Briefly

Ski-a-thon 2000

CORNWALL - Plans are underway for the annual Canadian Cancer Society Ski-a-thon, being held at Mont-Habitant January 29, 2000, and organizers are seeking participants for the event. In 1999, the event raised $27,000 with 375 skiers. For more information or to register, call Jean-Marie Fraser at (613) 938-3972 or the Canadian Cancer Society office in Cornwall at (613) 932-1283 or toll-free at 1-800-669-4181.

Carnival 2000

CORNWALL - The Carnival 2000 Organizing Committee is looking for volunteers to assist with activities during the six-day celebration, including the snow playground, outdoor skating and the winter wonderland. Help is also needed with transportation, security and administration. For more information or to offer assistance, call Anne at (613) 932-5180.

Birds taken

DUNBAR - Overnight on December 19, 15 pheasants were taken from a pen at a private residence along County Road 7. Four chickens were also taken from a nearby residence. Constable H. Blokland is investigating.

Trucks broken into

MORRISBURG - Four tractor trailers parked overnight at the 750 Truck Stop near Morrisburg were broken into December 19. No thefts were reported. Constable M. Bamber is investigating.

Charges laid

WINCHESTER - Over the past week, OPP investigated eight motor vehicle collisions. Other investigations resulted in two impaired driving charges, two 12-hour license suspensions, one person charged under the Liquor License Act and the apprehension of one suspended driver.

RIDE update

MORRISBURG - Over the past weekend, OPP stopped 225 vehicles in Dundas County with the Festive RIDE (Reduce Impaired Driving Everywhere) Program. The spot checks resulted in three charges and five warnings. In Stormont County, police stopped 375 vehicles over the weekend. No arrests were made but 10 warnings were issued.

Drive safely

WINCHESTER - OPP are recommending drivers use full headlights when driving in limited visibility situations. Some vehicles have daytime running lights that illuminate the headlights but not the tail lights. Police also recommend increasing the time allotted for travel and commuting. Travelling too fast for the road conditions is a primary cause of collisions during the winter.

OPP magazine available online

WINCHESTER - The quarterly magazine of the OPP, the OPP Review, is now available online. The publication contains stories and activities about officers in the community. The website is located

Icy roads blamed in two fatal collisions

Sandy Bierworth
Record Editor

WINCHESTER - Icy road conditions are being blamed for two fatal accidents over the past week.

Last Wednesday, 18-month-old Megyn Sinclair of Winchester was killed when the Hyundai car she was a passenger in slid into the path of an oncoming pickup truck on County Road 43 West, about four kilometres west of Winchester.

Her mother, Jessica, 26, was taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital and later transferred to the Ottawa Hospital's Civic site where she remains in serious condition.

The accident occurred at about 6:30 a.m. The car was westbound on the road when it was struck by the GMC pickup, driven by Gordon McNiel, 43, of Prescott. Neither he, nor his passenger, were injured in the crash.

The investigation is continuing by the OPP, assisted by an OPP Technical Traffic Investigator. No charges are expected to be laid.

Seargant moves to Bancroft

LONG SAULT— Administrative Sergeant Ray Westgarth of the Long Sault OPP is leaving SD&G for Bancroft, Ontario, where he's been appointed Detachment Commander; the appointment is combined with a promotion to Staff Sergeant on December 27.

"It's wonderful," said Sergeant Westgarth. "It's been my career goal to be a Detachment Commander."

Westgarth, 43, has been a police officer for 25 years. He has held the position of Administrative Sergeant at the Upper Canada Detachment in Long Sault since 1997, where he has been a Sergeant since 1994.

Eastern Region Commander Rick Deering announced Westgarth's appointment in conjunction with Bancroft and Area Community Policing Advisory Committee (CPAC) Chair Doug Kruger.

Chief Superintendent Deering said the selection committee's decision was unanimous despite a difficult choice between three excellent candidates.

"I'm pleased a decision has been made, that a new Detachment Commander has been named in Bancroft, and I'm looking forward with confidence to the leadership Ray Westgarth

Millennium funds a welcome gift for two local university students

Sandy Bierworth
Record Editor

MOREWOOD - Christmas came a little early this year for Morewood's Chris Stewart and his sister Amanda. The university students both received a Millennium Scholarship from the federal government to help pay this year's tuition fees.

The funds, in the amount of $3,000 each, will be put directly against their tuition in February. They are among 75,000 Canadian students receiving a total of $215 million from the Canada Millennium Scholarship Foundation.

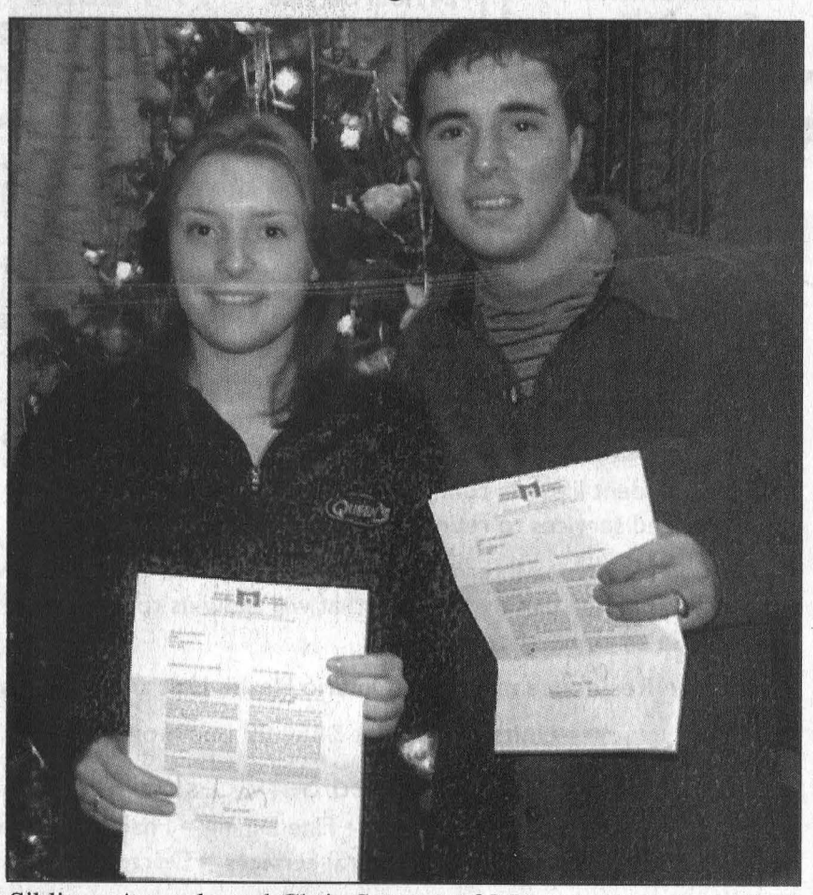
Distribution of the funds is based on financial need. Students applying for loans to help with tuition fees are assessed by the province and anyone qualifying for the scholarship is awarded a share of the funds.

