Ring in the season

Santa and his helpers put on their annual show for the residents of Winchester Saturday. The judges had their hands full choosing winners from among a wide variety of colorful entries in the afternoon parade, while Santa kept an appointment with his young fans.

B-1

County champs

Dundas County's top 4-H club members were honored Friday night at the annual awards banquet at Matilda Township Hall. With a successful Bicentennial year behind them, members are looking ahead to new challenges in 1985. New clubs starting up in the coming year include leadership, safety, action wear and basic baking projects.

B-3

Hawks, Jets tangle

Winchester goalie Mark Cicchini peaks around Metcalfe's Mike Pratt for a better look at the action headed his way. Cicchini, making his second start for the Hawks, turned in a winning performance in Sunday's Junior B game. Hawks won 6-4.

Scouting for paper

The Greely Boy Scouts will be holding a bottle and paper drive this Saturday from 9:30am to 4:30pm to raise money to attend the Canadian Jamboree in Guelph next summer. A trailer will be set up at Drummond's Gas Bar at the corner of Regional Road 8 and Highway 31 for anyone wanting to drop off paper and bottles.

Village gives Santa a jolly greeting

WINCHESTER — Despite gray skies and a chilling wind, young and old alike lined the streets of Winchester Saturday for a glimpse of Santa Claus as he made his annual pre-Christmas visit.

St. Nick didn't disappoint his young fans, appearing at the tail end of a procession of colorful and inventive floats.

In addition to the float depicting seasonal themes — including one giant candy cane — the parade was rounded out by a cast of characters costumed as clowns, "Care Bears", "ewoks" and an assortment of space aliens.

The faces of the children who braved the cold wind during the afternoon lit up as the star of the show arrived.

The threat of rain didn't deter the crowds, although some parade watchers felt a touch of snow would have lent a more festive atmosphere to the parade.

"It was a beautiful parade," said Carolyn Wyatt of Winchester. "Too bad we didn't get a little snow to go with it."

Son Christopher Wyatt, seven, said he had a simple request to make when he met Santa at the Royal Bank following the parade.

When asked what he wanted, he replied, "Trucks."

"It was a super parade," said Rhonda Steele of Winchester's CountryGirl clothing store. "There were a lot of good floats."

The CountryBoy-CountryGirl entry placed first in the commercial class for the fourth year in a row, with the theme "A Royal Christmas".

First place in the non-commercial class was won by the Winchester Brownies, with a float featuring "Cabbage Patch Kids".

"A Space Age Christmas" netted Winchester Cheese Inc. second place in the commercial class. Plant manager Volker Greutzner said the $50 prize will be donated to Ethiopian relief.

Inkerman Public School won the second prize in the non-commercial class. Horses for the float, depicting a nativity scene, were donated by Gerald Morrow of Mountain.

"I personally thought the floats were very good," said parade organizer John Adams, "perhaps better than we've had before."

Adams, who has been helping to organize the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored parade since 1976, said this was the first year he had been able to get downtown to watch the parade.

He said that although the number of floats was down slightly from last year's total of 26, the high quality of entries more than made up for the lack.

"There was sure a good turnout at the Royal Bank after the parade," he said. Over 200 children visited with Santa at the bank between 2pm and 3:30pm.

Over 1,200 candy canes were handed out to spectators at the bank and at the Main corner, and organizers reported very few were left over after the parade.

Don't be shy

Erica Sherrer, 6, and her sister Rhonda, 4, waited patiently for their turn to sit on Santa's knee Saturday at the Royal Bank. Around 200 youngsters presented their gift lists to St. Nick during the afternoon following the annual Winchester Christmas parade.

Contractors picked for village pipeline

WINCHESTER — Construction of a four-kilometre pipeline to bring water to the village from a Mountain Township well has been scheduled to begin by next Mon., Dec. 10.

At a meeting Monday, village council accepted tenders for construction of the pipeline and pumping station from among 48 bids submitted to the Ministry of the Environment office in Toronto between the end of October and Nov. 20.

Council agreed to award the pipeline contract to Elgin Construction Co. Ltd. of Ottawa for $194,735, the lowest bid. The project will take 24 weeks to complete.

The pumping station will be built by ETS Towers Inc. at a cost of $151,461, over a 26-week period.

"We would like to have water in the line by March 15," said Reeve Larry Gray.

According to clerk Raymond Annable, the bids were somewhat lower than anticipated, and may result in a lower total cost than the original estimate of $603,000.

"They were quite good bids as far as we were concerned," Annable said.

It is impossible to say what the final cost will be, he added, because a number of bills for engineers' fees have not yet been received.

"There's been a lot of work done by the engineers and different consulting firms," Annable said.

Dec. 10 is the latest the project can be started without being delayed until next spring.

Gray told council Monday that an agreement with Mountain Township for removal of the water has been reached. The township drafted the agreement in response to requests from a group of township farmers who wanted assurances they would be compensated if the village's well affected the quality of their own wells.

"Mountain Township and the village have overcome their differences," Gray said.

A public meeting between the farmers and Ministry of the Environment officials to air these concerns is planned, but no date has been chosen.

Mountain ready for parade

MOUNTAIN — It looks like Santa Claus is getting into the final stage of training for his annual whirlwind world tour.

Just a week after visiting Winchester, St. Nick will be dropping by to see the children in both Mountain and South Mountain this Saturday.

Sponsored by the Mountain Township Fire Department and the Independent Order of Oddfellows, the Santa Claus parade will start at Blom's Meat Market in Mountain at 1pm.

Santa Claus will take a break at the end of the parade at the community hall to visit with the children and hand out bags of candy.

He'll be back on the road again at 2:30pm in South Mountain and will meet with children there at the IOOF Hall at about 3pm.

Parade organizer Bill Williams said Monday that 12 float entries have been confirmed, including entries from Winchester's parade and two from Kemptville's parade two weeks ago, and that more are expected.

"This snow has put everyone in the Christmas spirit," Williams said, explaining his optimism of a good turnout. "We'll probably be the only one of the three big parades in the area that will have a white one. We're happy to see the snow."

As in past years, the theme of the Mountain and South Mountain parades will be fun. In keeping with the spirit of fun over competition, Williams said, no prizes will be awarded to float entries.

Anyone wishing to enter a float in the parade can contact any member of the Independent Order of Oddfellows in the township.

Drug seized

MORRISBURG — Four people will appear in Morrisburg provincial court Dec. 11 facing drug charges after Morrisburg OPP seized 1.6 kilograms of marijuana worth about $10,000 Friday morning.

Charged with possession of a narcotic for trafficking are Wayne Wolfe, 22, of Williamsburg, and Albert Dunphy, 42, of RR1 Morrisburg. Dunphy's next door neighbors, Steven Kirker and Laurie Marchand, both 18, have been charged with possession of a narcotic.

Wolfe also faces a charge of possession of stolen property over $200.

The charges were laid following a two-week investigation by the Morrisburg OPP and other detachments.

Sgt. A.J. Roberts of the Morrisburg OPP said the marijuana was seized at 8:30am Friday at the homes of Kirker, Wolfe and Dunphy.

The four men charged have been released from custody awaiting trial.

Tory delegates expecting horse race

WINCHESTER — Ontario Conservative leadership candidates Frank Miller and Dennis Timbrell appear to have won the attention of Tories in SD&G, but most delegates picked Friday to represent the riding at the Toronto leadership convention remain uncommitted.

Of the eight delegates elected at the delegate selection meeting in Avonmore, none expressed a firm commitment to any of the leadership candidates when they told members of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry PC Association why they wanted to go to the convention.

But when interviewed later, one said he was firmly committed to Timbrell and several others said they were looking at both Miller and Timbrell. Fellow leadership candidates Roy McMurtry and Larry Grossman appear to have little support in the riding.

Eleven alternates, who will attend the convention at the CNE but will not have a vote, were also elected.

The first leadership convention provincial Conservatives have had in 13 years, the selection of delegates in the riding attracted 19 people willing to fork out a $330 convention fee to attend as a delegate.

Riding association secretary Jim Cooke, elected as an alternate, said he was not surprised by the enthusiasm.

"We've always had a lot of interest in the party in this riding and now the leadership is beginning to shape up as a horse race," said Cooke. "Both Dennis (Timbrell) and Frank (Miller) claim their leading. It's getting exciting."

Delegate Basil Dawley of Winchester, a member of the association since it was formed in 1975 and the campaign manager of MPP Noble Villeneuve's successful by-election bid last year, said he was going to the January convention as a solid Timbrell supporter.

"He's got more experience than the last half dozen premiers," Dawley said. Dawley said he also wanted to go as a delegate so that he could add his experience in making sure Eastern Ontario is heard when Ontario Conservatives pick a new leader.

Youth delegates elected were Carleton University student Steve McCormick and University of Toronto student Diana McBean of Green Valley.

Representing women will be former association president Elizabeth-Locke-McIntosh of Morewood, Lochiel deputy-reeve Lynda Kennedy and Jill Alguire of Ingleside.

Other delegates elected were Mountain farmer Dave Guy, Basil Dawley and Lancaster farmer Gerard Smits.

Library shunted from booked complex

WINCHESTER — It is unlikely a new location for the village library will be incorporated into the proposed senior citizens' housing complex, members of the library board advisory committee were told Monday.

The seven-member committee attended a regular meeting of village council to ask if plans to include the library in the new apartment building were still feasible.

With only 858 square feet of floor space and a circulation of 25,000 books, the Winchester library is tied with Alexandria as the second most-used library in the United Counties. The best-used library branch is in Morrisburg.

"We're doing the job that Morrisburg is doing with one-third the space," one advisory committee member said.

According to project consultant Doug Richie, who also attended Monday's meeting accompanied by architect B.J. Edmundson of Ottawa, the proposal to incorporate the library into the new seniors building may be impractical.

"The Ontario Ministry of Housing is very reluctant to see non-housing space incorporated in these buildings," Richie said.

A second problem has been created by the unexpected demand for additional seniors' housing in the area. The mail-out of application forms for tenancy in the proposed building revealed a proven need for 79 additional units in the village.

Due to lack of space on the proposed site adjacent to the Millview Apartments, the Winchester Non-Profit Housing Corporation intends to ask for only 50 units.

However, the unexpectedly large number of units means "space is tighter", said housing corporation chairman Larry Cotton.

The housing corporation board of directors feels the seniors' apartments must take priority, putting a new site for the library on a back burner, he added.

Architect Edmundson, of Kohler, Dickey and Edmundson, told council any delays at present could set the project back a full year. In order to be available for provincial funding in 1985, the project must be through the preliminary stages by the end of February or early March.

"It is important that we proceed as rapidly as possible," he said. "We are on an extremely tight schedule."

The housing corporation must determine as soon as possible if two lots are available for sale to provide the project site with access to Beech Street. Unless the lots, each with a frontage of 45 feet, can be purchased, the site will be completely "land locked".

DCAMR staff claim safety standards not met

MORRISBURG — Staff employed by the Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded (DCAMR) say its board of directors has failed to address potential safety hazards at facilities run by the association.

According to Dave Stewart, president of local 2892 of the Canadian Union of Public Employees, which represents 40 full-time DCAMR staff, the employees are concerned that safety standards set by the Ministry of Community and Social Services are not being met in the DCAMR's group homes and workshops.

A Nov. 7 inspection by the Ontario Fire Marshal's office revealed 19 fire hazards at the work and life-skills workshop in Morrisburg, Stewart said.

"They're not great big overwhelming concerns, but there are two pages worth," he said.

A public meeting, for staff to air their concerns, was held Nov. 28 at the Morrisburg Legion, following an emergency meeting Nov. 19.

The first meeting was held after workshop manager Bill O'Neil was fired by two board members. About 60 workshop residents, staff and association members gathered to show support for O'Neil.

O'Neil was reinstated as workshop manager Nov. 21, after the decision to fire him was reversed by other board members and the association's lawyer in Toronto, Stewart said.

O'Neil told those present at the Nov. 19 meeting that he was fired by board members April Dietrich and Diane McKee after being asked earlier that day to sign a document agreeing to a probationary job period and to stop challenging board decisions. Although he agreed to sign the document, he said, he was later fired without explanation.

"They didn't really have grounds for dismissal," Stewart said. "Certain other board members weren't happy with the decision."

Because of complaints by O'Neil and other staff members at the Nov. 10 meeting that the eight-member board had failed to carry out its role as policy-maker for the association, a second meeting was proposed for the following Monday with the board in attendance.

Board treasurer April Dietrich stated that the board did not have to answer to the general public, and board members declined to attend the second meeting.

Specific concerns expressed by association staff involved conditions and safety standards at the workshop and the five group homes administered by the association.

One problem, Stewart said, involves fire detectors in group homes, which are required to be wired so that "if one goes, they all go". At present, the alarms are not interconnected. The DCAMR has group homes in Morrisburg, Williamsburg and Winchester.

The paint station in the Allison Avenue workshop is inadequately ventilated, Stewart said.

Memos and requests to the board regarding these concerns have gone unanswered, he added, although they will probably be addressed at a special general meeting for association members scheduled for Dec. 13.

Marc Charron of the Ministry of Community and Social Services, present at the Nov. 26 meeting, said ministry staff would be willing to attend a future meeting if invited by the board.

Wages and working conditions of the staff were not among the grievances discussed at the emergency meetings, Stewart said. They will be dealt with in a contract proposal to be drafted by the newly unionized workers beginning Mon., Dec. 3.

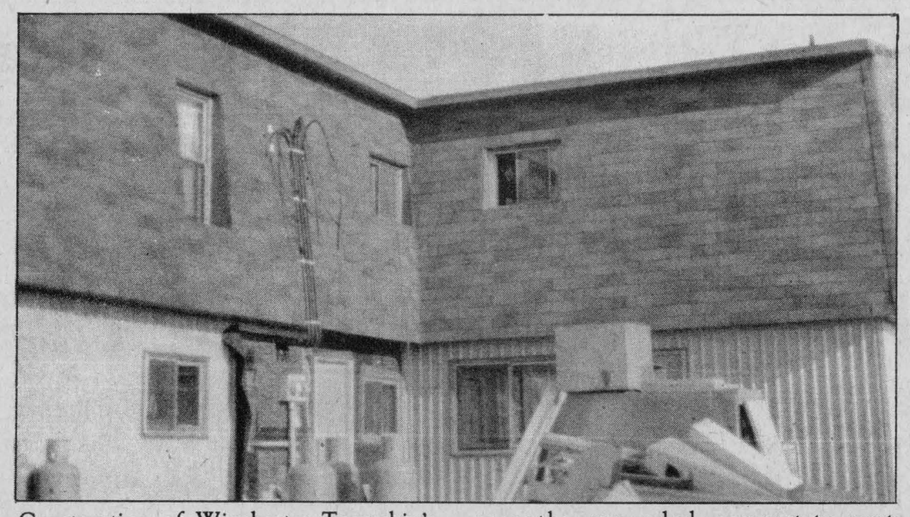
The DCAMR staff are using a contract drawn up by an Ottawa association as a model. Both full and part-time workers, as well as group home managers, are now members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees.

Sewer project ribbon cutting

WILLIAMSBURG — The official opening of the newly installed water and sewage services here will take place today (Wednesday) with a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

A slate of township delegates will take part in the ceremony, including village council and police village trustees. Also on hand for the opening will be the principle players in the construction of Williamsburg's first municipal sewer system — with representatives from Graham Engineering, Cruickshank Construction and Cornwall Gravel.

While the ceremony marks the official opening of the multi-million dollar project, Reeve Johnny Whitteker noted that the control panel for the pump house is still on order. Once the panel is installed, and Whitteker declined to say when that would be, the sewer services will be in full operation.



Construction of Winchester Township's first apartments could be completed by mid-December. Renovated and expanded from a carpet store and dairy bar in Morewood, the 13-apartment complex was made possible under the province's recently expanded convert-to-rent program. Building owner Claude Cousineau said the apartments should help to deal with the township's zero vacancy rate.

Dec. 15 opening date set

MOREWOOD — Winchester Township's first apartment complex could be ready for occupancy by Dec. 15.

The 13-unit complex, expanded from an original building that housed a carpet shop and dairy bar in Morewood, is being built under the province's convert-to-rent program.

Claude Cousineau, deputy-reeve for the township and owner of the building, said Friday the $300,000 complex, to be called the Morewood Apartments, was suggested following the release of a township housing survey last year which showed a zero vacancy rate in the municipality.

Although construction of new apartments in the township was originally thought to be too big a financial risk for private developers, Cousineau said council learned this summer that the province was expanding a program that would help offset the costs.

The convert-to-rent program, handled by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing and initially restricted to Ottawa and Toronto, provides interest-free loans to private developers to create more rental accommodations from existing buildings.

