The Highway 43 Bridge in Chesterville, which was built in 1950, is getting a major repair job. The breaking of the old cement sidewalk is proving to be quite a task. 23-year-old Hwy. 43 bridge getting face-lifting & major repair

Chesterville's Main Street, from Queen to the Community Hall including the Nation River Bridge, is in for considerable repair work and repaving. The work is all part of the master plan as Hwy. 43 will be diverted past the village.

The repair work on the bridge which was built in 1950 is underway at present.

The steel railing will be removed from both sides of the bridge to be replaced when new sidewalks, cement abutments and other areas of erosion have been repaired. The old railing will be sandblasted and re-painted.

The remaining piece of cement abutment at the north end of the bridge will be replaced by steel similar to the bridge.

The retaining wall from the bridge north towards Queen Street will be repaired.

Plans call for the existing loose material and vegetation next to the river to be removed. This will be replaced by suitable fill.

The fill with an appropriate slope from the river bed to the roadway will have hand-laid rip rap placed over it.

The asphalt on the bridge will be removed at a later date, to allow for any necessary work to be done on the cement deck. Following the repair work a new asphalt topping will be spread.

The present work is being done by Looby Construction, who are also building the new bridge for the Chesterville Diversion.

Department of Highways Supervisor D. C. Vollrath, said he anticipated work on the bridge would be completed in two to three weeks.

'Meals-on-Wheels' program explained to W.D.M.H. Aux.

"Planned nutritious meals are preventive medicine." This is the slogan for the Meals-On-Wheels program for the Cornwall area. Mrs R. Mel Scott, Chairman of Meals-On-Wheels, spoke to the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital at their May meeting and traced the progress of Meals-On-Wheels since its inception, three years ago.

One of the main features of Meals-On-Wheels is the delivery, five days a week, of a hot noon meal to recipients, thus keeping them in their own home when otherwise they would be forced to enter nursing homes or homes for the elderly.

The 'recipients' are folk who are incapable, because of physical disabilities, weakness or in the case of men alone, through lack of knowledge and skill, of cooking a full course nutritious meal for themselves. For many post-operative patients, a temporary delivery of these meals is a life saver.

Names of persons requiring daily service of a hot noon meal are referred to Meals-On-Wheels by members of the Clergy, V.O.N., Public Health Services, Doctors and neighbours or friends. A committee is set up to interview each prospective 'recipient' to make sure there is a definite need for Meals-On-Wheels.

This service is of greatest importance to those people requiring special diets, eg. salt free, sugar free, bland, high residue, etc. In Cornwall the meals are prepared at the hospitals and villas and ordered a week at a time. The dieticians in these institutions are invaluable in the planning of these meals. Each Monday, the recipient pays for the full week's meals.

The funds for operating this program come from donations from Service Clubs, Church organizations, Women's Clubs and Institutes, the medical profession and interested people.

At present, the volunteers of the Cornwall Meals-On-Wheels deliver meals to 48 recipients daily. A corps of 175 volunteers are recruited for this work, giving special attention to birthdays and doing a little visiting on the side.

As a result of Mrs Scott's talk, it is evident that suitable recipients, drivers and helpers and suitable sources of nutritious meals must be found. Considering the size of our area, and the number of volunteers and people interested in this project, it might be that a volunteer would be called on only once a month to Council Sets Mill Rate . . .

10 DOWN FROM ESTIMATE INCREASES 20 OVER 1972

Chesterville Council sat down Monday evening, in special session — rolled up their sleeves, put the crystal ball away and settled in to set the current budget.

Following considerable pencil sharpening, this year's mill rate figures were established. The projection which was presented last week was considerably high. Nearly 10 mills were chopped from the estimates.

The special meeting was suddenly called on Monday night as the Separate School levy on the village only arrived in the clerk's hands on Monday.

The reduction in the mill rate from the figures presented last week is a direct result of the increased provincial grants under the Property Tax Stabilization Act. Approximately $30,000 in additional grants will be forthcoming from the new Ontario scheme.

The nearly 17 mill increase in the village rate over 1972 will be used to clean up debts on the new arena. All that will be remaining to be paid on the arena after this year will be the balance of a four-year Government approved loan. Reeve Graham stated it would take about 5 mills per year for the next three years to wipe the slate clean. The Reeve said he hoped all pledges were honoured and the village would not have to pick up further liabilities on the arena. In that way municipal money could be used to add more facilities.

1973 MILL RATES
(1972 in Brackets)

	Res. and Farm		Comm. and Bus.
	P.S.	S.S.	P.S.	S.S.
Village	56.1 (39.2)	56.1 (39.2)	64.7 (48.0)	67.7 (48.0)
County	18.0 (21.2)	18.0 (21.2)	18.0 (21.2)	18.0 (21.2)
High School	19.6 (14.1)	19.6 (14.1)	21.8 (15.7)	21.8 (15.7)
Elementary	24.6 (23.1)	27.5 (19.4)	27.4 (25.7)	30.5 (21.5)
Total	118.3 (97.6)	121.2 (93.9)	131.9 (110.6)	135.1 (106.4)

The mill rate for 1973 stands about 2 mills lower than it was in 1970.

The $1,200 owing in hydro accounts came in for discussion. The village clerk was empowered to send out notices to those in arrears, five days following the notification if the bill is not paid the power to that consumer will be shut off.

Five new mercury vapour lights will be installed on North Main Street at an estimated cost of $1,500. Three of the 300 watt luminaires from Main will be moved to Albert Street. The new lights on North Main are part of council's plan to have all entrances to the village well lighted.

S. V. Pharmacy move to new quarters to expand

Seaway Valley Pharmacy, Chesterville, is moving to a new location. Larger premises are necessary in order to expand the variety of merchandise carried.

The pharmacy, which will be operated by new owner-manager, Mr Angus Pate, will re-locate in the former David's Menswear Store on Main Street. Mr Pate, a pharmacist from Lenzie, Scotland, has been in Canada for three years. He is 26 years old. Mr Pate and his wife Diane, who is a native of Cornwall, plan to live in Chesterville and eventually hope to build here.

The new premises will be open for business on Tuesday, May 22.

Bits & Pieces

Tickets out for Carleton Show Band

On Saturday, June 16, Chesterville's new arena will swing to the rhythm of the Carleton Show Band. For a nominal $5.00 per couple you can get to see and dance to the musicians of "Pig and Whistle" fame. Tickets are now available from Chamber of Commerce members and other outlets.

Squatter's Rights

We may be hedging into a legal hassle on South Street and we were wondering if anyone could fill us in on the rights of a squatter. A few weeks ago a robin took possession of the 2nd rung of the step ladder, which was leaning against the wall in the carport. We need not tell you any more — nature being what it is — the family has now grown to five. We're concerned about "Mrs Robin's" rights, not to mention our uncleaned windows and a dog that feels his privacy has been invaded.

Elma United Church to mark Centennial

The 100th Anniversary of the Dedication of the present sanctuary of Elma United Church will be observed with special morning and evening services on Sunday, June 17th, and a programme on Monday, June 18th. Rev. J. A. Gordon of Prescott officiated at the Dedication on Sunday, June 22nd, 1873. In charge of the present Centennial Arrangements is Rev. D. L. Gordon of Williamsburg.

Farm Vacations — worth exploring

Under the Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Administration (ARDA) Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, farmers interested in offering farm vacations may be eligible for grants up to a maximum of $1,500 or 40 percent of the approved costs of home improvements. Rates now being charged by farmers acting as vacation hosts range from $60 to $75 per week for adults and from $35 to $40 per week for children. Further information can be obtained from the local Agriculture Representative.

