"Child's Place" Has a New Place to Call Home

While their Dads and Moms were checking out the new digs for "Child's Place" at an open house held last Thursday night, the little ones were doing what they do best...exploring and playing. Above, Kaitlyn Merkley, left, and Victoria St. Pierre tend to their baby dolls. The Cooperative Preschool has changed locations and is not set up in the Mason's north hall of the Masonic Temple on St. Lawrence Street in Morrisburg. The move was prompted by the sale of their previous building and is a win-win situation for the non-profit preschool and the Masons who have consolidated with the Friendly Brothers 143 in Iroquois which left their hall in Morrisburg empty. The Eastern Star will continue to meet in the south hall of the building. For story and addition photo see elsewhere in the issue.

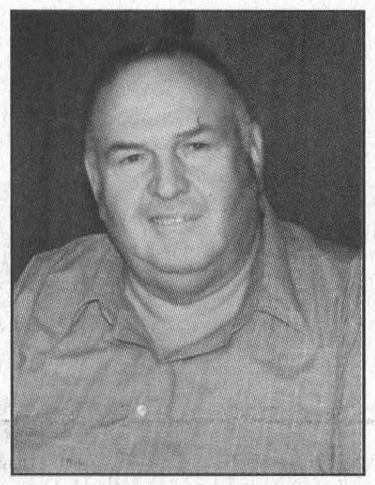
Barkley makes it a three man race for mayor

WILLIAMSBURG – Monday afternoon South Dundas Councillor Charles Barkley ended speculation about what he might do in the upcoming municipal election by filing his nomination papers, and announcing his intention to run for mayor of South Dundas.

Until Monday, Barkley was the only sitting member of council who had not yet announced his intention to seek reelection.

Barkley has been considering a run at the mayor's chair "for some time." He says he thought about running for mayor in the last election, but decided this election was the time to step up to the plate.

Barkley says there are three main reasons that he would like to be mayor. Firstly, he would like to see a stronger council. Secondly, he would like to see a change of direction for council and thirdly, he would like council to be more involved.



Charles Barkley

There have been a few issues dealt with in this council term that Barkley would have liked to have had addressed differently. He says he firmly believes, "if you are not satisfied then you should try and be in a position to change things."

"I have no big ax to grind. I would just like to see things done differently."

Although he has enjoyed his work as councillor for South Dundas he believes he is ready to lead council and has the experience necessary to do so having served on municipal council for 23 years, including six years as reeve of Matilda Township.

The mayor also becomes one of the South Dundas members of United Counties Council. "I look forward to it if I am fortunate enough to get elected," says Barkley.

He says there are things lacking at the county level, and since South Dundas pays a large portion of the county levy, he would like to see that change. Barkley was a member of counties council before amalgamation and would like to return representing South Dundas to "make sure South Dundas gets its fair share."

Of the new four year term of council, Barkley says, "I can live with it either way."

Barkley explains that with elections every four years it means few elections and fewer campaigns meaning that less money is spent. On the flip side, voters get to choose their representation less often. "Four years is a long time if things aren't going well. If the people aren't satisfied with their representation they have to wait a long time for the next election."

"I think it's a small price to pay for good representation."

Election will be at large in South Dundas and Barkley says it was time to make this change. "Council members will have to work to ensure that everyone gets a fair shake." In his time as a South Dundas Councillor, Barkley has always been there for South Dundas as a whole, not just for Matilda. "A ward is just an imaginary line in the ground."

One of the results of election change will be the election of a deputy reeve, who will be the second South Dundas member of Counties council. "It's too important a position to just appoint someone. This gives people a say."

So far the candidates for the position of South Dundas Mayor are Charles Barkley, incumbent Lyle Van Allen and Cam Martel. The nomination deadline is September 29 at 5 p.m.

South Dundas appeals Counties' Official Plan

WILLIAMSBURG – South Dundas council's dissatisfaction with the Counties' official plan, manifested itself at the September 5 meeting.

Members of the public were invited to attend the meeting where council would vote to repeal the official plans of the former Morrisburg, Iroquois, Williamsburg and Matilda.

Only a handful showed up, but when they voiced the same concerns that council has had all along, council voted to do something about it.

South Dundas resident Lee McCaslin said, "I didn't think this sounded like a good plan. I think local control would work better."

Another resident, Garry Murphy added, "I think a lot of people will be very disappointed when they try to get a severance."

Agreeing with both of the residents, South Dundas councillor Charles Barkley told them that they were correct, explaining that he thinks control has been taken away from the township, and the county wide official plan does not accurately reflect local needs.

He further explained that people will not realize the impact of having this county wide official plan until they want a severance. He added that with the plan, the counties will control where houses are built, which will have an impact on the municipality. "That's assessment."

"It's a bad plan and they didn't listen to us at all," said Barkley.

"If enough people have enough backbone and get together anything can be changed," he said.

"What happens if we don't repeal our official plans," asked South Dundas councillor Bill Ewing.

"The new official plan can't come into effect until the old are repealed," said South Dundas CAO Steve McDonald.

"So, leave it sit and let them come back to us," said Ewing, adding that South Dundas should file an appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board.

Council voted in favour of filing an appeal with the OMB, concerning the Counties' official plan, while the motion to repeal the existing official plans was defeated.

Council wants the plan to accurately reflect land designations, especially in regards to rural versus agricultural, since the plan allows for no severances on agricultural land.

Push council's buttons, vote by phone/internet

SOUTH DUNDAS – Voters in South Dundas will once again let their fingers do the talking in the upcoming municipal election.

The election of municipal councils and school board trustees will be held in November 2006, and, as in the last election, voters in South Dundas will be asked to vote by phone or internet.

There will not be any conventional polling stations or proxies in South Dundas.

In October, voters in South Dundas will receive a voter letter detailing the telephone number and website where they can vote, their voter identification number, password and a list of candidates, by mail. The letter will also include help centre information.

For six continuous days, 24 hours a day, the people of South Dundas will be able to cast their vote. Telephone and internet voting starts November 8, 2006, at 9 a.m., and ends November 13, 2006, at 8 p.m.

All that is required to vote is an opinion and a touch-tone telephone or a computer with internet access.

Heading to the Starting Line of the 26th Annual Terry Fox Run

Organizers of the annual Terry Fox Run are challenging the community to come out and top last year's effort which resulted in over $9,000 being raised for the annual event by a record crowd of 92 participants. Since 1994, the local effort, run through Morrisburg Branch 48 of the Royal Canadian Legion, has raised $49,449. To date more than $400 million dollars has been raised worldwide for cancer research by the Terry Fox Foundation in memory of Terry Fox and his Marathon of Hope. For more information on how you can participate see the story inside this week's issue. Upper Canada Playhouse

"On Golden Pond" opens this weekend

By Wendy Gibb

MORRISBURG – "There is a little bit of everything in this play with its humour and engaging characters. Ernest Thompson's work has always had a strong audience appeal. When I chose it, I wanted a story that people could hold on to."

Donnie Bowes, director of Upper Canada Playhouse's upcoming show, On Golden Pond, feels that Playhouse audiences will love this heart-warming play.

Ticket sales for this final summer production, opening on September 16 and running until October 8, 2006, are already off to a good start. As the Playhouse has been operating at a phenomenal 100 per cent capacity this summer, play goers should ensure they book reservations as soon as possible.

It is unlikely that they will be disappointed in this popular play, recently enjoying a major revival in New York with an all black cast featuring actor James Earl Jones.

Bowes has decided to keep his production anchored in the 1970's setting of Thompson's original play. He feels that part of the play's lasting charm lies in the "flavour of the times," in which it is set.

That may be why John Weir, who will be playing the key role of Norman Thayer describes his character as a "crotchety old guy", and something of an "Archie Bunker", the 70's icon.

"Norman reflects the attitudes of his time," Weir says, "He also carries around the 'baggage' of aging. Growing old is something that scares him."

