Warmth On A Cold Sunday

Wisps of smoke waft toward the cold clear sky. Shadows of trees, drifts and poles lie darkly on the new fallen and blown snow. Inside the little church voices are raised in song and the warmth of fellowship of man and God speaks to the world through wooden walls of the white painted building. Chickadees rest basking in the warmth of the sun on window sills and hear voices in song and see heads bowed in prayer. Sunday afternoon the congregation has gathered in Harmony United Church and the very word tells the story.

Ten degrees below the nothing mark on the thermometer on a bright, clear February Sunday afternoon. The picture is one of solitude and unrestrained joy with the world. The story of the week-end weather was a story of calm and wild. Saturday high winds blowing snow, and bitter cold caused dozens of traffic accidents in Eastern Ontario, one not far from this church location. The blowing snow made roads at times impassable and motorists mistakenly enticed out of town where bright sun promised an almost perfect cold winter day were very disappointed.

Several hours of the worst winter winds of the season raised havoc across the area and sent groundhogs digging deeper into burrows, if they had mistakenly arisen to check the weather earlier this month.

Saturday Blizzard Piles Up Highway Traffic

Reported to be the worst driving conditions of the winter season, stormy Saturday, February 11, will probably have no trouble keeping that reputation. At the noon hour Saturday high and frigidly cold winds whipped loose snow into a maelstrom that were considered a major cause of twelve accidents in the Morrisburg Provincial Police area over the week-end.

Taken as a whole, twelve cars were involved in a series of pile-ups on Highway 31 at the foot of Cass Bridge Saturday noon. Provincial Police Constable D. Craig who investigated in bone chilling weather, divided the entire mess into four separate crash events with the initial one involving a car sliding into a Department of Highways snow plow stationed in Winchester.

At about the same time on Highway 31 north of the village near Harmony another multi-car crash in the blinding snow squall took a toll of fenders and bumpers only.

In each instance there was no apparent injuries with vehicles moving at a slow rate of speed. Collision caused very irritating and sometimes expensive damage to cars involved. Other accident reports came out of Metcalfe village on the week-end with a three-car chain reaction without blinding snow conditions. And yet another in the South Mountain area involving a member of the local clergy when his car was struck by another.

Numerous cases of ditched autos gave garage operators a busy week-end with a second complaint of cold weather freezing up the old bus, also causing a fair amount of business.

As a result of a faulty part in the auto, Dave McIntosh of Winchester Springs damaged his car in a freak accident one mile north of Highway 401 on No. 31. A wheel apparently ran off the car and it went out of control into a ditch.

No accidents were reported on Highway 401.

Corporal Ray Dowe, a sixteen year veteran of the Morrisburg Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, will take a new posting in North Bay as of March 1st. Mr. Dowe will be missed in the area not only in the O. P. P. but as Commander of Zone G3 of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Serving with the force since 1950 he was posted to Morrisburg in 1951 and promoted to Corporal in 1964. A past president of the Morrisburg Legion Branch No. 48, he had an active interest in youth activities and minor league sports.

At the close of the school year Cpl. Dowe's family will join him in North Bay.

Winchester Press Tops In Class

The Winchester Press proudly hangs another award on the front office wall this week. The Press, in its class, took first place for general excellence in competition with similar size weeklies right across the province. The award, which brings with it the Clarke Trophy, has been won seven times previously by The Press.

Four other Eastern Ontario weeklies added prizes to their collections and added another touch of prestige to the weekly publications in this sections of the province. The Prescott Journal picked up second place in class, over 3500 population, an editorial page award and two advertising awards. The Journal is printed in Winchester on the Press' web offset New King. Renfrew Advance picked up two firsts and a third for photography.

The Chesterville Record placed second in class in general excellence competition, and The Iroquois Post third for showing greatest improvement.

Press Publishers Reg. and Ron Workman join with the staff in thanking subscribers, correspondents, readers and advertisers for their contribution to an enviable record which hopefully will continue.

Student Speaking

Best of the public school orators in Dundas County will be in action in the Winchester Public School next Wednesday evening at 7.30 p.m. Public School Principal Harry Potter has notified The Press that the finals of the County Public Speaking Competitions will take place in the school auditorium on that evening. The event, sponsored by the Dundas Teachers' Association, is open to the public at no charge. He suggests parents in particular and all young people and adullts will find topics of interest related by the speakers.

Hallville Vernon Russell Williamsburg Carnival Time

Russell Lions'

Russell Lions Club takes the top off the biggest carnival of the season on Saturday and Sunday evenings in the Russell Community Centre. The Lions Centennial year presentation promises two nights of fun and excitement for everyone.

Clilmax of the two-day event comes on Sunday evening with the crowning of the Centennial Carnival Queen. Twelve entrants make the contest a beautiful battle to impress the judges: Misses Hendrika and Anne Marie Steenbakkers, Miss Ottawa Rough Rider and twin sister; Ottawa radio station personality CKOY's Ray Green and Ottawa Rough Rider Moe Racine. The girls are already each assured a prize from the Centennial committee and the winner of the contest and two princesses will benefit even more. Crowning ceremonies will take place at approximately 9 p.m. on Sunday evening.

What leads to the climax of the show is a power packed parcel of entertainment. Early Saturday evening the fun begins with everyone invited out to skate. At 7.30 the races are scheduled for speedsters and slowsters, 6 to 60. Hockey night in Russell will feature the Russell and Embrun Peanuts doing battle between the goal lines.

Wrapping up the Saturday evening activity will be the well known North Dundas District High School Skating Drill at 9 p.m., with a tug of war a 9:15 feature with men and women involved in stretching muscles and the rope in a best of three laughmaker. Finishing up Saturday evening everyone is invited back to the ice to skate and prizes will be awarded for oldest couple, oldest man and oldest woman.

Sunday the fun starts again with skating at 6:30 and the parade of floats and judging of them scheduled at 7.30. Costumes in the Centennial section will be judged at 8.30 with a $15 prize for the winners. In Concert the Township Band, officially adopted by the Township Centennial Committee, from Embrun High School, will take the spotlight just before the crowning of the Centennial Queen.

Concluding event on carnival week-end in Russell are the chariot races that promise a real treat. Fun and frolic in Russell.

