds, and Randy Thompson.

The Department is responsible for the safety of 839 households in Iroquois & Matilda Township The men can be summoned by an alarm, which every town resident is familiar with, and can reach a fire in Iroquois within five minutes of the call. A residents call to the Department at 652-4444 rings on six phones throughout the village and the recipient of the call immediately activates by phone the 90-second alarm.

Last year's Eastern Ontario Fire Fighters Convention was hosted by the Iroquois Department. The one-day event attracted 1,500 delegates and the Iroquois Department placed second in the overall point standings for competition, missing out on the championship by a single point.

The Department take their job seriously and provide open meeting and training sessions for the public and go into the schools with films and lecture series. House to house visits are made to each household under their protection and an up to date file is kept on each family. Knowing which room a child or invalid is sleeping in can mean the difference tetween life and death if a fire should occur.

Social and fund raising activities sponsered by the Department include equipping a minor hockey team with new sweaters, organizing winter carnival games and raising funds through dances. The most ambitious of their projects is the summer snowmobile drags which is becoming an international event. Held for the first time last year the drags attracted many entries from Canada and the U.S., gate recipts from the first day alone totalled $3,500.

The races are staged on three consecutive Sundays and the special racing machines compete for a $2,000 purse presented to the driver with the highest overall points.

This year's event will be held September 7th, 21st and October 5th. Don't miss the excitement this year.

Iroquois Winter Carnival to Highlight Amateur Contest

The Iroquois Recreation Committee is busy planning this year's Winter Carnival to be held February 21st and 22nd.

The two days of festivities include a full schedule of events with most local groups and service clubs participating.

To get the show on the road, an Amateur night will be held on Friday evening in the Civic Centre. Prizes will be awarded (to the top performers in various categories).

Saturday is the big day with a full slate of activities planned throughout the day and evening.

Skating and racing events, organized by Jim Shaw, will get things off to a brisk start at 10:00 a.m. Following the races the children can warm-up at the movies with hot chocolate and goodies served by Iroquois Church Organizations.

Then, back outdoors with a log sawing contest and tug of war from 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. sponsered by the Iroquois Fire Department. A second slate of skating events follow from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m.

The action should be fast and furious, and sometimes comical, during the next two hours with a broomball game from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. and an Old Timers Hockey game from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. Plan to attend, it's always a good show when the Old Timers go into action. Participants in both these games are to be announced.

Cardinal, the host troop, acquired the highest number of points in all contests, and was awarded the District trophy. The Reverend E. Earle Eaton of Chesterville, District Public Relations representative, presented the trophy at a bean supper served at the Cardinal Legion Hall at the close of the Derby. Second and third places were won by Spencerville and Iroquois, respectively, while the out-of-district trophy was won by Brockville 8th.

Eleven teams competed, from the communities of Brockville, Spencerville, Morrisburg, Iroquois, Chesterville, Maitland and Cardinal. The Prescott Corps of St. John Ambulance was at the scene thruout the day, in charge of Corporals Robert Boivert, Robert Reid, and Pvt. Max McCallum. Happily, there was little for them to do, no serious mishaps occurring. A shelter tent was erected at the site, while Lean-to Erection, in charge of Dan Steele of Cardinal, was won by Brockville 1st.

Public Urged to Attend Meetings

Agreement was reached between the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education and the S.D. & G. Seperate School Board to allow eight students from St. Cecila's Seperate School to take home economics and industrial arts at the Seaway District High school starting February 1st. The arrangements were made at a meeting of the County Board held in Cornwall last Tuesday night.

Nationview School has been granted permission to undertake a history project which involves the moving and restoration of an old log building to be used as a museum for the community and the study of history at the school. It is anticipated that an O.F.Y. grant will fund this operation and summer students will provide the labour. Senior citizens, as well as students will be involved with the project. Principal of the school is Allan Bain, Morrisburg.

The by-laws of the board have been changed so that the regular meetings of the board which are open to the public will be held the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. The public are urged to attend these meetings so they will become better informed. A progress report of the staffing for French programs in 1975-76 was presented by the administration.

A committee was appointed to study Community-School programs which includes community involvement. This program, outlined by Thomas L. Wells, Minister of Education for Ontario includes a Community-Schools unit to be established in the Ministry with a Community. Education Officer designated in each of the regional offices. The Ministry will provide financial backing to boards wishing to establish community schools. A project of the Ministry will be the production of a practical handbook of facts and ideas related to community schools for the use of school staffs and interested citizens. The Ministry is supporting the idea of full community use of school facilities

Fight Heart Disease

It is important for everyone to realize that the Heart Fund, conducted here and throughout Canada during February is something more than 'just another health drive'.