His native Scots accent blurring into one of east coast Maine, veteran Playhouse performer Weir clearly loves his character. "Norman is tremendously funny. I'm enjoying every minute of this show."

Sharing Norman's status as a main character is Ethel Thayer, his wife of 44 years. The relationship of the husband and wife is a key focus of Thompson's play.

Patti Kazmer, very well known to Playhouse audiences, is Ethel. "This is one of my favourite plays," Kazmer says.

Ethel and Norman are spending a long summer at their Golden Pond cottage, coming to terms with their own lives, and with their relationship with their daughter, Chelsea.

Audiences will be delighted as they share in the couple's often hilarious, sometimes touching moments.

Chelsea Thayer is played by Alison Lawrence, no stranger to Upper Canada Playhouse. Thirteen years ago she shared the stage with Donnie Bowes in a Norm Foster production of The Affections of May.

"Chelsea has a difficult relationship with her parents," Lawrence says of her character.

However, "This play is 'larger', and has more joy, life and humour than the movie adapted from the original script," she asserts.

Brian Young, recently seen on stage as Harry in Tom, Dick & Harry, has the role of Bill, Chelsea's fiancé. His character, the father of a 13 year-old son, is called upon to face the "challenge of Norman", Young laughs.

Doug Tangney fills the final role for adults in the play, that of Charlie the Mailman.

"Charlie is the salt of the earth," Tangney says. "He's lived on Golden Pond all of his life, and knows the Thayer family well."

Tangney laughs that he may have got the role of the mailman because his real life uncle used to drive the mail boat on Sturgeon Lake. "I'm a natural."

The final member of the talented cast is also the youngest. 15 year-old Nicholas James Merizzi is taking on the part of Bill's son, Billy.

In On Golden Pond, the boy, essentially dumped on the Thayers for two weeks, eventually establishes a very special relationship with Ethel and the crusty Norman. It is a challenging role for any young actor.

"Nicholas was selected from 25 excellent boys who auditioned for the part of Billy," says director Bowes. "He's great. He has voice and stage craft training, and when he plays the scenes, you can feel him making choices. He is mature and able to take direction, and I can treat him like all the other actors."

While On Golden Pond will be a major acting credit for young Merizzi, a resident of Cornwall, he has appeared in other shows. He performed in Glen productions such as Oliver! and Rock and Roll, and appeared with the Seaway Valley Theatre Company.

Usually two young actors are cast to alternate in the role of Billy, but Bowes is going with Nicholas alone.

"I feel he can handle it," Bowes says. "His family is a 'team' that organizes around their son's activities."

The only thing that director Bowes jokingly says he worries about, is the fact that Nicholas spends so much time in the company of veteran actor John Weir, his on stage 'grandfather.' "John is already teaching him bad tricks," he laughs.

The summer that plays out On Golden Pond will be a memorable one for both the characters, and for audiences. Don't miss this classic Playhouse production.

On Golden Pond runs from September 16 to October 8, 2006. Shows run Tuesdays to Saturdays at eight p.m., with matinees at two p.m. on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

IROQUOIS LEGION NEWSLETTER

Royal Canadian Legion
Branch #370

IROQUOIS – The cribbage league got back into gear for the season with 16 players in the lounge. They ended up playing doubles.

Finishing in first place was Hubert Lapierre with a total of 1,054. Art Ault claimed the second spot with a count of 1,045. Tied for third were a couple of Morrisburg competitors, Pat Casselman and Ron Perrin, each with 1,029. Andre Gravel proudly claimed the Bridesmaid spot with his total of 1,020.

A total of nine skunks were seen loitering around the lounge, but not one person got sprayed twice. This is good for the start of the season.

At euchre on Tuesday evening, September 5, there were seven tables. Claiming the first prize was Evelyn Swerdtfeger, while the second prize was picked up by Muriel Gow. Low score of the evening went to Garfield Wright. Duplicate bridge is still on vacation.

The Pot of Gold winner was Jacques McNicoll who was not signed in. The Pot is definitely beginning to get sweeter.

Sorry I can't tell you what the Friday meal will be, but I know it will be quite good.

The birthday bash for August and September was well attended and entertainment was provided by Dave Farmer. At the same time a barbecue and the grand opening of our patio took place. La La Land looks really good. Thanks to Lyle Fickes and all the volunteers who helped to see this materialize. Nothing would have happened without them.

Two of our members, Bob Esford and Darin Eden, represented our Branch at the Provincial Golf hosted by the Orleans Legion. Out of 69 teams participating, they managed to come in the 11th spot. We are certainly proud of them.

This coming Saturday, our Legion will be holding its 13th Annual Legion Week Mixed Golf Tournament (a Scramble) at the Iroquois Golf Course. There will be a shot gun start at 11 a.m.

Iroquois Mixed Dart League has already had one registration night. The next opportunity for registering will be Friday, September 15.

The Revivals will have the dance floor full on September 30, when they return to our Branch for a fun filled evening.

Don't forget that the Ladies Auxiliary meeting will be Tuesday, September 12 at 7:30 p.m. The Legion Executive meeting is Wednesday, September 13, at seven p.m.

Until next week, take care.

Fall Fair 1860's style at UCV this weekend

MORRISBURG – Upper Canada Village is once again presenting its annual Fall Fair on Saturday and Sunday, September 16 and 17 where it will re-create a traditional 1860s agricultural exhibition. From 25-cent treats and old-fashioned kids games, to agricultural displays and Heritage Horse and Cattle Shows, there will be something for everyone in the family to enjoy.

In the 1860s, such exhibitions were sponsored by Agricultural Societies, made up of mostly farmers and other men dependent on agriculture for their business.

While the main aim of the event was the improvement of livestock and crops, it soon came to include displays of handiwork, crafts and cooking, as well as live entertainment and games. Visitors to Upper Canada Village during this year's two-day event can experience the excitement of one of these old-tyme fairs.

The Fall Fair is an excellent opportunity to see the best of things made and grown at Upper Canada Village. Agricultural and dairy products, vegetables, flowers, handiwork and fine art will all be on display in the Floral Hall.

All entries are characteristic of the 1860s and meet guidelines set out by Upper Canada Village, giving the sense of a true 19th century fair. (The Floral Hall will be open to visitors September 14-17 to allow early viewing of entries).

Over the weekend, visitors to the fair will also have a chance to see prize-winning livestock such as chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys and peafowl. A Heritage Cattle Show and a Horse Show featuring the Canadian Horse will both again be part of the program.

One of the highlights of the event is the more-than-fair prices for treats served on the village fairgrounds. Apples, village-baked bread, village cheese, cider and fudge will all be available at only 25 cents per serving. The Village Store will also be open, offering fall specials on much of its merchandise.

What fair would be complete without entertainment? There will be plenty of music and dancing when the Village's musicians take to the stage on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, singing along with the banjo, bodhran, melodeon, flutes and fiddle. Visitors will want to join the fun as Village children gather to show their dancing skills.

'Steve Baker of Abracadabra', a magician who engages his audiences with a variety of magical acts, will be performing three different shows on each day Saturday and Sunday. Children will also be able to join in a game of ring toss, or in three-legged races, sack races, wheel barrow races, and more.

The Fall Fair is a great tradition at Upper Canada Village, and remains one of the most popular events in the year. All Fall Fair activities are included in the general admission fee to Upper Canada Village for the day. Other fall festivities coming up at Upper Canada Village include the popular Quilt Show September 23-24, as well as "Fall at the Farm" from September†30-October 7. Upper Canada Village will also celebrate Thanksgiving Weekend with a variety of harvest-themed activities on October 7 -8.

For more information, please call 1-800-437-2233 (613-543 4328 locally) or visit the Village's web site at www.uppercanadavillage.com.

