HS strike 'inevitable': factfinder

CORNWALL (Staff) - Stalled contract talks between the SD&G County Board of Education and its 500 secondary school teachers make a teacher strike appear inevitable, according to professor Bryan Downie, whose fact finding report into the contract dispute was made public Tuesday.

Dr. Brownie, whose report was presented to the two sides, Oct. 26, states that such little progress has been made in the contract since negotiations began last spring that, "A strike or a lockout, therefore seems inevitable in this board once again and just 2½ years after the previous sanction."

Dr. Downie says a "huge gap is separating the positions of the parties" with the seeds of the dispute being sown in 1976, when SD&Gs secondary school teachers nearly went on strike over working conditions.

In 1977 teachers walked off their jobs for five weeks in order to win working condition clauses in their contract and Dr. Downie backs up at least part of their stand on this "hard fought gain" in the latest dispute.

The fact finder has recommended that a specific Pupil:Teacher Ratio (PTR) of 17:5 to be attached to a new two-year contract and that the board include clauses setting out specific class sizes and teacher workloads.

He is critical of the way the board has handled the issue of PTR since unilaterally increasing the figure from 17.0:1 to 17.5:1, plus or minus .3, in April of this year and cutting 45 teaching jobs.

Teachers claimed this was in violation of their contractual guarantees and immediately filed a bad faith bargaining charge against the board with the Ontario Education Relations Commission (ERC). The outcome of the arbitration on the charge has not been made public yet.

Dr. Downie criticizes the board for not having made its position on PTR clear during the fact finding process and has recommended the teacher demand of a specific PTR be included in the contract as a letter of commitment and that the letter of commitment remain in effect until PTR has been renegotiated.

He agrees that budgetary problems made raising the PTR necessary but says the board had underlevied secondary school supporters by $400,000 and this deficit had to be made up in the current budget.

The local board is not alone in having to raise extra taxes to meet expenditures not covered by provincial grant ceilings but the fact finder says "Many other school boards in Ontario face the same situation and few have tried to ameliorate their budgetary problems by significantly increasing their secondary school staffing ratio".

He points out that a time of falling enrolment is not a time to be raising ratios and "teachers must have some assurance that they are protected from action that would seriously amplify the problem of redundancy".

At the same time he recommends PTR be attached to the contract as a letter of commitment, identical to that of 1977, to allow the board "some measure of discretion on the issue".

Failure to attach the letters would "only cast doubt on the intentions of the trustees with respect to their secondary school teachers" and poison future negotiations.

He has rejected the teachers' 15-per-cent salary demand, recommending instead that a six per cent increase be made across the board to teachers, vice-principals and principals in each year of the two year agreement. If a one-year agreement is reached he also recommends a six-per-cent across-the-board hike.

The South Nation River Conservation Authority is studying the request of Winchester Township that it incorporate the reconstruction of the Nation Valley Bridge in its budget for the rechannelization of the river between Chesterville and Salter's Bridge. Authority representatives will meet with the Ministry of Transportation and Communications and Natural Resources to discuss the matter and Winchester Township has initiated a detailed engineering report on the possibility of reconstruction. The township is worried deepening of the channel will undermine the bridge's abutments and says money in the South Nation's budget to reinforce the structure would be better used for its complete reconstruction.

SNRCA studying township request

BERWICK (Staff) - The South Nation River Conservation Authority will set up a meeting with the Ministries of Natural Resources and Transportation and Communications to study Winchester Township's request that it work the reconstruction of the Nation Valley Bridge west of Chesterville into its budget plans for the channelization of the river.

Township reeve Gerald Holmes made the request at last Wednesday's meeting of the executive's authority here, saying the authority has already budgeted $80,000 to repair and reinforce the Nation Valley and High Bridges and it is "only common sense to apply the $80,000 for the construction of a new bridge.

"You can't spend money to reinforce a bridge that may soon have to be replaced".

The township's request has already been sent to the ministers involved and last Wednesday Roly Stork, project co-ordinator for the three-year, $3.6-million reclamation plan, said he would spearhead setting up the meeting and hoped to be able to report back to the authority at its December executive meeting.

The request for the reconstruction of the bridge is based on the authority's plan for widening and deepening the river between Chesterville and Salter's Bridge.

Mr. Holmes said engineering plans for the channelization call for a seven-foot excavation of the river at the point where the Nation Valley bridge crosses it.

The excavation would "severely undermine the bridge's abutments" Mr. Holmes pointed out and he told fellow executive committee members the bridge is already in a precarious condition and that school buses and heavy township equipment are not permitted to cross it.

He asked the money set aside for the reinforcement of the abutments of the two bridges be used instead for the reconstruction of the Nation Valley structure. The township is not interested in rebuilding the old High Bridge, further to the west, he said.

The reeve said he "has no idea what a new bridge would cost. It could be as much as $400,000".

The Nation Valley Bridge is one of two recommended to be replaced in a report presented to township council in November, 1977.

In that report, Ray Kostuch, who carried out the township's bridge appraisal study, said the two iron bridges "were critically deficient for safe loading" and recommended a detailed feasibility study be carried out to see if the area could be adequately served by only one crossing.

Mr. Kostuch has since completed another report on the Nation Valley Bridge and last Wednesday Mr. Holmes said necessary support work on the structure would cost about $42,000 - a figure which could be doubled if both bridges were taken into consideration.

At its meeting Monday night, township council re-engaged Mr. Kostuch to carry out a more detailed study of the bridge.

The study is required by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to establish the need either for its replacement or repairs.

Nestle, Libby amalgamate

(Staff) - The amalgamation of Nestle's (Canada) Ltd. and Libby, McNeill and Libby of Canada Ltd. was announced recently. The two companies combined will form Nestle Enterprises Ltd.

President of the new corporation will be M.E. Hansen and executive vice president will be B.C. Parker. Mr. Hansen is now the president of Nestle's and Mr. Parker is president of Libby, McNeill and Libby of Canada.

There will be two independent operating divisions in the new corporation, Nestle and Libby. Mr. Hansen will continue to head the Nestle division and Mr. Parker the Libby division.

Retention of the separate divisions is to safeguard the independent operation of both divisions without limiting or restricting the traditional activities of each division. It will also protect commitment of individual employees to their respective companies.

History now on sale

(Staff) - Copies of "The Time That Was", the history of Chesterville and area, went on sale Tuesday at The Brookslyn, King St. Copies of the book are available at $19.95. Over 100 of the second printing of 500 copies have already been pre-ordered.

Santa parade Dec. 8

(Staff) - Organizers of the Chesterville Santa Claus parade, to be held Sat., Dec. 8, are hoping for increased local participation in the annual event and stress there is no fee for floats entered in the parade. The parade will marshall at Brookside Gardens and will proceed up South St. to Main, north on King to William and south again on Main to the Community Hall where Santa will greet children of the community. The parade gets underway at 2pm.

Flood warning system

(Staff) - The South Nation River Conservation Authority is setting up a system to relay flood warnings from the Ministry of Natural Resources to municipalities in the watershed and to set emergency plans in motion. Resources manager Robin Rogers explained at last Wednesday's executive meeting that one or two individuals are being appointed in each municipality and in case a flood warning is issued, the authority will use these local residents as its contacts to get the message to each locality.

Co-Op earnings fail to match sales

AVONMORE (Staff) - Although the St. Lawrence Group of the United Co-operatives enjoyed an increased sales volume of 22 per cent this year ($648,761 more than last year) it failed to translate into higher net earnings for the organization.

Group Manager Peter VanWalraven told the members at the annual banquet last Wednesday the combination of a small increase in gross margin and higher expenses offset the greater sales and resulted in a minimal net earning of $1,303. Net earnings last year were $22,949.

Total sales for the group were $3,563,495 with the main increase in the feed department, at 20 per cent or $256,944 more than 1978. Seed sales also increased, at 37 per cent, and fertilizer and farm supplies increased, at 42 per cent. Mr. VanWalraven attributed good weather for the prosperous hay and corn crops.

The manager expressed satisfaction with the greater sales but said the increase in gross margin, at nine per cent, did not rise at the same rate as sales and with expenses up 18 per cent from last year, net earnings fell from the previous year.

Mr. VanWalraven also reported on improvements made to the Chesterville and Finch branches.

Facilities at the Chesterville branch were increased this year with the addition of a 1,633-sq.-ft. garden centre. A new storage compound was built and all the buildings were painted, costing the co-op "a considerable amount of money".

The improvements paid off with a sales increase of 20 per cent at the branch and a sales increase of 30 per cent for the stores department.

The mill at the Finch branch was renovated at a cost of $25,000. An additional bulk fertilizer spreader was installed and two holding wagons and one bulk fertilizer carrier were added to the equipment.

However, said Mr. VanWalraven, the improvements at Finch weren't as profitable as those in Chesterville. "The trouble is all the money spent at Finch doesn't show as well as at Chesterville."

Future plans in the organization include the addition of a bulk fertilizer, which should be in operation by the fall of 1980 "depending on available capital", said the manager. He told members the large volume of fertilizer used and handled by the operation makes the use of bagged fertilizer inefficient.

The fertilizer blender will enable the group to serve members and customers faster and more economically, he said.

Because of limited storage in Finch the bulk feed ingredient facilities there will also be expanded.

Mr. VanWalraven asked members to "please remember that this co-op is operated by and for you and may be your only chance to stay clear of the corporate giants."

