Committee needs support

SOUTH DUNDAS – "We all know that we need additional long-term care beds in this area and the study to be released on July 25th will confirm this reality," said Steven Byvelds, Chair of the Eastern Ontario Long-term Care Facility Committee.

"It is now time for the public to demonstrate their support for more beds to be allocated," he added.

When asked how people should show their support he explained that people must come out in force to the meeting at the Chesterville Legion on July 25th at 7:30 p.m.

"We are all impacted by this issue and with the aging population the situation will only worsen. I expect broad support from the community and challenge everyone, young and old, to come out to the Chesterville meeting," said Byvelds.

The committee has learned that currently, there are nearly 400 people on waiting lists to obtain long-term care beds despite government statistics that show we have an excess of 148 beds.

"The problem is real and could get worse, far worse," Byvelds said. "The fact that we are a rural community must be taken into consideration when allocating long-term care beds. A strong display of support from the public is absolutely essential."

The South Eastern Ontario Long-term Care Facility Committee was created as a result of a public meeting held on March 21st at the J.W. McIntosh Seniors Support Centre in Williamsburg. Volunteers stepped forward at that time, formed a committee and incorporated the organization.

The five municipalities of South Stormont, North Stormont, North Dundas, South Dundas and Edwardsburgh-Cardinal each contributed $3,000 to fund the Needs Analysis study.

Committee members include Charles Barkley, Steven Byvelds,

A New Twist on an Old Favourite

The Seventh Annual Military Re-enactment took place over the weekend at Crysler Farm. This year the battle, presented by the Friends of Crysler's Farm, was billed as Military Heritage Weekend and featured a Tribute to Canadian Military History, including re-enactors displaying regiments from the Seven Years War, American Revolution, War of 1812, the 1860s period of the Fenian Raids and World Wars I and II, as well as members of the present day Canadian Forces. Pictured above during Saturday's display is one of the re-enactors from the Loyalist Unit, Light Company of the King's Royal Regiment of New York, demonstrating the fire-power of the day. Fly-In Attracts Big Breakfast Crowd

Strong headwinds and unpredictable weather seemed to have kept some of the planes away from the ever-popular Iroquois Fly-In Breakfast, which took place Sunday. However, nearly 40 pilots and their planes made the journey to the annual event. The event which is well supported by the community attracted a steady flow of breakfast customers, with hundreds enjoying the food and the taking a stroll down the field to enjoy an up-close look at the planes. Comfort photo

Waterfront planning starts at public forum

MORRISBURG – Roughly 50 people attended the first of four information gathering meetings for the South Dundas waterfront development committee held July 10 at the Morrisburg Legion, and committee chairman Delbert Jones said they hope that number will grow at the future meetings.

Speaking on behalf of the committee, Jones said he was pleased with the quality of the presentations and the thoughtful questions and comments from the audience.

Five people presented their view of how they believe development along the waterfront in Morrisburg should take place, with several members of the audience adding dozens of suggestions to the mix.

The initial focus of the newly formed committee is the Morrisburg and Iroquois waterfronts.

South Dundas councillor and waterfront committee member Delbert Jones hosted the meetings and reiterated several times that "There is absolutely no plan in place today. We are trying to get public input so that we can develop plans."

The committee hopes that by hosting this series of four meetings that anyone with ideas will come forward and share them either verbally or in writing, so that once a plan is developed it is

Disseminators Gathering Information

Tubie changes for 2007

MORRISBURG – "Shaken and Stirred" is the theme for the 2007 tubie weekend. Organizing committee member and Morrisburg and District Lions Club President Michael Domanko (pictured right) made the announcement last week.

The 007 theme, was suggested on the Facebook tubie page, and when the organizers saw the suggestion they loved it and ran with it. "We really liked the 007 theme and added the tag line shaken and stirred," said Domanko.

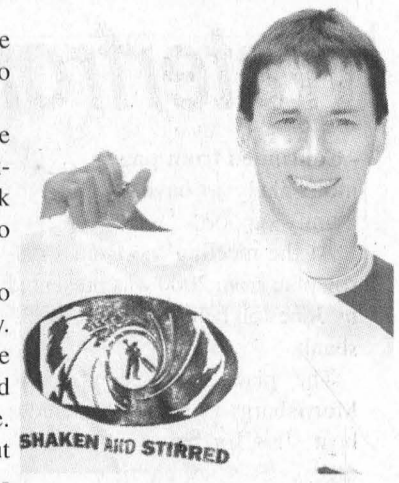
He announced a rule change for this year's event. When building their craft participants cannot use any mechanical assistance to stretch the tubes. He explained that the reason for the rule change is a safety concern and anyone violating the rule will be subject to a time penalty.

Anyone needing clarification on this new rule or any of the other rules can send an email to tubiefestival@sympatico.ca

In an effort to get the whole community involved in the weekend the Lions will bring back children's events in the park, to complement existing events.

The Lions have decided to change the parade route slightly. Basically they have removed the Laurier Drive leg of the route and will instead use Farlinger Avenue. "We have shortened the parade but are keeping it in the higher population density areas of the town," said Domanko. "It will give more people the opportunity to view the parade from their homes," he added.

This year the Lions will reintroduce a newly refurbished and updated trophy which dates back to 1971. It will be presented annually to the race winners.



Tubie festivities kickoff Saturday, August 4 with the parade at 2 p.m. The Tycoons will play the Tubie Dance Saturday evening, and the race starts at Arlor Haven Sunday, August 5, at 2 p.m.

The t-shirts were designed and printed by Sports Fix. They are are available there and at Biba and Giant Tiger.

9th Antiquefest coming soon

MORRISBURG – Soon tents will be going up along the Morrisburg waterfront to accommodate an event which is experiencing steady growth.

Antiquefest, the ninth annual event, is taking shape and Morrisburg and District Lions Club President Michael Domanko is happy to report that the event will be what the patrons and dealers have come to expect, with small enhancements to help maintain the show's steady growth.

Domanko says that there will be a handful of new dealers at the event, and some dealers who have participated in the past, but not recently will be returning. He says there will be 45 dealers which is only slightly more than last year. "We are growing but we are managing the growth," he says, adding that there is a waiting list of antique dealers looking forward to participating in a future event.

"We are not the biggest antique show, but we are one of the best liked," says Domanko. The dealers and the clientele alike enjoy the summer waterfront setting and the dealers have also provided feedback indicating that the show is very well organized.

Because the antique dealers play such an important role in a successful antique show Domanko believes that their continued interest is key in keeping the Lions Club positive about Antiquefest's future, even though the antique industry's growth has slowed recently.

On site appraisals will be available at the event.

Saturday Marvin Redler, Roger Petroff and Bob Gray are scheduled to conduct appraisals. Redler who specializes in movies and sports memorabilia as well as coins and stamps will be available from 12-1 p.m. Petroff specializes in antique pens, lighters and Christmas decorations and he will be available from 1-2 p.m. Saturday. Gray is a recognized authority on collectables and memorabilia and will be conducting appraisals from 2-3 p.m. on Saturday.

Sunday Ken Simmons, Richard Hardick and Peter Handy will each provide an hour of appraisals. Simmons will get started at noon. His specialty is porcelain, silver, glassware and paintings. At 1 p.m. Hardick will take over, his specialty being china, glass and silver. Handy is the final appraiser of the weekend. He will be available Sunday from 2-3 p.m. His specialty is Sterling silver, china, Royal Doulton and Wedgewood.

Those seeking item appraisals are asked for a $5 donation (per item) to go to the Morrisburg and District Lions Club: due to time constraints they can only allow two appraisals per person.

New this year is a silent auction. Domanko explains that each dealer will select an item from his collection to put on the auction block. Dealers will set a reserve bid. When the item is sold the dealer will get the reserve but any money raised over and above that reserve will go directly to the Morrisburg and District Lions Club's general charity account.

Antiquefest takes place at the Morrisburg waterfront July 28 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and July 29 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., rain or shine. Weekend-long admission is only $5.

Grow op. dismantled

NORTH DUNDAS – Police found and dismantled a commercial marijuana grow operation (pictured below) with 1169 plants in various stages of growth at a North Dundas residence.

Members of Project Sidewinder and the SD&G OPP executed a search warrant July 5, at a Cayer Road residence. The home contained a commercial grow operation, over a thousand plants and 40 grams of loose marijuana. Police say the total estimated street value if the plants were allowed to reach full maturity would have been $1,169,000. The police investigation also revealed that the electrical system had been altered.

Phung Quy Lam of Edmonton, Alberta, was arrested on scene and held in custody until his Cornwall court appearance to face charges of production of a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance for the purpose of trafficking and theft of electricity.