The Heart Fund is uniquely important. Essentially, it is a combined appeal supporting the nationwide fight against a great complex of diseases and disorders - heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries, rheumatic fever and inborn heart defects, to mention only a few. Diseases of the heart and circulation, which your Heart Fund dollars help to fight, are responsible for more than 78,000 deaths in Canada each year. That is more than the combined total, resulting from all other diseases and causes of death. In fact these cardio-vascular diseases account for over 51.4 percent of all deaths. The heart problem is no distant abstraction.. Although national and international in scope, it exists as a painful and costly reality right here in this town. If you have doubts, examine the obituaries which appear in our daily newspapers. You will find that our local mortality experience closely parallels national figures; that, on the average, about half our death notice will mention 'heart attack', 'stroke' or 'heart disease'. All too often these terms are applied to family breadwinners in the prime of life — men in the 45 to 65 year age bracket.

There is only one practical way to fight heart disease, namely by supporting your Ontario Heart Foundation's balanced programs of research, education and information. You can do this by contributing Heart Fund dollars. Truly, the Heart Fund deserves a place at the very top of your 'giving for health' list. Send your contribution to the Canadian Heart Fund, 310 Davenport Road, Toronto, M5R 3K2, or your local Chapter

The National Housing Act Amendments - Are They Realistic?

Bill C-46 was introduced for Second Reading in the House of Commons this week. It is a Statute designed to entice private funds into the market-place and hope-fully to affect interest rates on mortgages in Canada. The Debate is continuing and it is very timely since there is such turmoil in the field of housing.

As you know, the Federal/Provincial Conference this week found all of the Provinces dissatisfied with the Federal Government's position in the housing field and their efforts thus far.

The Official Opposition has taken the position that the overall measures contained in this legislation should be approved in principle, as it were, since they are at least representative of some kind of action on behalf of the federal government.

However, it should also be pointed out that these measures do not go far enough, either in alleviating the home ownership burden, or in the assertion of the role of the federal government in the housing problem.

These measures are merely a strategic tactic employed by the Liberal Government as a means of cajoling the public into thinking that their government is working for them.

Take, for example, the thrust of the Federal housing policies - if one can understand exactly what that thrust is. The measures contained in the November 18th budget thoroughly confused the building and construction industries at a time when housing starts were declining drastically. As one prominent industry spokesman stated at the time, "I wonder if the Government's intent was to cajole house buyers to defer their purchases or to line up today at real estate offices."

The proposals outlined by Mr. Turner did little but reflect the naivete and uncertainty of federal economic policies. On one hand, with the $500 grant, the opening of high ratio mortgage loans and the reduction of the building materials sales tax - he appeared to be attempting to increase demand. On the other hand, with the Registered Home Ownership Savings Plan, the thrust appears to be to defer demand.

The government appears oblivious to the fact that the problems in the supply and demand aspects of the housing industry are caused by high interest rates and subsequent shortage of mortgage money. Until these are modified demand and supply within the context of the market will suffer. Furthermore, the predictions made by industry spokesmen and economists at the Property Forum '74 Conference in Toronto during November, reinforce this fact.

The Forum predicted that while the supply of mortgage money is expected to increase in 1975, this will be traded off against a decline in forward comitments. As a result of the present rate of interest on mortgages, and the expected future trends, little activity is expected during the first half of 1975.

While interest rates are expected to decline by mid-1975 this decline will be only minimal and short-lived due to "Canada's persistent inflation" - for which the government lacks a policy.

The property forum has also predicted that when the economy makes its expected "turn-around" in 1975, the Government will institute a tight money policy with rising interest rates in an effort to control inflation, as no other anti-inflation policy exists. Any such action as this will promote the failure of the measures contained in this legislation, as well as the measures introduced in the budget.

In the absence of any anti-inflation policy, the people in Canada will suffer as far as housing is concerned. It is impractical to treat one inflation-induced problem in isolation from others. What is needed, is an overall anti-inflation policy, highlighted by the federal guidelines and direction. Until such a policy is formulated, the housing market will suffer.

Snowmobiling a wonderful sport — But ...

Dear Sir:

This is written in the hope that the person or persons responsible will read it and act accordingly.

First I want to make it very clear that I have nothing against snowmobilers, I think it is a wonderful sport.

Last Friday and Saturday night snowmobilers went through my yard where there are numerous trees and shurbs. Last winter a very pretty fir tree was sliced in half by a snowmobile and now another shrub has been chopped off at the roots. When we are so very fortunate, in this area, to have miles of park land to enjoy I find it difficult to understand why private property has to be abused. These trees and shrubs take many years of care to enhance one's property so I ask these people to please refrain from using my property for their machines

Thank you,
Mrs. Joan Saver.

Beefs I've stewed on

By BILL SMILEY

WITH beef the price it is, most of us don't see much of it on the table these days. However, there's one type of beef that is as cheap as ever. If you can't afford the real thing, have a good beef about something that annoys you. It's not as tasty as the genuine article, but it's good for your blood pressure, even though there isn't much protein in it.

