Bits and Pieces

In December?

Ground Hogs and Pussy Willows in December? That's what Aime Huneault of Chesterville said last Wednesday when he was in the Record office.

According to Mr Huneault he saw two of the underground varments playing in the snow near the Bert Droppo farm east of Chesterville and another day when he was near Winchester he saw a third one. And to top everything off the village resident also claims he saw some of the springtime Pussy Willows growing in another area of the county.

We suppose it's just wishful thinking, but could it be that winter is over?

Willis Cross cops feature at Connaught Park

In the Ninth and feature race at Connaught Park on Sunday afternoon, Willis Cross was probably even a little surprised when his David A. Brook stepped off the mile ahead of the favored Nechako Pride.

Cross sent David A. Brook into hot pursuit of Nechako Pride at the half. They raced head to head until they reached the stretch. Then Cross edged his horse ahead in the final 85 feet to nose the Jean Chretien favorite and reward supporters with a $39.50 return.

Please note!

The Post Office along with most government services and private businesses will be closed on Monday, Dec. 27 and maybe Tuesday, Dec. 28.

We are asking our correspondents not to mail the news for the week following Christmas since we probably won't get it in time for that issue of the Record.

Instead we would like them to either bring it into the office, or if it's not too lengthy, call us and we'll take it over the phone. We will be open Boxing Day.

Finch horse instrumental, Filion breaks record

Herve Filion became the first harness racing driver to notch 500 victories in one season and he did it driving a horse from Finch.

Eleven-year-old Thunder Royal is owned and trained by ley MacLeod of Finch. Dec. 1, the 8 to 5 favorite driven Filion crossed the finish line at Yonker's, New York to cop the title of most races won in a season. Filion, at 31, has set his goal at breaking the top number of races won in a career, 3,445 set by Billy Haughton. The Angers, Que., native now has 3,417 and could surpass the record before the end of the year.

57th Anniversary

The Record would like to join with the family and friends of Mr and Mrs Ernest Beckstead of RR 1, Chesterville, in congratulating them on their upcoming 57th Wedding Anniversary, Dec. 17.

Enthusiasm reigns for Santa's visit

A brisk wind and a lack of snow were the only two things which might have detracted from the enthusiasm of the 1971 Chesterville Santa Claus Parade.

But, in spite of this, hundreds of young and old alike lined the main streets of Chesterville last Saturday to watch as the atmosphere was set for the annual visit of old Saint Nick.

Pretty girls, comic clowns, well groomed horses, Christmas music, and seasonal floats led by the Cornwall Air Cadet marching band, paved the way from the Legion Hall for Santa and his two elves, over to the Park Pavilion where the old gentleman stopped to hand out a few pre-Christmas gifts to the children.

The 17 entries in this year's parade started rolling around 2 p.m., after assembling at the Legion. They travelled south on Main Street to the Bank corner, and then swung left onto King down to Queen Street. The caravan turned left again back to Main and from there across the bridge and up Victoria to College Street. After reaching South Street the parade wound up at the village park where the children had gathered.

Chamber of Commerce president, Charlie Graham, said he was pleased with the parade turnout this year but hoped that next year's effort would be even better.

Some of the larger entries were those put in by the Chesterville Fire Department, the Chesterville Boy Scouts and Cubs the Dundas 4-H Horse Club, the Air Cadet Band and the North Dundas District High School Band.

The Chesterville Women's Institute float and the 1970-71 Winter Carnival Queen, along with Santa and village and area business entries, made up the rest rest of the procession.

During the afternoon, three judges scrutinized the event and their decisions will be made known at the Winter Carnival in January.

Poor old Santa had his hands full last Saturday afternoon as he met hundreds of children down at the Village Park Pavilion to hand bags of candy. Above Santa holds one little tyke who wasn't totally pleased with the day's events, but was still happy to receive a bag of candy. At left is Susan Rance, who portrayed one of Santa's elves, helping her out was Martha McMillan. Santa handed out approximately 700 bags of candy to the children in Chesterville and went to the Children's Ward of Winchester and District Memorial Hospital. As Santa and his helpers were leaving the hospital they met another drove of admirers in the waiting room and found gifts for them as well. — Staff Photo.

Chairmen named at arena session

The second step towards a Chesterville and District Community Centre was taken December 7 at the organizational meeting of the committee of 12.

Francis Moriarty and Stuart Byers will head the two major ends of the community rink project, the finance and building committees, respectively.

Also on the fnance committee are Carl Smith, Charlie Graham, Allan Clement, Stan David, and Dick Finigan. Working with Mr Byers will be Aldie Holmes, Jim Sullivan, Keyes Smith and George Countryman.