Public Meetings

Waterfront planning started

more likely to have broad community support.

At the meeting the Brad Johnson plan from 2000 was presented by Jones on behalf of Les Cruickshank.

The plan developed for the Morrisburg waterfront includes boat slips for day visitors, heritage gardens, an amphitheatre and lining Sir James Morris, which leads to the Morrisburg Plaza, with trees.

Glen Cunningham, on behalf of the Morrisburg and District Lions Club, presented the idea of developing the area by first trying something small. "If it's successful then you can expand the plans from there," he said. The ideas presented by Cunningham suggested the development of a small marina at the Morrisburg waterfront and the installation of a breakwater to better accommodate boaters. "Just try things to see what works, if it needs more then go bigger," he said.

Helen Laurin suggested installing flags along the roads, like Sir James Morris Drive, to lead people to the waterfront. Along the waterfront she suggested meandering walking paths, the installation of permanent park benches, and work on the existing plaques to get them off of the ground and make them more visible and attractive. "We're going for nice here," she said. "My hope is that we can come up with something beautiful that everyone of every age can enjoy."

She suggested small patios which go out into the river area to allow people to better enjoy the water.

Laurin said that lighting the walkways is important, as is providing parking areas.

She said that the existing uses of the park, like the annual fireworks display have to be taken into consideration when a plan is developed.

Don Graham, on behalf of the DIAMONDS land trust spoke about the natural development of the Seaway Shoreline. In his plan he suggested improvements to Sir James Morris Drive, leading to the waterfront and the installation of some sort of vertical structure near the dock area to mark it as an area of importance.

Other suggestions arising from the meeting included improvements to the existing walkways, enhancements for the existing beach, parking improvements, the construction of a gazebo and the installation of signs to direct people to the area.

Roger Coligan suggested that the township should seek funding from Ontario Power Generation and from the federal government if anything is going to take place at the waterfront.

Bert Cunningham argued that because South Dundas has such a small tax base, waterfront development needs to be self-financing in order to avoid further burden on the existing taxpayers.

"Any development somehow need to generate tax dollars in the municipality. If not you'll be dreaming another 50 years," he said, suggesting that businesses such as shops and restaurants do just that. "Whatever you do, you have to try to create a tax base."

Some people in attendance expressed concern that if and when a plan is formulated it may just end up sitting on a shelf.

South Dundas councillor Steven Byvelds responded to that concern. "I won't get involved in something that will just sit on the shelf," he said. "We'll try our best to get something done."

Last week's meeting was the first in a series of four public information gathering sessions. The next meetings will take place July 24 at the Iroquois Civic Centre, August 14 at the Morrisburg Legion and August 28 at the Iroquois Civic Centre. All start at 7 p.m.

Individuals and organizations who have confirmed their intentions to make presentations at the July 24 meeting are the Galop Canal Committee, Seaway Management Corporation and Don Graham. Those confirmed for the August 14 meeting include the Township of South Stormont, South Nation Conservation Authority and Don Graham.

Anyone interested in presenting ideas at the meetings, or interested in presenting ideas in writing, is asked to contact the township office at 613-535-2673. Everyone is welcome to attend any or all of the meetings.

The committee was appointed by council from a list of individuals who expressed an interest during the previous council's mandate. Members of the committee include Councillors Jones and Byvelds and volunteers Leona McIntosh, Gerben Schaillee, Les Cruickshank, Randy Veinotte, Carl Robinson, Susan Adams and Mike McInnis.

Sarah Robertson

Local performer featured in Measure for Measure

MORRISBURG - A classic comic work by the Bard of Stratford-on-Avon will make its appearance at Morrisburg-on-St. Lawrence this Sunday, July 22, at the Cruickshank Amphitheatre.

Featuring the talented players of the Salamander Theatre's Shakespeare Young Company, Measure for Measure will be staged outdoors at the Amphitheatre beginning at seven p.m. Sunday evening. This is a first time event for the local community, and a theatrical debut for the village waterfront stage.

The Shakespeare Young Company highlights a gifted cast of 15 young men and women ranging in age from 16-26. All are at various stages in their theatrical careers, students or alumni of Canterbury Arts High School, furthering their education or theatrical training, or making their way as young professionals in the artistic community.

One of the cast members has a particularly close connection to people of this area. She grew up here.

Sarah Robertson, whose family lives along Lakeshore Drive, a graduate of Seaway District High School and currently studying Honours Theatre at the University of Ottawa, plays and sings the role of Mariana in Measure for Measure.

She is tremendously excited about making a Shakespearean debut in her home town.

"I think people will really enjoy this different and exciting experience," Sarah says, taking time to chat with The Leader during a break from her other job as Box Office Assistant at Upper Canada Playhouse. "This is a wonderful play, directed by renowned actor/director Eleanor Crowder, founder of Salamander Theatre."

Robertson is infectiously enthusiastic about the play, and about Salamander, now in its sixth season.

"We are sponsored by the city of Ottawa, and by an anonymous donor we all call the 'Arts Angel'," she explains. "The YSC is a registered charity, so there is no admission price to see our play. We 'pass the hat' at the end of the evening, and any funds collected are ploughed back into workshops, arts in education and apprenticeship programs."

Sarah herself was sponsored into a Young Company apprenticeship through the generous support of the Iroquois-Matilda Lions.

Sarah has much praise for director Crowder, for costume designer James Lavoie (the cast will be dressed in 16th century costumes), and for musical director, Kristia Guiguet.

"The cast has developed a strong singing ability under Guiguet's guidance," Sarah says. "The songs in the play are 'old Elizabethan catches' which means they can be sung in rounds and are all blended. They're very lovely."

"My character, Mariana, makes her first appearance singing To Take 'O Take, actually in the script and written by Shakespeare himself. It makes for a grandiose entrance," she laughs.

Measure for Measure tells the tale of a frustrated Duke, who feels that his city of Vienna is turning into a "hotbed for immoral activity." In a moment of frustration, he throws up his hands and departs, leaving the administration of the city in the hypocritical hands of his Deputy, Angelo.

Angelo speedily turns into an unfeeling martinet who imposes rigid and arbitrary laws on the Viennese, willfully condemning people to death for what Angelo chooses to define as "lewdness."

The plot grows complex and comic as a group of young people attempt to free their friend, Claudio, from Angelo's cruel sentence, and bring about the ornery Deputy's just comeuppance. In the process there are mix-ups, misunderstandings and mayhem as the play progresses to its satisfying conclusion.

"This is not a play for little children," Sarah explains, " but I believe an adult audience will enjoy the ribald, bawdy and outrageous nature of Shakespeare's comedy."

Why is the production coming to Morrisburg?

"I can't think of a better reason to come and see Shakespeare than the fact that this is Morrisburg," Sarah responds. "The Playhouse has built up a great theatre community here. We have this beautiful stage down by the water. I can't think of a better use of a Theatre in the Round than performing a Shakespearean play."

"This," she adds, "is how theatre was done in 'Bill's' time, outside, with the audience all around."

The community is invited to bring blankets and lawn chairs down to the Amphitheatre on Sunday, July 22, at seven p.m., to enjoy a thoroughly delightful visit with Mr. Shakespeare and the players of the Young Company.

U.C. Migratory Bird Sanctuary

The Spirits will walk

MORRISBURG - The eerie keen of a bagpipe may send a shiver up visitors' spines at the 2007 Spirit Walk taking place at the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary on July 20 and 21. But it will only herald the arrival of some long departed "guests," eager to share their tales with the living.

These special ghosts will be visible to the naked eye for this weekend only. All of them carved niches in the history of this area, and all are going to tell the stories of their lives to visitors on the annual adventure walk.

Walkers can look forward to meeting Granny Hoople of Hoople Creek, the Hermit of Croil's Island, Strongman George Jowett, Michael P. Cooke (who first imported Holsteins to this area) and Jesse James. The phantoms promise that their tales will both amuse and fascinate visitors who dare to walk on the wild side.

Reservations are required to take the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary Spirit Walk, and can be made by calling 613-543-2600. Groups head out every 15 minutes, accompanied by a guide, beginning at 6:30 p.m. on both July 20 and 21st. The last daily departure is at 7:45 p.m.

The cost of the Walk is six dollars per person, with children 12 and under only one dollar. The admission includes light refreshments.

The funds raised from this once a summer event go to the Friends of the Sanctuary.

The Spirit Walks will be held on both days come rain or shine. They promise to keep visitors spellbound, so bring the whole family.

I held my nose, I took a drink

I went to the cupboard and selected my finest piece of crystal. Only the best for this big event. I filled it with, the now quality, water from my kitchen tap and placed it carefully on the table. I took a seat.