I haven't had a good beef about anything for a while, so here goes.

First of all, supermarkets. Many of them are becoming more impersonal, more inefficient, and more sleazy, from day to day. The change has been most noticeable in the past couple of years.

Until then, there was a crackling efficiency in most of the big chain stores. The manager and staff would bust their necks to help you find what you wanted. The girls on the cash registers nearly always had a smile and a greeting. Packaging boys bagged your groceries and would carry them to your car if you wished. As a result, the stores were pleasant places to shop.

What a change! The only time you see the manager is on a television ad. Try to find a clerk, during busy hours, to tell you where the unsalted peanuts or the salted crackers are, and you might as well be in the Sahara, with an empty water canteen, looking for a nice, fresh spring.

The girls on cash don't smile enough, and are obviously overworked. The packaging boys seem to be an extinct species, and when there is one around, he's just going for his coffee break. And he wouldn't think of carrying out your parcels.

It must be that management is deliberately cutting back on staff and service. Why? To increase profits?

Yesterday, I went into a supermarket to pick up a few groceries. About $10 worth, or one bag. I did my shopping in five minutes, and spent 20 minutes waiting in line to pay for it. Of six checkout counters, two were open. One girl was frantically punching buttons and bagging groceries. No packaging boys in sight. The other counter open was the Express counter (8 items or less).

And there's another thing that makes my hair stand on end and my temples throb with outrage. The Express counter.

The very name is a laugh. They should be re-named the Snail counter. They are supposed to be for the people who pick up a can of beans, a loaf of bread and some bologna. They are supposed to zip you through smartly. They don't.

I stood in line for about eight minutes, wondering what the holdup was, as there were only two or three ahead of me. When I was close enough to see, I realized what was going on. Two places ahead of me was an old gal with a nearly full shopping cart, about 30 bucks worth of grub. I started to burn. Eight items is supposed to be the limit in that line-up.

When she finally got finished, and muddled around having a cheque endorsed, another woman took her place, and started unloading her cart. After she had placed eight items on the counter, I began counting. Aloud, in a clear, penetrating voice. Do you know how many items that old biddie had? Thirty-six!

I remarked, loud and clear, to the cashier: "I thought this was the Express counter, eight items or fewer." She had the grace to blush. I half expected the old bat to turn and pulverize me with a salami, but she kept eyes front and her ears were red.

I have a feeling there is room right now for some old-fashioned neighborhood groceries, where you get personal service and your purchases are delivered, if you want to phone in an order. The big supermarket must be hell for little old ladies with arthritis who have to walk blocks with a couple of heavy bags of grub. Speaking of which, why do the baggers at supermarkets always put all the canned goods in one bag, and the kleenex, toilet paper and rice in the other, so that the customer goes out the door with a list like the Titanic going down?

Another sore point with me — and it's sore where it really hurts, in the hip pocket — is the ripoff at big, city hotels.

It was necessary that I spend a few days in one recently, and the prices nearly drove me into bankruptcy, a home for paupers, and insanity.

Single room, $31.00 a day plus $2.50 tax. Parking, $2.50. That's thirty-six simoleons before you lay your head on a pillow. I was slightly stunned, to say the least, but my fault, I hadn't checked the rates.

"Oh, well," I thought. "It's only once in a blue moon, and I'll enjoy the luxury and the terrific service." It is to laugh.

Luxury? It was a hotel room, like 50,000 others. Except that this one was so draughty you had to turn the thermostat up to 80 to keep from shivering.

Service? Oh, the service was great. Especially room service. Tired and frazzled, I decided I didn't want to seek out a dining room and eat alone. Thought I'd stay in my room, have a sandwich, read the paper, watch the news on TV.

That news was the only thing for which they didn't extract blood.

Country boy, without consulting the menu, I ordered one martini, one roast beef sandwich, one small pot of coffee (three cups).

When I went to sign the bill, you could have knocked me over with a lewd wink. A third-rate martini, unchilled, $1.85. Beef sandwich, with a dill pickle, coleslaw and a muck of cheese, $4.35. Small thermos of coffee, $1.35. Surcharge for any order under $10.00, one buck. (That really gripes.) And the waiter, with his hand out for a fat tip. That comes to $8.25, without the tip.

I almost turned out my pockets and shouted: "Here! Take it all."

Once bitten, twice shy, you say. Not me. I have to be hit over the head several times before anything sinks in.

Ordered breakfast. Room service. Thought: "Well, at least you can't be raped at breakfast." Wrong. You can.

Scrambled eggs, cold and watery, on a cold plate. Toast, limp, wet and cold, on a cold plate. The coffee was OK. Bill, about $5.80, plus surtax and tip. A great way to start the day. Rather exorbitant for three cups of coffee, the only thing fit to imbibe, don't you think?