Named to the publicity committee were Frank Cook, Garry Barkley, Blake Feeley, Wayne Laprade and Lee Hart.

At the December 1 meeting of the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce, it was decided that the organization should undertake the task of building an arena in the village, possibly with artificial ice.

There are still a lot of questions to be answered yet as far as the cost and location but the project is definitely going ahead.

Richard's report forecasts next 20-years for North Dundas

Members of the North Dundas Planning Board had an opportunity to look into a crystal ball at a meeting held in Winchester Township Hall Tuesday, December 7.

It was a 95-page report, packed with charts and diagrams prepared by J L. Richards and Associates Limited, Consulting Engineers and Planners.

The report which looks ahead to 1991 details the growth patterns of Chesterville, Winchester, Mountain Township, and Winchester Township, the four areas which make up the NDPA.

Representing Winchester Township at the meeting were Gerald Holmes, Lyle Loucks, and Cecil MacNabb; from Mountain Township were Harry Williams, Robert Loughlin, and Keith Fawcett; from Winchester village were W. I. Johnston, Garner Reynolds and Ed Boyd; representing Chesterville were Fred Coons, Harold Sharkey, and Blake Feeley.

Also at the meeting were: Glen MacGregor, secretary treasurer of the board, Bruce MacNabb and Larry Gardner of the Department of Municipal Affairs, Community Planning Board, Ottawa, and William Haigis and John Thomas representing the consulting engineers.

The report, which is based on past growth trends, shows that population wise, in the next 20 years, Chesterville will grow from the present 1,291 people to 1,531 in 1991.

Winchester Township will go from 2,832 to 3,281, Winchester Village from 1,601 to 2,651 and Mountain Township from 2,512 to 2,806.

According to concept plans created by the engineers, Chesterville will take on a different appearance by 1991. With Highway 43 relocated to the west side of Chesterville, Richards and Associates forsee a traffic circle built at the west end of South Street.

Although the report does not call for surprising growth of Chesterville, it does recommend that both villages form a co-operative industrial program. It says that one the major attractions to this area, for industries, is the low cost of land, and both corporations must ensure that relatively inexpensive land is available for development on demand.

Editorial Comment . . .

We've Seen Better

As the heading says, we've seen better Santa Claus parades in Chesterville and now we'd like to know why?

A few weeks ago we stated that the membership activity in the Chamber of Commerce was almost nil. And we listed a few of the reasons we thought caused the lack of participation.

At the Dec. 1 meeting of the Chamber there were more than 27 members present which was a great turn out . . . the best in a long time.

But what happened Saturday? It was Chesterville's annual Santa Claus parade. Not weekly, not monthly, but annual. It only happens once a year and we think an effort should be made on the part of all merchants, businessmen and companies to be represented in this truly village event.

We congratulate the Chamber of Commerce for their work in organizing the event and we thank those merchants and organizations who took the time and trouble to be involved with the affair.

We're not going to mention names, we don't think we have to, but the public noticed just as quickly as we did who was in the parade and who wasn't.

Apparently it was more important for some businessmen to ring the cash register than to decorate their car or float. We thought Scrooge was just a character created in the mind of Charles Dickens.

And then we heard too "well it was too windy." Humbug, but we suppose a poor excuse was better than none at all.

A $150 Million Persuasion Program

The federal government is planning to spend $150 million over the next seven years to help small farmers . . . help them get out of business or get bigger that is.

Agriculture minister Bud Olsen announced the program earlier this month and said it was designed to ease out uneconomic farm units and help the small farmer who wants to stay in farming.

All this multi-million dollar project really boils down to is that instead of the government pushing people on or off the bus, they're going to lend them a hand to get on or off.

A small farm is described as one that has less than $25,000 assets. What the government would like is to see every farmer with at least a $50,000 or $60,000 operation. Mr Olson described the plan as a "more humanitarian approach to a problem . . . "

If you are a farmer, well below retirement age and are interested in staying in farming but lack sufficient acreage to develop a profitable business, special credit facilities to buy necessary land will be provided through a land transfer program.

