Irvine on the Attack at P-C Annual Meeting

Minister of Housing Don Irvine was in rare form Friday night as he delivered a fired up address to a large crowd of supporters at the annual meeting of the Grenville-Dundas Progressive Conservative Association held in Kemptville Legion Hall.

Directing his attack primarily at an opposition which he said, "offers nothing constructive in the way of criticism" the busy member for Grenville-Dundas also took off on the "negative thinkers" in the province. "There is too much negative thinking in Ontario today, indeed in Canada, and it's time we changed our tune to something more positive. Criticism just for the safe of criticism is simply not good enough, there must be alternatives" Mr. Irvine said.

Obviously fired up by the growing and in his words "often unfair" criticism of Premier Bill Davis and the Conservative government Mr. Irvine said that "its about time all of us took stock to determine how well off we are in the province of Ontario." Admitting that there have been mistakes (we are trying to correct them) he asked his attentive audience if they were really aware, for example, that the province's health scheme was acknowledged as the best in the world. "So is our educational system", Mr. Irvine pointed out, as he explained that we enjoy one of the best standards of living known anywhere on the universe. "Yet we are criticized because we do not provide more and more . . . but at what price?"

He referred to Premier Bill Davis as a man who is taking the rap for a lot of things he is not responsible for, "and in my opinion he is a great leader and a great premier and I think it is time for the people to get off his back and to appreciate the high calibre man we have in leading our provincial government."

The economy of this province holds a triple A rating and is regarded by financial experts around the world as one of the soundest anywhere. "Yet", and the speaker shakes his head in apparent disgust "we are citicized for our policies on financing". He admitted that inflation is a problem and that there is a very real threat of recession and higher unemployment in the country, but he lambasted the federal government for not meeting the problem head on and for not making the necessary leadership available through sound acts of legislation. We are doing everything possible at the provincial level to stem the tide of inflation and to correct recession but we are not getting any co-operation from either Mr. Trudeau or Mr. Turner (federal minister).

Referring to Eastern Ontario he said that it is not the forgotten part of the province, that it is indeed coming in for its fair share. "And there will be more as time goes by but we cannot expect the answers to all of our problems to happen over night." He referred to grants which had helped all Ontario municipalities lower the tax rate and said that "if you think our roads are bad I can take you to many other areas on this North American continent where they are much, much worse."

Commenting on the Civil Service demands for a 61 percent increase in one year Mr. Irvine said, "the government of this province will not bow to such ridiculous demands. We simply cannot afford it." And he was roundly applauded by the large crowd for the stand he said his government would take in this matter. Concluding his address he said that communications between Toronto and the rest of the province had to be improved. With this in mind Mr. Irvine introduced to the gathering Miss Polly Butteriss from his Toronto office who from this date on will be his personal secretary to look after all calls for assistance from the riding.

In announcing Miss Butteriss' role in constituency affairs Mr. Irvine explained that "my interests will still be with my people in Grenville - Dundas. Miss Butteriss' appointment to this special post is simply an effort to create better communications between myself and the riding. As a cabinet Minister I can be in Northern Ontario on Tuesday night, Eastern Ontario Wednesday night and Western Ontario Thursday night. And even an 18 hour day for practically every day of the week is still not sufficient. So I ask for your co-operation and your understanding. I will do my best at all times to represent you." He said the next provincial election would be held "sometime" next year. Asked about redistribution in a question and answer period following his address Mr. Irvine said that he had done everything possible to keep the riding together. As well there have been several briefs submitted to the commission on redistribution. He was hopeful that Grenville - Dundas would stay "together" in any redistribution.

He was introduced by retiring president Sam Ault who presided at the meeting. The treasurer's report was given by Secretary Doug Grenkie of Morrisburg.

Sr. Citizens Enjoy Christmas Meeting

The clubroom of the Morrisburg Senior Citizens was a scene of activity on Friday evening, Dec. 6 when over seventy-five members sat down to a most delicious turkey and ham dinner at 6:30 p.m. The room was filled to capacity and an overflow of about fifteen were forced to dine in the adjoining foyer. The committee in charg are to be complemented upon the excellent meal and service supplied with this overflow crowd. It appears that if this increased interest in the club continues that the present size of our accomodation will become quite inadequate.

