CHESTERVILLE LEADS THE LEAGUE

With last nights game out of the way Chesterville has a clear lead in the Central Ottawa Valley League with eight wins, three losses and one tied game. Merrickville follows with five wins, three losses and one tie, Avonmore has three wins, five losses and three tied. Winchester has two wins, six losses and one tie game.

Last night at Avonmore Winchester went down heavily before the home team by a score of eleven to four.

Orders have been issued by the powers that be that a decision must be reached in this league., without fail by Saturday night, which with four games to be run off makes a very strenuous time ahead of the clubs concerned.

PASTOR'S STIPEND INCREASED

At a meeting of the Board of Managers, the elders and the Ladies Aid of Chesterville Presbyterian Church held Tuesday evening in the church it was unanimously agreed that the salary of Rev. A. J. Sinclair be increased by ten dollars monthly by the Chesterville congregation, in recognition and appreciation of the work Mr. Sinclair has done since becoming its pastor.

BALL—McMILLAN

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Presbyterian Manse on Tuesday by Rev. A. J. Sinclair when Alice Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McMillan, and Sheldon Fay, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Ball, Maple Ridge, were made man and wife. After the ceremony the young couple drove to the home of the bride's parents where dinner was served to the immediate relatives, after which they entrained for Montreal and other points east.

MOREWOOD MINISTER INVITED TO REMAIN

The Quarterly Official Board of the Morewood Methodist Church met at the parsonage on Monday, Feb. 4th., in a very successful session. The regular business of the Church was attended to in the usual expeditious and courteous way, the members present all filling their places of responsibility splendidly. Mr. J. W. Smith was elected to represent the Board at the District Meeting to be held in Cornwall on the 13th. At the conclusion of its regular business the Board passed a resolution of appreciation of the work, of its pastor, Rev. H. S. Cooke, during the past two years, and unanimously invited him to remain for the third year. Mr. Cooke accepted the invitation subject to the will of the stationing committee, and thanked the Board for its kindly appreciation and confidence.

ONE KILLED: ONE INJURED IN GRAVEL PIT

Thursday afternoon last the township gravel pit was the scene of a fatal accident when William McCraig was almost instantly killed and Frank Hummel a well-known farmer just north of Chesterville, was very severely injured, by a slide of gravel in the pit.

McCraig was a "Home" boy in the employ of Gordon Baldwin of Cass Bridge and with Hummel, Bernard Masterson and others was assisting in getting gravel out of the pit when the accident happened. It is understood in this case that the bank was not over-hanging but that a large mass of gravel slid down on the men where they were working, pinning McCraig under it and crushing him to death. Hummel was not pinned down but was hit by a falling stone and frozen gravel at the back of the neck just above the shoulder. At first he did not think the injury of any consequence and drove his team home. After some time he complained of pains in his head and in a very short time was unconscious, from which condition now he is said to be only recovering, after his life had been dispaired of for several days.

An investigation into the circumstances of McCraig's death will be held by the coroner Dr. P. McLaughlin of Winchester.

CHESTERVILLE LOSES LAST SCHEDULED GAME

Doping out a hockey game from past performances is a different pastime from that of doping out horse races from the form sheet, notwithstanding that the horse rate is said to be the most uncertain thing in the line of picking winners.

Last night the home team dropped a game to Merrickville on the local rink after hanging up a string of seven straight wins. It might be reasonable to suppose that they could not win every game, but at the same time it don't put the home crowd in good humor to see their favorites take a back seat right in their own balliwick. Fresh from trimming Merrickville on the latter's ice Monday night by a score of five to one, a good crowd turned out with the expectation of seeing the locals walk off with another win. But that is another story, and strange as it may seem the homesters did not seem down-hearted over the result and the bearing it will have on settling the winner of Group 4, otherwise the Central Ottawa Valley Hockey League. Chesterville did nnot need the game to let them in on the playoff, but the winning of it by Merrickville will have considerable bearing on settling who will be their opponents in the playoff for premier honors.