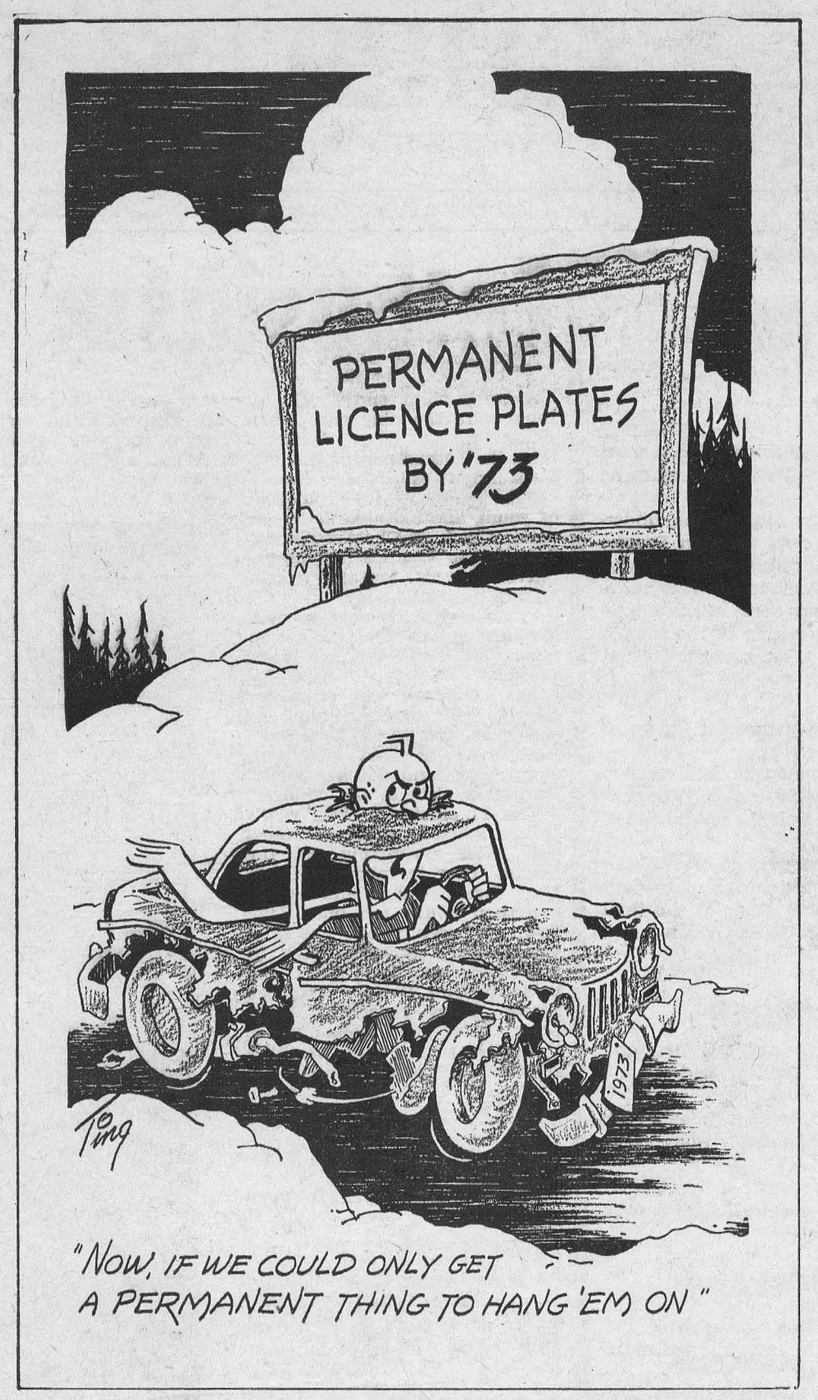
Or if you wish to retire or quit farming you can qualify for an adjustment grant which will be added to the selling price of your land. It could be a lump sum or an annuity. Also the plan gives the farmer the option of retaining the farm house and a piece of land around it for as long as wished.

We're not saying these two ideas aren't good, but isn't there another group of farmers somewhere in the middle. The farmer who because of the cost of labor and machinery doesn't want to expand his present operation. He is making an adequate income and doesn't want to get any further in debt or doesn't want to retire.

Of course none of this new program is close to being law and we don't think that the under $30,000 farmers in the area have to start worrying about being expropriated in January 1972, but why the big fuss over the small farmer.

Is it costing the Federal government 20.5 million a year to carry these people? Because if the program is implemented that's what the average cost will be to get rid of the small farmer.

We think if the agricultural businessman needs help — then by all means help him, but if he doesn't — well then Mr Olson stop bugging him.



Ann Landers . . .

Dear Ann Landers: What can be done to put the dignity back in weddings? I've been to more goofy ceremonies lately — no tradition, no mention of God, no hint that it is a religious or even legal union. The brides and grooms write their own lines, recite poems, play the guitar, the zither, strew flowers, and have rock groups inside the church.

Last week a couple in Oklahoma were married under water. The bride and groom, minister and attendants, were lowered into the canal on a submergible steel mesh platform on a floating dock. The wedding party stayed under water for seven minutes during which time the ceremony was performed. Are these people crazy? Is the world having a mass nervous breakdown? Please answer. I think I'm losing my grip. — Albuquerque

Dear Al: Stable people are able to view the kooky machinations of the world without becoming unhinged, unglued or unstrung. I find some of the far-out happenings mighty strange but oddballism is not new. The wierdos have been with us since the Year One and I'm sure it will ever be thus.