In the Council of Delegates' Report Alfred Beaudette said the executive was disappointed at "the relatively small net contribution generated from the volume of business conducted. We realize that it has been a difficult year for management to cope with increasing wages, increasing repair costs and sharply inflated serve charges, but we had expected a somewhat better end result."

Mr. Beaudette reported member investment of $1,830,892, an increase of 9.5 per cent from last year.

He added the Council of Delegates worked at promoting new membership. "However, the result of the membership drive shows that we have not put enough effort on this item."

During the last year 24 new memberships were gained and 28 memberships were renewed, bringing the total to 856.

In the election of delegates John VandenBosch of Chesterville was re-elected by acclamation to another term as voting delegate. Also voted in by acclamation were alternate delegates Peter Mesman, Osborne Shaver and Gerry Brugmans. The Council of Delegates, including the four names mentioned, includes Lloyd Gallinger, Don Kyle, John Peters, Francis Cornelissen, Ewart Neville and Alfred Beaudette.

Tax discounts remain

(Staff) - Village council has decided to maintain its discounts for early payment of taxes in 1980 despite the introduction next year of the interim tax payments.

At its meeting Monday night council decided to keep the present discount structure in place in hopes of attracting early payment and avoiding having to borrow to meet the village's commitments before 1980's taxes are due.

Early payment of taxes will be based on 1979's assessment. Any increases in 1980 will come due after the village's budget is adopted later in the year.

Ratepayers will get a four-per-cent break if they pay in January, a three-per-cent saving if payment is made in February, two per cent in March and one per cent in April.

Interim tax bills will go out May 31 and will require ratepayers to pay 50 per cent of their 1979 assessment. Penalties for late payment will begin in June.

Final payment, for the remainder of the 1979 assessment plus whatever increases are added for 1980, will be due Sept. 30.

In a rather quiet meeting, council discussed the adoption of an updated recreation bylaw presented by recreation director Greg Stanley.

Mr. Stanley prepared the draft bylaw at the request of the Ministry of Culture and Recreation, which oversees municipal recreation programs.

The village's existing bylaw was passed before the ministry came into existence and makes no mention of it as a governing body. The ministry wants the bylaw updated and has told council that until this is done, it will be forced to withold certain grants, including $1,200 which helps pay Mr. Stanley's salary.

Mr. Stanley's draft was amended to council's liking Monday night and will be presented for formal adoption at next Tuesday's meeting. It will then go to the ministry for final approval.

Peter Monast's bid of $300 for a disused snowplow was accepted by the village and council gave permission to Evans Contracting Ltd. to dump 1,000 ft. of fill at the old dump site east of the village provided Evans levels the site once it is finished dumping.

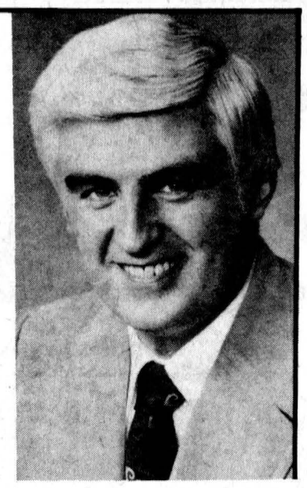
Parliamentary Report



A towering figure departs - Toronto Sun; Ranks with the best, history will say - William Johnson, Toronto Globe & Mail; Thanks, Pierre, from a long-time watcher - Charles Lynch, Southam News; Trudeau has made us a better nation - Bill Wilson,Ottawa Journal; A man to be measured against - John Gray, Ottawa Journal; Trudeau: He used his sense of history - Ian MacDonald, Montreal Gazette; Pierre's style gave Canada 'Lusty pride' - Allan Fotheringham, FP Publications; La fin d'une carriere exceptionnelle - Marcel Adam, La Presse; Trudeau, champion d'un Canada vraiment binational - Claude Turcotte, Le Devoir; Trudeau aura plus de credibilite au Quebec - Le Droit; Throughout career, Trudeau inspired our passions - Iain Hunter, Ottawa Citizen.

Needless to say the most significant event of the past week in Ottawa was the resignation of the Leader of the Liberal Party: the Rt. Hon. Pierre Elliot Trudeau.

This announcement took the country by surprise and the headlines above by some of Canada's most distinguished journalists are indicative of the respect for Mr. Trudeau by the people who have covered his career in detail. The Press Gallery reporters even broke the cardinal rule of their profession by bursting into applause after his press conference.

The resignation last week of Pierre Trudeau signals the end of an era in Canadian politics. Throughout his 11 years as prime minister, Mr. Trudeau worked constantly to help in the fight for a strong and united land, and through his determination he has created a lasting impact on our country. He dominated the political life of this decade as no other Canadian even came close to doing.

Through his personality, character and behavior, he, along with the media, has increased the awareness of Canadians in their government, their country and themselves.

Internationally, Mr. Trudeau has always been described as one of the great leaders of our modern day western democracies. In my travels throughout the world, the respect, admiration and esteem which citizens of many countries held for Mr. Trudeau resulted in a great deal of personal pride to have had him as our prime minister. In the same period of time, the United States had four presidents and the United Kingdom had five prime ministers.

Although Mr. Trudeau and I obviously did not agree on everything he always gave my colleagues and me a full hearing of our collective and individual views. As I have stated many times, before, I believe that he will go down in history as one of our most outstanding prime ministers.

History will remember Mr. Trudeau as a man of real quality and substance in a profession that all too rarely attracts men of this calibre. Throughout his career his extraordinary intellect was always combined with his respect for equality and justice.

He governed our country in one of the world's most difficult periods and his departure will leave a large vacuum in our political system.

There is no more eloquent spokesman for Canada than Pierre Elliot Trudeau and we should all be sincerely grateful for the tremendous contribution he made to our great country.

Guides celebrate heritage

MORRISBURG (Special) - On Sun., Nov. 25, 116 girls and their leaders from Nation Valley District Brownie Packs and Girl Guide Companies met at the Morrisburg Public School to celebrate their Canadian Heritage.

After the presentation of colors, the singing of 'O Canada', and the repeating of the Brownie and Guide Promises, the entertainment began. Each Unit was to bring a Canadian song, game, dance, Indian or Eskimo legend, or prepare a short skit about some facet of Canadian history.

Presenting songs were: Morewood Brownies with 'Land of the Silver Birch', 'Canada' by Chesterville Brownies, Chesterville Guides sang 'The Huron Carol'. Skits were well done by: Williamsburg Brownies and Williamsburg Guides, and Morrisburg Brownies danced their way through their portion of the program. Also attending were Winchester Guides.

After dividing into 10 groups, each representing a Canadian province, the girls quickly made up a cheer or song for each province which were rendered before refreshments were served. Closing the day with Brownie and Guide Taps ended a very interesting and enjoyable event for Nation Valley District Brownies, Guides, leaders and the parents who also attended.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says net farm income should reach about $30 billion this year, up from $27.9 billion last year.

St. Mary's and St. Bernard's featured in SSB capital forecast

CORNWALL (Staff) - The capital expenditure forecast for the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Roman Catholic Separate School Board, approved last week at a regular monthly meeting, has allotted funds for additions to both St. Mary's School in Chesterville and St. Bernards's School in Finch in 1981.

Whether or not the projects will receive the go-ahead depends on the ministry of education.

St. Mary's elementary school has asked for two classrooms and a library resource centre at a total cost of $200,400. St. Bernard's has asked for a gymnasium and a library resource centre at a total cost of $238,470.

However, both projects have been on the capital expenditure forecast list for two or three years says board trustee Peter VanMoorsel. The trustee said it is the ministry that will decide which projects can be undertaken in the province.

"The problem is there are very few dollars being allocated to capital projects."

The request for St. Mary's school comes because of a crowded situation at the school. There is no place for a resource centre and no place for teaching of French. Junior Kindergarten is held in the gymnasium and remedial teaching is held on the stage in the gymnasium.

At St. Bernard's, where grades six to eight are taught, there are no facilities for a library or for the teaching of physical education.

Board officials will meet with members of the ministry next Monday, said Mr. VanMoorsel. The board will have a good indication of the possibility of approval then he said but a definite answer won't be given until the spring.

On the top of the priority list for capital expenditures is St. Andrew's school in St. Andrews, followed by St. Cecilia's in Iroquois, St. Bernards's in Finch, St. Mary's in Chesterville, St. Mary's in Morrisburg, Alexander School in Alexandria and Iona Academy in St. Raphaels.

Factfinder

This is close to the board's offer of 4.5 per cent and similar to the settlement the board and the the elementary teachers reached last spring.

The fact finder has also rejected the teachers' request for a Cost of Living Allowance. Few agreements in Ontario now contain COLA clauses and the fact finder says reduced government grants have made this a time of caution in education spending.

He has further recommended that "increases in fringe benefits in the forthcoming agreement be very moderate" with the exception of a teacher proposal to have the board purchase a $25,000 life insurance policy from the Ontario Teacher's Insurance Plan for each of its secondary school teachers.

Dr. Downie has also recommended against teacher proposals that district presidents of OSSTF and AEFO be allowed to teach half-time with pay for full-time during their presidency and has rejected the idea that the chief teacher negotiator teach half time for the term of his or her appointment.

Teachers reject contract

CORNWALL (Staff) - A contract offer by the SD&G Separate School Board giving its 450 elementary teachers a seven per cent salary increase was rejected by the teachers Monday night.

Chief teacher negotiator Jean-Paul Samson said teachers will go back to the board with the vote results and try to reach an agreement.