Finally relaxed, I took two deep breaths, calmed my shaking hands, picked up the envelope and closed my eyes. I tore open the envelop and held the letter in my grasp as I continued to calm my breathing.

Very reluctantly, I unfolded the paper and cautiously opened one eye...then the other.

It was like a blast of air hit me full throttle knocking the wind from my lungs. I gasped, I groaned, I got to my feet and staggered around the kitchen, the letter grasped tightly in the palm of my hand.

There it was. Perhaps my eyes were mistaken at first glance. Maybe a second peek. Still no change. Visions of a winged piggy bank taking flight were in my thoughts as I gazed at my water charge for the new Water Works plant serving the Villages of Iroquois and Morrisburg.

Yes, I knew, eventually residents of the two communities would have to pay, and pay fairly substantially. But no, I hadn't expected a bill this big, until I began to hear word on the street from those who frequent the post office more often than I.

I think of how much of our pay checks go to taxes, both federal and provincial, and wonder why, now when a small community is in need of financial assistance the feds can't find the money to live up to their agreement of one third funding. There is money for this, there is money for that, money to study this and money to study that, money to sponsor this and money to sponsor that...but why is there little help when small communities need it?

...I returned to the table, sat down calmly and eyed my crystal glass filled with its precious contents...I drank. BMc

The Blood Donor Clinic held at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 370, on Monday, July 9 was a huge success. The good people of Iroquois demonstrated just how well they understand that "all people in Canada are potential recipients of blood or blood products, although they may not know it yet." Sponsored by the Catholic Women's League the Clinic attracted 73 donors, and 61 units of blood were collected reaching over 100 percent of the blood requirements of the clinic. Special thanks are extended to Cathy Lortie and her CWL volunteers who helped make the clinic the huge success it was.

Blast from the Past

Compiled from The Leader's files

1997

The July 15 issue reported that Lloyd Barkley had resigned as municipal clerk of Morrisburg after 31 years. Barkley, who was resigning due to health reasons, said the people of the village had been tremendous. He took the position in 1956, when he accepted a dare from then council member Harry Duval. He started his career at the municipal office after working for Pyramid Paper Products for 10 years. He earned a whopping $2,800 per year. The first village reeve he worked with was George Beavers, followed by Gord Thom, J.D. Connor, Fred Hill, Mike McInnis, Earl Baker and Bill Dillabough.

1987

The July 16 issue reported Canada Post presented Iroquois with a framed enlargement of two stamps issued in honour of the 140th and 40th anniversary of the village.

Four-year-old Kirsten Getz was crowned Mini Miss and Daniel Glauser was awarded the Little Gent title at Iroquois Summerfest. On behalf of the village, Dorothy McQuaig was honored as Senior of the Year and Howard Linnen was named Iroquois Citizen of the Year.

Pictured in the issue were Seaway District High School's Ontario Scholars. They included Sarah-Jane Whittaker, Andrew Robertson, Rebecca Zandbergen, Michael Brunt, Stacey Gibson, Scott Barkley, Stephanie McKeen, Hugh Porter and Natalie Patterson.

St. Lawrence Parks Commission G.M. Frank Shaw was appointed to a senior management position with the Ministry of Natural Resources.

1977

The July 20 issue reported that when the Morrisburg Leader decided to enter into an era of new printing styles, the owners hadn't realized how much interest it would create. The day of the change, local and national television representatives were on hand to film the final printing of the newspaper on the famous Babcock letterpress and there after The Leader was featured in many of the area weeklies. A feature also ran in Toronto's Globe and Mail.

Morrisburg's newest outlet, Beckers was opening under manager Penny Dillabough. The new outlet was opening on Fifth Street just across from the Morrisburg Mall.

Morrisburg's Annual King of the River Competition, the Tubie Races, were ready to go and a weekend of events were scheduled by organizers Bill Dillabough Jr., Steve Casselman and Danny Cassell. The Tubie Races were originally thought of when several local yokels were racing rafts down Nash Creek and since that time had blossomed into one of the village's main summer attractions.

Edwin McIntosh narrowly escaped injury, when a car being towed by Lyle Kehoe broke loose and crashed into his porch where he was enjoying lunch on a lawn chair.

The Morrisburg Mets posted an 8-3 win over Cornwall Township in a game played without the services of their two aces, Mick Mabo and Bob Barclay who had gone into jobs away from town. Young Mark MacDonald, playing his first regular game with the team, didn't make the scoring sheet, but played a sound game. Stan Mabo led the Mets with a three-goal effort, while single goals went to Ralph Duvall, Jim Cameron, Jim Notman, Jack Notman and Erwin Myer.

Looking back 107 years to Morrisburg in 1867, the population was 1,400. There were three hotels, a school house, several churches and thriving mercantile and industrial shops. In 1967, the record was little changed. Morrisburg had a population of 2,000, one hotel, one motel, a modern public school, fine homes, churches, business establishments and industries. Today, however, with the Seaway project completed, modern highways under construction, unlimited hydro power and industrial promotion, the future was promising.

The July 12, 1957 issue reported that Earl McIntyre, assistant chief at Morrisburg, was appointed as Chief of Police by council.

Before a capacity congregation at Williamsburg United Church, Rev. Douglas H. Ramsay of Wollsville, N.B. was inducted as minister of the Williamsburg and Colquhoun Charge.

Police were stepping up their search for the person or persons who murdered a 22-year-old housewife at her farm home near Chesterville on Tuesday, July 9. The victim was Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, mother of two small children, who lived with her husband about two miles northeast of Chesterville just off the Morewood Road. The body of the victim, who had been attacked about the head and face, was discovered in a yard near the house by her husband, Robert McLaughlin. Police later discovered a hammer and sickle near the body.

The July 18 issue reported the rivalry was renewed between the Lock Street Leopards and the Golden Dragons, the Leopards pouncing on the Dragons for a 17-6 win. Umpires for the game were Paul Laurin at the plate and Gordon Smith on bases. Batteries were Charlie Lee and Wes Stitt for the Dragons and "Ramp" Reid and "Bun" Devaul for the winners.

June promotions for Williamsburg Public School reported that Mary Ruth McIntosh, Junior Summers and Bobbie McIntosh has passed from Grade 7 to 8. At S. S. No. 6 Williamsburg, Dale Swerdfeger passed his entrance and Emmett Norton passed from grade 7 to grade 8.

Commission gets maintenance boost

MORRISBURG - In an on going effort to support tourism in Eastern Ontario, the Liberal government of Premier McGuinty is providing more than $2.8 million in funding to keep the St. Lawrence Parks Commission properties in good condition. Jim Brownell, Stormont-Dundas-Charlottenburgh MPP and Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Tourism made the announcement on July 12.

In April of this year, the Ontario government announced that it was investing nearly $4.3 million in the St. Lawrence Parks Commission in order to boost tourism. Specifically, $2.8 million will now go to the Commission's capital budget.

These funds will be directed into a maintenance program for the Parks and used to make repairs to existing property and equipment. It is necessary for the Commission to put in place improvements which will upgrade their properties to current provincial standards in building, fire code and accessibility regulations.

"This amounts to a 19 per cent increase in the Commission's Capital Budget," said MPP Brownell.

The funding will help the Parks Commission and Eastern Ontario to maintain their tourist attractions. "Supporting tourism helps to bring new investment, jobs and economic opportunities to the region," said commission chair Peter Watson.

The McGuinty government has provided funding totalling nearly $9.8 million for 2007-8 designed to address repair and rehabilitation needs at four major tourism agencies and attractions. Besides the Parks Commission, Ontario Place, Fort William Historical Park and Huronia Historical Parks will receive funds.

Letter
Federal commitment questioned

To the editor,

After receiving their notice to pay for the Capital Water Project, South Dundas householders—especially the elderly and people on fixed incomes—were likely in shock.

After reading through CAO Stephen McDonald's carefully worded explanation of government funding for the project, likely questions are: What happened to the Federal government's commitment? How hard has MP Guy Lauzon pushed his government to deliver?

South Dundas householders deserve convincing answers to these questions.

Wedding at UCV

MORRISBURG - Miss Jenny Ross, a young Scottish orphan, will celebrate her "wedding" to Mr. Christopher Lindsay, a young Morrisburg farmer, on Sunday, July 22, at Upper Canada Village.

This will be a simple 19th century wedding celebration of two ordinary working class people. Everyone is invited to attend the ceremony at Christ Church at 1:30 p.m., then join the happy couple for a Scottish reception at the Ross farm.

Each year, Upper Canada Village stages a different 19th century wedding with a unique cast of characters from the past. The event is one of the most popular days of the season, and the traditional festivities of July 22 should be delightful and informative.