Dear Ann Landers: Your instant psycho-analysis infuriates me. The writer who hates his parents may be justified. How do you know? Don't you realize that hate is healthy, It is real. What is unhealthy is to pretend that we harbour no ill will. Anyone who says he has no hate in his heart is lying. — Anonymous

Dear Anon: You want to hate? O.K. Go ahead. But don't deceive yourself into thinking its healthy. One of the world's most distinguished psychiatrists, Dr. Frances Braceland of the Institute of Living (Hartford, Conn.) describes hatred as "the beast gnawing on itself — self-punishment." Walpole said if he wanted to incapacitate and bedevil an enemy, he would fasten to him the trouble of hating someone. He would then be trapped in a hell of his own making. He would have no peace — ever.

Dear Ann Landers: What can I say to nosy relatives who ask me what I am doing about birth control? I don't care to discuss this subject with anyone yet I hate to be rude. They know I must be doing something. How should I reply? — M. Bare Est

Dear M: I know of no question that is less anybody's business. Simply say, "Now, why in the world would you ask me a question as personal as THAT?" In other words, answer the question with a question. Put the burden on the inquirer.

Dear Ann Landers: This is for the lady who thought it was ridiculous to bury a person with his glasses on because "people don't sleep in glasses, and death is the permanent sleep."

My mother wore a hearing aid for the last 20 years of her life. No one ever saw her without it. Her aid was one of those old fashioned models — clumsy and very visible. When we tried to talk her into a new streamlined model she'd say, "No — this one works fine."

When Mama died, the mortician called us to see if she looked the way we wanted her to look for the viewing. My sister and I, with one voice, told the mortician that Mama didn't look right. Something was missing. It was of course her hearing aid. So, she was buried with it on, even though some people said it was ridiculous. We wanted it that way. — Tennessee Reader.

Dear Ten: As I said before — it's up to the family to decide such questions and they should not be concerned with "crowd pleasers."

Give in or lose him — when a guy gives you this line, look out! For tips on how to handle the super sex salesman, check Ann Landers. Read her booklet, "Necking and Petting — What Are The Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper, enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Editors note: We would like to know how many of our subscribers read the Ann Landers column. We have been asked recently to run another series of articles in the paper and we don't have room for both. We would like you to write and tell us whether we should continue it or not. Your letters do not have to be signed and will not be published.

Teachers . . . VIEW

Early in September the Communications Committee of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation decided to continue in it's attempt to inform the public of new trends in education and individual teachers' views on certain aspects of the educational field.

One of the key objectives of this column was to stimulate public interest in education and therefore open a line of communication between parents of students attending our secondary schools, taxpayers, and the teaching profession. To me, when one communicates, he must first have someone to communicate with, and secondly, the other person or persons must make themselves heard. So far this year, the Teacher's View column has been a one way street. We read teacher's views but elsewhere everyone is silent.

From this we can assume several things. One, that parents of students in our secondary schools are completely satisfied with what is going on in the field of education and therefore there is no need to explain educational problems any further, or secondly, that parents of students in our secondary schools know very little, if anything, about what is going on in education and therefore they fear asking questions in case it might show their lack of knowledge. I suspect that the latter is the rule rather than the exception and if this is so, how are you going to find out if you do not ask questions?

It seems as if taxpayers in general are only concerned about education at one particular time of the year, and that is when they find out how much money they are going to pay for education. As taxpayers you are paying a share of the cost of education and for this simple reason alone one would think that you would be interested enough to ask questions pertaining to what you are getting in return for your money, even if you do not have children in school.

In the editor's note which appeared just prior to the first article in this series, the public was invited to submit questions to the Communications Committee of the Secondary School Teachers' Federation and as many as possible of the questions and answers would be publicised in this column. At this point, I would like to re-emphasize the importance of two-way communications system, and if anyone has a question, would you please forward it either to:

NDDHS NEWS

The N.D.D.H.S. Concert Band visited the Russell Public School on Friday, December 10th. They performed various selections of music under the direction of Mr N. St. Louis. The special presentation of Christmas music appealed to the young listeners.

Mr St. Louis instructed some of the band members to play their instruments separately, in order to show the Russell students what each instrument sounded like.

Each section of the Band played a few bars of one piece and then altogether in a group so that the audience would hear all the different parts that make up one piece of music.

The Band wishes to thank the Russell Public School for giving them the opportunity to play for them.