The funds, according to the foundation, are intended to help young Canadians acquire the knowledge and skills they require in order to participate in a changing economy.

And for the Stewarts, those funds are a welcome Christmas present.

"It's not a lot of money considering the whole cost of going to University," said Amanda Stewart, 20, who is in her second year of a four-year nursing program at Queens University. "But it certainly helps. I'm not complaining."

Chris Stewart, 23, is attending the teacher's college at the University of Toronto to become a high school math and science teacher. He has already earned a Bachelor's Degree at Carleton University.



Siblings Amanda and Chris Stewart of Morewood each received a $3,000 Millennium Scholarship from the federal government.

The siblings learned about the scholarship last week when their mother, Suzanne, received the news in the mail in two separate envelopes. Until then, no one in the family had heard about the Millennium Scholarships and the students hadn't applied for them.

"It was really shocking," said Chris Stewart. "It's not the kind of thing that happens every day. But it's a very welcome gift."

His mother agreed.

"I'm proud of them," she said. "Very proud."

Both students maintain a high

being considered as factors in a crash on Highway 401 about six kilometres east of Morrisburg Monday afternoon that killed one man.

Mahmoud Aburihan, 27, of Brossard, Quebec, was driving westbound in the passing lane in a 1995 Pontiac Sunfire when his car crossed the median and onto the eastbound passing lanes, where it was struck by a 2000 International tractor trailer driven by Ross Luft, 39, of Cambridge at about 3:20 p.m.

Aburihan was pronounced dead at the scene.

Luft escaped the collision with minor injuries and was not taken to hospital.

Paul Morneau, public information officer for Rural Metro Medical Services, which responded to the 401 collision, advises drivers to drive safely.

"Be careful out there. It's not summertime any more," he said.

"The road conditions are always changing and are unpredictable, so drive safely."

will bring to this community," Deering said.

Westgarth takes command January 3 in Bancroft after working straight through until January 2 in Long Sault. His wife and 17-year-old son will follow him to Bancroft later in the year after his son finishes high school.

The promotion will now place him at the "top of the feeding chain," he jokingly admits, but adds he is excited about commanding the 30-member police detachment.

"I work in partnership with the CPAC up there to police the community," he said. "I'm looking forward to it."

Doug Kruger is the chair of the Bancroft and area CPAC. He said he's pleased the decision to select a new Detachment Commander was a partnership between the OPP and the CPAC.

"This is another illustration of partnerships in action," said Kruger. "In addition to the skills Westgarth brings to the position, his appointment brings stability to policing in this area and provides leadership for our local police service to move forward into the new Millennium.

"We believe Ray Westgarth brings many years of operational and management experience to the post."

Westgarth began his police career when he was 18 years old. After five years of service in Toronto, he moved to Wyerton, Ontario. He has enjoyed many and varied responsibilities in his career, including an appointment to the Ottawa Crime Unit as a Detective Constable and to the Stittsville Community Policing Office as a Community Services Officer.

"I'm going to miss Winchester and Chesterville," said Westgarth. "I made a lot of nice friends here."

Westgarth said he will always remember the excellent times he has had at the annual Cops and Robbers Golf Tournament and the Warden's Bonspiel.

"I really enjoyed myself working with North Dundas Council and the former Chesterville Council," he said, adding he hopes he will enjoy the same personal rapport with Bancroft's council members.

"The community's been behind me 100 per cent here and I hope it will be the same in Bancroft," said Westgarth.

He said he'll especially remember North Dundas Mayor Claude Cousineau, who was never hesitant to tell him when he was wrong.

"I'm quite excited and so is my family," he said. "It just happened at a very opportune time," he said, adding his son will be going to college in the fall so the move will not be disruptive.

"My wife and I plan to build a house up there."

Jean's Jeans Fund

Jean Holmes, the Director of Corporate Services at Winchester District Memorial Hospital, accepts a $600 cheque from Bill McInnis, the President of the Social Fund at M.B. Foster and Associates Ltd. Employees of the Chesterville computer company who wear jeans to work on Fridays, pay a dollar into a Jeans Fund, which for the second year in a row has been given to WDMH.

Catholic school test results show more changes necessary

Students not quite on par with board standards

Sandy Bierworth
Record Editor

KEMPTVILLE - Catholic school students in eastern Ontario may be doing better in the three R's in the classroom, but some schools still aren't quite on par with the board's standards.

The Catholic District School Board has released the results of Grade 3 and 6 testing in each of its schools, and while the results don't quite match the board's standards, Superintendent of Education Greg McNally said the results are still a pleasant surprise.

"We were pleased with the results," he said. "We were lower than the standards but we have improved since last year's testing. What we're doing now is coming up with ways to keep improving so we can do even better next year."

The tests are conducted each year in May on Grade 3 students and this past May marked the first time Grade 6 students were tested.

In Stormont and Dundas Catholic schools, only Our Lady of Good Council in Ingleside exceeded the board's standards in Grade 3 testing in each of reading, writing and math.

St. Mary's School in Chesterville exceeded in reading and writing, but fell short of the board's standards in math.

In the Grade 6 testing, St. George School in Long Sault passed with flying colours, almost doubling the board's standards in each of the three subjects tested.