New Snack Bar to Open at Dunbar

You can skip your supper this Friday night and lunch at Dunbar. The new take-out Snack Bar will be open for business this Friday night. As an opening special they will be offering a free order of chips with the purchase of a deluxe hamburger at the regular price of 55c. The new business operating in conjunction with McMillan's General Store will be adding soft ice cream to their line very shortly. See you in Dunbar Friday p.m.

Help needed . . .

It seems Chesterville Recreation has a bit of a problem — they're long on teenage ballplayers, short on coaches. The situation has come about by the formation of a travelling girl's ball team. As everyone knows fifteen players are all that are needed to have a team; 40 enthusiasts turned out for try-outs, leaving 25 who are not going to make it. Would someone like to take these remaining enthusiastic girls and form another league — let's not leave them standing in the wings. Phone Nancy LaSalle if you can help.

Mrs Anna Marcellus, receiving the plaque, was honoured by Chesterville Rotary Club on Monday night. Mrs Marcellus was named an "Outstanding Citizen" for her research and recording of the history of Chesterville. Club member Robert Coleman, on the left, introduced the guest speaker, Lyle Marcellus. Anna Marcellus honoured by Rotary 'Outstanding Citizen' receives plaque

A most pleasant and memorable evening was enjoyed by Rotarians and their guests on Monday evening when Anna and Lyle Marcellus were the special guests. Anna was the guest speaker.

After a nicely arranged smorgasbord dinner and the customary sing-song, led by Bill Giles with Mrs Margaret Casselman at the piano, Mrs Marcellus was introduced as an "Outstanding Citizen" for her years of research and recording of the history of Chesterville and the surrounding area, from its very earliest days.

In her own inimitable way, Mrs Marcellus wove her own personal

Taxes down in Finch Twp. benefit from increased grants

The ratepayers of Finch Township will receive the benefit of increased provincial grants under the Property Tax Stabilization Act, by having the Township mill rate decreased in 1973 by eight mills.

At a meeting held recently, the budget was approved and the Residential Township rate was set at 28.10 mills compared to 37.10 for 1972. The Commercial rate will be 33.59 compared to last year's 41.66.

The County rate is down 2.79 mills, but the total of the Public and High School rate shows an increase of 2.00 mills.

The completion of the tax roll and the preparation of the tax bills cannot be done as the rates for the Separate School Board have not been received.

The first installment of taxes for the current year is due on June 30.

Stormont Forestry Club hold outdoor meeting

The Stormont 4-H Forestry Conservation Club held an outdoor meeting May 5 at the Benton Spruce Trail east of Berwick.

Plans were made for a camping trip to Larose Forest in June.

Signs are to be put up on the Nature Trail by leader Keith Holback.

Finch Lions hold first Sportsmen's Banquet

FINCH — Finch and District Lions Club sponsored the first Sportsmen's night in the new Community Centre, last Thursday evening. By all indications this affair will become an annual event.

The head table introductory list sounded like a "Who's Who" in sports — Jerry Campbell, football, Ottawa Rough Riders; Rocky Martin, hockey, former home town star, Quebec Nordiques; John Wensink, hockey, Cornwall Royals; Pat Smith, O.D.H.A. official; and Carl Rines, who operated the successful Hockey School this past winter. These celebrities were seated among other head table guests who enjoyed the roast turkey dinner.

Jerry Campbell

Following the dinner Barry Brownlee, who was chairman for the evening, called on D. C. Vollrath to say the Grace. The programme continued and following the Toast to the Queen Lions President Gordon McIntyre brought greetings on behalf of the club and extended a warm welcome to all those present.

Rocky Martin of the W.H.L. Quebec Nordiques had the pleasant duty of making a presentation to Noel Lalonde, who was chosen top goaltender in the Finch Minor Hockey League. The Most Valuable Player Award went to Stephen Sullivan and the presentation was made by Dalton MacMillan, President of the NSMHL.

Finch Reeve Lynden Hough accepted a set of minor hockey sweaters, which were purchased by the Lions Club, from President MacIntyre. The Reeve stated how pleased he was with the new arena and the many accomplishments which had taken place since its completion.

The Finch Pee Wees, Champions of the North Stormont Hockey, were cited for their accomplishments. All team members were presented with a jacket. The presentation was made by Don Vollrath, Chairman of Finch recreation.

John Wensink in a brief statement said he had high hopes in being picked up by either the NHL or WHA when the drafts are held.

Jerry Campbell, as guest speaker, left the message with the young athletes that to become a star you had to work, work, work, drive, drive, drive.

A Lions Club Pin was presented to all head table guests.

The Finch Pee Wees under the direction of Dean Hough and Dalton Ouderkirk, as coaches over the past weeks had been selling tickets on a radio. All money made was used to help pay for the new jackets. The draw was made and the winner was present to claim the prize.

Keith Droppo had the pleasant task of thanking the head table guests.

An autograph signing session was held following the program.

Noel Lalonde, who was named top goal tender of the Finch Minor Hockey League system is the centre of attention here as John Wensink, of the Cornwall Royals, holds up one of the new Pee Wee jackets to check it for fit. From the left, John, Jerry Campbell of the Ottawa Rough Riders, Noel, Rocky Martin of the WHA Quebec Nordiques, Lions Club member Barry Brownlee, who was emcee for the Annual Sportsmen's dinner, Dalton Ouderkirk and Dean Hough, who coached the Finch Pee Wee team this past winter. — Staff Photo.

VIEWS...

Education – The Last Frontier

Certain topics when under discussion will cause tempers to flare and normally rational thinking people to become irrational. Politics, unions and religion have been favourites in the past to fill this category. One more should be added to the list — education, which at the present time in this area, is under lively debate regarding further French teaching in our Public School system.

Politics, unions, religion and education are contentious topics because they involve people at a very personal level.

The S.D.&G. Board have, over the past few weeks, held meetings throughout the district proposing to add to the existing French Teaching Program which is presently in our public schools. Their plea is that the program will give unilingual students a better opportunity, upon graduation, to find a place in the work force.

To be bilingual, as we work at our own personal endeavour, would be very advantageous. We feel quite elated to have a member on our staff who can converse in both English and French—we've been bailed out of a difficult situation on more than one occasion.

We have two wishes — if the French language is to be taught we strongly recommend that all the vocabulary taught be words which can be found in a universal, world-wide French dictionary. Secondly, we would ask the powers that be to be certain this is the right thing to do, and when the decision is finally reached, they institute a program that is going to last for many years.

The Ontario Department of Education reminds us of a scientist with a severe nervous condition — they rush here and there adding a few ingredients in the form of trial programs never quite sticking to anything long enough to find out whether it was successful or not.

In the span of a few years we've gone from the one-room school, to the one classroom per grade school, and back to open concept — which is really only a sophisticated form of the one-room rural school.

A few short years have seen the teaching of 'new math' come in — now there seems to be considerable debate on whether this program has been all that successful.

Delegations opposing the inception of programs seem to have very little effect. At Maple Ridge, many, many signatures were presented on a petition opposing the school becoming a Junior High. We were assured, by a person who was close to the situation, that the edifice which will be completed and in operation this year, is almost a duplicate of the original plans which were presented by Board representatives in the very beginning.

We sincerely hope the Tri-County Board representatives who are conducting the meetings with the public regarding French Immersion, take heed of the people's wishes. People do not appreciate and will seldom forget, when a ram-rod is used to push something down their throats.

If the new program would serve to cause a rift between French and English speaking people throughout the district, then we would opt out on the plan. We, being unilingually English at the moment, would feel badly if we were not welcome to do business with some of our good French friends.

Bonne Chance — Good Luck, means the same thing in either language.