Williamsburg

Cold, cold, blustery weather cancelled the annual Williamsburg Ice Carnival last Saturday evening but a check with the weather prophets say the carnival will go on as scheduled this Saturday evening. Williamsburg merchants sponsor this winter highlight event.

The key to success this year is wrapped up in the word Centennial. Williamsburg's 1967 Centennial Carnival Queen will be selected from entrants in Centennial costumes only. So, girls, check the attic and the old trunk because if you win the reward is worth the effort. Half the fun of any carnival is getting ready and organizers are suggesting everyone join in with the spirit and dress in costume and come out to the rink early Saturday evening.

Winners of race and costume classes as usual will be recipients of many lovely prizes.

Queen Of Queens

Already suggestions come from the Metcalfe and District Lions Club that you should plan to attend their Queen of Queens Carnival in the Metcalfe Community Centre next Friday evening, February 24th. All the reigning Queens from district carnivals are expected to be on hand to vie for the honour of being crowned Miss Lower Ottawa Valley.

In addition, winners of costume classes at neighbouring carnivals are invited to enter the granddaddy of the carnivals and compete for the valuable prizes. Headlining the show will be the Nepean Figure Skating Club and some comedy routines prepared by those loveable Lions themselves.

Club 31 Presents

If you get a little on the chilly side watching the Club 31 Vernon Winter Carnival on Saturday evening, the answer is easy. The Club will be serving a hot bean supper with all the trimmings in the Club 31 Hall following the ice extravaganza. What could be better than a turn on the ice in costume or races, a look at an exciting broomball game and, of course, the crowning of the 1967 Vernon Centennial Carnival Queen.

A full schedule of carnival activity is planned for Vernon on Saturday evening.

Hallville Unique

Of all the carnivals in the district Hallville may be unique. This carnival does not select a Queen. The Hallville Carnival, scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 1.30, offers fun and games for everyone.

Directed to kids and adults alike, the Carnival will feature again this year various classes and offer beautiful prizes.

United Counties Assessors Plan Computer Use

New United Counties Assessment Commission will use a computer. Decision for the computer system was made at the January session of council last week. The system will be installed by Welby Computer Processing Limited.

Elsewhere at council, on the recommendation of the roads and bridges committee, land will be purchased near Winchester, Alexandria and St. Andrews for equipment sheds for the Counties' roads system. Carl Merkley and Cecil McNabb of Chesterville and Winchester Township respectively were appointed to the advisory roads committee.

Winchester Reeve G. E. Elliott in attendance, reported this year's session two days shorter than last, and the next session in April.

Boy Scout Week February 19 - 25

February 19-25 is Boy Scout Week in Canada and Winchester Cubs and Scout group will mark the event with many activities. Tuesday evening the Scout Group Committee laid a Scout Week plan for the local boys.

Sunday, February 19, the Scouts and Cubs will attend morning church service at St. Matthias' Anglican. Friday evening, February 24, Scouts and leaders will travel to Ottawa to visit the Dominion Observatory.

Saturday evening, Feb. 25th, will highlight the Boy Scout Week in Winchester with the annual Father-Son Banquet in Henderson Hall. All fathers are urged to take an evening to spend with their sons at this banquet.

Prescott Fans Plan Night For Leo Boivin

Prescott's favourite native son and National Hockey League star defenceman Leo Boivin will be honoured by the home town on Thursday and Friday, March 2 and 3, it was announced to-day. And sports fans in the area who have followed Leo's successful sports career over the last 15 years will be able to get in on the action.

Former star player with Lloyd LaPorte's then famous Inkerman Rockets, "Nig" as he was so fondly known in those days, went on to play with Port Arthur Junior A team and later with Toronto Maple Leafs and a long time stint with Boston Bruins before moving on to the Detroit Red Wings where he is to-day.

Leo will be honoured at a dinner and dance at the Prescott Golf Club on Thursday night, March 2nd. Tickets on sale now will sell for $15.00 per couple. The next night, Friday, Leo will be appropriately honoured in the new Prescott Community Centre by the home-town and fans from across the entire district. Former Inkerman coach Lloyd LaPorte of Winchester plans to re-unite some of Leo's former buddies of the Rockets and match them in a game against a Prescott team. Tickets to the Community Centre affair will sell for $2.00 a head. Students and children will pay $1.00.

It all shapes up as quite a "do" for one of the most famous hockey players ever from Eastern Ontario.

Two Eastern Ontario Towns Favour O.P.P.

At least two Eastern Ontario municipalities have expressed their wish that the Ontario Provincial Police take over policing of their communities. Morrisburg and Vankleek Hill have indicated their intention to hand over police duties to the O.P.P.

The Ontario Provincial Police have indicated availability to all communities served by a one-man police force of their service for traffic and criminal policing. The matter was discussed at Winchester Council and was left without action at the close of 1966 and early in 1967 with satisfaction with the present system expressed.

Under the new system the municipality would enforce its own by-laws and the O.P.P. handle traffic and criminal secsections. Therefore a policeman would probably in effect be retained.

Sharon Hardy Reigns Over Metcalfe

Sharon Hardy, 17-year-old Osgoode Township High School lovely, was crowned Queen of the Carnival at Metcalfe, when the communitsy staged its annual Winter Carnival last week.

With eight of the prettiest girls in the Eastern part of the Township competing, the judges, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Marsden and Mr. and Mrs. Whit Tucker had no easy task selecting a winner.

Miss Hardy, by virture of her win, earned the right to compete in the "Queen of Queens" Carnival, sponsored by the Lions, on Feb. 24th. In this big event all the Queens from the various carnivals throughout the valley will vie for the coveted title. In past years, Winchester had laid claim to the prettiest girls, and spectators will be watching with intense interest to see if the town to the south can repeat.

Costumes were judged by Mrs. Vina Stanley, Mr. W. M. Stanley and Mrs. Helen Loucks. Prize winners in the various age groups were: Patricia Palmer, Cheryl Rodney, Paul McLean, Julie Donaldson, Christen and David Patterson (it takes two to impersonate a horse), Karen McLean, David Brown and Darlene Scharfe.

Winners of the best costumes on the ice were Julie Donaldson and Cheryl Rodney, with Laurie Graham and Paul Campbell the best couple.