St. Cecilia School in Iroquois also exceeded board expectations in Grade 6 testing, as did St. Bernard's in Finch, but St. Andrews School fell short on most subjects, only matching standards in Grade 6 math.

St. Mary's School in Morrisburg was almost on par with reading and math, and exceeded in writing.

Overall, results are better than last year by one per cent in reading, two per cent in writing and 11 per cent in mathematics.

The number of students achieving at level 3 has increased in every subject by one per cent, five per cent and 10 per cent respectively.

Out of the 33 schools in the board, 12 have improved in all three areas. Another 17 have improved in at least one area.

"We've moved ahead, and we're going to keep moving ahead," said McNally. "This is not a be all to end all. We're working together to bring about more improvements."

LEGION

Thank You

The membership of the Chesterville Branch 434 of the Royal Canadian Legion want to thank all those involved in the construction of the New Legion Hall.

As this was a major project in Chesterville, we want to thank J.F. Lajoie Construction for taking on the job and for having lots of patience. Also for using local contractors to help build the new hall.

We also want to thank the T.D. Bank for having good faith in us and our endeavour for taking on the responsibility of having the new hall built.

Not to be left out are the many members of the branch along with the members of the Village of Chesterville and surrounding area who supported our project by making substantial donations to our building fund in one way or another.

If it had not been for a combination of all the above mentioned this new addition in Chesterville would not have become a reality.

Again I want to thank everyone who has contributed in one way or another towards our new hall. No one knows what it feels like, after so many years, to see it really happen.

Nativity story for the nineties

By Phyllis Stein
Religion Editor

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Chretienius that all the world was to be taxed. And all went to be taxed, every one to his own city and Joseph also went up from Embrun into Russell, to be taxed with Mary, his espoused wife who was great with child.

And this was at the time that Michael Harris was governor of the province of Ontario, and Joseph was to have his name entered on the rolls of workfare for he had exhausted his pogey that Caesar had greatly cut back as he heeded the words of his tax collector, Martinius,who greatly coveted his throne and would one day be borne to it on the backs of the poor.

And Joseph, who had been a carpenter, was left without sustenance when his work at the Montfort Hospital was ended and the minions of the governor sayeth unto him, "Joseph, thou art strong of back and able to labour for thy governor so thou shalt receive thy daily bread, and that for thy wife, by having thy name entered upon the rolls to perform such tasks for the public good as he shall decree. Our hearts have been hardened to such as thee, and those who support us have let it be known to the governor that he must make an example of such as thee for thou art plundering his treasury through thy sloth. It is better that thou shouldst serve the people by fetching the governor's dry cleaning than to lie abed all day, intoxicating thyself with strong liquors and watching gaming shows upon thy satellite dish."

So Joseph and Mary began the journey from Embrun up to Russell. They had no car for it had been repossessed by Casear's great military leader, General Motors, so they went to Budget Beast and rented a donkey for to bear Mary, trusting in the firm's motto that "To Rest Thy Butt On Our Ass Is A Heavenly Journey".

And it was at that time of the year when it was coldest and they had but thin raiments and felt the bitterness of the weather most sorely until they chanced upon the Used Cloaks For Poor Folks Shoppe and being without coin, were given warm robes to guard themselves against the night's cruel bite. Likewise were they given food and drink at the You'll Drool At Our Gruel Soup Kitchen to strengthen themselves for the rest of their journey.

As they journeyed through the land their eyes were wide with wonder at the displays of the season that bedecked many of the homes they passed. Brightly coloured lights bathed the homes and the places of business; small trees, shrubs and fences were gaily decorated and strings of lights spelled out messages over the streets of many of the villages wishing all the compliments of the season, happy holidays and peace and goodwill.

And May was sore perplexed and sayeth unto Joseph, "Husband, how could they have closed up the hospital when they are so prodigal in their use of power? Knoweth they not that these wanton displays are powered by fossil fuels? And how can they wish us peace and goodwill if they if they would brand us as outcasts, taking away thy useful work and then forcing thee to perform meaningless labour? Joseph, our people have been beset by the Moabites, the Gideonites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Sodomites, the Nabisco Bits & Bites and always we have survived. But shall we flourish in the face of the Harrisites? Do they not know that it is written, 'Whoso mocketh the poor reproacheth his Maker; and he that is glad at calamities shall not go unpunished?' And why must I speak in Shakespearean dialect? Sheesh, this is the 90s."

And Joseph sayeth unto her, "Thou art greatly tried, wife, being late in thy third trimester. We shall get thee to a hospital if thy labour arrives before mine. I hear that they hath builded a great hospital in Winchester which is not far distant and there they hath many doctors and midwives to care for such as thee in thy condition."

And so they arrived in Russell, where Mary was taken with the pains of labour so they journeyed on to Winchester. But unbeknownst to them, the Harrisites had been meeting in Toronto, where, amid much merriment at a great banquet, they had decided to devise a two-tier health care system: one for the rich, who were their friends, and none for the poor, who were not.

"God can look after the poor. He must love them for He hath made so many of them," the governor laughed as he booked a combined heart implant procedure and fishing for men holiday on the Sea of Galilee, paid for by his grateful constituents. And he turned to his trusted advisor, Al, and said, " What thinkest thou of this Palestine business?

To which the Great Al replied, "Any Palestine-y is a Palladini, pal" before leaving to drive his son home.

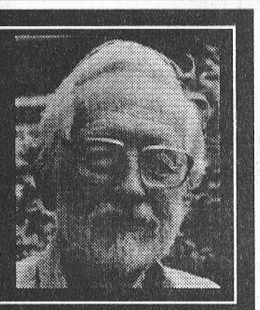
And so the great hospital in Winchester was closed when Mary and Joseph arrived in that village and they found that the doctors had all moved out of the land when they were no longer able to earn their daily bread or pay their golf memberships; likewise were there no inns, for they were all filled up for the Parade of Lights. So the couple repaired to a nearby dairy farm where they were given shelter in a free-stall shed and where a boy child was born unto them amidst the lowing of the purebred Holsteins and the hum of the pipeline milkers.