Highway Scene Changes With The Season

The highway scene changes with the season. Only a few weeks ago, roads leading to Ontario vacation areas were filled with trailered snowmobiles. Today, the trailers are carrying boats of all shapes and sizes.

The Ontario Safety League points out that trailering a boat safely requires special knowledge and skills:

* Be sure the trailer capacity is in excess of the weight of the boat, motor and equipment it will carry.

* The trailer hitch is most important — use only a properly installed frame hitch rated for the weight being trailered. Never use detachable bumper hitches.

* Adjust the trailer axle on the frame or the boat on the trailer bed so that 10 to 15 percent of the load is resting on the tongue. This will prevent swaying and give better control at highway speeds.

* Adjust supports and rollers so they are fitted perfectly to the hull of he boat. This will prevent damage to the boat itself and make the load more secure on the trailer. Be sure all fastenings, bow and stern, are secured and tight.

* Safety chains are mandatory in the province of Ontario. Inspect stop and turn lights on the trailer to be sure they are working properly. Check and grease wheel bearings and keep tires well inflated - about 60 lbs. for the average boat trailer.

* Once under way, always remember the added weight and length of the combined car and trailer that you are handling. Keep speeds down and allow extra time for overtaking and passing or moving from one lane to another. Always indicate intentions sufficiently in advance to give ample warning to other traffic.

Ann Landers...

Dear Ann Landers: Who should be honored on Mother's Day, a man's mother or his wife. I say the answer is right there, in the name of the day. It is MOTHER'S DAY, not Wife's Day. My daughter-in-law seems to think otherwise.

Henry is my only son. When he married I expected his wife to be first in his life but I didn't figure on being ignored. I try not to impose on anybody. Although I have a married daughter in town, I live alone and thank God I don't have to ask them for anything.

Two years ago our church auxiliary started a lovely custom—a Mother's Day Banquet. I hoped Henry would invite me but his wife said he belonged at home on Mother's Day.so, my daughter invited me. This year my daughter asked her brother to come with us to the church banquet. He said he'd check at home and see how his wife felt about it. Well, Ann, his wife called my daughter that evening and made it clear that on Mother's Day, if a woman has children, her husband belongs with her.

What is your opinion? if I am wrong, tell me. And please, will you print this letter as close to Mother's Day as possible? Thank you.—A Boy's Best Friend

Dear Friend: I am printing your letter on Mother's Day, and since all Sunday papers come out in the morning, there is still time for your son to tell his wife he is taking his mother to the church banquet. I hope he is man enough to do it and I wish you the happiest Mother's Day ever.

Dear Ann Landers: I gather from reading your column that you don't approve of people dropping in without an invitation or some advance warning. The last time you commented on this sort of thing you said it was either "a sign of lunacy or pathetic timidity to be at the mercy of any clod who happens to know how to ring a doorbell."

My friends and relatives will find my latch-string out any time of the day or night.

I was raised in Michigan by simple, down-to-earth, homey folks. Who raised you?- Welcome Mat Out For One And All

Dear Mat: I was raided by simple, down-to-earth, homey folks in Iowa, and that's about as grass rootsy as you can get.

If your latch-string is out for one and all (day and night, yet!) bully for you. But I don't want drop-in company, and neither do the majority of folks (both plain and fancy) who have written to say so.

People who are considerate, not to mention sensitive, will give you a fighting chance and telephone first. They won't suddenly appear at your door when you have a load of laundry to iron, a kid with tonsilitis, or a column to write.

Dear Ann Landers: My boyfriend is a freshman at Boston U. He sends me a postcard nearly every day-mostly gags, like a picture of Buckingham Palace and he'll write on the back, "It's small but it's home..." Lately he has been doing something that bothers me. He's a lousy typist but his typographical errors always seem to have some special message. For example, today: "How great to have a lover and a friend all in one..." Yesterday: "You have a lovely disposition but I'm sure the beast is yet to come." Friday's card was something else: Santa Barbara is God's garden spot. I'm having a ball. Wish you were her."

Do you think these typos mean anything?—His Princess

Dear Princess: Yes-they mean he's a needle artist who has found an old joke book. Ignore the barbs and let the clown enjoy himself.

Discover how to be date bait without falling hook, line and sinker.

Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's And Dont's," will help you be more poised and sure of yourself on dates. Send 35c in coin along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and your request to this newspaper.

WHEN FATHER WAS A BOY

The old home town has changed a lot since I was just a boy,
For in those days, the old home owned store was all we ever had,
I remember how the boss would come and meet us at the door,
He always made us feel at home, when we were in his store.

And when some roads were needed, and other work was done,
The owners of our local stores were always called upon,
When other things were needed to make a better town,
They were always glad to do their share, they never turned it down.

And now and then t'would happen, folks would need a little stuff,
To keep them through the winter, when times were kind of tough,
But it didn't seem to matter, for the man who owned the store,
Would always give these folks some credit and deliver to their door.

But everything is different now, it isn't like it was,
When we were kids. Do you know why, it's because
The chain stores all have come to town, it seems they have control.
And it seems a man just doesn't own his body or his soul.

Oh yes, their stores are pretty, and their windows have flash,
But they never know a person if they haven't got the cash.
For their bosses live on Wall Street and we're a bunch of fools,
If you think those fellows care a darn about our church or schools.
Now listen folks, can we afford to sacrifice our rights,,
Shall we neglect our townsmen when we see our chain store bright?
Shall we forget our pioneers who builded our town?
Shall we allow the outside stores to tear the whole thing down?

I think I know your answer folks, I hope that you'll say no,
Let's own our little city like we used to years ago,
Let's patronize our local stores and keep the cash at home,
And let the doggone chain stores start a city of their own.

N.D.D.H.S. students hear interesting talk on China

On Thursday, May 10, 1973, Mrs Mellan's Senior Regional Geography students and Mr Ward's Senior World Religion students were presented an interesting illustrated talk on Mainland China.

Our thinking on China as a "closed door" nation was changed by our guest speaker who found herself on Red China's doorstep with the door wide open. Our speaker lived with Chinese families and was able to provide a first hand, modern picture of the Chinese people - at home, at work, at play, at school; the children, the young adults, the elderly; agriculture, industry, rural families, urban families; and even close-up views of surgery performed under accupuncture.

Our guest speaker was Miss Carol Lane of Westmount H.S., Hamilton, Ontario. Miss Lane spent three weeks in China with a group of students. The assistant co-ordinator of the China talks was Mr P. A. Plumb, Geography Department Head, in conjunction with the S.D.&G. District Geographers.

Premier to stress tourism during U.K. trade mission

TORONTO — Premier William Davis will make a strong appeal to British travel agents and tourism promotors to "sell" Ontario as a prime vacation spot when he leads a top-level trade and investment mission to the United Kingdom May 13.

While the chief aims of the mission are to bolster Ontario's trade position now that Britain has joined the expanded European Economic Community, the Premier said he also wants to increase the flow of tourist dollars to Ontario from Britain.

"Since 1968 Ontario has received slightly over 50 per cent of the total number of U.K. visitors entering Canada," Mr Davis said. "But the balance of payments of the travel account between Canada and the U.K. has shown a constantly increasing deficit which reached a high of $138 million in 1971."

The Premier said that 82,700 British visitors came to Ontario in 1971 and spent $23.1 million, but this was 800 fewer visitors than the previous year resulting in about $200,000 less being spent in Ontario.

While on his three-day visit to London, Mr Davis will outline to a large tourist industry audience some of the strides being taken to increase the tourist dollars coming to Ontario.

"One encouraging feature of our program to attract more U.K. visitors," said Mr Davis, "is that 19 major tour operators in Britain now include Ontario in their annual catalogues, while none did a few years ago."