Winners in the racing classes were: Laurie Graham, Kirk Hansen, Colleen Latimer, Geoffrey Park, Julie Donaldson, Peter Nooyen, Bruce Reid, Diana Jorgenson, Grace Cameron and Jeff Cochrane. In the lovers' race Sheila Armstrong and Earl Robinson lled the way.

In a Pee Wee hockey game, Russell downed Metcalfe by a score of 2 to 1. A fine display of precision skating was presented by the N.D.D.H.S. students under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Betty Quinn.

Entire Town Threatened By $225,000. Fire

A fire loss of $225,000 that destroyed the interior of a large feed mill and a sash and door factory, at one time gave threat to the destruction of the entire community of St. Isidore de Prescott.

100 volunteer firemen from four brigades, St. Isidore, Maxville, Alfred and Plantagenet fought the blaze for seven hours before bringing it under control. Firemen were still pouring water on the dying blaze until noon Sunday.

Firemen saved the home of Bernard Lamoureux next to the Menard Sash and Door Factory that was destroyed as flames leaped to it from the feed building owned by Maurice Lamoureux.

Winchester UCW Holds Meeting

Winchester U.C.W. met last Thursday evening in the Sunday School Hall. After the opening hymn Mrs. Raymond Earl, the vice president, welcomed everyone and read a verse, "What Counts."

For the worship service, Mrs. Ken Carlyle gave a reading and prayer on Lent. Miss Smith gave the Scripture and a reading. This part of the program ended with a hymn.

Mrs. Gordon Ennis gave a report on the Presbyterial held at Cardinal on February 8th. It was anounced that Miss Adams of Williamsburg would be the guest speaker at the Easter Thank Offering meeting in March.

The program for the evening was on Canada. Misses Janice Wylie and Barbara Barkley sang two Canadian school songs, especially written for Centennial Year. They were accompanied by Miss Wendy Earl at the piano.

A contest was conducted by Mrs. Raymond Earl. She showed slides on Canada and also participated in "Do you know your Canada?"

A delicious lunch was served by the members of Unit 3. The committee was thanked by Mrs. Hugh Eadie and the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Newlyweds Honoured

Mr. and Mrs. David Sutton (nee Linda Salter) were honoured, following their marriage on February 4th, at a reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sutton, Ottawa, on February 8th. Hostess for the evening was Miss Sharon Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Friends and relatives attended from the Winchester area.

Congratulations

Congratulations will be the order of the day on Friday February 24. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Francis of Oxford Mills will be celebrating their 75th wedding anniversary. The couple will be honoured at a party on Sunday afternoon.

OPP Weekly Report

O.P.P. Officers in Dundas County last week patrolled 8890 miles of highway and secondary roads in a total of 616 duty hours. As a result 48 traffic charges were laid and 13 warnings issued. The accident rate was high for that week with 16 property damage, two personal injury and one fatal accidents being reported and investigated. From these accidents three persons suffered minor injuries and one person was killed.

The weather was a contributor to the majority of these accidents. Nine of them occurred in one day due to blowing snow, poor visibility and slippery roads. A series of accidents at the Cass Bridge on Highway 31 started when one car struck a snow plow, ended up with 12 vehicles being involved. A pedestrian was killed when struck by a car while walking along a County Road. This investigation conducted by Provincial Constable R. C. Guse is continuing.

One theft which occurred in the Winchester area is presently under investigation. Officers also answered 16 other calls arising from various circumstances. Five charges were laid under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario. Four of these charges were for minors being in possession of liquor.

The Detachment Safety Officer visited three schools where safety films were shown and lectures given to approximately 460 children.

A total of 17 hours was spent in the courts with 47 convictions being registered.

There have been a number of questions recently pertaining to slow drivers on a highway. Here is a quote from the Highway Traffic Act of Ontario that may help to clarify this subject.

Section 62(1) states: "No motor vehicle shall be driven on a highway as such a slow rate of speed as to impede or block the normal and reasonable movement of traffic thereon except when such slow rate of speed is necessary for safe operation, having regard to all the circumstances."

Winter Excitement

Winter sport has taken on a new and exciting form for the past several years as the population of snow machines around the village and district steadily increases. Tracks across the unmarred snow tell the story of mechanized winter travel sport that has caught the imagination and fancy of thousands and thousands across the country and many right here at home.

If there's snow, the little machines, yellow, blue and red can travel where and whenever they wish and what a snowy field day the buffs have been having over the holidays with the snow piling up and up and up. The running is fast and great.

A suggestion now before the Centennial Program Committee is a local race for the snow machiners in the village and district. Seems everywhere the treaded snow bugs go people love to watch them.—Press Staff Photo.

Cornwall Sanitorium Accredited

St. Lawrence Sanatorium in Cornwall has received notification of accreditation from the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation. Business Administrator Gerald C. Holmes made the announcement Monday.

The sanatorium now operates from the former nurses' residence while the sanatorium proper is used as an annex to the Cornwall General Hospital and as a special care unit. Sixteen of the twenty beds maintained for treatment of tuberculosis are now in use.

Mr. Holmes noted that due to the progress in the treatment of tuberculosis the number of patients as well as the average length of stay has been reduced.

Icy Dangers

As the winter days grow longer and the streaming rays of the sun increase in their warmth, drops of moisture collect into beautiful but dangerous tentacles of ice. Attraction of children to icicles is almost fascination of the long arms of ice hanging from eave and sill. The cool, cool touch to the tongue is an exquisite refresher to the youngsters and, knocking them down intact if possible, for the best licking, is a large part of the fun.

This is not a suggestion to subtract the fun of climbing and clammering for icicles but a suggestion for the prevention of accidents that can so easily injure an eye, scar a face or even take a life with that perilous point. Parents can tell their children of the dangers that may lie in wait as a child climbs a snowbank or fence in search of an icicle. A slip on a picket fence or a jump from a low roof may cause injury.

Prevention to some extent is possible because despite the warnings the kids are just kids and, thinking back, temptation is hard to resist when maybe the other kids are enjoying the fun and no one is watching. A careful investigation of eave and sill by homeowner or tenant can remove in most cases the temptation and thus the danger. But do it so very, very carefully.

A check, too, of overhanging snow near doorways or avenues of travel wouldn't be wasted effort. The thudding roar you hear outside when the snow slides from the roof could just as easily happen with children, a paper boy, visitor, or you at the door. Blocking off in such areas until the snow threat is passed is excellent advice.