While the score is top-heavy, leaning the Merrickville way, the play was not so far off balance except at very occasional times. One particular time happened to be when "Turk" Casselman was viewing hostilities from the penalty box for the space of two minutes about the middle of the second period. Merrickville was quick to take advantage of the situation and with the advantage of the extra man rolled in the two counters which was their margin on the evening's play.

Chesterville was not long in getting the exact bearings of the visitor's stronghold and before the game was a minute old had put one past Angus. In less time than that Merrickville, from the face-off, appeared to have grabbed the counter back, and although the umpire's hand went up for a score it was plainly evident that the puck had not entered the net and a count was not allowed. From the face-off Johnny Flynn took the puck and made a nice dash up through the whole bunch but Angus made a good stop, after which the play gravitated from end to end for nine minutes before the visitors evened the count, at which stage it hung for about a minute before Sorrell put his team ahead for the second time. Merrickville was playing a determined game mixed with flashes of combination, which before the end of the period ended in two more scores, giving them the lead for the first twenty minutes of three to two.

The only scoring in the second session was the two by the visitors when they had the advantage of the extra man.

The third was opened by our boys in the same manner as the first when a goal was notched in the first two minutes of play only to be followed a minute later by the sixth and last count for the visitors.

Angus in goal and Easton on defence are the two strong men of the Merrickville team, the forwards being weak on the stick-handling and have but little speed behind their shots.

The regulars of the home team always seemed to have considerable in reserve finding but little difficulty in working through when they so desired. The subs had many opportunities to take their places in the line-up, and Fawcett, "Red" McLean and "Baldy" Durant showed that they are ready at any time to jump into the game and mix it with the best in the league.

The game was handled by Wes. Wilson as judge of play and C. D. Nadeau referee, who by-the-way came in for some unfavorable comment from the spectators who thought the officials were letting the game run wild with off-side play until it was realized that the forward pass and on-side skating were strictly in keeping with the year's rules.

Hearts are trump. This is Saint Valentine's Day.

THE GRIM REAPER BUSY.

Since our last issue death has claimed an old resident of Dunbar district in the person of Allan Durant, who passed away on Sunday at the age of sixty-eight years.

Yesterday at Berwick Mr. Simon Hutt passed away after a long and trying illness, in his seventy-third year. He was father of Dr. S. H. Hutt in town, who has the sympathy of the community in his bereavement.

LUMBERING IN DUNDAS

It may possibly surprise some to hear that there is a fully equipped lumbering camp in operation in this county this year. About ten miles in front of Chesterville, in Charlie Brown's bush, W. T. McMartin is carrying on operations in the most approved style with a gang of ten or a dozen men. Dave Beckstead is chief cook and it is said that his buckwheat pancakes would make a city chef turn green with envy.

SOLD GASOLINE FOR OIL FACING $15,000 ACTION

Joseph Kelly, an Espanola merchant is alleged to have sold William Sicard's little boy a gallon of gasoline in mistake for coal oil over a year ago. The Sicard home was burned down as a result, it is alleged, and in Supreme Court last week a writ claiming $15,000 damages was filed against Mr. Kelly.

THE BEST MEDIUM

Newspaper advertising is being everywhere advocated by the largest advertisers on the continent as the best method of developing business. It takes some of them a long time, but gradually they all find out that the paper that's read by the whole family round the table is the medium through which to reach the people by those who have something to sell. And the town paper is the one that is most closely scanned in the home, (and by old residents away from home,) both news and advertising columns.

How to Wash and Preserve Woolens

Woolen garments or articles cleansed with SURPRISE soap feel soft, fluffy, and well washed. Dry woolen articles in a moderate temperature—not in the sun—and do not allow them to freeze. Sun is injurious to wool; freezing causes shrinkage.