And there they were visited by three Magi who had come out of the east following a great star, which had settled over the barn. And they were in the land through the beneficence of the Great Caesar's immigration plan which permitted Orientals to settle on the condition that they brought with them great wealth. And they gaveth unto the child gifts, the first, being a software mogul, gold. The second, having nothing left after paying his immigration tax, gave him the gift of mirth, with which to gird himself against the Harrisites. The third, being a teacher, gave him the gift of eloquence: "To be frank. And incensed at wrongs."

And it was by this gift that He was to be known throughout the land and far beyond Caesar's and the governor's dominions.

Cross Roads

By Clarence Cross



Sometimes when I get a request for help from someone working on their family tree, I find that I already have some answers in my own family tree.

Recently an inquiry from a Toronto woman to the Chesterville Library was referred to me. She was interested in Francis Garrow, Lawrence Merkley, and John Shay. Let's look first at the Garrows.

As a boy, I remember Ike Garrow living on a farm just west of Chesterville, and south of my father's farm. I often walked out the Garrow lane to the Fair Grounds to take in a softball game after we finished our evening milking. At fair time we all walked out to the rear of the grounds, which lay between the railway and Queen St. This provided a wonderful chance to climb over the back fence and avoid the ticket booth at the south end. I tried to persuade my father that I could make good use of the entrance fee on the midway, but he always insisted on continuing out the Garrow lane and entering at the main gate. The Garrow house and barns lay between the Nation River and Queen Street. The house is still there, behind the liquor store, occupied by Scott and Lorilee (Cross) Erratt.

Who were the early Garrows? In the 1851-2 census, we find Francis Garrow, Age 76, born in Lower Canada, and his wife (Mary Ouderkirk) age 61, born in the U.S., and three unmarried children: Frederick, age 40, born in Ont; Charlotte, age 32, born in the U.S.; Allen, age 34, born in Matilda; and a hired man, Norman Wallace, age 17, born in Matilda; all living in a log house on lot 17, concession 4. in the 1861 census, son Frederick (now age 47) has taken over the farm, both his parents, Francis and Mary (age 80 and 72) are living with him, now in a frame house. Also in the household are Nancy Merkley, 17, Arza Garrow, 9, and Simon Corran (or Curran 16).

Since lot 17 was a clergy reserve, and was not put up for sale until later, Francis would have been renting, but I don't know for how long. Francis and Mary are not to be found in 1871, but I don't know where they died or are buried. In 1871 Frederick, still single at 56, is still farming with the help of John Shay and wife Charlotte Merkley, three children, and Arzy Garrow, age 18.

Before you become confused, I will describe what I have found out about Francis Garrow and his descendants. He had seven children: Frederick; Allan 1816-1908 married to Elizabeth McIntosh with six children including Isaac ("Ike") and Arza (both mentioned above); John Ira; Matilda, married to William F. Merkley, with 11 children; Susanna, married to James Hanes, with 10 children; Hannah, married to Lawrence Merkley, with 11 children; and Charlotte, married to Charles D. Casselman (my great-grandfather) with seven children. Most of Francis' children were born in New York state, others in Matilda or Winchester. The two Merkleys above were brothers, sons of an earlier Lawrence. Image a family get-together.

What about the Ouderkirks? Mary, the wife of Francis Garrow, was born in Gilderland, NY, daughter of Takel Ouderkirk. Another daughter, Nancy, was the mother of Charles D. Casselman. So my great-grandparents, Charlie D. and Charlotte Garrow, were first cousins.

Isaac (Ike) Garrow's first wife, Ida Casselman, died in 1901, and Ike married the widow of Robert McElheran (nee McMillan) who had four children. I remember well two of the boys, Duncan and Ethan, who ran the farm and a dairy in Chesterville. Ethan bought milk from my father for years. He was a great tinkerer, and I recall his efforts to invent a gas-saving device. Later he had a backhoe business and a gravel pit north of the railway, east of Maple Ridge. Both boys married, but had no children.

The history "The Time That Was" states that the Garrows emigrated from Scotland to New York State. My records say otherwise. The Garrows repeatedly tell the census man that they are of French origin, but Presbyterian. Francis Tovice says that he was born in Lower Canada (Quebec). I think it likely that the name was originally Gareau, or some variant. A clincher for me came when Hattie, wife of Lee Casselman, a grandson of Charlie D. Casselman and Charlotte Garrow, told me that she remembered Charlotte as being a "little French woman".

I almost forgot about John Shay. John married Charlotte Merkley, daughter of Lawrence Merkley and Hannah Garrow, and they had eight children. The Toronto woman is one of their descendants.

The Garrows were not alone in denying their French ancestry. Others are the Droppos, the Hutts and the Nephews.

Santa visits Morewood

MOREWOOD - Santa took some time out from his busy schedule last weekend to visit Morewood during its annual Santa Claus Parade.

The parade may have been slightly smaller than the usual dozen or so floats, said organizer Bill Smirle, but interest in the 25th edition of the Christmas event was definite up.

"The kids were very keen and the parade went very well," he said.

Following the parade, Santa handed out bags of candy to local children at the Community Centre before visiting 22 seniors and shut-ins around the town.

Tom and Jan MacGregor, of Glenhaven Farms, took home the trophy for the best overall float with their 'elf train.'

The prize for the best commercial float went to Mike Dean's Superstore for its version of the 'real North Pole.'

The best out-of-town float was by Akcent Motors of Winchester, and the Morewood Kids and Recreation Association took the trophy for the best individual float.

Bruce Casselman and Scott Erratt, both of the Chesterville Fire Department, are emphasizing fire safety during the Christmas holiday season.

Have a safe, fire-free holiday

Sandy Bierworth
Record Editor

CHESTERVILLE - Christmas is fast approaching and everywhere colourful lights are brightening up the Christmas trees, fires are being lit in woodstoves and fireplaces, and kitchen stoves and ovens are working overtime in preparation of the Christmas feast.

And in the midst of the festivities lies the perfect birthplace for a house fire.

The Chesterville Fire Department is emphasizing fire safety and prevention this holiday season, and Scott Erratt, captain of the fire team and Bruce Casselman, a member of the Fire Prevention and Public Education Committee, offer some helpful hints to keep the holidays safe.