Slippery spots on steps and walks are a winter problem common to all and can be remedied easily with a bit of sand, salt or ashes. Children and older people in particular may have an extra difficult time navigating in slippery conditions and you can help out with very little effort.

Play in safety in the slippery, melting portion of winter now coming up.

Leadership In Research

Over the years, Canada has shown the way to the world in many aspects of medical research. It was here that insulin, the life-blood of the diabetic, was discovered; it was here that the Salk vaccine for poliomyelitis was developed.

We should be proud that we have in Canada, doctors and medical scientists who can provide the leadership, inspiration and imagination to the world of medicne. To-day, many of these men and women are engaged in an all-out fight against heart disease. They are fortunate to have at their disposal the facilities of our medical schools which are among the finest in the world. Already much of their effort has been crowned with success. Research on heart disease in Canada need know no bounds, unless it is limited by the lack of funds. During this month, February, the Canadian Heart Fund is conducting a drive to ensure that the research may continue uninterrupted. Funds are needed to meet expenses incidental to the work and to the work and to maintain the doctors and medical scientists on fellowships. All of us have a vital stake in the fight against heart disease. Our support of the Canadian Heart Fund will help our medical scientists to conquer yet another enemy of mankind.

Of Many Things

By AMBROSE HILLS

AM I BUSHED?

Most of my life I lived in big cities, and then, for a variety of reasons, decided to pack it up and become a farmer. We bought some ten acres of stubborn, gravelly soil, two burbling creeks, and a splendid view of Mount Baker, in Washington. We moved in a couple of months ago, and re-named the place "Greenhorn Farm," adopting the slogan "Run By Genuine Greenhorn!"

Yesterday I had to leave the farm for a day and drive into Vancouver to attend a meeting. I had forgotten what a mad lot city folks are. Perhaps I am bushed, from the isolation.

It was a thrill, at first, dressing up in my store-bought suit, putting on a crisp, white shirt and shiny dress shoes again. I felt quite the dandy. Scything, hoeing, lifting have taken inches off my tummy, so my suit jacket hung the way its maker intended.

The pleasure evaporated when I drove onto the Fraser Highway where cars, trucks, busses and motorcycles sped by on either side. Beautiful scenery flanks the highway, but when I dawdled to stare I got blasted with car horns. Even a sweet, gray-haired woman gave me a dirty glance as she whipped her exhaust pipe in my face and roared by me to what must be some very important job in the City. God bless her.

God bless all of them — the grim-lipped wheel grippers who fight traffic so the work of the world gets done; while this gleeful farmer walks through dairy-decked meadows, forks pungent manure, rips up the sweet-smelling earth and generally has a heck of a good time.

When I was a wheel gripper myself I rarely gave much thought to the purpose of all the rush, but yesterday I puzzled over it. What are they really doing? Are they making anything — except money?

The word "money" sobered me at once, and I looked at these frenetic caricatures of human beings with new respect, and stepped on the gas to avoid detaining them.

And I took new delight in the farm when the day was over and I got home again.

From Toronto by Fred M. Cass

This past week the Legislature has been able to get down to work with organization completed and some Bills and Resolutions on the Order Paper. This year the House has set aside the last hour before dinner on Mondays and Wednesdays for debate of Private Members' Bills and Resolutions. As this is the only medium by which opposition Members can have their pet projects debated, there is always a supply of such items awaiting attention by the House. This year, for a change, there are also a large number of Bills and Resolutions standing in the names of private government Members. The first two debates were on a Resolution sponsored by the Conservative Member for Lambton West on air pollution control, and on an amendment to the Assessment Act regarding assessment for Municipal purposes of mining properties, sponsored by the Liberal Member for Sudbury. Each of these matters was of particular interest to the people in the area represented by the Members introducing them and each of them was, of course, talked out.

The Minister of Agriculture and Food brought in a Bill to provide for government guaranteed low interest bank loans to farmers who suffered serious crop loss last year. This a a narrow Bill confined to the loss of crop in the one year of 25% or greater due to adverse weather.

The Minister of Health tabled a government White Paper setting out government proposals for additional care of, and treatment far children suffering from mental and emotional disorders. The cost of the program is estimated to be 50 million dollars over some years involving several departments of government and calling for new regional treatment and diagnostic centres throughout the province.

The last part of the week was the occasion for a very considerable debate on the problems of Finance Corporations and Loan and Trust Companies. The government brought in a Bill, which was given first, second and third readings and Royal Assent by the Lieutenant Governor before the week's sitting ended, to guaranteee individual deposits with Trust and Loan Companies up to a top limit of $20,000 each. The complaint of the opposition was, of course, that this Bill does nothing to protect persons investing in finance corporation paper — as in Prudential or in Atlantic. The Prime Minister agreed but stated this whole field is most complex and the government, with this Bill, was beginning its overhaul of legislation affecting securities and investments and that later there would be further action which might give protection to investors who were unwilling to protect themselves.

My final say

O.K. I know. Enough is enough. This is positively the last in a series of columns on education. Let me repeat that I'm no expert, just a parent, tax-payer and teacher, and equally concerned in each role.

I've been critical. In some quarters, no doubt, my remarks have been considered rank heresy. But there is a positive side. Let's look at it.

Most cheering is the tremendous interest in educational improvement both from within and without the system. Departments of education are spending large amounts of time, thought and money in an attempt to scramble into the second part of the twentieth century.

New universities are springing up like mushrooms, with fresh and invigorating ideas, vital young teachers.

Men and women in all walks of life are taking a hard look at what they are getting for their money, and what they want for their children. As a result of these things, much of the old rigidity and inflexibility are crumbling under heavy fire.

Changes are coming. It's not been any easier to get them started than to make a team of oxen break into a gallop. But they're coming, even though they may gallop right through the fence.

Thomas Acquinas hasn't much to say to the swingers of today, with the New Morality on one side of them, and nuclear annihilation on the other. In fact, a punning colleague suggested: "Should Old Acquinas be forgot?"

Egerton Ryerson is not exactly haunting the halls of Ryerson Institute. It's more likely he's holding his heavenly head in his hands with horror as he sees the students of that establishment putting away more ale per capita than their prototypes of Oxford and Cambridge in the days of Elizabeth I.