New Whole-Life Policy

With Profits

This specially low premium policy has been introduced for thase whose introduced for those whose idea of life insurance is protection only. The premiums are graded yearly from twenty to sixty years of age.

Age 20 premium $13.15	Age 35 premium $20.05
Age 25 premium 14.80	Age 40 premium 24.10
Age 30 premium 17.05	Age 45 premium 29.55

Age 50 premium $36.70

For an extra premium of $1.25 per $1000 double the face of the policy will be paid in the event of death from accident.

The policy holder will receive no dividends during the period of twenty years, after twenty years the profits will be allotted on the annual basis to reduce the premiums during the life time of the assured.

I shall be pleased to furnish further particulars, regarding this very attractive protection plan.

ENTRANCE EXAMS ARE MUCH LATER THIS YEAR

The announcement of the dates of High, Middle, and Upper School entrance examinations, just made public, come as a surprise from one point of view as they are later in the year than has been the practise in the past. Up until the present all these examinations have been completed before the end of June but according to present arrangements the exams this year run into July.

The dates are as follows.

High School Entrance, July 2nd, 3rd, and 4th.

Model School Entrance, July 2nd, 3rd, and 4th.

Middle School June 23rd.

Upper School June 23rd.

AT FOOT OF GALLOWS HE SINGS CHEERFULLY

Sidney Murrell, 26, yesterday with Henry Williams, 26, and Clarence Topping, 23, sentenced to be hanged on Thursday April 10, spent Sunday in his cell singing, his rich baritone voice ringing throughout corridors as if he had not a care in the world.

Williams, apparently buoyed up by hope of mercy, showed no sign of depression, while Topping, who was found guilty one minute before midnight on Friday by a jury which rejected his insanity plea, maintained the appearance of semistupor shown during his trial. All three are well.

The three young men were sentenced on Saturday by Justice Lennox, who held out little hope for mercy for Murrell and Williams, convicted of the murder of Russell Campbell in a raid on the Home Bank at Melbourne on April 11, 1921. To Topping, convicted of slaying his sweetheart, Geraldine Durston, last November, the judge said that he believed him to be sane, but would suggest that he be thoroughly examined by alienists before the date of execution to definitely determine the question of sanity.

The 18th regular meeting of the "Peptimists" was held in room "A" on Friday morning February 1st. Jean Brown acted as President in Ramon's absence.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. The "Peptimists" then sang "Pack up your Troubles."

A dialogue entitled "Molly and the Health Fairies" was enacted by nine girls. Molly was one of those people who are pale, sickly and underweight. She was advised by her friend Betty to keep the Health Rules in order to regain normal weight. Then as Molly slept six fairies —Good Food, Cleanliness, Rest, Fresh Air and Sunshine, with their queen visited her and explained what each of them would do to help her. Molly made a solemn promise to follow their suggestions.

After the dialogue the director remarked about the programme for week

Kathleen Bogart gave the Visiting Committee's Report on the three absent members.

The Health Game Committee's Report was given by Addie Campderros.

The Treasurer reported 43c in the Mite Box.

After the questions were answered from the question box the meeting adjourned until after dinner.

The Merit Badges were collected from the previous week and were given to the girls in the dialogue, and to the Health Game Committee for next week.

Mr. Boyd explained the Picture Puzzle on the black board showing the necessity for a balanced diet and plenty of pure milk.

After some discussion it was moved by Arthur Haley and seconded by Margaret Perrault that we curtain off the water tank corner of Room "A" and purchase reflectors for our lights. Carried.

Margaret Merkley, Mabel Henderson and Addie Campderros were appointed to see about the curtains. The meeting closed by the National Anthem.

Margaret A. Merkley, Reporter.

LETTER WRITING

How many letters begin, "I have been so busy that I haven't had a chance to write," and how many end, "I havenot time now to write more!" And nearly every time each of those statements is untrue. It has been mental inertia and indolence rather than pressure of business that has caused the letter writer to postpone his task; and it is mental and manual laziness that causes him to bring it to a premature close.