"We have had, as well, preliminary discussions with a large British hotel chain seeking expansion in Ontario," Mr Davis said. "Another prime British travel concern involved in transportation, tours and hotels is exploring investment in Ontario with a package tour program."

The Premier noted too that Ontario's interest is not all one way as Ontario hoteliers are finding investment opportunities in Britain, the most recent of these being the Commonwealth Holiday Inns of London, Ontario.

In addition, Mr Davis said Air Canada expects to increase promotion substantially next year aimed at the low-price package tour market.

The Premier said Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism surveys shows that 30 per cent of British visitors to Canada give recreation as their main reason for coming.

"And surely," he said, "Ontario has the unparalleled playground facilities required to increase this percentage dramatically."

The May meeting of the Dixon W.I. was held on May 3 at the home of Mrs Forest Fisher with an attendance of nine members and two visitors. Mrs Percy Prieur, newly elected president, chaired the meeting assisted by secretary treasurer, Mrs Vera Armstrong. Farm vacations could be cash crop

More and more Ontario holiday-seekers are looking for a vacation close to home. They want something different and exciting, but not too far from the front door. For many, an Ontario farm vacation is an attractive and relatively inexpensive choice.

A growing number of farmers are taking advantage of this new vacation market to supplement their incomes and meet people whose way of life is a little different from their own. They are also taking advantage of provincial grants, and training programs sponsored by the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, designed to assist them to get into the vacation business on a solid footing.

Rates now being charged by farmers acting as vacation hosts range from $60 to $75 per week for adults and from $35 to $40 per week for children. Farmers who are interested and wish to obtain further information should get in touch with their agricultural representative at their local office of the Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Friends will be glad to learn that Mr Egerton Barkley is gaining after undergoing surgery at Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

Mr and Mrs Gordon Whittaker and children, Iroquois, visited Mr and Mrs J. H. McMillan on Mother's Day.

Mr and Mrs Leroy Hutt and Lorranine, Chesterville, were Mother's Day supper guests of Mr and Mrs Don Dillabough.

St. Lawrence Parks opened May 15

KINGSTON — Gunfire will ripple along the ramparts of Old Fort Henry each Wednesday and Saturday evening this summer. For tourists, and residents it will signal the performance of the fort's internationally famous Sunset Ceremony.

The fortress, one of the finest historic sites in North America is one of three major recreational projects in Eastern Ontario and the Seaway Valley managed by the Commission. The others are Upper Canada Village, near Morrisburg, and the sprawling, 170-mile long St. Lawrence Parks System.

At the western end of the system stand the grey walls, guns, and museum at Old Fort Henry.

It was the War of 1812, between the United States and Britain, which gave birth to the Fort. For as the military leaders of the time realized, the town of Kingston, Ontario commanded a strategic position along the St. Lawrence River. The original fort was started in 1812; the present fort was completed in 1836. Over the years it fell into disrepair, and remained in this state until 1936 when restoration was begun. It was opened in 1938 as a tourist attraction under the jurisdiction of the Department of Highways, and in 1958 was transferred to The St. Lawrence Parks Commission.

Old Fort Henry is best known for the Fort Henry Guard, made up of university students. Dressed in the colourful scarlet and blue uniforms of the British Army of the 1867 era, the guard provides a rare glimpse of Canada's military past. There are also daily displays of sentry changing, cannon salutes, infantry and artillery drill.

During July and August each Wednesday and Saturday evening the 105 man guard, band and artillery drill team present a Sunset Ceremonial commencing at 7:30 p.m. The ceremonial consists of displays by the fifes and drums, infantry tactics and a battle sequence supported by artillery. The programme finishes with the playing of Retreat, and East Battery Salute and the lowering of the flag to signify the end of the day.

Dates of operation: May 15 to September 15.

From shoemaking, breadmaking, tailoring, kitchenware, weaponry, infantry, artillery and Sunset drill ceremony displays Old Fort Henry, under the direction of The St. Lawrence Parks Commission presents one of Canada's most detailed and impressive military spectacles.

The Commission's second historic site, totally accurate to the finest detail is Upper Canada Village. It is a remarkable monument to the courage and style of the United Empire Loyalists who first came to the Eastern Ontario area more than 100 years ago. Many of the present buildings in Upper Canada Village are original and were moved to their present location after river water flooded the first homesteads. With more than 40 homes, churches and general community buildings, the Village also houses industrial and agricultural exhibits. The setting, in fact, shows the style and way of life of an Ontario village during the period 1784 and 1867. The Village itself is a living museum.

Dressed in costumes of the period, artisans, attendants, housewives, tradesmen and farm helpers carry out their daily tasks as did their forefathers 150 years ago. In the buildings are hundreds of furnishings and artifacts donated by, or purchased from descendants of the original families of the area.

Pause for lunch or dinner at Willard's Hotel in the cozy atmosphere of 1850; visit Cook's Tavern, where strong colours and a gracious ball room greet today's travellers as warmly as they did in 1835.

Upper Canada Village is unique. For nowhere else in Canada is there existing today a more authentic, and exciting, example of life as it was lived by Canada's early settlers.

Adjacent to the Village is Upper Canada Restaurant, a modern air conditioned restaurant seating 200.

And just north of Highway 2, opposite the entrance to Upper Canada Village, is the 18-hole championship Upper Canada Golf Course with club house facilities.

Upper Canada Village is open from mid-May to mid-October.

The St. Lawrence Parks system is itself the major playground of Eastern Ontario, with 6,200 acres of riverside parkland stretching from the Bay of Quinte to the Quebec border. It has 2, 460 camp and trailer sites on 14 campgrounds, offering a wide choice of location and scenery. The campsites are large and well maintained. There are modern lavatory buildings, electrical outlets and trailer dumping stations. The day-use areas have large sandy beaches, concession facilities, picnic tables and water safety supervision.

Beginning its 13th year of operations, The St. Lawrence Parks Commission is a major contribution to the recreational and economic life of Eastern Ontario.

More than 30 million people have visited and enjoyed Commission projects since they began operation in 1961.

GIRLS EAGER

NEW YORK—Girls are more eager than boys to go to the altar. A survey of teenagers found that 42 per cent of girls, but only 14 per cent of the boys expected to be married by their 21st birthday. Some 23 per cent of the boys—only 13 per cent of the girls—expressed doubt about ever getting married.

Eastern Counties form TB & Respiratory Disease Association

As a result of the amalgamation of the St. Lawrence TB & Health Association and the Prescott-Russell TB & RD Association, a new Associate of the Ontario TB & RD Association has been formed.

On May 8 at the Cornwallis Hotel, Board members and friends of the former groups, gathered to hold the initial meeting of the Eastern Counties TB & Respiratory Disease Association and to elect officers for the 1973-74 fiscal year. Mr Fred W. Bradley, Past President of C.T.R.D.A., chaired the meeting, at which Dr. Beverley Lynn of Kingston was guest speaker. Dr. Lynn told his audience of the need to remain vigilent to the ongoing danger of Tuberculosis. He emphasized the important role Christmas Seal Associations play, in making the general public aware of the many Respiratory Diseases and TB; the means of Prevention, Control and Rehabilitation. Dr. Lynn singled out cigarette smoking and water pollution as two of the most serious health hazards of the day, and noted that the incidence of Emphysema and Bronchitis are increasing at a rapid pace each year, and presently contribute to more deaths than lung cancer.

Mr Archiblad MacDonell of Williamstown was elected President of the new Association which now serves the 5 Eastern Counties. Elected Christmas Seal Chairman for 1973 was Mr Jack McIntosh of Winchester.