Hosp. Administrator outlines proposed additions to unit

WINCHESTER — Mrs Keith Carkner, president of the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary reported on the recent 61st Annual Hospital Auxiliaries Association Convention held in Toronto at the December 2 meeting of the auxiliary held here.

Hospital administrator, H. P. Stel, told the 22 members of the proposed Intensive Care and Coronary Unit for the hospital. He also mentioned the annual Christmas party for all hospital staff and the float for the Winchester Santa parade.

The Winchester unit will be responsible for the tuck cart during December and the Summers-Cass Bridge unit in January.

Mrs Max Boyd reported on the Volunteer Service program and said more people were needed as volunteer workers if the service is to expand the way it was hoped it would.

Mrs Wolfred, physiotherapist, gave a report on physiotherapy in relation to patients and the volunteer worker.

The meeting adjourned with Miss Legris serving lunch.

Williamstown Church hosts Presbyterial meeting

WILLIAMSTOWN — Historic St. Andrew's United Church was host to Seaway Valley Presbytery delegates for the November presbytery meeting.

Much of the attention of the group was focused on the question of the proposed union with the Anglican Church.

Rev. David Fearon of Hawkesbury addressed the members on some of the advantages anticipated: Churches in areas where several of both denominations already exist will concentrate on special aspects of Christian teaching, and ministers will be able to specialize on what they can do best.

This is to be under a program called the zone ministry, which will be organized to meet the needs of rural congregations villages where there are two churches, one of each kind.

A panel discussing church union, was led by Mr Fearon, and included Harry Shaver of Riceville and Dr. Douglas Hanley of Hawkesbury. In subsequent discussion it appeared that the question of authority of bishops and congregations is the most troublesome question in connection with union proposals.

The meeting was marked by the somewhat unusual idea that where there is only one church of either denomination, the different needs of congregations in the church here was illuminated in part by one of the old oil-burning chandeliers of many years ago, and the meeting was partly by lamplight, which attracted a good deal of comment. Rev. Douglas MacKay, minister of the host church, welcomed the members.

The presbytery decided to reactivate the church at George's Lake near Riceville, with four services a year. Rev. Lawrence Pushee of Riceville will preach there.

80 enthusiastic students NDDHS Theatre Arts class

A large, enthusiastic group of approximately 80 students are enrolled in the North Dundas Theatre Arts classes this year.

Started last year by Mr John Lalor, who has since moved from the school, the program has been continued by Mr L. Trillo, who directs three groups, with Mr M. W. Helston in charge of a fourth group.

All groups will combine to present a theatre program in the spring.

The course of studies includes voice study, stage presence, stage craft, scripting, acting, television techniques, and the organizational aspects of the theatre.

Mr Trillo commented in an interview: "The students develop poise, presence and an ability to communicate in public without embaraasment. By not only seeing, but by studying theatre, the students begin to appreciate theatre as an art form. At the same time, their personal development is obvious as they progress in the course."

Don't have a one track mind. Especially, the Ontario Safety League urges, when ou yare waiting for a slow freight train to clear the crossing. Remember that an express may be coming down the other track.

Messenger's Kim Droppo rewarded for sales efforts

Kim Droppo was presented with a personalized, printed Bible at the December 6 meeting of Trinity United Messengers for selling 40 boxes of Christmas cards.

Lorraine Hutt, Diane Durant, Stephanie Jordan, Duff Mitchell, and Timmy Finigan also sold between 15 and 30 boxes each.

For her work with the club during the past year, Mrs Reid was presented with a gift by Lynn Smith on behalf of the membership.

The 21 members present also sang carols at the Christmas meeting and Mrs Jordan read a Christmas story.

December birthday greetings were sung to Jay Johnston.

Spend week end visiting with parents

Mr and Mrs Claude Morin and family of Cornwall were Sunday visitors at the latter's parental home, Mr and Mrs William Jackson and family.

The many friends of Vernon Presley will be sorry to hear he is a patient in Cornwall General Hospital.

Sincere sympathy to Mrs Mary Ault in the death of her mother, Mrs Eva Alguire, December 6 at Cornwall General Hospital.

Mr and Mrs Allan Gallinger and family of Toll Gate Road visited the formers parents, Mr and Mrs R. Jackson, Friday evening.

Mrs Allan Buell is spending some time with her sisters in Montreal.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Mr. H. Alugire who passed away in Cornwall General Hospital.

Miss Ann Presley of Ottawa spent the weekend at her home here and visited her father who is a patient in Cornwall General Hospital.

A number from here attended the tea and bazaar in the Christian Reform Church, Eamers Corners, Saturday afternoon.

The person who drives fast past a school, says the Ontario Safety League, is often the same one who was slow going through one.

BULL.