The good letter is not one that gives a bare recital of events. It is one that is filled with comment as well as with news. To be a mere reporter of happenings is to be dull, It is the opinions you express, your descriptions or interpretation of incident and character, the conclusions that you draw from your experiences, that give color and interest to your letters. You will not write a good letter if you are mentally churlish and selfish, indisposed to put forth the effort to make your reader see and hear the things that you have especially interested in seeing and hearing—or at least to convey to him vividly the impressions that they produced upon you. Your letter is interesting according to the degree in which it expresses your thoughts and feeling.

It may be objected that to write a letter of the quality indicated calls for a capacity for expression that few people possess. But if you do not cultivate the power of expression by letter writing, you are unlikely to acquire it in other ways. So to try to write good letters should be not merely an obligation that you owe to your family or friends, but also one that you owe to yourself for the sake of the discipline itaffords. Youth's Companion.

CHILBLAINS

This is a very painful condition of the skin—usually the skin of the fingers and toes, nose or ears—caused by cold and dampness. It is more severe than ordinary chapping, but less serious than frostbite. It is more severe in England and the Northern mon in England and the northern countries of Europe than it is here, but is by no means uncommon in some parts of our country, especially where a considerable degree of cold is combined with much dampness of the air. The condition is favored by living in cold rooms and by exposing the hands to the heat of anopenfire. It occurs most frequently in those who are poorly nourished and in persons with sluggish circulation, who have cold hands and feet.

The affected parts turn bluish and shiny. Often they are swollen, and when exposed to the heat they itch and burn intolerably, in fact the itching is often the most disagreeable symptom. After time blisters containing a yellowish fluid form and much pain, they soon break, discharging their sticky contents, and persist as painful ulcers. These form most commonly on the outer side of the feet and the little toes, on the corresponding portions of the hands, and quite often on the ears. They do not show much tendency to heal and, if untreated, persist until mild weather appears.

Persons especially children who suffer from chilblains every winter should have a nourishing diet containing an abundance of fat. They should try to improve their circulation by cold or cool bathing in water in which sea-salt has been added, and by abundant exercise. They should wear woolen stockings, woolen gloves and roomy shoes. When the ground is wet or covered with snow, they ought to put on waterproof overshoes. If woolen stockings or gloves irritate the skin wear them over others of thin silk. Mopping the unbroken skin with spirit of camphor, boric acid solution, or compound tincture of benzion is useful, and if ulsers have formed dress them with oxide of zinc or balsam of Peru ointment, or with equal parts of ichthyol and lanolin. Sometimes painting the parts once or twice with tincture of iodine, before ulceration has taken place, gives relief to the pain and itching. It is a waste of time to say don't scratch—but still, don't scratch.

CARD OF THANKS

The Morewood Young People wish to thank all those who kindly contributed to the success of their Carnival.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Francis LaSalle and family wish to thank their friends and neighbors for many kindnesses and sympathy during the illness and death of the late Mrs. LaSalle.

The man who said "What you don't know won't hurt you," never saw a gossip suffering for information. The information we wish to impart right now is that Williams' Camphorated Mustard Cream is a mighty fine remedy to have in the house, for many aches and pains. Very easy to use on children, and wonderfully effective. All the good of a mustard plaster without the blister.

"ASSESSMENT UP— TAX RATE DOWN"

Too few tax payers realize the intimate connection between the valuation of property and the tax rate on it.

A low tax rate is often considered to be a sign of success and progress. But it is useless to discuss at what figure the tax rate stands, before knowing what is the value put on the property by the assessors.

The question of taxation is, theoretically, very simple.

A municipality faces the expenditure of a certain amount.

This has to be met by taxation.

The object of making a valuation is simply to have every proprietor pay his proper share.