"Jenny Ross" is an orphan who has been raised by her three spinster Ross aunts, who, along with numerous Ross cousins, will attend the ceremony. "John Ross", local member of Parliament for Dundas, may honour the occasion with his attendance. The entire Lindsay clan will also take part.

Based on actual historical research, the wedding will feature a horse and carriage for the happy couple, Scottish toasts, and Scottish country dancing. Finger food and refreshments will be served to guests while a simple wedding cake, suitable for the occasion, will be on display inside the Ross home.

Visitors can attend the Wedding as part of their regular admission to Upper Canada Village.

Vacation Bible School a hit in Williamsburg

WILLIAMSBURG – The annual week-long Vacation Bible School in Williamsburg wrapped up Friday with the youth entertaining their family and friends and then dining on hot dogs. The annual event, jointly run by the three churches...St. Peter's Lutheran, Williamsburg United and the Christian Reformed...attracted 70 youth this year, an increase of about 40 percent over the previous year's school. During the week the youngsters participated in crafts, lessons, drama and music. Rev. John Noordhof, on behalf of the three churches, thanked the many people who helped put the school together, the parents and "all the boys and girls for coming out." Pictured above, l-r, David Tibben, Olivia Hart and Martina Lewis participate in song, and at the left, Jodie Hall and Lanea Pol prepare for the senior skit.

"It's me again, God"

Perspectives

I was rearranging some books in my office the other day when I came across some lovely little booklets of poems.

One of them, entitled Prayers and Meditations, was given to me by a friend from the Seaway Valley Presbytery over 20 years ago. And I remember telling him that the poem called "It's Me Again, God," by Helen Steiner Rice was a favourite of mine at that time:

Remember me, God?
I come every day
Just to talk with you, Lord,
And to learn how to pray...
You make me feel welcome,
You reach out Your hand,
I need never explain
For You understand...
I came to you frightened
And burdened with care,
So lonely and lost,
And so filled with despair,
And suddenly, Lord,
I'm no longer afraid,
My burden is lighter
And the dark shadows fade...
Oh, God, what a comfort
To know that you care
And to know when I seek you
You will always be there!

Is it not a true blessing to realize that on a long life's journey, we need never walk alone? God is our refuge, our strength - the One who cares for us always. We can have hope, for our Lord sheds His grace and light upon us each and every day.

During these summer months and in all weeks yet to come, may we give thanks that we are ever secure within our Creator's compassionate embrace.

May we share the news with others that Jesus can grant us joy, peace, love and the promise of eternal life.

"It is a comfort to know that God cares, and to know when we seek Him, He'll always be there."

Catholic School Board balances budget

KEMPTVILLE–The Board of Trustees of the Catholic District School Board of Eastern Ontario has approved a balanced budget of $134.8 million for the 2007-2008 school year.

The budget was tabled at the June 19 meeting, after a process involving all departments and an administration assessment of all expenditures to review cost efficiencies and savings.

Superintendent of Business, Gordon Greffe told the Board, "Our supervisory officers and management should be commended for the level of detail at which they examined all of the Board's expenses. This cooperation helped make the process run efficiently, and the information provided by Board staff was invaluable."

The budget contains funding for 16 additional primary teachers, to help meet the provincially mandated primary class size (PCS) initiative.

The Board's preliminary plan meets the mark of 20 students per teacher in JK to Grade 3, and 25 students per teacher for Grades 4 to 8.

Other PCS projects include a 10 classroom addition at Holy Cross in Kemptville and a two-classroom addition at St. Gregory in Carleton Place. Several portable classrooms are also being added across the Board.

The Board expects to receive funding from the Ministry's Good Places to Learn Initiative, Stage 3. Under the first two phases, $8.5 million in renewal and repair projects have been, or will be, completed.

Additionally, the budget increases the total number of Student Success teachers to 12.4, helping all students to be successful.

Also included is a three percent wage increase for all employee groups effective September 1 as per the provincial framework. Elementary teachers will also receive an additional 10 minutes per week in preparation time.

The Board will continue to expand support for programs that focus on provincial initiatives such as: literacy and numeracy, safe schools, the new teacher induction program, parent engagement and many others.

Rates high

Cargo volume low

CORNWALL–The St. Lawrence Seaway Management Corporation (SLSMC) announced on Friday, June 27 that cargo volumes at the outset of its 2007 navigation season have been building at a slower-than-anticipated pace.

The revised forecast for the year now stands a 44 million tonnes of cargo. Though lower than the 47.2 million tonnes realized last year, the new forecast still projects an increase over the 43.3 million tonnes recorded in 2005.

Factors underlying the lower cargo volumes include a reduction in the quantity of steel imports due to high domestic inventories, coupled with slowing industrial production.

With charter rates for ocean vessels remaining near all-time highs, ship operators are less inclined to enter the Great Lakes Seaway System, as opportunities abound elsewhere to profitably engage their vessels.

With the reduction in the number of ocean vessels transiting Seaway locks loaded with steel, fewer vessels are available within the system to load grain for the return voyage to overseas destinations.

Richard Corfe, President and CEO of the SLSMC, cited the unpredictable nature of global trade conditions in underlining the importance of continuing efforts to diversify the Seaway's client base, and pressing ahead with technological initiatives that promise to further enhance the system's competitive strengths.

The HwyH20 "Blue is Green" campaign is gaining momentum, as billboards are erected in various communities bordering the Great Lakes Seaway System.

Recognition of the benefits of moving more cargo over the marine mode is building, including the potential to ease land based congestion, raise energy efficiency and reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Funds raised to help kids with cancer

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Two local children battling cancer are the beneficiaries of the impressive fund-raising efforts of the Eighth Annual Travis Dumoulin Golf Tournament.

The Morrisburg and District Lions Club have been working to raise funds for the Jessica Scott trust fund and the South Dundas Soccer Association for a seven-year-old member of their association, Matthew Perkins.

The tournament raised $11,600, half of which will go to Scott and half to Perkins.

There were 171 golfers participating in the event, with 215 partaking in the dinner.

SD&G OPP briefs

Service calls

SD&G – Between July 9 and 15, SD&G OPP officers responded to 394 calls for service across the United Counties. Of those calls 81 were in South Dundas and 56 were in North Dundas.

Laptop taken

DIXON'S CORNERS – A break-in at the Dixon's Corners Public School was reported to police July 16 at approximately 5 p.m.

A window was broken to gain entry to the building and a laptop computer from inside the building was stolen.

Police, with the assistance of the OPP K-9 unit, investigated and found the stolen property in a nearby bush. A 16-year-old male youth from South Dundas was arrested and charged with break, enter and theft.

He will appear in Morrisburg court September 4, to face the charge. Constable Harvey Blokland is the investigating officer.

Assault police charge laid

CHESTERVILLE – A South Dundas man was arrested and charged with assaulting police after police responded to a domestic situation at a Chesterville residence.

July 14, at 2:15 a.m., police were called to a Water Street residence for a reported domestic situation.

According to police, an altercation involving a 38 year old man and his ex-spouse had taken place.

Police say that while the man was being escorted from the residence he became aggressive towards an officer.

As a result, Kevin Edgerton of South Dundas was arrested and will face the charge of assault police when he appears in Morrisburg court August 7.

Sergeant Murray Bamber is the investigating officer.

Breach of condition

SOUTH DUNDAS – A man from South Glengarry was charged with failure to comply with an undertaking when he was reported to police for breaching a non-communication condition set from a previous incident.

Forty-four year old Daniel Lamay was located and arrested at a County Road 2 property in South Dundas Township.

He was held in custody pending a court appearance for bail in Cornwall court.

Constable Justin McKenna is investigating the incident.

Parks Commission staff wins "Best Team" award

TORONTO – Four management staff of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission were the proud recipients of the Ministry of Tourism's "Discovery Award for Best Team" at an annual awards ceremony held in Toronto, June 26, 2007.

Staff at the St. Lawrence Parks Commission along with Ministry of Tourism staff came away winners in the Best Team category for their joint work on the Agency Transition project.

Faye Baker (Manager of Financial Services), Bruce Fitz-Gibbon (Director of Corporate Services), Barry Hughes (Manager of Parks and Recreation), and John Robertson (Manager of Fort Henry) were honoured alongside Ministry of Tourism team members Rory Burke, Elsie Lui, Kenny Quan, Dana Hall and Susanne Gregor.

Patricia Macdonald, General Manager of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, congratulated staff for their work on the organization's transformation strategy and emphasized that "the close cooperation between our two teams clearly demonstrates the solid understanding and strong relationship that has developed between the Commission and the Ministry of Tourism."