A Warm Welcome for 'A Child's Place'

Members of Morrisburg Chapter 83 of the Eastern Star and the former Morrisburg 142 Excelsior Lodge welcomed the Morrisburg and District Preschool, 'A Child's Place', to their facility at an open house hosted by the school at the Masonic Temple last Thursday night. Pictured seated are Natalie Robinson (left) and Leona Millward. In the puppet theatre are 'A Child's Place' instructor Alison Bennett (left) and president Tanya Domanko. Standing, back, l-r, are Bonnie Parker, Douglas Casselman, Pearl Durant, Elizabeth Kirwan, Tanya ter Horst and Sydney Smith. 'A Child's Place' finds a new place to call home

MORRISBURG – A warm welcome was issued to the Morrisburg and District Preschool 'A Child's Place' during the school's open house held at its new location in the Masonic Temple on St. Lawrence Street in Morrisburg last Thursday night.

The school went looking for a new location in the spring, when the building they were renting on First Street was put up for sale.

What they found was the Mason's meeting hall formerly used by Morrisburg Excelsior Lodge #142 in the Masonic Temple on St. Lawrence Street. The meeting hall, located on the north end of the building, was left vacant recently when the Morrisburg Lodge consolidated with the Friendly Brothers 143 in Iroquois.

The resulting lease between the preschool and the lodge is a win-win situation for the two parties involved.

The large hall provides the preschool with an open-concept facility, that instructor Alison Bennett says is going to work well, and the Masons and the Eastern Star with a welcome tenet.

Although the Masons have made their move to Iroquois, Morrisburg Chapter 83 of the Eastern Star continues to be active in their hall located on the south end of the building. In addition, the south hall is available for rentals. It accommodates groups up to 60-80 quite comfortably. It is currently the meeting hall for the Morrisburg and District Lions Club and is used by the Upper Canada Playhouse for rehearsals.

"Members of the Masonic Hall have been absolutely wonderful to work with," says preschool president Tanya Domanko.

"I like it a lot," says Bennett who has her Early Childhood Education Certificate, and has been the instructor at the preschool for the last several years. "There is plenty of space for them to play and be creative."

In addition, to the large indoor hall which has been brightened with a sunny yellow coat of paint, there is room for a small outdoor play yard and plenty of parking for parents when dropping off their children.

The school expects to do some fundraising in order to install a play yard fence and other necessary safety features.

Last Thursday's Open House provided parents and youngsters the opportunity to look over the new facility, prior to the start of the school year on Monday.

Bennett says, registrations are good with most spots in the Monday Toddler Program and Tuesday-Friday Preschool Program now filled.

She says that although there is a waiting list anyone who is interested in having their child attend either of the two programs can still register.

"Pause for a Cause" share a cup or two

The Alzheimer Society of Cornwall & District is preparing its 11th annual Coffee Break event on September 21. This is a nationwide fundraising event for Alzheimer Societies across Canada.

Friends, neighbours, customers and co-workers are invited to 'Pause for a Cause' by sharing a cup of coffee in exchange for a donation to the Alzheimer Society.

"Businesses throughout Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell have been great about supporting Coffee Break since it began in 1996," says Shelley Vaillancourt, Executive Director of the Alzheimer Society of Cornwall & District.

The Society hopes to raise $25,000 and gather 150 host sites in this year's Coffee Break event, says Colette Struthers, Fundraising Coordinator. Struthers adds: "Coffee Breaks are simple to run; we provide promotional materials and guidance to hosts. This year, we're focusing on increasing the number of in-home Coffee Breaks; an easy way for family and friends to get together and honour someone who has been touched by dementia."

"The impact of these social gatherings is very significant for people living with Alzheimer Disease and related dementias in our region, as funds will provide them with much needed support and programs."

The Alzheimer Society of Cornwall & District serves Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell, where nearly 3,000 people are currently diagnosed with Alzheimer Disease or related dementia.

The Society encourages everyone to either host or attend a Coffee Break. Several hosts and businesses have already confirmed their participation. For information about the event or to register as a host of a Coffee Break, please call Colette Struthers at 613-932-4914.

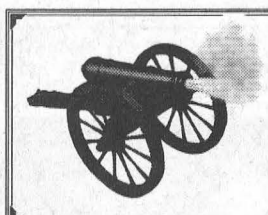
The season officially gets rolling this Saturday, September 16 when minor hockey players hit the ice at the arena in Morrisburg. Players and parents are asked to check the schedules which are posted at the arena.



The Leader Blast from the Past

Compiled from The Leader's files

1996

The September 11 issue reported that Morrisburg Building Inspector, Art Carkner, had recommended to council that the dilapidated building located at 42 Park Street be demolished if owner, John Allison didn't do something about it fast. A contractor, who accompanied Carkner on an inspection, advised that to reduce the risk of immediate danger, the electricity be disconnected from the building and the property posted as a danger to the public.

The Morrisburg Business Improvement Area Association set October 5 as the date for a celebration called Applefest. The celebration was new, but it went back to the event held at the arena in the 1980s. It was to be held this year in the plaza.

Mark Hartin of Kingston won the Upper Canada Open with a 36-hole total of 155. Ninety-one golfers played in the weekend tournament. Local players who did well were Mike Laurin who won C low gross with a 163, and Russell Cameron who won low net in A flight.

Pictured on the front page of the September 10 issue was a fully equipped rescue boat now in the possession of the Morrisburg Fire Department. The boat, to be used for rescue missions on the river, was provided by the Canadian government through the Canadian Coast Guard. Morrisburg was the only fire department between Prescott and Cornwall to be equipped with such a rescue vehicle.

The village of Morrisburg's application for a Capital Conservation Grant to assist in improvements at the arena had been approved. The improvement would include the installation of a new ice plant and floor. The grant was in the amount of $96,663, and as it represented only a portion of the cost, a community fundraising project was to be launched.

Thanks to a drop in interest rates, 54 building permits valued at a total of $2 million had been issued in Morrisburg since January, 1985. While the village was enjoying this small boom, it was noted there might be a shortage of lots in the near future.

Morrisburg Music defeated the Voyageurs 16-4 to win the Morrisburg Mixed Blooperball League playoffs. Bill Mullin and Bill Dillabough had home runs for Music.

1976

The September 10 issue reported that thanks to a provincial grant that would cover 75 percent of required work at the Morrisburg Arena and the generosity of the Morrisburg Lions club, the Morrisburg Legion, the Junior B hockey team, Tubie Race organizers and the Morrisburg Oldtimers Hockey club, the arena would be open for the winter season this fall. The arena was closed in May following a stiffening of the regulations concerning arena construction. Modifications to the roof were expected to cost $40,000.

The Morrisburg Midget Softball team was preparing to play off with a club from Stouffville, Ontario, in their bid to win the provincial crown.

George Clackett was honoured on his retirement from the Morrisburg Volunteer Fire Department. He served on the local brigade for more than 16 years.

Canadian Ken Carter, holder of the world record car jump distance, was flying high these days. Carter was training for a world rocket car jump attempt set for September 25 at Morrisburg. The 38-year-old planned to ride his rocket car across the St. Lawrence to Ogden Island, New York, to establish a world record automobile jump. The jump was to be of one mile from a specially erected ramp located on property west of Morrisburg.

Headlines in the September 9 issue read: Morrisburg to have deputy-reeve in 1967. As a result of reassessment and enrollment, it was learned there were now 1,012 electors in Morrisburg. A total of 1,000 electors was required to qualify the village for a reeve and a deputy reeve. This meant, the village would now have two representatives at Counties Council.

Motorists were reminded of the new law that required they stop when meeting or overtaking a school bus, when its lights were flashing. School buses were now equipped with red flashing lights on the front as well as the rear.

Sister Mary Melanie, executive director of St. Mary's Hospital in Montreal, was awarded a Fellowship in the American College of Hospital Administrators in Chicago. Sister Mary Melanie was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coligan of Morrisburg.