At about 8 p.m. a sing-song of Christmas songs was enjoyed with our pianist Mrs. Shennette at the piano. A short business meeting followed which included a few minutes of silence in honour of two of our members, Mr. Fred H. Broder and Mrs. Peggy Duvall, who have passed away since our last monthly meeting.

An enjoyable hour was then enjoyed when we were entertained by Mr. Wilfrid Coons with mouth organ solos, songs and bits of humor. Christmas songs were also sung by Miss Caroline Barton in her usual pleasant manner. Mrs. Ruby Bell was accompanist for some of these artists. Mrs. Edith Manning also delighted us with two recitations including one of her own writings which portrayed her own personal Christmas of a few years ago when her son who was in Korea at that time was the only one of the family missing that year from the Christmas dinner table. An exchange of Christmas gifts followed which brought the evening to a close.

Mrs. Velma Casselman was appointed card convenor for the balance of the year and requests that members inform her if there is any sickness or death among our members so that an appropriate card may be sent.

The next monthly meeting will be held on Friday, Jan. 3 with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 and it is hoped that we will again have a good number of members present to consider several orders of business and pleasure.

The Engineer's report on the improvement of the D.A. Garlough Drain was read and adopted with several minor amendments.

By-Law No. 23,1974 for the construction of the Van T Foort Drain was read a first and second time.

The clerk was instructed to request further information in regard to the grants available under the OHRP program.

It was decided that the Court of Revision for tax write offs would be held around the middle of December, 1974.

The meeting did then adjourn.

David Cassel's goal came at 14.47 of the third, and the Lions hung on for the win. Barry Coleman played a strong game in the net for the Lions especially in the final 15 seconds of the game, when Lions were penalized and the Pats pulled their goalie in favor of an extra attacker.

Barry Coleman had 44 saves on Sunday night as the Lions were defeated by the Division Leader Cornwall Mavericks 5-2. Chuck Lawlor opened the scoring early in the game. At 13.31 Rick Ayotte tied the score. With 38 seconds left in the 1st period Lawlor gave Lions a 2-1 lead. Mavericks came back in the 2nd with 3 goals and 1 in the 3rd for the win. CANADA AND ONTARIO DISCUSS POLLUTION

Methods of improving the effectiveness of Canada — Ontario efforts to abate pollution were discussed by the Honourable Jeanne Sauve and the Honourable William Newman in Ottawa this week

The Ministers of Environment for Canada and Ontario reviewed the recommendations contained in the International Joint Commission's Second Annual Report on progress under the Canada-U.S. Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement.

The recommendations concern:
—stepped - up analysis of data being obtained on water quality trends to provide earlier notice of quality fluctuations
—presence of viruses in Great Lakes waters
—presence of contaminants from industrial and other activities
—containment of wastes from vessels

The Ministers agreed that the two governments should work together in responding to the IJC recommendations and Mr. Newman said that Premier Davis had decided to create a special task force to work with the federal government in preparing a response.

The Ministers reviewed negotiations now underway on the Canada-Ontario Agreement which enables Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to assist Ontario municipalities with the cost of sewage treatment facilities.

The renegotiation of the Agreement - expected to be concluded shortly — will broaden the range of commitments to parallel those contained in the Canada-U.S. Agreement on pollution abatement in the Great Lakes.

Premier Davis and the Governor of the State of Michigan recently signed a Memorandum of Understanding on their intended response to the IJC's recommendations to abate transboundary air pollution in the Detroit-Windsor and Sarnia/Port Huron areas.

Mr. Newman and Madame Sauvefelt this understanding would effectively support discussions with the United States concerning the proposal that the International Joint Commission be asked to monitor progress in abating pollution in these areas.

Both Ministers expressed satisfaction with the high degree of co - operation existing between their departments. In view of the growing complexity of environmental questions, they emphasized the need for early conclusion of an environmental accord between Canada and Ontario which would set out in broad terms the principles and relationships involved in administering complementary environmental programs.

NEWS REPORT RIVERSIDE SCHOOL

Some Special Visitors
by Terry Charlebois

Recently we had some visitors from the Ontario Provincial Police. Constable Drouin and his helper, Constable Harper, brought with them an unusual friend. This unusual friend called Gunner is a reliable police dog used in search operations in this area.