Other officers elected were: Hon. Treasurer, Don Dunster, Cornwall; O.T.R.D.A. Reps., G. Paquette, Hawkesbury and G. Holland, Cornwall; Seal Co-chairman, L. Pressault, Hawkesbury; Education Co-chairman, Mrs Carolyn Barclay, Cornwall; Rehabilitation Co-chairman, W. Morris, Cornwall; Medical Advisor, Dr. R. V. Peters, M.O.H. for the five Counties.

The Board of the Eastern Counties TB & Respiratory Disease Association is made up of a minimum of 6 members from the Prescott and Russell Counties and 12 from Stormont-Dundas and Glengarry, being based on one representative for each 8,000 of population in the relative counties. The office will be maintained in Cornwall, with Mrs Barbara Dunster continuing as the Association's Secretary.

The new Association will continue the work of the previous two Associates, conducting the annual Christmas Seal Campaign to raise funds for Health Education, Rehabilitation and Research.

Deep River students win Chrysler award

OTTAWA, Ontario--April 24, 1973--A two-man student team representing MacKenzie High School of Deep River, Ontario today won the 1973 Chrysler Trouble Shooting Regional Contest held at the St. Laurent Shopping Centre in Ottawa.

They are: Douglas MacDonald, 19 and Robert Beauchamp, 17.

Their victory over teams from other secondary and vocational schools in this area entitles them to compete in the National Finals of the Chrysler Trouble Shooting Contest. to be held in Winnipeg June 18-20. There they will compete with 19 other regional champions from across Canada for scholarships totalling $6,000.

Twelve school teams took part in today's competition. When the starting gun was fired, the teams raced to their cars to find and repair a series of mal functions deliberately rigged by Chrysler personnel.

Before the Trouble Shooting section of the contest got under way, each team took a written examination which counted for 40 percent of their final score.

A special trophy for the highest mark on the written exam was presented to Paul Dolan, 18 and James Bole, also 18, of Arnprior District High School, Arnprior, Ontario.

The overall prize list in this year's competition totals more than $50,000 in scholarships, tools, trophies and automotive components for the competing schools.

Board explains French Immersion program at Avonmore meeting

A public meeting, to explain the French immersion Program was held in Avonmore last Monday evening, May 7. Representatives from the S.D.&G. Board of Education were on hand to explain the proposed program and answer questions. The meeting was held to get the feelings of those present and take these feelings back to the Board.

The proposal was to extend the teaching of French to a greater extent in the county public schools. It was inferred by the Board representatives that the present set-up was very expensive and not the most successful. Representatives were very emphatic that the new program would not take anything away from the present system but should add to it.

It was pointed out by the Board that it would be very difficult to implement the program in certain areas and not offer it to all parts of the three counties.

It was brought forth during the question and answer period that teachers which would be hired would have to possess a teacher's certificate and be bilingual. This type of teacher at present is in short supply, but representatives were sure this situation would soon be rectified.

At times the meeting was very vociferous and many of the questions, aimed at the chair, brought rounds of applause from the large crowd of interested persons.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to all my relatives, neighbours and friends who remembered me with cards, gifts, flowers and calls while I was a patient in Winchester Hospital. Special thanks to Father Lamarche, Dr. H. W. Justus and the hospital staff on Second floor for their kindness.

YOU CAN DO IT

BY TOM TREMFIX

Question: Our favourite rocking chair, an old wooden one that's been in the family a long time, is beginning to look bad because the varnish is dull and even worn off in some spots. We'd like to refinish it but dread the thought of trying to remove all the old varnish. Isn't there an easier way?

Answer: There sure is. Instead of varnish, use Tremco's improved polyurethane Fasteron wood finish. It's available in clear gloss or satin finish. The satin finish minimizes imperfections in older surfaces and produces an attractive rubbed effect.

Best of all, you can apply Fasteron directly over the old varnish, and it dries in just two hours. For best results, sand any blistered areas or rough spots and then remove all wax, polish, dust, or dirt by washing the chair with pure turpentine and clean rags. Brush a coat of Fasteron on all the worn areas first. Then, after these have dried in two hours, apply the finish to the entire chair. Two hours later, your chair will be sealed, protected against wear, and look great. And, it won't need waxing.

Fasteron, by the way, is formulated for use on all types of wood surfaces, both indoors and outdoors. You can apply it to floors, stairs, kitchen cabinets, bar tops, plywood panels, doors, tables, and even boats. Use it right over varnished, lacquered, sanded, or unfinished wood surfaces. It resists fresh and salt water, and is nonexplosive. One Imperial gallon covers approximately 500 square feet.

For more information on this improved polyurethane wood finish, write Tom Tremfix, The Tremco Manufacturing Company, (Canada), Ltd. Toronto, Ontario M4H 1G7.

The do's and don'ts of transplanting

TALKING GARDENING with

'DOC' HARTNOLL

Divide perennial phlox, Shasta daisies, gaillardias as soon as you can work in the flower bed without sinking up to your knees in mud. When setting out transplants of any kind, including perennials, annuals and vegetables use a soluable plant food like Instant Vigoro to remove the shock of transplanting. Your plants will get a much faster start and be stronger.

There are, however, certain plants that do not like to be transplanted. These would include the annual poppies, salpiglossis, mignonette annual phlox. If necessary to transplant them the seedlings should be grown in small pots so they can be moved where desired without disturbing their roots.

Shrubs, Evergreens and Trees

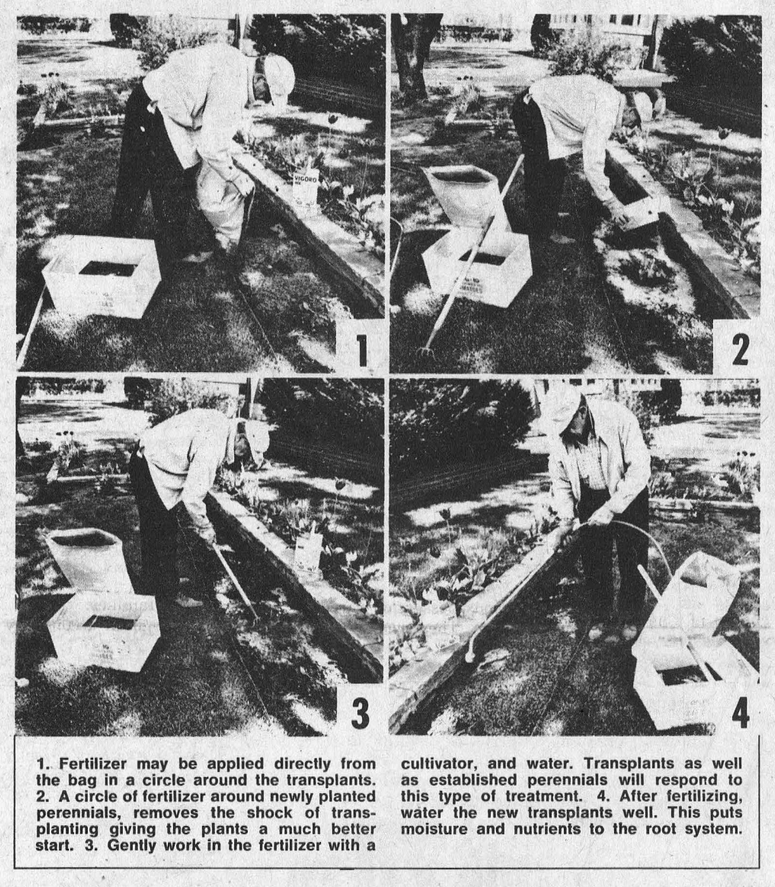
Here again, there are times when a plant has been planted in the wrong place and transplanting is a must, the proper time to move any of the deciduous trees and shrubs is before they come into leaf, it isn't a difficult thing to move a plant from one area to another and do it successfully. Dig around the shrub, and keep as much soil as possible around the root system, it's a good idea to water around the shrub before digging, this will tend to hold the soil around the roots. Before digging the plant it's best to prepare the new location, and make the new hole larger so that the roots can spread out.