Ontario's first convert-to-rent housing project opened in Cornwall two weeks ago where a Canadian tire outlet was renovated into apartments.

Cousineau was accepted under the program as a private developer with a plan to expand his four-apartment carpet shop with the addition of nine two-bedroom apartments. He will receive loans of $63,000, about 20 per cent of the total cost, to be paid back over a five-year period beginning in 1995.

Construction of the apartments began 10 weeks ago and is expected to be completed by Dec. 15.

"This is the first apartment building in Winchester Township and it seems to be needed," said Cousineau. "We got a lot of responses when we started advertising last week. We've already got 11 people in line for the nine apartments."

Rent for the apartment units, which will be regulated by the province, will be $350 a month.

Although the township's housing survey showed a need for apartment space, Cousineau said he would not have considered converting without the assistance of the convert-to-rent program.

"It just wouldn't have been feasible," he said.

Cousineau added that the additional apartments in the township, combined with the expected construction of new senior citizens' homes in the area, should prevent any serious shortage of accommodations in the township.

"If only half of these apartments are filled by township people, it should still help," he said. "I think our growth rate is going to be pretty minimal over the next 20 years. This should help to keep the pressure off."

Cousineau added that while council has endorsed the construction of new apartments in the township, the project is a private venture. Council's only involvement, he said, was to rezone the property and make amendments to the official plan.

"As far as council is concerned right now, we are letting the private sector look after the housing needs in the township," Cousineau said.

Seven-year-old Stephanie Durant, a Grade 2 student at Winchester Public School took winter's sudden appearance Monday to stride by starting construction of a snowman. Although the snow produced slippery roads, police reported only a few minor accidents. About six centimetres of snow fell.

Indian Summer gets icy hatchet

WINCHESTER — The mild spring-like temperatures of last week were enough to put everyone off their guard. And many were Monday as winter hit with disarming quickness.

While motorists left for work on dry roads, the snow that began falling in the late morning soon turned the pavement into greasy, white stretches.

OPP in Morrisburg, Winchester and Manotick were called to a number of vehicle mishaps where cars slid off roads but no injuries or serious damage were reported.

In fact, spokesmen for the detachments said, it appears motorists were prepared in advance for the coming of winter.

"There were some cases of motorists losing their cars in the slush but nothing serious," said a spokesman for the Winchester detachment. "We were pretty lucky. We were expecting an onslaught since it was the first snow storm of the year but I guess drivers were being careful."

"It was pretty average for the first snow of the year," said Malcolm Graham of South Mountain, a weather watcher for Environment Canada for more than 20 years. "The only thing was that it came so fast. It wasn't an easy start to winter."

Graham said Monday's storm dropped six centimetres of snow that began to melt to slush as the temperature reached a high of two degrees Celsius.

He added that although it was late this year, it wasn't a record late start.

"But that's nothing," he said. "We could get a lot of snow now or this snow we have now could melt away next week."

The storm brought snowplows back out of the garages. Winchester had a plow out Tuesday morning while other municipalities began clearing the roads Monday night.

While the snow was a headache for motorists, merchants greeted the flakes with open arms. Nothing helps Christmas sales like a white Christmas atmosphere.

"People feel better about what they buy when they see snow on the ground," said Gary Annable of Annable's Jewellery in Winchester. "They don't feel like they've bought Christmas gifts when the ground is still green.

"It helps merchants to get in the Christmas spirit too," he added.

"It's not something you like from a driving point of view, but the snow is great for a business like ours," said salesman Dan Lecours of The CountryBoy in Winchester. "We have winter coats and gloves and scarves and the snow helps sales."

Hy Shy Nigh holds Christmas party

WINCHESTER — The Hy Shy Nigh Band members had a very busy day Thurs., Nov. 22 being taped for a program on Regional Contact by CJOH television station to be seen at a later date.

In the evening about 80 guests attended the Christmas party, which was enjoyed by playing euchre and dancing to excellent music provided by some members of the band and some guests. Mrs. Jessie Fetterly presided at the piano, proving her talent.

The door prizes were won by Mrs. Kay Beedie and Mrs. Viola Stewart. It was another very successful party for the band.

Computer Den given boost by Legion 108

WINCHESTER — The Winchester & District Computer Den got a big boost this week with a donation of $2,000 from Winchester Legion, Branch 108.

The Legion was approached to give initial funding to the Computers and Children Project. This donation enables the organization to cover start-up expenses.

This community project has received confirmation it will receive computers from the Ministry of Citizen & Culture. The Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry County Board of Education will be providing the facilities. All future funding and expenses will come from Winchester and district residents and users of the Computer Den.

A minimal membership fee will be levied as well as an hourly user fee. All bookings will be handled by the den's co-ordinator.

Heather Coles, Chesterville, has been hired by the board for this position. She was in Toronto last week for training and is looking forward to introducing the computers to the community.

Coles, 27, is a qualified teacher. A native of Ottawa, she has gained experience teaching computer courses to children and has helped to organize Ottawa-area computer clubs.

Heather Coles

The computers are expected to arrive within the next week and will be temporarily housed at Inkerman Public School. The Board of Education is endeavoring to provide a portable classroom to serve as the home of the Winchester & District Computer Den. To date, some playground equipment has been moved and an asphalt pad has been installed.

The purpose of the project is to provide the children of our community with access to microcomputer technology. The computers will also be available to interested groups such as senior citizens, housewives, recreational groups, farmers and small businesses. The den will be offering workshops and courses in Introductory Computing, Word Processing, Spreadsheets, Databases, LOGO, BASIC, and other courses as interest warrants.

$2,000 for Computer Den

Legion Branch 108 started the ball rolling to raise funds for Winchester and District Computer Den with a donation of $2,000. Legion president Dwight Hutt presented the cheque to Computer Den treasurer CPL Bob Lyon, president Howard Giles and director Jim Shaw.

Way paved for nursing home

WILLIAMSBURG — In an effort to attract either a public or private nursing home to South Dundas, Williamsburg council wants to rezone slightly more than an acre of property west of the village's new senior citizens complex now under construction.

A bylaw to rezone the land institutional was approved by council at a regular meeting Saturday.

But planner Chuck Miller said there could be a problem if the village's non-profit housing corporation, which owns the land and the seniors complex next door, tries to sever the land for a nursing home or a home for the aged.

The severed portion, he said, would have no front access on nearby Park Drive.

Reeve Johnny Whitteker said the street could be extended to provide the necessary frontage but added that council should instead consider rezoning a larger piece of land.

"There would be no point to rezoning one acre if it was found to be too small and then having to go through the expense of having to rezone another piece of land," Whitteker said.

Housing Corporation Chairman Tom Lowry confirmed that a sample set of plans received by the corporation by a contractor confirmed that the single acre would be large enough for a 60-bed nursing home.

Lowry added that the corporation's board of directors is aware of the problem of frontage and lack of space but said it feels the process must be started if new facilities are to be encouraged in South Dundas.

Whitteker replied there wouldn't be enough land for the township to acquire the United Counties' home for the aged expected to be built in South Dundas within two years.

Whitteker also asked how the housing corporation foresees the management of a nursing home and was particularly concerned about a deficit being turned over to the township.

Lowry said management companies are scrambling for contracts at such institutions and see them as money-making opportunities. The housing corporation, he said, could lease the property to a management company to avoid severing the land.

William Linden Barkley

Funeral services were held Fri., Nov. 30 for William Linden Barkley of RR1 Morrisburg. Mr. Barkley died at his home Wed., Nov. 28 after a lengthy illness. He was 85.

Mr. Barkley was born June 14, 1899, in Williamsburg Township, a son of Jeremiah Barkley and Margaret Hunter, both deceased.

He married Elvera Cordelia Trickey June 8, 1929 at Williamsburg United Church.

Equal education

A recent decision by the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education to put Early French Immersion (EFI) on hold in the rural schools in the county shows once again how universal our universal school system really is.

The equality of opportunity that is supposed to exist for students in Toronto and Thunder Bay and Winchester is no more than an ideal. The universal model can't even be made to work in one county.

Parents in SD&G have realized the value of bilingualism for their children. They want their children to have the best opportunities and skills when they enter the job market and bilingualism is recognized as one of those skills. The bilingual nature of SD&G itself drives that home.

They also realize that it makes sense to begin French instruction as early as possible in a child's life.

Urban school boards have recognized that fact. While many have introduced Late French Immersion (half of the school courses taught in French in Grades 6, 7 and 8), an increasing number have implemented EFI at the Kindergarten and Grade 1 levels.

EFI was introduced at Chesterville Public School two years ago and was viewed as a success by the parents of the students enroled in the immersion program. It was so successful, in fact, that the parents complained to everyone from the SD&G Board of Education to the Ministry of Education when the program was cut because of its cost.

If you live in Cornwall, you have access to EFI. If you live in the rural areas, you don't.

What universality of education apparently means in SD&G is that all students travel more or less the same distance to their schools. It does not mean they will have access to the same educational tools.

To be fair to the Board of Education, the difficulty in trying to maintain the quality of education in schools in its jurisdiction is like trying to keep a brick wall that hasn't been mortared standing up against a heavy wind.

Despite increasing school taxes, the financing equilibrium of many schools, particularly the small rural schools, is now so touchy that almost any crisis will put it out of whack.

And education, unfortunately, is only as universal as the money that backs it.

No students in SD&G will ever be denied the basics. But new educational tools like EFI will continue to be regarded as luxury items as long as the province makes school spending a restraint item.

Having said that, parents of rural school children have the right to wonder if their increasing school taxes are paying for those luxuries in Cornwall. And they are right to wonder, and question, whether equality should mean more than have a school building close to home.

An eye for an eye?

With the recent rash of police killings, the argument for a return of the death penalty has gained considerable weight.

There is no doubt that many Canadians believe that the return of capital punishment would put a hold on what appears to be an outbreak of violence.

It is also clear that it is a highly emotional subject.

The issue of capital punishment involves more than just the arguments of those who see it as a deterrent and those who don't see it as a deterrent. There are also the philosophies of "an eye for an eye" and "turning the other cheek".

What makes the issue all the more difficult is that the philosophies don't always fit the categories one would expect.

Last week Conservative MP Bruce Halliday suggested that the government look for an alternative to the death penalty. That alternative, he said, could be a maximum-security prison in a remote region of the Northwest Territories. It could be, in effect, a Canadian Alcatraz.

What is frightening about alternatives like this is the element of barbarism involved. Make sure a murderer goes through living hell. One recent caller to a radio talk show said convicted murderers should be tortured to death.

Murder is a horrible act. But trying to deal with that crime by reducing the state to the perceived level of the murderer hardly seems to be the answer.

Severe Snow Storm Hits This District: An all-time November record for a single snow storm was established by the fall of 12 inches of snow between midnight Wednesday and 10 o'clock Thursday night of last week, according to the official reading at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The blizzard was accompanied by a sharp drop in the thermometer. The low temperature for the night was 12 degrees above zero. In the village the council was hard-pressed to get sufficient labor and equipment to have the snow removed from the sidewalks and along the highway. However, by the use of a snowplow attached to a tractor with councillors Walter MacDonald and John Fader and Reeve Albert Turner assisting, all roads in the village were plowed out by Saturday night.

No Increase In Liquor Supplied During December: Official circles at Queen's Park have announced that there will be no increase in Ontario's liquor ration of 26 ounces a month for December. There have been reports that the quota might be increased to 52 ounces for December only, but officials said the supply is not sufficient to warrant the increase.

Higher Assessment Not Popular Here: The chief topic of discussion around town during the past week has been the new property and business assessment. Most properties have been increased from one-third to one-half more than in previous years — some even greater — while business assessments have also skyrocketed. For instance, the assessment on the local arena was raised from $1,100 to $8,000. This will be appealed.

Metcalfe Woman To Observe 101st Birthday Dec. 15: The distinction of becoming a centenarian was realized by Miss Margaret Woods of Metcalfe last year. This year, on Wed., Dec. 15, the same Miss Woods, still hale and hearty, enters the second year of her second century when she observes her 101st birthday.

Mountain Township Man Fatally Injured When Struck By Car Tuesday: A driving snow storm and slippery pavement were believed to have contributed largely to the tragic death of Cecil Wylie, Mountain Township roads superintendent, early Tuesday evening when he was struck by a car and instantly killed. Driver of the car was Howard Annable, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Annable of Winchester.

Russell Boy Wins Public Speaking Contest: Jimmy Walker, 12-year-old son of Mrs. Milton Walker of Russell won first place in the public speaking contest held at Winchester Saturday afternoon sponsored by the Trustees and Ratepayers Association of Eastern Ontario.

Magistrate F.M. Cass Heads Canadian Club: Mr. F.M. Cass was elected president of the Morrisburg and District Canadian Club at the annual meeting held in the Agricultural Office last Wednesday evening. M.A. Campbell was named vice-president; K.G. MacLuckie was re-elected to the office of treasurer and G. William Gorrell remains at the secretary's post. Directors elected were T.R. Parker, J.E. Christensen, S.G. Finnie, K. McLaughlin and D. Melvin.

Want Artificial Ice In Winchester Community Centre: After lengthy and informative discussion the Community Centre Board passed a motion on Monday evening calling for investigation of the possibility of obtaining a new arena with artificial ice in Winchester.

Acclamation For Mountain Council: Mountain Township council is a unique group during this election period throughout the district. Although eight reeves were returned to office by acclamation including Mountain's John Thompson, Mountain Township council was the only municipal body to be returned to office in its entirety by the electors. Those acclaimed were Reeve John Thompson; Deputy-Reeve Delmer Timmins; councillors John Loughlin, Ewart Simms and Harry Williams.

Jean Sayant Top Public Speaker: Jean Sayant of Vernon has again won the Carleton County Junior Farmers public speaking competition. Jean won the same competition last year and went on to compete in the provincial finals at Toronto where she was runner-up.

Second Nomination Meeting Needed At Winchester: A pathetic situation has developed in Winchester village where only two candidates qualified to run for members of council. Incumbent councillor Don Christie will return to the long table in the Town Hall chambers. Local businessman Arnold Dukelow also qualified and will represent at least one new face on council. Reeve Garner Reynolds was acclaimed while other candidates Walter C. MacDonald and George E. Elliott failed to qualify.

Hawks Helping Needy Kids: Not many hockey teams are more popular than Winchester's Junior Hawks. They not only give the fans some entertaining hockey but also pitch in and help with community projects. A great example of Hawks' helping will take place this Saturday at the Santa Claus parade when players will be trotting along the route with their special hockey bus. The Hawks hope to collect from other youngsters and adults too, toys and games that will help make Christmas a little merrier for those less fortunate.

Ribbon-cutting Opens New Osgoode Township Garage: Ratepayers from all parts of Osgoode Township visited the new township garage last Saturday afternoon to inspect the new ultra-modern complex and participate in the official opening of the $130,000 building located on Scrivens Drive. Ken Westerby, District Municipal Engineer, assisted Reeve Taylor at the ribbon-cutting ceremonies. Also participating were Walter Baker, Grenville-Carleton MP; Dr. William Tupper, Mayor of Rideau Township; Paul Taylor, newly elected Carleton East MPP, and Dennis Cooligan, chairman, Regional Municipality of Ottawa-Carleton.

Of days long past

by Bill Smiley

I have come up with some items that bring back memories and voices from the past.

A few months ago, a young colleague of mine was heading off to Zimbabwe (formerly Rhodesia) with his wife and children to teach school there.

They didn't know a soul in that part of Arica. I had a thought, which occurs every so often. "Mark," I told him, "I have an old war-time friend who lived in Rhodesia. I'll dig up his address, and maybe he can at least give you some tips on life there."

So I went to my old prisoner-of-war log book, and there it was. Unfortunately, Don McGibbon lived in Bulawayo, not Salisbury, to which Mark was posted. However, I gave him the address and a note to my old friend.

There was every likelihood that he was dead, or had moved, or had got out of the country, as so many white Rhodesians did when a black takeover seemed inevitable.

And the other day, while I was having lunch, a member of our staff was reading a letter from Mark's wife. It turned out that they'd been sent to Bulawayo, not Salisbury. She described conditions, pretty grim — curfews, house searches for insurgents, and so on — and the letter said: "And we're going for a picnic on Sunday with Bill Smiley's old air force friend."

You could have knocked me down with a Spitfire. I hadn't heard from Mac since 1945, when we were both incarcerated in prison camp. We'd been on the same Typhoon wing in Normandy, where I knew him slightly. He'd been shot down shortly after I was, and, joined by a wounded Australian, Frank Land, we wound up as a trio doing a train journey all over Germany: first to a camp occupied by British and New Zealand veterans of Cyprus, then to an interrogation centre at Frankfurt, then off on a long haul across the war-torn country to a prison camp, where we wound up in the same room in barracks.