The possibility of strike action by the teachers has not been discussed, said Mr. Samson.

The board made the latest contract offer following the release of a factfinder's report. The report indicates the teachers are asking for a 15 per cent pay increase.

The factfinders report criticized the board for not presenting a firm position on the issue of salaries.

However, it recommended the two sides continue to negotiate as they have reached virtual agreements on all points but salaries.

"End of an era"

OTTAWA (Staff) - Terming the resignation of Opposition Leader Pierre Trudeau as "the end of an era" Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley said Mr. Trudeau will go down in the history books as one of Canada's greatest prime ministers.

"Obviously it was quite a surprise to have Mr. Trudeau resign," said the Liberal MP. "He governed this country for 11 years, something that is unheard of in these modern times."

During the Trudeau years as prime minister the United States went through four presidents and Britain went through five prime ministers, noted Mr. Lumley.

After governing for over 11 years the man is bound to have some people side against him, said Mr. Lumley, referring to Mr. Trudeau's defeat in last May's federal election.

But he commanded a lot of respect - especially in international circles. And the parliamentary press gallery gave him a standing ovation when he announced his resignation, breaking a cardinal rule of the gallery, said Mr. Lumley.

Mr. Lumley credited the former prime minister with keeping Canada united. "I think he kept the country together." People must remember the Quebec situation was there before Mr. Trudeau ever became prime minister, he said.

But, Mr. Lumley added, now Mr. Trudeau can get involved in the Quebec referendum as a statesman and not as a politician. Acting as a statesman will give him more freedom to speak on the Quebec issue, as politicians are always seen as having underlying motives for what they say.

"I think he made a decision that was best for his family, for the party and for the country," said the MP.

The Stormont-Dundas area benefited greatly with Mr. Trudeau as prime minister said Mr. Lumley. As mayor of Cornwall and now MP Mr. Lumley said he often went directly to see Mr. Trudeau for aid for his constituency. Many programs created by the Trudeau government, were "important to our area", added Mr. Lumley.

When asked who the possible successors to Mr. Trudeau were, Mr. Lumley said he had "no idea". He did say he would soon be publicly announcing who he would be backing for the position as leader of the Liberal party.

Brookdale announces expansion

CORNWALL (Staff) - Plans to expand and modernize the Brookdale Mall on Brookdale Avenue were announced last Tuesday by North American Life Assurance Company, owner of the shopping centre.

The $3-million expansion will increase the area of the shopping centre from 185,000 sq. ft. to 280,000 sq. ft. and double the number of tenants to 40.

Cornwall Mayor Gerald Parisien, presented the director of real estate for North American Life Assurance Company, Berry Tanner, with the building permit giving the go-ahead for the expansion at a dinner at the Holiday Inn in Cornwall with city officials, mall merchants and members of the press attending.

Construction of the project will begin in February and finish the third week of August. The addition will be built at the back of the mall and will house a triple theatre, a Brewer's Retail Store, a Shoppers Drug Mart and a Food World Restaurant.

Dominion Stores also plan to increase floorspace from 25,100 sq. ft. to 40,000 sq. ft.

The parking lot surrounding the mall will be expanded to accommodate 1,450 cars.

It is expected about 100 permanent jobs will be created by the expansion, said Mayor Parisien.

Merchants now renting space in the mall were assured by the owner they would be treated preferentially and fairly.

Dan Galletti, Regional Manager for the mall, said three tenants will be moved to make room for the addition.

Negotiations with mall tenants are underway he said, and he doesn't "anticipate any problems."

The expansion announcement was made just one month after the opening of the new 280,000 sq. ft. Cornwall Square shopping centre in the city's downtown core.

Meals on Wheels elects 1979-80 slate

(Special) - The annual meeting of Meals on Wheels was held at the Drop-In Centre Tues., Nov. 20 with president Isabel Forward greeting the guests.

Miss Forward opened the meeting followed by reports from the various committees. She then told of how a Dr. Peters, of England, in the 1930's made a call within 500 yards of where he lived to find an elderly woman dying of malnutrition. She had money to buy food but didn't have the strength to get out to get it. As a result of this Meals on Wheels began.

Olive Cass stated that Meals on Wheels began in Chesterville in 1973 and on the average 11 recipients receive meals from Monday to Friday for $7.50 per week.

Following dietary specifications, Winchester District Memorial Hospital prepares the meals which are then delivered in hotlocks - metal containers heated by charcoal burners. She also stated that without the dietary staff the volunteer organization wouldn't exist. A special thanks was given to all those who are connected in any way with the program. Also a thank you for all the birthday cakes that are made for the recipients.

The executive for the following year is made up of president Isable Forward, vice-president Evelyn Bedard, secretary-treasurer Sadie James, recipient co-ordinators Olive Cass, Cora Droppo and Margaret Casselman, driver co-ordinators Marion Lynch and Alice Shay, publicity chairman Edna Maines, and nominating committee Edith Fulton and Audrey Butcher.

A musical program was led by Addie Campderros and Helen Cross. And to the delight of all Rev. Reid played the harmonica.

Jean Cassleman presented the organization with a generous cheque. Jean VandenBosch won the door prize, a Christmas centrepiece.

Diamond Club hosts Lunenburg seniors

AVONMORE (Special) - The Avonmore Diamond Club entertained Lunenburg senior citizens at a social evening recently. Community singing opened the meeting followed by two minutes silence in memory of a valued member, Wes. Meldrum.

The date for the sale of crafts and home baking was set for Dec. 8 in the club room. Mrs. Jessie MacRae volunteered to replace Mrs. Evelyn Tinkess at the bake table.

Several ladies volunteered to take cakes for the Nov. 30 euchre, the last euchre to be held in 1979 by the Diamond Club.

For November and December the committee to visit the sick will be Mrs. Jean Shufflebotham and Mrs. Verne Johnston.

An enjoyable program was presented with both clubs participating, after which lunch and a social time was shared.

F. Burtoft, president of the Lunenburg club, expressed the thanks of his club and the wish that such evenings could be enjoyed more often.

WINTARIO.
THE NAME'S THE SAME BUT IT'S A GREAT NEW GAME.
Here's how to play your ticket and follow the draws every Thursday night.

Now Wintario goes weekly. With a new 6-digit ticket* that's a lot more fun to play. With more ways to win. With more prizes – 165,972 of them every week. Including 15 grand prizes – 3 of $100,000 and 12 of $25,000.

And nine exciting new draws instead of six, every Thursday night live on TV.

FIRST DRAW – 4 WAYS TO WIN $10.

The first draw is for a 3-digit number. And if any 3 consecutive digits in your ticket number match the number drawn, you're a winner. For example, if your ticket number is 123456, you would win if 123, 234, 345 or 456 were drawn.
That's 4 separate chances at 12,000 – $10 prizes in the 1st draw every Thursday.

SECOND DRAW – 3 WAYS TO WIN $100.

The second draw is a 4-digit number. And if any 4 consecutive digits in your ticket number match the number drawn, you're a winner. For example, if you hold ticket number 123456, you would win if 1234, 2345 or 3456 were drawn.
900 – $100 prizes in the 2nd draw every Thursday.

THIRD DRAW – 2 WAYS TO WIN $1,000.

The third draw is a 5-digit number. And if 5 consecutive digits in your ticket number match the number drawn, you're a winner. For example, if your ticket number is 123456, you would win if either 12345 or 23456 were drawn.
60 – $1,000 prizes every Thursday.

Still $1.00

FOURTH, FIFTH, SIXTH & SEVENTH DRAWS – FOR $25,000 GRAND PRIZES.

The next four draws are 6-digit numbers, each of them worth $25,000 if your ticket number matches the number drawn. No subsidiary prizes in these draws.
12 – $25,000 prizes every Thursday.

EIGHTH DRAW FOR $100,000 GRAND PRIZES PLUS MANY MORE CASH PRIZES.

The eighth draw for the First Grand Prizes is also a 6-digit number. If your ticket number matches the number drawn, you win one of the three $100,000 First Grand Prizes.

And for this draw only, if the last five digits on your ticket correspond to those of the winning ticket number, you win $5,000. Match the last four and you win $100. And if you have the last three correct, you win $10.
3 – $100,000 prizes, 27 – $5,000 prizes, 270 – $100 prizes and 2,700 – $10 prizes in the Eighth Draw every Thursday.

NINTH DRAW – 5 WAYS TO WIN A WIN'FALL PRIZE.

The Win'fall draw is a 2-digit number. And if any 2 consecutive digits in your ticket number match the number drawn, you win a free book of Wintario tickets on the next draw worth $5. For example, if your ticket number is 123456, you would win with 12, 23, 34, 45 or 56.
150,000 Win'fall Prizes every Thursday.

*Tickets issued in blocks of one million each numbered from 000000 to 999999. No series number.

Based on three million tickets issued.

Government behind the scenes

AVONMORE (Staff) - Calling himself a "behind the scenes observer" Jack Cross took members of the United Co-Operative into the Privy Council Office for a glimpse of life with five prime ministers last Wednesday.

Mind you, it was just a glimpse, as the former employee of the Privy Council told his audience at the Co-Op's annual banquet he could relate lighter moments about his former bosses but it didn't mean he took them lightly.

Joining the staff of the Privy Council in 1945 Mr. Cross served under five governor-generals from Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis, the last of the non-Canadian governors-generals, to Vincent Massey, Gen. Georges Vanier, Roland Michener and Jules Leger.