It does not matter whether the assessment is made on ten, fifty or one hundred per cent of the actual value, so long as everyone is treated in exactly the same way.

uation, but it will be the same for all.

And if the valuation is on a fifty per cent basis, then the tax rates will be double that of one based on a full valuation.

So it is useless and misleading to compare tax rates, without also comparing the basis of valuation.

Another feature in such comparisons between different provinces is that in Quebec,—except in the city of Montreal—the municipal tax rate does not include that for education, as it does elsewhere. School taxes in Quebec are not levied by the Municipal Councils, nor ollected by them; but by School Commissioners. So that the comparison of municipal taxes in the in the province of Quebec with those other provinces is misleading.—Municipal Review of Canada.

TO AID HORTICULTURAL IN SMALLER CENTRES

The development of the Ontario Horticultural Association during the coming year will be largely in the direction of working out plans for the improvement of conditions on the farm; as a considerable number of resolutions were presented to the convention Friday afternoon in that direction. One resolution, which came from Mr. J.B. Spencer, and which will be acted upon, was that steps should be taken with aview to beautify the smaller cities, towns and villages. The aim is to adopt a uniform system of street planting for the province, and with that end in view, plans will be put under way to draft an emendment to the Municipal Act, to present to the present session of the legislature, to see if all the municipalities interested may not have the same opportunities as the cities of Toronto and Ottawa. Another suggestion which will be acted upon was that there should be formed a National Institute of Horticulture, or that more attention should be paid to this work at the Agriculture College. A third point of general interest which was approved by the association was that plans should be put under the way to prevent the annual wholesale destruction of evergreen trees for the purpose of Christmas decorations.

Points brought up and referred to the executive for further consideration was that a juvenile department should be formed, with Rev.W.N. McKay, of Weston, as director. Rev. McKay is already on the board of directors, so it was felt that he could give the matter his consideration from that position. It was also suggested that steps should be taken by each branch of the Horticultural Association to see that greater attention is paid to the decorating of the grounds of the rural public schools. A suggestion which met with some consideration, and which will meet with more for the executive, was that a business manager should be appointed, whose duty it would be to strengthen the membership, help the outside bodies to prepare their annual prize lists, aid municipalities in planning ning small parks and recreation grounds, interest local Chambers of Commerce in horticulture, and import speaksrs from other provinces and countries to promote the interests of horticuture.

PHILOSOPHY OF BUSINESS SUCCESS

"He had a cheery word and a cordial handclasp for everybody. Our customers are glad when he comes around. He is always happy. He is happy when he sells goods, and he is happy when he fails. But he does not often fail. His orders are nearly always big orders."

That is what I heard a wholesale merchant say of one of his travelling men.

The remark touched the philosophy of business success. There is absolutely no room for the pessimistic man of trade. When he repels customers he is repelling business and dollars. On the other hand, good cheer is winsome. And winsomeness makes big business and big profits. All the world likes a man with sun on his face, and music in his voice, and genial warmth in his handclasp. The sunny business man is the man who wins.

The same is true everywhere.

Cordiality is one of the most charming qualities in human life. With some persons it is spontaneous—a sort of bubbling up and running over process. With others it is more mechanical. But in either case it adds vastly to the probability of success in life.

You remember that Paul exhorted his Roman readers to be "given to hospitality." Did he not have in mind a broader application than is given to think he urged the Roman christians to be "given to cordiality." Cordiality —how much the word suggests!

These are days of the strenuous life. Business pressure is heavy. There are economic and industrial agitations. Labor and capital look threatening at each other. They make charges of selfishness and greed and of oppression. Here and there we read of outbreakes which show how deep are the suspicion and distrust of both classes. There never was greater need of mutual confidence and genuine cordiality. Capital should heartily say to labor, "Hello," and labor should reply as soulfully, "Hello! Hello!"