One forms pretty close associations under trying circumstances. We did. I had a lot of respect for the Rhodesians I'd met: their courage, their cheerfulness, their lack of swank. And, of course, they were only colonials, so we Canadians could needle them about that. Mac was one of the best of the best.

As if that weren't enough to start the juices of memory flowing, my wife, while cleaning out drawers and boxes, came across a cache of ancient letters and pictures that I'd forgotten existed.

There I am, Leading Aircraftsman Smiley, at 21, black hair, white teeth (the opposite of the present), wedge cap tilted to one side, dashing moustache, cocky as only a young fellow can be when he knows he's going to be a fighter pilot.

And there I am again, on a prison camp identification card, complete with numbers and fingerprint, soon after I'd been shot down, looking bewildered and anything but cocky. And another photo, at another camp, front and side view, looking 10 years older, stubble of beard, mean. And finally, a photo taken soon after release, sporting the magnificent handlebar moustache I'd grown.

There's a picture of Freddy Wakeham, Canadian, Eric Necklen, New Zealander, and self, in front of our tent in Normandy. I am the only survivor. And another one, both leaning against a Spitfire's fuselage, of two of our gang, a motley crowd, when we trained in Shropshire to take off and land Spits without killing ourselves. Jacques Van der Perren, Belgian, and Singh Thandi, Indian Air Force.

Van escaped when the Germans invaded Belgium, made his way through occupied France, got over the mountains into Spain and was thrown in jail for six months. He was eventually released, got to England, joined the R.A.F., and was shot down and killed on a mission not far from his home town in Belgium. Singh Thandi went back to India. I heard he was killed flying Hurricanes in Burma. We were closer than most brothers. The only one of that crowd left is Jack Ryan of Toronto. The others were from half the countries in Europe, and from all over the then British Empire.

Here's a letter, written to my mother, from Casajus Pascal, postmarked M. Stammlager XI, Deutschland. It's in French. Part of it: "Ici mon ami Bill, votre fils qui actuellement dans mon stalag..." and so on. She told her I was en parfaite santee (in perfect health) and tried to reassure her. How good of him. I don't even remember him, although I knew a number of French POWs. He ends by saying, in French: "I hope that he himself will be able to write you soon.' Why couldn't I write then? Who was Casajus?

And on they go. A letter from my squadron leader describing my last mission, and holding out hope. A letter from a chap in Florida to my parents. He listened every night, on his short wave radio, to lists of Allied prisoners announced by the Germans, and had caught my name and home address.

And a happy, happy telegram, marked Sans Origine, and Important, from 64 Squadron: "Happy to inform you that your son F-O Smiley WBT is safe and well as prisoner of war. Letter follows."

A letter of commiseration from my college president, when the first "missing" report went out. Finally, a letter from a chaplain in England: "So happy to be able to welcome and chat with your son, on his safe arrival in England." Dated May 25, 1945.

People in those days really cared. And I've only skimmed the surface.

Letters

The Editor:

I would like to express my sincere thank you and appreciation for your coverage of my DHIA career and retirement. However, I feel too much tribute was paid to me. When DHI was first started in Dundas County in 1950, Messrs. Art Milne, Jack Cameron and Reg Strader played a very important part in promoting the program. Mr. Strader went on to become a Regional Supervisor until such time as his health forced him into early retirement.

Seventh Column

by Joe Rowan

Monday morning and, with only 19 Christmas shopping days left (including this one), we're back in the same confusing situation that has plagued us every December for well over 40 years... how much to squander on the "Old Girl". We've had a good thing going for years, but this time, she refused to co-operate. Since back in the '50s, when every bed in the house was filled with happy little ones awaiting old Santa on Christmas Eve, what we've been doing every year is simply pick up a cheap card, enclose a crisp, new $20 bill; add a colorful seal or two; and place conspicuously on the tree. Then, on Christmas day, in the midst of the usual confusion, we quietly retrieved the envelope, removed the "twenty" and put it back where it belonged... in our wallet. But this year "She" insists the "kids" have caught on (even the older grandchildren like Kim and Greg) and are beginning to ask questions — (knew we should have burned those envelopes). Now, with time running out, we're faced with another of those monumental family decisions. Thought last week we had the answer, but inflation shot that one down in flames. What had inspired us, and ignited that tiny "idea bulb", was a television commercial promoting sparkling diamonds. "Relive that romantic occasion", grinned the idiot announcer, "and slip another beautiful engagement ring on her dainty finger." Of course we knew her finger is no longer all that dainty, but we did recall the way it was the last time... just a trace of a tear; a loving smile; a warm embrace and kiss of surrender. So, we right then decided to do it again. Rummaging in the attic we found the plush-lined box that once held the original (circa 1940). A further check and, sure enough, the Ottawa firm was still doing business at the same stand. We visited the store and studied the glittering displays. Right down in the bottom shelf was a ring much like the one we had "blown the bundle" on so long ago. Christmas shopping problem solved you say? Unfortunately, no! Mind you we had planned to spend just as much as we did when the love-bug first struck, but we looked at the price tag — and called for a glass of water. And what's more they didn't have a single sparkler at the price we had in mind... $2.50. Right back where we started, so maybe we'll just try the $20 trick once more... and this time let her keep it until after New Years.

Last Saturday, Winchester's Scottish patriarchs have advised us, was "St. Andrew's Day". Thanks, you two Bills, for the gentle reminder, but we knew about it and planned to mention it this week anyway. Thought you two gents (and all others with the courage to don skirts) might be pleased to learn the good Saint would have been mighty proud had he visited Metcalfe Curling Club on his special day. There, he was honored in typical curling fashion with a day-long bonspiel and windup shin-dig thoroughly enjoyed by Scots of all nationalities. The "Brigadoons" from down in Glengarry were on stage and there were so many plaid skirts you couldn't tell the men from the ladies... unless, that is, you took a closer look at the legs. Yep, those Metcalfe curlers sure remembered the game's patron saint. Come to think of it those curlers seem to find something special to celebrate every dog-gone weekend. But we do think President Don was just a trifle confused. Way we heard it he was giving "Thanksgiving Turkeys" for prizes.

Thanks to a weekend of study we are now in a position to place real values on words. Judging from this corner of the weekly release you're possibly wondering why we didn't do the "study" a long time ago. Thought the analysis might be of value to you as well as us, so here goes: The six most important words — "I admit I made a mistake"; the five most important words — "You did a good job"; the four most important words — "What is your opinion?"; the three most important words — "If you please"; the two most important words — "Thank you"; the most important word — "We" — and the least important word — "I".

We're always interested in theories and the latest one making the rounds sounds extremely interesting. It's now claimed that if a fellow doesn't smoke, drink, overeat or go with girls, he'll live a lot longer. Suppose, however, we'll never be sure until someone gives it a try.

Last spring, when the last battered curling broom had been disposed of, we expressed concern that perhaps Russell's pride and joy on the ice lanes might have to pack it in because his family had increased to "three". The following week we received the good news. Erin (Bryan Cochrane's new daughter) had agreed to grant him a six-month leave of absence for the '84-'85 season. Looks like the tiny lass made a good move since Bryan and his "proteges" are literally burning up the ice again this winter. Good luck skip, Bill (Gamble), Harry (Adams), and Kenny (Sullivan). But lads, is there room for a Silver Broom in that Russell trophy case?

Second place in the non-commercial class was awarded to Inkerman Public School for their nativity scene float. Principal Tom Savary and Mrs. Debbie Harper accepted the prize from Bob Rosborough of Q101, Smiths Falls.

A Space Age Christmas netted Winchester Cheese Inc. second prize in the commercial class at the Winchester Santa Claus parade Saturday. The prize was presented to E.T., Yoda and friends by Sue Barry of CKOY Radio.

A Royal Christmas was the theme of CountryBoy/Girl stores' entry, which placed first in the commercial class at Saturday's parade for the fourth year in a row. Hal Lee of CKBY Radio presented the prize to Julie Steele.

First prize in the non-commercial class at the Winchester Santa Claus parade Saturday went to Winchester Brownies, with their float based on the ever-popular Cabbage Patch dolls.

Parking facilities questioned, but apartments get go-ahead

WILLIAMSBURG — Municipal council gave its blessing Saturday morning to a proposed apartment conversion of a former variety store building in the northeast corner of Williamsburg.

Council endorsed a bylaw at its regular meeting allowing the conversion after a single resident questioned the parking provisions but raised no objections to the conversion going ahead.

Dwayne Locke, appearing for his grandmother, Mrs. Mahlon Locke, said she was concerned about people parking in front of her house immediately east of the proposed apartment site.

Council assured Locke that building owner Bill Strader is required to provide nine parking spaces for the seven-unit apartment. The spaces would not have to be designated for specific apartments, Reeve Johnny Whitteker added.

Whitteker conceded that vehicles might still park on the road but said police village trustees enforce winter parking restrictions.

Notice of the bylaw allowing the conversion will be published within 15 days and residents have until Jan. 7 to make objections.

A snag in the bylaw wording almost prevented council from giving approval but planner Chuck Miller urged endorsement and offered to meet Williamsburg clerk Mike Waddell to make the necessary changes in the wording this week.

Council could have taken the position of delaying the passing of the bylaw but Miller discouraged them from doing so.

"I'm sure Mr. Strader wouldn't want to delay," he said. "Mr. Strader has already been delayed waiting for the new sewers so that his land can be rezoned multiple residential."

Miller also told council that provincial housing minister Claude Bennett has urged municipalities to liberally interpret conversion guidelines to promote the development of rental accommodations.

Whitteker said council wanted to ensure that if a disaster such as a fire or an earthquake levelled the building that its replacement would conform to the new bylaw.

Councillor Gordon McNairn said he wanted to be sure the provision would apply only if the building was totally destroyed.

"A fire with $3,000 damage should not require Mr. Strader to completely renovate," he said.

Whitteker agreed that the bylaw should go ahead to prevent any further delay to Strader.

Historical society gets grant

VERNON — The Osgoode Township Historical Society in Vernon has learned it will receive a grant of $1,073 from the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture.

Carleton-Grenville MPP Norman Sterling made the announcement Friday in Toronto.

The Osgoode Township Historical Museum, located in an old schoolhouse, has attempted to preserve the area's past with a collection of household and farm implements.

"The Osgoode Township Historical Society has put a great deal of effort into maintaining this collection," said Sterling. "I am glad their work has been rewarded by the continued support of the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture."

Also qualifying for a government grant was Watson's Mill in Manotick, a grist mill restored in its original working condition and operated by the Rideau Valley Conservation Authority. A grant of $7,471 was approved to cover the operating expenses.

Institute names raffle winners

GREELY — The November meeting of Greely-Manotick Station Women's Institute was held at the home of Faye Hutt. The roll call, "name a symptom of a disease", proved intriguing.

Ann Loughlin described the symptoms of the Legg-Perthes Disease, usually found in young children. Difficulty in walking and falling down is symptomatic of this disease which is a flattening of the hip ball joint. It can be cured if caught early enough, by prolonged bed rest or surgery.

Other symptoms mentioned were those of cancer, tumors, diabetes and hypertension, etc.

Faye Hutt, family affairs convener, gave a short talk on the Children's Aid Society. She described the need for volunteers, particularly volunteer drivers in this area where there is no public transportation.

Winners of the raffle were: Bea McEvoy, Osgoode, who won first prize, a hand-made quilt; Dr. Siccard, Massachusetts, second prize, $25, and John Smiley, Owen Sound, third prize, $15.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mary Van Westerop on Dec. 18.

Fitness Fare ends with awards night

KARS — Carleton County 4-H members left the public with something to chew on Nov. 27 at their annual Achievement Night for Fitness Fare.

A windup to a fall 4-H project, Fitness Fare helped club members recognize the relationship between food and fitness and they let the public know during the Achievement Night that they got the message.

The seven area clubs performed skits, gave out lunch ideas and presented exhibits to drive home the theme that good food is good health.

Rural Organizations Specialist Joanne Newman began the presentation of awards by handing out 4-H leader badges and "Fitness Fare" project plates to the 18 volunteer leaders who ran the project in the county.

Jane Conn of Vernon received a Leadership Certificate for her five years as a 4-H leader from the Canadian 4-H Council.

Speaking to the 4-H members, Newman praised them for their robust health and encouraged them to maintain their busy lifestyles and good eating habits.

She also challenged 4-H members to show enthusiasm, not only at 4-H meetings but also in their manuals.

For their part, the 4-H clubs used their part of the night's program to show that they were listening to their leaders during the Fitness Fare course.

Four of the clubs presented skits: Ramsayville's Fabulous Faders presented "The 11am Blahs"; the Leitrim Centre Jolly Joggers performed "Snack Attack"; the Dalmeny Dead Beats presented "The 4 S's"; and the Metcalfe Fitness Fiends performed "I was a 90-pound Weakling".

The Greely-Manotick Station Fit-Nits offered delicious lunch ideas in a demonstration on "Brown Bagging It".

The Kars Nutrition Nuts and the Vernon Vital Vitamins gave a talk on the displays they created.

Henry Heald, an agricultural writer for the Ottawa Citizen, presented two 4-H scholarships of $150 each to Mary Begley of Kars and Nancy Huybregts of Leitrim Centre.

County 4-H Honors certificates were presented to Lisa Hehn of Leitrim, Linda Campbell and Eleanor McNaughton of Dalmeny and Nancy Acres and Paula Bellinger of Vernon.

Advanced Honors, recognizing the completion of 18 4-H projects, was presented to Lynda Magahay of the Ramsayville club.

Legion contest winners

Cheerleader clinic scheduled

DALLAS, TEX. — It was announced recently that final plans have been made for the first annual one-day Cheerleader Clinic to be held at St. Lawrence High School, Cornwall, Sat., Dec. 15.

Organizer of the clinic, Mrs. Bartle, Cheerleader Advisor at St. Lawrence High School, said she is very pleased to have the World Cheerleader Council conduct this first annual clinic for it provides a rare opportunity for Eastern Ontario and Northern New York area students to receive instruction from this internationally known staff of professional cheerleader instructors.

Mrs. Bartle explained that the WCC offers a program of cheers, songs, pom-pom routines, technique, crowd control, sportsmanship, appearances, conduct and when and what to yell.

Professional staff

The World Cheerleader Council is considered one of the foremost Cheerleader Organizations in the world. Their staff of college and professional cheerleaders have travelled throughout the United States and Canada conducting clinics and camps for over 13 years.

The program will begin at 9am and end at 3:30pm with an hour break for lunch.

The program is open to all students — ages 12 to 18 — whether elected cheerleaders or individuals interested in learning more about cheerleading for future tryouts.

Students interested in obtaining more information about the clinic, or to register, should contact Mrs. Bartle, Cheerleader Advisor, St. Lawrence High School, 1450 Second St., Cornwall, Ont., K6H 5Z8 or call 613-933-8410. They may also contact the World Cheerleader Council, P.O. Box 59893, Dallas, Tex., 75229. Phone 214-691-8373.

Deadline for registration is Dec. 10, 1984.

Two receive plaques for eighteenth club

NAVAN — The fall 4-H homemaking project "Fitness Fare" came to a rousing conclusion on Sat., Nov. 24 at Meadowview Public School in Navan.

After opening remarks from Home Economist Sylvie Charron-Gauthier and a recitation of the 4-H pledge by all, the action started with lively skits, demonstrations and exhibits.

Some of the highlights were a duo between health food and the demon junk food, exercises to do while watching TV and what to do about the 11am blahs.

One club and its leaders even donned bodysuits and sweats for a fitness workout.

Sandra Christy related her experiences in the Open House 4-H exchange program to Alberta, something that was of "immense educational importance" to her.

Vickie Lowe, who participated in a week-long leadership camp in Huntsville urged all 4-H'ers to take part in this "wonderful learning experience". A few very special awards were presented.

County honors for the completion of six 4-H projects were given to Cheryl Wall of Navan and Debbie Young of Leonard West. There were two recipients of the advanced honors award.

This prestigious award for completion of 18 clubs after about nine years in 4-H went to Peggy Nooyen of Leonard West and Karen Bekkers of Russell village.

The next 4-H homemaking project is "Action Wear" and promises to be a challenge as well as a great educational and social experience.

WI delegate gives convention report

METCALFE — Metcalfe Women's Institute held their November meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. John Boland. Members answered the roll call by naming a body of water in Canada, a true lesson in geography, stressing beauty, recreation, pleasure and energy provided by natural resources.

FWIO scarves were on display and for sale.

A concise and complete report of the recent area convention was given by the delegate, Mrs. J. Boland, bringing us up to date on business and activities of branches in Eastern Ontario.

A questionnaire from the provincial office regarding the future structure, focus and direction of the WI was given much time and consideration.

The ladies will be catering for the Metcalfe Senior Citizens' Christmas dinner. The next meeting, at the home of Mrs. Emerson Irven, will be a Christmas party for members and husbands.