1956

The September 14 issue reported the Morrisburg High School Cadet Corps was awarded the Strathcona Efficiency Shield for 1955-56. This award was given by the Strathcona Trust to the Cadet Corps having the highest rating among the 18 schools of the Eastern Ontario area. The instructors directing the Morrisburg Corps were E. H. Greig, R. Howald, C. Curtch and M. Neuwelt.

The Bank of Montreal advertised that beginning September 15, savings deposits would earn the new higher interest rate of 2.5 percent per annum.

The Playdium was now accepting registrations for the men's bowling league.

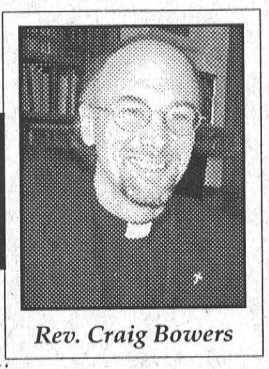
1936

The September 11 issue reported that at a meeting of the Athletic Societies in the auditorium of MCI, Lois Robinson was elected girls president and Ed Weir was elected president of the boys. The officers of the Spartan-Athenian Parties were also elected and included Gordon Thomas as President of the Athenians and G. Tindal as president of the Spartans.

A well attended field day was held in Williamsburg, and the softball tournament for the Dr. Locke Cup was won by Hallville. The day included horse races, and various races and competitions for children.

A time of Thanksgiving for those grateful doers

Perspectives



Rev. Craig Bowers

Song of Solomon 2.8-13, James 1.17-27

I remember being asked point blank once, "How grateful are you?" These thoughts were inspired by that preachers challenge to me. That's what the apostle James asks us in his letter (1.17-27). Are you grateful enough to do more than listen to God? Are you actually grateful enough to get up off your ... and do something?

The apostle James takes issue with a kind of misreading of Scripture that results in a Christianity that is more talk than walk. Anyone can say all the right things about loving God, trusting God, and obeying God. Preachers like me do that kind of pronouncing stuff every Sunday. But the key is in how a person, preachers included indeed in how a community responds to God's grace and mercy in Jesus Christ. James says you can tell a grateful Christian by what she or he does. Don't be hearers of God's Word only. Be doers. That's how we show our gratitude for all that God has done, is doing, and will do for us in Jesus Christ our Lord!

From St. James we get a clear picture of what the old life, the unredeemed life, looks like: unbridled anger, moral impurity, devotion to wickedness. These things ought to be drowned in the waters of Holy Baptism and drowned again daily as we call upon the Spirit of God to help us. The first thing a child of God should do is humble her or himself before the Lord God each day saying not only "have mercy upon me, a sinner" but "teach me to give myself to you in love even as your beloved Son has given Himself for me." (as a wonderful Lutheran Pastor has reminded me).

St. James is telling us today that "disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ, children of the Heavenly Father, Christians filled and animated by the Holy Spirit" look different and are different than the people around them. And its not just because we live along the banks of the St. Lawrence. You can tell who someone belongs to by how she or he behaves.

This fall we have many opportunities to show who we belong to, to live into this "newness of life" that God offers. New school year, new jobs, new relationships, new opportunities to share God's love. And new opportunities to do it with passion and hope.

It was wonderful to read the Song of Solomon 2.8-13 in church a few weeks ago. The song is a wonderful and heartfelt expression of joy and hope when two people come together in love through both the joys and triumphs of life.

If we will think about human love and its true origin in God's great love for the world in Jesus Christ, then we begin to understand what the apostle James is telling us today about gratitude. When we are grateful to God, it does something to us and in us.

God's love frees us from the same old dull routine that can even include passionless membership in a church or in this beautiful place called South Dundas. This Saturday, weather permitting, we will be celebrating with a family, the Cruickshanks, that has lived and work passionately in this community for 50 years! Thanks be to God for that kind of steadfastness. We will be grateful for the gift of the amphitheatre they will be having blessed to the glory of God in this community. I hope this reminds us that any time is a wonderful time to be grateful, to share our gifts large and small, and know that they will be blessed by God. Any time can be a time of harvest, and any time, is a time to be thankful and be grateful doers.

In Christ,

Morrisburg and Iroquois paving coming soon

SOUTH DUNDAS – By the end of October Morrisburg and Iroquois will each have one newly paved street.

Barring any weather related complications, October 20, is the planned deadline for the completion of the re-paving of Fifth Street East in Morrisburg and Dundas Street in Iroquois.

The township hired an engineering firm (Eastern Engineering Group) to oversee the planning and construction of the two roads in August, at a cost of $14,500.

Eastern Engineering Group has been working with the public works department to develop a plan and to put the job out to tender.

Council is expected to award the tender at the October 3 council meeting, after which the work will start immediately.

In the meantime, some underground maintenance work will be done in Iroquois before the paving gets underway.

Two water valves which have not functioned for a number of years will be replaced at a cost of $5,422.

CAM MARTEL for MAYOR in SOUTH DUNDAS

I announced my Mayoral candidacy on March 22nd 2006. I feel my experience and my vision can help our Township meet its full potential.

I bring to the table many years of volunteer community involvement, 12 years municipal experience, 6 years County Council experience and I have served as Warden for the Three United Counties. During this tenure I have sat on a number of committees, spearheaded many initiatives, and met with all levels of government officials. This experience grounds me in the community but also allows me to be a forward-thinking leader.

Currently it states in the South Dundas Strategic Plan (adopted by Council Sept. 20th, 2005):

"Constituents and business owners located in the Township have seemingly lost confidence in Councils ability to make impartial decisions in a reasonable time frame. As lengthy decision-making affects those parties involved, a perception of uncertainty may be perceived among new businesses researching the area and influence these organizations against coming to South Dundas". (Page 22)

I want to bring back strong leadership and effective response to the constituent's needs in order to build a robust economic future and a solid community. I believe some foundational goals will accomplish this:

Goal #1: Lead the council in a professional manner to ensure sound business decisions that resolve all issues efficiently.

Goal #2: Create a favourable environment for our residents and businesses - The basis of our number one Economic Policy.

Further, I am committed to addressing the every day challenges our Township faces, which include but are not limited to:

- The ongoing Iroquois Golf Club situation
- The ongoing water project
- The sewer project
- Roads and bridges to be paved and repaired
- The need for strong advocacy for the farming community
- Concerns of our industrial and commercial base
- The needs of our seniors and fixed income families

I have served in public office for over a decade and I am committed to seeing this community grow into the future. I ask for your support and your vote.

"Let Us Go Forward Together."

Try guiding

MORRISBURG – Where, in just one hour a week, can girls learn to use a screwdriver, bake a pie, surf the net safely, organize a food drive, perform skits, paddle a canoe, pitch a tent, find out about Canada and discover the world...all while making lasting friendships?

At Girl Guides, of course. Where else? And there is no better time to join in than right now, as Girl Guides of Canada-Guides du Canada (GGC) approaches our celebration of 100 years of fun and adventure.

Recently, Girl Guides of Canada launched the media campaign "Why girls need Guides." The aim was to illustrate the need for balance in an age where the average child watches 22 hours of television a week, and sexy or objectifying ads are popping up everywhere a young girl looks.

By contrast, Girl Guides is that safe place where girls can get away from daily pressures and focus on being themselves, while building the confidence they need to face the world.

Guiding is more than your run-of-the-mill after school activity. It's an exciting opportunity for today's girls to try new things and to challenge themselves in a safe, supportive environment while learning about themselves, their communities, and the wider world. It also makes Girl Guides a unique volunteering option for women who want to make a difference in the lives of today's girls - tomorrow's leaders.

Make a difference as an adult member

Think you're too old to be a Girl Guide? Think again. Participating in Girl Guides is a great way for women to bring fun into their lives and into the lives of girls, make new friends and build a supportive community of other women.