Constable Drouin told us that Gunner is 21 months old, weighs 84 pounds and is 27 inches from foot to shoulder. He told us Gunner had already gone through three and one - half months of training and still has to receive three and one-half weeks.

Following Constable Drouin's talk we went outside to see Gunner's routine drill. The constable first of all showed us how the dog obeys his commands. First he told Gunner to sit and, without hesitation, the dog did so. Then he told him to heel and not a second after the command, he was in his position. He next told him to jump over a board three feet high, walk a ladder, and lastly, jump through a door's window. At the end, under his master's command, he attacked his assistant.—Constable Harper explained the equipment used to train the dog. This concluded an interesting demonstration on the important work of a police dog.

THE FIREPLACE LOG

There is nothing like a fireplace with a brightly burning log fire to add cheery warmth to a cold winter day. If the firelog is manufactured (wax/wood), follow all the instructions on its wrapper, then sit back, relax and enjoy the warm glow. It will burn for two or three hours without special attention.

Wax/wood firelogs, compressed sawdust and wax, give off just as much heat as two or three hardwood logs. This intense heat must not be ignored. Only one log at a time should be burned. Two or more will increase the heat intensity beyond a safe limit and could start a chimney fire. Never poke or break a burning log. It creates a greater burning surface and results in an intense heat flare-up. Leave the wrapper on the log and let it burn away.

Never add a wax/wood firelog to an already existing fire. Wait until the present fire is almost out and then put in the new log and ignite it. Don't wait for the red ashes of the old fire to start the new one. The heat of the ashes may be hot enough to vaporize the new log before it ignites itself, filling the fireplace area and chimney flue with enough vapor to cause a serious explosion and possible serious fire.

Whether you use wax/wood logs or natural firewood, observe these basic safety precautions:

- Start with an open damper and clean flue.
- Use the right size of log for the fireplace — Small logs producing lower heat are acceptable for small, free-standing fireplaces, but follow the instructions on the wrapper of the wax/wood log.
- Place the log at the back of the fireplace, preferably on a grate.
- To extinguish in an emergency douse the fire with sand, water or chemical fire extinguisher. Do not break the log apart as this tends to spread the fire.
- Never leave children unattended near a fire.

CAMPAIGN AWARD CERTIFICATE TO LOCAL UNIT

A Campaign Award Certificate was received by the Dundas County Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society from the Ontario Cancer Society, at the annual meeting of the unit held in Chesterville on November 25th. Contributions, bequests and In Memoriam cards have netted a total of over $20,000 in 1974.

Mr. Robert Coleman, president, conducted the meeting. Reports were read from Morrisburg, Winchester, Chesterville and North Stormont Branches.

Mr. Jack Hilliard, Field Secretary for Eastern Ontario, showed an excellent film explaining the free services available to people suffering from cancer and discussed a new educational program for use among primary school children. The 1975 annual meeting will be held in Berwick.

Executive officers attending with the Unit President, were the secretary, Mrs. Harry Allison, the treasurer, Mr. P. G. Hewitt, service-to-patients chairman, Mrs. A. Barber, the presidents of the Winchester and North Stormont Branches, Mrs. K. Beedie and Mrs. Clair Robertson, and other Branch officers.

TODAY'S HEALTH

You wouldn't seriously think of venturing out in winter in an open-necked shirt or blouse, and shorts — now, would you? Not in Canada, anyway.

And yet people who engage in winter sports without proper physical conditioning and preparation are just as exposed and unprotected.

Injuries to skiers, for example, are far less frequent among those who are in good physical shape, assuming, of course, that they're reasonably skilled and have the proper equipment.

Dr. Roy Shephard, a professor of applied physiology at the University of Toronto, says the important thing about preparation for winter sports is to build up to an exercise program gradually—and not just don a pair of skis at the first snowfall, and go zooming off down the nearest hill. That, he says, is the fastest route to pulled muscles and fractures.

Dr. Shephard, who is the author of several articles on sports medicine, also emphasizes that training for winter sports should be specific. In other words, even if you've spent all summer swimming, you won't necessarily be fit for outdoor winter sports.