Mrs. Earl Reaney, convenor of Canadian Industries, gave the motto "Jack Spratt could eat no fat." The program focused on the fishing industry. A contest on fish — according to fat content was won by Mrs. Charles Wallace.

The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Harold McKeown.

Mrs. Earl Quinn assisted the hostess with refreshments.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Regarding the cancellation of the government "Off-Oil" program
from Northern and Central Gas

The federal government has announced that the Canadian Oil Substitution Program (C.O.S.P.) will be terminated effective March 31st, 1985. This is the program that would give you up to $800 towards the cost of converting your home from oil to Natural Gas.

The government also announced that the cost of oil will rise to world prices. Now, the savings with Natural Gas are even greater. In fact, you will likely save up to 50% of your home heating bill when you switch to Natural Gas.

If you have not already switched from oil, Northern and Central Gas can still help you take advantage of the $800 grant.

Also, there is no initial cash outlay. Your new furnace is installed free for the first year - you pay only for the Natural Gas used.

SWITCH NOW AND REALIZE THESE SAVINGS:

- Receive an $800 grant - if your furnace is installed before the deadline
- Save up to 50% of your home heating bill
- No initial cash outlay - the equipment is FREE for the first year

When you consider these benefits, you will realize that switching to Natural Gas is the solution to your high oil bills.

Call today to find out how you can still receive the $800 grant and begin saving money.

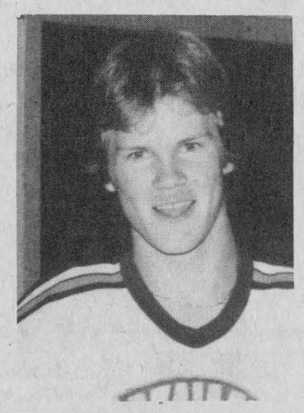
McClatchie nets hat

Hawks overpower Jets, move to fourth

WINCHESTER — Trevor McClatchie scored three goals and assisted on another here Sunday afternoon as the Winchester Hawks rolled up their third consecutive Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League victory. The decision, a 6-4 verdict over the second-ranked Metcalfe Jets, moved the Hawks to a 500 record of seven and seven and into sole possession of fourth place, one point up on the Alexandria Glens, who dropped a pair of weekend encounters to the Alex English Division leading Navan Grads.



#9 Trevor McClatchie

Winchester, after a bad start, have won five of their last seven and are starting to gel, but coach Bob Byrnes isn't about to relax and points nervously to the schedule which sees his Hawks tangle with the Char-Lan Rebels this Friday here at home and then travel to Navan on Sunday for a game with the Grads. Next Friday (Dec. 14) the Grads are back here in Winchester and Sunday (Dec. 16) go to Metcalfe to meet the Jets.

Following his team's third straight victory, the Hawks coach-GM was extremely happy with the effort the team put out, but was equally upset with the events transpiring before the game.

In an effort to accommodate the fans, the Hawks Hockey Club re-arranged their Sunday starting times to 1:30pm. In his role as general manager, Byrnes informed referee assignment officer George Booth of the new time. the GM says that the man in charge (Booth) is usually precise with every detail, but missed informing the officiating crew as the new time.

"I can appreciate the slip-up, but when the crew finally arrived here about 2pm, they seemed to make no attempt to hurry and get the game under way. It was almost 2:30 before they finally got on the ice. Surely three men could get dressed a little quicker than that."

Byrnes said that Metcalfe coach Ruggles Pritchard was also upset with the one-hour delay and had every right to be. "After all we had our teams ready to hit the ice at 1:30 not 2:30pm."

Byrnes was concerned with the fact that after the club had changed their time to 1:30pm almost 300 fans turned up and then they had to wait until 2:30pm anyway. "I was disgusted with the whole affair and then the referee turned in a lack luster effort on top of it all."

The coach was referring to the cheap shots being dealt out behind the play, many which he appeared to be looking at, but completely ignored.

The coach said he was proud of the way his team kept their heads in the second and third periods when they were the objects of some very illegal hits after the play.

"Everyone played well and all deserve credit for keeping their cool. I'm proud of them all," he commented.

Byrnes explained that he made quick line changes when the team was in trouble in their zone and the players responded with effective passing in both zones to move the puck around.

Hawks opened Sunday's game on a powerplay when Trevor McClatchie scored from Scott Dexter and Mark Smith at 17:20.

Metcalfe roared right back, taking a 2-1 lead on goals by Darcy Provost, who shovelled in a rebound when Hawks' goalie Marc Cicchini got caught out of his net at the 14:44 mark and another by Pete Holmes who blasted a slap shot in off a defenceman's stick handle at 11:47.

Defenceman Gary Klein-Swormink evened it up at two when he scored from McClatchie and Smith at 9:39.

Jeff Flichel combined with Craig Barton-Hill to give Metcalfe a 3-2 lead on a powerplay at 5:16.

McClatchie evened things up when he beat Sean St. John with 10 seconds to go in the opening stanza. Mike Harper and Marc Plouffe drew assists on the play.

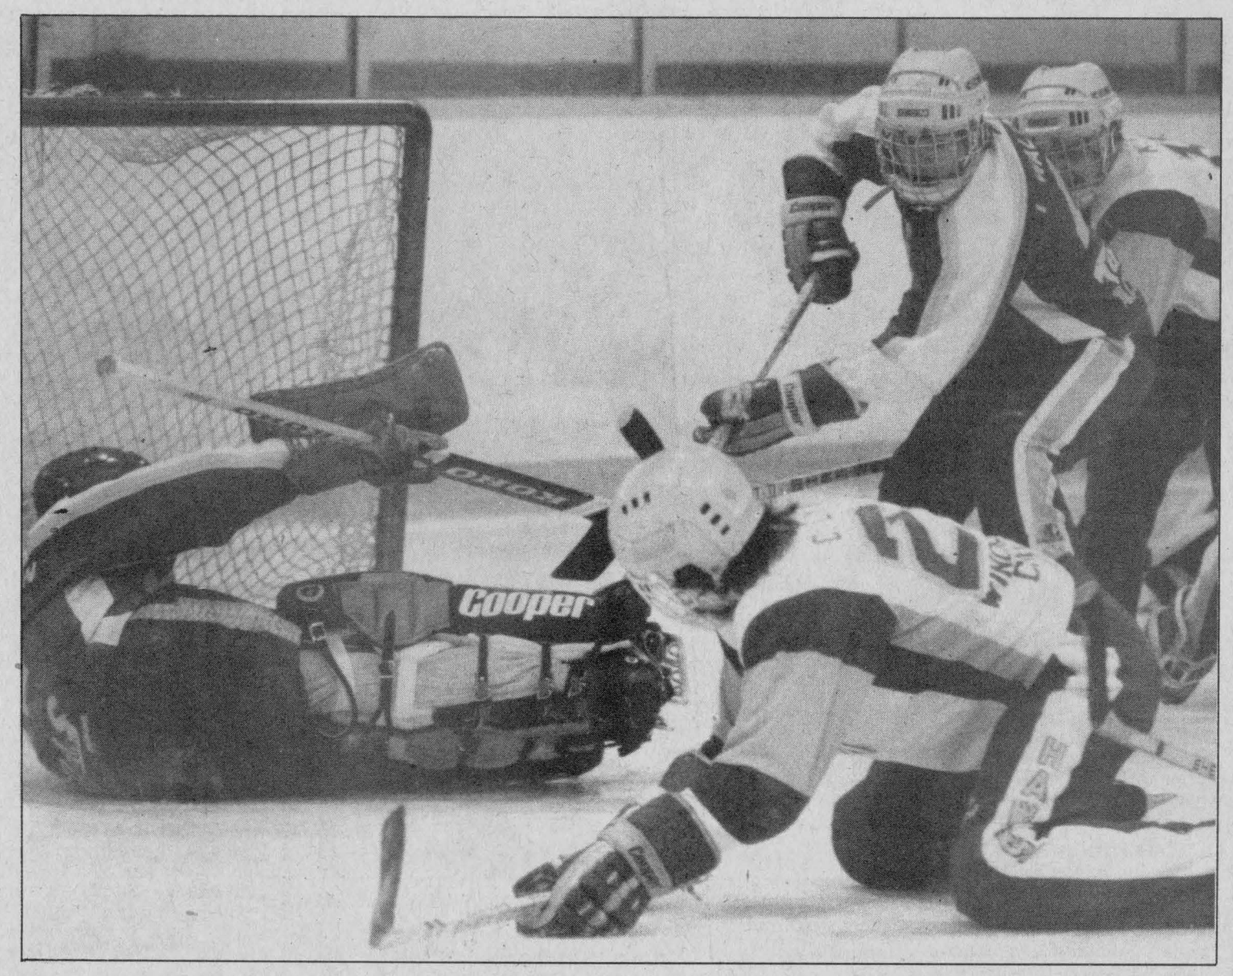
Plouffe netted Winchester's second powerplay goal at 17:46 of the second period when he scored on a setup provided by Keith Moore and Chris Lynch.

McClatchie's third goal of the game upped Winchester's lead to 5-3 and came on another powerplay. This time Moore and Smith helped out on the play.

Klein-Swormink's shot from the point with 2:41 left in the game upped the difference to 6-3. Lynch and Plouffe set up the final Hawks' goals.

Mark Cicchini was flat on his back when Rick Downey knocked in a Ken Ward rebound with 2:18 left on the clock as the Jets hit for their final goal.

Metcalfe took 17 minor penalties and the Hawks drew 11 of the same variety.



Goalie Sean St. John of the Metcalfe Jets needed assistance from defenceman Todd Wallace during this second-period scramble. Hawks' Chris Lynch (foreground) and Keith Moore (behind Wallace) were applying pressure on the Metcalfe goal, but St. Jean was able to make the save. Winchester won the Sunday afternoon contest by a 6-4 count and moved to within two points of the Jets in the standings.

Boulders roll over Capitals

WINCHESTER — Boucks Hill Boulders buried Winchester's Capitals alive here last Sunday, thrashing them 10-3 in an exhibition hockey game played in their own arena.

Brian Moran paced the Boulders with four goals. Dean McIntosh added a pair while Doug Brunt, Kevin McIntosh, Dave McIntosh and Barry Casselman all scored singles.

Larry Moore with two and Pete Filion accounted for Winchester's goals.

The Capitals are hoping to end their drought this coming Sunday when they host the Harvex Hustler Oldtimers in an exhibition game slated for high noon.

Harvex, in the midst of a losing streak of their own, lost two of their last three games by lopsided margins before finally breaking free for a 9-2 victory last Sunday afternoon in Kemptville. Ron Latimer led the Hustlers with three goals. John Bell and Pete McKay each fired in a pair while Gary Lapier and Phil Lyall scored single goals.

Last Sunday morning the Hustlers were bombed 10-5 by Metcalfe's Oldtimers, who got multiple goal efforts from Daryl Ross, Jim Craig and Dan Morris.

John Bell scored twice for the Hustlers while Al Van Bridger, Phil Lyall and Pete MacKay collected singles.

Last Wednesday in Cardinal the Harvex squad was thumped 8-2 by Matilda. Pete MacKay and Phil Lyall scored for the Hustlers in that contest.

Hustlers meet Morewood Eagles this week in Chesterville, host Osgoode Komies Sunday morning at 9am and meet the Capitals at noon the same day.

Seven qualify

WINCHESTER — Seven of eight teams have qualified for the 1984 Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League's Boxing Day Tournament and will be here in Winchester to compete in the one-day event on Dec. 26.

Only a third team from the Ottawa Valley Division has to qualify and either Carleton Place Legion Kings or the South Ottawa Canadians will be joining the first-place Ottawa West Golden Knights and the second-ranked Arnprior Packers as that division's representatives.

Carrying the hopes of the Alex English Division will be the Navan Grads, who have lost just two games and were undefeated in the qualifying round, the Char-Lan Rebels, who are making their first trip to the Boxing Day event, and the host Winchester Hawks.

Winchester last hosted the event in 1981 and have appeared in each tournament since then. Last year in Brockville the Hawks defeated Morrisburg but were eliminated in their second game. In 1981 the Hawks won their first two games and qualified for the final game where they were eliminated 2-1 by the Arnprior Packers.

Also making the post-Christmas trip to Winchester this year from the Rideau-St. Lawrence Division will be the powerful Brockville Tikis and the second-ranked Kemptville 73's, under the direction of coach Peter DeRooy.

Following the past week's action, the Tikis had lost just once in 16 games and the 73's were sporting an impressive 12 and four mark.

An impressive list of game prizes has been lined up by Sports Unlimited of Winchester and national sports equipment companies and will be awarded to game MVPs. A special award will go to the event's top goalie and another to the tournament MVP.

Hosts for this year's tournament, the Hawks Hockey Club, are planning to serve breakfast in the arena hall and light meals throughout the day.

Play gets under way at approximately 8:30am and the final game is set for 8pm.

Defenceman Chris Williams looks for an opening as he approaches Brockville defenceman Dave Stead during Monday night's UCMHL Bantam B contest between the Warriors and the Hawks. Williams' team-mate Todd Smith (in the background) scored one of Winchester's goals in the 3-2 loss to the visitors.

Team Canada invite

Carkner asked to tryout camp

PETERBOROUGH — Winchester's Terry Carkner, a defenceman with the Peterborough Petes of the Ontario Hockey League, is one of 20 major Junior A players from this province invited to try out for Canada's National Junior hockey team.

Carkner, a first round (14th pick overall) selection of the New York Rangers in this summer's NHL draft, is in his second year of junior hockey with the Petes and was a late cut by the Rangers after this fall's training camp.

The big defenceman will join 20 other OHL selections for the team Canada tryout camp in Belleville on Dec. 10. There he and the 19 other Ontario candidates will be joined by 26 other junior hockey players from across Canada.

Of those 46, 20 will be chosen to represent Canada at world junior hockey championships which will be played in Helsinki, Finland from Dec. 23 to Jan. 1.

The camp will run from Dec. 10 to Dec. 16 in Belleville with an exhibition game against the Hamilton Steelhawks set for the Quinte Arena in Belleville on Dec. 14.

Team Canada will then leave on Dec. 15 for Ottawa where they will practice that day. On Dec. 16 they will tangle with the Ottawa 67's in a 7:30pm exhibition game.

Team officials expect coach Terry Simpson of Prince Albert, Sask. to name his final roster on Dec. 17 just before the club departs for Finland.

Other teams participating in the world junior championships will be United States, USSR, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, West Germany and Finland.

Others vying for a spot on Canada's blue line hail from the Quebec Major Junior League, the Western Hockey League and the NCAA (National Collegiate Athletic Association).

Carkner, expected to make the New York roster next season, is enjoying another final season on the Peterborough defence where he has helped establish the team to first place in the OHL's Leyden Division.

Three hats in one night

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Bill Dodge scored nine times, leading S.M. Electric to a 19-3 victory over winless Lions Club here in one of two Mountain Township Floor Hockey games played in the Nationview gym Monday night.

In the evening's other matchup, undefeated Mountain Township Fire Department Smokies kept their undefeated string intact with a 16-8 decision over South Mountain Women's Institute. Harold Mellon continued his high-scoring ways, collecting nine goals and four assists in the victory.

S.M. Electric's victory over Lions Club improved their second-place record to three, two and one and moved them two points ahead of the WI.

Bill Dodge scored five of his nine goals in the first period of the game, putting S.M. up 9-2 after one period. James Scott, who scored four times and set up two other goals, chipped in three of his total in that first frame.

Electric charged into a 15-2 second-period lead and added four more goals in the final period.

Besides Dodge's nine goals and James Scott's six points, the winners got single goals from Derrick Patterson, Jeff Berube and Joe Patterson, Billy Berube and Brent Payne added assists.

Robert Christie scored two of the three Lions Club goals while John Beamish netted the other.

13 POINTS FOR MELLON

Harold Mellon hit the target seven times in the Smokies' 16-8 victory over the WI. He scored again in the second and third periods to total nine goals. He also drew four assists enroute to a 13-point game. His squad led 9-1 after a period and 11-2 after two frames.

Derek Norman's three goals and three assists were second to Mellon's production. Lorne Derrick scored three more goals for the winners and drew one assist. Jason Cull and Brent Richardson also picked up assists.

Marc St. Pierre was top gun for WI, shooting in three goals and assisting on three more for a six-point game. Les Pap scored four times and Kris McGlone added one goal and one assist to the cause.

Bantams lose by goal, skirmish mars close game

WINCHESTER — Brockville Warrior centreman Andrew Fraser was a big man for his team here Monday night. He scored twice and set up his club's other goal in a close 3-2 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League decision over Winchester's Bantam B Hawks.