"Our biggest concern over the span of a year is grassfires in the spring," said Erratt. "Structure fires are way down, and we'd like to keep it that way. I think we only had one house fire last winter."

The most common causes of house fires, he said, are faulty wires, cooking and careless smoking

"As far as electrical fires go, make sure you're using good quality extensions cords for the tree and don't overload the circuit," he said. "Power bars are safe for multiple plug ins, but the multiple outlet devices that you plug into one outlet are not recommended. Basically, if the wire is warm, it's not a good sign."

Anyone bringing a real Christmas tree into the home is advised to cut off the bottom of the trunk before setting it up and keeping it watered.

"When the tree is cut down, the trunk forms a sort of seal and won't suck up any more moisture, so by cutting off the bottom, you're allowing it to continue bringing moisture to the rest of the tree, which is important because a dry tree will light up more quickly."

Smaller bulbs produce less heat than larger ones, he said, and most indoor bulbs are safe, even if decorations are in contract with the lights.

In the fireplace and woodstoves, making sure the chimney and pipes are clean are a must, both men agreed.

"There was a house last year that burned down because the owners had put the ashes in a cardboard box and put it in the garage," Erratt said. "Ashes can remain hot for about three or four days, so it's imperative that you put them in a fireproof container, like a tin pail, and put them outside."

Dirty or worn out chimneys are also a common cause of fires, he said. The department recommends homeowners get their chimneys checked periodically for holes and clogs, especially during the burning season.

And after the last of the gifts has been opened Christmas morning, the department suggested the gift wrap be recycled.

"We do not recommend that anyone burn gift wrap because, for one it's toxic, and for another, it burns very hot, so if there's already a hole or a clot of dirt in your chimney, it will cause even more problems and probably start a fire in there," said Erratt.

In the kitchen, Erratt recommends Christmas chefs do not wear loose clothing when cooking, never leave a hot stove unattended and turn pot handles inwards so they don't get knocked over.

Candles and oil lamps may help to make the season bright, but they can also add a lot of risk to the celebrations. As most of the heat comes off the top, rather than the sides of the candle, it is suggested they are burned in an open area where no shelves, curtains or other household item can catch fire.

Anyone planning to hook up their generators 'just in case' the Y2K bug hits this New Year's Eve is advised to be sure the machine is hooked up properly and, if it is inside a garage or shed, to have a door open when the generator is in use. Firefighters will be at the fire hall December 31 to answer any questions residents may have and advice on hooking up generators is available at the hall.

And throughout the campaign to increase fire safety in the community, the department is also reminding parents that the South Nation River is not yet safe for children to play on.

Car safety is also important as the weather becomes more and more unpredictable. Casselman suggests anyone who does a lot of driving carry a cell phone if possible and that everyone carry an emergency pack in the vehicle, including a candle, matches, flashlight, booster cables and batteries.

He recommends people plugging their vehicles in overnight not use a lengthy extension cord for a short distance and that cords be heavy and in good condition.

And when warming up a car in a garage, be sure to open the garage door, Erratt said.

If drivers end up sliding into a ditch this winter, the first thing they should do is turn off the car. Otherwise, snow can block the tailpipe, sending the deadly fumes into the cab.

Members of the fire department will inspect a home at no charge and make recommendations to improve fire safety, though the suggestions will not be enforced. But for times when the department volunteers can't be there, it's better for residents to take their own precautions, Casselman said.

"No home should be without a smoke detector. And people should change the batteries every so often."

Any non-emergency questions or concerns can be addressed to the Fire Department's answering service at 448-2865. Residents can also contact Scott Erratt at 448-1391 or Bruce Casselman at 448-1327 with questions about fire safety.

Food Bank coordinator describes hunger pains

Nick Forster
Record Staff

CHESTERVILLE—At their regular meeting December 13, members of the Rotary Club of Chesterville listened as their guest speaker told the sad tale of those that do not have enough food to feed themselves or their families.

Though sad, the tale is true, said Judy Hilson, the coordinator of the Dundas County Food Bank in Winchester; there are many people going hungry in Dundas County.

"In 1999, we fed 2,430 people, 1,091 of them are children," said Hilson. The numbers represent Dundas, which the food bank has been helping since 1992, she said, adding the food bank in Winchester works in conjunction with the House of Lazarus, a division of the United Church.

Hilson is a retired school teacher who has served thousands of people since taking over as food bank coordinator in the spring of 1994. Her duties include interviewing perspective food bank clients, shopping for food and talking to groups such as the Rotary Club to increase awareness.

"Last year I spent $12,000 on food and that doesn't include donated food," she said, explaining that she only uses credit when buying food, never cash.

"Basically, I keep the records up to date," she said of keeping the statistics, which eventually are compiled by Statistics Canada for national and provincial hunger levels.

From the statistics for Dundas, Hilson has determined that 60 per cent of the food bank's clients are on social assistance, 25 per cent are on disability or pension and 11 per cent are employed.

"This is usually a minimum wage job," she said, explaining that for a single mother, or a sole-family income, a convenience store clerk wage or gas station attendant wage just doesn't cut it.

She said there are many reasons why people need to use the food bank, but there is one reason in particular that she credits for a large increase in the poor over recent years: "Harris cut-backs."

"This played a huge role in the number of people using food banks," she said. "There was a fifty per cent increase of new clients after Harris took office."

Since then, it has leveled off a bit she said, but she still interviews new clients. She said there are a lot of people who are only a car break-down, or a necessary house repair away from visiting a food bank to feed their families.

"These people have no safety net," she explained. While an increase in gas prices may be an inconvenience to most, the extra two or three dollars per tank of gas may be the straw that breaks the camel's back for the financially challenged, she said.

"That's more than their budgets can afford."

She said something like a broken transmission can set back poor families, who generally don't have credit cards. If the car doesn't get fixed, they can't go to work, or look for work.

"They can't even go to the food bank," she said.

Hilson described how clients are interviewed and their names are checked with neighbouring counties' food banks to make sure they aren't "doubling up." She said that currently, it is estimated that three per cent of people using the food banks are abusing the system by either lying about their incomes or doubling up.

"It takes that three per cent to ruin it for the rest of the 97 per cent," said Hilson.