If bogey wheels were better, you wouldn't see so many other snowmobile manufacturers trying so hard to copy Artic Cat's patented torsion spring/slide rail suspension system.

Artic Cat rides the smoothest. Period.

But smooth ride isn't the only advantage the Artic engineers gained when they designed this remarkable suspension.

Artic's suspension system is fully adjustable to varying weight loads. It has 80% fewer moving parts than the old-fashioned bogey systems. That means less maintenance.

And, because of their new suspension, Artic engineers were able to utilize the aircraft-type riveted aluminum chassis that absorbs shocks and won't rust.

The torsion spring/slide rail suspension is the key to Artic's totally integrated system of snowmobile components. You might see other manufacturers copying one part or another. But only Artic gives you the total system,

Hawks remain in lead after week-end win

KEMPTVILLE — The Hawks maintained their two point league lead on the weekend by topping Spencerville 10-6 in their only game. The crowd of 400 saw lots of action on the ice with seven major penalties during the contest.

The Hawks led 3-1 at the end of the first period on goals by Billy Moran with two and one by Jacques Landry.

Spencerville had tied the score at 4-4 by the end of a penalty ridden second period with Randy MacDonald being the only Hawks scorer.

The Floodgates opened in the third period with the Hawks scoring six goals, Billy Moran completed his hat trick, Jacques Landry got his second of the night and singles were added by Bob McClintock, Ernie Summers, Bill Byers and Ducky Swerdfeger

Bobby Volks who suffered a six stitch cut to the head in the first period returned in the third giving the boys a tremendous moral lift.

Bill Byers, after receiving a broken nose in the first period, played solid hockey and was rewarded with his first goal ever in Junior Hockey in the third period.

Billy Moran continued his scoring ways with his second hat trick in as many games.

Lester Carkner was a thorn in the sides of Spencerville players all night and Ernie Summers turned in the best game to date.

The winner of the 50-50 draw, worth $73.50, went to A. Lawrence of Spencerville. Next game is Saturday in Kemptville against Maxville.

Village choir opens I.C.A. meeting

INGLESIDE — The December 13 meeting of the Ingleside Citizens' Association opened with a pleasant surprise for the 40 or 50 people gathered in Osnabruck High School here, the first public appearance of the newly formed Village Choir.

Formed in September by Ross Walker of Elm Street, the new group have been practising diligently for the day when they could show their talent to the public

In white blouses, blue skirts or trousers, and small red string ties, the choir entertained with a range of songs, negro spirituals, and Christmas hymns for about half an hour.

Mr Walker, who had taken musical training in the navy, directed the group. At one time when he lived in Dorval, Quebec, he drove regularly to Morrisburg to direct the band there. When he moved to Ingleside, the cost of setting up a band was prohibitive, so he turned his talents to setting up a choir.

Clarence Meyers opened the regular business meeting and received reports from varying chairmen

Mr Walker, fund raising chairman, was outspoken in his criticism of ICA members and Ingleside citizens generally, deploring the fact that while a substantial sum of money was pledged to erect a rink, few people turned out to the turkey shoot, even though weather conditions were favourable. He reported that the bond draw and euchre were successful.

Mr H. Rowden gave a report on publicity and on the Ingleside light situation. Mr Marcellus, Township clerk, said final forms for changes in the plans had arrived and about all that was required, was Council's approval of the modifications and the light installation could be started

The chairman of civic affairs, Thorold Lane, informed the assembly that he could give no report on discussions between the Water Advisory Council and Township officials. He charged that proposals submitted and suggestions made by the WAC met with little or no response from Township council.

C.G.I.T. hold Vesper Service

LONG SAULT — Our several worlds, symbolized in the "Circles of Christmas" will be the focus of the Christmas Vesper Services to be held by the Long Sault Canadian Girls In Training December 19 at 7 p.m. in St. Andrew's United Church here.

The services, held nationally this month, will link the setting of the Christmas Story — the Holy Family in the stable, the town of Bethlehem, the world of Caeser Augustus and the Star of Bethlehem — with the relation of the individual to the present day world, the family circle, the neighbourhood, the world community and the universe.

The CGIT members themselves conducted the services which have been held annually since 1940. Dr. R. K. McLean of Kingston, with the assistance of CGIT groups in Elginburg and Weston, have prepared this year's service.

Girls from ages 12 to 17 will take part in the services which are held in some 1,500 congregations across Canada, Northwest Territories and Bermuda.

The offering goes toward the work of the National CGIT Committee.