And in the three decades the native of Chesterville has witnessed the inner workings of the highest political office in the country. He worked for prime ministers Mackenzie King, Louis St. Laurent, John Diefenbaker, Lester Pearson and Pierre Elliot Trudeau.

Mr. Cross joined the PCO staff right after overseas service in the RCAF night fighter squadrons.

As "the most junior of junior clerks'" Mr. Cross's first responsibilities were for Orders-in-Council and Regulations. In 1957 he was appointed Registrar of Statutory Orders and Regulations, and in 1968 he was appointed Assistant Clerk of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada.

It was while Mr. Cross was Assistant Clerk he played an important and vital role in one of the most memorable moves made by the Trudeau government. On Friday, Oct. 16, 1970 Jack Cross delivered the order-in-council and proclamation invoking the War Measures Act to Governor-General Roland Michener, and then delivered it to the government's printing bureau so it could be printed immediately and publicly distributed.

The order-in-council allowed the government to deal with the kidnapping of Quebec cabinet minister Pierre Laporte and British trade official James Cross.

Noting the fevor created by the release of Mackenzie King's diary two years ago, Mr. Cross told his audience King's belief in the spiritual world was no secret to those who knew him and in fact believed to be perhaps the reason for his political success.

While Prime Minister Mackenzie King was in London, England for a Commonwealth Conference he met a young man by the name of John King.

The prime minister felt certain the young man was related in some way and so invited him to come to Canada and work as his valet. John King stayed at a small cottate at Kingsmere while in the prime minister's service.

Jack Cross and John King became friends and often the two men would sit outside at the cottage. And when Mackenzie King passed by the cottage on his evening walk with his dog Pat (it was Pat II at this time) he would stop by and chat with the young men.

"I think he spoke more freely to us than to his cabinet ministers," said Mr. Cross, "He was simply a lonely man looking for someone to talk to other than those in his political surroundings."

When the Mackenzie King diary was released, a letter to the editor appeared in the Ottawa Citizen questioning "Why they let such an incompetent remain in office?".

Mr. Cross disagrees with the assessment of King by the authors of the letter.

"With the success of King we thought there might be something to this spiritualism."

Working in the PCO gave Mr. Cross opportunities to meet and observe other officials besides other governments. Recalling the visit of King George VI to Canada during Mackenzie King's tenture Mr. Cross related the story of Joe Lesvesque, the elevator operator in the East Block.

Mackenzie King wanted to give the King and Queen a walking tour of the East Block which housed the historical prime minister's office and the cabinet chamber. The walk necessitated the use of Joe Lesvesque's elevator, said Mr. Cross.

The elevator operator had been given a new uniform complete with decorations for his service in the First World War. The uniforms, then issued by the Public Works Department, had PWD initials on the sleeve of the coat.

"When the King and Queen arrived they talked to Joe about his ribbons". And they asked Joe what PWD stood for.

To Mackenzie King's amazement Joe told the King, "For those who go up in my elevator it means, 'Please walk down'."

But the incident didn't end there. A month later Joe got a parcel from London, England. Inside were a pair of gold cufflinks and a note from the king thanking Joe for being the first person in Canada to give him a hearty laugh.

Appropriately, on the same day Pierre Trudeau announced his resignation as Leader of the Opposition and the Liberal party, Jack Cross told of how as a young man Trudeau first walked into the prime minister's office in the 1950s, anticipating a meeting with a highly organized office and highly intelligent cabinet only to be disappointed with a slow moving government.

And when Pierre Trudeau became prime minister Mr. Cross was met with greetings like "Wow, you work for Trudeau". But 10 years later those same people said things like, "If you work with Trudeau then you're no friend of mine."

The past is our heritage and our history and we must try to preserve it concluded the man who watched history in the making.

Morewood - Jack McQuaig, Toronto and Wendy McQuaig, Kingston, along with relatives from Ottawa and Morewood gathered at the Hunter Home to celebrate Mrs. Zoe McQuaig's birthday Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Manes have returned after visiting relatives in Toronto.

Mrs. E. Merkley, Winchester, visited Mrs. Zoe McQuaig and Miss Carrie Hunter.

Growth in banking betters service, access

(Staff) - Canada's banking system is among the world's most efficient and accessible, Bank of Nova Scotia vice-president and Eastern Ontario regional general manager Bill McMillan told members of the Chesterville Rotary Club here last week.

Mr. McMillan, a native of Chesterville who began his career with BNS in Cornwall in 1947, said Canada's 11 chartered banks operate 7,400 branches in 2,000 communities across the country giving Canadians "one of the highest degrees of access" to banking services in the world.

Chartered banks operate not only in cities and small villages, but also above the Arctic Circle, where they are served by air, and in such remote localities as Newfoundland's small outports, which are served only by ship.

Banking has seen a major explosion of services, number of branches and employees in the past decade. There has been an 86-per-cent increase in the number of men and women working in Canadian banks since 1968 and they now number more than 150,000, Mr. McMillan said.

Accompanying the changes in numbers are changing working conditions for women and Mr. McMillan said now more than half of the bank employees enrolled in Institute of Canadian Banking ongoing educational courses are women. As an example of the expanded career opportunities for women, Mr. McMillan cited Gladys Marcellus of Chesterville, a former Bank of Nova Scotia manager and one of the first women bank managers in the country.

Canadians are taking ever-increasing advantage of the expanded services now offered by the country's 11 chartered banks, he said.

We are second only to the Americans in the number of cheques we write, with the banks handling about 4-million cheques daily. We have doubled our use of cheques in the past 10 years and by 1980 Mr. McMillan estimates each of us will write about 60 cheques annually for a yearly total of about 2-billion.

Great technological strides have made this as well as the increasing number of branches possible. Computerized banking allows cheques cashed thousands of miles away to make their complete circuit through 12 specific processes and three computers and to be cleared by 3pm the following day.

Despite the quantum growth banks have undergone in the 1970s, the individual depositor remains the backbone of the system, Mr. McMillan said.

Canadians are big savers, as evidenced by the number of deposits in Canada's banks, which are equal to the population of the country, he said.

The size of the average personal account has grown from $365 in 1935 to $673 in 1957 and stands at $2230 in 1979. In 1935, 93 per cent of accounts contained less than $1,000 and this has shrunk to 65 per cent in 1979, he said.

The growth of the banking system and recent technological advances have led some economists to predict the coming of the cashless, chequeless society, a concept Mr. McMillan rejected, saying the fundamentals of privacy of an individual's banking matters will maintain conventional banking practices.

Even though 75 per cent of the adult population of Canada carries bank credit cards, fewer than eight per cent of purchases are made with "plastic money", he said.

He argued against the claims that personal indebtedness has increased and is out of proportion with personal savings. According to banking figures, personal credit as a percentage of personal disposable income has increased by only .5 per cent from 1969, when it stood at 21.9 per cent, to 1978, when it stood at 22.4 per cent.

Chartered banks' entry into the mortgage market, which first began in 1954, has greatly increased their volume and number of loans, Mr. McMillan said.

In 1954 banks were first allowed to make advances under the National Housing Act - with loans guarnateed by the Bank of Canada - and in 1967 they were first allowed to grant conventional mortgages.

Between 1954 and 1978, mortgages were granted for 980,000 individual housing units - with 850,000 of these being granted after 1966. The average mortgage now stands at $37,800 he said.

Money is the bank's stock in trade and because of the number of dollars involved in the banking industry and the growth of the national money supply, banking's volume of business has increased dramatically in the past few years.

It may be a "high volume business" but it is a "low mark-up" one as well, he said.

Banks depend on the spread in interest rates between what they take in and what they lend out - with their rates of lending largely determined by the Bank of Canada - for income and in 1978 banks' after-tax profits came to less than 50 cents per $100 of assets. In the Bank of Nova Scotia's case, it was 32 cents per $100 assets.

Auxiliary donates maternity equipment

Donations to the in memoriam fund of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary have made possible the recent purchase of two pieces of equipment for the hospital's maternity ward and Monday auxiliary members presented the hospital with a fetal heart monitor, left, costing $9,577, and an incubator, costing $3,083. The purpose of the in memoriam fund is to purchase life saving and life giving equipment for the hospital. Taking part in Monday's ceremony, were, from left, WDMHA president Louise Sloan, hospital administrator Bert Stel, WDMHA member Lilias Lancaster, director of nursing Caroline Manley and Janet Rutley, head nurse of the maternity ward.

SNRCA studying purchase of dam

(Staff) - The South Nation River Conservation Authority won't purchase the dam and adjacent mill on the river in Spencerville until it has had an appraisal of the property carried out.

The authority's executive, meeting in Berwick last Wednesday, decided it would base its offer to purchase the dam, stone mill and about three acres of land surrounding the structures, on the results of the appraisal.

Members of the executive met with the dam's owner, Ted Barnard, Nov. 8, touring the land, dam and stone mill building.

Mr. Barnard said at the time he would tear down the old sheds attached to the mill building and would pay the costs of cleaning up the area.

However, his asking price of $35,000 was considered too high and the authority hopes the appraisal will set a lower value on the buildings and property.

Some executive members said last Wednesday they feel the property is worth only about $10,000 and are worried about the costs of renovating the dam and mill. Resources manager Robin Rogers estimated the cost of renovations could be between $75,000 and $175,000.

Its only value would be recreational or historical and they questioned spending large amounts on such a project.