I like to work in some Pink Vigoro at this time, to remove the shock. Then once the hole is dug in the new location, I'll dig that shrub I'm going to move. If it's on my property, I'll get a burlap bag, place the dug shrub on it and pull across the area to where the new location has been selected, then gently place it in the hole and put the top soil around the root system. Water well. You'll have better results if you'll carry out this chore on an overcast day. If its sunny, then you'd be most wise to protect the shrub from the strong rays of the sun that would tend to dry out the newly transplanted shrub. Balled and burlapped trees and shrubs, purchased from your local nurseryman will transplant more successfully as the roots are not susceptible to drying out. When set in the place where you want it to grow permanently, make sure to feed it.

Don'ts

Don't try to move oriental poppies in the spring, wait until fall when they go dormant. Peonies are transplanted in the fall, because the flower buds have alredy formed for this year's production. Evergreens require plenty of water after transplanting or moving, and for that reason fall is a much better time, unless they are purchased 'balled and burlapped' from your local nurseryman, when they can be planted at any time.

If you have any questions write to me, at Garden Information Centre, 165 University Avenue, Toronto 1, Ontario enclosing a stamped addressed envelope.



1. Fertilizer may be applied directly from the bag in a circle around the transplants. 2. A circle of fertilizer around newly planted perennials, removes the shock of transplanting giving the plants a much better start. 3. Gently work in the fertilizer with a cultivator, and water. Transplants as well as established perennials will respond to this type of treatment. 4. After fertilizing, water the new transplants well. This puts moisture and nutrients to the root system.

Mrs. D. Casselman hosts Finch W.I.

The May meeting of the Finch W.I. was held in the home of Mrs Donald Casselman with Mrs Joe Dingemans presiding. There were fifteen members present.

After opening exercises the roll call "a vegetable I have in my garden" brought a limited response from members present, since few vegetables are growing at this time of year.

Three delegates were appointed to attend the District Annual on May 17 at Berwick. the date for the Home Bake Sale was set for Saturday, May 19 at 1:30 p.m. Leaders for clubs "Never a Dull Meal" and "Creative Stitchery" thanked the ladies for their gifts of pillow cases and cups and saucers.

Program Convenor Mrs Donald Casselman first read her report from the Distirct Directors meeting. There followed an interesting Questionnaire on Old Age ranging from "Should Senior Citizens live alone?" to "What importance does a planned Social Programme play in their daily lives?" This brought forth some illuminating and thought-provoking answers from members.

The programme concluded by a reading of humorous anecdotes and poems.

The annual event of sale and exchange of slips, plants, bulbs and herbs was then conducted by members who had brought something and were buying something in return.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the Queen and a delicious lunch was served by hostesses Mrs Donald Casselman, Mrs George Smith, and Mrs Joe Dingemans.

Man and Resources conference to be held in Toronto

TORONTO — Some 170 citizen delegates from across Ontario are expected to participate in a provincial meeting here this weekend to prepare Ontario's input to the Man and Resources National Conference in Toronto November 18-22.

The Man and Resources Conference sponsored by the Canadian Council of Resource and Environment Ministers, will provide Canadians with a unique opportunity to propose guidelines to the federal and provincial governments on a dozen crucial environmental and resource issues.

The Ontario meeting which will be held Friday evening and Saturday at the Westbury Hotel is one of 11 such provincial and territorial meetings taking place in Canada during May and June. Representatives from a wide range of community interest groups and their consulting committees of experts in the issue areas will get together for the first time to decide Ontario's submission to the national conference.

On Saturday, Ontario's 48 citizen conference delegates will be elected on a regional basis, together with eight from the province's regional working groups. In addition, the conference will be attended by eight representatives from provincial organizations, as well as four from native people's organizations in Ontario.

The issues, identified during a national workshop at Montebello, Quebec, last fall are: citizen participation, population, growth ethic, qualitative and quantitative data, education, long-term planning, environmental protection, northern development, integral planning, foreign ownership, ownership, energy.

The meeting will be addressed at noon on Saturday by Dr. J. K. Reynolds, Ontario's Deputy Provincial Secretary for Resources Development.

'Grassland Day' places emphasis on forages

"With as much emphasis on management, fertilizer, weed and pest control in forage crops, I feel I can make a good case for forages over corn in Eastern Ontario," one Eastern Ontario farmer said recently.

Considering both this attitude and the fact that 700,000 acres of land in Eastern Ontario are growing hay and seeded pasture, while only 465,000 acres are producing other crops, the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food are co-operating to put more emphasis on forages.

In order to focus attention on forages a Grassland Day will be held at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology on June 12, 1973.

Activities will centre around the growing, handling and utilization of forages.

Demonstration plots and fields of forages have been established to form the basis of tours. Forage production practices and short demonstrations on seeding, spraying and moisture determination will be given.

In forage handling, equipment fitting into a hay or haylage handling system will be emphasized rather than the operation of the machines. A display area will be available where machinery companies can display equipment which is directly involved in perennial forage production abnd handling.

The Livestock Section of the College will provide information on programs which are designed to reduce the feed bill for both dairy and beef cattle through the use of forage as hay, silage and pasture.

Exhibits and displays will provide information on topics such as farm drainage, machinery safety and forage quality.

A feature of the noon hour program will be an address by Mr D. L. Parks, Deputy Minister of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and Marketing, formerly of the Kemptville College staff where he was very active in research and promotion of forages in Eastern Ontario.

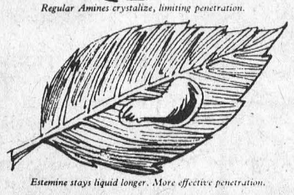
Regular Amines crystalize, limiting penetration.



Estemine stays liquid longer. More effective penetration.

ESTEMINE
Not a wonder herbicide. Just a super amine. Stays liquid longer for maximum penetration.
The problem with regular amines is crystal clear.
They form bead-like droplets which crystalize on leaves before the chemical has time to penetrate satisfactorily.
Estemine is a non-volatile weed killer with all the safety features of regular amines but none of their problems.
It spreads instead of beading. And because it spreads, it covers a greater surface of the leaf, so more of it penetrates the weed where it can do most harm, and your crop the most good.
It will cost you a few pennies more per acre for weed control that's proven better than any 2,4-D or MCPA Amine weed killer you've ever used before.

Libraries receive Provincial funds to improve service

Hon. Jack McNie, minister of Colleges and Universities should advise all municipalities that the additional funds granted public libraries this year were given to improve library service and are not to be considered as a means of reducing the local tax levy.

This resolution, to be forwarded to the Minister by Mervyn Dickey, Prescott, Eastern Ontario Public Library System Board, was unanimously passed by Eastern Ontario Public Library Trustees meeting in Smith Falls on Saturday.

Financially hard pressed public libraries have been urging the provincial government for over two years to increase assistance. Now that additional funds have been granted, trustees fear that if these monies are directed by municipalities towards lowering the tax levy, as some have suggested they might, public libraries will be no better off than before. Services might be reduced rather than improved and extended to meet increased public demand.

At the week-end regional meeting, the trustees also endorsed a resolution stating that it is the responsibility of the provincial government to ensure that public library service is available to all citizens of Ontario and urging that financial incentives be provided to make this a reality.