However, we drift. Here are some of the improvements. Some may flop. But at least the ponderous pachyderm is pulling its feet out of the mud at last. With a resultant, resounding squelch.

Teaching machines, televlvision, computers will take over 90 per cent. of the dissemination of knowledge. They're a fact now. The kids of today's students will have to listen to boring tales from their parents about the "good old days when there was a teacher in every class-room."

This revolution, in turn, will eliminate the lock-step progress of the present, where the swift are held back, and the slow are scrambling, because courses are aimed at the average. The kids will move at their own speed. Learning will be satisfying and exciting.

There'll be strong opposition to this. There'll be dark whispers that it is undemocratic, that it will produce an elite. They'll say it's bad for the bright child because he won't be emotionally mature if, let's say, he's ready for university at 13.

Baloney. Education isn't democratic now. Not when one kid has to slug groceries after school to buy decent clothes, and a class-mate is out skiing. Not when the first kid hasn't a chance to go on because he must help support his family, while the second kid goes off to university to find a husband. Better an elite of the mind than an elite of middle-class money and morality.

As for the emotionally mature bit, that too, is poppycock. Some people are emotionally mature at 10, others never.

Another big change will be curricula. Kids will be taught less facts, more about life. That is, instead of square roots and dangling participles and the Peloponnesian Wars, they'll learn about themselves and other people, about beauty and economics, about leisure and love.

Annual examinations, which have about as much to do with education as I have to do with Sophia Loren, will vanish.

Schools will have shorter terms, more frequent holidays but will likely operate year-round.

Teaching will improve, because it will become a dynamic, creative profession, attracting the dynamic, creative people.

I hate to spoil this vision of educational Utopia, but I have one more prediction. The whole thing is going to cost more and more and more. That's the only prophecy I will unconditionally guarantee.

PAUSE

"By the time I'd undressed, it was time to dress and come home."

Ottawa Report by Mrs. Jean Wadds

This has been a week of honours to various personalities.

The Prime Minister's wife. Mrs. Pearson, had a formal luncheon in honour of Lady Lintott, wife of the British High Commissioner.

This luncheon was a typical, formal, diplomatic, social event, held at the Prime Minister's residence, 24 Sussex Street. Canadians can be proud of such a residence, a very beautiful stone house overlooking the Ottawa River. It is large and pleasant without being pretentious, and in every way a fitting and charming place from which Canada's Prime Ministers can dispense hospitality and goodwill.

On such occasions senior countries in the diplomatic life of Ottawa and all of Canada's political parties are represented.

Mrs. Paul Martin, wife of the Minister for External Affairs, popular in Parliamentary Circles for many years, was being her usual friendly self. Mrs. John Marchand, wife of the Minister of Citizenship and Immigration, told me that she only comes to Ottawa rarely this being her first visit this year. The Marchands have one daughter who is planning to be married next summer, and they are rather dreading her going to live in France for several years. Mrs. Bud Drury, wife of the Minister of Industry, was bright and active as usual, using her poloroid camera to take candid shots in colour. Mrs. Tommy Douglas represented the NDP's. Mrs. Lovink whose husband has been the long-time Ambassador from the Netherlands, was expressing her usual enthusiasm for Canada and Canadian visitors. She told me that they had had many guests and those who did not ski could always be given snowshoes, which they enjoyed thoroughly and she felt was an easier way to start in winter sports.

Mrs. Pearson's interest in Canadian art was evident in the many beautiful Canadian paintings on the walls. They were closely studied and discussed by many of the guests. I feel that Canada's artists rate very high and we can well be proud of them.

Some years ago there was much discussion of the colour of the dining room in the Prime Minister's residence. It seemed to change from red to blue depending on the politics of its occupant. It is now a pleasant mellow creamy biege.

The other event of much interest was the unveiling of the bronze bust in honour of Ellen Fairclough. It is a very attractive likeness of a very attractive lady, who was Canada's first lady Cabinet Minister. In the Halls of the Parliament Buildings she joins the late Senator Cairine Wilson, who was Canada's first lady Member of Parliament.

Anticipating a large crowd which turned out to be quite right, the event was planned in the Railway Committee Room. The eloquent, attractive and popular Speaker of the House of Commons from our neighbouring riding of Stormont, the Hon. Lucien Lamoureux, acted as Master of Ceremonies. He asked the Prime Minister to speak and Mr. Pearson expressed his pleasure that a much beloved, still very mortal lady, was being immortalized in this manner, and hundreds of years from now archaeologists studying Parliament Hill might wonder what this beautiful lady had done in the society of her day.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke as Leader of the Opposition and as the former Prime Minister who had appointed Mrs. Fairclough. The Hon. Judy LaMarsh spoke as the present lady Cabinet Minister, and mentioned that she was pleased to see that Canada's lady Parliamentarians who have been recognized as first in their fields, and as outstanding people, had each been from different political Parties representing in the broadest manner Canada's political life.

Mrs. Fairclough looked very lovely and feminine in a lobster-coloured wool dress and matching turban. She accepted the honour most gracefully and it reminded all of us of her quick-minded ability, and her articulate contribution wherever she is participating.

It was a great honour to her that having held such a responsible position in Government. she had earned so much friendship, respect and affection. It was encouraging to find a roomful of such complete goodwill. Mrs. Fairclough is a lady to make all Canadian ladies proud, and to encourage their interest and activity in the political and business life of our country.

The Seventh Column

Well now, here we are back in the land of the "true north, strong and free." Add to that COLD! COLD! COLD! We are not really complaining. It's always good to be home. But after soaking up a month of that southern climate it's a little hard to realize that the mercury stick can dip this low. At time of writing it is still about 15 degrees below the zero mark. And this represents quite a change from a consistent 80 degrees above.

Florida, of course, and particularly the Fort Lauderdale area has long advocated "Fun in the Sun." This year the Floridandy weather was so right. The sun did shine and both the water and air temperatures never did get below the 70 degree mark. It makes for quite a holiday to step on an Air Canada jetliner at Toronto and three hours later find yourself in a genuine tropical climate. And judging from the crowds this year, more and more Canadians are spending more time and we presume more money on southern winter holidays.