Part of this specific training, says Shephard, involves knowing about the muscles you're going to be using. For skiing or skating, for example, you'll need to get your ankles and knees ready. The best way to do this is to precondition by walking briskly and regularly, or to jog, during the weeks before it's time to put your skis or skates on.

For skiers in particular, preconditioning should include balancing exercises which, says Dr. Shephard, can be performed by intalling a teeter-totter in the basement, or by simply practising balance on a flat piece of wood placed across a log.

An increasingly popular winter sport is snowmobiling, and even though it could hardly be called strenuous, it can certainly be dangerous. In fact, it's probably the most common cause of death and serious injury of all the cold weather recreational activities.

Shephard urges snowmobilers to understand thoroughly the machine's capabilities — and their own; to wear appropriate ear covering, to guard not only against cold, but also against the snowmobile's deafening noise; and never to drink alcohol while driving one of these vehicles. The combination of alcohol and cold outdoor temperatures is doubly dangerous.

So preconditioning for winter sports means exercising the right muscles in advance — and doing it steadily. It should also entail a good understanding of the equipment you'll be using, and the conditions you can expect to face.

This kind of preparation makes good sense from a health standpoint — and will also enhance your enjoyment of winter recreation. And of winter itself.

The citizens wanted to separate, and the myth of the republic of Madawaska was born.

MERRY ? CHRISTMAS

It can cause happy wonder to shine in the eyes of a little boy or girl. It can bring great joy into a child's life. It can awaken faith. But unfortunately for some children, Christmas this year may be a disappointment. It may be looking in store windows at toys their parents can't afford to buy —or suffering for lack of adequate clothing — or simply experiencing a feeling of utter aloneness.

This need not be; for The Salvation Army, on your behalf reaches out to such children and makes possible for them the thrill of opening gifts, the treat of enjoying a special holiday dinner, the warm feeling of wearing new clothes.

Yes, The Salvation Army knows many, many troubled people, both young and old. It tries to make Christmas happy and meaningful by providing friendship and material assistance for the less fortunate in communities — all across Canada — fathers who will spend this Christmas behind prison bars — for mothers whose children lie ill and cold in a substandard dwelling — for painridden hospitalized veterans — for needy youngsters who know little of com fort and joy.

The Salvation Army in Canada has been spreading joy and happiness at Christmastime for well over 90 years and it plans to keep on doing it.

Share YOUR blessings this Christmas.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,

Every year, my job in Canada becomes a little bit harder, in spite of - or perhaps because of —our vast technological achievements.

You see, each year, I receive a larger number of heartbreaking letters from young folk who say they could manage without Christ mas presents if only I could send Daddy back. My research shows that Daddy was in a fatal traffic accident, and it is very hard for a little one to understand how it is Daddy can go off to work, fishing, shopping etc. right as rain, but never come back.

Through the pages of your paper, may I ask for the help of all the drivers in your coverage area? We have just come through Safe Driving Week in Canada, and everybody has seen a barrage of safety messages. Please remember them, not only through the hustle and bustle of this holiday season, but all through 1975.

Then, I will be better able to concentrate on finding the kind of gifts that make up the more routine requests from our children. Let's have no more sad, desperate faces at Christmas time

Wishing you and yours a very merry and safe Christmas!

Ho Ho Ho,

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE TAXPAYERS OF OSNABRUCK TOWNSHIP - FRONT HALF

I am a Volunteer Fireman's wife and have been prompted to write this letter due to a barn fire we had recently. On this particular morning my husband was dressed, windshield cleaned on the car and sliding sideways up the street for as far as I could see within 2 or 3 minutes. I said a prayer for the safety of all the firemen, for I knew how slippery the roads were with the fresh fall of wet snow. My children were awakened by the uproar. It was only 5 minutes from the time the report of the fire was received and the truck left the fire hall. I would like to state here if anyone theinks they can do better, they should try it.

Your firemen are only volunteer men giving their services for the betterment of our community. Yes, they are paid from the time they leave for the fire until they are back at the hall, but, I assure you, no man is in the Department for the pay. This does not include a ruined suit of clothes, a smashed car or a death. Remember, they must go any time of the day or night. Caretaker payments are not paid for, therefore the men have to take turns cleaning your firehall on their own time and all the other duties that may come along This could be much better spent at home with their families.