Mr. Barnard told the authority he has waited for decision on whether it wants to buy the property for nearly two years now and it is costing him about $970 a year in taxes.

The authority wants to take an option on the property based on the appraisal, since its budget does not include enough money for its acquisition at this time.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Earle Eaton were in Ottawa for the cyrsanthemum show and the Icecapades; at Prescott for a fellowship dinner of ministers and wives; at Dixon's Corners for an anniversary celebration, and in Cornwall for a Gospel Fellowship banquet. Mr. Eaton was in Ottawa for a Red Cross Board of Directors meeting, and in Cornwall for a meeting of the Canadian Bible Society. On Thursday Mr. Eaton conducted a worship service at Dundas Manor in Winchester, and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Eaton participated in a meeting of Winchester W.C.T.U.

Rose carries home awards

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Don Rose of RR1 Mountain was on the receiving end of all five awards handed out at the annual banquet of the Grenville-Dundas Ayrshire Club at the Presbyterian Church here last Wednesday night.

Mr. Rose received two trophies for the dual county Red and White Show at South Mountain in August, the Best Uddered Cow Trophy, donated by the Winchester Branch of the Bank of Montreal, and the Breeder's Herd, Trophy, donated by Hugh Eadie B.P.

Mr. Rose also received three production awards from the Ayrshire Breeders Association of Canada.

The counties' High Herd Average, for a composite of 176 on 30 records, was presented to the Mountain-area breeder as were two longtime production certificates.

The herd certificate was for an average of 6,479 kilograms of milk and 259 kg fat for a 4.0 per cent test and BCAs of 178 for milk and 174 for fat. This herd average places him in the top 10 per cent in Canada.

The longtime production awards were received for Farmview Flora 9V (Excellent One Star) for 74,534 kg milk and 2,982 fat for a four per cent test on 11 lactations, and for Wald Ayr Norma (Excellent Two Star) for her 56,318 kg milk, 2,351 fat, 4.17 per cent test on eight lactations.

While inflation may be up around ten per cent this year, farmland values are expected to rise faster, at a rate of about 14 per cent, say U.S. Department of Agriculture economists.

Authority extends power to comment on severances

BERWICK (Staff) - The South Nation River Conservation Authority has given itself more power in commenting on land severances and subdivision developments on hazard lands and flood plains throughout the watershed.

A resolution was passed at last Wednesday's meeting of the executive here officially giving resources manager Robin Rogers the power to recommend against developments in hazard and flood-prone areas.

Mr. Rogers asked for the policy recommendation "just to be on the safe side" in case he is called to testify at an Ontario Municipal Board hearing and questioned on his power to recommend against specific developments.

His recommendations, which are channeled through county land division committees, do not carry the force of law but merely back up the authority's already existing policy of discouraging development on hazard lands.

Mr. Rogers pointed out that he only deals with specific matters sent to him by municipalities which involve watercourses and his request was basically to cover municipalities which do not have official plans.

Chesterville representative and authroity vice-chairman Keith Graham said he was in favor of the request as long as it limited the manager's role to recommending against developments.

Mr. Rogers said he will prepare a form to be presented at the next executive meeting so the representative of each municipality in the watershed could be consulted on decisions of whether to recommend for or against individual severance or subdivision requests in their respective municipalities.

Wet beans common problem

John Madill
KCAT Agrologist

KEMPTVILLE - The major problem handling soybeans in 1979 was the wet beans. Drying charges go on above 14 per cent moisture and in Eastern Ontario this will likely be a reoccurring problem.

Delivery of beans to Eastern Ontario dealers will require additional scheduling since the facilities are shared with other crops. Growers should contact the elevators ahead of time to determine when deliveries can be made.

So far Eastern Ontario has two licenced elevators - the Kemptville UCO and Macdonald Feeds in Winchester.

Once off the farm all soybeans come under the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Act. The marketing of soybeans is administered by the Ontario Soyabean Growers Marketing Board located in Chatham.

The 1979 minimum price is the cost of imported soybeans at equal quality in Canadian funds. The maximum charge allowed for cleaning and handling soybeans is set on a sliding scale according to the value of soybeans. At a value of $250 to $300 per tonne the charge is $8.75 per tonne. Drying charges range from $2 to $13.20 per tonne for beans ranging from 14.1 to 25 per cent moisture.

Any disputes between the grower and dealer are referred to an inspector from the Board of Grain Commissioners.

Most smaller acreages in Eastern Ontario will be fed directly to livestock. The beans contain 40 per cent protein and about 20 per cent oil. The oil is concentrated energy but this energy source is not fully utilized by livestock.

Soybeans must be heat-treated or roasted before being fed to swine and poultry. The heating process destroys the tryspin inhibitor which exists in large amounts in raw soybeans and interferes with the digestion of protein in single-stomached animals.

Dear Ann Landers:

Dear Ann: When I was a child I had to attend Bible school. I remember our teacher telling us that gossip was a vicious, destructive thing. She would say, "A man's reputation is his most precious possession." When you talk ugly about a person and later try to undo the damage, it is like tossing a bag of feathers into the eye of a cyclone and attempting to gather them all up again.

Have you ever heard this analogy? Is this from the Bible or just a legent? Will you please tell me why a person who pretends to be a friend gossips about another woman behind her back and treats her sweet as honey to her face? Should I tell the gossiped-about person about her detractor, so she will know the woman is not for real? What do you say?

—Loathe Duplicity

Dear L.D.: The feathers-in-the cyclone story is not from the Bible. The closest I can come is Ecclesiastes 7:1 - "a good name is better than precious ointment." In regard to you question - should you tell? No.

Don't be a conduit for information about gossip or gossipers. If the "friend" is duplicitous, it will come out sooner or later. When you pass on such information you become part of the gossip mill and diminish yourself.

Dear Ann Landers: You often use your column to give a boost to people who deserve it. How about a kind word for a telephone repairman?

Yesterday I had to call the telephone company and ask them to send someone out to put a phone back in.

The next day a nice man showed up, but before he could re-install the phone he had to climb on the roof and get it. That's where my husband threw the phone after he yanked it out of the wall. (He came home and supper wasn't on the table.)

But there wasn't a word of complaint from the repairman. He just smiled and said, "The fellow you're married to must have a real temper, huh?"

Seeing this letter in your column would make my day, Ann.

—Mrs. X

Dear Mrs. X: Here's your letter - with a laurel wreath to the telephone repairman and a sprig of poison ivy to your hot-headed husband. Sounds as if when things don't go his way he gets temporarily "disconnected."

Dear Ann: I've been engaged for five years to an attorney who has no money problems, but he does have a mother who is the exclusive guilt distributor for the state of New Yrok.

We have set our wedding date four times. First, it had to be cancelled because he got a fiery red skin rash and had to be hospitalized. The second postponement was due to a broken leg (sking in Sun Valley). The third time he scalded himself making tea for his mother. The last postponement was weird. He was rushed to the hospital the Friday before the wedding with severe stomach pains. Diagnosis: stress.

I am 33 years old. My fiance is 39. It took him four years to propose. What do you think of this situation?

—My Wedding Gown Is Too Small Already

Dear Wedding Gown: It's time you got the message, dear. If, during an attack of good health, he should marry you, I think you might regret it.

CONFIDENTIAL to Must Say It to Save Face: Sorry, I disagree with you. Sometimes the best way to save face is to keep the lower part of it shut.

What kind of wedding goes with today's new life styles? Does anything go? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" tells what's right for today's weddings. Costly Cure

Sulfur dioxide emissions can be reduced, but it will cost money. In eastern Canada, it would take at least $350-million annually to cut emissions by 50 per cent. In the northeastern United States, the total would be more than $5-billion a year for similar reductions. But it would improve our environment.

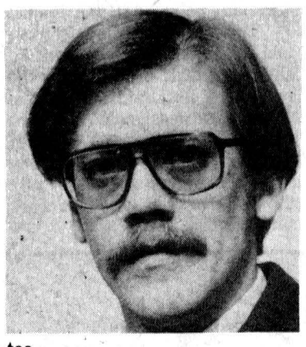
Ingleside ☎ 537-2733

Osnabruck this week — by Richard Waldroff



Skating is one of our wonderful winter sports. It is the kind of sport which can be indoors on an arena surface or outdoors on a rink surface or on a piece of ice in the backyard.

This sport is for all ages, you can travel over the ice at your own speed. The only competition is that of you against yourself.

The introduction of skating to our children is certainly a challenge and a bit nerve racking too.

On Saturday last I watched about 60 of these beginners try their talents. Some were very good but many spent as much time getting up as they did skating.

I must admire these children for their determination: it is greater than their size. We all could learn a lesson from watching, for everytime you fall down you must not get discouraged, but rather get back up and try again.

Romping Through the Bruck

The A.C.W. of St. Peter's Anglican Church, Ingleside held a very successful Autumn Tea on Saturday, November 17th. Rev. Allan Bond opened the event at 2PM. An all out effort on the part of every member along with contributions from members of the congregation made this event a complete success. Our sincere thanks goes out to all our friends in the area who supported us, also to the press for the excellent coverage given to this event.

I would like to pass on my congratulations to Ross and Marthy Walker on their successful completion of 25 years of marriage.

Happy Birthday wishes are extended to Fred Dewe who is now 39 and holding.

Also Happy Birthday to Jake Casselman.

There will be a X-country ski seminar on December 1 at the Hall in Osnabruck Centre. It begins at 10:30am and will last for about 2 hours.