She described how many food recipients are embarrassed that they have to use the service and used a couple who visited the food bank for the first time recently as an example.

"The wife couldn't get out of the van because she was crying so hard," she said.

"45 per cent of people we feed are children," Hilson said. "That's why we overlook the drinking and the bingo—we do not judge our families...We do not judge the children by the faults of their parents."

She added that most, if not all, people—not just food bank clients—have abused the system at some point in their lives. "Sometimes the poor people get attacked first."

Hilson explained that once a client is deemed worthy of support, they are awarded one box of food a month per family. The box contains fresh food for three-four days she said, and includes staples such as milk, eggs, bread, meat and cheese.

Recently, the food bank has been encouraging people to donate healthy snacks for kids to bring to school, she said. "If kids are hungry, they can't concentrate at school. If they can't concentrate, they don't learn."

And if the kids grow up uneducated, she said, the cycle of poverty continues.

She said that without the food bank, families surviving on low income jobs, or jobs with no compensation for sick leave, would have nowhere to turn when the cupboards are empty.

The food bank stocks other items besides food, she said. "Diapers for any size child, baby bottles—we never ration for the babies."

The food bank is funded through private donations and special non-governmental grants, she said.

Rob Saunders presents a cheque to Judy Hilson for the Dundas County Food Bank.

At the end of her talk, Hilson thanked local organizations who regularly donate to the food bank. Parmalat Foods keeps them supplied with skim milk powder, she said. Nestlés gives coffee and skim milk powder, Berry's donates eggs and the Winchester Bakery donates bread.

Besides its regular operations of providing food for clients, the food bank is also giving out Christmas food baskets for qualified families, snow suits for children and small toys for needy families.

New Zealand Christmas features sun, flowers

Hi folks.

It's been wonderful receiving news from Canada in the form of the Chesterville Record, albeit a little late.

It's December 19th; 22 degrees Celsius; flowers in full bloom and not a snowflake in sight.

Just how different is Christmas in New Zealand? Pizza Haven is offering a turkey pizza smothered in mouth-watering cranberries. Christmas dinner is more likely to be a barbecue on the beach than the traditional turkey and dressing extravaganza.

Christmas lighting is rare - it doesn't get dark until after 9:00 p.m.

Imagine shopping in an air-conditioned store, wearing a T-shirt and shorts while listening to "White Christmas" on the PA system. Seems more like Canada Day than Christmas.

But there are compensations. It is 22 degrees; the flowers are in full bloom, darkness falls after 9 p.m. and there's not a snowflake in sight.

Last night was "Coca-Cola Christmas in the Park" - a free concert set on the Auckland Domain (a natural amphitheater created by the remains of an extinct volcano).

Carols, a laser light show and fireworks in a picnic atmosphere attended by up to 200,000 persons.

Even Santa made an appearance, but in a waka (don't know what it is) towed by a giant dolphin.

So it's a little different. The true meaning of Christmas has nothing to do with snow or lights or turkey.

We would like to wish our far-away friends a Christmas full of wonder and delight, no matter how it is celebrated.

Merry Christmas from the other side of the world.

A Christmas Remembrance

In memory of a loving Grandmother, and Nanny, Donalda, who passed away December 31, 1996.

God looked upon his garden and found an empty space, then He looked down upon the earth and saw your tired face. He put His arms around you and lifted you to rest. God's garden must be beautiful for He only takes the best. He saw the road was getting rough and the hills were hard to climb, He closed your weary eyes and whispered, "Peace be thine." It broke our hearts to lose you, but you did not go alone, for part of us went with you to God's garden, your new home.

Sadly missed and forever in our hearts.

IN MEMORIAM

FORWARD - In memory of a dear husband Edwin Forward, father and grandfather, who passed away Dec. 23, 1997, and son Andrew on Oct. 29, 1998.
He had a smile, a pleasant way
He was so kind, so generous and true,
On earth he nobly did his best,
Grant him, Jesus, heavenly rest.
Missing you
— Betty and Family
20

NEVILLE - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather Larry, who left us on Dec. 23, 1984.
You were the love of my life for so many years,
You left the sweetest memories
This world could ever hold.
To us you were so special
What more is there to say,
Except to wish with all our hearts,
That you were here today.
Ever loved and remembered by
— Eileen, Kelly, Lorne and Karen and Kacey
20

YOUNG - In loving memory of mom and dad, Lois and Doug, who passed away Dec. 20, 1992 and Dec. 20, 1988.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they left behind.
Loving and kind in all their ways,
Upright and just in all their days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories they left behind.
Sadly missed

Aces leaving the rest of the pack far behind

FINCH - Only four points separate the fifth-place Cornwall Express from the second-place Berwick Bull Dogs while the first-place Avonmore Aces continue their disappearing act in the North Stormont Intermediate Hockey league.

The Aces are fast disappearing over the horizon, winning their 11th game of the season Sunday night, 7-3 over Williamstown's Munro Agromart, to improve their lead over the second-place Dawgs to 11 points. Meanwhile Berwick is in a dogfight for second, with 14 points, while third-place Williamstown is one back. Long Sault's Grumpy's Sports Bar moved to within a point of third with a -4 win over Agromart Friday night and the fifth-place Express are only four out of second after dumping the Bull Dogs 9-5 Friday night.

Aces 7 - Agromart 3

Kevin Poapst took over the league scoring lead with a six-point performance Sunday night. Poapst moved past teammate Yvon Besner as he figured in every Avonmore goal - scoring three himself - except for Kent Young's goal with 8:28 left in the first.

Poapst now leads the scoring race with 49 points, five ahead of Besner, and his three goals made him the league's second 20-goal scorer this season. Besner is the other, with 21.

The Aces, with only eight skaters in front of netminder Brian Perras, led 5-2 after one.

Poapst scored twice in the first. Young also had two in the first half, to go along with an assist, and Brent Cater had a single.

In the second it was Poapst and Gagnon.

The win gives the Aces 23 points in 14 points. They hold a pair of games in hand over Berwick.