Now about your tax dollar and your firefighting equipmnet:

Your fire truck and equipment are obsolete. The motor is ready to blow up if pushed too hard going to a fire or even at the fire. Your Township officials have known this for some time. Your truck carries only 500 gallons of water, with no tanker. Do you realize how long it takes to use up this small amount of water? Newington Department was called before the men left the hall that morning for water. They have a newer truck that carries 800 gallons of water, plus a tanker that holds 2,200 gallons. Here's something you should know also: Ingleside had exhausted their water supply, which is nil before Newington arrived at the barn fire, and a building they had already wetted down had started to blaze again. Do you realize had Newington not been as prompt as they were Ingleside firemen could only have stood back with the rest of the people, helpless, and watched a horrible sight. What is the Township doing with your tax dollar, you pay towards fire protection? Perhaps you should find out. The boys on the Fire Department here, have been bucking the Township for years but can get nothing from them; perhaps you, the taxpayer, can. The last inspection the Fire Marshall made at Ingleside Hall, he told Township officials the truck and equipment here were outdated and a new turck should be ordered immediately. That was three years ago.

Here's something for the town of Ingleside to think about. There are hydrants now that are not to be used because of some problem. Why does the Township not repair them now, not in 6 months time? This is only carelessness and neglect. Does your hydrant work?

Also the Township has taken the liberty of storing snow blowers, lawn mowers in the fire hall. When these machines break down they overhaul them. The grease, oil, gas, dirt and old parts are left on the floor for the firemen to clean up. It is a fire hazard and a hazard to the firemen when they are rushing to get their boots and coats. Furthermore they are left without keys and when the men get back from the fire and have to clean hoses, they have to drag or lift them out of the way. Is this fair to your firemen? What have you got, a fire hall or a storage barn? Ask your Township officials; only you can help your fire department.

On closing, I will say you firemen are dedicated human beings and cannot do the impossible. Give them credit and thanks that they deserve and go after your Townshi pCouncil for better working conditions and better equipment before it is too late. Only you, the Ratepayer, can help.

A Volunteer Fireman's Wife and Concerned Taxpayer,
(Mrs. Murray) Clara Wells,
15 Wales Drive,
Ingleside, Ontario.

December Meeting of The Mutual Fire Aid Association

Seventy members, representing 16 Fire Departments of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Mutual Fire Aid Association, held their regular bi-monthly meeting in the Alexandria Fire Station on Monday, December 9th.

Chief Gerald Charlebois of Alexandria welcomed the firemen and representatives of municipal Councillors, along with special guests from the United States.

Minutes of the last regular meeting at Winchester were passed for approval, on a motion by Allan McIntyre and Gerald Charlebois.

In the Treasurer's report, Carl Robinson of Williamsburg reported a bank balance of $773.14 after all accounts had been cleared with reference to the annual banquet affair.

Chairman of the sports committee, Chief Merton Casey of Maxville, advised that the annual Curling bonspiel would be held at Maxville on Frebruary 22nd and that further information and notices would be mailed out to each department at a later date.

Gib Raistrick, Secretary and chairman of the benevolent fund, reported that he had information on two members who were sick, and the appropriate cards and acknowledgements would be sent out.

Reporting for the Banquet Committee. John Benoit of Crysler reported that the annual banquet was a real success both financially and from an attendance standpoint, in October.

Perry Tinkess, of Avonmore, Point System chairman requested that each fire chief should attempt to complete the ponit system forms at each meeting and make the immediate returns for record purposes.

Maurice Roussy, Chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee, spoke on the regional Fire Prevention School during the season of 1975, and suggester that the County Co-ordinator contact the Fire Marshall's Office to arrange for such a school to be held in Cornwall. He also mentioned that each Chief should arrange to add this in his financial budget to submit his estimates to the Municipal Councils.

Following the above advice and information received, a motion was passed by Garry Armstrong of Winchester, that the Association Fire Chiefs make arrangements to meet in Cornwall and further discuss this school with regard to how many firemen could attend a one-week course.

The president, Albert Evans, of Newington, had been advised that the Village of Lancaster was interested in membership in the Association and instructed the Secretary to correspond with the municipal council and the fire department.