Everywhere we went we met fellow Canadians. And it's a small world. You always run into a neighbour or a friend not far away. Matter of fact, at our home away from home, the Mel-Sara resort motel at Lauderdale-by-the- Sea, more than 20 per cent. of the vacationers were Canadian. Ray and June Berry from South Mountain are there right now. Ken and Gladys Ault of Winchester check in this week. Another South Mountain couple, Fred and Anita Weagant, are staying just up the road, and others are just around the corner.

Good friends Dave and Freda Berry of South Mountain were constant companions while we were away. One afternoon Dave and the writer of the column were strolling back from the beach when we bumped into a long time friend of Dave's, Erwin Fisher of Hanover, Ontario. Both Erwin and Dave have been associates in the hatchery business for many years. We quickly found out that Erwin and the wife were staying at the same motel as the writer. But until that time we had not met them. This sort of thing goes on all the time. Probably coincidence but of all the thousands of places to stay we would all pick the same place. Occasions like this make a happy holiday even happier.

And of course we ran into old Amercian friends from previous years who return each year to the same resort. Ken and June Austin, originally from British Columbia, and still Canadian citizens own and manage the attractive place where we stay. They are genuine hosts and do everything to make your holiday as pleasant as possible. They are great promoters of the northland and perhaps this is why many of their customers come from Canada. But our American friends seem equally happy to come back each year, some of them for two weeks and others for two months.

Of course you have lots of time to talk over the state of the nations. What better time to discuss politics, business, religion and race as you lean back in a comfortable chaise lounge, sipping a tall cool one and listening to or watching the ocean surf break on the beach. Can't say that all the Americans we talked to were Republicans. But right now we wouldn't give a thin dime for President Johnson's chances in the next federal election. Seems to us Republicans in the States are on the march. And it is quite possible that the next president of the United States will be a Republican in the uncomfortable position of trying to introduce legislation in a senate where the majority will remain Democrats. Of course, the Vietnam war will have much to do with the outcome. Most U. S. citizens are not really in favour of the war. They seem to have adopted the attitude that they are in it but "we'll be glad when we're out of it."

From what we could gather business is generally booming in the States. And who ever won an argument on race or religion? Conclusion here is that the race problem south of the border is still a long, long way from being settled. On the brighter side, it is worth mentioning that these Florida resort areas stress cleanliness. You never see a dirty car and they are constantly sweeping the streets, manicuring the lawns and generally creating a spotless presentation designed to impress the tourists. And it does!

And we can't let this opportunity go by without mentioning the food. You couldn't begin to visit all the excellent dining places. And we doubt if there is any place where you can get more for your money. Would you believe all you can eat, selected from thirty or forty choice dishes, for 99 cents. And how about steak dinner for $1.59, and bacon and eggs for 75 cents. A gourmet's delight every time you go out.

Oops, we've run out of space. But at the risk of becoming a bore, we'd like to mention a couple more aspects of our holiday in next week's column.

Mrs. H. Porteous Hosts Vernon U. C. W. Meeting

Mrs. Gordon Blair capably conducted the meeting, and gave a chapter from the study book on Church and Minorities. Mrs. Jack Ibbetson read the Scriptures, and Mrs. T. McBride and Mrs. B. ## Mrs. Nel. Scharfe Hosts UCW

The February meeting of Hulbert U. C. W. was held at the home of Mrs. Nelson Scharfe on Thursday evening, Feb. 9th, at 8 p.m., with 11 members and one visitor present.

The president, Mrs. Edith Mellan, opened the meeting with a prayer by Mrs. Pearl Beckstead. A hymn was sung with Mrs. Doris Scarfe as pianist. The autobiography of Abraham Lincoln and his creed were read by Mrs. Lilah Fawcett. A reading on prayer was given by Mrs. Margaret Roberts.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and roll was called. A reading, "The Second Thought," was given by Mrs. Gladys Beckstead. A letter of appreciation was read from Mrs. Beulah Marshall. Sunshine stockings were handed out, and plans were discussed for the social evening. The president reminded the members of the Day of Prayer service on Friday at Brinston. A vote of thanks was expressed to the hostess and to anyone who assisted.

The meeting closed with the Benediction. Lunch was served by the hostesses and lunch committee, and a social hour spent.

4-H NEWS

SLEEPING BEAUTIES

Mountain Sleeping Beauties learned the use of the bias board at their fourth meeting at the home of Mrs. G. Vedder. Twelve girls answered the roll call "the material I am using and the seam suitable." Pyjama material samples were distributed by Mrs. Blaine. Following the lesson on bias the girls applied their knowledge to their pyjama projects. For the next meeting each member will have prepared a button hole.

S. MOUNTAIN 4-H CLUB

The third meeting of the South Mountain 4-H Club was held in the United Church Hall on February 11. The meeting opened with the 4-H pledge. The minutes were read and approved and roll call was answered. Mrs. Meerakker demonstrated how to mark a pattern and how to gather. Several of the senior members assisted the juniors in cutting their material.

Council Requests Survey

Fire protection was the main topic of discussion at the February session of Mountain Township Council. Council has requested the Ontario Fire Marshal's office to conduct a fire protection survey of the Township.

Lyle Sullivan was approved the Township Chief. Chief Sullivan was instructed in the case of fire to enlist the assistance of passersby when extra help is needed in any instance. Such assistance is covered by benefits of the Workmen's Compensation Board in case of accident.

North-west section of the Township is covered by an agreement with the Kemptville Fire Department. Any fire in Mountain Township north and east of a line two miles east of Hallville should call the Kemptville Fire Department direct 258-2221. To discuss fire protection for the eastern half of the Township, Reeve Harry Williams, Councillor Ray Guy and Clerk G. L. Graham will meet with Winchester officials.

Third reading, signed, passed and sealed made law a two-year term for council.

Department of Highways representatives E. M. Barret, Senior Project Design Engineeer, and C. E. Pritchard, Road Designer, discussed with council proposals re changes to the Castor Drain along Highway 43 between lots 14 and 17, Concession 8. Proposed was replacement of drain in this section with standard highway ditch. Final decision of council rests with more information on the project, advice from property owners affected, and information from Ontario Land Surveyor.

Council approved a petition for cleaning of Castor Drain.