Sure, it's a luxury hotel. But who wants to swim in January? Who needs a massage at $7.00 a rattle? Who needs a haircut at $3.50 or a shoeshine at half a buck? Who needs to pay over 40 cents for a cup of coffee?

Surely there is a place in Canadian society for homey, comfortable hotels, like those in England, where you might pay $30.00 a day for two, with a huge, hot and hearty breakfast thrown in.

Being skinned alive is an uncomfortable way to go.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are in our mid-30's and have three children who are all normal and doing well in school. Our fourth child was born in 1971--the sweetest little girl you'd ever want to meet, but unfortunately she came into the world with a severe facial deformity that makes her look like some sort of a monster.

Her brothers and sisters treat her nicely, but she is stared at and shunned by the neighbor children, and even some adults. It is incredible how insensitive people can be. Some grown-ups have asked me right in front of the child, "What happened to her?" I try to be civil and reply, "She was born this way"--then I move on as fast as I can.

One of the most heartbreaking aspects of the problem is that my husband believes we should not seek surgical help because "it is God's will." He is a strong-minded person, but I am beginning to feel that I must stand up to him. I'm sure I can do it with encouragement from you.

Is there a doctor or a clinic in the East who can make our little girl look less grotesque? I'm not expecting a miracle, just some surgery that will put her more in the class of a normal child. I'll find the money somehow.

Please print your advice in the paper because I can't take a chance on receiving a letter from Ann Landers. He opens everything. I am not concerned that he will recognize this letter as mine because he hasn't read anything but the Racing Form for ten years.

Thank you, Ann, and God bless.
--A Mother

Dear Mother: By all means, stand up to your husband. And do so at once. If you permit him to intimidate you with that nonsense about "God's will" you must bear part of the guilt for not at least attempting to get your child the help she needs.

And don't let money problems stop you. Big-hearted people donate to this society and leave gifts in their wills for people such as you. I have checked out the society and can attest to the fact that it is a worthy charity--strictly on the up and up. (If this sounds like a hint to my affluent readers--it is.) Get going, Mother, and good luck to you and that little girl.

Dear Ann Landers: I have a close friend who came to me several weeks ago and asked me to lend her $250. It was obvious that she had had a few drinks and seemed so desperate I couldn't refuse--so I gave her the cash.

We've seen each other several times since but never once has she mentioned the money. Last night, we met at a party and I took her aside and asked when she intended to repay the $250 I loaned her. She looked at me as if I were crazy--denied having borrowed any money and left me

Dear Speechless: You can kick yourself for not getting something in writing.

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement. Ann Landers's booklet, "Marriage--What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Seaway Community Services Hold Meeting

The regular meeting of Seaway Community Services was held in St. Paul's Lutheran Church hall, Morrisburg, Monday evening, January 27th, with a good representation of the communities present and Directors. The Rev. F. Gooch opened the meeting with prayer at the request of the President, Mrs. N. Corbett. Mrs. G. MacKinnon then read the minutes of the last meeting and that of the Board of Directors, all of which was duly approved. Mrs. R. Pepers gave the financial report (General, Dugout and Co-Crdinator's Funds) which was also approved.

On business from the minutes it was noted that the planned Parents'-Teachers' Association was still under consideration by all parties concerned, that the Post-Christmas dinner was well-supported and the Seaway High School commended for the the use of the premises; that canned-goods from Nation View Public School, South Mountain, Knox Church Explorers, Iroquois, Knox urch Women's Group, Morrisburg including toys from the latter, and bags from the Royal Canadian Legion, Iroquois, were distributed prior to Christmas in 35 baskets to needy families of the Mountain, Matilda and Williamsburg townships; and that letters of appreciation had been sent to all donors.

The Rev. Gooch and Mrs. Pepers reported on the possibility of S.C.S. arranging the transportation and delivery of "Meals on Wheels" from the Iroquois church-kitchen to a number of recipients in Morrisburg. This will be looked into, and Miss Yee of Iroquois will be advised shortly.

The Rev. Hibbs reported on the PLURA grant application for drilling wells in the Matilda and Williamsburg areas, and that further word was needed from the administrators. It was agreed to consider moving on this need within the next month or so, pending the grant, with two wells being drilled in the immediate future. Denominational grants to provide a supervisor/director for the upcoming S.C.S. Summer Camps were noted and the Presbyterian, R.C., United, Anglican, Lutheran and Christian Reformed churches requested to look into the need for 1975 through their official boards.

Mrs. Marie Barkley gave the S.C.S. Co-ordinator's report, giving a resume of her work during the past month, involving transportation needs, L.I.P. meetings distribution of Christmas baskets, etc. This report was followed by the Dundas County Co-op report, noting that the baler operation will be soon be electrically run; that 28,300 lbs. of cardboard, paper 555 cardboard boxes, 3,780 lbs. cut glass were shipped during December and that this self-help anti-pollution, recycling, and reclamation industry was now staffing eight employees, and is totally operated by the employees themselves, offering a great service to the surrounding communities.