Women can choose to be leaders, working directly with girls 5-17+ in one of five "branches" (Sparks - 5 and 6, Brownies - 7 and 8, Guides - 9 to 11, Pathfinders 12 to 14 or Senior Branches - 15 to 17+) or they can choose to volunteer their time in other ways - by helping out at special events, for example, or with public relations.

Today's Guiders are busy women, balancing families, careers, activities and Guiding, so all commitments are flexible to match their availability.

Join as a girl member

Girls as young as five can take part in the fun and adventure Guiding offers, and as they grow, Guiding grows right along with them.

From making crafts in Sparks, to going on their first camping trip in Brownies, and possible International travel in Senior Branches, there are so many ways for girls to learn and to grow.

Come and try out Guiding. Girls aged 5 to 17 and women over 18 are all welcome to register. The Nation Valley District Girls Guides serving Chesterville, Morewood, Winchester, Williamsburg, Morrisburg and Iroquois.

International Girl Guide Camp in Guelph

GUELPH – It was a spectacular sight as international and national representatives of Girl Guides were welcomed to the International Girl Guide Camp in Guelph in July 2006.

The park was set up into 10 villages for 3,500 people, each village having their own different coloured hat. Imagine the opening ceremony, the multitude of colours and its rainbow effect.

Girls and women from Ghana, Kenya, Nigeria, Tanzania, Zambia, Egypt, Australia, Philippines, New Zealand, England, Northern Ireland, Russian Federation, Scotland, Wales, Canada, Grenada, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, St. Lucia, Trinidad and the USA came to learn new skills, visit new places, and above all to make new friends.

Demonstrations of national and international traditions and culture took place during the week. Campfires, sing-songs, swimming, canoeing, sailing, climbing and archery activities; there were science and nature activities, sculpture, stained glass, sewing, dancing, clowning, music; there were service projects for local hospitals, soup kitchens, and seniors homes; visits to Niagara Falls, Toronto Zoo, Stratford Festival.

What left the greatest impression was the looks of delight on the girls faces as they mastered their new skills, tried new activities and above all had fun.

The camaraderie of the participants from around the world and knowing that our girls were the best ambassardors for Canada, portraying every aspect of our diverse culture made us all proud.

Teen fined in the death of a turtle

CORNWALL – A Crysler teenager has been fined $100 in the death of a turtle that is a species at risk and he must do a school presentation about the significance of the turtle.

Nineteen-year-old L. Craig Gibeault, pleaded guilty under the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Act to illegally possessing a northern map turtle. He also received three months probation and must give a presentation to students at Ecole Notre Dame Rosaire in Crysler on the importance of this special reptile.

After receiving a complaint in June 2006, Ministry of Natural Resources conservation officers determined that a group of teenagers found a northern map turtle on the road in Crysler, put it under the wheels of a vehicle and Gibeault drove over it. Gibeault then moved the turtle to another location where it died. The turtle was a mature female carrying eggs.

The northern map turtle is a native species that is sensitive to human and natural events and because of that is a species of special concern both provincially and federally. Very few turtles and turtle eggs survive to become adults.

Adult females are extremely important in turtle populations because they normally live a long time as they have few natural predators. The removing of a reproducing adult female is a significant blow to the local turtle population.

Justice of the Peace Hubert Kreling heard the case in the Ontario Court of Justice in Cornwall, August 30, 2006.

Driver faces charges in fatal collision

SOUTH DUNDAS – The investigation into a March fatal motor vehicle collision along County Road 2, three kilometers west of Morrisburg, has resulted in a charge of careless driving against 45-year-old Vaughan Fawcett of Embrun.

The police investigation revealed that the direction of travel of the vehicles was opposite to what was indicated in the original information provided by police.

In fact, Fawcett was travelling eastbound in his 2004 Chevrolet SUV when it crossed into the westbound lane and collided head-on with the 1997 Buick Lesabre of 75-year-old Anna Johnston of Morrisburg. Johnston died at the scene.

Constable Harvey Blokland was the investigating officer.

Teens repair damage

WILLIAMSBURG – As part of the alternative measures, police made arrangements for restitution/repairs to a number of items damaged by five area teens September 3.

Police responded to several reports of mailboxes being damaged along the Whittaker, Froatburn and Wellington Roads in South Dundas. A street sign was also pulled from the ground.

A suspect vehicle had been seen in the area and through their investigation police identified five teenagers from the South Dundas/Grenville areas as being responsible for the damage.

Constable Diane Hume and Jeff Knier were the investigating officers.

Arts alive for area children

By Wendy Gibb

MORRISBURG – It's typical of Kate Egan Veinotte's work load and energy that her interview with the Leader took place at Upper Canada Playhouse, barely an hour before she was due to appear on stage in the recent, and wildly successful, production, Tom, Dick and Harry.

"I love everything I do," the actor laughs. Considering how involved she is in her acting career, in her educational endeavours and with her young family, that is saying quite a lot.

This year, Egan Veinotte headed up the newest Upper Canada Playhouse creation, a Summer Theatre School for local children held August 14 through the 19th.

The Summer Theatre School grew out of a collaboration between the Playhouse and Veinotte's own educational consulting company, Acting Like Kids.

Previously, Egan Veinotte's company worked with the Playhouse to create a Teacher Study Guide for the 2005 run of Anne. Hundreds of area young people and their teachers attended those shows.

"This summer, I wanted to go in a different direction," Kate explains. "The success of Upper Canada Playhouse over the last few years, brought up the idea that now was the time to really develop an outreach program in this area. The creation of a summer drama camp was my approach."

As a former drama teacher, Artistic Director Donnie Bowes was very supportive of Egan Veinotte's proposal. He readily put the resources, and the expertise of many of his Playhouse staff behind the Summer Theatre program.

The result was a tremendously successful and popular drama camp. Twenty children, from ages eight to twelve, actively took part, with more applicants on a waiting list.

"The students approached character development, studied improvisation, and took part in theatre games," Egan Veinotte says. "The Playhouse stage, lighting and technical crews got involved, letting the students experience how a show is built from the ground up."

This August, as the fledgling theatre camp was only one week long, there was no "final show" by the students.

"We just let them experience the joy and the excitement of all aspects of drama," Egan Veinotte explains. However, the success of this season's Theatre School has encouraged Acting Like Kids and the Playhouse to consider a two week program next summer. There has been much positive support from area parents.

"I would like to see the program expand," Egan Veinotte says. "We feel we could include a look at the business side of the Arts, and perhaps invite playwrights to come and talk to the children about writing for the stage."

The idea of developing student authored plays is one that appeals to Egan Veinotte.

She is exploring the possibilities of encouraging an original short story competition in local schools. The results of such a competition could then become the foundations of plays developed and performed by the young people in next summer's Theatre School program.

Kate Egan Veinotte's background makes her an ideal liaison between schools and the Arts community.

With a degree in English and Theatre Arts, and a Bachelor of Education from the University of Ottawa, she understands the demands and the challenges teachers face in the classrooms.

"Often the Arts are lost, or cancelled in the current educational curriculum," she explains. "No one really knows how to teach them any more because many of the young teachers themselves have never been exposed to any kind of Arts in school."

Her Acting Like Kids company grew out of Egan Veinotte's own elementary and secondary teaching experiences, and is founded on ideas that she has been developing for some time.

"My original plan was essentially to 'train the trainers'. My program is designed to show teachers how to use drama in a variety of ways, and in a variety of subject areas. Since I know how the Ministry of Education operates, I can provide teachers, during workshops, with ways to plan and evaluate student drama activities."

Egan Veinotte remains deeply committed to Arts education in schools. She works with teachers to customize drama units to their particular needs and expectations.

However, expanding and developing the Upper Canada Playhouse Theatre School has also become a passion with the actor/teacher.

"We need to work with kids before they develop inhibitions, or that 'I can't do anything that might make me look silly' attitude. Children need to learn how to deal with people, how to communicate."