Winchester dropped the close 3-2 decision and lost the services of Derek Hyndman and Ray Sherrer in a game-ending skirmish. Brockville's Patrick Menzies and Hyndman (who seemed to be trying to avoid a confrontation), were assessed fighting majors when a shoving match broke out immediately following the final buzzer. Hyndman, who ended up on the bottom of a pile of players and teammate Ray Sherrer, will be lost to their team this weekend as the Hawks embark on an important two-game slate. Sherrer, who came to his mate's rescue, was pegged with a third-man-in penalty and will also face a suspension.

Until that brief outbreak the teams had skated through a fast, end-to-end hockey match.

Brockville took a 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Andrew Fraser at 13:45 and Euan Reavie at 5:19, but the Hawks stormed back with two in the second period to tie it up at 2-2.

Winger Kevin Bell took the puck from a faceoff outside his own blue line, rushed up ice and scored an unassisted goal at 12:27.

He then figured in on the second Winchester goal, along with Rod Casselman at 11:19 as his club returned to the Brockville zone and quickly tied it up at two. Todd Smith was the triggerman, firing in a loose puck to put the Hawks on even terms.

But Andrew Fraser bounced a puck in off the right goal post behind Mike Swerdfeger's outstretched glove with just 3:36 remaining in regulation time to give the Warriors a 3-2 victory.

Brockville drew five minors, the Hawks four prior to the last skirmish of the game.

Bantams off to racing start

WINCHESTER — Winchester's Bantam C Hawks have bolted from the starting blocks racking up three wins and a tie in their first four Upper Canada Minor Hockey League games.

Coach Phil Lyall's charges prepared for the season with six exhibition games and claimed five wins and just one loss during their pre-season.

In Kemptville this past Saturday the Hawks skated to a 3-1 victory over Kemptville's Number One squad to improve their record to three wins and a tie.

Goalie Jeff Nelson lost his shutout at 6:46 of the second period when D. Dykes netted the lone Kemptville tally.

Winchester took a 1-0 lead on Alain Cayer's unassisted goal at 1:51 of the first period. Kemptville tied it up but the Hawks dumped in two more before the frame was over to take a 3-1 cushion into the final period. Stephane Drouin made it 2-1 when he scored from Marc Sarault and Clarence Holmes with 1:54 to go and Cayer upped it to 3-1 when he netted his second of the game, finishing off a play set up by brother Danny Cayer.

In their previous outing, Winchester had battled the same Kemptville squad to a 4-4 draw. Kemptville needed four goals in the final period to keep the Hawks from taking a victory from them here in Winchester.

Al Cayer led the charge in the Thursday game, scoring a pair of goals. Marc Drouin and Clarence Holmes chipped in with single goals. Holmes, Drouin and Chuck Droppo all picked up assists. Jeff Nelson worked the nets for the Hawks. A. Attridge and D. Sloan each scored twice for Kemptville.

Kemptville Number Two's hosted the Hawks back on Saturday (Nov. 24) and dropped a 2-1 decision to their visitors.

Al Cayer scored both Winchester markers, clicking from Chuck Droppo at 6:08 of the second period and again at 2:33 of the final frame when Jeremy Lyall set him up with the winning goal.

Winchester opened their regular season on Nov. 15 in Russell, downing the Warriors 5-3. Hawks led their hosts 3-1 after one period and were up 5-1 after two periods.

Al Cayer assisted on all three first-period goals, helping out Chris Lortie at 11:24, Marc Drouin at 2:57 and Stephane Drouin at the 2:07 mark.

Cayer then scored an unassisted goal at 10:37 of the middle period before assisting on Stephane Drouin's second marker at 6:28 of the same frame. Rick Rodney also drew an assist on the final Hawks' goal.

Derek Clost scored twice for Russell, beating Jeff Nelson on unassisted plays in the first and third periods. D. Davidson added the other Russell goal when he scored from Jason Clost and Richard Hamelin at 6:10 of period three.

Sargent sparks Midgets to win

WINCHESTER — To say centreice man Mike Sargent was a big part of his team's offence would be an under-statement. The second-year Midget has all but single-handedly brought his Midget A Hawks a pair of Upper Canada Minor Hockey League victories in the past week.

In Cardinal Sunday he scored five of six goals as the Hawks nipped Cardinal Redbirds 6-4. Here Monday night he scored two goals and set up the other four in Winchester's 6-5 victory over the Smiths Falls Settlers.

After a shaky start to their season, the Hawks have picked up a tie and a pair of wins in their last four outings and looked to be untracked as the UCMHL's Midget A campaign heads for the Christmas break.

Sunday in Cardinal the Hawks trailed 2-0 after the first period as Steve Byers and Chris McLaughlin fired goals in behind Ben Henry, but Winchester pulled into a 3-3 tie in the second period and added three more in the final frame to steal a 6-4 victory.

Mike Sargent scored three times in the second period, hitting first from Dwayne Bazinet at 7:07. He then fired in an unassisted goal at 3:00 and clicked again on a play set up by Bazinet and Dolton Henry with 55 seconds left to play in the period. His final two goals in that frame came on Winchester powerplays.

Sargent's fourth goal tied it at four at 13:06 of the final period. J.D. VanNoy upped it to 5-4 and Sargent finished it off, netting his fifth goal of the game at the 2:24 mark.

SIX MORE POINTS

Sargent was at it again here Monday night, scoring twice and figuring in on the other four Winchester goals. His team took a 4-1 lead in the first period after Smiths Falls had opened it up early with a goal at 14:33.

Hawks pumped in two more in the second period, taking a 6-3 lead into the final period. The Settlers clicked at 14:08 and the 40-second mark to narrow Winchester's lead to 6-5.

Sargent tied it up at 1-1 with his first goal at the 13:09 mark and made it 3-1 on an unassisted rush at 4:32. He helped Dwayne Bazinet set up Laurent Cayer at 9:03 and set Cayer up again at 2:02.

Sargent drew assists on Doug Newman's goal at 12:04 of the second period and was in on Dwayne Bazinet's marker at 6:40. Chris Rodney and Laurent Cayer also picked up third-period assists for the winners.

Jeff Yach scored two goals and picked up an assist for the Settlers. Winchester took four of the game's seven minor penalties.

Pair of goals by Ward make the difference

METCALFE — A pair of third-period goals by Ken Ward proved to be the difference here as the Metcalfe Jets skated to a close 6-4 Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League victory over the visiting Clarence Creek Beavers here last Friday evening.

Ward scored at 16:01 and into an open net with 18 seconds left in regulation time to hand the defending Eastern Ontario champs their eighth victory of the season. The loss was the 13th for the Beavers who turned things around in their home game on Sunday when they nipped second-ranked Char-Lan Rebels 5-4.

Metcalfe travelled to Winchester on Sunday afternoon and dropped a 6-4 decision to the Hawks who got a three-goal effort from Trevor McClatchie as they moved to within two points of both the Jets and Rebels.

Metcalfe's record stood at eight wins and seven losses following the weekend schedule. Char-Lan also had an eight and seven record and Winchester a seven and seven mark. English Division-leading Navan Grads knocked off Alexandria Glens twice to improve their record to 13 wins, two losses and a tie. The leaders have 27 points, 11 better than both Char-Lan and Metcalfe.

Clarence Creek took a 1-0 lead here Friday night when John Yablonski fired the game's opening goal in behind Tom McKinstry at the 14:47 mark of the first period.

Jets drew even before the period was over when Jeff Flickel connected from Craig Barton-Hill and Jeff Hope with 4:23 left on the clock.

The game was still even after two periods as the teams traded two goals. Beavers took a 2-1 edge on Yablonski's second goal at 18:08 and went up 3-1 when Yvan LaFontaine scored.

Jets zoomed back into a tie on a pair of quick goals. Glen Stefurak clicked on a powerplay established by Barton-Hill and Mike Pratt at 7:33 to make it 3-2 and Darcy Provost evened it up, scoring from Pete Holmes and Gary Poirier at the 5:30 mark.

Ken Ward's first goal at 16:01 of period three came on a play started by Barry Stefurak and Robin Hughes and gave the Jets their first lead (4-3) of the game.

Dan Quinn tied it up at four, scoring for Clarence Creek on a powerplay with 8:01 to go, but the Jets stormed back and took a 5-4 lead when Glen Stefurak clicked for his second of the game, finishing off a play started by Holmes and Gary Poirier with 3:23 left in regulation time.

Ward's second goal of the period went into an empty net with 18 seconds left to play to give Metcalfe a 6-4 decision.

Mike Cavan and Francois Wolfe got the gate for a third-period altercation and John Yablonski took a 10-minute misconduct penalty for the Beavers. Clarence Creek added seven minors to their two majors while Metcalfe took eight minors and a major.

Jets travel to Williamstown this Saturday night (Dec. 8) to meet the Rebels and return here to host the Alexandria Glens in a Sunday afternoon match.

Roadrunners halt long skid

WINCHESTER — Toyes Hill Roadrunners halted a long losing skid here Sunday night when they downed last-place Newington 6-0. The victory was just the third for the defending Winchester and District Broomball League Pool B champs, but couldn't have come at a better time.

Prior to Sunday's match, team spokesman Bill Steele said the team hadn't been playing well and were looking for a win over Newington to get their attack regenerated. He felt if the Roadrunners weren't able to defeat Newington, they might as well pack it in.

Toyes Hill scored six times, to rejuvenate interest. On the other side of the coin the 6-0 setback dropped the 'Ton's record to one and nine and forced them to look to the future for better times.

In Sunday's other results, Crysler nipped Osnabruck Bush Bandits 2-1 to move into a fourth-place tie with Finch who were edged 2-1 by Dunbar.

The league's number two and three-ranked teams, Ormond and Morewood, fought to a 2-2 draw.

After 10 weeks Dunbar Panthers still have a perfect record of 10 wins and 20 points. Ormond has 17 points, Morewood 11, Finch and Crysler 10 apiece. Toyes Hill has six, Osnabruck has four and Newington two.

ROADRUNNERS WIN

Goalie Wayne Hunter posted his first shutout of the season, leading the Toyes Hill Roadrunners to a 6-0 victory over Newington. His perfect play helped the Hill win their third game in 10 starts and move them to within two victories of Crysler and Finch.

Roadrunners took a 5-0 lead in the first half and pumped in the sixth and final marker with 2:17 left on the clock. Bill Steele had a goal and two assists for the winners while Glen Petersen added one goal and one assist. Dave Holmes, Len Lapeer, Dean Hansma and John Dumoulin all fired in single goals. Garth Hansma and Erik Petersen added assists.

ORMOND GETS TIE

Ormond needed a goal from Keith Young at 16:28 of the second half to hold Morewood to a 2-2 tie in a tight-checking contest.

Morewood took an early 2-1 lead. Gerald Ebby opened it when he scored his fifth of the year from Brian Como at 23:24 of the first period. Chris McKibbon's first goal of the campaign at 18:01 came on an unassisted play and made it 2-1 after Jim McDiarmid clicked for Ormond on a pass sent his way by Rob Scarth at 19:35.

Keith Young's goal at 16:28 of the final period made it a 2-2 draw. Jeff Stewart (Morewood) and Ben Melenhorst (Ormond) were the opposing goalies.

CRYSLER BY ONE

Crysler nipped Osnabruck Bush Bandits 2-1 to move into a fourth-place tie with Finch. They took a 1-0 lead in the game on John Hopman's goal. Goalie Doug Carruthers drew an assist on the first goal of the game when his clearing pass ended up in Osnabruck's net.

Jeff McMahon upped it to a 2-0 game when he scored from Hopman at 18:31 of the second half, but the Bandits staved off a scoreless defeat when D. Fleury scored on a pass from S. Bilmer at 15:14 of the second to ruin Carruthers' bid for the shutout.

PANTHERS WIN 2-1

League-leading Dunbar Panthers scratched out a tough 2-1 verdict over defending champion Finch in the other contest Sunday night. The win was the 10th straight for the Panthers. The loss lowered Finch's record to five and five.

Danny Roy scored from Larry Gallinger at 20:01 to put the Panthers up 1-0. Finch tied it up on Dave Petersen's marker from Mike Hoogeveen at 12:31 and the score remained even until 11:20 of the final frame when Larry Gallinger scored on a powerplay engineered by John LaBelle.

Dunbar took six of the game's 11 minor penalties. Wayne Pitt posted the win; Noel Lalonde suffered the loss.

Klein-Swormink hot

WINCHESTER — Mike Klein-Swormink posted his third shutout in seven games here Monday night, helping Winchester Atom B Hawks to their seventh consecutive Upper Canada Minor Hockey League victory.

Klein-Swormink has now allowed just six goals in seven starts and has just twice been beaten for two goals in a game. Chesterville and Russell each put two pucks into the Hawks' net in 5-2 and 3-2 losses in the first games of the season, but since then has given up just two goals in five games.

Winchester's netminder enjoys super protection from his defence and with a strong offence to get the puck out of trouble and into the opposing zone, he usually has plenty of time to recover between saves.

Hawks took a 3-0 first-period lead on Morrisburg here Monday night and cruised to a 7-0 victory. Kevin Williams opened the scoring, tucking a pass from Trevor Barkley into the Morrisburg net at 4:21 of the first period. Tim Freeland made it 2-0, scoring from Jason Ouellette and Barkley at 2:42 and Jeff Hyndman scored from his defensive position with 46 seconds left in the period for a 3-0 edge. Dan Adams and Kevin Williams set that goal up.

Hawks pumped in three more goals in the middle frame for a 6-0 lead. Adams hit from Aaron Sherrer at 11:36, Ouellette cased in a Troy McNaughton relay at 7:22 and Williams fired in his second of the game at 3:11. Adams and Darrell Bloom drew assists.

Dan Adams scored on a break set up by Darrell Bloom at 6:38 of the final period to push the final tally to 7-0.

Winchester's Atom B record stood at seven wins and no losses following Monday's victory. The Hawks have outscored their opponents 37-6 in those seven starts.

Cochrane rink in fourth place

OTTAWA — Heading into the sixth week of the Labatt's Major Curling League, three teams are tied with 4-1 records. Voyageur Pontiac, represented by Russell's Bryan Cochrane (3-2), find themselves in fourth place, one game behind the leaders. Last week's contest resulted in a 5-3 extra-end defeat at the hands of Ron Diguer.

The Labatt Tankard got under way this past Sunday and in this first round, Cochrane and his Voyageur Pontiac crew downed Adrian Ross of Metcalfe 8-3. Play was scheduled to continue late Monday night. The eventual winners will participate in Ontario zone finals on Dec. 15 and 16.

Deschamps posts shutout

RUSSELL — Alain Deschamps posted the shutout here last Tuesday as he and his mates blanked Ogdensburg, N.Y. 5-0 in Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Bantam B action.

The victory improved the Warriors' record to four wins, a loss and a tie in six starts, heading into games in Chesterville and Athens later this week.

Russell opened the scoring against Ogdensburg on Al Gregoire's unassisted goal at 12:49 of the first period. Shannon Wade upped it to two-zip when he connected on an unassisted play at 12:05. Two minutes later captain Bill Bourguignon dented the twine with a shot that made it a 3-0 game. Wade and Gregoire assisted on that play.

Keith Cheshire scored from Mike Grent at 8:35 of the second period to increase the Warriors' lead to 4-0.

Bourguignon made it a 5-0 final with 5:05 left in the final period when he converted a pass from Wade into his second goal of the game.

Last Saturday the Warriors registered another shutout as they downed Carleton Place 4-0 in exhibition play. Al Deschamps posted his second shutout in as many games.

Wade, Jamie Paulhus, Keith Cheshire with two goals in the final 20 seconds of the game accounted for the Russell goals.

Fraser foursome curls at Brockville

BROCKVILLE — Skip Caroll Fraser and her foursome from the Winchester Curling Club split four games here in the Ladies' Thousand Island Bonspiel last Wednesday and drew fourth event winner prizes.

The Kay O'Neill rink of the Kingston Curling Club won the 16-team two-day event.

Fraser, curling with Wendy Hyndman and Brenda Algate alternating at third, second Linda Gray and lead Eunice Munro, finished the event with two wins and two losses. They lost their first two games to second event winner Jean Davidson of Brockville and third event winner Bette Kerman of the same club, but bounced back with a big eight-end win in their third game and slipped past Pertg in game four. Winchester was one up coming home and added another in the final end to take a two-shot victory.

KEEPING HER IN LINE
It's something you may have overheard but will seldom hear discussed. Yet it's a brutal reality. For every year, one woman in ten is abused by her husband. Put down verbally. And beaten up physically—to the point of unconsciousness, hospitalization or death. In fact, wife assault is involved in one fifth of all Canada's homicides.
Clearly, physical abuse of any kind is against the law. Violence against wives is especially repugnant. The children in these homes may grow up conditioned to accept abuse, or renew the cycle by abusing others.