County Co-ordinator Chief L.A. Carriere of Cornwall advised that his committee had received the fire prevention reports for 1974, and the winner of this event was the Newington Fire Department. A beautiful plaque was presented at this time to Chief Cliff Rombough of Newington. Chief Carriere spoke on the number of Association crests that each department may require, resulting in a request that he order these immediately to be distributed at the next regular meeting.

Chief Carriers ,in charge o fthe program for the evening, introduced the following guests: County Co-ordinator of Malone, N. Y., Elton Cappielo; Deputy Patrick Curran and Public Relations Officer John Tripony, who addressed the members with regard to their activities on Mutual Fire Aid in U.S.A. It was noted that all of their vehicles were equipped with radio communication which operate 24 hours a day. The cost of maintenance of these units was paid by the County. There are 765 firemen involved. Last year they received 3200 alarms for fire involving 60,000 man-hours of fire-fighting. Chief Cappielo reported that he had served in the fire services and County Co-ordinator for the past 32 years. Films and slides were shown which involved at one fire where 36 fire trucks were in operation and damage was estimated at over $1,000,000.

The Fire Marshall's representative, Maurice Roussy, thanked the guest speaker and his staff for the appreciated information and for showing their films to the Association.

Several other guests were introduced by Chief L.A. Carriere: Reeve and Deputy Reeve of Newington and T ownship of Osnabruck; new Williamsburg Chief, Lyle Kehoe; Councillor Norman MacRae of Maxville, along with the new Fire Chief of Apple Hill.

The meeting adjourned on motion of Carl Robertson of Williamsburg, seconded by Gerald Charlebois of Alexandria.

Lunch and refreshments were served by members of the Alexandria Fire Department.

The next regular meeting will be held at the Community Centre in Avonmore on February 17th.

1752 CALENDAR SET CHRISTMAS DATE ON DECEMBER 25

We know that our calendar today is a relatively modern institution But do we realize that in earliest times, Christmas was celebrated on January 18? It is still so celebrated by the Armenian church Later on, the date became January 6— and it was only in 1752, with the final change to the Gregorian calendar, that the rearrangement of dates placed Christmas Day on December 25th.

Some church people in England were very indignant when this change took place — feeling that somehow they had been robbed of 11 days and the corresponding wages Some of them tried to find out if the new date were correct, by noting whether or not the tree called the Glastonbury Thorn (supposedly planted by Joseph of Arimathea) would flower on the new date or the old Sometimes the tree bloomed on one day and sometimes on the other, however, depending on the weather—so that supporters of both dates managed to keep up the quarrel for some time.

Flame Against Darkness

The small Arab city of Bethlehem, with a population of about 23,000, is, at this moment, in occupied territory, just as it was—under Roman rule— when Christ was born.

An Israeli military administration is in control, and all the bitterness and tension which keep Arab and Jew hostile, seethe through it just as they do through Jerusalem only five miles away.

Yet in spite of this continuing feud between two peoples and the equally dangerous Arab infighting, tourists and Christian pilgrims will gather, as always on Christmas Eve, in the Shepherds' fields below the city. They will swarm into the ancient Church of the Nativity, in whose grotto, tradition says, the manger stood and pack the paved square on which the fortress-like edifice stands.

The square has a symbolic context, for across from the church a mosque thrusts its minaret imperiously into the December sky. A strange setting indeed, in which to celebrate the coming of the Prince of Peace.

Yet not so strange. Genuine peace is no sentimental state of quiescence; it must be won. The birth of a Babe in a frame of cotton fluff and tinsel could hold no balm for our torments.

The real Bethlehem is a far more fitting backdrop for what Christians call the Incarnation—God with us. There is validity and power in the emergence of a mighty hope rising from here like a flame, to beckon men from where they are to where they might be. Thank God for Christmas.

The 2nd FORTY

Weekend Guest

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

Can you explain how someone who is the best-dressed woman in the typing pool can be a messy housekeeper? I invited a co-worker to our country retreat for the weekend. At the office, there's nary a hair out of place but she made a mess of our house and the guest room: She left cigaret burns in the night table, candy wrappers on the floor and dirty coffee cups all over the house. I'm puzzled: how can a woman who dresses like a fashion model be such a slob?

E.D.

Dear E.D.:

It's easy, if she's lazy or indifferent to her surroundings.