Hours sorted out, kindergarten back on track

INGLESIDE (Staff) - A problem with the amount of time paraprofessionals at Rothwell Public School spent instructing turned out to be a non-problem.

It all began this fall when the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education decided not to hire additional teachers at the school, instead opting for splitting kindergarten classes into smaller groups and hiring paraprofessionals.

The principal of Rothwell School, Earl Jeacle, said he believed the hours for paraprofessionals were 2½ per day and hired two under those conditions.

Parents of students at Rothwell felt the hours did not leave the paraprofessionals enough time in the classroom. In the rural school the majority of kindergarten students stay at the school for lunch and 1½ of the daily 2½ hours were spent in lunch time supervision.

The parents formed the Rothwell School Committee and sent a letter to the board of education stating the problem and added, "While this does give the teacher a break at lunchtime it does not give much relief during teaching hours which we are sure was the purpose of hiring the paraprofessional".

But the problem turned into a non-issue when the board administration informed both the school committee and principal Jeacle paraprofessionals are hired under the board to work 3½ hours per day, not the 2½ as originally believed by Mr. Jeacle.

The paraprofessionals were told they would have to work an additional hour each day for the same pay. But, said Mr. Jeacle, the paraprofessionals accepted the new arrangement without qualms. They had previously been spending extra time with the students of their own accord said the principal.

The school committee, which had requested a meeting with the board at its regular meeting last night, cancelled the appointment in light of the new developments.

Nursing home work described to Institute

(Special) - Twenty-six members and one guest met Mon., Nov. 19 in the W.I. Room in the Community Hall, Chesterville.

The president, Miss Isabel Forward, opened the meeting by welcoming all those present and expressing her thanks to those who had replaced her during her absence.

Members answered the roll call by giving their definition of "happiness" and by presenting their gift for a shut-in.

The minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary, Mrs. C. Graham.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. G. Smith.

Our delegate, Mrs. Ann Craig gave an interesting report on the Women's Institute Convention held in October in Ottawa.

Mrs. D. Wells mentioned that the toy lending library would be open to the public around the beginning of February.

Mrs. O. Forward has helped in arranging a bus trip to Brockville where members will view the presentation of "Guys and Dolls" Dec. 7.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Clarice Sinclair, was introduced by Mrs. H. Reid.

Mrs. Sinclair, a nurse at Maxville Manor, gave a most interesting talk on her work with the residents.

She stated that some thought should be given on the various types of gifts one gives to residents. A list of appropriate articles was given.

She suggested people should not include sweets in their gifts unless they are fully aware of the condition of the resident.

A brief question and answer period followed.

Mrs. Ed. Forward thanked the guest and presented her with a gift.

Lunch was served by the committee and a social hour was enjoyed.

the farmer's wife

by wyn thompson

Very often in Eastern Ontario, the early snowstorms don't amount to much. The flakes drift idly down and melt as soon as the sun comes out. They are utterly disarming. We may have had days not much colder than September afterward and everyone in town says cheerily, maybe it won't be much of a winter.

This year it does not seem to be the case. Snow was late in arriving, but as I drove home through the first snowstorm of the season I felt that it might be quite a winter, after all.

It was a real snowstorm; make no mistake about that. The weather forecaster reiterated that the fall would be in the vicinity of ten centimeters. I have often noticed that during a real snowstorm, the flakes seem to come not down from the sky, but to drive in horizontally. Is this due to the wind or storm clouds hanging so low? If you venture out, you are almost blinded.

Today, I felt this was it. Winter had set in, in earnest. The bush across the way wore a mantle whiter than foam. The spruce trees in the hedge began to cast feathers of snow from their branches. Inside the house there was a curious luminous look to everything, and outside the sharp etchings of November began to blur.

As I entered a couple of shops, I noticed that there was an excitement about this first snow. Each year I have noticed this same feeling. I've wondered why; I think I know. It is because the first snow makes us face up to winter, after a considerable amount of energy having been wasted intrying to put it off.

Here it is, a fact of life for Eastern Ontarions, the supreme challenge. In its recurrence, there is comfort. I think if we suddenly had a bit of California now, we would be most upset.

"Guess we're in for a hard winter," said Sam as I met him at the grocery store.

"Yeh, that's what the squirrels have been predictin'," commented his friend Joe as the three of us passed in the aisle.

"Days are getting mighty short," remarked the proprietor, pausing a minute from his task of stocking the shelves.

"I made it fifteen below this morning, "said a strange lady as she wheeled her cart among us.

Skiers must have some of the same sensation as they pause at the beginning of a dangerous run. This is it, and here we go from now, in late November to the very last days of March.

The time I get fretful is in mid-March when I expect spring, and feel that I have every right to expect it, but what do I get...another blizzard. It is, I admit, the people who give in to winter that have a dull time.

I had almost forgotten how much snow intoxicates a spaniel. We had a spaniel when the boys were young. His name was Frisky and he used to reel around the yard, snapping at snowflakes. When he came in the house, he was frosted with stars. Lady was up to the same old tricks tonight, I noted, as I drove up the lane after work.

The house will be damp from now on. So will the pillows on the family room couch, but I tell myself moisture is good for the house. Lady and Scamp are good humidifiers.

In a strange sort of way, we Eastern Ontarions are proud of winter. We have had many hard winters, some easy ones, and some almost arctic in nature. But it is expected. "Quite a winter," the bank manager may say, "but we have to expect it."

"Awful cold last night," says the mechanic. "Went down to twenty below on my thermometer. But this time of year we generally have a cold spell."

Even when it took my neighbor, Sam, three hours to shovel out his lane one storm last winter, he only said, "Lot o' snow fell this time."

Cars stall; gas lines freeze. Hydro wires go down sometimes. Roads drift deep with the white stuff. Branches crash down. But neighbors and friends get out to help one another, and there is a good deal of comparing as to whose thermometer fell to the lowest mark. Winter, I decide, is a common denominator, as well as a challenge to Eastern Ontario's staying power.

When I was growing up, I found winter exciting. It meant snowshoeing, skiing, and above all skating. Winter also came to stay. It began early and stayed late. It also meant tobogganning and sleigh rides when the old horses plodded along at their usual slow pace, but with very lively freight.

The season now turns toward Christmas. Tonight, as I ploughed my way through the storm, I saw the first lighted tree of the season. What a lift of spirit I received on such a stormy night. In fact, it turned my mind to that pleasant season and I relaxed pleasantly as I picked my way home.

Soon we will see the parking lots piled high with Christmas trees. The air will be spicy with pine fragrance. Early in December we will begin to consider the outdoor decorations. In many of the towns, prizes are given for the best decorations and this sometimes results in some unfortunate attempts to have bigger and better decorations.

I like doorways framed in fresh spruce or pines, and wreaths or swags of fresh pine, and cones and bright berries discretely lighted. In short, I like the natural bounty of nature simply used.

Inside the house, I use greens and bittersweet and cones, and I would never win a prize, but I like it. I enjoy lights strung on the trees, but this presents a problem for us now since our new trees are still very small indeed.

Tonight with the first snow and the sighting of the first snow and the sighting of the first lighted Christmas tree, I feel the momentum of Christmas has begun. And I, as always, am prepared to enjoy it!

Damage estimated at more than $15,000 was caused by fire which destroyed the post office, a general store, a frame house and a garage in Oxford Mills, five miles west of Kemptville, about 8 o'clock last night. The fire broke out in the residence of Charles Beckett, postmaster, who lived in the second story of the frame building. Mr. Beckett was alone in the office when he noticed the fire. He gave alarm to people crowded into the Orange Hall, half a block from the post office, attending a church supper and bazaar. A bucket bridgade was formed, and the Kemptville fire department was called. Due to some trouble with its motor pump, no water was available until 9 o'clock. Damage to the general store was estimated at $12,000; to the post office at $2,500; to the garage next to the post office $200, and to the frame house adjacent to the store at $1,200.

There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Dundas County Plowman's Association in Winchester, Monday afternoon, with Weldon Beckstead, vice-president, presiding, assisted by G.K. Graham, Morrisburg, agricultural representative. Reports indicated the association had enjoyed a very successful season.

An interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Biccum, Inkerman, on Monday when they celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. During the day, Mr. and Mrs. Biccum were the recipients of many messages of congratulations as well as numerous gifts from members of their family, friends and neighbours.

The Chesterville factory of Nestle's Milk Products (Can.) Ltd., has received the Certificate of Merit of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association for havin gone through a period of 12 months without one loss of time accident to any of its employees. O.L. King, the superintendent, who has been prominent in the St. Lawrence Division of the association for some time, can point with pride at the accomplishment where over 177,000 man-hours were invloved.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon in Trinity United Church of the late Mrs. Edgar Harper, who passed away Monday at midday after an illness extending over several months. She was in her 77th year. The service was conducted by Rev. R.C. Tait, who spoke from the text contained in Mathew V:4, giving a very comforting revelation of the joy which is promised mourners.

Members of the Chesterville Rotary Club had the pleasure of hearing an address by the coach of the Ottawa Rough Riders Football team last Monday night. Coach Walter "Wally" Masters was introduced by Dr. S.H. Hutt and thanked by F.M. Cass on behalf of the club. Mr. Masters was accompanied by some of the members of the team. They included Andy Gordon, Wilf. Tremblay and Line Coach Eddie Michaels. Also present were members of the CHS Rugby team, Matt Flynn, Geo. Crawford, Wm. Marcellus, Alf. Jarvis, Arnold McLaggen and Albert Milhousen of Chesterville and Leo Robillard of Aylmer.