Hawks shut down the Burg

WINCHESTER — Consistent checking in both ends of the rink, three goals by Doug Armstrong, and shutout goaltending by Craig Lyon were the main ingredients in a 7-0 victory by the Winchester Pee Wee A Hawks over the visiting Ogdensburg, New York squad here Monday night.

Winchester was coming off a lack-lustre 3-1 loss to the Ramparts in an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League contest played last Saturday in Prescott and needed a full 60-minute effort to resume their winning ways.

Coach Dave Armstrong told his charges before the Ogdensburg contest that if they worked hard at both ends of the rink and covered their checks, they would come out of the game with a victory. They followed his instructions to the letter and emerged victorious.

Goalie Craig Lyon handled just two shots from the New Yorkers enroute to his first shutout of the season. Blanket coverage by his skaters enabled Lyon to enjoy the one-sided win.

Following Monday's 7-0 victory Winchester's UCMHL A Division mark stood at four wins, two losses and two ties. They have outscored their opposition 23-14.

Winchester took a 3-0 first-period lead on goals by Doug Armstrong, who scored from Chad Brandimore, and Chris Holmes, on a powerplay at 10:55 and again with 1:05 left in the period when he converted a setup by Chad Benoit into a 3-0 lead. Cory Coons tipped in the second Hawks' goal at 9:48. Armstrong and Brandimore helped their linemate out on that goal.

Chad Benoit upped it to 4-0 when he scored on a powerplay set up by Armstrong and Chris Van Bridger at 8:20 of period two.

An unassisted goal by Armstrong made it 5-0 on a third powerplay at 3:36.

Chad Benoit netted his second of the night at 11:44 of the final period. He scored from Armstrong and Cory Coons to make it 6-0. Chad Brandimore redirected a Benoit-Bryan Helmer pass in behind Bill Sawyer with 5:54 left in the game to make it a 7-0 final.

Hawks dropped their second game of the season last Saturday in Prescott, losing 3-1 to the Ramparts.

Doug Armstrong scored from Bryan Helmer with 33 seconds left in period two, accounting for the lone Hawks' scoring play.

Jeff Nolan hit for two Prescott goals and assisted on another by Brian Dean.

Ramparts led 1-0 after one period. It was tied at one after two and the home team pumped in two goals in the final frame.

Hawks' captain Doug Armstrong scored three times and assisted on three other goals in his team's 7-0 win.

Pee Wee B's win first of season

WINCHESTER — Winchester's Pee Wee B Hawks, off to a rocky start this Upper Canada Minor Hockey League season, finally hit the win column last week. They picked up a victory on the road, downing Russell Warriors 5-3 right in Russell.

That Tuesday night victory was followed by a close 3-1 loss here on home ice last Wednesday night to the Morrisburg Lions.

Todd Halpenny shot in the lone Hawks' goal in the Morrisburg contest, scoring from Todd Fawcett and Greg Bell with 7:08 left in the game. Kirk Tysick, Eric Millward and Jeremy Morrow scored for Morrisburg.

Winchester earned their first victory in Russell, defeating the Warriors 5-3. The victory followed hard on the heels of a 5-0 loss to the same club.

Dereck Holmes connected from Brad Robinson and Greg Bell at 11:11 of the first period to give Winchester a 1-0 edge. Bruce McLean made it 2-0 when he finished off a setup provided by Todd Halpenny and Todd Fawcett.

Darin Campman's unassisted goal put Russell on the board in the second period but his Warriors trailed 4-2 after two periods.

Todd Halpenny scored on an unassisted effort and Brad Robinson clicked on a play set up by Jamie Levere and Dereck Holmes to make it 3-1 with 3:50 left in that period.

Russell sliced the difference to 4-2 when Jason Ogilvie hit on a pass from John Mueller and Mark Bailey at 10:10 of the final period, but Winchester responded with two goals to cushion their lead to 5-2 before Darin Campman could score his second goal of the game with 1:29 showing on the clock.

Dereck Holmes scored from Rob Pollock at 7:30 and Brad Robinson hit for an unassisted goal with 4:07 left in the game, bringing Winchester's total to five.

Flyers ice comeback win

WINCHESTER — Aqua Fun Flyers scored four times in the final 15:34 of their game with the Raiders to erase a 2-0 deficit and take a 4-2 victory.

The win was the fifth in six games for the Flyers and left them four points up on second-ranked Country Kitchen Kings who battled CountryBoy Blazers to a 3-3 draw in last Tuesday's other Winchester Town Hockey League contest.

Raiders took a 1-0 first-period lead on the Flyers when Paul Beckstead scored from Larry Moore and Ken Quaile at 12:02. They went up 2-0 on Brian Swerdfeger's second-period goal at 12:20 of the second period. Pete Filion and Gerry Crowder drew assists on the marker.

In spite of being out-shot by a sizable margin, the Raiders, thanks to goaltender Kevin Baldwin's work, were able to carry their 2-0 advantage into the final period.

Aqua Fun finally got a puck into Baldwin's cage at 15:34 of the third period when Tom Kirkwood scored on an unassisted play.

The count remained at 2-1 in the Raiders' favor until the 2:53 mark when Mike Cousineau scored from Steve Plummer and Don Crowder to tie it at two.

Forty-nine seconds later Butch Oldford skated from his own zone, through centre and fired a low wristshot into the right corner of the Raider net to win the game.

Both the tying and winning goals came while the Flyers were killing a penalty. The Raiders figured they were pretty safe when Flyers' Tom Kirkwood picked up his minor penalty with just 3:13 left in the game. All they had to do was protect their 2-1 lead for the final 3;13 of the game to become the second team in as many weeks to knock off the league-leaders, but it wasn't to be. Cousineau tied it up at 2:53 and Oldford won it with 2:04 left to play.

Raiders, down one goal (3-2), then pulled goalie Baldwin in favor of an extra attacker, but the move backfired as Don Marcellus picked up a rebound and flipped it into the wide-open net with just 24 seconds to go in the game. Flyer defenceman Don Crowder drew an assist on the fourth and final goal.

3-3 SAWOFF

The evening's opening game saw Country Kitchen Kings rally from 2-0 and 3-2 deficits to the the CountryBoy Blazers 3-3. They got the tying marker in the final minute with goalie Steve Johnston on the bench in favor of an extra attacker.

CountryBoy took a minor penalty for body contact with 3:30 left to play. They were protecting a 3-2 lead at the time and were still one goal up in the final minute when the Kings pulled Johnston, went with six attackers, and rammed in the winning goal with 41 seconds left in the game. Dan Lecours got credit for the goal which went into Dan Hogaboam's net during a wild scramble at the goal crease. Bob Crowther and Owen Shortt were credited with assists.

CountryBoy scored twice in the first period when Richard Gilmer netted his first two goals of the season. Reg Hyndman and Doug Duncan engineered both goals with some sharp passing around the Kings' net.

Kings got one back at 7:01 of the second period when Owen Shortt scored on a powerplay from Don Griffith and Al Van Bridger. They tied it at 18:00 of the final period, scoring right off a faceoff to Hogaboam's right side. Harry Castle whipped in the goal after Bob Crowther and Dan Lecours had made the play.

A strong individual rush by Brent Theede put the Blazers up 3-2 with 14:53 left in the final frame, setting the stage for the tying goal at the 41-second mark.

Frankly speaking

HAWKS PLAYING 500 HOCKEY, TAKE METCALFE 6-4

Hawks only played one game again this week. In fact they have played one less than any other team, but with a big win on Sunday against Metcalfe, they moved to within two points of Metcalfe and Char-Lan who are deadlocked for second. Sunday's win made it three in a row for the locals and against the three top teams, so coach Bob Byrnes has to be feeling a little less pressure. It's too early in the year to start doing any boasting, but Hawks have been playing good, steady hockey of late and it was evident that when the game got a little rough in the dying minutes on Sunday that the coach's advice to hold their heads was starting to sink in. The team has never really looked that bad all year, but they just weren't putting a full 60 minutes of effort into the game and there were times on Sunday that they appeared to be slipping back into old patterns, but then they snapped out of it and they stand two big points higher for the effort. Last-place Clarence Creek won against second-place Char-Lan on Sunday and even first-place Navan is starting to feel some pressure with two wins and a tie for the opposition in the last few weeks. Yes, it's far from over yet and this year's matchups just could be the best and closest that we have seen for many a moon. Hawks have what could be termed a four-pointer here this Friday night when the second-place Rebels come to Winchester and the Hawks meet first-place Navan on their ice on Sunday. Next week Navan is here on Friday and Hawks go to Metcalfe on Sunday. All tough games, but two important weeks ahead for all concerned. The hall is rented for a private party this Friday night, but the game will get under way at 8:30 and with so much at stake on the outcome, a large crowd is expected.

HALL STARTS A BUSY DECEMBER THIS WEEKEND

There is a Dundas Holstein meeting planned for this Wednesday in the upstairs hall and that starts off a busy month of bookings for us. This Friday night is the annual Hospital Christmas party and on Saturday night the guys and gals from Ontario Hydro hold their annual party. On Sunday afternoon there will be free skating from 2:30until 3:30 for the Ault Foods family and this will be followed by the annual visit by old Santa in the upstairs hall. Next Wednesday Dundas Soil and Crop meet for a noon meeting and next Friday night Navan come to town with an upstairs dance operated by Winchester Minor Hockey. On Dec. 15 Ault Foods hold their Christmas party. Six more dances, two more meetings and the Boxing Day Tournament fill out the month. That is, of course, not counting fitness classes and club meetings. Well at least November was a quiet month.

A FEW HAWKS' HAPPINESS TICKETS STILL LEFT

Only a few tickets remain for sale on the trip a month draw which will take 11 lucky couples to all corners of the world on dream vacations. Last year's winners report nothing but good things for their good fortune and only with a ticket could you be one of the winners this year. Only a handful of tickets remain, including four at the arena. First draw for a $1,500 ski week for two in Banff takes place Dec. 28. So if you would like to go, get busy and buy a chance on one of the 11 monthly draws.

Bruins close gap

METCALFE — Franey's Bruins scored four times in the second period of their Metcalfe Town Hockey League game here Sunday and held on to defeat McVey's Bulls 6-4. That victory moved the fourth-ranked Bruins to within a point of third place and the Bulls.

In Sunday's other contest, top-ranked Young's Hawks defeated second-place Gebara's Whalers 4-3 when Neil Quinn fired in the winning goal with just 34 seconds remaining in the game. The victory was the ninth in 12 games for the Hawks while the loss lowered the Whalers' mark to five, six and one.

Bulls took a 2-1 first-period lead on Franey's Bruins, getting goals from Bob Joyce at 12:22 and Barry Scott at the 14-second mark after Paul Nooyen scored from Bill O'Brien to put the Bruins on the board at 6:46.

The Bruins struck for four goals and a 5-3 lead in the second frame and held on for their 6-4 decision and third win of the campaign.

Paul Nooyen and Bill O'Brien each had a goal and two assists for the winners. Erin Franey netted a goal and picked up one assist. Brian Wynn and Larry Shields fired in the other goals while Mike Stanley, Keith Behn and Steve Porteous earned assists.

Barry Scott headed the Bulls' cause, scoring two goals. Bob Joyce and Willis Stevens each found net once. Geoff Cochrane (2), John Melenhorst, Doug Harvey, Pete Nooyen and Carson McVey picked up assists.

Mike Preston was the winning goalie and Don Cram took the loss.

LAST-MINUTE DECISION

Young's Hawks took a 2-1 first-period lead on the Whalers but had to scramble for a 4-3 victory, scoring in the final minute of play.

Neil Quinn netted the winning goal with 34 seconds left on the clock to finally decide the issue. He also netted a goal in the second frame. Steve Wade fired in both first-period goals for the Hawks. Jeff Stanley drew two assists while Doug Reaney and Vic O'Mera earned single helpers.

Moe Robinson, Phil Quinn and Gord Reaney were the Whaler marksmen. George Nesbitt, Ian Cameron and Mike Miller all drew assists.

Fred Young posted the win while Roy McCooeye suffered the loss in the Whalers' net.

Atoms split one-goal decisions with Mustangs

WINCHESTER — Winchester's Atom C Hawks split a pair of one-goal decisions with Metcalfe and District Mustangs last week.

Last Thursday here in Winchester the Hawks lost a heartbreaking 1-0 decision to the Mustangs but rallied on Saturday in Metcalfe and nipped their hosts 2-1.

Metcalfe got their winning goal in the 1-0 decision at 9:15 of the second period when Chad Shields slipped the puck in behind Hawks' goalie Jason Wagner on an unassisted play.

The Mustangs took a 1-0 lead in Saturday's game when Dave Pyper beat Wagner on an unassisted rush at 4:50 of the first period. From that point on Winchester's netminder was unbeatable as he backstopped his club to a 2-1 victory.

Winchester tied it up at 1-1 at 14:23 of period two when Cody Mayoh fooled Mustang goalie Cory Wallace on an unassisted play.

Hawks netted the winning goal with 6:40 left on the clock. Bobby Guy put the winning goal into the net, converting a play started by Cody Mayoh and Chris Carlson.

Nestle perks up in Industrial League

CHESTERVILLE — Nestle North Stars have risen in the Winchester and District Industrial Hockey League standings since last week.

Last week they were defeated 4-1 by Winchester Cheese Packers. But before they skated to a 7-5 victory over Ault Food Flames here in Monday's action, they protested Cheese's win and had the league rule in their favor, giving them two points. Monday's third-period rally enabled them to grab two more points and a share of third with the Packers who shutout Hydro 4-0 in Monday's other contest.

Rob Carkner was the red-hot goaltender in the Packers' 4-0 win over Hydro. He turned aside all the Hydro offence while Pete Nooyen did the majority of the work in the other end of the rink. Nooyen scored three of the four Packer goals, hitting for one at 5:32 of the first period, another at 9:36 of the second, and a third with just 31 seconds left to play. Mark Guy scored the other goal on a setup provided by Steve Plummer and Gary McMillan at 12:36 of the second stanza. Don Crowder (2), Jamie Utman (2) and Mark Guy picked up assists on the Nooyen goals. The Packers stopped the Hydro crew with just eight skaters.

NORTH STARS RISE

Nestle North Stars rose to the occasion in their game with Ault Food Flames, outscoring the defending champs 4-1 in the final period to steal a 7-5 victory.

Aults took a 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Al McLean at the 8:00 mark and Curtis McMillan at 5:35. They scored twice more in the second period for a 4-3 lead after 40 minutes.

Don Simpson's unassisted goal at the 14:00 mark of the final period put the Flames up 5-3, but from that point on the Stars took over, scoring four unanswered goals, roaring to a 7-5 victory.

Gary Beckstead paced the winners with two goals and three assists. His linemates Ken Shay and Dave Arnold each added two points. Shay scored two goals while Arnold added a goal and one assist. Lyle Servage picked up a goal and one assist as did Greg Beckstead. Pat Kelly (2) and Pat Imrie had assists.

Don Simpson netted two of the Ault markers. Dennis Sullivan and Curtis McMillan each had a goal and one assist. Al McLean fired in a single goal. Pete Marriner (2), Larry Moore, Doug Duncan and Doug Coleman earned assists.

Dan MacMartin picked up the victory and Lyle Shrigley absorbed the loss working the Ault cage.

Galipeau helps Hawks over Lions

WINCHESTER — Defenceman Francois Galipeau scored the winning goal with 5:08 left in an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Midget C game here last week, giving Winchester's Hawks an exciting 3-2 victory over the visiting Morrisburg Lions.

Galipeau's game-winning tally came on an unassisted powerplay effort with 5:08 left in regulation time and extended the Hawks' record to three wins and a tie in four starts. The week before, captain Dan Gibson scored twice, leading Winchester to a 5-3 decision over Cardinal-Iroquois. In their other encounters the Hawks have trimmed Morrisburg 7-3 and tied Edwardsburg 2-2.

Winchester's Shawn Clark tied the game up at 1-1 when he scored from Jerry Cayer and Paul Allen at 4:41 of the first period. Morrisburg had taken a 1-0 lead when Kevin Dalrymple clicked on an unassisted play.

Mike Hooles hit for a goal at 13:37 of the middle stanza, giving Morrisburg a 2-1 edge, but the Hawks stormed back to even things up at the 4:26 mark when Doug Newman scored from Craig Robinson on a powerplay.

Galipeau's unassisted powerplay goal then decided the issue with 5:08 left in the game.

Captain Dan Gibson scored twice in Winchester Hawks' 5-3 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Midget C division victory over Iroquois-Cardinal Redbirds here two weeks ago.

Iroquois took a 1-0 lead on the Hawks on a goal at 14:17 of the opening period. But the home team pulled even at 10:24 when Doug Newman netted a powerplay goal.