Peter Watson, Chair of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, commended the team for their efforts. "This team collectively worked on the development of the The St. Lawrence Parks Commission Transformation Strategy in 2006/07. Through their efforts, dedication and hard work, this team achieved excellent results which will help to secure the future of the Commission," he said.

The Best Team category recognizes a working group who demonstrated teamwork in the delivery of a project and/or assignment in support of the ministry's or agency's mission, goals and objectives. The team must show a solid contribution by all team members in achieving objectives and demonstrated results in developing a program or policy.

The Discovery Awards are employee recognition awards that provide employees within the Ministries of Tourism and Culture with the opportunity to recognized their peers for their exceptional work and achievements.

The ceremony is held every year to recognized the skill, dedication and accomplishments of employees nominated by other employees within the ministries.

Morrisburg Tim Hortons student employee, Chelsea Kelly, received a big boost to her college fund Friday, when she was presented a $1,000 Team Tim Hortons Scholarship by Morrisburg Store Supervisor, Lisa Cunningham (left) and owner Denise St. Denis. Chelsea, who has worked at the popular Morrisburg store since it opened, will attend St. Lawrence College this fall.

Local student receives Tim Hortons scholarship

MORRISBURG–Chelsea Kelly of Morrisburg, is the recipient of a $1,000 Team Tim Hortons Scholarship awarded for her commitment to giving back to the community.

The Team Tim Hortons Scholarship Program is designed to recognize store employees (and their children or grandchildren) who have given back to their community through volunteer work and have plans to pursue post-secondary education.

This year was a great success with 220 scholarships, totalling $220,000, awarded across Canada and the United States.

"We are delighted to present Chelsea with a 2007 Team Tim Hortons Scholarship," said Morrisburg store owner Denise St. Denis, when she made the presentation Friday morning. "The desire to give back to the community and pursue post-secondary education is a valuable combination."

"Chelsea has been with me since day one. She's a very dedicated employee. We are honoured to have her, and we are proud to have her."

Chelsea will attend St. Lawrence College, Cornwall this fall to study Business Management. She has worked at the local Tim Hortons since it opened in September, 2002.

Chelsea was thrilled to receive the $1,000 scholarship, and said it would be extremely helpful to her for her school costs. To apply for the scholarship she wrote an essay on "What Tim Hortons means to me and the community."

Tim Hortons is committed to enriching the lives of its valued team members through a number of "Team Tim Hortons" initiatives.

The largest quick service restaurant chain in Canada, Tim Hortons was founded in 1964, as a coffee and donut shop.

Since then it has evolved to meet consumer tastes, with a menu that now includes premium coffee, flavored cappuccinos, specialty teas, homestyle soups, fresh sandwiches and fresh baked goods.

As of April 1, 2007, Tim Hortons system-wide restaurants numbered 2,724 in Canada and 340 in the United States.

"Pride of Workmanship"

Recognizing your employees

CHESTERVILLE– "Pride of Workmanship" takes on a special meaning each year as local businesses are invited to participate in this unique and valuable program, which honours individuals who go above and beyond expectations in the workplace, demonstrating initiative, leadership or creativity in enhancing the business they work in.

The Chesterville Rotary Club is proud to present their fourth annual "Pride of Workmanship" program in partnership with the North Dundas and South Dundas Chambers of Commerce, Winchester Bank of Montreal and MB Foster.

The program recognizes workers' contributions to the workplace, which have gone above and beyond the call of duty, be it acumen with a monkey wrench, troubleshooting on an assembly line, dynamic sales approach or truly excellent service.

Employers in North and South Dundas are invited to nominate one employee who displays significant excellence on the job. "Here is an opportunity to recognize that individual in public," says Pat English, the Rotary Club's Vocational Chair, "thanking them for their contribution to your company's success.," Letters will be sent to businesses in North and South Dundas inviting nominations which will close on Friday, September 14, 2007. For more information, please contact Jim Cummings at (613) 448-2730.

In a world where young children revere superhero action figures, we now have an opportunity to focus on real-life, local heroes whose contributions to the working world serve as role-models in our own community. These are the people we meet and work with on a daily basis, and this is your chance to acknowledge their skills, creativity and dedication.

Rotary Clubs around the world focus on four avenues of support: club, community, vocational and international, and are best known for the near-eradication of polio universally.

Chesterville Rotarians have participated in all these avenues of service and been very instrumental in the enhancement of the Village of Chesterville over the years.

Two charged with assault

MORRISBURG – An assault at a residence along Victoria Park Crescent, Morrisburg was reported to police at 6 p.m., July 13.

According to police, an altercation between an 18 year old female from Morrisburg and another female, the 25 year old victim, resulted in the 18 year old assaulting the other woman.

Police say that a man from the same residence as the accused assaulted another man who was present during the incident.

As a result of the altercation, police charged 18 year old Angele Perron and 34 year old Christopher Major, both of Morrisburg with assault. Their court appearances are scheduled for August 7. Constable Ed McGraw is the investigating officer.

Back to Nature in South Dundas

IRENA – Local bird-watcher and nature enthusiast, Shiela Scarbo is not sure if it's just her, but she says she saw two monarch butterflies the other day, and they seemed bigger than they have in the past.

A number of wild things around her home are in the early stages of their lives. She has a small chipmunk running around her garage and a chipping sparrow showing her little ones all the ins and outs of sparrow life by feeding them on the lawn. She is also reporting a couple of small chickadees around the yard.

The noisey flicker reported previously is still around the house making a lot of noise and trying to build a nest in a nearby tree.

Other Irena bird sightings include a white-breasted nuthatch and two cedar waxwings.

In her travels last week Scarbo noted that the orange lilies in along many of the roadways are a welcome sight.

A deer stood on the Rowena road as she approached, but ran off before she got too near. A catbird was spotted by the creek and a cardinal was sitting along the road on a wire.

ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION
Seaway Branch #48
10 Legion Street, Morrisburg, ON

The Wars Amps are coming to town, with a light dinner to be served starting at 6:00 p.m. at a cost of $8 per person on Friday, July 21st at Branch 48 and the entertainment that night will be Mama's Girls. Then the War Amps will be golfing with Branch members and friends at the Morrisburg Golf Course on Saturday, followed by a meal at the golf course.

The BBQ steak night for July had to be moved to Friday, August 3rd due to a previous booking of the hall and the entertainment for the evening will be John Mason. Get your steak feed tickets early and don't be disappointed. Please remember the Legion steak feeds and the Friday entertainment are open to the public.

We are still encountering problems on Bingo night with the smoking outside the building. There is an outdoor patio on the east side of the building with an entrance through the lounge; that is meant for smoking, it has tables and cans for ashtrays. Please use this area as this also eliminates cigarette butts being dropped outside the front of the building. Last Bingo we saw a significant change in the number of smokers and the patio was used. Thank you for co-operation in this matter.

Sunday's meat draw was won by Mr. Goodwin.

Until next time – Comrade Janice

IROQUOIS LEGION NEWSLETTER

Royal Canadian Legion
Branch #370

IROQUOIS – The cribbage league will be resuming play after Labour Day weekend in September.

On Tuesday, July 3, there were seven tables of euchre. Claiming the first prize was Joe Beltman, while the second prize was won by Sheila Scarbo. Nora Smith managed to nab the third prize. There were a few skunks loitering around the Branch, but they were immediately picked up by Louise Crites, Hazel Ace, Keitha McConnell and Norma Smith.

The Pot of Gold winner was Penny Fairfield, who was signed in.

At euchre on Tuesday, July 10, although I didn't learn how many tables were taking part, Willis Douglas managed to get the first prize while Douglas Gow picked up the second prize. Jack Shaw nabbed the third prize. Not one skunk could be found around the area.

The Pot of Gold winner was Wayne Bellinger, who was not signed in. The Friday meal for this week is chicken casserole and the dessert will be rhubarb and strawberry crisp with ice cream.

On Saturday, July 14, at District Golf, held at Wendover, we had two teams competing. One team, namely Darin Eden and Bob Esford, had the luck to advance to the Provincial level. That competition will take place in the Chatham area sometime in August. Congratulations, comrades! Great showing! The teams competing in doubles and the senior teams weren't quite so fortunate. But all in all, everyone had a good time.

If you haven't added your name to the Legion Mixed Golf Tournament list, and you are planning to participate in this event, the cut off date for signing up is July 21. For more information, phone the Legion after the noon hour on any given day.

Until next week, take care!

Upper Canada Playhouse

Bedtime Stories, a must see

MORRISBURG - It really does make the world go 'round!

Norm Foster's Bedtime Stories, now in its run at Upper Canada Playhouse, is all about love: the romance, the anger, the goofiness and the sheer comic joy of that most powerful of human emotions.