Mrs. Bessie Cornutt and Mrs. Mary Hoensulaar were appointed official delegates of S.C.S. to the February 14th meeting of the Ontario Anit-Poverty Organization in Toronto, with Mrs. Reik Pepers and the Rev. E.E. Eaton as alternates. Mrs. Cornutt noted that the Organization was hopeful of having one-million signatures by that date to send to the provincial and federal governments concerning the hardship of inflation upon low-income families, particularly in the area of food costs.

Mrs. Corbett reported on the "Dugout" operation, noting that following a slow post-Christmas season, sales were beginning again. Bedding and pillow-slips were an urgent need and church-groups reminded of this during their rummage-sale collections.

Mr. Martin Van Andel of the Canada Manpower Centre in Presoctt spoke, with Mr. Walter Hutchison, on the L.I.P. grant sponsored recreational program at Brinston, in particular the public skating rink, family nights, and hockey training program. It was noted that the Matilda Council had built a new dressing-room at the rink, and this was highly commended. The Saturday Morn-

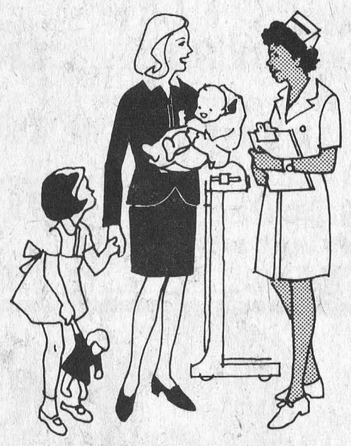
Protect your children against disease, through immunization.
This is what Ontario is doing to help you.



Immunization protects against polio, diphtheria, measles, rubella (German measles), whooping cough, smallpox and tetanus. Although often considered to be "childhood diseases," they are anything but minor—measles, for instance, can lead to encephalitis (brain disease), a cause of retardation!

Here in Ontario, the Ministry of Health provides the vaccines and your Ontario Health Insurance Plan (OHIP) pays a fee to the physician for administering them.

But the responsibility for immunization—for making sure your children are protected—is still up to you. Have your children immunized by your family physician. Or, for school age children, use school immunization programs provided by Health Units.

Immunization is quick and convenient—vaccines against several diseases are often combined. And the only way to control these diseases is to immunize as many people as possible.

Your Ontario Government is doing its share—by providing vaccines and paying for immunization through OHIP.

Do your share—make sure your children are immunized. Consult your family physician, public health nurse or local medical officer of health.

A free booklet on immunization is available, with a chart showing what diseases your children should be immunized against, and at what ages. For your copy, write to:

Knox W.M.S. Holds 1st. Meeting of the Year

The first meeting of the new year of the Knox W.M.S. was held at the home of Miss Nina McGowan on Wednesday, January 29th, with a good turnout of members. Mrs. Mearns, President, welcomed the group, followed by a hymn, and prayer offered by the hostess. The Scripture passage, Colossians 1: 1-20 was read in unison, followed by a reading from the book "Global Living Here and Now".

The Rev. Hibbs introduced the study for the evening from the Bible work book, "Lord of All". Copies of a selected Scripture passage were handed out, and the group followed a workshop procedure for studying same. "Lord of Creation" was the title of the study, and using a blackboard approach, the Minister led the group through a discussion on things over which Christ is Lord and the practical application of same for us today. Issues facing our global society, and proposals for meeting the problems therein, concluded a very interesting and helpful study.

Mrs. Audrey Moke was appointed Secretary for the year and took the roll-call, reading also the minutes of the last meeting. Miss McGowan gave the financial report, and the offering was duly received and dedicated with group prayer. A report of the Brockville Presbyterial recently held was given by Mrs. Mearns, noting that the May Rally will include homemade articles by the auxiliaries in a "time of sharing".

The display of church banners by the Knox P.Y.P.S. at the Presbyterial was well received. The Supply allocation for this year will be $2.00 per member. A centennial year project for the Presbyterial auxiliaries was accepted by the local society, namely, to assist the Yokahama Nursery School and Cultural Centre of the Korean Christian Church in Japan.

"Gospel Prescription" bottles will be made by the President and given to each member to support this project in 1975.

Correspondence was read from Miss Pauline Brown, missioner in India; from Armagh Home in Clarkson; and from the 101st Annual Meeting of the Congregation. A "Tupper Ware" party will be held in St. Andrew's, Spencerville, February 4th, to assist in the new church restoration. It was agreed to accept the proposal of the Annual Meeting, that all women's organizations share one evening of meeting a month, instead of three, and the executive to meet with the other groups to work out the details.