Winchester pulled ahead 4-1 in the middle frame as Craig Robinson connected from Francois Galipeau at 9:57. Gibson hit from Beckstead and Shawn Clark on a powerplay at 4:29 and Gibson fired in another goal on an unassisted play at 3:41.

Shawn Clark's unassisted goal with 10:45 remaining in the final period pushed Winchester ahead 5-1.

Iroquois came close when Sean McLaughlin scored from Mike Fawcett at the 2:00 and 1:16 marks.

Russell Jr. C Lions take three points

RUSSELL — Russell's Junior C Lions improved their Eastern Ontario Junior C Hockey League record to 10 wins, two losses and a tie over the past weekend with a 3-2 victory over the North Stormont Flames and a 3-3 tie with Embrun 72's.

The Lions were able to skip by the North Stormont crew here last Friday thanks to a third-period goal by Mich Michaud. Michaud scored the winner when he fired home a pass sent his way by Kevin O'Reilly and Ray Vidal with 6:43 left in the game. Michaud was playing on the powerplay when he whipped home the deciding goal.

North Stormont grabbed a 1-0 lead when they clicked at the 11:30 mark of the first period and held that slim edge until Russell finally tied it up with 1:27 remaining in the second period. Chris Laviolette knotted the score at one, scoring from defencemen Todd McLaren and Ron Bowhuis and then turned around and put the Lions into a 2-1 lead, connecting again at the 19-second mark.

North Stormont drew even at two goals on Steve Tait's goal at 12:55 of the final frame but Mich Michaud saved the day, scoring on the powerplay with 6:43 left on the clock.

Goalie Rob Sanojllo made his second straight start of the weekend Sunday in Embrun and turned in a solid game, helping the club to a 3-3 draw with the 72's. Sanojllo is now carrying the load in veteran Bob Hogue's absence and has Wayne Paquette providing his backup support.

Embrun's Ben Boulerice beat Sanojllo with the tying goal when he found net with a pass from Maurice Piche on a play with 3:18 left in the game. Both teams were playing a man short at the time.

Boulerice and Russell's Mich Houle traded first-period goals but Russell took a 3-2 lead in the second when Chris Laviolette and Bob Goodman found the target behind goalie Mario LaPalme.

Ray Vidal (2), Nolan Dalman, Mich Michaud and Kevin O'Reilly drew assists for Russell.

Boulerice scored two of Embrun's goals. Dave Clement had a goal and one assist and Maurice Piche picked up two assists.

The first-place Lions travel to Finch to meet North Stormont this Thursday (Dec. 6) and host the second-place Chesterville Flyers this Friday night (Dec. 7) in an 8:15pm start.

Debs win cliffhanger

METCALFE — Metcalfe Debs finally hit the win column again when they skated to an exciting 7-6 victory over Ottawa in a Gloucester Ringette Association contest last week.

Coach Bob Robb reported that his top scorer, Nancy Porteous, was injured late in the game and will have to miss several weeks of action, recuperating from a bad cut before returning to action. Porteous scored two goals and added two assists to her team's cause before she was forced from the contest.

Angie Robb also scored twice as did Karen Gallinger. Tracie McVey fired in the other goals. Robb (3), Tina Flichel (2) and Tracie McVey all picked up assists for the Metcalfe squad.

Merkley tops

WINCHESTER SPRINGS — Ralph Merkley topped all shooters here in Winchester Springs' Trap and Skeet Club's annual turkey shoot. Merkley was top shot in the competition and won three turkeys for his efforts.

Jake Geertsma was runner-up to Merkley and claimed two of the big birds as prizes.

Winning one turkey each were Greg Sullivan, Claude Dillabough, Bruce Casselman, Gary Elliott, Gary Hoy, Carl Keeler and Lee Baldwin.

Gary Geertsma and Homer Geertsma were winners in the club's annual turkey draw.

Cable TV in June?

WINCHESTER — The village's TV fans could have a dozen channels to choose from by next June if Trillium Cable Communications decides to go through with plans to bring a cable system to the community.

Two representatives from the Toronto-based company met with Winchester council Monday to discuss plans to set up the cable system.

Ken Wildgoose, Trillium's regional supervisor for Eastern Ontario, and Laura Jewitt, general manager of the company's regional office in Smiths Falls, told council a decision will be made this month on whether or not to build the system.

If a positive decision is made, Trillium would like to sign an agreement with the village by this spring, Wildgoose said.

Trillium received a licence this summer from the CRTC to go ahead with the plan. However, the company is concerned with a proposed rate increase by CANCOM, a company which would supply seven satellite signals for the proposed cable system.

If the CRTC grants CANCOM's rate increase, the cost of constructing the system would be affected, Wildgoose said.

If constructed, the system would offer a total of 12 channels, including four from Detroit, three from Ottawa, one from Cornwall, one from Hull, and independent stations in Edmonton, Hamilton and Montreal.

The signals would be available to subscribers for a fee of $20 per month, plus an installation fee of $50.

Among the communities the company would like to service are Winchester, Chesterville and Morrisburg.

"These are pretty small towns for us to put cable in," Wildgoose said. "I don't think you'll find another cable company offering to do this."

One 80-foot tower constructed between Winchester and Chesterville could serve both communities. Each village would sign an agreement permitting the company to use its utility poles to mount the cables.

Trillium would pay approximately $7 per pole annually to rent them.

"Pretty well the only thing the village has to do is sign the agreement," Wildgoose said.

A cable system for a town the size of Winchester could be built within four weeks, he said. "If we get the approval to go ahead, we'll probably have it in the homes before June."

In addition to the basic 12 channels, the system would also offer the First Choice-Superchannel Pay TV station as an option for an additional charge. The system will be built to handle up to 30 channels in the future.

Trillium hopes to get about 50 per cent of the households in the village to subscribe within the first year, Wildgoose said.

The company has cable systems in operation all over Ontario, including systems in Smiths Falls and Kemptville.

"Not many towns this size have the opportunity to have cable put in," Wildgoose said. "There's nothing to lose for the town, but there's a lot for us to lose."

The marriage was solemnized by Rev. Tysik.

The bride's attendants were matron of honor Sandra Strader, sister of the bride and bridesmaids Cindy Adams, friend of the bride, Lisa and Linda Kerkhof, sisters of the groom and Alana Kerkhof, niece of the groom was flowergirl.

The groom's attendants were best man Peter Kerkhof, brother and ushers were Ted Bongers, friend of the groom, Steven Kerkhof, brother, Dale Baldwin, brother of the bride and Johnny Doesburg was ringbearer. Organist was Mrs. Ruth Coons.

The couple now reside at RR2 Mountain.

Osgoode dissatisfied with Bell estimate

METCALFE — Osgoode council was not pleased to learn last week of yet another estimate from Bell Canada on the cost of lowering two cables below the dredged South Castor municipal drain.

Council had asked its engineering firm last summer to acquire exact figures on the cable lowering so the township can decide whether it wants to dispute the cost-sharing with Bell at a future Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission hearing.

Mayor Al Bouwers was not amused to learn that the estimated cost of the work at this time is $43,404.

"It's not a firm price," said Mr. Bouwers. "A.J. Graham Engineering has been working on the township's behalf for months to find out what the costs are to lower the cables below the drain, but Bell just isn't giving us that information."

Council was also dissatisfied with the uncertainty of costs and related information provided by Bell Canada's solicitors.

"There are some costs regarding the inspection of the LD-4 cable when it was being moved, but it is believed that these charges which may amount to $2,000 might not be put on the final account," the Bell-Baker solictor said in the correspondence to council.

At this late stage in the South Castor drain and Bell cable lowering work, Mayor Bouwers said the company should have a better idea of what its final costs will be than what is being conveyed.

Council gave the go-ahead on the cable crossing work last January on the understanding that payment for the then-estimated $55,520 relocation job would be settled at a later date following a CRTC hearing.

Osgoode is arguing about payment of the cable work in the first place because a Bell Canada engineer had previously said the company will pay only $3,000 per cable crossing of a municipal drain, based on a policy dating back at least 10 years.

Nerds invade North Dundas

by Vicki Brown
and Carole Droppo

MAPLE RIDGE — Never did North Dundas students look so gawky as last Friday, Official Nerd Day.

Participants came to school garbed in flood pants, ugly tweeds and horned-rimmed glasses taped for practical purposes around the nose-piece. It was amazing to see the results of confiscated closets and basements wandering timidly through the halls, especially past the Guidance Office where the judges were hanging out.

Winners of the contest for best costumes were Stacey Donaldson and Steve Molloy. Of course, the student body is not without its usual nerds, who probably dressed normal so as not to win the contest by accident.

For two long weeks, the student population has been bombarded with massive propaganda advertising the coming of Honeymoon Suite in a concert to be held on Dec. 15 at the school. The brainstorm of social convener Damian Laflamme and his committee, the campaign led to the selling of all available tickets in four days.

The Torn Curtain Drama Club and associates are gearing up for their first performances on Dec. 6 and Dec. 7. The night promises to be a spectacular one as the agenda includes a mystery drama, skits, airband performances and dance numbers.

Senior citizens travel to Bayshore

WILLIAMSBURG — A bus load of senior citizens enjoyed a trip to the Bayshore Shopping Centre, Ottawa, on Tuesday. They were really entertained, and all reports are that a good time was enjoyed by all.

Construction of Park Drive Villa is progressing very favorably, and the road extension off Park Drive, leading into the site, has been paved this week.

Local residents appreciate the paving done on the east-west street through the village, as well as the quiet, following the completion of the sewer project in that area, for this season.

Watch your local newspapers for advertising for a presentation day and evening of the Williamsburg Women's Institute Tweedsmuir Village History Book, to be held as soon as the books arrive.

Santa comes to Winchester

The young and the young-at-heart had a reason to smile Saturday as they renewed their acquaintance with an old friend. Santa was back in town once again, with a full retinue of clowns, bears and space creatures to help him usher in the holiday season. Although the grass was green and the sky was gray, the atmosphere was festive indeed.

Farm update

Bert Blom, president of Eagle Farm Equipment, a Winchester International Harvester dealership, says the purchase of International Harvester by American oil-giant Tenneco should help the farm equipment production industry in Canada. The deal, signed last week, will bring together Tenneco's Case line and International Harvester.

Tenneco takeover seen as good move

WINCHESTER — A multi-million dollar merger deal has turned rival farm equipment dealers International Harvester and Case into allies.

Tenneco Inc., a Houston-based oil exploration giant that owns Case, closed a deal Nov. 31 with International Harvester to purchase the company's farm equipment division.

The deal, which includes International Harvester's assets, patents and tooling, still needs the approval of the Canadian and American governments.

International Harvester's truck division is not included in the merger.

The move is expected to force the closure of 400 of International Harvester's 2,800 dealerships in areas where both International Harvester and Case dealerships are competing.

Bert Blom, owner and president of Eagle Farm Equipment outside Winchester, an International Harvester dealership, said the merger is a good move at a time when farm equipment is "grossly overproduced".

Blom, who joined other dealership owners from across Canada and the northern United States at a merger briefing in Houston last Friday, said he was initially concerned by the deal but quickly realized its potential.

"I was concerned at first but when you look to the future and the excellent financing capabilities of Tenneco, you can see exciting times ahead," said Blom. "For the last five years Tenneco has had a net income of over $700 million.

"With that kind of financing and with the new lines that International Harvester has developed, but didn't have the financing to put onto the market, the future looks very bright."

Sales and service for both Case and International Harvester will continue, Blom said, although the two companies will eventually be incorporated under one name.

"From a customer point of view, their equipment will not be obsolete," said Blom. "Basically Tenneco wanted International Harvester dealerships and lines to fill out the lines they have with Case to have a complete farm equipment line."

Blom added the merger will have very little effect on his dealership apart from a new sign and the introduction of new lines of farm equipment in the future.

John Bouwers, owner of Metcalfe Service Centre Ltd. in Metcalfe, a Case dealership, said it's still too early to judge what effect the merger will have.

Just back from a meeting of Canadian and American Case dealers in Kansas City Thursday, Bouwers said there were mixed feelings to the announcement Case's parent company was buying International Harvester.

"Some of the dealers were very happy with the news and some weren't sure," said Bouwers. "I'm not prepared to say yet where we are going. There's going to be an amalgamation but it's not going to happen for a while yet."

Tenneco, with assets of $18 billion, unsuccessfully made a bid to purchase International Harvester last December. Talks resumed six weeks ago and closed with an agreement two weeks ago.

There are about 300 International Harvester dealerships in Canada.

CFFO endorses debt set-aside option for farmers

GEORGETOWN — The Provincial Board of the Christian Farmers Federation of Ontario is preparing details of its debt set aside proposal for farmers in financial trouble.

At its regular November meeting in Georgetown, the board discussed maximums and the length of time for debt set-asides. Draft proposals for discussion by the federation's 21 district associations include a maximum $100,000 set-aside for a five-year period with the option for a five-year renewal.

The federation has in principle endorsed debt set-aside as the best way to target assistance to the five to 15 per cent of farmers in serious financial difficulties.

The federation expects its January provincial board meeting to complete the discussion.

In other business, Jim Arnold, assistant manager for soil management conservation, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture & Food, attended the meeting to answer questions about Ontario's expanding efforts in soil conservation. The CFFO wants to see a better delivery of soil conservation efforts to Ontario and the development of a strong conservation ethic. A concern is also growing within the federation about the lack of rural storm water management.

Proposals for a check-off on all farmers to support general farmer organizations also received attention. Various county federations of agriculture have been asking CFFO members for their views.

A resolution proposing a check-off is going before the Ontario Federation of Agriculture's Annual Convention at the end of November.

Janice Rose, Jeff VanNoy receive top trophy at Dundas awards night

DIXONS CORNERS — Dundas County 4-H members have the right to say "I am better today than I was yesterday", according to provincial 4-H supervisor Joe O'Neil.

O'Neil, guest speaker at the county 4-H awards night at Matilda Township Hall Friday, congratulated members on completing a successful year.

"You made a commitment and followed it through," he said.

O'Neil encouraged 4-H members to seek new challenges in the year ahead by trying different projects, thus practicing a form of "crop rotation".

"Where you grow in 4-H is basically the 4-H project," he said.

Janice Rose and Jeff VanNoy were recipients of the $300 Ottawa Citizen awards as the two county 4-H club members rated highest in club work and citizenship this year.

Rose, 18, is a Grade 13 student at North Dundas District High School. She served as president of the West Dundas Dairy, Horse and Member Council clubs this year.

VanNoy, 19, was a member of the Dundas Beef Club and the Member Council. Currently enrolled in his first year at the University of Guelph, he plans a career in farming after university.

Ute Straube, 20, a second-year student at the University of Guelph, was ranked third highest in Dundas in club work and citizenship, receiving the Ault Foods Ltd. Award.

Straube has completed 18 homemaking projects and two projects in the veterinary club. She hopes to pursue a career in veterinary medicine after graduation.

The Dundas Plowmen's Award for the 4-H member scoring fourth highest in the county was presented to Bill Smith, a second-year student at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

Smith, 19, was a member of the veterinary, tractor and Member Council clubs. He plans a career in farming.

East Dundas Dairy Club member Patricia vanWylick was presented with three special awards. She received the Eastern Breeders Inc. Award for the highest scoring county calf club member; the Ronald Thompson Memorial Trophy for the top showman in the East Dundas Dairy Club and the Late Mel Tomkins Trophy for champion 4-H dairy showman in Dundas.

The 4-H youth leader council award for the most money raised in the 4-H walk and bike-a-thon was shared by top biker Rhonda St. Pierre and top walker Kim Barkley.

Carol Johnson received the Wileaway Farms Award, donated by Lorne and Vera Strader, as top member in the Dundas 4-H Member Council.

The Winchester 100 Club Award to the club secretary with the neatest and most complete secretary's record book went to Lindsay Rodger.

The South Dundas Dairy Club, led by Bruce Garlough, Dalton Hart and Gordon Empey, received the H.S. Lannin Trophy as the club showing the greatest interest and participation in 4-H work. The club had 100 per cent completion and 95 per cent attendance at meetings.

Jeff VanNoy, winner of the Ottawa Citizen Award, was also selected as top county beef showman, receiving the Earl's Meats Ltd. Trophy.

Dundas Horse Club Awards went to Darlene Derick and Michael Szymanski, top scoring riders in English and Western pleasure.

The Lanwin Farms Award for the club member exhibiting the top 4-H beef steer was presented to Jill Durant.

Kelly Durant won the Vanden Bosch Award for the top 4-H beef steer.

Janice Rose, the county's highest scoring senior member in dairy cattle judging, received the Dundas County Milk Committee Award. The award for highest scoring junior member went to Julie vanWylick.

Kim Lewis was presented with the CNE Shield as top first-year calf club member in dairy cattle judging.