Inhospitable Daughter-in-Law

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

When I was a girl we weren't rich, but my parents never stinted on food when we entertained relatives or friends. Perhaps thats why I'm baffled by my daughter-in-law's behavior. We seldom visit because she and my son live about 400 miles away. But our recent visit was typical. Our youngest daughter decided to come along at the last minute. When we arrived, my daughter-in-law called me aside to confide she didn't have enough cold cuts to feed all three of us. I gave her $10 to buy more food. This is not the first time it's happened. Yet when they visit us my daughter-in-law announces she's "starved" the minute she arrives. I always have a hot supper ready for them. I'm beginning to resent her tactics. Is there anything I can do? W.M.

Dear W.M.:

Sure, stop playing into your daughter-in-law's penny-pinching hands by forking over money to buy extra food. (I'm assuming that there is no financial basis for your daughter-in-law's lack of hospitality. If, on your next visit, there isn't enough food for her guests, don't make any contributions. Perhaps then your daughter-in-law may be embarrassed enough to assume her obligations as a hostess.

Sex at 50

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I'm married to a great guy who is 50. Unfortunately our sex life isn't what it was 15 or even 10 years ago. He sees our doctor for annual checkups, so I know he's in good health. He claims he has cut down on sex to conserve his energy. Is this normal?

M.R.

Dear M.R.:

It is natural t oslow down in all ways including sexually, with the passing years. But if your husband is healthy, you both should be able to enjoy a sexual relationship for many years to come. Perhaps a talk with your family doctor will set him straight and reassure him that having sex will not sap his strength.

Report From Queen's Park: BY HON. DON IRVINE

The edcuation of our young people continues to be a major concern of the Ontario Government. Recently, Education Minister, the Honourable Thomas Wells, presented to the Legislature a progress report on Ontario education. This report highlighted the achievements of the Ministry of Education during the past year, and outlined some of the priorities of the future.

In this column, I would like to discuss two areas which my colleague Mr. Wells dealt with in his report.

During the past year, significant attention has been directed to the field of special education in Ontario. This includes all programmes for exceptional children —those who have learning difficulties or disabilities as well as those who are gifted.

A Special Education Branch was established on July 1 of this year. The overall goal of this Branch is to develop policies and programmes designed to assist local school boards in providing a high quality of educational opportunity to all exceptional children in the Province.

This new Branch has close ties with other Ministries such as Health, and Community and Social Services in order to co-ordinate all services offered for exceptional children.

Approximately one year ago, an Advisory Council on Special Education was established representing parents, teachers, and trustees. In addition, advisory councils have been created in each of the Provincial schools for the blind and the deaf. These councils are composed of parents, teachers, blind and deaf adults, representatives of organizations of and for the blind and the deaf, labour and industry. These councils meet regularly to discuss and advise regarding matters relating to the education, growth and development of blind and deaf children.

The progress in the past year has confirmed that today Ontario is second to none in terms of the services provided to excéptional children. There is still much to be done, and the Ministry of Education will continue to strengthen the partnership among parents, teachers, school administrators, trustees and other interested associations.

Another interesting facet of Mr. Wells' report was the discussion of a new programme to improve the interaction between our school and the communities in which they are located.

The Ontario Government strongly supports the idea of the neighbourhood school serving as a catalyst towards developing a community identity.

Schools should be placed in which men and woman as well as young people can go freely without feeling out of place.

In order to create a community sense of involvement and spirit through our schools, a programme has been developed which will be implemented immediately.

The Ministry of Education will provide financial support to school boards seriously interested in the programme. The department will support each board with an approved submission to a maximum of $10,000 for the balance of the current academic year.

A practical handbook of facts, ideas and examples related to community schools will be produced in the near future. This handbook will serve to inform and stimulate both school principals and their staffs and interested citizens.

School boards will be permitted to classify their expenditures related to community use of school facilities as being outside the education spending ceilings.

The Ministry of Education will continue to support the idea of full community use of school facilities after regular school hours, as well as community use of vacant school facilities during school hours provided that other school boards do not require the space.