Miss Anne Yee presented a report on "Meals on Wheels", also reading a number of letters of appreciation received around Christmas from recipients. The group is hopeful of receiving a further grant from "New Horizons" to enable the project through this winter. Morrisburg is interested in "plugging into" the local operation, with four recepients in mind. It was agreed to share with the Ladies' Aid in sending a potted flower to a hospitalized member of the group, greatly missed.

Miss McGowan was thanked for her hospitality, and the meeting closed with the singing of a hymn, and prayer read by the Rev. J. Hibbs.

$5.6 Million Dollar Goal Set By Cancer Society

A 1975 goal of $5.6 million has been set by the Ontario Division of the Canadian Cancer Society. This sum, to be raised by volunteers during the Society's annual April campaign, will be used to support cancer research in Canada and to finance programs in public education and service to cancer patients.

Delegates from Cancer Society units and districts across Ontario attended a two-day campaign conference at Toronto's Inn on the Park, January 25th and 26th to organize for the April fund-raising drive.

Speaking to the 500 volunteers, Mike Wilson of Toronto said this year's objective, the largest ever, "is made up of many thousands of donations made by almost one million people throughout Ontario".

The support of cancer research in Canada is largely dependent upon these donations collected by the thousands of cancer Society volunteers during the yearly campaign.

Mr. Wilson was confident that this year's objective could be achieved by the "enthusiastic and dedicated" volunteers part of a "very active and vibrant organization.

The weekend sessions, having as their theme "The Canadian Cancer Society in Action", highlited the Society's work in education and service to patients through film, video tape and slide presentations. Veteran volunteers were on hand to offer helpful tips on organizing community campaigns.

A panel of doctors from Toronto's Princess Margaret Hospital discussed research developments and their influence on the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

Guest speaker, Hon. Frank S. Miller, Minister of Health for Ontario, paid tribute to the dedicated workers of the Cancer Society and stressed the importance of volunteer organizations said, "I am certain that with the knowledge and inspiration gained from this conference and with the strong record of cooperation that we have experienced in our community of Iroquois in the past, we will be able to reach our 1975 objective of $550.00."

Eliminating cancer is a community responsibility; every citizen can share in that goal by supporting cancer research."
in overall health programs.

Attending the conference from this area was Thomas Warren, Branch Campaign Chiarman. He

Sports Slants

by LEO DEBELLEFEUILLE

Hello Sports Fans! Well here we are back once again! After an absence of over one year from the sports beat, we intend to give another whirl each week to offer you a new look and see version of news and views from the wide world of sports.

As was the case in the past column, which appeared weekly ing the Iroquois Post, we will continue to refer to the column as "SPORTS SLANTS, News and Views" by yours truly.

First, may we take this opportunity to thank the former Publisher, Mr. Ken Kirkby for the excellent co-operation he provided in offering you weekly coverage of sporting news. Second may we add that it is a pleasure to be back at work again with the staff and the new Publisher Mr. James Morrison, of the best weekly newspaper by a 'dam site'.

Therefore, to get the ball rolling - I would like to stress, this is YOUR COLUMN. Make full use of it! As an individual or organization, we encourage you to contact us from time to time, relating any worthy news you may feel you would like to see released as it pertains to the local-national or international level.

For example , if your group is planning a special week or observance we would like to give it the complete coverage it deserves.

For the benefit of local sports organizations, it is our intention to generally convey your program to the public by this medium to acquaint the community, with your club officials; their duties and responsibilities and your groups present and future activities. Also, photographs and releases of Special Events you may have in mind. Our only request is that you give sufficient notice in order to give the project the proper coverage it deserves. To the many individuals (we hope) who will become regular weekly readers of "Sports Slants", you are invited to give us a dingle and inform us if you have a contribution to make

We are planning on occasion, to conduct interviews with local sports personalities, for a detailed account of a certain feat or record accomplishment. So there it is. Please do not hesitate - keep in touch regularly - we are anxiously waiting to hear from you.

For this opening column, we will cover some hockey gossip and general chit-chat.

The second and third expansions in the N.H.L. have been enormansly successful, even though they coincided in one instance, with the formation of the W.H.A. Primarily, the people who have been critical are the fans in the original six cities, who were used to seeing the very best of all talent - to the exclusion of all other fans in many areas of North America.

No complaints are heard from the newer cities, because they are delighted to have pro hockey. A dilution of talent has never been denied; it was clearly understood from the outset. It was inevitable. It will sort it self out in due time and, as a matter of fact, is doing so now. For example - invision a Stanly Cup Final in this fashion: Philadelphia vs Vancouver or Los Angeles vs Buffalo - or Atlanta vs St. Louis or Pittsburgh vs New York Islanders. Yes folks - I have just listed eight teams who have been expansion clubs. Anyone could extend the original teams to the wire in a final series. Don't forget what happened in last year's Stanley Cup Final.