A great deal has been written from time to time about the lack of cordiality at the church. But the fact is that many people are more cordial at church than anywhere else. Some are friendly at church and nowhere else. That is because they think of cordiality as a sort of religious duty which cannot be avoided just like singing and praying. But a friendliness which manifests itself only on Sunday is one-sided. It does not spring from the heart. Real Christian cordiality shows itself on Monday and Tuesday and the rest of the week. It overflows on the street, in the factory and store, in the social circle—everywhere. It greets people in veryday clothes as readily as when they are dressed in broadcloths and silks.

People in the country are more cordial, as a rule, than people in the city. In passing along the country road or village street one is never surprised at a smile or a nod, or a "How-do-you-do?" That is quite in fashion. In the city the laws of social etiquette are more rigidly observed. People stare coldly at you as you pass, and speak never a word. I like the country style. How great a joy it is to bask in the sunshine of such unconventional cordiality.

It is not the duty of everyone to promote the spirit of unaffected and unrestrained geniality? Selfishness or personal restraint or social propriety have filled us with cold reserve and we are too stiff and frigid. We need to come out of our shells of placid formality, and put a lot of "hello" into our spirit and conduct.

In The Family

A parent wrote across his boy's exercise:

"From this you can see that my boy, after six months of your teaching, is completely ignorant. How do you account for it?"

The teacher sent the exercise back to him with the added note. Ithink it must be hereditary."

Resourceful Johnny

Mother: "Johnny, what do you mean by feeding the baby with yeast?"

Johnny: She's swallowed my nickel, and I'm trying to raise the dough."

Unsettled

Anxious Old Lady (on river steamer): "I say young man, is this boat going up or down?"

Surly Deckhand: Well, she's a leaky old tub ma'am, so I shouldn't wonder if she was going down. Then again, her b'ilers ain't none too good, so she might go up.

BONDS

Are Mortgages on Fixed Assets

When a township issues debentures (or bonds) it gives a mortgage on the whole township for security to the buyers of the bonds for the loan of their money for a definite number of years at a satisfactory rate of interest.

If the amount required is large it is divided into small mortgages, (that is, bonds or debentures) of $500 or $1,000 each, with the same security behind each, so that investors with small sums may take advantage it.

Bonds or debentures are rated the safest kind of an investment.

DEATH of MR. ROBERT HIRST, Jr.
(Cornwall Standard.)

Very general sympathy is extended to Mrs. Robert Hirst Jr., and the other members of the family in their sudden bereavement last week in the death of Mr. Hirst, which occurred at the General Hospital on Friday, Mr. Hirst's illness from pneumonia was briefly referred to in the Standard last week. He had been in the employ of Mr. A. C. Robertson of the Cornwall Motor Sales Co., for some time after his return from overseas service, and for the past three years was in charge of the line work for the Stormont Electric Light & Power Co. On Saturday January 12th, he was taken ill and on Monday was removed to the hospital, his illness having developed into pneumonia. Everything possible was done for him, but to no avail, and he passed away on Friday last.

The late Mr. Hirst who was in his 37th year was born in Cornwali, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hirst, Sr. He was an exceptionally fine type of young man, a loving son, husband and father, and enjoyed the warm regard of a host of friends, who mourn his early passing most sincerely. He was a member of Cornwall Lodge No. 125, A. F. and A. M.; Oriental Lodge No. 163, I.O.O.F.; and Lodge Victoria No. 12, S.O.E.B.S.

Surviving besides his widow, who was Nursing Sister, Ella Rae, daughter of Mrs. Jas. Rae, Winchester. and young son Robert Rae Hirst, aged almost three years, are his parents, two brothers and two sisters—Mr. James Hirst, Haslingden, Eng.; Mr Gerge W. Hirst and Miss Addie Hirst, Cornwall; and Mrs. Thornton Lauber, Schenectady, N. Y.