WINCHESTER NO. 2 4-H

The third meeting of Winchester No. 2 4-H Club was held at the Agricultural Office on Saturday, Feb. 11th. Under the guidance of their leaders, Mrs. Raymond Annable and Mrs. G. Durant, the girls cut out their material and patterns and traced the seam lines on their material. For their home assignment the members are to do the stay stitch around the yoke of their pyjamas or nightgowns.

BELL LINES

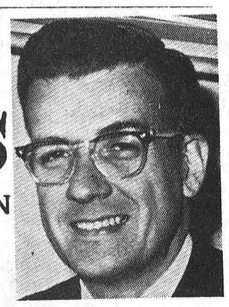
by R. R. PEARSON
your telephone manager



I wonder how many of you have ever noticed a small box — usually black plastic — tucked up on a basement beam in your home. It is placed quite close to the point where our telephone wire comes into your home. We call this small box an inside station protector and we use it as a safety device where the inside wire and the outside wire are joined. It protects both our equipment and the telephone user from stray electrical currents over 300 volts and from lightning surges. The protector serves much the same purpose as the more familiar electrical fuse except that instead of opening a line, as a fuse does, the protector grounds it. If this should happen . . . and it very seldom does . . . your phone immediately is put out of order. So seldom do we have to change or repair these station protectors, in fact, that I discovered recently that many homes still have those installed with their first telephone many years ago. These are from the pre-plastic era and are of white porcelain. Many, too, were placed in the days when cellars were cellars and not beautiful recreation rooms, family rooms or finished workshops; when panelling or attractive tile did not conceal bare ceiling beams. Many people today are converting basement space into wonderfully liveable rooms. If this should be in your home improvement plans would you please locate this protector? Under no circumstance should any of the wires leading from the protector be disconnected. They are vital to your service. Then, if you are installing a ceiling, perhaps you could leave the small area unboxed or place a removable panel to give easy access to the black box. It would also be to your advantage to provide access to the ground wire connection which usually runs from the protector to a nearby water pipe. Chances are our Installers or Repairmen will seldom have to gain access to these connections. However, if that need should arise, it would take longer to restore your service and perhaps mar a beautiful ceiling if the protector or ground connections have been hidden by the panelling or ceiling tiles.

I wonder how many of you remember back to the days when the telephone was still looked upon either as a toy or the invention of the devil? From our historical file comes this tale from 1911 . . . only 56 year ago. "Recently on entering the house of a subscriber an instrument setter noticed the telephone decorated with small bags attached to the transmitter and receiver. It was learned that the bags contained camphor and had been placed there to ward off scarlet fever, as another party on the line was quarantined on account of this disease."

To help speed your long distance calls along, Canada and the United States have been divided into calling areas. Each calling area has its own three-number Area Code. When you call OUTSIDE your own calling area, these special codes direct you to the area you are calling. Whether you are able to dial the calls yourself or whether a Long Distance Operator must place them for you, using or giving her the Area Code speeds your call. Codes for many locations are listed in the front of your telephone directory.

McInnis-Whitteker Vows Heard

St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, February 11th, when Rev. W. J. Goos united in marriage Marilyn Esther Whitteker and Douglas Allan McInnis, in a doube ring ceremony at three o'clock. The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Whitteker of R. R. 3, Williamsburg, and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Landon McInnis of R. R. 1, Iroquois.

White carnations and shasta daisies decorated the altar for the ceremony. Mrs. W. J. Goos, organist, accompanied the guest soloist, Mr. Gordon Thom , who sang "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You." The guests were ushered by Winston Baker, R. R. 1, Iroquois, cousin of the groom, and Dennis Whitteker, Williamsburg, brother of the bride. Robert Thompson, R. R. 1, Iroquois, assisted the groom as best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a graceful gown of nylon sheer over net and rayon satin featuring long sheer lily-point sleeves, guipure lace bodice and an accent of large sheer bow at the waistline in back. A crystal tiara held her shoulder length veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses and white carnations.

The bridal attendants were Mrs. Ray Barkley, sister of the bride; Mrs. Ronald Whitteker, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Brian VanAllen, sister of the groom. They wore identical floor-length gowns in shades of turquoise and pastel yellow in nylon tricot over rayon taffeta, matching headdresses and carried complimenting bouquets of carnations and shasta daisies. The flower girl, Karen McInnis, sister of the groom, was attired in a white floor-length nylon gown trimmed with green satin bow, matching headdress, and she carried a basket of shasta daisies. The ring bearer was Master Kevin Whitteker, nephew of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a teal blue crepe dress featuring an acetate and nylon lace bodice, black and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The mother of the groom wore an aqua crepe dress with acetate and nylon lace bodice, black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Following a reception held for one hundred guests at The Pioneer Hotel, Williamsburg, the bride travelled to Niagara Falls and Western Ontario. The bride travelled in powder blue nylon wool bouckle suit, black accessories and an orchid en corsage.

Guests attended the wedding from Kemptville, Winchester Iroquois, Ingleside, Chesterville Dunbar, Montreal, Brampton, Morrisburg, Williamsburg, Prescott, Belleville, Maynard, Winchester Springs and Finch.

Mr. and Mrs. McInnis will reside at R. R. 3, Williamsburg.

Prior to her marriage the bride was guest of honour at showers held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Merrikin and Miss Jo-Ann Casselman.

What made the Centennial Skating Party go round and round was the mastery of Glen Cochrane at the big Conn organ. Glen spared no music field with his magic touch as he rocked, popped, showed, and classiced the music for the skaters who moved happily with the rhythm.

Portraits of Past At Kars Feb. 24

Ontario's famous historical fashion pageant, "Portraits from the Past," will be presented in Kars School Auditorium on Friday, February 24th.

The show will be under the sponsorship of Kars Women's Institute and proceeds will go toward financing Centennial celebrations in Kars. The presentation, in the form of a fashion show, consists of 39 women's costumes dating from the visits of early explorers to the early 1900's.

Replicas of the dresses worn by such famous women as Madame Champlain, Mrs. John Graves Simcoe and Laura Secord are included in the show. Members of Kars women's organizations will model the costumes.

The show is touring the province under the auspices of the Ontario Centennial Planning Planning Branch, a division of the Ontario Department of Tourism and Information. It has already visited many major communities in the province, and has helped raise thousands of dollars for local Centennial celebrations.