The five member cast, playing 15 disparate, but ultimately connected characters, takes audiences on an exploration of love which leaves them involved, surprized and, in the end, perhaps even a little touched.

It also leaves them quite helpless with laughter.

Judging by the howling reactions of the opening night crowd to the antics of the middle-aged "love birds", Lou and Betsy, the incompetent burglars Nick and Davey, the Marilyn Manson Goth "wannabe" and the frantic D.J. Eddie, trying to patch up his marriage with Laura, this particular play clearly strikes a chord with a lot of people.

And Bedtime Stories would not be classic Norm Foster if there was not also a gentle touch of pathos underlying the outrageous comedy. There is a lovely scene, early in the play, between Richard Bauer's Derek and Kathleen Egan Veinotte's Susan which clearly illustrates this.

"A really great comedy has to have a really great 'bottom' to it," says director, Jesse Collins. "Norm Foster's plays always seem to reflect the realities of life. People can see this on stage."

The plot revolves around a series of vignettes, each appearing to stand alone, but each cleverly and subtlely linked to all the rest. One of the joys of this production, for the audience, is to gradually appreciate the connections existing among all the characters during this one fateful night in their lives.

With three distinct individuals each to bring to life, Bedtime Stories is a tour de force for the five actors.

They are well up to the challenge.

Among many, many memorable and delightful characters in this play, some are especially captivating.

Richard Bauer's Tommy Quick, the vintage rocker, is priceless in his dealings with the 19-year-old groupie "wannabe" Melody. With a corset holding in his "middle age", a 16 year marriage the central focus of his life, Tommy has no problems shooting down Melody's serious misconceptions about true love. "I have water, latte and Pepto Bismol on tap," he exclaims.

Melody, charmingly played by Kate Egan Veinotte, learns Tommy's lesson that "Fifty-two plus 19 equals creepy," and in the process discovers that she should have looked no farther than her own home to see what lifelong devotion between a man and a woman really is.

Susan Greenfield and Doug Tangney, as a long married couple whose agreement to "make love" live on radio sets events in motion, are simply hilarious.

Tangney's Lou has the crowd roaring as he details his "romantic" gout, cold feet, lumbago and cracked heels. Then Greenfield's Betsy cozily admits to the flabbergasted D.J. that Lou's "chest hair has always given me a rash."

Eddie, the ambitious D.J., played energetically and flat out by Jamie Williams, must ultimately face "an epiphany" about what really matters in his life, before he destroys his marriage to Laura.

Sandy, the desperately accident prone "exotic" dancer (Greenfield again) and devoted to her Nick, simply brings the house down during her scene, as her manager, Charlie, tries to tactfully fire her. "In school, they called me stupid, dim, an airhead," Sandy sniffles. "Well, kids can be so cruel," Charlie says sympathetically. "That was the teachers!" Sandy wails.

The character of Yolanda, who appears near the end of the play, will be both a revelation and a delight to the audience, and bring the play's plot full circle.

The set for Bedtime Stories, designed by Alec Harmer, who is also the play's lighting technician, is very cleverly conceived.

Quickly and effectively the set heralds each new scene as it revolves, and the stage dressings change. The audience gains a real sense, from Harmer's efforts, of the nature of the characters who will inhabit these different bedrooms before they even appear.

Under the talented direction of Jesse Collins, Upper Canada Playhouse has a new hit on its stage in Bedtime Stories.

This is outstanding entertainment for adults. Whether one is in love, temporarily out of love, or waiting for true love to walk through the door, Foster's comedy has great appeal.

It is Yolanda, perhaps, who may best express what each character in the play is ultimately seeking in life. During the final moments of Bedtime Stories she says simply,

"I'm going to know that I've been loved, and loved good..."

Bedtime Stories runs from July 12 to August 5 at Upper Canada Playhouse in Morrisburg. Contact 613-543-3713 for information and reservations.

Steel stolen

MORRISBURG – The morning of July 16, the theft of steel from Brown's Foundry in the Morrisburg industrial park was reported to police.

When they investigated police found that the material was turned in at a recycling plant in Cornwall.

Officers intercepted a vehicle in Cornwall and arrested the driver, 31-year-old Steven Lamarche of Cornwall, and charged him with theft.

He will appear in Morrisburg court September 4 to answer the charge. Constable Mark Evans is the investigating officer.

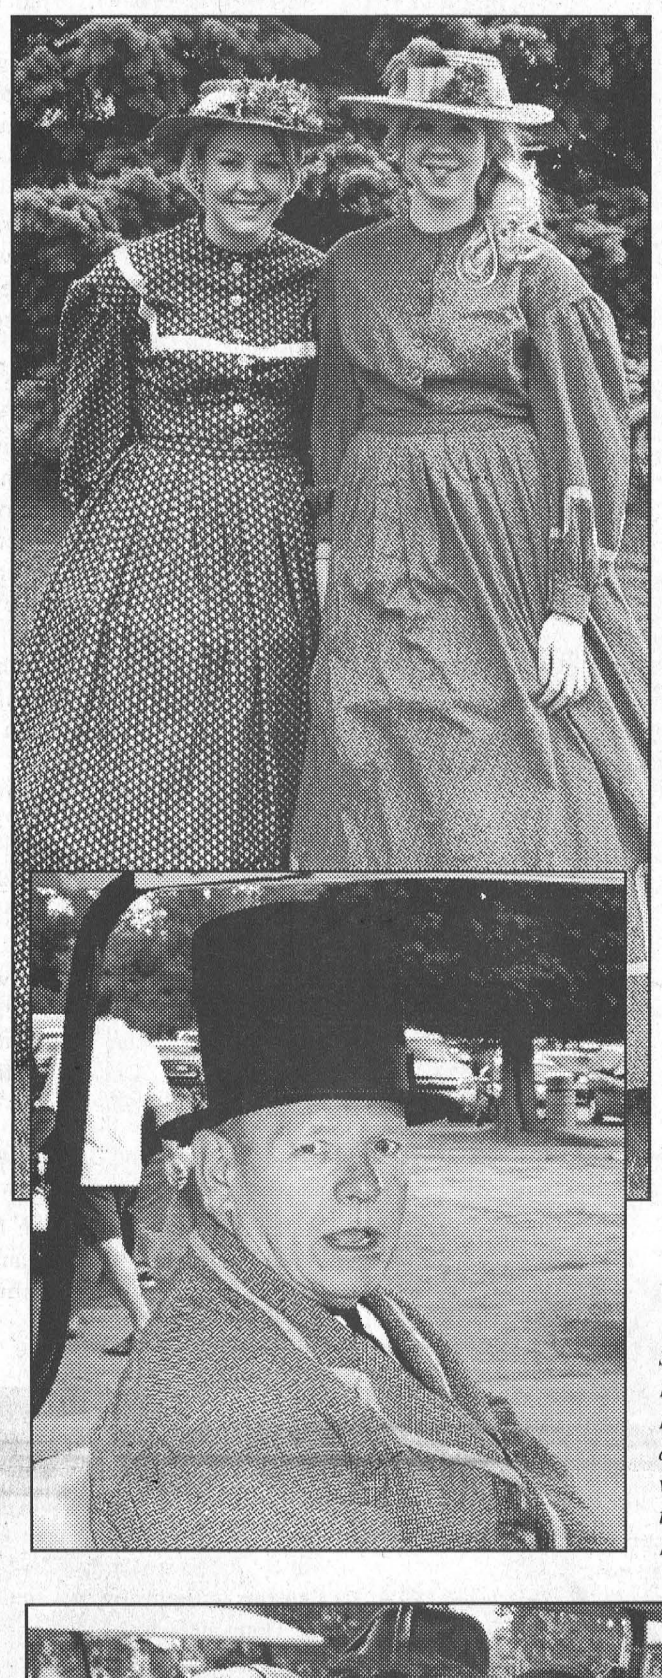
Kilger golfers "chip in" for $35,000



MORRISBURG – After Mother Nature did her best to delay the start of the 9th annual Chad Kilger Open, played at the Upper Canada Golf Course Friday, the golfers did what they do best and raised $35,000 for Special Olympics.

This year's contribution brings the tournament total to $220,000 and will enable organizers to surpass their $250,000, 10 year target goal in next year's final event.

Cornwall Police Staff Sergeant Brian Snyder and Constable Chico Ouelette organized the first tournament in 1999. After his involvement for the first two years, the tournament became the Chad Kilger Open in 2001.

The Toronto Maple Leaf forward has been involved with Special Olympics since his junior playing days in Kingston.

The tournament has been hugely successful with golfers coming back year after year, and organizers at the Upper Canada Golf Course doing a first rate and very professional job as hosts.