In speaking of the responsibilities of the Government in the vital area of education, the Ministry of Education said:

"Never should we forget that, in education, the priority that stands above all others is that we must continue to provide the kind of educational experiences that will best equip and prepare the young people of today to take their places as content and contributing members of a society that will soon be theirs to lead."

I would like to take this opportunity to send my Best Wishes for a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy, Healthy, and Prosperous New Year.

Ministry of Natural Resources

WEEKLY REPORT

Snowmobile clubs that are not legally incorporated, but can meet seven organizational requirements are now eligible for assistance in maintaining their existing snowmobile trails this winter.

The door has been thrown open to the non-incorporated clubs by a last minute change in the new provincial recreational trails program that was announced Nov. 7 by the Hon. Allan Grossman, secretary of resource development.

Before this, only legally incorporated clubs and municipalities along with the ministry of natural resources and the conservation authorities, plus the St. Lawrence Parks Commission were eligible for assistance.

As a first step to qualifying for assistance all groups must contact their nearest district office of the ministry of natural resources and give the number of miles of trails groomed, the maintenance costs and future plans for improvmeents.

Non - incorporated clubs that want assistance with their trails must have an official name, have an official membership of not less than 50 people and have an elected or appointed officer who is authorized to speak on behalf of the members. The club must also have held regular meetings, at least twice a year, and have maintained minutes of the proceedings.

Other requirements include being able to satisfy the ministry of natural resources that the club has a stable history and was not formed at the last minute in order to qualify for assistance. The club must also have a stated objective that is in the public interest and is non-profit. It must also be able to demonstrate it is able to carry out programs and effectively manage any funds it is given for trail maintenance.

The first stage in the trail maintenance assistance program — a complete inventory of existing trails that are open to the public —is being coordinated by district offices of the ministry of naturla resources.

These inventories will be used to decide allocations of funds to natural resources regional offices.— Regions will divide the money among district offices which are located throughout eastern Ontario in: Leitrim (Ottawa-Carleton district), Lanark, Cornwall, Brockville, Napanee and Tweed.

Once districts have received funds local snowmobile clubs and municipalities can make formal application for trails assistance to the local natural resources offices. Once approved, the necessary agreements with the province will be signed.

Assistance in trail maintenance this winter is the first phase of a program to establish a province wide network of recreational trails for snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, horseback riding, hiking and trailbike riding.

In some cases, trails will be restricted to a specific use. In other cases, there will be multiple use providing enjoyment of the land by different groups is compatible.

A trails council is also being established to assist in development of a complete trails system and the development of the necessary legislation to regulate the trails.

The Ontario government also plans to introduce amendments this session to the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act that will deal with trespass and liability.

There is more art, theatre and music in our province than in many nations.

Impossible dreams? Not at all. Through the Ontario Arts Council, all these dreams could come true, no matter where you live in the province. For the Ontario Arts Council's purpose is to make sure that all the people of our province share in Ontario's cultural riches.

Over 500 Ontario arts attractions are ready, willing and able to visit your community. They're described in a colourful Ontario Arts Council catalogue entitled "ONTOUR". And, through the Touring Arts Fund, the Ontario Arts Council can help sponsors with the fees for touring groups in visiting your community.

More than 100 musical, theatrical, dance and crafts groups are available to Ontario elementary and secondary schools. The repertory is presented in the brochure "artslist".

Outstanding creative artists want to visit the classrooms of the province, so that all Ontario youngsters may be exposed to the creating of painting, pottery, composing, photography, playwriting, sculpting, weaving, poetry, puppetry, ceramics and many other art forms. This program is described in a booklet called "Creative Artists in Schools".

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Greg is full of questions about adoption because this 10-year-old hopes very much it will happen for him.

Irish and English in descent, Greg has brown hair, blue-grey eyes and a sprinkling of freckles. He has always been physically healthy but an unsettled period in his life caused some emotional problems. These are behind him now, except that he tends to be tense and easily distracted in school. Greg is in a special Grade Four class. He has the ability to manage in a regular classroom but needs individual encouragement and firm controls.

Greg likes swimming, skating and wrestling but is not keen on team sports. He wants to learn to play the guitar.

A friendly, trusting boy, Greg gets on well with both adults and children. It will be good if he can be the youngest in a family with older brothers and/or sisters.

To inquire about adopting Greg, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, consult your local Children's Aid Society.