Mrs Edna Tietze, Kitchener, a member of the Commission on Post-Secondary Education in Ontario spoke to the trustees about the expanded role public libraries will play in the future, less structured field of education as recommended by the commission.

If public libraries are to fulfill this educational function, she emphasized, they must become more involved with the community and ensure that both the public and governments are aware of their needs.

SAFETY PATROL JAMBOREE TO BE HELD IN OTTAWA

On May 19th, 1973, the Fourtheenth National School Safety Patrol Jamboree is being held in Ottawa. The Jamboree is organized by the Canadian Automobile Association and its member clubs across Canada in co-operation with the Ottawa Police Department as a method of saying "thank you" to School Patrollers.

The week of the parade, May 13th to May 19th, is being declared National Safety Patrol Week by the Prime Minister of Canada. Patrols from coast to coast are coming to the capital for the occasion. It is expected that over 7,500 will be participating. The Ottawa Patrols are very enthusiastic about the event, resulting in greater interest in the patrol Movement.

We thought that you, having Safety Patrols, and being within driving distance of Ottawa, might want your Patrols to join us in this parade.

Patrols will line up on MacKenzie Avenue between Confederation Square(Plaza) and St. Patrick Street. All Patrols have to be in position by five minutes after ten in the morning (10:05 a.m.) Saturday, May 19th.

At ten-fifteen (10:15 a.m.) the parade moves off west on Wellington Street in the East Gate of Parliament Hill grounds, west of the East Block, then by the front of the peace Tower.

In front of the Peace Tower, a reviewing stand will have been erected and it is hoped the Prime Minister of Canada will review the Patrollers as they march by. He will be joined by Police officials and other government representatives.

The parade then continues down the East Side of the West Block exiting from Parliament Hill from the West Gate, proceeding south on Bank Street to Somerset to O'Connor to Argyle where a fleet of O.T.C. buses will transport the Patrollers to the Civic Centre, Lansdowne Park.

At the Centre, box lunches consisting of a sandwich and two chocolate bars, along with a soft drink will be served. While the Patrollers are sitting in the Centre eating lunch, a special Patrol performance of a circus, lasting about one and a half hours, will entertain them.

From ten to twelve bands will parade with the patrols.

If you are interested in sending your Safety Patrols, would you be kind enough to let us know by April 30th, 1973, so that we might reserve a spot in the parade for your group.

You would supply transportation for the patrollers to Ottawa and home again, a chaperone or two, depending on the number of Patrollers you send, and the police safety officer who is in charge of the Patrollers to march at the head of the group in uniform, (he could act as a chaperone). The cost is $1.25 per person.

Each city should supply a banner with its name on it—size six feet wide by one and a half feet deep, colour yellow with black lettering. These colours are conducive to photographing as there will be national television and newspaper coverage. All Safety Patrollers should wear their white or orange belts for the parade.

In forming up on the parade grounds, first the banner, then flags (if any), the police officer next, then the Captains, the Lieutenants, with the Patrollers three abreast behind them. A little training in how to march, and "Eyes Right" for passing the prime Minister on the reviewing stand will help make your group look sharp. Any other extras such as uniformity of dress, etc., will also enchance their appearance

In the event of inclement weather, the Ottawa radio stations will broadcast repeated messages stating at 9:30 a.m. indicating the cancellation of the parade. Should this occur, kindly proceed directly to the Civic Centre, Lansdowne Park to arrive no later than 11:30 a.m.

As we said before, there will be groups from every province of Canada participating and we hope that you will be able to join us. This parade can serve as a reward to your Patrollers for the work they are doing at the school crossings throughout the year, and will encourage the Safety Patrol Movement in your area.

When all returns are in, a plan of the parade will be prepared and sent to all participating groups indicating their position in the parade.

This plan will relate to streets to assist you in locating your position in forming up for the parade.

W.I. conference training school for officers

The 25th Officer Conference of Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario met at the University of Waterloo, May 1, 2 and 3. Despite grey sky and rain, 637 delegates came by plane, train, bus and car to the lovely campus. The vast majority were attending the Conference for the first time. The purpose of this conference of Women's Institute members is a training school for officers. This time the groups were Secretary - Treasurer, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Wm. G. Miller, Highland Creek; Citizenship & World Affairs convenership, under chairman Mrs. John Hermansen, Weston; members - at - large group, with Mrs. Edward Urstadt, Owen Sound.

On the first day 550 members were taken by bus to visit the Erland Lee Home which the Women's Institute purchased last year. Mr. Lee was co-founder with Mrs. Hoodless of the Women's Institute. There was also a tour of the computer centre at the Waterloo University. There were several showings of the seventy-fifth Anniversary tape, which took place at Toronto in February 1972. It also afforded the women the opportunity to visit the Public Relations display set up in Village 11 and purchase the Ontario W.I. story "Humanities in Homespun", by Dr. Ethel Chapman, Contributing membership to the Associated Countrywomen of the World, and other W.I. supplies. This is arranged by the Provincial public relations Officer Mrs. Harvey Houston, Lucknow. Details of the Conference were in charge of Conference Secretary - Treasurer, Mrs. Robt. B. Weber, Bloomingdale and the bus tours to the Erland Lee Home by the chairman of the Home committee, Mrs. Austin Zoeller, New Hamburg.

May 2nd, the Conference met in the Humanities Theatre. Mrs. Harvey Noblitt Ottawa, Provincial president spoke on the theme: "When the freedom they wished for most was freedom from responsibility, then Athens ceased to be free and was never free again" — Edith Hamilton (Historian).

To the Greeks their most precious possession was their freedom. They were willing to fight for it, if it meant death to the last man. Freedom was born in Greece because men limited their own freedom. Self discipline was a way of life, the limits were good. There was a willing obedience to the written and the unwritten law. They revered their government and gladly served it. Responsibility is the price every man had to pay for freedom. When we relinquish to administrative bodies our rights and responsibilities, even our homes are threatened, children have been set against parents, parent against parent, families against families.

A delightful Wednesday evening session entitled "You Can do it", presented a monologue by Mrs. John Richardson, St. Marys; a skit by Board Directors, Mrs. Edward Urstadt, Mrs. Emerson Emke, Mrs. Herb Maluske, of the Grey - Bruce Area, advice on how to attain new members. During the convention Mrs. Noblitt reported 142 branches of the 1,292 in Ontario had attained a 20% increase in membership. A skit by Mrs. John T. Taylor and Mrs. Ford Sudden, Galt - Cambridge area, and several "Let's Sing" sessions led by Mrs. Laurel Maltby, rounded out an evening of relaxation.

A welcome to the Campus was extended by the president of the University, Dr. Bert Mathews. has had a long association with the FWIO and Ontario is a better place in which to live because of the efforts of the Women's Institutes for Home and Country.

Mrs. J. R. Futcher was president when the first Officer Conference was proposed in 1948. Because she was unable to attend, her address was read by Mrs. Noblitt. The first secretary - treasurer, Mrs. John McCulloch, Brampton was introduced. An account of the first Conference is in the summer issue of Home and Country Magazine, 1949. Mrs. Futcher, in her address said "a friend is one to whom one may pour out the contents of ones heart, chaff and grain alike; knowing that the gentlests of hands will take it, and sift it — keep what is worth keeping — and with the breath of kindness, blow the rest away.