As of week-ending February 1st 1975 - The original six N.H.L. teams have earned 320 points. The six highest expansion teams have earned 370 points in the same period. Therefore, somewhere along the expansion trail, the new teams have been providing some excellent hockey. And yes, they have been performing this way in the rinks of the old six team loop, the very centres where the fans are screaming the expansion of the N.H.L. is ruining professional hockey. The statistics don't back up their arguments, at least not in the 1974-75 season. It should be very interesting as the play-offs roll around in early April!

Do you think professional football is becoming a bore? Ground oriented, ball control offenses have taken the drama out of the play-for-pay ranks. The grind-it-out game plan on the ground has caused the sport to be very dull yes, boring. It could revive itself by going back to the old-style offense of more long passing plays. Today's game is oriented to a strong defense, thus cutting down on scoring. Remember those games in the C.F.L. when people like Sam "The Rifle" were shooting bombs to flankers - and over 100 points were being scored in a single game? That was exciting football, it is not that way in the present style of play. Now, we look to place kickers to do the scoring.

Dusty Baker of the Atlanta Braves, who reported "Its been tough at times to hit behind Hank Aaron". Well in the up coming 1975 Baseball season, Dusty Baker should be the logical candidate to fill the immortal's shoes. At 25, he is possibly the only player with enough all-around ability to replace slamming Hank.

Baker is one of the best center fielders patrolling the out field in the game today, as well as being a solid 300 hitter. However, as good a player as Baker is there will never be another Hank Aaron. The "Thinking Man's Athlete", Mike Marshall. The ace relief artist, the diamond's hottest bullpen expert is having second thoughts over the direction his professional life is taking. Mike concedes he enjoys the mental and physical challenges of baseball, but says prolonging his career is not his top priority.

He feels if he retires, he will not miss baseball. There are other areas in his life which seem to be more important. For example, he will be completing a course towards his Ph.D. and hopes to become an educator. He is an extra-ordinary man and also an extra-ordinary relief pitcher.

If Mike Marshall should decide to have a early retirement from baseball, like Hank Aaron, years will pass us by before we have the privilege of seeing another great clutch pressure relief pitcher as that of Mike Marshall.

Action packed films of the Stanley Cup Finals are available free on loan to clubs and groups. Featuring the 1974 finals between Boston and Philadelphia. Highlights of the Stanley Cup Playoffs from 1962 to 74 are available along with the historic "Half Century of the N.H.L.", 30 minutes in colour. To obtain these films write to: Film Library, Molson's Brewery (Ontario) Limited, 640 Fleet Street, Toronto 2B, Ontario. Some local organization should give this suggestion some consideration. We feel the youngsters of our community would appreciate viewing these films - for that matter perhaps Mom and Dad would as well.

Los Angles Kings, passing through Toronto recently, exhibited a tough, close-checking style, reminiscent of the old-fashioned Maple Leafs. That is not surprising, since their coach is an old fashioned Maple Leaf. Bob Pulford's trait, as a player, was a tendency to blush about the neck, ears and face. Admirers in the press box called him Pully the Red Necked Centre. "How come you get so red?" Pulford was once asked, "Temper?" "No" he said "EXERTION".

Until next week, Remember, If you play sports be a good one!

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Lenard is a quiet, shy 12-year-old with an unexpected gift for salesmanship. He sold more Scout calendars than anyone else in his troop. Slim, healthy Lenard has brown hair, blue eyes and fair skin. His glasses are for astigmatism.

Though he belongs to Scouts he really prefers individual activities. He is creative and inventive about making things — such as a model racing car he made from a block of wood which won third prize in a competition.

Lenard is in Grade Five. He has average ability but does not always work up to his capacity. He is interested in detective stories in both television and movies.

Lenard needs a mother and father who will want to spend much time with him. It will be good if there is an older boy in his adopting family, but no children close to Lenard in age.

To inquire about adopting Lenard, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, consult your local Children's Aid Society.

"Death and Dying" Subject of Homemakers Meeting

The Dundas County Red Cross Homemakers held their monthly meeting at 9 a.m. Monday, January 27th in the conference room of the Winchester & District Memorial Hospital.

The Supervisor, Mrs. Catharine M. MacLean, talked to the homemakers on the subject of "Death and Dying", stating that this is a subject everyone must sooner or later come to terms with and until we devolop our own philosophy of death and dying we cannot even hope to help or comfort anyone else.

Mrs. MacLean has recently attended two seminars on "Death and Dying" - one in Kingston in October and the other in Cornwall on January 22nd, the latter dealing specifically with the subject of euthanasia or mercy killing.

Dr. Elizabeth Couglar-Ross, a noted Swiss Physician, has written a widely recognized book entitled "Death and Dying" in which she talks about what it is like to be dying. This book is recommended to all who are interested in learning how to cope with this inevitable experience we all must one day face.