The funeral took place from his late residence, 338 Water Street, East, on Sunday afternoon, to Woodlawn cemetery, and despite the inclement weather, was one of the largest seen in Cornwall for a long time. The church service at the house and grave was conducted by Rev. J. P. MacFarlane, pastor of the Methodist church, of which deceased was a member.

Members of the three lodges to which the deceased belonged turned out in large numbers to pay their last tribute of respect, the funeral held under Masonic service at the house and grave was conducted by Worshipful Master Donald McTavish. Besides the large representation from the lodges many citizens attended to pay their last tribute of respect to a very highly esteemed young man. The pall-bearers were all ex-service men, chosen from the Masonic Lodge—Wor. Bros. G. Neil, Phillips and Wm. O. Relyea, Bros., Bert Yates, Wm. Eaton, Charles E. Lagden and W. J Macfarlane.

Among relatives present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. C. Mayberry, Montreal; Mrs. R. D. Preston, Mrs. James Rae, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grey and daughter, Marion, Mr. Duncan McKercher, Miss Helen Jamieson, Mrs. R. M. Elliott, Mr. Cecil Rae of Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rae, of Irouqois; Mrs. W. Wilson, of Merrickville; Mrs. R. E. Kingsley, Montreal.

Many handsome floral offerings were placed on the casket by sympathizing friends, showing the esteem in which deceased was held in the community and the sorrow felt at his sudden passing away.

The florol offerings were most profuse, as follows:—

Tena Wilson, cut flowers; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wyatt, cut flowers; Mrs. McFarlane, cut flowers; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark and son cut flowers; Mrs. Kingsley and Maud, cut flowers; Mr. and Mrs. P. H. WILL YOU PLAY COMBINBTION ?

It is some big job to get the feeling of a community on what would be considered a project big enough to enlist the co-operation of all the residents of any given district.

As winter is the open season for the sessions of the stove committees, it is the best time to have the discussion opened when most people have the only leisure of the year in which to indulge in day dreams.

There are very few communities that would not be better off if their affairs were constructively discussed and planned when time is no object to most of those interested. Chesterville is not different from other places in that respect. In fact there is more daylight energy wasted in this town over the card tables than would carry many worth while projects for the welfare of the community to successful conclusions.

In an article last week we drew attention to the desirability of during next summer forming a plan for the keeping of our town spic and span, but that was only one thing in our view in which combination play would work out to the advantage of all the citizens. There are many other things that force their attention on one when any thought is given to the matter, and probably the largest of these is the welfare of the young people growing up in the surroundings which up to the present their elders have been responsible for.

A sound mind in a sound body is one of the greatest heritages the passing generation can give to that which follows. As sound minds are usually found in sound bodies it would seem the part of prudence in community welfare work to provide opportunity for the development of the sound body as the foundation upon which the whole structure of a successful life might be built by the young folks growing up around us as we near the end of the trail.

Every man or woman as he or she advances in years surely looks back over his or her life and wonders what has been accomplished worth while in the years that have gone never to return. To most of us the total to our credit is very small when the item of dollars and cents is taken out. The only hope of ever accomplishing any thing lies in most of us in what advantages we may be able to give the rising generation, that it may develop the ability to do something big for humanity, having a better start than their elders of today had in the adventure of life.

The advent of the athletic girl has altered somewhat the idea that all that was required of a play ground was a ball yard for the boys. Nowa-days the girls are receiving as much attention in the planning of outdoor life for the young people as ever was done for the boys. No community play ground is now complete without the provision of tennis courts and basket-ball grounds for the girls and in the larger places swimming pools are also being added where the girls are as safely taken care of as are their brothers.

The instituting of a community play-ground is a work worthy of the biggest mind any community has at its disposal. No excuses are required when anyone takes up the subject. The name and fame of any place that takes especial care of its young people is broadcasted to the world as being considerably ahead of its neighbors who have not yet seen the advantage of such work.