Members who competed in the Dundas County Black and White Show received cash awards from the county Holstein Club. Receiving the awards were John Smith, Mike Farlinger, Pam Porteous, Kim Dalrymple, Kevin Dalrymple and Patricia vanWylick.

The Dundas Milk Committee presented 4-H member pins to each first-year club member who completed his or her project this year.

Certificates for completion of 12 agricultural club projects were given to Jeff Byvelds, Carol Johnson, Daren Loucks, Steven Schneckenburger and Bill Smith.

Completing their sixth project this year were Ed Byvelds, Kelly Durant, Mike Farlinger and Brent Vanden Bosch.

In recognition of five years of service as club leaders, certificates were presented to Neil Kittle and Bob Weagant.

The following awards to the highest scoring member in each club were presented:

Mutual Products Ltd. Award, Dundas 4-H Beef Club, Steven Schneckenburger.

Ritchie Feed and Seed Ltd. Award, Dundas Horse Club, Lindsay Rodger.

Weagant Farm Equipment Ltd. Award, Dundas Tractor Club, Jeff Byvelds.

Dr. K.B. Kennedy Award, Dundas Veterinary Club, Mike Farlinger.

Ormond Recreation Association Award, East Dundas Dairy Club, Patricia vanWylick.

Bank of Montreal Award (Williamsburg), South Dundas Dairy Club, Mike Farlinger.

Bank of Montreal Award (Winchester), West Dundas Dairy Club, Janice Rose.

These Dundas County 4-H members were selected as the top four in club work and citizenship this year. Jeff Van Noy, back row at left, and Janice Rose, front right, won the Ottawa Citizen Award as the two highest-scoring club members. Ute Straube, front left, received the Ault Foods Ltd. Award, while the Dundas Plowmen's Award went to Bill Smith. Press Photo—Must

County 4-H program faces year of new challenges

DIXONS CORNERS — County 4-H members can look forward to a year of new challenges as 1985 approaches, local 4-H leaders say.

Over 25 active clubs with close to 200 members operated in Dundas County this year, with members' accomplishments recognized Friday at the annual county awards night in Matilda Township Hall.

Four new projects will be offered this year, rural organizations specialist Kathy Simpson told members at the awards night. The new programs include a leadership project stressing public speaking and communications skills, for senior members aged 16-21; a safety club focussing on safety on the farm, in the home as well as traffic and water safety; and two projects called Action Wear and Basic Baking.

Friday's awards night was also an opportunity for members to reflect on the successful year behind them.

"The year 1984 has certainly been a significant one," Simpson said. "Not only have we celebrated Ontario's Bicentennial, but we've experienced the amalgamation of 4-H homemaking and 4-H agriculture into one 4-H program."

The past year was highlighted by the introduction of five new projects: fitness, personal finance, horticulture, computer and quilting.

"These new topics complemented the ever popular calf, horse, tractor and veterinary projects," Simpson said.

During the year, the county 4-H program was strengthened by the establishment of an active 4-H leaders' association and a Member Council.

The Member Council organized a number of special events during the summer, including a bike-walk-a-thon, a bus trip to Canada's Wonderland, judging day, a float in three local parades, and a Reach for the Top competition.

A fundraising walk-bike-a-thon was held May 26. Three walkers and 22 bikers participated, covering a 16km route from Nationview Public School through South Mountain and Inkerman to finish at Geggie's Hardware.

The bikers travelled the route four times for a total of 64km, while the walkers racked up 32km, covering the route twice.

Thirteen Dundas 4-H members visited Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology July 11-13 to participate in the 1985 regional conference for 15-year-olds. The three-day conference focussed on the theme of "Mining Our Resources", and stressed leadership and communication skills.

Another highlight of the summer was the 4-H and Junior Farmer Day at Canada's Wonderland June 20. Over 7,000 members from across the province attended the event, with 41 Dundas representatives taking part.

The annual county judging competition July 30 gave about 75 4-H members an opportunity to test their skills at judging beef, hay, dairy and horse classes. Don Durant and Don Rose hosted the event.

South Mountain Fair was the scene of the agricultural achievement day program Aug. 17-18. Dairy, beef, horse and tractor club members exhibited their best efforts for the judges.

Nineteen 4-H members represented Dundas in Ottawa at the Central Canada Exhibition Club Camp Aug. 22-23. The program featured a judging competition, with members evaluating dairy and beef cattle, horses, sheep and hay. A formal banquet and trophy presentations followed.

Four county members - Jane Porteous, Paul Porteous, Mike Farlinger and leader Dale Enright - travelled to KCAT Aug. 28 to take part in the Eastern Breeders Inc. Future Dairymen's Competition. Representatives of 15 counties studied sire selection and dairy cattle evaluation and took part in general knowledge quizzes on practical dairy herd management.

The team from Dundas placed sixth out of 15 counties.

Sixteen Dundas dairy and beef club members competed at the Ottawa Winter Fair Oct. 5, with Eldon Horner placing first in the Junior Hereford Heifers class.

Five local 4-H'ers also took part in the Contact Hays Classic All Breeds Junior Dairy Show held Oct. 13 in Markham. Scott Barkley, Nancy Byvelds, Kim Dalrymple, Jane Porteous and Patricia vanWylick represented Dundas, with Porteous showing the Reserve Champion Ayrshire calf. Nine provinces were represented by 250 delegates.

A team of four Dundas members - Jeff VanNoy, Rita Byvelds, Reta Byvelds and Leslie Durant - made it to the quarter finals in the third annual Provincial 4-H Reach for the Top competition.

Eighteen counties from across the province were represented at the competition, held in Bowmanville. Although defeated by a team from Peterborough, the Dundas team was presented with medallions after a good showing.

Dairymen start year with raise

MISSISSAUGA — Ontario dairy farmers will receive a $3 a hectolitre increase for milk produced for the fluid market beginning in 1985.

The increase will boost the current price, established last January, by 6.1 per cent.

Ontario Milk Marketing Board (OMMB) Chairman Ken McKinnon said the increase actually reflects the board's policy of restraint since the increase had been delayed, despite rising input costs, "in order to maintain a price stability in the market.

"It is hoped," he said, "that the new price will be sufficient to prevent future increases from occurring for several months."

Because the board only sets the price paid to producers, McKinnon said he did not know what effect the increase will have on the price for milk paid by consumers.

Under the increase the farm price for raw milk in Southern Ontario will be raised from 49.48 cents per litre to 52.48 cents.

The OMMB sets the fluid milk price to producers using an economic formula as a guideline. McKinnon said the board has "exercised a great deal of restraint over the past two years and has kept prices substantially below values indicated by the formula."

The base of the formula is calculated using actual cost-of-production data from a representative sample of dairy farms. But instead of following the past practice of using data from all surveyed farms, McKinnon added, only the 75 per cent most efficient producers were included in determining the formula base.

"This makes our formula more responsive to productivity gains with consumers being the ultimate beneficiaries," said McKinnon. "By adopting this approach, we are setting a producer price at a level which meets the needs of producers who are producing milk the most efficiently."

Osgoode drainage funds lobby gets action

by Teresa Lopinski
Press Correspondent

METCALFE — After several months of lobbying for additional tile drainage funds, Osgoode Township was finally granted the money this month.

Osgoode council learned Tuesday night the exact amount of the additional drainage allocation will be $41,600.

The extra funds, based on documented need, bring Osgoode's 1984 allocation of $207,100 up to $248,700.

In a letter to council, a provincial Agriculture and Food representative advised the township to continue forwarding new applications and informing the ministry of any applicant who will not require the funds so they can be re-allocated.

After applying the additional funds to four recent applications, clerk Wayne Robinson said there's still around $20,000 available for Osgoode farmers interested in tile draining their fields this fall.

In other business, council gave third reading to the Cinnamon municipal drain improvement bylaw and passed a bylaw to establish an Ontario Home Renewal Program trust fund.

Council approved a resolution authorizing snow plowing and sanding agreements between the township and George Drew on Plan 4M-440.

Council also approved a $150 grant to assist Osgoode Township high school student Kim Bronsema to attend a session of the Forum for Young Canadians.

The township approved a similar grant for Nancy Poretous last year.

Councillors also indicated they had no objection to the nomination of Mark Mallette for membership to the township's non-profit housing corporation.

Councillor Mary Cooper said the corporation's board of directors will probably elect Mr. Mallette at the group's annual general meeting Nov. 29 at 7:30pm.

Up for re-election are members Betty Shields, Barbara Everson, Eric Bawden, Lloyd Cowan and councillors Albert McKeown and Mrs. Cooper.

Other upcoming meetings at the township hall in Metcalfe include "open house" assessments Dec. 5 from 1 to 8pm and a special public meeting concerning the Arden Brooks rezoning Dec. 11 at 7:45pm.

A Carleton Board of Education tast force will be looking for comments from parents in the Osgoode-South Gloucester cluster to its Facilities Analysis Staff Study (FASS) report at Blossom Park Public School Dec. 10 at 8pm.

At that meeting, representatives of the Greely Study Review Committee, who have support from Metcalfe, Osgoode and Greely Home and School Associations, will present alternatives to the CBE recommendations to make Greely elementary an expanded French immersion school because of its central location in the Osgoode-South Gloucester cluster.

Agricultural trainees program launched

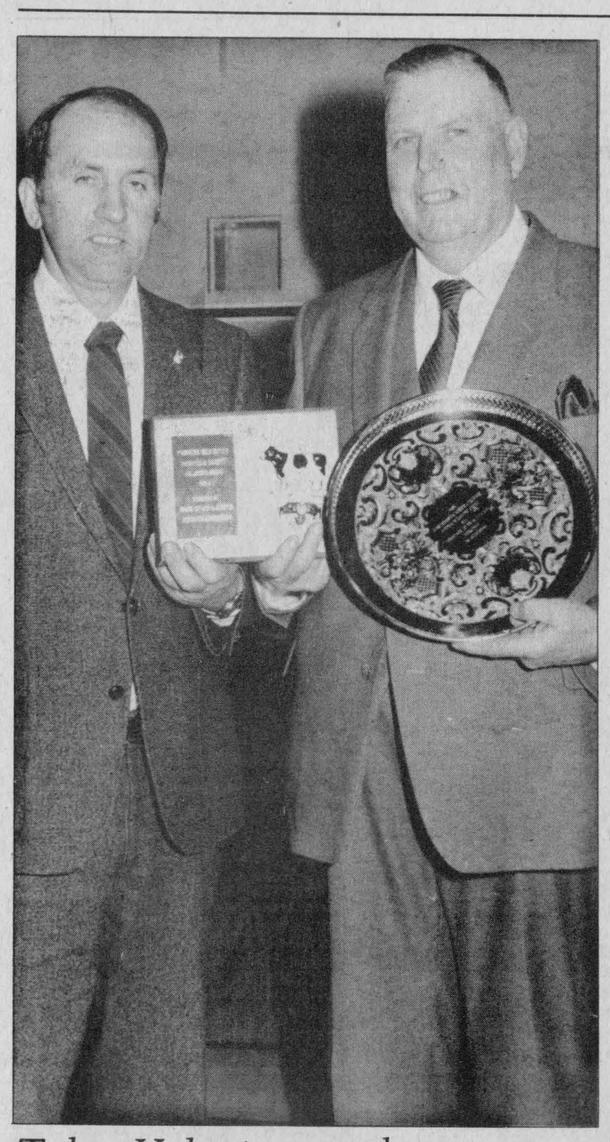
The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, in conjunction with the Ontario Youth Corps, is offering an employment program which provides on-the-job training for the youth and extra help for farmers.

To be eligible, applicants must be 15 to 24 years of age, have Grade 11 education or less, and be unemployed for at least 12 weeks.

Eligible farmers must be farming a commercial operation and interested in training a youth during the winter months. Horticultural and agricultural businesses are also included.

The youth receives as wages, $4 per hour based on a 40-hour work week. The host farmer contributes $2 per hour toward the youth's wages. Workers' Compensation and Unemployment Insurance are the responsibility of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

The employment period is for 12 to 19 weeks beginning Nov. 12, 1984 and ending March 22, 1985. The application deadline has been extended to Dec. 14, 1984. Youth and host farmer applications are available from your local Canada Farm Labor Pool or Ministry of Agriculture and Food office. For further inquiries, please contact Agricultural Trainees Program, Guelph Agriculture Centre, P.O. Box 1030, Guelph, Ont., N1H 6N1. 519-823-5700, ext. 334.



Takes Holstein awards

Allison Fawcett, right, of Winchester, was presented with awards for Champion Junior Female and for winning the Premier Exhibitor title at the Spencerville Fair during the annual awards banquet of the Grenville County Holstein Breeders' Association at Kemptville College Nov. 24. Fawcett received the awards from Holstein Canada director Charles Farlinger. Chesterville's Sunnylodge Farms received awards for Premier Breeder and Reserve Champion Junior Female. Photo—Bonisteel

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS — The family of the late Terry M. Forbes of Chesterville wish to extend our most sincere thanks and appreciation to the many friends, relatives and neighbors for the cards, floral tributes, memorial donations, baked goods and sincere sympathy shown to us at the loss of our dear husband and father. Special thanks to Rev. Bert DeBruijn and Mr. Jim Daniels of Vice and Craig Funeral Homes Inc.
—Linda, Margaret and Tony Forbes 34

CARD OF THANKS — We would like to express our gratitude to everyone who sent gifts, cards and flowers and came to visit us while we were in the hospital and since returning home. Special thanks to Dr. Merrett and the nurses in obstetrics at Winchester Hospital for their excellent care.
—Debbie and Melissa Stoodley 34

CARD OF THANKS — I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to Cam Baker of Chesterville who found my wallet on the street. I would also like to thank Ruth Chambers for assisting Mr. Baker in helping find the owner.
—John Irven 34

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS — I wish to express my sincere gratitude to relatives, friends and neighbors for cards, gifts, visits and transportation for Dorothy. Also thanks to the nurses on the second floor for their excellent care while I was a patient in the WDM Hospital and to Dr. Heymans, Rev. Keith Brown and Rev. Leonard Woolfrey.
—John Morrice 34

CARD OF THANKS — We would like to wish a special thanks to our family for taking us out to dinner and arranging our 50th anniversary party, also thanks to our many friends and relatives who gave gifts, sent cards and those who telephoned to offer congratulations. Thanks also to the Township of Matilda for their plaque and pins. An occasion we shall never forget. Many thanks again.
—Harold and Tressa Lapier 34

CARD OF THANKS — We would like to express our deep appreciation to all who helped to make our 60th wedding anniversary a joyous celebration with their cards, gifts and good wishes. Special thanks to the United Church and unit 5 of the UCW for the beautiful plants and to our children for a memorable day which we will always cherish.
—Ernest and Hilda Holmes 34

Birth Notices

TAYLOR — Steven and Maureen (nee Blanchard) of Metcalfe are happy to announce the birth of their precious daughter, Courtney Maureen, 7 lbs. 6 ozs., Nov. 13, 1984, Grace Hospital, Ottawa. A sister for Patrick and a birthday gift for Nana Ruth. Special thanks to Daddy for excellent coaching and support. 34

ZANDBERGEN — Bill and Coly are pleased to announce the birth of their daughter, Rachel Kate, on Nov. 20, 1984. A new sister for Laura, Sandra, Bradly and Dwayne. Thirty-seventh grandchild for Joan and Fred Zandbergen of Brinston and 20th grandchild for Maria Berkelaar of Brockville. A special thank you to Dr. Domanko and staff of maternity of Winchester Hospital. Thanks to Rev. DeJong and Rev. Tysick for their concern and for all prayers, concern and many cards received. Above all, thanks to God for making all things well. 34

In Memoriam

McLAREN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Freddie, who passed away Dec. 8, 1983.
It was a sudden ending,
Too sudden to forget,
And we who loved you dearly
Are the ones who won't forget.
We are thinking of you today,
But that is nothing new
We thought about you yesterday,
And the day before that too.
And we will think of you tomorrow,
And each day throughout the year,
So no matter what we say or do,
Our thoughts will always be of you.
—Sadly missed by Audrey, Carl and Marlene 34

BAKER — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Garfield Baker, who passed away Dec. 9, 1977.
No one knows our heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that we bear in silence,
For the one we loved so well.
—Wife Nancy, daughter Bonny.

To be together in the same old way,
Would be our only wish today.
No one knows the grief we share,
When the family meets and you're not there.
—Daughter Beverly, grandson Shawn 34

PRICE — In fond memory of a dear wife and mother, Hazel, who passed away Dec. 2, 1976.
Gone from us but leaving memories,
Death can never take away;
Memories that will always linger,
While upon this earth we stay.
—Sadly missed by husband Graham and family 34

SULLIVAN — In loving memory of Asa who passed away Dec. 4, 1974.
A silent thought
A secret tear
Keeps his memory ever dear.
—Sadly missed by Susan and Family and Aunt Mabel 34