Tubie 007, Shaken & Stirred coming soon

Submitted by Angus Podgorny

MORRISBURG–Only weeks away and the countdown has already begun. Yes, Tubie Weekend is upon us and here come my findings as the only Tubie correspondent on the face of the planet, earth that is.

It is rumoured that Cory Cassell has torn his ACL in a fishing accident and may be a final second race time decision as to whether he will take paddle in hand. Apparently, since his employment with RJC, his workload has become too heavy due to his lazy colleagues.

Gary Magee has moved to Kandahar, and has been training in the art of tube side paddling. This new paddling technique apparently will take other crafts by surprise and Magee is boasting that it is the key to winning the race. Just what tube side paddling is exactly is just another twist to the usual Tubie trends that this ace reporter will be looking into.

A new team this year is the Katie Casselman team. Katie's team has hired craft designer Rumple Stiltzkin to build their craft and become yet another Tubie Race team to be hopeful of a top 10 finish.

In an extreme news flash, Jeff Barclay apparently tried to hire Phil Dillabough to paddle this year, but due to a special gala being held in Phil's honour at the Ontario Water Treatment Plant Hall of Fame, Phil is unable to commit. All Tubiests everywhere envy Phil, who is being inducted to the OWTPHOF as the leading hydrant drainer of all time.

A very disappointed Barclay has been seen dragging his lower lip, having now lost all of his team members and now finding himself in that dire and very dreadful position of having to consider retirement. Can it be? Will Barclay really retire? Or is this another Tubie strategy being thrown at his opponents to make them think they have one less contender to worry about.

Josh Laurin, on the other hand, has assembled a stellar team which includes veteran Tubie paddler Calvin "Iron Horse" Elliott who is recovering from reconstructive fibula surgery. "Iron Horse" has been quoted as saying, "I'm back, and I am stronger than ever." Only time will tell if the reconstructed fibula is everything Elliott boasts it to be.

Some very extensive, and at times dangerous, Podgorny investigation has also discovered that Laurin has contacted another two veteran paddlers and probably "the greatest" rudder girl in the history of the Tubies to join his team. Contract negotiations, however, are still in the works and if the veterans' demands are too much, he always has pappa Sam and uncle Beaver in reserve.

While Josh handles the extreme legal and financial obligations of the team, younger brother Matt is into the real nitty gritty and has issued the following notice: He will be fighting off anyone who comes too close to him in the race this year.

The 2007 Tubie race will run on Sunday, August 5 and this year's theme is Tubie's 007, Shaken and Stirred. There will be all kinds of events at the waterfront and some new race rules for this year.

More news will follow in the Morrisburg Leader, Eastern Ontario's only official Tubie news centre.

Cedar Glen champs crowned

WILLIAMSBURG – Kurtis Barkley and Lynn Shaw played some very solid defense at the Cedar Glen Golf Club's 36 hole club championship tournament on the weekend.

The two were out to defend their 2006 championship titles and defend them they did.

For Barkley, the repeat win was a coming of age. He won his title last year, while still a junior-aged golfer, with a 36 hole total of 158 (77-81). This year he stepped to the first tee as an adult player and went to work to carve out a pair of 75s for a 150 total.

Shaw began the defense of her 2006 title posting an 86 in Saturday's play and backing it up with a 89 Sunday. This was exactly the opposite of her 2006 win when she opened with the 89 and polished it off with an 86.

While Barkley and Shaw were working towards their repeats win as overall champs (also A flight champs), others in the field were seeking their flight championships.

For the men, it was Merle Reaney stepping into the winner's circle as the B flight champion. Reaney posted rounds of 87-81 to claim his crown.

The C flight championship was claimed by Glen Vasey with a 215 total (88-90) and Hugh McKay won D flight with a 208 (102-106).

For the ladies, it was Sheila Crowder who claimed the B flight championship with rounds of 106-112. Joining her as the C flight champion was Gerry McEwan (105-110) and D flight champion Shirley Pettinger (134-124).

In junior action Adrian Bongers won the junior crown with rounds of 90-94, while Jeremy Plummer claimed the juvenile championship posting scores of 122–125.

McNairns win GT two-ball

MORRISBURG– It was a birdie they needed on their last hole of play and it was a birdie that Sam Laurin and Mary Ann Vardon got to send the annual Giant Tiger Mixed Two-Ball Tournament, played at the Morrisburg Golf Club Saturday, into overtime.

The birdie, they actually putted for an eagle and missed, gave the duo a 77 to tie Brian and Bonnie McNairn for the day's low gross and force a sudden death playoff.

The sudden death hole was a tester, but an out-of-bounds shot by the Laurin duo wrapped it up, the McNairns able to coast home with a bogey five to claim the championship.

The annual Giant Tiger Mixed Two-Ball, sponsored by Ed Kingsley of the Morrisburg Giant Tiger and Ken Rundle of the Prescott Giant Tiger, has become one of the most popular events of the season at the Morrisburg Golf Club.

This year's tournament, in fact, attracted 114 local golfers who enjoyed play on a course that was in great shape, a delicious meal prepared by the Morrisburg Golf Course staff, and a fabulous selection of prizes.

"Giant Tiger really puts on a fabulous event here," said one participant. "We had a really great time."

Putting pressure on the tournament leaders were the twosomes of Kevin Duvall and Brenda Stitt, and Brad and Vicki Boivin who finished tied with 79s. Next up were Allan and Heather Black and Blake Barry and Sherry Boulerice who tied with 81s.

The Black's 81 gave them the A flight low net win with a 61.

In B flight, Kirk Barkley and Cassandra Barry led the charge, claiming the low gross with an 88.

Next in line were Bruce and Val St. John who carded an 89 to win the B flight low net with a 62. Doug and Chris McNairn finished third with a 91, followed by Nick and Jane Lee with a 93 and Andy and Barb Allard and Bonnie Garlough and Steve Casselman who were tied with 95s.

In the non-handicap division Matt Laurin and Aimee Baker were the winning combination. Using the Calloway scoring system they won first place with a 68 net.

Lightning, Attack are still rolling along

MORRISBURG–Justin Elliott struck five times, and Robbie Waddell connected for four counters to lead their respective teams to wins in Dundas Roller Hockey League action here Thursday night.

The wins, for Elliott's White Lightning over the Orange Crush 11-7, and Waddell's Black Attack over the Blue Balls 8-6, held Lightning and Attack in a tie for the league's top spot with 10 points.

It also held Orange Crush and the Blue Balls tin a tie for last place with six points.

Orange Crush and White Lightning got the evening rolling in the League's new home for the final half of the season, at the Morrisburg Arena.

The game remained close through two periods, Lightning staying ahead 3-2 after one and 6-4 after two. However, with just three minutes gone in the third, Crush was on the comeback trail, thanks to goals from Robbie Darling and Kevin Markell, which evened it off at 6-6.

The two goals, however, were the last serious threat from Crush, as Lightning stepped it up a pace for another five as they headed for the 11-7 win.

Elliott led the Lightning scoring with five goals, while Jamie McIntosh added three, Justin Heuff a pair and Travis Rowe a single.

Answering for Crush were Robbie Darling and Rob Thurler with three goals each, and Kevin Markell scored a single against winning Lightning goaltender Richard Gauthier.

Black Attack started strong against the Blue Balls when they built a 3-2 first period lead.

It was a whole new game in the second period however when the Blue Balls came charging back, to outscore Attack 4-1, for a 6-4 lead heading into the third period.

Attack goaltender Barry McShane entered into the equation in the third period, and while he held the Blue Balls from the scoreboard, the offense went to work for four unanswered tallies and an 8-6 win.

Waddell led Attack with four goals, and Mike Thompson, Brad Wylie, Marc Dupuis and Tyler Isaac all added singles.

Jon Chambers answered for the Blue Ball with three goals, Chad McMillan notched a pair and Sheldon Beckstead contributed a single.

Morrisburg Golf News

MORRISBURG–It was a busy weekend at the club with the Giant Tiger Mixed Two-ball leading it off on Saturday, and the first round of club championships and second qualifying round for Valley and Border League teams closing it out on Sunday.

First up is a special thank you to Ed Kingsley of Morrisburg's Giant Tiger and Ken Rundle of Prescott's Giant Tiger for their annual, and very generous support, of this event. Second is congratulations to Brian and Bonnie McNairn, Kirk Barkley and Cassandra Gurnhill and Matt Laurin and Aimee Baker who were the winners of the three flights. Finally a thank you goes out to the 114 participants who made this a truly successful event for both the club and our sponsors.