With the support of her husband, local businessman Scott Veinotte, and her three children Conor, seven, Liam, four, and Gavin, three, Kate hopes to continue to make the Arts an integral part of the lives of area young people.

The Playhouse winter production of A Christmas Carol, geared towards school audiences, and Egan Veinotte's on-going plans for an expanded Theatre School next summer make the future of the Arts brighter in this community.

"I believe," Kate Egan Veinotte says, "that Theatre can open up entirely new worlds and expose children to a new sense of creativity. Whatever careers they ultimately choose, exposure to the Arts teaches them how to deal with people and how to communicate."

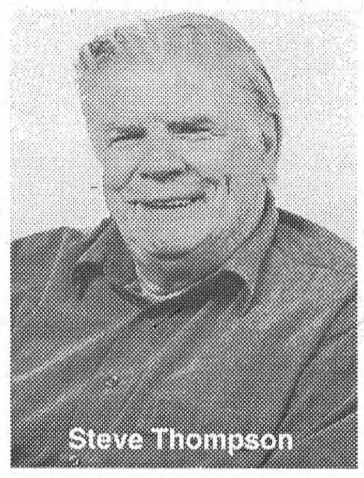
Master of the Erik sets sail

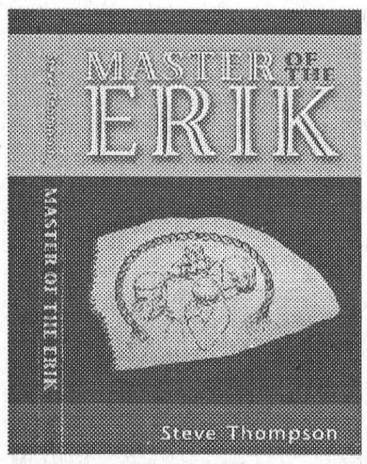
MORRISBURG – Old Crone Publishing is pleased to announce the the launch of Steve Thompson's new novel Master of the Erik.

In this, his third novel, author Steve Thompson has taken an intriguing piece of Canadian maritime history and added a fictional crew to create this compelling historical novel.



Steve Thompson

A Scottish-built whaler, the Erik became, with the decline of the whaling industry, a Hudson's Bay Company supply ship. The many voyages of the Erik in the North Atlantic included a dash to the North Pole with Admiral Peary, and ended when it was sunk off the coast of St. Pierre and Miquelon by a German submarine during the First World War.



A retired educator and prolific writer, Steve Thompson is the author of two spy novels: Watcher, Moles and Assassins and The Chameleon's Revenge. The gifted storyteller has also written two memoirs of his rural childhood : Picture This! and Doesn't That Hurt The Cows Back?

Master of the Erik will be set to sail on Sept 16, 2006, at the Morrisburg Curling Club, 26 Ontario Street, Morrisburg, Ontario, 2-4 p.m.

Recipes at W.I.

RIVERSIDE HEIGHTS - The Women's Institute of Riverside Heights held its September 5, 2006, meeting in the George Jowett Hall at 1 p.m.

Seven members and fourteen guests answered the role call "Recipe from another country."

Cathy opened the meeting and welcomed our guests from Chesterville and Winshester branches. Annette read two thank you notes for donations we sent.

Thank you to Helen Youmelle and Monique Patenaude from Mabel's Building Mission who came to our meeting to discuss the project that they will be working on this year. The Institute donates money to this worthy cause.

Helen, her husband Bob, Monique and her husband Andy go to Texas each year. They travel from there to Mexico where they build houses for the less fortunate there. This year they will be repairing a home that was built a number of years ago. There are holes in the roof and it needs a new kitchen.

They collect donations of money, clothes, and other necessities during the summer and take these to Mexico each year, to assist the less fortunate to get the things they need to survive.

To close the meeting we had a light lunch with coffee and tea. This allowed us time to converse with Helen and Monique.

The next meeting will be October 3, 2006, at the George Jowett Hall.

Morrisburg waste water treatment plant engineering

Field narrowed to three

WILLIAMSBURG – The field has been narrowed to three for the design and construction engineering of the Morrisburg waste water treatment plant.

Nine firms participated in the RFQ process and only three made the first cut.

Still in the running for the contract are JL Richards and XCG Partnership, Thompson Rosemount Group and Totten Sims Hubicki. These firms were short-listed with input from South Dundas council and staff, and with input from the engineering firm hired by South Dundas as project managers.

Staff are hoping to return to council at the September 19 meeting able to recommend one of the firms for the job.

"The only hold up would be a need to do further interviews for a final decision," says South Dundas CAO Steve McDonald.

According to McDonald, the RFQ was only a review of technical qualifications. Those short-listed will submit an RFP for review and selection

McDonald says that they will be using a "two envelope system" to evalutate the proposals, explaining that each company will be evalutated and ranked first on a technical qualification basis. After that evalutation, the second envelope, containing the firms' cost estimate proposals are opened for comparison.

"It is a quality-based selection process," says McDonald.

The COMRIF funding that South Dundas township received to build a new sewage treatment plant in Morrisburg provides about $1.4 million to cover design and construction engineering costs.

McDonald is hoping that the prices provided by the engineering firms will come in within that range.

Trying to roundup volunteers

CARDINAL – The local Roundup for Research fundraiser for the Kidney Foundation is in jeopardy of being cancelled this year.

Event organizer Samantha Gove is working to find 35 people to volunteer to be "arrested" for the event. She has contacted over 200 businesses from Prescott to Morrisburg trying to fill the spots before the September 21st event.

"I'm quite concerned. The event is less than two weeks away," says Gove. "We need 35 volunteers. So far, I have six."

All the other particulars of the event are in place. South Dundas Mayor Lyle Van Allen and Edwardsburgh/Cardinal Mayor Peggy Taylor have volunteered to act as judges, the Grenville Detachment of the OPP have arranged for two officers and the Cardinal Legion Ladies Auxiliary, Pokey's Place and 730 Permit Services are on board to help.

The Roundup is scheduled for September 21, at the Royal Canadian Legion in Cardinal from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. "People can choose the time they want to be arrested," says Gove. "It's quite flexible. And if they want, they can come to the Legion instead of being picked up by the posse."

Roundup for Research is an event during which local business people are "arrested," appear before the judge and then spend one hour calling friends and colleagues to help raise "bail" which is donated to the Kidney Foundation.

To volunteer to be arrested contact the event coordinator Samantha Gove, 613-652-6249, samantha@hourglassresources.ca

Cowboy poet at Canadian Club

MORRISBURG – The 2006-2007 meetings of the Canadian Club of Morrisburg & District begin on Wednesday, September 20, 2006, with a presentation by a most unusual guest speaker.

Doris Daley was named Best Female Cowboy Poet in North America by the Academy of Western Artists in 2004. This was the first time that any Canadian, male or female, has won the cowboy poetry title.

Daley, who hails from Southern Alberta, has been an emcee and featured performer at every cowboy festival in Canada, as well as several in the United States. She was featured at a command performance for the Governor General in 2001, and was one of the artists chosen to represent Alberta cowboy culture in Ottawa during Alberta's Centennial Year.

Doris Daley is a speaker whose "wit, humour and poetry transcends borders." She has been described as a "female Robert Service" whose "gift is unique and whose appeal is irresistable."

She will open this year's Canadian Club of Morrisburg & District season at the Morrisburg Legion on September 20 at 7 p.m.

For ticket information, contact Clara Edwardson, 613-774-2407, or Doug Grenkie, 613-543-2922.

The next Canadian Club meeting will take place October 18, featuring speaker Donald Graves, Managing Director of the Ensign Heritage Group.