Express 9 - Bull Dogs 5

The Express exploded for five goals in the first half of the opening period Friday night, including three in a span of 44 seconds, to chase Craig "John Boy" Smith from the Berwick nets. Jeff "Mooy" Moore went in for Smith and gave up four goals the rest of the way after Cornwall had built a 5-1 lead at the turn.

Jarrett McGillivray led Cornwall with four goals and an assist and Rob "Crow" Crowther and Steve Lamarche each had a pair. Ryan Winter had Cornwall's other goal.

Berwick actually led 1-0 at one point, Mike Stewart getting the first of his three on the game with 18:21 to play. Crowther evened it two minutes later and Lamarche and McGillivray each scored a pair in a span of 2:34 to give the Express an insurmountable lead.

Stewart also had an assist to go with his three goals to move into a tie for seventh-place in the scoring race. He and Avonmore's Cater each have 24 points.

Defenceman Jeremy Logtens logged three assists on the night for the Dawgs.

Grumpy's 7 - Agromart 4

Denis St. Jean had two goals and an assist and Josh Gowsell and Marc Villeneuve each had a goal and two assists to lead the Grumpmeisters to their fifth win of the season and maintain their two-point lead over the Express for fourth place.

Long Sault led 4-2 after one on first-half goals by Craig Villeneuve, Marc Villeneuve, St. Jean and Brian Synott.

In the second it was St. Jean with his second and Dave Duprau getting their seventh, with 27 second remaining.

Brent Lauzon had a pair and Ian Laplante and Ian MacDonell each had singles. Laplante also had a pair of assists on the night.

This Week

There will be no games this weekend as the league takes its Christmas - New Year's break. Action will resume Sun., Jan. 2 with Williamstown and Cornwall facing off at 7:30 p.m. On Fri., Jan. 7 Berwick and Avonmore square off at 8 and at 9:30 it's Long Sault and Cornwall.

Bantam HL Demons on a tear

The North Dundas Bantam House League Demons have been on a tear so far in December, racking up four wins and a tie in five games.

They started the skein Dec. 4 with a 3-1 win over the Lions in Morrisburg; skated to a 4-4 draw with the SG Ranges in Chesterville Dec. 15 on a last-minute goal by Devin Carruthers; blanked Brockville #2 3-0 in Brockville Dec. 16; doubled Kemptville 4-2 in Kemptville Dec. 17, and got a pair in the third to edge the Lions 4-2 in Morrisburg Dec. 18.

The Demons got goals from Tyler Byrne, Geoff Paas and Tim Johnson in Morrisburg Dec. 4. Captain Ben Mead and Ben Kirkwood had assists.

Devin Carruthers got his second of the game, from James Johnson, with 00:17 left, to boost the Demons into a tie against SG Dec. 15. The Rangers had gone up 4-3 with a goal 1:53 before the final buzzer.

Also scoring for the Demons were Johnson and Matt Baker, who also had an assist. Stewart Dejong had two assists and Byrne, Johnson and Mead each had one.

Byrne, Paas and Mead each scored in the 3-0 win over Brockville and Michael Beuman backstopped the shut out.

Carruthers had a pair and Mead and Josh Ennis each had singles in the 4-2 win over Kemptville Dec. 17. Kane Erickson, Mead and Tim Johnson all had assists.

The Demons got a pair in the first and two more in the third to double the Lions Dec. 18 in Morrisburg.

Midget B Demons lose first of season in dramatic fashion

WILLIAMSTOWN - It had to happen sooner or later and the North Dundas Midget B Demons did it in dramatic fashion here Nov. 29 as they lost for the first time in the UCMHL's 1999-2000 season, dropping a 3-2 decision to the Char-Lan Rebels.

The Demons had a chance to dodge the bullet but they missed on a penalty shot with 13 seconds left in the game after coming to within a goal after being down 3-1 at the end of two.

The game was tied 1-1 at the end of one, Aaron Kelly scoring from Wayne Smirle, at 12:44.

Char-Lan took a 3-1 lead into the final period but Dave Gallant cut the lead in half with 2:43 remaining, from Francis Dagenais and captain Will McLean.

Demons 3 - Glens 1

The Demons posted their ninth win of the season in Alexandria Nov. 27, getting a pair of unassisted goals in the final two minutes of the second after taking a 1-0 lead out of the first period.

Scott Baldwin made it 1-0 at 8:05 of the first, from Kelly and Gallant.

Tyler Brown scored unassisted with 2:05 left in the second and Josh McLean made it 3-0 with another unassisted goal 57 seconds later.

ND 5 - Kemptville 4

The Demons picked up their 10th win of the season in Chesterville Dec. 7, outscoring Kemptville 3-2 in the final period to emerge 5-4 winners. They were led by Dagenais, who had two goals and an assist.

Kemptville led 1-0 after one and the teams entered the third tied at 2-2. Scoring for ND in the second were Dagenais, from Aaron Kelly and Kelly Beckstead, and Derek Murdoch, from Chris Koopman and Brown.

The Demons went up 5-2 in the final period and held off a late two-goal rally by the visitors.

Scoring for ND in the third were Josh McRoberts, from Josh and Will McLean, Dagenais, from Kelly and Trevor Morozuk, and Kelly, from Koopman and Dagenais.

The Demons' record now stands at 10-1-1.

Mustangs win in last minute, embarrassed by Stars Sun.

MAXVILLE - Eric Bourgeois got as pretty a goal as you're likely to see in Junior C hockey when he scored the winner against the Nationals in Rockland with 10 seconds left in regulation time Sunday night.

Bourgeois took a high, arcing pass from defenceman J-F Gagné to go in alone on Dan Ritchot and put the puck high in the corner.

With the score tied at four, just a few seconds left on the clock and the face-off in the Maxville end, coach Ivan Coleman called a time-out to set the play and it worked to perfection.

Scott Coleman won the draw, sending the puck back to Gagné, who looped the high pass up ice, catching Bourgeois in full stride. He made no mistake, burying the winner with 10 seconds to go after Rockland had battled back with three third-period goals to wipe out a 4-1 Maxville lead at the end of 40 minutes.

The Mustangs built their lead on a pair of first-period power play goals, Brad McMillan scoring from Bourgeois and Derek Crawford and Coleman scoring from the same pair.