NDDHS girls basketball teams complete 1971 season

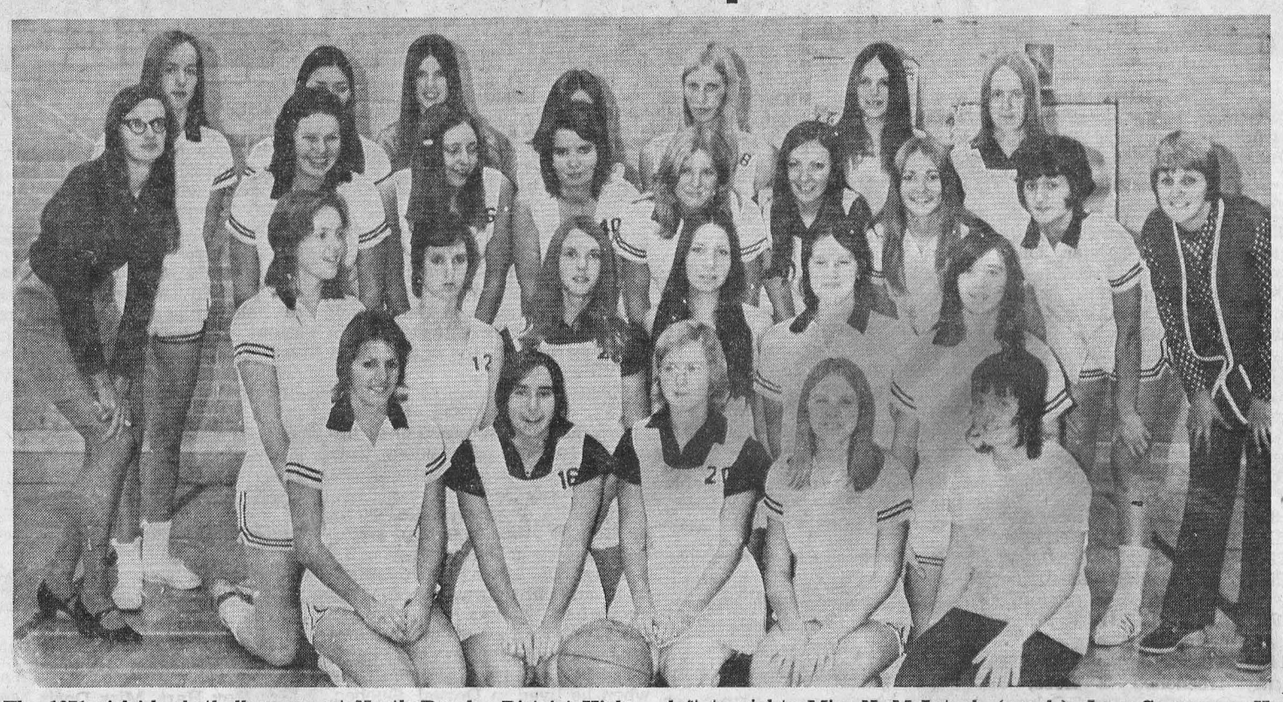
The girls' basketball schedule at North Dundas District High School is completed for another year and although neither the Senior or Junior team brought home any championship awards, the girls put forth a commendable effort.

The Senior Girls Team won only two games during the year, but as several team officials said, "several others were close". Top scorers were Wendy Earl and Anna Verhoeven. Miss McIntosh was coach.

Margo Rombough, who broke her wrist, was the only casualty of the year.

The Juniors had more luck at their meetings. They won four games and lost six, with top scorers Cathy Dobbe and Mary Wilkie. Mrs C. Graham was coach.

Although the school will have to rebuild it's senior team next year, the Juniors will be well prepared for the next season.



The 1971 girls' basketball season at North Dundas District High School is over. Above are the young ladies and coaches of the Junior and Senior teams who put forth a sportsman's effort. Front row, left to right: Donna Armstrong, Debbie Smith, Wendy Earl, Janet Graham, and Loran Stewart (Manager). Second row, left to right: Janice Ennis, Rhona Helmer, Cyndi Summers, Margo Carkner, Shirley Walker, and Heather Patterson. Third row, left to right: Miss N. McIntosh (coach), June Spearman, Karen Brewer, Laurel Cherry, Mary Wilkie, Lois Francis, Sandra Gray, Connie Broad, and Mrs C. Graham (coach). Back row, left to right: Liz Wouters, Cathy Dobbe (captain), Margo Rombough, Wendy Steele, Anna Verhoeven (captain), Colleen Ennis, and Annette Wouters. — NDDHS Photo

In a follow up game in the same league, St. Andrew's blanked Long Sault 1 to 0 with a goal by Louise Cloutier while the shut out credit went to Dianne Cloutier.

Ingleside W. I. holds pot luck supper

INGLESIDE — A pot luck supper preceded the Christmas meeting of the Ingleside Women's Institute held in the library here.