Curves 'Back to School' Drive a Success

Curves members have done it again! After last year's generous donations to the Back to School Drive for the Morrisburg location of the Dundas County Food Bank, Curves decided to make it a yearly event, and once again it was very successful. Backpacks, pencils, crayons, lunch bags...the Curves women thought of everything that youngsters require to return to the classroom in the fall. Management and staff at Curves here in Morrisburg were most appreciative of the generous donations made by the members. Pictured above, l-r, are Curves members Doreen Pycraft and Wendy Veldhoven (who accepted the donation are behalf of the Food Bank), Curves staff member Kelly Keeler and members Judy Veinotte. The huge pile of back to school supplies were delivered to the Food Bank the week prior to the return to school. Photo contributed.

Pirates capture gold

NEW BRUNSWICK – Local fastball players, Nicole Hunter and Jessica Bercier of the Kanata Pirates thought their hope of finding gold at the Eastern Canadian Bantam Girls Championship had sailed away from them when they placed third in the Ontario Provincials.

Hunter and Bercier who have played most of their minor ball in Williamsburg now play Bantam Tier Two Fastball for the Kanata Pirates, who thanks to an unexpected turn of events got the chance to play in the Eastern Canadian Girls Championship late last month in St. Leonard, New Brunswick.

At the beginning of the year the team set a goal of playing in and winning the championship tournament and when the season ended they came home with the gold medals around their necks.

The Pirates thought their season was over until they were informed that a Newfoundland team had to withdraw from the competition, thus opening the door for the Pirates to participate in the tournament.

The Pirates had only four days notice to head east and to prepare for the tournament, but they showed early that they were up to the challenge by winning all five of their round robin games.

The Pirates lost their first playoff game against the top-ranked Ontario Brampton team, 9-1, but rebounded quickly to win their next playoff game against the Nova Scotia Stingers 8-5, setting up the rematch with Brampton.

In the rematch the Pirates showed some great defense, pitching prowess and capitalized with timely hits and aggressive base running, to win the gold medal match 8-3.

Pirates pitcher Lise Couturier was named tournament MVP.

The Pirates accumulated quite a collection of precious metals this season on top of their gold medals at the Eastern Canadians. They also won bronze at provincials, silver at provincial qualifiers, silver at the tournament they hosted in Carp and gold at a Cobourg tournament.

The Eastern Canadians is the highest level of competition for girls tier two fastball.

Pirates fulfill quest for gold

A surprise last minute entry into the Eastern Canadian Girls Bantam Championships in New Brunswick, the Kanata Pirates, for whom to local girls (framed above) play, won the tournament. Pictured above is the team sporting their gold medals. Junior B Lions preview Friday night

MORRISBURG – Morrisburg Junior B Lions hockey fans will get an early preview of the 2006/2007 team this Friday night when the Lions host the Char-Lan Rebels in exhibition action. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Thirty-five hopefuls were on the ice in Morrisburg last Thursday and Friday night when the Lions hosted their try-out camp for the upcoming season.

"We had about 35 players in camp," says coach Eddy Gove. "Most were by invitation, although there were a couple of walk-ons."

Gove said it was good to see all of the veteran Lions back. Last year's goaltender Andrew Pearson was on the ice along with Pat Mainville, Justin Elliott, Travis Baldwin, Chris Sommers, Devin Brunet, Tyler Lafortune, Cory Gove and Brandon McDonald.

James Kirkwood is currently at a Junior A camp, and Jordon Schaeffer could possibly return.

Gove has to fill two huge spots held last year by overage players Dylan Gravely and Peter Barnett. He says he is hoping to plug these two holes with Chad Galipeau and Tyler Maxwell once lineups are settled at the Junior A level.

As for rookies out to cut a spot, Gove says he and assistant coach Dave Brandt were pleasantly surprised by a 17-year-old from the Toronto area who played midget hockey last year in Orillia.

Also still in camp are three area 16-year-olds, who "all look fantastic."

They include Brett Conway and Ryan Wong, both from Cornwall and Allen Waddell of Williamsburg who comes from the Rideau -St-Lawrence Kings organization. Conway is a defenseman and Wong and Waddell are both forwards.

Gove is allowed to carry only two, 16 year olds.

"We had nine goaltenders out last week, which was really great. We had a lot of local goalies and two 16 year olds from Cornwall. Unfortunately, it was a numbers game with them as we are allowed only the two 16-year-old players."

Saturday night, the Lions were in Williamstown for an exhibition game against the Char-Lan Rebels. For this encounter, which the Lions won, Gove dressed only four veteran players.

For this Friday night's game, he plans to dress more veterans and expects to cut down the numbers. By next Tuesday, he hopes to have the team set.

Gove explains that coming up this season is a major crackdown on a number of offences. "If you lay a stick or a hand on a guy it is going to be a penalty. The kids are really going to have to adjust, and we are going to have to work on their checking and body positioning."

"I think we are going to have a strong, very competitive team again this year," says Gove. "We have a strong nucleus and of course they are all one year older."

Last year the Lions counted largely on their powerful first line, and for this year, Gove says, "We are going to have a very strong first line, but the second and third lines will be stronger and much more even."

"We'll be more of a three-line team this year."

Gove and Brandt plan to make cuts following the weekend exhibition games in Morrisburg Friday night and Winchester on Saturday night.

They are looking forward to the official start of the season on Friday, September 22 when the Akwesasne Wolves are in town.

"We are hoping to have good fan support out early on this year," says Gove. "It was fantastic last year."

Back, l-r: Skylar McManus who won the 12-13 year old group with a 104; Chris Tindal who shot an 80 for the win in 16years and up; Stephenie Cochrane who claimed the girls division with a 112.

Driving success, Kyle Dingwall wins modified championship

MORRISBURG – Kyle Dingwall took his shiny new modified car to the local dirt tracks in May, knowing that he was in for a good season. Now, four months later, his car doesn't look new anymore, but it is shinier than when he started thanks to the trophies he picked up over the season.

Dingwall's most impressive accomplishment this year is not the six wins that he accumulated, but the Cornwall Speedway Modified Points Championship that he steadily worked towards all season long.

"I expected to do well at Brockville, I didn't plan on winning (the championship) at Cornwall," says Dingwall.

He believes the key to winning the track championship at Cornwall was consistency.

"I stayed consistent and finished races," he says, adding that with the exception of one race when he blew a motor, he always finished in (or very near) the top five at Cornwall.

At 23, and only in his second year in the modified division, Dingwall is the youngest modified driver to win the championship in nearly 30 years.

Of this accomplishment Dingwall says, "I have good equipment, and my dad has put me in good equipment ever since I started at a young age."

"You need good equipment to win. I guess you need to be able to drive too."

In addition to providing him with good equipment to race, Kyle says that racing the full season with his father, Keith 'Chico' Dingwall, in the modified division has played a part in his success.

"It really helps having him here (at the shop)," he says. Kyle does most of the car set ups, but the two have been working together and sharing ideas all season long.

He says that the work his father does on the management side of the racing program really allows him to concentrate on the car set ups and driving.

On his way to the track championship, Dingwall won two feature races at the Cornwall Speedway.

Shining Success this Season for Dingwall Motorsports

Local modified dirt car driver Kyle Dingwall has had a successful season on the local dirt tracks. Pictured above, Kyle sits in the #66 car which he piloted to six wins this season, and to first, second and third place finshes in the points standings at the Cornwall, Brockville and Edelweiss Speedways. Comfort photo

At the Brockville Speedway, Kyle ended up tied for second in the points standings, and it wasn't until just a couple of weeks ago that he scored a feature win.

"I didn't think I was going to get one there this year," he says of his hometown track, where he started his racing career at the age of 17.

Kyle says he ran okay at Brockville early in the season but ended up in a lot of wrecks later in the season.

He also ran the full season at Edelweiss and it was there that he accumulated most of his wins. Kyle won three feature races but ended up third in the points. "I had a couple of bad nights there," he says.

Dingwall's modified championship is the highest honour he has achieved so far in his racing career, but not the only one.

Last year Dingwall was rookie of the year in the modified division at both the Brockville and Cornwall Speedways.