Has Chesterville a citizen big enough to come out and introduce a plan within our means, whereby our youth will have a few of the advantages enjoyed by his city cousins?

Some are inclined to rail against our winter climate, but, did you ever hear one of our boys or girls say a word against the season that brings hockey and skating? For them the the one thing most desired is a skating rink. Fortunately or otherwise, we have a splendid summer season when the thing most to be desired by the youth of both sexes, is a suitable place where they may indulge in their favorite outdoor games. the only logical place being a community park wherein may be laid out baseball diamonds, tennis courts, bowling greens, and basket ball grounds for summer and the provision of a covered rink for curling, hockey and pleasure skating.

These things are not beyond Chesterville and if we play combination they surely will come sooner or later, when the old home town will be a place to be proud of in your old age.

BERWICK

(Too late for last issue.)

Anatomy

Mabel has sent her lonely soldier boy a present of a mouth organ. He wrote—

"Thanks, dear Mabel, for your mouth-organ. It fills a great gap."

If He Had Been a Wandering Jew.

"Twenty years ago Ikey Einstein stood on this corner selling shoe strings.. Now he owns the corner."

"Oy, oy, if Ikey had only valked up and down he might have owned the block."

TWO CHILDREN FIRE VICTI

Mr. and Mrs. Adlor Kyer of East Cornwall, lost two of their children in a fire of unknown origin which destroyed the house in which they lived Tuesday afternoon. After Mr. Kyer went to work in the Dundas mill and the elder girl, Edna, aged seven years had gone to school, Mrs. Kyer put the other children, Lloyd and Gordon aged four and two years respectively, to bed, as was her custom. She later went to call on a neighbor, Mrs. Larcelle, and while there the house was discovered on fire. An alarm was sent in and the father was called from the mill and he made a valiant attempt to rescue his children. He reached the back room, where Lloyd was left in bed, but he was not there and the frenzied parent could not get into the front room to rescue Gordon for the fierceness of the flames and dense smoke. After the firemen had controlled the flames sufficiently to gain an entrance to the house the body of Gordon was found on the bed badly charred and a little later Lloyd's body was found on the landing at the head of the stairs also badly burned. The older boy had evidently started to make his way out when overcome by the smoke. Dr. C. J. Hamilton, coroner, will hold an inquest.

The house is owned by Alfred Chouinard, whose family lived in the north half of the house. With the exception of a few articles moved from the owner's side, nothing was saved. The house was insured but neither Mr. Kyer or Mr. Chouinard carried insurance on their effects.

The firemen worked under difficulties, as the water froze on their clothing. One of their number, Donald Cameron, of lacrosse fame, just missed being struck by the verandah as it collapsed.

HULL TEAM TROUNCES FINCH-BERWICK

Hull Athletics trounced Finch-Berwick in the final by 10 to 1 in a Lower Ottawa Valley Hockey Association fixture on Tuesday night.. The Hullities were always in the lead, and the Berwickians were only able to drive one goal past the eagle eyed Decosse. Hull scored three in the first period, and duplicated the stunt in the second. They also added four more in the final. Ouderkirk bagged the only goal for the visitors in the initial session. Phil St. Amand was chief gunner for the Hull team getting five goals.

Hull started early in the game to seal the verdict. St. Amand opened with a score in six minutes, and Brenot followed with one in five. Phil came back with another and Henry Ouderkirk chalked up one for Berwick after closing in on Decosse

In the second and third frames Hull were always in command of the situation. St. Amand tallied two right off the reel, and Rene Joliat batted one home from a scramble. Again in the third Hull had a big edge. Watters slipped down the side in seven minutes and scored. Sam Goderre, not to be outdone by his team mates also ploughed through and placed the rubber in the corner of the cage. Then Viau essayed a scoring role and succeeded, and Phil St. Amand ended the bee by dashing through from the faceoff and beating McMillan. Fred Murphy handled the contest and had an easy time.