In answer to the roll call, each member presented a gift for a shut-in in the community. The members decided to remember the shut-ins four times each year instead of just at Christmas time.

A gift exchange among the members and readings by Mrs Shirley Walsh and Mrs Stuart Markell made up the program.

The next W.I. meeting will be held January 19 in the library, instead of at the home of Mrs W. A. McMillan.

SNOWMOBILE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Council of the Village of Chesterville Recommends:

1. That a 15 mph speed limit for snowmobiles be observed on all Chesterville Streets.
2. That snowmobiles refrain from operating on sidewalks, with the exception of the Highway 43 Bridge in the event that the Nation River is not sufficiently frozen for crossing or due to adverse road conditions.

   Further, any snowmobile operator in using the bridge, should not proceed until the sidewalk is clear.
3. That access arteries to the Nation River be allowed as follows:
   (a) Community Hall
   (b) Park Bank - East of Art Schrale's
   (c) Pump House - West of Village
   (d) River Bank - Southwest of Public School, and other access roads depending upon consent of the proprietors.
4. That it is hoped that snowmobilers will practice care, courtesy and common sense in operation of the snowmobiles in the village of Chesterville.
5. That late night operation should be limited to proceeding to one's residence, so as not to inconvenience the public.

Fall card marathon

Over $100 raised by Hospital Auxiliary

The Fall card marathons sponsored by the Chesterville Hospital Auxiliary unit raised more than $100 during the weekly euchre and bridge parties.

Under the supervision of Mrs Mildred Paul, a group of 12 euchre players met weekly. Their final party was held December 7 at the home of Mrs G. Leadbetter with twenty players present.

At the meeting, a get well card was sent to Susie Cass and the hostess was thanked by G. Crawford. From the five cents per person donated weekly, prizes were purchased and won by F. Baindese and Mrs Gail VanGessel.

The recipients of the skunk prizes which were donated by Mrs Paul remained anonymous. Donations were made to the euchre group by Mr and Mrs L. Marcellus, Mr and Mrs F. Morfarty, and Mr and Mrs G. Crawford, boosting the proceeds to $75.

The bridge players filled five tables weekly during the marathon organized by Mrs E. Casselman. Mrs H. F. Shaver was hostess for the December 9 finale which included regular and spare players.

Following the bridge games, tallies were added. Prizes donated by Mrs A. Jarvis were won by Miss Cora Droppo and Mrs F. Cass. Mrs H. Durant and Mrs A. Gillard won the prizes donated by Mrs Casselman for spare players.

H. Durant, E. Casselman, A. Gillard and A. Jarvis contributed $8 from their weekly bridge sessions, raising the fund from the bridge parties to $10.50.

Snowmobile capers upset Ingleside residents

Adequate snow has caused the winter sportsmen to be out in substantial numbers on Ingleside streets and council said they would consider what sort of controls should be enforced.

Hess - Hart

COLQUHOUN — Rev. D. L. Gordon conducted the double-ring ceremony in Trinity United Church here, November 27 at 4 p.m., which united in marriage Brenda Ann Hart and Lorne B. F. Hess.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Roy Hart of R.R. 1, Chesterville, and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Keith Hess of Elma.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of peau de charme, with an empire waist, leg of mutton sleeves and a high neckline. It was trimmed with daisy medallion and pink eyelet embroidery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hess

She wore a floor length two-tiered tulle veil edged with pink embroidered lace and carried a victorian nosegay of pink roses and white daisies.

Brenda Griese of Prescott, maid of honour, wore a gown of gold layered chiffon with an empire waist line, full length sleeves and simulated choker collar.

Her dress was trimmed with white lace with an inset of mint green chiffon ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Jean Gow of Chesterville and Linda Casselman of Williamsburg. All three attendants wore identical dresses except the bridesmaids were royal purple in colour.

All carried baskets of mauve tipped carnations and yelllow daisies.

The best man was Gerald Christie of Kemptville and ushers were Lee Hart, brother of the bride, and John Cinnamon, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a jacket and dress ensemble of aqua and silver metallic brocade. She wore matching accessories.

The groom's mother wore a rose coat and dress ensemble of lace with black accessories.

Mrs Carl Barkley was organist and soloist Mrs Mahlon Gow sang "The Wedding Prayer."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Chesterville Legion Hall.

The couple left for a honeymoon in Northern New York State. For her departure, the bride wore a peasant style maxi dress of purple flowered brushed velvet with an empire waist, full length sleeves and a standup collar. The dress was accented with a deep purple velvet waistcoat and a corsage of pink roses.

Prior to her wedding, the bride was honoured at two miscellaneous showers.

Mr and Mrs Hess will reside in Ottawa.