The dying patient goes through various stages such as, first - denial; second - anger; third - bargaining; fourth - realization; fifth - acceptance.

The importance of having one's legal and spiritual affairs set in order does not hasten one's departure from this life. The need of a pastor to counsel us spiritually is as great as knowing a lawyer to help us with our last will and testament. Therefore teamwork involving the clergyman, the lawyer, the physician, the nurse, the homemaker, the family members is of utmost importance to the patient whose death is imminent.

Uses Video-Tape to Explain Therapy Session

A video-tape of a family therapy session, aspects of therapeutic techniques, referral systems and in-service training were the major areas of discussion at a psychology seminar hosted by Brockville Psychiatric Hospital on January 21st, 1975.

Guest speaker for the day was Dr. Robert Briggs, a child psychiatrist and Director of the Child and Family Unit of the Psychiatric Department at the Kingston General Hospital.

Following the presentation of the video-tape which opened the session, Dr. Briggs discussed a "systems" or "pattern" approach to understanding family dynamics. As an example of this approach, Dr. Briggs stressed that trying to uncover how each member of a family handles home-life tensions is a step in understanding.

Personnel from the psychology, social work, and medical staff of Brockville Psychiatric Hospital and staff from some community agencies were in attendance for the seminar.

'Government Has Something to Hide'- Baker

OTTAWA -- Walter Baker, M.P. (Grenville-Carleton), Progressive Conservative deputy house leader says Privy Council President Mitchell Sharp's refusal to day to grant a legitimate Parlimentary inquiry into CIDA operations is the best attempt this session to sweep something under the rug.

Mr. Baker said in view of public comments in the press and questions about CIDA operations, such as the high turnover of personnel, the refusal to produce reports and the controversial loan to Cuba, it is irresponsible for the Trudeau government to deny such a request.

He said at a meeting of all-Party house leaders yesterday at 4:00 p.m. Mr. Sharp said he had no personal objection to referring the matter immediately to the Standing Committee on External Affairs. Mr. Baker said he and the NDP and Social Credit house leaders agreed that this matter was important enough to forego the usual House debate and get it to Committee at once. He said Mr. Sharp made the comment, "We've got nothing to hide", but said he had to check it out with his Cabinet colleagues.

Mr. Baker said today's flat refusal to consider the matter further and suggestion that there will be ample time when CIDA estimates come before the House in the spring, can only lead to a conclusion that the government, in fact, does have something to hide. Mr. Baker said it is a rare precedent when all Parties agree to forego the right to discuss a matter in the House of Commons in order to get it to Committee.

Dundas County Red Cross Homemakers Annual Meeting

January is the month for annual meetings and so the Dundas County Red Cross Homemakers Committee met recently at the Winchester & District Memorial Hospital, with Rev. Leonard Ferguson, Chesterville, Co-Chairman, conducting the meeting.

Members were on hand from Chesterville, Winchester, Williamsburg and Morrisburg. The full slate of officers for 1975 will be announced when the Committee meets next in March.

Mr. Gerard Miner of the firm of Comrie, Blakely and Craig, Morrisburg is in charge of auditing the records.

Mrs. Catharine M. McLean, Supervisor, gave her report, stating that in the first year of operation there were 16 cases, totalling 275 days and averaging 23 days per month. The Supervisor meets homemakers every month, excluding July, August and December. Each meeting involves some type of instruction. She now has a total of 4 homemakers to call upon.

Mrs. MacLean made a total of 101 calls and visits during the year and gave a number of talks on the work to various organizations throughout the area. In October she attended a supervisors conference in Kingston and in November a synposium on alchoholism in Williamstown. Mrs. MacLean expressed her thanks and appreciation to everyone of the Committee members for their encouragement, co-operation and helpfulness to her in this new service undertaken in Dundas County.

DOMINION TEXTILE NEWS

14 Plants Closed for One Week

Dominion Textile Limited announced today the closure for a one-week period of fourteen (14) of its plants in Quebec, Ontario and Nova Scotia, effective February 3rd next, affecting over 3,500 employees. In addition, some 144 employees will be laid off for an indefinite period bringing the total indefinite lay-offs for the company and its subsidiaries to 1094 since August 1974.

Thomas R. Bell, President of the company, stated that the textile industry in Canada and worldwide has felt the effects of generally worsening economic conditions which have persisted throughout the first half of the company's fiscal year and have continued to date with no improvement in sight.

"The trend of lower shipments and bookings as previously reported has continued and required inventory management dictates additional production curtailments at this time".

"These conditions, he added, are worsened by apparent export drives on the part of many major textile producing countries and the level of imports received in Canada in most of the trades served by this company has been growing at a very high rate since the middle of last year."

He stressed that his company was "continuing to do everything in its power to get as much business as it can in the market place and continuing to make strong representations to government to take the measures available to them to stop the undue penetration of imports."