With the reservoir levels steadily dropping, the Hydro Commission of Ontario is showing a worried look these days. Consumption is rapidly reaching the danger level, and more conservation is needed to prevent involuntary blackouts. Chesterville village has been notified that their power allotment will be based on the meter reading of last Thursday.

Winchester Twp. Council elected for Year 1950. H.E. Durant, Reeve; E.B. McMillan, Deputy Reeve; Wm. Brown, Basil Dawley, Ken McIntosh, Councillors, elected by acclamation. The following were elected Trustees for Winchester Township School Area: Howard Kittle, Garfield McVey, Willis Robinson, Angus Smith, W. Lorne Thompson, all by acclamation.

Frank Ball, 29, of Chesterville, transport driver for the Duncan Transport, Ottawa, was pulled unconscious from the fume-filled cab of his truck by three men, at the beginning of the week. Ball parked his truck on the scales of a leather firm and turned the motor on to keep warm. Apparently there for hours with the cab window open an inch, he was found slumped over the wheel by three men reporting for work. Dr. J. Crawford Rose of Aurora, worked for half-an-hour to revive him. "If I had been a few minutes later with the equipment," the doctor said "the man would have been dead." Mr. Ball is a son of Bob Ball of Winchester Springs. His wife is a daughter of Allan Thompson of Morewood.

Yearly nominations for the municipal offices of reeve and councillors will be held in the Community Hall this coming Monday evening, December 5th. As in the past, this will be a time for the members of the community to get a first hand report on the work that has been done by the retiring council in the past year and to give the once-over to the aspirants for the coming year.

All present members of the Winchester Municipal Council have been returned to office for the year 1950 by acclamation. They are: Reeve Walter Moffat, Councillors Harold Lannin, Howard Fetterly, Hugh Wilson and Arthur B. Summers.

An option to buy has been signed with Frank Schwedtfeger on Highway 43 for a site for the new central high school. We have been informed by reliable sources that test digging with a backhoe will begin this week. The property is part of the former Rae farm and is about half a mile west of the township building on the Ridge. It is on the south side of the road, the north-east corner of the second field east of the county road, fronting Highway 43. The lot consists of 12 acres.

Chesterville Rotary Club members, their wives and friends paid honor to a fellow Rotarian Monday night. They held a Fred Cass Night in the Legion Hall in recognition of the achievements of the Honourable Fred Cass, Q.C., M.P.P., Ontario Minister of Highways. Present also were members of Kemptville Rotary Club and their wives. Rotary president Allison Graham was chairman and with other members of the local club presented a well-organized and fast-paced affair. Entertainment was provided by solos from Reeve Gordon Thom of Morrisburg with Mrs. Hosea Droppo at the piano and a sing-song forcefully attacked by Keith Graham accompanied by P.G. Hewitt. Rotarian Douglas Fry read an address of honor, outlining the achievements of Fred Cass up to his present place in government. He also made the club presentation consisting of a desk piece of a clock and Rotary Wheel combination.

Fire which erupted while the proprietor and his mechanic unawaredly worked away with welding masks shielding their faces Monday afternoon destroyed the R.J. Bender Garage, Finch, causing damage estimated at $40,000. Flames were shooting up the walls all around the men when one of them doffed his cumbersome mask. They just had time to phone for help before dashing from the burning building. A transport load of tires, two cars and a large quantity of mechanics tools and other mechanical equipment were lost in the blaze.

With Pierre Trudeau's resignation last Wednesday as leader of the Liberal party, Canada has lost its second great political leader in the past four months. Mr. Trudeau, like that other great Canadian, John Diefenbaker, was the driving force behind the party and the ultimate millstone around its neck. Like Mr. Diefenbaker, it was the force of his personality rather than the issues he espoused that animated and ultimately decimated the Liberal Party.

Mr. Trudeau is being eulogized as one of Canada's greatest prime ministers, but it was as a politician and not as a leader of a government that he achieved his greatest successes. As a prime minister he was rather mediocre, which makes his success as a politician in three elections all the more astounding. Mr. Trudeau came on the scene in 1965 ready to do battle with the separatists; when le left, the Parti Quebecois was in power; he coined the phrase "The Just Society" in 1968, but when he was finally defeated inflation had eaten into the meagre incomes of the elderly and others on pensions, the RCMP was being investigated for subverting the civil rights of Canadians and the divisions between east and west were greater than they had ever been. In 1972 his call was that "The Land Is Strong" and yet during his 11 years as prime minister, American control of Canadian industry and natural resources continued almost unabated. In 1974 he told us wage and price controls wouldn't work in Canada, and then in 1975 he imposed them on a still-disbelieving country. In 1979 his call was for national unity and yet he rejected the findings of the government's task force on unity and with Canada seeing Claude Ryan as the rising star of federalism in Quebec, Mr. Trudeau became largely irrelevant.

As a prime minister his 11 years in office were not a great success. But as a Canadian with a vision of what this country is and what it can become, he is without parallel in federal politics today. Unfortunately, the transition from idea to actuality was bungled so often, the country felt it could no longer afford him and bounced him out of office. Mr. Trudeau is not at his greatest as a loser and it was inevitable he would quit the leadership of his party before the wolves started yapping at his heels and the electorate was treated to the unaccustomed sight of a public Liberal bloodletting.

There are those who say that following the May 22 election the Liberals are finished as a national party. With their slim Western holdings and tenuous hold on Ontario they are said to be only a regional party, with as much relevance to the rest of the country as Social Credit. Leading the charge is the New Democratic Party, which at its biennial policy conference in Toronto last week called for the death of the Liberals and the institution of a system of right versus left that has done so much to polarize and cripple Britain. The New Democrats see polarity as a worthy political end and the archaic means of "the struggle" as the way in which they will achieve it. However, confrontation is not the Canadian way of doing things and because of this quirk in our national psyche, Liberals and liberalism will regroup just as they did after the disaster of 1958 and will continue to be the bridge upon which the opposing forces of Canadian politics will meet. - robin morris -

Editorial 'bunk'

The Editor:

There are apparently in real life "Archie Bunkers". Your editorial in last week's paper emphasizes this.

I am enclosing some editorial comments from the Ottawa Citizen in reference to Trudeau's resignation. Of course in your biased view this couldn't have happened and you will probably try to blame the Clark Government. Hopefully to handle our country's affairs, the government will move slowly and in a manner that all will benefit from.

Of course they can't expect the media to go along with that type of procedure, but I can assure you that we, the taxpayers, appreciate careful government.

When you make observations like you have, did it ever occur to you that you are referring to our elected Government whom the country has elected to govern us? I am quite sure if we have another election that the government elected will not give the Lewises and Broadbents a chance to wield a club, as they have to our sorrow over our governments.

I would hope in the upcoming liberal convention that they will elect somebody of the calibre of John Turner or Donald MacDonald as their leader.

We don't need any more dedicated trouble-makers. We need people of good will who will conduct themselves in a manner that once again we Canadians will respect our elected representatives.

Sincerely
O.A. Kyle

Up to their ears...

Looks like they've got so much corn it's coming out their ears at McDonald Feed Mill Ltd. in Winchester. And that's exactly what manager Steven Summers says. Tonnage per acre for this year's corn crop is above average this year, says Mr. Summers. And it's above average for barley, spring and fall wheat too. It's all due to good week kill and good weather. - staff photo -

Embrun moves to second, Jets continue their slide

(Staff) - Embrun 72s have moved into second place in the standings in the Eastern Ontario Junior C Hockey League following their victory over Osnabruck Township Kings at Finch last Wednesday night and their 16-2 shellacking of the Chesterville Jets Friday night in Embrun.

The Jets lost all three of their games last week, coming up short in a 6-1 decision with Maxville at home last Tuesday night and being edged 6-5 by Finch Townships 76s Wednesday night. The three losses ran the Jets' winless string to seven and sunk them into a last-place tied with Crysler Raiders, each with only one victory, although the Rebels hold a game in hand.

The 72s trail first-place Maxville Highlanders by six points following what turned out to be a four-pointer in the first game of last Wednesday's doubleheader in Finch.

Maxville remains unbeaten after eight games with the win in Chesterville Nov. 20 and a 4-1 triumph over Alexandria in Alexandria Saturday night.

Embrun is now two points ahead of the Kings and holds a game in hand.

The 72s have turned out to be the most explosive club in the league this year, scoring 46 goals in only six games and Guy Marion and Mario Savage, both of Embrun, are tied for first place in league scoring, each with 19 points.

Finch's 6-5 win over Chesterville moved the 76s into a tie with Osnabruck but the Kings hold a game in hand.

In the week's other game, Alexandria kept Crysler in the league basement with a 5-3 win Thursday night in Finch.

Maxville 6, Chesterville 1

Randy Robertson moved into third place in the league scoring race with three goals and an assist last Tueaday night in Chesterville as he lead the Highlanders in their 6-1 win.

Darren Rolland, Hughie Coleman and Wayne Kippen each added singles as the Highlanders picked up 14 minors and two major penalties. Chesterville got its only goal from Peter VanGurp and the Jets were assessed 13 minors and two majors.

Embrun 3, Osnabruck 2

The 72s moved into a tie for second place with their 3-2 win over the Kings in Finch Wednesday night.