The year before that he won the sportsman division championship at the Brockville Speedway, only one year after being named sportsman rookie of the year at Brockville.

Dingwall is already looking ahead to next season, he says he will return to compete in the modified division Sunday nights at the Cornwall Speedway. Saturday nights Dingwall will be racing his new big block car at the Can Am Speedway in Lafargeville, New York. He says that Edelweiss remains a possibility for Friday nights.

Williamsburg Junior Boys Win Little League Title

On Sunday, August 20 in front of their hometown fans, Williamsburg defeated Cornwall 12-11 in the second game of a two-out-of-three series to claim the 2006 Upper Canada Little League Junior Boys championship. Game one of the series was played in Cornwall, Saturday, August 19 with Williamsburg kicking it off with an 8-5 win. A number of the team members are from Williamsburg and Winchester and won the same trophy last year under the Winchester Sox title. This year the team is made up of players from Williamsburg, Winchester and Iroquois. In the West Division quarter final action, also a two-out-of-three series, Williamsburg eliminated Kemptville while Cornwall defeated Morrisburg. Williamsburg then advanced against Chesterville who had finished second in the East division while Cornwall met up with Prescott. Pictured above, members of the Williamsburg championship squad include front l-r, Alex McLaughlin and Chris Embury. Centre l-r Dillon Shaver, Derek Hutt and Eric Heldens. Back left to right coach Mitch Hutt, Matt McNairn, James Kirkland, Phil Duncan, Drew Hutt, Justin Comeau, Austin Marcellus and coach Gary Embury. Lance Hodgson was absent.

Terry Fox Run looking for support

MORRISBURG–The organizing committee for the Terry Fox Run, supported annually by Morrisburg Legion Branch 48, is looking to the community to help push the local run's total contribution to over $50,000.

Last year, a record 81 participants backed by 100s of area sponsors, raised $8,456 bringing the local run's total, since 1994, to just under $50,000.

Participants may walk, bike, rollerblade or run their choice of distance up to 10km on the route that begins at the Morrisburg Legion and runs west along Lakeshore Drive to Loyalist Park.

"People don't have to go all the way to Loyalist Park," says Scott Robinson a member of the organizing committee which also includes Julie Lortie, Sue Keeler, Lisa Casselman and Debbie Strader. "There is no limit to the distance for the walk."

Water will be provided along the route, and hot dogs and drinks will be served at the Legion following the run.

Registration for the Sunday, September 17 run is at the Legion and will begin at 8:30 a.m. with the run scheduled to take place from 9 a.m. to noon.

A Memorial Board will be available to all participants to sign in memory/honour of a loved one who was lost to cancer, who has survived cancer or who is fighting the disease.

Pledge sheets are available in Morrisburg at the Bank of Montreal, Scotiabank and the LCBO. Pledge sheets and information are also available at www.terryfoxrun.org or by contacting Scott Robinson at 613-543-4144 or Julie Lortie at 613-535-2181.

This year marks the 26th anniversary of the Terry Fox Marathon of Hope which began on April 12, 1980, when Terry dipped his artificial leg into the Atlantic Ocean at St. John's, Newfoundland.

He was forced to abandon his bid to run across Canada in North Bay on September 1, 1980, when the cancer, which had claimed his leg, had spread to his lungs. He died in June 1981, at the age of 22.

His Marathon of Hope run inspired the annual Terry Fox Runs around the world and has raised about $400 million since his death.

When Terry launched his marathon in 1980, his primary form of cancer (bone cancer) had a 15 percent survival rate with amputation. Today with the support of the Terry Fox Foundation, extensive research has resulted in a 90 percent survival rate.

"We had a record turnout for last year's run," says Robinson, "and we are hoping to top it this year."

Although organizers don't want anyone to overdo on the walk, an added feature this year is a professional massage available to anyone who may be a bit stiff.

IN MEMORIAM

RICHARDSON–In loving memory of a dear mother, Beatrice, who passed away September 14, 2004.
God took my mom to heaven,
The golden gates were open wide,
And He told us not to worry,
She would always be by His side.
Dear mother we miss you dearly,
And we often sit and cry,
Wondering why God took you,
To that golden mansion in the sky.
God must have needed an angel,
The kind that's hard to find,
Because you were always so gentle,
Precious sweet and kind.
Our hearts are aching sorely,
But we know you're out of pain,
Because God took you be the hand,
And took you home again.
–We love and miss you always Mom,
Debbie and Terry 37p

RICHARDSON–In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Beatrice, who passed away September 14, 2004.
If roses grow in heaven,
Lord please pick one for me,
Place it in my mother's hand,
And tell her it's from me.
Tell her that I love her,
And when she turns to smile,
Place a kiss upon her cheek,
And hold her for awhile.
Remembering her is easy,
I do it every day,
But there's an ache within my heart,
That will never go away.
–Kathy, Pam and family 37p

RICHARDSON–In memory of a dear wife, Beatrice, who passed away September 14, 2004.
It's lonely here without you Beatrice,
I miss you more each day,
For life is not the same to me,
Since you were called away.
To your resting place I visit,
Place flowers there with care,
But no one knows the heartache Beatrice,
When I turn and leave you there.
–Always loved and sadly remembered, husband James 37p

LILLIAN MARCELLUS
September 14, 2004
Every day in some small way,
Memories of you come our way,
Though absent you are always near,
Still missed, still loved and ever dear.
–Forever in our hearts, John, Marion, Eric, Ron, Barry and families 37p

LAURIN–In loving memory of a dear father, Arthur, who passed away September 19, 1995.
His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.
–Sadly remembered, never forgotten, Michael and Joanne 37p

In memory of
MICHAEL A.M. STEWARD
June 1, 1968 - September 10, 2005
My Michael, my son,
I loved you from the start,
When you left you broke my heart.
A year has passed since you died,
You left too quickly to say good-bye.
Now all that's left are memories,
And your little family to comfort me.
My Michael, you will never know,
How much I loved and miss you so.
–Love Mom 37p

STEWARD–In memory of my brother, Michael A.M. Steward, who died September 10, 2005.
My baby brother was brought through the door,
"Take him back" said the girl who was four,
But as time passed and we laughed and played,
I was glad that he had stayed.
We both grew up and had our lives,
He had a child, he had a wife,
Then unexpectedly God took him home,
He forgot to tell us he was only on loan.
I wasn't ready, I wanted more,
Why did he listen to the girl who was four?
–Remembered with love and deeply missed by your sister Laurie 37p

IN MEMORY OF
DANIEL ARNOLD BARKLEY
1960–1996
On September 14th, ten years ago,
Though life goes on, we mourn our loss,
Of father, friend, son, uncle and brother.
We loved him then and love him still,
Because love does not die;
But all too soon, God called him home
And only he knows why.
–Fondly remembered and sadly missed by his family and friends 37c

IN MEMORIAM

STEWARD–In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Michael, September 10, 2005.
When evening shades are falling,
And we sit in quiet alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing,
If he only could come home.
Friends may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the heartache,
Our smiles hide all the while.
–Love Trudy and Michelle 37c

MILLWARD–In memory of a dear sister and best friend, Margaret Joan (nee Tuttle), September 9, 2004.
Time changes many things,
But our love and memories,
Last forever.
–Glenn and Donna 37p

Caddy Night at Iroquois Golf Club Payoff!

Some (brave!) men of the Iroquois Golf Club volunteered to be caddies for the ladies at a weekly Wednesday ladies night earlier this summer, but before they got to work they had to step onto the auction block. The ladies placed bids on the caddie of their choice, and as a result $600 was raised and presented recently to the Canadian Cancer Society. In the above photo, l-r, Judy Simser from Williamsburg who is a cancer survivor and Margaret Ann Casselman, Tranportation Coordinator and Information representative for the Cancer Society accept the donation from ladies club representatives, Karen Cooke (president), Jane McLaughlin (vice-president) and Evonne Delegarde (ladies captain).