The Mustangs got a pair in the second, from the stick of Gagné, with assists to Keith Brown and Jamie Malyon, and Nick Quenneville, with help from McMillan and Malyon.

The win avenged a 4-3 OT loss to the Nats in Maxville Dec. 11.

Stars 15 - Mustangs 2

Sunday night's performance was a far cry from the spectacle the Mustangs treated their home fans to against Casselman Saturday night.

The Stars gave them a graphic demonstration of why they are the league's only undefeated team as they took an 8-0 lead after one, carried a 9-1 lead into the third and pumped in six more - including five in the last 5:34 - to end the game with an exclamation mark.

The Stars' special teams alone outscored the Mustangs, getting three on the power play and one while killing a penalty.

Eric Lavoie led the Casselman assault with four goals and four assists.

Francis Brisson had three goals and Yan Villeneuve and Ben Desnoyers each had a pair.

Lavoie got two of his goals in the final 4:48 of the game, getting the Stars' 15th of the game with 23 seconds left on the clock.

Brown and Chris Coleman - with his first goal as a junior - responded for the Mustangs.

This Week

The league is now on its Christmas break. Action resumes Jan. 6 and the Mustangs will be in action Fri., Jan. 7 when they travel to Embrun. Their next home game is Sat., Jan. 8 when they host the Stars.

Tutton paces Bantam C Demons

The North Dundas Bantam C Demons edged Ogdensburg 2-1 in an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League east division game in Chesterville Sunday.

Mike Tutton led the way for the Demons, scoring unassisted with 5:09 left in the first to bring the Demons into a 1-1 tie and setting up Dan Marion for the winner with 4:07 left in the game.

Ogdensburg had taken the lead with just 2:58 gone in the game when Dan Wears found the range behind Nick Albert but the Demons tightened up and started the comeback with Tutton's unassisted goal.

The Demons were in a tournament Saturday, tripling Athens 6-2 to advance to the semifinal round of the A side but dropped a 5-2 decision in their second game, against Kingston Township, to exit the tournament.

Coach Glen Simms noted that his charges played a good, clean, hard-hitting game against Ogdensburg Sunday, showing a lot of heart, which was lacking in the loss Saturday.

The Demons are sponsored by D's Collision and Guildcrest Homes.

Hawks lose more ground to Lions

WINCHESTER - Sylvain Routhier and Justin Joy each scored twice to lead the Akwesasne Wolves to a 6-3 win over the Hawks here Friday night.

The loss was the first of two for the Hawks, who were embarrassed 11-1 by the Rebels in Williamstown Saturday night, and dropped farther back of the Morrisburg Lions, who picked up one point in two games on the weekend in a 3-2 shoot out loss to the Kemptville 73s.

The Hawks, with 14 points in 25 games, are now 12 behind Alexandria for the fourth and final playoff spot and trail the fifth place Lions by eight, although they hold two games in hand over the Lions.

Shawn Smail had a pair for the Hawks in Friday night's losing effort.

Dave Summers had a pair of assists. Liam Turpin had the other Winchester goal.

Mike Belmore, who normally skates with the Long Sault Vipers of the Eastern Ontario Junior C Hockey League, was with the Wolves for Friday night's game as an affiliated player.

Pee Wee B Demons rack up three wins

Matt Bird stopped 33 of the 34 shots sent his way as he backstopped the ND Pee Wee B Demons to a 2-1 road win over Potsdam Dec. 11.

Captain Devon Kelly got the winner on the power play at 7:31 of the second, from Darrel Moore, after Scott Bradley had scored unassisted to give ND a 1-0 lead at the end of the first.

Brian Cummings scored his third goal of the game with 4:59 left to give the Demons a 5-4 win over Potsdam at home Dec. 15.

Moore assisted on the winner for the second straight game.

Ben Baker, from Tory Baldwin and Adam Guy, Moore, unassisted, and Cummings, from Travis Armstrong, staked the Demons to a 3-0 lead at the end of one.

Cummings got his second of the game, unassisted, in the middle period.

Moore and Dale Dellaire each scored twice to lead the Demons to a 5-2 win over the Panthers in Kemptville Dec. 19.

The teams skated to a 1-1 draw at the end of one, Dellaire scoring unassisted at 13:12.

They took a 5-1 lead out of the second on goals by Moore, from Baker, Dellaire, from Blain Moran, Brad Switch, from Dellaire, and Moore, from Baker and Dellaire.

The goals by Delaire and Switch were scored 11 seconds apart..

HL #1 Pee Wees score decisive wins

The North Dundas #1 Pee Wee House League Demons skated to a pair of decisive victories over Kemptville last week, dumping them 5-2 on home ice Dec. 15 and blanking 6-0 them on the road Dec. 19.

Patrick Greaves and Carl Tuck each scored a pair and Bryan Hillis had a goal and two assists in the Demons' Dec. 15 win.

ND led 3-0 after one on goals by Carl Tuck, from Hillis, Hillis, from Travis Kennedy, and Tuck, from Hillis.

Greaves got his first at 8:51 of the second, from Josh Brewer, and his second with 42.4 seconds left in the game, from Scott Smail.

Tuck scored twice and added two assists to lead the Demons to the win in Kemptville Dec. 19.

Adam Thompson played shut out hockey in the ND nets.

The teams went scoreless through the first period and a half but ND erupted for four goals in a three-minute span in the second half of the middle period and pumped in a pair in the third.

Scoring for ND in the second were Hillis, from Tuck, Tuck, from Hillis, Tuck, from Kennedy, and Kyle Pelkey, from Greaves.

In the third it was Greaves, unassisted, and Kennedy, from Tuck.

Before You Celebrate, Designate

Drunk driving causes more deaths, injuries and destruction than all murderers, muggers, rapists and robbers combined.

Every 4 hours, someone is killed by an impaired driver. Every 20 minutes someone, somewhere in Canada falls victim to an impaired driver and every year over 45% of all traffice collisions involve alcohol.

This holiday season, make the most of each gathering. But if someone you know has had too much to drink, DON'T LET THEM DRIVE. It could be the best gift you'll ever give a stranger.