The Very Reverend Dr. Finlay G. Stewart, Kitchener addressed the final session on Thursday afternoon. His topic was "New Freedoms". We had stated four great freedoms twenty-five years ago. They were freedom of Expression, of Worship, from Fear, and Freedom from Want. We have opted out on most of these great areas for lack of real responsibility. We have become echos and no longer have the right of self expression when personal opinion disappears. We have lost the right of Freedom of Worship. 50% do not wish to worship anything more notably greater than themselves. Freedom from Fear - no. We are the most frightened of all generations. Children are afraid of authority. Parents are afraid of children. All of us are afraid of tomorrow, and a dozen other areas make us tremble. Freedom from want — We are a world rich in resources and knowledge, available to everyone to become real people. What are the Freedoms? Freedom to Excel - this is a new exciting freedom available to everyone to become real people. Freedom to believe — Man can't live in a vacuum. He has to believe something about himself, others and the resources about him. What he believes will determine what history writes about him. Freedom for moral judgement - we have all the freedoms to ask - is it right?

There is not always a clear right and wrong to every issue. Freedom to live ahead of our times. These are not times when we can wait for a long drawn plan to unfold. These are times when the goals of future decades are set. Perhaps the collapse of old freedoms may give us a new exciting freedom for to-morrow.

Ontario Hydro has new policy - wants parks on rights-of-way

In a new policy announced today by Ontario Hydro Chairman George Gathercole, hydro will make available to municipalities at $1 a year land suitable for park purposes on rights-of-way presently used as corridors for electrical transmission lines.

The land will be leased for a specific period of up to 25 years, Mr Gathercole said. "In the event that Hydro requires the land -- and these cases are likely to be exceptional -- it will reimburse the municipality fully for its capital expenditures on the the park."

Mr Gathercole said, "We want to encourage more uses of power line rights-of-way for a number of purposes and we consider their function as public parks and recreational facilities as particularly desirable."

Previously, he said, the municipalities have failed to take advantage of the opportunity of developing these lands and integrating them into their park system because of the shorter term leases, the risk that their investments on such parklands might be lost, and rental payments payable to Hydro equal to part of the taxes on the lands required under our former policies.

Under the new policy, Ontario Hydro will ask no provision for relief of taxes or grants from municipalities. It will need, however, to maintain routine access to the transmission line towers, provision for anti-climbing barriers and any other safety features as necessary. These will be built by Onatio Hydro at its own expense.

Mr Gathercole said, "Many Hydro rights-of-way are now being used in Ontario areas for a variety of purposes other than transmitting power. Several are used as part of golf courses, some as surface lines for subways at certain sections of their routes and some for bicycle paths and walkways. We also are considering setting aside some land for garden plots."

One of the more unusual uses is the "Kiss 'n Ride," provision at the Finch Avenue subway stop in Metro Toronto. It gets its name from the fact that cars can be driven across a right-of-way to the subway entrance and spouses can kiss their mates goodby before the juorney into downtown Toronto.

To gain a better knowledge of the policies and operations of municipal parks, meetings are being held between Hydro and park officials of a number of municipalities. Preliminary have been held with park officials of Metropolitan Toronto, the City of Toronto and the Boroughs of Scarborough, North York, Etobicoke, York and East York.

Municipalities, government agencies and many other organizations including commercial users will now have the opportunity of developing Hydro right-of-way for public parks and recreational purposes, thereby expanding their recreational areas at relatively little cost and no risk of losing their investment."

FARM NEWS

If you are a little discouraged with the prospects of getting a crop in the ground, you would have a lot of sympathy. The three previous spring seasons have all been late and 1972 was a real disaster. But things looked very good up until April 27. Now after two straight weeks of rain you have to wonder just when the weather will clear up or if we are in for another of those years.

If over the years, you have been discouraged over the prospect of heavy taxes when the family farm would be transferred within the family, you have reason to be smiling today. A whole raft of tax law changes have removed this problem for those who are fortunate enough to have a son or daughter who is interested in taking over the farm.

When the capital gains tax idea was made law by the federal government over a year ago, they did away with estate and gift taxes. However, the Ontario government still had succession duties and they brought in a gift tax. It looked too, like the capital gains tax on well managed farms would be big enough over a generation to discourage a lot of people.

In February, the Turner Budget brought news that the capital gains tax would not apply to farms being left to children for farming purposes. This meant the transfer would have to be held up till the parent died. Pressure on government has since brought a change of heart, and this exemption will now apply to transfers that take place when a parent retires. In effect then, the capital gains tax will be delayed till the farm passes from family hands.

Up until the time the capital gains tax was introduced on January 1st, 1972, it was possible to transfer a once-in-a-lifetime gift of up to $10,000 tax free in the form of farm real estate to a son for farming purposes. When the federal government removed the gift tax, this provision disappeared. The Ontario government did not include this idea when it brought in the Ontario gift tax legislation.

However the recent Ontario budget has changed this in a most favourable way. It will now be possible to transfer up to $50,000 of farm real estate to a family member free from gift tax. The details are not worked out as this is written but we can expect them to have similar restrictions as the previous federal legislation.

At the same time, a change was made in the Succession Duty Act in Ontario. It will now be possible to transfer farm property between spouses without tax. While succession duties will apply on estate over $100,000 left to children, a family farm left within the family will be able to gain exemption from duty. It will be on a sliding scale basis provided the farm remains in the family hands and as long as it is operated as a farm. Each year that is farmed 1-25 of the succession duties will be forgiven. As an example if it is sold out of the family or goes to some other use than farming in ten years' time, then only 40 percent of the succession duties would be forgiven. At the same time, if it remains as a family farm for 25 years it would be forgiven.

While some of these are still in the process of being made law, things have surely picked up in the past three months for those who support the idea that Ontario's agriculture must continue to be based on the family farm.

Bearded Prowler Works At Night

Hot summer weather forces fish and fishermen into a round of nocturnal activity when both feeding and fishing are more comfortable. Southern anglers like to pursue bass at this time, while elsewhere catfish become the most sought specie.

When the sun disappears, "Mr. Whiskers" begins prowling his favorite feeding grounds, and the smart fisherman will be waiting at the right place with the right bait.

Night fishing for channel catfish can be just as exciting as night bass fishing. The only difference is in the methods used. Here are some tips from Red Fisher, the Mercury outboards' fishing expert, that will help assure a night of fishing fun.

Catfish feed from the bottom of a lake or river, moving upstream and into shallow water as their search broadens. Feeding activity begins at dusk and could continue all night. Favorite catfish baits include minnows, crayfish, shrimp, chicken entrails, worms and prepared "stink" baits that live up to their name.

For stream fishing, anchor your boat just above a deep eddy. Cast downstream, long enough so that the bait will be on bottom where the water begins to deepen. Use a sliding sinker with only enough weight to keep the bait down. Take up excess line until it is tight against the rod. (Rod holders mounted on the boat are helpful.)

Now begins a waiting game. If you're in the right place, it shouldn't take too long. Watch the tip of your rod. When a fish takes the bait, the tip will react with a series of sharp jerks. Move fast and get some slack into the line by lowering the tip of the rod. Wait about 20 seconds (or as long as you can stand it), then slowly raise the rod and feel for resistance. If the fish is still there, lower the rod and take up all slack line. Then rear back and set the hook.

Lake fishermen can use the same technique with the exception of where they fish. If possible, locate flooded stream channels and fish them. Sloping gravel banks are another good bet.

BOOSTER PLUS (corn oil concentrate)
New herbicide spray booster.
For more effective weed control in corn at less cost than regular oil.

BOOSTER PLUS replaces oil and surfactants as a tank mix for use with AAtrex® on corn. 1 Quart of Booster Plus does the job of 1—1½ Gallons of regular corn oil—or—1 pint of surfactant.

BOOSTER PLUS is completely non-injurious to corn as compared to surfactants and greatly increases the effectiveness of the herbicide.

BOOSTER PLUS gives consistent results, faster killing power, superior spray tank emulsion stability, lower cost and higher profits per acre.

BOOSTER PLUS minimizes the foaming problem so often found in regular surfactants.