Blair Henderson's pair for the Kings were offset by singles from the sticks of Mario Bourgeois, Alain Savage and Ghislain Cousineau.

Osnabruck had 11 of the game's 19 minors but Embrun picked up both of the contest's major penalties.

Finch 6, Chesterville 5

Rick McGillis fired three goals to lead the 76s to their one-goal victory over the Jets and move the Township boys into a tie with Osnabruck.

Steve Sullivan picked up a pair and Steve McRae had a single for the winners.

Pat Kelly had a goal and three assists to lead the Jets. Scoring singles were Ronnie Richards, Lyle Servage, Steve Plummer and Ron Leclair. Chesterville had three of the game's eight minors.

Alexandria 5, Crysler 3

Charlie McRae had two goals and an assist as he led the Glens to their third victory of the year, Thursday night in Finch.

Glen McMillan, Mike Tessier and Scott Hay each chipped in singles.

Pierre Poirier and Sylvan Lafleche replied for Crysler, which had four minors, a major and a misconduct to Alexandria's one major penalty.

Embrun 16, Chesterville 2

Guy Marion put on the biggest scoring outburst of the week in the 72s' lopsided win over Chesterville as he scored five times and added an assist to move into a first-place tie in the league's scoring race.

Mario Lessard moved into a tie for ninth place in the scoring with his hat trick and four assists.

Scoring singles for the 72s were Daniel Bruyere, Luc Dagenais, Mario Savage, Mario Bourgeois, Mike Provost and Alain Savage.

Don Richards picked up a goal and an assist and David Carruthers a goal in the losing cause.

Embrun had 18 minor penalties while the Jets were assessed 13 minors.

Maxville 4, Alexandria 1

The Highlanders collected their eighth straight win in Alexandria Saturday night as Darren Rolland led the attack with three goals. Randy Robertson scored the other Maxville marker.

John MacSweyn got the Glens' lone score.

The Highlanders had 11 of the game's 20 minors.

Beat Osnabruck in overtime

Duff wins broomball title

(Staff) - Larry Gallinger scored in overtime to give Duff Powerline a 1-0 win over Osnabruck and the A championship in the Men's Broomball Tournament here Saturday.

It was the second overtime won in as many games for Duff and the team's third shutout of the day.

For Osnabruck, it was the team's third straight overtime game of the eight-team event.

Duff made it to the A final on the strength of their 2-0 win over Morewood in their opening game, with Brian McLaughlin supplying both goals, and their 1-0 win over Clement Feeds in the semifinal. Frank Heerkens scored the lone goal in that game.

Osnabruck made it to the final game with a 4-3 overtime over Dan's Shoppe in the opening draw and a 2-1 win over Aqua Fun Pools in the second round. Allan Bowman scored three times, including the winner, for Osnabruck in their first game and Bowman supplied the sudden-death winner in the semifinal.

In the B final, Navan, which beat Morewood 3-1 in the second round, recorded the most lopsided score of the day when they beat Russell 6-0. Russell won its second-round game, 3-1, over Dan's Shoppe.

Win over Maxville won't help Flyers

(Staff) - Chesterville Midget Flyers split their games last week but unfortunately for them, their one-sided win over Maxville came in an exhibition game and won't count in Carleton Dundas Minor Hockey League standings.

The Flyers' only CDMHL game was a 3-2 loss to Metcalfe here Friday night.

Kenny Shay scored twice for the Flyers in their loss to Metcalfe, bringing the Flyers to within one goal when he scored at 7:39 of the third following Hatherall's second period goal and the first of Straby's pair, at 1:08 of the third.

Straby scored his second of the night at 10:33 and Shay brought the Flyers back to within one, scoring from Marque Laflamme and Terry Barkley, but the Flyers couldn't get the equalizer.

Sunday in Chesterville Shay scored the first four Chesterville goals as the Flyers routed Maxville 7-1.

Shay scored at 3:10 of the first and added the second period's only goal as the Flyers carried a 2-0 lead into the third. Garry Huybregts brought the visitors to within one, scoring at the five-minute mark of the third, but Shay went back to work, scoring at 7:50 and 9:08.

Scott Richards made it 5-1, Barkley from Shay and Laflamme made it 6-1 and Laflamme closed out the scoring from John Kelly, at 13:30.

The Flyers played in Russell Tuesday night and host Russell Friday. Monday night they travel to Winchester.

Lions first team chosen for ODJBHL tournament

(Staff) - Morrisburg Lions have become the first team in the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League's Southeast Division to qualify for the Boxing Day tournament in Smiths Falls.

The Lions and one other team from the local Junior B loop will play in the Dec. 26 Ottawa District Junior B Hockey League.

The other representative will be either second-place Char-Lan Rebels or Winchester Hawks, who hold down third place in the league standings with 13 points two back of the Rebels.

Divisional representatives are chosen on the basis of league standings after the first 12 games of the season. Morrisburg is undefeated in 10 games while Char-Lan has a 7-2-1 record and Winchester is at 6-2-1.

The Lions spun their undefeated skein to 10 straight with a late starting 11-6 win over Cardinal on the island last Wednesday night and a 9-7 victory over Char-Lan in Williamstown Saturday night.

The Hawks picked up two wins in as many games with an 8-6 decision over Brockville in the Thousand Island City last Tuesday night and a 6-4 victory over Athens Aeros at Home Friday night.

While Winchester was beating Athens, Char-Lan maintained its two-point edge over the Hawks by tripling Smiths Falls Settlers 9-3.

In Friday's other league games, Brockville Tikis got their second win of the season with a 5-4 victory over Kemptville and Westport edged the southwest division's front runners, Spencerville Bruins 8-7. Saturday night Kemptville and Spencerville played to a 7-7 draw and Westport hammered Cardinal 9-3. Friday night's game between Metcalfe Jets and Prescott Saints was cancelled.

Last Wednesday night's game between Morrisburg and Cardinal Broncos was delayed more than an hour when the game officials failed to turn up. Finally a couple of local officials were rounded up and the teams decided to go with the two-man system.

Rich Boprey began a productive week early in the first period scoring his first of the night and eighth of the season as the Lions built up a 6-0 lead before the end of the frame. Other Morrisburg goals were scored by Mark Payment, with two, Mark Beaupre, Dave Phifer, and Leo Lafortune, who finally got his first goal of the year.

Jim Whelan made it 7-0 in the second before Cardinal got on the board with Howie Coons and Randy Coons scoring before Whelan made it 8-2. Rob Robinson scored for Cardinal before the period ended and Morrisburg added three in the third, with David Myers and Steve Richer getting singles and Boprey getting his second.

Saturday night in Williamstown Boprey and defenceman Garry Beckstead each scored four times to help the Lions turn back the Rebels' challenge and maintain their five-pointlead in the team standings.

Boprey scored at 6:15 and 14:17 and Beckstead got his first as the Lions carried a 3-1 lead into the second.

Mark Thomas and Kevin Fontaine scored on powerplays early in the second to tie the score before Boprey put the Lions ahead again. Thomas got the second of his three for the night to deadlock the score at 4-4 going into the thrid.

Beckstead put the Rebels on the ropes early in the third, scoring a classic hat trick with goals at 16 and 41 seconds and 7:15 but the Rebels slipped out of the Lions grip and fired three goals in succession, by Lalonde, Thomas and Spink, to even it at seven apiece.

However, Boprey put the Lions back in front for good at 18:32 and Mark Beaupre fired the insurance goal with just one minute left in the game.

Atom A Flyers dominate league

(Special) - Chesterville's Atom A Flyers continue to dominate their league opposition. On. Nov. 16, the Metcalfe Mustangs came to town for their second defeat against the local lads in as many games with the final score being 5-0.

Chesterville led at the end of the first period with goals from Danny Dubois assisted by right winger Jamie Cheney, Donnie Marcellus, assisted by rookie goalie Chuck Droppo, and Cheney assisted by Dubois. The only goal of the second period was put behind Mustang goalie Steve Demers by Dubois on a pass in the slot from Cheney. With 20 seconds to go in the third period, defenceman Jean Lafleur made a rink length rush to put Chesterville ahead 5-0. In the final tally, Chesterville outshot Metcalfe 28-6.

On Mon., Nov. 19, Chesterville visited Winchester and the final score was 4-2 in Chesterville's favor. Winchester went ahead after 20 seconds had been played in the game with a goal from Francoise Gallipeau. Chesterville came back to tie the score at 9:25 of the period with a goal by John Mackler, assisted by Tony Briere. At the 11:25 minute mark, Jeffrey Countryman, assisted Briere, put Chesterville ahead 2-1. The remainder of the period was all Chesterville with goals from Briere and Countryman assisted by Countryman and Mackler respectively. Both teams were scoreless in the final period.

Halfway through the second period, Winchester tied the score with a goal by Joey VanNoy assisted by Chris Rooney and Francoise Gallipeau.

The first league game played Nov. 23 between Chesterville and Russell was almost a replay of an exhibition game played Nov. 2 when the score was 9-0. On the 23rd, the final tally was 8-0 for the local squad. Danny Dubois scored four times and had two assists. Singles went to Tony Briere, Ross Giles, John Mackler and Donnie Marcellus. Other assists went to Shawn Beckstead, Donnie Marcellus, Kevin McLeod, Jeffrey Countryman, Bobby VanDelst, and Darren Greer.

Thanks to a good effort by the entire team including coaches David Carruthers and Dale Marcellus, the Atoms are off to a very good start this season.