Costumes in Portraits from the Past were designed after extensive research in old books, magazines and historical documents, but are made of modern fabrics using modern dressmaking techniques. This has enabled the costumes to stand up to repeated use and display.

In the commentary, some interesting and little-known historical facts about Canada's early women are contained. These facts help bring authenticity to the glamour and color of the costumes, and make Portraits from the Past an interesting historical document as well as an entertaining presentation of fashions.

AT CARDINAL

Centennial Challenge Theme Of Fifth U. C. W. Presbyterial

"Centennial Challenge" was the theme of the fifth annual meeting of the Dundas-Grenville Presbyterial United Church Women, held at Cardinal on February 8th, beginning at two p.m.

Mrs. W. E. Black, dressed in a costume of the 1860's, conducted the opening worship service.

Greetings and a warm welcome were extended by the Cardinal President, Mrs. R. Welland. Reports, nominations and installation of officers completed the business.

Dr. K. G. MacMillan, B.A. B.D., D.D., Superintendent of Home Missions for Montreal-Ottawa Conference, was guest speaker for the afternoon.

Using the theme of the day, Dr. MacMillan brought an informative and challenging address. He spoke of the Church At Work and The Church and Its Mission — these cannot be separated. He said: "The Mission of the Church is to worship God; to watch over and care for all within her fellowship at home or abroad; to preach the gospel to all men; minister to the needy and to wage war on evil. "Man and His World" will be "Man and God's World."

Mrs. A. C. Casselman conducted the "In Memoriam" service.

The president of the Presbyterial, Mrs. A. Hanna, presented a full agenda for the first few months of the year: Feb. 14, full executive at Prescott; March 14-15, Conference Annual at Montreal; April 2 Workshops; May 31, Hospitality Day at Expo 67; June 16, 17 and 18, Regional Conference K. A. S., Kemptville; August 28, 29, 30, 31, Summer School.

Greetings from the head table at the dinner hour were brought by the representatives of Pentecostal Tabernacle, Free Methodist, St. Andrew's Presbyterian, St. Paul's Anglican, the Catholic Women's League, and Rev. R. Percival, Kemptville chairman of the Dundas-Grenville Presbytery.

The Cardinal C.G.I.T. girls sang a Huron carol to open the evening session. Mrs. W. C. Knowles, Montreal, President of Montreal - Ottawa Conferenc addressed the presbyterial, bringing greetings from Conference. Her message was of compassion followed by action. She said that we must have great concern for people; we must follow the example of "One who went about doing good."

The Morrisburg U.C.W. presented a Centennial Pageant, portraying life in the early 1800's. Costumes and stage props were mostly heirlooms. Many of the quotations came from Anne Langdon's Diary. Closing devotions were conducted by lamplight.

Rev. R. Pentinga, B.A., B.D., pronounced the Benediction.

LOST SENSE OF DIRECTION (by Hart Melvin. Gr. 13)

Have you ever thought that you were dead, or have you ever seen the world melt away before your eyes? If so, there are two possible reasons: either you are dreaming or you were under the effects of L.S.D. or some other such drug. L.S.D. is a drug which has a startling effect on the human body; it is many times as powerful as marijuana and easily obtained on most college campuses of the United States. Extracted originally from an exotic mushroom, it is now produced synthetically, making it all the more accessible. There is no set pattern for the behaviour of the mind under its effects and little is known of it except its origin and the fact that it does have this phenomenal effect on humans.

Crash- You have just heard a pin drop. Under the effects of this drug your senses before and after can be compared to the size of a pea in comparison with that of the sun. Sight sound, taste and touch are all of an extra-ordinary intensity. One user described it as looking and floating through fifty miles of cotton candy. However this magnification of the senses is not all that can result: the mental institutions in the major cities of the United States report an alarming increase in population since the outbreak of L.S.D. People who think that they have melted or died, or that they are now malformed are daily being placed under psychiatric care. With all the publicity given the drug, instead of warding off potential users, it merely encourages them to "just see what it's like" or to "just take a little." This "little" bit, however, is enough because it is habit forming, but to make them want more, not because they want to experience more "reality." Not only is there a will but also a way. Throughout the campus U. S., thousands of students can purchase their "sugar cubes," and are about to be pushed into a world never before experienced. The fault lies not in the drug, but in the person using it, as most of them are unaware of its startling effect and therefore give over to emotional and psychological breakdowns.

This ignorance of the drug, however, is not limited to first time users. No one, but no one, can explain its unusual effect and very few people are qualified enough to experiment with it. The few who have tried to discover its meaning have been persecuted as drug addicts, dope peddlers, and any number of things, but never given the chance to complete any sizeable amount of research. The person who is called the "Father of L.S.D." and perhaps knows more than anyone else about it is Professor Timothy Leary, formerly with the University of Harvard.

Timothy Leary sat in a lounging chair and was about to sample the extract from a rare and exotic mushroom. This legendary extract was the original L.S.D. Professor Leary was immediately thrown into a world unknown to him, upon taking this drug, although he had researched the effects of most other widely known "joy juices." Being unprepared for this assault on his brain, he was hospitalized for several weeks.

Timothy Leary saw the challenge in L.S.D. and so have many others. It represents an opening for discovery to modern man similar to that which America posed to the early search and a crackdown on its settlers. With supervised reavailability, L.S.D. may some day be understood by the men of science and medicine, for one cannot limit its field to one or the other.

Upon his release, he meant to follow up this happening with extensive research. At this time, the public had never heard of the drug and was not going to hear about it for some time. Back at Harvard, Professor Leary asked some of his psychology students to volunteer to test the drug. Response was, naturally, overwhelming. Each time a student used the drug, in very minute quantities, he recorded its effect. Startingly enough, none of the early recorded effects were the same even on the same person. This marked the arrival of trouble. The administration of Harvard expelled Leary for his actions and he was also charged with possession of narcotics by the government. Leary was forced to put off this research because of lack of funds. However, all was not lost, for he found a benefactor in the eyes of a millionaire playboy who supplied him with a country estate and sufficient resources to further his study. However, at present, after three hundred and eleven "trips" Leary still knows little about the drug and is pending a Supreme Court hearing on charges of possession of narcotics.