In regular weekly action, Vicki Boivin, Brenda Stitt and Monique Patenaude got together to lead the Ladies Night field, all tied with 44s. Linda Barclay won B flight with a 45, Sharon Annable C flight with a 48 and Laurie Pitt D flight with a 50. Also in the thick of the 44 pileup in A flight was Diane Gallinger who was given the nod for low net in A flight with a 34. Carol Dawley shot a 46 to win low net in B flight with a 34, and Ann Winters carded a 53 to win C low net with a 35. Kathy McIntosh, shot a 53 in D flight to win low net with a 32.5.

Our thanks go to the Bank of Montreal which sponsored the evening.

Men's action on Thursday night was sponsored by Harland Veinotte Transport (Randy and Terry Veinotte). The low gross winners were Cody Barbeau in A flight with a 34, Charlie Moore in B with a 37 and Sam Harwood in C with a 43. Scott Corden won A low net, Jim Whelan B low net and Keith Robinson C low net. Closest to the pin winners were Charlie Moore and Allan McNairn.

This weekend the club welcomes the annual War Amps Tournament on Saturday. Sunday, members return to the field to complete their second round for club championships and third round for team qualifying. Sign-up sheets are now posted for the Ryder Cup team event between the President and Club Captain Teams.

Among the Cedars

WILLIAMSBURG–Our new champs have been crowned. We'll kick off this week's column by congratulating our club championships Kurtis Barkley and Lynn Shaw, our flight champions Merle Reaney, Sheila Crowder, Glen Vasey, Gerry McEwan, Hugh McKay and Shirley Pettinger and our junior champions Adrian Bongers and Plummer.

Nancy Warner led the ladies night charge last Wednesday, shooting a 49 for low gross in A flight, and Joan Findlay won B with a 52. A 55 gave Elise Muir the win in D flight and Claire Locke posted the top score in D flight with a 58. Closest to the hole winners were Courtney Barkley and Jeanne Perry and Barb Douglas produced the longest drive in D flight.

At men's night last Thursday, Dean McIntosh claimed the A flight win with a 36, and George Bloom was the top shooter in B flight with a 37. Karl Bowles and Jim Casselman tied for low score in C flight with 44s and Sandy Johnston's 53 gave him a one stroke win over Allen Crowder in D flight.

Net winners were Bruce Whitteker in A flight, Charles Wall in B, Jim Boyd in C and Brian Pemberton in D. Lindsay Weegar and Steve Summers were the closest to the hole winner and Denis Villeneuve produced the longest drive.

Last Tuesday, July 10 Jeff Whitteker and Doug Crawford teamed up to win the weekly scramble with a 33. They were joined in the winner's circle by low net winners Robbie Waddell and Meagan Whitteker.

Sheridan leads

MORRISBURG–Barb Sheridan posted an 88 at the Morrisburg Golf Club on Sunday to take the early lead in the 2007 Ladies Championship.

Three strokes back is Judy Laurin with a 91 and Monique Patenaude and Diane Gallinger are tied with 93s.

Donna Dillabough's 93 gave her a six stroke advantage over Linda Barclay's 99 for the B flight championship, while Julie Lortie leads in C flight with a 108 to Elsie Guindon's 110.

In D flight Claire Dunn enjoys a four stroke lead over Candace Jamieson.

The final round for the 2007 ladies club championship is this Sunday, July 22.

The ladies also have now played two of three rounds for Valley League qualifying. After two rounds, Sheridan leads A flight (86-88) and Monique Patenaude is second (89-93). Donna Dillabough holds the third spot (93-93) and Judy Laurin is next (91-95).

Laurie Dillabough leads the B flight shooters (99-101) and Carolyn Weegar (96-106) and Linda Barclay (103-99) are tied.

The top C qualifier to date is Julie Lortie (106-108) followed by Elsie Guindon (108-110) and Barb Allard (111-115).

Claire Dunn leads D flight (117-123), Carol Armstrong is second (115-131) and Helen Youmelle third (120-150).

The third and final qualifying round is this Sunday, and each golfer will use her best two of three scores shot to earn a position on the 2007 team.

Hospital golf gala

WINCHESTER - Preparations are well under way for the Winchester District Memorial Hospital's 11th Annual Charity Golf Tournament. The tournament will take place on Saturday, September 8, 2007.

The event is once again being held at Cedar Glen Golf Course in Williamsburg, with the assistance of owner Dennis Casselman.

Registration is $70, which includes green fees, a barbecue steak dinner, fabulous prizes donated by area businesses and a $30 tax receipt. Golf carts can be reserved at an additional cost of $32 per cart.

Many sponsorship opportunities are available. Bell has been awarded title sponsorship of the event, while the St. Lawrence Medical Clinic has signed on as a Special Event Hole Sponsor.

Anyone wishing to register for the Tournament should contact Carrie Barlow at 774-2422, ext. 5674.

Another win for MGC's Intersectional team

Under the leadership of club captain, Monique Patenaude, the ladies section of the Morrisburg Golf Club became involved in the Ottawa and District Golf Association's Intersectional Competition three years ago. Last Monday, July 9 the team put together their second consecutive win defeating teams from the host club Les Vieux Moulins, Canadian and Glengarry in the match play format. The Intersectional is played in four-team divisions with each team consisting of seven players and one spare. Each team player competes against one member of the other three participating clubs and earns two points for each match won for a possible six points. The winning team with the most points advances up a division and the losing team drops back a division. Last Monday, the Morrisburg team posted a slim one point win over Les Vieux Moulins for the win. Linda Barclay, Donna Dillabough and Lori-Anne Davies won their three matches earning six points each. Monique Patenaude added four points with two wins and Vicki Boivin added two with one win. The result was a 24 point total for Morrisburg, while Les Vieux Moulins finished one point back at 23. Canadian finished third with 20 points and Glengarry fourth at 17 points. The Morrisburg Golf team now moves up from division J to division I. This year's team pictured above, l-r, includes Joan Larocque, Lori-Anne Davies, Linda Barclay, Donna Dillabough, Monique Patenaude, Vicki Boivin, Judy Laurin and Barb Sheridan.

This week's DIRT

Rained Out

For the third consecutive Saturday, racing action was rained out at the Brockville Speedway. A late afternoon sprinkle turned into an early evening rain forcing the cancellation of the scheduled appearance by the Patriot Sprint Cars.

Sunday night Cornwall met with the same fate.

There were nearly 100 cars in the pits and the grandstands were full, when the first showers fell during hot laps. After track maintance workers had the track back in race condition, only the rookie class was able to run their heat before the speedway was hit by a thunderstorm forcing officials to cancel and postpone the remainder of the race program.

The Empire Super Sprints have been postponed to Sunday, August 19.

Karting Action

Complete results from last week's go-karting action at the Cornwall track were not available at press time, however it was noted that coming off a feature win in Can Am, local driver Jake Casselman was able to drive his way to a second place finish in the Junior Sportsman 2 division. He finished behind Justin Lalancette. Kasey Neville claimed another feature win in the Box Stock division.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY
In loving memory of a dear daughter Vallie, who left us July 22, 2005.
We think of you in silence,
And often speak your name,
But all we have are memories,
And your picture in a frame.
We hold you tightly in our hearts,
And there you will remain,
Life has gone on without you,
But will never be the same.
–Always in our thoughts, Love, Mom and Dad 29p

CHARLEBOIS–In loving memory of a wonderful brother and uncle Barry, July 20, 1991.
It's lonely here without you,
We miss you each day,
For life is not the same to us,
Since you were called away.
In our hearts and in our memories,
You will be with us always,
Walking at our sides and watching over us.
–Sadly missed but never forgotten, Love, Kevin, Penny and Joey. 29p

CARD OF THANKS

SMAIL–I would like to thank relatives, friends and neighbours for the cards, calls, food, flowers and donations at the time of Raymond's passing. These acts of kindness were greatly appreciated.
–Charlaine Smail and family 29p

BUCKING–We would like to express our sincere thanks to all who attended our 40th Anniversary party, sent cards and gifts. It will always be a memorable occasion. Also thanks to our children for arranging it for us.
–Thanks again, Bernie and Sharon Bucking 29p

MCMILLAN–The family of the late Roma McMillan would like to sincerely thank our wonderful family, friends and neighbours for their tremendous support during our recent loss. We are truly grateful for all the calls, visits, cards, flowers, meals and donations. A special thank you to Rev. Bruce North, Carroll and Teresa Cashman and David Lapier for arranging a beautiful tribute to our Mom. We would also like to thank the nurses of the Civic Hospital, fifth floor, for the wonderful care she received while there. We love you Mom and are going to miss you.
–June and Rudy Boulerice, Joyce and James Oswald and families. 29p
